EISENHOWER GIVES REDS NEW WARNING

United States Does Not Intend To Let Formosa Fall To International Communism.

Washington — (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States has made it crystal clear it does not intend to let Formosa fall to international communism.

He told a press conference he believes the United States' declaration to defend Formosa, approved by Congress last week, ensures against any miscalculation by the Chinese Communists about American determination.

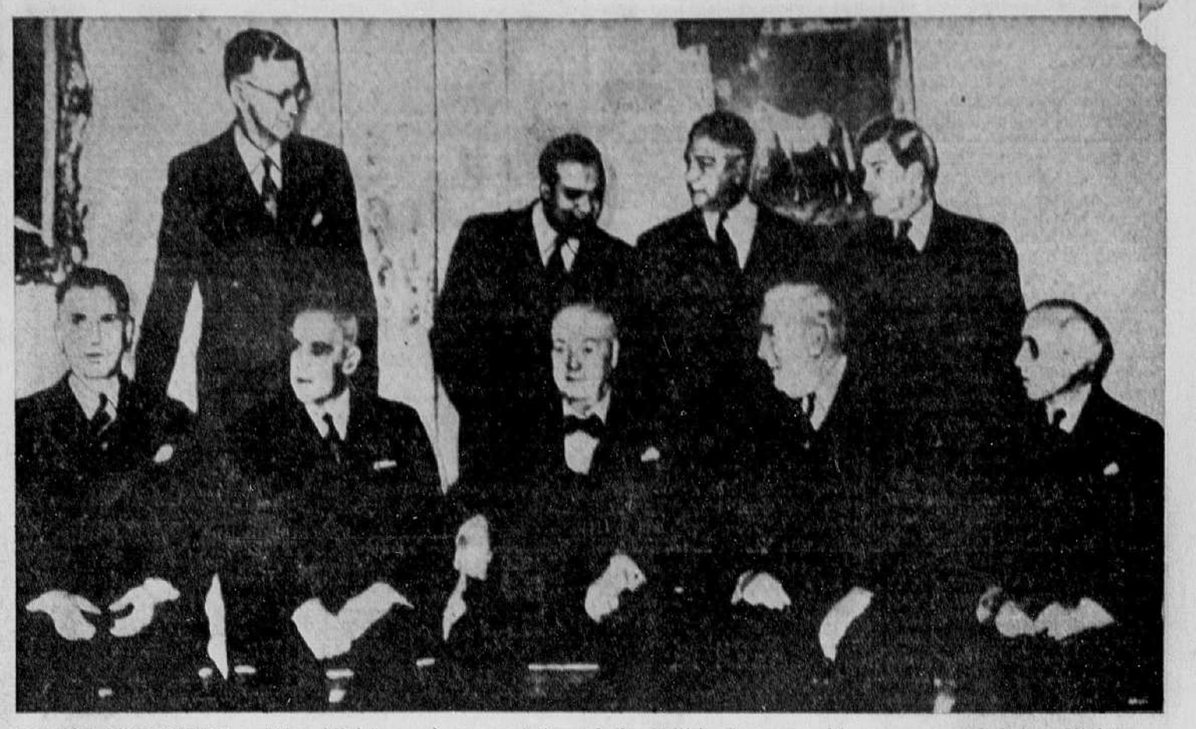

The President said there has been no commitment to use U. S. ground forces in defence of Formosa. But he declined to go into any details as to how the U. S. intends to protect that main Chinese Nationalist island and the Pescadores.

Eisenhower specifically refused to say whether the Nationalists' offshore outpost islands of Quemoy and Matsu would be defended by the United States.

Reuters reported that the U.S. ambassador to Formosa delivered a message from Eisenhower clarifying the U.S. position on the offshore islands.

He said he was not going to provide any blueprint for the Reds.

The press conference was filmed for later use on television and in theatres.

Keep Silent On Murder Case Clues

By JOHN BAUSMAN

New York —(AP)— Police officials say new information has been turned up in the Serge Rubinstein murder case, New York's biggest murder mystery in years, but they are keeping the facts to themselves.

A four-hour inspection at the home of the slain millionaire playboy and draft dodger was made Tuesday by the two men in charge of the investigation, Assistant District Attorney Alexander Herman and Deputy Chief Inspector Edward T. Feeley.

After leaving the luxurious house on Fifth avenue, they were asked if anything new had been learned.

"Yes," answered Herman. He declined to elaborate.

Herman said he and Feeley had inspected once again the third-floor bedroom where the 46-year-old Rubinstein was found gagged, bound and strangled last Thursday.

However, Herman added, most of the time was spent questioning Rubinstein's elderly mother and aunt and the household servants — a butler, who discovered the body; a cook, parlor maid, the personal maid of Rubinstein's mother, and a secretary.

As a result of information gleaned, Herman said, "new and more witnesses are being sought." He said detectives have been sent out of the city, but declined to say where.

Rubinstein's wide business and social connections were reported to include persons in high position in Hollywood and in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling circles.

Herman said the day's questioning had discounted earlier reports about a mysterious "woman in brown" roaming about the house on the morning of the murder.

Both Rubinstein's mother, Mrs. Stella Rubinstein, 78, and her sister, Mrs. Genia Foresta, 82, had reported seeing such a woman. They slept that night on the floors above Rubinstein's chambers.

Mrs. Rubinstein had said she saw the "woman in brown" on the stairway. Herman said this now appears to have been an ambulance attendant wearing a brown coat over his white uniform.

Mrs. Foresta had reported that a woman briefly snapped the light on in her room. Herman said this impression was apparently caused by the butler, who, after discovering the body, ran upstairs to check on others sleeping in the house.

Atom Energy Discussed By Premiers

By ALLAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London — (CP) — The Commonwealth conference, entering its third day's sessions, devoted morning talks today to peaceful applications of atomic energy.

The Marquess of Salisbury, Lord President of the Council, outlined British plans. It was understood he described progress at Britain's experimental atomic power station at Sellafield, Cumberland, which has been officially described as probably the first of its kind in the world.

As the ministers turned their attention to peacetime uses of atomic power, some British newspapers carried apparently inspired reports of plans for making the United Kingdom the atomic workshop of the world. The Daily Mail says the government has decided "to make atomic power the keystone of Britain's economic future."

A British magazine, Truth, has urged that Britain join forces with Canada in a drive to become the "industrial pioneers" of the world, atomically speaking.

"On all known information we lead the world today in the application of atomic energy to industrial purposes," says the weekly magazine. "If we can master that advantage . . . we can once again become the industrial pioneers of the world.

"But a country, small geographically, needs the co-operation of a large continental country for these ends, and here is an opportunity for close association with Canada."

It was expected Prime Minister St. Laurent might speak briefly today on Canadian development at Chalk River, Ont.

Canadian ministers were not expected to attend this afternoon meetings dealing principally with the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization.

At Tuesday's session, dominated by Prime Minister Churchill's imaginative vision of a world living in the shadow of the hydrogen bomb, the Canadian Prime Minister made two main contributions.

In the morning meeting he expressed Canada's support of the London and Paris accord on German rearmament.

At a "regional defence" meeting in the afternoon, the Canadian Prime Minister outlined his country's contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He made plain that Canada will not be able appreciably to increase her peacetime defence commitments.

London — (Reuters) — Two young mothers were sent to prison here Tuesday for slugging a storekeeper with a heavy door handle in an attempt to rob his store. Mrs. Phyllis Brett, 24, was jailed for 30 months, and Mrs. Ethel Cooper, 19, for 24 months. Each has two children.

CCF Regrets Any Attack On Quebec

Montreal— (CP) —The national executive of the CCF apologized Tuesday night for statements made by CCF members of Parliament that offended French-speaking Canadians.

David Lewis, national chairman of the party ,said the executive "deeply regrets that recent remarks of some CCF members of Parliament have given offence to French-speaking Canadians."

"Any Canadian who speaks to question the equal status of our country's two official languages, as prescribed in the constitution, is doing deep violence to Canada's past, present and future," the statement said.

In an interview, Mr. Lewis said the offending speeches were made by Erhart Regier, member for Burnaby-Coquitlam; Angus MacInnis, Vancouver-Kingsway; and Hazen Argue, Assiniboia, in the House of Commons and Harold Winch, member of Parliament for Vancouver, in a speech outside the House.

The statement by the national executive criticized members for entering debate on provincial matters.

"Anyone who would attempt to tamper with provincial authority in the fields reserved to the provinces, particularly education, would encroach on a basic feature of our federal constitution and thus endanger national unity," the statement said.

"Any problems which the people of Quebec may have within their own province, they will settle themselves in their own good time, and in the light of their own traditions, just as Canadian citizens in other provinces will do."

Chinese Communist Gunboats Attack Evacuation Craft In Tachen Islands

Taipeh, Formosa—(CP)—Communist Chinese gunboats have attacked Nationalist warships bringing civilian evacuees from Nan Chin Shan island eight miles south of the beleaguered Tachen group, Nationalist navy sources reported today.

The sources said the ship's arrival at the north Formosan port of Keesung, where she was due this afternoon, would be delayed. It was attacked by four Communist vessels.

A 3,000-ton Nationalist evacuation ship which arrived in Formosa this morning, was reported to have sighted four Communist gunboats about 100 miles from the Tachens during the night.

Earlier it had been reported that ship. of the U. S. 7th Fleet were escorting Nationalist ships evacuating civilians from the Tachens.

Reuters news agency quoted usually reliable Nationalist sources as saying an American destroyer was cruising Tuesday night near Nationalist landing craft carrying civilians from the off-shore islands. The sources added that four Communist gunboats patrolling the East China sea did not interfere with the Nationalist ships because of the U. S. ship's presence.

It appeared, they added, that the Communists were trying to avoid clashes with units of the 7th Fleet, which now is preparing to cover the expected evacuation of Nationalist troops from the Tachen group.

There was no confirmation of this report. The only word today from Vice-Admiral Alfred M. Pride, commander of the 7th Fleet, was a denial of Hong Kong rumors that one of his ships had been sunk.

Meanwhile, The Associated Press said that both Nationalist and American observers are beginning to feel that the evacuation of Chiang Kai-shek's troops may not get under way for weeks—if at all—because of the United Nations appeal to Red China for a cease-fire.

Thus it may be weeks, says The AP, before an American ship points its bow toward the Tachens.

Some observers think that if Communist bombing of the Tachens slackens the evacuation idea might be dropped altogether.

Nationalist bombers early today made a strike at Yikiangshan, the off-shore island recently lost to the Communists, as the refugees landing on Formosa told the havoc wrought by the Communist raids on the Tachens.

26 Dead In Tri-State Tornadoes

Memphis, Tenn.— (AP) —Three mid-southern states surveyed extensive damage today in the wake of deadly storms that left 26 dead, about 100 hurt and an undetermined number stripped of their homes.

Tornadoes burst from dark, boiling clouds of a squall line Tuesday and struck in Arkansas, Alabama and Mississippi.

Twenty-three were killed near Commerce Landing, Miss., about 30 miles south of here. Three perished in another twister at Olive Branch, Miss., 18 miles south of Memphis.

Tornadoes also caused considerable damage near Marianna, Ark., and Huntsville, Ala., but no one was badly injured.

Many of the Mississippi dead and injured were children. Each twister had an elementary school dead centre in its path.

National Guardsmen patrolled the Commerce Landing area today as survivors searched a plantation's splintered tenant houses for possible additional victims.

Most of the damage at Olive Branch centred at Wiggins Negro elementary school. Twenty-three students were at their desks when the twister struck. A teacher and two children were killed.

Ambulances from towns in the surrounding delta area moved the injured to hospitals in Memphis and Tunica, Miss. The 25-bed hospital at Tunica, about 15 miles south of Commerce Landing, was soon jammed. Volunteers, some of them pretty girls in party dresses, were organized to help the staff. A school was converted into a makeshift dormitory for the homeless.

Big Change Underway In Rail Rates

By JOHN LeBLANC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa— (CP) —Federal officials and the railways are completing the initial stage of a new deal in freight rates which goes into effect March 1.

Almost six years since the launching of a monumental overhaul of the complex rate structure, this first part of a long-range plan will see a cross-country levelling of the basic tolls that carry about 15 per cent of Canada's $1,000,000,000 - a - year freight traffic.

Up to now, these "class" (ceiling) rates have varied from region to region. The new system will equalize them between the Pacific coast and the Quebec-Maritimes border, with the Atlantic provinces partly excluded under a 1927 statute.

With the ups and downs of the class rates about to be smoothed out, the rate-regulating Board of Transport Commissioners already has turned its attention to equalizing commodity rates, special charges accorded particular types of traffic according to circumstances. The equalization job is expected to take about two years.

In the last year the railways have had teams of rate experts on the job day and night preparing tens of thousands of new individual rates which take up about 3,000 pages for each of the two big lines.

New Policy On Housing Announced

Ottawa. —(CP)— The federal government's housing agency is looking to competition, rather than fixed price ceilings, to keep down the resale price of homes built under National Housing Act mortgages.

Works Minister Winters announced Tuesday the immediate end of the policy by which Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation fixed top sales prices for houses erected by commercial builders under maximum NHA loans.

This means that merchant builders, for the first time in nine years, will be able to get maximum NHA mortgages and sell houses for whatever price they can get.

NHA mortgages will still be limited to a percentage of the appraised lending value of the house so that if the builder seeks a much higher resale price he will have to obtain a larger down payment or negotiate a second mortgage. Maximum NHA loans amount to 90 per cent of the first $8,000 of the appraised lending value and 70 percent of any amount in excess of that up to a loan ceiling of $12,000.

Mr. Winters informed the Commons the move may result in a moderate, short-term tendency towards higher prices in some areas and for some types of houses. He said, however:

"New supplies of housing are such that competition itself can provide the price limitation . . ."

The discarded CMHC policy provided that merchant builders could get maximum mortgages if they agreed not to sell the houses at a price higher than that set by CMHC. If the price was higher, their loans were reduced by 10 per cent.

Denies State Medicine Is Basis Of P.C. Health Plan

Ottawa — (CP) — The national health insurance plan of the Progressive Conservative party would not interfere with present health-and-hospital - insurance programs of private companies, the Commons has been told.

Nor will it be state medicine, Hon. Earl Rowe, acting Opposition leader, said Tuesday night.

Mr. Rowe, in a speech championing free enterprise, enlarged on one section of his party's six-point non-confidence motion in the government which he moved at the start of the throne speech debate Jan. 10.

The proposal was for a contributory plan, in co-operation with the provinces, to ensure "adequate hospital and medical services" for every Canadian.

"It is not going to be state medicine or a socialistic plan," he added. It would not interfere with Blue Cross and other health insurance plans would be carried out in co-operation with the provinces.

Mr. Rowe's second appearance in the throne speech debate came amid indications that the debate is nearing a close. Before it ends the Commons will vote on two non-confidence motions.

Mr. Rowe refererd to the CCF as a splinter party whose only contribution to Canadian political life has been "to perpetuate the life of this rather dead government that is in power."

CCF members wanted a Socialist state, "where no one has any authority except the politician."

Most of his criticism, however, was of the Liberals, whom he described as "those old dusty free traders on the one wing and high protectionists on the other wing."

Mr. Rowe challenged cabinet ministers to state they stand for free trade.

When Agriculture Minister Gardner interjected to say there is no tariff on farm implements, Mr. Rowe replied there is a 35-per-cent tax on dairy farm equipment. Yet the government was permitting importation of 2,225,000 pounds of New Zealand cheese at a tariff of a half-cent a pound.

Robert W. Mitchell (PC-London) produced a pair of white ankle socks as an example of two difficulties he wanted corrected in tariff and importing laws.

Tariffs on imports competitive to Canada's "depressed" textile industry should be reviewed. At one time the tariffs were designed to protect lower-priced cottons but since then prices had changed so much that former low-priced cotton goods now were high-priced and protection no longer was adequate.

Proper marking of imports also should be required. He had bought the U.S.-made cotton socks under the impression they were Canadian-made. Their markings —"combed cotton" and "nylon" —were misleading the only nylon was in the reinforced toe and heel.

Alexis Carson (L-Hull) said Quebec residents never will accept establishment of divorce courts in the province.

Soviet Industry Showed Sharp Advance In Year

New York —(AP)— The biggest news story from Russia rarely breaks into the headlines: It's the fact that the Soviet Union continues year after year to register big gains in industry.

Figures make dry reading, but they are much more likely to tell the final story of war or peace and who wins out in the race for world leadership than conflicts within the Kremlin.

Premier Malenkov may be scheming these days how to knife party boss Nikita Khrushchev — and vice versa. But Malenkov, Khrushchev and the other Kremlin leaders agree that the industrial building of the U.S.S.R. must be pushed.

Here's how the Soviet Union compared in 1954 with the United States in production of four major industrial commodities generally regarded as reflecting over-all economic strength: First three items listed in million metric tons; power in billion kilowatt hours.

Commodity	U.S.S.R.	U.S.
Steel	41	80
Coal	346	373
Petroleum ...	58	312
Electric power	148	544

Except for coal, U.S. production of these basic items is from two to five times that of the U.S.S.R., but the American margin used to be much higher in some items.

Coal is not only a basic fuel but also a raw material for the chemical and metallurgical industries. And because American coal production has dropped sharply during recent years, the U.S.S.R. is about to capture first place in the world unless there's a quick upswing in U.S. output.

The Soviet leadership has many serious economic problems, particularly in agriculture. But none was serious enough to prevent Russia from increasing steel output in 1954 by more than 3,000,000 tons, coal by 26,000,000, cement by 3,000,000, petroleum by 6,000,000 and electric power by 15,000,000,000 kilowatt hours.

During the same year American steel production fell off by about 20,000,000 tons, coal by about 60,000,000, and petroleum about 6,000,000.

In electric power, the U.S. output increased more than twice as much as that of the U.S.S.R. — by 31,000,000,000 kilowatt hours. This demonstrates that the U.S. is not by any means sliding backwards economically.

Nevertheless Russian output of most key products of heavy industry has been increasing at a considerably more rapid rate than that of the U.S., narrowing the still - considerable gap between American and Soviet heavy - industry potential.

Free Schools, Free Books Far Distant In Province

Quebec. —(CP)— Free school books, free education and its to school commissions fixed by statue are a long way off in Quebec province, Premier Duplessis indicated Tuesday night in the Legislative Assembly.

The Liberal Opposition brought up the issues during a three-hour debate sparked by a $34,047,000 provision for grants to schools commissions in the provincial government estimates for 1955-56.

Liberals charged political interference in the allotment of grants to school commissions. From there the debate swerved from the question of free books to free schooling and finally led members to discuss who is responsible for the education of children.

Under the current system grants to school commissions are fixed by the Quebec cabinet on receipt of formal demands. The demands are studied by the department of education.

The Liberals said Quebec should have a fixed system like Ontario. That way school commissions would know how much they are to receive annually and could prepare their budgets accordingly.

Premier Duplessis, who with Liberal Georges Lapalme held the floor most of the evening, said the needs varied too widely from one school commission to another 'to try to fit everybody with the same suit of clothes."

Mr. Lapalme said a system could be worked out fixing grants on the basis of population. Special grants could be made to meet special needs, he said.

The question of free school books and free education was thrown into the debate by Emilien Lafrance (L—Richmond) who also said 75 per cent of French-speaking school children never go beyond seventh grade. The situation was an alarming one.

One of the causes was that the Compulsory Education Act was not enforced, he said. The School age limit should be increased from 14 to 16 years as was recommended by church authorities.

He asked the government to give back Quebec free education, established in 1940 and abolished in 1949. Some sections of Quebec, in rural areas, had free school books, but for the majority of the population books had to be bought. Some effort should be made to make books uniform throughout the province.

Mr. Lafrance said school commissions were at the mercy of the government. Commissioners had been relegated to the rank of "furnace stokers."

Mr. Duplessis said the first responsibility for education fell on the parents and the government had no other role but to assist.

Books that cost nothing were worthless, he said. The proof was that when books were free they were sometimes found lying in gutters or on the street.

The Doofer Family

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

WILL POWER

Dollie Doofer just knew Mommie Doofer was sending her to help in the grocery store so she could fix the surprises for the big birthday party. My, but it was hard to wait till she would be SIX year old! She went out the back door of the little Doofer house and stood by the little fir tree that stayed green all winter long. It was a very beautiful little tree, and she loved it.

Daddie Doofer and Professor Zoofer were in the woodshed, and there were all sorts of strange noises coming from it. It was another surprise, and she had promised she wouldn't peek or listen. Dollie was watching a little snow bird in the little green fir tree, and suddenly she had a wonderful idea. She would have a birthday tree!

The little green fir tree would make a wonderful birthday tree. And on it she would hang a present for every boy and girl who came to her party. A present for every one of her little friends! She was sure Mommie and Daddie Doofer would agree it was a lovely idea.

Just then Gussie Goofer, who was always getting into trouble, ran over from next door.

"Hello, Dollie." Gussie looked a little guilty. She was still very sorry she had lifted the latch on the LIVE ANIMAL crate and let Ooofie Goofie escape to the woods. Even if the big animal hunt had ended all very happily.

"Hello, Gussie," Dollie smiled. "I'm very glad Granny Goofer is going to let you come to my birthday party, after all."

Gussie started for the woodshed to find out what was going on.

But Dollie warned her: "No peeking—and you can't listen. It's a secret. Daddie said he was going to batter down the hatchets, and I guess Professor Zoofer is helping him."

"Huh?" Gussie's eyes widened. "What's button down the hatchers?"

"That's sailor talk for getting ready for a storm," Dollie told her friend. "Maybe it's going to snow. I've got to go help in the store. Now mind, Gussie, you be careful. Or Granny Goofer won't let you come to the party. Don't you go getting into any more trouble."

"Oh, no," Gussie promised. And she meant it. She really did. Then she opened the Doofer kitchen door — without knocking! Mommie Doofer had left the kitchen for just a minute. Ooofie Goofie sat beside baby Jollie's high chair, minding her. He was very proud. He smiled and thumped his dog-like tail. Baby Jollie laughed and clapped her hands.

Now Mommie Doofer had made the most beautiful icing Gussie Goofer had ever seen. It was pink and white and blue, and it filled a large bowl that sat on the table. Beside the bowl was a great, big, beautiful cake—all ready to be decorated!

Gussie Goofer used all of her will power. She tried very hard—but she just had to reach out and pick up a big spoon and sample that delicious icing. My, it was good! She had sort of sampled several big bites when she saw Ooofie Goofie standing beside her. He looked very hungry. Very hungry indeed. His big brown eyes just pleaded for one little bite!

And Gussie Goofer's heart melted! He was such a beautiful animal, with such blue polka dots. So do you know what Gussie did? She fed every bit of that beautiful icing to the Ooofus Goofus. Then she fed him the cake!

Poor Gussie! Poor Mommie Doofer!

The resuscitator is for the use of the community at large, and may be obtained from Mrs M. R. Lagace, R.N., when needed.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting on February 14 this year, when a luncheon will be held. Mrs. William Taylor was appointed to look after the arrangements in connection with the meeting, which will be held at one o'clock, in the St. James Church Hall.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Moody for her kindness in opening her home for the meeting. A slate of officers was drawn up to be presented at the annual meeting.

A letter forwarded by Miss Mae Berwick, provincial convener of services at home and abroad, from Miss Mary Millar, S.C.F., Greece, spoke of the great help the 26 cases of new and used clothing sent from Canada by the I.O.D.E. had been to the Save the Children Fund in that country.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Ames, assisted by Mrs. Moody. Tea was poured by Mrs. Craighead.

BEDFORD CURLING CLUB

The members of the Bedford Curling Club recently had the opportunity of hearing a most instructive address on curling given by Mr. D. Ness of the St. Johns Curling Club. Mr. Ness is well qualified to speak on curling, a sport in which he has taken part very successfully for many years.

The history of curling was traced from its beginning in Scotland in the year 1718, when it was played by the Highlanders and Lowlanders. In the middle of the last century, following an exhibition game played in the great hall at Balmoral Castle in Scotland before Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort who were greatly pleased with the game, the name of the organization was changed to the Royal Caledonian Curling Society.

The president, Dr. Leblanc, introduced Mr. Ness, who was thanked by Mr. B. W. Draper for his most informative and helpful address on the origin of curling, and for the many valued pointers given on playing the game.

Members who were in charge of the serving of the dinner which preceded Mr. Ness' address were Mrs. Russell Blinco, Mrs Bruce Kerwin, Mrs. Allan Palmer, Mrs. B. W. Draper, Mrs. Fred Gilman, Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. Paul Berthiaume and Mrs. F. E. Draper.

Seated at the head table were Dr and Mrs. Jean Leblanc, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baglow, Mrs. M. McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ness, Mr and Mrs. W. F. Van Horn and Mr. D. J. Reid.

Among the members of the St. Johns Curling Club present were Mr. and Mrs. Ness, Mr. and Mrs Drydale, Mr. and Mrs. I. McCabe and Mr. and Mrs. J. Joedicke.

Following the address the remainder of the evening was spent in several matches between the St. Johns members and the Bedford members.

Mayor Watson And Ald. Lunderville Returned In Lennoxville Elections; Richard Winget Defeats A. S. Mitchell

Lennoxville's Mayor Lee M. Watson today starts a third term of office. Yesterday's election was his first which showed any opposition and his sole opponent, Maurice Baillargeon lost the race by 192 votes.

In the aldermanic contest for seats one and three, Elmer A. Lunderville bagged his re-election by a majority of 187 over Norbert J. Keenan, and a newcomer, Richard C. Winget takes seat three from A. S. Mitchell by 36 votes.

Mr. Watson's votes showed a division through the municipality of 393 to 201, but he still came up with a solid working margin over his rival contestant who waged a vigorous campaign.

The 52-year-old Mayor, who staked his future solely on his record, brought home a striking majority in all three poles. Majorities were: Poll 1, 120 to 74; poll 2, 131 to 75; and poll 3, 142 to 52.

In both previous terms he was returned to office by acclamation, and this morning, fresh from his first victorious electoral battle, he took his oath of office for a third time.

He retains the reins of government after a strictly "no promises" campaign.

Had Mr. Watson's opponent been elected, it would have marked the first time in the history of the Town of Lennoxville that a French-Canadian had captured the mayoralty.

Yesterday's vote has been termed "very high" and it is estimated that a 75 percent eligible vote turned out despite cold temperatures. Something like 800 persons were eligible to vote.

Figures for the council seats were as follows: Winget over Mitchell, poll 1, 103 to 90, poll 2, 105 to 96, poll 3, 103 to 89, total 311 to 275; Lunderville over Keenan, poll 1, 125 to 63, poll 2, 131 to 70, poll 3, 136 to 54, total 392 to 205.

The other four council seats were filled by acclamation last Tuesday, January 25. J. A. Ste. Marie took seat number two in place of Mr. Baillargeon and seats four, five and six are retained by Albert Raycraft, Ernest W. Gilbey and Cecil W. Dougherty.

The Lennoxville Optimist Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting last night at the Elmwood Inn. President Joe Gilbert was in the chair. Thirty members were present.

Two new members were welcomed into the club last night, Kenneth Orr and Herb Burbank. Fines were pretty heavy because of a poor attendance at a recent Optimist party. George Garard, vice-president of the Sherbrooke club, was at the meeting and asked the members if the club would support a minor baseball team next summer. It was generally accepted that the club would support at least one time, if not two.

On February 18, the club is holding an ice carnival at the rink. It is to be called "The Optimist Silver Dollar Carnival." Silver dollars will be awarded in three classes, senior and junior boys, senior and junior girls and adults. There will be races, clowns and special attractions. From all reports this should be quite a carnival with fun for the whole family.

The next meeting is to be February 15. Movies of the Grey Cup game will be shown at that time.

Seated at the head table were Kenny Orr, Len Loach, George Garard, President Joe Gilbert and Ed Severight.

Junior Pianist Thrilled Local Concert-Goers

A little eleven-year-old girl in a blue frock and shiny patent leather shoes last night played her way into the hearts of a group of Sherbrooke music lovers. She was Monique Savary, guest pianist at the Sherbrooke Symphony's second concert of the season, staged at the Granada Theatre last night.

The grand piano on the stage loomed big, even to the audience, but little Monique tripped over the footlights with all the assurance of a veteran concert pianist, took her time adjusting the piano stool to suit her leg reach, and tossed back her long, brown hair. Then, without more ado, she launched into Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 19 in F major.

She played for the most part serenely, one foot tucked behind the other, gently tapping time. She bent in fierce determination over the difficult solo passages, biting her lips in absent concentration, playing with an unbroken, fluid motion.

It wasn't inspired playing,—perhaps not even note perfect, yet little Monique, who gave her first concert when she was only ten, gave to Mozart what Mozart certainly would have liked—childish simplicity and purity, and a clarity which was perhaps too uniform at times, but which was not devoid of its own charm.

Miss Savary was well-supported by the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Sylvio Lacharite, who undoubtedly gave what must be regarded as one of their most polished performances to date. Mr. Lacharite drew out the orchestra as a well-coordinated group—the essence of what a symphony orchestra should be. There were no disbalances to be noted, within the orchestra, as has often been the glaring case in past performances.

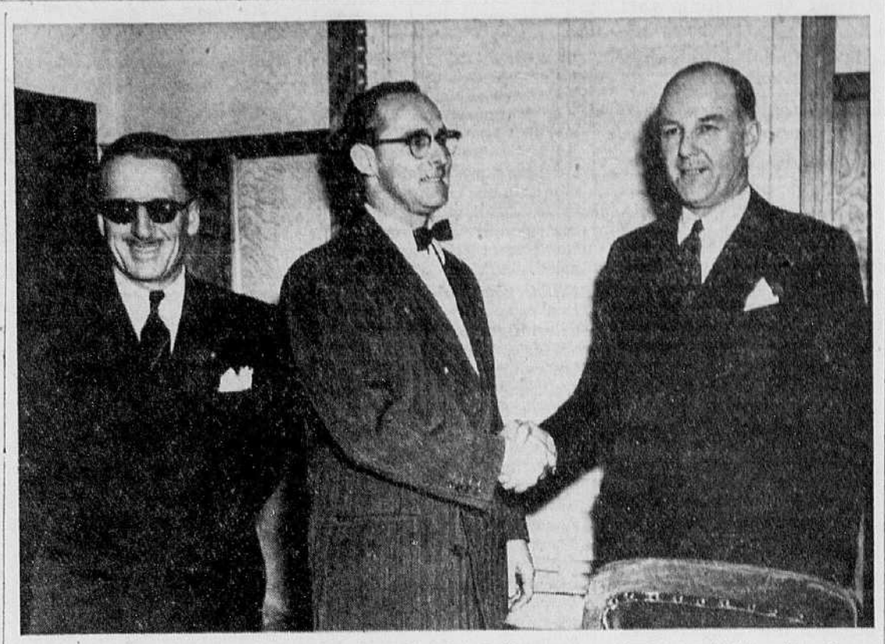

The first selection, Haydn's Symphony No. 102 in C major, was a happy opening selection; it combined the very spirit of Haydn's light and melodious mood with typical Haydn playfulness. In the final movement, especially, it was evident that both Mr. Lacharite and the members of the orchestra were enjoying the Haydnesque mood; the several parts of the orchestra were played off against each other in a manner at once delightful and smooth.

Two parts of a Nocturne by Claude Debussy — "Nuages" and "Fêtes" — served as sharp contrasts to the colorful Haydn composition. Composed in the modern tradition, the two were in no way meant to be purely entertainment; they were, rather, pieces of mood music, conducive to contemplation.

"Nuages" was a sad voice crying in the night, born by the rippling night breeze through the shadowy trees, rising and dipping, ever searching, until at last, the moon draws it up, sweet and thin, to its cold bosom. "Fêtes" on the other hand, was a wild tossing night, riding on hasty windbeats through the tangle of swinging stars, while the trees marched in a tall shadowy row by the edge of a black, silent river.

Beethoven's "Leonore Overture No 3" provided a stirring close to a good evening of concert. Alternating between tender pathos, and passionate, rhythmic fury, the overture, much more famous than the opera for which it was written, climbs at last to an ornate Beethoven climax, bringing with it the full orchestra in a final series of crescendos.

Industrial Medicine Held Major Factor In Improving Efficiency

Industrial medicine, its effect on the health of the nation and the efficiency of labor were a few of the points discussed last night by Dr. C. P. Shortt of Montreal before Sherbrooke Rotarians.

Dr. Shortt who is senior medical officer with administrative duties for the C.N.R., described the chief objects of national health as to dispel ignorance of medicine, and improve health standards among workers.

Industrial medicine has its commercial as well as humane values, Dr. Shortt described the choosing of a new machine for a plant. Management always seeks the machine which is best equipped to supply its needs. It is then kept in good condition ,given periodic overhaulings, and when it is found to be weak or worn out a study is made to see if it or parts of it could be used somewhere else.

The same principle should apply with manpower. And the old maxim that a healthy man is a happy man is the best way to keep labor in good working condition. If a man is sick he won't work as hard as he could, he won't produce as much as he could, and he is a potential accident hazard, pointed out Dr. Shortt.

Also the older man who has long passed his peak of production and is ready to be superseded by a younger and more active person. What about him? asked the speaker! Like the machine, only much more important, this worker should also have an overhauling, and it is management's duty to see if he can be used in some other job, If not, then he should be pensioned off early.

But industrial medicine does not only deal with labor, indicated the speaker. Management must also come under its discerning eye. These are the most valuable men in industry as they are fully trained and in a position to run things until they are relatively older than the skilled worker. They are more ready to fall ill since they are under more pressure and tension than the worker.

The worst danger in this class however, stated the speaker is obesity. Why is it he asked, that so many executives over eat and over drink and then excuse themselves on the grounds that it's a social necessity? Overweight is the surest way to end up on the sick list and do a poor job of management. It can be the indirect cause of heart trouble, high blood pressure, diabetis, arthritis and others. And it is up to the plant doctor to keep an eye out for these things. The plant has invested too much money in training a man to lose him at an early age.

Statistics show that six per cent of all workers are susceptible to alcoholism. A larger percentage of salaried men have this weakness, declared the speaker and it provides another difficulty for plant doctors and nurses in dealing with it.

Dr. Shortt was introduced by his brother, Ed Shortt ,and thanked by Dr. Gordon Loomis.

President Gerry McManamy conducted the meeting and grace was said by Hubert Johnson.

Special guests included industrial nurses in the city and others connected with medicine in industry. They were Miss Rachel Drouin, Miss Olive Symons, Mrs. Simone Walters, Thomas Stock, and Robert Ironsides. Hawley Griffith introduced them to the Rotarians.

Other guests included Staff Sgt. Arthur Pattenden of Sherbrooke, Raymond Gauvin, Quebec City, and one visiting Rotarian, Alex Williamson, of Westmount. They were introduced by Don Barron.

Seated at head table were Gordon Armitage, Henry Downs, Jr., Ed Shortt, Dr. C. P. Shortt, Gerry McManamy, Dr. Gordon Loomis, Doug Stevenson, Bert Lyon, and Hubert Johnson.

Doug Stevenson gave a brief description of the plans for the February 22 meeting when Rotary will be celebrating its 50th anniversary. This will also be a ladies' night and the guest speaker will be the noted Dr. Cecil Martin, professor of anatomy at McGill University.

The Lennoxville Vote

The result of yesterday's municipal elections at Lennoxville, which saw the return of Mayor Lee M. Watson and Alderman E. A. Lunderville by substantial majorities, means that the municipality will have a continuation of that active and progressive administration which has been to a large extent responsible for the fifty per cent growth in the town's population during the past eight years.

These same eight years have been marked by the carrying out of an extensive program of public improvements — the over-hauling of the waterworks, the construction of new sewers, the paving of streets and sidewalks and the modernization of the fire department — all designed to prepare the municipal services for the further influx of population which may be expected in the years immediately ahead. While undertaking this great program of municipal improvements, the Council has been able to balance its budget and provide the citizens with a modest reduction in the mill rate over the same period.

One satisfactory feature of the vote yesterday was the large per centage of electors who visited the polls in spite of the decidedly cold weather. The fact that approximately three-quarters of the registered electorate presented themselves at the polling station indicates that the citizens of Lennoxville take a real interest in the administration of their municipality and must give the successful candidates the feeling that they are really representatives of the voters and not of some minority group.

This, alone, should strengthen their position in the future when faced with those issues which come before municipal administrations from time to time. A Council with the weight of public opinion behind it can undertake more aggressive policies than one which feels that it owes its position to the support of some minority, but well-organized group.

He Can't Share It

President Eisenhower has sought and got support from Congress for use of United States armed forces in the defence of Formosa. But he, and he alone, has the power to decide whether those forces shall be used in any other fashion in the Far East.

Just as it was his decision in the first place to warn the Communist world through resolution endorsed by Congress, he must again stand alone.

The United States' President, similar to any other, may ask for and listen to advice from whoever he pleases. But in the final analysis, they can merely advise. Then leave him and await his decision.

And he, plunged into a dark loneliness which none of us can begin to imagine is left to seek the counsels of his own mind for answers the critical world awaits.

The President of the United States has an awesome burden, and no man on earth can share it with him.

The U.S. In 1975

Population experts in the United States have predicted a U. S. population of 220 millions by 1975. That's a lot of people but its not hard to believe when one looks at the figures for 1954.

Last year registered the largest yearly gain in U.S. population in its entire history. Number of Americans increased by 2,830,000. More than 2,500,000 people have been added annually for the past eight years.

The reason for these astonishing figures?

Something like 4,060,000 births — highest on record — were registered in 1954. On top of this the death rate has contracted to an all-time low of 9.2 for every 1000 population. This puts the death rate for the last seven consecutive years below 10 per 1000.

Immigration accounts for some 200,000. This is considered small.

Naturally, trends are not to be considered reliable or unchangeable, but population prospects for the next two decades appear impressive for the U. S. Another war, of course, could pitch experts' forecasts right into the garbage can, as it no doubt did in the 1930's.

But, assuming there is no war we would advise officials, to the topmost level, to absorb these figures. We have visions that the U. S. by 1975 or so could be the most tangled mess of civilization in existence.

They Take No Chances

Radar's Part Of Our Air Defence

Reporters and photographers have been permitted to visit a radar station for the first time. The RCAF escorted a party to a radar site somewhere in Ontario last Jan. 12. Reporters and pictures were subject to certain restrictions as to detail in order to conform with security arrangements. This story tells of the role radar will play in North America's defence.

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Somewhere In Ontario—(CP)—This radar site is on top of a hill, high above the valleys, plains and winding rivers.

Inside the three radar domes which brood over the countryside like three enormous bulbous eyes the radar antennae whirls ceaselessly through 360 degrees, around and around, 24 hours a day.

"Will the enemy come?"

"If he does, from what direction?"

Here, at a place which cannot be indentified because of security, 280 RCAF men and women and civilians wait and watch—and wait and watch. They are part of North America's first line of defence in event of air attack from the north.

This radar site is an integral part of the Pine Tree chain, strung across the continent along the Canada-U.S. border. For each such station there is at least one fighter squadron, Canadian or American.

Though Pine Tree is a warning chain its more vital task is control of interceptor aircraft, the long-range, all-weather CF-100 twin-engine jet.

In event of air attack on this continent it would be the duty of this RCAF station and others like it to plot the route of the enemy planes, marshal the interceptors from the fighter bases and bring them into position where they could shoot down the attackers.

Even today a similiar job is carried out constantly. There are often planes in the air which cannot be immediately identified and it is necessary to send up an interceptor to make positive identification.

The cardinal rule is: "Take no chances." Every plane must be considered hostile unless it is proved otherwise.

Basically radar has not changed since Sir Robert Watson-Watt of Britain invented it before the Second World War. But there have been improvements in range, the fineness of the beam and other factors.

Simply, radar is a pulse of radio energy. The signal travels through space until it comes in contact with an object and then rebounds. By measuring how far this beam travels one can determine the distance between the antenna which sends out the signal and the object. Another similar calculation determines the height of the object.

Range of the radar equipment here is secret but it is believed considerably greater than Second World War radar. One of radar's drawbacks is that it doesn't follow the curvature of the earth but shoots straight out into space. This, of course, limits its range. That is why the site is atop a hill.

What Canada and the U.S. want now is more early warning of approaching planes. That is why construction of another radar line along the 55th parallel will start soon and plans are being laid for a third line in the Arctic.

Canadian interceptors are spread across the continent but with radar control of their movements they could be brought quickly to bear at the point where they were most needed. That is the great advantage of radar as a defensive weapon.

The ranges of the radar sites so overlap across the continent that even when one site has to "off the air" for maintenance purposes, its area can be covered by the sites or sectors on either side.

This station alone cost millions of dollars, the U.S. paid for two-thirds of Pine Tree, Canada the remaining third. The amount of electronic equipment required for one site is almost incredible and the equipment is not cheap.

DISGRACEFUL PERFORMANCE

Fort William Times-Journal

Thousands of babies in some sections of east Asia are pitiful exhibits of skin and bones. Their mothers lack food and cannot feed the youngsters adequately.

Have-nations are spending time and money as they work with other over-crowded nations, trying to find ways and means of increasing agricultural production and reducing the appalling number of deaths caused by starvation.

In London, England, last week, a fashion model threw a birthday party for her pet poodle and his 40 canine guests. She fed them chicken, olives, gruyere cheese. They drank claret from a silver tureen.

In the name of sweet charity, what a disgraceful performance that was!

ENGLISH CHANNEL SUBWAY COMING?

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

It isn't likely that many people expected to hear so early a revival of the suggestion for a submarine tunnel under the stormy English Channel, yet it has happened. A report in a recent issue of the United Nations World magazine, quoted by The Kingston Whig-Standard, says that detailed plans have been submitted to S.H.A.P.E. Headquarters, in Paris, and that the tunnel is planned as a possible major link in Western Europe's defence communications. The plans have been considered carefully, and the possibility of promotion of the project this year is indicated.

Plans now under consideration reportedly call for a tunnel thirty-five miles long, following a zig-zag course between Folkestone, England, and a point near Calais on the French coast. The tunnel would have two levels—one carrying a double-track railroad, the other a highway for motor traffic. Besides establishing direct rail and motor communications between France and England, M. Andre Basdevant, French architect and tunnel promoter, believes his "international subway" would tap rich sources of petroleum and uranium lying beneath the English Channel .

According to the report, the Headquarters is keenly interested in the tunnel as a safe route, in the event of war, for moving troops and supplies from England to the Continent, free from the submarine and air attacks to which they would be exposed on a surface-crossing of the Channel. Experts believe that the tunnel could be easily blocked if enemy armies threatened to make use of it for an invasion of England.

The danger of a "subway" invasion has caused England to oppose similar tunnel projects in the past. Tunnel promoters, however, believe that England is at last ready to give up its cherished insularity. More than 260 Members of Parliament have formed a "tunnel committee" to advance the project, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill himself has spoken in favor of the idea.

"FEET SO SMALL AND SYLPHLIKE"?

(Christian Science Monitor)

Children grow bigger faster than they used to. So finds a joint study sponsored by the United States Office of Education, the University of Michigan, and the National School Service Institute. That makes it official. And as for learning how much bigger, this study, perhaps, is entitled to the credit. But quite a lot of observant people have been aware of the trend for some time.

Modern adults, too, are bigger and taller than their ancestors. Many a boy, who once visualized Sir Lancelot and other champions of King Arthur's Round Table as sort of king-sized cowboys in hardware, has been in for quite a shock when he first visited one of the great museums which displays suits of armor from the Age of Chivalry. A gawky 16-year-old of today has learned suddenly that the panoplies of some of the famous knights of the Middle Ages would come short of fitting him by two or three sizes. Thus have the mighty of the past fallen!

But there is a reverse twist to some of these discoveries. And from one of them we have been waiting in vain to hear a resultant explosion. It is now several years since Vassar College found that its average student of today is taller, broader and heavier than her grandmother in the Class of 1870 or thereabouts. And that she has bigger feet! Or has the marvelous happened and she's proud of it?

How Nature Works To Heal Coronary Thrombosis

Editor's Note: Your heart is in the headlines this month as the American Heart Association conducts its annual campaign against one of modern civilization's top killers. Here's the third of five articles to help you understand your heart, written by Dr. William A. Brams, author of "Managing Your Coronary." His book, from which these articles are condensed, won him the 1954 American Heart Association's Howard W. Blakeslee Award.

By DR. WILLIAM A. BRAMS

New York — (NEA) — The world's most miraculous engine is the powerful human heart. And the persons who know this best are those who have had a heart attack.

As they fight their way back to health, they begin—and are often surprised — to learn that their greatest ally is often the heart itself.

In few diseases does Nature herself do so much to make amends as in coronary thrombosis. In many, many cases, a man has a heart attack but does not know it, gets better, has another and perhaps more than that, recovers each time and lives to a ripe old age. When he dies, it's from something else.

His heart has been healing itself, without waiting for help from either patient or doctor.

Just because this can happen does not mean you don't have to bother with competent medical care. Every case is a law unto itself, and your attack may be bad enough to call for supplementary measures, such as medicines and rest in bed.

But the stories of people who have got better by themselves are encouraging. They testify to the fact that, apart from measures you and your doctor may take, your heart is making tremendous efforts to mend itself.

Before you can understand this, you must know why the heart is ill. And that explanation, simply, is that one of its vital feed lines has been blocked by a clot of blood.

The coronary arteries, with their fine mesh of capillaries, form a network all around and through your heart. The obstructing clot may lodge itself anywhere in the system. If it forms in either main artery, or one of their branches, the situation is bad indeed.

The network from that point on must suddenly go without the oxygen-bringing blood, and the tissues begin to die. Whatever their work, they now perform it badly. Unless they can in some manner recapture a blood supply very quickly, they will not function again at all.

But your heart has amazing power to make the best of a bad situation. Soon after your attack, a tremendous burst of activity starts as it finds new modes for carrying on.

It begins to re-route its fuel, building new road to by-pass the block. By the time the process is finished, an entire section of your heart may be linked with a whole new highway system for bringing in needed blood.

At the same time your body's policemen or soldiers—the white cells of your blood—are attacking the damaged tissue, as well as the clot itself.

You will remember that soon after your attack, your temperature rose one or two degrees. You may think of fever as a sign of illness—as indeed it is—but in a subtle way it is also a sign of health.

It shows that bits of the clot, and bits of the damaged tissue, are being reduced to fluid and absorbed by the many white blood cells.

The healing process is slow. Very often, however, the efforts are so successful that the clot is done away with entirely, so that the artery is virtually restored to its previous condition. This is the best possible outcome.

Very often, too, the repair work ends in a compromise; not a complete recovery, but a good working solution. While the clot has not been removed, at least it is shrunken in size, or the new vessels growing into it have formed a series of tunnels.

This is the place for a word of caution. Let us suppose you are very fortunate; that the clot is removed completely and your heart heals well. You must not forget, however, that the hardening of the arteries is not undone.

That condition, which brought on the clotting in the first place, will not improve and we know of no measures to stop it. Thus you must face the fact that the stage is set for a possible second clot.

But in one way you're better off—for now at least you know that your arteries are not in good order, and can take proper heed of the warning. We have no way of detecting the process of hardening of the arteries, and your heart attack was the only means of learning what was going on.

Finally, as elsewhere in your body, a strong scar forms over the injury — in roughly five to eight weeks.

This is the bright side of coronary thrombosis: the fact that in this disease, more than in any other, you can safely count on your body to make every effort to mend things.

Britain Seeks To Cut Ship Expense Thro' Gas Turbine

London—(AP)—Britain is looking to the gas turbine to cut shipbuilding costs and help maintain her position among the world's leading maritime powers.

J. W. Platt, managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell group, disclosed that the Auris, 8,221 tons, an experimental tanker, in which a gas turbine unit was installed in place of one of four diesel engines in 1949 is to be stripped of machinery and fitted with a single 5,000-horsepower gas turbine engine

At the launching of the tanker Vexilla (31,000 tons), Platt saidl: "We are tackling the problem of direct mechanical transmission and, with the help of others, are designing a form of direct gearing coupled to a fixed propeller. We feel that this should lead us fairly quickly to the prototype of the ideal unit, and for this purpose the Auris will, in effect, be turned into a floating laboratory."

Platt said experience had shown that the gas turbine was vibration-free and that it tended to damp vibration from other sources. The first unit installed in the Turis had operated under the most strenuous sea conditions.

Jacoby On Bridge

Try defending against five clubs in today's hand. Imagine that you hold the West cards. We'll get you off to a good start by making you open the three of spades. (If you were unfortunate enough to lead a heart, declarer would get rid of his spade loser and would cheerfully give up one trump and one diamond.)

East wins the first trick with the king of spades, when dummy plays the queen. East continues with the ace of spades, and South ruffs.

South now leads the king of clubs and it is up to you. If you take the ace of clubs, you'd better take a bad mark also. No matter what you return, South can win and can overtake dummy's trump in order to draw the rest of your trumps .

It is then easy for him to reach dummy for all the discards that he needs.

You must refuse the first trump trick. West leads another club, low one this time and it is up to you again. This time you must step up with the ace of clubs.

You should be sure that South has the queen of trumps, and you cannot afford to duck a second time. West would win with dummy's jack and cash high hearts, allowing you to ruff with your ace of trumps whenever you pleased.

Having taken your ace of clubs on the second round of trumps, you must choose the best return. Give yourself a bad mark once again if you pick anything but the best card.

Your best choice is the eight of diamonds. It is vital to lead some diamond in order to put declarer in the dummy. If he goes up with the ace of diamonds (as he must), he must then cash the top hearts in the hope of discarding all of his diamonds before you can ruff.

South doesn't enjoy doing this, but he can't get out of the dummy, and he has no choice in the matter.

You choose the eight of diamonds, incidentally, because you want your lead to look like a "top-of-nothing" lead in case South has the queen of diamonds and is tempted to let the lead ride around to his hand.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Club	Pass	1 Diamond	Pass
2 Clubs	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades 8-6-3, Hearts 9-7-4, Diamonds A-Q-7-6-2, Clubs K-5. What do you do?

A—Pass. With nine points in high cards, you are on the verge of making a second response, but there is no convenient bid even if you wanted to stretch a point or two. You can't raise the clubs, and the diamonds are not worth rebidding. The only reasonable course is to pass and accept a comfortable part score.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 8-6-3, Hearts 9-7-4, Diamonds A-Q-J-9-8, Clubs 8-5. What do you do?

County Teachers' Association Had Regular Meeting

The Sherbrooke County Teachers met in Mitchell School for the third meeting of the school year.

The president, Horst Rothfels, conducted the meeting. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted reports were heard from Miss MacKenzie on the "doings" at the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers Executive meeting held recently in Montreal. Mr. Rothfels reported on the findings of the Salary Workshop of P.A.P.T.

Plans are being made to hold an In Service Training Conference for the Sherbrooke County Teachers in Lennoxville High School.

An invitation was received from Lennoxville and Ascot Home and School Association for members to attend the February meeting of Home and School when Prof. Gray of Bishop's University will speak on Arts or Science.

Royce Gale gave a very interesting talk on "walking". He pointed out that not many people, except postmen and policemen walk. He described the Green Mountain Club of Vermont where all members are "walkers", 1200 of them. Trails are laid out and shelters provided on "The Long Trail" which stretches from one end of Vermont to the other, some 260 miles. There are other trails joining "the Long Trail".

Anyone making the trip from north to south or vice versa becomes known as "An end to ender".

The trails are well marked so there is little danger of becoming lost. But Mr. Gale did say that porcupines are busy creatures during the night and if trampers do not guard their boots carefully they may find them with the soles eaten out. He also mentioned that mice seem to hold large "conferences" during the late and early hours of the day.

"Walking is not an expensive hobby, all you need is a pair of good walking boots a couple of chocolate bars and the desire to come into close contact with God's Country.

J. C. McCuaig Is Named Manager Of N. S. Railway

The appointment of John Chalmers McCuaig, of Schreiber, Ont., to succeed A. A. Dunphy as manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway was announced at Kentville, N.S., by N. R. Crump, president of the D. A. R. Mr. Crump, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal, was in Kentville to attend a banquet honoring Mr. Dunphy on the eve of his retirement on pension following 10 years as manager of this Nova Scotia subsidiary of the C. P. R.

Mr. McCuaig, whose railway career dates back to 1918, was one of the original directors of the Canadian Pacific's system-wide safety organization, having served from 1944, when the department was founded until 1950 as general safety agent for the eastern region at Toronto regional headquarters. In 1950 he was named general supervisor, safety loss and damage prevention. For the last two and a half years he has been superintendent of the company's important Schreiber division north of Lake Superior. For a few months in 1952, prior to taking up the Schreiber appointment, Mr. McCuaig was acting general manager of the Quebec Central Railway at Sherbrooke.

Born in Toronto, he received his education there. After serving his apprenticeship in railway motive power shops in Ontario, he joined the International Correspondence Schools railway division as an instructor, finally becoming field director of the division.

His varied railway career, which has taken him from coast to coast in Canada and made him a personal friend of railway men throughout the country has aptly suited him for the position he now takes over as manager of the C.P.R.'s easternmost railway operation.

Coldest Night Of Winter Hits 34-Below Mark

Eastern Canada felt no relief from the cold spell today as Sherbrookers got cold feet about outside ventures with one look at thermometers. Last night was Sherbrooke's coldest this year, according to officials of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lennoxville.

A survey shows that the St. Francis Valley was one of Canada's coldest spots last night with a temperature of 34 below zero. And today, we retain the title as sub-zero temperatures offer no let-up.

Still 20 below zero at 8 o'clock this morning, it was a trying time for motorists, with unco-operative autos. Broken water lines have been reported in the city.

Quebec City is this morning a close ally with a temperature something like 27 below. Vancouver "basks" in a reported 46 degrees.

Montreal is reported in the one-to-ten-below bracket and most other cities in the east have sub-freezing highs.

Forecasters offer no encouragement of warmer temperatures and say Quebec will get more of the extreme cold. They say the Maritimes will likely get some relief as the cold wave rolls across the border into New England.

Douglas Is Critical Of Tax Policy

Regina. —(CP)— Premier T. C. Douglas said Tuesday night the federal government's income tax concessions to Quebec are a danger to national unity which ultimately will destroy federal-provincial taxation agreements.

The Premier, in a provincial affairs address broadcast over a network of Saskatchewan radio stations, atacked a federal proposal to reduce federal income taxes 10 per cent for residents of any province imposing a provincial income tax.

He termed the proposal "the most abject surrender in Canadian history."

"The federal government has set its feet along a path which leads back to the old dog-eat-dog days of provincial rivalry and federal impotency," Premier Douglas said.

The proposal would lead to two classes of Canadian citizens —those who came under the "benign" protection of Prime Minister St. Laurent and Premier Duplessis of Quebec, and those destined to remain "the step-children of Confederation."

Two Planes Crash Off B. C. Coast

Vancouver—(CP)—Rescuers were reported making slow progress in early-morning darkness today as they carried two bodies and five severely-injured persons from a plane crash in the remote Queen Charlotte islands.

Meanwhile, RCAF crews were ready to resume the search for a second aircraft, if low clouds lift during the day from coastal mountains 90 miles north of here.

Two of seven persons died in a de Havilland Beaver which crashed Tuesday in heavily-wooded country in the Queen Charlottes, which lie off the northern coast of British Columbia 500 miles north of Vancouver.

The second plane is an RCAF T-33 jet trainer which disappeared with its crew of two Saturday on a flight here from Gimli, Man.

B. C. Air Lines Ltd. said the pilot of their Beaver was 27-year-old Bill Bellam of Alliford Bay, B. C., married only six months ago.

Company officials early today did not know the names of the six passengers, but assumed they were loggers.

Radio communication with the Queen Charlotte area, lost early Tuesday night, was restored today. However, details of the crash were still scanty.

The Beaver left Alliford Bay on Moresby Island for a 20-minute flight to Aero camp at 1:30 p.m. PST. It was reported missing an hour later.

A Queen Charlotte Airlines Norseman spotted the downed plane during the afternoon, about eight miles from its destination. A search party, accompanied by a doctor and stretcher bearers, reached the crash scene about 6 p.m.

BIG CHANGE

changes from long-standing rate levels, consumers probably won't detect variations.

One big reason is that the inauguration of the new rates will be accompanied by removal of a temporary equalization measure as between east and west which the board put into effect in 1954.

This transitional step consisted of an order to the railways to reduce rates in the west by five per cent and permission for them to increase Ontario-Quebec rates by 10 per cent. It was aimed at bringing the two sets of rates to about equality pending the March 1 change.

Under this revision, the historic difference in rate levels between the west and central Canada should disappear on class rates, the Ontario-Quebec rates going up moderately and the west's coming down to meet them.

"After 10 years
I'M FREE FROM IRREGULARITY"

Writes Mr. H. W. Farmer of Windsor, Ontario.

"After suffering for over 10 years I'm free from irregularity, thanks to Kellogg's All-Bran. I tried everything—costly foods and laxatives—only your inexpensive cereal did the trick."

Since 1916 folks like Mr. Farmer have been writing us letters like this about All-Bran. It is the most widely accepted and used of all bran cereals. Here's why:

Relief from Constipation

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage. All-Bran is made from the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel and supplies natural food bulk. Just eat daily a one-ounce serving for breakfast and drink plenty of water. It will improve your "Intestinal Tone" so necessary to comfortable regularity.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

All-Bran is a wholesome, good-tasting cereal that has helped millions. We'll prove to you that Kellogg's All-Bran will give gentle, effective relief from constipation within 10 days or return twice what you paid. But be sure you get Kellogg's, the one and only All-Bran. Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

Red Cross Topic At Sutton Home And School Assn.

Sutton, Feb. 2.—An address by Mrs. Arnold Thompson on the work of the Canadian Red Cross, with particular reference to the local branch, and a film on family relations entitled "Families First," were the main features of the largely attended January meeting of the Home and School Association.

The president, Mr. Lawrence Smith, presided and extended a warm welcome to all present, after which all joined in repeating the "Lord's Prayer." The minutes and financial reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. H. Hooper, and treasurer, Mrs. O. Baker. A very generous cheque to aid the hot lunch fund was gratefully received at this time. Mrs. L. Royea reported on the 16 Christmas boxes which were packed for needy families. This was made possible by the generous donations of the members and an especially large gift of canned goods from the Jacquays family. Mr. Norman Tibbits delivered the boxes in his truck, assisted by the president. Following this report, the speaker, Mrs. Thompson, was introduced by Mr. Smith

Mrs. Thompson's talk proved to be both interesting and enlightening, as many present were unaware of the Red Cross' valuable service to our community. She cited many of the ways in which the Red Cross serves, not only in national and international disasters, but in our own homes through the loaning of sick room supplies, hospital beds, wheelchairs, etc., also giving prompt aid at the time of fires and other emergencies. She closed her talk with a special appeal for generosity and co-operation at the time of the campaign for funds and the Blood Donor Clinic. Mrs. Thompson was graciously thanked by Mrs. George Dyer.

The film proved to be very interesting and brought out several important points which make for good family relations.

Under new business, it was decided that the Association will sponsor a Booster Club dance at the end of April.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Nelson Thompson and her committee, who were assisted in serving by several other ladies.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

You have taken a very young child to church and in the middle of the services he begins to cry. When that happens it is best to take the child outside. That's so the minister and the rest of the congregation won't be distracted.

But don't blame the child for his behavior. Babies can't act like grownups.

OBITUARIES

MRS. GERTRUDE EDMONDS, OF DERBY LINE

Derby Line, Feb. 2. — Mrs. Gertrude Edmonds, of Derby Line, widow of Fred Edmonds, passed away on Monday evening, January 17, at a nursing home in Barton, Vt.

Mrs. Edmonds had fractured a hip several months ago and was for a time a patient at the Orleans County Hospital, Newport, later being transferred to Barton where everything was done for her comfort.

The funeral was held the following Thursday afternoon at Converse Funeral Home in Newport, where Rev. E. Geoffrey Tenneson, pastor of Stanstead South Church at the Boundary, officiated, giving words of comfort to the many relatives and friends gathered as a last gesture of love and respect.

The bearers were her nephews, Eugene and Harry Perkins, Clarence and Harry Lyons, and Alton Hull. Entombment took place at Derby Cemetery to await burial in the spring.

Mrs. Edmonds was born at Baldwin's Mills on October 20, 1863, the daughter of Charles Worth and his wife, Betsy Ann (Smith) Worth. Her early years were spent at Baldwin's Mills and as a young woman she came to Stanstead, where she learned the dressmaking trade. Later she went to Averill, Vt., where she met and married Fred Edmonds, of Westfield, Vt.

For a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds resided in Canaan, Vt., and about thirty years ago came to Derby Line, where they operated a store.

A little over a quarter century ago Mr. Edmonds died, and she carried on the business for a while before selling it. She continued to reside at their Caswell Avenue home until she fractured her hip in the autumn.

Mr and Mrs. Edmonds did not have any children of their own, but raised their niece, Mrs. Persis (Lyons) Morrison. Mrs. Edmonds was for many years a staunch supporter of the work of Stanstead South Church, where she attended worship until poor health made it impossible.

The lovely flowers were silent tokens of esteem felt for one who had been a good friend to many during her active years.

Attending the funeral were Mrs. Pervis Morrison, of Claremont, N.H., Mr. Jed Lyons and daughter, Mrs. Irvena Rainville, of Colebrook, N.H., Mrs. Thelma Edmonds, of Burlington, Vt., and a number of nieces, nephews and friends from the Boundary and surrounding communities.

His keen interest in farming and civic affairs continued during his whole life.

Fine Reports Are Tabled At Annual Meeting Of St. Stephen's, Coaticook

Coaticook, February 2.—The annual vestry meeting of St. Stephen's Church, Coaticook, was held in the Guild Hall, a representative number of parishioners being present to hear the excellent reports and to elect officers for the coming year.

The rector, Rev. Nevil Tucker opened the meeting with prayer, and then called on the treasurer to submit the financial report, which showed a credit balance. Reports from the various church organizations followed, including the Ladies Guild, St. Mary's Guild the Women's Auxiliary, the choir, the Altar Guild, the Girl's Auxiliary, the Sunday School and Men's Club. All were most satisfactory and showed an excellent year of service.

The rector nominated J. C. Barron as his warden and R. Racicot was elected people's warden in succession to Max Covert. On behalf of the congregation Mr. Tucker paid tribute to Mr. Covert's faithful service during his five years as warden. A vote of thanks was proposed expressing the gratitude of the church to the retiring warden.

The following officers were elected: C. W. Adams, treasurer; J. C. Barron, vestry clerk; George Sarrasin, envelope clerk; A. Fraser and J. K. Goodfellow, auditors; L. M. Thomas and G. Sheard, Synod representatives; C. W. Adams and A. Fraser, substitute representatives.

The Select Vestry members were re-elected, with the addition of G. Aulis and R. Racicot. L. Abdalla, W. C. Adams, G. Aulis, J. K. Goodfellow, M. Grady, W. Lepitre, W. S. Low, A. Patterson, G. Sarrasin, R. Stitchman, C. Wells, C. Gill, R. Baldwin were elected sidesmen, with Max Covert as chairman.

Before closing the meeting with the benediction the Rector submitted a short report. He said how happy he and Mrs. Tucker had been during their first six months in Coaticook and hoped they would be here for a long time to come. After referring to the increasing attendance at the services and to the special services which had been held during the year he stated that the parish included 74 families with two or more persons and 31 individuals. There were 263 persons on the roll, of whom 65 were under sixteen years of age.

Rev. Mr. Tucker then thanked the wardens and treasurer for their services and the officers and members of all organizations for their hard work in support of the church. He paid particular tribute to S. A. Meade, who had served the church so long and faithfully as lay reader, choirman and Sunday School superintendent. Mr. Meade had, in fact, been associated with the Sunday School for 60 years as pupil, teacher and superintendent.

After the close of the meeting Mr. Covert presented C. W. Adams with a silk scarf from the Men's Club for his services to the church. Refreshments were served by the Ladies Guilds' and Men's Club members.

A very successful year was shown by the various reports read by the secretaries, with good balances to start the year's work for 1955.

Successful Year Is Reported By Border Arena Co.

Rock Island, Feb. 2. — The annual meeting of the Border Arena Co. was held in the Rock Island Municipal Hall on Wednesday evening, January 26.

The session was presided over by the president, Carroll Smith, who read the financial statement. This report for 1954 was based on less than six months' activity at the Arena and showed that ice hockey and skating, roller skating and wrestling matches had netted a profit of $1,052.90. Revenues amounted to $10,497.87, with operating costs of $9,444.97.

The only change made in the officers and directors of the company was the election of Eugene Gagne as treasurer, replacing Gordon Petrie.

The installation of artificial ice during the year added greatly to the value of the Arena and to-day several games of hockey are being played, with seventeen junior hockey teams and the Butterfield Division Club's BASK team playing home games here.

The ice installation was under contract to the Canada Ice Machine Co. of Montreal, and there are yet a few minor adjustments to be made before perfection can be achieved.

There is a possibility, stated Mr. Smith, that at the end of the hockey season the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins will play an exhibition game here. Plans are also under way to have an ice show by skating artists of the famous Ice Follies or Ice Capades. Already a show has been presented in 1955 by the artists of the Sherbrooke Figure Skating Club and a class of Border children is being conducted by Miss Hedy Spremberg, of Sherbrooke.

A masquerade party is also planned to take place during the Lenten season and later in the season the company officials will make program arrangements for the summer schedule.

Annual Congregational Meeting Held By St. Paul's United Church, Magog

Magog, Feb. 2. — The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's United Church, Magog, held in the church hall on Monday evening, January 24, was a combined supper and business meeting. Supper was served by the ladies of the congregation, who were assisted by the girls of the C.G.I.T., this part of the evening being much enjoyed.

Supper was followed by a short hymn and the showing of slides, taken by Rev. C. Gustafson, pastor of the Church, proved very interesting. These included places visited during Mr. Gustafson's holidays, also various activities connected with the life of St. Paul's during the past year. The business of the evening followed.

Rev. C. Gustafson was in the chair. Mrs. F. Wilson was re-elected as recording secretary, J. Connor, treasurer, and G. Smiley, chairman of the board of stewards, were present to answer any questions pertaining to the finances of the church and business matters.

The giving of the financial reports was greatly facilitated by the printed statement, which was provided each guest, and showed the financial report of each group for the past year.

The report of the board of stewards showed a successful year, with all obligations met. Last fall, an every person canvass was conducted and, thanks to both new and renewed pledges, the financial situation for 1955 looks bright.

Two new members were elected to the board of stewards, E. Bullard and B. Shonyo. Re-elected for another ter : were C. Ruck and F. Wilson. L. Jackson, retiring member, was thanked by G. Financial and secretarial reports of all groups showed a busy and successful year with all working in harmony for the welfare of the church.

Some of the year's highlights are: The reception and gift presentation to Mr. and Mrs. G. Turner, on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, the May Day fair held by the W.A., and the summer festival held jointly by the 1925 Club, the S.O.S. and the W.M.S..

Following are the names of the groups connected with the work of the church and the names of their leaders or presidents: Sunday School, A. E. Smith, superintendent; Women's Association, Mrs. E. Ball, president; 1925 Club, Mrs. G. W. McLaughlan, president; S.O.S. Club, Mrs. K. Willis, president; Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. J. Broadbelt, president.

A. Swoger moved a vote of thanks to all who helped in the work of the church during the past year, to the secretaries and treasurers who compiled the reports, and to the auditors, E. Foggo and V. Buzzell, who painstakenly checked these reports and finally to the ladies for the excellent supper they had served.

W. McLauchlan expressed a vote of thanks to the minister and Mrs. Gustafson for their unfailing devotions to the pastoral charge.

Mr. Gustafson expressed his appreciation for the support given him and his satisfaction that there is now a complete youth program functioning in the church.

Before pronouncing the prayer at the close of the meeting, Mr. Gustafson read the names of those who had passed on during the year, and a few minutes of silent prayer was observed in their memory. These were, Mrs. Mary Abbott, Mr. E. Ball, Mr. John Boardman, Mr. W. H. Bowen, Mr. Leon Royea and Mr. O. Webster.

Windsor Blanks Sherbrooke 3-0 But Locals Retain Lead

Asbestos And Brompton Battled To 6-6 Stalemate While East Angus Dumped Rock Island 7-1 Last Night

Windsor Paper Makers shutout the Sherbrooke Intermediates 3-0, Brompton and Asbestos battled to a 6-6 stalemate and East Angus Pirates romped to a 7-1 verdict over Rock Island last night in the Massawippi Hockey League.

Although the Roberge squad dropped their important tilt to the Paper Makers they still retained first place in the standing by a slim one point advantage. The Meteors blew their chance of moving into a tie for the top spot when they were held to a draw by the Eagles.

Sherbrooke, still dogged by injuries, called up two juniors from their farm club to help bolster them. They gave a good account of themselves and held the fast-stepping Paper Makers to a goal in each period. Guillemette tallied in the first period while Desrosier notched the second in the middle session and Couture completed things in the final frame.

Playing coach Edgar Gendron iced a well-drilled club and the boys played their positions well. They also came up with a strong defensive game and young Dubois had plenty of good protection when the locals were in on his doorstep.

At Asbestos the Eagles came from behind twice to knot the count to wash out a two-goal advantage the Meteors had established. In the final frame they were out in front with only three and a half minutes to go when Tessier tied the count at 6-6.

Another top crowd of 1,066 was on hand despite the cold weather and they were rewarded with a fine game as play kept jumping from one end to another at top speed. Only eight penalties were called in the tilt and all for minor offenses.

Illick tallied twice in the opening frame to give the Meteors a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period. In the second the Eagles struck quick to knot the count with M. Emond and Ray St. Cyr pulling the trigger. Jacques tallied two quick goals when each team had a man in the cooler. J. Emond evened the count a minute and a half before the end of the session on a solo effort.

In the final frame Carpentier broke the stalemate but then the Eagles drove home two goals within 30 seconds to even the count once again. Just after the halfway mark Fournier put the Eagles out in front for the first time in the game but Tessier batted home the equalizer to send the tilt into overtime.

At East Angus Butterfields iced only seven players owing to injuries and sickness. A very meagre crowd was on hand owing to the sub-zero weather and the players also felt the extreme cold. The Butterfield squad held their own until the third period when the pace began to tell and the Pirates rapped home three quick ones to settle the issue.

Tomorrow evening only two games are on tap as Brompton travels to Rock Island and Sherbrooke journeys down to Windsor to take on the Paper Makers on their home ice. Asbestos and East Angus have an off night.

Big Four Governors Endorse Efforts Of Executive To End Players' War; To Meet Saturday For Further Action

Ottawa. —(CP)— The future of Toronto Argonauts in the Big Four football union is expected to be cleared up, at least a little, this week-end.

The Big Four board of governors has endorsed a decision reached at last month's annual meeting to abstain from raiding American football ranks—an abstinence the Argonauts have refused to accept.

As a result of the board's decision, reached Tuesday at a meeting in Toronto, the annual meeting will be reconvened Saturday morning in Montreal to decide what further action should be taken.

Big Four secretary Wes Brown, announcing the moves here Tuesday after receiving word of the governors' decision, said the league now "will make up its own mind on what further action to take."

"I couldn't predict what action might be taken," he added. But the league "is pleased to know that the governors have upheld the action taken at the annual meeting." He said he doesn't know "whether the Argonauts have changed their outlook any."

The Argonaut outlook, at last report, was that they cannot go along with the Big Four's proposed no-raiding pact. One rumor has been that Toronto may be ousted from the league if they persist in their present outlook.

Big Four president Ralph W. Cooper, commenting on the rumor last week in Hamilton, said: "I think the disagreement can be worked out to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned."

He added, however, that if Argos refuse to go along with the Big Four's agreement with the NFL to return players under contract to the teams holding the contract, it would be possible to kick the double blue out of the league.

Argos have signed three NFL players.

Brown said the annual meeting in Montreal Jan. 15-16 adjourned with the understanding it would reconvene once the governors made their recommendation.

Charlottetown Tie Amherst Ramblers

The teams played a scoreless 10 minute overtime.

Hank Therrien scored the lone Amherst goal at 15:56 of the second period with Vip Palladino in the penalty box.

Fourteen penalties were called in the game, eleven to Islanders. One was a game misconduct to Lorne Hennessey for striking referee E. E. Adams in the leg with his hockey stick mid-way in the third.

Twice the game was delayed when the Islanders protested over the electric timing clock. A penalty to Kullman was called back when the arms of the clock stuck.

Kullman became involved in a heated argument with two reporters late in the third period when he threw his stick in the press box. Police were called in and avoided any possible scuffle.

Sixteen Rinks Move Into Playoffs Of 42nd International Bonspiel; Banquet To Be Held This Evening

Quebec — (CP) — The male curlers in the 42nd Quebec International Bonspiel will take a breather tonight while their better halves demonstrate whether they are better curlers.

For the first time in the bonspiel's history there is a women's event — the Paterson Trophy — and 20 rinks will play a one-night bonspiel for it.

The men will stop curling late this afternoon to attend a banquet at which Estelle Cote, 18, who was elected queen of Quebec City's winter carnival Tuesday night, will preside. Miss Cote also will throw the first stone in the Paterson event.

One of the favored rinks will be skipped by Mary McEwen of Montreal, wife of Ira C. McEwen who donated the trophy on behalf of the Paterson Steamship Company.

McEwen Doing Well

McEwen and his rink are in the men's section and yesterday won their third straight game in the Chateau Frontenac event, qualifying to play off for the Lieutenant-Governor's trophy and the Grand Aggregate, the bonspiel's top awards.

He was one of 16 skips who made it into the playoffs. Eight more are to be declared.

Of the definite qualifying teams, seven are from Quebec province, five from the Maritimes and four from Ontario.

Rinks who go undefeated in the first three rounds for the Chateau Frontenac trophy and Omega trophy enter the playoff.

The third round of the Francois Jobin trophy, which matches teams who have lost one game in the Chateau trophy and Omega will be played today. The eight other qualifiers come from this event.

Losers of second round games in the two main events and first round games in the Francois Jobin go into the Holt-Renfrew competition. After that losers move down to the Val d'Or Golden Valley trophy event and others.

Moncton Ousts U.S. Four

Moncton's Dr. Charles R. Baxter eliminated the last United States team with a chance to qualify for the Chateau Frontenac, beating Mike Stewart of St. Paul, Minn., 10-3. Dr. Baxter has been in 12 consecutive internationals.

Lee Bilodeau's Brantford, Ont., rink, playing their first international, did well in beating veteran Dr. Russell Zinck, Lunenburg, N.S., 12-8.

F. Dodd Tweedie of Edmundston, N.B., who asserts he comes from the "Republic of Madawaska," not New Brunswick," squeaked past T. J. Goddison of Brockville, Ont., 11-10 in a match decided when the game was stopped by the time limit with Tweedie's first rock of the 10th end counting.

Eskimos To Take Action Against Stampeders For Signing Faloney As Coach; Retires As Player

Edmonton. —(CP)— The Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Inter-provincial Football Union said Tuesday they plan to take action against Calgary Stampeders for signing Bernie Faloney as a coach. Faloney quarterbacked Edmonton to Grey Cup victory last fall.

Eskimos accused the Calgary club of "tampering" under article 19 of the Canadian Rugby Union constitution and executive-secretary manager Al Anderson has written the CFU to take action against the Calgary club. Under the constitution the fine for "tampering" is not to exceed $1,000.

CITES RULES

Anderson said the constitution rules no approach may be made to a player who has signed to play with the one club by a representative of another club until the first club has either granted the player's release or given permission for negotiations.

The Eskimos said Faloney is "definitely" under contract to them and they have until June to exercise their option on him as a player.

Faloney announced his retirement from active competition shortly after last season ended. He was hired by Calgary only as a coach.

Argonauts' Officials Hold Friendly Discussion With Commissioner Bell; No Concrete Agreement Reached

Philadelphia —(CP)— Two Toronto Argonauts officials had a "friendly discussion" with commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League here Tuesday, but apparently no concrete agreement was reached in the player dispute between the Canadian Big Four club and the NFL.

President William Ross and business manager Harry Sonshine of the Argos discussed with Bell the question of whether a proposed no-raiding agreement between the two leagues should cover American players already signed by Toronto for the 1955 season.

"It was a very friendly discussion," Bell said later. "Primarily they came here to tell us about their problems."

At a meeting in Philadelphia 10 days ago, Bell and Big Four officials agreed that contracts and options in one league should be honored by the other, but failed to settle the retroactivity question.

The Argos have signed seven NFL players of last season, all of whom were under option to American clubs, and say they will not give them up.

Sonshine and Ross left immediately followng Tuesday's conference without commenting.

King Clancy Says Maple Leafs Still Getting Too Many Penalties; Should Check In Games Like In Practices

Toronto Maple Leafs didn't build their reputation with namby-pamby hockey players; it is only natural that they accept many penalties as an occupational hazard.

This season, for instance, Leafs have been given more penalties than any other club in the National Hockey League. But they have been the stingiest on giving up goals — allowing only 95 in 51 games.

All of which fails to make King Clancy a happy coach. Although Leafs are in third place, Clancy says:

"We're still getting too many penalties. Mind you, we're not getting many of the stupid-type, but we're getting too many."

Thus far in the 1954-55 campaign, Toronto has picked up 710 minutes in penalties. That's 63 minutes more than the league-leading Montreal Canadiens and 95 higher than the second-spot Detroit Red Wings.

Clancy thinks his players could check more persistently and at the same time avoid getting needless penalties for tripping, elbowing, charging and the like.

He gave Leafs a hot workout Tuesday after they dropped two games last week-end.

"If those guys would check in games like they did out there in that practice, they'd be real tough to beat. You can't have an offence if you don't have the puck. And you don't have the puck unless you can check it off the other team."

King won't get a chance to see any change in Leaf checking until Thursday night when they meet Canadiens at Montreal. In the only game tonight, the fourth-place Boston Bruins take on the last-place Black Hawks at Chicago.

In a second engagement Thursday night, the Bruins go against the Wings at Detroit.

Veteran Whitlock Leads ACSHL

Moncton — (CP) — Roy (Buck) Whitlock of league-leading Charlottetown Islanders picked up seven assists last week to head the Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey League individual scoring parade for the 12th straight week.

Figures released Tuesday including games up to Friday night gave Whitlock a total of 82 points on 30 goals and 52 assists. Teammate Bob Gray rammed home six goals, increasing his total to 37, to lead the league's goals-scored department. He has a total of 78 points.

Fredericton Capitals' Doug McPhee scored four goals and an equal number of assists last week to bring his total to 75 points. Dave Kiley of Amherst Ramblers follows in fourth place with a 54-point total and Bob Bowness of Moncton Hawks has 52 points.

Moncton's Nick Pidsodny is the top goaltender having been beaten 170 times in 56 games for a 3:04 average. Jim Shirley of Charlottetown has five shutouts, tops for the league.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Larry Boardman, 136¾, Marlborough, Conn., outpointed Bryan Kelly, 139, Niagara Falls, Ont., 10.

Fredericton Downs Moncton Hawks

Fredericton — (CP) — Fredericton Capitals edged forward to only one point behind third place Amherst Ramblers by defeating Moncton Hawks 7-5 Tuesday night. Hawks are four points below the leading Charlottetown Islanders in the Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey league.

A 6-2 lead in the last period was enough to ensure victory for Caps. Hawks trimmed it to 6-5 before Fredericton ended the scoring.

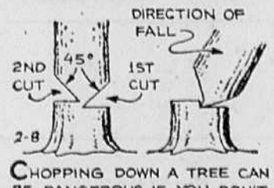

Gerry Smith and Doug McPhee led the Fredericton scorers with two each. Neil Sewell and Dick Yeomans also counted. Bert Hirschfeld shot two and the other Moncton marksmen were Ray Lacroix, Bob Bowess and Joe Lepine.

DODGERS COMPLETE ROSTER

Brooklyn—(AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers announced Tuesday that all their regular players and starting pitchers have been brought under contract with the signing of pitcher Russ Meyer. Terms of Meyer's contract were not revealed.
