Messrs. STEARNS & MARVIN,
Gentlemen,—One of your Salamander Safes, Wilder's Patent, was severely tested by the destruction by fire of our Packing Box Manufactory, Nos 41 and 43 Gold street, which occurred last night. The safe was located on the second floor, and fell to the first, where it remained eleven hours amid the burning ruins; and on being taken out, cooled and opened, the contents, consisting of books and valuable papers, were found in good condition, untouched by fire, and perfectly legible.
Please send another Salamander to our manufactory, 128 Church-st, and oblige, yours, respectfully,

These articles are manufactured of SLATE STONE, enamelled in imitation of the richest and most expensive Egyptian, Sienna, Lisbon, Brocatelle, Vera-Antique and other rare and desirable Marbles.
The process of converting this Stone into Marble is by fusing MINERAL COLORS, by the use of Chemical Agencies [aided by a powerful heat] which are absorbed by the stone, and being thus incorporated, they become one body, and cannot be again separated. This enables them to resist the action of oils and acids [which stain and deface ordinary marbles] and also to withstand a greater degree of heat. They have six times the strength of marble and their appearance is superior.
Architects, Builders and others are invited to call and examine these articles at 134½ Craig Street.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

☞ We would remind our friends in the Country that all UNPAID LETTERS are refused by us.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1856.

ENGLISH NEWS.—We yesterday received our files by the "North American," and are again indebted to Messrs. Allan & Gillespie, of Liverpool, for the latest English papers, from which copious extracts will be found elsewhere. By the arrival of the "Canada" at Halifax on Tuesday night, we were yesterday in receipt of three days later news than that brought by the "North American"—a short summary will be found under our telegraphic heading.

THE GRAND TRUNK COMPANY—ALLEGED BRIBERY.—We publish elsewhere a letter from Mr. Parsons in answer to Mr. Benjamin Holmes, on the subject of the bribes which the former alleged had been offered to him on the part of the Grand Trunk Company. The statement is of the most direct character, and admits of no equivocation or quibbling in reply. We have no desire to prejudge so serious a question between the parties; but, in the interests of public morality, we say, distinctly, that the officers of the Grand Trunk Company are bound to clear themselves from the charge of so vile an attempt to disturb and pollute the fountains not only of public opinion but of public justice. Unless they do so, and promptly, one universal cry of indignation against them will be heard throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Since the above was in type, we have received Mr. Holmes' letter in reply to Mr. Parsons, with its accompanying documents, which we publish. We are glad to see, by Mr. Holmes' letter that a judicial investigation will be made into Mr. Parsons' charges. As we have said, we have no desire to prejudge the case, but we feel bound to add, notwithstanding Mr. Parsons' famous, or rather infamous, Gibbon-Wakefield epistle—in which he as directly offered to sell himself as he now directly charges the Grand Trunk Company with offering to buy him—Mr. Grant's attempted explanation of the matter of the £50-cheque gives an appearance of credibility to Mr. Parsons' very graphic narrative, which it otherwise would not have possessed. Mr. Grant presumes upon the credulity and simplicity of our "pensive public." The Assistant Secretary of the Company hiring an editor at the modest rate of £25 per diem—"eating and drinking"—and without the sanction or cognizance of Mr. Holmes or any other Director! What next?

PLEASURE TRIP.—We yesterday invited attention to the Montreal and New York Railroad Company's advertisement of their FOURTH OF JULY Excursion, and we have this morning to thank the Secretary of the St. Lawrence and Champlain Railroad Company for an invitation to join his party on the same day. We can only sing with the gallant Captain Macheath :—

How happy could I be with either
Were t'other dear charmer away!

—See advertisement.

THEATRE ROYAL.—As we expected this favorite resort was last night crowded to the doors, to welcome Mrs. Buckland back to the stage, which she has for the last few seasons so eminently adorned. "Green Bushes" went off with immense eclat and will be repeated to-night—it is a most interesting drama and Mrs. Buckland's Mimi a thoroughly charming performance.

FIRES.—About half-past ten o'clock on Tuesday night an alarm of fire was got up. It proceeded from Mountain Street, and was caused by some bundles of straw being set on fire by some boys.

Also, about one o'clock on Tuesday morning a fire was discovered in a little fruit shop, in the building in Great St. James Street, occupied by Mr. Carlisle, furniture warehouse. The alarm was given by the party occupying the store; and the Police going in they found a number of small pieces of wood piled up underneath the counter, with combustible material under. From this and circumstances connected with the alarm, the Police arrested the proprietor of the fruit store for setting fire to the place, who has since been committed for further examination. The fire was put out without much damage.

While the above fire was being put out, another alarm was given which proceeded from St. Edward's Lane. One house and some outbuildings were destroyed. We could not learn any further particulars.—Pilot.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MONTREAL, July 2nd, 1856.

E. HOLMES, ESQ.,

Vice President of the Grand Trunk Railway :

SIR,—In the course of the proceedings of the late Inquest upon the bodies of the persons killed by the Explosion of the Grand Trunk Ferry Boat at Longueuil, I stated that previous to that calamity the Grand Trunk Railroad Company had attempted to bribe me and that pending the investigation Mr. Jury had been tampered with by third parties and money offered to me and another Juror to induce us to render a Verdict in the interest of the Grand Trunk Railroad Company, other than the evidence might warrant

And in commenting upon an attack upon the Jury generally, and upon myself particularly, in the Montreal Pilot, over the signature of Fair Play, I said that I believed in my conscience that that communication emanated from some officer of the Company or was paid for by it, because of this refusal to be bought, and was intended to give a misdirected colouring to whatever verdict we might render, and to impeach our integrity.

You have since demanded from me the authority for these statements; and I replied that when the proper time came I would substantiate them.

Thesuffering myself to be drawn at that particular moment into these charges was not a wise act, and the only reparation I could make for the indiscretion caused by an outrage never before attempted on a British Juror, was to preserve in spite of all misrepresentations and challenges a studied silence until the close of the Inquest should relieve me, and restoring me once more to the position of a private citizen, enable me to take up your gauntlet, and to put myself on the country in a more favorablelight than as a Juror personally contending with those whose cause he was in a measure judging.

That time, Sir, has now come, and I avail myself of the first moment of my release to state the facts upon which my charges were based, leaving it to the country to judge in how far they substantiate them.

Upon the 27th of May last, Mr. J. M. Grant, Assistant Secretary of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, called at my office to speak to me relative to certain articles which appeared in the "Commercial Advertiser," concerning the character of the work done by the Contractors. In the course of conversation he expressed his desire that he could make a convert of me as to the sufficiency of the work done, as upon the propositions then making to the Provincial Government for the relief of the Company. He wished me to accompany him to the works at Point St. Charles, and go through them with him. I told him that I should be glad of the opportunity; and it was settled that we should go in the afternoon. We accordingly went together, passed through the workshops, and afterwards took a boat and visited the piers of the Victoria Bridge in course of construction. In returning, when near my office, Mr. Grant said to me "Your time is your money, and the Company does not expect you to employ it in this manner without paying for it; you will allow me to send you a cheque for £50." I replied: "The time I have spent has been no loss to me, my work is over for the day, and the ride is of itself sufficient inducement for the trip, and I can accept nothing for what has cost me nothing."

I was about to get out of the carriage, being desirous of abruptly terminating any discussion upon the matter, when he asked me to accompany him to his office, that he wished to show me a Pamphlet on Emigration which he had lately published, and which he desired to get an editorial notice of. I did so, presuming that the other matter was disposed of, and the attempt would not be repeated. On arriving at the Grand Trunk Railway Office, he asked me to excuse him for a few minutes, and I turned towards a file of newspapers, while he sat down at his desk. In a few minutes, he rose and said he could not find the pamphlet, but would send it down to me some other day. He then reverted to our previous conversation, stated that the Company was desirous of disarming the hostility of one of its most pertinacious opponents, and that he wanted me as soon as I was at liberty, to take a trip up the line to Brockville with him, and begged my acceptance of a folded cheque which he handed me. I again refused it; and in a again used the same argument as before, that it was only a fair payment for my time. Annoyed at the pertinacity of the attack, I said: Mr. Grant I have told you before our excursion this afternoon has been a pleasure trip to me for which I am your debtor and not you mine; and if it were not so, my time is not worth any such price as you put on it. If I were to accept this money from you it must be as evident to you as to me that I should sell myself to the Company; I desire you to understand once for all that I am not for sale."

Mr. Grant then said that he hoped I would not make public what had passed between us; I replied, "certainly not; the best thing we can both do is to forget it." I then left him.

On returning home, and thinking the matter over, I saw that the fact of such an offer having been made, placed me in a false position. All licentious overtures do a woman; that although refused, it lowered me in my own estimation, and almost presumed some loosenes in my conduct to have subjected me to it. Feeling also that circumstances might arise which would compel me to seek vindication to make the matter public, I made an entry of the transaction in a memorandum book, and then took the advice of friends on whose secrecy and judgment I could rely.

About a week before the explosion of the Ferry Boat, a similar proposition was made to me by Mr. Charles Robertson, who is a Contractor for the Company, and in whose business Mr. Hardman, the Company's Accountant, is so far interested that he has advanced him money to carry it on. He told me that he was authorised by Mr. Hardman to offer me a cheque; for Five Hundred Dollars if I would discontinue my attacks upon the Company; and upon my refusing it, he said that he believed they would give a Thousand Dollars to secure my silence. He gave me to understand distinctly and unequivocally that he had discussed the probability of my being bought off with Mr. Hardman, and that the latter had fully empowered him to negociate the matter.

On the evening of the third day of the inquest, as I was passing the shop of this person, I went in and enquired if some work I had ordered for my office was finished. He told me that it was not, but that he wished to speak to me if I would wait a few minutes. I sat down while he attended to some customers, and when they were gone, he came to me and said:—"Don't you want some money?" I replied, "That is a common thing, William." "Well," he continued, "wait a moment, and I will get you a cheque for Six Hundred Dollars; I have just seen Mr. Bidder, and he is in a terrible way about this accident, and your being upon the inquest; say the word, and you can have the money." I replied indignantly: "If the heads of the Grand Trunk Railway were gold they would not buy from me any other verdict in this matter, than the evidence justifies; and if you had wife or child among those dead whom would you offer a proposition to do otherwise?" He replied: "That certainly would make a difference; but come now, tell me what you will take and sell, for on you and Fred. Perry the result rests, and the Company will give you what you like to ask." I repeated what I had said before; and as I left, he told me he had just seen Mr. Perry, also a Juror upon the Inquest.

The pertinacity of these attempts alarmed me, and I now thought that by not publishing the first, I had got myself in a dangerous position; and I accordingly laid the matter before my friends.

On the following day on which the Jury did not sit, I met Mr. Perry, and he told me, before I believe hearing of the offer to me, that he had been the subject of similar overtures, and remarked: —"If the fellow had gone a step further I should have sent the Coroner to him." I then communicated to him what had taken place in my case, and found that the overtures to both of us had been made by the same party, and in nearly the same words.

These, then, Sir, are the facts on which I base my charge that previous to this Inquest the Grand Trunk Railroad had by one of its officers attempted to bribe me, and that during the investigation the Jury had been tampered with, and sums of money offered me, by third parties, to induce me to give a dishonest verdict.

I have yet one more thing to dispose of, and that is my reason for believing the attack upon the Jury, and more particularly on myself to have proceeded from some officer of the Company. On returning from the Inquest upon the evening of the second or third day, Mr. Grant called to me and upon the Ferry boat and complained of my being upon the Jury, he said that I had been one of the most violent and persistent enemies of the Company, that he believed me to be so prejudiced against them as to be incapable of giving an honest verdict in the case, as my foregone impressions must naturally influence my decision. And that he believed that it was something more than the truth, the Jury was seeking. I replied that I believed I was as sensible to the obligations of the oath I had taken as any person in the Grand Trunk Railroad Company could be, that my opposition to the general scheme of the Company so to its previous history had nothing to do with this transaction and that such an accusation as he had made was in the extreme unjustifiable.

Similar complaints were also made to the Coroner; and on the evening previous to the attack in the Pilot, after the proceedings of the day had terminated, the matter was again discussed between Mr. Grant, the Coroner and myself. Mr. Jones stated that my being upon the Jury was entirely unsought for by me, that except upon the occasion, about two years ago, of my calling upon him in my then capacity of Mayor of the County of Beauharnois to give him the minutes of an inquest held by me, we had not met for many years; and that on the morning of the inquest he had summoned me because he was short of Special Jurors and found me on the spot. The arguments used by Mr. Grant were not only in single words, but in whole sentences, those in the letter in the Pilot, signed "Fair Play." And I think I had the right to assume that the coincidence was rather too close to be accidental. There is, however, yet another test and that is the extreme virulence of that letter. Disinterested persons do not take up public questions in this manner; the heat betrays the closeness of the interest.

Another evidence to me was that the evening previous to its publication, Mr. Grant came to me and asked if it was true that I had disclosed the overtures made to me by him. I replied that after the attack that he had thought proper to make upon my position as a Juror, and its repetition in other places, I considered myself entitled to use every weapon for my defence, and that as soon as the inquest terminated, I should do so. He then endeavored to persuade me that in objecting to me as a Juror upon the grounds he had stated, he was only joking. I told him that neither his words nor his manner conveyed that impression to me or to others; and I would not but consider he had been unfortunate in the choice of both in a matter of jesting. I told him also before the Coroner: "Mr. Grant, I know well enough that between the Grand Trunk Railroad and me that it is a free fight: you will use your wealth and your power to crush me, I shall have to defend myself as best I may. After what has passed between us, there is no room for compromise: it will be pull Devil and pull Baker, and the weakest will go the wall. But this will not prevent me doing my duty; and the country with the evidence before it will decide whether my verdict is an honest one."

After this conversation I was quite prepared for the attack upon me, in fact I expected it, although I was not prepared for the grossness of its character.

I have thus, Sir, in as few words as possible, placed before you the grounds of my accusations, and I leave it to the public to judge if I have not by the best means in my power substantiated them. It is almost needless to say that in transactions of this nature witnesses are avoided, and the amount of belief to be accredited the accuser, must lean upon his credulity. I have no reason to shrink from the application of this rule to my case, and I confidently appeal to fifteen years public and private life in Canada as a guarantee for the purity of my conduct in this matter.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
EDMUND HENRY PARSONS.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPANY OF CANADA,
Montreal, July 2, 1856.

DEAR SIR,—May I request the favor of your publishing the accompanying letter from Mr. Grant—statement from Mr. Robertson—and telegraphs from Mr. Bidder and Mr. Hardman—on the subject of the charges made against these gentlemen in the Commercial Advertiser of this morning.

I may add that the Directors have determined to make these charges of Mr. Parsons the subject of judicial investigation, and our Solicitors have been instructed accordingly.

I am, Dear Sir,
Your obedient servant,
BENJ. HOLMES, V. P.

MONTREAL, July 2nd, 1856.

B. HOLMES, Esq.,
Vice President G. T. R. Co.

SIR,—My attention having been drawn to the article in this morning's Commercial Advertiser, in which my name appears in connection with alleged charges of bribery, I beg simply to state to you, sir, as the Chief Resident of the Company, that any transactions which may have taken place between Mr. Parsons and me, took place upwards of a fortnight before the sad explosion occurred at Longueuil, and could not consequently have the slightest connection with the subsequent inquest—although in most disingenuously endeavored to establish such connection.

I may mention that, after Mr. Parsons had gone through the workshops with me on the 27th May, I invited him to accompany me to Brockville, to examine the line and works, so that an opportunity might be afforded him of doing justice to the Company, when he found by experience he had wronged the character of the works; and he replied, that he would like the trip very much; but on learning that it would take two days, he added that he could not well afford the time. I then replied, that the Company did not want to occupy any one's time without paying for it; and added, "if I take you away from your office for two days on our service—your time being your money—you must permit me to offer you a check for £50, in payment for such loss of time." I offered this sum of money to Mr. Parsons as I would offer it to any one else whose time or services were devoted to the Company.

He refused the check, and thus ended this transaction between us—for which transaction I only am responsible, as neither yourself nor any other Director, had given their sanction to, or had any cognizance of it.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed), JOHN M. GRANT,
Acting Secretary.

Secretary's Office,
Grand Trunk Railroad Co.

STATEMENT.

MR. PARSONS was occasionally in the habit of coming into my shop, and we have talked about his articles against the Grand Trunk. I have done work for the Company the same as for any other party, but am not a regular contractor under it.

Some ten days before the explosion, being the occasion alluded to by Mr. Parsons, I met him in Notre Dame Street, near my own shop, and he told me he had gone over the Company's Works at Point St. Charles with Mr. Grant, and that he had been offered a check for £50 by him, which he had not taken. I said to him, jokingly, "You are a fool not to take it." Mr. Parsons then said it was not worth while; if they would give him a thousand dollars he would shut up his head to say nothing against the Company. I then said "I suppose you would take half the money and be glad to get it." He replied it was not enough. These are, to the best of my recollection, the actual words, or, if not the identical words, the true substance and meaning of what passed between us. I have no hesitation in saying that he gave me to understand that the amount he had been offered was too little.

I state positively that I never on that or on any other occasion told Mr. Parsons, nor in any way gave him to understand, that I was authorized by Mr. Hardman to offer him a check for $600 if he would discontinue his attacks against the Company, nor did I say or give him to understand that Mr. Hardman, or any one else connected with the Company, had given me any authority to negotiate with him, nor did any one ever speak to me on the subject.

With reference to the other occasion alluded to by Mr. Parsons, what I have to state is this:—He called and inquired about some work a day or two after the longest league. I was engaged with some ladies in the shop and asked him to sit down. When I got through, we entered into conversation, and I distinctly declare that what he says of that conversation is distorted and false. I never said "wait a moment and I will get you a check for $600," nor anything like it. I never gave Mr. Parsons to understand, by word or otherwise, that I either myself proposed or was authorized by Mr. Bidder or any one else to offer him any money whatever. I had seen Mr. Bidder two or three evenings before at the door of the St. Lawrence Hall, and believe I told Mr. Parsons that he was terribly cut up about the accident, and I may, possibly, have said something to Mr. Parsons about his being on the Jury; but I positively deny that I then meant or intended Mr. Parsons to suppose that the Company, or any one connected with it, would offer any bribes in money or of any other kind, by which his conduct on the Jury could be affected. We may have alluded to the articles he was then continuing to publish and talked about them. But I emphatically declare that I never had any authority, direct or understood, from Mr. Hardman, or any person connected with the Grand Trunk Company, to approach Mr. Parsons with the view of offering any inducement in money or otherwise to affect either his verdict or his course of action towards the Company, nor did I ever do so, or tell him that I could get money for him.

In regard to what Mr. Parsons says Mr. Perry told him, I have only to say that Mr. Perry was very frequently about my shop looking after some articles I am making for Sir Wm. Logan, and we have often had conversations about the inquest, but in none of them have I ever hinted or given him to suppose that I sought on behalf of the Grand Trunk Company to influence his verdict in any way, by any bribe or offer of a bribe.

Finally, I declare that I never at any time whatever had any conversation of any kind with any officer of the Company regarding the use of money or any party whatsoever to procure any influence in favor of the Company; nor did I ever in any intercourse with Mr. Parsons, or any body else, say or mean such a thing to be understood.

CHARLES ROBERTSON.

MONTREAL, 2d July, 1856.

S. P. BIDDER, Esq.,
one of G. E. Barrett, Esq, Portland :—

Did you ever, directly or indirectly, authorize Charles Robertson, upholsterer, to offer Mr. H. Parsons six hundred dollars, or any other sum of money, in connection with the recent inquest, or had ever with him, or any one else, any communication from which such an idea could, by any possibility, be inferred? Answer immediately.

(Signed) BENJAMIN HOLMES.

MONTREAL, 2d July, 1856.
(By Telegraph From Portland.)

TO BENJAMIN HOLMES :—

Never mentioned Mr. Parsons' name to any one in my life, or ever spoke to Mr. Robertson on the matter. Is this sufficient? Please reply.

(Signed) S. P. BIDDER.

TO JAMES HARDMAN,
at Quebec :—

Have you directly or indirectly authorized Mr. Charles Robertson, in any manner to attempt to influence Mr. E. H. Parsons, or any other party, in favor of the Company, in reference to the Inquest on which he or they were Jurors. Answer and return.

I have neither directly or indirectly authorized Mr. Charles Robertson, in any manner, to attempt to influence Mr. E. H. Parsons in favor of the Company, in reference to the Inquest on which he or they were Jurors. I will return by Express to-night.

THE AMERICAN QUESTION.

HOUSE OF LORDS, MONDAY, JUNE 16.

The Earl of Derby—In expectation, which was not an unreasonable one, considering the question put by me to the noble earl opposite at the last meeting of this house, and the reply given to me that her Majesty's Government would take into consideration the course which they might think it advisable to pursue with respect to our relations with the United States of America, I have waited until the last moment in the expectation that the noble earl would not have waited to be again questioned on the subject, but that he would volunteer information upon a matter concerning which he must know the house and the country to be very anxious. It is impossible to overrate the important position in which we at present stand, or the serious responsibility that rests upon her Majesty's Government with regard to the advice they may give to the Crown as to the course to be pursued. Under these circumstances, I should have thought that the noble earl would not have required me to put to him this question namely, whether the Government have, since the house last met, come to a conclusion as to the course they would advise her Majesty to pursue, and whether they are prepared to state to the house what the course is?

The Earl of Clarendon—As I stated on the last day of the house sitting it is the intention of her Majesty's Government to lay before your lordships at the earliest period the papers which have been communicated to us. Those papers have since been laid before the U.S. Senate, and are now in possession of the people of this country. They are at present in the printer's hands, and they will be laid before your lordships as soon as the answers to the last despatches have been returned. Your lordships must be aware that the preparation of these answers will require some time and mature deliberation, and it is because they are not yet prepared that I did not take the initiative which the noble earl thinks I ought to have taken. But it is the duty of her Majesty's Government to justify the natural desire and anxiety on the part of the people of this country with respect to our relations with America, and I therefore do not hesitate to inform your lordships, and through your lordships the country, that it is not the intention of her Majesty's Government to suspend diplomatic relations with the United States. (Loud cheers.)

The Earl of Derby—In the absence of the papers it would be extremely premature to enter into any discussion upon the subject; but I personally rejoice at the announcement which has been made by the noble earl. I rejoice for this reason, because, although I deeply regret the course pursued by the United States Government, and the we believe that it is impossible for us to vindicate the steps taken and the conduct pursued by our minister and those under whose authority he acted; and believing that the United States Government have a just cause of complaint against us, I rejoice that her Majesty's Government, by acquiescing in the withdrawing of Mr. Crampton and the consuls, have sanctioned the opinion that America had a just cause of complaint against this country in this matter. At the present moment I will not enter into a discussion of the merits of the case. I rejoice, however, that we have acknowledged our error, although undoubtedly we have done so by submitting to that which I must say is humiliating on the part of this country to submit to, namely, the removal by the authority of the United States of the minister of this country. (Hear, hear.)

The Earl of Clarendon.—The noble earl has stated that it would be premature to enter into any discussion. He certainly has not entered into any discussion upon the merits of the subject but he has pronounced a most positive judgment on the course pursued by her Majesty's Government. (Hear, hear.) I can only appeal to your lordships, and, through your lordships, to the country, not to join the noble earl in prejudging the question. Cheers)

The Earl of Derby.—In answer to the noble earl, I beg to state that I have formed my judgment from the papers that have been published and laid on the table of this house. (Hear, hear.)

SUMMARY.

In the House of Lords, on Monday evening the Earl of Clarendon stated, in reply to the Earl of Derby, that it was not the intention of the Government to advise her Majesty to suspend diplomatic relations with the United States. The announcement was received with loud cheering.—The Earl of Derby expressed his satisfaction at this statement, but regarded the course taken by the Government as humiliating, and as acknowledging that we had been in error. The Earl of Clarendon appealed to the House not to join the noble Earl in prejudging the question. The subject then dropped.—The Joint-stock Companies Bill was read a second time by a majority of 18 to 6.

In the House of Commons, on Monday night, a second loan of £1,000,000 to the Sardinian Government was assented to. Replying to Lord J. Russell, Lord Palmerston stated that it was not the intention of the Government, in consequence of the return of Mr. Crampton to recommend her Majesty to suspend diplomatic relations with the American Minister. They were prepared to communicate with Mr. Dallas upon any affairs connected with the interests of both countries He declined to enter into any arguments upon the points at issue; but he assured his noble friends that the instructions given to the officers of the force sent for the protection of British interests and property in Central America were such as would prevent all chance of unnecessary collision. Mr. Disraeli was glad that the Government was not about to imitate the course pursued by the Government of the United States, but he must at the same time guard himself and his friends from having it supposed that the conduct of Mr Crampton could be considered apart from that of the Government under which he acted. He expressed his belief that the House would never be induced to make to Mr. Crampton the scapegoat of the Government which had instructed him. The subject then dropped. The House afterwards went into committee of supply.

Her Majesty and his Royal Highness Prince Albert have been graciously pleased to testify their sympathy for the unfortunate sufferers by the late inundations in France, by forwarding to the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of London the munificent donation of £1000 and £500 respectively, in aid of the fund now raising at the Mansion House for their relief.

General Sir William Williams, Bart., K.C.B., whose approach to England kindled an earnest rivalry for the honour of first receiving and entertaining him, landed at Dover on Monday morning, and was greeted by loud cheers from hundreds of persons assembled on the quay on his arrival. He proceeded to Birmingham's Royal Ship Hotel, where he was entertained at lunch by the Mayor and most of the influential inhabitants of the town. At two o'clock he started for London. The Reform Club has decided on getting up a dinner to the hero of Kars, and Lord Palmerston is to be asked to preside. Gen. Williams, together with Lieutenant-Col. Teesdale, and Mr. Churchill, his secretary and interpreter, has been spending a few days in Paris; he was highly honored by the Emperor, and was present at the baptism of the Imperial Prince. In fact, his journey through Russia, and from Russia to Paris, seems to have been something like a continued ovation. In England Gen. Williams will no doubt receive the tribute of praise which he so richly merits. The Daily News speaks of him as the "bright particular star amongst the English officers," and the Times says it does but echo public opinion in declaring that he has displayed higher qualities for military command than any other British soldier engaged in the Russian war, and that he is an officer whose services would have been appreciated by Marlborough or Wellington, by Cæsar or the great Napoleon.

Although we know the course which our Government has resolved to take with respect to the dismissal of Mr. Crampton, it is not unbecoming to mark the change of views which took place on the subject in the two Ministerial organs. A little while ago, the Morning Post argued that, even though President Pierce should dismiss our Minister, we were not bound to retaliate by dismissing Mr. Dallas; while the Times contended that it would be almost impossible for us to stoop to the indignity of permitting Mr. Dallas to remain here when Mr. Crampton had been sent away from Washington. When the tenor of Mr. Marcy's last despatch became known the two journals still continued to differ, but they changed sides. The Morning Post urged that the United States Government had not only inflicted on Great Britain a grave indignity, but that it had deuterously striven to induce her to pocket the affront by offering to make concession on another and independent subject of dispute—the Central American question; and that it was now incumbent on our Government to show, by the dismissal of Mr. Dallas, that it could neither be bribed nor intimidated into dishonour. On the other hand, the Times began very seriously to doubt whether we ought not to take the high-minded and the beneficial rather than the resentful and retaliatory course. "The last in dignity which one state can pass on another" had certainly been inflicted on Great Britain; but the dismissal of Mr. Crampton had been made an entirely personal matter by President Pierce, and he had offered concessions on the Cent al American question which we should utterly throw away by discarding Mr. Dallas. The balance of benefits was thus put by the Times on Monday :—

"The question regards Mr. Crampton personally, and the American Cabinet declares that no discourtesy to England is intended. We certainly think his conduct far from blameless. He appears to have acted with great levity, and to have never sufficiently appreciated the importance of his acts or the dignity of his mission. The blame, no doubt, rests in a great measure on those who left such a man at a post evidently above his abilities, and who, when his conduct had involved him in difficulties, persisted in keeping him there until it became a point of honour to maintain him. His dismissal now, however it may be worded, is an act which reflects on the Government as well as himself. It only remains to consider how such an act must be met. In such a case a Government should not certainly lose sight of its own dignity, nor yet, on the other hand, forget that the circumstances of an act may alter the manner in which we should receive it No doubt, should our Government decide on breaking off intercourse with Mr. Dallas, they will be justified by the usual practice on such occasions. But the American Government has, in addition to expressions of good will, which greatly diminish the significance of their act, made what we must consider great concessions on a subject of much more intrinsic importance than the enlistment question, and which may be considered an earnest of its friendly professions which we ought not to disregard. After declaring throughout the whole controversy that its own view of the Central American question admitted of no dispute, and that arbitration was inapplicable in the case, it constitutes its Minister at this Court a plenipotentiary to arrange the matter, and gives him, in case an understanding is not arrived at, the power of consenting to arbitration, and naming an arbitrator. It, then, we dismiss Mr. Dallas, we commit ourselves to an approval of a Minister whose conduct it is impossible wholly to defend, and reject the friendly professions of the United States Government for as they are by offers of concession as regards the Central American difficulty which a week ago no one could have expected. On the other hand, if we keep Mr. Dallas we pocket an affront, but at the same time take advantage of a conciliatory offer. The balance of benefit is for the consideration of our statesman."

Returning to the subject after the decision of her Majesty's Government had been made known the Times of yesterday asks—

"Could they with propriety send back the American Minister, when the American Government had brought themselves to aver that they had on this point no quarrel with our Government, but only just cause for offence with its agent? Could they with propriety suspend diplomatic intercourse with a government which expressed a strong desire to continue it, notwithstanding alleged provocation to the contrary? But these events, could they not, without loss of honor, accept the overtures of peace made so often a painful but inevitable act of offence? Undoubtedly the American Government has so carefully put the matter that our dismissal of its Minister would be more like a retaliation. It would be receiving the blow, and giving a deaf ear to the mild tones that explained it. We were at liberty either to interpret the hand by the voice, or the voice by the hand. Government has taken the former alternative. It is, after all, the safer course.

In saying that the United States Government has adopted a half-measure, and that our Government has met it more than half-way; in admitting that both sides had a right to do what they have done—the one without giving offence, the other without loss of honour—we do not for one moment think the fact that the result, so far, is anything but flattering to the pride of this country. If there are any people in the United States capable of gratification at the fact, we certainly have been touched in our honour, and we submit with as much grace as we can to what all feel as an insult. We have no disposition to slur over that fact, for we are not without hope that the British people will be rather less liable to this species of annoyance for the future."

The Morning Post is now content to suspend its own judgment in the matter, waiting in hope that "the patience, the self-command, the sagacity which the noble lord (Palmerston) has displayed throughout the anxious and irritating discussion of the points at issue between the two nations may meet with their reward in the attainment of the objects at which he aims in common with us—in common with the whole enlightened world, who stand by, deeply interested spectators of the lamentable events."

FURTHER REINFORCEMENTS FOR CANADA.

A correspondent writes :—"In addition to the troops on their passage, or under orders for Canada, it is intended by the government to augment the army in that Province by 5,000 men. This number will include two regiments of cavalry, each 350 strong, four batteries of field artillery, and the remainder infantry regiments; and a battalion of the 60th Rifles, a detachment of the Land Transport Corps, amounting 400 drivers and 120 artificers, are held in readiness to embark for the same destination."

The most stringent instructions have gone from the Admiralty to Admiral Fanshawe to avoid, on his part, and that of the British captains under his command, any collision with the naval force of the United States.

The entire steam squadron sailed from Falmouth on Friday, the following under sealed orders, viz: Imperieuse, 51, Captain Watson, C. B., with the Victor, Ringdove, and Intrepid, double-funnel despatch boats, and the others on a cruise, comprising the Wanderer, Pioneer, Mohawk, and Lapwing, singlefunnel despatch boats, and the Starling, Drake, Beaver, and Janus, gunboats. These vessels had all been fully stored and provisioned for sea. The steam despatch gunboats Assurance and Sparrowhawk, Commanders Jones and Cresswell, made a trial of their engines and speed at Stokes Bay on Monday, preparatory, it is supposed, to following the squadron under Captain Watson.

The steamship Taurus, Captain George R. Lindisela, recently taken up for the transport service of Government, and numbered 23 arrived at Woolwich on Monday morning, from Liverpool for the immediate shipment of shot and ammunition for Quebec and Halifax.

Her M jesty's ship Nile, 91, Captain Mundy, left Spithead on Monday afternoon, under steam and sail for North America.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the MONTREAL HERALD.

BY MONTREAL LINE.

Office Merchants' Exchange, St. Sacrament St.

ARRIVAL OF THE "CANADA."

Halifax, July 1.

The steamship Canada, from Liverpool, June 21, arrived here between 9 and 10 o'clock this evening.

The Baltic arrived at Liverpool on the evening of the 18th ult.

The steamship Hermann left Southampton on 14th June.

The steamship Indian, from Quebec, arrived at Liverpool on the evening of Thursday, the 19th.

The screw steamship Himalaya, from Halifax, arrived at Portsmouth on the 17th June—a passage of 8 days 3½ hours—the quickest on record.

The screw steamer "Edinburgh" sailed from the Clyde for New York on the 18th June.

News is generally unimportant.

Excitement consequent on Crampton's arrival speedily subsided; and as Mr. Dallas was not to be dismissed, the recruiting business was regarded as definitely settled, and hopes were freely entertained that the Central American question would soon be also.

Buchanan's nomination made but little stir.

Peace meetings, and friendly addresses to America, were abundant.

Mr. Baillie's motion in the House of Commons respecting the American difficulties, and on which it was supposed that the Palmerston ministry would be defeated and resign, is withdrawn.

Rumour prevailed that Great Britain would send no minister to Washington during the administration of President Pierce. It was, however, merely rumor.

Consols for money were not quoted but for account—they closed at 94½@94⅝.

Breadstuffs generally firm and tending up.

Cotton closed at the rates current on the previous Friday. Sales 66,000 bales.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Market unchanged in rates, but rather more active.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET.

The market was firmer, and prices a shade higher.

Flour was in good request at an advance of 6d to 1s on lower qualities.

Spence & Co quote Western Canal at 30s@33s 6d; Philadelphia 34s@36s: Ohio and Baltimore 35s 6d@38s.

Wheat 2d per bush higher, with fair consumptive demand. Red 9s 9d@10s 9d; White 10s 6d @11s 3d.

Corn—Active speculative request at 1s@1s 6d advance, with more buyers and sellers—mixed and yellow 30s 6d@31s, white 31s 6d@32s.

Weather was rainy, but the accounts from the agricultural districts were generally favorable.

Messrs. Brown, Shipley & Co., and some others, report great difference in the quality of flour—hence the quotations were uncertain. They call western canal 29s@30s, Ohio 33s@36s 6d, Canadian 33s@35s 6d.

Wheat 9s 8d@11s 5d.

Corn 30s@31s 6d.

Pearl ashes selling at 41s; pots 35s for old and 36s for new, with a quiet market.

Lard unchanged in any respect; it continues scarce, and arrivals will cause a heavy decline. Sales at 61s.

Tallow firm.

Latest advices from St. Petersburg state that in consequence of the dearness of provisions in the Crimea and the sickness which prevails there, a decree had been issued prohibiting all persons not inhabitants from landing there.

Accounts from the Crimea to the 7th, state that, previous to that day, Lord Gough presented Marshal Pellissier and an English gentleman with the order of the bath.

The evacuation of the Crimea proceeded rapidly. Balaklava would be cleared by the 15th June.

NEW YORK MARKETS.—July 2.

Flour 5c. @ 10c. per barrel higher, with good demand for export and home consumption. Sales 10,000 brls at $5,80 @ $6,10 for Common to Strait State, $6,20 @ $6,50 for Extra do, $5,80@ $7 for Common to Superfine Good Extra Western. Canadian better. Sales 600 brls at $6,35 @8,15.

Pork firmer. Sales 800 brls at $20,50 for Mess, and $17,25 for Prime.

Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh,
AND other affections of the LUNGS and CHEST, cured by INHALATION, local and general treatment. Inhalation alone will fail to cure most of these diseases, but in connection with proper general remedies, under Dr. HEATH'S direction, it is highly curative in these, heretofore, incurable affections. Dr. Heath is frequently applied to by persons who have neither been relieved by Inhalation, nor benefitted by shoulder-braces, nor inhaling tubes. The fact is that inhalation is only an auxiliary, and that those "Traps" are absolutely injurious.
As a proof of the success attending Dr. Heath's combined treatment, we refer to the subjoined—a few only of a large number of letters:—
423 Broadway, New York, Sept. 8, 1855.
Dear Doctor:—Although not indebted to you pecuniarily, I am under obligations of gratitude which I do not expect to be able to pay for your skill in curing me of a Bronchial affection, some three years ago, which had troubled me for a number of years, and which would not yield to caustic applications, gargles or washes. Notwithstanding my profession requires the almost constant use of my vocal organs, the cure is permanent. If you think this will be of any service to yourself or the public, you will please use it in any manner to attain it. You will, no doubt, remember two or three of my friends were also cured by you. MARCUS COLBURN.
Nervous, Chronic, Scrofulous, and affections of the Generative system, tax the constitution to such an extent as to render it liable to take no Tuberculous and other Chronic forms of disease in both sexes. Those afflicted with any of these diseases can apply with a certainty of relief to Dr. HEATH, No. 850 Broadway, New York, from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., Sundays excepted. Patients at a distance may be treated or advised by letter on stating their cases fully.
Who is Dr. Heath? For the information and satisfaction of those who perchance do not know, we refer them to an interesting editorial which appeared in the New York Day Book two weeks since, and which has been extensively copied in the leading papers of that city, and pretty generally in the country papers. We will let others answer this question, lest our readers who have not read the above-named article, entitled "The Character and Men of New York, the Metropolis of North America," should complain of our neglect to publish it also.
I have known Dr. Heath for ten or twelve years, during which time he has assiduously devoted himself to the study and treatment of Chronic Diseases, Genito-urinary, Nervous and Constitutional Affections, Diseases of the Ear and Eye, but especially in treating Consumption and affections of the Chest with flattering success.
J. K. SNELL M.D., Green Point, Brooklyn.
Having seen numerous affidavits of cures performed by Dr. Heath, of No. 850 Broadway, we take pleasure in recommending him to the afflicted.—Advocate and Register, Rahway, N. J.
We most cheerfully recommend Dr. Heath to an enlightened public, as a professional friend of surpassing attainments, and of eminent success in his departments of practice.
LESTER GREEN, M.D., N. Y.
J. A. SMITH, M.D., N. Y.
Dr. Heath is a gentleman of high moral character and most estimable professional abilities.
GEO. PETRIE, M.D., N.Y.
The two chief characteristics in a good doctor are moral excellence and professional ability, both of which Dr. Heath possesses in an eminent degree. Hon. A. LOOMIS, N. Y.
New York, Sept. 24, 1855.
Dr. Heath—Dear Sir: I have taken my pen in hand to inform you that I am entirely free from every symptom of that alarming Consumptive Throat Disease, which I came under your medical care with, and which was so rapidly undermining my constitution. I was almost despairing of getting cured at all, until I was advised by Mr. Shaw to try you, and see if you could not relieve me. You have not only cured me physically, but you have relieved me of excessive suspense and anxiety of mind.—Yours, in gratitude, JOS. G. BYERS, N. Y.
N.B.—The Doctor's Introductory Work on the Cause and Cure of those Diseases, will be sent free to any address, upon application.

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY! FOR A MARVELLOUS AGE.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
The Grand External Remedy.
BY THE aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthmas, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.
Erysipelas, Rheumatism and Scorbutic Humours.
No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, cannot long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal Hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.
Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.
Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has dispatched to the East large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.
Piles and Fistulas.
These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each Pot.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Cancers	Scalds
Bad Breasts	Contracted and Stiff Joints	Sore Nipples
Burns		Sore Throats
Bunions	Elephantiasis	Skin Diseases
Bite of Moschetoes and Sand Flies	Fistulas	Scurvy
	Gout	Sore Heads
Coco-bay	Glandular Swellings	Tumours
Chiego-foot		Ulcers
Chilblains	Lumbago	Wounds
Chapped Hands	Piles	Yaws
Corns (Soft)	Rheumatism

Sold at the Establishments of Professor Holloway, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London, and 80, Maiden Lane, New York, also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices:—1s 3d; 3s 3d; and 5s each Pot.
☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

To the Medical Profession and the Public.
THE attention of the Medical Profession and Public is invited to the following preparation:
Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient
prepared on an entirely new principle, from a late and accurate analysis of the celebrated SELTZER SPRING, IN GERMANY, combining efficacy, economy, and portability, with such additions and improvements as will be found materially to increase its efficacy.
This much esteemed highly valuable preparation will not fail to effectually remove Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious Affections, Headache, Heartburn, Acidity of the Stomach, Costiveness, Gout, Rheumatism, Loss of Appetite, Gravel, Nervous Debility, Nausea of Vomiting, Affections of the Liver, &c. &c.
Tarrant's Compound Extract of Cubebs and Copabia,
Sanctioned by popular opinion and the high authority of the most distinguished of the medical faculty; it offers to the afflicted a remedy whose success has in every instance supported its deserved reputation. Being convenient and agreeable in its use, experience has proved that it retains in every climate its desirable and truly valuable character. It is in the form of a paste, is tasteless, and does not impair the digestion. It is prepared with the greatest possible care, upon well tested principles. To persons following the sea, or going long voyages, this preparation possesses qualities far surpassing any other—neat and portable in its form, speedy and efficacious in its operation, successful both in the earliest and worst stages of the severest diseases, whilst the usual and nauseous taste and unpleasant odor to copabia is wholly avoided in this preparation.
Prepared and sold, Wholesale and Retail, by JOHN A. TARRANT, successor to James Tarrant, 278 Greenwich, corner of Warren street, New York; and for sale by the principal Druggists in the United States, British Provinces, West Indies and South America.
Thorn's Compound Extract of Copabia and Sarsaparilla possesses a few advantages not enjoyed by any other medicine, and which must, with an enlightened public, render it assuredly highly popular, and a desideratum long sought for in the medical world. It needs no confinement or change of diet. In its approved form, that of a paste, it is entirely tasteless, and causes no unpleasant sensation to the patient.
It has acquired the utmost fame in almost every part of Europe. It has been examined, approved of, and sanctioned by the faculty of medicine, and recommended by the most eminent of the profession. Prepared by J. B. Thorn, Chemist, London, and for sale wholesale and retail by J. A. TARRANT, sole agent for the United States, 278 Greenwich street, New York.
☞ The serious attention of the afflicted is respectfully invited to a trial of Dr. Grover Coe's Standard Family Remedies.
Dr. Coe's Liquid Harmattan is guaranteed to be the most efficient external application extant, for the certain cure of Ulcers or Fever, Sores, Abscesses, including Psoas and Lumbar, Felons, Biles, Carbuncles, Chancres, Buboes, Ague in the breast, and every variety of external inflammation.
Warranted to arrest Mortification, when arising from Burns, Wounds, and other external conditions, and to prevent it when used in time.
Also warranted to check Felons, and prevent suppuration when applied before matter has commenced forming. Used early in cases of punctured wounds from nails, pitch-forks, &c., it prevents all symptoms of Tetanus or Locked-jaw, and removes them when arising from want of its timely application.
Dr. Coe's Anti-Mercurial Alterative Syrup
A pleasant, safe and efficient remedy for the radical cure of Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Leucorrhea, Scrofula, Gonnorhœa, Syphillis, Mercurial Affections, Ulceration of the Kidneys & Bowels, and all diseases arising from a vitiated condition of the blood and fluids.
Dr. Coe's Family Vegetable Pills.
The best and safest Cathartic Pill for popular use ever offered to the public.
For the cure of Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Constipation, functional derangements of the Liver, Spleen, and other viscera, they stand unrivalled. These are not crude and untried remedies, experimentally placed before the public, but they have stood the test of years. The proprietor is a practising Physician, and they are the same remedies he relies upon to sustain his wide-spread reputation as a competent and successful guardian of the public health. The Harmattan has stood the test of 80 years, the original formula having been obtained from the Indians by an ancestor of the present proprietor, who has improved and brought it to its present degree of perfection.
The Syrup and Pills originated with himself, and during 12 year's extensive practice, thousands have had cause to feel grateful for their efficacy.
For wounds and sores on Horses, the world is challenged to produce anything equal to the Harmattan.
For full directions and explanations, see pamphlets accompanying the medicines.

Office of the Commissioner of Lotteries, Baltimore, April 18, 1856.
THE undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Drawings are gross frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleveland, Ohio, are imposters, and said lottery a fraud, having neither legal or presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also imposters, and all lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.
RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries.—The business is conducted under the firm of R. FRANCE & CO., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive license under him, through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries. D. H. McPHAIL,
Commissioner of Lotteries for the State of Md.
