

MIDNIGHT REPORTS.

BRITISH CABINET COUNCIL.

national Conference.

GREAT BRITAIN.
LONDON, Nov. 25—Before the English delegates to the International Monetary Conference started for Brussels, the instructions romantic, the deputy of the minister, and Sir C. Rivers Wilson, were to expedite the deliberations and obtain continuous sittings daily, with the exceptions of Saturdays and Sundays, so as to bring the conference to an end within a few weeks. Sir M. Vernon Harcourt had learned that the American delegates contemplated such a full excursion, with time given to all sides to prepare arguments, statistics and facts, and in replying to their exponents, as would enable them to present exhaustive statements. This course, involving as it did an adjournment over Christmas, neither met with the approval of the English Minister day the delegates started for Brussels, the representative of the Associated Press learned from a high authority that if the conference was prolonged beyond three weeks the leading English representatives would return to London, leaving the most important members of the delegation to watch the proceedings. Private advices from Brussels show that Sir C. Rivers Wilson opened the opposition to prolonged debates as soon as the delegates began their inter-communications. He objected to the proposal that President Taft should have made on the suggestion of the American delegates and supported by a majority of the conference, that an interval of a day for pre-ally assented to President Levi's proposal finding that they stood alone. The incident created the impression among the members the conference and Brussels officials that the British delegates want to break up the the delegates evince every disposition to go thoroughly into the matter and to give themselves up to it until every plan promising international concert has been examined. Mr. Gladstone will return to Hawarden on Thursday. Though the Cabinet does not resume its councils until January, the Ministers will occasionally meet. The industry of the Ministers is unprecedented. Autumn Cabinet councils were never known to begin so early, set so often and sit so long. Whatever the Cabinet may accomplish in the extent of its legislative proposals, the Liberals fear that a session of Parliament will see no important

The Irish parties have decided to sit with the Opposition, the anti-Ministerial benches of the House will be crowded to overflowing, while the Ministerial benches will be sparsely filled. Some Conservatives sit confidently upon the moral effect of such a sight, but when the Irish members troop in to Government lobby to vote with Mr. Gladstone, the effect will be the other way. Mr. J. M. Rebbat, the French Foreign Minister, has recently communicated with Lord Rosebery, the British Foreign Secretary, requesting a statement of the position of the present Government with reference to the rights of France.

The latest developments in municipal socialism are found in the resolutions adopted at a conference of delegates from the London Counties and District Boards, appointing a delegation to wait upon Mr. Henry Fowler, President of the Local Government Board, in order to demand a Government measure fixing municipal rents for London workmen. The conference also instructed the delegates to urge the Government to find work for the unemployed in public works at trades union wages, or employment on lands not under cultivation.

Lord Rosebery is included in the Royal dinner party to be given at Windsor Castle late to-night.

There are renewed rumors of a probable alliance between Lord Rosebery and Princess Victoria. Additional weight is given the news because of the frequent appearance of the Foreign Office Secretary at gatherings of the Royal family.

The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg will bid farewell to the Queen tomorrow and will proceed to Italy. The Queen has evinced much pleasure at the visit of her granddaughter and the Grand to Lord Airlington's country seat, Cril-wall, in Dorsetshire, to-morrow. His shooting in reserves yesterday resulted in 1,600 birds of game, making for the three days 3,300

which has been garrisoned here for some time. The men of the regiment have long been complaining of the ill-treatment to which they have been subjected by their officers. Being no longer able to endure such treatment, they deserted in a body this morning and started for their homes. As soon as the fact of the mutiny became known, the other regiment was sent in pursuit and the mutineers were overtaken about 12 miles out and brought back to the city. It is expected that drastic punishment will be meted out to them, as the Russian military law is extremely severe in cases of mutiny.

DR. JEFFERSON, N. Y., Nov. 20.—1808. G. Hodgkins, of Setauket, died yesterday, aged 70. Mr. Hodgkins was a philanthropist and had given £20,000 to the Royal Institution, £200,000 to the Smithsonian Institute, £100,000 each to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He also founded a free library in his village. He came from England at the age of 29 years, poor, and accumulated wealth during the war.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 25.—A wholesale jail delivery was effected at the DeKalb County Jail, at Decatur Township, six miles from INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—George Senthed, prosperous farmer, of Jasper County, joined the religious sect which believes that the exercise of sufficient faith will enable the believer to perform miracles. Senthed picked up a rattlesnake, under the supposition that his sliding and persistent faith would protect him from any possible injury. The venomous reptile bit him in the arm, and after suffering the most frightful agony he died, crying like a maniac.
