A CONEY ISLAND FOR MONTREAL

The Latest Scheme to Amass the Coin in This City.

TO COST ABOUT $250,000

Mr. S. E. Jackson, of New York, and Local Companies Are Said to be the Parties Behind the New Park "Dominion."

Montreal's advantages as a summer resort, are apparently becoming more widely known, and outsiders with money, look upon this city as a most desirable place to put their superfluous coinage.

The latest comer it is said, is Mr. S. E. Jackson, of the S. E. Jackson Company, of Coney Island, manager of the County Fairs and Amusement Railways on that great pleasure ground, has organized and incorporated a company with capital and bonds to the amount of $250,000, to build and promote a summer park in Montreal.

The park will be called the Dominion, and it is said that the Montreal Street Railway, the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, with several American promoters are at the back of the scheme.

C.P.R. TO BUY FROM MR. DAVID RUSSELL

The Grand Hotel and Mineral Springs at Caledonia Springs

The Canadian Pacific Railway is at present conducting negotiations with Mr. David Russell for the purchasing of the Grand Hotel and mineral springs at Caledonia Springs. When the deal is finally completed this hotel will be run in connection with the chain of hotels which the company now owns from Quebec city to the Pacific slope.

Negotiations were opened by the company early in the spring for the acquisition of the property and it is understood that the transfer will be formally made within a few days. The purchase price is $187,500.

The sale, when Mr. Russell will have finally completed it, will comprise 560 acres of ground, besides the Grand Hotel, which was thoroughly renovated last year, and the famous mineral springs. These springs have become very widely known, and the construction of the C. P. R. short line within a quarter of a mile of them brought the locality into still greater prominence.

Mr. Russell stated last evening that the purchase was as good as accomplished, and that the formal transfer would only be a question of a few days. He was quite proud of being able to hand over such a fine property in such excellent condition, and to such a purchaser as the C. P. R. He was not making a fortune out of the transaction, to be sure, but, then, he was quite satisfied.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., visited Caledonia Springs a few days ago, accompanied by a few officials of the company. It is understood that the president was well pleased with the appearance of the place, and complimented Mr. Russell on placing the hotel and grounds in such high class condition.

Without question the most notable event which has taken place at the Grand Hotel was the famous banquet given last October by Mr. David Russell to his friend, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Attorney-General of New Brunswick, and presided over by Hon. A. G. Blair. This function, which was one of the most elaborate ever given in Canada, is reputed to have cost Mr. Russell, including the transportation of his guests, in the neighborhood of $20,000.

UNKNOWN DEAD MAN WAS A RAFTSMAN

The body found in the river at Valois yesterday, by Mr. Damien Rolland, was brought to the morgue last night in a waggon from the house of Dupuaine & Co. The body has been in the water a very long time, and is entirely beyond recognition. It appears, however, from the clothing to be that of a raftsman, which has probably drifted down the Ottawa. The body is five feet six inches in height, and was clothed in a grey checked vest, two pair of trousers one of blue serge the other black, with a large black patch on one leg, a checked black and grey shirt, ordinary underwear, two pairs of woollen socks and a pair of long Napoleon boots of red leather. Nothing whatever was found in the pockets which would lead to identification.

Nicholas Bernard was convicted by Judge Desnoyers yesterday afternoon on two charges of selling liquor without a license and was fined $50 in each instance.

SEQUEL OF WINDOW WEDDING WAS SEEN IN RECORDER'S COURT

Mr. C[illegible]orkman Fined $40 on a Charge of Employing Devic[illegible]tract a Crowd—Will Appeal Against the Judgment of the Court

The Workman's window wedding crowd prosecution came to a climax today, when Mr. Recorder Weir found defendant guilty and imposed the maximum penalty of $40 fine, which sum, under advice of Advocate S. W. Jacobs, was paid under protest, and an intimation of appeal was made in the course of the forenoon.

In rendering judgment the Recorder said it had been established that defendant, following either a whim or a desire to advertise, caused to be announced that a marriage would take place in his window, and that there was no doubt whatever that the street and sidewalks were obstructed.

The questio narose whether the device in question was one tending to the collection of persons on the streets or sidewalks of the vicinity. In his opinion it was clearly such a device, and a most reprehensible one. Where crowds assembled incidentally to the ordinary pursuits of life, or upon justifiable occasions of unusua l moment, no one could be held accountable for such assemblages, but any person who deliberately employed any device tending designedly, and expressly to the collection of persons on the street, must be held accountable for his conduct. In the case of weddings in churches the object of the contracting parties was not to draw a crowd tending to the obstruction of the streets. In the present case the defendant seemed to have deliberately intended to draw a crowd, presumably to attract attention to himself and his business. In his opinion the by-law under which the charge had been brought did apply, and in view of all the circumstances, he believed it his duty to condemn the unjustifiable device to gather a crowd, by imposing the maximum sentence, which was $40, and in default two months in jail.

Judge Weir added that in virtue of by-law 333, the police would have been justified in arresting any person in the crowd, who, attracted by dfendant's device, refused to move on when requested to do so.

Mr. Workman to Appeal.

Seen later, at his store on McGill Street, Mr. Workman did not hesitate to express to The Herald the opinion that the judgment was contrary to law. There had certainly been evidence that large crowds had congregated, but it had not been proved that any individual member of the public had been inconvenienced, or the traffic delayed in any way. No complaint had been made by pedestrians, carter, or even by the Street Railway Company, and when either the one or the other were inconvenienced it was usually the case they did not hesitate to kick.

Apart, however, from this phase of the question, Mr. Workman holds tenaciously to the opinion that the city has no by-law under which the courts can legally convict in such circumstanaces. He certainly meant to prosecute his appeal against the judgment, and his legal adviser, Mr. Jacobs, had so intimated in the proper quarter. It might cost him many dollars, but so convinced was he of his rights in the matter that he would, if necessary, fight to the last ditch.

YOUNG MONTREALER DROWNED YESTERDAY

A sad drowning accident happened yesterday afternoon at Cascade Point, resulting in the death of J. B. Prieur, aged seventeen years, son of Mr. F. Prieur, merchant tailor, Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

The deceased boy who was spending his Holidays with his relatives at Cascade Point, had gone fishing on the dam at the entrance of the Soulanges canal. While coming back from the fishing expedition he slipt on a stone and fell ten feet into twenty feet of water and was drowned. The accident happened at four o'clock, but the body was not recovered until six o'clock.

Prunes in the Problem

How a Canadian Manufacturer Came to Regard Free Trade as a Feasible Project Despite His Previous Prejudices.

(By C. Hearful Lyre.)

I asked him for his opinion of the Japanese incident. "Sish, not a word," says he, "we're not talking about that."

Well seeing he was not to be induced to mention whether it was right for a provincial premier to absorb Scotch during prohibited hours, I questioned him blandly about Free Trade.

"See, says I, you have noticed that over here you are treated as if you were really welcome to leave your baggage inside the door and to slide down the banisters, whereas, when English manufacturers come to Canada, they receive an adult's dose of hot air and a hint to take their grips to a hotel? You have, eh? Well, doesn't that make it apparent that they are more up-to-date, and consequently more en rapport with prune and other trade problems than are the Canadian manufacturers?

"Now, I am not trying to bluff you, Mr. Callantyne, but, candidly speaking, don't you think that Free Trade merits your support?

"But, blime me," says he, having acquired a few colloquialisms since his invasion of England, "but, blime me, man, I don't know what Free Trade means. That's the reason I have opposed it, though you are the only one to whom I would confess as much. The rest of the manufacturers, I may add, are similarly situated."

Just here, Hamberlain, who was naturally interested in my recital, interjected:

"I'll be ginswiggled if I didn't think that all along. Do you know, C. Hearful, that there was only one man who ever understood Free Trade, and he has been dead, too, these many years. I——"

But I wasn't going to let Hamberlain sift into the limelight just when my chest was beginning to puff out—no, sir, not on your daguerreotype, so I shut him off with ——

Advice to the Young.

(A. E. Thomas in New York Times.)

Speak kindly to the elephant
And gently to the whale,
And when you meet the jaguar
Please do not yank his tail.
Respect the tiger's feelings, dear,
His whiskers do not pull;
O, let your heart with kindliness
Be ever, ever full.

O, do not pinch the python
Or punch the rattlesnake.
If you should hurt the cobra
His little heart would break.
Don't stick pins in the crocodile
Or irritate the yak;
Pray do not bruise the Polar bear
By pounding on his back.
Don't make the lion cry, my child,
By walking on his toes;
Nor slight the hippopotamus
By standing on his nose.
For all good children, you must know,
Each morning gladly sing:
"O, help me be considerate
Of every living thing."

LIVES WITH BULLET THROUGH HEART

Heart and Lung Pierced—A Most Remarkable Case.

New York, July 6.—According to the Tribune a man in Livingston, Staten Island, is alive, with a bullet in his lung which passed through his heart. Unable to trace the course of the bullet by a probe or to credit the indications, Doctors Brady and Rowford, of St. Vincent's Hospital, borough of Richmond, put on the X-rays yesterday and found the probe had been telling the truth. They were so startled they repeated the examination and then, that there might be no question as to what they found, they called in several physicians. All agreed that the bullet had passed through the heart and was in the lung.

The patient who thus lives with a punctured heart and lung is Harry Newok, of Manhattan borough. He started out for a celebration on Tuesday, but while crossing the bay on a ferry boat he was hit in the left breast by a bullet from a revolver which Max Dascher, was showing a friend.

The probe found no resistance, and then the doctors used the X-ray. Those who were called in say it is the most remarkable case they ever heard of.

ELIHU ROOT FOR SECY. OF STATE

His Acceptance Makes Him Important Presidential Candidate.

A CABINET OF ASPIRANTS

New Secretary Had Just Accepted Task of Looking After Hyde-Ryan Interests in Equitable—Is 60 Years of Age.

New York, July 6.—It can be definitely stated that President Roosevelt has offered the position of Secretary of State to Elihu Root, and that Mr. Root has accepted.

President Root and his immediate party reached Oyster Bay on their return trip from Cleveland this forenoon.

Mr. Root's career in the Cabinets of both McKinley and Roosevelt brought him into contact with diplomats, and the undercurrents of foreign affairs, and he is regarded as being as well fitted, perhaps, as any man in public life to take up the problems left unsolved by Mr. Hay. As is true in Mr. Taft's case now, Mr. Root, while in the Cabinet, was relied on by the President for advice and suggestions in matters other than those pertaining strictly to his own department.

Makes Root a Presidential Candidate.

New York, July 6.—(Special.)—The Herald, discussing Mr. Root's nomination as a practical certainty this morning, says:

"Should the President be able to prevail on Elihu Root to re-enter the Cabinet as Secretary of State the result, in view of practical politicians in Washington, would prove of more than ordinary significance.

"The name of the former Secretary of War has been associated more than once with the Republican Presidential nomination in 1908. This suggestion, it is understood, has not been at all distasteful to Mr. Root, and officials of the administration who are on intimate terms with him believe he has aspirations in that direction.

"Men of practical political turn of mind are ready to predict that if Mr. Root enters the Cabinet as Premier of the administration a healthy impetus will be given to a movement to make him the Republican nominee three years hence. Some persons believe that if he consents to become Secretary of State it will be not only for the purpose of obliging the President but of promoting his own political interests.

There are two men in the Cabinet who are looked upon as strong Presidential possibilities—Secretary of War Taft and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. While Mr. Taft has disclaimed having any ambition to become the republican standard bearer in 1908 there are many men of influence in the party who intende to have him nominated if possible. Secretary Shaw, however, is regarded as an avowed aspirant, and upon his retirement from the Cabinet next winter will doubtless start his preliminary canvass. With Mr. Root occupying the first place in the Cabinet, the politicians do not hesitate to predict that his name will be connected more frequently than ever before with the success to Mr. Roosevelt.

Another Cabinet officer whom some persons regard as a Presidential possibility is Postmaster General Cortelyou. The Postmaster General himself has never admitted he had such ambitions, but he has a great many admirers who believe he will be in the running in 1908. The situation thus presented is unique in American political history. Never before within the recollection of men who make a specialty of accumulating such knowledge has the President surrounded himself with so many official advisers who aspire to become his successor.

Mr. Root's acceptance comes as a surprise to most financial circles, in which it was believed he would not accept the portfolio of Secretary of State if it was offered to him. Mr. Root has been retained as counsel for Thomas F. Ryan and the trustees of the Equitable stock, formerly held by James H. Hyde, and this, it was said, would be the basis for the refusal.

Hon. Elihu Root is 60 years of age. He was born in Clinton, N. Y., and educated at Hamilton College and the College of the City of New York. He was Secretary of War in the cabinet of Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt from 1899 to 1903, and is best known to Canadians by reason of his having been the one "eminent jurist of repute," whom the United States appointed on the Alaskan Boundary Commission.

FORCED TO LOWER THE BRITISH FLAG

Canadian Captain Has Filed Protest With Marine Department.

New York, July 6.—A Rochester despatch to the Tribune says: A protest has been filed with the Canadian Minister of Marine, by Captain Simmons, of the Canadian schooner Acacia, because the port collector compelled him to lower the British flag on his vessel in the harbor at Charlotte on July 4.

Collector Bump was informed that the Acacia had floated the Union Jack on the morning of the fourth of July and ordered Captain Simmons to haul it down, saying it was an insult to the national holiday. Simmons refused and threatened to shoot the collector if he boarded his vessel. Finally Simmons lowered the flag when threatened with refusal of his clearance papers.

NO PROTEST REACHES OTTAWA.

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—Neither the Secretary of State nor the Minister of Marine has yet received a complaint from Captain Simmons, of the schooner Acacia, that he was compelled to lower the British flag in Charlotte, N.Y., by the port authorities, on July 4. The incident, if correct, is taken as a mixture of misguided patriotism and fresh-water seamanship. Marine courtesy requires a foreign captain to fly the flag of his country on the holiday of any country he may happen to be in. The act is one of respect. The Minister of Marine says that if the incident is as reported in the despatch, he will make a protest to Washington.

CANADIANS VISITED LIEGE EXPOSITION

Mr. Chas. M. Alexander Has Good Word to Say of the Canadian Exhibit.

The first Canadian to register in the visitors' book of the Canadian exhibit at the Liege exposition was Mr. Chas. M. Alexander, the well known Montrealer. Mr. Alexander has just returned to the city after a two months' tour through most of the principal cities of Europe.

"I visited the exposition on the day previous to the formal opening," said Mr. Alexander to a Herald reporter this morning, "and I was surprised at the backwardness apparent there. The only large exhibit which was completely prepared for the opening was the Canadian. Everything there was in readiness and the arrangement and attention to detail were splendid."

Mr. Alexander met several of the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in London. He was obliged to leave for Liverpool on the day following that on which the Canadians arrived, however, and consequently was unable to see all of his friends who were with the party.

Mr. Alexander, being an organist, was greatly interested in the great churches of the European cities and spent a large part of his time in visiting them. He was accompanied a part of the time by Rev. Mr. Barnabas, pastor of the Huguenot congregation in the crypt of Canterbury Cathedral.

Mr. A. G. Campion, of New York, was introduced on 'Change and the Board of Trade by Mr. T. R. McCarthy and Mr. James Carnap, of Ronsdorf, Germany, was introduced by Mr. John N. Warmington.

Edinburgh, July 6.—At the Edinburgh and Leith Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the president, Mr. Blaikie, the members of the chamber, the Lord Provost, Sir Robert Cranston, and the members of the council, welcomed the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on their arrival at noon, from Newcastle. Lord Rosebery sent a letter of regret at being unable to be present. He is at Aylesbury, England, delivering a political speech. His Lordship sent an invitation to the Canadians to visit and take luncheon at his home "Dalmeny."

The Duke of Buccleuch regretted also being out of the city. He also sent an invitation to the members to visit Dalkeith Palace.

INSPECTED THE VIRGINIAN.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, July 6.—A large party of merchants associated with the commerce between Canada and Liverpool assembled on board the Virginian with the object of inspecting her special capacity for cargo carrying. Representatives of the chief Canadian firms in Liverpool were present. The passenger department and freight arrangements were highly commended.

At a luncheon on board Mr. Becket Hill in the course of an address referring to the visit of the Canadian Manufacturers Association said they, perhaps, did not quite appreciate British views on trade and thought they had something to learn as well as to acquire.

The body found in the canal at the Wellington tSreet Bridge yesterday was finally identified this morning by Frank M. Keyes, a patient at the Hotel Dieu. He declared the body to be that of his brother Robert. He does not know how Robert met his death, but suspects foul play. There are no external marks of violence on the body but Coroner McMahon has decided to have an autopsy made and to hold an inquest on Saturday morning. The deceased man has evidently spent the month of June in jail, for inquiries at that place show that a man named Robert Keyes was committed on May 31, for drunkenness and was discharged on Friday last.

KNIAZ POTEMKIN IS AT THEODOSIA

Authorities Have Ordered Inhabitants to Leave the Town

VIEWS OF ADMIRAL WIRENIUS

Soldiers in a Warsaw Regiment Refused to Go to Manchuria and Fired on Cossacks—Fourteen Men Killed.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—Inquiry at the Admiralty this morning failed to confirm the report current late last night that the Kniaz Potemkin had already left Theodosia, Admiral Wirenius, chief of the naval staff, informed the Associated Press that according to the latest advices the battleship is still at Theodosia.

"What will be done?" asked the correspondent.

"We cannot tell you," was the reply. "The whole affair is in the hands of Vice-Admiral Chouknin, and he has not communicated his plans to us. Admiral Kruger's ships were due to leave Odessa yesterday afternoon. They should now be arriving at Sebastopol."

"Do you think that upon their arrival Vice-Admiral Chouknin will despatch the squadron to try to capture the Kniaz Potemkin?"

"We do not know what he will do. In my opinion the easiest and promptest solution would be to send a torpedo boat to sink her, and I advocated that course. The situation is grave. The ship is not in the hands of her crew, but in the hands of the revolutionary committee which went on board at Odessa. They have issued a high sounding manifesto to the powers. They want to be considered insurgents. I presume their next step will be to ask for recognition as belligerents. They know their heads are forfeited and will stop at nothing. In the eyes of the law they are outlaws and pirates. The first thing necessary is to make an example of the crew and restore discipline in the Black Sea fleet."

Admiral Wirenius said there was no truth in the report from Vienna that four hundred Russian sailors had destroyed a cruiser and sought refuge on board a British steamer bound for Constantinople.

Theodosia Evacuated.

Theodosia, Crimea, July 6.—The inhabitants are leaving the town in compliance with the orders of the authorities, who fear that the mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkin will carry out their threat to open fire on Theodosia this evening, only troops and officials remaining here.

Strike Settled.

Cronstadt, July 6.—The dock laborers strike here has been settled, the commercial transport companies reducing the hours of work to nine hours per day and increasing the men's wages ten per cent.

Mutiny in a Regiment.

Berlin, July 6.—A correspondent at Kattowitz, Silesia, says he learns from an altogether reliable source that sixteen men who were designated in each company of the Lithuanian lifeguard regiment in Warsaw to go to Manchuria June 28, refused to go, and their comrads declined to make them do so. Their colonel sent to another lifeguard regiment for help, but those men also refused to obey orders. Upon a similar refusal of a third lifeguard regiment the colonel of the Lithuania regiment applied to the military commander of Warsaw, who sent a detachment of Cossacks to the Mokotow camp. Some of the mutineers fired on the Cossacks, who returned the fire, fourteen altogether being killed before those who resisted were arrested.

EMPLOYERS THINK STRIKE WILL NOT LAST

Matters Are Very Quiet in Connection With Strike of Carpenters.

Although the Carpenters' Union continues daily its policy of "pulling out" men from shops of employers who refuse to sign the union agreement, the opinion is becoming general that the strike will not be of long duration.

One of the largest contractors reports that yesterday he had a communication from union headquarters offering him all the men he wanted. While a specified rate of wage was named, it was intimated that the union would not press the signing of its agreement contract. As regards this proposition, the statement of a contractor at the Builders' Exchange this morning embodies the general feeling: "So far as contracts are concerned the Carpenters' Union is to us non-existent. We are open to take any man on on his merits as a carpenter, not as a union or non-union man. We are not doing business with the union."

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Simpson & Peel, St. Philip Street, had the balance of their union employes called out. The number of men who went out is considerably above a score. Officials of the firm said to-day that the union had called out some men from their shops last week, and this final stroke had been waited for.

Metcalfe, Ont.—The main building in the county of Russell Agricultural grounds, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is $1,500, insured in the London Mutual Fire Insurance Company for $700.

Owen Sound, Ont.—John McBurney was instantly killed at Shallow Lake by the fall of a section of an immense smoke stack which was being erected at the Owen Sound Cement Company's plant.

Sherbrooke.—Five places on Marquette Street were on fire at one time yesterday. Among the properties destroyed were Gagne's "King Bee" cigar factory, the barns of Mr. Geo. Ayer, and the sheds of the Presbyterian Church.

Toronto—A deputation from Napanee waited upon Premier Whitney and Hon. Mr. Monteith and requested the establishmen of an experimental farm near that town. It is said the request will likely be granted.

Lunenburg—A telegram from Captain George Backman, of the Lunenburg fishing schooner Azala, to Hirtle, Rafuse and company, informed them of the loss of William Shupt and Harold Backman, dory mates.

Sydney—The City Council and Board of Trade are endeavoring to prevail upon the Cape Breton Coal, Iron and Railway Company to locate their terminus here. Louisburg is also after the directors, with a $30,000 bonus as inducement.

Winnipeg—William MacDonald, one of the highwaymen sentenced last spring for daring robberies on the streets is dying at Stoney Mountain Penitentiary. He was given a ten years sentence, and a pardon will be asked for.

Charlottetown, P.E.I.—The dwellings and barns of Hugh U. McCormac at Primrose, King's County, were destroyed by fire, nothing being saved with the exception of a mower and waggon. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

Winnipeg—One of the leaders in the Doukhobor pilgrimage of the fall of 1902, Naki Mahosaeff by name, died in the Winnipeg general hospital, as the result of an illness brought on by refusal to eat cooked food, while in the penitentiary for destroying agricultural implements.

Port Arthur—The site of the blast furnace and coal docks has been changed, and the works will be located three quarters of a mile closer to the town, near the Canadian Northern round-house. It was found the bottom at the first site was not suitable for a foundation. The new site will greatly benefit Port Arthur.

Toronto.—A telegram received at the Crown Lands Department tells of a heavy fire raging in the Temamagi district reserve along the line of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, seventy miles above North Bay. It is believed the fire was caused by sparks from engines on the Temiskaming Railway, and that similar causes were also responsible for several other fires that have occurred in the reserve this season.

Brantford—Some differences exist between the city and the Grand Trunk Railway and the aldermen have declared all negotiations off tending towards a settlement till the company carry out their agreements regarding crossings, subways, etc. The new Grand Trunk station here will be opened in about eight days, while the date of the main line opening is said to be the middle of August.

Wingfield, Ont.—It has been decided to raise $12,000 by debenture issue to improve the waterworks system. By a large majority vote it is also agreed to fix the assessment of the Canada Furniture Manufacturers' property at $20,000 for a period of ten years, in consideration of which the company will erect a large addition to their union factory, and increase the number of men employed at present.

Belleville, Ont.—Mr. H. Corby, ex-M.P. of this city, has completed the new arrangement affecting his extensive distilling business and a stock company has been formed, including some prominent capitalists at Montreal. Mr. Corby is chairman of the board of directors. Extensive improvements are being made in the plant at Corbyville, where a large warehouse is being erected, while plans which will double the capacity of the plant are well in hand.

TWENTY THOUSAND JOINED IN HYMNS

C.E. Convention at Baltimore is a Big Thing—Two Million Fund.

Baltimore, Md., July 6.—Nearly twenty thousand people gathered in Armory Hall last night, at the Christian Endeavor convention, to attend the "International festival of prayer," rendered under the direction of Rev. Carey Bonner, of London.

While almost entirely musical, it was in every sense a meeting for worship, and the bowing of twenty thousand heads in prayer, preceded by momentary utter silence, was impressive, the convention chorus of 2,400 voices, reinforced by four hundred of the junior Christian Endeavorers, making a total of 2,800 voices.

Preceding the festival a telegram of greeting was ordered sent to President Francis E. Clarke.

No announcement will be made here as to where the convention of 1907 is to be held. The matter has been referred back to the executive committee, with instructions to secure further information and report to a meeting of the full board, which will be held some time during the winter session.

A CLARK MEMORIAL FUND.

A proposition, originating outside the officers of the united society, has been made looking to the establishment of a memorial fund, especially in honor of Dr. Francis E. Clark, the founder of this world movement for the religious training of the young. The suggestion is that the fund be known as the Quarter Century Memorial Fund, and that it be made up of contributions to average twenty-five cents (one cent for each year of the life of the society, reckoning from next year), from each member of the organization. As the membership is in the neighborhood of 8,000,000, a fund of about $2,000,000 would be realized. It is suggested that the best plan for the investment of such a fund would be the erection of a building, part of which would be rented for the purpose of supplying income, and part used as international Christian Endeavor headquarters. At the meeting of trustees to-day this plan was by vote heartily approved, and the active committee was requested to appoint an international committee to take charge of the matter.

EVERY MAN HATES HIMSELF

If he wakes up with headache and bad taste in the mouth. Something to settle the stomach is needed. That dull, heavy feeling must be lifted, an appetite must be created. Get a tumbler of water, some sugar, and then pour in a stiff dose of Nerviline. You'll feel tip top in a few minutes. Nerviline invigorates braces, tones, puts vim and snap into your movements. You'll be fitted for a hard day's work by taking Nerviline—nothing better. Large bottle, 25c; everywhere.

Manitoba grows the wheat that feeds the people.

That nasty feeling of "WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN THE MORNING" will soon vanish if you take a John Collins made with "Club" Old Tom Gin.

No other Old Tom will settle your stomach and clear your head as quickly as the "CLUB" OLD TOM GIN.

It's a strictly pure and wholesome spirit, distilled with aromatic herbs having medicinal properties especially adapted for stomach disorders.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Bluefields, W. Va., July 6.—By an explosion in the Tidewater coal mine at Vivian, twenty-two miles west of this city, yesterday, nine miners, all of whom were Italians, were injured, and two of them died later in the hospital, while three more are in a precarious condition with slight chances of recovery.

HOUSE AND SENATE NO LONGER NEED CONFER.

Ottawa, Ont., July 6.—Hon. Mr. Poirier moved yesterday that the Senate come to the following resolutions: That in cases in which the Commons disagree to any amendments made by the Senate, or insist upon any amendments to which the Senate has disagreed, the Senate is willing to receive the reasons of the Commons for their disagreeing or insisting (as the case may be) by message, without a conference, unless at any time the Commons should desire to communicate the same at a conference. That any conferences between the Houses may be a free conference. He said he was directed in this matter by the committee revising the rules. At present in case of any disagreement a conference had to be demanded, but the machinery was very involved. In England they had years ago discovered that this was a clumsy way of doing business. The resolution was a copy, amended to suit the circumstances, of that passed by the Lords in 1851. The provision for a free conference was taken from Australia. The resolution carried.

SUMMER SCHOOL WAS PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

Summer School for Clergy at Lennoxville Was Much Enjoyed by Those Present.

The summer school for clergy, held at Lennoxville, closed last Tuesday evening, when hearty votes of thanks were tendered to Principal Whitney and the authorities of Bishop's University for their liberality in placing the buildings at the disposal of the school. Nothing could have exceeded the hospitality of the Principal and Mrs. Whitney, and much of the success which attended this gathering of clergymen is attributed to their kindness.

Especial mention is also made of the lectures of Dean Hodges, of Cambridge, Mass., on the subject of "Christianity and Social Betterment." The Dean is full of the facts bearing on his subjects, and the whole is relieved from heaviness by flashes of wit and humor. All felt stimulated and benefited by this course of lectures.

The other lecturers were Principal Whitney, whose lectures on the Reformation, and on the Evangelical and the Oxford movements, were what one would expect from a master of his subject. Dr. Allnatt and Dr. Abbott Smith lectured on Biblical subjects, and Dr. Colby gave two interesting lectures on St. Augustine. In the absence of Rev. F. G. Scott, of Quebec, who was to have given a course, Dr. Symonds delivered two lectures.

The lectures were given in the mornings, and the afternoons and evenings were devoted to recreation, and the unanimous opinion was that the summer school was an institution of great value, which should, if possible, become an annual event. Those present, in addition to the lecturers already named, were Revs. Boulden, Craig, Charters, Emmett, Fee, Kerr, Plaisted, Roy, Loiselle, Willis, Parker, Wright, Plasquet, Fothergill, Stevens, Shreve, Reid and Pte. A few lay people also attended the lectures, the total number being between forty and fifty. A warm invitation to hold the school next year at Brockville has been received by Dr. Symonds, signed by all the Anglican clergy of that city.

LATE CITY HAPPENINSG

Dr. Peter Bedard, thirty-five years of age was found dead in his bed at 1523 Ontario street yesterday. Heart disease was the cause. On learning the particulars Coroner McMahon disposed of the case.

The upsetting of an oil lamp in a passage, caused a small blaze in the house of Miss Eva Clarke at 469 Magdalen Strect last night. No. 9 company extinguished the flames before much damage was done.

Yesterday afternoon, while working on a new building on St. Lawrence St., Frederick Leblanc, of 66 Gaspe street attempted to lift a heavy weight, and in so doing ruptured himself. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital.

While working in Decarie's brick Mrs. McLaughlin, the old lady eighty five or ninety years of age, who was pulled out of a ditch on Harbor Street yesterday morning by Constable Martin, and sentto the General Hospital has recovered somewhat and it is expected, will pull round all right. When brought to the hospital she was unable to give any account of herself, but it now appears that she escaped the day before from the Moore Home for Old People at Longue Pointe.

DUMPING CLAUSE WILL BE EXTENDED

Budget This Afternoon Will Contain Few Radical Changes

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—While it is not anticipated that in his budget speech this afternoon Hon. Mr. Fielding will spring any surprises, one interesting tariff change may be expected. This is the application of the dumping clause to certain articles from the United States, which are now on the free list. It is possible that binder twine may be among the articles so honored.

In the way of tariff changes, there will be few announced owing to the fact that a commission will soon inquire into the operation of the tariff, and next session a new tariff will be brought down.

There may be an announcement that the British preference will be extended to Australia, but this will only be done if Canada is similarly favored in the new tariff the Commonwealth is preparing. Canada's preference has been extended to New Zealand and South Africa.

In his review of the financial situation Hon. Mr. Fielding will announce a surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditure, and a small surplus of revenue over all expenditures. He will be able to point to prosperous conditions throughout Canada and the indication of prosperity for years to come.

MONTREAL WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED

Convention of Canadian Municipalities at Winnipeg Promises Well.

When the fifth annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities meets in Winnipeg, on the 25th inst., Montreal and the surrounding municipalities, will be thoroughly well represented. Mayor Laporte will attend as President, and with him will be the Mayor of Longueuil, the Mayor of Maisonneuve, and several other of the heads of suburbs. About twenty will be from this neighborhood; while Mayor Ellis of Ottawa, and the mayor of Halifax, will also be present.

Mayor Ellis will speak on the Electric fight in Ottawa.

The following subjects are now on the list: Civic Improvements by Day Labor, Municipal Insurance, The Ottawa Electric Fight, The Dominion Telephone Committee, Municipal Works in Canadian Cities, Improvements in Legislation, Western Municipal Development, British Columbia Municipalities, Rural Telephones. (Lantern slide lecture).

The party will visit the wheat fields, Port Arthur and Port William before returning.

A personally conducted excursion to the Pacific Coast left Montreal this morning in a special train composed of baggage car, smoking car, Pullman tourist cars and dining car over the Grand Trunk Railway System and connecting lines, in charge of Mr. E. C. Bowler, of Bethel, Me. The party was a select one, including members of Parliament, clergymen, members of the legal profession and doctors from the Province of Quebec, the States of Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire, and a number from Ottawa. The party will be augmented at Toronto by the addition of about twenty-five more from the Province of Ontario. The tour will occupy thirty days, and the journey will be covered in special train until their return to Montreal a month hence.

The route will be over the Grand Trunk Railway System from Montreal to Chicago, thence via Rock Island route to Denver, Colorado Springs and other interesting points, such as Manitou, the Garden of the Gods and Cripple Creek. From there the trip over the Denver & Rio Grande through the Rocky Mountains to Salt Lake City, will be made, including a trip through the Grand Canon of the Arkansas; from Salt Lake City the route carries the party over the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad to Los Angeles. About ten days will be spent in California visiting the most interesting places, such as San Bernardino, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Monterey, Del Monte, Santa Cruz, San Francisco, Mount Shasta, etc., and the entire length of the State will be traversed by day'ight. Two days will be spent at Portland, Oregon, where the Lewis and Clark Exposition will be visited, one day will be put in at Seattle, and stops will be made at Tacoma and Spokane, Wash., the return trip being made via the Northern Pacific through the Yellowstone Park to St. Paul, Rock Island route to Chicago and the Grand Trunk Railway System home. It is proposed to run a similar personally conducted tour over practically the same route during the month of August, particulars of which may be had from representatives of the Grand Trunk Railway System.

INTERNATIONAL MEETING POR BUSINESS ONLY

The members of the International Waterways Commission, at present in Ottawa, and who will meet in Montreal, at the Board of Trade building, on the eleventh, inst., will arrive in this city on Saturday.

No formal reception will be tendered the party; a drive about the city and an inspection of the harbor being all the entertainment.

At the conference the main topic will be the Lake Erie proposed dam, and its effect on the St. Lawrence River.

WILL BE RECORD YEAR FOR TOURISTS IN CANADA

Mr. G. T. Bell, General Passenger & Ticket Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway system is continually in receipt of communications from patrons eulogizing the service that is found on the entire system. An unsolicited letter dated June 31st reads as follows:—

"I have just returned from the Pacific coast and it may interest you to know that my wife and I immensely enjoyed the run over your road, and you must admit that when a woman is pleased and delighted, she receives something that has the classic touch of excellence and elegance. I am inclined to think that the railroad that pleases a woman is pretty near perfection."

The travel over the Grand Trunk is increasing every year and travellers from all parts are taking the opportunity of riding on the fast trains which this line is noted for in Canada and over their double track route between the principal cities of the East and West. This season has brought in more requests for information regarding Canada and the many summer resorts along the line of the Grand Trunk than ever before and a staff of clerks is kept busy replying to the many questions asked. Hundreds of letters are received daily from all parts of the continent and the prospects are that Canada will be visited by the largest influx of tourists, sportsmen, and anglers during 1905 than in any previous year. This no doubt is due principally to the vigorous policy of advertising which the Grand Trunk Railway system has waged in later years.

THOMAS W. LAWSON TALKED HERE OF THE WAYS OF FRENZIED FINANCE

Paid Flying Visit to Montreal En Route to Kansas—Will Convert the Kansas Farmers—Man of Personality and Aggression.

Thomas W. Lawson spent a few brief but torrid moments in Montreal last night at the Bonaventure station. When his train pulled out the platform was metaphorically strewn with the shattered fragments of every large capital-controlling organization in the United States, and Messrs. Rockefeller, Morgan, et al., stood revealed, before a select group of privileged newspaper men, in all the shameful nakedness of their true character.

Mr. Lawson is going out to lecture to the Kansas farmers. He desires to help them realize that Standard Oil is the latest manifestation of the evil one; and incidentally to point out that the new gospel is to be found in Everybody's Magazine. One doubts, however, whether he will be as forceful on the lecture-platform as he is in the pages of a magazine. The enormous figures that he deals with in his one all-prevailing argument concerning over-capitalization may seem convincing enough on paper, when you know you could verify them if you felt like it, and they could not get away before you did it; but in conversation they are elusive, shadowy, large-sounding, but not solid. They cannot be grasped. The personality of Thomas Lawson of course counts for something, but really it is a great deal more in evidence in one of his half-page newspaper adds than in conversation. Tis language does not fulminate and crackle as one would expect of the language of the author of "Frenzied Finance."

Lawson is a large, athletic, well set-up man, with all the characteristics of the sportively-inclined and rather pugnacious stock broker, and with a complete absence of the quality of reserve. The exploitation of his personality seems to be his chief object—not necessarily his final object but at any rate he pursues it very carefully as a means to an end. He knows the strength of that personality, and he regards it as his biggest asset. Perhaps consciously, perhaps unconsciously, he poses with it incessantly to get the maximum of effect, to make the impression on the beholding public as strong as possible. He is enormously impressed with the importance of his "mission," and to the critical beholder he seems to over-estimate it. At any rate he advanced little las tnight that has not been advanced before. It certainly did not need Mr. Lawson to tell the newspaper men who met him last night that the modern practice of capitalizing contingent profits had certain very great disadvantages, especially for those of the innocent public who do not understanad what it means. But if the fervor of the converted Mr. Lawson's convictions is going to avail to awaken the farmers of Kansas and make them realize that they ought to understand, it will certainly do good.

With all his self-exploitation, Lawson is not vulgar. In fact on casual acquaintance he is quite a good fellow to meet, and one was inclined to envy the little group of prominent journalists who are going to attend him throughout his western pilgrimage. The party, besides its extensive force of stenographers and clerks, (for the chief office of Everybody's Magazine seems now to be in the car "Hazlemere") includes C. J. Ridgeway, publisher of Everybody's Magazine, J. O. Cosgrave, of the editorial staff, Jas. Creelman of the New York World, Lindsay Denison of the New York Sun, Thomas Feeney of the Boston Globe, F. F. McSweeney, Mr. Lawson's private secretary, Arnold Lawson, and several of the latter's friends.

Mr. Lawson has not paid much attention to Canada. He declined to denounce any of our own capitalistic organizations until he knew more about them—possibly because none of them can be talked about in terms of the sonorous "hundred million dollars." He hopes to lecture some day in Toronto, and possibly in Montreal, though these are but vague plans.

"I believe things are much the same in Canada in a smaller way," he said, laughingly. "National boundaries and high tariff walls are no good to keep out fake finance. I expect that a few people are making all the money out of the advance of Canada that ought to be going into the pockets of the people, just as is the case with us. I shall be back here some time, all right."

TOURISTS PLEASED WITH GRAND TRUNK SERVICE

Larger Numbers Than Ever Being Carried Over the G.T.R. This Season.

Mr. G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, is frequently in receipt of communications from patrons praising the service that is found on the entire system. An unsolicited letter from a physician of Aiken, South Carolina, dated July 1st, reads: "I had the pleasure of travelling over your line from Portland, Me., to Detroit, Mich., and have no hesitation in saying that your roadbed is one of the smoothest I have ever been on and the night I travelled from Montreal to Toronto, the train was as steady as if one had been in a hotel."

The travel over the Grand Trunk is increasing every years, and as the excellence of this railroad is becoming known more and more, travellers from all parts are taking the opportunity of riding on the fast trains which this line is noted for in Canada and over their double track route between the principal cities of the East and West.

This season has brought in more requests for information regarding Canada and the many summer resorts along the line of the Grand Trunk than ever before, and a staff of clerks are kept busy replying to the many questions asked and forwarding the literature descriptive of the different localities. Hundreds of letters are received daily from all parts of the continent, and the prospects are that Canada will be visited by the largest influx of tourists, sportsmen, and anglers during 1905 than in any previous year. This, no doubt, is due principally to the vigorous policy of advertising which the Grand Trunk Railway System has waged in latter years, and which has aimed to educate the people of the United States and foreign countries to the attractions and health-giving regions that are found in the summer resort districts in Canada.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF MR. I. PREFONTAINE

A large number of prominent Montrealers were present at the funeral of Irenee Prefontaine, the son of Mr. Isiae Prefontaine, which took place from the Beloeil church this morning. The interior of the church was draped in mourning and the service was a most impressive one. Bishop Beauchamp, of Ottawa, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Fathers Pobbe, Senecal and Bernard. The absolution was pronounced by Mgr. Bernard of St. Hyacinthe.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Ph. Durocher, E. Gadbois, T. Boisseau, A. Dufresne, A. Dupuis, G. Gictor, E. Faucher, and L. Gadbois

The chief mourners were Mr. Isaie Prefontaine father of the deceased and Messrs. J. H. Pigeon, Ed. Ducharme, D. Prefontaine, (of East Durham); E. Prefontaine, (St. Marc), A. Pigeon, uncles of the deceased; L. and John Ducharme, A. Dufresne, Dr I. Turcotte, (St. Hyacinthe); J. A. Girard, Abbe T. Bernard, curate of Sorel; Mgr. Bernard, vicar of St. Hyacinthe; J. P. A. Pigeon, of Bonsfield, Ont. cousins of the deceased.

Ministers Will Decide Next Week on Demand Increased Indemnity

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—There will be a Ministerial conference next week on the request for an increase of the sessional indemnity from fifteen hundred to twenty-five hundred a session. There was a very largely signed round-robin making the request presented to the Government by the whips of both sides of the House. It is held that the great length of sessions makes the increase necessary to secure the propore sort of representatives.

CRIMINAL CODE AND TRADING STAMPS.

The Minister of Justice gives notice of an amendment to the criminal code. The details are not available, but the legislation affects trading stamps. The fact that the bill will be introduced by the Minister of Justice instead of a private member, as previously announced, and that the criminal code is invoked against trading stamps are regarded as important.

Mr. R. L. Borden gives notice of an amendment to the House of Commons Act to provide that a Parliamentary vacancy must be filled within three months. This is the Ontario law.

A sub-committee of ten has been appointed from the Senate and House to make a report on a plan of tuberculosis prevention. The report will be made before prorogation.

IRISH PEER'S SON WEDS FAIR OTTAWA GIRL

Hon. Francis MacNaghten United Today to Daughter of Late Chief Justice Ritchie—A Brilliant Affair.

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—The social element of Ottawa were keenly interested in a fashionable event at St. George's Church this afternoon. Miss Beatrice Ritchie, daughter of the late Chief Justice and Lady Ritchie, was married to Hon. Francis MacNaghten, second son of Lord MacNaghten, Runkerry, Ireland.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Snowdon, rector of the church, assisted by Rev. G. F. Woolcombe, and a full surpliced choir, which rendered the Lohengrin chorus as the party entered. The bride was given away by her brother, John A. Ritchie. She wore pale blue taffeta and carried a prayer book. She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Ritchie, as bridesmaid, and her niece, Miss Bettie Hodgins as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. Hazen Ritchie, brother of the bride. The ushers were W. J. Ritchie, Samuel MacDougall, M. J. Thompson and Mr. Appleby.

The church was beautifully decorated, as was the home of Lady Ritchie, on Metcalfe Street, where a reception was held after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. MacNaghten left on the afternoon train for the Maine coast, where they will remain for a short time before proceeding to their future home in Vancouver. Many handsome gifts were received by the bride.

BLESSED THE NEW ORGAN AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Solemn Ceremony Followed by Recital Took Place at the Church Last Night.

The blessing of St. Mary's new organ, followed by an organ recital under the direction of Prof. J. D. Dussault, organist of Notre Dame Church, took place last evening at St. Mary's Church. At eight o'clock, Rev. Canon Emile Roy, chancellor of the Archdiocese clothed in cape and assisted by Rev. J. P. Kiernan, P.P., St. Michael's; Rev. F. Rioux P.P., St. Ann's, and Rev. Father Brady, P.P., St. Mary's, blessed the organ. In the sanctuary were Rev. Fathers Casey, P.P., St. Agnes; Jas. White, formerly of the Archdiocese of St. John's, Newfoundland, but now attached to the Montreal Archdiocese; Legace, St. Joseph's; Corbeil, St. Joseph's; Connolly, S.J., Cotter, S.J., Immaculate Conception; Sauve, Winnipeg; Cullinan, St. Mary's; McCrory, Cote St. Paul; Elliott, Montreal Seminary.

The blessing of the organ was followed by the first part of the recital. Rev. Father J. C. Brophy, professor at St. John's Seminary, Boston, delivered the sermon. He took for his text, "Praise the Lord with psaltery and harp, praise Him with timbrel and choir, praise Him with strings and organs."

After the sermon the second part of the recital took place, followed by solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, which was imparted by Rev. Father Corbeil, assisted by Rev. Fathers Casey and White. The choir under the direction of Prof. James Wilson and Mr. T. C. Emblem, rendered a choice programme in excellent style. At the conclusion of benediction, the third part of the recital was given.

The new instrument was built by M. Pepin, of this city, under the direction of M. Casavant, St. Hyacinthe. It contains forty-two knobs, thirty-two registers, nine combination pedals, also swell and crescendo pedals, the action is tubular pneumatic, and is worked by water motor.

A LARGE PARTY OF MOLOKANS ARRIVES

They Are Much Like the Doukhobors and Come From the Same Trans-Caucasian District.

Winnipeg, Man., July 6.—Over one hundred Molokans, including women and children, from the Kars district of Trans-Caucasia, have arrived here. That country being joined to the Russian Empire in 1878, the Doukhobors and Molokans were located there. They are somewhat different from Doukhobors in dress, although their features are much similar. The Molokans are Russian dissenters, who have sprung from the same origin as Doukhobors.

A family of stranded Russians arrived this morning from Emerson. Nicholas Baurokaum, with his wife, son and child, were on their way from the fatherland to their friend, Peter Arin, at Orlean, Minnesota, when they were held up at the boundary line by American immigration officials, and sent back to Winnipeg.

EXTENSIVE FORGERY CASE AT ARTHABASKA.

Arthabaska, July 6—(Special)—At the criminal assizes, Gilbert S. Wintle, of Kingsey, was acquitted of having got goods under false pretences. On Tuesday morning, the case against Arthur Filteau for forgery was opened. This case will take several sittings; during two days only four witnesses were heard and it is said that there are about thirty witnesses subpoenaed. Arthur Filteau was doing business in partnership with his two brothers at Fecteau's Mills, till they became insolvent about two years ago. They ran a saw mill, a carding mill, a flour mill, etc. Arthur Filteau was the manager of the firm. He is accused by the crown of having forged two notes, one of $510.00 and the other of $420.00, by putting as endorsers of those notes the names of Norbert Plante and John Ramesay, two farmers of Fecteau's Mills, who it is claimed do not read nor write. The forgery alleged is said to have been discovered, in the fall of 1903 when the Molson's Bank took out several actions against the endorsers. These endorsers pleaded forgery, and the bank withdrew their actions. Mr. Achille Marchand, manager of the Molson's Bank, at Victoriaville and Mr. Joseph Bemrose, expert in handwriting, of Montreal, are being heard.

MR. S. HOCKIN MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT.

Yesterday at noon Mr. Stanley Hockin, of Skelton Brothers, met with a rather peculiar accident on the mountain side. He had been on the mountain and was running down the path above Peel Street, when he came to a spot where the path takes a sudden turn. He was going too fast to make a turn, and in consequence fell over the bank and dislocated his shoulder. He was able to walk home, and was afterwards taken to the General Hospital, where the dislocation was reduced.

TRADES COUNCIL TO MEET.

The Montreal Trades and Labor Council will have its regular meeting to-night at 1378 St. Elizabeth street, St. Joseph's Hall. A copy of the report of His Honor Judge Winchester, commissioner appointed by the department of labor to enquire into the alleged employment of aliens by the Pere Marquette Railway Co., of Canada, will come up for discussion. Other important matters will be brought up before the meeting.

KINGSTON STREET CARS MAY RUN ON MONDAY

New Company Gets Exemption From Taxes, and Legislature, Not Voters, Will be Asked to Ratify It.

Kingston, Ont., July 6.—(Special)—The city council last night made the following concessions to the street railway company being formed to take over the plants. The concessions have been accepted. Power at 1.66 cents a kilowatt hour, the right to double-track any portion or portions of the line, the right to cut out the Williamsville branch, reduced service from Sept. 15th to June 15th, exemption from taxation for twenty-five years.

It is not necessary to submit a by-law to the people for the taxation exemption. Direct application to the legislature will be made. The street railway people undertake to bear the expense in regard to the application. They also have relief from paying their part of cost of removing snow from streets and keeping roads between tracks.

It is quite likely the cars will be in operation next Monday. The chief persons in the new company are W. F. and H. C. Nickle and George and H. W. Richardson, all of Kingston.

HON. G. W. ROSS FOR A GOVERNORSHIP.

Ottawa, July 6.—The Free Press (Lib.) gave prominence yesterday to the suggestion that the ex-premier of Ontario will be provided with a lieutenant-governorship in one of the proposed new western provinces. It says: "Hon. G. W. Ross, the ex-Premier of Ontario, is one of the gentleman mentioned for the lieutenant-governorship of one of the new western provinces. The position will be an attractive one and to the honor will be coupled the need for talents of constructive governorship. The leadership of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature cannot possess any great attractions for the ex-Premier, although everyone knows that a warm political fight is one of the chief pleasures of life to Hon. G. W. Ross. To those who remember the man from Middlesex, when he fought in opposition in Ottawa in the early eighties there comes recollections of a man who thoroughly enjoyed the free and untrammelled opportunities of the man who can be critic and censor."

BIRMINGHAM CALLS DALHOUSIE PROFESSOR.

Halifax, July 6.—Prof. S. M. Dixon, of Dalhousie University, Halifax, received a cablegram to-day informing him that he had been appointed to the chair of civil engineering in the University of Birmingham. This university has just inaugurated this department, and Professor Dixon is the first occupant of the chair. His chair in Dalhousie was that of civil engineering. He will accept.

The hours in the office of the Court of Appeals during the months of July and August will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The judge will sit in chambers every Wednesday at 11 o'clock a.m. during these months.

BUTCHER BILL OF A RAILWAY BRIDGE.

Winnipeg, Man., July 6.—(Special.) — A correspondent states that many accidents have taken place in the construction of the C. N. R. bridges, seven miles above North Battleford. One man was killed by a pulley falling from a steam pile driver and striking him on the head, and another lost his life by falling from the bridge and drowning. Another had his jaw bone broken, whilst still another had his finger smashed by being caught between a hammer and the head of a pile. He had to have his finger amputated. No names are given.

THE SOLDIER-ACTOR

Knows the Value of Pe-ru-na By Many Experiences.

In some points the soldier and the actor have similar experiences.

Both are frequently put to test to the full text of their abilities; both are subject to constant changes and new environments; both are exposed to climate in peculiar ways.

These are not the only points of agreement. Both regard Peruna as the greatest medicine in the world to prevent catarrhal ailments and to cure catarrhal ills already acquired.

The actor and the soldier are among Peruna's best friends.

Therefore, the Soldier-Actor not only understands the merits of Peruna in military campaign, but the usefulness of Peruna to the one who must stand before the footlights every night and face large and critical audiences.

Mortimer Kaphan, the Soldier-Actor, who organized the Soldier's Actor Company which fought in the late Spanish-American War, writes from 1931 Broadway, New York City:

"Being subject to colds and catarrh of the head, I have always resorted to the use of Peruna, which I have never known to fail to accomplish a speedy cure. I never go on the road without a bottle of the same."

An Army Officer.

William T. Johnston, ex-Capt. U.S.A., writes from Tacoma Park, D.C.:

"Please put me down as a thorough believer in Peruna as a catarrh remedy and as a tonic good for the effects not only of that obnoxious disease, but to tone up the system that has been overtaxed or run down by continued strain, either physical or mental."

What Carleton Macy Says.

Mr. Carleton Macy, a prominent actor who has starred successfully for several seasons, sends the following from 146 22nd Street, New York city:

"I consider Peruna a great remedy for catarrh. Typhoid fever had left me with chronic catarrh of the bowels. I was induced to try Peruna and in a month's time I was in a normal state again."

MORTIMER KAPHAN,
As Brutus in Julius Caesar.

MOBILIZATION HAS EXCITED WORKMEN

Mood of Russian Proletariate Grows More Dangerous Daily.

London, July 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times ascribes the more threatening turn the strike movement has taken to the fact that the mobilization is still proceeding. The workmen have become alarmed and restless. Their mood thus far has not been ugly, but they are notoriously under the control of the revolutionary organizations, which may or may not decide upon extreme measures. The correspondent adds that Batoum is cut off from the world, all steamers having stopped. The railway employes in the Caucasus are striking.

ZEMSTVO CONGRESS VETOED.

Moscow despatches say that Government has forbidden the holding of the big congress of Zemstvoists and other representatives from all parts of Russia, called for July 13.

A despatch to the Standard from Odessa says Odessa's communication with Nicolaieff and Kherson is only tentatively re-opened. Communications with the Caucasus is suspended. There was a crowd at Cap Fontain Tuesday night watching for the expected re-appearance of the Kniaz Potemkin Tavritchesky. Cossacks attacked the people and brutally dispersed them, killing and wounding thirty. There has been more shooting in the Peressyq district. It is stated that twenty-seven persons were killed. Ugly rumors are current regarding the future outbreak. The chief of police says there are grave reasons to fear that such an outbreak is being organized.

MUTINEERS HAVE LITTLE CHANCE.

Odessa, July 6.—Admiral Kruger's squadron, consisting of the battleships Rostislav, Dvienadsat Apostolf and Tri Sviattitelja, a cruiser and half a dozen torpedo boats, with the recaptured battleship Georgi Pobiedonosteff, has arrived at Sebastopol, where, learning that the Kniaz Potemkin was at Theodosia, orders were immediately given to pursue her. It seems certain the mutineer will now be hunted down mercilessly. The excuse for inaction, which obtained at Odessa cannot prevail on the open sea. At the same time the encounter may be terrible. Naval officers at Sebastopol declare positively that the Kniaz Potemkin has comparatively little ammunition, having expended a quantity during the manoeuvre. There is reason, however, for taking this statement with reserve. Meanwhile the freedom of the mutineer to roam the Black Sea is paralyzing trade.

Sixty-seven of the mutineers from the Georgi Pobiedonosetz, including the ring leaders, were imprisoned to-day. It is expected that all of them will be shot.

MR. CHAS. FERGIE WAS APPOINTED

To Position of Superintendent of Mines for Dominion Coal Company.

Mr. Charles Fergie, one of the best known mining engineers in America, has been appointed to the position of Superintendent of Mines for the Dominion Coal Company, lately vacated by Mr. Austin King, of Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Fergie was general manager of the Intercolonial Coal Company of Westville, N.S., for sixteen years.

Mr. Fergie had formally signified his intention of accepting the appointment and will begin his new duties next month.

THE CABMEN THINK THE TARIFF TOO LOW

Say the Cabs Go Faster Than They Did When Regulation Was Made.

At their annual meeting last night the Cabmen's Union elected officers, discussed their tariff and arranged for their picnic.

The discussion on tariff was purely informal and the majority wished to have the tariff slightl yincreased. Paying by time did not represent what it used to do, as the speed of cabs was much increased. Their particular wish, however, was to have the City Council revise the tariff regulations. The rates in Montreal, Westmount, etc., being different, caused trouble.

The secretary-treasurer reported a sum of $300 spent last year fighting the Observation cars. So far these had not been put on the lines this summer.

A resolution was passed opposed to the agitation for increased speed of street railway cars. Such increased speed would be granted at the expense of life and property. The union will before long appoint a committee to lay the tariff question before the City Council.

The following officers were elected:—President, Thomas Thompson; vice-president, H. Thierien; financial secretary, Ed. Tierney; recording secretary, Donald Larkin; treasurer, William Walker.

FROM THE EDITOR.

He Forgot That He Had a Stomach.

Talking of food, there is probably no professional man subjected to a greater, more wearing mental strain than the responsible editor of a modern newspaper.

To keep his mental faculties constantly in good working order, the editor must keep his physical powers up to the highest rate of efficiency. Nothing will so quickly upset the whole system as badly selected food and a disordered stomach. It therefore follows that he should have right food, which can be readily assimilated, and which furnishes true brain nourishment.

"My personal experience in the use of Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee," writes a Philadelphia editor, "so exactly agrees with your advertised claim as to their merits that any further exposition in that direction would seem to be superfluous. They have benefited me so much, however, during the five years that I have used them, that I do not feel justified in withholding my testimony.

"General 'high living' with all that the expression implies as to a generous table, brought about indigestion, in my case, with restlessness at night, and lassitude in the morning, accompanied by various pains and distressing sensations during working hours. The doctor diagnosed the condition as 'catarrh of the stomach,' and prescribed various medicines, which did me no good. I finally 'threw physics to the dogs,' gave up tea and coffee and heavy meat dishes, and adopted Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee as the chief articles of my diet.

"I can conscientiously say, and I wish to say it with all the emphasis possible to the English language, that they have benefited me as medicines never did, and more than any other food that ever came on my table. My experience is that the Grape-Nuts Food has steadied and strengthened both brain and nerves to a most positive degree. How it does it, I cannot say, but I know that after breakfasting on Grape-Nuts food one actually forgets he has a stomach, let alone "stomach trouble.' It is, in my opinion, the most beneficial as well as the most economical food on the market, and has absolutely no rival." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

WORN-OUT GOLD TO BE RENEWED HERE

Britain Asks Canada to Bear Loss on Our Own Old Coins.

Ottawa, July 6.—(Special.)—From correspondence brought down to Parliament it appears that duplication of machinery in the Canadian branch of the royal mint was urged by the Imperial authorities. Mr. Courtney, who was in London at the time (January, 1901), replied that he did not think that coinage of gold and silver would at any time run concurrently, and that therefore double machinery would not be required. The machinery required would be, Mr. Courtney said, so far as gold was concerned, for nothing higher than $10, and would be confined to ten and five dollar pieces. For silver from fifty cent pieces to five cent pieces. "Our present bronze coinage," said Mr. Courtney, "is only for one cent, but it is possible that two cent pieces, equivalent to one penny, may be required, and at the same time a half cent or farthing may also be wanted."

It was stipulated in London that a deputy master or superintendent, an assayer, a chief clerk, and a master mechanic who understood machinery should be sent from London. If any additions to staff were required such could be appointed in the Dominion on recommendation of the Canadian Government. The Lords of the Treasury suggested that the Dominion Government should be invited to undertake to provide for the redemption at the cost of the Canadian revenue of all light sterling gold coin found in circulation in the Dominion. A similar arrangement was agreed to by the Government of India in connection with the proposed establishment of a branch mint at Bombay and the Treasury Lords were of opinion it was clearly equitable in the case of a colony or dependency not using the subsidiary currency of Great Britain. In the case of Australia the profit derived by the exchequer in the supply of silver coin might fairly be treated as a set off, in the opinion of their lordships, to the cost of renewals of worn gold coin transmitted to Great Britain in the ordinary course of trade. In the case of India or Canada the Imperial Government would have no such set off to the cost of renewing gold coin worn out in those countries, and it was necessary that such steps should be taken as would prevent transmission of Canadian or Indian worn out coins to the United Kingdom for renewal at the expense of the British taxpayer.

THE DOG CATCHERS ARE GETTING READY

All Dogs Whose Licenses are Unpaid Will be Put Out of the Way.

One week from next Saturday, the dog-catching season opens, and those who have not as yet paid their dog tax should do so at once, as the stray animals are destroyed after forty-eight hours' capture. By a recent decision in the court of law, it is not legal to sell a dog caught in this way—the animal must be done away with.

Perhaps at this time of the year, the dog nuisance is the most prominent one with which the police have to deal. The dog that inhabits the flat overhead, the dog that barks and howls at stray cats, with the hound of piercing voice that bays the moon, all these are nuisances, and the arm of the law must reach them.

When the July crusade is over, only the good dogs whose licenses have been paid will be left.

ANNEXATION MATTER WILL BE LEFT OVER

In the Fall Maisonneuve and Villeray Will be Included in Discussion.

It is not likely that the question of annexing St. Henri and St. Cunegonde will be left over until the fall. It is the first thing on the order sheet for Monday but it is the general impression that the topic is too important for hot-weather discussion.

When the matter is brought up, the project of taking in Maisonneuve, and Villeray, will be also be ventilated.

WAS KICKED BY A HORSE.

George Smith, a boy twelve years of age, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday, from his father's farm at Huntingdon. He is suffering from a broken jaw and a fractured skull, the result of a kick from a horse. The lad was unconscious when taken to the hospital, and is still in the same condition. His case is a very critical one, and there is small hope of his recovery.

Malone was placed in the vehicle, but expired before the Hospital could be reached. Heart disease was the cause of his death. On being informed of the circumstances, Coroner McMahon allowed the body to be removed to the man's late residence. Malone was a carter, 69 years of age, and lived at 153 Dorchester street.

Music and the Drama

The re-decorated Academy opens next Monday for a preliminary season with Eugenie Blair and her entire company. A series of interesting revivals is outlined which should make this engagement memorable in theatricals.

The first week will be devoted to Pinero's "Second Mrs. Tanqueray" and Ouida's thrilling and picturesque drama "Under Two Flags." These will be followed by a revival of Charles Dickens' famous story "Oliver Twist," with all the immortal characters, Fagan, Sikes, the Artful Dodger, Charlie Bates and Oliver, reproduced on the mimic stage. Miss Blair will, of course, be the generous and ill-fated Nancy Sikes, one of her finest impersonations. Other plays in contemplation are "Trilby," "Iris" and a new play of Suderman's, in which Miss Blair will star next season.

With a fine supporting company, popular prices and interesting plays this engagement should create a precedent in Montreal.

"Ranch 10," a drama of Western life in the Rockies will be the bill at the Royal next week presented by the Una Clayton stock company. It tells strongly and vividly the story of Alec. McClelland and his twin brother Tom, who are so alike that no one can distinguish them apart. Francis Morey will be seen in the dual role of the twin brothers, and Miss Clayton, as Annie Smalley, the girl from Massachusetts. The burning of the stockade in act second is one of the most realistic fire scenes ever witnessed.

"Never once bitten" is the report from the Cape by a user.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, JULY 6.

A FRESH TEMPTATION.

The death of Dr. Johnston, Liberal member for West Lambton, bids fair to test the acceptability of the moderate counsels the Gazette has been offering the Conservative party. It has looked, of late, as though Mr. Borden and his friends at Ottawa were disposed to accept the London and Oxford results as conclusive evidence that there is nothing to be expected from further appeals to anti-Catholic sentiment in Ontario. There are some few, it seems, who wanted to go on obstructing the Autonomy bills, but their wishes were overruled, and it was decided to help bring the session to an early close, so that the bitterness might be the sooner forgotten. The expectation seemed to be that the party generally would take kindly to the penitential teaching of the Gazette that no Federal party can hope to win a general election without a considerable following in the Province of Quebec.

Now, however, the Toronto Telegram, which likes Mr. Borden none too well, and which scorns any and all advice from Montreal, insists that another "kick the Pope" fight must be made in West Lambton. Dr. Johnston's majority in the election of last November was 447. Lambton, however, offers rather a tempting bait for such a campaign as is suggested, for it was once the home of the P.P.A. movement, and it might be supposed that the embers of old fires could be fanned into something like a flame. Whether Mr. Borden wants such an election is of no very great consequence to the Telegram, which thinks Mr. Borden's leading is no good anyhow, nor to the News, which, with desperate assiduity, continues to goad the bull it has invented for Mgr. Sbarretti. Time will tell whether the party is led from the top, or whether it is led at all.

SEPARATION AGAIN.

Toronto is face to face with another crisis, this time because the one woman member of the school board insists upon separate classes for boys and girls in the public schools. It would be intolerable, one feels certain, if the majority should stand for this high-handed minority dictation. Miss Clara Brett Martin is not the appointee of any foreign potentate, but her championship of the principle of separation is only the more reprehensible on that account. Into schools where boys and girls have been taught alike, she would introduce a fatal cleavage. Instead of playing tag together, girls and boys would play in different yards, and possibly learn to play at altogether different games. Passing of notes from one to the other would cease to be, and the boys and girls would grow to manhood and womanhood the minds of each filled with distrust, perhaps hatred, of each other. The girls would be brought up with wrong ideas of patriotism, and would moreover be so inferior in intellectual attainment that grown-up boys would not be able to hold converse with them. The claim made by the reprehensible representative of the weaker sex that girls should be brought up on girl standards, not on boy standards, is wholly inadmissible if there is to be that unity in sentiment which it was somebody-or-other's high and holy object to promote. How, moreover, could the victims of this wretched separation be expected to marry each other in after life? And what hope could there possibly be that an already deplorably low birth rate could be increased if this hateful barrier were to be interposed between the two main divisions of the population? No wonder Toronto is alarmed.

RAPID CHANGE POLITICS.

Australia is starting out upon her national existence with a record of cabinet making and cabinet breaking that puts France into a poor second place. It seems only the other day since Australian Confederation took place, and yet there have been four changes in the Premiership. Sir Edmund Barton gave way to his friend Mr. Deakin; Mr. Deakin was beaten and a Labor ministry came in; the Labor ministry went out and Mr. Reid came in; now Mr. Reid goes out and Mr. Deakin comes back. How long he will stay nobody ventures to conjecture.

Just what the difficulty is the despatches have not made clear. Mr. Reid's position has, however, been difficult from the very first. The Labor element in Parliament have given him occasional support and occasional opposition. Lately, it appears, he asked for a dissolution and an appeal to the electors for a working majority. The Governor declined to grant the dissolution, Mr. Reid and his Cabinet resigned, and Mr. Deakin and his old Cabinet came back, but they too, it is evident, are without strength enough to command Parliament or enforce their policy.

It is believed that Mr. Deakin will, as soon as he can, apply the principle of British preference to the Australian tariff, as an expedient for increasing the general tariff protection. Mr. Reid is against high tariff, and against shutting out British trade in the name of a preference for that trade. The issue must therefore soon be joined on the broad question of high tariff or low tariff, with probably Imperialism versus Australianism as a confused and confusing side issue.

AN EXPERIMENT WITH MAILS.

It has been decided that a test will at once be made of the possibility of using Sydney as the delivery point for a fast mail service. The steamship Canada is to meet the mail boats at a convenient point, run the mails to Sydney, whence they will be rushed to Montreal, Chicago and New York with the object of seeing how much, if any, time can be saved over the New York or Rimouski delivery. There are various theories, some favorable to the contention that the Sydney route can save a day or more, others not so optimistic on that point. In face of the actual experiment however, theorizing must stand over.

Five years ago, the experiment would have been made hopeless by the fact that the vessels might, in the fog, be unable to make the indispensable close connections. Wireless telegraphy now removes that difficulty. Five years ago, too, the Intercolonial would not have been able to handle a fast mail; now it can. The experiment is worth making, therefore, and on two continents the outcome will be awaited with great interest.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

President George, of the Manufacturers' Association, is making it fairly clear to British manufacturers that they should consider Canada a country to visit as tourists, leaving their wares at home.

The budget speech, which Mr. Fielding has intimated may be made today, is not expected to produce any very startling developments. Next year, after a committee of ministers have surveyed the situation, the tariff will be taken up in earnest, and tariff business will be the business of the session.

The Government has considered favorably the recommendation of the press to provide a pension for the widow of the late Hon. William Macdougall, an annuity of $1,200 being among the items brought down in the supplementary estimates. That item, at all events, is not likely to provoke any controversy.

Traa-dy-Liooar!

(Harold Johnson in London News).

Time enough! the Manxmen say,
As with measured step they move:
Time enough for work and play,
Time enough for joy and love.

'Tis an old forsaken creed
That the new time-spirit kills;
'Tis a faith the sad folk need
Who have long forgot the hills.

Time is money! shriek the marts
In the Cities of the Plain,
Where the traffickers of hearts
Build Gomorrahs o'er again.

Time enough! the Manxmen say,
And in ampler spaces move;
Time enough for work and play,
Time enough for joy and love.

Note—Traa-dy-liooar!—Time enough. A characteristic Manx proverb.

Woman is Coming to the Top.

(Boston Globe).

Woman's condition to-day is not only very much better than it ever has been, in point of healthful and happy environments and individual consideration, but it is shown by statistics, both national and municipal, that woman's environment apparently is better than man's. This conclusion may be reached as a result of the study of the figures that show that men in the United States are dying faster than the women.

In the century just passed, woman's condition underwent a tremendous change. Partly through the efforts of the splendid leaders of her own sex, and partly through the better understanding by man of the relative rights and obligations of the sexes, woman has acquired ever-increasing power, until to-day, if she does not enjoy the suffrage, she exercises a tremendous influence over those who do.

There are not wanting observers of the growth of woman's power, through the development which has been permitted to her, who say that the twentieth century will see an even greater change in her relations to society. Mrs. George W. Cable has said that "the private home is the public hope," and woman to-day enjoys supremacy in the home such as perhaps she never enjoyed.

The development of the woman's club has shown the possibilities that await woman's profitable use of her leisure. It is within her power to be far more thoroughly informed than the average busy man on all important matters of civic interest, and this fuller and clearer information she can employ in directing, even if she does not exercise the suffrage.

Woman always has had her share of influence, but modern conditions, which the statistics argue insure to her longer opportunity to make the most of her intellectual and spiritual powers, and thus enable her to become the real ruler of the world.

He Had Three Already.

(Cleveland Plaindealer).

George W. Perkins, who used to run a little grocery here in Cleveland and is now Pierpont Morgan's right-hand man, is credited with this story: A certain banker with whom he is well acquainted was sitting at his desk the other day when a well-known broker came in on business. The broker was carrying a little handbag, and he seemed in a great hurry. "I want to borrow a million," he exclaimed before he had even taken a chair. The banker, though a man of long experience with many men, was a bit taken by surprise. "A million dollar loan is not such a small matter," he replied: "sit down and we'll talk it over. Let me take your handbag." "Not on your life," interrupted the broker. "I've already got three millions in there." And he opened the bag to convince the banker, who made no further delay in granting the loan.

Marshal MacMahon's Good Advice.

Many queer blunders are attributed to the famous Marshal MacMahon of France. It is related of him that once, when he visited the military school of St. Cyr, he encountered a Negro cadet. The color of his skin at once attracted the worthy marshal, who said, with some surprise: "Vous etes negre, n'est-ce pas?" "Oui, M. le Marechal." Here the marshal paused. Not knowing what to say, he added: "Ah, that is well; continue to be so."

"What does your deaf and dumb friend do for a living?"

"Teaches elocution in a blind asylum."

Pity the Poor Millionaire.

(Bernard Shaw in Wiltshire's Magazine.)

The millionaire class, a small, but growing one, into which any of us may be flung to-morrow by the accidents of commerce, is perhaps the most neglected in the community. In the advertisements of the manufactures of the country I find that everything is produced for the million and nothing for the millionaire. Children, boys, youths, "gents," ladies, artisans, professional men, even peers and kings are catered for, but the millionaire's custom is evidently not worth having—there are too few of them.

While the poorest have the Rag Fair, a duly organized and busy market in Houndsditch, where you can buy a boot for a penny, you may search the world in vain for the market where the $250 boots, the special dear line of hats at forty guineas, the cloth-of-gold bicycling suit, and the Cleopatra claret, four pearls to the bottle, can be purchased wholesale. Thus the unfortunate millionaire has the responsibility of prodigious wealth without the possibility of enjoying himself more than any ordinary rich man.

Indeed, in many things he cannot enjoy himself more than many poor men do, nor even so much; for a drum-major is better dressed; a trainer's stable lad often rides a better horse; everybody who goes down to Brighton for Sunday rides in the Pullman; and of what use is it to be able to pay for a peacocks' brain sandwich when there is nothing to be had but ham or beef?

A man with an income of $300 a year can multiply his comfort beyond all calculations by doubling his income. A man with $450 a year can at least quadruple his comfort by doubling his income. Probably up to even $1,500 a year doubled income means doubled comfort. After that the increment of comfort grows less in proportion to the increment of income until a point is reached at which the victim is satiated and even surfeited with everything that money can procure. To expect him to enjoy another hundred thousand dollars because men like money is exactly as if you were to expect a confectioner's shop-boy to enjoy two hours more work a day because boys are fond of sweets.

The millionaire can have the best of everything in the market, but this leaves him no better off than the modest possessor of $25,000 a year. There is only one thing that he can still order on a scale of special and recklessly expensive pomp, and that is his funeral.

Blind Boy on the Dome of St. Paul's.

Raymond Blathwayt in Great Thoughts

Mr. Blathwayt was down at the Royal Normal School for the Blind the other day, and in the grounds came upon a class engaged in composition upon a class engaged in composition work, and one of the boys read his essay. It dealt with a recent excursion they had paid to St. Paul's Cathedral, and no sighted boys could have seen and observed and remembered half so much as did these blind children. "We climbed to the highest point," read out the boy, "and we greatly enjoyed the magnificent view of London spread out at our feet." Th's was a rather curious statement for blind boys to make. How could they appreciate the fact that there was a view from St. Paul's at all?

Dr. Campbell, the blind principal of the school, was appealed to and he confirmed the statement:

"Why of course they enjoyed it. Their one great desire when they got to the top of the dome was to see the Crystal Palace in the distance. Do you think I don't enjoy views? I frequently go to Switzerland, and I have climbed Mount Blanc for the view. I have been to all the great picture galleries in Europe, and I can honestly say no one appreciates the old masters more than I do."

"But how? you ask," added Dr. Campbell. "Ah! that is the secret of the blind!"

How the V.V. & E. Will be Looked After.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger).

As evidencing the closeness with which James J. Hill follows even the smallest detail of the management of the properties of which he is the head, a story was told in Wall Street to-day that when journeying a while ago over a section of the Great Northern while work was being done on an extension, Mr. Hill asked the division superintendent how many ties had been cut. The division superintendent did not know, but he felt that it would never do to let Mr. Hill become aware of the fact. He hesitated a moment and then boldly hazarded. "Up to this morning the count showed 78,000—78,420, the exact number, I believe." The crisis was passed, but the superintendent feared trouble was ahead. At the next station he left the car and sent this message to the division engineer who was to meet the train at a later stop: "If J. H. asks how many ties have been cut tell him 78,420." True to the suspicion of the superintendent Mr. Hill later asked the engineer how many ties had been cut. "Seventy-eight thousand four hundred and twenty" was the ready response of the engineer, evidently a little to the surprise of Mr. Hill.

Some Premiers and Queen Victoria.

Queen Victoria once wrote to Lord Palmerston, then Premier of England expressing the wish that she could speak from his place in the House of Commons. Palmerston replied: "Viscount Palmerston presents his humble duties to your Majesty and has had the honor to receive your Majesty's communication of yesterday, stating what your Majesty would have said if your Majesty had been in the House of Commons. Viscount Palmerston may, perhaps, be permitted to take the liberty of saying that it is fortunate for those from whose opinions her Majesty differs that your Majesty is not in the House of Commons, for they would have to encounter a formidable antagonist in argument; although, on the other hand, those whose opinions your Majesty approves would have had the support of a powerful ally in debate." Disraeli when Premier had a more direct way in dealing with women. One of them once attempted to get a certain piece of information from him. He listened to what she had to say, and then answered: "Oh, you darling!"

Tippo-Tib—Governor and Slave-driver.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

"Tippoo Tib," or rather Hamra Bin Mohammed al Marjebi, the famous Arab merchant and slave trader of the Upper Congo, who was associated with Cameron and Stanley in their expeditions across Africa, and who died last week in Zanzibar, was nominally, a vassal of the Sultan of Zanzibar; actually, the self-constituted ruler over all that vast country which stretches from Tanganyika to Stanley Falls.

"After regarding him for a few minutes," Stanley wrote of him afterward "I came to the conclusion that the Arab was a remarkable man—the most remarkable man I had met among Arabs, Wa-Swahile and half castes in Africa. He was neat in his person, his clothes were of a spotless white, his fez cap brand new his waist was encircled by a rich dowle, his dagger was splendid with silver filigree; and his tout ensemble was that of an Arab gentleman in very comfortable circumstances."

That was in October, 1876 at the village of Mkwanga, not far from the confluence of the River Livingstone, which it was now Stanley's task to follow to the ocean. Tippoo was then in the neighborhood, having just returned from an expedition in the forest or Manyema to avenge the murder of an Arab. Seven years later Tippoo seized upon the Stanley Falls country, whither Stanley, as the agent of the International African Association, the forerunner of the Congo Free State, was dispatched to treat with the warlike Arab. The result of their negotiations was a tentative agreement, soon afterward broken by the destruction of the Congo Fort. Four years later they met again, this time at Zanzibar, where Tippoo was disposing of the spoils of a long raid, and the Arab was made salaried Governor of the Stanley Falls district. Next came the Emin Pasha relief expedition, and the tragedy of Yambuya, where the porters Tippoo had found for Stanley mutinied and killed Major Barttelot. Thereafter Tippoo went on slave-raiding, in spite of his governorship, and when he retired a few years ago to Zanzibar it was with a large fortune and a by no means inglorious reputation—for an Arab.

Lost Pins.

(Birmingham Express).

Birmingham seems to have solved the problem which has exercised the mind of man and woman ever since the invention of that useful article the "pin." "What becomes of all the old pins?" that is the question, to which a frequent answer is, "They disappear down drains!" Now, this theory is borne out by facts, for it was found on opening one of the oldest sewers in Birmingham that there was at the bottom of it a deposit as hard as the "slag" from a blast furnace, and that in the deposit countless millions of pins were embedded. Ordinary pins, brooch pins, belt pins, hat pins, safety, or rather, so-called saftey pins, hair pins, indeed, pins of all sorts and sizes which combine to turn the modern woman into a human pincushion. True, among all these pins was a collection of other small articles, such as buttons of every size and shape, common and uncommon; marbles, and even pocketknives, but the pin was the predominant articles.

Testimony on Finger Tips.

(London Daily Mail).

After two days of patient hearing the trial of the two brothers Stratton, who were accused of the atrocious and cold-blooded murder of an aged tradesman and his wife, ended on Saturday with the inevitable verdict of guilty.

There could be no possible doubt as to the guilt of the two accused men. Such is the value of the system of identification by finger prints that the Strattons might without any risk of a miscarriage of justice have been hanged on the evidence of the finger print left by the thumb of Alfred Stratton. But as it happened the evidence of the finger was corroborated by a confession of the younger brother.

The Drunkard Bee.

(Kansas City Journal.)

"I have been hearing of the busy bee until I am tired of it, says Drake Watson. "A bee works during the summer and then rests all winter, like a plasterer. And a bee has bad habits. Go into a vineyard and you will find bee drunkards around bursted grapes. The drunkard bees sip the juice until they become full and then fall to the ground and sleep off their debauch; a drunkard bee knows enough not to go home with a jag."

DAY OF DIVISIONS ENDS WITH FINAL VOTE ON AUTONOMY BILLS

House of Commons Disposed of an Incessant Series of Amendments—Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Lavergne Decline to Vote for or Against the Bills—Budget Speech To-Day.

(Special Correspondence of The Herald.)

Ottawa, July 6.—The Autonomy bills have been passed. The House gave the Saskatchewan and Alberta bills third reading shortly after one o'clock, and dismissed them with cheers.

The day was taken up with amendments and divisions. There were ten amendments to each provincial bill and as many counts. The counting of noses was almost continuous during the afternoon and evening, though Mr. Walter Scott and some of the western men varied it by speaking to a taxation amendment.

As is usual when divisions are going there was paper throwing, with irrelevent remarks and a general programme of fun.

The farewell to the bills was hailed from both sides of the House as a welcome relief, and there were still greater cheers when the Prime Minister announced the budget for the next sitting.

Both leaders had their followers vote against them. The Quebec Conservatives voted solidly every time against Mr. Borden on the educational amendments. The western Liberals and the Prime Minister found themselves opposed on an amendment by Mr. Walter Scott relating to C.P.R. taxation exemption while there was a breaking away on most votes there was one straight party division. This was an amendment by Mr. McCarthy on distribution. Forty-two Conservative votes were cast for it and ninety-seven Government supporters were against it. The Government majority shown by the count was, therefore, fifty-five.

The leader of the Opposition introduced a bill to add a couple of sub-sections to the Elections Act. One would impose a penalty of $200 on any person who circulates a false statement that a candidate has withdrawn. The other requires all bills, posters and circulars issued in promotion of the interests of a candidate to bear the name of the printer. The last provision was taken from the English Act.

MR. SCOTT ON C.P.R. EXEMPTIONS.

On motion to go into committee of the whole on the Alberta bill Mr. Walter Scott called attention to the way his amendment on C.P.R. tax exemption was treated. The amendment was to clause twenty-three, and declared that nothing in the clause should prejudice the rights of the Province or a municipality to obtain relinquishment of the rights of the C.P.R. to taxation exemption.

Mr. Scott said if the Opposition had been really interested in the welfare of the West as claimed there would have been less talk about separate schools and a good deal more about the Canadian Pacific exemption clause. He had been surprised that the Government had given his amendment so little consideration. They had not even made a statement on it. The Canadian Pacific had about 75,000 quarter sections which they held exempt from taxation. If taxed at ten dollars a quarter the amount would be $75,000. Cutting that in two the amount was still greater than the allowance to the Provinces. This showed what the C.P.R. escaped and the revenue the Provinces would miss by the clause the bill proposed to perpetuate and legalise the exemption. Mr. Scott censured the Conservative Government for having in 1881 granted the C.P.R. exemption. The West should be left to free itself if it could. If his amendment was accepted he would give his support to the bill on the third reading.

Sir Wilfrid said the party of which he was leader had done all possible to prevent the exemption being granted in 1881. However, the exemption had been granted, the contract made and must be lived up to. Mr. Scott's amendment was not a statutory change, but a statutory declaration. He could not see that the case of the municipalities would be strengthened by it. He could not accept the amendment, because it would not do to have the bills further complicated. The exemptions of the C.P.R. could be wiped out by purchase or otherwise. The exemption was a blot on the statutes of the new Provinces which could not be allowed to remain always. The time must come when Parliament would have to deal with it.

Mr. R. L. Borden said he would vote against the amendment because it meant nothing. The amendment was lost.

MR. BORDEN SAYS IT AGAIN.

The leader of the Opposition again briefly objected to various features of the Autonomy bill. He objected to the Federal Government retaining the lands instead of giving them to the Provinces for administration. He objected to distribution from Ottawa, and claimed it should have been done by a commission. Mr. Borden renewed his objections to the school clause. He moved the amendment he moved in committee to substitute section ninety-three of the B. N. A. Act.

The Minister of Justice replied that almost all the lands of the Territories had been bought by Canada from the Hudson's Bay Company for a million and a half dollars. The lands were the property of Canada. The new provinces were being dealt with as Manitoba had been in the matter of lands.

To the school amendment he made a brief constitutional argument.

The House divided on Mr. Borden's amendment just before dinner. It was defeated by 41 to 108. The Conservatives who voted against their leader were Messrs. Bergeron, Monk, Morin, Paquet, Leonard, Perley and Brabazon. Mr. Ratz voted for the amendment.

Mr. Bergeron offered an amendment providing for full separate schools with complete control by Protestants and Catholics and a division between them of all moneys, voted by the legislature or arising from the sale of lands. The motion was lost by 7 to 138. The seven were the same who voted against Mr. Borden, viz. Bergeron, Monk, Paquet, Leonard, Morin, Bourassa, Lavergne.

Col. Sam Hughes moved to strike out clause 2 and substitute one making the provisions of the British North America Act 1867 to 1886 apply as they do to other provinces except such as apply specially to particular provinces. It was lost by 37 yeas to 106 nays. Mr. Perley of Argenteuil and the French Conservative members voted against Col. Hughes.

MR. BOURASSA IS ALARMED.

Mr. Bourassa then moved in amendment the original school clause with the second clause omitted to make it in order. He declared that clause 16, taken with Mr. Lamont's amendment, transferred the control of religious education to the authorities of the school district. It placed the possibility of changing this beyond the power of the Provincial Legislature or of this Parliament for all time to come. If the majority of the district happened to be Mormons, Doukhobors, Galicians or any other sect they could have teaching according to their religious tenets in spite of Protestants or Catholics. There was now such a dispute in the courts between Galician Catholics and Orthodox Catholics.

The Minister of Justice said Mr. Bourassa's fears were groundless. The minority of a district could always have separate schools and the religious instruction it wanted. The criminal code prevented the Mormon religion being taught in Canada.

The amendment was lost by 7 to 132. The seven were Bourassa, Lavergne, Bergeron, Monk, Morin, Leonard and Paquet. The Opposition joined the Government in rolling up the majority.

Mr. F. D. Monk moved his French language amendment, providing for the use of the language in the courts and Legislature.

Mr. Bourassa moved an amendment removing an amendment removing restrictions and making the French language equally official with English.

Bourassa's amendment was defeated by 7 to 140. The seven were the same as before, on Mr. Bourassa's amendment.

Mr. Monk's amendment was lost by the same vote.

Mr. Leonard offered a language amendment on similar lines. However, he had seconded Mr. Bergeron's amendment and was declared out of order in moving this one.

THE DISTRIBUTION QUESTION.

Mr. M. S. McCarthy moved an amendment to strike out clause twelve and substitute one providing for distribution of seats by a commission of Supreme Court Judges of the Territories. The amendment was lost by forty-two to eighty-seven. This was the first case where the Conservatives and Liberals all cast their votes with their sides.

Dr. Roche, Conservative, of Marquette, offered an amendment giving a complete schedule defining the location of the seats. It was declared lost on the same division as Mr. McCarthy's.

Mr. Barker presented an amendment reciting the Acts of 1867, 1871 and 1886, and the Rupert's Land Act. It was lost on the same division.

EXEUNT BOURASSA AND LAVERGNE.

Mr. Bourassa announced that he proposed to leave the chamber before the division on the bill was taken. He did not want to be recorded as voting against the bill, as he was in favor of granting autonomy to the provinces. He did not want to vote for it because it did not guarantee rights he thought should be guaranteed. Mr. Lavergne, of Montmagny did the same and the two members went out.

The Alberta bill was then declared carried on the same division at ten minutes to midnight.

The Liberal side of the House cheered the achievement and the Opposition sighed relief.

The Saskatchewan bill was then taken up. Mr. Walter Scott moved his C.P.R. taxation amendment, and had it defeated eleven to one hundred and twenty-six. Those voting for it were Messrs. Scott, Turiff, Galliher, Talbot Lamont and Cash (of Mackenzie, N.W.T.), the Liberal side, and Messrs. Staples, Schaffner, Lake and Heron from the Conservative side.

Mr. Leonard moved an amendment to secure the minority in the Territories the rights they enjoy under the revised statutes of Canada. It was defeated six to one hundred and twenty-eight.

The six were Leonard, Monk, Morin, Bergeron, Bourassa and Lavergne.

All the amendments moved to the Alberta bill were moved and defeated, and the Saskatchewan bill carried by the same votes as given on the Alberta bill.

The House cheered the passage of the bill to the echo.

Auxiliary bills to the Autonomy measures were then given third reading as follows:

An Act to establish and provide for the Government of the province of Alberta.

An Act to establish and provide for the Government of the province of Saskatchewan.

An Act to amend the Dominion Controverted Elections Act.

An Act to amend the Northwest Territories Representation Act.

An Act to amend the Census and Statistics Act.

An Act to amend the Northwest Irrigation Act, 1898.

WOMAN AND HER INTERESTS

LET SOMETHING GOOD BE SAID.

When over the fair fame of friend or foe
The shadow of disgrace shall fall, instead
Of words of blame or proof of thus and so
Let something good be said.

Forget not that no fellow-being yet
May fall so low but love may lift his head;
Even the cheek of shame with tears is wet
If something good be said.

No generous heart may vainly turn aside
In ways of sympathy; no soul so dead
But may awaken strong and glorified
If something good be said.

MOTTOES FOR THE HOME.

It has long been an idea of the home-maker that their rooms should express their meaning in furnishings and arrangements. Latterly they have taken to putting this meaning into words in some brief, quaintly lettered motto put up somewhere about the room where it will speak a fitting sentiment to inmates and visitors.

Over the fireplace in Mark Twain's home in Connecticut is that inscription: "The ornament of a home is the guests who frequent it."

Most of us have read of the man who had over his fireplace a motto like this: "I have had many troubles in my life, and most of them never happened."

Then there was the young couple who put over their living room fireplace the suggestive hint: "In this room speak ill of none," which checked many a garrulous tongue.

Another good fireplace motto is: "Sit ye here and rest awhile."

Here are others that will serve for hall, library and chimney corner:

"A man's house is his castle."
"Our home is ever at your service."
"East or west, home is best."
"Oh, ye fire and heat, bless ye the Lord."
"Our ain fireside."
"Old wood to burn, old friends to trust, old books to read."
"There is an art in reading."
"The monuments of vanished minds."

One that would do for either library or nursery is: "Infinite riches in a little room."

Others for the nursery are:

"God rest ye little children."
"A child in the house is a well spring of pleasure."

For the music room or that corner of the house where music holds sway, good mottoes are:

"The hidden soul of harmony."
"The speech of the angels."
"They music made in heaven."

A NOVEL DEVICE.

THERE is a suspicion that women betake themselves to the seashore with a variety of objects in view. Some go to crochet and practice bridge; some have the pleasure to dressing five times a day, and some to show animated bathing costumes. Here and there women are to be found who resort to the seashore principally for the pleasure to be derived from a dip or repeated dips in the surf. The latter may be interested to learn that if they will take a hint from a Munich experimenter, it will be possible to enjoy surf bathing without journeying to the coast.

This foreigner has invented a trough with affixed devices which churn the contents—twenty gallons of water and eleven pounds of salt, mixed—into huge, artificial rollers, which are even more natural than the real thing. There is an additional advantage, too, in that the sea in this trough is never calm when the churning apparatus is working. Billow rapidly succeeds billow, breaks and retreats, to be reformed into a fresh comber. Disporting themselves in collar or on the lawn, the merry shouts of the splashers as the cold spray dashes against the waist line can be heard for several blocks and costumes de bain, as elaborate and fetching as those displayed on the beaches by ladies who do not head or take an out-door plunge, give zest to the half-hour devoted to this invigorating diversion. Nothing is lacking except the ocean, the sand, which irritates delicate feet, and the rows of envious and brilliantly "parasolled" spectators.

SOME PICNIC HINTS.

LOBSTER SANDWICHES.

SPREAD white bread, sliced thin, trimmed free from crust, and cut into oblongs, with lobster butter or picked lobster meat mixed with mayonnaise. The butter, which you can make and have on hand, is prepared as follows: Pound two tablespoonfuls lobster meat fine with one tablespoonful of coral dried and mashed smooth; half teaspoonful anchovy paste, one teaspoonful lemon juice, a dash of paprika and of mace or nutmeg. Work this well into two tablespoonfuls of good butter.

SALAD CHIFFONADE SANDWICHES.

Seed a green pepper and let it stand in boiling water a few minutes; then rub off the skin and cut into shreds. Shred the light and dark leaves of a head of lettuce, cut up two medium sized tomatoes also into shreds, leaving out seeds; also cut up half a grape fruit pulp. Keep all these separate and dress with oil and vinegar; then toss lightly together and place between buttered, thin slices of bread.

BANANA SANDWICHES.

Remove the skin and fibre from four bananas, cut them in quarters and force quickly through a ricer. Mix with the pulp the juice of half a lemon, a dash of salt and nutmeg, and set it away to become very cold while you prepare the bread. This should be cut in very thin slices, freed from crust and trimmed into any preferred shape. Slightly sweeten some thick cream and add a speck of salt. Spread the bread with a thin layer of the cream, then with the banana pulp; put together and wrap each in waxed paper; twist the ends and keep very cold until serving time.

CHEESE SANDWICHES.

These are extremely nice and easily made. Put a yolk of a hard boiled egg into a cup and crumble it. Then put into it a tablespoonful of pepper, half a teaspoonful of mustard, the same amount of salt and a quarter of a pound of cheese, grated. Mix thoroughly and moisten with a tablespoonful of vinegar. Spread between slices of wheat or whole wheat bread.

PEANUT SANDWICHES.

Chop peanuts fine and sprinkle on thin slices of brown bread that have been buttered. Press two together.

The Fate of a Crown

A MOST ENGROSSING NOVEL OF LOVE and ADVENTURE

(Copyright 1905, by The Reilly & Britton Co. and McLeod & Allan, and published exclusively in the Province of Quebec by The Herald, by special arrangement with the Canada Newspaper Syndicate.)

SYNOPSIS.

The scene is laid in New Orleans. Robert Harcliffe is sent by his Uncle Nelson to Brazil to become secretary to the noted revolutionist Dom Miguel de Pintra. On board ship Harcliffe overhears a conversation relating to himself, a fellow passenger, named Cortes de Guarde, who turns out to be a spy of the Emperor of Brazil, tells the captain that he suspects Harcliffe to be in league with De Pintra, and determines that he will never reach his destination. Forewarned is forearmed, and Harcliffe decides to pit his wits against De Guarde. Harcliffe's diary, which he leaves open for De Guarde's inspection, entirely deceives his enemies, and throws suspicion on another passenger, a Dr. Neel. The ship lands and Harcliffe meets with another adventure, is arrested, but released immediately by one of De Pintra's men. A murder is committed for which Harcliffe is accused. He escapes by train and reaches his destination safely, where he meets De Pintra, who welcomes him warmly and introduces him to his ward, the Senhorita Lesba Paola, and her brother, Senhor Francisco Paola.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

"My daughter, Mr. Harcliffe; Senhora Izabel de Mar," said he, and gave me a curious glance that I could not understand.

I looked at Madame Izabel and lowered my eyes before the cold and penetrating stare I encountered. She was handsome enough, this woman; but her features, however regular, were repellant because of their absolute lack of expression—a lack caused by repression more than a want of mobility. Her face seemed carved of old ivory. Even the great eyes were impenetrable reflecting nothing of the motions that might dwell within. I found myself shivering, and although I sincerely tried to be agreeable to Dom Miguel's daughter, the result was little more than farcical.

My sudden appearance in the household had evidently caused Madame Izabel surprise; perhaps it annoyed her, as well. But she drew me to a seat beside her and plied me with questions which I was at a loss how to answer, in view of the supposedly private nature of my mission to Brazil. Inwardly I blamed Dom Miguel for not telling me how far his daughter and his guests were in his confidence but before I blundered more than a few aimless sentences a light voice interrupted us and Francisco Paola leaned over Madam Izabel's chair with a rapid compliment on the lady's charms and personal appearance that was fairly impertinent in its flippancy.

The look she gave him would have silenced an ordinary man but Senhor Francisco smiled at her frown, took the fan from her hand, and wielded it in a mincing manner, pouring into her unwilling ears a flood of nonsense that effectually cut me out of the conversation.

Dom Miguel came to my relief by requesting me to take the younger lady in to dinner, and to my surprise Madam Izabel took Paola's arm without apparent reluctance and followed us to the dining-room.

The repast would have been, I fear rather stupid, but for Senhor Francisco's ceaseless chatter. To my great disappointment the donzella Lesba Paola appeared exceedingly shy, and I could scarce recognize her in my eager questioner of the afternoon. De Pintra, indeed, courteously endeavored to draw the ladies into a general conversation but his daughter was cold and unresponsive, and the host himself appeared to be in a thoughtful mood. For my part, I was glad to have the foil monopolize the conversation, while I devoted my attention to the silent girl beside me but it was evident that a general feeling of relief prevailed when the ladies returned to the drawing-room and left us to our cigars and wine.

When the servants had been dismissed and we three men were alone, Dom Miguel addressed me with unrestrained frankness.

"I suppose you know little of our revolutionary movement, Mr. Harcliffe," he began.

"Very little, indeed," I responded, briefly.

"It dtes back several years, but has only recently attained to real importance. Gradually our people, of all degrees, have awakened to the knowledge that they must resist the tyranny of the imperial government, with its horde of selfish and unscrupulous retainers. The Emperor is honest enough, but weak, and his advisors leave him no exercise of his own royal will. Spurred by the nation's distrees, the Revolution has at last taken definite form, and at present centers in me. But as our strength grows our danger increases. The existing government, knowing itself threatened has become keen to ferret out our secrets and to discover the leaders of the Cause, that they may crush all with one blow." He paused, and flicked the ash from his cigar with a thoughtful gesture. "For this, and many another reason, I need the assistance of a secretary whom I may trust implicitly—who will, if need be, die rather than betray my confidence."

I glanced hesitatingly at the man opposite me. It seemed strange that Dom Miguel should speak of these personal matters before a third party.

Paola was trying to balance a spoon on the edge of a glass. He met my gaze with the usual vacant smile upon his face yet in the instant I caught a gleam in his eye so shrewd and comprehensive that it positively startled me. Instantly his face was shrouded in a cloud of smoke from his cigar, and when it cleared away the idiotic leer that appeared upon his countenance indicated anything rather than intelligence.

Dom Miguel looked from one to the other of us and smiled.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Digby, N.S., Nov. 12, '01.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Gentlemen,—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts (small ones) healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten; and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks' time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.

FRENCH VINE-GROWERS FOR ONTARIO.

Toronto, Ont, July 6.—(Special)—It is possible that a number of French vine growers and dressers will settle in Essex County. Director of Colonization, Thomas Southworth, received a communication from Romanet du Killand, a wealthy native of Paris, France, who is the owner of property at Sudbury, stating that a number of such workmen came from France on the same ship as himself and asking the aid of the department in locating them. Mr. Southworth says they will probably be found positions in Essex County, where grapes are grown. If these men are satisfied with their lot in this country more will likely follow them from France.

BIRDS PLAYED DOPEY BALL

And Toronto Beat Them Easily Nine Runs to Five.

Toronto, Ont., July 6—(Special)—Montreal started well yesterday but the Torontos gingered up and won by 9 to 5. Currie was good after the first innings, only allowing two hits up to the ninth, when he let up a little. On the other hand, Pappalau weakened as the game progressed and in the eighth innings dispensed some weird pitching. He lost his bearings completely, hitting two batsmen and making two wild pitches. In addition, he was touched up for four hits, including a flukey homer and a triple. Pappalau tried to shove the onus for his aerial trip on the umpire, but nobody was to blame but himself for his puerile exhibition. It was not a well played game on the whole, although Carr, Miller and Magoon made some fast plays.

Harley led at the bat, with three hits, two of which were bunts. Currie's homer was a funny one. The ball scorched along the foul line until it reached the fence, when it struck something and bounded through an open window in a fouudry.

Montreal tallied three runs in the opening round. Miller beat out a grounder to Magoon and Wiedensaul slipped one at Currie, which the pitcher could not handle. Meaney sacrificed and Lachance singled to left, two runs scoring. The first baseman reached second on the throw-in. Joyce walked, but Bannon was killed off at first by Magoon. Hartmann's drive was fumbled by the short-stop, and Lachance counted—but Joyce was thrown out at the plate.

Montreal didn't make a hit after that until the seventh, when, with two out, Bannon hit to left and sprinted to second, sliding under Soffel, who had the ball waiting for him. On Hartmann's grounder, Bannon was caught at third and Buss was nailed at first. In the ninth, with Meaney out of the way, Lachance hit a liner, which Carr almost stabbed with one hand. Joyce flew out and Bannon was passed. Hartmann lifted a floater to the left field fence for two bases, scoring two runs. Buss walked, but Pappalau hit to Currie for the third out.

Toronto did not connect with Pappalau's benders until the third, when Harley hit safely to left and Murray was passed. Harley started to steal on the last ball and Buss threw to catch him, the ball going into centre field. Harley galloped to third and Murray stole second. Soffel's grounder to Miller scored Harley and advanced Murray to third. Carr hit to Lachance, and Murray was caught off third, but slid under Buss at the plate. Carr was thrown out trying to make second on the play, and Magoon flew out to right. In the sixth White hit safely and Harley beat out a bunt. The latter was stealing when Carr hit a liner over second, which ordinarily would have been safe, but Miller, who was running to cover the bag, got the ball, easily making double play. Currie started the eighth with his homer to left, and White died at first. Harley laid down.

A bunt and Murray popped up. Soffel drove a long fly to right, which Meaney couldn't reach, the ball rolling just inside the foul line giving the runner three bases. A wild pitch scored the latter and then Carr was hit. Magoon also stopped a wild one with his body, and Toft lifted a short fly to left, which Wiedensaul and Joyce allowed to fall safe. Another wild pitch sent Magoon home. Sullivan was thrown out by Weidensaul. The score:—

The American League has been in existence only since 1900, and yet there are but 21 players who began playing with the league in 1900, that are still enrolled.

As far as speed on the bases is concerned, Clark Griffith has half a dozen fast ones, in Dougherty, Keeler, Fultz, Conroy, Chase and Kleinow.

Aubrey, formerly of the Boston Nationals, and later with Providence and Montreal, is playing with the outlaw Coatsville team.

Charles Hickman, formerly of the Boston Americans, has quit the Detroit team, and refused point blank to play under Manager Armour. Armour says he placed Hickman seventh in the batting order, and the player did not fancy that arrangement. Hickman denied he quit the team on this ground, but because the manager has nagged him beyond endurance.—Boston Herald.

Capt. Kid Gleason is enthusiastic over Mike Doolin's work. He says he is the fastest and gamest shortstop with whom he has ever played. He adds: "There isn't a gamer boy on the pike. He can stand the gaff better than the best I have ever seen, and it has been several years since they started to call me "Kid." Doolin gets the ball away from him so rapidly that I will guarantee that he can throw out any right-handed batsmen from deep short."

PRINCES PLAYED CRICKET MATCH

The Grandsons of the King Captained Competing Elevens.

These were the final scores in the royal cricket match played at Windsor with which Prince Edward of Wales celebrated his eleventh birthday.

The little Prince captained a team drawn from boys of the lower school at Eton, and led them to victory against an eleven similarly composed and captained by his brother, Prince Albert. And it was thanks largely to the youthful royal cricketer's own dashing innings of 17 (not out), that he defeated his younger brother.

The teams, says the Court Circular, were as follows:—

Prince Edward of Wales (captain).
Mr. W. T. Birchenough.
Mr. H. O. Curtis.
Mr. E. M. Worley.
The Hon. V. D. Boscawen.
Mr. R. R. Bowlby.
The Hon. M. T. Boscawen.
Lord C. Hope.
Mr. W. R. Bailey.
Sir R. V. Sutton, Bart.
Mr. W. G. Barclay.
Prince Albert of Wales (captain).
Mr. R. F. T. Burrell.
The Hon N. G. Bligh.
Mr. R. O. R. Kenyon-Slaney
The Hon. Alfred Tennyson.
Mr. N. Fraser Tytler,
Mr. H. Elliot.
Mr. A. Cust.
Sir E. Naylor-Leland, Bart.
Mr. R. T. Stanyforth.
The Hon. D. G. Fortescue.

Scorers: Mr. J. C. Wynne-Finch and Mr. G. C. Hercourt-Vernon.

If the playing of cricket be any criterion as to people's character, then the natures of the two small Princes stand out in sharp contrast.

Prince Edward was the rosisest, the most cheery, active, and enthusiastic boy on the pitch in the grounds of Windsor Castle. His brother was almost the quietest the most methodical and the most decorous.

When he handled the bat, Prince Edward was half-way down the pitch as soon as the ball had left the bowler's hand.

He played a straight bat to the straight balls, but gathered himself together and hit with all his small might at the loose ones. He ran so fast and was so anxious to run that it must be confessed he ran out more than one member of his side. But nobody minded, for the Eton boys were courteous as well as sportsmanlike.

In the field Prince Edward was the most alert of the players, and waited breathlessly for every stroke, with his knees bent and his hands outstretched in the most approved professional style. In the pavilion, when watching his side bat, he was all animation and excitement. Whenever the score went up 10, he hopped down the steps and banged his diminutive fist in triumph on the clattering tin figures.

During the interval his excitement and enjoyment of things in general resulted in an incident which rather alarmed him. He went over to inspect the instruments of the "Besses'" band, and, taking up the drum with great energy, he was so energetic that he fell over the drum and measured his length on the turf. One of the men, animated solely by the humane intention of picking up his Royal Highness, made a rapid move towards him. But the little Prince, who has been led to expect swift justice to follow on wrong-doing, misconstrued the action. He picked himself up like a flash of lightning, and with a scared face, fled for his life.

On the other hand, Prince Albert was solemn to a degree.

In the pavilion he leant against the railings with a quiet air of happiness, and whilst he watched his team playing an uphill game, he kept time to the music of the band with his slender fingers. In the field he was quick, but at the same time machine-like. At the wickets he showed really better style than his royal brother, and was infinitely more painstaking and cautious.

His nine runs were the result of a patient and careful innings. Never once did he hit wildly, which cannot be said of Prince Edward, and he did not call for a run unless he was sure of it. Altogether he batted with the air of a man who is resolved to do his duty to the utmost in the most punctilious manner.

GOOD STORY TOLD ON HAPPY JACK CHESBID

It happened on the Dunham avenue grounds, Cleveland, September 26, 1904. That was the day when Geo. Stovall lifted one of Jack Chesbro's sprinkling waggon spheroids out of the lot and broke up the game.

Chesbro has always maintained that hit cost the Highlanders the pennant. Be that as it may, September 26 was the day the wily Napoleons Sherlock Holmesed Big Jack and his vapor sphere.

When not playing third base for a living, Bill Bradley shines back of a drug store counter. It was there that Brad, while tasting the stuff in various bottles with Latin inscriptions connected his tongue with the mouth of a bottle containing tincture of capsicum.

Long afterward Bill nursed a tongue which forced his folks to feed him liquids through a tube. And he never forgot the experience.

About the time Chesbro was cutting a swath through the ranks of the batsmen, and was due to twirl against Cleveland, the Naps bunched their heads one forenoon to concoct a plan whereby the marsh ball could be overcome,

"If we could only put something on it to stop Jack wetting it, we would even up things," said Larry innocently.

"By me halberd," shouted Bill, "I have a hunch, oh king, I'll hie me to the apothecary emporium this day and with memory of one tasty day last winter lingering in me mind I'll guarantee to give Chesbro the garmest reception he ever got."

So Bill hied and from the bottle of capsicum abstracted enough of the dope to blister a cold storage warehouse.

Bradley handled the balls frequently that day, and every time he did so, managed to squirt tincture over the horsehide. Joss, who opposed Chesbro, did not apply his digits to his lips, as is the wont of twirlers.

But Jack, strong in the belief that his sprinkler system would down the sluggers, applied his fingers to his tongue, rubbed them over the ball and then did it again. Then he ceased. O'er his face spread a look of astonishment. Also his tongue took on a heat to which it was unaccustomed. Jack tried another spot and the result was the same. Then he tumbled. He said nothing, but pitched his best—and was defeated.

Now the story has been told numerous times, but few realize that when Bill Bradley tried to assimilate a bottle of capsicum, and had to take his food through a tube, that he was laying a campaign of experience to overcome the spitter.

SULLIVAN A WONDER.

Says the Minneapolis Tribune of the Tiger cast-off, Denny Sullivan:—

"Denny Sullivan did the most phenomenal playing of the day, and made a record in base running that has rarely been equaled and never excelled on any ball field. Getting to first on a single in the fourth inning, Sullivan immediately started for second on the next ball pitched, and arrived safely, beating the throw. On the next pitched ball Sully started for third and reached it after a clever slide, while the crowd began to cheer the speedy base runner. Dougherty, who was pitching, was a trifle piqued at having two bases stolen on him, but thought his troubles were over, and again threw the ball to Freeman, who was at the bat. Sullivan again started for a third steal and came sliding into the plate before Bevill, the Milwaukee catcher, awoke, to the fact that a record-breaking play had been completed. It was one of the prettiest exhibitions of base running Minneapolis fans had ever seen and they gave Sullivan a great ovation as he returned to the bench."

BENNY HAYNES OUT OF LACROSSE

Dr. Camerom Replaces Him. Billy Strachan Coming Out Next Week.

It is hardly likely that Benny Haynes will play lacrosse again this season. He wants to retire from the game and only his desire to help the Montreal Lacrosse Club has impelled him to handle a stick this summer.

In any event he will not play Saturday against Cornwall and his place on the defence will be taken by Dr. George Cameron, who has been practising steadily and who is playing fast lacrosse.

Billy Strachan has promised to come out next week and he will strengthen the team materially for their game with the Caps in Ottawa, July 15.

The Montreals had a rattling good practice last night in preparation for their match with the Cornwalls here next Saturday. The home worked together smoothly and it may be counted on to give a smooth exhibition Saturday.

McKerrow is playing in better form than ever before and is the mainstay of the team.

SILVA AND MAUPAS ARE MATCHED TO WRESTLE

Emile Silva and Emile Maupas have returned to Montreal after a month's tour in Quebec. During their trip they wrestled twelve matches, appearing in twelve places, viz.: Three Rivers, Grand Mere, Quebec, Tedford Mines, Coaticook, Megantic, Lennoxville, Windsor Mills, Richmond, Waterloo, Granby and Farnham. At the conclusion of the series of matches Silva was two falls ahead, and the two athletes will wrestle at Riverside Park next Monday night to decide the supremacy. They will wrestle for three falls, and Maupas will have to win the three to retain the Canadian championship. The match will commence about 10 o'clock or immediately at the conclusion of the regular programme.

DRAW AT DAWSON.

Dawson, Y.T., July 6.—Before the Dawson Amateur Athletic Association, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Boston Jack (Twin), Sullivan, fought twenty terrific rounds to a draw. It was the fastest, cleverest and hottest bout ever seen in the north. Several times both men were groggy together. Crowds packed the great rink, and nothing like the fight has been seen in Dawson. The men will fight it over again, August 8, at the same place.

London, July 6. — In the English-Australia cricket match England declared her second innings closed after five wickets, with a score of 295. The Australians scored 224 for seven wickets drawn.

The Telegraphers and Irenes, of the Junior League meet on the old exhibition grounds, on Saturday next. A hard game is expected.

****
* AN INJUNCTION DISSOLVED. *
****

Harrisburg, Pa., July 6. — Judge Weeis to-day dissolved the temporary injunction which had been granted by the Dauphin County Court restraining Pitcher Wiltse and Outfielder Hayden from playing with the York Tri-State baseball team. The two players jumped their Baltimore contracts and the management of the latter organization sought to prevent them from playing with the York team.

FORAN'S VIEW OF LACROSSE DEAL

Caps Won't Object to Montreal Playing Dade and Finlayson.

Mr. Wm. Foran, secretary of the Capitals, said to-day, he thought the N.A.L.U. board last night should first have endorsed President O'Connell's action in voting for professionalism, and then afterwards decided to defer action until such time as the board of governors agreed on a line of action.

In view of Mr. Gorman's letter to President O'Connell of the N.A.L.U., there was nothing for the lacrosse men to do but to wait until the matter was disposed of at the annual meeting of the C.A.A.U.

There was no need to fight the C.A.A.U. on the matter, as none of the clubs wished to play with the western men at present, and none of them intended playing professionals, he thought, in their own teams.

The matter will be straightened out before the Minto Cup matches are due.

"However," said Mr. Foran, "if Montreal plays Dade and Finlayson against us July 15 we will offer no objections."—Ottawa Journal.

LEANDERS WON THE GRAND CHALLENGE CUP

Henley, July 6.—The Leanders, who yesterday defeated the Vespers of Philadelphia, won the final heat to-day in the contest for the Grand Challenge Cup, by defeating the Belgium crew two and a half lengths in the splendid time of six minutes fifty-six seconds. This is five seconds better than yesterday, and is only five seconds outside the record.

LACHINE BOATING CLUB.

The crews for the trial "fours" of the Lachine Boating Club, were chosen as follows:—

Quite a number of ladies have already availed themselves of the privilege, and they, with all other visitors, will be welcomed throughout the week.

The M. A. A. A. has decided to institute a series of weekly handicaps for the months of July and August. The first of these will be held to-night, and the others will follow on successive Thursdays.

Silver and bronze medals are now being struck to be awarded as prizes to the winners.

TWO AMERICAN TENNIS BEATEN AT WIMBLEDON

London, July 6. — Beals C. Wright, and Holcomb Ward retired yesterday from the All-England doubles tennis championship only after what was considered to be the most magnificent lawn tennis ever seen at Wimbledon. S. H. Smith, the Welsh champion, and Frank Risley, one of the best players in England, were at the top of their form. In the first set the Americans simply smothered the Britishers, but the effort seemed to tire them, and they lost the second and third sets by ill-judged play. In the fourth set Wright played the game of his life, ably assisted by Ward. The Americans won the first four games, with the Britishers contesting every point; but in the fast play which continued to the last, the Britishers finally got the upper hand and took the set, 9—7. The scores in the other sets were: 2—6, 6—3, and 6—2.

STOCKS AND MONEY.

Advance in Coal and Iron Stocks; Reading Goes to 107 in Wall Street

The local market enjoyed quite a little boom to-day. Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron and Steel were the special features and both scored good advances. For some little time past both stocks have been very well sanded and following any advance they have usually been left alone for a few days to allow any anxious sellers to get rid of their stock.

The movement in the stocks to day was worked both here and in Boston and it looked very much as though it was for the same account. The floating supply of Dominion Coal seems to have become very limited and it takes very little buying to boost the price up. The stock opened higher here at 81 1-4 and in sales of 25 share lots advanced to 82 1-2. In Boston there were sales at 83. In Dominion Iron common several 100 shares lots came out. Once the stock touched 23 and it was all quickly taken. The top price for the day was 23 1-2. The buying in this stock seems to be to a certain extent for investment many believing that later on when the company's business has developed the common stock will be worth much more than at present. Nova Scotia Coal and Steel also shared in the improvement and sold 54 1-2 to 55.

Sao Paulo which has been advancing quickly in Toronto for some days past sold here to-day at 136 3-8, a pretty high price for a stock that was given a bonus to the bondholders. The company's earnings have shown big increases. Detroit United was steady and the amount of stock that came out was limited, there were sales at 93 1-2 to 93 3-8; Montreal Power sold 91 7-8, while the list looked somewhat more active at the close it could hardly be said that the public had played much of a part in the advance. Whenever the different group interested in special stock drop out of the trading business inclines to be very dull. Since the beginning of the week bond houses report that business has been fairly active.

Local Gossip

Local bond clearings continue to show big increase over the corresponding period of the last few years. The officers of the Montreal Clearing House reported the weekly clearings as follows:

Wall Street Market

Wall street.—Noon—Over-night gains were cancelled by the volume of realizing that met the opening advance. In some cases small fractional losses were sustained. Agressive buying of selected stocks turned the current upwards again. A demonstration in Reading carried the price through the previous record to within a shade of 107. Chesapeake and Ohio, St. Paul, Erie first pfd., Republic Steel pfd., rose 1 to 1 1-4, U. S. Rubber, 2 1-4 and the pfd., 1 1-2. The sustaining effect of the Reading movement was used to sell stocks elsewhere and prices reacted, Reading falling back a point. Bonds were irregular.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

E. & C. Randolph: "The tractions were about the weakest things on the list and B. R. T. seems to be feeling the effect of quite heavy distributive sales which went on yesterday. Reading, on the other hand, shows remarkable strength and made another new high record this morning, holding most of its gain.

Norris P. Bryant: "R. R. earnings even in case of minor roads are continuing to show good increases in gross and net.

J. S. Bache & Co.:—Prices reflected the better tone in London and opened higher, fractionally in most cases. T. C. I. was again active, Reading opened 1-2 higher. After some hesitation prices improved under lead of Reading. The market acts well and profit taking sales were absorbed. Prices look like working somewhat higher.

Marler and Hodgson—Reading's advance however, still falls under the suspicion of being largely the result of manipulation. The Steel stocks and Union Pacific showed satisfactory rallying power but on all advances it was noted that stocks were in fairly liberal supply. At no time since the market movement was inaugurated has market displayed such decided evidence of being two-sided. The tendency, however, is toward dullness on all reactions.

Sales to noon in Wall Street, 429,000.

Charles Head & Co.:—In the industrial list Tenn. Coal was exceptionally firm and there was a sharp upward movement in the United States Rubber issues. The local traction shares were heavy with rather liberal selling of B.R.T., without any definite news to account for it. Sentiment is mixed and traders are inclined to play for a further reaction but the undertone is fairly firm.

BOSTON MARKET.

Boston, July 6.—The local market has been active in spots and very strong. The leading local feature was the rise in Dominion stocks. Iron sold up to 23 1-2; Coal sold up to 83. The buying was by Canadian houses. Coppers generally quiet.

AVERAGE HOLDING OF STOCK OF BANKS; SOVEREIGN BANK HAS WIDEST DISTRIBUTION

The chartered banks of Canada hold a splendid record for the wide distribution of their shares. During the past few years special efforts have been made by the Board of Directors of many of the banks to increase the number of the shareholders as much as possible, the feeling being that a wider distribution naturally means more satisfactory security to the public. A unification of the number of shares, number of shareholders and average holding of Canadian banks with 10,000 or more shares, shows that the Sovereign Bank of Canada, holds the record for the lowest average holding, having 873 shareholders for 13,000 shares, making a splendid average holding of 14.89. The Traders' Bank of Canada, also have a good showing, having 1,120 shareholders for 25,936 shares, an average of 23.15.

The Bank of Commerce has the largest number of shareholders of any Canadian bank, having 3,484 shareholders as against 2,518 shreholders in the Bank of Montreal, a majority of 966 shareholders for the Bank of Montreal. 'Street' Gossip.

New Jap Loan

Semi-final details concerning the latest Japanese loan of $150,000,000 were made public yesterday.

The bonds will bear interest at 4 per cent. and will be secured by a second lien upon the tobacco monopoly.

The syndicate underwriting the loan consists of Parr's Bank, Limited, of London; the Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation and the Yokohama Specie Bank, Limited, with whom are associated Kuhn, Loeb & Company, of New York, in the flotation in this country.

The loan will be divided into three equal parts, London, Berlin and New York, each taking $50,000,000. The subscription price will probably be the same as the previous loan, which was 87½. An interesting feature is Germany's direct participation in the loan. The Japanese Government practically pledges itself not to draw upon the subscriptions received here before October 31.

In the event of peace resulting from the coming negotiations between Russia and Japan, the proceeds of this loan will be applied toward the refunding of Japan's internal debt. If not, it will go into the country's war credit.

Shipping Ore From Cobalt

Toronto, July 6. — Mr. M. T. Culbert, has reported at the Bureau of Mines that the W. J. O'Brien mines at Cobalt, of which he is superintendent, have just made a shipment to New York of 28 tons of ore, averaging in value $2,000 per ton. This ore was taken out in three weeks by eight men. There is a rumor at Cobalt that the superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Smelter at Trail, B.C., is going to Cobalt, with a view of making an experimental shipment of ore to Trail to test the practicability of profitable shipment and treatment there.

Easy Money in London

London—The Statist says:—

Very easy money conditions in London are expected to be witnessed in July, when the market will receive a large portion of the money which will be disbursed by the Government from the Bank of England. It is probable that nearly £6,000,000 of money will be paid out on balance. Of this about £2,500,000 may be sent into the country, leaving about £3,500,000 to be added to market balances. Such addition cannot fail to bring a very easy state of the market. Should, however, the Paris exchange decline, and gold shipments from the Bank of England become feasible, the situation would immediately change. At present it is quite impossible to gauge the extent of the probable demand for gold for the continent.

B.C. Lead Output

G. O. Buchanan, of Kaslo, Government Inspector, estimates that the lead refined for the last fiscal year in British Columbia, amounted to 17,00 tons, of which 11,000 tons was exported. Upon this quantity of refined the bounty, speaking roughly, would amount to $10,000.

Klondike Gold Received by Canadian Banks

The Bank of British North America has received so far this year $1,600,000 Klondike gold in Seattle assay office checks. The Canadian Bank of Commerce has received to date $846,000, and has advices of $630,000 more to arrive this week. Total from the Klondike received and advised, $2,476,000.

Dominion Coal Output

The output from the Dominion Coal Company collieries for the month of June, was exceedingly large, in fact, a record breaker, totalling 333,926 tons, distributed as follows: Dominion No. 1, 53,259 tons; Dominion No. 2, 58,826 tons; Dominion No. 3, 35,949 tons; Caledonia, 53,707; reserve, 74,700; Hub, 16,038; International, 20,477; total, 333,926 tons. Shipments totalled 332,285 for the month. The July output will probably be even larger in some of the collieries at least though some have about reached the maximum. Dominion No. 6 will not figure as much of a producer before next season. Its output is not given.

Bank of England Statement

London, July 6.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

Total reserve, decrease, £1,167,000; circulation, increased, £580,000; bullion, decreased, £586,999; other securities, increased, £2,979,000; other deposits, increased, £5,258,00; public deposits decreased, £3,095,000; notes reserve, decreased, £1,133,000; government securities, £3,095,000; notes reserve, decreased, £581,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 42.65 per cent., last week it was 46.19 per cent.

MARKET REPORTS.

Advance in All Cotton Prices; Jump in Raws Given as Reason

As a result of the rapid advance in the price of raw cotton, the Dominion Textile Company, the Canadian Colored Cotton Company, and other smaller cotton companies, have withdrawn all their prices and in a new schedule issued to-day announced an advance of ⅛ to ½ per cent. in whites and greys, ½ to 1 per cent. in grey and white sheetings and ¼ to ½ per cent. in prints.

The action of the companies caused considerable excitement in trade circles today, and resulted in a somewhat sensational rush on the part of dealers, jobbers and others to stock up. Owing to the fact that the supply of raw cotton is large many dealers adopted a waiting attitude, and allowed their stocks to run low in anticipation of the lower prices they thought were warranted by the statistical position of the staple. This intensified their anxiety to stock up this morning, particularly when they were notified that further advances were altogether likely, unless a marked decline occurred in the market for raws.

The present strong position of finished cottons is directly attributable to speculative influences, and a large increase in the normal consumption of all sorts of raw material. Last year there was a 12,500,000 bale crop in the United States, and it was expected that the consumption would be about 10,273,000 bales. This would have left a comfortable surplus. But the market had forgotten to make allowance for the immense increase in consumption due to the depletion of supplies during the preceding famine period, and the fact that last year, with the world's normally increased demands, something like a million less bales were used than the year before. With a lowering in price these suspended demands descended on the market with a rush, and with two months of the cotton year still to arrange for home consumption and export have already absorbed 12,100,000 bales of the American crop, as against 9,500,00 bales a year ago.

The Provision Market

A good trade for the season continues to be done in most lines, and the market, in consequence, is fairly active, with a steady undertone. The demand is very good for hams and bacon. Abattoir fresh-killed dressed hogs met with a moderate demand at $9.50 per 100 lbs.

We quote: Heavy Canada short cut mess pork, in tierces, $31.50 to $32.50; heavy Canada short cut mess, $21 to $22; Canada short cut back pork, $19 to $20; heavy Canada long cut mess pork, none; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $19 to $..; heavy flank pork, $19 to $20; light Canada short cut clear pork, none.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Wheat—What little business there is being done in the local grain market is for local consumption. Prices were without change, values being quoted 50 cents for No. 2 white and 49 cents for No. 3 white.

Flour—The demand continues fairly good from local and country buyers, and a good steady trade is passing. We quote as follows: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.30 to $5.70; strong bakers', $5 to $5.40; winter wheat patents, $5.50; straight rollers, $5 to $5.15; and in bags, $2.35 to $2.45.

Millfeed—A fair trade is passing in shorts at steady prices, but bran is still quiet and easy. We quote: Manitoba bran, in bags, $16 to $17; short, $20 to $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk $15 to $16; shorts, $19 to $20; moullie, $21 to $24 per ton, as to quality.

Oats—The tone of the market for rolled oats remains firm, but business is quiet at $2.40 to $2.42½ per bag. Cornmeal is unchanged at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay—A fair trade continues to be done in baled hay, and prices show no change. We quote: No. 1, $9 to $9.25; No. 2, $7.75 to $8.25; clover, mixed, $6.75 to $7.25; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

Country Produce

Beans—There is a firmer feeling in the market for beans in the west, and prices have been advanced 5c per bushel, but up to the present this has had no influence on the local situation, as the demand is still limited, and sales in a jobbing way were made at $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel for choice primes.

Honey—Business in honey is still quiet, and the market is without any new feature. We quote as follows: Extracted white clover honey, 7c to 7½c per 10 lb. tin, and 6½c to 7c in 60 lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 6½c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13½c.

Maple Product—The market for maple product is quiet and steady. We quote: Syrup, in 60 gallon kegs, 5½c to 6¼c per lb.; in tins, 60c to 65c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c per Imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8¼c to 9c per lb.

Hops—The demand for hops is slow, and prices show no change. We quote: Choice Canadians, 26c to 27c, and fair to good at 22c to 23c per lb.

Ashes—The demand for potash is quiet, and the tone of the market is easy. We quote as follows: First sorts, $5.20 to $5.25; seconds, $4.70 to $4.75; and first pearls, at $7.25 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.

The Wheat Situation

The weather over America lately has been such as to cause apprehension as to the result of the wheat crop. There has been an excessive supply of moisture, both in winter and spring wheat countries. Actual damage thereby is not as yet considerable, but a continuance of such weather might result disastrously, while on the other hand seasonably dry warm weather would bring about great crop results. The uncertainty of what may develop keeps the trade on the ragged edge of expectancy, because, owing to the great exhaustion of old supplies, and the increase in consumption, unfavorable weather, causing the prospect of small yield, might send prices very high, while an assurance of large yield would soon cut down present high prices for cash wheat. Small stocks of cash wheat in America, and the speculative manipulation induced thereby, has resulted in high prices, but high prices with prospect of probable large crops cause millers to go very slowly in buying and they are working closely from hand to mouth. In the same way Europe, being well supplied from other countries, takes very little wheat and flour from Canada, our prices being too high for export business. Harvesting of winter wheat in the South has made good progress wherever the weather has been dry enough. Cars of new wheat are arriving daily at Southern markets, and the movement is expected to become liberal by the middle of July, under ordinary weather conditions. The spring wheat crop in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest is generally in high condition. There has been almost too much rainfall during June, and there is some damage by that on low lying lands, especially in the Red River valley, but on the great rolling prairie lands to the westward, where the soil is lighter, the rainfall has not been so large, and the conditions have been about ideal up to this date. Drier and warmer weather is now needed, but with normal weather during July and August, a great crop will result.

INSURANCE

The rapid growth of the business of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Canada in the Province of Quebec has resulted in the directors making an important change at the head office for this Province. Mr. W. L. Lee, who for the past eleven years has been Provincial manager will become financial manager. Mr. G. H. Allen will have the title of Provincial manager and will have charge of all the field work.

Although Mr. Allen has been in insurance work for over twenty-one years the Mutual Life of Canada is only the second company with which he has become connected. For twenty-one years he was connected with the Standard Life filling all the field positions up to that of chief inspector for Canada. Together Mr. Lee and Mr. Allen hope to make the business of the Mutual Life in the Province grow even more rapidly than it has up to the present.

FIRE AT SHERBROOKE CAUSED SERIOUS LOSS

Damage to Amount of $10,000 Was Done—Origin of Fire Wrapped in Mystery.

Sherbrooke, July 6.—(Special)—One of the most serious fires that has occurred in Sherbrooke for years broke out yesterday afternoon at the rear of a business block on Marquette street, and damage to the amount of $10,000 was done. The fire started in a stable at the rear, and spread so rapidly that it was impossible to keep the flames from spreading. Taree stores were destroyed, and the five tenants who resided above the stores lost their all. A high wind was blowing, and carried the flying embers some distance and ignited the roofs of some half a dozen dwelling houses. It was only with the assistance of volunteers that a serious conflagration was averted. The principal losses are: A. Lanctot, $4,500, insurance, $2,000; J. O. S. Breton, $3,500, insurance, $1,000. Four tenants, who lived above the store, lost all their furniture and the Bee Cigar Factory, was damaged to the amount of $500. The origin of the fire is unknown.
