

Second Annual Firemen's Costume Dance For Hallows'en Great Success

Large Attendance With Majority Dressed in Variety of Costumes Makes For Gala Evening

The Huntingdon Firemen's Hallows'en Costume Dance, held on Saturday night in the hall, was a most successful event. About 370 persons attended and more than half this number were in costume of great variety. The success of such dances is dependent upon the number of people who attend in costume and therefore this dance was an unqualified success by reason of the large attendance. Some of the costumes just came to see the costumes and the dancing and judging. Thirty-six prizes were awarded to winners in costume and there were also 28 door prizes.

The music of the Merry Music Makers was supplemented by that of Lloyd Duhamel, who played for the square dances, while Emmet Duhamel did the calling. Dancing started about 9:30 p.m. and continued until 1 a.m. The judging of the costumes started at about 11:30 p.m. and took about one hour before being completed and the prizes were awarded. The judges were: Mrs. L. Capello, Mrs. L. M. Kelly, Mrs. O. Sammler, L. Maron, of Huntingdon and Mr. McEwen of Ormstown. A grand march was called and this continued until all the various classes of costumes were judged. As each class was completed a new class was called. It was no easy task to judge costumes as there were many costumes of merit and originality. The classes consisted of: Nicest Costume; Most Gruesome; Elaborate Costume; Most Comic; Best Couple. Each class had three main prizes and a consolation, making eight prizes in the first four and two in the last. There were Brides and Grooms, Spanish Ladies, Bathing Beauties, Girls dressed as men and men dressed as girls, Naval officers, Santa Claus, Mounties, Pirates and a host of others. It was truly a gay affair. Several men's prizes were awarded to girls and vice versa, as it was not possible to know the difference until all the costumes were judged. Quite a large number were the full faced rubber masks and it was most difficult to tell who was behind them and of course added to the fun. For instance the bathing beauty turned out to be a young boy who successfully passed as a girl, even in a bathing suit, and a take-off of the Marilyn Bell swim. Probably one of the best and most original costumes was that which took four persons—it was a cow attended by two herdsmen. The costume for the cow was home-made as was all the other parts. Every once in a while, the cow would stop in the parade and one of the tenders would proceed to milk it. On one of these occasions, some of the boys attempted to do the milking and the cow gave out a kick which sent the intruder to the floor. Of course all of this caused much amusement. It was an evening of wholesome fun and everything was quite orderly.

The prizes for costumes were awarded as follows:

Dr. D. Wilson, Chateaugay Day Speaker At O'town High

Gives Inspiring Address Entitled "A Look at Our Schools" As Part of Program

Dr. D. Wilson Chateaugay day—3 Dr. D. Wilson, writer of the "Design for Living" column of a well-known Montreal newspaper, was the guest speaker at the annual Chateaugay Day ceremonies held in Ormstown High School on October 27, 1954. This distinguished guidance counsellor delivered an inspiring address on the interesting subject, "A Look at Our Schools".
Using brilliant flashes of wit Dr. Wilson observed that education was the largest, single enterprise in Canada from the point of view of money spent on it and time involved in it. He averred that schools have ceased to be the concern of boards, teachers, and a few interested parents and have become the concern of the entire community.
The capacity audience was cautioned against glibly believing the cries that modern education has literally "gone to the dogs" in teaching personnel, teaching methods, and in its products, the children. Research and facts are necessary before a criticism is made of our schools.
"You've got to state what is missing and prove that it is missing and then tell us precisely how you make up that difference," Dr. Wilson suggested that time might be more profitably spent on the acquisition of social attributes and on human relations—enabling youngsters to get along with each other. The Doctor referring to the useless argument of the proficiency of the proficiency of modern youth in the traditional 3 R's implied that today's school children know more about the 3 R's than their counterparts of fifty years ago.
Doctor Wilson emphasized that we must adopt a broad perspective with regard to education:

"How can we make it a cooperative venture for the good of our society?"
"How is the enterprise going to fit into the kind of world in which we live?"
Blame-laying is now outmoded: We must, according to Dr. Wilson, attempt to analyse a situation with a view to progress and not be narrow in our vindictive desire to find "who's to blame".
In a characteristic summary the guest speaker stated succinctly that everyone was looking at education everywhere all the time because it was the country's biggest enterprise: He argued that we must evaluate our schools calmly in a scientific way.
Doctor Wilson concluded with two recommendations:
(1) that less emphasis be placed on the competitive spirit of awards and examinations and that greater care be taken to have a youngster work to his utmost capacity, and
(2) that a major aim of our schools ought to be the teaching of communication and its varied ramifications including at the senior grades some instruction with regard to the semantic evaluation of words.
Dr. Wilson was introduced by Mr. James White, Chairman of the Ormstown School Board, and thanked by Mr. E. A. King B.A., M.A., principal of O.H.S.
Miss Edith Stevenson president of the Student Council gave an account of the Battle of Chateaugay and a display of museum articles was arranged in the upper corridor.

Bills Cause Long Discussion At Town Council Meeting

Damage to Fire Engine May Reflect Back to Manufacturer

The Huntingdon Town Council met on Tuesday night for regular session with all members present.

Main centre of discussion was when the bills were being read and several caused much comment. A number of bills were presented for labour at the fire station and it was thought that there were enough people around there to do most of these jobs instead of engaging others to do them. Alderman Picard was very much against this practice and Mayor Cappello said that the men would have to do more of these jobs and help to save the Town money. Another item causing several bills was for the tank of the fire engine and the pump which operates the hose lines. It appears that the pump was short of oil and the bearings and what-not became hot and seized when being operated. The engine was in the shop and was not registering the amount of oil properly and therefore the oil was much lower than should be. Bills totalling almost $200 were read in connection with this. However, it was finally decided that orders of this kind should be given to local concerns and not sent outside. If there is too much of a price difference, this should be brought to the attention of the parties concerned.
The bills were passed for payment with the exception of those in connection with repairs on the fire truck. These are to be checked by Alderman McGerrigle as there are one or two that were not authorized.
It was decided to make a donation to the Legion Poppy Campaign in the amount of $10. Pro-Mayor Caza is to lay the Town wreath on the Cenotaph on the occasion of the Remembrance Day observance.
Deeds have been received for the parcels of land needed for the extension of the sewer works in conjunction with the very near future. In the matter of compelling restaurant-grocery stores in town to close at the same hour as other stores and on the same days as other stores, it was decided not to take any action.

An increase in weekly wage was requested on behalf of Constable J. Brooks. An increase of $5. was granted.
R. Donnelly at the Filter Plant was asked to increase his wages. After some discussion it was decided to increase his monthly salary by $10.
Sixty-minute parking is to be enforced on Chateaugay Street, at least until the snow comes. After the snow it will be a one-way street once again until Spring. Further discussion will take place in the spring as to what shall be done regarding the traffic on this street.
Chief L'Heureux was present at the meeting and he was instructed to enforce the sixty-minute parking law and to keep trucks from double parking at any point.

An application was received from Petro-Fina to build a Gasoline Service Station on Bouchette Street. Some other small repair jobs were listed. Permits were granted to all applicants.
Three more applications for fire protection were received. It was decided that this matter of fire protection for points outside the town would be discussed at an adjourned meeting on Monday next.
Milk routes were received as follows—For samples taken on September 20th: Elmhurst, 59,000cc; Belle Valley, 57,000cc; Pleasant Valley Dairy, 17,000cc; Monique, 88,000cc; Goodfellow, 2,000cc. Samples taken on October 18th: Pleasant Valley Dairy, 1,600 cc; Belle Valley, 18,000cc; Elmhurst, 92,000cc; Monique, 96,000cc; Goodfellow, 2,300cc. The secretary was instructed to write Pleasant Valley Dairy and Belle Valley in the large amount of coliforms in their milk distributed in Huntingdon. They must do more to bring this down in the next reports.

The matter of a by-law for suppressing the nuisance of barking dogs was discussed and the secretary reported that he had not yet prepared such a by-law. Chief L'Heureux voiced an opinion that he doubted that little could be done in this matter. However, the secretary was requested to check the matter and see if he can draft a by-law whereby the nuisance can be stopped.

Cenotaph Unveiled on Sunday At Beauharnois

Memorial to Men of Two Wars Who Fought And Lost Their Lives in Battle

The unveiling of a Cenotaph in commemoration of those who lost their lives in two World Wars took place on Sunday afternoon, October 31st, at Sauvé Park. The Cenotaph, built by Mr. Brault, Valleyfield, Que., was the result of a campaign promoted by the Cenotaph Committee and subscribed to by the local citizens. The parade led by the Huntingdon Citizens' Band, followed by veterans, color parties and cadets left the Legion Hall at 1:45 p.m. It comprised Legionnaires from Barnack 146 Canadian Legion, Legion representatives from Huntingdon, Howick, Chateaugay, Caughnawaga, Ormstown and Valleyfield. Presidents of the Branches were requested to bring Color Parties.
Also attending were K. L. Woolley, Provincial Secretary, Alex Solomin, President of the Quebec Provincial Command; Ed. Burgess, Commander Chateaugay Branch of the Legion; H. C. Stinton, Standard Chemicals; H. C. Spencer, Howard Smith Paper Mills; W. E. Kilgour, Kilgour & Son; George Hays, Electro Reagents; Commissioner René Dupuis, Quebec Hydro; Paul Maréchal, Quebec Hydro; Robert Cauchon, M.P.; Edgar Hebert, M.L.A.; Presidents Labour Union, André S. Daoust, Howard Smith Standard Chemicals, R. G. Lacoste; Reagents, Germain Bagwie, Aluminium Corp., André Jolin, Kilgour & Son; Delvine Leboeuf, as well as presidents local associations, namely: A. Caron, Moose Lodge; A. Desrosiers, Knights of Columbus; R. Faubert, St. John Baptist Society; Jacques Des Serves, Junior Chamber of Commerce; René P. Ledoux, Richelieu Club; Andrew R. Turnbull, Rotary Club.
An invitation to attend was forwarded to the next of kin of those whose names are inscribed upon the Cenotaph. There were four young men killed in the first world war years 1914-1918: Alfred Simpson, Ashton, Henry J. Goodfellow, J. Roland Kilgour, George Smith.
The Second World War dead whose names are inscribed—years 1939-1945—Paul Barrette, Jean, Louis Courteau, Roger Faubert, Cecil Glen Hunter, Armand Labarre, René Laberge, Claude H. Leduc, Jacques Mercier.
The ceremony was constituted by Mr. Daigneault, as acting Mayor.

Mr. Daigneault spoke of the significance of the dedication and the tremendous response of the community to fulfill the long felt need of such an edifice to keep the memory of the bravery of the young men in mind at all times. Mr. Gendron introduced Father Julien, who spoke of the devotion of the men to their country. Rev. Barry Valentine was called upon to add his contribution to the dedication, saying that this was indeed a symbolism, a veritable altar, a key to life and death and to the ultimate supreme sacrifice. "The men who had fallen had devoted themselves to lives of service and dedication and it was truly fitting that the memorial should be a thing of reality upon All Saints Day. Rev. James W. Pines spoke on the text synonymous with the sacrifice, "Great Love Hath No Man than This". Through the efforts of the men who so gallantly gave their lives we are able to live in freedom in this Canada of ours. Through their devotion they had shown the love of Jesus Christ who too died that we might live.

Mr. P. Bourassa, President of Legion Branch 146, gave an excellent address on behalf of the Legion in English and French saying that the accomplishment and dream of the Legion to have a Memorial had really been realized. It would serve as a symbol of freedom, love and devotion in preserving the memory of those loved by families in the vicinity. It would remain as an inspiration and living message to them.
Mr. Solomon, Provincial Commander of the Canadian Legion, offered his thanks to the people of Beauharnois and to the Legionnaires for their contributions towards completing such a gigantic effort and realizing an everlasting reminder of the men who had died on the field of battle. These men whose sacrifice allowed us the privilege of freedom to still be able to uphold our own part of the part of humanity. Mr. Solomon spoke of the place held in the community by members of the Legion, all still working together with their love of Queen and country. A patriotism and fervor kept alive and warm by the thought of their comrades who had died on Flanders Field or in which ever service they had chosen. Mr. Daigneault and Mr. Solomon unveiled the Cenotaph and Mr. Alex MacLachlan raised the Union Jack to half mast. The Last Post was sounded by Mr. Bourassa, President of Beauharnois Legion 146. After Reveille was sounded, the band played "God Save the Queen". The entire ceremony was reverent and sincere as was befitting the solemnity of the occasion.
Tea was served to visitors at the close of the ceremony by kindness of the Cenotaph Committee, at the City Hall.

High Voltage

ALUMINUM CABLE from Canada was used in a Peruvian high-voltage power line, installed at altitudes of from 13,000 to 15,000 feet—the world's highest. Canada supplied not only the cable but also the technical assistance required on this record job. We imagine that aluminum's light weight was particularly appreciated by the llamas or whatever other beasts of burden were used to get the cable to the top.

In the rugged mountain country of British Columbia where Alcan's own huge Kitimat development is going on, the aluminum transmission lines used represent another record: they are the largest-diameter overhead power lines in the world. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

through the earth into the warm sunlight and rain. Summer is the season when most plants look their loveliest, full-grown with brightly-colored flowers nodding in the breeze or turning their faces up to the sky. But what of Autumn? Late September is the time of year when most plants have finished a season's growing and are preparing in a number of ways to see to it that plants of the same kind will be seen about the landscape the next year. And September is the time for the wise boy or girl who is interested in and likes wild flowers to busy himself in making ready for his own private collection of living wild flowers for the next Spring.

The most interesting way to do this is quite a simple one—he will take an Autumn walk where his favourite wild flowers grow and take home a collection of their seeds. He will be able to plant these seeds and watch his private garden of wild flowers grow right from the start the next Spring.

Almost all wild flowers and trees produce seeds each year from which new plants of the same kind will grow. Many plant seeds, if not picked, simply fall to the ground and grow near where the old plant was or remains. Others blow about in the wind, or fasten themselves to the fur of animals, or in some other way end up growing far from where they began. Some will grow well just about anywhere with little or no care. Others can live only in certain kinds of earth, or with a special amount of sunlight or watering. But boys and girls will find many types of wild flowers that will grow very well if planted as seeds, watered and cared for from time to time. Some will grow quite well in a tin or pot filled with earth in a sunny window indoors. People who have tried growing wild flowers in window boxes and gardens for a number of years soon learn which flowers grow best in the kind of earth that they have about their home. A wise rule when collecting seeds is to notice where the wild flower was growing: Was it in wet ground? Was it in a sunny field or in a shady corner of the woods? That will tell you how much water the baby plant will need and whether or not they will want to be in the hot sun when they come up in your garden the next year.

Seeds are of many sizes and shapes, but one simple rule will tell you where on the plant they will be found. Seeds grow from the centre parts of flowers that have opened and then withered away. So, naturally, you will find the seeds at the places on the branches and stems where you would expect the flowers to be found. Sometimes they are hidden. Every boy and girl knows where an apple tree's seeds are stored away. In the centre of the apple. All the fruits of the countryside contain seeds. The tiny hard parts of a raspberry, for example, are the seeds of the raspberry bush. Nuts themselves are seeds—though, in Nature, they are covered with hard shells. Peas are seeds, but grow in long pods. The "fluff" of dandelions is attached to hundreds of seeds. These seeds would all grow if planted and properly cared for in the right kind of earth. Some plants produce many thousands of seeds.

Some people who like to grow wild flowers from seeds find it easier to plant the seeds first in shallow boxes, the seeds a few inches apart, and to transplant the tiny green things that come up. You might like to transplant some young wild flowers from the countryside, along with some of the earth that they like best. It's often more interesting, though, to grow your plants right from seeds.

If you are going to plant your seeds out of doors, by all means plant them in the Fall, they will be up and growing that much earlier in the Spring. Wild flowers are easy to grow and cost nothing. Some are in many ways just as attractive as flowers that are bought and sold. But, most importantly, they are something any boy or girl can grow for themselves and learn from, and care for, having the fun of a garden all his own.

If any boy or girl would like to start his own wild flower garden and is not able to get seeds of his own, he can have some that were collected around the Quebec country, side this summer by writing to Uncle Don, in care of this newspaper, and sending his name and address and a four cent stamp.)

Hemmingford High School Notes

On Saturday, October 16, the boys and girls football teams went to Ormstown to play ball but as it was too wet they then went on to Huntingdon where they played two games each. Much to our surprise our boys won both their games against Huntingdon and Ormstown. The girls won one game against Huntingdon and lost the one against Ormstown.

OSLO, NORWAY

Oslo is a city of many towns. On January 1, 1949, Oslo grew from a small city of 177 square miles to a large metropolis of 177 square miles and at the same time doubling its population. Thus when you travel about Oslo, every turn you take will be different. In a sense, therefore, Oslo is a city of many curious facts. And not all parts of the city can be reached by land. Some are only attainable by one of the many ferries that ply between the City Hall and the outer realms of the city.

The greatest landmark in the city is the spanning new City Hall building completed in 1950. It was opened during the celebrations of Oslo's ninth centennial anniversary of the founding of the city. The City Hall is a two-story building housing all the municipal offices. The City Hall overlooks the harbour which is deep enough to permit destroyers and the like to tie up directly across from the City Hall. Behind the City Hall are the concave wings which are modern office buildings which house some of the ministries of the Federal Government as well as some of the diplomatic corps and large companies.

The main street of Oslo is Carl Johansgate which stretches from the Royal Palace, a cream colour building on top of a hill overlooking the city and the harbour, to the other side of the city to the Railway Station. By the Railway Station there are many fishing wharves where the fishing trawlers unload their catches early in the morning to be shipped to the interior of the country. Nearby these wharves are the warehouses of many of the famous Norwegian shipping companies whose ships span the globe.

Oslo has a number of exceptionally interesting museums. There is the Kon-Tiki Museum where the famous balsa wood raft which was used by the Thor Heyerdahl Expedition in 1947 in the historical 5000-mile trip from Peru to Polynesia. The museum has many photographs, etc., depicting the voyage.

Near by the Kon-Tiki Museum is the Polar House Museum which contains the "Fram", the vessel in which the three great explorers Fridtjof Nansen, Otto Sverdrup and Ronald Amundsen carried on their explorations of the Arctic Regions.

Then there is the Viking Ship Museum nearby containing the Oseberg Ship (about 800 A.C.), the Gokstadship and the Tune Ship. These ships are amazing pieces of structure, all of wood. They look like a large wide punt with pointed bows and sterns. I suppose that each ship could carry 50 men, however there was little or no shelter for the crew and the passengers.

Oslo has one of the largest Ski Jumps in the world—the Holmenkollen Ski Jump. It was at this jump that the Olympic Ski Jumps took place during the 1952 Winter Olympics. Beneath the jump, there is a large museum which contains various types of skis and bindings, etc., dating back to the first skis invented.

Bygdøy is one of the suburbs of Oslo. It is actually a peninsula on which a number of the foregoing museums are situated. Also there is the summer home of the King of Norway as well as the surrounding farms which belong to the royal family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, Messrs. Eric and Reginald Norris of Granby spent Sunday at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Norris spent Tuesday in Plattsburgh, N.Y.

Mrs. Wilmer Fisher has returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, St. Lambert.

Mrs. Douglas Jackson, Cabri, Sask., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Robert Brownlee, her sisters, Mrs. Alfred Cookman and Mrs. Kyle and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deneault spent the week-end at Cornwall, Ont., visiting relatives. Mr. Lorne McCanse of Montreal was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Sample.

The pallbearers were Alex Dillon, Tom Stacey, Donald E. Black, Westly McComb, Frank Martin and Allan Ritchie.

The Late Mr. John Holmes John Holmes of Howick, Que., passed away Friday afternoon, October 22, 1954, at the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown. Mr. Holmes, in his 82nd year, had been failing in health for several weeks.

Born August 19, 1873, he was the son of the late Mr. John Holmes and the late Anne Wilson. He was predeceased by three sisters, Margaret, Mary (Mrs. A. Campbell) and Annie, and two brothers James A. and Robert O.

A large number of relatives and friends, some from distant points, gathered at Georgetown Church on Sunday afternoon, October 24th, to pay their last respects to an old relative and friend. Interment was at Georgetown Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marian Greig; one daughter, Jessie, Mrs. Irwin S. Gebbie, one son John W., and five grandchildren.

Sales Tax For Municipalities

THE Business Administration School conducted in the County Building, Huntingdon, for the past several weeks has been attracting very good attendances. The one last Wednesday evening was no exception and the subject had to do with School Law. During the past few years there has been much discussion on school matters and naturally quite a number were interested in this subject. During the course of the speaker's talk on the subject, the matter of school finances came into the picture and the means of raising such finances. It was noticed that one of the schools had a deficit.

In the question and answer period which followed the talks, this matter of finances was again to the fore. The chairman made a suggestion that in order to raise more funds, both the town and school municipalities should consider the imposition of a sales tax. It was pointed out that 140 other municipalities in Quebec were doing this and therefore Huntingdon should give the matter consideration. Apparently such a tax would be supplementing the present two per cent tax by the Province and this could be increased by one, two or three per cent according to the needs. The suggestion seemed to figure on a total of five per cent.

This would mean that the tax would apply on all goods sold in Huntingdon stores, which now come under the tax, being taxable to the extent of five per cent instead of the present two. The idea behind this is so that everybody shares in the cost of education, instead of as now, the brunt falling on the property owners. In the case of the Roman Catholic schools, no monthly fee is charged, but in the case of the Protestant school, such a fee is charged. In some measure therefore, non-property owners (or renters) do contribute a small amount to the upkeep of the school. However, it is considered that the renters should contribute a greater share of the burden as their children enjoy all the privileges extended. Further, the idea was to look for other avenues of taxation whereby the deficit spoken of would be cleared off by collection of such additional revenue.

However, the idea of a sales tax did not meet with too great an enthusiasm, and there were several arguments against such a measure. To begin with, the Provincial 2% tax, while it is tolerated by the people is not one of popular types of taxation and for many years the government has promised either to reduce it, or to abolish it entirely. It is what is termed a nuisance tax. No doubt the government does raise considerable money from this tax, but the method of doing so falls upon the business people who must maintain a record of its collection and see that it is remitted at certain periods to the government. Under this method, it amounts to an extra cost in bookkeeping for all business people and no one likes to pay it as an extra on price of goods purchased. Therefore it was felt that an imposition of additional amounts of this tax by the municipalities would only draw the ire of every taxpayer. The property owner would still not be relieved of additional tax. Some at the meeting thought the best way to secure the extra revenue would be by way of a tenants' tax.

It seems to us, that in view of the fact that monthly fees can be charged, that these should be increased to a point where they would compare with the taxation on property and be charged only to non-owners of property whose children attend the schools. Such fee should not be charged for children of property owners who are already contributing by way of regular taxation through property assessment. In case of large families, perhaps the fee could be adjusted on a sliding scale so that the burden would not be too great as compared to smaller families. Under the present system, those property owners who do not have children attending school pay only the property tax, while those with children attending, pay both tax and fee. A more equitable distribution along the lines suggested above might possibly solve the problem and with greater satisfaction to all concerned. Books and other supplies also involve considerable expense throughout the year to the parents of children attending the schools. We do not know the balance as between Property owners' children and Tenants' children attending the schools, but it is quite likely that the latter exceed the former by quite a margin. Thus by increasing the fee any loss from property owners would be absorbed and possibly some additional revenue would be gained. It should be adjusted with this in mind.

In any event, we believe the municipalities would be well advised to stay away from any imposition of further sales tax.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

June 12th, 1919.

The tenth Annual Ormstown Show had poor attendance from the totals from the other years. The afternoon generally were very warm causing many people to remain at their homes. The evening attendance was a little above the afternoon's but still low in comparison to the other years.

However there was an excellent display of cattle. Holsteins outnumbered the Ayrshires for the first time and their quality was just as good as their numbers. The sheep caused one to note the wider reputation of the Show. Previously, the breeders were chiefly from Quebec Province but this year flocks from the Western Ontario area who looked on Toronto as their annual goal, were present.

Due to the intense heat and the location of the pig pens and the poultry barn, these two classes suffered badly. The pigs could barely crawl out to the grass because of the hot weather. There was a large increase in numbers of poultry shown. However, the number decreased by the hot weather, killing off a number of the poultry exhibits.

The heavy classes in horses were especially fine. This is as it should be for despite the remark frequently heard that the day of the horse is over, the heavy Clydes or Percheron is the backbone of the country. The gold medal offered by the Clydesdale Association was carried off by R. Ness and Sons with their imported horse.

Friday evening an interesting contest took place between three teams for the hauling of a wagon loaded to a ton. The rear wheels were blocked and the horses had to haul the wagon the full length of the ring making two stops on the way. It was a pleasant watch the big teamers strain their collars and start off evenly together.

The contest was close, Wm. Cullen winning out with his team of blacks. In the light horses, it will be seen by a perusal of the Prize List that D. T. Greig and Wm. Cullen were the largest prize winners.

Each evening the Association arranged a little variety for the amusement of the crowd. The best was the greased pig on Wednesday night. It was not hard to catch, although some of the competitors found it too much for them, but the real amusement started after all the boys had left the ring and the ring managers started to chase the pig into his crate. The porker however had his wind up and whenever they tried to chase him down to the crate, he stood his ground and snorted and spit at them. After several failures to catch him, they finally had to give up the job and his majesty trotted out the main doors in style, head up and tail curled.

Beauharnois — So many are travelling at the present time, that the 5.20 N.Y.C. train from Montreal has to be run in two sections.

Huntingdon — That in a narrow street one side should be more favored for business than the other is remarkable but it is true of the chief street of the village. A contributing cause for many years has been that the sidewalk on the river side had jogs and ups and downs to a degree that most people prefer the west side where it was not in the shade. This defect has now been remedied by laying a cement sidewalk which gives an uninterrupted promenade along the bridges, excepting the jog at the old Eastern Township's building which alone remains. Donald McNair has given the village a handsome job.

Weekly Review

Lessons From History

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Politicians, economists, and labor leaders in particular can learn much from even an elementary study of history, ancient and modern. One of the most instructive periods is that of the first two centuries A.D. of the Roman Empire. The Romans had gained their empire by military conquest, followed by liberal treatment of the conquered peoples. In their wars with Carthage they had released the Mediterranean from the control of Carthaginian merchants who were trade monopolists and claimed exclusive rights in the western sea, sinking foreign trading ships on sight. In Rome itself, however, there was constant intrigue and often open battles between political groups for power. As in Soviet Russia today, the Roman emperors thought nothing of disposing of their rivals on trumped-up charges, and several emperors were assassinated by their guards.

Many and varied were the types of emperors, and they resorted to a variety of means of appalling or pleasing the populace. Nero, the most brazen and cruel of the despots, posed as a patron of the arts. To impress his subjects he built an enormous palace, garnished with gold and precious stones, in the port of which was a statue of himself one hundred feet high. He overplayed the part, however, and was forced to commit suicide.

In the following year there were three emperors, one after the other, all of whom died violent deaths. The next emperor, Vespasian, was the very opposite in type to that of Nero. He was the typical modern glad-hander who wise-cracked in public and considered himself one of the people. He commenced the building of the famous Colosseum to provide thrilling diversion for the populace. He restored the state from bankruptcy and died a natural death after ten years of efficient administration.

Seventeen years later, Domitian, another autocrat, came to power. He was very efficient, but ruthless—a mixture of Stalin and Hitler. He employed a host of informers and one never knew who would be the next victim of the emperor's suspicion. He enjoyed terrorizing his friends with hints of their impending doom. The tables were turned and he himself was murdered. He was followed by Nerva who dismissed the informers and sought to placate the people with policies familiar in our own times: state loans to farmers at moderate interest, and "mothers' allowances" to help pay the cost of bringing up a family. Naturally, such paternal policies were popular, but they called for more and more state aid and higher taxes.

Gradually there was a slowing down of industry and trade. As a remedy, farm laborers were compelled to work on the fields, were bound to the land and sank to the condition of serfs. Skilled workmen were compelled to join guilds (closed shops) and the guilds were completed to produce commodities according to government planning. Business was placed under similar restrictions. The Emperor Diocletian issued an edict setting the maximum price at which goods might be sold, and denounced "unrestricted profiteering" and "rampant individualism" as the causes that made the regulations necessary.

Things went from worse to worse. Merchants went out of business to avoid excessive taxation, and guild workers tried to escape forced labor by enlisting in the army. Municipal councils of towns and cities were compelled to raise taxes, and when the money could not be obtained from others, the councillors themselves had to pay over everything they owned. The final result was that the value or "purchasing power" of money was debased and it ceased to be widely used. Industry and commerce all but vanished, and the standard of living became very low. Imperial authority collapsed.

Thus the decline of the Roman Empire began before the barbarian nations invaded Italy without resistance. As one historian puts it: "A general decline of trade caused unemployment in the cities. At the same time there came a drift from the country into the cities. The result was an idle, shiftless mob which politicians kept quiet by free distribution of bread, oil, wine, and free shows." Yes, we can learn much from history.

Mrs. Nellie Barrier and daughter Naomi, and Mr. Alex Zineck of Montreal were Sunday guests at the home of the Misses Henderson.

The regular monthly meeting of the Georgetown Evening Auxiliary was held on Wednesday evening, October 27th, at the home of Mrs. Robert McCall, with an attendance of twenty members and one visitor. The president, Mrs. Peter Peddie, presided and opened the meeting with the singing of Psalm 109, "Unto the Hills Around". Mrs. Wm. The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA, (CP) — The capital is waiting expectantly to welcome back next week Queen Mother Elizabeth, who won this country's abiding affection 15 years ago when she travelled across the land with her husband, the late King George VI.

This time the 54-year-old Queen Mother's visit is limited to Ottawa, for a five-day stay from Nov. 12 to 17.

Many who will see her will recall a heart-warming incident here in May, 1939, when the king and queen threw protocol to the winds and walked unescorted into the midst of thousands of cheering veterans. It occurred after the ceremony in which King George unveiled the National War Memorial in the heart of Ottawa. The royal couple were supposed to enter their automobile and drive off. Instead, they responded to the roaring cheers of 2,000 First World War veterans, massed beside the memorial and walked into the throng. The veterans cleared their own laneways for the king and queen to pass among them and proudly became the royal guard.

Next week on Nov. 13, the queen mother will place a wreath at that memorial, in the midst of the massed floral tributes which will have been placed there two days earlier, Remembrance Day.

Tax Policy

The federal government is expected to wind up its fiscal year next March 31 with its deficit in nine years. Current indications, officials say, point to a deficit of possibly $80,000,000 to $100,000,000.

With that picture in mind, government departments now are preparing estimates for the next fiscal year and policy-makers are beginning to think about the tax policy which will be presented next spring by Finance Minister Harris in his first budget.

Reports last week said the experts are considering the possibility of reducing taxes in the 1955-56 budget, despite the likelihood the move would result in a large deficit.

If that decision is taken, informants said, it would be directed towards corporations and business generally rather than to the individual taxpayer. The idea would be to encourage greater economic activity and employment which would lift the entire economy.

The government is reportedly not worried about the effects of a $100,000,000 deficit this year and would be prepared to consider a deficit next year of two or three times that amount if, in the process business conditions were improved.

The need for improvement was pointed up by the following indications of future trends:

1. A third consecutive drop in 1954 in annual farm income—perhaps by as much as $450,000,000—to a level of $1,200,000,000.
2. A decline in the 1954 gross national product—value of all goods and services produced—possibly to $23,900,000,000 from the peak of $24,300,000,000 last year.

3. Reductions in retail sales and a decrease in Canada's foreign trade.

Mansur Resigns

Canada's "Mr. Housing" has resigned.

David B. Mansur, 49-year-old president of the government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, stepped out of the government's employ last week to enter private business in Toronto.

He was CMHC's first president at its founding in 1946, after wartime jobs as assistant chairman of the Foreign Exchange Control Board and the National War Finance Committee. He built CMHC up until last year its assets reached a record $607,000,000.

During the last eight years, under the National Housing Act, CMHC has extended more than 150,000 loans to finance more than 200,000 new homes.

BY-Elections

It's election time again in six federal constituencies where by-elections will be held Nov. 8 to fill vacancies in the House of Commons.

Last week 21 candidates filed nominations. Liberals and Progressive Conservatives will contest each riding. The CCF and Labor-Progressive (Communist) party each have entered four candidates. An Independent is also running.

The by-elections are in Montreal's St. Antoine-Westmount and St. Lawrence-St. George, Ontario's York West, Toronto Trinity and Stormont, and Manitoba's Selkirk.

The results will have no appreciable effect on the party strengths in the commons where Liberals hold 168 of 265 seats, Progressive Conservatives 50, CCF 23, Social Credit 15, and Independents 3.

Arctic Scene

From the far north came news of two developments—one modern and the other thousands of years old.

At Whitehorse in the Yukon the government plans to span the Yukon river with a 300-foot bridge to open the way for new development of that old settlement. Across the river a $3,000,000 hospital will be built, and plans laid out for residential subdivisions.

The government said it plans to make Whitehorse the hub of the Northwest. It began as a mining town in the Klondike gold rush of 1898. Present-day mining developments have given it new economic importance and the city is likely to benefit from the big hydro-electric possibilities of the Yukon watershed.

HEMMINGFORD GIRL MARRIED IN MONTREAL

CASE - PETCH

The marriage of Mary Evelyn, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Petch of Hemmingford, Quebec, to Mr. Donald Courtland Case, son of Mr. Glen S. Case and the late Mrs. Case of Montreal, took place on October 23rd, at seven-thirty in the evening in Divinity Hall Chapel of McGill University, Montreal, the Reverend H. K. Markell officiating. Mr. D. D. Evans was the organist and during the signing of the register played "Meditation" from Thais by Massenet. Baskets of mauve chrysanthemums and white pompons were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a Jean Patou model of Alpine rose pure silk taffeta, with a softly draped bodice and a full skirt extending into a slight train. Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a small headpiece of beaded rose satin, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Rubrum lilies.

Mrs. Garth Beckett, of Pointe Claire, as matron of honor for her sister, was in a frock of navy blue iridescent taffeta. She wore a pale blue feather hat, and carried a cascade bouquet of pale blue and dark blue carnations.

Lieut. Col. Kenneth M. Case acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Charles M. Petch of Moers, N.Y., brother of the bride, and Mr. Walter O. Nobes.

Mrs. Petch, the bride's mother, was in a gown of slate blue crepe, and wore a purple velvet hat, and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Case, stepmother of the bridegroom, was gowned in French blue peau de soie, and wore a hat of the same color, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

The reception was held at the University Women's Club, where mauve chrysanthemums and white pompons were used as decorations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Case left by motor for the Southern States, the bride travelling in a frock of midnight blue wool crepe, and wearing a cherry red velvet hat, a moleskin jacket and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of McGill University, Faculty of Commerce.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Petch, parents of the bride, and Mr. Robert Petch, of Hemmingford, Que., Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Petch of Moers, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nash, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. E. Mason, of Malone, N.Y.; Miss Phyllis Sample, of Plattsburg, N.Y.; Miss Estelle Marshall, of Sudbury; Miss Ruth Sinclair, of Peterborough; Dr. and Mrs. J. Wright, of Ottawa.

Silver Seal Winner

In the October issue of The Holstein-Friesian Journal there is an interesting report regarding the Holstein cow, Southview Francy Patroness, bred and owned by J. J. Murphy, Huntingdon, Que.

Southview Francy Patroness, type classified as Very Good, has recently earned for her owner a Silver Seal Certificate for lifetime production, issued by The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

In her ten lactation periods (the last one having been commenced at 11 years, 294 days of age), Southview Francy Patroness has produced a total of 160,992 lbs. milk, 5,325 lbs. fat, eight of these records having been made, consecutively, in the 305 day division. Her top record was 20,556 lbs. milk, 732 lbs. fat, in 305 days at 6 years of age. Her yearly records were: 15,316 lbs. M., 482 lbs. F. (2x milkings) in 365 days at 2 years; 10,606 lbs. M., 319 lbs. F. (2x) at 3 years; 15,836 lbs. M., 583 lbs. F. (3x) at 4 years; 18,212 lbs. M., 607 lbs. F. (3x) at 5 years; 20,556 lbs. M., 732 lbs. F. (3x) at 6 years; 18,149 lbs. M., 587 lbs. F. (3x) at 7 years; 17,014 lbs. M., 556 lbs. F. (3x) at 8 years; 19,685 lbs. M., 660 lbs. F. (3x) at 9 years; 13,460 lbs. M., 439 lbs. F. (2x) at 11 years; 12,158 lbs. M., 390 lbs. F. (2x) at 12 years; 11,360 lbs. F. (2x) commenced at 11 years, 294 days of age.

She was sired by Raymondale

Bluejay (Extra) and from Francy Ormsby Patroness (Good Plus) twice a winner at Valleyfield shows of her day.

Top Reproduction

In addition to being an outstanding Producer Southview Francy Patroness is also entitled to rank as an outstanding dam.

She has three daughters in the home herd:

Southview Alice Patroness (V.G.) with 43,940 lbs. milk in four 305-day lactations on 2x milkings.

Southview Laforit Francy (G.P.) with some 15,000 lbs. milk in each of her two 305-day, 2x records.

Southview Patsy (G.P.) whose first record is not yet reported.

An elder daughter went to B. S. Ingman, Lennoxville, and then to Gerald A. Williams, Birchton, Que.

Sons have been used by Bruno Monette, St. Timothee; Douglas Cameron, Huntingdon; Adelaire Girouard, St. Barbe; Edward Poirier, Huntingdon.

Another son, Southview Francy Tony, was also used for several years in the Southview herd, before being sold to another breeder.

New York Ayrshire Event

It was really a cheerful event without a single dull moment, that the annual Ayrshire event which was held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Oct. 28. It was the annual meeting and banquet of the Ontario Ayrshire Club of New York State and it was held just across the border at Ellensburg Depot, N.Y.

Upwards of 150 Ayrshire breeders, their wives and lady friends were in attendance. Also in attendance were two other Canadians, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell of Timber Top Farms.

The banquet was served by the ladies of the district Grange and these ladies not only served that meal in an efficient manner but also "vittles" in plenty. The bill of fare consisted of apple juice, all the turkey one cared to take from the platters, three vegetables, choice of two pies and cheese, coffee and Ayrshire milk. All for $1.50.

Supports 4H Club

Following the meal the annual meeting was convened with Samuel "Sam" Louden of Champlain President of the Club, as chairman, and Mrs. Samuel Louden, Secretary. Treasurer of the Club, as secretary of the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Louden make just as good a team as President and Secretary as they do as husband and wife, and while there was a considerable agenda, the business was promptly disposed of, albeit most efficiently. To us one of the most interesting items of the Secretary's reports was the one in connection with 4H Club activities. The Clinton, Franklin, Essex Ayrshire Club has a fund wherefrom loans are made to Boys and Girls in connection with their Club calves.

Chester C. Putney, Secretary of the United States Ayrshire Association, and Gilbert MacMillan, President of Dairy Farmers of Canada, were the guest speakers but they confined their addresses to a minimum, so to speak, although what they did say was interesting as well as thought-provoking.

Mr. Putney dealt with the progress of the Ayrshire breed across the United States; a fifty per cent increase during the past ten years. He gave a number of instances of that progress as gleaned from his visits to districts and herds across the states during the past two years.

Mr. MacMillan conveyed the greetings of his Canadian Ayrshire compatriots and congratulated the Club on the splendid gathering, also on its past and current achievements and efforts. He also urged, in effect, that since dairy producers are now in the front rank of the national economies of both the United States and Canada they should continue their efforts for equitable recognition, linked with continued improvement in their herds and production of same.

Record Purchase

Jack McConnell was congratulated on his purchase at the recent New York Production Sale, at Cobleskill, N.Y. The highest priced heifer calf ($875.00) was a "horned" calf, ever sold at that class sale, the consignee of same being Marshall Cheesman of Ellensburg Depot. Marshall Cheesman was also congratulated on his purchase of another outstanding National record made by Clovercrest Royal, which cow is now well on the way towards the completion of another sensational record.

In addition to the witty, humorous comments by the "Louden team" (Sam and Mrs.) during the course of the meeting, etc., we were entertained by several enjoyable piano selections, by amusing, enjoyable selections in song and guitar. Regrettably we cannot recall the names of that trio but they are really first class entertainers.

It was into the "wee sma coors" of Friday morning before we got back to Huntingdon, but Gib MacMillan and this writer agreed that it had been a grand, inspiring affair.

Champion Showman

During the course of the Clinton, Franklin, Essex Ayrshire Club meeting an ovation was given to Dennis Griffin, a 4H Club member and protégé of Fred Boyd, Jr., Burke, N.Y. He was the grand champion 4H calf club showman, all breeds competing, at the recent International Dairy Show. It is also understood that he took high honours in a similar competition at the recent National Ayrshire Show, Dairy Cattle Congress, Waterloo, Iowa.

Dennis Griffin had previously won the 4H fitting and showmanship in the Ayrshire section and then, in competition with the winning 4H showmen of other breeds, the over all Showman Championship, at the 1954 New York State Fair.

Ayrshires from Scotland

According to "Farming News", of Scotland, several important consignments of pedigree Ayrshires have been exported from Scotland in recent weeks to Canada, New Zealand, Southern Rhodesia and South Africa.

Included in the Canadian shipment were four yearling bulls which were consigned by R. O. Biggs, Dundas, Ont. That heifer, Laigh Tarbag Dixie by Lessnessock True Mate, was bred by G. G. Connell, Ochiltree.

"All Canadian" Sale

The annual "All Canadian" Holstein sale, instituted by Lorne E. Franklin, Auctioneer, and carried on by him for a considerable number of years, was this year conducted by Hays Farms Limited, Oakville, Ont. There was also a change of venue, since this year's (1954) event was held at Oakville, on October 19.

Fifty seven head were sold for a total of $35,944.00, or a general average of $631.00. An analysis of that average indicates that four bulls averaged $1,918.00; sixteen milking females averaged $617.00; thirty-six bred heifers averaged $487.00 while the one heifer calf sold for $825.00.

"Hurricane Hazel, which devastated a wide area in Metropolitan Toronto and other adjacent districts, had its effect on this sale, causing it to be postponed for one day and moving it from Toronto to Oakville, in consequence of which there was a much smaller crowd on hand than usual," says a report of the sale.

Hurricane Relief

The Hurricane also figured when those present quickly raised $2,845.00 to contribute to the Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund," says the report of the "All Canadian" Holstein sale.

"J. E. Houck & Son, Brampton, Ont., donated the heifer calf 'Houck's' named 'Jenna Hilda' and thereby raised $2,235.00 for the fund. The heifer calf was sold fifteen minutes in quick succession, South American and United States buyers owing her several times. Finally she went to Professor Grant Richards, Brigham Young University, Utah, U.S.A., for $385.00.

Ralph I. Ford, Milton, Ont., later donated the proceeds from the sale of a three year old heifer and a baby calf, which swelled the fund by an additional $610.00 to a total of $2,845.00.

Argentina and Venezuela

Buyers from the Argentine and Venezuela, both of South America, took twenty four of the fifty-seven head in the All Canadian sale.

The highest price of the day was $4,200.00, received by J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, Ont., for a 5 months old bull calf, Vicente, Calasares and Guillermo Bullrich, Buenos Aires, Argentina, were the purchasers. Bullrich also paid $2,300.00 for a bull calf consigned by Elmer Stoltz, Alliston, Ont., the second highest price of the sale.

Top price for a female was $1,700.00, paid by Charles Cox, Calgary, Alta. to Fred Webster, Picton, Ont., for a 6 year old show cow.

Highest price for a bred-heifer was $1,100.00 paid by J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ont., to J. J. E. McCague. As already indicated the highest price for a heifer calf was $825.00, the sale was J. E. Houck, St. Brantford, Ont., the purchaser was Professor Richards of Brigham Young University.

Back in Business

It also seems that Julius A. Rosenfeld, Chateaugay Village, Que., is now back in the Holstein ranks, as one of the results of the All Canadian Holstein Sale. Included in the list of other good prices paid is the item: $800.00 was paid by Julius Rosenfeld, Montreal, for an eight year old cow. The report doesn't indicate whether Mr. Rosenfeld purchased any more animals.

Maple Unit Sale

The fourth annual sale sponsored by the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association, Maple, Ont., was held immediately following the All Canadian Holstein Sale, at Oakville, Ont., on October 19.

The 58 artificially bred animals sold brought a total of $24,231.00 or a general average of $417.00.

Recipe Suggestions For Zestful Living

TRIED AND TESTED FOR SATISFACTION

THIS WEEK — "MOLASSES AND BROWN SUGAR"

Back in August the home economists of the Consumer Section gave us a lot of information about the Canadian sugar industry. At that time they sent some general information about the sugar industry because right then we were all using pound after pound of it in canning and freezing fruits, and making jams and jellies. But now that we have all these good things carefully stored away we are beginning to think more about baking cakes and cookies, making candy and so on. And so, here are some more facts about Canada's sugar industry, this time about the molasses and the brown sugar we buy.

Canadian sugar is made from two raw products, from sugar beets, which are grown in Canada, and from raw sugar cane which is imported into Canada. Molasses and brown sugar are made in both cane and beet sugar refineries.

Molasses may be produced as a by-product of a sugar refinery which makes granulated sugar, icing sugar and so on or it may be made in a plant which is engaged in making syrup only—that is molasses, cane brown and so on. Most of the molasses used in our cooking is imported into Canada and has been made in plants which make molasses and syrup only. Now that does not mean that molasses is not produced in our Canadian refineries.

When a birthday party was organized in the dining room where a lovely birthday cake centered the table. A birthday gift was presented to Mrs. Snowdon by Mr. Howard Reid.

Mrs. Maude Brown of Plattsburg, N.Y. has returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Rose Elder.

Miss Elaine Aitken spent the week-end with friends in Montreal and at Macdonald College.

Expert Says Saucers Just Lightning Balls

HAMBURG — A German astronomer, Hans Haffner, has put forward the theory that "Flying Saucers" are apart from those which can be classified as hallucinations or reflections in the air — are balls of lightning at great heights.

In an article in the West German weekly newspaper Die Zeit, Haffner said "the flying saucers are a natural phenomenon within the layer of air surrounding the earth."

Haffner, professor of astronomy at Hamburg University, said all flying saucers seen so far could be classified in four groups:

1. Hallucinations, which are more frequent than commonly believed.
2. Illusions. Alleged photographs of flying saucers are reflections often observed when pictures are taken against the sun.

3. Weather balloons.
4. Truly "unknown flying objects".

Rare Occurrence

All the objects in group four could be explained by what is known about balls of lightning. These, he said, occur rarely and photographs exist of only two or three.

Description of the size, shape, speed, manner of revolution, movement, color, gleam, duration, electrical composition and manner of dissolution of these balls are "remarkably similar" to the reports of flying saucers Haffner maintains.

Most balls of lightning occur at heights of less than 600 feet and have a diameter of between eight to 40 inches. But because more energy is released if lightning occurs at greater heights, balls occurring at high altitudes are naturally bigger. Balls with a diameter of 750 feet have been observed at a height of six miles.

Haffner said that because they rotate, balls of lightning are often flattened out. Reports about flying saucers have spoken of cigar or disc-shaped objects. These reports also stated that the flying saucers were rotating.

Balls of lightning are liable to change shape and direction within a split second — as do flying saucers. The changes in the direction of balls of lightning are easily explained by the influence of electrical fields and by the effect when one side of a ball cools more quickly than the other.

The Secretary was instructed to offer certain properties in town for sale for arrears of taxes.

It was decided to give grants of $100 each to Huntingdon County Hospital and Barrie Memorial Hospital. It was felt that the local hospitals were more deserving of such help than outside concerns.

Some discussion took place on the Business Tax charged to certain business concerns in Town and also on the matter of persons soliciting orders within the town and making deliveries later. Some of the cases were adjusted for this year, but will require revision in the new year.

The matter of soliciting orders is to be checked into further.

It was decided to write to Mrs. Leatherdale for a list of persons in the Old People's Home to whom may be sent Christmas greetings, etc. The offering amounted to $25 and Offertory prayer was given by Mrs. Jamieson. Rev. Wm. Brown of North Georgetown was the guest speaker and gave a most earnest talk on Stewardship. Miss Kimball thanked Rev. Brown on behalf of the W.M.S.

Mr. Brown sang two Gospel hymns. Refreshments were served to about forty members and guests from Athelstan Evening Auxiliary, Huntingdon, Elgin and Rockburn W.M.S.

Rev. James M. Grant, Pictou, N.S., who is attending Presbyterian College, Montreal, conducted service on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Watson, Steven and Sandra, Verdun, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Watson. Mrs. Evan Watson and children have just returned by S. S. Francoia from a six-month's stay with friends and relatives in England. They had a very rough crossing.

Week-end guests at the Poir's home were Miss Edna Poirs, Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Silver and Sharon, Chateauguay, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Fergus MacPherson of Three Rivers, Que., visited week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Salter.

Miss Margaret Brown of Three Rivers, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown.

Church Notes

GLENELM — Mr. MacLeod occupied the pulpit on Sunday, October 31, and gave a very inspiring sermon. He spoke of the destruction of Sodom because of the sins of the people there. It illustrates, he pointed out, that God is more than a God simply of love, that He is God of Wrath as well, and we must expect the fruits of wickedness to be ours if we allow sin to claim us. Next Sunday Remembrance Sunday.

On Friday, October 29, the Kensington Missionary Society met at the home of the president, Mrs. John Wilson. There was a fair attendance of members and a few visitors. One of the most active members, Mrs. E. A. Salter, was absent, being in Huntingdon County Hospital taking treatment for ear trouble caused by a severe cold. It is hoped that Mrs. Salter will soon be back home. The ladies quilled during the afternoon. After the business meeting delicious refreshments provided by several members were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fergus MacPherson of Three Rivers, Que., visited week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Salter.

Miss Margaret Brown of Three Rivers, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown.
