EUROPE LESS NEAR FLARE-UP THAN THOUGHT

Temper of Franco-German Diplomatic Contest is More Amiable

A DIPLOMATIC STRUGGLE

It is Thought That Great Britain Will Not Join in Moroccan Conference Unless France Does the Same.

Paris, June 19.—1.30 p.m. —Official quarters here to-day show a feeling of optimism and confidence concerning the early adjustment of the Franco-German controversy which is in marked contrast with the agitation and depression of the last week. It is definitely stated that the negotiations between Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, give promise of accord within the present week. This doubtless will be for an international conference with the scope clearly defined so as not to give the slightest prejudice to French interests or obligations, but rather to supplement the international agreements France has heretofore made. The conversations between M. Rouvier and Prince Radolin are proceeding in the most amicable spirit with a desire manifest on both sides to reach an agreement.

A singular development of the situation is the attitude of the Socialists, under the leadership of M. Jaures, who joins hands with the Nationalists in resisting any extreme demands of Germany. The Socialists heretofore have been foremost in seeking a Franco-German rapprochement, but they now maintain that this sentiment should not lead the government to permit Germany to dictate her own terms concerning the foreign policy of France.

Accept the Conference.

Berlin, June 19, 2.14 p.m.—Premier Rouvier has informed Prince Radolin, the German ambassador at Paris, that France is inclined to accept the invitation to take part in the proposed conference on Morocco, provided the German and French governments can reach a mutually satisfactory agreement as to the precise points to be considered by the conferees. The conviction exists at the Foreign Office that France and Germany will be able to agree upon this programme. Although earnest differences of view are yet to be reconciled, the authoritative judgment of the Foreign Office is that they will all be overcome by negotiation. M. Rouvier has thus yielded to Prince Von Buelow on two essential points on which M. Delcasse, the former Foreign Minister, had refused the invitation to take part in a Morocco conference. M. Rouvier first consented to re-open the question, and, second, agreed to take part in the conference, provided the protocol is in conformity with French interests. This will be accepted by Germany, which will limit the deliberations of the conference. Great Britain, supporting France, had also refused to join the proposed conference, but Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has, it is understood, said that if France accepted Great Britain would also accept.

A great diplomatic battle is in progress, with the probabilities leaning toward German success.

LAKE BOAT BURNT, FOUR LIVES LOST

Collingwood, Ont., June 19 (Special.)—Four lives were lost and the most magnificent steamer of the Northern Navigation Company's fleet was destroyed on the eve of the busiest season in years, by a fire that broke out on the City of Collingwood as she lay near the G.T. docks, this morning. She was burned to the water's edge, and two deck hands and two stokers perished. She was valued at $80,000.

The fire broke out at two o'clock and many of the crew escaped by jumping overboard and swimming to the docks. The books were saved.

The steamer plied between Collingwood and Port Arthur.

RUSSIA WINS A SMALL VICTORY IN MANCHURIA

CZAR RECEIVES ZEMSTVOISTS

Lodz is Again in Disorder—The St. Kilda Question Raised by Diplomats—Lively Battle Checks Japanese Advance.

Headquarters of the Russian Army, Godzyadani, Manchuria, Sunday, June 18.—The Russian cavalry have retaken the town of Liaoyangwopeng.

The Japanese occupied the village of Sumiencheng, on the main road to Changtufu and Mamakai, in the morning of June 16, but they did not succeed in crossing the river. At three in the afternoon the Russians recaptured Sumiencheng, three squadrons of Japanese retiring in a southwesterly direction.

Clearing Port Arthur.

Che Foo, June 19.—American and European firms still in Port Arthur have been notified by the Japanese authorities to depart and remove their merchandise. Many of the firms are now arranging to charter steamers for that purpose.

Shipments of contraband of war for the Japanese continue to be made, particularly from Che Foo to Dalny.

The Zemstvo Delegates.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—Emperor Nicholas received the Zemstvo deputation this morning.

Another Row at Lodz.

Warsaw, June 19. Two persons were killed and thirty-six were wounded in a conflict between troops and socialists at Lodz yesterday. A procession of 2,000 socialists carrying red flags was stopped by the Cossacks. The socialists thereupon fired and the Cossacks replied, and then charged with drawn swords into the thick of the procession. The disturbances were renewed this morning at a factory in the suburb of Baluty, which the troops have cut off from communication with Lodz.

The Manchurian Battle.

Tokio, June 19.—Manchurian armies report:—"In the Weiyualpaomen district at 9 a.m., June 16, 300 of the enemy's cavalry advanced against Kuyushu but were repulsed.

"In the Chamotue district our advanced force, after driving out the enemy stationed at Sumiencheng, occupied that village.

"In the Tasiamotung district, our detachment, after dislodging the enemy's cavalry at Souchatzu, eight miles west of Sumiencheng, occupied that village.

"In the Kangpiu district, at 1 a.m., June 16, our centre column, after routing the enemy's cavalry outposts at Tienchiawopeng, 16 miles northeast of Kahgping, and continued vigorous pursuit, attached the enemy's position at the southern end of Liaoyangwopeng, and to the eastward, between 4 and 8.30 o'clock and 9 o'clock we completely occupied Liaoyangwopeng.

"Our right column, after driving the enemy's cavalry before it, occupied Lochuanpou, nine miles east of Liaoyangwopeng. The column shelled the enemy's cavalry, retreating to the northward, inflicting heavy injury. The enemy was finally thrown into great confusion.

"The left column poured a fierce fire upon a thousand of the enemy's cavalry retreating to the northward of Liaoyangwopeng, and inflicted heavy damage.

"Our casualties were thirty killed, and 185 wounded. The number of the enemy's casualities is not certain. His dead left in front of the centre column numbered 80, and, therefore, the total Russian losses in all directions seem to be great."

The St. Kilda Case.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, has brought the case of the British steamer St. Kilda, which was sunk by the Russian auxiliary cruiser Dnieper, June 5, in the China Sea, before Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, asking that reparation be made, and that steps be taken to prevent the recurrence of such actions by Russian warships. Count Lamsdorff replied that Russia's previous assurances till held good, and that this probably was an isolated case, due to the present disorganization of of the Russian naval forces in Far Eastern waters. The Ministry of Marine, Count Lamsdorff said, had no information as to the whereabouts of the Dnepier, but he promised the ambassador that the matter should be investigated.

CORDASCO MUST PAY FOR INSULTING REMARK

Mr. Antonio Cordasco, the well known Italian labor agent, was this morning assessed $60 and costs for insulting remarks to the wife of a compatriot named Vincenzo Fucci. Mr. Fucci alleged that Cordasco had gone to his home and demanded of his wife, "Where is that child you had in Chambly before you got married?"

Mr. Fucci entered action for $200 damages.

Mr. Justice Pagnuelo found that Cordasco had been guilty of the remark alleged, and awarded Mr. Fucci $60 damages and costs.

MR. JOHN A. KNEELAND DEAD.

Mr. John A. Kneeland, the well known street preacher and tract distributor, died Friday evening at the Royal Victoria Hospital. His taking off was a very sudden one. On Sunday while at church he felt ill and on Monday went to the hospital, where an operation was performed on his throat for acute tonsilitis. The operation gave relief but led to blood poisoning, which caused his death.

Mr. Kneeland was a son of the late Mr. Gardner Kneeland, of South Stukeley, Que., and a brother of Prof. A. W. Kneeland and Principal Kneeland, of this city. The funeral took place from the hospital this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED AS THE CAUSE OF DEATH

At the Plamondon inquest on Saturday morning there were some sensational developments. It appears that the family of the deceased have strong suspicions of foul play. Mr. Joseph Plamondon, a son, in giving his evidence, stated that his father had a personal enemy, a man whom he had said he could send to the penitentiary any time he wished. This man was known to have been in the company of the deceased in Montreal, prior to his disappearance.

Besides this the members of the family feel that there is some mystery about the way in which the satchel of the deceased was returned to them. It was left in Amherst street by some unknown person, who telephoned the police as to its whereabouts. The satchel had all the appearance of being carefully handled, and did not seem to have been snatched away, or lost. Both inside and outside everything was in perfect order.

The autopsy on the body failed to reveal any marks of violence whatever. The only way in which foul play could have been committed would be by pushing the man into the water. There is no evidence however that anything of the kind was done.

However, in the interests of justice Coroner MacMahon considered that it would be better to defer the inquest till Saturday next, when more witnesses will be examined.

A special train was furnished at Paddington and royal carriages in charge of Lord Esher met the whole party at Windsor, and drove them to the Frogmore mausoleum, which was specially opened and through the park to the castle. Lord Knollys, private secretary to the King, and Mr. Lyttelton, the Colonial Secretary, were waiting and on approach of the party the King and Queen accompanied by the Prince of Wales and his two eldest children, and attended by their suites, came on to the terrace. Lord Strathcona and Sir W. Mulock, who accompanied the party, engaged with the King in conversation for a few moments and afterward the officers of the Association were introduced to the King and Queen who personally greeted them; then the King had a conversation with Mr George Drummond, and seemed interested in the party's movements. He expressed his pleasure at their safe arrival, after their delay. The party then divided into three groups and paid their respects to their Majesties.

The King then addressed the whole party, and said: "I am greatly pleased at your presence here to-day. I welcome you to England and to Windsor especially, and hope for your safe return after enjoying a pleasant hour here.

After partaking of refreshments in the Orangery, the whole party was conducted through the State apartments and then taken in Royal carriages to the station. After their return the party immediately left for the Paddington garden party.

Before leaving Windsor Castle, the entire party joined in singing God Save the King and gave three cheers and a tiger for their majesties.

ATTACKED BY THIEVES IN HER OWN HOUSE MILE END LADY WAS FOULLY MURDERED IN THE NIGHT

Murder Done Under Most Horrible Circumstances—Mary Quinn Found Lifeless in Little House She Had Built Herself—Perpetrators Are Yet Unknown

Terribly battered and cut about the head and face, Mary Quinn was found murdered yesterday morning in the house she had built with her own hands at St. Louis de Mile End. The tragedy took place in the sparsely built district on Esplanade Avenue north of the C.P.R. tracks. The house of the murdered woman being the last house on the avenue.

George Reid, who lives in a shanty on the corner of Esplanada and Atlantic avenues just opposite the Quinn house, tells that about three o'clock in the morning he was awakened by his wife, who told him there was a fight going on outside. Reid got up and looked out. He saw a man on the street before the house opposite, and another in the door. He did not see the woman but he heard her scream, "You don't intend to kill me?" A man's voice answered "No, but tell me where it is." More words were exchanged, but just then a C.P.R. freight train rumbled past and Reid could not catch the rest. Shortly after he heard a heavy blow as if by a club, and then nothing but moans.

Thinking it only a drunken squabble Reid went back to bed, but in about fifteen minutes was wakened by more noise. He got up again and saw a man pacing the sidewalk in front of the house. Upstairs he saw a light moving about as if being carried by some one. In the dim light he took the man on the sidewalk for a policeman, and thinking all was right went back to bed.

A Tragedy Discovered.

He slept till between six and seven. Then he got up and went into the garden to hoe his corn. Glancing toward Miss Quinn's house he saw the front door wide open. This seemed to him somewhat curious as he knew that the lone lady usually kept her door locked night and day. Going closer to investigate, a terrible sight met his eyes,—the naked body of the woman lying in the doorway, on foot on a chair, her face to one side and head pointing outward, all around on the step, on the floor of the room on the walk outside, there were pools and clots of blood.

Turning away Reid hurried to the house of his nearest neighbor, Donato Ruggiro, an Italian in the employ of the C.P.R. Together they came back and viewed the spot. Then Reid despatched his son Hugh to inform the police at No. 2 station. Capt. Belanger arrived, and immediately telephoned Chief Claremont, who took charge of the case and had the body removed to the morgue. A careful examination of the house and an autopsy on the body were made to-day. To-morrow morning the inquest will be held.

The woman's head is terribly battered up and mangled. Her jaw is broken, and there are several large cuts on her face and neck that have been made by a knife. Those on the neck are very deep. The whole right side of the face is frightfully bruised and swollen.

The Story of the Victim.

The murdered woman who was about forty or fifty years of age, had lived alone in the house for the last six years. She was a dressmaker, and was absent in the city a large part of her time doing work for private patrons. She was said to be an excellent workwoman, and at one time owned a shop in the city. The neighbors claim that she had a brother and a sister in Montreal, who visited her occasionally.

Built House Herself.

The house in which the tragedy took place is a curious frame structure, covered and roofed with sheet iron. It was built entirely by the woman herself, and although if built by a skilled workman it would have been called crude work, yet it is truly a marvel. Mr. Reid, who has already been mentioned, lived in the house for two weeks this spring, and he describes it as very shaky and rickety. He says that the woman was very eccentric in her habits. She used to pace the floor restlessly nearly all night.

The only motive that can be assigned for the crime is found in the vague idea prevalent among some of the neighbors that the woman had a large sum of money in the house. How this story got abroad is not known. Those neighbors who knew her best emphatically deny that she had any money. They say she was very poor, and indeed all the surroundings seem to tell the same story. Mr. Reid says that every spare cent was spent in lumber for a new house.

The Building of the House.

This new house was begun about a month ago and work on it was stopped soon after, presumably because of lack of material. Two men were engaged on it, who Miss Quinn told the neighbors, were cousins of hers from Ste. Scholastique. One of them was in the habit of visiting her every Sunday. Yesterday he did not come. While at work, these men boarded in the Quinn shack, and it is said that at times there was a good deal of drinking and noise within.

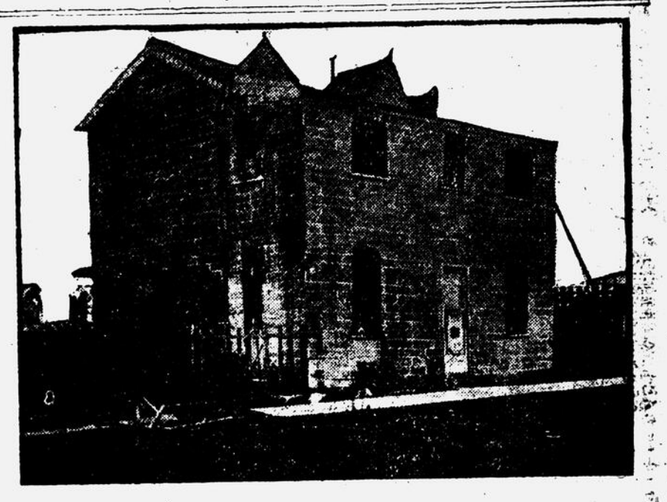
One Arrest Made.

The St. Louis police think they have a clue in the person of Daniel Crossin, who was arrested on St. Denis Street about five o'clock yesterday morning for being drunk and disorderly, and was locked up in the Laurier Street police station. Reid, who saw the men at the time of the murder, is unable to say whether Crossin was one of the men or not, as the light was very poor at the time. He says, however, that the voice he heard was not Crossin's. Crossin is a Scotsman and Reid claims that the voice heard was that of an Englishman, he thinks, that of a Cockney. He is emphatic in his statement that he can recognize the voice again.

Crossin was unable to give the police a satisfactory account of his actions on Saturday night and Sunday morning. He said he had been drunk, and didn't know where he was, nor what he had been doing. He said he had had a companion, a cockney, he thought, but he is not certain. Chief Clermont has given instructions to have him held till after the inquest.

Chief Clermont and Capt. Belanger went to Sault au Recollet yesterday afternoon on the look out for the man who was supposed to have been with Crossin. On their return they claimed to have found a clue, but had made no arrrest. Miss Quinn was well known to the St. Louis police, to whom she often complained of boys who were breaking her windows.

The man Daniel Crossin, who is described on the charge sheet as thirty-eight years of age and a laborar, with no address, was remanded by Mr. Recorder Weir until June 24, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on Cowan Street at five o'clock yesterday morning. He admitted the offence.



WHERE THE TRAGEDY OCCURRED.

The above is a reproduction of a photo. taken specially for The Herald, of the house in which Miss Mary Quinn was murdered at St. Louis de Mile End early yesterday morning. The building is remarkable in more respects than one, and, as may be judged, was not built from any elaborate emanation from the architect's brain. As a matter of fact the whole edifice was thought out by the late owner, who, in addition, set the woodwork in position with her own hands and affixed the tinware that covers the structure. It is by no means a strong affair—is, in fact, somewhat rickety, and to the casual observer looks as if a more than ordinary strong blow would level it with the ground.

The door is not more than two and a half feet wide, and the three dark marks to be seen on front of the step were caused by the blood from the murdered woman's skull, the body having lain just inside the doorway.

SEVEN YEARS PEN. FOR NEW CITIZEN

Took Advantage of City's Kindness—Another Sentence of 4 Years

The summer session of the Court of King's Bench came to a conclusion today when Chief Justice Lacoste pronounced sentences on the three prisoners against whom the jury had returned a verdict of guilty. These were:

John Seedon alias Stevens, receiving stolen property. Accused pleaded for lemency, and as this was the first charge of such a nature that had been brought against him His Lordship limited the sentence to six months hard labor.

Francois Bois, pronounced guilty of assault and robbery as also of threatening with a knife, asked the clemency of the court, but Judge Lacoste could not see his way to grant this. Bois, he said, was a stranger, who on coming to Montreal had been accepted as a good citizen, but in return for what kindness had been extended him, he took the first opportunity of holding up a respectable man and not only robbed but threatened to stab him. Five years on the one charge and two years on the other was the penalty.

Simeon Lesperance, attempted criminal assault, four years.

DECORATED GRAVES OF DEAD COMRADES

Firemen Observe Decoration Day With Impressive Ceremonies.

In spite of the somewhat dispiriting rainfall Saturday afternoon representatives of the Fire Brigade, and 150 civic officials, aldermen and prominent citizens, paid the customary solemn tribute to the department members of Montreal's fire fighting force, by formally visiting their last resting places on the mountain and placing national flags upon the graves.

The party assembled at the City Hall at two o'clock and drove through the city to tMount Royal Cemetery where the first plot was visited. Standing with bare heads, before the monument that marks Chief Alex. Bertram's grave, the firemen's committee, under Chief Benoit's direction, placed cut flowers and flags upon the graves of their deceased comrades, and drove on to the Catholic burial ground. The graves there being decorated in impressive silence, a return was made to the mountain lookout, where luncheon was served and several speeches by leading aldermen and citizens made, Chief Benoit acting as toast master.

Mr. Honore Gervais, M.P., in an impassioned oration paid the highest tribute of worth both to the present force and to the memory of those who had gone before. They were all men of the right stamp, and a lasting credit both to the city of Montreal, and to the land of their adoption.

Colonel Stevenson, one time member of the Fire Committee, received a most flattering reception upon rising. He said that he might once again be seen in the City Council, in which event, some of the so-called "improvements" would be done away with and older ideas adopted. The statement that he might yet be seen upon the Fire Committee was enthusiastically received.

Before calling upon Ald. Lariviere, Chief Benoit pointed to the fact that the city streets were not in safe condition for heavy fire apparatus, adding that more than one brave fellow had paid the debt with his life. The Chief asked for some attention on this score. Ald. Lariviere replied that the Roads' Department was doing all in its power to secure better streets, and expressed the keenest appreciation of the work of the brigade.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe, Ald. Bastien, Ald. Nelson and Ald. Walsh all spoke of the good work of the men and officers, the two latter taking Colonel Stevenson to task for his allegation of backward moves in the force. Ald. Walsh said that the force was underpaid, and that the present pay $550 for the first year, $625 for the second year, and $675 for the third—would be increased if the Council could be made to listen to the appeal. Mr. Desrosiers, a fire commissioners, Mr. Brault, of the Chambre de Commerce, City Attorney Ethier, Ald. Major and Mr. Harris were among the speakers.

The committee in charge of the Decoration Day proceedings, was composed of Assistant Chief Dubois, Captains Dufresne, Murphy and Johnson, who numbered each private grave and planted small flags on each and every one. There were six large flags in Mount Royal Cemetery and five in Cote des Neiges.

Among the visitors not mentioned in the list of speakers were: Chief Campeau, Dr. McCarry, Dr. Morrison, Superintendents Ferns, Parent, Laguerler and Drouin, John Campbell and many others.

Detroit, Mich.—Chief Engineer Kinnear, of the Michigan Central Railway, has resigned and will devote his time to supervision of the construction of the double tunnel under the Detroit River. Mr. Kinnear is succeeded by his former assistant, George H. Webb.

Carleton Place, Ont.—James Cody Blanche, moulder, aged 21, son of William C. Blanche, late of Sackville, N.B., was drowned by the upsetting of a canoe. Deceased and his father came here three months ago from New Brunswick to work as moulders.

Kingston.—Dr. Bell, of Detroit, has made an offer for the Kingston street railway in the neighborhood of $70,000. This is under the price wanted by the bondholders. Kingston.—Two drivers of "A" Battery, R.C.F.A., named Jubb and Rostruck, have been drowned through the upsetting of a sailing boat. They were Englishmen and only enlisted at Montreal a short time ago. Only two weeks ago the same two artillery men were saved from drowning in a similar accident.

Previously to his accession to the title, he spent some years in this country. He was then employed in the services of the Bank of Montreal.

Niagara Falls.—Another peculiar situation has arisen in regard to the United States immigration law. A Hungarian laborer employed on the power works in this city fell ill and was taken to a hospital at Niagara Falls, N.Y., the $2 poll tax being paid. The man died and the body has been sent back across border, but it is argued that as the United States accepted the man on payment of $ 2tax that country should be more liable for funeral expenses than Canada, though he was a citizen of neither country.

Kingston, Ont.—Sanford, the bill-raiser and ex-convict, pleaded guilty to raising the bills, as well as passing them, and asked Magistrate Farrell for leniency. The latter said he could not be lenient in view of the prisoner's past record. He had been a foe to society all his life, and no sooner had he been released from prison than he set out to prey again upon society by another method. The country was far safer with Sanford in prison, the magistrate said. Ten years in penitentiary was the sentence imposed.

MASSACRE ON SIBERIAN COAST

One Hundred and Fifty Natives Were Killed by Pirates.

San Francisco, June 9.—Details of a terrible massacre by pirates of 150 natives on the Siberian coast, has been received in a letter from Petropavlovsy on the coast of Kamtchatka, A Morogravlenoff has written to his brother here that several months ago the natives in a small settlement down the coast observed a schooner yacht drop anchor in the harbor and its coming was hailed with cries of rejoicing. From the vessel came several small boats. The natives could see the crew piling what they thought were supplies into the smaller craft. Then the men pulled for the shore. During that and the next day there was heard the firing of arms; and later smoke and fire were observed. This led to an investigation and a horrible tale of pillage and massacre was brought to light.

About the streets of the settlement were strewn bodies of 150 of the inhabitants shot and cut to pieces by the pirate, who, under the pretense of friendship, had gained a landing on the coast. Every hut had been ransacked and anything of marketable value had been taken. Who the marauders were those who managed to make their escape could not say beyond giving the information that some Japanese were in the party. When Morogravlenoff sent his letter the people of Petropavlovsk feared an attack on the town.

M'GILL CRICKETERS DEFEATED LONGUEUIL

This match in the Montreal League series was played at Longueuil in very unsettled weather, resulting in a victory for McGill by 21 runs. Longueuil batted first, and whilst Harrod, Gunter Skinner and Walker all batted well, good bowling by Richards and Wood was responsible for the side being dismissed for 60 runs. McGill found the bowling of Harrod on the west wicket which was drying fast under a hot sun almost unplayable. They however, succeeded in putting on 81 runs, the following players being the chief contributors, F. C. King, 20, Harry 16, Wood, 13 and A. C. King 11.

Harrod came out with the very good analysis of 7 wickets for 28 runs, quite his old form. The bowling of Richards was even a better performance taking 5 wickets for 7 runs.

COLLIER TOOK THE MUD AT LONGUEUIL

Second Vessel in the Week Was Caught by the Mud Bank.

Another vessel, the Norwegian collier Agnar on Saturday morning landed on almost the identical spot on the Longue Pointe shoal which the Tampican had just vacated. But the Agnar is only a vessel of 984 tons, and it was a comparatively light task to get her off. As soon as it became evident the Agnar was fast aground a couple of large lighters were engaged and by three o'clock Sunday morning when 350 tons of coal had been removed she floated again, and was backed into the channel and towed to her berth at Windmill Point. Apparently the Agnar, like the Tampican, was none the worse for her mishap, but she will be thoroughly overhauled before sailing.

Pilot Melville Labranche, who was making his second trip for Messrs. F. Routh & Co., states that he was compelled to run the Agnar out of the channel to avoid a collision. Both he and Captain Sundersen, of the Agnar, state that a large steamer, which they thought to be the Tampican, was lying athwart the channel, while another vessel was coming astern. In an effort to clear both boats without fouling up the Agnar left her course and immediately stuck in a mud bank.

Mr. Thom, of the Dominion Line, who are agents here for the Leyland line, states that newspaper reports gave the first intimation he had that the Tampican had been in any way connected with the grounding of the Agnar. He states that the Tampican did not sail as soon as was expected, only getting away at 6.30 on Saturday morning, but he cannot conceive how she could have got athwart the channel in such a way as to have driven the incoming collier out of her course. He is strongly inclined to think that the officers of the Agnar mistook some other boat for the Tampican.

Wreck Commissioner Spain will be notified of the affair, which will probably be investigated at the same time as the grounding of the Tampican.

CHICAGO STRIKE WILL COME TO END THIS WEEK

Referendum Vote Will be Taken Among the Teamsters in the Course of a Few Days.

Chicago, June 19.—There were indications to-day that the teamsters' strike would come to an end before the close of this week. The announcement was made, from a high source in the councils of the union, that the strikers will be allowed to decide for themselves whether the strike shall be called off without conditions, or be allowed to continue. Present plans, which will be set on foot officially to-night, at the special meeting of the teamsters' joint council, contemplate a referendum during the next few days, by which each of the teamsters may decide for himself whether he has had enough of the warfare.

LEVIS RAILWAY FALLS INTO BONDHOLDERS' LAP

Quebec, June 19.—(Special.)—The Levis Electric Railway, for some time past in the hands of a receiver, was sold this morning by Sheriff's sale and purchased for $50,000 by J. Foreman, of Montreal, representing the bondholders.

The Levis Electric Railway was completed three years ago, and was under the managemetn of Mr. Holman, of Boston, who promoted the undertaking. The road obtained its power from the Canadian Electric Light Company, which refused to furnish any more power last summer on account of none-payment when the road was tied up for a time and its troubles commenced. The road and plant is worth close on to $400,000 and is looked upon as a good investment.

The bondholders will now take over the plant and improve the property and no doubt will make it pay.

NEWSPAPER MEN VISIT MONTREAL TO-DAY

Michigan Journalists Have Arrived in City and Are Pleased With Canada.

One hundred and sixty members of the Association of Journalists of Michigan arrived in Montreal this morning via the Richelieu & Ontario line. The arrival of the party was delayed by five hours by a heavy fog on Lake St. Francis, which prevented the boat from getting through the rivers and Lachine rapids.

The members of the party express themselves as delighted with what they have seen in Canada, and with the reception accorded them everywhere. The Michigan Association of Journalists is composed of 225 members. The president, Mr. W. F. Knox, and two of the vice-presidents, with the secretary, Mr. H. A. Hopkins, accompany the excursion.

To-day the visitors were accorded a reception by the city. To-morrow they will proceed to the White Mountains, and on the following day will reach Portland, and they will visit St. John, N.B., on the 22nd, will take a trip on Lake Bras d'Or on the 23rd, reaching Sydney the next day. On June 25 and 26 the party will visit Halifax. Messrs. R. Charlton and C. C. Craigie, of the Grand Trunk, are guiding the tourists, and they are the guests of that road during the trip.

Some of the journalists in the party are:—President, Knox; vice-presidents, Messrs. Whittaker and McKinnon; secretary, Mr. Hopkins; treasurer, Mr. W. R. Cooke.

This morning the Michigan scribes were taken in hand by the Municipal Reception Committee and treated to a drive around the city, with a luncheon the Lookout. The association leaves to-morrow for the East, where they will spend several days in Evangeline's country.

No less than thirty-two of the deaths were infants succumbing to the heat of last Friday and Saturday. Consumption carried off 11 victims, bronchopneumonia 7, pneumonia 8, and grippe 1. Seven cases of diphtheria were reported, 4 of scarlet fever, 5 of typhoid and 29 measles.

VICTORY FOR MR. J. M. M. DUFF.

Mr. Justice Archibald this morning dismissed an action brought against Mr. J. M. M. Duff by Mr. Jos. Palliser for $775 damages. The plaintiff alleged that Mr. Duff had sold certain property of his at sheriff's sale in an illegal manner, and in a way which showed malice.

Mr. Duff denied malice, and declared that the proceedings he had taken were in a bona fide attempt to collect $1,275 owing him by Mr. Palliser.

The court found that Mr. Duff had acted in good faith and without malice; that Mr. Palliser's action was unfounded, and that even if it had been founded it would have been more than compensated by the amounts claimed to have been owing by Mr. Palliser to Mr. Duff. The action was therefore dismissed with costs.

A church will be built on Delinelle Street lots, facing Notre Dame Street.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS CENTRALIZE FUNDS

Sick and Funeral Benefits no Longer Left to Courts The New Officers

Three Rivers, June 19.—(Special.)—The seventh annual biennial convention of the Provincial Court of Quebec, Catholic Foresters, which occupied four days of last week in this city, was one of the most successful ever held by the Order in this Province. The civic and religious reception was on an elaborate scale and was greatly appreciated by the two hundred odd delegates.

One of the most importatn matters considered by the convention was the centralization of the sick and funeral benefit fund. Hitherto this fund had been administered by the various subordinate courts, but after a discussion lasting several hours, it was decided that its management should be vested in the Provincial Court, subject, of course, to the approval of the international convention, which meets in Boston, Mass., in August next.

The appointment of an inpector to visit and advise the officers of the several subordinate courts was also favorably considered and a sum of money voted for the purpose.

The next convention will be held at Valleyfield, in June, 1907.

COULD NOT READ TERMS OF HIS OWN PETITION

Extraordinary Developments in Case of Election Protest Brought by C. K. Fraser Against the Member for Stanstead.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 19.—(Special.)—Mr. Justice Hutchison has fixed the 5th of September for the hearing of the preliminary objections, and the 3rd of November for the hearing of the petition on the merits in the case of A. B. Hunt, M.P., against R. H. Pope, in which disqualification is asked for, for alleged acts of corruption at the last general election.

The hearing of the preliminary objections in the case against Henry Lovell, M.P. for Stanstead, took place Saturday. The petitioner was C. K. Fraser, insurance agent, Sherbrooke. In the course of lengthy examination by Mr. Hibbard, of Montreal, attorney for the respondent, the petitioner stated the affidavit alleging corrupt practices was based on general acts of corruption alleged to have been committ in Stanstead county by responden The petition was in French and pe ner stated that he had a general knowledge of the French language and had gone over the petition in a general way. On being asked to translate paragraph twelve of the petition, the petitioner admitted that he was not conversant enough to give the translation of it. The petitioner could give no specific charge of corruption and admitted that the petition lodged against Dr. A. N. Worthington, M.P. for Sherbrooke county may have had something to do with the petition against Mr. Lovell.

LATE MRS. ROBT. INGLIS.

ALIEN LABOR LAW DECISION OBJECTED TO BY LAWYERS

Judge Anglin's decision has aroused keen interest in legal circles here especially in view of the long sessions of the Grand Trunk Pacific Alien labor Commission, held here by Judge Winchester, which will be resumed next autumn. This commission resulted in deportation proceedings against several American engineers on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the dropping of others from the head offices. Just what result Judge Anglin's decision can have upon these proceedings none of the city counsel cared to discuss as yet. Nor would they presume to express any opinions regarding a decision handed down from the bench. Although Judge Anglin in his judgment expressly said that no appeal lay, it was not regarded as at all likely that the matter will end where it stands, but that the Government will lose no time in definitely establishing the status of its Act. Some of the city's best known counsel unhesitatingly qualified Judge Anglin's decision as bad, and a mere splitting of technical hairs, but they refused to discuss the thing publicly until some further action had been taken.

Nowhere was the judgment ruling that the Alien Labor Law is ultra vires, received with greater interest than among the officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

By an interesting coincidence it was Mr. M. K. Cowan, K.C., the present assistant solicitor of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, who as member of the Dominion Parliament for Essex had the first Alien Labor law passed in 1897. With a few exceptions it was the same law that has now being declared ultra vires.

When seen by a Herald representative Mr. Cowan while unwilling to discuss what effect the judgment would have on the policy that would now be followed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, willingly referred to the causes that had led up to the passing of the first alien labor law by the Canadian Parliament.

The main reason he said was retaliation against the United States who had introduced such a law against Canada; and it certainly seems that if our law is ultra vires that of the United States is equally so. Our law was almost an exact copy of that of the United States. Neither country should have such a law, and it was only because the United States had one that one was introduced here.

What great benefits will accrue to the Grand Trunk and Pacific Railways by such a by-law being declared ultra vires may be seen from the statement made to The Herald by a prominent official that if the law were enforced the construction of the new transcontinental line would cost all the way from fifty to 100 per cent. more than it would without it.

"Besides," he added, "the population of Canada is such that it is impossible to have such a law.

"It is an absolute impossibility to get a sufficient number of Canadians to construct the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and even if there were enough they would refuse to do this kind of work that becomes necessary in the construction of a railway. It thus has become necessary to secure Italians and other foreigners, and an alien labor law would make it an impossibility to get such men. In almost every city in the United States there is a sufficiently large foreign population to look after all the navvy works, but the same conditions do not prevail in Canada."

WANT A PIECE OF FLETCHER'S FIELD

More of Mr. J. B. Poirier's Descendants Take Action Against the City.

Another action has been entered against the city by still further descendants of Jean Baptiste Poirier, over the proprietorship of Fletcher's Field. This time Mr. H. Poirier and a number of relatives sue for $60,000, their alleged share in the present value of the estate.

Messrs. Leblanc and Brossard have their claim in hand.

This makes the total of the actions against the city over the field well over $700,000.

Ottawa, June 19.—(Special.)—Hon. Charles Hyman, Minister of Public Works, was at his office this morning dividing his time between receiving congratulations on his victory and trying to make headway with an accumulation of departmental work. KILTIES BAND ARRIVES TO-DAY.

Aside from the instrumental music rendered by th bandsmen of this superb organization, there will be a novelty in the appearance of the Kilties baypipers and dancers. who will p resent selections on the military bagpipes and dance Scotch reels, Highland flings, sword dances, sailor's hornpipes and other picturesque Scotch danges. Seats are on sale at Shaw's.

FUNERAL OF BATTERYMEN.

Kingston, Ont., June 19.—(Special.)—The double military funeral was a solemn and imposing ceremony to-day, one not often seen here. The bodies of Batterymen Jubb and Rostrick, English immigrants, who enlisted at Montreal, and were drowned on Friday, were carried on gun carriages to St. George's Cathedral, and thence to the place of interment. The coffins were enfolded in Union Jacks, with floral tributes. The entire force of the two batteries paraded. The 14th Regiment band played the solemn dirges.

On the coffin of Jubb was a wreath in memory of his mother.

An English traveller learning that Jubb had joined the Battery came here to see him on Saturday, only to learn by the evening papers of the death of his friend. He attended the funeral to-day.

Peter Moe, a Norwegian lad, aged fifteen, was charged with the crime, and has made a confession. He has been sent to Moosomin for trial.

ST. HYACINTHE AND ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

Celebration To-day of National Saint is Biggest on Record

St. Hyacinthe, Que., June 19.—(Special.)—The celebration of the St. Jean Baptiste festival at St. Hyacinthe today, promises to be an event which will long be remembered by ths population. Despite the threatening weather this morning special trains are arriving loaded with excursionists coming to participate in the demonstration. The organization this year which is under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, an Irish society by the way, is on a grand scale and promises to exceed former years celebrations.

The parade, which started at 8.30 p.m. from the market place was composed of the different societies, the representatives of the City Council and other dignitaries, besides about fifty allegorical cars representing the various industries of the place. A special outdoor service will be held at nine o'clock at the Notre Dame Church, Bishop Hevey, of Manchester, N.H., officiating.

Rev Mr. Belanger, cure of the church of St. Louis de France, of Montreal, will preach the sermon at 1.30 p.m. Addresses will be delivered by His Worship Mayor St. Jacques, hon. president; Mr. G. M. Beauparlant, M.P., vice-hon. president, Mr. Jos. Morin, M.L.A., Mr. L. A. Gendron, president and a score of invited speakers from elsewhere. Various entertainments will fill up the remainder of the afternoon. About ten bands are in attendance and a grand open air concert will be given this evening. The town is profusely decorated and a grand illumination this evening together with pyrotechnical works will close the day's demonstrations.

FINE PERE MARQUETTE, BUT CAN'T DEPORT MEN

Ottawa, June 19.—(Special.) The Deputy Minister of Labor, Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, this morning stated that while the decision of Mr. Justice Anglin would prevent the deportation of aliens brought in under extra-territorial contracts, he did not think the decision covered the provision in the act imposing a penalty for bringing in aliens under contract. That provision of the law declared it an offence punishable by a fine of $50 to $1,000 to bring in labor under contract. In the opinion of Mr. King the Pere Marquette is still liable to this fine though the men it brought in cannot be deported.

WINNERS WERE ANNOUNCED.

The anouncement of the great popularity contest which was conducted by La Patrie was made on Saturday. Mr. Aime Gelinas, manager of the Red Trading Stamp Company, is the winner of the first prize, which is a free trip to Paris. Mr. Gelinas obtained 62,853 votes. The second prize, a trip to New York, was awarded to Mr. Amable Caron, who had 62,473 votes. Others who obtained over 10,000 votes were: Messrs. Mederic Martin, cigar manufacturers, 62,473 votes; M. Paquette, Quebec, 45,563 votes; C. S. Bourgeault, Sherbrooke, 25,666 votes; Jos. Comte, commander of the Garde Ville-Marie, 10,627 votes. It should be explained that 10,764 of Mr. Martin's votes bore two names, and on that account had to be thrown out in conformance with the conditions of the contest. Mr. Caron thus stands at second place with 53,839 votes.

TERMINAL RAILWAY GETS EQUAL RIGHTS

Must Maintain Streets, but City Pays Half Snow Removal

At a special meeting this morning, the Roads Committee considered the request of the Terminal Railway for equal rights with the Montreal Street Railway.

Mr. J. P. Mullarkey, of the Terminal, and Mr. Duncan Macdonald, manager of the Montreal Street Railway were present at the meeting, and after going over half a dozen points in the Terminal's contract with the city it was determined to equalize the conditions excepting that requiring the company to maintain all the streets over which its rails run. The company will pay but half the cost of snow removal, in future.

A by-law will be framed embodying the legal points involved in the case and submitted to council for approval.

AUTONOMY BILLS WILL NOT LAST LONG

Ottawa, June 19.—(Special.)—In connection with the Autonomy debate, which will be resumed on Tuesday, there is a general consensus of opinion that the Opposition will not any longer persist in obstructing the bills and that prorogation will be reached about July 15.

There is some speculation as to who will be the governors of the new provinces. It is said that Lieut.-Governor Forget will be transferred from Regina to Edmonton, the provisional capital of Alberta, as the Lieutenant-Governor of that province. His experience will be valuable in putting the provincial machinery in motion. Dr. Douglas, who represented East Assiniboia in the Dominion Parliament, is spoken of as the Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan. Who will be called upon to form governments in the new provinces is also a subject of discussion. Mr. Rutherford, of the Northwest Assembly, if placed at the head of the Liberal party in Alberta, would no doubt be the first Premier of the province. His name is being put forward. Either Mr. Bulyea, of the Northwest Government, or Mr. Walter Scott, M.P., may lead the Liberals to victory in Saskatchewan. The Conservatives will decide upon Mr. Haultain to lead them in one of the new provinces, but it is very uncertain as yet whether he would rather face defeat in Saskatchewan or sacrifice himself by going to Alberta.

Redistribution May Give Trouble.

Toronto, June 19.—(Special.)— With respect to the business still remaining before the House, the expectation is that the Supplementary estimates and the Budget will both be down during the coming week. The debate on the financial position of the country will not be prolonged, the probability being that there will be little t oad to the that there will be little to add to the speeches of Messrs. Fielding and Foster.

There is also to be dealt with the question of the redistribution of the constituencies in the Northwest Territories. When members of the Opposition were asked what their attitude would be in reference to this question, they replied: "Refer the matter to a commission of judges and it will be all right. If not we shall have to take time to make our position clear."

At present it seems that the redistribution question is the only one that contains any possible element of delay.

Signs are not wanting that the Conservatives feel they have seriously jeopardized their political future by the course which they have pursued in regard to these bills. There are old heads in the Conservative party who have never lent themselves willingly to the "No Popery" cry of which so much has recently been heard; these men saw the inevitable result and, although they were forced by party exigencies to lend some semblance of aid to the campaign of bigotry and intolerance, it was with the feeling that it meant shipwreck to their political ambitions.

SOLDIERS LEFT FOR CAMP AT LAPRAIRIE TO-DAY

There was more than usual bustle and activity at the Drill Hall this morning. Details of men and stores for the Laprairie camp left about noon. They included a small squad of troopers of the 6th D.Y.R. C.H., with a supply of camp outfit. The headquarters of the regiment being now situated at St. Johns accounts for the small number of men leaving here to-day, as many had already left on Saturday for headquarters.

Camp mobilization will doubtless not be complete until pretty late to-night, as usually is the case on marching in day, and the opening drill arrangements for Tuesday will furnish the first reliable figures of camp strength. C squadron, of the 6th Hussars, will have a route march from St. Johns, a splendid piece of practice of the active service type.

Military regulations with regard to vaccination have raised no apprehension with regard to the strength of the camps at Laprairie and Three Rivers. No specific instructions in the matter have apparently been issued to the camp officers and accordingly the camps should reach figures even beyond those of last year.

TWENTY-THREE LIVES LOST IN TERRIBLE TRAIN WRECK

Passenger Train Crashed Into Freight on the Western Maryland Railway—The Freight Train Disregarded Orders.

Baltimore, Md., June 19. — At least twenty-three people were killed and a score or more injured in a wreck on the Western Maryland Railroad Saturday night, near Patapsco, a small station between Westminster and Finksburg.

All the dead were employees of the railroad returning to their homes in the small towns along the railroad to spend Sunday. With the exception of the train crews, they had been at work repairing the damage done to the roadbed ten days ago by a minor freight wreck at Mount Hope Station, near here. The train, which was No. 5, passed westbound and carried many passengers, all the coaches being filled. As many of the workmen as could do so went into the baggage car, the remainder of the gang of thirty-five finding places on the platforms between the mail and baggage cars and between the latter and the tender.

About Patapsco station, eight miles from Westminster, the railroad has many curves, that west of the bridge crossing the Patapsco river, being particularly pronounced.

An extra freight made up of heavy coal and provision cars, running east, was ordered to take a siding to allow No. 5 to pass. Why the orders were disregarded will never be known, for all those who should have seen that they were obeyed are dead.

The passenger train was running at thirty miles an hour, and the freight, drawn by two engines, was making good time. West of the bridge they came together with terrific force, the three engines being piled on top of one another, fortunately in such a manner that sufficient steam connections were broken to relieve the boilers and thus prevent the further horror of explosions.

The fearful impact drove the passenger tender into the baggage car, and demolished it and the mail car. In an instant the peaceful country scene was changed into the likeness of a shambles. Along the tracks on both sides were scattered dead and frightfully mangled men. Most of those who had been in the baggage car and the engines were still pinioned in the wreckage, beyond reach of helping hands. The damage to the other cars of the passenger trains was confined almost entirely to broken windows and doors and the injuries to their occupants to minor bruises.

There was an instant rush to escape from the coaches. Heartrending shrieks from the injured quickly brought to the scene the inhabitants of all the farm houses within a considerable radius, and these began to aid the sufferers. Farmers' wives and daughters made bandages of their clothing nd household linen. One or two physicians, who had been passengers on the wrecked passenger train, directed the work.

As soon as possible a messenger was hurried to the nearest telegraph station to summon help from Westminster. There all the physicians in the town were gathered at the station when the fast mail from Blue Ridge Summit, bound for Baltimore, pulled in. The passengers left the cars, the medical men hurried aboard and the train made record time to the scene of the wreck. By this time another relief train was on the way from Baltimore bearing more physicians and supplies.

At Westminster a great crowd met the funeral train and as many of the dead had friends and relatives there, there were scenes of sorrow and grief at the engine house, where the bodies were exposed for identification.

The dead, so far as known, are:—Geo. B. Covell, of Hagerstown, engineer on passenger train; John St. Ledger, fireman of same train; — Shoemaker, of Hagerstown, fireman; — Wright, of Hagerstown, engineer of freight train; — Crouse, of Taneytown, Md., engineer of freight; — Derr, conductor of freight train. The following of the repair gang; Jas. Groshon, Thurmont; Chas. Kelly, Wm. Sweeny, McClellan Swenyy, Thurmont; Frank Sweeney, Thurmont; Harry Sweeney, Chas. T. Miller, Thurmont; Guy Linn, Middleburg.

LIBERATOR OF CUBA DIED ON SATURDAY

Gen. Gomez Was Supported by President Palma of the Republic.

Havana, June 19.—Gen. Maximo Gomes died Saturday evening. "El Caudillo" (chieftain), as the great leader of revolutions was called by his countrymen, expired in the presence of his family and his old-time friend, Estrada Palma, president of the republic, whose tears freely mingled with those of the sorrowing relatives. The end came quietly in the temporary home at the seaside in the suburb Vedado, to which he was taken on his return from Santiago. The dying man was unable to recognize anyone. His real illness extended over forty-six days, although his health had been failing for months prior to that, and he was not in a strong condition when he started on May 1 for Santiago, with the object of receiving a beneficial change.

Gen. Gomez originally suffered from debilitation of the heart and liver. Later an abscess developed in his hand, which was operated on after his arrival at Santiago. Gangrene appeared, and he underwent another operation. The admiration of the mass of Cubans for Gen. Gomez amounted almost to idolatry. His death admittedly is a serious blow to any political interest to which he was allied.

Gen. Gomez leaves a widow, five sons and one daughter. He was born at Bani, Santo Domingo, in 1836, and came of a Spanish family which had settled there.

TOOK A SEVERE COLD.

It Settled In The Kidneys.

Pain In The Back The Result.

Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.

Heed the warning: check the Backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble.

If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows:

"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.

Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—

50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

"Your Honor and gentlemen, we are not here to-day to conclude that God set the white man over the black. We are to conclude simply that He set him apart from the black man. The divine right of slavery was an impiety, and, worst of all, an absurdity. The South made that mistake, and bitter has been the price of her folly. Yet the South, having sinned, paid the price of her sinning in all ways exacted of her. She accepted the ruling of the North, and, as a distinguished orator once said, surrendered 'bravely and frankly.' But she did not admit, and please God, never will admit, that those fresh from savagery should govern the white man, that they should institute the machinery of the law whereunder the white man must live.

"Gentlemen, you see before you, sardonically done, the fruits of Black Justice. Is that the Law? If it be, then send us to our graves; for as that Black Justice formally exists to-day, Calvin Blount, and I, and these others, must go back to our fields or to our graves. Do you wish to send us to the latter? If you do, you send these other white men just as lawfully back to take up the hoe of labor, to bend their necks under the black yoke of African ignorance and savagery. Is that the Law? In my heart, gentlemen, I believe that those who say this is the law have not read the history of this country, do not understand the theory of this country, and can not speak for it unselfishly or honestly.

"Yet, gentlemen, that is the dilemma, into which our brothers of the North would continually thrust us. Suppose that, casting about for some possible measure to free us from one point or the other of that dilemma, we should seek some legal compromise which would free us from the letter of this oppressive law of our national Constitution. Suppose there should be proposed some general and stern limitation of the franchise? Such an onerous qualification must needs apply to black and white men alike. Who would be first to object to it? It would be the politicians of the North, who could not afford to exact even a prepaid poll-tax as a test for a vote. In time the North will need to free her white slaves, already turbulent and rebellious. In time she will have to pay for them, as we of the South have paid. Meantime the South feels still the intolerable weight of that Constitution, the intolerable sting of the demand of her northern brothers, that she shall be asked to endure, in the name of this incubus, this body of the law, the continuous burglarising of her honor and her prosperity—the burglarizing of the house of her society.

"The white man has won his rights—why? Because he was able to do so. He accords to any other race the same privilege. That is the law of survival; it is greater than any law of politics, greater than any statute law.

"Now I ask whether at the time of the acts charged against Calvin Blount there existed any adequate machinery of the law. I submit to you that necessity, the greatest of all laws, and in precedent respected by our courts as such, would have overridden even the regular machinery of our laws had it been in operation. I submit further to you that no law existed in this country at that time; that the service of the law to its citizens had ceased. If the greatest court of the country still tolerates the burglary of the house of society by this so-called manhood suffrage, which should rather be called the per capita suffrage, then at least the lesser courts, wiser than the greater, recognize the fact that some crimes require no warrant for arrest; that sometimes the citizen is court and executive in one and at once.

"In defiance of statute laws grown weak and impotent, the barons at Runnymede wrested Magna Charta from King John; in defiance of statute laws grown weak and impotent, the free men of England wrested their Habeas Corpus Act from King Charles; in defiance of statute laws grown weak and impotent, the colonists of America wrested a virgin empire from King George.

"And, please God, in defiance of statute laws grown weak and impotent, the white man will wrest from whatsoever hand may hold it the right to protect the integrity of his two-fold temple of the law!

"As I stand before you, gentlemen, this prisoner, this cause, its feeble advocate, seem small and inconsiderable. But at my side I see arising the eternal pillars of the temple of the White Justice. Do you not see them, rising solemn and stately before you, those pillars, their heads taking hold upon the heavens? If that temple has been defiled, if it has been cast down, then let us hope that South and North will restore it again in its full majesty. And when, finally, aided, as we hope, by our brothers of the North we, as citizens of an offtimes mistaken, yet eventually to be united America, shall have builded this renewed temple of the law, then the lives of the white men of this state will be—like ours in this trial before you—free pledge that the men of this country, so long charged with lawlessness, shall come and bow in that temple in reverence of that law which they have always coveted and which they covet here to-day. Your Honor, and gentlemen of the jury, in the face of that statement, I say that not Calvin Blount—nor any one of these prisoners—has violated the law. And so I close with the words of the ancient form of pleading: Of this we do indeed put ourselves upon the country."

In the silence which fell upon the room as Eddring closed, the district attorney arose to present the case of the state. He began slowly, gravely, logically. He presented the printed pages of the statutes, called attention to the formal accuracy of the proceedings, the overwhelming nature of the evidence; he explained that without law, nothing remained but anarchy. He pointed out to the jury that here was the law, plain and unmistakable; here were the facts, obvious and uncontroverted, the convincing facts. He spoke of the infamy which had been cast upon the name of the South by reason of just such deeds as these. He urged the necessity for an absolute and unyielding observance of the letter of the law, those were statutes from which they dared not depart. They were statutes which could not be overswept by any glittering speciousness, or set aside by fine spun theories as to what might or might not be a more desirable order of affairs. He reminded them of their oath, their sworn promise to enforce the law—this law, the law of the printed page.

He spoke for two hours, and he did his duty; but he addressed himself to men of stone, and he knew it even as he spoke. Not to be moved by his words were these set and solemn faces. Concluding with a passionate appeal that they should protect the fair name of their country from the stigma of lawlessness, he resumed his seat, knowing then the verdict which would follow.

The judge, an old man with silvery hair, turned to the jury.

"Retire, gentlemen, to consider of your verdict."

The door to the jury-room closed behind them, and left a thousand eyes fixed upon it.

They had scarcely disappeared when the knock of the foreman was heard at the door.

"Bring in the jury, Mr. Sheriff," the judge ordered.

The foreman of the jury, an unknown man, tall and stooped, with scraggy hair and beard, handed a folded paper to the clerk.

"Mr. Clerk, read the verdict," the judge ordered; and the clerk read: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

The words were received in utter silence.

Presently all, jury and bar and spectators, filed from the court-room, quietly, not with oaths or threats of violence for those others who at the outskirts of the town were waiting for their answer. And they, the waiting ones, found their answer in this silence, and so now slipped out into the forest. The crowds of white men in the town also quietly melted away.

That night at the hotel the judge and certain citizens were engaged in quiet conversation.

"I think," said the judge, "that this young gentlemen, Mr. Eddring, belongs somewhere in a position of trust. I believe that he can be depended upon to think, and not merely to play politics for the sake of office holding. We have had too much politics in the South, and too much in America. It's time now we did a little htinking."

"You're right about that, Judge," broke in the voice of Calvin Blount. "But it's just as he says, we've got to begin. We've got to have some kind of law to begin under."

Calvin Blount hitched his chair closer up to the table. You were saying, Judge, that we ought to do something for this young fellow, Eddring. I have known him a long time, from the time he was claim agent on the railroad. I want to say he's a man and a gentleman, not afraid of anything, and he wants to do what's right. I don't think he puts money ahead of everything else in the world. For my part, if he was my representative in the Legislature, or in Congress either, I'd feel right sure he'd represent me strictly according to the legitimate rules of poker; and that's a blamed sight more than a whole lot of politicians are doing to-day, North or South."

"It shorely is!" again said the foreman, wagging his scraggy beard

LOCAL LIBERALS PREPARING FOR FIGHT IN ST. LAWRENCE

Hon. Lomer Gouin announced to the Montreal Reform Club on Saturday afternoon that the vacancy in St. Lawrence, caused by the death of Mr. Jas. Cochrane, would be filled as soon as possible and the Club at once set about preparing to secure a candidate. It had been expected that the meeting of Saturday would select a candidate, but the delegates present decided to call a convention representative of the whole riding for that purpose.

There were nearly seventy-five present when Mr. Robt. Bickerdike, who, as Federal member for the riding, had called the meeting, took the chair. He made a brief opening speech, in which he warmly eulogized the late member Mr. Cochrane, and expressed keen regret at his untimely death. At the request of many leading Liberals of the riding he had called the meeting in order to arrange for the bye-election.

Hon. Lomer Gouin was then called upon and given a rousing reception. Ht also paid a sympathetic tribute to the memory of his old friend, Mr. Cochrane, with whom he had worked in harmony for so long at Quebec. He regarded Mr. Cochrane's death as a distinct loss to the English-speaking representation in the Legislature.

In the best interests of all the Premier thought the vacancy should be filled as soon as possible, and he trusted that the candidate selected would be one whom all would rally to support. He suggested a convention for tais purpose, and promised that whoever should be their chosen he and his colleagues would be glad to accept and support, as the representative of the Liberal interests.

Hon. J. C. McCorkill said he must add his tribute to the memory of the late member for St. Lawrence, Mr. James Cochrane, who had been of especial assistance to him in carrying out his duties as Provincial Treasurer. Mr. Cochrane, he said, had been an honorable and hard working member, whose services were always at the province's disposal when required. He regarded it as very important that the best available man should be chosen as Mr. Cochrane's successor, and promised to do whatever he could in support of the party's choice.

On motion of Mr. Jonathan Hodgson a resolution expressing regret at the loss the party, the riding and the whole community had sustained in Mr. Cochrane's death, and voicing the sympathy of the late member's colleague with his bereaved widow, was unanimously carried by a standing vote.

Mr. Peter Smith proposed that a committee be appointed to call a convention of three delegates from each of the thirty-nine polling subdivisions in the riding. After some discussion this idea was aopted, and a committee of eleven appointed with Mr. Smith as chairman.

The committee immediately held a preliminary meeting, and will meet again at the Reform Club rooms on Monday evening next.

Amongst those present at Saturday's meeting were Hon. Messrs. Lomer Gouin, and J. C. McCorkill, and Messrs. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., Jno. Hodgson, L. E. Geoffrion, B. J. Coghlin, H. W. Raphael, Dr. J. F. Finnie, Peter Smith, James Roger, Seth P. Leet, K.C., T. P. Crowe, David Cochrane, W. E. Dandurand, J. A. Vaillaincourt and J. M. M. Duff, the latter acting as secretary.

MYSTERIOUS CHILD MURDER NEAR DIGBY

Mother is Under Arrest in Connection With Peculiar Horrible Crime.

Digby, N.S., June 19.—(Special.)—An inquest is now proceeding, and will probably close to-night, into one of the most extraordinary cases of child-murder ever known in Canada. The victim was May Ward, or May Young, a six-year-old girl, who was gagged and suffocated, and whose body was found on Saturday in a lonely spot near Plympton village. Near her was Elma Young, a year and a half old, also trussed and gagged, but alive owing to the slipping of the gag in her struggles. There are under arrest in this connection a woman called Hope Young, mother of one, if not of both of the children, and Kingsley Melanson, an elderly farmer for whom she kept house. The objects and motive of the crime are an absolute mystery.

WHERE VICTIMS WERE FOUND.

The discovery of the victims occurred on Saturday afternoon, after a search-party had been working for twenty-four hours. They were found about a mile back from the settlement of Plympton. The baby, Elma Young, was lying on its face, trussed hand and foot. Its mouth had been stopped with its cotton hood, which had been rolled up and bound tightly across its face, covering mouth and nose, and with a faded orange hair ribbon its chubby hands had been bound up under its chin. In its struggles to free its hands the wad of cotton which stopped the mouth and nose had become displaced, was so prevented.

The elder child, May Ward, was dead. In her case the hands and feet were not bound, but great attention had been bestowed upon the head. Across the mouth and nose was a large burdock leaf; over this the child's hood had been tightly drawn, and around and around was bound a quantity of rope yarn. Suffocation must have quickly followed the application of this horrible contrivance.

The younger child was found lying on its face, and showing slight signs of life. In its efforts to get free it had scraped the toes of its spring heel shoes almost through, and its dimpled cheek was scarred with the rough underbrush, which had chafed it as a result of its baby efforts. Some distance on a cow path branched off to the left, and not far from this lay the body of the murdered child, in a scooped out place between two cradle-hills, all but a part of its head, which betrayed its presence to the searchers, covered with brush. Its wrists and hands are but bone covered with skin drawn and wasted, the staring eyes sunken deep into the skull, while the evidences of decomposition were apparent.

A MYSTERIOUS HISTORY.

May Ward, is said to be the child of May Ward, formerly of New London, Conn., late of Boston, where she died a couple of years ago, and a sister of Mary Hope Young, the woman arrested. The baby is the child of this Mary Hope Young, who claims to have been the wife of Fred Young, a Boston lawyer, who died somewhat over a year ago. The man with whom she has been living as housekeeper is Kingsley Melanson, who is forty years of age.

The woman's story concerning herself, is that she was born near Digoy, lived at service in this district for some years, and later went to Boston. There she married Fred Young. Last July she returned to Nova Scotia. Twelve weeks ago she went to Digby to keep house for Kingsley Melanson. Her husband had died and left no estate, but Elmer Young, J.P., of 235 Washington Street, Boston, is guardian of the child, May Ward, and used to send money for her. She had a letter from him, which Melanson brought home when he came last night saying he would be over Tuesday or Wednesday, and was planning to take the children back to Boston. She was unable to give any explanation of the disappearance of the children, beyond the suggestion that some tramp had got into the house and made off with them.

Both the woman and Melanson accompanied the searching party that went after the children.

$30,000 INCENDIARY FIRE AT SYDNEY.

Halifax, June 19.—The wood working factory of Chapell Bros. & Co., Sydney, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. The loss is estimated at $30,000, covered by $7,000 insurance. The fire was the worst that has occurred in Sydney since that of 1902. Insurance is held by the Queen and London and Liverpool Companies, each for $2,500. While the cause of the fire is unknown, it is believed to be the work of an incendiary. The factory employed about thirty hands.

CANADA NOW HAS NEW GREAT SEAL

It Has King Edward Enthroned on It and is Fine Piece of Work.

Ottawa, June 19.—(Special.)—A new great seal has arrived at the State Department. Hereafter the official acts of His Majesty in Parliament or in Council, will be stamped with a representation of himself seated upon his throne. The emblem of the late Queen has done service to the present time.

The Great Seal which is being replaced consists of a couple of pounds of pure silver, forming a die three inches in diameter, having an image of Queen Victoria in her robes of state, enthroned. It was received from the master of the Royal Mint in 1867.

The new seal was ordered when King Edward succeeded to the throne. The master of the British mint has been a little deliberate about satisfying his colonial customer. The seal, which has at last arrived, has been splendidly executed in steel. It is about the size of the other, and in addition to the King in state clothes there appear on it, the arms of the four original provinces, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. These are the only provinces whose arms had to this year been authorized by the Herald's College. The arms of Prince Edward's Island and Manitoba were granted only this year.

The old seal will be sent back to the Royal Mint and there defaced. It will be returned to Canada and become the property of the Secretary of State, a souvenir of this occupation of office.

THE AGITATION FOR A NEW ENGLISH PARISH

East End Catholics Met Canon Martin Yesterday to Discuss the Matter.

A small number of English-speaking Catholics belonging to the parishes of Maisonneuve, Hochelaga, Viauville and Rosemount, assembled at the College Hall, Desery Street, yesterday afternoon, to make known their reasons as to why the parish which they petitioned for, should be granted them.

Canon Martin, of the Archbishop's palace, who has charge of the organization of new parishes in the diocese of Montreal, was present to hear the views of those who had signed the petition sent to the Archbishop asking that a parish be established in the East End of the city for the benefit of the English-speaking Catholics of that district.

Archbishop Bruchesi was favorably disposed towards granting the new parish, so Canon Martin informed the meeting, but, before proceeding further, he wanted to know if there were sufficient families in the district to support a pastor and church of their own. He expressed himself as disappointed that so few of those interested had attended the meeting, as he wished to hear the views of all so that they could be placed before the Archbishop.

Canon Martin was informed that there were about 160 English-speaking families in the district last year and that an English-speaking priest was needed to look after the interests of these families and of those which were constantly moving in from other parts of the city.

After the views of those present had been given Canon Martin suggested that the names and addresses of the English-speaking Catholic families in the district be sent to him. He was of the opinion that if, for the present at least, the Redemptorist Fathers who have charge of the Sacred Heart Church on Notre Dame Street, just west of the Town of Maisonneuve, would look after the Catholics, it would be much better for them for the time being, than if they were to try to build a new church. Canon Martin, however, said that he would submit his report to Archbishop Bruchesi and that he would call another meeting in a week or so and let the petitioners know what could be done in the matter.

MR. MONK'S PART.

The entry of Mr. Monk upon the scene at Ottawa is a curious development. Up to this point the energies of the Opposition have been directed to making trouble for Protestant Liberals from the English-speaking Provinces, with, it must be conceded, no inconsiderable success. Now, after the last round in that contest has been fought in two bye-elections, Mr. Monk comes in to make trouble for the Liberal members from Quebec. Mr. Borden and Dr. Sproule made their fight over separate schools; Mr. Monk is to make his fight over the French language. One or two Conservative papers profess to be indignant with Mr. Monk, claiming that he will embarrass his political friends But how can he embarrass them? Will they not be able to exercise, in respect of his resolution on the French language, the same freedom they allowed him and his Conservative colleagues from this Province, the freedom to vote against Mr. Borden's resolution? If Mr. Monk and all the Conservatives from Quebec, except Mr. Walsh, were unembarrassed by the vote they gave against Mr. Borden, why should Mr. Borden and his friends be embarrassed by voting against Mr. Monk? Not at all. Mr. Borden's game was to get Protestant Liberals into difficulty over separate schools; Mr. Monk's task is to get Quebec Liberals into difficulty over the French language.

If Mr. Monk would allow his judgment to be guided by Mr. Tarte's unprejudiced views, he would be obliged to admit that the time for Quebec to assert herself was when Mr. Haultain and his friends, guided by the late Mr. Dalton McCarthy, got rid of the obligation to maintain French as an official language in the West. Their action constituted a breach of the undertaking entered into when the Territories were set up, and if Quebec objected to that breach it was for her representatives in the Conservative Cabinet of the day to make such protest as the occasion seemed to call for. As Mr. Tarte is repeatedly pointing out, they allowed the occasion of protest to pass, both as to the language question and as to the school question, and thereby became consenting parties, for themselves and for Quebec, to the abrogation of the agreement about language and about schools.

Mr. Monk, more valiant out of office than his friends were in office, wants the Liberals to put back the French language into the status from which his friends suffered its removal without protest. He can scarcely hope to be gratified. He must see that to make a fresh start, after all these years, he must be able to demonstrate the existence, or the probable existence, of something like an equality between French and English in the population of the new Provinces. That cannot be done. It could probably more easily be done for one of the Scandinavian tongues. Of course it is Mr. Monk's privilege to make mischief if it pleases him, but there is some risk attending a too oft repeated demonstration of the fact that there is no cohesion whatever between the Quebec wing of the Conservative party and its main division.

GOOD SIGNS.

In one direction, and that one of importance, the Dominion is receiving almost daily advertisement. At meetings held in London of companies which employ capital in Canada, the chorus of congratulation is consistent and general. The quoted prices of Dominion Government securities, of provincial and municipal issues, are higher than those for any other self-governing portion of the Empire. The same is true of railway companies, of the numerous land and loan companies, and the miscellaneous industrial undertakings which have been financed in the British market. Only in the mining market is there a regrettable depression, which may, however, pass away when the memory of some hastily engineered flotations has passed.

But of all the evidences of the firm basis upon which our credit stands the best is the increasing amount of money which Canadians themselves are now putting into Canadian undertakings. We are becoming gradually less dependent upon the money markets of London, New York and Europe, at the same time that their confidence in investing in our securities grows greater.

It is factors such as these which justify the prediction of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the advance of Canada in population, wealth and general progress must surely be, during the twentieth century, what that of the United States was in the nineteenth century, which had nearly half expired before railway transportation, inland steam navigation and the electric telegraphs and the press had become the mighty engines they now are to facilitate business and to bring buyers and sellers all over the word into intimate and almost hourly communication.

A NEW USE FOR BOUNDARIES.

Judge Anglin's decision that while the armed might of the Canadian law can take a man to the American boundary, it cannot push him across that boundary, is highly interesting. It is by a very narrow squeak indeed that the American officials of the Pere Marquette railway will be able to maintain their right to live in this country, but they do maintain it. The judge holds that the Canadian officer can take a man to the boundary, but that the dependency of Canada has no authority to drop the fellow over on the other side, and that is what the unfortunate law ordains shall be done.

We gather that the States, being a full fledged nation, has the right of bringing an offending Canadian right up to the boundary and dropping him over, or shoving him over, if necessary. Possibly it might be within the right of the Dominion Parliament to tell the offender to get out of Canada, leaving him an option as to the point of departure, but there do seem to be such possibilities of delay about that as would make even the Gaynor-Greene process look hurried.

It says a lot for the combined influence of the law and the boundary line that when the United States wants to forcibly take home a couple of its citizens the thing cannot get itself done, and that when we want to send home some Americans we cannot get it done either.

OUR RELATIONS WITH JAPAN.

The idea is prevalent in some quarters in Canada that Japan is discriminating against Canada in her tariff. Such is not the case.

Japan has a general tariff, which is not a very high one, but is varied according to the articles, ranging on the average from 15 to 20 per cent. About ten years ago Japan made trade conventions with four countries, Great Britain, France, Germany and Austro-Hungary, by which, as far as tariff is concerned, she fixed specifically the duties on certain articles coming from those countries, making them, in a general way, from one-half to two-thirds of what the ordinary duties are. These lists of articles comprise almost entirely manufactured goods. In each of these treaties, however, there is what is called the "most favored nation clause," so that if any one of the countries named is given a lower rate of duty than one of the others on any of the specified articles all four countries get it. Japan then made commercial treaties with about seventeen other countries, including the United States. Each of these treaties also contained the most favored nation clause. The result is that whenever any of the four countries first referred to obtains a reduction of duty on any particular article, all countries which have commercial treaties with Japan also benefit by the reduction. They are most of the important countries of the world.

The list of articles to which the lower duties apply is not a long one. It covers comparatively few articles that Canada could send to Japan. Amongst them, however, are cotton and woollen goods, leather, condensed milk, enmalled goods, rubber goods, wire, hats, lead, sugar, in which a trade with Japan is possible. In the treaty with Great Britain provision was made that the self-governing colonies could adhere to the treaty within two years. The two years' delay expired three days after the present Dominion Government was sworn in in 1896. Canada has not adhered to that treaty, the result being that she does not receive the advantage of the reduction of duties which the countries having commercial treaties with Japan secure.

When Mr. Fisher was in Japan two years ago, he discussed with the Minister of Foreign Affairs the question as to whether Japan would now allow Canada to signify its adherence to this treaty. Informally the Minister of Foreign Affairs said that no obstacle would be put in the way of Canada so adhering. The question has engaged the consideration of the Dominion Government and it appears likely that steps will be taken to give Canada all the commercial advantages accruing under this treaty. The members of the Japanese Government, whom Mr. Fisher met, expressed a desire to facilitate commerce between that country and Canada.

The general commercial treaties between Japan and foreign countries all expired about the same time, some six years hence. It was understood that Japan would then adopt a new commercial policy eliminating the most favored nation clause from her commercial treaties and dealing directly with any country wishing or offering reciprocal advantages. At the present time, with such a large number of treaties containing the most favored nation clauses, Japan is practically debarred from making reciprocal arrangements, as any advantages she might give to any foreign country in exchange for advantages in the market of such country would have to be extended to all the countries with which she now has commercial treaties, while Japan herself would get no additional advantages in their markets. It is evident, therefore, that Japan is not displaying any unfriendly spirit or discriminating against Canada in her market.

THE AUTOMOBILE.

When the original railway promoters, men who were accustomed to driving slow coaches, contemplated the possibility of damage resulting from getting in the way of the locomotive, they drew from Stevenson the famous "so much the worse for the cow." But the owner of the cow was given a chance to keep the new engine of destruction off the pastures. It ran on rails, and the track was fenced off.

When the trolley car came, people complained that there would be no safety for pedestrians with such a contrivance tearing through the streets. But the trolley car also ran on tracks, people knew where to look for it, and in course of time the accidents, even to children, became few.

Now comes the automobile, whose place no man knows, whose speed none can guage, which obeys no law but the will of its driver, and the driver, it is too often proved, is so infatuated that he will not take reasonable precautions for his own safety, much less that of other people.

A man of large fortune and admitted ability last week took chances on crossing in front of a locomotive. His family was wiped out of existence in an instant.

Another, driving so fast on a dark night that he mistook the road, sent his machine in a somersault over a wire fence, was killed, and killed or almost killed a couple of friends.

A workman on his way to work in Toronto was run over and killed. He never knew what struck him.

The automobile is charged with elements of menace that do not enter into the locomotive and the trolley car. It will have to be attended to sooner or later.

Love in a Flat.

Love in a cottage! That is out of date,
Love in a flat—that is our modern way—
Furnished for ninety-nine and ninety-eight.
The two odd cents the pair may put away,
A sort of nest egg for a rainy day.
Considerate, I'm sure, to think of that!
It sounds all right, but can there be, I pray,
Love in a flat?

Love in a cottage, rose embowered, seems
To any one in love a prospect fair.
Discordant sounds and alien cooking steams
Colin and Chloe do not have to bear;
The lack of steam will not make Colin swear
And haste to beard that haughty autocrat,
The janitor, down in his basement lair.
Love in a flat?

And in a cottage, howsoever small,
There's room at least to let one's chest expand
Without perforce adjourning to the hall—
I'm speaking of small flats, you understand,
Four and a bath, not an apartment grand—
Where there's not room enough to swing a cat.
Well, there's still space for happy couples and
Love in a flat?

Other People's Ways.

Several tins of paint were found among the luggage of an Englishman who was travelling to Monaco last month. He was in charge of a racing craft and intended to use the pigment to touch up the vessel after its long railway journey. The French customs officials, however, took exception to the paint, on the ground that it contained dutiable spirit, whereupon the traveler argued that he intended bringing it back on leaving the country. Asked how he was going to bring it back, he replied, "On the sides of the boat." Even this plea did not suffice, the authorities arguing that the spirit would have evaporated.

Among the people of Russia are many stereotyped phrases expressive of the greatness of the Czar's power, and of the awe in which he is held. Others, however, fail to suggest that the "little father" is all powerful. A few of the latter kind are as follows: "Even the Czar's lungs cannot blow on the sun," "The crown does not protest the Czar from headache," "The hand of the Czar has only five fingers," "What the Czar cannot accomplish time can do," "It is not more difficult for death to carry a fat Czar than a lean peasant."

This indictment of the English village as it exists to-day appeared in a prominent London newspaper: "The English village is remarkable for its imperfect drainage, contaminated wells and bad lighting, the unpractical teaching of its children, the vice connected with its public houses and the more or less entire absence of cottage hospital, reading rooms, clubs, bath or washhouse, flower show, telephone, oftentimes its telegraph, and all that makes life enjoyable and healthy."

In Norway.

On pay day saloons are closed and savings banks open until midnight.

Servant girls hire for half a year at a time by contract at public registry office.

There is a telegraph-box on every street car. Write message, put on right number of stamps, drop in the box.

Young farmers can borrow money from Government at 3 per cent.

Practically no illiterates. Men perhaps the finest in the world physically. Army service universal, only 2.3 per cent. of youths rejected for physical defect.

Health splendid. Death-rate for men, 18.3, because of dangerous fishing; for women, 16.5. Average expense of living less than any other civilized country perhaps. Average wage earnings, $88 a year.

More reindeer than horses, more sheep than cows.

Illiterates—Two men in a thousand in Sweden, 3 in Norway and Denmark, 78 in Russia which wants to "improve," Norway and Sweden by dividing and conquering them; 13.6 even in England.

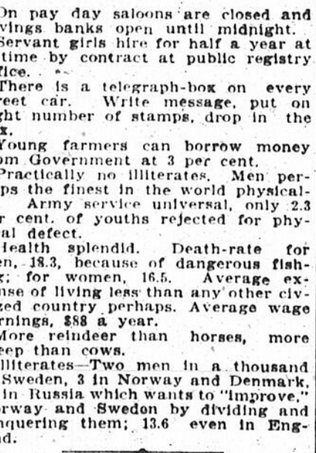
Great Advantage.

The young man with the yellow satchel stopped at the cabin of an old colored minister.

"Let me sell you an alarm clock," began the young man. "Automatic, double-action guaranteed timepiece."

The old man lit his corncob.

"Dat sounds very good," he drawled, "but de only kind ob an alarm-clock dat Ah wants am a rooster. Den when yo' gits tired risin' early yo' kin turn aroun' and hab de alarm-clock for dinnah. Beats all de automatic alarm clocks on earf."



The Dog—G'wan! You'd better not get into trouble with me.
The Cat—That's all right. I can look just as ugly as you uand scrap just as hard.

Friend—I understand that theatrical show of yours has changed hands.
Manager—Yep. It's in the Sheriff's hands at present.

Madame La Moustique.

A correspondent of the New York Herald writes as follows: The reading of your humoristic, yet properly scientific, editorial "The Man and the Mosquito," has given me joyfulness and intellectual entertainment, for it shows in an amusing manner what the insensate hidalgo and his practical, commonsense squire of old in the immortal book of Cervantes "Don Quixote" stand for.

When the subject of the extermination of mosquitoes in a particular locality is spoken of, the modern scientific hidalgoes take great care to refer to mosquitoes in general, when they do not mean anything of the sort, but a definite, well known genus, and not all of those mosquitoes indiscriminately, either, but only tthe female ones. For it is she, the lady mosquito of the anopheles and stegomyia varieties, who is to blame for the causation and the transmission of malaria and of yellow fever.

Even more than that, Mr. Editor, and let me put you on your guard on the subject. It is not all the female mosquitoes of the anopheles and stegomyia species that can do the criminal act, but the fecundated ones alone. So that Madame la Moustique, of lawful age, married, and able to bring forth children, is the real culprit. And all the petites enfants, the demoiselles not yet married, the grandes mamans, and the forlorn veuves are perfectly innocent, harmless and inoffensive.

The modern scientific Don Quixotes plain this funny exclusivism by saying that when the lady mosquito is in the state of profligacy she feels a great desire for human blood—please mark this point well, human blood and not any other kind of blood—and thus it is that the transmission of malaria and of yellow fever from one person to another is accomplished. They totally fail to comprehend how many billions of lady mosquitoes do not get a single meal of human blood all through their existence. And yet they reproduce their own species without the least inconvenience.

Weight of a Crowd.

When a stand for supporting a number of spectators collapses it is usally found that the reason for the collapse is in some rottenness of the material or the construction, though there have been cases when rhythmical stamping or movement on the part of the crowd occupying the stand has produced a breakdown by coinciding in vibration with what is called the structure's natural period of oscillation.

Another cause, suggested on at Harvard, is that builders and engineers usually underestimate tthe weight of crowds. It is usually assumed that the weight of a crowd is about forty-five pounds to fifty pounds to the square foot. But the experiments to which we allude and which were carried out by Prof. L. J. Johnson with the aid of undergraduates, show that football stands, bridges and platforms may have to sustain a considerably greater weight than that. Prof. Johnson built a box six feet square and placed varying numbers of men in it. Eleven men weighing on the average eleven stone each were easily placed in it. That gave a load of over forty-seven pounds per square foot. But eleven men carefully placed only occupied places round three sides of the box; no fewer than forty men could be packed into the box if they were all made to face the same way. The average weight of these undergraduates was eleven stone nine pounds, and this would give a pressure per square foot of 181 pounds, which is nearly four times as much as constructors allow for.

Yet at a football match, where all the spectators face one way, the crowding would be little less close than in these experiments. —London Post.

The Swedish Nobility.

Prof. Fahlbeck gives us a historical sketch of what is perhaps, the most interesting nobility in Europe. Once all-powerful, this began to lose power under Gustavus Wasa, and Charles XI., with the help of the merchant class, gave it the poitical coup de grace in 1680, only a few years before our own revolution.

Of the 3,000 noble families in Sweden at least three-quarters are of Swedish or Finnish origin, and the Bernadottte dynasty is only responsible for some 150 creations. The weakest point in the order seems to be its want of vitality, only one family having lasted more than 300 years, while only twenty have passed their second century. This Prof. Fahlbeck explains by the number of bachelors to be found among its ranks, and also to the paucity of children with which the better class in Sweden seem to be blessed—a complaint of which we have heard something elsewhere.

Yet Swedes, as a rule, make good husbands, and the attention of the fair American might be profitably turned to their nobility when all the eligible English dukes have been captured. Meanwhile the aristocratic form of Swedish society and that of Norway, where Prof. Fahlbeck tells us there are only five noble families, amply explains the difference in this ill-matched union. —Pall Mall Gazette.

Vera Zasulitch Ill.

The news from Geneva that Vera Zasulitch lies seriously ill recalls a stirring chapter in the history of Nihilism.

In 1874 Tkatchief issued his famous manifesto advising "a struggle with the Government and the established order of things, a struggle to the last drop of blood and to the last breath." The Government was driven to adopt severe repressive measures, and in the winter of 1877-77 193 agitators were publicly tried in St. Petersburg. Nearly all were condemned to imprisonment or exile.

In July, 1877, Gen. Trepoff, head of the Russian police, visited the St. Petersburg prison and ordered the Nihilist prisoners to be brought before him. One Bogoluhoff, refused to salute the General, who ordered him to be flogged.

In February, 1878, Vera Zasulitch gained admission to Gen. Trepoff's office. Drawing a revolver she fired at him and he received a serious though not mortal wound.

So great was the General's unpopularity that, though Vera Zasulitch admitted her guilt, the jury (seven of whom were officials) acquitted her.

She was set at liberty, and on gaining the streets was loudly cheered. Her carriage was followed by a cheering concourse. On the police endeavoring to disperse the crowd two pistol shots were fired, a student being killed and a woman wounded. Vera Zasulitch disappeared.

Vera Zasulitch (whose brother was defeated by the Japanese on the Yalu) has since lived in Switzerland.—London Daily News.

The North Pole and How to Reach It.

On everything concerning Arctic exploration Sir Clements Markham, whose retirement from the presidency of the Royal Geographical Society we have already noticed, has always been a great authority, says the Westminster Gazette. He once said that there would be no great difficulty in reaching the Pole by those who really understood the business of Arctic exploration:

"English officers (he said) have made much longer and more difficult journeys in the Arctic regions, but there is absolutely no object in travelling several hundreds of miles over ice to reach any particular point, and it would be a sheer waste of money and power."

When asked how it was that, notwithstanding all the expeditions which go out for this purpose, not one has succeeded, Sir Clements replied: "It is because they are not Englishmen. Englishmen would drag their own sledges, and that is really the only way to get them to the North Pole."

This dragging of sledges would be very hard work, Sir Clements Markham admitted, but with endurance and pluck the journey could be accomplished:

"Supposing," he said, "thte ice would remain firm and there is no land, the eighty days journey to the North Pole and back could be performed by a succession of sledges. Three, I think, would be sufficient. All would carry provisions for forty days. After ten days the first would fill up the two others and return. After twenty days the second would fill up the third and return. The third would reach the Pole, the second and third being met with supplies on their return journeys."

This could easily be done, in Sir Clements Markham's opinion, by English officers and men, who have accomplished a great deal more. From the nearest land to the Pole and back is "only 840 miles."

Women's Scholarship.

Co-education is resulting in the intellectual humiliation of men. In the class-rooms of almost every college and university where the joint instruction of both sexes is a permanent feature the feminine students have been excelling their masculine rivals, and at a majority of the commencement day ceremonies which are now close at hand the girl graduates will practically monopolize the honors in scholarship.

The superiority of the young woman student over her athletic brother in the duties for which colleges are endowed seems now to be an established fact. In order that the question might not be considered from any limited local point of view or judged by isolated instances, the Record-Herald has collected statistics relating to the comparative scholarship of men and women in the undergraduate liberal arts departments of sixteen prominent coeducational institutions, North, South, East and West. The result is truly surprising. In one graduating class alone have the men excelled the women—and this event caused general surprise among the faculty of that particular university. In two or three of the others the data were not yet available, but everything pointed toward the usual victory of the women. In all the others the eternal feminine was overwhelmingly triumphant.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Cuckoos' Eggs.

Mr. Hart, of Christchurch, Hampshire, who has made a life-long study of British birds, has in his fascinating collection a large number of cuckoos' eggs, each in the nest and with the clutch in which they were deposited, and in almost every case the intruder's egg is an exact imitation of the rightful eggs, only a size larger. Mr. Hart is convinced that the female cuckoo inspects the eggs in the nest she has chosen before laying her own egg, and that her retinal impression affects the coloration of the egg. In one instance the cuckoo chose the nest of a small bird, the name of which I have forgotten, whose nest was a closely woven ball with a tiny hole for entrance. In this case the alien egg was pure white, the cuckoo being unable to see into the bottom of the nest, and her mind on the subject being therefore a blank. The plumage of the adult cuckoo is very much like that of hawks, while the young are indefinitely speckled and blurred, the supposed reason being that no small bird would dare to feed what it took to be a young hawk in its nest. So the cuckoo has still another charge of mean duplicity against it in addition to the familiar ones.—Letter to London Outlook.

Market for Stamps.

A new industry in the region at the head of the lakes is the gathering of the tree stumps for use in the Maine shipyards. A large number of wooden ships are built every year, and it has been found that the most efficient corner braces are those made from these stumps, and hundreds are shipped East ever day. The roots of the trees and a short section of the stump are used in making the braces, and stumps from trees about a foot in diameter are found to be the best. The stump is hewn into shape before being shipped. After its receipt at the shipyards it is made into a perfect brace. The cost of a carload of the stumps is close to $400 and the freight charges run over $100 a car.

"Lucky Thomas Smith."

Here are two striking advertisements which appeared once in a local newspaper. The first ran: "In consequence of annoying mistakes, Thomas Smith, the baker, begs to announce that he is not the same person as Thomas Smith, the sweep, and that he has no connection with the latter individual." The second, which appeared the following day, ran:—"Thomas Smith, the sweep, who was stated yesterday to be a different person from and to be in no way connected with, Thomas Smith, the baker, wishes for the sake of distinction, to be known in future as Lucky Thomas Smith.

Educating Children's Memory.

As children part of the Jap's education is learning to notice. A tray with a dozen things on it is given to the child for a few minutes, when it is taken away from him and he is required to repeat from memory the name of everything that was on the tray. Gradually the numbers of things are increased and the time he is allowed to look at them decreased, until noticing becomes a habit, and a single, cursory glance catches up the main idea and details in an almost magical way. One mother, who heard of the method, was so struck by its simplicity and by the value of quick observing that she tried the experiments with her own children—not with trays and objects, but in their walks. She found that the children develop splendid memories as well.—Boston Travellen.

Rojestvensky's "Impulsiveness."

I remember a salient instance of Rojestvensky's morbid impulsiveness during the manoeuvres at Reval, when the "Admiral of the Atlantic" was admiring the warships of the "Admiral of the Pacific." One of the most prominent figures after the two monarchs was that of the future commander of the Baltic squadron. During the artillery fire, which seemed to be progressing very well at the moment, the Admiral stood on the bridge looking intently through his field-glasses. All at once he leaped aside, darted down the ladder, and rushing up to the men who were serving the guns, belabored them unmercifully with his field-glasses to the accompaniment of picturesque expressions which sailors are wont to regard as almost "technical terms."—London Telegraph.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED IN DEATH OF ALEX. WOOD

St. John, N.B., June 17.—(Special)—On Friday Alex. Wood was found beside the I.C.R. track a short distance below New Mills, Restigouche, with wounds of such a serious nature that he was taken on board the train and expired before reaching Campbellton. Immediately on the arrival of the train Coroner Doherty was notified. Dr. Price of Campbellton and Dr. Ellis, of Jacquette River held a post mortem examination which goes to strengthen the belief there was murder. A bullet wound was found in the right shoulder, but the bullet could not be located. Two or three ugly wounds were also found on the head, any one of which it is thought would be sufficient to cause death. Besides these there were other marks on the right arm and about the body.

ALIEN LABOR LAW OF NO VALID EFFECT

Judge Anglin Gives Judgment in Pere Marquette Cases.

Toronto, June 19.—The Pere Marquette men cannot be deported from Canada, and the alien labor law is ultra vires of the Parliament.

Such is the opinion handed out by Judge Anglin on Saturday after considering the appeal of Everett E. Cain and James Gilhula for a writ of habeas corpus.

The judgment is final, says Judge Anglin. There can be no appeal, as might have been the case if the writs had been mare returnable before a divisional court.

The ground of the decision is that the carrying out of the law involves an exercise of extra-territorial jurisdiction which Canada does not possess, "a power not consistent with the conditions of a dependency." Nothing but a sovereign power could pass such a law.

TEXT OF THE JUDGMENT.

The judgment reads in its essential paragraphs as follows:

Numerous grounds were urged in support of the motion, but in the view which I take of the matter it becomes unnecessaary to deal with any ground other than that upon which I am about to dispose of it.

As amended by 1 Edward VII., chap. 13, Sec. 3, the sixth section of the 60-61 Vic. Chap. 11 (d), reads as follows:

"The Attorney-General of Canada, in case he shall be satisfied that an immigrant has been allowed to land in Canada contrary to the prohibition of this act, may cause such immigrant, within the period of one year after landing or entry, to be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at the expense of the owner of the importing vessel, or, if he entered from an adjoining country, at the expense of the person, partnership or company violating Sec. 1 of this act."

This statutory provision contains the sole authority for the issue and enforcement of the warrants above set out. Its validity is impugned by the applicants upon the ground, inter alia, that inasmuch as it purports to authorize the Attorney-General, or his delegate, to deprive persons against whom it is to be enforced of their liberty without the territorial limits of Canada, it transcends the powers of the Dominion Government.

In many judgments the Privy Council has declared that our Parliament "has and was intended to have powers of legislation, as large and of the same nature as the Imperial Parliament itself."

POWERS STRICTLY LIMITED TO COLONY.

But that the area within which the powers so conferred may be exercised is restricted to the territorial limits of the colony to whose legislature they are granted, is equally well established. However, the language in which its bestowal of extra-territorial powers by the sovereign Parliament no Colonial Legislature many enact legislation to be actively enforced beyond the boundaries of the colony. This is but one of the several restrictions necessarily flowing from the inherent conditions of a dependency. Giving full effect to the argument of the learned counsel that, if at all possible, the statute should receive a construction consistent with jurisdiction, not desiring to attribute to the colonial legislature an effort to enlarge their jurisdiction to such an extent as would be inconsistent with the powers committed to a colony," I have striven to discover some means for the performance of that which the warrants to the commissioner require him to do, viz., to take into custody the applicants and return them to the United States of America, whence they came—that would not involve an assumption of extra-territorial jurisdiction. In this I have failed.

Mr. Shepley argued that the requirements of the statute must be deemed satisfied if "the immigrant" to be deported is "put in the course of return" to the country from which he came. I cannot so read the words "return to." If the constraining force of the officer acting under the Attorney-General's warrant ceases before the subject of it is within the territorial limits of the foreign country, I cannot understand how he can be said to be returned to that country by virtue of the warrant. If such force continues until the subject is upon foreign territory, its extra-territorial exercise cannot be denied.

"IMPRISONED" ON FERRY-BOAT.

Discussing the method of deportation by placing the alien on a Windsor-Detroit ferry, Judge Anglin says: If the custody ceases when the alien is placed upon the ferry boat, it cannot be said that he is returned to the United States by the officer charged with the execution of the warrant. If the custody continues until the ferry boat reaches midstream, apart from the difficulty of determining tthe precise moment at which the boat crosses the imaginary line, beyond which any constraint by Canadian authority is admittedly unwarrantable, and the danger of an involuntarily violation of United States territory, it is impossible to say that the deported subject is not under actual constraint imposed by Canadian authority until the boat reaches the Detroit docks. He is upon the ferry boat, not of his own volition, but because Canadian power has placed and kept him there. In theory his imprisonment may cease at the instant his body is carried over the border; in fact, he is not carried to the border, but to the city of Detroit, in United States territory, by compulsion of Canadian law.

I have reached the conclusion that the provision of the Dominion statute, 60 and 61, Vic., chap. 11, for the return of certain "immigrants" to the country whence they came is ultra vires.

Neither may that statute be invoked to justify the custody in which the applicants are held within Canda. This custody is merely a means to an end, that end being deportation. The applicants are not in custody for any other purpose. Their apprehension is authorized by the Legislature only as something subsidiary to their return to the United States. It follows that if the return itself cannot be legally effected, the detention for that illegal purpose is unwarranted.

The applicants are, therefore, in my judgment, entitled to an order for their immediate discharge, and that order I accordingly pronounce.

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING.

A most enjoyable trip was the annual excursion of the First Baptist Home and Mission Sunday schools on Saturday. The party proceeded to Sherringham Park on the Duchess of York via Lake St. Louis. On the journey to and from Sherringham Park there was also plenty of amusement—the gramaphone, ventriloqual turns and music, vocal and instrumental delighting the children in turn.

THE BIRDS WON ON SATURDAY BUT LOST ON SUNDAY

LEROY SHUT OUT NEWARK SATURDAY

Score Was 3 to 0—Hartman Replaced Kuhns and Made Good.

Newark, June 19.—(Special.)— Leroy and Hesterfer had a duel Saturday, the former winning out in decisive fashion, blanking the Sailors 3 to 0.

The Birds only made four hits but two of them were doubles, Meaney and Bannon turning the trick.

Both pitchers were on their mettle, but Hesterfer's control wasn't phenomenally good. He gave five bases on balls, whereas Ltroy only passed one man. Both were strong on the strike-outs wrinkle, Hesterfer fanning five Birds, and Leroy eight Sailors.

Manager Bannon switched the Birds' batting order. Meaney was sent in first with Joyce second and Hartman third, Miller being sent down to sixth place. The change seemed to work out all right.

Hartman, the Fordham College student reported and played short, Dyer gonig to third and Kuhns to the bench. The lad made good and if he continues to play as well he will have a permanent berth with the Birds.

He accepted four chances without a miscue and made one hit out of four times up. He has the snap of Joe Yeager and a good whip across the diamond.

The Birds secured one run in each of the fourth, eighth and ninth innings.

In the fourth, after two were down, Bannon drew a pass and purloined second. Miller was given free transportation and Dyer smashed a vicious grounder at Gatins. The latter fumbled and Bannon scored. Miller was caught at third.

In the eighth, Meaney doubled, Joyce sacrificed him to third and he crossed the pan on Hartman's long fly. Lachance flied out to Jones.

In the ninth, Bannon drove the sphere to the fence but a fast return held him at second. Miller's sacrifice advanced him to third and he scored on Dyer's out to Swander.

In the preliminary practice Cockman was hit by a batted ball and knocked unconscious:

BIRDS' PITCHERS WERE RECKLESS

And Sailors Won Sunday Game by 8 Runs to 2.

Newark, June 19.—(Special.)—Amateurish work by McCarthy and Pappalau yesterday gave the Sailors victory over the Birds by eight to two.

Both McCarthy and Pappalau were as wild as a certain predatory bird, and issued free passes with the freedom of a circus' advance agent.

Here is their noble record. Bases on balls by McCarthy 3, by Pappalau 3; wild pitches, McCarthy 2, Pappalau 1; hit by pitcher, by Pappalau 1.

The Birds made twelve hits but couldn't bunch them excepting in the fourth innings, when by singles by Kuhns, Lachance and Miller netted two runs.

Joyce, Lachance, Dyer and Gibson each made two hits.

Gatins fielding and that of Dyer were features. Gatins accepted thirteen chances and Dyer seven, without an error.

The Birds play in Toronto to-day.

MASCOTTES, OF MONTREAL, BLANKED OTTAWA NINE

Ottawa, Ont., June 19.—Mascottes of Montreal Saturday gave the Ottawa ball team its first turn down of the season. The game was played on Lansdowne Park diamond before a big crowd of spectators and the French team shut out the locals 6 to 0. It was easily the best ball played here this season and Mascotte put up a practically errorless exhibition, snappy all the way. Sweeny's pitching was a feature, only two hits being obtained off his delivery. McAmmon of Ottawa was hit 8 times, while the field fumbled considerably at critical moments. The teams play at Hull to-morrow.

The line up was as follows:

M.A.A.A.'S ANNUAL SPRING HANDICAPS

Were Witnessed by Large Crowd—Contests Were Spirited.

The annual spring handicaps of the M.A.A.A. were held Saturday afternoon on the Montreal grounds at Westmount. In spite of the unfavorable weather there was a large attendance and the good time was made in several of the events. The heavy rain in the early part of the afternoon put the track into rather bad condition and interfered with the jumping events. On the whole, however, the meet was a success and those who were present witnessed some keen and exciting contests.

There were sixteen entries in the 100 yards dash, which was run off in three heats. The first heat was won by F. L. Lukeman of the M.A.A.A., the second by J. C. Riddell of the M.A.A.A. and the third by H. Connolly, also of the M.A.A.A. The final of this event was very pretty, all the runners going off to a good start. J. C. Riddell was the winner his time being 10 2-5 seconds. J. Shearer, of the Westmount A.A.A., who was second man in the second heat, won second place in the final.

Much interest was shown in the putting the shot event. Z. Desmarteau, the well known police champion was handicapped by a slight injury to his foot. Arthur Smith, of the M.A.A.A. won the event with a throw of 38 feet 2 1-2 inches. Desmarteau, was second, with 38 feet, 1 1-2 inches.

The time for the 880 was rather slow, A. Gale, the winner, taking 2.02 minutes.

The high jump and the 220 yards dash were both won by F. L. Lukeman of the M.A.A.A. The running broad jump was won by E. B. Savage of the same club.

There were seven entries for the five mile run but five of these were unable to stand the pace and dropped out before the four miles had been covered, leaving A. C. Wood and T. Shipman, both of the Gordon A.A.A. and both scratch men still in the race. These two began to take things rather easy and the judges set a time limit of twenty-nine minutes. A. C. Wood finished first, his time being 28.38. 2-5.

The officials were: Referee, Victor C. Buchanan; judges for track events, P. Gorman, E. Sheppard, J. Davidson and F. W. G. Johnson; judges field events, F. C. A. McIndoe, W. McNally, T. Y. Foster, J. Macdonald; starter, Leslie H. Boyd; timekeepers, W. G. Ayling, F. J. Tees, A. H. Hersey, E. H. Brown; scorers, E. S. Ostell, F. D. Rogers, D. A. C. Jack, Roland Gomery; clerks of course, Laz. A BRITISH ASSOCIATION TEAM TO VISIT CANADA

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 19.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that two strong teams, representing England and Scotland, and containing many of the best known amateur footballers will leave in November next to play against Association teams of Canada, and will also give three or four exhibition games in the United States, in hopes that the Americans will take up the Association game. It is said that two young millionaire American enthusiasts are responsible for the arrangements being made. To add interest to the matches, Sir Ernest Cecil Cochrane, Bart., has offered a one hundred guinea cup, to be competed for under certain conditions, to the British and Canadian teams.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

In the league match Saturday, Westmounts defeated Montreal 7 to 1 and Point St. Charles beat C.P.R. 2 to 1. Both games were marred by free fights.

Paris, June 19.—The match between the American and French polo teams for the International Championship Cup Saturday, resulted in a victory for France by 6 goals to 4. The match took place at Bagatelle, in the Bois de Boulogne, and was attended by many prominent members of society.

FINE RACES AT DELORIMIER PARK

Spring Meet Finished Saturday—Winnie J. and Guesner Winners.

The most successful meet in the history of Delorimier Park was brought to a close Saturday, when the 2.26 trot and pace and the 2,13 trot and pace were raced.

Winnie J., a Newport Stock Farm entry, won the former in straight heats. Guesner, owned by Alex. Hunter, Ottawa, captured the 2.13, taking the first, second and fourth heats. Antide was a strong competitor throughout and won the third heat.

The fourth heat was a thriller, but Guesner won out by inches.

The 2.26 class was easy for Winnie S., but the other horses had a keen fight for second place. Little Clip, one of Alex. Hunter's entries took second money. He finished in fourth place in the first heat, but took second position in the next two.

The summary:

2.26 trot and pace, purse, $300—

NOTES OF THE RACES.

Guesner, now owned by Alex. Hunter, Ottawa, was formerly the property of Barney Demarest, Ottawa. In 1903, Barney took him to the ice races in Ottawa and Guesner turned up some fast miles on the mile track. The late Robt. Stewart, of Aylmer, Que., took a fancy to him and secured him from Demarest, givng the latter Cutty Sark, one of the progeny of Ansonia. Cutty Sark was shipped to New York but was killed in a railway accident on the way. Guesner is a speedy quadruped, but is looked upon as a "dog." Alex. Hunter, who owns him now, seems to have brought him to time.

The Ottawa horse-owners did very well at the meet. Alex. Hunter and F. St. Amour each won two races.

About 2,500 people were present.

The rain did not make the track more than a couple of seconds slow.

About 15,000 people saw the races during the week.

Some $3,500 was distributed in prize money.

Indications are that the July meet will be a recod-breaker.

Naturally President Lemay, Vice-President Fred. Richard and Secretary E. J. Stevens, were pleased with the success of the meet.

As a starter, W. B. Renaud is literally a howling success.

The races were clean, as the judges took prompt measures when any monkey business was suspected.

SIGSONBY WON TIDAL STAKES

Established a New Record For the $20,000 Event.

New York, June 19.—James R. Keene's Sysonby, with Nicol up, won the Tidal Stakes of $20,000, one mile and a quarter, at Sheepshead Bay Saturday. Sysonby, who was making his first appearance since his dead heat with Race King in the Metropolitan Handicap, on May 4, was in the best possible condition, having worked one mile and a quarter in 2.07, and the books made him a hot favorite at 9 to 10. He ran the distance to-day in 2.05, which is a new record for stake.

The Tidal Stake was first run in 1880, and has been won by some of the greatest horses America has ever known. The gross of the value of the stake is $20,000, of which $15,000 goes to the winner, $2,500 to the second horse, and $1,500 to the third.

Out of the original six entries, two were scratched. Sidney Paget withdrew Tradion, depending on Cairngorm to carry his colors to victory, and J. E. Madden declined the issue with hot shot. The start was good, and Cairngorm broke first, but Nicol at once sent Sysonby to the front. At the three-quarters' mark Nicol sent up Sysonby a trifle, but in the stretch drew away again, and won galloping by 4 lengths. Agile easily secured the place by three lengths from Cairngorm. Perfect weather prevailed to-day, and fully 25,000 persons witnessed some excellent races.

Summary:—

Broomstick, 133, Martin, even, won; Bank, 115, Redfern, 9 to 2, second; Zeala, 118, W. Davis, 7 to 2, third. Time, 1.14.

YACHTS ARE RACING FOR EMPEROR'S CUP

Dover, Eng., June 19—Thirteen yachts started from here Saturday in the annual race from Dover to Heligoland for Emperor William's Cup in a heavy rainstorm, and with a light wind blowing. Shortly afterwards, at about noon, the American yachts Atlantic and Apache, and the British yatch Valhalla got away in a fog over the same course for a special cup offered by Emperor William, for the auxiliary yachts which participated in the recent trans-Atlantic race.

The Apache later returned to Dover Bay, not liking the thick weather in the Channel. It is expected that the race will occupy nearly fifty hours.

The participants in the annual fixture were the American schooner yacht Hildegarde (owned by Edward R. Coleman, of the New York Yacht Club); the American schooner yacht Endymion (owned by George Lauder, jr., of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club); the American yawl Ailsa (owned by Henry I. Redmond, of the New York Yacht Club); the American schooner Fleur de Lys (owned by Dr. Lewis A. Stimson, of the New York Yacht Club); the schooner yacht Navahoe (owned by George Watjens, of Germany); the schooner yacht Clara (owned by Max Von Guilleaume, of Germany); the schooner yacht Susanne (owned by O. Huldschinsky, of Germany); the yawl Therese (owned by Felix Simon, of Germany); the British yawl Setanita (owned by Sir M. Fitzgerald); the British yawl Lethe (owned by Col. T. F. A. W. Kennedy); the British schooner yacht Moonstone (owned by H. K. Bellow); the British schooner yacht Sunshine (owned by L. H. Soloman); and the British yawl Formosa (owned by Admiral J. K. E. Baird).

Previous to the start, while manoeuvring in the thick haze, there were several narrow escapes from collision. The Therese, Hildegarde, Endymion, and Lethe got off in a bunch, and had the greatest difficulty in extricating themselves without accident. The yachts grazed their sides as they cleared one another.

The Navahoe was first over the line, closely followed by the Formoso, Lethe, Clara and Satanita. They went off in a westerly direction, while another flotilla took an easterly track.

All the yachts carried the fullest spread of canvas.

In the race for the special prize offered for auxiliary yachts, the Atlantic got a good start. The wind was not heavy enough to suit the Apache and Valhalla. The Atlantic set an enormous balloon jib.

Shortly after the departure of the last yachts two schooners and two yawls were seen vainly attempting to beat back into the bay against the flood tide, and were obliged to anchor.

The yachts proved to be the Hildegarde, Fleur de Lys, Lethe and Moonstone. It appears that they crossed the wrong side of the starting line. The Hildegarde, Fleur de Lys and Lethe started again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in a stern chase after the others. The Moonstone did not start again.

C.A.A.U. TO CONSIDER N.A.L.U.'S REQUEST

To Allow Amateur and Professional Teams to Play Matches.

The C.A.A.U. has at last consented to deal with the N.A.L.U.'s application for permission to arrange matches between its clubs and the professional organizations of the senior C.L.A.

It will meet next Monday night and discuss the question, and it's dollars to doughnuts that the desired permission will be granted, for the N.A.L.U. doesn't care particularly for the C.A.A.U., and if the latter does not accede to the request the N.A.L.U. will promptly but unostentatiously sever its connection with the C.A.A.U. and will run its own show.

This forecast was furnished by one of the principal figures in the N.A.L.U. and was not designed to coerce the C.A.A.U.

The circular issued by Mr. Tees, which follows, explains itself:—

To the Board of Governors of the C.A.A.U.:

Gentlemen,—I have been requested by President P. Gorman to inform you that he has received the following resolution from the President of the N.A.L.U.:

"That in view of the complicated conditions existing in lacrosse at the present time, largely caused because of the great number of players who have entered into the professional class, that the National Amateur Lacrosse Union do request the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union to make such amendments to their rules as will allow the playing of matches between professional and amateur teams at any time.

"This request is made for the purpose of creating greater interest in Canada's National game, as we acknowledge that professional teams under present circumstances will in all probability continue to exist because of the public demand for close and interesting matches between the clubs."

In view of the above a meeting of the Board of Governors has been called for Monday, June 26, next, at 8.30 p.m., at the Windsor Hotel.

I remain, yours respectfully,

FRED. J. TEES.
Secy. C.A.A.U.

DOUBLE REFEREE SYSTEM ADOPTED

By the N.A.L.U.—Referees For Two Matches Are Appointed.

At a special meeting of the National Amateur Lacrossse Union Saturday night the double referee system was formally adopted.

All the delegates present agreed that two referees would make for clean, scintific exhibitions, and there was no objection made to the proposal that the system should be adopted.

The power of a referee was increased and now he can rule a player off for a match when he considers that such an extreme measure is demanded by the occasion. This augmentation of power would, it was pointed out, give the referee more control over players and would force clubs to impress upon their men the necessity for putting up gentlemanly games.

The assistant referee will have practically the same powers as the referee and will have authority to inflict penalties for foul or rough work.

Incidentally the delegates took advantage of the meeting to select referees for the Shamrock-Capital match on Dominion Day and for the National-Capital match next Saturday.

Joe Lally, of Cornwall, will referee the former, and President Tom O'Connell, of the Shamrocks, the latter.

The Montreals and Capitals were permitted to play extra games.

Those present were:—Messrs. W. J. Foran, Capitals; H. J. Trihey and Dr. Scanlon, Shamrocks; Dr. Cameron, Desse Brown, Haynes and W. Taylor, Montreal; McPhee, Cornwall, and Gauthier, Nationals.

In case of a tie at the end of the fourth quarter, there will be a change of ends and the teams will play two periods each of ten minutes and the team scoring the most goals in this time will be awarded the match.

MISS PHEPOE BEAT MISS F. HARVEY

In Hamilton Golf Club's Tournament and Won First Place.

Hamilton, June 19.—Miss Florence Harvey, the Canadian lady golf champion, was Saturday defeted by Miss Phepoe in the final match for the Hamilton Club's handsome cup.

Miss Phepoe earned her laurels, showing excellent form in all her contests. Not only did she carry off the cup, but she won first prize in the driving competition and first prize for the best gross score in the qualifying match.

The final was the best contest ever seen on the local links, Miss Phepoe winning on the last hole. It was a most unfavorable day, rain falling most of the time the match was being played. But for this there would have been a large attendance, as great interest was taken in the contest locally, both ladies living in Hamilton.

It was a keen and well played match all the way through. Miss Harvey was ahead at the start, being 5 up at the seventh hole, but Miss Phepoe did not lose heart, and was cool, playing steadily. Miss Phepoe then commenced to gain, and at the fourteenth hole the score was all square. Miss Harvey gained one on the fifteenth hole, but Miss Phepoe tied the scores on the next hole. At the seventeenth hole they halved in seven, and on the last hole, Miss Phepoe won in four, Miss Harvey taking six. The winner was warmly congratulated on her victory. The cup was presented by Paul J. Myler, president of the Hamilton Golf Club.

Two prizes were won by Miss Cox, of the Rosedale Club. The approaching and putting competition narrowed down to a contest between Miss Cox, of Toronto, and Miss Phepoe, of Hamilton. The result of the final score was: Miss Cox, 3, 3, 3—9; Miss Phepoe, 5, 3, 3—11. The prize winners were:—

Cup match—1st, Miss Phepoe, Hamilton; 2nd, Miss Harvey, Hamilton.

Consolation—1st, Mrs. Woodruff, St. Catharines; 2nd, Miss Fenton, St. Catharines.

Best gross score in qualifying match—1st, Miss Phepoe; 2nd, Miss Harvey.

Best net score, qualifying match—1st, Miss Cox, Toronto.

Approaching and putting competition—1st, Miss Cox, Toronto; 2nd, Miss Phepoe, Hamilton.

Driving competition—1st, Miss Phepoe, Hamilton; 2nd, Miss Nesbitt, Woodstock.

Clock golf competition—1st, Miss Christie, Ottawa; Miss Hoodless and Miss Turner, Hamilton, tied for second place.

MIST INTERFERED WITH TRIAL YACHT RACES

A heavy mist interfered with the trial races of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club Saturday. It prevented the skippers from negotiating the buoys excepting by guess work and though Thorella II. beat the Noorna and Alexandra, no importance was attached to the victory.

In the twenty-two foot class the Ivaloo won from the Kooralo.

The boats an dtheir skippers were as follows: Thorella II. C. Routh; Noorna, Huntley Drummond; Alexandra, Fred. Shearwood.

In the twenty-two foo t class, Ivaloo, A. Fournier; Koorali, S. Arnold Finley.

The boats covered the course once, buoys to starboard.

Following were the results:

AUTOMOBILIST'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Hartford, Conn., June 19—An accident in which Geo. Soules of Toledo, Ohio, narrowly escaped being killed furnished the excitement at the automobile races in Charter Oak Park Saturday. In the three mile special contest with Charles, his brother, the front tire of George Soule's machine collapsed. The machine was going at a terrific rate of speed and upon the collapse of the tire turned two complete somersaults in the air, landing up-side down. A second after the dust had cleared away, George Soules struggled to his feet amid the cheers of the people who had expected to see him crushed beneath the machine. Soules had risen to his feet at the instant of the collapse of the tire and had thrown himself from the vehicle. His nose was broken and his face badly bruised.

Oldfield had everything his own way in the five mile pursuit race by reason of the collapse of Cherrolet's machine. This gives Oldfield four points toward the cup which will be presented at the end of the racing season.

PHYSICAL CULTURE SOCIETY.

The seven and a half mile running race, under the auspices of the Physical Culture Society, on Saturday afternoon, was won by J. Cassidy, in 48 minutes and 45 seconds. George Attewall was second and W. Brecknell third. The start was made from the headquarters of the society, 740 St. Lawrence Street, and the course was along Pine Avenue to Cote des Neiges road, then around the mountain to St. Catherine road, along Mount Royal Avenue and down St. Lawrence Street to the headquarters of the society. Cassidy is the young fellow who finished in a dead heat with C. H. Coo, in the walking match on the same course on the previous Saturday.

A running race open to the members of all harrier clubs in the city, will be held under the auspices of the Physical Culture Society, over the same course next Saturday afternoon. Two medals will be given as prizes.

Cowansville.—By an outbreak of fire in the office and residence of Mr. M. D. Hart, damage estimated at $2,500 has been done, which is covered by the Missisquoi and Rouville Mutual.

THE POINTS OUTSCORED WESTMOUNTS SATURDAY

The Point St. Charles team played their second match Saturday with Westmount, and won by 6 to 0. Westmount had the best possible team, including a few of last year's seniors, but could not get a game. Their home did not know what way to get around the Points' defence, they could never get close enough to score. Power played a hard game for Westmount; Noonan and Havern also. The Points' home played a very good game. Rob-

RENFREW TRIMMED BY CARLETON PLACE 7 TO 2

Carleton Place, Ont., June 19.—(Special.)—The second match in the Eastern Ontario Lacrosse League series and the first to be played in Carleton Place was played Saturday afternoon on the Caldwell field between the Renfrew and Carleton Place teams and resulted in a victory for the home twelve by a score of 7 to 2. The game was devoid of roughness, only a couple of minor accidents happening and only three men were penalized, McVicar of the Renfrews and Oliver and Easterbrook of the home team. Mr. Percy Jamieson, of Almonte, was referee, and his decisions gave entire satisfaction to both sides.

From the first toot of the whistle the Carleton Place bunch seemed to have the better of the argument, and at no time appeared to be nervous or off color. The visitors have some fast runners and made some pretty playing individually, but lacked combination, and their home was very much overmatched by the Carleton Place defence.

In the first quarter Carleton Place scored two goals, Renfrew none; second quarter, Carleton Place 3, Renfrew 0, making it 5 to 0 at half-time. In the third quarter Carleton Place scored 1 and Renfrew 3; fourth quarter, Carleton Place 1, Renfrew 0, making the score at finish 7 to 2. The players and officers were as follows:

Renfrew—Malone, McEwen, Airth, Zevitsky, Gilroy, McVicar, Fraser, Vandusen, Ross, Gilmour, Carrouth, McDougall.

Carleton Place—Kenny, Grant, W. Penny, J. Penny, A. Robertson, Oliver, Lee, Easterbrook, F. Robertson, Voyce, P. McLaren, Larose.

Referee—P. Jamieson, Almonte. Umpires—Renfrew, Mr. Ed. Phillips, Ottawa; H. Wood, Carleton Place. Timekeepers—F. Donald and Geo. Martel.

Morrisburg, June 19.—(Special.)—Lacrosse used to be a flourishing pastime in this town, but of late years it has given way to various other games. This year, however, interest in the game has revived, and it bids fair to make the most of its new lease of life. Two weeks ago the locals played their first game with the Cardinal twelve, and was rather badly beaten by that crack team. The return match was played here Saturday afternoon, and, while the home team again suffered defeat, it made a much better showing, holding the Cardinals down to a score of 5 to 3. The game, which was a most interesting one, was witnessed by a large number of spectators, many of whom were from Cardinal. The visitors started in to rush matters, and in the first quarter scored three goals to their opponents' one. After this the play was much more even, each side scoring two games. The visiting twelve are clever players, on to the fine points of the game, and displaying that confidence which is begotten of a long experience. The home colts are rapidly coming on, and, with faithful practice, should give a good account of themselves. Each of the teams played a man short. The players and officials were:—

Cardinal—Cameron, Burnside, Birks, Fader, Robinson, Ammell, Weeks, Savor, Webster, Allan, Orse.

Morrisburg—Boister, T. Moffatt, Denneny, B. Moffatt, Reddick, Biccum, W. Moffatt, F. Marcellus, T. Marcellus, Webb, Latour.

Referee — Woodmark, Cardinal; umpires, Emond, Cardinal; Dain, Morrisburg.

It was the expected which happened on the Shamrock grounds Saturday afternoon in the match between the champions and the Cornwalls and the score of seven to two in favor of the champions is a prettty fair indication of the game.

The Cornwalls have improved quite perceptibly since their game with the Nationals some weeks ago, and the Frenchmen will have their hands full the next time they meet. Cornwall is bound to still further improve as the season advances, and they can be depended on to make it interesting for any team which journeys up to the Factory Town in quest of laurels. The Cornwalls are not a bunch of easy marks, by any means, and they can be relied on to put up a stiff fight, particularly in their own burgh.

The blue-shirted team worked like a lot of Trojans Saturday and, though the odds were heavily against them and though they never had a chance of winning, yet they never let up till the gong announced that all was over.

At the beginning of the match, particularly, did they show up well and it took the champions sixteen minutes of fairly hard work before the latter scored. Towards the end of the game, however, the Cornwalls seemed to be pretty much all in, but, everything considered, they did remarkably well for a team of new ones and better things are expetced of them. Their defence played a good, strong game, and repelled many a Sharmock attack. The Cornwall home did not show up in quite such a favorable light, owing to the fact, perhaps, that Shamrock defence played its old game and, although they worked hard and did their best, yet were they unable to get in close to the poles. The result was that the shots on goals were nearly all made from quite a distance, and, of course, proved ineffective, although the second goal they scored was the result of a beautiful shot from 'way out.

It is a curious thing, but true, nevertheless, that the Cornwall team can generally be depended on to have a good goalkeeper in its make-up. This year's team is no exception to the rule and Lalonde's work between the visitors' poles was one of the features of the match.

The 500 spectators who went up to the Shamrock grounds Saturday were not all there for the purpose of watching what might be a close game. The result was a foregone conclusion. What many of them wanted to see was how much the Shamrocks had improved since their famous game with Montreal two Saturdays ago, and if they had gone back to anything like their old form.

What they saw must have convinced them that the champions are once more getting back into their old gait and that they have, apparently, profited by what was taught them when their colors came so close to be being lowered by the garnet and gray.

An improvement could be noticed throughout the whole Shamrock team. Little Johnnie Currie, the famous centre-fielder, was back at his old position and his brother Tommie was moved to the home to replace Tracy. The result of this change was the strengthening of the whole home, not so much on account of Tracy's removal, but rather because of the feeding which it received from Johnnie Currie. Johnnie seems to be in better condition than ever before in his life and his playing on Saturday was in the nature of a slap in the face to those who had predicted his playing days were over for ever and aye. Leroux, who played centre for Cornwall, was an easy proposition for Johnnie, who never failed to secure the draw and generally managed to get the ball into Tommie's stick.

The playing of the Currie brothers, by the way, was a novelty and a particular feature of the match. They travel well together and fielded beautifully. Robinson redeemed himself for his poor playing the previous Saturday, and he showed himself up in his old form. He rained in shot after shot on the goals and it is due to the excellent work of Lalonde that he has only two goals to his credit. Johnnie Brennan and Spike Hennessy also played much better lacrosse than they did the Saturday before and Hogan worked as hard as ever. Altogether, the home seems to have got back into championship form again and, with the addition of Hoobin, it ought to make the other teams climb the trees.

The defence played its same old magnificent game and it speaks well for Cornwall's aggressiveness that the Factory Town team secured even two goals.

The teams lined up as follows:

Shamrocks (7).		Cornwall (2).
Kenny	Goal	Lalonde
Howard	Point	Cummings

NOTES OF THE GAME.

There were only about 500 people at the match.

There would probably have been more if it had been known that not a drop of rain had fallen in the upper end of the city, and that the Shamrock grounds were as dry as a bone.

Those who did go,however, didn't fall asleep, as the game, though not brilliantly fast, was slow only in spots.

What an ovation, to be sure, Johnnie Currie received when his gigantic, colossal and elephantine form was seen to skip out on the field!

And how those little white legs of his do travel! He seemed as fresh as a new-blown daisy and, like an old war-horse, he appeared glad to get back to the scene of his former battles!

Cornwall must have stolen Leroux, their centre-fielder, from a circus.

His running is a sight for the very gods.

At times he bore a strong resemblance to a ship in distress, wallowing in the trough of a heavy sea.

Then again, he gave a close imitation of an automobile gone dippy.

Talk about only touching the high places! When Leroux got that triple action, double-expansion, multiple-cylinder, side-entrance, 40 antelope-power gait of his going, he generaly bumped his forehead with his knees.

And once he would, start twisting, turning, curving and pirouetting he looked like a cross between an old broken down sidewheeler and a frisky colt that was feeling its oats.

The Shamrock home is getting back into its old form again and, with Hoobin on, the defence that will stop it will have to be a good one.

There was no rough play on Saturday and the penalties imposed were for minor offences.

A funny incident happened in the grand stand on Saturday.

A special constable, whose duty it seems to be to prevent the spectators from smoking, in language which was nothing but impertinent, told a couple of strangers, who were not in a position to see the "no smoking" signs, to throw away their cigarettes. This they did after protesting against the needlessly rude language of the bear in policeman's clothes.

The next seen of the gentlemanly attendant, he was comfortably ensconsed in a seat, contentedly puffing away at his "dhudeen."

Billy Broderick, Bob Degan and Larry McAteer were the only members of last year's team who played with the Cornwalls on Saturday. The other nine are new men who have graduated from the town's junior teams.

"Newsy" Lalonde, the Cornwall's efficient goalkeeper, received a flattering offer from the Woodstock lacrosse team on Monday last. He intends, however, to remain with the Cornwall's throughout the season.

A pleasant event took place in the Shamrock Club House between the second and third quarters of Saturday's game, when the executive of the association invaded the dressing room and presented Mr. Tom Moore, the Shamrocks popular trainer, with a purse of gold. The presentation was made in a neat speeech by Mr. Harry McLaughlin. Mr. W. Kearney, president of the S.A.A.A. also expressed the society's appreciation of Mr. Moore's work, both as a trainer and as an old player. Mr. Moore will be married in St. Ann's Church to-morrow morning to Miss M. Burns.

NATIONALS ABE NOW PLAYING FAST LACROSSE

By a score of 14 goals to 2 the Nationals defeated the Caughnawagas yesterday on the National grounds.

The Caughnawagas did not show any improvement over the form they displayed in their first match with the Nationals, whereas the latter were markedly better in every department.

The 2,000 spectators were agreeably surprised by the brand of lacrosse the Nationals played, and the general impression was that the French athletes will bother the other N.A.L.U. teams not a little. They were considerably strengthened by the addition to their ranks of Harry Contant, who has not played for two years.

Harry Smith and W. Duggan were the referees.

The Nationals play the Caps here next Saturday and will make a desperate effort to win.

TECUMSEHS BEAT ST. CATHARINES 8 GOALS TO 3

Toronto, June 19.—Eight thousand people saw the Tecumsehs win from St. Catharines by 8 to 3, in the senior C.L.A., match at the Island Saturday.

It was one of the best games seen in Toronto in years, and those who crossed the Bay were amply repaid. The Saints brought about five hundred rooters across the lake, and considerable money changed hands, St. Catharines being confident of winning and prepared to back their aggregation to the limit.

Eddie Baker of Oshawa refereed the game, and gave satisfaction. There was very little roughness, but Baker had an eye for every accidental infringement of the rules. There was no scoring in the final quarter. In this quarter Durkin was sent to the bench for hitting Harris while closely checking him..

The teams were:—Tecumseh.—Clark, Grimes Griffith, Menary, Stewart, White, Felker, Querrie, Merton, Durkin, Adamson, McMillan.

St. Catharines — Hess, Harriss, Cameron, Elliott, Richardson, Downey, Forester, O'Gorman, Lowe, Murphy, Kalls, Hagan.

Referee — Ed. Baker, Oshawa. Umpires, J. K. Forsyth, Toronto; John Dawson.

St. Catharines — First quarer — 1, Tecumseh, Durkin, half minute; 2, St. Catharines, Murphy, three and a half minutes; 3, St. Catharines, Hagan, 9 minutes; 4, Tecumseh, McMillan, 6 1-2 minutes.

Second quarter—5, St. Catharines, Hagan, 1 minute; 6, Tecumseh, Merton, 15 1-2 minutes.

Third quarter — 7, Tecumseh, Merton, 1 1-2 minutes; 8, Tecumseh, 30.

"TACK" HENDRY HAS GONE TO BRANTFORD

This morning a surprise party was sprung on the lacrosse management by the genial William Hendry, of Montreal, known to fame as "Tack." They had been negotiating with him to play on the local team and it was known that he would play on Saturday. When he would arrive, however, was uncertain.

This morning who should walk down Market Street, but Mr. Hendry, looking perfectly at home. He met some friends who for a moment were uncertain whether it was really him or his ghost. There was a substantial look about Mr. Hendry which completely discounted the ghost idea, however, and the news soon spread that "Tack" Hendry was in town.

The management got hold of him and "Tack" was feeling at home in no time. "I'm a home brew now," he said. He looked in fair condition and good enough to make his presence felt in to-morrow's game.

Whitehead and Hendry will both play to-morrow and as a result the Torontos should suffer another defeat.

The management are after two more players, though it is not likely that either will play to-morrow. They have three or four men in view and will choose the most likely. Rumor has it that Dade and Finlayson will be the two selected. This is not improbable.—Brantford Courier.

TOUCHING FAREWELL MADE BY PASTOR OF ST. JAMES CHURCH

Despite the oppressive heat of Sunday night, a large congregation crowded every space in St. James Methodist Church, to hear the farewell sermon of Rev. J. W. Graham. It was plain throughout the service that both pastor and people keenly felt the separation which, in the words of Mr. Graham's assistant, "the relentless wheel of the itineracy" rendered necessary. Mr. Graham in his sermon evidently labored under considerable emotion, and the sympathetic silence which greeted his farewell message showed that the congregation shared his feelings as well.

"I hardly know what to say to you to-night," said Mr. Graham. "I would like to preach a sermon, but there are features of my pastorate which I must refer to before I go. It may that I cannot give you very much of a sermon, but for my farewell message I will choose that given by St. Paul to the Corinthian church: "Finally, brethren, farewell; be perfect; be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

"The circumstances of St. Paul's farewell to Corinth, were very different to my farewell to-night to St. James. But I tell you, my friends, Montreal is bad enough to-night. You are surrounded by so much that is evil that, as did Paul, I say to you: 'Again, my brethren, be perfect.'' You may say that is impossible, but that is no reason why you should lower your standards. Run with patience and firmness the race towards the shining mark that is before you. Take no lower standard than Jesus Christ, and be perfect.

"Then, 'Be of comfort.' It is hard for me to leave you, but I can do it with a far lighter heart than I could a few years ago. When I came here the incubus of debt rested so heavily on us all that often I feared our church was gone. You all know the noble work that Dr. T. G. Williams did for this church, but often I feared that it would be lost.

"When I took the helm we had a debt of $520,000. We have reduced that to $55,000,in four years, and almost taken another $5,000 off that, and I know this congregation will take care of that remaining $50,000. In the three years since I have been superintendent of this church this congregation has raised about $90,000. This was always a grand missionary church, and despite our difficulties, our missionary giving has increased all the time. Surely I may say, 'Be of good cheer.'

"Then, 'Be of one mind, live at peace.' Nothing makes the devil chuckle like disunion in a church. That is the difference between Japan and Russia. Russia, with all its vast numbers, strength and riches is disunited, and so it has been steadily defeated by the much smaller, but united empire of Japan. I tell you no country has ever been whipped that stood out in the front of battle as the Japanese have. And if the church presents such a front the gates of hell cannot prevail against it

"Then, I would say, 'Be loyal'—but it is not hard to say be loyal to a church that as a business proposition is worth $600,000 to-day, and is an adornment to the beauty of the Church."

Proceeding, Mr. Graham sketched the history of St. James Church during almost a century, and the great work it had done for Methodism and Protestantism in Eastern Canada.

An almost painful pause ensued, and the congregation hushed as it was evident the pastor was gathering himself together for his final words, and his voice noticeably trembled as he continue: "And, now, dear brethren, the last part of my message, as the first is, 'Finally, brethren, farewell.' I confess without shame that I love this church and congregation—my life has been wrapped up in the life of this church. I have had many shortcomings; and I know it. Could I feel that I have done as many things as I have left undone I could leave confident that I had not been an unprofitable servant. I feel very deeply the way you have borne with me, and have yearned to do more for and with you had I been able.

Rev. Mr. Graham concluded by thanking on behalf of himself and Mrs. Graham, the congregation, the choir, and all the officers of the church for the assistance they had been to him during his pastorate, and then called upon all to kneel with him in fervent prayer.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Graham would leave the circuit Thursday morning, and on Wednesday evening a special service of thanksgiving and farewell would be held—the thanksgiving being for the wonderful progress the church had made under Mr. Graham's pastorate.

REV. DR. GRIFFITHS BADE FAREWELL TO DOUGLAS CHURCH

Last evening at Douglas Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Griffiths preached his last sermon as pastor of the church and bid farewell to the members of the congregation. Dr. Griffiths has been called to the First Methodist church at St. Thomas, Ont., and leaves for that city this week to take up his new duties. At the conclusion of the sermon he spoke feelingly of the pleasant relations which had existed between himself and the congregation during the years of his pastorate and bade an affectionate farewell to those to whom he had preached the gospel for so many years.

Dr. Griffiths took as his text the fifty-eight verse of the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians: "Therefore my beloved, brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable always abounding in the work of the Lord, for as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

The work of the Lord, said Dr. Griffiths, did not consist merely of going to church two or three times a week, although it would be better if some attended church more regularly, nor merely in leading an upright life, but in demonstrating the goodness of God. He had been greatly impressed by a short prayer which he had once heard. The one who was praying had asked for a blessing for those who could not go to the seaside or to comfortable summer cottages during the hot summer months but were compelled to remain in the great cities toiling daily. God sympathized with these begrimed men and hardworking women and children and through his workers brought a ray of light into their lives.

The work of the Lord was many sided. It was to be found down in the back lanes and alleys where poverty reigned and where vice and intemperance were to be found. There were thousands in these places, driven on the rocks of adversity who were in need of a helping hand. The church could not look on these unfortunate ones with indifference. If the church was to hold a high place in the land it must devote itself to the Lord's work. It must breathe its very life into the lives of the sick and sorrowful in the world around it.

The man who did not work had no business to live in the world. Every man who did not work was a tramp, whether he lived on Sherbrooke Street or was a wanderer without a home. There were church tramps as well as other tramps. There were those who went to church for what the church could give them in song and sermon and for the refinement and culture which they found there, never realizing that the church called them to devote themselves to its high and sacred missions.

It was inspiring to feel that man might abound in the work of the Lord. The life which abounded in the work of the Lord was sure to expand and grow. Then, as was said in the text, man's labor was not in vain. Those who built the great pyramids had long ago been forgotten but the pyramids still stood; those who built the tunnels were dead, but the tunnels were still used as the highways of nations; many of those who fought in the great battles in the Far East were dead but through their sacrifces their nation lives a higher and broader life. So it would be with those who went down to work for the Lord, to direct the feet of the unsteady and restrain those who were a prey to evil passions, their work would still live after they had departed.

"At the close of my public ministry in this church," said Dr. Griffiths in conclusion, "I wish to gratefully acknowledge the goodness and kindness of my stewards and co-workers during the years that I have been your pastor. I come here as a stranger and met with kindness, hospitality and many new friendships. I go away richer than I came in my own thoughts and in the work of God."

HEROIC WORKER IN THE HARD FIELD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

Rev. Dr. Hagar, Hong Kong, China, one of the best known workers in the Foreign Field, occupied the pulpit of Calvary Congregational Church, Guy Street, yesterday morning, and delivered a most interesting discourse on the work of the church in that far-away portion of the Master's vineyard.

A man of striking personal appearance and bearing all the outward marks of a Christian character of indomitable will power and vast reserve force, Dr. Hagar enchained the attention of his auditors. Apparently a gentleman of over two-score years, he has passed twenty-two years in labor among the Chinese—he knows them as few can hope to do, and as a result his efforts in that country have met with splendid rewards.

In 1883 Dr. Hagar was sent to the Chinese field from San Francisco by the American Board of Commissioners in charge of Foreign Missions. For nine years Dr. Hagar, under the greatest difficulties, worked alone in the Province of Canton in a part of the country that thirty years before had been opened and then neglected. At the end of almost ten years' effort he returned to America, worn out and exhausted; but, recovering his health, returned again to the land and people he loved.

From a field practically dead, he has now won thirty-six stations; and the position demands more men, and more money. To secure these is Dr. Hagar's mission, and it is safe to say that when the Chinese receive him again in the fall, that complaint will be relegated to history.

Dr. Hagar was through the Boxer uprising, has had $500 placed upon his head, and scores of times has been stoned; besides having had the experience of seeing his death warrant posted in many villages. In spite of these afflictions, Dr. Hagar will continue to work among the people with whom he has spent the best portion of his life. Nothing can daunt him, and only the touch of the last Enemy will bring his earthly mission to a close. Then his memory will remain green and fragment in a once heathen country that owes its rise to Christian ideals to this personal efforts, blessed of God.

ATHANASIAN CREED SUBJECT OF SERMON BY REV. DR. SYMONDS

At Christ Church Cathedral, last evening, Rev. Dr. Symonds preached the first of his sermons on the Athanasian Creed, taking his text from the fourth, fifth and sixth verses of the 12th chapter of First Corinthians: "Now, there are diversities of gifts; but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations but the same Lord. And theer are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which maketh all in all."

Dr. Symonds spoke of the doctrine of the Trinity, which was generally accepted by all branches of the Christian Church; and which was an expression of the Christian Church's belief in the Infinite; the fundamental point in the doctrine being the three expressions of the Infinite, —Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The doctrine, broadly conceived, was not irrational, was not a worn out dogma, nor likely to be outgrown by the Church. All Christians agreed in its acceptance, and the Church had always and now, strongly upheld it. Of this faith there were three documental expressions, — The Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, and Athanasius' Creed; and of the last-named, the Creed of Athanasius, he wished to speak to them. As long ago as two centuries certain of its clauses had been objected to. Discussions on the matter had come up in 1869 and 1870 and these clauses were now under serious discussion in England. The Archbishop of Canterbury, therefore, had asked for an expression on the matter from all sections of the Church in the Empire.

He then explained briefly the Creed as it was to be found in their articles of faith. It was called the creed of Athanasius, but it was not known when or by whom it had been written, and it was misleading to give the Creed this name. It had probably been written in the year 450 A.D., by one of the Bishops in the South of France. It was never formally adopted, but gradually worked its way into use by the Roman Church and also into the Greek, and eventually into the English. As a theological document it was of great value and showed extraordinary ability in its composition and reasoning. But, certain of its clauses were held in contempt by some, and these were the ones objected to.

Taking the Creed itself, Dr. Symonds said that as an expression of the doctrine of the Trinity, and the relation of the human nature to the divine, it was not objectionable, but admirable and beautiful. But there were the minutary clauses, which, as it stood now, made it an undesirable expression of faith.

These clauses, Dr. Symonds quoted: "Whosoever will be saved: before all things it is necessary that he hold the Catholick Faith."

"Which Faith, except every one do keep whole and undefiled; without doubt he shall perish everlastingly."

"This is the Catholick Faith: which except a man believe faithfully, he cannot be saved."

Reading a creed in church which included such clauses as these, placing upon the Church as a whole, their acceptance, would incline men to doubt the truth of it. The writer of the Athanasian Creed might have been great but Jesus Christ was greater, and he had never made the stipulation that a man must believe the Catholick Faith, to be saved. When he spoke of the judgment on his parable of the last day, he had called those blessed, who had been good to their fellowmen, who had fed the hungry, visited the sick, clothed the naked. He had said not a word of the Athanasian Creed. And His word was final. He had only said that those would be punished who rejected the kindness of God and led a selfish, thoughtless, wicked or immoral life. The wicked were the only unbelievers, for Christ said that not even those who called unto Him, "Lord, Lord," but those who did the works of His Father in Heaven, should be saved.

In concluding Dr. Symonds said that that the minutary clauses of this creed were evidently not in accord with the teaching of Christ, nor did he think they were suitable expressions of their faith as Christians, and he believed they should be dropped and forgotten altogether.

Dr. Symonds continues his discussion of this Creed next Sunady evening.

HERALD DAILY PATTERN

LADIES' SAILOR BLOUSE 2239, Sizes 32 to 40 Bust.

The becomingness of the sailor blouse justifies its popularity, and popular it certainly is. There is no more effective model for an outing costume, and it also is trim and jaunty for ordinary shirt waist suits. The charming blouse in our sketch is developed in plain white butcher's linen, trimmed with bands of heavy open-work embroidery. A silk scarf and belt of Alice blue give it a touch of color. The sleeves are quite plain, making them easy to iron, and linen always launders beautifully. There are so many occasions that seem to demand one of these plain blouses, that they are an essential part of every well ordered wardrobe. Pique, duck or wash flannels and also such thinner fabrics as chambray and the like will make up excellently in this pattern. For a lady of medium size the waist will require 5½ yards of material 21, 4½ yards 27, or 2¾ yards 44 inches wide. The pattern 2239 is cut for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust.

With the King in India.

The forthcoming visit of the Prince of Wales to India reminds English journalists that of the two surviving members of the journalistic squad who accompanied the present King on his trip to that Empire in 1874-5, one is now a Canadian.

The following special correspondents represented British newspapers on that occasion: Dr. Russell, The Times; Archibald Forbes, Daily News; G. A. Henty, The Standard; J. Drew Gay, Daily Telegraph; — Major, The Echo; Geo. Wheeler, Central News; Wm. Trant, several provincial papers and The Times of India.

Of these, Forbes, Henty, Gay and Major are dead; Mr. Wheeler is in the Privy Council office, and Mr. Trant is now practising as a barrister in Regina, Canada. The newspaper artists included Mr. Simpson, of the Illustrated London News, who is dead, and Mr. Herbert Johnson, who represented the Graphic.

The London Market

A London cable says: Summed up, he attitude towards our markets, both of the investing public and of the arge financial operators, while not one of alarm, is one of extreme cau-tion. The general view is that de-velopments of immense importance are probable within the next few months, and that their probable fin-ancial effect must be carefully mea-sured. The high figures of May out-put on the Rand have had no influ-ence. The public is weary of waiting for the promised rise in mine shares and "bears" are consequently aggres-ive. Attention is again chiefly dir-ected to the Rhodesian "banket" dis-coveries.

Wall Street Market

New York, June 19.—Wall Street. First prices in the stock market gener-ally were smal fractions higher than on Sturday. The market showed no sign of animation and the ticker came practically to a standstil within a few minutes after the opening. A decline of ⅝ in Car Foundries was the widest change recorded. Prices were steady. Amalgamated Copper, 79⅛; American Car, 33⅛; Can. Pac., 150⅝; Colorado Fuel, 41½; Norfolk & Western, 79½; Ont. & Western, 51; Penna., 135; Read-ing, 96; Union Pacific, 122⅝; U.S. Steel 27½, do. pfd., 94⅝; Wisconsin Central, 24⅜.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Sales in Wall Street to noon were 91,900 shares.

E. & C. Randolph: There was no news over unday to affect the market one way or the other and dealings remained as professional as they have been for some time. The market has been generally strong probably for the rea-son that on Saturday it was generally weak and prices have gained what they lost during the two hours at the end of last week's trading. The great-est activity has been Pennsylvania and Reading. Both are influenced by the probability of an increase in Reading dividend on Wednesday. In spite of the bad bank statement the money market shows no change; call money being quoted from 2¼ to 2½ per cent. Money brokers, however, report a slightly harder tone in the time money market.

Charles Head & Co.: The market this morning continued extremely dull with a firm tendency in which Penna, and its allied issues scored moderate advances. Reading has advanced about ½ per cent. The Wis. Central issues were strong on rumors that the road had been acquired by the Union Paci fic. Met. St. Ray. developed some slight activity at about ½ advance and the Lead issues generally improved fractionally but the dealings have been entirely professional and there have been few significant transactions.

New York—The market during the morning has exhibited a better tone with some increase in bullish activity. There are apparently no large offer-ings at the advances scored and sen-timent is stimulus of the expected Reading and B.O. dividend increases. We expect to hear more of an increase to 5 per cent. for U.P. The speculat-tive market position of sugar has been so much changed in recent years that it seems a reasonable expectation that Amn. Smelting common will take the place of the former stock. The July disbursements of dividends and inter-est will be heavy and monetary cir-cles are well prepared to finance them. The strong probability of a reduction of interest rates on savings bank de-posits is regarded favorably as this would certainly restore to the invest-ment market large sums which have been diverted for two years past.

"Soo" Enterprises Make Splendid Headway

A Soo despatch to The Herald says of the progress made by the Soo industries:

The first annual statement of the Lake Superior Corporation, now being prepared by the executive committee, will certainly prove more conclusively than anything else has ever done that the action of the late Lib-eral Government in advancing the $2,000,000 loan to the Soo industries was particularly well taken. The Montreal Herald's repre-sentative in conversation with members of the executive and leading officials has ob-tained a summary of the facts that will be contained in the first annual report.

CONTENTS OF REPORTS.

"The report," said one of the most active members of the executive, "will contain the statement of each plant that has been in operation, and I may say that with the ex-ception of the sulphite mill and nickel con-verter all have been running full capacity for some time. And mainly because all the most important plants have been well filled up with orders, the smaller plants have been able to make a good showing. For instance, the steel rail mill has had enough orders on hand to keep it running full ca-pacity of about fifty tons a day, and this has meant that the blast furnaces and char-coal plants have had enough orders to keep them running full throughout the twelve months, and the delivering of their output as well as that of the steel rail mill at different points has meant that even the large fleet controlled by the corporation has not been sufficient to handle the business that has been offering since the opening of the season of navigation. It has, there-fore, been found necessary to charter sev-eral other steamers. To keep all these plants running and to operate the street car sys-tems in the two Soos has meant that the power department has had contracts for the entire amount of power. The exact figures to be shown in the statement will show that these statements are confined entirely to facts.

OUTPUT OF MINES.

"Since the beginning of the year the Helen mine has steadily increased its output till its average output is now 6,000 tons a day, and the activity at this mine and others in the Michipicoten district has supplied quite a large amount of traffic for the Algoma Central Railway. With so much business offering the staffs at the different plants have been largely increased, and the in-creased population in the two towns has meant abundant traffic for the car systems in the two Soos as well as for the ferry service between the towns. Then the fig-ures will show that the Lake Superior Cor-poration is now without any outstanding in-debtedness and is regularly paying the in-terest on all its bonds. At the close of the first regular fiscal year the different sub-sidiary companies will certainly be in a much better position than the most sangu-ine directors had hoped for. Without the $2,000,000 loan made by the late Ontario Government it is doubtful whether the works would be running at all.

THE COST OF MODERN GUNS, MINES AND PROJECTILES.

The army council have been recently engaged upon the apportionment of the amount voted by Parliament for the purposes of the Ordnance Factories. Although only a part of the grant has up to the present been divided up, Woolwich Arsenal will receive appar-ently a satisfactory share of the ulti-mate expenditure. Up to date, the principal sums apportioned to the Ord-nance Factories at Woolwich are:

Field carriages	£ 5,500
Repairs	30,000
Experimental field howitzer equipment	6,600
Cordite, gunpowder, and gun-cotton	33,000
Re-armament of Horse and Field Artillery	201,663

The last-named item refers to a sec-tion of the original apportionment of forty-four batteries of new guns for the Horse and Field Artillery, the manufacture of which will extend over three years.

For projectiles for the army £150,000 has been set aside, and for small arm ammunition £49,000. The total army expenditure thus far apportioned to Woolwich is £475,763.

The provision for the navy includes thirtyone wire guns, of the following calibre:

4 12in. br'ch-loading wire guns (new design)	£47,000
14 9.in br'ch loading wire guns (new designs	74,200
12 7.in br'ch-loading wire guns (new designs)	33,920

There are also to be manufactured 23 12-pounder guns to cost £6,100, and 100 3-pounders, of the Vickers, design, which will involve an expenditure of £19,230.

In the ammunition department the proposed expenditure is as under:

40,000 solid shot for 4.7 guns (quick firing	£10,600
6,600 4in. solid shots for breech loading guns	12,000
15,000 solid shot for 12-pounder quick-firing guns	1,700

In the Torpedo Factory there are to be manufactured 54 14inch torpedoes at a cost of £11,000 and 236 18inch tor-pedoes, which will involve an expen-diture of £90,000.

For mines there has been voted £28,000, and gun-mountings £67,000. Total expenditure for Navy £400,840.

MR. LABOUCHERE TALKS OF MOTOR CAR CHAUFFEURS.

An entirely new and lucrative pro-fession was described by Mr. Labou-chere, speaking in the House of Com-mons recently on the peril of motor cars.

"When in Italy recently," said the hon. gentleman, "I had a motor-car, and I engaged a chauffeur. The first week he ran over some one; the second week he ran over someone else; and the third week he repeated the incident. I had to pay the fines and indemnities, so I said to a friend of mine, 'I shall have to get rid of this man.' 'Oh, said the friend, 'What's his name?' I told him, and he said, 'Ah! I know the man. He was employed by a friend of mine and did the same thing. He sticks his family in the way.'"

When the loud laughter had subsided Mr. Labouchere went on to say that the accidents at once ceased when he told the chauffeur that he would have to pay the fines and indemnities him-self in the future.

MARKET REPORTS.

Local Produce Market is Quiet; Price of Cheese High in the Country

High prices prevail in the country for cheese at present. At the last meeting of the board, 9½c to 9 13-16c was the ruling figure, and at Brockville a couple of lots were bought at 9⅞c. The local market is firm at 9⅝c to 9 3-4c for Ontario and 9⅜c to 9½c for Quebec. Buyers on the English market are only offferng about 9⅝c. It is said, however, that there have been short sales of June cheese on the other side, and local dealers are holding out, feeling confi-dent of being able to force the English deal-ers to come up to present quotations. At present business is very quiet.

The tone of the butter market is strong, though business is rather quiet. There is a considerable quantity of June butter held in the city in cold storage. This butter has been purchased at a pretty high figure and it is likely that it will be kept in storage until prices are considerably higher. Choice creamery is quoted at 19½c in wholesale lots and about 19 3-4c in a jobbing way. The receipts of dairy butter are very light for this season of the year, and prices are steady at 16c to 16½c.

The receipts of butter during the past week were 24,986 packages, against 24,352 packages for the week previous and 21,764 for the corresponding week last year.

The exports from Montreal during the past week were 13,527 packages, against 11,296 packages for the same week last year.

Country Produce

Beans.—The market for beans was quiet and prices unchanged at $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel for choice primes.

Honey.—Business in honey was dull and the market is featureless. We quote: Ex-tracted white clover honey, 7c to 7½c per 10-lb. tin, and 6½c to 7c in 60-lb. tins; buck-wheat honey, 6c to 6½c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13½c.

Maple Product.—There was no change in maple product, for which the demand was slow. We quote:—Syrup, in 60-gallon kegs, 5½c to 6¼c per lb.; in tins, 60c to 65c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c per imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8½c to 9c per lb.

Hops.—The market for hops remains quiet and steady. We quote: Choice Canadians, 28c to 29c; and fair to good, at 24c to 25c per lb.

Ashes.—The market for potash was quiet and steady at the recent decline in prices. First sorts, $5.25 to $5 30; seconds, $4.85; and first pearls, at $7.60 per 100 lb.

English Produce Markets

London, June 19.—Finest Canadian cheese is quoted at 48s to 49s; butter, firm, at 92s to 96s.

Bristol, June 19.—The market for cheese is steady at 54s to 56s.

Liverpool, June 19.—Cheese, easy; finest white, old, 53s; do., new, 47s; finest colored, old, 50s; do. new, 47s.

Cheese Boards

Brockville, Ont., June 19.—At the regular meeting of the cheese board Saturday the offerings were 7,662 boxes, of which fully two-thirds were in the colored column. The salesmen knowing the firm tons of the mar-ket, anticipated high prices, and in this respect they were treated more liberally than they expected, the top figure paid reaching 9⅞c. But all the salesmen did not have the opportunity of parting with their goods at this price or they would have really done so. It was left to one lone buyer to reach the high water mark. He called a few spe-cial lots, then disappeared in the back-ground, leaving his competitors in suspense and the unsold salesmen to wonder if things would come their way in the same rosy hue. While 9 11-16c and 9 13-16c were offered in a few hands, the ruling bid was anchored at 9⅝c, and not many anxious buyers even at this figure. The market had its curious features. Several salesmen who pointedly refused 9 11-16c and 9 13-16c, afterwards seemed satisfied with 9⅝c and took it.

The presence on the board for the first time this season of A. J. Brice, the Montreal exporter, introduced a few things out of the ordinary. Right off the bat he bid 9⅝c for the entire white offering. He was not suc-cessful on the first call and getting every-thing his own way on the second call at the same bid induced three large combina-tions, representing 1,760 boxes, which weekly go into other regular channels to sell. He then left the meeting to catch his train for Montreal and the fun began shortly after-wards. Mr. Patton equalled Mr. Brice's bid and got 100 boxes. A little bit of friendly business rivalry shot the prices skyward. Mr. Dickey opened with 9 11-16c, Mr. Patton went 9 3-4c, Mr. Dickey came back with 9 13-16c, and Mr. Charles Earle shoved it to 9⅞c and obtained the call, taking 60 white and 382 colored.

As near as can be ascertained the total sales of the day reached 9,020, divided as follows: Patton, 250; C. Earle, 450; Bissell, 1,700; Gardiner, 320; Brice, 1,800; Dickey, 1,-000; D. E. Earle, 200; Murphy, 1,100; Web-ster, 600; Derbyshire, 1,600.

Belleville, June 19.—There was offered here 3,760 boxes of white and 120 colored; sales on the market were 640 boxes at 9½c and 1,015 boxes at 9 7-16c; on the curb all sold at board prices.

London, Ont., June 19.—At the market eleven factories boarded 1,600 boxes, being 1,270 colored and 330 white; 650 boxes sold on board at 9½c; balance on street at the same price, and some lots 1-16c better.

Russell, Ont., June 19.—At the Russell cheese board 1,300 boxes were boarded, most-ly white. Small lots sold at 9 9-16c.

Vankleek Hill, June 19.—There were 1,744 boxes of white cheese and 172 boxes of col-ored cheese boarded here; 1,261 boxes sold on the board at 9½c, and another lot of 44 boxes at 9⅝c. For the balance 9 7-16c was offered, but the salesmen would not sell, and per-mission was given to sell on the street. The bidding at 9½c advanced to 9⅝c; then Hodgson Bros. bid 9 7-16c. After several calls, with no sales, the offer of 9½c was made by Willer & Riley for 300 boxes; Hodgson Bros. also bid 9½c and got 851 boxes; Willer & Riley got 410. The offer of 9 7-16c was made for balance, but the salesmen would not accept it, as they wanted 9½c and said they would not sell for less.

Crysler, Ont., June 19.—At the cheese board 1,131 boxes of cheese were offered, and 1,050 sold at 9½c; the balance sold at 9 9-16c.

Cornwall, June 19.—At the Cornwall cheese board 1,217 boxes white and 375 colored were boarded; 1,522 white and colored sold for 9½c.

Alexandria, June 19.—The cheese board of-ferings were 1,046 white and 248 colored. All sold at 9½c.

Watertown, N.Y., June 19.—Cheese sales, 8,700 boxes of large colored, 9⅛c; small whites, 9¼c to 9½c; colored twins, 9⅛c to 9½c; white twins, 9⅛c to 9¼c; 9¼ ruling.

Cowansville, June 19.—At the board twen-ty-six creameries offered 1,753 boxes of but-ter and twenty-three factories offered 1,145 boxes of cheese; 1,009 boxes of butter and 945 boxes of cheese were sold. Fresh but-ter sold at 20c to 20¼c, and salted butter at 19⅛c to 19⅞c; cheese sold at 9⅜c to 9 7-16c.

St. Hyacinthe, June 19.—At the butter and cheese board 1,303 boxes of butter were of-fered and 1,253 boxes sold; 1,232 boxes of cheese were offered and 1,180 boxes sold. Thirty-five factories were registered on the board. Butter sold at 19¼c to 19⅝c, and cheese at 9⅜c to 9⅝c. Cool cured cheese sold at 9½c.

Arthabaska, June 19.—At the cheese board 2,657 boxes were offered and sold at 9 3-16c; all sent to Montreal.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain.—Very little business was done lo-cally to-day in Manitoba wheat, and it is not thought there will be much demand dur-ing the balance of the month. The demand is strong for oats and prices are steadily tending upward.

Flour.—A firm feeling prevails in the lo-cal flour market, in sympathy with the con-tinued strength in the raw material, but in spite of this fact it seems to be somewhat difficult to get prices for the manufactured article any higher than they are at present. The demand from all sources for spring wheat grades is reported good, and the mar-ket is fairly active. We quote: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.40 to $5.60; strong bakers', $5.10 to $5.30; winter wheat pat-ents, $5.50; straight rollers, $5 to $5.15, and in bags, $2.40 to $2.50.

Millfeed.—There was no advance in the market for millfeed, the feeling in bran being still easy, while the demand for shorts is fairly good at steady prices. We quote: Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $20 to $21 per ton; Ontario winter wheat bran, in bulk, $16.50 to $17.50; shorts, $19 to $20; mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to qual-ity.

Oats.—The tone of the market for rolled oats is firm, but the volume of business pass-ing is small, and prices are unchanged at $2.22½ per bag. The demand for cornmeal is also limited at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay.—According to cable advices received here of late there has been no improvement in the condition of the foreign markets for Canadian baled hay; consequently business in this direction has been somewhat check-ed, although the prices realized of late have not been altogether unprofitable to shippers. Locally a fair trade is passing, and prices show no change. We quote:—No. 1, $9 to $9.25; No. 2, $7.75 to $8.25; clover, mixed, $6.75 to $7.25; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

Wheat Markets

At the Chicago market this morning July options opened at 88 3-4 and later were quoted at 88⅞. September options opened at 84⅝ and later were quoted at 84⅜. De-cember options were quoted at 84⅞.

At the Winnipeg market 1.00 was bid for June option, but no sales were made during the morning. For July options 1.00½ was asked and 1.00¼ bid.

Wheat Inspection

Winnipeg, June 19.—No. 1 hard, 1 car; No. 2 northern, 7 cars; No. 2 northern, 33 cars; No. 3 northern, 15 cars; other grades, 18 cars; total, 74 cars; same date last year, 112 cars.

Manitoba Crop Report

Winnipeg, June 19.—A crop bulletin just issued by the Manitoba Department of Agri-culture estimates an increased area of 231,-353 acres of wheat in the crop this year. The increased area in oats is 87,665 acres and in barley 71,234 acres. Total increase in grain crops is 384,298 acres. Total area of wheat under crop 2,643,588 acres, barley 432,298 acres, oats 1,031,239 acres. Total area under grain crop, 4,147,765 acres; total area under all crops, 4,256,826 acres. Live stock of all classes came through the win-ter in fair condition. Owing to wet weather sowing of oats and barley was considerably delayed. Wheat was sown in a good seed bed and prospects are excellent; in fact, never better for this time of year. Pros-pects for satisfactory dairying are bright and general conditions good.

Egg Market

The condition of the egg market is weak, and the demand is now reported to be rather slow. Dealers state that owing to the hot weather an average of one to one and a half dozen per case are bad quality and this has had a great deal to do with stopping the de-mand. Owing to the small consumptive de-mand the stocks are increasing. Dealers quote 15c to 15½c for straight receipts. Some enquiry is reported from the Eng-lish market, but prices are still too high allow of any business being done.

The receipts during the past week were 7,981 cases, against 9,188 cases for the week previous and 5,686 cases for the correspond-ing week lart year.

Cattle Markets

There was an active demand at the east end cattle market this morning and the sales were large. The general tone of the mar-ket was easy, although there was little or no change in prices. The offerings were 900 head of cattle, 200 hogs and 300 sheep and lambs. Good cattle sold at $5 and com-mon at $2.50 to $3. A few selects sold as high as $5.25. Hogs sold at $6.50 to $6.75, and sheep at $4 per 100 lb.

At the Point St. Charles market about 500 hogs were offered and sales were made at $6.50 to $6.75, and $7 for selects.

LAST WEEK'S SHIPMENTS.

Last week's shipments of cattle from the port of Montreal were 4,739 head of cattle, 590 sheep and 23 horses. Of the cattle, 250 were shipped by a Montreal firm to Havre, France, for the French market. This was the first time for a number of years that a shipment of Canadian cattle was made to France. The market is improving a little, and the shipments of cattle are becoming larger each week.

Trade Very Dull

The most pessimistic collection of travel-lers that have dropped into the city in a month of Sundays are the band that re-turned from the road at the end of the week.

"Doing nothing," is almost the universal report to their firms. They report business unusually dull.

"Say, I was glad to get in off the road," said a shoe traveller in discussing the situ-ation. "I have never had a poorer trip. The people are not buying anything these days. Why, I did not make my expenses, and every other man in my line has the same report. Business in the East is par-ticularly bad. One man who had been in a big shoe factory in Quebec says that in the cutting room where there were usually forty or fifty men, only five cutters were at work. The Ontario factories are in the same position almost. There is nothing do-ing, and the staffs have been cut down until trade improves."

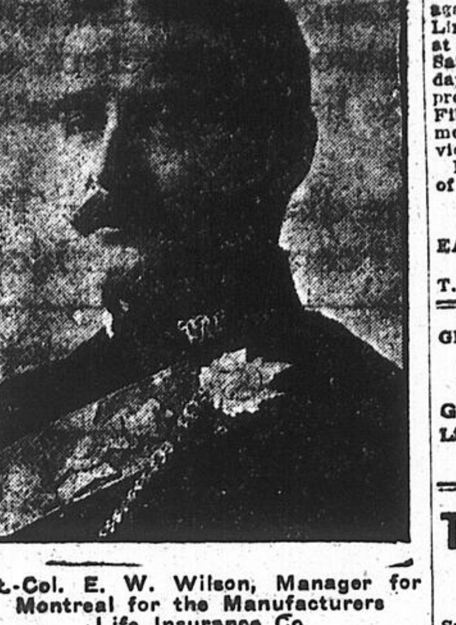
A grocery traveller had the same tale of woe.

"I don't know what has happened," he said. "People must be consuming sugar and teas just the same, but I couldn't earn my salt. Every traveller I met was bewail-ing the dullness. Any traveller who comes in off the road this week and tells you that he has done good business, is loading you up. I wouldn't mind a dull week or two, but business has been getting worse all summer, and I don't see much prospect of it picking up, either."

INSURANCE

Lt.-Col. E. W. Wilson, manager for Mont-real of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co., is one of the best known and most popu-lar insurance men in Montreal. Col. Wilson took charge of the Montreal office when Mr. J. F. Junkin resigned to become managing director of the company, and under his di-rection the local office has become recognized

PROMINENT INSURANCE MEN.



Lt.-Col. E. W. Wilson, Manager for Montreal for the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co.

as one of the most productive agencies on the company's list. For a number of years Lt.-Col. Wilson was also very actively identified with militia work and had the honor of rising from the ranks of the Vic-toria Rifles to the rank of colonel. He is regarded as an authority on military doings throughout the Dominion.

New Insurance Firm

The Ontario Gazette gives notice of the incorporation of Eastmure & Lightbourn, Limited, to take over the business of East-Mure & Lightbourn in Toronto as agents and managers of insurance and manufactur-ing companies, and to carry on the business of financial and other agencies and manager-ships. The share capital is placed at $100,-000.

Equitable Life

It is expected that the report of State Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks on the Equitable Life Assurance Society will be submitted to the Attorney-General in Al-bany next week. The superintendent and his assistants are busy preparing the re-port, and are making every effort to com-plete it so that it can go before the proper authorities within the next few days. It is a more voluminous document than the Frick report, as it includes the testimony of nearly every person directly interested in the society. Paul Morton, chairman of the board of directors of the Equitable, will do nothing in the way of outlining his policy, acting on the resignation of officers or re-organizing the affairs of the society until he is acquainted with the contents of the superintendent's report.

SHIPS AND SHIPPERS

Steamers on their way up the river are the Kensington, Pretorian and Montreal, with passengers from Liverpool, Glasgow and Antwerp respectively; the Jacona and Fremona will also arrive to-day or to-mor-row. The Cervona is also signalled.

Yesterday the Allan French liner Sarma-tian, Capt. Rennie, came in from Havre, bringing several old country French people, who will make their home in Canada. This immigration shows signs of increase, and the class coming is eminently suitable.

The Victorian, with the Canadian Manu-facturers on board, arrived at Moville at 2 a.m. and Liverpool 6 p.m. yesterday, all well. She was detained by fog off Cape Race. The Dominion has arrived out, all well.

The Bavarian, which left Montreal with the Bisley team Friday and Rimouski Satur-day, is reported off Cape Ray, 551 miles below Quebec, at 3.30 p.m. Sunday.

Messrs. McLean, Kennedy & Co. are load-ing the Yanariva for London, and the Nord Amerika for Hull.

The ALTERATION DISCOUNT SALE

AN AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING TO-DAY

Discounts to right of them! Discounts to left of them! Discounts in front of them! Discounts behind them! "There seems to be a discount on everything," remarked one of this morning's early shoppers. Exactly, madam—everything but the Groceries. You probably appreciate the impossibility of maintaining the pace of value-giving, arranging two bargain days during the week—Tuesday and Friday, and giving discounts on Groceries at the same time.

The task of cataloguing all the special values—specifying the percentage of discounts on every line of goods, becomes less feasible as the store increases in size. We won't, therefore, essay the task for fear of missing something. Will content ourselves with printing representative items from each section and changing the list daily. Don't miss a day in reading The Store of Satisfaction's advertisement, else you're likely to miss the item you are most interested in.

The object of the discount sale: Preparing for re-arrangement of departments—the changing of stocks which will occur so soon as the final thousand of feet of floor space that completes the block are ready available. Now for the details:
