Pakistan death toll is pegged at 1,000

DACCA (AP) — The stench of death hung over villages on the outskirts of this East Pakistan capital today as rescue workers dug out more bodies and the estimated death toll in Monday's killer tornado rose to 1,000. More than 500 persons were killed in the industrial suburb of Demra alone. Hospitals sent out an urgent appeal for blood donors. Doctors and nurses struggled to cope with a continuous flood of thousands of injured. Students of Dacca University went into the countryside in trucks and helped troops bring back piles of bodies wrapped in white sheets.

Reds pick up plane parts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States defence department said today a Soviet ship has recovered what it described to be airplane parts but no survivors in the Sea of Japan where North Korea says it shot down a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane. "As of this hour, 8:30 a.m. EST, regrettably there is no report of any survivors being found from the missing EC-121 aircraft lost in the Sea of Japan yesterday," it said in a statement. "Extensive search efforts are continuing." "Direct communication has been established between one of the Soviet destroyer-type ships in the search area and a U.S. aircraft from Korea," it added. "The Soviet ship said in response to questions that it had not recovered or seen any survivors but that it had picked up what it reported to be aircraft parts." The department said U.S. aircraft flew low over the Soviet ship and photographed the debris airmen reported appeared to be a wheel and a ladder. The Soviet ships had been asked to help U.S. planes and ships in the search. The department said U.S. fighter aircraft are providing combat cover. U.S. SPOTTED AREA The debris was spotted first by a U.S. aircraft which then dropped smoke markers to fix the location for the nearby Soviet ships, the department said. President Nixon, awakened early Tuesday shortly after the North Koreans said they downed the plane, has not taken any public action. But officials said his first official reaction probably will be a strong protest. The lumbering propeller-driven four-engine craft was acknowledged to be missing Tuesday after North Korea abruptly said it had downed the plane and its 31 crew members "with one stroke." A massive search for the plane was under way. See "Denies" Page 7

Arab guerrillas reject Mideast peace plan

Five Arab guerrilla organizations have rejected King Hussein's six-point Middle East peace proposal and renewed their demand for war against Israel. The guerrillas, who long have sworn to fight until Israel is destroyed, rejected "each and every point" in the plan Hussein outlined in a speech in Washington last week. They also rejected all other plans for a political settlement with Israel. The Jordanian monarch, who said he spoke for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt as well as for Jordan, called for Israel's withdrawal from Arab territory occupied during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. His other points included a guarantee of the "territorial inviolability" of all Middle Eastern states, use of the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba by Israeli shipping, an end to Arab warfare against Israel and an equitable settlement of the claims of Arab refugees from Palestine. Israel already had called on Hussein to make his proposals at face-to-face negotiations with the Israelis if he were serious. Leaders of the five major Palestinian resistance groups held a secret meeting Monday and later issued a joint statement in Amman, the Jordanian capital, rejecting the king's proposal. They said they had agreed on a "unified course of action" to send delegations to a number of Arab governments seeking clear definition of their attitude toward plans for a peaceful solution to the conflict. ISSUE THE STATEMENT The statement was issued by Al Fatah, most powerful of the commando organizations; the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a Marxist group; the Democratic Popular Front, a leftist splinter of the Popular Front, Al Saika, which is pro-Syrian, and the Palestine Liberation Army. It was the first time all five groups have joined in a policy statement. Two Israeli jet planes crossed into Jordanian skies today to strafe and bomb Arab guerrillas which the Israeli army said fired mortars and bazookas on troops in the Beisan Valley south of the Sea of Galilee. The planes made a 10-minute assault on two suspected guerrilla pockets around Manshiyeh and scored direct hits a few miles east of the Jordan River ceasefire line, witnesses said. Meanwhile, Israeli artillery returned the ground fire, and a spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties. It was the second successive day of firing in the fertile valley.

Cardinal starts race for rule

QUEBEC (CP) — Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal has launched what one of his supporters describes as an underground campaign for the leadership of the ruling Union Nationale party. The 44-year-old education minister has not announced officially whether he will oppose Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand at the party's leadership convention here June 19-21. But this has not prevented Mr. Cardinal from conducting what a Cardinal campaigner qualifies as "the only kind of campaign possible in the circumstances."

Without declaring himself a candidate, Mr. Cardinal has emerged from a self-imposed "period of reflection" to express his views on just about all the current issues in Quebec politics. In the last few days: —Mr. Cardinal made a guest appearance on Les Couche-Tard, a variety program on the CBC's French-language television network notorious politically for its persistent ridicule of Mr. Bertrand. —He whooped up what one French-language reporter described as Cardinalomania in a weekend visit to Chicoutimi, riding of Cultural Affairs Minister Jean-Noel Tremblay. —Montreal Le Devoir published a long interview with Mr. Cardinal, the most complete statement of the education minister's views since he entered politics in late 1967. —He made a major speech to Quebec's English-language community before the Montreal Canadian Club, urging English-speaking Quebecers to participate more actively in the province's public affairs. HAVE STRATEGY An informant in the Cardinal camp says: "Our strategy is to undermine Mr. Bertrand's support."

Hellyer is sketchy on airport talks

OTTAWA (CP) — Transport Minister Paul Hellyer told the Commons Tuesday that he discussed the proposed site for a new Montreal international airport Monday with Dr. Robert Lussier, Quebec's municipal affairs minister, but he gave few details on the talks. He said that both the federal and provincial governments reviewed their positions and "the review of these two positions will now be reviewed by the two governments." Outside the Commons, Mr. Hellyer replied "No" when asked by reporters whether the question of the airport site has been re-opened as a result of the meeting. Dr. Lussier had made clear Quebec's continuing opposition to the Ste. Scholastique site, northwest of Montreal, chosen by the federal government. The federal side had taken note of this opposition, but there was "nothing beyond that."

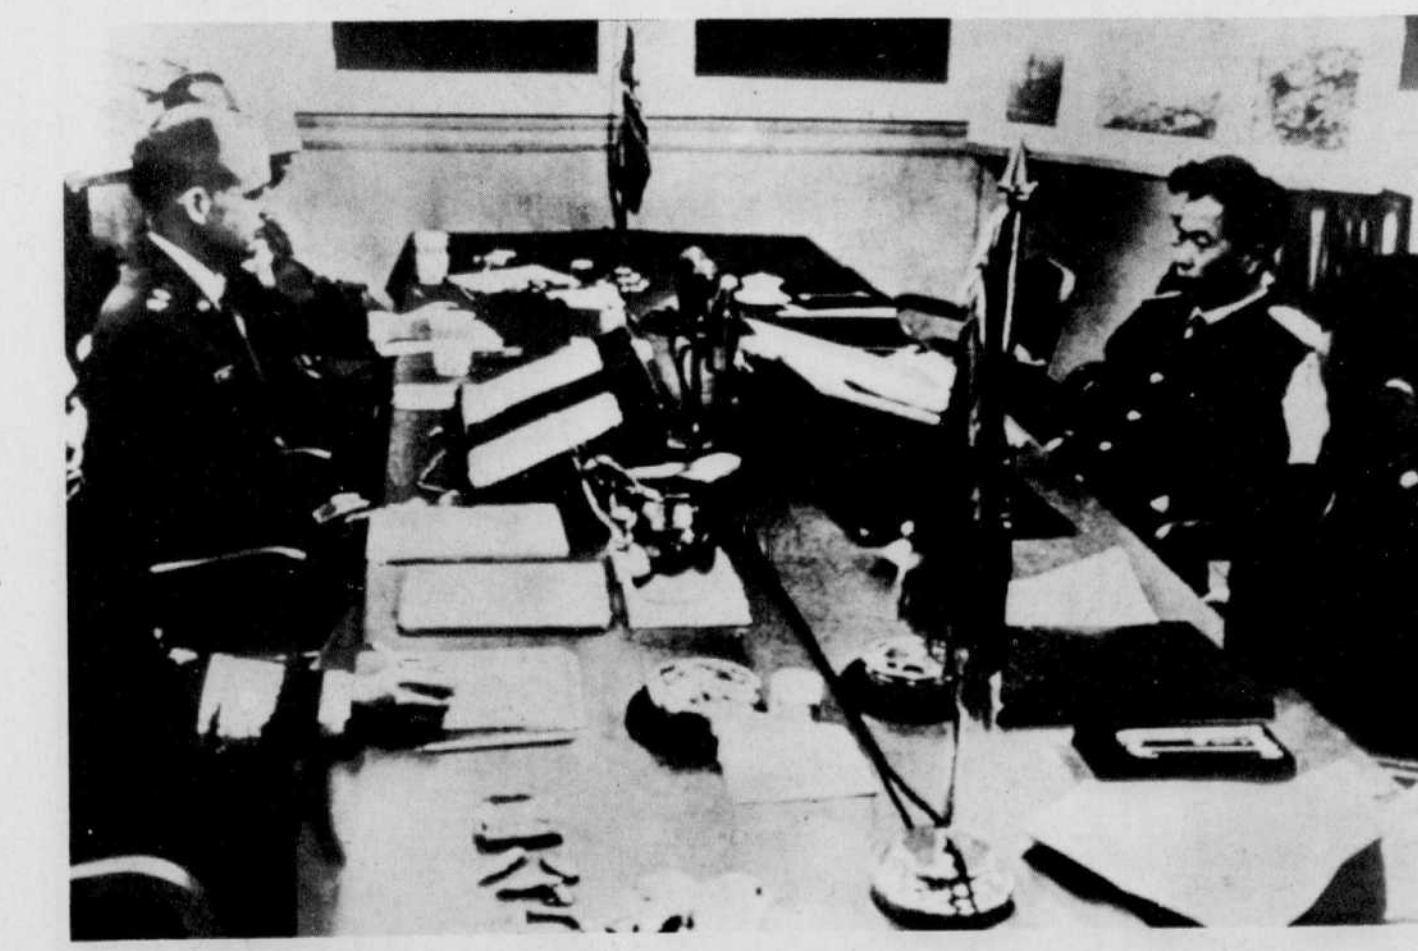

French merchants protest

PARIS (CP) — France, buffeted by a variety of social and economic problems during the last year, today feels the effects of another such ailment—the discontent of small-business proprietors across the country. Thousands of such businessmen are staging protest shut-downs of their shops, bars, restaurants and other enterprises for much if not all of the day. Though complaining about what they term excessively high taxes, government-imposed paper work, price controls and unsatisfactory social-welfare arrangements, aggrieved businessmen are not all behind the protest shutdown. Some say the strike—organized by a confederation representing small and medium-sized enterprises—is a half-way measure. Last week, militant business in southeastern France, fed up with the present tax system, sacked a government office full of fiscal records. Their leader, Gerard Nicoud, 23, was arrested and the result was a weekend night wreathed in tear gas and riots in the area known as Isere. Leading the demands for Nicoud's release was the 27-year-old idea man of the Isere movement, bearded Maurice Mesny.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — Garlic may make you strong but friends won't stay with you long!

Montrealer is witness

CHICAGO (AP) — A former Canadian union organizer appeared as a surprise government witness Tuesday in the trial of four men charged with conspiracy and unlawful transportation of explosives. The charges grew out of terrorism that took place during a 1963 dispute between the Seafarers International Union and a Canadian shipping company. Rene Turcotte, who lives in St. Leonard, a suburb of Montreal, testified before a U.S. district court jury that he was introduced to Pearl by Don Swait, SIU secretary-treasurer in Canada, in July, 1963. The introduction, he said, took place in Swait's home and Swait said Pearl was working with him on activities in Great Lakes ports against the Upper Lakes Shipping Co., Ltd. When Turcotte asked why they were meeting in the basement of Swait's home instead of the union hall, Turcotte said Swait replied: "This fellow is too hot and can't be seen around the union hall."

For teachers Union leaders setup a strike strategy

QUEBEC (CP) — Leaders of unions representing about 70,000 Quebec teachers have co-ordinated strike strategy, it was learned Tuesday night. Raymond Laliberte, leader of the Quebec Teachers Corporation, said in an interview: "There will be a strike, co-ordinated with the strike of Protestant teachers." He said three-quarters of the 64 corporation affiliates have approved both mass resignations and strike action in their 20-month contract dispute with the provincial government and school boards. He has been meeting since last week with leaders of the predominantly English Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and Provincial Association of Catholic Teachers which had previously endorsed strike action but wanted the support of the 60,000-member French-language corporation. Mr. Laliberte said the corporation's main goal is still to collect mass resignations—about 40,000 of them—before June 1.

Man fights to stay in Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — George Ben Edmondson, better known here as Alex Bormann, has started his second fight to remain in Canada with his wife and child. Lawyer Max Teitelbaum said Tuesday Edmondson begins the new battle from a stronger position. The 31-year-old American now had cleared himself of charges for which he served a prison sentence in Missouri. An immigration hearing will be held May 5 to determine whether Edmondson would be ordered deported for the second time, the lawyer reported. As a fugitive from the U.S., the man who then called himself Bormann won a wide circle of friends in Canada, married a Montreal girl and became chief engineer of the German pavilion at Expo 67. Mr. Teitelbaum said he requested, and received, approval Monday morning for the hearing to decide the right of Edmondson to remain in Canada. He described as incorrect an earlier interpretation that Edmondson had requested landed immigrant status, that this had been refused and that this would be the issue at stake in the May 5 hearing. TOLD AUTHORITIES Because Edmondson had been acquitted of Missouri charges against him, he had come to Canada fully convinced he had every right to do so and had notified authorities of the RCMP and the federal bureau of investigation in advance. But the American was arrested Friday night by RCMP officers on the charge he was in the country illegally. He was kept in custody during the weekend but released on bail of $500 Monday. Edmondson had served 1½ to two years of a sentence in Missouri after his deportation from Canada but then in a rehearing of the case, charges were dismissed.

Man fights to stay in Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — John Diefenbaker, just back from a three-day trip to the Northwest Territories, said Tuesday he is going to propose that the government establish an Arctic task force manned by Eskimos trained by university graduates interested in development of the area. The former prime minister said he is convinced the area is the place for young Canadians with a good education to begin their careers.

Third meet

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says the third meeting of the federal-provincial constitutional conference may be held June 11-13. The newspaper quotes an Ontario government official as saying Tuesday those dates are being considered by Prime Minister Trudeau and provincial premiers. The last constitutional conference meeting was held in the first week of February in Ottawa. The original meeting to begin formal review of Canada's constitution was held in February, 1968.

Population's up

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec's population has grown an average of 3.7 per cent per year since 1966, the municipal affairs department reported Tuesday. There were 1,645 municipalities with 6,216,487 inhabitants in 1968, the department said in its 1969 municipal guide. Seven municipalities disappeared since 1967 through annexation.

Next week

QUEBEC (CP) — Finance Minister Paul Dozois said Tuesday he hopes to make his budget speech in the national assembly next week. He was answering a question by Robert Bourassa, the Liberal Opposition's financial critic.

Stanstead South United Church hears inspiring Easter sermon

ROCK ISLAND — Easter Sunday at Stanstead South Church featured a church filled with families from both sides of the International Boundary and several visitors, home for Easter.

Rev. G. Joyce, the pastor, spoke impressively on the term used frequently but wrongly by theologians and the general press, "God is Dead". He pointed out God is not dead, he never has been and in every sense of the word, God is everywhere, on the streets, the business establishments, the church, with us always.

During the service, Mr. Joyce had the pleasure of presenting to Scott Somerville, a member of the Derby Line Troop 80 Boy Scouts of America, the God and Country award. Scott was accompanied by several of the Scouts, all in uniform and their leader, Harvey Gardyne. Mr. Joyce said that most of the work required for this high award was done by Scott in Jackson, Me., before his family came to Derby Line to reside.

After Scott had received his award, he in turn presented miniature replicas to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Somerville. Mr. Gardyne said there are only two Scouts, presently in the Troop, who have earned this award, Scott, and Bruce Muir.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Alice McHarg, with Mrs. Gwen Rollins at the organ, sang the beautiful anthem, Ten Thousand Angels, with Raymond Curtis singing the solo part.

CHRISTENINGS

There were three christenings, Randall John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flood of Derby Line; Bradley Scott, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Curtis, Derby Line; Sara Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Couch from Connecticut.

Waters are high but not flooding

There is no immediate danger of flooding in the Sherbrooke area, a Quebec Civil Defense spokesman said this morning.

He said no matter how warm temperatures become only a heavy rain storm could cause flooding now.

Sherbrooke police reported this morning river measurement at the Aylmer Bridge was 18 feet.

The danger passed when the ice left the river allowing water to flow freely, the spokesman said.

A survey by the Civil Defense last week showed water levels in Bromptonville were not dangerously high.

Some homes on St. Francis Boulevard might have basement problems but that is an annual event, he said.

An observer in Ayer's Cliff said today the water level on the lake was still dropping, slowly but surely.

Firetruck slightly hurts boy

A 12-year-old boy was slightly injured yesterday evening, when the bike he was riding hit the front wheel of a fire truck of the city of Sherbrooke, answering a call on Kennedy Street.

Injured was Jean Pierre Hallee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastien Hallee, of 195 5th Avenue. He was rushed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he was released later.

The fire truck was driven by fireman Normand Houle. The accident occurred at the intersection of Chicoyne and Terrill Streets, at 6:56 p.m.

The firemen were answering a call to a chimney fire. The accident caused a short delay, after which the truck continued on to put out the fire.

Centuries-old monks' precepts said still valid

"Let him have humility, to give him a good word is above all gifts." Such is the description of the way of life at the St. Benoit du Lac Abbey, given Sherbrooke Rotarians by Father Mathys, guest speaker, at last night's meeting at the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

Father Mathys, a world traveller, told members of some of the living rules at the Abbey. He said the philosophy surrounding the principle of life they observe was laid down back in 529 B.C. by St. Benedict, the first monk.

The speaker went on to explain the attitude found nowadays at the St. Benoit du Lac Abbey. Its spirit could be described as "let him have humility, to give him a good word is above all gifts, let him seek rather to be laughed than to be feared." St. Benedict realized this in the year 529, and there were no psychiatrists at that time.

He added that the abbey still understands the problems of the world. This is perhaps why more than 30,000 visitors came to St. Benoit du Lac last year alone, in search of peace.

Father Mathys showed color slides of his trip to Israel in 1966. They featured most of the historical sights found in the Holy Land. He added that during his visit to that country, he had met Moshe Dayan, now minister of defense.

Sherbrooke Rotarians also announced their special program to celebrate their 50th Anniversary next June. The Asbestos factory situation still under study says firm

ASBESTOS — A Canadian Johns-Manville Company statement, commenting on an April 10 story in the Sherbrooke Daily Record says:

"The company has never said that the plant was going to be moved or 'relocated'.

We have stated that, in order to insure an orderly expansion of the pit, the factory would have to be 'demolished by 1972'.

"The number of employees now working at the factory is 449 — a far cry from the reported '550 to 600'.

"The shareholders of Johns-

Manville have elected a number of officers in whom they have placed their faith to run the day to day operations of the company and have no direct say in the decisions taken by said officers.

"When Canadian Johns-Manville decided to build a plant near Toronto and to manufacture insulating materials there, it seemed logical to relocate the rock-wool and refractory cement departments. This move affected less than 40 men who were all retained as company employees.

"The statement: 'If the plant is relocated elsewhere the possibility is that a very small percentage of the workers will be going' is pure speculation and has no place in such an article. A more honest approach to the subject would be to await the results of the study now in progress and then comment on them.

"The last statement, about: 'an unemployment situation' is also irrelevant at this time and smacks of attempts to sensationalize the issue."

Bishop's appointments made

Two French speaking Canadians have been named to posts at Bishop's University. They are Richard Giguere and Claude Thibault.

Mr. Giguere has been appointed as a lecturer in the Modern Languages Department (French). Mr. Giguere, who studied also at the University of Montreal, is a graduate from the University of Sherbrooke, where he obtained his BA and MA degrees. He has previously held positions with the Estrie Regional School Board and the University of Sherbrooke.

He is particularly interested in the theatre, the cinema and journalism. Since 1966, Mr. Giguere has been a part-time instructor in French conversation.

The accident occurred when the vehicle driven by Mrs.

Beauchene crashed into three other cars under the overpass. They were literally demolished in the crash.

The other cars were owned by Jean Claude Lavoie, 18 years old, of Sherbrooke, Michael Churcher, 22 years old of Bishopton, and Roland Lavoie, 58, of Sherbrooke.

Inter-faith understanding sought by King David Circle

A Sherbrooke branch of the King David Circle Society, to promote better relations between Catholics and Jews, was formed last night.

Rabbi Joseph Berglas, of the Agudath Achim Congregation, said this morning the organization tries to create more understanding between Jews and all Christian denominations.

The move was prompted by a visit of Les Amies de St. Benoit du Lac to the Montreal Street Synagogue. Headed by Dom Anselme Mathys, the lay association which tries to promote peace and unity suggested a Sherbrooke branch of the society be opened.

Rabbi Berglas told the visitors about the Synagogue and the Jewish religion.

Dr. Rene Frenette and Mort Vineberg will be the co-presidents of the new branch. Miss Mimi Shea and Mrs. Charles Gabour will serve as vice-presidents.

The treasurer will be Mrs. L. P. Bourgault and Daniel Heilig will be the secretary.

Mrs. Benoit Toupin, Lewis Rosenbloom and Dr. Jean-Claude Lasry will be branch directors.

Closer control needed over resources plans

Water pollution suddenly has become the topic of the day in the Eastern Townships, with special concern over the future of Lake Memphremagog and other lakes in the area.

The interest is merited because there is no denying the argument that maintaining the quality of the water in the lakes of this district has an important bearing on the economic future of the Eastern Townships.

But it is only one phase of the willy-nilly, unplanned, wasteful use of our natural resources—resources which once gone are difficult if not impossible to bring back or replace.

The Canadian Wildlife Federation suggests that there are alternatives to this kind of spoilage. It proposes that any planning done for the use of land—urban or rural—should be based on sound ecological principles.

In the other words, the best use should be made of the land, not from the standpoint of growth or monetary profit but from the standpoint of what will best benefit the people and other forms of life that live on it.

Land use is not always so based. We have polluted our land, air and water and continue to do so. Land has been put to use that would bring a quick dollar and then make the land useless. Concrete has spread like a blight outside our cities.

Not until people have an awareness of ecology and a better understanding of the relationship between the land and the people and other life on it will we make the best use of what we have.

If man could travel at the speed of light, he'd still have to waste three hours getting to and from the time machine.

Weakening an argument

One of the weaknesses too often afflicting politicians, and other speakers for that matter, trying to make a case for the particular cause they are supporting is to bring in some patently false statement that serves to discredit such credible arguments they might advance.

And the exponents of the separatist cause in this province are not above indulging in such tactics.

If statements by Gilles Grogier, vice-president of Le Parti Quebecois, at Windsor over the weekend are to be believed, residents of Quebec province are the only people anywhere on this continent required to pay both federal and provincial income taxes.

Without going too deeply into the situation in the other provinces of Canada where a percentage of the federal tax is refunded to the province in lieu of their own tax impositions a brief look at the United States quickly proves the falsity of his claims.

With a very few notable exceptions, most states of the union impose their own income taxes for state purposes and in addition most major cities levy a municipal income tax.

The proponents of Quebec separation from the rest of Canada may be sincere in their beliefs the economic problems can be overcome, but by a few irresponsible statements they could undermine their whole thesis insofar as the public is concerned.

No, Gwendolyn, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" is not the temperance society's theme song.

The Opposition's hardest noses never let up

OTTAWA OFFBEAT

OTTAWA — If the government backbenchers, like good little boys, must always be seen but seldom heard, it's a much different cup of political tea for the MPs on the opposition backbenches.

The Liberal backbenchers must be seen — as the living breathing evidence of the government's majority voting power in the Commons — but traditionally are required to do it in well-behaved silence.

The sight of them sitting there, mum, in the rear ranks, is a sort of insurance policy for the front line cabinet, against surprise losses in snap votes.

And they're about as vocal as an insurance policy, too.

With their opposite numbers on the opposition backbenches, things are different and a lot more fun.

They're required to be seen, too, as insurance that the Opposition won't look like too tiny a minority in surprise votes, but like bad little boys, they must be heard.

And the louder and oftener, the better bad boys they are.

If it's the job of the Opposition to oppose the government and in opposing it, offer a credible alternative to it, most of the work falls on the backbenches.

WEAR 'EM DOWN

The leaders may plan the strategy of the war of the words in Parliament, but their followers, the majority of them backbenchers, must fight the battles.

Who, then, are the hardest-nosed political warriors?

Sit in on the Daily Question Period in the House or even a few times, and you'll soon know.

They're the ones who provoke the most hostile reaction from the government benches.

They're the members of the Opposition who get heckled, even hissed, or heard in worried silence.

This because they're the trouble-makers — making trouble for the government.

There's Donnie MacInnis, the two-fisted Conservative from Cape Breton, so combative that the nagging fear he just sometime might use those fists is never far from the back of Liberal minds.

MacInnis almost daily clubs the government with the cry "bums and idiots" — which happens to be a phrase Prime Minister Trudeau only recently in Britain employed to describe some of his own Liberals.

The Cape Bretoner, by sheer persistence, is getting to them, and their only counter-measure so far has been an angry hooting and hollering of frustration.

It's the old wear-them-down technique that former Conservative MP Gordon Churchill used with his repeated scornful cry "same old gang!"

There's Nova Scotia Conservative Robert Coates who has been hammering the government on its spending. Not the spending of billions of dollars. For who grasps such figures?

But the spending of thousands on rugs, drapes and luxury furniture for fancy offices in posh new buildings for cabinet ministers and senior civil servants.

NAG NAG NAG

These are figures every taxpayer, especially the housewife, can understand. And comprehending clearly, complain.

Still in the Maritimes, there is New Brunswick Conservative Gordon Fairweather, quiet, but deadly when he wants to be. As he currently is in his careful probing of the life and times of a senior civil servant and his wife.

Fairweather, as a former attorney general, took on the job of Parliament's prosecutor when others hung back.

Out in Newfoundland there are "The Six," the half-dozen Conservatives who beat the government, the Canadian transport commission and the CNR, and kept their beloved "Bullet" running, at least for a whole lot longer than most people even thought possible.

In the West, there is Calgary Conservative Eldon Woolliams, booming big-voiced, and impossible to shout down. Day after day he nags the government about wheat prices and oil markets. Never letting up, it can become wearing on the cabinet. And has.

Then to demonstrate that he's more than just a political scold, he nailed Transport Minister Hellyer on the information leak — five days before the official announcement — on the site of the new Montreal jumbo jetport, which may have put the multi-million dollar project in peril of speculative killings.

Finally, there's that good grey socialist Stanley Knowles of the NDP, who at least a couple of times each week for the last three years has been crusading for penny pinched government pensioners.

He wins a new pension deal for retired federal workers, he says, and he wins it for everyone.

Whether, in fact, retired civil servants can be equated with all the rest of us in the matter of pensions, current and future, might be highly debatable.

But Stanley Knowles believes it to be so, and keeps boring away at the social conscience of the government week after week after wearing week.

There they are, 11 good men and true, 10 Tories and one New Dem, the hardest noses in all the Opposition.

TODAY in history

April 16, 1969 . . .

Sieur de Roberval, France's first viceroy in Canada, sailed from La Rochelle for the New World 427 years ago today—in 1542—with three ships and 200 colonists. He wintered at Cartier's camp at Cap Rouge, near Quebec, and explored the St. Lawrence as far as Montreal Island, looking for the legendary kingdom of Saguenay. The expedition was a failure and its survivors withdrew to France in 1543. Roberval was murdered in Paris in 1560.

1786—The British explorer Sir John Franklin died.

1942—King George VI awarded the George Cross for bravery to Malta.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—United States planes bombed Belgrade; Lord Louis Mountbatten, Southeast Asia Commander, moved into headquarters in Ceylon; Russian troops took Yalta, 30 miles east of Sevastopol, and nine other towns.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Repairing to a men's club to escape the world and womenfolk has been English tradition for 250 years. Formed for social, literary or political reasons, clubs conferred status on members because of their exclusiveness. The World Almanac notes. To get into the Beefsteak it was once said, "You had to be related to God and a damn close relation at that." Now the less than 70 clubs also have less exclusive membership.

The Peacemaker

Big worries

Inflation and Vietnam war are Nixon's most pressing problems

WASHINGTON (CP) — Inflation and the Vietnam war have been the most pressing American problems inherited by President Nixon.

They began arriving in strength together in 1965 when President Lyndon Johnson elected to start expanding 23,000 United States troops in South Vietnam to the present total of about 540,000.

It is being suggested now that Nixon's assault on inflation won't work unless he begins scaling down the war as well.

His recipe for applying a brake to the economy is to continue after June 1 a war tax of 10 cents on every income tax dollar, keep interest rates high and trim federal spending after next July 1 to produce—as he forecast

Saturday—a budget surplus of $5,800,000,000 which would be a considerable contrast to last year's deficit about $25,000,000,000.

FEWER BOMB RAIDS

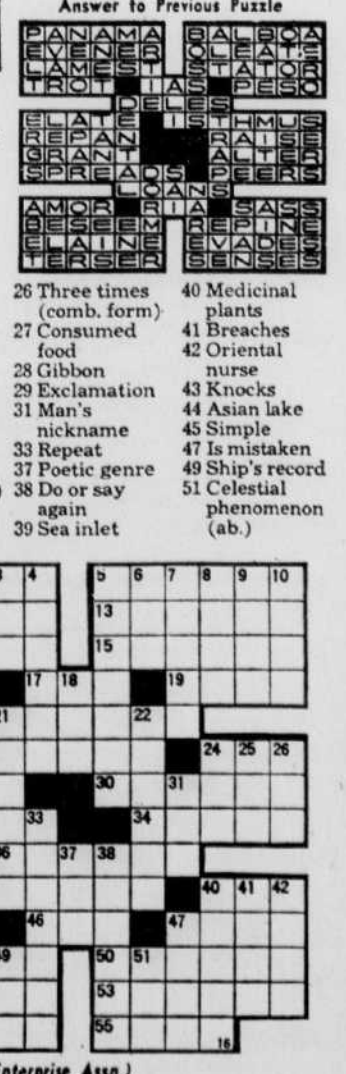

In Vietnam, there has been an austerity touch with a reduction on forays by the B-52 bombers, a move some saw as a political gesture to attempt to get a mutual reduction in activity from the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong insurgents.

There are also the persistent speculations of American troop withdrawals this year of anywhere from 50,000 to 100,000 men.

As far as business generally is concerned, a smaller war would be a better war and no war at all would be best.

Adaptability - the essence of life

He who cannot adapt is either dying or dead, Dr. Robert B. McClure, told an audience of 200, at the seventh annual meeting of the Quebec Sherbrooke Presbyterian United Church Women.

Neither growth nor reproduction is any longer a sign of life. Crystals "grow" and reproduction in some forms has been mastered in the laboratory. "Adaptability," he said, "is the very essence of life today."

"White man's words only fool white man," he said, "is a proverb common to many tongues" and aptly expresses the attitude of many nations toward the Western world.

This lack of credibility on the part of the Christian nations, he claims, signifies a breakdown in evangelism. He found no solace in the fact that man's unwillingness to believe each other dates back to his beginnings. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Can the white man's words be reconciled with his works?

Can a shrinking minority of whites, only 20 per cent of the world's population, none more than 20 hours away from any other spot on the globe, adapt to the realities of 1969? Forty-five years ago it took Dr. McClure two months to reach China. Today the same journey can be made in less than one day.

"Ten thousand people have died of starvation since yesterday at this time," he said. Half of the world population goes to bed hungry every night, and half of the world population is under 21 years of age. The problems will not only remain but intensify.

Dr. McClure wonders if the affluent western woman, with her increased leisure time, can adapt to these realities.

Dr. McClure was once asked by a disciple of Gandhi's "does the white man ever do anything for anyone for nothing?" If not, Dr. McClure would appear to be an exception.

As a doctor who spent 25 years in China, he was the first to introduce radium to the country. He studied public health in Sweden, served with the International Red Cross and spent six years in Palestine. In 1954 he went to a Mission Hospital in Central India where he served as a surgeon and a pioneer in public health and birth control. Perhaps for these and other reasons, he was appointed last year as first lay moderator of the United Church.

DR. ROBERT B. MCCLURE as he addresses members of the Quebec Sherbrooke

Presbyterian United Church Women, at Trinity United Church, yesterday.

Use Lipstick Carefully

Lipstick was originally invented to give a hint of color to even the palest of lips—don't defeat its purpose by using shades like white off-white, beige and silver. They are both unnatural and unattractive. Make-up is to accentuate natural beauty, not to create an unnatural look.

Use Old Bath Mat

Your old bathroom mat can be cut to fit an electric floor or shoe polisher. Just stitch a channel to run elastic through and slip the new cover over the old felt or bristle pads. These covers are easy to remove after each use to machine launder in hot suds.

Beaudry warns against hopes for oil company investments in Que.

QUEBEC (CP) — Industry Minister Jean-Paul Beaudry should not be too optimistic about oil company announcements of new investments in the province, Robert Bourassa, Liberal Opposition financial critic, said Tuesday.

Mr. Bourassa said in the national assembly that certain oil companies have announced investments in specified regions to scare off competitors.

This can be harmful to Quebec's economic growth, he said. Mr. Beaudry had cited figures of oil company investments he considers important to the province.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stanley Gray, 24, a McGill University lecturer who helped organize a student march on the university last month, has not yet decided whether to accept a $5,500 Canada Council grant to study in England.

The grant, announced in Ottawa Tuesday, would enable Mr. Gray to continue his political science studies at Oxford University.

"It is unclear now whether I will accept the grant," said the lecturer, who currently is fighting a university decision to let him go at the end of the term because of his "disruptive" activity.

Talks fail

MONTREAL (CP) — Negotiations between Air Canada and the union representing its 6,200 mechanics and maintenance men broke down again Tuesday night when union negotiators rejected a new Air Canada offer.

Union warns of farm collapse

MONTREAL (CP) — The Catholic Farmers' Union said Tuesday that 20,000 Quebec dairy farmers will be put out of business within seven years if new agricultural recommendations are put into effect.

CTU President Lionel Sorel and Secretary-General Jean-Marie Kirouac said at a news conference the measures, put forward at an agricultural convention in Ottawa last month, will also boost the price of dairy products for consumers.

The measures, recommended by the Canadian agricultural commission and contained in its recent report, called on the federal government to end all its subsidies to dairy farmers and put a freeze on prices.

At the same time as these recommendations were aired, the government announced a reduction in its subsidies to dairy farmers and a marked increase in export tariffs.

Agricultural Minister H. A. Olson announced March 31 that the government has decided to withhold an extra eight cents a hundredweight for milk to pay for losses on exports in a depressed world market on dairy products.

Card of Thanks

DRLEW — We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness when our home was destroyed by fire. A special thanks to our children, the U.C.W. of Hatley, Waterville and Way's Mills, the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Fairview Dairy, our Avera's Gift and Massawippi friends, for all those responsible for the dance given for our benefit, the McIntyre family, the Athletic Association and my two sisters for looking after our father and aunt. May God bless you for your thoughtfulness in our time of need. Your kindness will always be remembered. CYRIL and ELSIE DREW Hatley, Que.

JOYCE — I wish to thank my friends and relatives for cards, letters, gifts and flowers, while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital and dear son, William Andrew, who passed away May 8, 1950. I returned home to Dr. Dr. Klinek and all the nurses on the second floor. A special thanks to my daughter and her husband for taking me into their home for excellent care. MAUD JOYCE Bishopston, Que.

In Memoriam

WATTS — In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas A. Watts, who passed away April 16, 1962, and dear son, William Andrew, who passed away May 8, 1950. Till memory fades and life departs. Ever remembered by KATE (wife) and FAMILY

"At today's prices, a saving of $3.82 is something of a miracle."

• Mrs. Lucien Dubois went comparison food shopping. She paid $32.24 at a competitor's store for exactly the same order that cost her only $28.42 at Steinberg. That constitutes a saving of $3.82 or 11.8% of her order.

Mrs. Lucien Dubois, of
R.R. No. 5, Sherbrooke.

How can we afford to sell food at the prices we do? The operating efficiencies we have put into effect save us money. In turn, we pass our savings on to you in the form of lower prices...Miracle Food Prices.

Still skeptical? Why not go comparison shopping and find out for yourself, as Mrs. Lucien Dubois did, that at today's prices, a saving of $3.82 is something of a miracle.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Heavy Coffee Drinking Is Bad for the Heart

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—About how many cups of coffee can a woman in her late 60s safely drink in a day? How would an excess affect her?

A—For moderate coffee drinking, you can allow yourself three or four cups a day; 10 or more will irritate your heart and cause skipped beats. Even five cups a day over a period of years will increase the risk of coronary heart disease. It may also cause insomnia, headache and nervous tension.

Q—I have heard that if percolated coffee is warmed over it will cause hardening of the arteries. Is this true?

A—No.

Q—I drink a lot of tea. Is tea constipating?

A—No.

Q—Are low-calorie colas habit forming? Do they really cause a loss of weight?

A—All cola drinks contain about one-third as much caffeine as an equal amount of coffee. Caffeine is not habit forming in the strictest sense but most persons who regularly use drinks that contain caffeine become dependent on them. Low-calorie foods or drinks of any kind will not directly cause you to lose weight. Their only claim is that they will not help you to gain.

Q—In a recent column you recommended a course in progressive relaxation for persons who are overly tense. What does it consist of?

A—The original work on this subject is covered in a book by Dr. Edmund Jacobson, entitled "You Must Relax." Although this book is now out of print, it is available in some public libraries. Books on this subject by one of Dr. Jacobson's co-workers, Dr. S. W. Gutwirth, are excellent, too.

Q—I am a girl, 18. Recently I read that women who are susceptible to the herpes virus that causes cold sores are very likely to have mentally retarded babies. Is this true?

A—An attack of German measles occurring in the first three months of pregnancy may cause some type of birth defect in the newborn. There is at present no evidence that any other virus disease in the mother will cause any mental or physical defects in the baby. Besides, practically everyone is susceptible to the herpes virus.

One of the most interesting chapters in "Modern Bridge Bidding Complete" is headed, "When Not to Count Roth Points."

It belongs in any book on bidding although the heading might be changed to "When Not to Count Points." According to Roth and Rubens, the time not to count points is when you have a good play for some contract. In such cases they say, "Bid your game or slam and see what happens."

Suppose you open one spade with the South hand. You hope your partner will respond and you'll be heading for a slam if he shows any signs of life. But he passes and East opens with a double.

You know your partner may have a blank hand but you may still make four spades. In any event you won't be hurt there and your opponents may have an easy four hearts or four clubs. Four spades is an all-purpose gambling bid that you should make.

The book does not show the other hands so we have filled some in. North certainly should not respond to the spade bid. East has a sound take-out double and we have taken the liberty of having West double four spades for business.

West opens a trump to stop potential ruffs. South goes up with dummy's 10 and leads the queen of diamonds from dummy. East can do no better than cover with the king.

South takes his ace and will now be able to score an overtrick by the simple process of cashing his jack of diamonds; ruffing a diamond; returning to his hand with the ace of clubs; drawing trumps and eventually making his last diamond. A really good player won't get this overtrick. He will assure his contract by drawing trumps before playing a second diamond.

Cookshire UCW hears letter about educational courses

COOKSHIRE — A meeting of the U.C.W. of Trinity United Church was held in the Church Hall, with Mrs. Earl Parker presiding. It was opened with the repetition of the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. H. V. Burns read the correspondence including a letter re the E.T. Protestant Colonization education courses for the Lawrence Colony soliciting donations to wire the building in which the courses would be held, also a letter from Mrs. Hadlock, reminding the ladies of the Presbyterian U.C.W. meeting to be held in Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke, on April 14.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Vogell, reported that the recent food sale and tea, held at Mrs. Burns, was very successful, all bills had been paid and a good balance was on hand.

The ladies decided to tie two quilts in the Church Hall on April 28, to hold a food sale and tea at the home of Mrs. R. Stevenson on April 25, and to cater for a banquet some time in May.

Following adjournment a number of slides were shown of local scenes by Mrs. P. Cassidy, of England, Italy, Greece and Israel by Mrs. D. Standish, and of Thailand by Miss Louisa Elliott.

Mrs. Cassidy's slides showed the trees in autumn colors, and also the same trees covered with snow, giving an entirely different appearance in their winter garb, flowers in her garden and other people's, old covered bridges, snow scenes, animals and children at play. Mrs. D. Standish's daughter, Miss Carol Standish, had sent her parents slides which she and her cousin, Shena, had taken on holiday on the Continent. Shena had spent some time in Cookshire a few years ago, attending Cookshire High School. Miss Standish is spending a few years in England with relatives.

Slides of England showed London, the Queen's personal guards, Big Ben, the Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey, Trafalgar Square, the Vicarage where they are living, and the White Cliffs of Dover.

In Italy, the pictures were of Milan, Venice, the Grand Canal and gondolas, two types, one motorized and the other, the old-fashioned hand-propelled ones, and St. Mark's Square.

SENIC SLIDES

In Greece scenes were of the Aegean Sea, the Island of Corfu, Athens, the Acropolis, the Parthenon. In Israel, the walled city of Jerusalem, the Wailing Well, where Jesus healed the lepers, Bedouin tents, camels, the Dead Sea and Haifa. Slides of Italy included Pompeii, the Roman Theatre, the Isle of Capri, the Roman Coliseum, St. Peter's Church, Florence. Also shown were views in Munich, Germany, and in France, Notre Dame Cathedral, Les Champs Elysees, and Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Miss Elliott's brother-in-law, Dr. Feeney, and his son, David, who is studying at the University there, had sent her some slides of Thailand, which she shared with her friends. Dr. Feeney is teaching under a scholarship from the American government for Thailand and is well-known here as he and his family are frequent visitors.

Among the slides were views of the college buildings and campus where the Doctor is teaching, the temples, gardens, Spirit Houses, beaches, palaces, rivers and barges. There seems to be a vast difference in the style of architecture from the old to the new buildings of the present era.

Mrs. Parker expressed thanks to these three ladies for their kindness in sharing their slides with the U.C.W. members and their friends, who had joined them for the entertainment part of the program.

The ladies were reminded of the exhibition of sewing by the adult sewing class which will be shown in the High School.

Richmond

Among those from here who left by plane for Chicago to attend the Chicago Black Hawks and Canadiens hockey game held on March 19 were Messrs. Martial Dicaire, Real Marcotte, Jacques Trepanier, Clifford Gunter Jr. and G. Dessert.

Friends of Mrs. Lloyd Roberts are sorry to learn that she is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital.

Mr. J. M. Boast, Hemmingford, and son, Mr. Jimmy Boast, Bishop's University, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Boast. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Boast just recently returned from a three-week visit to Spain, where they visited many places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Marcotte and family, Three Rivers, were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Marcotte.

Beebe

Mrs. Harold Taylor has returned from the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she was a surgical patient.

Mrs. Alma Fafard, New York City, N.Y., is spending some time with her brother, Mr. Albert Fluet. She also visited other relatives in town and in Sherbrooke.

Laziness and fear keep some from church-going

Why is it that a lot of people do not go to Church? I am going to do here what has been done before. I shall quote the "reasons", some people give for not going to church, but I shall link them with the theatre to let us see how they sound in a different context.

An imaginary person says... "I do not go to the theatre because..."

The manager (minister) never visits me...

The other people that go are hypocrites...

They ask you for money every time you go...

No one speaks to me when I go...

How do these "reasons" sound for not going to the theatre? You and I know, if people want what the theatre exists to give, they will go and not one of the above "reasons" would stop them. So it is with the Church. I believe the true reasons for people not coming to church could be divided in this order...

LAZINESS... the unwillingness to be disciplined about getting up and planning meal times etc. on a day when the majority of the family do not have to go to work or school.

By REV. GEOFFREY JOYCE
United Church Minister
Rock Island, Quebec.

MIXED UP VALUES... the life or home in which any form of recreation or a visitor is allowed to displace worship. If the weather is good it is too good to be in Church for one hour, or if it is bad, it is too bad to get to Church (but it is amazing where, under the same conditions, such people can get!). The truth is such people have the Church and all that it stands for, way down on their list of values.

FEAR... Deep down we all know our lives are not as they should be and if the Church does its job we shall be challenged. Many people are scared stiff to get near a church, a minister or a sincere member, because they already know the kind of challenge they would have to face. If only they would get near to the Church of Christ, they would discover comfort as well as challenge.

UNSATISFIED PEOPLE... there are people who have come seeking the answer to their needs and because of the inadequate presentation of God's truth or because certain uncommitted people have dominated the scene, they have gone away unsatisfied. What a responsibility we have here!

My pleas to those who have been "put off" in this way is, keep on seeking Him who is bigger than any branch of this earthly Church and in whom is life abundant and eternal.

If you are not going to Church, ask yourself: Why? Maybe you are missing the greatest thing on earth... Fellowship with God!

Farm credit members get senior positions

OTTAWA — George Owen, Chairman of the Farm Credit Corporation today announced the appointments of three members of the Corporation staff to senior positions at Ottawa.

They are Julian Burns, 34, Quebec City, named Operations Review Officer; Robert K. Dechert, 34, Toronto, appointed Appraisal Services Officer; and Donald L. Hoover, 26, Charlottetown, named Farm Management Officer.

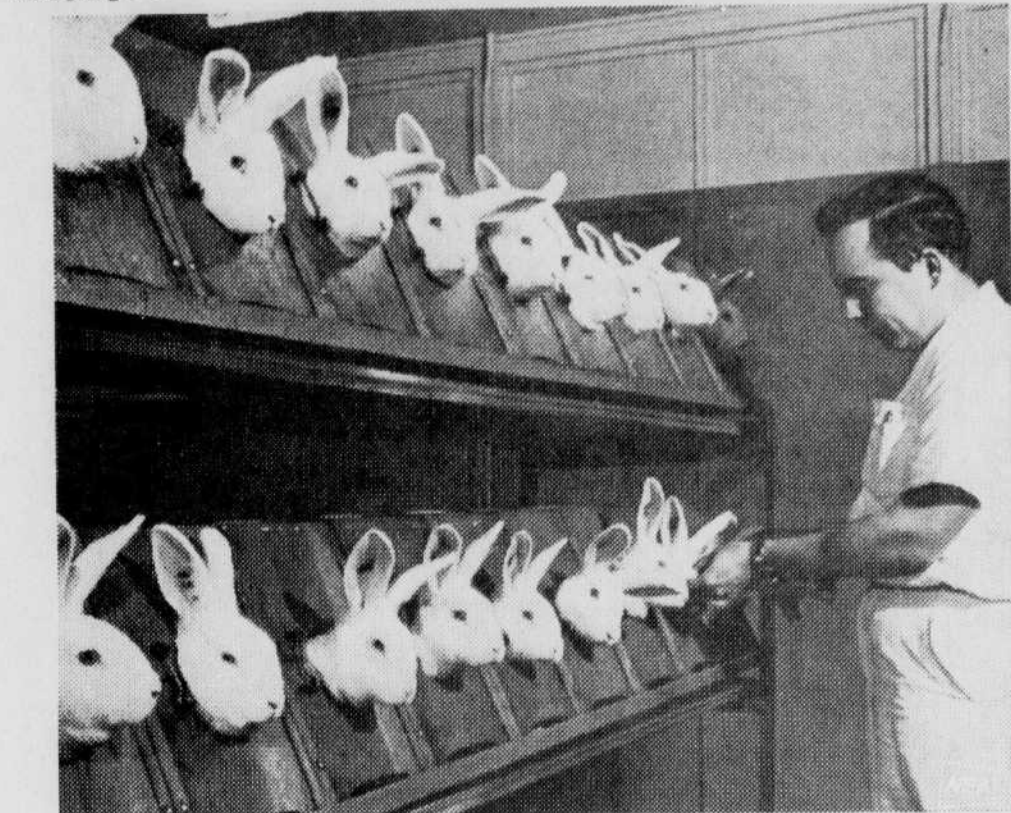

Mr. Burns, who was born at St. Jean de Matha, Que., is presently Assistant Branch Manager (Lending) in Quebec City. He graduated from the Institute Agricole d'Oka in 1958 and served four years as a provincial agricultural representative. In 1962, Mr. Burns joined the Corporation as a credit advisor and has since held increasingly responsible positions. He worked at Ottawa head office from 1965 to 1967.

Mr. Dechert, now Supervisor, Appraisal Services in Toronto, was born at Preston, Ont., and received his B.S.A. degree from the Ontario Agricultural College in 1958. He was an assistant agricultural representative in Essex County for two years before becoming a FCC credit advisor in 1961. In 1965 he served with the Ontario Junior Farmer Establishment Loan Corporation for several months but returned to the Corporation in January 1966 to take over the position he now holds in Toronto.

Mr. Hoover, who was born at Worsley, Alta., is District Supervisor for the FCC in Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. He obtained his B.Sc. in Agriculture from the University of Alberta in 1964, joined the Corporation in 1965 and served as a credit advisor in Alberta for two years. In 1967 he transferred to the Atlantic Branch at Charlottetown, P.E.I. He was named District Supervisor for the two provinces in July last year.

All appointments will become effective in mid-May.

Big, black spider

This gal plays with insects

OTTAWA — Mrs. Jean Stalker is a woman of paradoxes.

The first thing that strikes you when you visit her office is the huge, black — but plastic — spider on the wall. A spider on a woman's office wall? Now, really!

But the real paradox is that she spends more than half of her time pampering various types of insects — from 10,000 houseflies a day to cockroaches. The humidity, temperature and lighting are all kept perfect because "a healthy insect is the type we need for our tests."

The Pesticide Testing Laboratory, a two-storey brick building about the size of a modest home, is operated by the CDA's Plant Products Division.

It wasn't set up to develop new and improved pesticides. These research activities are conducted by others. Nor does she test the pesticides for their side effects.

"I'm mainly concerned with the effectiveness of the pesticides," she says. "I want to know if they work the way the manufacturer says they will."

Right now, for instance, she's testing a wide range of pesticides for houseflies. She has collected flies from farm yards across Canada and is testing commercial fly-killers on them.

"We found that the flies, even though they came from a wide range of differing conditions, were remarkably similar. They were nearly all resistant to the same pesticides. That surprised us. We had fully expected to find regional differences in resistance. It looks as though people across Canada are using pretty much the same range of insecticides."

The purpose of this work is to periodically check upon the effectiveness of products which are used to control flies around farms, food establishments of all kinds and in homes across Canada.

Although the housefly is found almost everywhere in the world, they didn't find many in Newfoundland. The island does have lots of other flies, however, including pesky blackflies.

It appears from the preliminary tests that flies are uncanny in their ability to adjust to changing conditions — including the increasing variety of pesticides.

The resistance patterns are carefully documented so that appropriate steps can be taken to assure that effective products are marketed for use in Canada.

Besides the houseflies collected across Canada, the Pesticide Testing Laboratory has maintained a controlled population of houseflies since 1948, carefully rearing each successive generation under ideal conditions. These flies don't have resistance to any pesticides, so they are valuable for comparisons.

They hatch — at the rate of about 10,000 a day, 40,000 a week — from large covered jars filled with synthetic manure. Flies need some type of decaying material in which to complete their life cycle.

How did Mrs. Stalker become involved in insect work?

"Well, ever since I was a child, I've been fascinated by them," she says. "I remember walking around with a caterpillar in my pocket. I used to really throw my mother into a tizzy sometimes when I'd bring home a snake."

One of the insects that impressed her recently was a three-inch cockroach from South America. It can't survive under Canadian conditions, so there's little fear that you'll ever find one in the house. But, if you should stumble across one, you'd have to look twice because at first glance it would look like a mouse. This insect fascinates scientists because its size makes some studies easier. One CDA scientist uses them for blood circulation studies.

Currently Mrs. Stalker is winding up a series of tests with garment bags. Several manufacturers requested the study because they questioned the effectiveness of garment bags marketed by competitors. The study will result in a standard of effectiveness for this class of product.

Ottawa gives farm course to key men

OTTAWA — The federal government is offering a new Emergency Measures training course to key civil servants involved in agriculture at the provincial and federal government levels.

The course is designed to train key people to cope with the emergency situation that would follow a nuclear war.

"Agriculture is going to be a crucial industry in such a situation," says Jim Hay who is in charge of the Canada Department of Agriculture's Emergency Measures Organization. "The industry will be responsible for providing wholesome food to the people who survive a nuclear conflagration."

"We know that large areas of Canada would be left untouched by even a major nuclear war and that more than half of our population would likely survive. Feeding them will be a monumental task."

In the past, agricultural emergency measures training included orientation and basic training courses for a large number of people, including volunteers from the public.

As a result, a relatively large number of people received basic training, but not enough training to actually take charge in a nuclear emergency.

"We realize that we're going to need a group of highly-trained and knowledgeable leaders to cope with this type of emergency," says Mr. Hay. "The new course should help to accomplish this."

Basic training and orientation courses may still be offered in most areas of Canada by provincial and municipal governments or local Emergency Measures Organizations.

The first federal government course following the new format was held in January at Arnprior, about 40 miles west of Ottawa.

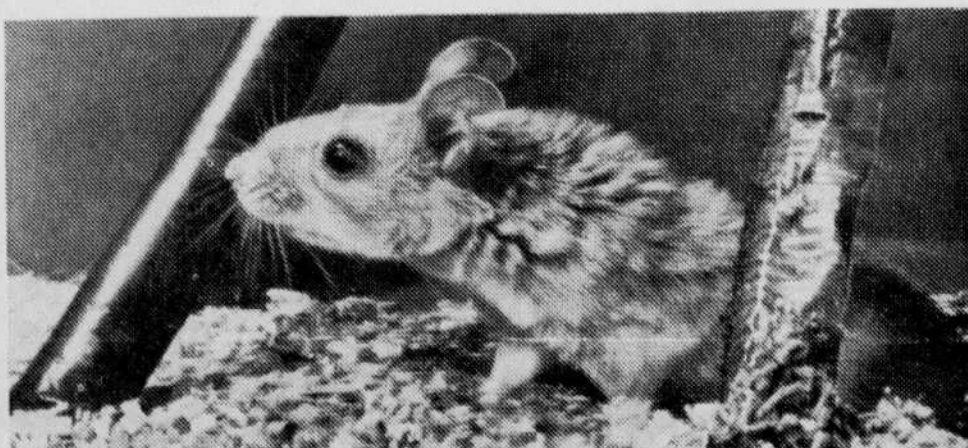

Key civil servants from across Canada attended courses offered in both English and French. Mr. Hay said the provinces and zones that sent a group of students, who would be acting as a unit in an emergency situation, seemed to benefit most from the course.

"These units contain all the specialists who would be acting together and co-ordinating plans in a nuclear emergency. They could discuss the theory they were learning in class with each other and, in some cases, these units revised existing emergency plans as a result of the training they received."

The CDA has established a computer inventory of agricultural civil servants which is updated four times a year, or as required. Using this data, Mr. Hay can tell exactly who has received training in what area, and to what level. He also knows the man's level of authority within the government.

"This will be invaluable in an emergency. We will be able to tell quickly who we have and where and what level of training he has received. In addition, the data helps us to pinpoint the people who should be taking more training in emergency measures," says Mr. Hay.

BRUINS' FANS WAIT FOR TICKETS — Boston's North Station concourse was mobbed early this morning as hockey fans lined up to purchase tickets for the Stanley Cup playoffs between the Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens Thursday evening. (AP Wirephoto)

MONTREAL (CP) — On Nov. 20, 1928, an estimated 17,000 hockey fans broke down the doors of Boston Garden to watch their Bruins lose 1-0 to Montreal Canadiens.

That was Boston's introduction to pro hockey at the Garden, and now, 41 years later, crowd control legislation has reduced the capacity of the ancient sports emporium to just under 15,000—including standees.

The Garden management isn't looking for a repetition of their problem of 41 years ago, but the most enthusiastic fans in the National Hockey League will be out in force to watch Canadiens attempt to knock the Bruins off in four straight games in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

The Montrealers, defending Stanley Cup champions, won the first two games here last Thursday and Sunday, both in overtime.

In four trips to Boston this season, Canadiens came away with only a 2-2 tie. They lost in the Bruins den 4-2, 7-5 and 6-3 and had an over-all season deficit of 4-2 against Boston.

WON TITLE THOUGH

However, Canadiens did manage to win the NHL's Eastern Division title with a record 103 points, three more than the

"That Boston crowd will give the Bruins a lift," Montreal centre Ralph Backstrom says. "But that only means we'll have to work harder."

Backstrom's goal at 42 seconds into overtime in the opener sank the Bruins 3-2.

Canadiens coach Claude Ruel appeared miffed but not worried by recent remarks of Boston coach Harry Sinden to the effect Montreal wouldn't win another game from the Bruins.

Acknowledging his club's season record in Boston is less than sparkling, Ruel said he isn't worried about going into the hostile Garden in the playoffs.

GOALTENDING IMPROVES

"We still didn't play too badly there despite spotty goaltending," Ruel said after Tuesday's 80-minute workout. "Now that Gump Worsley is solid this might be just the right time to win there."

He noted the Bruins' great home-ice record of only three losses all season in the Garden, where they haven't been beaten since they dropped a 3-1 decision to Oakland Seals Christmas night.

"We didn't win a game during the season at New York and the Rangers hadn't lost in 18 at home until the playoffs," Ruel said, referring to his club's 4-0 sweep of the playoff series against New York.

"We know we've got some tough games ahead and I expect the Bruins will try the same rough style of forechecking and play-the-man hockey as they did here, but we'll just have to skate more."

"We got into the habit of letting down on some shifts and missed too many chances even though we won," Ruel added. "But this is where you've got to give the other team credit because they checked well and things come a little harder."

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Bad news for Habs, Sanderson snapped out of his depression

BOSTON (CP) — It could be bad news for Montreal Canadiens—the Turk has snapped out of his depression.

The Turk is Derek Sanderson, last year's Rookie of the Year in the National Hockey League, and one reason this year that Boston Bruins have been keeping pace with Montreal.

In a town that idolizes its sports figures, Sanderson has been raised to the status of super hero.

Kids stop him for his autograph or hang around after practice to pick up his broken hockey sticks. Teen-age girls flock around the young swinger from Niagara Falls, Ont.

Oldsters sit in the penalty box lounge near Boston Garden and compare him to Bruin greats of the past.

UPSET ABOUT LOSSES

The depression set in when Boston dropped the second overtime decision to Montreal in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

Sanderson left the ice and sat transfixed in the locker room.

He was silent on the plane home and he walked quickly through the welcome-back crowd at the airport.

Later, he turned up alone at the Garden for treatment of a charley horse bothering him since the NHL quarter-final against Toronto.

"It has been tough on the kids," coach Harry Sinden said.

"Older players feel it just as badly for the moment but they know the world hasn't come to an end. They know there are two games home, here, and they know we can win."

What may have snapped Sanderson out of his mood was a fan letter from a young boy.

The Turk exploded when he got it.

"Can you imagine the nerve of this kid?"

Then he read it out.

WANTS ORR'S AUTOGRAPH

"Dear Mr. Sanderson. Would you please get me Bobby Orr's autograph? I've written him several times but he never answers my letters. I know he is busy and gets a lot of mail. You don't, so I'd appreciate it if..."

The locker room laughter echoed through the ancient hockey plant.

Suddenly Sanderson, 22, was back to earth and telling stories about his childhood.

"I was only eight years old and I was called for a tripping penalty. I went to the box and cried. The next time I was called it was for charging and I laughed. I grew up in a hurry."

About Montreal, he said:

"We are a better team than they are. We are going to knock them right out of the rink Thursday, right? And then we'll beat them again Sunday, right?"

Jacques Plante blanks Kings 4-0 to tie record for Stanley Cup

ST. LOUIS (CP) — The 81st shutout of Jacques Plante's lengthy National Hockey League career probably was his most rewarding in many ways.

Plante gained the shutout Tuesday night as St. Louis Blues blanked Los Angeles Kings 4-0 in the opening game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals.

It was the 13th for the 40-year-old Plante in Stanley Cup play, tying a record held by Turk Broda, former Toronto Maple Leaf goaltender. Plante also has 68 regular-season shutouts, five of them coming this season.

"After being out for three years, I didn't think I'd play in another playoff game let alone tie a record," said Plante, who retired in 1965 and made a comeback this season with the Blues.

Sharing the spotlight with Plante Tuesday night was centre Red Berenson, who scored three second-period goals to tie a Stanley Cup record for the most goals in a period.

SHARE THE RECORD

The late Harvey (Busher) Jackson, Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Ted Lindsay share the record with Richard accomplishing the feat three times.

The second game of the series, will be played here Thursday night, with the third and fourth games scheduled for Los Angeles during the weekend.

"I didn't think about a shutout until there was less than two minutes to play," said Plante, who registered two in the Blues' four-game sweep over Philadelphia Flyers in the Western Division semi-final.

It was the second time in his career that Plante has recorded three shutouts in playoffs.

"I had three in 1960 when Montreal won the cup in eight straight games—two against Chicago and one against Toronto," he said.

Plante kicked out 30 shots Tuesday night and described them all as difficult.

"They're all tough when you're my age."

BROKE GAME OPEN

Berenson, who broke the game wide open with his second-period outburst, shrugged off suggestions that he would get another car from the Blues for his performance.

"It's fine to tie a record, but it's more important that we win," Berenson said.

Berenson was given a station wagon by the St. Louis owners after he scored six goals in a game against Philadelphia last November.

An enthusiastic crowd of 15,638 saw the Blues take a 1-0 lead in the first period when Larry Keenan, only a five-goal scorer during the season, got his third goal of the playoffs.

Then in the second period, Berenson went to work. His first goal came at 1:56 on a three-way passing play with Camille Henry and defenceman Bob Plager.

The 29-year-old centre connected on a power play at 4:49 by driving his own rebound past Los Angeles goaltender Gerry Desjardins and completed his one-man show at 10:24 after taking a pass from Terry Crisp.

KINGS LOOKED TIRED

The Blues, idle for nine days since disposing of Philadelphia, appeared to be bursting with energy.

Cards nip Expos with ninth inning single for 4-3 win

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Expos have to draw at least 1,200,000 customers to their 81 National League home games this year to break even financially and if early indications are anything, they won't have any trouble doing so.

The Expos, Montreal's latest sports heroes, attracted 14,718 Tuesday for what seemed like an ordinary ball game compared with Monday's opener. But they couldn't come up with another victory as St. Louis Cardinals nipped the Expos 4-3 on a ninth-inning run.

Tuesday's attendance, which some observers called an above-average attendance for an afternoon game in the week, boosted the Expos' attendance to 43,902 for the two-game stand against the defending league champions.

The fans were no less enthusiastic in Tuesday's game but the atmosphere and excitement generated by the first game ever played outside the United States wasn't the same.

The Expos matched the Cardinals almost hit for hit through the first four innings and starting pitcher Mike Morton and reliever Don Shaw combined to put on a fine pitching performance.

Gene Mauch, manager of the Expos, said after the game: "That Shaw pitched a real good game for us."

Shaw worked five innings in relief, gave up three hits, one run, walked three and struck out four but was tagged with the loss when the Cardinals scored the tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth.

Lou Brock drove in the winning run with a single up the middle. The score was tied 3-3 when Dal Maxvill led off the ninth by lapping out a bunt.

Phil Gagliano came in as a pinch hitter for pitcher Ray Washburn and sacrificed and Brock followed with his single.

TRIED RALLY

The Expos attempted a rally in the last of the ninth when Gary

Sutherland led off with a single off Ron Willis, who had taken over for Washburn.

The Expos sent Ty Cline to the plate to bat for Shaw but the Cardinals decided to make another pitching change and brought in Joe Hoerner. The Expos then had Ron Brand bat for Cline but he struck out.

Hoerner then got the next two Montreal batters out to save the win.

St. Louis' other runs came on solo home runs by Vada Pinson and Mike Shannon and added one run in the fourth when Tim McCarver scored on Maxvill's double.

The Expos scored two runs in the second off Washburn and scored another in the third when Washburn forced in a run by walking John Bateman with the bases loaded.

The Expos left immediately after the game for Philadelphia and a two-day meeting with the Phillies.

Twins hold on to nip Oakland 5-4, Indians edge Tigers 3-2

Minnesota manager Billy Martin went out of his way not to talk to Ron Perranoski Tuesday and the ace reliever responded with a silent treatment of his own.

The Twins managed to hang on to a 5-4 victory over Oakland Athletics but not before the Athletics rallied for two ninth-inning runs and had runners at first and second with two men out.

Perranoski was summoned in from the bullpen and the count on Ted Kubiak reached 3-1 when Martin, angered by plate umpire Jerry Neudecker's calls, raced to the mound as if to talk to his pitcher.

"I wanted to go out and talk to the umpire," said Martin. "I figured if I pretended to talk to Perranoski I wouldn't get thrown out of the game."

"Neudecker said 'Are you taking him (Perranoski) out?' and I said no. He told me to leave. So I asked him how his family was and left."

Kubiak then walked to load the bases but Perranoski got Bert Campaneris to hit a game ending force out grounder and the Twins had their second straight victory after four losses.

In other American League games, Cleveland Indians won their first game after five consecutive defeats, 3-2 over Detroit Tigers in 10 innings. New York Yankees slammed Washington Senators 8-2 and Baltimore Orioles dropped Boston Red Sox 10-5.

SINGLE WINS GAME

Minnesota got homers from Rich Reese, Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva but a ninth-inning run-scoring single by Oliva proved the winner. Killebrew's blast was the 399th of his career.

Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly scored Max Alvis in the 10th inning for the Indians' first victory. Alvis singled with pinch hit and moved to third on one out. Cap Peterson's hit before Cardenal lifted his fly to right.

Willie Horton had a homer for the Tigers and Jose Azcue rapped one for Cleveland.

Mistake turns into profit of $6,000

MONTREAL (CP) — An unidentified man made a $10 "mistake" that turned into a profit of almost $6,000 at Blue Bonnets Raceway Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the track said the error occurred in the daily double wagering when the man approached the wicket and wagered on the 8-2 combination five times.

The man remarked to friends that he had intended to wager on the 2-9 combination and realized his error only after placing the bet. Tickets cannot be changed once a wager is made.

As it turned out the 8-2 combination, longshot Foul Ball in the first race and Sterling Jones in the second, was a good bet as the two combined for a $1,167.60 daily double payoff.

Multiplying that five times and the mistake turned into a $5,838 profit.

Today's the day we change the driving habits of North America...

Again.

MAVERICK

We started changing people's driving habits back in 1908 with the Model T, and we've kept it up with such Better Ideas as the V-8 engine, the first personal car — T-Bird and the sports car for everybody — Mustang. And now Ford introduces the first car of the 70's at 1960 prices — Maverick.

Lowest priced North American car
Maverick, the lowest priced North American car, plugs the gap between compacts and imports with a wheel-base 8" shorter than the Falcon and 8" longer than ordinary imports. There is nothing else like it! Maverick gives you North American style, safety and power, along with handling, parking ease and economy.

Maverick pinches pennies, not people

Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room in the front seat than an ordinary import. And Maverick's hungry trunk swallows 10.4 cubic feet of luggage — in one place. You can handle family luggage including your golf clubs. And you won't be trailing laundry from your roof. Or going off half-packed either.

A long time between drinks

Even with its extra power, Maverick gives you great gas mileage. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 27 mpg. Drivers didn't nurse the car. It was stop and go, uphill and down, over pavement, dirt and gravel. And 27 was their average.

About handling and parking

Maverick can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. And if you've been driving any other North American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds 18 inches to any parking space. Maverick is Canada's smallest national park.

Maverick's wider tread and other safety secrets

Maverick incorporates the latest engineering advances. Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high. It's designed to give you better balance and greater stability when big winds blow and the going gets rough. Maverick brakes are as big as a standard compact's — designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. And every Maverick has all of Ford Motor Company's Lifeguard Design Safety features as standard equipment.

Crack the whip on 105 horses

Maverick's dependable, proven Six that lets loose 105 galloping horses ... almost twice what you get from an ordinary import. It covers 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start, gets you up to highway speeds in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired player in a pro-hockey play-off.

Quick-on-the-draw parts and service

Bolt-on front fenders are less expensive to replace. Printed electrical circuits last longer. The one-piece grille can be removed in just seven minutes. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean savings.

Today's kind of car ... for today's kind of driving

Maverick is designed for the 70's in more ways than one! Take a look at its racy, on-the-move lines. Its perky rear-end spoiler. Smooth Sports Roof styling. Get a load of Maverick's with-it colours like Freudian Gilt, or Thanks Vermillion. And colour-keyed interiors with unique tartan plaid seat inserts are standard.

Maverick's designed for today's on-the-go drivers. It's a great city car. Country car. Suburban car. A great car for newlyweds.

Business girls. College kids. Come take a look at this one! At Ford and Mercury Dealers.
