OPEN WARFARE BREAKS AT SHANGHAI

Land Batteries In Exchange Of Shells With Naval Vessels

Large Area of Shanghai Reported in Flames Following Bitter Engagement—Chinese Believed to Have Penetrated Eastern Section of City and Expelled Japanese.

Shanghai, August 13.—Japanese naval guns and Chinese land batteries pumped hundreds of shells into their opposing forces in open Shanghai warfare last night.

An artillery duel along the northern fringe of the city set fire to scores of buildings in the Chinese Kiangwan and Chapei areas. A strong wind threatened a holocaust like that of 1932.

A Japanese warship bombarded the newly-built $1,500,000 Jukong Wharf on the left bank of the Whangpoo river, midway between Shanghai and Woosung.

Unconfirmed reports said Japanese warships were shelling the Woosung forts, which guard the Whangpoo entrance to Shanghai by water. Two Chinese divisions were reported under orders to take up positions at Woosung. This is ten miles from Shanghai proper.

Two huge fires broke out in the vicinity of the bombarded wharf. The flames lit up Shanghai's eastern districts.

One witness said he believed Chinese had penetrated the area and expelled the Japanese. Others considered this unlikely.

Heavy firing broke out tonight in the vicinity of Japanese headquarters at Hongkew, just north of the international zone.

It was believed the Japanese battery at Hongkew Park, next to the headquarters, was shelling Chinese positions in the Chapei district and north of the North Railway station.

The first artillery fire came early in the afternoon, after a day of brisk machine gun and rifle skirmishing between Japanese bluejackets and Chinese regulars invading from the north.

Japanese naval officers connected with the twenty-one Japanese warships already lining Shanghai wharves said one of their ships shelled the Jukong wharf because it housed a concentration of Chinese troops.

They declared Chinese machine guns had fired at Japanese vessels on the river.

JAPAN SENDING EXTRA TROOPS TO MAINLAND

Tokyo, August 13.—The Japanese Government was understood today to have ordered additional warships, troops and planes to the Shanghai war zone at the urgent request of the Japanese naval command in China waters.

The action was understood to have followed a special cabinet meeting at which emergency measures were decided on to deal with the situation at Shanghai, where fighting broke out this morning between Chinese and Japanese marines.

After the cabinet meeting the chief secretary of the Government had decided to take all measures necessary to protect Japanese lives and interests in Shanghai. There was no further amplification of the cabinet's action.

The Japanese News Agency reported that Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was considering reconvocation of Parliament to seek further war funds.

The rapid-fire development across the China Sea caused the army and navy to decide to handle the Shanghai situation in summary fashion. Vice-Admiral Hasegawa, chief of the navy, general staff, went to the Imperial Palace to lay the matter before Emperor Hirohito.

The Emperor considered the situation so grave he abandoned plans for a summer vacation and decided to remain in Tokyo where he could keep in close touch with the situation. He conferred late into last night with military and naval leaders, studying tactical plans with them.

CHINESE TROOPS BLOCK STRATEGIC NANKOW PASS

Peiping, Aug. 13.—Stubbornly fighting Chinese regulars of the Eighty-ninth Division today blocked the northward advance of the Japanese army and held strategic Nankow Pass in the face of artillery and aerial bombardment.

Two regiments of the Eighty-ninth—Japanese estimated their strength at 4,000—were defending the southern approaches to the narrow mountain gateway to Manchuria against a mechanized Japanese brigade supported by heavy artillery and planes.

In a day-long battle yesterday the Japanese infantry, led by tanks, attacked and captured the deserted town of Nankow, thirty miles northwest of Peiping, and the railroad station and shops of the Peiping. Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.

Spanish Captain Claims Ship Torpedoed By Italian Vessel

Charges Twelve Members of Crew Killed When Destroyer Attacked Benzine-Laden Tanker Fifty Miles Off Coast of Tunisia—Second Italian Warship Allegedly Participated in Manoeuvre, Cutting Off Retreat.

Tunis, Tunisia, Aug. 13.—The twenty-eight survivors of the crew of the Spanish Government tanker Campador reached the safety of this French possession today, asserting their ship had been torpedoed and twelve shipmates killed by an Italian warship.

Capt. Felix Gary, master of the tanker, reported to French officials his ship was sunk in the Mediterranean at 8 p.m. Wednesday by an Italian destroyer Saetta off Kelibia, fifty miles northeast of here.

Five of his men, he said, were killed when the first of three torpedoes struck the engine room. The others were lost in the two following blasts. The attack, he said, was observed by a second Italian destroyer which he was unable to identify and which took no part in the attack.

In Rome, however, the newspaper Il Messaggero stated the Campador had been sunk by the Spanish insurrection torpedo boat Velasco.

The Campador, loaded with 3,500 tons of benzine, was steaming for Spain from the east.

The Saetta, according to the captain, picked up the Spanish ship Wednesday morning when the tanker was only sixty miles from Kelibia. He said the Italian ship ran up a "battle flag" and that he ordered full steam ahead in an effort to escape and, changing his course, tried to run for the Tunisia coast.

But the Italian warship—the Saetta, completed in 1932, can do thirty-eight knots—stunned circles around the tanker. The captain said another Italian warship joined in the manoeuvre of successfully blocking his progress.

All through the day the game went on and still no shot was fired. Dusk fell. Then the first torpedo struck amidship. Within seven minutes, two more torpedoes smashed into his inflammable cargo. Flames shot up immediately.

He ordered the tanker and the bodies of the twelve dead men abandoned. Some of the men made shore in lifeboats. The British ship Dido picked up three at sea.

BITTER BATTLE WAGED AROUND CASTLED CITY

Madrid, Aug. 3.—The olive-clad slopes of the castled city of Lopera in Jaen province was reported a no-man's land today after bitter fighting in which the Government and insurgent troops alternately prevailed.

It changed hands twice yesterday, but the insurgent victors were reported to have found their position untenable and to be moving out of the southern city.

Government artillery went into action along the front between Lopera and Porcuna, and the insurgents were reported evacuating both these cities.

The insurgent positions from Arjona to Arjonilla likewise were described as precarious in view of new Government activity. If their troops are able to take Porcuna, about eighty-nine square miles of territory would be added to the Government. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.

CYPRUS TURNED TREASURE ISLE BY GOLD RUSH

Mad Rush to Stake Claims to "Devil's Mud," the Islanders Name for the Gold-Bearing Ore—Rush Will Last About Three Years.

Trodos, Cyprus, Aug. 13.—Great Britain's island colony of Cyprus is in the midst of a gold rush.

Picturesque peasants, tradesmen and small landowners stand in long queues outside the government mines office at Nicosia, the capital, waiting to register their newly-staked claims.

In lowly mountain huts, bars and offices the chief topic of conversation is "devil's mud," as the gold-bearing ore has been named by the islanders.

For more than ten years it has been known that gold existed on the island, not "free" gold but gold ore in the form of a white chalky substance pocketed in the solid rock and costly to treat when mined. It was not considered practical to work it commercially.

In 1930 an American-owned mining company quietly began prospecting for gold ore. The ore has been mined and quarried, crushed, treated with cyanide and exported in the form of a black powder for smelting abroad, with considerable commercial success.

Six months ago, when the news of this success had permeated through the island, the gold rush started, and humble peasants, butchers, bakers and all manner of men began the search for "devil's mud."

During the past six months the government has granted 240 prospecting permits valid for one year over an area of one square mile, but the gold fever has begun to show signs of abating. Reliable authorities state it is possible the gold ore will be worked out in about three years unless further deposits are found.

MARINES TODAY FORCED PARAGUAY CABINET TO RESIGN

Asuncion, Paraguay, Aug. 13.—President Rafael Franco today accepted the resignation of the cabinet, under military pressure, after a force of marines had occupied the capital.

PREMIER WILL ADDRESS RALLY AT KNOWLTON

Hon. Maurice Duplessis Will Pay First Official Visit to Brome County Since Election as Premier on Monday.

Knowlton, August 13.—Government supporters in Brome County are making final preparations today for a monster reception on Monday afternoon to Premier Mitchell Hepburn.

During the past six months the government has granted 240 prospecting permits valid for one year over an area of one square mile, but the gold fever has begun to show signs of abating. Reliable authorities state it is possible the gold ore will be worked out in about three years unless further deposits are found.

The Premier Minister will arrive here Monday forenoon from Sherbrooke, where he will spend the week-end taking part in the Centennial celebrations and will have luncheon with Jonathan Robinson, Union Nationale M.L.A. for Brome County, and Mrs. Robinson at their home here.

In the afternoon a big political rally is scheduled at the Brome Lake Pavilion at two o'clock at which the Premier will be the principal speaker. Accompanying the Hon. Mr. Duplessis at this gathering will be Hon. L. A. Giroux, M.L.C., of Sweetburg; Hon. Ghany Bourque, Minister of Public Works, Jonathan Robinson, M.L.A., and a number of members from the surrounding constituencies, including P. A. Pouliot, Missisquoi, Hector Choquette, Shefford, and Rouville Beaudry, Stanstead.

At the close of the meeting, the Premier Minister is expected to return immediately to Quebec.

LAKEHEAD BACKS YOUTH

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 13.—Alderman T. J. McAuliffe was re-appointed chairman of the special city council meeting to attempt to secure a portion of the $1,000,000 set aside by the Dominion Government for the youth movement in this region.

SNAKES SPREAD

Manyberries, Alta., Aug. 13.—Considerable increase of poisonous rattlesnakes in this area, 100 miles southwest of Lethbridge, has increased the need for greater vigilance in this town. Most recent victim was a valuable colt pastured on the edge of town.

QUEBEC HIT BY WORST RAIN IN THREE DECADES

Ancient Capital Resumes Its Regular Routine After Suffering Heaviest Rainfall in Thirty Years—5.9 Inches of Precipitation Recorded.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Life in this historic capital of French-Canada resumed its normal course today as effects from the worst rainstorm to break over this district in thirty years gradually were erased.

Worst hit from the slugging rain was the Lower Town here although residents in Levis, directly opposite Quebec on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, also suffered greatly. The full brunt of the storm also was felt on the Island of Orleans.

In proclaiming it the worst storm in three decades, officials announced the fall of rain had measured 5.7. The precipitation swelled small rivers and streams in the district, causing many small bridges to be swept away.

Provisions were made today for care of several families left homeless as a result of the flood waters. When rain and rock cascaded down onto Champ plain street, at the waterfront, several homes were damaged and tenants were forced to move.

The storm started Wednesday night and lasted for a full twelve hours, finally ceasing about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. At the height of the deluge yesterday, a group of youths were seen swimming about in the streets.

The rain caused a washout of railway tracks at Tremholme, seventeen miles west of Quebec, and eleven cars of a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train were derailed. For hours the right of way was blocked but today most of the damage was repaired.

POLICE ON GRIM TRAIL OF DEATH OF OLD FOLKS

Anna Hahn, Former German School Teacher Held on Charges of Murder and Larceny, Will Be Subjected to Lie Detector Tests.

Cincinnati, Aug. 13.—Police sought today the purchaser of a quantity of oil poison as they pushed deep into an investigation of a grim trail of death and illness among elderly acquaintances of thirty-one year old Anna Hahn, former German school teacher, and widow of a Viennese doctor.

Lieut. George W. Schattle, of the homicide squad, said that while he had suspended, for the time, questioning of Mrs. Hahn, she probably would be subjected to lie detector tests. He reported numerous contradictions in stories told by the woman thus far.

Mrs. Hahn, denying all knowledge of the cause of five deaths under investigation, is held on fugitive warrants charging murder and grand larceny.

The deaths being probed are those of: George Oberdorfer, 60, moderately wealthy Cincinnati cobbler, at Colorado Springs, Colo., on August 1; George Gisselman, 68, found dead in bed on July 6; Jacob Wagner, 78, June; Albert Palmer, 72, March 27. Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.

Britain Doubles Defence Garrison At Shanghai As Situation Becomes Acute

Battalion of Welsh Fusiliers Rushed from Hong Kong to Shanghai to Guard Foreign Residents as City Fills with Opposing Troops in Undeclared War Between China and Japan—Faint Hope Still Held for Peace.

Hong Kong, August 13.—The British Far Eastern army command today ordered a battalion of Welsh Fusiliers to Shanghai to reinforce the British garrison there guarding foreigners in the undeclared war between China and Japan.

The battalion, 950 strong, will double the number of British troops in Shanghai.

The Welsh Fusiliers will sail for Shanghai on Saturday. At the same time orders were issued to all British warships in and near Shanghai and other Yangtze river ports to paint the Union Jack on their turrets and gun shields as protection against attack from the air.

CLAIM WAY STILL OPEN FOR PEACEFUL SOLUTION

Nanking, August 13.—A spokesman for the Japanese embassy declared today that despite the serious crisis at Shanghai Japanese diplomats in China consider the way is still open to peace if the Chinese cease concentrating troops in the north.

North China, the spokesman said, is still the principle issue and in its handling lies the final answer to whether there shall be peace or war between China and Japan. He indicated that whatever happens at Shanghai, although the situation there is at present the most dramatic element of the crisis, would have no real bearing on the settlement.

Chinese circles accorded the Japanese statement only the slightest attention as it was felt unlikely the Central Government would cease its precautionary measures in North China—or Shanghai, for that matter.

The Japanese forces south of the Great Wall, where they are battling Chinese regulars at Nankow Pass, are believed to total sixty thousand effective.

Observers here consider the occupation of Peiping and Tientsin as placed the Japanese in a most favorable position.

TWO STILL MISSING IN STORM TRAGEDY

Two Women Remain Buried Under Sudden Wreckage of Collapsed Staten Island Tenement—Nineteen Are Known Dead.

New York, Aug. 13.—Seeking two missing women, 150 firemen and police dug today in the ruins of a Staten Island tenement building which collapsed during a rainstorm, killing nineteen persons.

Exhausted from the long search, they ordered a steam shovel to help shift the tangled, sodden wreckage beneath which they expected to find the broken bodies of Olive Rogers and Louise Heinz.

District Attorney Frank H. Innes said he would ask a grand jury to investigate the cause of the disaster on Monday. Three other investigations were also under way.

WAGE-HOUR BILL MAY HAVE TO BE SHELVED

In an Effort to Hasten Adjournment, Leaders of Congress May Defer Controversial Legislation Till Next Year.

Washington, Aug. 13.—A possibility arose today leaders of the United States House of Representatives may defer the controversial wage-hour bill until next year in an effort to hasten adjournment of Congress.

The measure, approved by the Senate, is blocked in the House Rules Committee.

One administration lieutenant said its postponement appeared to be the only alternative unless the committee gives it legislative right-of-way time to let it pass by August 25th.

SOVIET AIRMEN SOARING OVER ROOF OF WORLD

Group of Six Aviators Reported Well Over North Pole Today on Flight from Moscow to California.

Seattle, Aug. 13.—Six more Soviet airmen soared over forbidding North Pole ice cap today in a flight they hope will blaze the trail for a future passenger route.

Two previous flights ended successfully in western United States after non-stop jumps of 5,300 miles and four more than 6,000 miles.

A four-motored, 25-ton craft bore the six fliers over the roof of the world toward Fairbanks, Alaska, where they expected to land and refuel about noon (6 p.m. E.D.T.) after a flight of approximately four thousand miles from Moscow, where they took off at 11:15 a.m. E.D.T. yesterday.

At the control of the huge monoplane was Sigismund Levanevsky, one of the Soviet Union's most famous aviators.

Four miles above the ice, the big plane went zooming over the North Pole exactly seventeen hours and forty-seven minutes after it left Moscow.

Moscow sources reported the plane crossed the Pole at 5:40 a.m. E.D.T. in a message received by A. Vartanian, official Soviet representative here, that the plane was passing over the Pole.

Levanevsky said everything was "okay" and that he would follow the 148th meridian into Fairbanks.

At 2:10 a.m. D.S.T. this morning (6:10 a.m. E.D.T.) the U. S. Army Signal Corps here reported its Fairbanks station had intercepted a message from the plane that said "everything is all right."

Radio operator Galkovsky apparently was communicating with a Russian station. The part of the message intercepted read: "XXX did not listen to you as we were taking bearings. Everything is all right. Crew feeling good. Signed Galkovsky."

The message did not give the position of the plane nor did Signal Corps officials here know the time. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.

The What And Why Of The Shanghai Warfare

An estimated 7,000 Japanese bluejackets and "thousands" of Chinese regular army troops are skirmishing in Chinese areas north of the Shanghai International zone. A Chinese and Japanese artillery duel set fire to parts of the area. A Japanese warship bombarded and set fire to a Chinese wharf north of the main city.

The skirmishes started early today after a "peace" conference failed. Japanese said Chinese violated terms of the 1932 Shanghai truce by sending troops into Shanghai. Chinese blamed Japanese "aggression" citing the concentration of twenty-one Japanese warships at Shanghai wharves and the landing of many bluejackets.

Chinese and Japanese have been at swords points in Shanghai since July 7, when fighting broke out in northern Hopei Province. The tension increased when the Japanese army drove out the Chinese soldiers and took control of the province and the cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

It reached a climax at Shanghai when a Chinese Peace Preservation Corps member and a Japanese naval officer and seaman were killed in an encounter Monday at a west Shanghai Chinese airport. Soon the Japanese warships arrived and landed reinforcements. Then, yesterday, the Chinese regulars started pouring into the city from the south. It was not known who fired the first shot today.

Shanghai is a city of nearly 3,500,000 including 60,000 foreigners.

Fight Between Unions.

Storm clouds broke at the Paton Manufacturing Company at about three o'clock yesterday afternoon when about forty members of L'Union Ouvriere Textile walked out in protest at the reported hiring of two apprentices belonging to the National Catholic Syndicate.

This union is an affiliate of the Dominion Textile Company's Union Ouvriere de L'Industrie Textile that is opposing the strike at the local textile plant.

Joseph Booth, manager of the Paton Mill, denied that two apprentices had been taken on. He explained that two learners had entered the plant recently, having been taken in by experienced weavers. Only one of the pair, he said, belonged to the National Catholic Syndicate. He said that neither apprentice was being paid.

"It is a fight between two unions," Mr. Booth stated in comment. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.

THE WEATHER

FAIR AND MODERATELY WARM

A disturbance of moderate intensity had developed over the Lower St. Lawrence Valley, and high pressure now covers the Great Lakes and the central portion of the continent. Pressure is also high over the Lower Mackenzie Valley, and a shallow trough extends from the west coast of Hudson Bay southwestward to Alberta. Except for light showers in some northern sections, the weather has been fair and warm in the Western Provinces, while thunderstorms have been nearly general from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces.

Forecast: Moderate to fresh northwest winds; fair and moderately warm today and Saturday with medium to low humidity; rather cool tonight.

LORD RUNCIMAN, TRUE BRITISH SALT, IS DEAD

His Life Reads Like a Story-Book—Began Career as a Cabin Boy and at Death Was Known as the "Grand Old Man of Shipping."

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, Aug. 18.—Lord Runciman, ninety-years-old, the "grand old man of shipping," whose career was a saga of the sea, died here today.

He missed by one night his wish to finish his life afloat. He had been convalescing aboard his yacht, Sunbeam II, at Blyth for many weeks, and apparently was improving. Wednesday night he became restless, and yesterday was removed to his home here.

In April he suffered a serious relapse at his country seat on the Northumberland Coast but despite his great age he regained strength and on Coronation day heard the broadcast of the proceedings. A few days later he was removed to the Sunbeam where his ninetieth birthday was celebrated at a family party.

Lord Runciman's adventurous career began at the age of twelve when he snaked away from home during the night, swam a small river, and ran off to the nearest seaport to become a cabin boy. His ship took him to the southern seas. He took his mate's certificate at twenty and was given his first command at twenty-four. He married

CARRYOVER OF WHEAT LOWEST IN MANY YEARS

Reduction of 75,354,423 Bushels Compared with Total a Year Ago—Other Stocks of Grain Also Showed Large Reductions.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Canada's wheat carryover from the 1936-37 crop year ended July 31st was 32,739,852 bushels.

The figure, announced yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was the lowest since 1925 when 27,718,810 bushels were reported. Compared with the previous crop year ended July 31st, 1936, the carry-over showed a reduction of 75,354,423 bushels.

The latest carry-over of wheat in Canada was 211,740,188 bushel on July 31st, 1937.

Many other stocks of grain in Canada at July 31st also showed large reductions. Oats dropped to 18,278,808 bushels from 40,004,697; barley to 4,363,325 from 9,827,691; flaxseed to 464,967 from 239,287; and rye to 409,702 from 3,194,369.

In addition to stocks of Canadian wheat in Canada on July 31st, 1937, there were 4,110,848 bushels of Canadian wheat held in the United States against 19,268,321 on the same date last year.

The bureau issued supplementary figures yesterday showing a further reduction in stocks of Canadian wheat during the first five days of August. Stocks dropped to 30,022,312 bushels on August 5th from the 32,739,852 recorded at the crop year's end. Corresponding figure for 1935 ends of wheat was 113,061,155.

FAKE HEIR BENEFITS FROM COSTLY ERROR

A Million and a Half Dollars Left with Morgan Bank by Russian Was Paid "by Mistake" to Impostor Heir.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Judge G. F. Gibbons in Superior Court yesterday took under advisement arguments on the writ of habeas corpus taken out by Mrs. Marthe Ley-Martin, of Montreal, against Odilon Cormier, Inspector-in-Charge of the Immigration Department here.

Mrs. Ley-Martin, native-born French woman, was detained by immigration authorities here when she returned a fortnight ago from an extended visit to Europe.

Drummondville's Textile Mill May Be Moved To Another Site

Continued from Page 1. meeting upon the trouble. "It is impossible for me to recognize two unions. Since I have been in Sherbrooke I have recognized the National Catholic Syndicate's committee in the weavers' department."

Eugene St. Pierre, legal adviser to the Union Ouvriere, declared that the walkout had resulted from "the favoritism shown by the Paton mill authorities to members of the National Catholic Syndicate."

Mr. St. Pierre added that the National Catholic Syndicate in an attempt to have this organization recognized by the Paton Company was "causing trouble which may have serious consequences at the local mill."

The Paton Mill employs about six hundred men and women. It is estimated that about two hundred belong to the Union Ouvriere.

Mr. St. Pierre said that it had been decided not to picket the mill this afternoon, owing to the fact that this is pay day at the mill. The union, he said, desired to give all the employees a chance to get their pay.

Picketing will be resumed tomorrow morning and Monday, however, the lawyer said.

G. Blair Gordon's Statement.

G. Blair Gordon stated in Montreal today that the Dominion Textile Company's mill at Drummondville may be moved elsewhere as the result of the strike that has crippled it more than a week.

The company official said the possibility of shifting the plant arose because the strikers had barricaded the mill with a road leading to the mill, where they controlled all movement. Damage to the property, he claimed, has been extensive.

"If we cannot be assured of regaining control of our own property," the textile head declared, "we are seriously considering setting up a plant elsewhere where we can operate without any such trouble."

In other mills, Gordon said today, it "will not be very long before we re-open." He could set no date, he declared, but he said all precautions would be taken to ensure the safety of those employees who would want to go back to their jobs.

Situation Tense at Acton Vale.

The situation was tense at Acton Vale.

Last night angered strikers flung stones at a loaded van as it was driven out of the mill premises. The truck's windshield and a side window were broken, but the driver was able to proceed.

P. P. Demers, manager of the silk plant, who resides in an annex to the buildings, requested protection of the Mayor and officials of the National Catholic Syndicate when he left the grounds yesterday afternoon with his wife and maid.

Lucien Leveille, president of the Acton Vale Syndicate, stated this morning that he had been assaulted while walking along the street last night. He said: "I was walking along and the street appeared deserted. Suddenly a car drove up alongside of me and a man jumped out. He attacked me and struck me with his fist. I was not seriously hurt, but the bruise was bad enough to require medical attention."

He said that after striking him the assailant quickly boarded the car and that the vehicle sped off.

Mr. Leveille said that he, as well as other officials of the National Catholic Syndicate, had been threatened out that "we will carry this strike through to the end."

The Acton Vale Municipal Council has been asked to block the mill street to all traffic. There are no private residences on this street.

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 13.—From Harvard astronomers came the word today that science will have to revise its ideas about the sun's corona.

Airplane photographs of the total eclipse of June 8 dispelled the idea that the fiery streamers shown on previous photographs are the chief characteristic of the corona, they said.

FLYING TIME SOARS

Regina, August 13.—With every one of its eight officers logging at least seventy-five hours, Regina's busiest airmen, officers of No. 29 squadron, non-permanent Royal Canadian Air Force, are going on holidays for three weeks. Since May of this year they have passed the 742-hour mark, the equivalent of 40,000 miles in their Moth training planes.

NEW MARK SET BY WINNER OF HAMBLETONIAN

"Shirley Hanover" Trotted First Mile in 2:01 1/2 and Second in 2:01 3/4, Fastest Time Ever Registered by a Winner in Twelve-Year History of Rich Stake.

Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 13.—Records show that Henry Thomas won the Hambletonian with Shirley Hanover, but the popular forty-seven year old trainer of the Hanover, Pa., Sheppard Farms said it was five year old Patricia Sheppard who was largely responsible for the record-smashing triumph.

While Thomas was driving Shirley to a straight heat victory in the fastest time ever registered by a winner in trotting's blue ribbon event, he carried in his hip pocket a four-leaf clover and letter sent him by the little daughter of Lawrence B. Sheppard, part owner of the Pennsylvania breeding farms.

"Don't let anybody tell you it was I who won," declared Thomas, "Just look at that good luck charm I carried. I couldn't miss with that in my pocket."

Lawrence Sheppard, manager of the farm in which his father, H. D. Sheppard and C. N. Myers also hold an interest, gave much of the credit to Thomas, however.

"He brought Shirley up to the race in the best of condition and then did a fine job of driving her," said Sheppard.

In trotting the first mile in 2:01 1/2 and the second in 2:01 3/4 Shirley not only trotted in the fastest time ever registered by a winner in the twelve-year history of the rich stake but carried on in the way of her famous mother—Hanover's Bertha. The latter won the 1630 Hambletonian and later in the same year set her mark of 1:59 1/2.

The victory, achieved before a crowd of 35,000 after the race had been postponed from Wednesday, was worth $19,916.92, with an additional $600 going to the three partners as nominator of the winner.

Shirley Hanover was given little chance in the auction pools, where Paul Bowser's Desota, of Boston, was favored. She commanded no better than ten to one respect to win the first heat.

MARATHON TO REMAIN ON EMPIRE GAMES PROGRAMME

Burlington, Ont., Aug. 13.—An attempt to delete the marathon from the British Empire Games programme in Australia next January failed today and Secretary Bobby Robinson, of the Canadian organizing committee, announced the Dominion marathon trial would be held in Toronto on September 18.

The Amateur Athletic Union of Australia proposed that the classic event be dropped. Mr. Robinson said, a cable vote of all federations affiliated with the Empire Games committee resulted in decision to keep the marathon on the programme.

The Canadian trial will be staged under the auspices of the Forest Hill Recreation Club.

Historical Pageant Attracted 3,000 To Second Performance

Splendid Review of Sherbrooke's Founding and Development Had to Be Cancelled Towards the End on Account of Torrential Downpour—Performance Credit to Huge Cast of Local People, Director and Assistants.

The historical pageant reviewed again last night, for the benefit of three thousand spectators, the history of Sherbrooke.

Although a downpour of rain marred the last part of the performance and forced the cancellation of three episodes, the pageant told many things.

It told in vivid scenes how the Indians first ruled over this land; how two tribes settled a dispute by the "race to the top of the Rock of the Lone Pine; how the Redman burnt the white man at the stake; how the French explorers, intrepid adventurers, penetrated the wilderness to blaze the trail for the pioneers that were to come; how Gilbert Hyatt first arrived, erected his log cabin and ploughed the virgin soil; how the stage coaches inaugurated a service between Montreal and Boston, with the Craig Road one of their meeting places; and how Sherbrooke grew and prospered to become a city of 32,000 people.

Lightning flashed and sent a livid glare to illuminate the impressive tableau of Sherbrooke's war heroes.

Rain splashed across the footlights and a savage gust of wind engulfed the tall curtains and whirled them about the Chateaucers' stage to climax their performance in a totally unexpected but nonetheless spectacular manner.

The rain came down in torrents. Then from the loudspeakers: "Unfortunately, the show must be called off an account of rain."

It is a credit to the performers that the three thousand people in attendance were disappointed. They were eager to see the remainder of the show. They had been thrilled and delighted and entertained—yet they realized that it would be impossible for the show to continue in the torrential rain, and they accepted the sudden halt to the performance in good spirits. They had their money's worth as it was.

It was evident that the 1,500 participants had been well drilled by Pageant Master Hemingway, the girls in the ballet—the minut was cancelled—capably directed and trained by Mrs. Hemingway.

Behind the scenes, Hemingway's helpers—"Bea" Beaudry and Gerard Gingras—carried out the pageant master's instructions, relayed from the top of the grandstand, without a miss or a hitch, and the result was a smooth show free of the irritating delays and interruptions that so often mar an otherwise good performance.

The historical pageant will be repeated on several more occasions during the Centenary celebration, with the third presentation slated for Sunday evening.

Hon. F. J. Leduc, Provincial Minister of Roads, was among those who witnessed last evening's performance.

The English choir, under the direction of Prof. Roger Havary, contributed largely towards the success of last evening's show. The solo part in "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" taken by twelve-year-old Stewart Weatherhead, son of Dr. and Mrs. Weatherhead, of Winnipeg, was greatly enjoyed.

AIR PAGEANT TO BE STAGED HERE ON AUGUST 22

Squadron of Fast Planes Will Drone Over Sherbrooke and Ace Flyers Will Perform Thrilling Stunts in Biggest Air Meet Eastern Townships District Has Ever Seen.

A squadron of fast planes will drone over Sherbrooke and ace flyers will perform thrilling stunts on Sunday, August 22nd, in the biggest air pageant the Eastern Townships district has ever seen. The air meet will be a feature of that week-end's Centenary celebration.

The spectacular air show, which will take place at the Collinsville airfield, is being put on by the Canadian Air Pageant. Two French war aces, Marcel Doret and Rene Drouillet, three American aces and the famous Canadian trio "The Siskins" will be among the daring airmen that will perform.

Doret, who has been a pilot since 1915, is well known as a daring flyer. He is familiar with every phase of aviation, but is outstanding as a stunt pilot. He sailed from France on August 12th and is due to arrive in Canada August 20th. His plane is due to reach Montreal tomorrow morning.

Sherbrooke will be privileged in that this famous war ace will give his first performance in Canada. During the course of his career, Doret has broken seventeen speed, distance and endurance records.

Rene Drouillet is also a pilot of wide renown. He won fame as Emperor Selassie's pilot and counsellor of aviation for the Ethiopian forces during the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. His performance during the air pageant is sure to provide many thrills.

Henry Prysky, manager of Canadian Air Pageants, is in Sherbrooke today to complete arrangements for the big aerial show with Centenary Organizer Leon Trepanier.

Active Week-end Planned

Another eventful week-end in the five-week Centenary celebration that has proved such an outstanding success to date is being planned for tomorrow and Sunday.

Sherbrooke will be honored by another distinguished guest in the person of Hon. Maurice Duplessis, Premier of Quebec, who will arrive here tomorrow to assist at the various jubilee fete festivities.

An attractive social event will be the garden party under the auspices of La Ligue de La Jeunesse Feminine at Howardene tomorrow afternoon.

Many municipalities will tomorrow send delegations of young girls to take part in the week-end programme. These young girls, dressed in historical costumes, will take part in "The Tribute of Sherbrooke's Sister Towns and Villages."

Tomorrow night, accompanied by a representation from the Zouaves, they will take part in a mammoth parade through the streets of the city. Chief of Police H. O. Camiré announced this morning that Wellington street north would not be available for parking purposes for sometime before and during the parade.

The advance party of the Zouaves is arriving today, and Sunday these Pontifical soldiers will be 1,200 strong.

On Sunday morning at eleven o'clock an open-air united service will be held at the Exhibition Grounds.

KIDNAPPERS TO BE BEHIND BARS FOR LONG TIME

Eight Members of "Snatch" Gang Sentenced to 28 to 77 Years for 1933 Abduction of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany.

Binghamton, N.Y., Aug. 13.—Eight men federal agents said are members of the "last organized kidnap ring" in the United States today faced prison sentences of from twenty-eight to seventy-seven years for the 1933 abduction of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany, N.Y., released after being held for $40,000 ransom.

Convicted by a federal jury after less than three hours of deliberation on eleven weeks of testimony, the eight men, securely shackled to each other, paled visibly as the verdict—"guilty on the charges"—was spoken.

A few minutes later, Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant pronounced sentence on Lanning Sawol, 35, John Oley, 35, and Peter Gray, 37, of Albany, and Charles Harrison, 37, Thomas Dugan, 35, George Garkul, 31, John McGloin, 34, and Harold Crowley, 21 of New York City.

The fate of two other confessed participants in the crime, Frank Fischer, 53, and Thomas Burke, 50, guards, at the Hoboken, N.J., hide-out where O'Connell was held prisoner for twenty-three days, rested with Judge Bryant. He planned to sentence them today.

LENOXVILLE

Miss Dorothy Bennett, of Marlinton, whose marriage takes place shortly, was the guest of honor at a charming miscellaneous shower given by Miss Gladys Christison, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Bruce Clarke, of Sherbrooke, at the former's home on Clough Avenue. Bridge was played at two tables, the prizes being won by Miss L. Brundage, and Miss Ruth Pevey. Later the beautiful and useful gifts were presented to Miss Bennett on an attractively decorated tray, the presentation being made by Miss Christison, on behalf of those present, who added their best wishes to those extended to the guest of honor by the hostess. A dainty lunch was served by Miss Christison and Mrs. Clarke, with Miss L. Brundage pouring coffee. A lovely bouquet of pink and white flowers adorned the table.

THE FAIRY TALE PARADE

The above pictures show sections of the mammoth parade as it wended its way through the streets of festive Sherbrooke.

LAISSEZ FAIRE POLICY URGED ON NEUTRALITY

Kamouraska M. P. Believes that Question of Canadian Participation in Empire Wars Should Be Left Until Need Arises.

Lake Couchiching, Ont., August 13.—Delegates to the sixth annual meeting of the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics held the seventh day of deliberations today after a round of discussion on Canada's position in the event of war involving the United Kingdom.

In the opinion of Georges Bouchard, member of Parliament for Kamouraska, Que., expressed during yesterday's meeting, the Dominion should allow the question to rest until war actually came. He suggested it would be "far better to adopt a policy of laissez-faire on this question until the crisis occurs."

ing lively discussion caused by an address of D'Arcy March, editorial writer for the Hamilton Spectator, who said that as long as Canada is part of the British Empire it would be the natural thing for Canadians to fight for it. Men of peace change quickly to men of war when the occasion suits, Mr. March said.

Mr. Bouchard maintained that it would be better for Canada to emphasize the present necessity to support her own protection. "You are taking the risk of disrupting Canadian life by raising this question (Canada's position in the event of war) now," he said "if you put the two issues before the public, you prejudice one."

Describing what he said was the swift change in men's attitude toward war, Mr. March said that a year ago such men as J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, would have made it a crime for Canadians to fight in foreign wars. Now, he added, they were championing the right of individual Canadians to enlist in the cause of the government in the Spanish civil war.

The Canadian west is against war, P. J. Rowe, Social Credit Member of Parliament for Athabasca, told the forum. "There is a determination in the west not to become entangled in outside issues and wars abroad," he said. He added that if a vote were taken, ninety-nine per cent. of the common people of the world would be against war "under any circumstances."

Discussing the economic and political outlook of the west, George V. Ferguson, managing editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, told the conference national policies in Canada have favored the industrial east over the wheat-raising west. Western Canada was settled hurriedly for national reasons, he said, the chief being to head off United States expansion in the north-west. Western governments had not been extravagant, said Mr. Ferguson, when judged by standards of public expenditure in the east. Westerners were the victims of a peculiar single-crop economy and of climatic conditions. Abandonment of wheat growing as the major crop was not practical. There was nothing else for the farmer.

FINAL OBSEQUIES OF REV. FATHER E. GAUTHIER

A large and representative gathering of the clergy from the Sherbrooke diocese, St. Hyacinthe and Montreal attended the funeral service of the Reverend Father Emile Gauthier, held in St. Charles Seminary chapel yesterday. Representatives of the religious communities of the city and many former and present pupils of the Seminary were also in attendance to pay a last tribute to a highly esteemed priest and teacher. The Vicar-General, Monsignor J. E. M. Vincent, officiated, and was attended by the Rev. C. E. Chartier and Rev. Alde Fontaine. The choir, composed of students of the college, was under the direction of Rev. Antonio Bernier and music was rendered by J. H. Lemay at the organ. The remains were laid to rest in the crypt of the Cathedral.

ART EXHIBIT AT ST. CHARLES COLLEGE

The salon of St. Charles-Borromeo College was on fete last evening, the occasion being the opening of the Exposition of Domestic Arts from the school in Quebec City. This fine exhibit was under the auspices of the centenary committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

There was a good variety of subjects displayed, wood carving, pottery, furniture designs and construction, hooked rugs and tapestries, and homespun, both in wool and cotton. Each piece was perfect in its own genre, and one was amazed at the beauty of color and design shown in the humble "drawn rug."

The piece de resistance of the exhibit was a huge tapestry, six feet by nine, which was suspended on the wall of the salon. Its subject was "The Landing of Jacques Cartier," and it was an exact copy of that famous picture by Cassin Cote, now in the Provincial Museum in Quebec City. It was done by "hook-

RAIN BROUGHT RESPITE FROM INTENSE HEAT

Great Benefit Expected to Accrue to Farm Crops as Result of Last Night's Heavy Downpour.

The oppressive heat wave has been broken. For the past two or three days the fall of rain has been heavy, yet until last evening had no effect on the sultry weather and high humidity.

It really rained last night. The deluge forced the premature conclusion of the second presentation of the historical pageant in the new amphitheatre on the Exhibition Grounds, and made it difficult for authorities to handle the heavy traffic occasioned by the celebration.

There were several flashes of lightning and claps of thunder, but it was not a severe electrical storm.

Farmers in the Eastern Townships welcomed the rainfall. True, the corn crop was slightly damaged, but the general effect of the rain, promising as it does a period of good growing weather will be beneficial.

Garden crops which were in danger of being scorched received welcome relief and will grow quickly during the next few days.

Officials at the Experimental Farm report that .02 inches of precipitation fell in last night's cloudburst.

"QUINTS" ARE READY TO RESUME ROUTINE

After Being Separated this Week Due to Irritability Caused by Slight Colds, the Wonder Children Will Again Appear for Tourists.

Callander, Ont., Aug. 13.—Outbursts of quarrelling led to the Dionne quintuplets being separated from each other as much as possible this week. Dr. Allan Roy D'Arcy disclosed today as he prepared to put the quints back into circulation.

The physician was to decide whether their slight colds and irritability had been subdued enough for them to appear before the thousands of tourists who have clamored since Monday for a sight of them.

Honors For The Marquis Of Willingdon.

Report from England that the Marquis of Willingdon, former Governor-General of Canada, might be made a Knight of the Garter will be received with general acclaim throughout Canada.

As Viscount Willingdon he ably served his Sovereign as Governor-General of this Dominion, his term of office establishing him as one of the most outstanding representatives of the King of Canada has ever had.

In his work in Canada, as elsewhere throughout the Empire, he was ably assisted by his gracious wife. When Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon left these shores the Canadian people felt they were losing real friends.

Since the days they occupied Rideau Hall, the Willingdons have never lost interest in Canada but have ever shown themselves ready and anxious to be of service to the Dominion whenever the opportunity presented itself.

After leaving Canada Viscount Willingdon went to India as Viceroy, and was raised to the rank of an Earl. Upon his return from India last year he was created a Marquis, which is only one rank below a Duke.

Further honors for the Marquis of Willingdon would be worthy recognition for his great service to the Empire.

In the joy which such recognition has caused throughout Canada no section of the country would be prouder than would the Eastern Townships. As Governor-General, the Marquis of Willingdon visited Sherbrooke and also passed through a number of towns throughout the Townships. Everywhere he and his wife were acclaimed by the people of this section of Quebec Province, who would rejoice in any further honor which His Majesty might be pleased to confer upon them.

Still Swimming The Channel.

A news item announced the first conquest by a swimmer this year—quite possibly it will be the only one—of that cold and baffling stretch of water between France and England. Last year there was no attempt on the Channel. The person who accomplished this feat is Thomas Blower, a Nottingham factory worker. He swam through strong tides and cross currents from Cape Gris Nez to a landing near Dover in the time of thirteen hours and twenty-nine minutes. It was good time, below the times of most previous conquerors, but considerably short of the record.

All told, thirteen men and nine women have now endured the chill and fatigue of thrashing their way through the cold and tricky waters of the English Channel long enough to cross from shore to shore. Numerous others have tried and failed. Most of these crossings have been from France to England. The first to succeed was the famed Captain Webb, who swam from Dover Sands to Sangatte Beach, France, in 1875. The Channel defeated all efforts from then until 1911 when Thomas Burgess performed the wearying feat, crossing from Dover Admiralty Pier to Cape Gris Nez. During the twenties a series of swimmers succeeded in ploughing their way across. The greatest onslaught was in the two successive years of 1926 and 1927; no fewer than five in the former year and four in the latter being successful. Only one person, E. H. Temme, a London insurance clerk, when he made his first attempt, has crossed in both directions. As the records show, the Channel swim is one of the sternest tests of strength, endurance and courage for swimmers. It is no longer big front-page news. But in spite of that fact and in spite of all the failures, there are evidently still those ambitious to try it and hopeful of succeeding and possibly lowering the record.

Rejoicing In Jarrow.

Of all the towns in England, which, in recent years, have been afflicted by long and heavy unemployment, Jarrow, where the great shipyard which was practically its only industry was closed, has attracted most public attention, partly because of the unusual severity of its plight, and partly, it may be, because of its ancient origin and associations with the father of English history, the Venerable Bede.

Many efforts have been made to rehabilitate the town, in particular by Sir John Jarvis, the former High Sheriff of Surrey. Now it appears that at long last the back of the Jarrow unemployment problem may be broken and there is great rejoicing. According to Industrial Britain, arrangements have been made to form a company with a capital of £1,000,000 to build and operate a plant for the manufacture and rolling of steel at Jarrow. The conclusion of this arrangement has been made possible by an agreement with the Government to provide a loan, and by the participation of the Bankers' Industrial Development Company, the Nuffield Trustees and the Consett Iron Company.

The Bankers' Industrial Development Company was formed some years ago under the auspices of the Bank of England, with the object of giving financial assistance to heavy industry. The Nuffield Trust was recently founded by Lord Nuffield, the motor-car manufacturer, and was provided with funds to aid the Special Areas.

It is estimated that several hundred workpeople will be employed. The plant will, it is believed, be run in close conjunction with the Consett works, some twenty miles away, of the Consett Iron Company.

Industrial Britain also announces that the largest and most up-to-date factory in the world for the manufacture of cereal products, to cost approximately £1,000,000, is being built by the Kellogg Company of Great Britain, on the banks of the Manchester Ship Canal in Stretford, which adjoins Manchester. This factory will be used to supply the firm's products throughout Europe. It is hoped to complete the factory by February next. Work will be found for between three and four thousand employees, most of whom will be women and girls.

Britain is still doing things in a big way.

THE BUSY LIFE.

The busy life is happier far Than that of idleness and ease; Though sweet the joys of comfort are They swiftly lose their power to please, A goal to gain; a task to do; Some useful purpose while we live, Whether the skies be grey or blue, Holds thrills that nothing else can give.

For what has comfort to bestow To equal that high sense of pride Of those who suffer many a blow Refusing to be thrust aside? Beset by all the odds of doubt And fearing much but braving all, Men choose to work their problems out And earn their glory, great and small.

And what has pleasure to compare With that delight of doing things, That sense of satisfaction rare Which every hard achievement brings? Though weariness may cause a sigh And heavy may the burdens be, When the dark days have all gone by The sweeter is the victory.

TRANSIENTS ON FREIGHT TRAINS

(Editorial in the Peterboro Examiner.) Occasionally the statement is made that times are so much better that we no longer have transients riding around the country on freight cars. It is significant that when a freight train was wrecked 97 miles from Sudbury eight transients were killed and a similar number injured.

The Examiner was informed by a transient who visited this office only a few days ago that virtually all the men "on the road" used the idea of trying to get rides on freight cars. It is significant that when a freight train was wrecked 97 miles from Sudbury eight transients were killed and a similar number injured.

Our informant apparently knew what he was talking about as he had just made his way from Winnipeg, stopping for a day or so at North Bay. From there he had found little trouble making his way to Orillia, then to Lindsay and on to Peterborough. Leaving Winnipeg he said there were ten or twelve free riders on the freight train.

Asked if he had inquired at the employment office here to see if there was work available our visitor replied in the negative. He was at least honest about it, and said he was not particular whether he worked or not. He had been on the road four years and was certain to find some person he knew in every place he visited. He also admitted he had a pretty good idea of the best places to call in every community. There were always people who were ready to provide the price of a meal. The frankness of the visitor was almost refreshing as he said he had taken $2.20 in Peterborough in one morning's "hardwork."

By hard work he meant persistent calling and touching people in offices and on the street. Occasionally the police in some place got after him, but his experience was it was rather difficult for the "cops" to tie a charge of begging on the transient who knew his business. If there was anything done about it then it would be a night in the police cells and a warning to get out of town next morning. This man was born in Owen Sound, but he has no relatives there now. He said he was thirty-four years of age and had never even had a cold since taking to the road. But as far as taking to work he was not the least interested. As long as there are people ready to put their hands in the pocket at his approach he will keep on being a tramp and a bum.

NO TIME FOR IMMIGRATION.

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The encouragement of immigration and land settlement is still advocated by Brigadier-General Hornby and some others, but any consideration given to the question now by the Dominion Government must obviously be affected by the disastrous drought with which the prairie country is still afflicted, resulting in the migration of many thousands of farmers from the southern to northern areas—to the parts where new settlers would naturally go. And millions of dollars will again be needed for drought relief. What government could be expected to give any assistance to an immigration movement under these circumstances, when it would be sure to meet with public disapproval?

WILFUL WASTE

(Halifax Chronicle.)

Brazil continues its coffee destruction policy. In the last half of June no less than 1,052,000 bags (132 lbs each) went up in smoke, the total for June being more than 1,820,000 bags. Is more coffee produced than could be used? Not at all. Could more markets be found for the product? Undoubtedly. Why then is it destroyed? The answer is to keep the price up. It is not the first time foodstuffs have been destroyed to pander to man's greed nor will it be the last. People are not so wise as they seem. The contract for a day of awful reckoning. There is an old adage which goes "wilful waste brings wealth want" and it will be surprising if nature does not make it work out.

SLOT MACHINE CHANCES

(Amherstburg Echo.)

Hugh Templin of the Fergus News-Record, tells us that he has been investigating slot machines, not with his own cash but watching other people gamble with theirs. In the course of four hours continuous play he saw a machine take in $144 and give back considerably less than one-third of that amount. In other words the owner made $100 profit on the evening. One player was out $17. And yet there are people foolish enough to think they can beat a machine cleverly designed to strip its victims of their cash.

OUR LITTLE WORLD

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Astronomers at the Harvard University observatory in South Africa have computed that within the known cosmos there are two thousand million island universes, containing among them no less than six hundred million quadrillions of stars. That may be set down in figures as a six followed by twenty-six ciphers. Each of these myriads of stars is the centre of its own system of planets and satellites. Compared to all that, earth is but a fleck of dust in a sunbeam.

POOR OPINION OF DIRECT RELIEF

(Le Soleil, Quebec)

Will this anomaly in our social life soon disappear? The Ministry of Labor is working upon it and, already, several municipalities have abolished all aid to unemployed able to work. Several important cities in the Montreal district have dropped direct relief, although the Metropolis itself has not as yet changed its system.

A recent announcement from the Ministry of Labor stated that such important cities as Valleyfield, Chicoutimi, and others have also undertaken to assist the unemployed by finding work for them and within the next few months several cities in the province will have followed their example.

What about Quebec? Our municipal finances are in a bad state, it is well known, and that does not simplify the problem. This is no reason to ignore the problem; it exists whether or not we wish it. Direct relief has contributed to the debility of our finances, it is well known again; but if we continue to pay it, it will continue to the utter ruin of our financial position.

L'Evenement remarked the other day that public works, whose cost is incorporated in the heavy municipal debt which we all deplore, have at least led to the city an asset from which we all benefit.

Direct relief has left nothing. It will leave nothing but social disorder if we continue to pay it. Deficit for deficit, is it not better to spend usefully?

UPHOLDS RUMANIAN COURTS

(Le Nouvelliste, Three Rivers)

A highly unusual court case recently occurred in Rumania in which the Judge on the Bench, in our opinion, rendered a "Solomon's judgment." Police, upon request, compiled a list of people believed to have been guilty of having taken wood from Crown Lands. The authorities, in verifying the list, discovered among the names that of a woman who had died almost a year before.

When the trial came up for hearing there were ten witnesses, consisting of seven citizens and three policemen, ready to bear testimony against the accused. The Magistrate carefully had each witness confirm that he had actually seen all the persons designated stealing the wood and each one of the ten promptly swore in open court as to the accuracy of their evidence.

The Judge then acquitted all the accused, on grounds that false evidence had been delivered against them in view of the fact that one of the alleged criminals had been dead for over eight months, but—inasmuch as the witnesses were concerned—they received sentences of four and six months, for giving false testimony under oath in a regular law court.

SEES SOME GOOD IN TAX SITUATION

(L'Evenement, Quebec)

It is interesting to note that in spite of undeniable extravagances, exaggerated expropriations, and all sorts of railway and municipal treasury, Montreal is in a better position than many other towns of the country, including Quebec.

Official statistics prove this. Thus, working out the incidence of taxation per head of population we obtain the following comparisons: Montreal, $36.77; Toronto, $55.65; Vancouver, $44.09; Winnipeg, $42.08; Hamilton, $45.97; Ottawa, $45.56; Edmonton, $45.85; Regina, $45.60.

If Mayor Raymond were at Quebec perhaps he would complain, too, that the taxpayer is carrying a burden of $5.67 per $100 of valuation and a debt of $279 per head.

What request municipalities of the province to pass by-laws requiring more careful and effective washing of glasses, dishes and other utensils in beverage rooms, restaurants and all other refreshment places. It is suggested that a strong solution of chlorine be used. The reason for these precautions is that in bacterial tests the germs of streptococcus and staphylococcus have been found on glasses and dishes in beverage rooms and restaurants.

The situation is not as alarming as might be imagined since these organisms are found on almost every article that human beings touch and are common in the mouths and throats and on the hands of practically everyone. They do not get a chance to cause trouble if reasonable cleanliness is practiced. That is why health authorities strive to impress on the public the necessity for thorough washing of the hands and face at every opportunity using soap which is one of the best germicides known. Brushing the teeth and gargling the throat with some recognized chemical wash is another safeguard recommended to keep the germs from checking in. In this province there have been numerous cases of streptococcus poisoning of mysterious origin but it may be presumed that the sufferers were the victims of lax methods in the preparation of food or negligence in the cleaning of glasses or dishes.

The situation ought to be the subject of intensive consideration in all places of public entertainment to insure that glasses, dishes and tableware are thoroughly washed and dried after use. Proprietors of beverage rooms, restaurants and hotels cannot afford to have public suspicion of their standards of cleanliness yet it is known that certain classes of help in these places have no conception of their responsibilities in the matter of cleanliness. In some places the evidence of this indifference is not disguised. It is desirable that the department of health should take adequate steps to protect the public from disease infection where it is obvious that such can arise from the carelessness and indifference of those employed in public places.

Interesting Views Of Early Sherbrooke

Among all the decorated premises in the city at this time of the Centennial celebration, one of the least pretentious but most interesting, historically speaking, is the Sherbrooke Public Library on Strathcona Square. In the library's window is a collection of old photographs which is attracting much attention. Other photographs may be seen inside the library and these will later be put in the window in place of those presently there.

Gracing the centre of the window is a small portrait of Sir John Coape Sherbrooke, showing him as he was in 1796, some twenty years before, as Governor of Canada, he visited the little town which, in his honor, took the name of Sherbrooke.

One of the pictures is the old sketch of the town made in 1834 by C. B. Felton, which was reproduced in the special Centennial edition of the Record, and fully described in an article in that issue.

Mr. Felton, the artist, who was prothonotary of the local court, was evidently bent on advertising Sherbrooke's water power and must have been one of the village's first "boosters," for in his sketch he shows a huge cloud on the horizon and asserts in a note that this is the mist at the head of the falls of the Magog River, a quarter of a mile from where that river meets the St. Francis.

The artist saw mill of Hon. W. B. Foy would appear to be the first industrial establishment in town and the fore-runner of today's large and diversified factories. It was on the north bank of the Magog river about where the Southern Canada Power house now stands. The only other approach to an industry was a small charcoal kiln owned by the blacksmith, William Walker, part way up Marquette hill. But that Sherbrooke was a growing town is indicated in that, of its sparse population, no fewer than three were carpenters. But why should there have been as many as four shoemakers for such a populace? Probably they catered to farmers throughout a large territory, as well as to the villagers.

Another of Mr. Felton's old sketches is of the little village of Lennoxville, made in 1832. So far as can be seen from this sketch, the village at that time consisted of one inn, about five houses and a few barns and sheds. Mr. Felton has pointed out the importance of the crossroads by indicating that one road led to Sherbrooke, another to Hatley and Stanstead and a third to Eaton.

Ex-Mayor A. C. Skinner a few years ago presented to the Library an interesting photograph of Commercial Street, now DuFur Avenue, taken about 1864. This shows the old DuFur Avenue bridge, which was replaced by an iron one about 1882 and by the present one in 1922. Unchanged, however, is the Griffith block, still standing at the north end of the bridge. Opposite this block is the old Eastern Townships Bank head office. This structure was later removed to Court Street, where, somewhat altered, it now serves as the barracks of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Further up Commercial Street one sees the spire of Plymouth Church.

Two large groups of scenes in Sherbrooke were issued in 1886 by the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association under the name "Sherbrooke Illustrated." One contains pictures of Mayor William White, father of the present Mr. Justice C. D. White, Chief Robert Davidson, secretary-treasurer W. Griffith, and Councilors F. P. Buck, W. Murray, G. G. Bryant, L. E. Panneton, T. Lemaire and A. G. Lomas. Other scenes include the Sherbrooke Boat-Club on the St. Francis River, the Rock, (where the illuminated cross now stands), Alymer Bridge leading to East Sherbrooke, the Post Office, the Fire Station, the Central and Americal hotels, a view looking up the Magog River showing the Lomas and Paton mills, Bishop's University, Lennoxville, and Hon. M. H. Cochrane's farm at Hillhurst. There is also a full description of the town of that time, over fifty years ago.

The other group contains photographs of the officers of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, in 1886, R. N. Hall, president; R. H. Pope, (now Senator Pope), secretary-treasurer, and R. H. Tylee, vice-president. Other photographs are of the various schools, churches, mills and banks of the day, as well as a number of the finest residences, most of which, under new owners, are still standing.

Another large picture contains a group of winter and summer scenes in and around Sherbrooke, most of them unchanged today, while a smaller one shows the early buildings and industrial works along the shores of the Magog River, from the Dufferin Avenue bridge to the St. Francis River.

The final group contains three very old pictures of Sherbrooke, taken approximately one hundred years ago. One is of the first mills built here by the British American Land Company, another is of the Dufferin Avenue (then Commercial Street) bridge looking north, and the third is of the same bridge looking south and showing, in the distance, the old covered Alymer bridge leading to East Sherbrooke.

PARIS EXPERTS O.K. SHORT SKIRTS AGAIN

Evening Dresses Stress Slender, Straight Lines Without Belts and Emphasize the Bust.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The modern silhouette for evening wear was shied down to a pencil-like straight line today by fashion designers who indicated a vogue for short skirts was definitely in again.

Evening dresses stressed slender straight lines without belts and emphasized the bust. There were some dresses, however, that clung to the romantic tradition and showed width through the hips with a hobble hem.

Even suggestions of the bustle were seen in 1880 styles with Victorian necklines, and there was one dress with a hoop skirt that harked back to 1850.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH TO HAVE NEW PARISH ROOM

At a recent special meeting of the vestry of St. Paul's Church it was unanimously decided to act upon a plan to make over part of the basement to be used as a parish room.

This was submitted by a committee of which Messrs. J. H. Saunders, F. Fisher and F. W. Barber were members, and was made possible through the interest shown in their home parish by former residents of Bury.

This outside committee of which Mr. Carl Ross, of Sherbrooke, is chairman, and Mr. Howard Barber, of Cookshire, is treasurer, have raised a fund for the purpose.

The work is now going forward with Mr. Roy D. Young supervising the work and Mr. Gilbert Ross in charge of the foundation.

It is now 102 years since Bishop Mountain, Third Bishop of Quebec, made the first Episcopal visit to Bury and held service, and when the parish room is completed in a few weeks' time it is planned to celebrate both events with appropriate services.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

"FOOLPROOF" HAND IS LOSER

Declarer Ignores Safety Play Guarding Against Opponent's Long Suit, Two Aces in One Hand

By Wm. E. McKenney, Secretary, American Bridge League.

A good bridge player takes just as few chances as possible. In fact, most of the so-called expert plays are based on the elimination of chance, the basic reason being to provide some sort of insurance against the unfavorable breaks that are always popping up to spoil the bridge player's enjoyment.

Today's hand presents an unusual safety play, and yet one that is perfectly sound, as a little study will show. Declarer apparently has a "fool-proof" hand, as there are five hearts and spades tricks and surely at least four more can be developed in the minor suits.

South's opening bid of three no trump is probably as good as any available. He appears to have eight tricks sure, and nine required only the driving out of the two minor suit aces.

If North holds these cards, he will not be precluded from further bidding, and if he does not then a slam cannot be made.

The hand appeared a cinch when the dummy went down. South saw no reason for holding up and went right up with the king, and led a low diamond. West won with ace, and returned the queen of hearts.

Now South saw the safe game go glimmering. He won the heart return with the ace, cashed three diamonds, and his spades, but then was forced to let West in with the club ace and thus lost his contract.

A simple safety play was available to him on the first lead. He should have let East hold the first trick, to guard against a long heart suit with both aces in the same hand.

Had he done that he would have fulfilled his contract with one over-trick without risking anything whatever. If East, after winning the heart lead, could return a heart, then West could not hold more than four cards in the suit.

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South is playing the contract at five clubs. He has at least one diamond loser and one or more trump losers. If East holds the ace, queen and nine of clubs, can South hold his trump loss to one trick?

BOB COHEN AND MOGE LED HOME TEAM TO WIN

Clouting by "Belting Bob" and Bill Moge Responsible for All Sherbrooke Runs as Sorel Went Under Four to Two—Lee Allowed but Five Hits.

Led by "Belting Bob" Cohen and Bill Moge, Sherbrooke's pennant-hungry ball-tossers turned back a Sorel invasion by four to two in their Provincial Baseball League game on the local diamond last night.

The Cohen-Moge combine was responsible for all the Sherbrooke runs. The first sack's attempted sacrifice which went for a hit bringing Johnny Crowley home with the first marker, while Moge's sharp single with Ploski and Cohen on base gave the locals a three-run lead in the first inning, a lead which they never relinquished.

Cohen and Moge got together again in the third frame and presented the home team with the fourth marker, "Belting Bob" smashing his triple and scoring when the third baseman fled out to Sims in left field.

Both Sorel scores were produced in the seventh. Brawand was issued a free ticket to first, went to second when Gibo got his second hit in three times up, and scored when Chew let one of Lee's pitches get away from him.

Lee fanned three and walked four while Gibo whiffed six and walked three. Tomorrow afternoon the locals clash in an exhibition game with the Berlin, N.H., squad and on Sunday afternoon take on the Granby Red Sox, both tilts at the Exhibition Grounds.

BOTH CUBS AND GIANTS ON SHORT END OF SCORES

Victories Chalked Up by Pirates and Bees Yesterday Tightened Up National League Pennant Race—Yanks Split Double Bill with Red Sox.

It's lucky for the National League that the Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Bees know something about vaudeville.

From that extinct brand of entertainment, the Cubs and Bees borrowed the "stoogie" idea, and, giving it a little different twist, have put the "Indian sign" on Chicago's National League-leading Cubs and the second-place New York Giants, respectively.

For picking on these two outfits as their favorite stooges, the Cubs and Bees ought to be voted a World Series cut by whatever team wins the pennant—providing, of course, it's neither the Cubs nor Giants.

The Pirates left apart at the merest mention of the Giants, but whenever they tangle with the Cubs they usually wind up in the driver's seat. Yesterday, they came through with their eighth decision in fourteen starts against the Cubs this year by knocking the ears off four hitters for a sixteen to six victory.

As a result, the Yankees are coasting along on an eleven and a half game lead in the American League, the Cubs' edge isn't nearly so secure at six and a half games in the rival circuit, and the Giants are limping in second place by only two and a half games over the come-backing Cardinals.
