

DEBATE ON BUDGET RESUMED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS BY FORMER FINANCE MINISTER

Sir Henry Drayton Financial Critic Of The Opposition In The Federal Parliament Attacks Surplus As One Purely Of Book-Keeping—Sales Tax Not Being Collected—Budget Has Done Nothing For Labor

Ottawa, April 14.—Sir Henry Drayton, financial critic of the Opposition, resumed the debate on the budget in the House of Commons this afternoon. He attacked the surplus reported by the Acting Finance Minister as one purely of "book-keeping" and touching on the Canadian National Railways, he said that the system was charged up on the books at a figure far greater than its actual value.

Regarding the tariff, he declared that the Government had adopted a policy of attrition toward it and for the past two years had been nibbling at it. He insisted that agriculture had not been helped to the slightest degree and that industry had been harmed. The policy of tariff nibbling had helped no one except those who occupied the Treasury benches.

It also had helped the American manufacturer who exported goods to the Canadian market. "More than half the men who should be employed in the agriculture implement industry of Canada are idle or working in the United States," Sir Henry maintained.

The Farmers' Hard Times

The speaker gave it as his opinion that there were three causes of the farmers' hard times, the practically prohibitive tariff of the United States, directed, in the main, against farm products; deflation of prices applicable to grain and livestock; and the loss of purchasing power of the great consuming countries due to the war. He quoted Mr. Fielding's announcement last year in regard to tariff stability. "Why, this budget shows that the Government cares nothing about business or industrial stability," he said.

The wisdom and the experience of the former Finance Minister were thrown into the waste basket, the Government being chiefly concerned with maintaining its stability in office.

Sir Henry went on to speak of the implement industry which had its home in Ontario. These factories had been steadily growing in prosperity and now they were to be handed over to the United States as a sacrifice. There were factories in Quebec too, which would suffer. Sir Henry read a list of implement factories in Canada.

If Quebec members were interested in the industrial welfare of their province, and in keeping the Quebec workman at home they would feel compelled to vote against the budget and in the interests of their country. Thousands of industrial workers had left Quebec for the United States. If members from the Province of Quebec still maintained their faith in the Laurier-Fielding tariff they would feel obliged to oppose the budget.

No Real Betterment from Reductions.

No real betterment had been obtained for the Western farmer by any of the tariff reductions. Out of the twenty-four million which the Government hoped to save the taxpayers only $750,000 would be due to savings on Customs, the balance would be on the sales tax. Industry was at the cross roads today. Industry did not know what charges would be made upon it in the future.

The great political exigency would be, if the Government instead of being influenced by political views, had done what the good of the country demanded, it would have examined the trade returns for the last four years and observed the tremendous balance in favor of the United States and against Canada. In view of increased duties by the United States to further lower the Canadian tariff practically amounted to a betrayal of interests in this country. Just so long as prohibitive tariffs were met with cuts in the Canadian tariff, just so long would prohibitive tariffs continue.

Did Nothing For Labor

Sir Henry insisted that the Sales Tax was not being collected. He insisted that the budget did nothing whatever for labor. The steel plate industry, the window glass industry and the woolen were left without assistance. The Government was concerned with other things so Canadian woolen workers would continue to move across to the United States.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in opening, expressed his regrets at the absence of Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, upon which Mr. Meighen interjected, "hear, hear."

For those who believe in a reduction of taxation, continued Mr. Stewart, the present budget went a long way in accord with their desire. He trusted that the budget did mean the death knell of protection though he did wish to have the tariff abolished entirely.

Sir Henry Drayton said that the budget did nothing for the workers, but he forgot that protection had borne heavily upon those engaged in agriculture and the other industries to which assistance was given by the present budget, a section of the people who numbered five and a half million out of the whole population. It had been said the ultimate hope of the agriculturists was the home market, but if that were the case, a still greater number would have to leave Canada than were leaving it at the present time.

Black Flag in Evidence.

Mr. Stewart recalled conditions as he knew them after the National policy was adopted in 1878. Smaller industries were then merged in larger and there was a building boom in the city of Toronto until in 1890 hogs were selling on the Toronto market at four dollars a hundred weight dressed, and thousands of dwellings in that city were unoccupied. The black flag was much in evidence during those years and there were many processes of work asking for work or bread. In 1898 there had been a change and from then until 1911 had been a period of gradual growth the time of the greatest progress in the history of Canada. In 1911 the Liberals had been accused of wishing to sell out to the Yankees, when all they had sought was to improve conditions in Canada.

Mr. Stewart went on to ask the Conservatives what protection had done for the agricultural industry in the United States.

Although that country exported only about eight per cent of its agricultural produce yet agriculture had never been in a worse condition than in the last decade or two. Mr. Stewart denied that the budget had been created for the West. He declared that the fiscal departures made in it will be accepted largely throughout Canada.

Increase Purchasing Power.

It would release the burden on and increase the purchasing power of more than half the people of Canada through the removal of taxation on the implements of production. It was a budget for the many and not for the favored few. It did not, as the Opposition had said, apply to one industry only but generally affected the whole country for its benefit. He quoted recent utterances of United States experts in that Canada was the best field in the world today for investment. With a favorable balance of trade assured and the burden on the agricultural producer lightened, Canada could not fail to go ahead in the coming fiscal year.

Mr. Stewart added that, with reference to the cattle industry, the Government hoped to have something interesting to announce before the close of the present parliament about the transportation of cattle to Great Britain.

Telegrams were pouring in from all parts of the country, said Mr. Stewart, congratulating the Government on its budget.

It was a popular budget in spite of the Conservative wails. "Canada is all right," concluded Mr. Stewart. "Let us all get together and go ahead."

Congratulated Acting Minister.

J. F. Johnston, Progressive, Last Mountain, congratulated the acting Minister of Finance on his "clear, concise and well delivered" budget speech. It was a statement, that should cause the people to take heart. Although the public debt

MINISTER THINKS POLITICAL BATTLE IS IMPENDING

Tariff Reductions Will Lead To A Far Reaching Campaign

GOOD FOR EVERYONE

Cardin Hopes For Different Verdict From That On Reciprocity

Montreal, April 14.—A political battle of the magnitude of the 1911 reciprocity campaign is impending as a result of the tariff reductions proposed by the 1924 budget, according to Hon. P. J. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who addressed the Young Liberals' Association here tonight.

Mr. Cardin said that the Liberal party had often been relegated to the Opposition in Parliament because of its devotion to a policy that meant good for all people and not merely for special classes.

That, he said, was why Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been beaten in 1911. "The Liberals today are about in the same position," he maintained. "Let us hope that if it is necessary to go before the electorate in a year or two the party will receive a verdict different from that of 1911."

He charged that "certain clans and cliques have commenced mixing Imperial and national questions with the true political question. The measure we propose today in the budget means good for every one."

Industry Enriched Itself.

Mr. Cardin continued: "Under the protection it has had, industry has grown, enriched itself. It seems time that we should think of the consumer, of the masses of the people. The budget is an attempt to take some of the burden off the consumer."

He declared that under the Liberal rule emigration to the United States would pass. It was asked what would Liberals do next year to industries not now touched by the budget. He considered that such criticism was an indirect confession of approval. The future had to be resorted to and theories erected in an effort to destroy confidence in the Liberal administration.

He concluded that Liberals must choose between the Conservative policy of high tariff and benefit for certain classes and the Liberals "who are disposed to aid industry and the merchant as much as possible but who wish also that Canadians shall be able to live on the land."

TWO PETITIONS TABLED.

Ottawa, April 14.—(Can. Press)—Two petitions for indemnification of Home Bank depositors were tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon. The first, bearing the signatures of 570 persons was tabled by R. H. Halbert, Progressive, North Toronto, and the second, signed by over 1,400 names came from L. W. Humphrey, Progressive, West Kootenay.

was still tremendous, a reduction of over thirty million dollars was very encouraging. The estimated reduction in expenditures for this year should bring considerable relief to the taxpayers.

The Government in office during the war had not imposed taxes as it should have done. In those days when money was easier the taxes were not as severe as they should have been. The proposed reduction in the present budget would mean a loss of twenty-four million dollars from revenue. Most of this loss would be from the reduced sales tax.

Mr. Johnston referred to a speech made by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in Windsor shortly before the budget was announced in which he predicted there would be very few if any reductions in the tariff.

In view of the announcements of last Thursday Mr. Johnston did not believe the Leader of the Opposition to be very good prophet. However, every industry to get in financial difficulties within the next few years would blame its troubles on the recent tariff cuts.

The Hudson Bay Railway.

Mr. Johnston diverted for a few moments from the budget speech to urge the Government to complete as promptly as possible the Hudson Bay Railway. "If for no other reason than to steady the morals of the people of the West it would be a good investment to complete the road."

As far as Western Canada is concerned, we are through with high tariffs. "All changes must be downward," he declared. He was sorry that the national policy outlined by Mr. Robb in his budget speech had not been adopted fifty years ago when the so-called national policy came into being. "The Government should press forward until the protective elements in our tariff is entirely removed. This will remove the shackles from our basic industry," he added.

Hon. J. E. Sinclair, Minister without portfolio, continues the debate tomorrow. "If the debate is concluded tomorrow," announced Hon. G. P. Graham, just before adjournment, we shall proceed with the branch lines bill."

ANGLO-RUSSIAN ARRANGEMENT BEING DISCUSSED

Premier Of Great Britain And Soviet Delegate Meet In Conference

TOOK FIRST STEP

Ramsay MacDonald Summed Up The Entire Question In One Sentence

London, April 14.—The task of converting Great Britain's de jure recognition of Russia which was accorded the Union of Soviet Republics in 1924 budget, into a practical working arrangement which, it is hoped will settle all past difficulties and re-establish normal trade and political relations between the two countries, began this morning when the Russian Mission under Mr. Rakovsky met with the British delegates headed by Premier MacDonald at the big Horse Shoe conference table in the Ambassador's room of the Foreign Office.

In his welcoming address Premier MacDonald summed up the whole purpose of the conference in the sentence: "You want political countenance and financial assistance from us and we want neighborliness and recognition of international obligations."

Took Pretty Big Step

The Labor Premier told the Russians that Great Britain, by according the Soviet government full diplomatic status, had taken the first step and added that it was a pretty big one.

"Let us together take the second step and justify the hopes of many millions who look upon this meeting with so much expectation," he concluded.

Neither Premier MacDonald nor Mr. Rakovsky's opening address bore the delegates went beyond broad generalities.

The British view is that the entire face of the meeting depends upon the amount of confidence the Soviet Government representatives are able to create in the minds of the British and world public by their conduct here and their attitude toward the Russian debts and other international obligations which the British will insist that the Soviet Government recognize.

Unless such recognition is forthcoming there is little possibility of Russia obtaining credits or loans in this country, for as Mr. MacDonald pointed out, the British credit is not in Government banks but in the deposits of private individuals and unless the mass of the people is satisfied that those who want credits are fair and honest in their dealings none are likely to be obtained.

Although the British Premier did not mention the fact this morning it is authoritatively understood that there is no slightest possibility of the British Government making a loan to Russia no matter how successful the present conference may be from the British point of view. All loans and credits must be privately negotiated with British banks.

To Recover Some Losses

The main purpose of the British Government in the negotiations regarding the Russian debts is to recover something of the heavy financial losses which British subjects have suffered in Russia as the result of the revolution. The question of the Russian debt of £26,000,000 sterling and the war debt of £50,000,000 sterling may not even be brought up during the negotiations.

The British are willing to consider the foregoing amounts as debts, similar to the French and Italian, or these amounts may be offset by Russian counter-claims for damages caused by the Allied intervention in Russia.

But in the settlement of the private debts to British subjects the MacDonald Government will insist on complete recognition and pledges of payment at a definite rate. These private debts are estimated at £14,000,000 sterling in Russian municipal bonds held in this country, £350,000,000 in compensation for damages to British commercial properties in Russia and £900,000 which are claimed as personal damages. The British will not admit Russian counter-claims against these private obligations and upon the Russian attitude toward these debts a decision is expected to be reached or fail.

Replying to Premier MacDonald's speech Mr. Rakovsky, after an expression of gratitude at the friendly welcome given the Russian delegation, and speaking of the Russian attitude toward the British party for its important share in bringing the conference about, announcing that the Russian delegation was not only furnished with very wide powers but also full political authority to take action on any important decisions.

Wants Revision Of Treaty.

Mr. Rakovsky demanded as the first condition to a stable peace revision of the Treaty of Versailles and of other treaties associated with it. "But," he added, "obviously we do not think the abrogation of the Treaty of Versailles should lead to a reconstitution of state organisms which, like Austria and Hungary, could meet on violence and the existence of which provoked the an-

REDUCTIONS ARE A SEVERE BLOW AT INDUSTRIES

President Of Canadian Manufacturers' Assn. Comments Upon The Tariff

THE HOME MARKET

No Right To Ship Raw Material For Manufacture Elsewhere

Montreal, April 14.—After giving it as his opinion that the tariff reductions of the budget delivered a severe blow at the manufacturing industries of Canada, Howard Smith, President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, went on to deal with the position of agriculture itself, in an interview today.

"This country is swamped with the produce of the farmers of the South," he said. "All the early vegetables are brought in from the south and when our goods get on the market, we are already sick of them. We import approximately $100,000,000 worth of these goods per annum. I cannot see why eggs should carry a duty of 3 cents a dozen coming into Canada and 8 cents a dozen going into the United States."

Home Market Is Best.

"I believe that the farmer's best market is the home market, and it is only by building up the cities and towns of the country that the farmers will get any benefit."

"I believe that fully 90 percent of the farmers' products in Quebec and Ontario are consumed in these provinces. If the industrial plants in these provinces are forced out of business, it will create harder times for the farmer."

"The woolen industry, the boot and shoe industry, have had no relief in years. If this continues, the agricultural industry will be seriously affected."

One Out of Sixty-three.

"Since the war, one of sixty-three countries, Canada is the only one that has reduced its tariff."

"I believe that we should manufacture our raw material to the highest possible point, and ship it abroad in that condition. I consider we have no right to take our raw material from this country, ship it to foreign countries to be manufactured and then buy back the finished product for consumption here."

LARGE LOAN WAS OVER SUBSCRIBED

Subscriptions To C.P.R. $12,000,000 Bonds Received From All Parts Of Country

Montreal, April 14.—The Canadian Pacific twelve million dollar five per cent loan offered to the Canadian public this morning was over subscribed before the end of the day and the lists were closed at 4 p.m. The National City Co. Ltd., syndicate managers, this afternoon announced that interest in the loan was nation wide and that subscriptions had been received from every section of the country. The result of the loan was a reassuring indication of the soundness of basic conditions throughout the country as well as an evidence of the confidence in the Canadian Pacific Railway. This has already been shown in the fact that during the past fifteen years Canadian investors have been steadily acquiring the company's stock. The indications are that any of the bonds of this issue left in the hands of dealers will be quickly absorbed. It is felt here that the issue should enjoy as ready a market as Government bonds.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ADJOURNED TONIGHT

Toronto, April 14.—Premier Ferguson stated today that the Ontario Legislature would conclude its session by adjourning tomorrow night. Prorogation will follow on Thursday afternoon.

The present information is that the Public Accounts committee will be able to conclude its probe during the interval between adjournment and prorogation and present its report on Thursday when the Legislature is finally closed.

Reciprocating Premier MacDonald's views about mutual non-intervention in the internal affairs of their respective countries, Mr. Rakovsky remarked that this would prove a guarantee against attempts "to make us renounce our socialist legislation or the basis of our socialist organization."

The speaker reminded Mr. MacDonald that former British Governments had participated in foreign intervention in Russia, although he frankly admitted that Mr. MacDonald and his party had struggled against this intervention.

U.S. PULP MEN HAVE PRESENTED A MEMORANDUM

Submitted Arguments Against Embargo On Pulpwood To Royal Commission

SUMMARIZED EVIDENCE

Lengthy Memorandum Filed By Solicitor For United States Interests

Ottawa, April 14.—(Can. Press)—A memorandum on behalf of the pulp and paper manufacturers of the United States summarizing the argument against the proposed import position of an embargo on pulpwood exported to the United States has been filed with the Royal Commission which has been investigating for the past four months the whole question of an embargo, and which is now completing here its report for presentation to the Government. The anti-embargo memorandum has been filed by Alme Geofrion, K.C., representing the pulp and paper manufacturers of the United States.

In summarizing the evidence presented before the commission the memorandum asserts that for the Dominion as a whole about 90 percent of the forest area is publicly owned or crown lands, while in the province of Quebec, from which most of the exports of pulpwood go to the United States, 94 percent of the forest area is crown land. Since in practically all the provinces there is a prohibition against the export of wood from Crown lands it is pointed out, therefore, that any embargo would affect less than ten percent of the whole forest area, and what wood is now exported is only from lands owned by farmers and settlers or from lands owned in freehold by manufacturers in the United States or from leases which have been granted by owners in Canada to manufacturers in the United States.

Going into some length into statistics in regard to exports the memorandum states that the proposed embargo would affect only 1.7 percent of the total lumber cut, if farmers' and settlers' lands were exempted from the embargo as provided for by an order-in-council passed last year. Furthermore, considering the fact that this order-in-council exempts from the operation of any embargo all contracts given prior to June 15, 1923, for a period of ten years, the actual percentage of the total wood cut that any embargo would apply to would actually be one percent or less than one percent of the total cut or somewhere between 100,000 or 150,000 cords per year.

"From the standpoint of conservation of forest resources," says the memorandum, "the embargo would therefore seem to be absolutely useless."

Dealing with the argument that the placing of an embargo upon exportation of pulpwood would result in mills from the United States moving immediately to Canada, the memorandum goes at some length into existing economic conditions in respect to the feasibility of moving American plants into Canada, and declares that an examination into facts and conditions is a complete refutation of this contention. The memorandum says:—

"Pulp and paper mills will be established in the United States and Canada wherever proper sites can be found and proper conditions existing, but the growth of this industry will be the result of economic laws and not the result of statute laws."

The moving of American mills to Canada, the memorandum says, would either involve the scrapping of large investments in the United States or duplication of a part or all of them in Canada, and it is claimed that instead of moving their plants to Canada, United States' mills would rather seek to develop new sources of supply in the United States or from Scandinavian countries.

MANY MEETINGS FOR A. SAUVE

Leader Of The Provincial Opposition Will Be Guest At A Number Of Functions

Montreal, April 14.—Signs of an active summer in Provincial Conservative circles are in evidence, judging by the program already announced for Mr. Sauve, Opposition leader. Following the close of the session, Mr. Sauve went to Three Rivers where he addressed a meeting.

On Thursday, April 25, Mr. Sauve will preside at the inauguration of a new Conservative Club in Outremont.

The next event will be in the city of Quebec, when Mr. Sauve will speak at a banquet tendered him at the Chateau Frontenac by his Quebec friends. This is for 28th of April.

The next day Mr. Sauve will speak in Montreal, at the invitation of the Sauve's Club and early in May, probably on May 2nd, the Opposition leader will go to Huntington where he will take part in a meeting organized by Notary Rowat, the Conservative candidate in the last general provincial elections.

Mr. Sauve intends to make a trip to the Canadian West during the month of August.

LADY GREY NOW AT THREE RIVERS

Returns To That Port On Account Of Proximity Ice Operations

Weather conditions were reported as being clear between Quebec and Montreal all day yesterday, with the ice moving down from Montreal to about two miles below Cap St. Michel, the channel being clear between the Metropolis and this point. Eastward to Sorel Point the ice is reported to be still holding, while from Sorel to the head of Lake St. Peter the channel is clear. The ice on the lake kept well on the move all during the day, and there was very little probability of a jam occurring.

Scattered ice kept floating down the river between Three Rivers and Quebec throughout the day. The C.G.S. Lady Grey put in a heavy day's work against the ice in the vicinity of Port St. Francis. The vessel now operates from Three Rivers.

The collier Alredale, from Sydney, is expected to arrive at this port early Thursday morning. The Eugene C. Roberts is also reported coming up the St. Lawrence on her way to the Great Lakes. The projected arrival of the Alredale towards the end of this week is said to constitute a record for the early entrance of a steamer through the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The C.G.S. Montcalm, in command of Captain Hearn, will leave Sydney this morning for ice patrol duty in the Straits of Belle Isle. The C.G.S. Mikula, which is at present undergoing repairs at the Lauzon drydock, will join the Montcalm later in this work. On her return to port, the C.G.S. Druid, which has been placing buoys between Matane and Father Point, will re-load and proceed down river immediately.

OF INTEREST TO MANY CANADIANS

Canada Will Take A Very Extensive Part In The forthcoming Empire Exhibition

London, (By mail) April 14.—During the week ending 3rd April, 275 visitors called at the Office, out of which 213 obtained interviews and 62 registered.

On the 1st April the Roumanian Government paid to the Canadian Government the sum of $479,330., in settlement of the interest due on that rate in respect of Canadian holding in the Roumanian 4 p. c. consolidation loan, 1922.

If the Canadian Pavilion at Wembley had been three times its present size it would not have been big enough to meet all the applications for space received by Mr. J. S. MacKinnon, Director of Industrial Exhibits in the Canadian Section of the British Empire Exhibition.

Mr. MacKinnon, who has recently arrived in London from Toronto, tells an interesting story of the way in which the demands for stands and floor space at Wembley were met and handled in Canada where all the renting and locating was carried on. The Government Department in charge of Exhibition matters had thought that a site of 150,000 square feet, many times larger than that used in any previous enterprise, would be quite ample for the use of Canadian manufacturers even in these flourishing days. But as soon as the objects of the Wembley project became known throughout the Dominion, Mr. MacKinnon was inundated with applications for representation. The hardest task was to divide the floor space in the industrial section in an equitable manner. The situation was met by first dividing all the available floor area in the Canadian Pavilion into two parts: one half to be given over to a display of natural resources, the other to industrial exhibits. These areas were again split up among the many manufacturers and corporations desiring to be represented. By this means, instead of Canada, at Wembley being confined to the privileged few, some 200 exhibitors will have opportunity of displaying their wares. Canada from coast to coast will be thus adequately represented and in this sense the Dominion is exhibiting on a national basis.

It is confidently expected that the British Empire Exhibition will give a much needed stimulus to trade within the Empire, and that as far as Canada is concerned this year at Wembley will go a long way towards raising her from even the proud position she at present occupies as the fourth largest exporting country in the world.

Order has been cancelled. The Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries has notified the High Commissioner for Canada that the Order issued some weeks ago prohibiting the loading of Cattle at United States ports in steamers coming to the United Kingdom will be cancelled as from the 7th April. This will permit the resumption of shipments of Canadian cattle from Portland and Boston.

The Canadian Official Mining News Letter of this week deals with Mineral possibilities in the Port Arthur district of Ontario, and is by Mr. T. L. T. Tanton, of the Geological Survey. The High Commissioner's Office has now in preparation a New Letter on the Sodium Sulphate deposits of Western Canada based on an article by Mr. L. H. Cole B.Sc. of the Mines Branch, and this will be circulated to the various Mining Journals and to the chemical and paper trades journals, readers of which are likely to be interested in its contents.

A Bulletin has been sent out this week based on a Report on the Fur Production of Canada by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and one is now in preparation dealing with the Central Electric Stations in Canada, 1922, also compiled from the same source. The Dominion Water Power Branch of the Department of the Interior sent over for distribution through the High Commissioner's Office, their Bulletin No. 722, containing their review on the Water Power Resources of Canada, and this securing wide publicity.

Next week the batch of the Canadian Official Mining Notes sent out by the High Commissioner's Office will draw the attention of financiers and Mining engineers, to a number of the more recent publications of the Department of the Interior and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Mining matters and has also distributed on behalf of the Commissioner of Northern Manitoba a Report on Mining in that part of Canada during 1923.

The Norwegian Government has chosen Mr. Boe, of Christiania to represent them on a special mission to Canada to study conditions and report the prospects of closer trade relations between Canada and Norway. Mr. Boe, who is at present in London will soon leave for Canada. Honorary membership for visitors.

The Chairman and Committee of the Chevrans Club, 74, St. George's Square, S.W.1., have decided that during the period of the British Empire Exhibition, honorary membership of the Club shall be granted to all qualified visitors from the Dominion and the full facilities of the Club shall be extended to them. The Chevrans Club was established for Serving and Discharged Chief Petty Officers and Petty Officers of the Royal Navy, and Warrant and N.C.O.'s of all branches of the Army, Air Force and Marine.

The Association of Head Mistresses is offering certain facilities to Head Mistresses of Secondary Schools from the Dominions who may be visiting this country to attend the British Empire Exhibition. Particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, Miss R. Young, 29, Gordon Square, W.C.1.

A Glasgow firm of manufacturers of collapsible chairs for Concert Hall, School furniture and kindred lines, who started business in London, Ontario, 40 or 50 years ago and remained there until 14 or 15 years ago are now the largest manufacturers of this type in the Kingdom. They employ 160 hands, have orders to the capacity of their work for six months ahead, have just completed over 40,000 chairs for the Stadium at Wembley, have orders in hand for thousands more for the Conference Halls there, and are engaged on an order for 3,000 chairs for South Africa. It is refreshing to observe such activity amid the prevailing depression, strikes and lock-outs on the part of an industry having its origin in the Dominion.

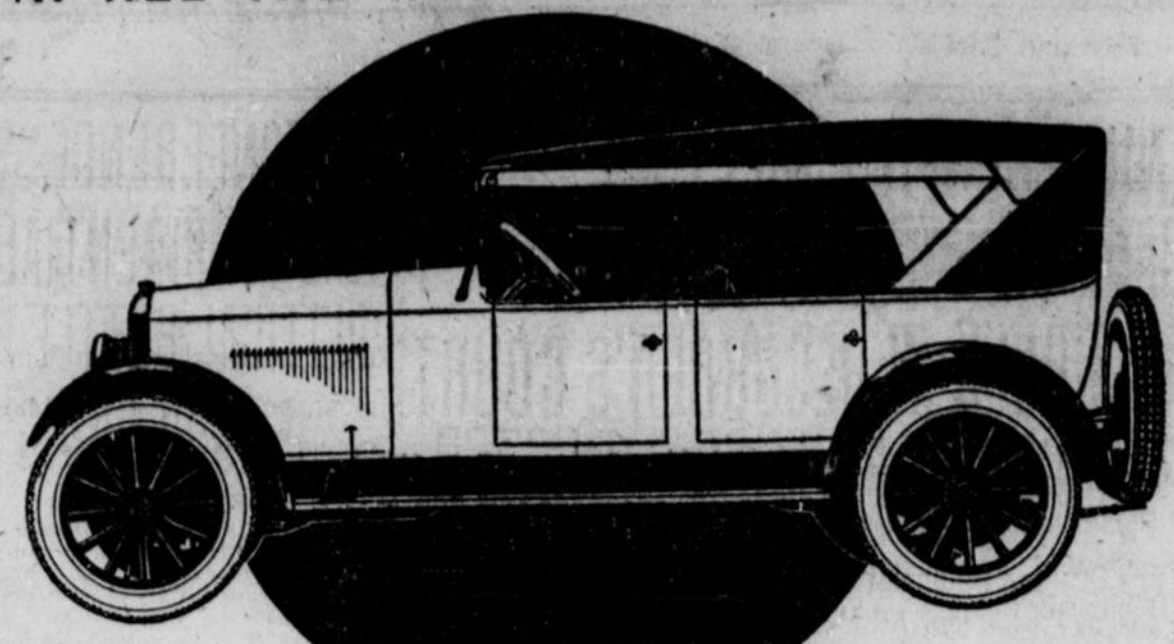

ACTING MINISTER EXPLAINS FIGURES IN CIRCULAR

Ottawa, April 14.—(By Canadian Press)—A circular issued by the Montreal Board of Trade placing Canada's net debt at $3,513,000,000, was the subject of a question in the House of Commons this afternoon by Fernand Rinfret, (St. James, Montreal).

The Acting Minister of Finance replied that the Government had seen reference to this in the Press. The circular apparently purported to include contingent liabilities in connection with the Canadian National Railways. The actual net debt of Canada, estimated for the budget is $2,423,567,753.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE QUEBEC AUTO CLUB HELD IN RECORDER'S COURT

Officers Were Elected For The Ensuing Year—President Pion Submitted A Very Interesting Annual Report Dealing With The Activities Of The Club—Accidents to Motorists On The Public Highways

A lengthy discussion regarding whether the name of the Quebec Auto Club should be changed into French following a motion by Dr. Arthur Leclerc, featured the annual general meeting of the club, held last evening in the Recorder's Court. It was finally decided that the matter should be left in the hands of the directors and executive of the club, who will report a decision to the members at a general meeting.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. Patrons: Hon. N. Peroteau and Hon. L. A. Taschereau; Hon. President, Sir George Garneau; Hon. Vice-Presidents, Mayor Samson, Sir Wm. Price, Hon. Frank Carrel, Hon. L. J. Perron, Hon. J. Nicol and Hon. E. Lapointe, re-elected.

President, AUG. PION, re-elected; Vice-President, Lieut.-Col. J. S. O'Meara.

Directors: J. A. Genest, Dr. A. Leclerc, J. J. Marcell, Phil. Godbout, Dr. P. Picard, Alex. Chateaubert, Dr. A. Langlois, Jos. Cote, F. H. Levesque, Wm. J. Lynch, A. C. Sutherland, Dr. C. A. Delage, Art. Richard, A. A. Cloutier and Laurent O. Morency.

The President's and Secretary-Treasurer's reports were read previous to the election of officers, and the financial standing of the club was shown to be on the right side, there being a net surplus of $842.36.

Following the election of officers the re-elected President spoke of the attention that the club had devoted greatly to tourists during the course of the last few years, and added that the club's efforts had resulted in a great number of tourists coming to Quebec.

The club had arranged, with great success, to organize trips around Quebec for tourists and the money spent by these tourists had all been in Quebec, thus benefiting everybody.

Mr. Pion spoke of the new towing service that the club had arranged for and also stated that two gasoline services had been arranged for, while a third would be available in a few days. The new towing service, he stated, would become effective on April 15.

Another innovation that the club had under consideration was the establishment of garages along the various roads, where gasoline would be sold at a reasonable price, and tourists well looked after.

Special efforts would be paid this year to pedestrians by the club, so that accidents would be reduced to a minimum.

Referring to the new tax on autos, Mr. Pion stated that he believed the club had scored a great success this year with the Government, and had had one interview after another, and had the Quebec Auto Club not interested itself in the matter, motorists in the Province might have been paying 20 or 30 cents per hundred pounds tax.

Furthermore, he was of the opinion that 30 per cent of the motorists in the Province would benefit by this tax.

The municipal camp at St. Foye was also spoken of by the President, who referred to the affiliation of the Quebec Auto Club with the Province of Quebec Touring Association.

Fifty-four new members were then received into the club, as compared with forty last year at the annual general meeting.

Mr. Pion, referring to the influx of American cars into Canada, stated that last year 132,905 American cars had entered the Province, representing 531,620 people, who, according to the official statistics, had spent thirty million dollars in the Province.

Dr. A. Leclerc, one of the newly elected directors, then raised the question as to whether the name of the Quebec Auto Club should not be changed into French, seeing that the city was French, and this led to a long and lively discussion, some of the members announcing themselves in favor of the change, while others were opposed to it.

The question was finally settled by the leaving of the matter to the Executive Committee, who will report to the members at a general meeting that will be called.

C. J. Lockwell then raised the question of a chalet for members of the Quebec Auto Club outside the city, and Mr. Pion said that to accomplish this, a second category of members would have to be made so as to assess their portion of the expenses necessary for the operation of this chalet.

A special committee will look into the matter and will send a questionnaire out to the members to ascertain their opinion on the matter, and find how much they would want to pay.

Dr. Delage asked all motorists to observe the law regarding the stoppage of autos behind street cars, and said that the police were going to enforce the law strictly this year, and would make no exceptions at all.

Accidents To Motorists.

Mr. Simon Lapointe said that the club should ask for the repeal all users of the public highways, with the exception of motorists, could have redress against the municipalities for accidents which resulted in their vehicles being damaged through the road being in faulty condition, etc., and pointed out that while these people could obtain redress, the motorists were not included in the category at all, and they should at least be placed on the same footing as the other users of the public highways.

During the course of the meeting, just as W. J. Lynch was rising to propose that Aug. Pion be re-elected President of the Quebec Auto Club, all the lights in the Recorder's Court, and throughout the whole of the City Hall, went out, whereupon the crowd started singing and cheering to while away the time until candles were forthcoming, and finally electricity once more.

A net surplus of $842.36 was reported by the Secretary-Treasurer, and the financial statement of the club showed that receipts had been $12,252.64, while expenses had been $11,117.43, leaving a surplus of $1,135.21, but against this there had to be set $1,292.35 for divers items, which left a net surplus of $842.36.

The following is President Pion's report to the members of the club on the occasion of the annual general meeting:

Gentlemen:—The celebration of an anniversary is generally an interesting event and that which we are observing tonight is particularly so since it marks the twelfth year of progress of our local association of motorists. Ours has proved to be a progressive club which has always advanced from one success to another, expanding with time and becoming more and more useful to its members according as they increased in number.

To recount the successes achieved by our club we do not need to exaggerate their number or their importance. The facts stand out in relief so there is no necessity of reviewing them all at this annual gathering; besides these achievements are permanently engraved in the minds of each one of our members who may have benefited by them during our twelve years of existence.

What contributed most of all to the constant progress of our Club was its mode of operating for the benefit of its members.

We have this year a striking example of the truth of the axiom: "Union means strength", in the fact that with a slight increase in numbers we have been able to substantially extend our services and to balance our finances in a most satisfactory manner. Had we had one hundred members more we would have been able to give you an even better service.

We feel, however, that you will admit that we did everything in our power to give you the maximum of assistance and protection with the revenue which we had at our disposal.

Our resources were expended for our members in protection service, in towage, in direction signs, in the storage of batteries, in general information relative to motoring, etc. The only and only reason for our success rests in the unceasing zeal of our officers and directors and in the co-operation of our members.

As it would be practically impossible to relate in detail all our activities since our last general meeting, you will permit me to summarize them under the following headings:—

FOR OUR CITY.
FOR OUR MOTORISTS.
FOR OUR MEMBERS.

"For Our City."

With your generous authorization our offices were moved during the past year and were placed for the benefit of our city at the disposal of the numerous motorists who visit it each year.

Thanks to your annual contribution, which, although small, we fitted up our offices and were able to answer during the past summer nearly twenty thousand verbal requests for information and some three thousand in writing. A small summary calculation enables us to affirm that we contributed to have Quebec benefit by at least one million dollars which was spent here alone by the tourists who visited our office.

The numerous letters of appreciation which we received leads us to believe that those who called at our office were satisfied and that we contributed towards advertising our city and enhancing its good reputation.

The monthly magazine which we published throughout the year and which was distributed in the United States also contributed towards swelling the number of visitors to our city for the greater good of all the citizens.

We might also mention the camping grounds which we succeeded in having the City open, etc.

Realizing the substantial revenue which tourists bring to the Province and particularly to our historic City, we have become affiliated with the Tourist Association of the Province of Quebec in order that

SAY CONFERENCE WAS CONFIDENTIAL

Royal Commission Upon Pulpwood Not Prepared To Make Public What Was Said

Ottawa, April 14—(Can. Press)—The Royal Commission upon pulpwood is not prepared to make public what happened at its conference with the Quebec Forestry officials. This came out in a communication read to the House of Commons this afternoon by Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, when Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, moved for the production of the evidence taken at this hearing. The Commission, in the statement read by Mr. Robb, took the ground that the conference with the Quebec forestry officials was confidential and that therefore the report of it could not be made public without the consent of the Quebec Government.

As a result of this statement by Mr. Robb the order for the production of the papers in this case was allowed to stand.

CHOSEN AS DELEGATE.

Montreal, April 14—E. H. Bourdon, representing Montreal Customs and Excise Department employees, has been entrusted to carry out Ottawa resolutions and recommendations formulated at a meeting of these workers regarding a revision of the salary lists and the matter of superannuation.

or amendment of the law whereby we may work more effectively with this organization to bring to Quebec as much revenue as possible.

It is for these reasons that we believe that we have accomplished public-spirited actions which merit the consideration of our fellow citizens.

For Motorists

What we have done for automobile owners would require a longer recital, but in order to abbreviate this report, you will permit me to summarize and to mention only the most outstanding points.

We have had numerous meetings with the municipal authorities in connection with the traffic question and the uniformity of the laws and of confidence of its members and had served the general interest of motorists.

As far as we are concerned we are conscious of having done our duty courageously. We find our recompense in the result obtained and in the appreciation of those for whom we have worked.

Of all these things mentioned automobile owners who are not members of our Club may have benefited as much as our members. May they acknowledge the fact and soon decide to cooperate in our work by joining us.

For Our Members

It is for our own members that we naturally have had the most consideration. The attention which we have given to outsiders was not withheld from our members who were always given our first attention.

Our new offices met with their approval as we received calls from many of our members whom previous to that, we had only known by name. The marks of appreciation which we received convinced us of the general satisfaction over our change of quarters.

A notable concession which we obtained from the American Immigration authorities was the acceptance of our official membership cards instead of letters of identification to cross the frontier lines. This advantage was keenly appreciated by those who knew all the red tape procedure which had previously to be followed to cross the lines.

Last year we improved our towage service by extending it to a radius of 25 miles from the city instead of 20 miles as it had been previously and by securing a better equipped service car. Generally speaking the 150 members who had occasion to call on this emergency service during the summer were satisfied.

We had three gasoline stations in town during almost the entire season, and our members were thus enabled to buy their gas at fair prices.

To these services we were able to add that of the storage of accumulators, which was costly on the Club, but which we were enabled to give owing to our increased membership.

Before completing its year our Board of Directors organized a towage service which will extend from the 15th of April next to the 1st of April, 1925. The new taxi company "Black and White" secured the contract. Details in this connection will be given you presently.

Many of our members took advantage of the recharging of accumulators at special rates and of the service of a battery free of charge during the period of recharging. This service will be continued next year by Mr. Maurice Harris, 20 Palace Hill.

As a measure of encouragement to the Association of Automobile Salesmen we took part in the last Motor Show at the Drill Hall.

As in the past we gave special attention to the personal complaints of our members and endeavored on all occasions to secure just treatment for them.

Good roads, direction signs, danger signals and the prevention of accidents are always to the fore with the Board of Directors, and are given a large share of our attention.

We believe, gentlemen, that we have fulfilled our duties of office and that the Quebec Automobile Club deserves a continuance of your confidence and co-operation.

HENRI GAGNON GETS DECORATION

Several Canadian Citizens Receive High Honors From The French Government

Montreal, April 14—The French Government has given the following decorations to citizens of Canada:—Violet Rosette as officer of Public Instruction to Victor Morin, President of the St. Jean Baptiste Society and of the Society of French Canadian authors; also the same decoration to M. MAYOR MARTIN WAS BUSY UNTIL LAST MINUTE

Montreal, April 14—Mayor Martin left his office at the City Hall at noon today, officially abandoning his ten year tenure as First Magistrate. The departure was simple as it was speedy.

Right up to the last minute the Mayor busied himself signing papers and documents, the last one being the amendment to the building by-laws authorizing the sixteen-storey building for the new Royal Bank.

LATE TREASURER OF ONTARIO IS UNDER ARREST

Hon. Peter Smith Is Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

Bail Was Fixed At $50,000 And Supplied By Friends

Toronto, April 14—A few minutes after he had refused to give evidence before the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature early this afternoon, Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer in the late Drury Government was arrested by the Provincial Police on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Ontario Government.

As far as the Committee itself was concerned there was little of the dramatic. The meeting closed like any regular session, and although from the remarks of Hon. W. H. Price, present Provincial Treasurer, it was known that an arrest was to take place, few believed that it would be within a few minutes. Immediately following Mr. Smith's refusal to give evidence, Mr. Price had remarked that the Crown officials would take cognizance of the matter.

There was a little discussion about the future sessions of the Committee and people were leaving the room. Mr. Smith, with others, was leaving and in the lobby outside, was met by one of the Provincial police officers. He was escorted to the office of Inspector Williams of the Provincial Police, which minutes later it was announced to the Press that Mr. Smith was under arrest.

Obtaining Secret Commissions

The warrant for the arrest was made out during the morning and charges that "Peter Smith conspired with one A. H. Pappal and other person or persons unknown to defraud the Ontario Government by obtaining secret commissions in the purchase by the said Government of certain succession duty free bonds".

The arrest took place about two o'clock. The news spread rapidly and the lobbies around the Provincial police offices were crowded with members of Parliament and curious spectators. Meantime, H. H. Dewar, K.C., counsel for Mr. Smith, was busy inside arranging for bail and the release of the prisoner.

His lunch was served him in the Provincial Police Offices. Inspector Greer, of the force was with him throughout the afternoon, as well as Inspector Hammond. At five o'clock it was said that his business partner and a friend in Stratford were to go bail for him. The bail was fixed at $50,000 and finally furnished.

CONFESSED TO KILLING HUSBAND

Woman From Teulon, Man., Claims She Was Threatened Several Times

Winnipeg, April 14—Confessing to the murder of her husband while he was asleep in bed Kate Kadeniuk, of Teulon, Man., arrested on Saturday related the gruesome details of the slaying which occurred on March 9 to provincial police today.

She charged that her husband had threatened to kill her and their four children on several occasions. On the night of the killing, she told the police, Kadeniuk had been particularly abusive and brutal because she had refused to accompany him on a grain-stealing expedition. When he had gone to bed she took an axe and smashed in his head.

The accused is 38 years old. The eldest boy, who is 16 years of age, has been placed in a detention home and will be held as a material witness. The preliminary hearing will be held on April 21.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade resulted in the election of P. J. Girard, as president, and Mr. P. J. Girard, as secretary, the usual committees were formed, and, later, several resolutions of public interest were passed. The coming year promises to be one of increased activity for this energetic body.

Plans are under way for the macadamizing and improving of the Main street at the Quebec crossing, an improvement which doubtless will meet the approval of all.

This year will also see accomplished a cherished project of every loyal Richmond citizen, namely, the erection of the soldiers' memorial, contract for which has been given Mr. Geo. W. Hill, sculptor, of Montreal, a well known Canadian artist formerly of Richmond. It is expected that this work will be accomplished before Nov. 1st, 1924.

WOMAN PAINTER IS FOUND DEAD

Miss Annie Eleanor Moore Had Lived Alone In Cottage For Four Years

Stamford, Conn., April 14.—Miss Annie Eleanor Moore, 50, daughter of the late George Moore, of Montreal, Canada, was found dead at her cottage on the Gutten Zorglum estate at Turn-Of-River, today. Medical examiners gave cerebral hemorrhage as cause of death. Miss Moore was a painter in water colors. She had been seen several days and Mrs. Z. Lake, the cottage entered through a window, as the door was locked.

Miss Moore had lived alone for the past four years. She is survived by a sister, Miss E. G. Moore, of Montreal, and two brothers, Alexander, Professor at McGill University, and Alfred, also of Montreal.

WOMAN MEMBER WILL RETIRE

London, April 14—The call of motherhood is stronger than that of Parliament, Captain Hilton Phillips said today, in discussing the rumor that Mrs. Phillips, the former Mabel Russell and one of eight women holding seats in the House of Commons, would retire from public life shortly. The Phillipses have three young children and the Captain said that because of the hard work involved in caring for them and attending to her duties in the House of Commons his wife would probably put the call of the nursery first.

Mrs. Phillips refused to give any information on the subject but it is understood that an announcement concerning her plans will be made when the Conservative Association of Berwick meets April 26.

ICE IS ALL GONE FROM ST. MAURICE

There Is Now Very Little Danger Of Any Floods In The Richmond District

Richmond, April 12—(Special corr.)—The ice has disappeared from the St. Francis River this week and up to the present all danger of a flood here seems to have disappeared.

The streets are drying up once more after the heavy rains of the last few days, already some of our citizens are beginning to clean up their premises.

Mr. P. J. Girard, has commenced reconstruction of the part of his block destroyed by fire some time ago and Mr. Bouffard is erecting a double tenement on Notre Dame street.

The regular session of the council was held Monday evening, when business of a routine character was transacted.

The subject discussed concerned the fire and light committees. The annual meeting of the Board of Trade resulted in the election of P. J. Girard, as president, and Mr. P. J. Girard, as secretary, the usual committees were formed, and, later, several resolutions of public interest were passed. The coming year promises to be one of increased activity for this energetic body.

Plans are under way for the macadamizing and improving of the Main street at the Quebec crossing, an improvement which doubtless will meet the approval of all.

MANY PROTESTS ARE COMING IN

General Feeling Of Uneasiness Among Many Of The Small Industries

Montreal, April 14—Protests continue to come in large numbers into the office of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, from various members in the Quebec division, regarding the tariff changes as outlined in the budget, R. W. Gould, Secretary reports.

"The majority of the protests have been lodged by implement manufacturers", stated Mr. Gould, "but there is a general feeling of uneasiness in many small industries, such as forging plants, which depend largely on the implement manufacturers for their work. We have made representations to the Government and I do not believe that any further protests would have any effect".

TO OBVIATE SOME OPERATING LOSSES

Navigation Coy. Has Sold Three Vessels And Transferred Two Others

Montreal, April 14—Because the policy which in 1922 reduced the operating loss on ocean service from $690,000 in 1921 to $250,000 was unable to obtain the same results in 1923 because of depressed conditions, the vessels were sold and two transferred to Lake service, President W. H. Coverdale said today at the annual meeting of Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., answering questions which were put to him regarding the position and prospects of the company. The vessels sold were the Lord Dufferin, Iverheath and Malahat. The President pointed out that this policy obviated operating losses, dispensed with depreciation charges on these ships and improved the cash position of the company. The company was trying to dispose of some other vessels.

On the three vessels the loss was about $312,000, the President said in reply to a question, the book value having been about $1,500,000 and the proceeds about $650,000. This loss was due to the general fall in value of ocean tonnage.

The book value of the Lake fleet, President Coverdale said, was on a very conservative basis and he was confident a revaluation would show them worth more than shown in the books. Depreciation charged annually was about $800,000, or nearly five per cent.

Three vessels were still on the ocean, the Essex County, the Welland County, and the Manitoa.

In the President's opinion the action taken would result in elimination of losses from the ocean services.

The Newfoundland coastal service in 1923 suffered a loss of $25,000. The Board of Directors was re-elected and B. W. Thompson elected to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of D. B. Hanna.

SALORS FAIL TO CLAIM MONEY

Many Members Of Canadian Navy Have Not Applied For Prize Money

Ottawa, April 14—(Can. Press)—A large number of sailors of the Royal Canadian Navy and Royal Naval Canadian volunteer reserve have not applied for the payment of prize money.

Prize money has been paid in three distributions and there are over four hundred eligible men who have not made any application.

There are twelve hundred who received payment of the first distribution but have not applied for the second or third, and three thousand who have been paid the first and second distribution but who have not applied for the third. There is $71,000 in prize money not yet distributed.

Authorities of the Department of National Defence state that it has been decided to complete payment without further delay and all qualified Canadian Naval ratings are advised to file their applications accompanied by their service certificates with the Chief Accountant, Department of National Defence, Ottawa, in order that their claims may be settled.

TAX QUESTION IN LA TUQUE

Motion To Rescind Exemption Of Taxation Defeated In Council

La Tuque, April 12—(Special corr.)—At the last meeting of the Town Council the following motion and amendments thereto were made, as below the amendments being carried:—

Proposed by Mr. Jos. Lamarche, seconded by Mr. A. Page that whereas as the Brown Corporation had not filled to the entire satisfaction of the Council, the obligations taken in virtue of which, if had obtained a commutation of taxes mentioned in the resolution of April 24th, 1919:

Whereas one resolution may be amended or annulled by another resolution,

Whereas a large number of persons of this town are out of work, and so unable to pay their taxes,

Whereas the taxes of the town are too high and that if the Brown Corporation pays taxes, this would effect a decrease in the tax rate.

Therefore the resolution of April 24th, 1919, granting a commutation of taxes to the Brown Corporation be annulled and rescinded while the said corporation have not made the improvements promised and from now on will have to pay taxes at the pro rata of its municipal valuation, like any other taxpayer, and as soon as the promised developments are completed the commutation of taxes granted by the April 24th, 1919, resolution, will again be allowed for the balance of the term, for six years more.

In amendment, it is proposed by Mr. F. X. Lamontagne, seconded by Mr. Arthur Tremblay:—

That:—Whereas the municipal council would be unanimous in the matter of collecting the taxes of the Brown Corporation:

Whereas this payment of taxes could not, unfortunately, be exacted legally because of the resolution passed on April 24th, 1919, granting the Corporation a partial exemption of taxes for ten years, namely until 1930.

Whereas by a resolution of Nov. 27th, believed it should submit the question of legality of this exemption to Mr. Ferdinand Roy, advocate, to know if there was a possibility of amending or rescinding the said resolution.

Whereas Mr. Ferd. Roy, after having made a serious study of this resolution of April 24th, 1919, which grants a partial exemption of taxes to the Brown Corporation we have come to the conclusion that this resolution cannot be attacked or rescinded.

Whereas this council at the meeting of Nov. 27th, decided to take the legal opinion of Mr. Ferd. Roy as a guide.

That the council submit itself to the opinion of Mr. Roy.

The votes resulted as follows:—

For:—F. X. Lamontagne, Armand Page, Jos. Lamarche, Jos. Lamarche, Arthur Tremblay, Frank Gauthier.

The Mayor gave his vote in favor of the amendment.

The vote is taken for the principal motion, with the result as follows:—

For:—F. X. Lamontagne, Armand Page, Jos. Lamarche, Jos. Lamarche, Frank Gauthier, Arthur Tremblay.

AN UNPRACTICAL IDEAL.

A chorus of disapproval has greeted the Budget proposals affecting the tariffs and once again the suggestion has been made that the question of the tariff should be taken out of the hands of the Government and entrusted to a commission. It is an easy matter to appreciate the feelings of the sponsors of the proposal, but it is a difficult matter to follow their arguments. Admittedly the present suggested reductions in the tariff make the position of the country well nigh desperate, but it is difficult to see how a commission could have relieved the situation. No matter how effective a government may be it is the only responsible method of democratic rule; it is, in fact, the only way in which the people of a country can voice their opinions as they relate to the administration of the country. Now undoubtedly one of the most important matters in which democracy desires to express opinions is in financial administration. The people of the country find the money and very naturally they expect to be consulted regarding its collection and application. If an independent commission were to be appointed then they would lose that right.

The commission of course might act as a beneficial check on the Government. It might conduct the fiscal question much better than the Treasury officials conducted it previously—but the people of the country would have no say in the matter whatever.

Commending the suggestion the Hamilton Spectator says:

"The action of the present Government is well calculated to increase the demand for the reform. Labor strongly endorses it, and capital will certainly follow suit, if thereby immunity from these disconcerting fluctuations can be secured. No one wants exclusive legislation in favor of any one class, or against any other class. Agriculture most certainly must be given a proper measure of protection and support, but this can be done far more effectively than in the way proposed by the Government, without inflicting penalties on manufacturers. The impartial consideration of tariff questions by competent authorities, duly taking account of the requirements of all interests and making an equitable adjustment between them, would put an end to this continual alternation of opposing policies."

We are bound to agree of course with the desirability for a consistent tariff policy. In the past we have repeatedly urged this very same thing, but we cannot subscribe to the opinion that it could be attained by the appointment of a commission unless the very method of Government were changed. Already we are a commission-ridden nation. Any question that the Government cannot solve without inconvenience to themselves is handed over to a Royal Commission, but in the past the Government have avoided the appointment of commissions to actually administer the country. Many people would probably agree that it would be better to have a Commission instead of a Parliament, and indeed there are many arguments that could be adduced in favor of such an arrangement, but it is an ideal that can never be achieved—by Democracy.

With praiseworthy, but misplaced optimism, the Hamilton Spectator considers that the impartial consideration of tariff questions by competent authorities would put an end to continual alteration of opposing policies. There is little foundation for such a view. It is difficult to imagine Mr. Forke's Progressives calmly accepting a tariff that would prove beneficial to the rest of the Dominion and it is equally difficult to conceive the Conservative party accepting a tariff that would be beneficial only to the wheat farmers. It may be argued that the Commission would hit upon a happy medium that would be acceptable to both. Such an ideal position, however, is merely ideal. It could certainly have no foundation in fact for it has already been tried and found wanting. At the present time Parliament is debating a "make-do" policy. The Policy was designed to meet the Progressives half way and partially appease the wrath of the representatives of industrial areas. It remains to be seen whether the Progressives are fully content, but it is perfectly apparent that the representatives of industrialism are not. Why critics should be disarmed merely because a Commission, presumably possessing autocratic powers, would dictate certain terms is a mystery. As a matter of fact the differences would continue, but the Government of the day would be given the additional bother of overruling any unpolitical suggestions made by the commission.

The Hamilton Spectator sums up its advocacy of the question by saying:

"It must be recognized by all that conflicting ideas on fiscal problems make for instability and consequent loss. A country which cannot make up its mind over the tariff question and tries to ride two horses at the same time, having a disposition to run in opposite directions, is certainly not going to make the progress it should. Uncertainty as to what the Government may do next is paralyzing to enterprise and trade. The tariff ought to be made the constant, earnest study of specialists, not the plaything of politicians. When political theorists and opportunists are given the power of life and death over a nation's industry, and do not hesitate to assert that power when exigencies arise, it is time to seek a change. Manufacturers are entitled to know where they stand with regard to tariff protection and to be reasonably sure of the future. Stability and progress are impossible while the political see-saw goes on, keeping employers and workers in a perpetual state of uncertainty and anxiety. The logical remedy for this deplorable state of things is the appointment of a special non-political body, with a uniform and consistent policy, to make the necessary tariff adjustments as occasion arises."

We admire the lucid way in which our contemporary explains the evils of constantly fluctuating tariffs; we admire the impartial attitude adopted towards farmers and manufacturers, but we cannot subscribe to the statement that the logical remedy for this deplorable state of things is the appointment of a special non-political body to make the necessary tariff adjustments as occasion arises. We cannot subscribe to the opinion for the very simple reason that it would be just as impossible to take the tariff policy out of politics as it would be to take the general fiscal policy out of politics. To do either would be to reduce representative government to a meaningless mockery.

The one and only cure for the present unfortunate position is co-operation between East and West. When the Western farmer realizes the importance of a stable and moderate tariff policy, when he realizes the indirect advantages that will accrue to him through the operation of such a policy then the nightmare of closing factories and deserted workshops will be over. Until that day dawns there can be no cure.

UTILIZATION OF WATER POWER.

The growth in the utilization of Canada's water-power resources has been truly spectacular. The total installation at the beginning of the present century of 150,000 h.p. had grown in 1910 to almost 1,000,000 h.p. and in 1923 to more than 3,225,000 h.p. By 1925 this total will have reached 4,000,000 h.p. and by 1940 it is estimated that the figure will be somewhere between 7,000,000 h.p. and 8,500,000 h.p. The present investment in hydro power development amounting to some $687,000,000 will have grown in 1940 on the above basis to a figure between $1,500,000,000 and $1,800,000,000.

The water-powers of Canada now awaiting development are in almost all cases either the property of the Dominion or of the province in which they are situated, consequently rights for their development are obtained directly from the Crown. Usually the Crown grants a lease or license authorizing the development for a fixed period varying from ten to ninety-nine years, generally with renewal privileges. Canada is fortunate in that these sources of hydraulic energy are favorably situated to serve with low-priced power the principal centres of population and to assist in the development of the other natural resources of the country.

The growth of hydro-electric power utilization has been chiefly in connection with the following industries:—

The Central Electric Station industry, the agency through which electric power is generated and sold for commercial and domestic use, is almost wholly dependent in Canada upon water-power; more than 97 per cent of the output being derived from this source. With the exception of a few cities situated principally on the western prairies, practically every large centre of population in the Dominion is served with hydro-electric power. The total hydro-electric installation in the industry of 2,411,700 h.p., together with transmission and distribution facilities, represents a capital investment of some $600,000,000.

The pulp and paper industry, which is outstanding among Canadian industries and is based upon widespread forest resources, is almost entirely dependent upon water-power for its motive energy. More than 497,000 horse-power in water-power installation are developed directly by the industry and an additional 229,000 horse-power of hydro-electric energy are purchased from central electric stations, making a total of 726,000 horse-power derived from water-power. It is a most fortunate circumstance that wherever timber resources are found throughout the Dominion ample water-power resources are also available for their exploitation.

Mining, with Allied Chemical and Metallurgical industries, is very largely carried on with the aid of water-power in Canada. This is especially true in the mining and refining of the precious metals, gold and silver, of nickel, copper, asbestos, and others. Water-power has made possible the tremendous development of gold and silver mining in northern Ontario where supplies of native coal are entirely absent. Milling, textile, and many of the other important industries of the Dominion are also very largely dependent upon hydro-power.

"ENGLISH" AND "AMERICAN."

A despatch from Paris states that the experts drawing up the Dawes Report were considerably delayed because of the differences between the English and American languages. It appears that part of the report was drawn up by Englishmen and part by Americans with the result that there were a number of slight yet important differences in meaning. Suitable expressions were found common to both languages and the ambiguous passages were finally made clear to the satisfaction of both parties.

In the past there have been many people who claimed to speak "American" and not English. The question has generally been treated frivolously. The despatch quoted proves the existence of "American" or possibly "Amurican"—so in a hundred years time our children's children may have yet another language to learn.

A Verse Or Two

SPRING RAIN.

Don't you love the smell of rain—
English rain—with all its train
Of scents in woods and lane?

If of cares you have a load,
Take a walk 'long Wootton Road,
See the little hoppy road,
By the wet and shiny road.

Take no thought for any morrow,
From the sweet scent new health borrow;
See the sunshine on the hollow
Welcome the returning swallow.

TAKE SENATE IN HAND.

(Saskatoon Star.)
The prospects are that the greater part, if not all, the projected branch lines will receive the approval of the House of Commons. There is likely, however, to be a serious attempt at obstruction by the Senate. If this occurs, the Government and the House must take a firm stand and come to terms with the Upper House.

TAX BILL TELLS WHAT?

(Regina Leader.)
The Canadian National Railways are owned by the people of Canada, a fact which their annual deficits permit no one to forget. What is a sensible thing to do under the circumstances. Circumscribe and curtail the earning capacity of the Canadian National Railways—or assist them to reach out and secure additional business? The answer is to be found in the taxes now paid by the Canadian people to cover the recurring deficits on the railway system they own.

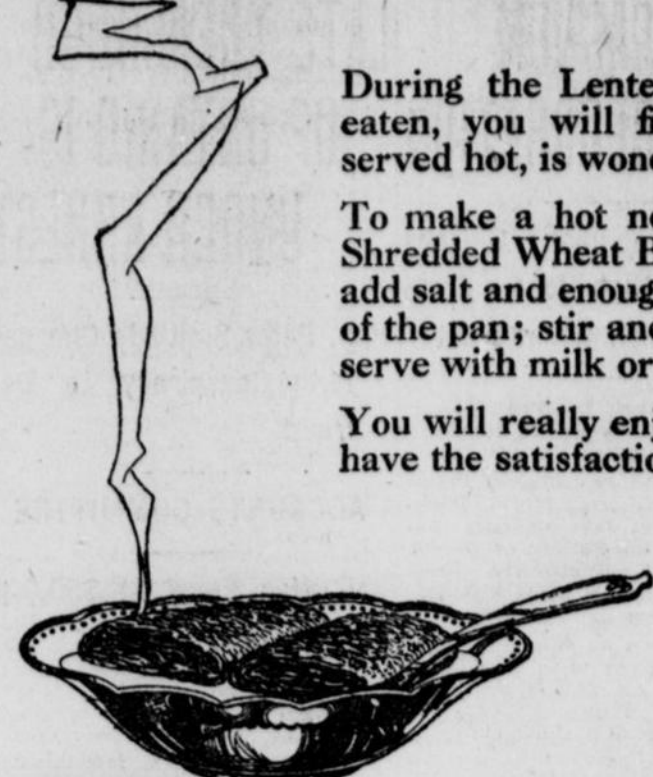

HELP AT LAST.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
The Hon. Mackenzie King has finally done something for the soldiers. He has taken the sales tax off crutches and milk foods.

Or was this out of deference to the ancients in the Senate with their infirmities of age and appetite? Or was it in anticipation of what he and his followers may be most in need of after the next election?

We give it up. The fact remains to speak for itself.

Hot meals in Lent

During the Lenten Fast, when meat is not eaten, you will find that Shredded Wheat, served hot, is wonderfully appetizing.

To make a hot nourishing porridge, put the Shredded Wheat Biscuit in a small sauce pan; add salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan; stir and boil until it thickens, then serve with milk or cream.

You will really enjoy this tasty dish, and will have the satisfaction of knowing that, while it costs less than meat or eggs, it is much more nourishing.

No waste with Shredded Wheat. It is all food.

Prendergast, Deputy Prothonotary of Quebec, died in Montreal on Thursday at the residence of his father. The deceased was very favorably known among quite a circle of young men of his own age, and more particularly among the

After going through his course of studies at St. Mary's College, he went abroad to study the Italian masters, and, during one year the European classes. On his return to Canada he was fully aware that the fell disease which undermined his constitution from his early age would not spare him, and he courageously made the sacrifice of his life.

Drawn up in the French Language.
At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held in the City Hall, Quebec, on the 11th day of April, 1924, the following By-law was read for the first time:
It is ordained and enacted and the said Council hereby ordains and enacts as follows, to wit:
1. Article 215 of By-law No. 2n, passed the 29th April, 1921, is amended and replaced by the following:
"21c. Every transient musician, transient photographer, mechanical piano player or of any other instrument, shall before exercising his trade or business obtain a license for which he shall pay $10.00.
2. The following article is added after article 215 of By-law No. 2, passed the 24th March, 1911, as amended by article 6 of By-law No. 2n, passed 29th April, 1921:
21g. A license not exceeding $50 is imposed on every person soliciting or taking orders for exercising the art of photographer or the preparing of photographs, for a benefit, in any other place than a business place entered on the valuation roll, provided that in this last case, said rule does not apply to persons whose names are entered on said roll or to their employees.
3. Article 7 of By-law No. 2, passed the 24th March, 1911, as amended by By-law No. 2g, passed 23rd April, 1918, is again amended by striking out, in the second line of said article, the words "every auctioneer" one hundred dollars.
4. The following article is added after Article 15 of By-law No. 2, passed the 24th March, 1911:
15a. Every auctioneer shall, before exercising his calling in the city of Quebec, obtain for so doing a license for which he shall pay the sum of $100.00 if he resides in this city and $200.00 if he resides outside.
PUBLIC NOTICE
Is hereby given that the said By-law shall be read a second time for adoption on Wednesday, the 16th April, 1924.

NO REDUCTION IN NEWSPRINT PRICE

Secretary Of Canadian Pulp And Paper Assn. Denies Recent Rumors

Montreal, April 14.—"There is absolutely nothing in the newspaper situation, either in Canada or in the United States, to support the pessimistic statements originating in certain quarters and widely circulated through the press to the effect that a break in the newspaper market is imminent," said Edward Beck, Secretary of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, in an interview here today.

"The industry is in a perfectly healthy condition," Mr. Beck added, "and while Canadian production for the first quarter of the year shows an increase compared with the corresponding period of last year, shipments have kept pace with increased production."

Mr. Beck concluded: "No Canadian manufacturer of newsprint so far as I am sure, has reduced his contract price or is contemplating doing so, nor is there any reason to anticipate such development in the near or remote future. The mischievous rumors that have been put out for a purpose are without foundation and without the slightest authority."

A GENERAL JUMP IN THE RATES ON INSURANCE SOON?

Loss In This City Sixty Per Cent Of Total Premium For Year, So Far

A STEADY LOSS
For Insurance Companies During The Course Of The Last Four Years

Quebecers face a prospective general increase in fire insurance, owing to the heavy fire losses sustained this year up to the present, and the fact that for the last four years the insurance companies have steadily lost money. The companies have the matter under advisement for the whole of the Dominion at present, and while they may be picking out certain classes of insurance on which the rates will be increased, there is every likelihood that in this city the increase in insurance will be a general one.

Up to the present the fire loss in Quebec city amounts to sixty per cent of the total premium for the year, or about $480,000, the premium in this city being figured at close to $800,000.

It is well known that all over the Dominion there has been great loss occasioned during the course of recent years through fire, while in the city of Quebec there is the Basilica, the Union Bank building, St. Roch's Hotel, Marceau's, the Woolworth store on St. Joseph street, McDonald's building, and many other places that give mute evidence as to the heavy loss sustained by the insurance companies through the ravages of the flames.

Big buildings throughout the whole of the Dominion have not been immune from flames, while in some cases whole villages and towns have been wiped out, although in these latter cases they have vanished through forest fires.

For these reasons the insurance companies are carefully studying the matter of premiums paid and losses sustained throughout the whole of the Dominion, and increases in several classes of insurance are looked for, while, as pointed out before, it is possible, and highly probable, that all classes of fire insurance in the city of Quebec will suffer a jump in rates, to become effective in the very near future.

WHOLE BIBLE STUDY CLASS

Interesting Lecture On The Destruction Of Sodom And Gomorrah

The subject studied last night by the Whole Bible Study Class, which meets at the Ladies' Mission Hall, No. 13 St. Joachim street every Monday evening, was on the Promise of the Birth of Isaac and the Destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, taken from Genesis, chapters 18-19.

The theme being "Is anything too hard for the Lord?" In the preceding chapters of the book of Genesis it was shown how Abraham was seeking to secure the fulfillment of God's promise through the energy of the flesh, and of his consequently meeting with failure. His wife Sarah being in a measure repentant but Abraham lacked in patience. He believed God but under took to secure the result in his own way, resulting in sorrow to both of them, and it was only when at last he realized his utter dependence on God alone and the fulfillment of his own endeavours, that the desire of Abraham's heart was answered, and in a wonderful way, for the Lord Himself appeared to him, and Abraham had the opportunity of entertaining his Lord and Maker. The meal that was prepared was according to the customs that we still find amongst the Arab tribes in the East, the best as a kind of the flock is only prepared for a very great personage. Abraham gave his best and Jehovah accepted it as He always accepts gifts if offered in the same spirit as did Abraham. The meal (or fine flour), is a type of Christ as a Man—Bread of Life—Food for His people. After Abraham had received the Lord's promises to Abraham, renewed and Sarah was to have a son. There is nothing too hard for the Lord (Jer. 32, 17) and then he was also told of the coming judgment on the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Abraham being so near to the Lord was given the opportunity of pleading for these wicked cities, although not even ten righteous persons in them. The contrast being Abraham and Lot, representing the Christian walking close to the Lord in his daily life and the worldly Christian mingling with the world in its joys and pleasures, an dthe wonderful promises and rewards that await the former while to the latter all his life's work is lost and he is saved only by the mercy of God. The fearful picture of the destruction of Sodom with all its inhabitants, has been lately corroborated by discoveries of tablets lately unearthed in Mesopotamia, proving the authenticity of God's Word, and geologists have discovered the traces of large deposits of asphalt, oil and bitumen which existed around these doomed cities, and which may have accounted largely for their terrible destruction through the agency of Lightning or other phenomena by the hand of the Lord.

CHILD POISONED BY DECORATED EASTER EGG

Montreal, April 14.—In the name of humanity, for the protection of the little children of Montreal, see if you cannot get me some Easter eggs like your little dead girl bought, and I will have them analyzed. We had two similar cases of poisoning last Easter," said Deputy Coroner Prince, in enquiring into the death of five-year-old Barbara Moore, of this city, who died yesterday, apparently as the result of having eaten a decorated Easter egg, purchased on Thursday.

Put a beggar in your barn and he will make himself your heir.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N.B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would become my friend to build me up. I am sure he is right for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."

—Mrs. ELMER A. RITCHIE, 82 Rodney St., West St. John, N.B.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them.

SHOULD DEVELOP MINING WEALTH

Mr. T. C. Denis Says Mineral Riches Of Province Barely Scratched

Mr. T. C. Denis, superintendent of Mines in the Province of Quebec, made an interesting speech yesterday at the luncheon of the members of the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. He had chosen "Metallic Ores of Quebec" for his subject, and at the outset of his address declared there was not a single geological reason why such famous mining camps as those of Kirkland Lake, Porcupine and Sudbury should not be duplicated anywhere in the 65,000 square miles of the Quebec Laurentian Plateau, stretching from the Ottawa and St. Lawrence rivers to the Hudson Strait.

He said the production of metals was pitifully small, and proceeded to give figures relating to the production of the different metals in the Province last year. During the war the value of metallic production was higher, but this was due to the fact that exceptionally high prices could be obtained in almost any line. The actual production, however, had not been much greater than in former years.

The speaker declared that 93 per cent of the Province of Quebec is occupied by the Laurentian Shield or Plateau. This comprises the territory to the north of a line joining the cities of Ottawa and Quebec, and runs along the north shore of the St. Lawrence to the Straits of Belle Isle and stretches as far as Hudson Strait. The surface of the land in this territory was formed of what are collectively known as Precambrian rocks, and it was in the rocks of these formations that large iron, copper, silver and gold deposits were found.

They were great potentialities in our metallic mineral possessions but these were not being developed owing to sparseness of population, and a lack of interest on the part of the people living here who are more interested in agriculture, and fail to consider what the province possesses in mineral wealth. "The fact that climatic conditions restricted prospecting during seven or eight months in the year also was influential in retarding development."

He stressed the need for increased education, a kind of natural resource, and pointed out that at present in both English and French schools, the amount of time allotted to this study was all too short. He declared the future of the mineral industry in the province was bright, for to date we have hardly scratched the surface with the work already accomplished and our metallic resources are immense.

In conclusion the speaker pointed out that while the remarks he had made were probably not new, the facts having been known to geologists for years, their application to this province was becoming daily more advisable as mineral resources were now invading the province from abroad. The results achieved.

In the district of north-western Quebec had been very encouraging and they gave promise of developing into great producing centres in the future.

Mr. Denis was accorded a hearty vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address.

ONLY REAL AND LARGE RELIEF

Utilization Of Water Power In Acute Fuel Area Referred To In Report

Ottawa, April 14.—(Can. Press)—"That the development of water power constitutes the only real and large relief yet achieved to the fuel problem in the acute fuel area," is the conclusion reached by the Dominion Water Power Branch of the Department of the Interior.

In a summary of the more recent statistics and information gathered on the utilization of water power in Canada in relation to coal production, importation and consumption, which will be issued shortly, the water power branch declares also, "that it is our water power resources and the low average of cost of power therefrom that has made possible such rapid development of our manufacturing industries that the net value of production of our factories (deducting duplication) is now greater than that of agriculture."

"The acute fuel area" mentioned is said to be Ontario and Quebec, and the supply of coal to these two central provinces is regarded as constituting the fuel problem of Canada.

Ontario and Quebec, it is stated, use over sixty per cent of the coal consumption of Canada, and 93 per cent of their combined consumption of coal is imported from abroad.

"The combined consumption of Ontario and Quebec for 1923 was 23,810,000 tons," states the summary. "The coal equivalent of developed water power in the same area is over 20,000,000 tons. It will therefore be seen that but for this developed water power Ontario and Quebec would require about twice their present supply of coal."

DEATH OF FORMER

MAYOR OF COTE ST. PAUL
Montreal, April 14.—Patrick Farmer, former Mayor of Cote St. Paul, passed away yesterday at his home 1297 Church Avenue, following an extended illness. Mr. Farmer, who was 64 years of age, retired from active business in 1904 and lived in the vicinity of Montreal all his life and in Cote St. Paul for 55 years. He is survived by his widow.

Next Monday's evening subject will be "The Birth and Offering of Isaac" Genesis 21, 22.

CITY TAX OF $1,000 IS TO BE COMBATTED

Express Firms Go Before Superior Court To Challenge Its Right

DISCRIMINATION
Against Rest of Dominion If Quebec's Wishes' Accorded To By Them

The express companies of the city, the Canadian National and the Dominion National, are fighting the city's right to tax them $1,000 for their service in the city, and will go before the Superior Court this morning in an effort to prove that the city has no right to charge them more than $500, and furthermore, has no right to try and ask them to deliver in certain sections of the city, when it is against the Railway Act, which lays down certain limits.

A delegation from the two Express Companies, accompanied by Mr. J. P. Gravel, waited on His Worship the Mayor yesterday afternoon in an effort to reach an understanding on the subject, and His Worship promised that it would be taken up last night, at the caucus that was to be held. The matter was taken up, but no action was decided on, so the court case will go on this morning.

The express companies have expressed themselves to be quite willing to be governed by the Board of Railway Commissioners, but otherwise they cannot go any further, as they would be discriminating in favor of Quebec against the rest of the Dominion, stated Mr. Gravel last evening, adding that the case was to come up in the Superior Court this morning.

If the express companies were to go as far as the city wanted them to go in their delivery service, they would be infringing on the Railway Act, which provides for certain limits.

These limits, as laid down for the city of Quebec, provide for service to the centre of the city and certain parts of Limoilou, while the limit in Upper Town is Braves Avenue, west of which the rigs do not go. The city wants them to go as far as the Saint-Sacrement parish, but the Express Companies are fighting the desire to extend their service.

Last year the tax paid by the express companies operating in Quebec was $1,500.00, but this year the city decided to reduce the tax to $1,000, and furthermore added that if the service was improved the tax would be cut to another $500.00 next year.

TO APPEAL DECISION IN CIVIC ENQUIRY CASE

At the end of the month an appeal from the decision of Chief Justice Sir Francois Lemieux, of the Superior Court, in the case of the request for an enquiry into the civic administration of the past four years, will be heard in the Court of Appeals, three judges division.

The attorneys for the appellants claim that the statute does not allow a judge to refuse a petition presented by fifty rate payers. The original petition remains as it was, containing a series of allegations relative to irregularities by the mayor and members of the City Council.

CHATEAU ARRIVALS

Among the guests who registered at the Chateau yesterday were: M. Garcon, E. J. Hebert, R. S. Briggs, E. D. Riley, F. W. Branscombe, C. M. Fitzpatrick, E. M. McLaren, Walter C. Wolfe, B. A. Healey, Sault S. Echer, Leonard Marcon, Montreal; P. Bishop, Portneuf; R. D. Wiggett, Sherbrooke; Arthur Pafard, Quebec; W. H. Burr, J. H. Haecox, W. J. Phelan, A. O. Roy, Toronto; J. R. Wallace, Grand'Mere; A. C. Lalarte, Warwick; A. Aubert, Buffalo, N.Y.; J. Johnson, London, Eng.

WAGES OF C. N. R. EMPLOYEE ARE SUBJECT TO SEIZURE

In maintaining a claim of $300 against an employee of the Canadian National Ry., Hon. Justice Letellier brought out an interesting point of law by deciding that the salary of a C. N. R. employee no longer enjoys exemption from seizure, as the railway is now operated by a company which is to a certain extent independent of the Federal Government.

HAVE ISSUED SEVENTY THOUSAND PAMPHLETS

Montreal, April 14.—Over seventy thousand pamphlets, issued by the Montreal Board of Trade, and which have been enthusiastically welcomed wherever shown since produced in picture form and its reception at the Victoria yesterday by a large audience was no exception.

The picture is simply teeming with exciting action, not the least important of which is the battle between two men in a ship over the English Channel. What makes this scene more exciting is the fact that the airship burst out in flames so that they are obliged to resort to a drop in the turbulent sea far below them to escape being roasted to death. The realistic acting throughout the picture makes the many narrow escapes of the different characters as really seen on the stage.

Notable among the artists who have leading parts in the picture are Catherine Calvert, the famous American star and Cline Brook. Brook became famous through his wonderful acting in "This Freedom," a picture which was seen in this city recently, and he surpasses his previous performances in this picture. He is interestingly thrilling in his duel with Anthony Barraclough.

This picture was produced by Denison Clint, who is responsible for giving to moving picture fans such productions as "This Freedom," "A Woman of No Importance," etc.

THE QUEBEC CHRONICLE.

A ROADWAY OVER QUEBEC BRIDGE

Government Is Studying The Matter, Minister Of Railways States In House

The question of a roadway across the Quebec Bridge has at last reached the ears of the Federal Government, according to a despatch from Ottawa, which states that the Minister of Railways, in reply to the question, "Does the Government propose to complete the Quebec Bridge, especially the central space reserved for vehicles?" informed the speaker that "the Government has the matter under consideration."

Thus agitation which has been carried on for a long time about a roadway over the Quebec Bridge for vehicular traffic has at last reached Ottawa, and possibly there may be some definite statement made, one way or the other, in the near future, before the end of the session.

In Quebec nearly everybody is in favor of a roadway over the Quebec Bridge, and strange to say, the sole opposition to the matter has come from Lévis, where the Board of Trade and the City Council of the fair town on the opposite banks of the St. Lawrence energetically planned themselves on record as being absolutely opposed to a driveway over the Quebec Bridge.

The Quebec Board of Trade, as well as several other organizations, all went on record as being in favor of the driveway, and it was suggested that the space in between the rails could be filled in, thus making a driveway, if there was not sufficient space otherwise, across the bridge.

The matter was taken up at the annual general meeting of the Quebec Auto Club last evening, when one of the members asked that the Government be approached regarding the completion of the approach to the Quebec Bridge, while he also asked whether there was any possibility of a driveway being constructed across the Bridge.

The Federal Government has had the matter under consideration for some time, and in the late fall sent engineers down from constructing a driveway over the bridge, in reply to public demand from this section of the country, but yesterday's statement by the Minister of Railways was the first thing that the people knew about, except for the visit of the engineers.

LAUZON WILL BORROW $20,000

Bienville Taxpayers Will Help Clear Own Ward's Debt By Tax

The Lauzon City Council decided last evening to borrow $20,000 for the purpose of clearing off the debts of Bienville, and imposing a special tax on the taxpayers of that ward to help repay the loan.

The case of the young man who was arrested at the time of the Bienville elections on a charge of stealing circulars from a printing plant, came up today before Hon. Judge Choquette.

Mr. Emile Forques, an employee of the Canadian National Railway, and a resident of Lauzon, was found yesterday to be suffering from smallpox, by Dr. Sirols, of the Lauzon Health Department, and Provincial Health Department officer, Dr. E. Couillard.

Asked over the telephone if the case was of a serious nature, Dr. Couillard said that while it was not as grave as the disease is often found, it nevertheless was the most serious reported in the vicinity of Quebec for a number of years. He said that every precaution has been taken to prevent the disease spreading. This is the only case in the district, and, in fact, the only one between here and Montreal.

Mr. Forques works on the Quebec-Montreal train, and the only theory that could be advanced as to how he contracted the disease, is that some person from outside the province must have been travelling on his train and was either suffering from it or carried the microbes on his person.

THE VICTORIA

"Out To Win" the splendid screen production which is showing at present at this theatre is the adaptation to moving pictures of the famous play of that name which has been meeting with tremendous success during the last three years. It has been enthusiastically welcomed wherever shown since produced in picture form and its reception at the Victoria yesterday by a large audience was no exception.

The picture is simply teeming with exciting action, not the least important of which is the battle between two men in a ship over the English Channel. What makes this scene more exciting is the fact that the airship burst out in flames so that they are obliged to resort to a drop in the turbulent sea far below them to escape being roasted to death. THE QUEBEC CHRONICLE.

BUDGET IS TO BE $2,300,000 FOR 1924-1925

At Present Is $2,600,000, But Cut Of $300,000 Is Probable

TWO CONTROLLERS
One For All Departments, And Other For Municipal Garages Favored

The Budget for 1924-25, in its present form, amounts to about $2,600,000, but if present plans go through, and they most likely will, there will be a slash of $300,000 or so in the estimates, leaving a budget of $2,300,000. Last year's budget was $2,400,000.

His Worship Mayor Samson and the City Fathers took up the subject of the budget at a caucus held in the Mayor's office last evening, and for nearly four hours the subject was discussed pro and con. There were various suggestions made regarding what different aldermen thought could be cut out, but in each case the cuts were opposed.

There were some slashes made in the budget last evening, it was learned, but what they were, and how much they amounted to, could not be ascertained, while it could neither be learned how much the budget was in its original state, although it was rumored that the estimates were for $3,100,000.00.

Another thing that was brought up at the caucus, which started at eight, and came to a close five minutes before midnight, was the question of a controller for municipal garages, this being favored by His Worship the Mayor, in addition to a general controller over all departments of the City Hall, for which post Mr. P. N. Verge, the City Treasurer, is slated, if present plans materialize.

The Mayor is in favor of the controller over all departments having full authority, and of reporting every day, if necessary, on how things are going.

As matters now stand, the budget is shelved for the present, and will only come up next week, when the Finance Committee get down to business, when the final slashing before it is sent up to the City Council for approval, will take place.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was scheduled for this evening, but it has been cancelled, and no action will be taken in connection with the budget before to-night week.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE VISIT THIS CITY

"Bringing Up Father On Broadway" Played To A Large Audience Last Night

Probably no other series of comic pictures published in the United States and Canadian papers, have had the same popularity and fame as George McManus' portrayal of Jiggs, Maggie, their daughter and their many acquaintances, in "Bringing Up Father," but it is seldom given to the public to practically rub shoulders with those mirth provoking characters.

Jiggs, Maggie and their friends, "highbrow and lowbrow" appeared last night on the Auditorium stage, on the new adaptation of the comics, under the title of "Bringing Up Father on Broadway."

The play is in two acts and five scenes, running the gamut of action from a roof garden on Broadway to the burning mountains of sunny Italy. Once more Maggie swipes for social climbing. How she fares, and the attending complications that ensue forms one of the merriest plots of a very funny musical comedy.

There was a large attendance last evening and to say that the play provoked roars of laughter would be a very mild way of describing the enjoyment both young people and their elders obtained from the show.

There is not a single dull moment from the time the curtain rises until it is finally let down at the conclusion of the comedy. All the characters, among them some of those well known figures such as Dinty Moore and Duggan, and a host of others, were faithfully portrayed by the actors, while the female parts were taken by some very talented and clever lady performers.

The music which was specially written for this play, is very catchy and some of the songs should prove dangerous rivals to some of the most recent popular hits. The troupe contains some remarkably clever dancers and pretty girls which by the way get a great deal of attention from Mr. Jiggs to the annoyance and expressive dislike of Maggie.

The costumes are a real riot of color and models of the latest fashion, while the scenery is such as is rarely seen on the stage for a "travelling" show.

"Bringing Up Father" on Broadway, is a sure cure for any fit of the "blues" and should prove a great attraction during its short visit to this city.

BOARD OF TRADE TO HAVE GUESTS

Imperial Shipping Committee Will Attend Meeting And Dinner Wednesday

The question of the formation of another judicial district for Beauce came up for consideration at yesterday's meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade. It was decided in this connection to hold a special meeting of the Council at 11 a. m., Saturday, to which members of the Federal Parliament for the district of Beauce will be invited to attend, in order to decide what means should be taken to prevent the enforcing of the order-in-council providing for this extra court.

The Imperial Shipping Committee which disembarked at Halifax a few days ago will be at Quebec on Wednesday as the guests of the Board of Trade. A meeting at which the question of freight rates, insurance rates and other matters concerning general freight transportation will be held at 2 p. m. and all those who are interested in this important subject are requested to attend.

A dinner will be tendered the visitors by the president and council of the Board at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Garrison Club.

TO BLESS BASILICA

BELLS ON MAY 11TH
On the 11th of May next four bells of the rebuilt Basilica will be blessed amid great ceremony. There are three large bells and a smaller, the latter being expressly for announcing low masses. They will weigh 12,565 lbs. in all. They are being imported from Manchou, France, from the same foundry which manufactured the old Basilica bells. It is probable that His Eminence Cardinal Begin will preside at the ceremony.

CARPENTIER WOULD MEET GIBBONS BEFORE TUNNEY

HON. A. GALIPEAULT ELECTED PRESIDENT OF QUEBEC BALL CLUB AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

Officers And Directors Of Company Were Chosen At Assembly Of Shareholders—Company May Purchase Land At Foot Of Bridge Street—Corcoran Here Tomorrow

Honorable Antonin Galipeault, Minister of Public Works, was elected President of the Quebec Baseball Club, Ltd., which will operate the local team in the Quebec, Ontario and Vermont Baseball League this summer, at a meeting of the shareholders held at the Victoria Hotel last evening. A board of seven directors was also appointed. The directors are Hon. A. Galipeault, H. Fontaine, Dr. Marston, J. E. Dion and H. Therrien. The board of provisional officers and directors, elected a couple of weeks ago, resigned en bloc as their term expired at the meeting.

Following the election of directors, the meeting was adjourned and was followed by an assembly of the directors at which the officers for the year were appointed. These officers are:

President: Hon. Antonin Galipeault.

Vice-President: Dr. M. Fontaine.

Business Manager: H. Fontaine.

Secretary: J. E. Dion.

Treasurer: D. McMillan.

The question of playing grounds was brought up, and it was decided that negotiations would be entered into in an effort to secure the land at the foot of Bridge Street. It is understood that the owners of this piece of land are adverse to renting it, though they will sell it at a reasonable price.

The idea of playing all the games at the Exhibition Grounds has not been abandoned by any means, though no dates can be secured from the Exhibition Commission until the league schedule has been officially adopted as the officials of the club do not know for the present when the club will be playing at home or away.

Ovila Cote, who was Secretary of the Quebec Club in the Eastern Canada League last summer, was appointed Assistant Business Manager, and will travel with the team throughout the season to look after the financial end.

Mickey Corcoran, who has been signed to manage the club, will arrive in Quebec tomorrow, according to a telegram received from him, and will be given full control. He has a number of players with him, though they will only report about May 1st. The team will probably train in Sherbrooke.

The directors, before adjourning, studied the player question, and came to the decision that a strong team would have to be mustered, and no pains will be spared in securing a nine that will be well up in the standing throughout the season.

Sporting Notes.

The sixteen American and National League teams, will start on their 1924 pennant chase today, and "Babe" Ruth and "Cy" Williams will commence their battle for home-run honors. Ruth and Williams tied in circuit blows last season with 41 each.

The idea of the directors of the Quebec Baseball Club to open negotiations in an effort to purchase the land at the foot of Bridge Street, and turn it into a baseball diamond, with a covered stand and bleachers, is an excellent one, and all local fans will join in hoping that the idea will become a reality.

According to a despatch, Georges Carpentier would sooner fight Tommy Gibbons before clashing with Gene Tunney. In this case Carpentier is inviting disaster, if reports from France are correct, as it is claimed that the Frenchman is far from being the same type of fighter as when he met Dempsey. Carpentier, Paris claims, is through as a contender for world's honors. Coming back to Gibbons and Tunney, the former is considered the better man.

MAJOR LEAGUES START TO-DAY

American And Nat'l. League Teams Will Inaugurate 1924 Pennant Campaign

New York, April 14.—The forces of major league baseball inaugurate their 1924 pennant campaign tomorrow. Fandom east and west is keenly awaiting the opening shout of "play ball" that will mark the close of the long "off-season" and send the sixteen American and National League outfits off on a battle for supremacy that will not close until the last week in September. Fair weather is promised for the inaugural games and indications point to record outpourings of the faithful to compare pre-season ratings of their favorites with actual performances. Interest has been sharpened to an unusual degree and observers predict a record attendance year with accompanying prosperity, which will eclipse the high marks of last season that wound up with the first million dollar world series in history.

The schedule for tomorrow is as follows:

American League.
New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Washington.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.

National League.
Brooklyn at New York.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
Chicago at St. Louis.

WOULD BATTLE GIBBONS FIRST

Carpentier Would Sooner Meet Tommy Than Tunney In First U.S. Bout

New York, April 14.—Georges Carpentier would rather battle Tom Gibbons, St. Paul light-heavyweight at Michigan City, Ind., on May 31, than engage in the first fight of his prospective American campaign against Gene Tunney, United States light-heavyweight champion in New York or New Jersey, the week of June 8.

This information, marking the latest development in a lively battle among rival promoters over Carpentier's engagements in this country, was cabled today to Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, by Francois Descaups, the Frenchman's manager who expressed a desire to alter his agreement with Gibson making possible the Gibbons-Carpentier match first. He suggested July fourth as a date for the match with Tunney.

THIRTY LEADING WRESTLERS ARE IN

Championship Tournament Will Commence Monday In Montreal Arena

Montreal, April 14.—Thirty of the leading wrestlers of the world are reported as entered for the championship tournament which will commence at the Mount Royal Arena here next Monday and will continue for two or possibly three weeks. They included Wladek Zbyzko; Robert Roth, conqueror of Le Marini; Gardini, who wrestled Ed "Strangler" Lewis to a draw last week; Pistone; Jim London; Gohar Gobar of India; Yusuf Yussef, of Syria; Ivan Linow, of Russia; and Frank Judeon, the former Harvard star.

EMIGRANTS RETURN FROM MANY FOREIGN LANDS

Riga, April 14.—Large groups of Russians who emigrated to Australia and the Americas before the war are returning to their native country to re-establish themselves in various occupations they adopted in foreign countries.

One group that went out to Australia has applied to the Soviet government for permission to return to Russia to develop sheep-breeding. The group possess capital amounting to $50,000 and has been looking upon with favor by the Soviet in view of the fact that sheep-breeding is almost extinct. A representative of the group has been invited to Russia to arrange a contract, and the government is willing to apportion a piece of land in south eastern Russia.

Parties of settlers from Seattle and Montreal, returning with capital and machinery, will establish themselves in the Don territory in the provinces of Ekaterinoslav and Odessa.

CANADIAN SOCCER TEAM IS STRONG

Every Player Sent To Australia Is Strongest Playing Respective Position

(Written by Archie Willis for The Canadian Press)
Victoria, B.C., April 14.—Canada is sending a team of footballers to Australia that should be able to give a splendid account of themselves. Every man has been picked for his outstanding ability at the respective positions and the three exhibition games played by the club at Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria gave the players a chance to get an understanding of each other's favorite tricks and plays and develop a certain amount of team play. By the time the team returns home, in the middle of August, it should be an exceptionally smart side and effort are now being made to pit them against the Corinthians who will be on the Pacific Coast at that time.

The Canadians should do very well down under as soccer is somewhat of a new game there. The Australians have for years played their own game of football, which calls for eighteen men a side, with points being scored much on the same lines as in Canadian Rugby. Recently, however, the "Aussies" have taken to soccer and they are making good strides and expect to give the touring eleven a hard fight in all the games.

The Canadian team, which is the first in any line of sport to depart for an exhibition tour of the Antipodes, sailed from Victoria April 9 on the steamship Niagara. Requests had been received from Honolulu and Suva, Fiji Islands, for games en route, but Manager James Adam was not sure when he left whether or not he would accede.

The letter from Suva said that the game was played after six p.m. as previous to that hour the heat is too intense.

Although New Zealand originally planned the tour, it was taken out of their hands by the Australian Football Association and as a result no games will be played there until the return trip, when the boys will stretch their legs in Auckland during the time the boat is docked there.

Owing to the fact that the team will disembark at Sydney, N.S.W., the first game will be played there. That state will be host to the Canadians between May 10th and 28th. The team will move north to Queensland for a series of games between May 31 and June 9, after which they will return to New South Wales for another spell until the end of that month. Between July 3 and 10 the Canadians will appear in Victoria cities and then start the trek westward, stopping off in South Australia for four days and being due to perform in West Australia on July 19. On the return trip across the continent the team will stop off at Adelaide for games up till July 26 and polish off the tour at Sydney on July 30, sailing the following day for Canada.

Every member of the team is looking forward with intense interest to the Australian games.

James Adam, manager of the team, is President of the Rotary Club of Victoria and will address numerous banquets in Australia. Before he became too old to play football, he built up a reputation of being the best centre forward Vancouver Island ever produced and the island boasts the present holders of the Comanagh Cup. He played inside left for Nanaimo from 1903 to 1909 and then moved to Ladysmith where he was made centre forward. In 1912 he moved to Victoria and played centre half for a number of teams. Until he retired to represent British Columbia team was complete without his name.

Here is a close-up on the players who are making the trip:

G. Forrest, 23 years of age, of the Toronto Ulsters. Played with Alcoa Athletic and League of Scotland before coming to Canada one year ago. Regarded as the best outside right in the Dominion.

Leslie Ford, 29, from Regina. Played inside forward for the Thistles. Has the reputation of being the most consistent player in the West.

W. Lanning, 27, hails from Lethbridge, Alta. Rated as the most versatile player on the team. A born fullback he can play any position with credit, outside of goal. He passed up a chance to play with Chelsea in order to come to Canada. He is a member of the Veterans United team of Lethbridge.

F. Dierden, 27, a member of the Wilkes-Overland team of Toronto. A clever centre half—some critics believe the cleverest in the East.

W. Anderson, 22, of Ladysmith, B.C., youngest member of the team and the lightest. But despite lack of weight he plays fullback, at which position, because of his ability to kick with either foot with equal ability, he is a stalwart.

Dicky Stobart, 30, the only member of the Dominion champions making the trip. Plays either on the forward or half back line with the Nanaimo team. Is tricky with his feet and possesses a "football head."

A. Mosher, 24, is the goal-keeper. He is tall and has good hands. A veteran in the sticks, despite his youth, and the greatest goalie the West has ever seen.

W. Chapman, 27, late of Edmonton, but now of Ladysmith, B.C. One of the best forwards in British Columbia. His swift shot has made him a real goal-getter.

J. Armstrong, 28, of Vancouver champions, St. Andrew's, plays a strong half-back game, a good tackler and places well. He covers lots of ground and is a level-headed and smooth-actioned player.

Don Morrison, of Ladysmith, trainer of the team, was formerly goal-keeper for the famous Wellington team, which reigned supreme on Vancouver Island some years back. He knows the game inside out and his knowledge will be indispensable to Manager Adam.

TRADES SCHOOLS ARE A NECESSITY

Senior Inspector Of Ottawa Public Schools Says Apprentice System Is A Joke

Ottawa, Ont., April 14.—(By Canadian Press)—That trades schools must be established in Canadian cities and the sooner the better to offset the effects of the collapse of the apprentice system, is the emphatic opinion expressed by Dr. J. H. Putman, senior inspector of Ottawa Public Schools, in his annual report for the year 1923.

Analysing the "immediate destination" of the 2,094 pupils who left grade classes in the Public Schools during 1923 and commenting thereon, Dr. Putman remarks that "the number of boys who left school to learn skilled trades is insignificant and its inevitable consequence alarming." Dr. Putman instances some of the obstacles he sees being put in the way of technical training and comments that what he wishes to emphasize is that unions, whether of professional men or artisans, will not solve the problems of society.

"Eventually," he says, "we come to a deadlock and our social organizations cracks. Every union, while it increases the social ties of its own members, has in it an element that is antisocial. It carries within itself the seeds of its own ultimate destruction. In the end, only freedom can establish anything on a permanent basis," says the inspector. Human beings, he urges, must have houses, and houses cannot be built without carpenters, bricklayers, painters, plasterers and plumbers.

"Society must protect itself. The apprentice system in these trades, at any rate, has become a joke," maintains Dr. Putman, who urges that trades schools would not only assist in solving what is becoming an alarming economic problem; they would also help to solve a very difficult educational problem. Trades schools would not involve the abandonment of technical schools which attempt to teach the underlying principles of all forms of industry. Trades school classes would make it possible for boys between the ages of 14 and 16 years to attend school from November to April and find steady employment at a remunerative wage and at the same time be perfecting the theory and practice of their trades school instruction. Dr. Putman maintains also that such a system would provide a mental, moral and physical discipline of incalculable value for scores of city boys, who now secure working permits to engage in blind-alley jobs, or who are held in school under compulsion pursuing courses in which they have little or no interest, he says.

PROMINENT IMMIGRATION OFFICIAL HAS ARRIVED.
St. John, N.B., April 14.—Among the passengers arriving here today on the Canadian Pacific steamship Melita was Leonard A. Wide, who is a member of the immigration department on they Y. M. C. A. in London, Eng. Mr. Wide came to Canada to replace Stanley Arthur, who had to return to England on account of illness.

He left here tonight for Toronto and from there will proceed to the Western Provinces to take up his duties which consist of a nomination scheme through the churches. This is Mr. Wide's first trip to Canada, but his duties in the Y. M. C. A. have taken him to many countries throughout the world his more recent activities have been confined to Australia and Switzerland. During the war period, he was an officer in the Indian army and had many thrilling experiences. He also saw service in Mesopotamia and was serving as adjutant of the 87th Punjab under General Fanehaw, when the British force captured the entire Turkish army, consisting of the General his staff, 1200 men and their arms and equipment.

Mr. Wide is a prominent Rotarian and vice-president of the Nottingham Rotary Club. He expects to remain in Canada for a period of six months and will then return to England.

I will not change a cottage in possession for a kingdom in reversion.

is a fullback and a veteran of the game. He will be, perhaps, the oldest player making the trip. His experience is expected to be a great asset to the team.

Jim Wilson, of Edmonton, was reckoned as the best centre half in the West when he played in Vancouver. Since moving to Edmonton he has played some great soccer. He is a tall, rangy player and hard to get around; a fast, good placer and a great man in the attack.

R. W. Harley, of Winnipeg, said to be the best forward in the prairie city; a goal-getter of no mean ability.

F. Bowman, is the pride of Saskatoon. A good dribbler and a deadly shot.

I. Sargent, of Montreal, one of the most reliable forwards in Quebec Province; speedy, accurate and will take a lot of watching.

J. Hood, of Brandon, is considered one of the best forwards in Manitoba and his friends all say that he has no peer anywhere. He is steady, unselfish, fast, and has a sparkling shot.

H. C. Noseworthy, of Montreal, is a fullback; kicks beautifully with either foot; has splendid speed and tackles ably.

"There is a well-balanced team," remarked Manager Jim Adam before leaving. "I am quite certain that we will not only have a wonderful trip but will do justice to Canada and make a showing worthy of our great country. We've got a team of great players and that's going to be a great thing in our favor. Followers of soccer in Canada, can rest assured that all will do their best."

PREPARING BAIL FOR HON. P. SMITH

Toronto And Stratford Men Will Put Up Bond For Ex-Treasurer's Release

Toronto, April 14.—At seven o'clock tonight Hon. Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer, who was placed under arrest at two o'clock this afternoon on a charge of conspiring to defraud the Government of Ontario while in office, was still at Toronto detective headquarters awaiting the arrival of three local men who, it is understood, have agreed to put up bail bonds to the extent of $50,000 on Mr. Smith's behalf until tomorrow morning only when the obligation will be turned over to friends from Stratford.

Detectives informed the Canadian Press the Toronto men were not expected before eight or nine o'clock to-night.

Mr. Smith's counsel announced that thirteen citizens of Stratford had consented to go bail for Mr. Smith and that several of them were leaving on to-night's train for Toronto and the others will arrive tomorrow morning.

MEAT CONSUMPTION IN 1923

SHOWS NOTABLE INCREASE

Chicago, April 14.—Government figures showing that a record was established in 1923 for production and consumption of meat, so far as total poundage is concerned, are included in a report made public today by Howard Leonard, chairman of the National Livestock and Meat Board, to its members.

Mr. Leonard said the consumption of meat reached a peak figure of 15,451,000 pounds last year. The figures show that only once since Federal meat inspection was established in 1917, has consumption of meat per capita exceeded that of 1923," he continued. "In 1908, it was 170.5 pounds as compared with 167.0 pounds last year. During the last decade or two, however, our population has been increasing at the rate of more than a million a year, with the result that total consumption has increased greatly since 1908 although consumption per capita is less than it was in that year.

"The meat consumption last year represented an increase of more than 2,000,000,000 pounds over the average of the last five years. Approximately ninety percent of this increase was shown to be in pork, attributed to the record production of hogs."

The consumption of meat in the United States last year was divided as follows: beef, 6,918,000,000 pounds; veal, 837,000,000 pounds; lamb and mutton, 574,000,000 pounds; pork, 10,118,000,000 pounds; goat, 3,000,000 pounds.

"A big drop in meat exports was experienced following the world war, but 1923 came back with 969,000,000 pounds of meat exported, which was an increase of 226,000,000 pounds over 1922." Mr. Leonard added. "About 934,000,000 pounds of this amount was pork. Germany being one of the leading purchasers of the type of meat. Germany was also our largest buyer of lard, the total exports of which broke all records."

EMPLOYEES NARROWLY ESCAPED INJURY

Montreal, April 14.—Thirty employees narrowly escaped injury; there was damage of around $40,000; two firemen suffered slight cuts; and telephone service to more than 100 subscribers was interrupted, as a result of a fire in the premises of the Progress Mattress Co. Ltd., at 110-12 St. Dominique street, this afternoon. The outbreak was caused by a spark from the "Willow" machine used for tearing cotton on the top floor of the three-story building.

The fire was so fierce that a second alarm was turned in to prevent the spread of the outbreak in this district which is very congested. Damage on stock and machinery, which amounted to about $30,000, is not covered by insurance.

LAKE ICE MOVES.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 14.—Broken by a thunderstorm last night, Lake Erie began to move into the Niagara River this morning before a westerly wind. Lake men predicted that Lake Erie will be clear in four or five days if the present mild weather prevails.

By-Law No. 101 To Amend By-Law
Re: School Tax.

Drawn up in the French Language.

At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held in the City Hall, Quebec, on the 14th day of April, 1924, the following By-law was read for the first time:

It is ordained and enacted and the said Council hereby ordains and enacts as follows, to wit:

Article 5 of By-Law No. 2b, passed by this Council the 19th April, 1912, as amended by By-Law No. 10a, passed 12th May, 1916, as amended by By-Law No. 10b, passed 3rd April, 1917, as amended by By-Law No. 10c, passed 23rd April, 1918, and as amended by By-Law No. 10d of the 25th April, 1919, as amended by By-Law No. 10f, passed 23rd April, 1920, and as amended by By-Law No. 10g, passed 28th of April, 1922, as amended by By-Law No. 10h, passed 20th April, 1923, is again amended by replacing said article by the following:

"5. It is hereby imposed and there shall be levied on the immovable property belonging to the Catholics in said City and the neutral, a tax of ninety-five hundredths of one per cent on the assessed annual rental value of the said property to collect every year the sums payable by the City of Quebec to the Board of Catholic School Commissioners of the City, according to law."

It is hereby imposed and there shall be levied on the immovable property belonging to the Protestants in this City, a tax of eight-tenths of one per cent of annual real value assessed on said property, to collect the sums payable every year by the City of Quebec to the Board of Protestant School Commissioners for the maintenance of the Protestant Schools in this City, according to law.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given that the said By-Law shall be read a second time for adoption on Wednesday, the 14th April, 1924.

By Order,
H. J. B. CHOUINARD, City Clerk,

INDIAN DAYS IN ROCKY MOUNTAINS

July 22 And 23 Have Been Officially Decided Upon For
Banff Celebration

Montreal, April 14.—July 22 and 23 have been officially decided upon as the Banff Indian days. From now until that time, when they will set up their tepees in the town, the stoney Indians will be busy brushing up on their equestrian feats, making bead souvenirs, and inventing stories of the good old days for the edification and education of the visitors to the Rocky Mountain resort on the day of all days. Indian day at Banff has become an institution of world-wide fame, and no one appreciates this better than the "Stoney" who knows that if the event is to continue a success he must still follow the ways of his fathers.

This will be the first occasion for a Canadian to give these lectures.

TO HOLD FIRST POWER MEETING

British Electrical And Allied
Manufacturers' Assn. Will Hold Conference

Montreal, Que., April 14.—(By Canadian Press)—The first world's power conference is to be held in London, England, from June 30 to July 12 next. The idea of a world power conference originated in England during 1915, when the relation of power production was vividly brought forth. The idea remained dormant until the British Electrical and Allied Manufacturers' Association evolved the scheme of holding such a conference during the British Empire Exhibition.

Canada is expected to play a prominent part in the coming conference. The Dominion is vitally interested in this gathering because of the magnitude of water power resources and hydro-electric development and this interest will be furthered by the energy of the engineers who have been the builders and who are now directing these enterprises. In point of potential and actually developed water powers, Canada stands second among all the nations and has a distinct advantage in this respect in comparison with other Dominions.

It is expected that Canada will be represented at the conference by the following: Hon. Charles Stewart, Premier of Ontario; Hon. F. A. Gaby, Chief Engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission; H. G. Ames, Chief hydraulic engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission; J. G. Clasco, manager, Winnipeg Hydro-Electric System; J. B. Chaffin, Director of Water Power for Canada; General Mitchell, Dean of the Engineering Faculty, University of Toronto; Arthur Surveyor, member of the Canadian Research Council; Julian C. Smith, vice-president of the Shewan Water and Power Company; Prof. C. V. Christie, McGill University; F. B. Brown, Montreal; A. A. Dion, General Manager, Ottawa Electric Company; John Murphy, Electrical Engineer, Department of Railways and Canals; Hon. H. Mercier, A. Monroe Grier, K.C., president Canadian Niagara Power Co.; B. G. Haszard, Department of Mines; K. H. Smith, Chief Engineer, Nova Scotia Power Commission; A. Amos, director of hydraulic service, Quebec; O. LeFebvre, Quebec Steamers Commission.

According to the latest official figures in potential water power the United States leads the world with a minimum available 23,000,000 horse power. Canada comes next with 13,255,316 horse-power; other important countries being: Norway, 5,500,000 horse-power; France, 4,700,000 horse-power; Sweden, 4,500,000 horse-power; Italy, 3,800,000 horse-power; Switzerland 1,400,000 horse-power.

In per capita water power actually developed Canada is also second, Norway because of its much smaller population being first among the nations.

WILL UNDERTAKE MIXED
FARMING ON LARGE SCALE

St. John, N.B., April 14.—With a view to ascertaining what conditions are like in Canada and if satisfactory they will purchase large tracts of land was a statement made by Baron Lago and Felix Gulewose, of Poland, who arrived here today on the Canadian Pacific steamship Montclair, they expressed a desire to locate in Canada and develop mixed farming on large scale and said that they have many skilled farmers and engineers who will come here to work if they succeed in finding desirable sites. They propose to go into mixed farming on an extensive scale, they say that the men they would select to work for them are all skilled and have spent their lives tilling the soil. In addition to good farming land they also desire to purchase forest areas they propose touring throughout the entire Dominion and will then be in a position to definitely decide where they would like to locate. They left here on one of the Canadian Pacific special trains for Montreal and will then decide on their itinerary. They explained that overtures had been made to have them go to the Argentine, but they decided they would sooner locate in one of the British possessions and Canada was their choice.

ONTARIO MUSEUM OF ARCHAEOLOGY

Fine Collection Of Antiquities
And Curios Of Many Ages
Gathered There

Toronto, Ont., April 14—Comparatively few people are aware of the fine collections of antiquities which are displayed in the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology in Toronto. Space in the building is already at a premium and those in charge live in constant hope of the erection of a new wing, which would permit of an advantageous display of the many interesting and instructive specimens at present packed away in storerooms.

From time to time the Department of University Extension, University of Toronto, issues bulletins designed to keep the public in touch with noteworthy additions to the archaeological collections and keep people posted on the historical value of the museum's exhibits. A recent bulletin describes sections of the Chinese, Canadian, and Indian pottery collections, as well as recent additions to other groups.

A Lohan or Apostle of Buddha, the gift of Mrs. H. D. Werren, attracts considerable interest. It is a Chinese pottery figure of the Tang dynasty, measuring 41 in. in height. The statue which delicately modelled in white clay, and covered with green, yellow and white lead glazes, is supposed to be one of 16 Lohan or disciples of Buddha thought to have been taken from a remote mountain sanctuary in China some years ago.

Of no small appeal to Canadians both from the patriotic and artistic point of view is the description of the Museum's two cases of Canadian made pottery. This collection is the work of J. S. Keele of the Dominion Department of Mines, Miss Adeline Wadsworth and the pupils of Miss Grocock at the Central Technical School, Toronto. The clays are taken from Muskoka, and various other parts of the Dominion from coast to coast.

From the ancient New World has come another group in the pottery sections, namely Indian pottery from the Casas Grandes region of northern Chihuahua, Mexico. This was originally part of a collection which was divided between the Museum at Santa Fe, New Mexico, the Archaeological Society of Washington, by which it was deposited in the National Museum and the Royal Ontario Museum; thus giving these three institutions remarkably complete series of this class of pottery. This pottery is known to have been made before Columbus even dreamed of a New World. The impression of a preponderance of art over utility is given by a beautifully executed wheel-lock petronel, a gift of Robert Mond, and a recent addition to the Arms and Armor collection. This gun is of German workmanship dating from the latter half of the 16th century. Despite the fact that the stock of the gun is delicately inlaid with stone and the butt terminates in a pear-shaped formation much like a spear-head in appearance, the weapon was apparently deadly enough for the age.

Reminiscent of a period in early English history, about the middle of the 18th century, when there was a revival in the fashion for Oriental objects or ornament, is a Chinese Chippendale mahogany cabinet. This is an addition to the Eaton collection. It is distinguished by its pagoda-like design of top and delicate fretwork. It is the forerunner of the modern China cabinet and very similar in appearance as well as in use.

Typical of Roman burial custom is the front of a Roman boy's sarcophagus made in the second century A. D. and bearing on it a medallion portrait of the deceased. As was the fashion in that age there are figures on the sarcophagus of the boy's gamecock and rabbits. This example of ancient funeral sculpture comes from Bologna.

A RECORD

The week ending April 5th, 1924 showed the largest volume of sales in Dodge Brothers history.

Actual retail deliveries of cars to users for this week totaled 5694. This does not include export or overseas sales.

Since Dodge Brothers new type cars have been produced in quantities, deliveries to users each week have shown a consistent gain over the corresponding week of any previous year. Deliveries in the first three months of 1924 exceeded the same period of 1923 by 21%.

NEW ISSUE IS AN IMPORTANT EVENT

Flotation of C. P. $12,000,000
Bonds Considered Great Financial Transaction

Montreal, April 14.—The flotation of a $12,000,000 Canadian Pacific five percent bond issue and the confining of its distribution to Canada, is an event of no little importance in the current financial history of the Dominion. It is another indication of Canada's "coming of age" in financial matters. Forty years or so ago when the men who built the Canadian Pacific had thrown all their fortunes and those of their friends into the venture and were seeking in Europe and the United States the means of completing their task the success of a twelve million dollar loan for public subscription in Canada alone would have been extremely hazardous if not altogether impossible.

That times and opinions have completely changed in this respect is at once the indication of national progress and the best answer to those whose faith in Canada's future has been imperilled by the events and conditions accompanying after-war deflation.

War loans taught Canadians the value of gilt edged bonds as safe investments and as profitable depositories for savings.

The bond issue, is of note mostly because of its being offered only to Canadians and because it is the first Canadian Pacific loan put out in Canada in ten years, an unmistakable reflection of the belief of the big company's chief executive and directorate in the re-establishment of the Canadian bond markets power of absorption through the increase in the amount of money offering for this kind of investment.

In 1907 of the total issue of the company's common stock 9.75 per cent was held in Canada. Today 21 per cent is held in this country and the rate of increase has been more marked in recent years despite the fact that the same period has seen an increase in Great Britain's holding of the stock which have advanced to fifty per cent of the total issue and which, together with holdings in Canada and other parts of the British Empire total approximately 75 per cent of the company's active voting securities. While only a part of the company's earnings are Canadian in origin, the distribution of its interest disbursements and dividends in Canada are a help to Canadian trade and industry.

Under present conditions of the money market this bond issue could easily have been floated in either New York or London, where the company probably could have got a shade better price for the issue. But the Canadian Pacific is presumably better known in Canada than elsewhere.

Where the hedge is lowest the devil leaps over.

The "BEAU BRUMMEL" of MANSFIELD and BARRYMORE

A Study in Stage and Screen Contrasts By An Old Timer

WITH the announcement that Warner Bros. are to present John Barrymore in a photoplay version of "Beau Brummel" the thoughts of the "old timers" very naturally hark back to the "good old days" when the late Richard Mansfield toured the country in Clyde Fitch's play and set the hearts of matinee girls fluttering from Coast to Coast.

"Barrymore is very good," aforesaid "old timer" admits, "but you should have seen the incomparable Richard's portrayal of the 'beau'."

However, here is one "old-timer" who has seen both stage and screen versions and is therefore in a position to contrast the two portrayals and is willing to concede the "edge" to the modern cinema version.

In the first place it is something more than a mere coincidence that two such prominent thespians selected the role of the fascinating Brummel as a medium to exploit their talents. The requirements of the part call for a finesse and attention to minute detail that nothing short of a histrionic genius is likely to possess. These requirements, both Mansfield and Barrymore possess to a marked degree, consequently here was a task worthy of the calibre of the artist. Being personally acquainted with both men afforded a unique opportunity to discover their angles on the characterization. Richard Mansfield was most attracted by the bias cynicism of the disillusioned fop. Of a highly temperamental disposition himself, he found in the character of "Beau Brummel" a kindred spirit to whom nothing short of perfection would satisfy. This angle of the character Mansfield enlarged upon, one might even say, exaggerated. His "Beau Brummel" was a selfish, sneering, misanthropic cynic whose chief weapon was cutting sarcasm. This version of the role fitted Mansfield like the proverbial glove. In fact, it became almost a personal part of him and his sharp retorts and remarks were daily imposed upon his surrounding players.

It would not be surprising if the part of "Beau Brummel" was the prime factor in Mr. Mansfield's later day custom of making a curtain speech wherein he told the assembled audiences exactly what he thought of their fair city and its people, usually to the detriment of his auditors, and generally to their vast amusement. In fact Mansfield's curtain speech was looked for by the public as part of the evening's entertainment and the public were disappointed if it were not forthcoming—which was not often.

JOHN BARRYMORE
On the other hand, the present day successor to Richard Mansfield's title of America's most distinguished actor, emphasizes an entirely different part of "Beau Brummel's" mental make-up. Barrymore's "Brummel" never loses his sympathetic air of shattered romance and unrequited love. Quite true, he maintains the historical tradition of the supercilious fop, but beneath his shafts of sarcasm one can always discern a kindly glint of good humor. Barrymore is always the ideal lover, a sad youth who wears his cynicism as a cloak to hide his true feelings. Even in his philandering, Barrymore's Brummel makes it plain that his heart was given to one woman, whereas in Mansfield's characterization his flirtations were the means of social advancement and selfish beneath the surface.

The physical characteristics of the two actors quite possibly have an important bearing on the interpretation. While Mansfield was a man of noble bearing, he was of the dominating type. Barrymore with his classic profile and handsome demeanor is naturally the hero of romance.

Both actors stand at the head of their profession in their art of make-up. Mansfield's make-up was a thing to marvel at, but it is doubtful if it could have withstood the searching eye of the moving picture camera. The "close-up" was an unknown quantity in Mansfield's day. Barrymore uses eighteen variations of makeup complete down to the minutest detail, even to the hands.

The costuming is of a parallel. Both men chose their wardrobe from authentic historical plates of the period but there is absolutely no comparison in the scenic investment; the ends to which the motion picture studios go in the direction, knows no limitations, whereas the theatre is very limited in scope.

True we "old timers" will miss Richard Mansfield's wonderful voice with its delicate shadings and careful intonations in the screen version; but there are other compensations almost adequate in the silent art. The old-fashioned poltroon is missing for which we have much to be thankful for. At its best it was an unnatural artifice of the theatre and not true to life—but the subtitle or caption is with us, upon which we will remain discreetly silent.

Summing up, in comparison between the "Beau Brummel" of Richard Mansfield and the "Beau Brummel" of John Barrymore we can only say—"le roi est mort, vive le roi!"

IRREGULARITY OF MARKETS FEATURE YESTERDAY

MARKET WAS IRREGULAR AGAIN AND WITHOUT MUCH TRADE ON WALL STREET YESTERDAY

Stocks Which Rallied Were At Once Sold Again In Volume By Professionals And As A Whole The Market Has By Shown Very Little Strength—Oil Shares Have Been Particularly Irregular As Well As Copper And Steel Issues—French Francs Scored New High At 6.14 And Sterling Was Around $4.34

New York, April 14—Stock prices continued to melt away today under the incessant hammering of professional bear traders. Net losses in the active issues ranged from fractions to 3 1/2 points, both the rail and industrial averages touching new low records for the year.

One of the features of the day's trading was the sharp reaction in a number of the oil shares, which previously had been offering stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Liquidation of this group was inspired by the fear of over production likely to result from the large increase in the number of new wells. Tidewater oil broke 8 points; Houston 2 1/2 and California, Pete, Phillips, General Asphalt, Houston and a few others dropped a point or more. Sixty-seven stocks created new low prices for the year during the session, including 16 motor, 15 sugar and food, seven equipment, six textile, five oil, five steel and 13 miscellaneous shares.

The stock market continued to ignore foreign news developments although French governmental and municipal bonds and French francs moved up to new highs for the year, apparently in speculative expectation of Germany's prompt acceptance of the Dawes report. U. S. Steel common regarded by many as a bell weather of price movements, duplicated its previous low of 95 1/2, closing at 95 3/4 for a net loss of 34.

Only a few stocks were able to move against the current trend. Woolworth being pushed up 21 points to 318 and then dropping back to 305. Call money opened at 4 1/4 percent and then advanced to 4 1/2.

Time money was somewhat firmer but business continued in small volume. Tenders showed a disposition to hold out for a 4 1/4 percent but borrowers declined to pay over 4 1/2, loans up to 90 days being arranged at the smaller figure. The commercial paper market was steady with a 1 1/2 percent ruling rate for prime names. Establishment of a new high record by French franc at 6.14 cents was the feature of the foreign exchange market.

Demand sterling ruled above $4.34 and most of the other European rates showed marked improvement. Creation of a new 1924 low by Japanese yen was attributed to the passage of the Johnson Immigration bill by the House of Representatives.

Total stock sales $93,300. 20 industrials averaged 90.93; net loss .89. High 1924, 101.24, low 80.15. 20 railroads averaged $1.00, net loss .68. High 1924, 88.32, low 81.00.

GETTING TOO FAT? TRY THIS—REDUCE

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmol's Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price of the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmol Co., 4611 Woodland Ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tissue treatment.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Montreal, April 14—The tone of the cash grain market was, steady today. There were no new developments in the local flour situation. The tone of the millfed market remains easy and the rolled oats market was quiet. A steady feeling prevailed in baled hay. Prices are tending lower in eggs. Trade in potatoes was quiet. Prices scored a further decline in butter. The condition of the cheese market was unchanged.

Spanish Common Led In Activity And Closed Down at 96 Ex-Dividend—Montreal Power Came Second But Was Off 2 1/4—Brompton Was Third Suffering A Net Loss Of Half A Point—Detroit Railway Was Strong Spot Of The List While The Greatest Loss Was Sustained By Wabasso Which Was Off Four Points

Montreal, April 14—Trading on the local stock market today was less active than recently, but was marked by the broadest range of issues in some time and by a continuation of the general weakness of that week. Sixty stocks came out of which only five gained ground, twenty three suffered losses, six were unchanged and twenty six came out in odd lots only. Spanish common led in activity and closed down 3/4 at 96 ex-dividend. Montreal Power was second and was off 2 1/4 points at 149 3/4. Brompton came third and closed at 36 for a net loss of half a point.

Detroit Railway was the strong spot of the list closing at 56 1/2 for a net gain of 2 1/2 points. The greatest loss was in Wabasso which was off four points to the new low level of 61.

Other price changes included R. E. Steel first preferred off one to the new low level of 37 1/2; Canada Steamships preferred off 1 1/2; Dominion Cannery off 3/4; Dominion Textile off 3/4; Howard Smith off 3 1/2 to the new low of 52; Laurentide off 1; Southern Canada Paper off 3/4 to the new high of 51; St. Maurice Paper off 2; Steel of Canada off 3 1/4; and Winnipeg railway off half to the new low of 25.

Total sales, listed, $361.

NAVY LEAGUE SEND MESSAGE

To League in London, That Special Efforts Be Made In Regard To Singapore

A special meeting of the Quebec Branch of the Navy League was called for yesterday afternoon, by the President, Mrs. Arthur E. Scott, for the purpose of sending a message to the Navy League concerning their attitude in regard to the necessity for a Naval Base at Singapore. The following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that the Quebec branch write the executive of the Navy League in London, asking that special efforts be made to induce the Government to reconsider its decision and to continue the construction of the Naval Base at Singapore."

In case this letter should by any chance miscarry, the Quebec branch are also sending a cable with the following wording: "Strongly oppose suspending construction Naval Base Singapore." Signed Quebec Branch.

Courcellette Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the I.O.D.E. Headquarters there will be a general meeting of the Courcellette Chapter, I.O.D.E. All the young girls having books of tickets for the raffle of $50.00 in gold, should turn them in on this occasion, to enable the treasurer to settle her books. In the drawing for the $50.00 will take place on this occasion, all holders of tickets are invited to be present at this meeting.

An Old Royal Servant.

The King and Queen were represented at the funeral, which took place at Wandsworth, April 4, of Mr. James Thomas Warren, who was palace steward for over 21 years. Mr. Warren joined the Prince of Wales' service at Marlborough house as footman in March 1884. He was promoted to sergeant footman ten years later, and became page in May, 1900. On November 9, 1902, he became palace steward, having gone from Marlborough house to Buckingham palace with King Edward. He continued in his capacity as palace steward on the accession of King George, and resigned his position about a month ago owing to ill-health. Their Majesties were represented at the funeral by the master of the household.

Notable Nonagenarian.

An outstanding figure among the leaders of thought in education, a great man on a notable list of intellectual giants, President Eliot of Harvard was ninety years of age on March 20. He is a commanding figure in his own county and re-

FREED OF RHEUMATISM BY FRUIT TREATMENT.

"Be good enough to publish for the information of Rheumatism sufferers how 'Fruit-a-lives' relieved my Rheumatism which had lasted five years' standing. 'The trouble was in my right hip and shoulder; the pain almost unendurable. This kept up until started to take 'Fruit-a-lives'. After a continuous treatment for about six months, I am now in first class condition. This I attribute to my persistent use of 'Fruit-a-lives'."

This is the letter which Mr. James Dobson of Bronte, Ont., wrote after trying the wonderful 'Fruit-a-lives'—'Fruit-a-lives'—which consists of intensified fruit juices combined with tonics. 'If you suffer with Rheumatism, 'Fruit-a-lives' will make you well and keep you well. 25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers or sent by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

recognized leader by force of intellect and character throughout the world. It is said of him that he is a great democrat in theory, a great aristocrat in practice. He is devoted to democratic principles and is ever ready to measure strength with all comers.

In his profession as educator he has been variously praised and blamed for his espousal of the elective system—his best-known contribution to educational science. He went in for it on the assumption that a young man should be the master of his destiny, capable of marking out the best course for himself. The assumption was based on the splendid principle of individual self-reliance. If practically the system broke down and tended to promote lop-sided education he might contend that this was no fault of his. President Eliot has always acted on conviction, regardless of the timid opinion of those surrounding him.

Eat Canadian Fruit.

Winnipeg, Man., April 13.—(By Canadian Press)—Appealing to the Daughters of the Empire in annual convention assembled, to ban American fruits from their breakfast tables, Mrs. Colin H. Campbell, provincial president, declared that thousands of growers in British Columbia were starving, while Canadians bought fruit south of the line. "Banish grapefruit and oranges; eat Canadian apples," was Mrs. Campbell's slogan.

A resolution condemning the adoption of a Canadian flag passed unanimously. "One flag, one throne, one empire," was the motto of the Order. Another resolution pressed for a similar form of organization at National Headquarters. Bolshevik teachings were being thrust upon an unenlightened population of new Canadians, said Mrs. A. Wilson Smith, in the report of the Education Committee. It was a great pity, she said, that because of financial stringency schools were being closed and these people were not taught to appreciate protection of life, property, health and religion. She urged the daughters to make "Canadianizing of the new Canadian," the most important feature of the educational work. Dealing with the war memorial, 35 bursaries and 23 overseas scholarships were awarded. Already several applications were in hand for next year. The foundation fund for these scholarships was not complete, $30,000 still being required to enable the daughters to send one university graduate overseas from each province every year. Report of the treasurer, Mrs. T. S. English, showed that $23,385 had been raised by chapters in Manitoba for patriotic and other work. One thousand dollars was raised by Manitoba for the National War Memorial. The total raised this year was smaller than last year, owing to the fact that the city had dropped its $5,000 grant.

Mrs. Bracken, welcoming the delegates, commended overseas scholarships, declaring they made for closer relations between Canada and the Motherland. The war pictures made the sacrifices of Canadian sons live in the minds of the younger generations. Reports of individual chapters in the province showed that small towns are over-organized and in several instances chapters turned in their charter. The question of immigration was dealt with by Mrs. A. Wilson Smith, and she urged the forming of committees within the chapters of the I.O.D.E. for the purpose of meeting new arrivals in the country, and lending them a helping hand. The resolutions carried included: "That prizes of $15, $10 and $5 be given annually to children in standards 5 and 10 for the best essays on subjects pertaining to the British Empire." This applies to schools in the province. "That the tax per capita paid to the national chapter at Toronto be reduced from 50 to 25 cents."

Free from bones and skin what is left of a broiled or baked haddock, then flake it fine. There should be about a heaping cupful of the flaked fish. Make the usual fritter batter and add to it, pepper, a little salt, the juice of an onion, half a pint of minced fine and a teaspoonful of minced chives. Beat in the fish and a half teaspoonful of sugar. This additional sugar browns the fritters nicely and does not sweeten them noticeably. Fry them in hot fat and after draining them, serve them garnished with parsley and with tartar sauce on the side.

Finnan Haddock Fritters

Fry them in hot fat and after draining them, serve them garnished with parsley and with tartar sauce on the side.

Fish Omelette
Prepare any cold, flaked fish as suggested above, flaking a cupful. Beat the yolks of six eggs, adding a little salt and pepper, and a tablespoonful of heavy cream. Beat the egg whites well and fold them in. Melt a full tablespoonful of butter in the omelette pan and cook the omelette in the usual way. When it is ready to fold, add the fish which should have been put into a little light cream sauce and heated. Fold the omelette as usual and serve it on a hot dish garnished with sprays of parsley.

Scalloped Fish Roe
Rinse the roe, then put it on to cook in cold water. When it reaches the boiling point, cook it for ten minutes then drain it, break it

Quebec Lady Finds Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Miss A. Blanchette suffered from rheumatism and bad headaches. St. Edouard, Que., April 14—(Special)—The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a household remedy is shown by the following statement from Miss A. Blanchette, a well-known resident here.

"I am sixty-two years old and have suffered for nearly twenty years from rheumatism. I also used to have headaches, and was often tired and irritable. After taking four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I got relief. I advise all those who suffer from kidney trouble to take them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put them in shape to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Without uric acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism and sciatica.

Dodd's Kidney Pills can be taken by old and young alike, with the same beneficial results. Obtained from all druggists, or The Dodd's Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

OUT OF AIRSHIPS

Friedrichshaven, April 14—Dr. Max von Gemmingen-Guttenberg, nephew of Count Zeppelin, who was designated by the latter to manage his foundation, died recently and the Zeppelin interests will no longer be handled by a member of the family which is so prominently identified with aerial navigation.

During the war Dr. von Gemmingen-Guttenberg frequently piloted Zeppelins across enemy boundaries and bore the reputation of being extremely successful in his negotiations with the German bureaucracy.

into small sections with a silver fork, slip into a cupful of good cream sauce and add a tablespoonful of chopped capers, a quarter cupful of dry crumbs, a grated onion, pepper and a little salt. Fill buttered ramekin dishes with the mixture, sprinkle it with a little grated cheese and bake it for about ten minutes in a medium oven. Serve the roe hot. This makes a fish course or luncheon dish.

Chartreuse to Fish
Mix with a cupful of flaked, cold boiled fish, a cupful of mashed potatoes. Add two hard boiled eggs chopped, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of minced parsley and a cupful of thin cream sauce. Pour the mixture into a thickly-buttered mould, cover it with a buttered paper and set it into a pan of hot water reaching three-quarters the height of the mould. Cook the fish in the oven for about a half hour, unmould onto a hot dish and serve it with a drawn butter sauce. Garnish the dish with parsley.

Creamed Curried Shrimps
Drain, pick over and break with a silver fork into small pieces, a can of shrimps. Add a grated onion, pepper, a little salt and a teaspoonful of chopped celery leaves. Make a cupful and a half of cream dressing and add to it a half teaspoonful of curry powder, a salt-spoonful of sugar and the shrimps. Fill buttered ramekins with the curry and bake about twelve minutes.

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET
TODAY WORKS OVERTIME

Berlin, April 14—Before the war the average per capita consumption of coffee in Germany was five pounds annually, and in 1923 it fell to about one pound. The consumption of beer is only about one-half what it was before the war, and the use of tea and cocoa has fallen off in about the same proportion as coffee. The drinking of milk in the big cities ranges from one-tenth to one-fifth of pre-war days.

To the above extent the people of Germany are becoming drinkers of water.

Slim diet and no trouble keep a man in good health.

After Nearly Twenty Years of Suffering

Quebec Lady Finds Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Miss A. Blanchette suffered from rheumatism and bad headaches. St. Edouard, Que., April 14—(Special)—The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a household remedy is shown by the following statement from Miss A. Blanchette, a well-known resident here.

"I am sixty-two years old and have suffered for nearly twenty years from rheumatism. I also used to have headaches, and was often tired and irritable. After taking four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I got relief. I advise all those who suffer from kidney trouble to take them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put them in shape to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Without uric acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism and sciatica.

Dodd's Kidney Pills can be taken by old and young alike, with the same beneficial results. Obtained from all druggists, or The Dodd's Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

OUT OF AIRSHIPS

Friedrichshaven, April 14—Dr. Max von Gemmingen-Guttenberg, nephew of Count Zeppelin, who was designated by the latter to manage his foundation, died recently and the Zeppelin interests will no longer be handled by a member of the family which is so prominently identified with aerial navigation.

During the war Dr. von Gemmingen-Guttenberg frequently piloted Zeppelins across enemy boundaries and bore the reputation of being extremely successful in his negotiations with the German bureaucracy.

into small sections with a silver fork, slip into a cupful of good cream sauce and add a tablespoonful of chopped capers, a quarter cupful of dry crumbs, a grated onion, pepper and a little salt. Fill buttered ramekin dishes with the mixture, sprinkle it with a little grated cheese and bake it for about ten minutes in a medium oven. Serve the roe hot. This makes a fish course or luncheon dish.

Chartreuse to Fish
Mix with a cupful of flaked, cold boiled fish, a cupful of mashed potatoes. Add two hard boiled eggs chopped, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of minced parsley and a cupful of thin cream sauce. Pour the mixture into a thickly-buttered mould, cover it with a buttered paper and set it into a pan of hot water reaching three-quarters the height of the mould. Cook the fish in the oven for about a half hour, unmould onto a hot dish and serve it with a drawn butter sauce. Garnish the dish with parsley.

Creamed Curried Shrimps
Drain, pick over and break with a silver fork into small pieces, a can of shrimps. Add a grated onion, pepper, a little salt and a teaspoonful of chopped celery leaves. Make a cupful and
