

United States Seeking Fresh Seaways Pact

Draft Treaty Submitted to Canadian Government Seeks to Realize Full Possibilities for Power and Navigation on St. Lawrence and Great Lakes — Special Concessions Sought to Remove Objections of Ontario Government.

Ottawa, June 1.—(P)—Realization of the full possibilities for power and navigation development in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin is planned in a draft treaty presented to the Canadian Government by the United States administration.

It is the latest in a long series of attempts by President Roosevelt and State Secretary Hull to bring the two countries together in development of their common power resources and the building of a seaway that would bring ocean-going vessels to the mid-west.

The treaty envisions provision for a twenty-seven-foot deep seaway from the Atlantic to the head of the lakes by December 31st, 1949. It attempts to sweep aside opposition from the Ontario Government by concessions to Premier Hepburn. It would erase boundaries by setting up a ten-man joint commission to develop plans and advise the two governments on a building programme.

The draft treaty was tabled in the House of Commons last night with only a few remarks from Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He gave no indication of the attitude of the Canadian Government toward it. In Toronto, Premier Hepburn, who has shared honors with the United States Senate in opposition to the St. Lawrence development, said he saw no sound reason for building the waterway. It would have to be justified economically before his Government would agree to it.

Briefly, the treaty highlights are: A 27-foot seaway to be built from the ocean to the head of the lakes, work to start as soon as possible, Canada undertaking to provide the bulk of the cost in the international section from just east of Cornwall, Ont., to near Prescott.

The United States would remove its objection to export of power from Ontario and diversion of water from Long Lac and Ogoki rivers into Lake Superior. Ontario would get the benefit of that diverted water in power development at Sault Ste. Marie, Niagara and in the international section.

Ontario would be empowered to postpone development in the international section until there was a demand for the power in Ontario. The United States could start development on its side of the river at once.

Beautification of Niagara Falls would be carried out by a provision for an unbroken crest at both the American and Canadian falls. Cost to the United States would be approximately $243,661,000 and to Canada about $38,071,000, Canada having already paid approximately $128,000,000 for the Welland Canal. It would be paid $67,000,000 by Ontario, it is estimated, for the power that province would gain.

The new treaty combines in altered form the provisions of the St. Lawrence treaty of 1932 and the Niagara Beautification Convention of 1929, both rejected by the United States Senate. The 1932 Treaty was never considered by the Canadian.

British Press Little Surprised At Government Conscriptio Proposals

Parliamentary Circles Believe that Premier Is Unlikely to Provide Opportunity for Full-Dress Debate on Declarations of Co-ordination Defence Minister.

London, June 1.—(P)—The press showed little surprise today in commenting on indications the Government plans conscription immediately in the event of war. Parliamentary circles did not expect Prime Minister Chamberlain to make a detailed statement in the House of Commons today. While it was considered possible that a full-dress debate might be held Friday, before adjournment for the Whitsuntide holidays, it was felt Mr. Chamberlain would prefer to limit public discussion.

"Will there be conscription or not if war breaks out?" asked the Daily Express (Independent), saying Mr.

Senate Conferees Declare that Interests of Small United States Business Men Will Be Considered Under Hour-Wage Regulations.

Washington, June 1.—(P)—"Little business" won assurances from United States Senate conferees today that they would fight for elastic wage-hour standards in order to protect its interests.

Senators Thomas, (Democrat, Utah), Walsh, (Democrat, Massachusetts), and Pepper, (Democrat, Florida), said many small merchants and manufacturers had declared they could not continue to operate if they had to provide the same minimum wages and maximum hours as larger firms.

Varied Opinions Registered During Padlock Law Debate

While C.C.F. Members Demand that Federal Government Disallow Quebec Legislation Against Communists, Ontario Liberal Member Urges It Be Extended to Cover All "Un-Canadian" Political Movements—Vancouver "Relief Strike" Debated.

Ottawa, June 1.—(P)—Opposition hammering at the Government for failure to act decisively in the Vancouver transient labor situation and in dealing with the Quebec Padlock Law were before the Mackenzie King administration today. They were brought out in a day of varied discussion in the House.

Another feature yesterday was the bolting of six Liberal members who voted in support of a bill to restrict Oriental immigration which the Government defeated by eighty-seven to thirty-nine, assisted by two C.C.F. and one Independent member. The bill was sponsored by A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni.

Some progress was made in spite of lengthy debates on these matters. Finance Minister Dunning obtained approval of the resolution on which he based a bill authorizing the Government to lend $30,000,000 at two per cent. interest to municipalities on self-liquidating projects.

An Act respecting radio in Canada, modernizing the old Radio-Telegraph Act, was passed through all stages, after some amendments to meet Conservative objections.

ALEXANDER RUSSELL PIONEER THETFORD RESIDENT DEAD

Thetford Mines, Que., June 1.—(P)—Alexander Russell, eighty-one years old, one of the pioneer settlers of this Mesozoic mining town died yesterday after a short illness.

CONCENTRATE SEARCH FOR MISSING PLANE

Zeballos, B.C., June 1.—(P)—Search for a Ginger Cote Airways seaplane missing with four persons aboard since Friday was concentrated today along a 100-mile strip of shoreline between Barclay Sound and Nootka Sound on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

A dozen aviators who turned this little mining community into the busiest centre of aerial traffic in British Columbia were spurred in their hunt by fresh reports that a yellow machine like the one flown by twenty-five-year-old Pilot Len Waag had been sighted in that area around noon Friday, when it was due here on a flight from Vancouver.

UNDERTAKE LARGE SCALE AERIAL TROOP MOVEMENT

London, June 1.—(P)—Looking ahead to what it may have to do in the next war, the army today made its first experiment in large scale aerial transport of men. Thirty Royal Air Force planes, each carrying twenty to twenty-four men, took the First Battalion of the Coldstream Guards the 233 miles from Odiham near Basingstoke to Chatterick Camp, Yorkshire. Each time strength of a battalion is 711 officers and men.

CHILD BELIEVED VICTIM OF SEX FIEND

Atlantic City, June 1.—(P)—The mutilated body of six year old Sara Marie Jones, negro, was found stuffed in a fruit basket with a batch of old newspapers in an alley back of her home yesterday. The child had been missing since yesterday afternoon. Dr. I. E. Leonard expressed belief a sex fiend had killed the child by strangulation.

HAND TO HAND FIGHTING FOR OLD VALENCIA

Battle for Temporary Loyalist Capital of Spain Assumes Proportions Equal to Any During Civil War.

Hendaye, June 1.—(P)—Insurgents scaled precipitous mountains on the front east of Teruel today, fighting hand to hand with Government militiamen in a general offensive aimed at the capture of Valencia.

On land and in the air, the fighting in this new drive by General Franco's army assumed proportions equal in severity to any in the nearly two years old civil war.

His warplanes pounded cities and concentrations on the eastern coast while the full power of his infantry, cavalry and artillery slowly dislodged Government troops from their bridling positions north of the highway that reaches from Teruel to Sagunto and Valencia.

Reports reaching the frontier said the death toll from yesterday's insurgent bombing of Granollers, sixteen miles north of Barcelona, would reach more than five hundred. Many other hundreds were injured.

Death Concludes Long Career Of Noted Richmond Minister

Richmond, June 1.—Rev. Hugh C. Sutherland, B.D., D.D., superannuated United Church minister, died suddenly at his residence here last evening after an illness of but a few days' duration. He was in his seventy-fifth year. Dr. Sutherland had been in his usual health until last Saturday, when he contracted a cold which settled on his lungs.

The illness being of a light nature, it was thought that Dr. Sutherland would soon be able to return to his duties. As late as last evening the attending physician had found Dr. Sutherland's condition favorable, but after the physician had left, Dr. Sutherland collapsed and passed away.

Dr. Sutherland was superannuated in 1934 and came here from L'Orignal, Ont., where he had been minister of the United Church of Hawkesbury-L'Orignal congregation for many years.

Since coming to Richmond, Dr. Sutherland had taken an active interest in municipal affairs. He was widely experienced in educational matters and was a valued member of the school commission of St. Francis College at the time of his death.

He had been interested in mineralogy for many years and last winter had been sighted in that area around noon Friday, when it was due here on a flight from Vancouver.

NEW CHAMPION DISSENTER IN SUPREME COURT

Justice James C. McReynolds Replaces Justice Hugo L. Black as Opposition Leader in United States Court.

Washington, June 1.—(P)—Justice Hugo L. Black has drawn frequent headlines for his dissenting opinions in the Supreme Court team just ended, but the title of the year's chief dissenter has been quietly won by Justice James C. McReynolds.

During the eight months' session which closed yesterday, Black entered dissents in sixteen cases, in twelve of which he stood alone. McReynolds, however, dissented twenty-eight times, including five solitary opinions.

Justice Pierce putler also out-ranked Black with twenty-one dissents, in all of which he was joined by at least one associate—usually McReynolds. The two are the justices whom administration officials term conservative.

In contrast, Chief Justice Hughes went through the entire session without a dissent.

Black ended his first term yesterday by disagreeing with his colleague's refusal to consider their decision condemning Agriculture Secretary Wallace's procedure in ordering lower charges by commission men at the Kansas City stockyards.

Refuse To Return Kidnapped Child Although Ransom Paid

Parents of Youngster Restrain Vast Manhunt in Desperate Hope that Kidnappers Who Took Five-Year-Old Florida Boy Will Return Him by Nightfall—Thousands of Men and Boys Prepared to Scour Countryside for Missing Boy.

Princeton, Fla., June 1.—(P)—Parents of James Bailey Cash, Jr., restrained a vast manhunt today in desperate hope that kidnappers who snatched the five-year-old boy Saturday night and collected $10,000 ransom might still return him alive.

Indications were, however, that if the abductors failed to take advantage of deserted streets and withdrawal of the authorities, national guardsmen and veterans, 1,600 Boy Scouts and virtually every farmer in the community would take to the countryside in an attempt to find the child, known as "Skeegie."

ENGINEER HELD FEAR OF POWER SHORTAGE

Toronto, June 1.—(P)—Dr. T. H. Hogg, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, early in 1937 was of the opinion that without additional supplies of power the Commission faced power shortage within two years. At that time Dr. Hogg was Chief engineer of the Commission.

A confidential letter from Dr. Hogg to Premier Hepburn, expressing the Chief Engineer's personal views on the existing power situation, was read into the records of a Special Legislative Committee yesterday. The recommendation was "purely personal," it said, and was made at the request of Hon. H. C. Nixon, acting Premier at the time.

PRESS CONCILIATION IN JAMAICA STRIKE

Kingston, Jamaica, June 1.—(CP-Cable)—Jamaica officials and labor leaders alike worked today to conciliate the island's striking workers as minor riots and looting broke out anew in several districts.

Governor Sir Edward Denham was under treatment for a slight stomach ailment but the work of conciliation went on under the leadership of Alexander Bustamante, generally-recognized leader of the island's workers, and Norman Manley, K.C., eminent Jamaica lawyer.

TARPON SWAMPED FISHERMAN

St. Petersburg, Fla., June 1.—(P)—A ninety pound tarpon with a nasty disposition turned the tables on fisherman S. L. Walker of Passaic-Grille. Hooked in the gulf south of here, fishermen said the big "sil-ver-king" flung itself aboard Walker's boat and smacked him into the water with its tail. While Walker floundered in the gulf, Keith Neville, former Governor of Nebraska, subdued the tarpon on the boat deck with a hammer.

QUEBEC RULING APPLICABLE IN ALBERTA COURT

Calgary, June 1.—(P)—A judgment of the Appeal Court of Quebec was quoted in Alberta Supreme Court here yesterday during trial of Carl and Harold Miller, brothers, charged with a $1,700 store burglary.

Wilfrid McKinley, youthful Calgary, serving a two and a half year sentence for participation in the robbery, testified the Miller brothers had "no part in it." Police officers told of finding a new pair of shoes in the Miller home. They were identified by A. E. Jacques, owner of the robbed store, as similar to shoes he sold.

C. E. Smith, Crown prosecutor, opposing an application to have the burglary charge withdrawn, drew Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing's attention to a decision of the Appeal Court of Quebec. It upheld the conviction of a man of a burglary charge when evidence showed he was merely in possession of a card table stolen from a house thirty hours previously.

"They do queer things with the law in Quebec," said T. J. O'Connor, counsel for the brothers.

Mr. Justice Ewing said the original law of the Dominion was uniform and the decision of the Quebec court should be applicable to Alberta courts. He reserved judgment on the application for withdrawal of the burglary charge.

HIGHER INCOME TAX PROPOSED BY COMMUNISTS

"Just, Democratic Fiscal Policy" Outlined Before Royal Commission by Secretary of Communist Party of Canada.

Ottawa, June 1.—(P)—A new public finance set-up in Canada, with a steeply-graded personal income tax as the basis of the Dominion taxation system, is proposed by the Communist party of Canada as the solution to current social and financial maladjustments.

The "just, democratic fiscal policy" outlined before the Rowell Commission by Tim Buck, Communist National Secretary, yesterday envisaged centralization of social services and a corresponding proportion of total taxation, based on the theory of placing the biggest part of the load on those best able to pay.

The plan called for abolition of sales taxes, scaling down public debt interest to three per cent, abolition of all Dominion subsidies and grants, abolition of excise duties on goods of general consumption and of customs duties except where essential to industry.

Succession duties would be exclusively collected by the Dominion, with "an enormous stepping up of rates on the larger estates." Corporation net profits would also be the exclusive tax field of the Dominion, with increased rates.

THREE GERMAN SAILORS AGAIN SEIZED BY LAW

Young Men Who Sought to Escape from German Ship in St. Lawrence Arrested on Island of Orleans.

Quebec, June 1.—(P)—Quebec immigration authorities held today three youthful German sailors who jumped ship at Three Rivers last week, were recaptured and then escaped again Sunday, plunging over the side of the freighter Nienburg into the St. Lawrence river, just below Quebec City, by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The sailors—Ross Mueller, fifteen; Matheo Neimann, eighteen, and Ernst Timm, twenty—were arrested last night on the Island of Orleans in the St. Lawrence river just below Quebec City, by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

They were believed to have swam to the Island shore after jumping from the deck of the Nienburg, headed downriver. The freighter's course down the St. Lawrence took it within a quarter mile of the Island.

Mounted Police started searching for the trio when the Nienburg reported late Sunday the youths were missing for the second time in a week. After their desertion at Three Rivers they had been at large just a few hours before Provincial Police caught up and returned them to their ship at Montreal.

Immigration officials announced the sailors' case was under consideration and said it was likely they will be sent back to Germany in a few days.

Mayors Ask Liberal Interpretation Of Self-Liquidating Public Works

Executive Committee of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities See Opportunity in Federal Government Project to Undertake Many Deferred Maintenance Proposals.

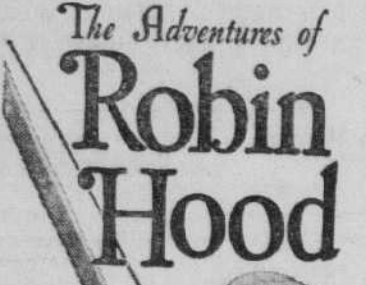

Ottawa, June 1.—(P)—Executive of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities today presented to Finance Minister Dunning a series of resolutions approving the Government's legislation for loaning money to municipalities at a low interest rate and the proposal for self-liquidating projects and the low-rent, low-cost housing scheme.

At the same time the mayors urged the Dominion bear a larger share of direct relief costs than the present system of Government grants-in-aid. At present municipalities pay about thirty per cent of such costs. The mayors favor 40-40-20 split with Dominion

SASKATCHEWAN ELECTION HAS RECORD ENTRY

Expected that 172 Men and Women Will Seek Election to Fifty-Two Seats in New Saskatchewan Legislature When Nominations Close Today.

Regina, June 1.—(P)—The Saskatchewan election lineup will take on a definite form today when candidates file official nomination papers with the returning officers. It is expected 172 men and women will enter the lists for fifty-two seats in the Legislature.

It probably will be a record number of candidates for Saskatchewan, exceeding the total of 169 who fought it out for fifty-five seats in 1934.

Although last-minute changes may alter it, the party lineup is expected to be as follows: Liberal, fifty-three; Social Credit, forty-eight; C.C.F., thirty-one; Conservative, twenty-six; Independent, seven; Labor-Progressive, two; Independent Labor, two; Labor, one; Independent Conservative, one; Independent Social Credit, one; total, 172.

Official nominations close today at 2 p.m. (5 p.m. E.D.T.) with polling a week from today, June 8. Liberals controlled the last House, almost sweeping the Province in 1934. In that election, Liberals won fifty seats and the Farmer-Labor party, now the C.C.F., five. Since the province was organized in 1905, Liberals have lost only one election, 1929.

The election will mark the first concerted effort of Canada's newest political party, Social Credit, to win a provincial legislature since they swept Alberta August 22, 1935. Under leadership of William Aberhart, a Calgary school teacher, Social Credit won fifty-six out of sixty-three Alberta seats and formed the Government.

In the Federal election of 1935, Social Credit elected seventeen members, fifteen from Alberta and two from Saskatchewan.

Seventeen Social Credit candidates ran in the Manitoba election of July 27, 1936, and five were elected, holding the balance of power in a house of fifty-five.

A year later, June 1, 1937, eighteen Social Credit candidates ran in the British Columbia election but each one of them was far behind in the race for forty-eight seats.

The present election is the first since Alberta went Social Credit that the party has a sufficient number of candidates in the field to form a Government.

The names of forty-one Social Credit candidates were announced yesterday by Hon. E. C. Manning, Alberta Provincial Secretary and Minister of the Western Canadian Social Credit Association. He said there would be forty-eight altogether. Presumably the others would be announced today.

ment would give a "sufficiently liberal interpretation" to the world "self-liquidating" in the low interest legislation now before the House of Commons. Such an interpretation would enable cities and municipalities to undertake long-deferred and necessary public works, said the resolution moved by Mayor R. K. Serviss, of Galt, and seconded by Mayor Queen. The interest rate will be two per cent.

Pleasure was expressed at the announcement the Government would introduce at this session a national scheme for low-rent, low-cost housing. The mayors urged the legislation be aimed specifically at providing modern housing accommodation for that group in cities whose small income now prevented them paying a reasonable rent. They asked the legislation be enacted without delay so full opportunity could be taken of the summer building season.

SHIP'S CAPTAIN AND CARPENTER FRED ON CHINESE SMUGGLING CHARGE

New York, June 1.—(P)—A ship's captain and carpenter were acquitted by a federal court jury yesterday of smuggling and conspiracy charges brought in connection with the discovery of eleven Chinese aboard the British freighter Lassicbank at a Staten Island pier last March 26th. The prosecution branded as "fantastic" the defence contention that the aliens were stowaways indiscovered by the captain during a six-month voyage.

Parliament, the Government awaiting action on it by the United States Congress.

The Niagara Treaty was signed by Canada but never came into force because of defeat in the American Senate.

An important change from the 1932 treaty is the provision for construction of works in the international section. Under the old treaty costs in this section would be apportioned by an international commission which would carry out the works.

Under the new treaty the joint commission, an equal number of which would represent each country, would prepare plans for the development which would be carried out by Canadian and United States Governments as it was mapped out by the commission.

drastic proposal feeds the fears of an already anxious people, increases disquietude, and gives grounds for new alarm.

"Take heart! On the whole Sir Thomas did good by saying what people think."

"There is nothing really surprising in the news that conscription would be enforced if war came," said the News Chronicle (Liberal), adding it would be "of a different kind, and largely for different purposes, from the conscription of 1916-18."

The Yorkshire Post, leading provincial Conservative organ, expressed wonder at the "pretended surprise" indicated by some Members of Parliament of learning of the Government's intentions.

"The only surprise to our mind," the newspaper said, "lay in the conclusion which could be drawn from the statement of Sir Thomas that in conditions likely to prevail the Government would expect to be given time and opportunity for the organization of the country on a war basis after war had broken out."

Mr. Chamberlain last night told the Conservative "Committee of 1922" headed by Sir Edward Gregg that "the disadvantages of administrative grounds" of a suggestion to establish a peacetime register would outweigh its advantages. The Government had already given this matter thorough attention, he declared.

Asserting the statement made by the Defence Coordination Minister was not a model of clarity, the Manchester Guardian (Liberal) added: "It may mean conscription or it may not. The point at issue was whether all voluntary service that people are now taking up is necessarily a final form which will endure when we are thrown into war organization. Obviously it cannot be."

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE HELD AT COATICOOK

Forty Pupils, Teachers and School Trustees, as Well as Large Number of Parents and Friends, Attended High School Ceremony.

Coaticook, June 1.—The annual Baccalaureate service of the Coaticook High School was held Sunday morning at St. Stephen's Church, and was attended by about forty pupils, teachers and school trustees, as well as by a large congregation of parents and friends.

A procession was formed at the Guild Hall and moved to the seats reserved at the church, where they listened to an inspiring sermon by the rector, Rev. W. W. Davis, who took for his text Eph. IV, 17, "That speaking the truth in love we may grow up into Him in all things who is the Head, even Christ." The choir and congregation joined in singing Ruydard Kipling's hymn, "Land of Our Birth We Pledge Thee."

In the course of his address Mr. Davis wished for the student boys' growth, with physical growth in strength and skill, and for the girls' growth in beauty and grace. He wished them all growth in spirit, a deeper sense of religion and hoped that as they delved further into education and science they would not become discouraged with their learning but follow closely "the teachings of one common Master."

He likened the graduating classes to the disciples of Jesus, as both were to go forth into the world to teach what has been taught to them by their teachers.

Mr. Davis dwelt upon their future as Canadians and urged them to have a broad outlook, to avoid narrow and personal views and to think of Canada as the great field that is in its infancy.

Mr. Davis closed his remarks by asking the students as they graduate not to close their minds to expansion and learning which should never come to a standstill, but to go on enlarging and growing as the years go by with their many opportunities.

RECITAL OF PIANOFORTE MUSIC

An interesting recital of pianoforte music took place when Miss Eleanor Wallace presented her pupils to about fifty guests assembled at her home. Miss Wallace's recitals are an annual event and are eagerly awaited by the music-loving friends of the young artists. Those taking part this year were the Misses Hazel and Eileen Peirce, Martha Hopkins, Leah Green, Dorothy Johnson, Helen White and Messrs. Hugh Smith and Roy Peirce.

The programme was as follows: "All March" (Wallace Johnson), "Sunset Story" (Adair), Eileen Peirce; "A Courty Dance" (James Rogers), Hugh Smith; duet, "Progress March" Martha Hopkins and Leah Green; "Vestian Song" (Shackel), "Minuet in G" (Bach), Helen White; "The Bumble Bee" (Chas. Lindsay), Hazel Peirce; "Traders from the Desert" (Bixby), "The Giant and the Elf" Martha Hopkins; duet, "Liebestraum" (Liszt), Dorothy Johnson and Miss Wallace; "A Woodland Frolic" Leah Green; "Bagatelle in E" (Beethoven), Roy Peirce; duet, "The Song of the Katydid" (Kern), Hazel and Eileen Peirce; "Waltz in B minor" (Chopin), "La Cathedrale Englottie" (Debussy), Dorothy Johnson; "Jumping the Rope" (Kern), Hugh Smith; "Lamentations of a Doll" (Cesar Frank), "Prelude in C Major" (Bach), Martha Hopkins; "Album Leaf" (Grieg), "The Chase of the Butterflies" (Dennee), Helen White; "The Keepsake" (Petrie), Hazel Peirce and Dorothy Johnson; "First Recital" (Wallace Johnson), "The Sailors Have a Dance" Leah Green; "Firelight" (Rudolf Friml), "Scherzando in D minor" (Handel), Roy Peirce; "The Crocus" (Dolly Asleep) (Adair), Eileen Peirce; duet, "A Merry Hunting Party," Hugh Smith and Miss Wallace; "Bagatelle in G" (Mozart), Hugh Peirce; "First Movement Sonata in F minor" (Beethoven), "Dancing Doll" (Poldini), Dorothy Johnson; "God Save the King."

At the conclusion of the programme, Martha Hopkins, on behalf of the pupils, presented Miss Wallace with a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Harold Morgan and Miss Donna Morgan. The house decorations were baskets of tulips and honeysuckle, and the dining room table was centred with forget-me-nots and trolleys.

FRENCH PRESS INDIGNANT AT RENEWED RAIDS

Paris Newspapers United in Demanding that Civilized Nations Combine to Halt Air Attacks on Defenceless Towns.

Paris, June 1.—(P)—Havas—Indignation over Spanish insurgent and Japanese air attacks on civilians was expressed today by French newspapers. One caustically compared world wide attention given to the murder of one kidnapped child in the United States to the indifference displayed over the killing of hundreds of women and children in Spanish and Japanese air raids.

"How can world public opinion, overcome by the death of a kidnaped child, remain indifferent to the 350 women and children killed at Granollers?" asked the Conservative paper L'Ordre.

"Shattering women and children with bombs is a singular way of preparing the unity of Spain," said the Radical-Socialist Republic.

"The bombardment of open cities in Spain is being carried on at a faster and faster rate with the evident aim of terrorizing the population," said the Socialist Populaire. "From Burgos to Tokyo, from Granollers to Canton it is Fascist 'civilization' which is triumphing. How many thousands of innocent victims must yet fall for the rest of the civilized world to stir with shame and indignation?"

The Rightist paper Le Jour said "The great number of victims among the civil population cannot but be deplored."

Le Peuple, organ of the General Confederation of Labor, asked "If politicians, absorbed by their miserable combinations, will continue to ignore the rising indignation."

LADIES' GROUP HELD MEETING AT BISHOPTON

United Church Ladies' Aid Session Held at Woodbine Bungalow—Much Important Business Was Transacted.

Bishopston, June 1.—A very interesting and largely attended meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held at "Woodbine Bungalow," the home of the president.

Mrs. deGruchy conducted the devotional exercises and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted as read by the secretary, Mrs. M. Porter.

A period of routine business followed, in which letters of thanks were read from friends who had been remembered through their illness with fruit and sunshine boxes.

The roll call was responded to by a verse of Scripture or a hymn.

Mrs. deGruchy gave a short synopsis of the characteristics of three persons of distinction, namely, Mary Wilcox, William Thompson and Molly Morrison.

Prior to adjournment, a remnant sale, was held, the repeating of the Mizpah benediction brought to a close a very enjoyable and profitable meeting.

Following the adjournment two short contests were held and prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Bishop and Mrs. Alfred Joyce.

Lunch was served by Mrs. M. Porter and Mrs. Annie MacKay, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Rolfe and Mrs. deGruchy. The dining room was fragrant with spring flowers.

Mr. Ira Dawson, an employee at the S. N. Bishop saw mill, was badly hurt while oiling the machinery. His clothes became caught and pulled him into the belts, ripping most of his clothing off and fracturing a bone near the hip. Dr. Robert Elliott was called and he rushed the unfortunate man to the Sherbrooke Hospital in S. N. Bishop's ambulance.

U. S. FARM PRICES LOWEST IN FOUR YEARS

Washington, June 1.—(P)—The level of the farm prices in the United States declined in May to the lowest point in four years. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today. Surpluses and lower consumer demand growing out of the business recession sent the price level down thirty per cent. since a year ago. All major farm commodities participated in the decline.

radio repair and maintenance workers to handle only those receiving sets on which the annual licence fee had been paid.

Justice Minister Lapointe told a questioner the Government was considering six Alberta acts which, he said, would be effective today unless disallowed. He had received many representations on the Act Respecting Securities Tax which was the most important to the people, some approving it but most of them asking for disallowance.

The Act to legalize sweepstakes in Canada sponsored by Ernest Bertrand, Liberal, Laurier, was again talked out during private members' hour. Two members spoke in favor of it, J. S. Taylor, (Independent, Nanaimo), and Vital Mallette, (Liberal, Jacques Cartier).

Debate on the Padlock Law and the Vancouver transients came up on the motion to go into supply which on Mondays and Tuesdays provides an opportunity of speaking on any subject. The motion passed just before eleven o'clock adjournment.

The Government was told that it was failing to maintain the majesty of the law by permitting Vancouver unemployed to remain in possession of public buildings in that city. It was also urged to provide employment projects that would take the single unemployed out of the city.

Quebec's Padlock Act against Communists, in effect since March, 1937, was described as a form of suppression similar to that which brought revolution in Russia. The Government had acted within two weeks to disallow certain Alberta acts, Angus MacInnis, (C.C.F., Vancouver East), charged, and the altogether different treatment accorded the Quebec law would not make for unity in Canada.

The Government did not reply to the Padlock Law discussion but Hon. W. D. Euler, acting Postmaster-General, said he was of the opinion, personally, that unless the men who have been in possession of the Vancouver Post Office did not leave it peacefully some action would have to be taken.

Montreal Labor Unions Will Conduct Relentless Campaign Against Sacrificing Workers for Bondholders.

Montreal, June 1.—(P)—Relentless war on any proposal of railway unification was declared by Montreal locals of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees in a resolution passed at a meeting last night.

"There are no extenuating circumstances which offer even the remote hope and assurance which would commend any scheme of railway unification to us," the resolution said, "and since facts indicate that the interests of the workers of the country would be sacrificed to the interests of the bond-holders of the railways, no solution of the railway problem which provides for the unification of Canadian railways in whole or in part will be acceptable to us and we hereby declare unrelenting war of any such proposal," the resolution read.

ADVERTISING IS HELD GREATEST BUSINESS HELP

Lewis Rosenbloom Stressed Value of Advertising in Address Before Rotary Club—Feminine Influence Important to Clothing Trade.

Advertising is the greatest single factor in making men conscious of new styles in clothing, Rotarian Lewis Rosenbloom told the members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club at their meeting last evening in the New Sherbrooke House.

Mr. Rosenbloom, delivering a classification talk on the subject "Men's Clothing," declared that constant repetition of advertising, particularly by the use in newspapers of pictures showing the latest modes, was highly important in "putting over" a new style.

Declaring that the feminine influence is a strong factor in inducing men to purchase new clothes, Mr. Rosenbloom believed that newspaper pictures of the newest in suits or other men's apparel very often arouse a woman's admiration to such an extent that she urges her influence to see that the garment is bought.

Keeping abreast of styles is of great importance, Mr. Rosenbloom said. According to psychologists men's color styles are all wrong, he stated, because in nature it is the male of the species who wears the brightest colors. This was also the custom among savage tribes.

People are all slaves to fashion, the speaker asserted. Explaining how the use of trouser cuffs originated, Mr. Rosenbloom said that once when Edward VII was walking over a muddy lawn he rolled up his trousers to protect them. He was seen by a number of young men and the habit, which has continued ever since, was started.

Cout buttons are on the right side because in ancient days, when it was customary to wear swords, a button on the left side would have impeded drawing of the weapon. Edward VII was also responsible for the custom often seen today of leaving the bottom button on the vest open simply because he forgot to finish buttoning his vest on one occasion.

With regard to style reform, Mr. Rosenbloom remarked that men's Continued on page 6, col. 4.

In its place the red ensign has been hoisted. Why the civic authorities saw fit to make the change is difficult to determine.

The Union Jack was a much larger flag than the present one and looked far more imposing from atop the flag pole.

MANY SHOCKED BY FALSE RUMOR OF JUSTICE WHITE'S DEATH. Many Sherbrooke and district citizens were shocked last evening by a rumor, believed to have arisen through a misunderstanding regarding the death of Dr. George L. Hume, to the effect that Mr. Justice Charles D. White had passed away. The report even reached Justice White's daughter, Mrs. Graham Taylor, in St. Johns, who immediately took the train for Sherbrooke. In the meantime, however, Mrs. White heard that her daughter was on the way and telephoned Mr. Taylor, who was able to reach Mrs. Taylor with the welcome news that her father was alive and well before the train had reached this city.

Local Medical Profession Pays Tribute To Memory Of Dr. Hume

DR. GEORGE L. HUME

Prominent members of the medical profession in Sherbrooke joined today in expressing profound regret at the sudden death yesterday afternoon of Dr. George L. Hume, who was beloved and respected by his colleagues not only in the city but throughout the entire province. The tributes paid "Dr. George" by his fellow-physicians, several of whom had been intimately associated with him over a long period of years, came spontaneously to the lips of those left behind to carry on in the field of service to which Dr. Hume dedicated his life.

Other leading doctors in Sherbrooke could not be reached due to the pressure of their duties, but it is felt certain by all who were privileged to know Dr. George Hume that their sentiments are much the same as those which follow:

Dr. W. W. Lynch: "Dr. Hume's sudden death came as a very great shock to me. His loss is keenly felt, not only from my personal point of view, but in the community at large. Dr. Hume and I were in the same class at McGill University and graduated the same year, and since then were closely associated, both in business and social life. His death fills us all with a deep sense of loss."

Dr. H. D. Bayne: "To me, the most impressive characteristic of Dr. Hume was his kind-heartedness. He was without doubt the most kind-hearted man I ever knew. On innumerable occasions he put himself out to aid others at great distress to himself. Dr. Hume was a genial and thoroughly lovable character and will be greatly missed, particularly by members of the Sherbrooke Hospital staff."

Dr. M. S. MacDonald: "Dr. George Hume's death means a great loss to the medical profession as a whole, but particularly to the district. I was at McGill while he was studying there and had known him ever since. His death came as a distinct shock to me, especially since I was informed yesterday morning that he was in his usual health. Dr. George was generous, kind-hearted, sympathetic and ever willing to sacrifice his own comfort for suffering humanity."

Dr. F. A. Gadbois: "In company with my colleagues, I deeply mourn the loss of Dr. George Hume. He and I were classmates at McGill University and I knew him intimately for many years. His long years of service in the medical field will be lasting tribute to his memory."

Dr. C. B. Loomis: "The kindly nature, friendliness and good-heartedness of Dr. George will only be appreciated to the full by residents of Sherbrooke in the years which succeed his death."

FIGURES SHOW MAY WAS BUSY POLICE MONTH

More Calls Were Answered by Officers in May than in Any Month for Over a Year—Fire Calls Less than in April.

With a total of 391 calls answered, officers of the local police department were kept busier in the month which ended yesterday than in any one month for over a year.

Out of these calls sixty-nine arrests were made—twenty-six for violations of traffic regulations, seventeen for infraction of other municipal by-laws, seventeen for vagrancy, sixteen for drunkenness, two for theft, two for breaking and theft and two for false pretences.

Forty-five of those arrested paid fines aggregating $435, while eleven went to jail for non-payment. Seven were given suspended sentences and one case is pending. Five cases went before Magistrate's Court.

Fire department apparatus was called into action forty-six times last month, considerably less than in April. Fifteen lost children were found and returned home safely. The number of lost youngsters was unusually large.

Protection was given 164 times and ninety-nine street lights were reported out of order. Twenty-seven business houses were found left unlocked at night and two cases of goods exposed attended to. Ten dangerous places were reported and two stray animals found. Loads of wood distributed to needy families totalled 150, while 812 loads were weighed on the public scales.

A Fine Demonstration As Battery Inspected

35th Field Battery, R.C.A., Received Well-Merited Praise at Annual Inspection Held at Belvidere Street Armory Last Night—Brigadier R. O. Alexander and Lt.-Col. G. W. F. Johnston Carried Out Inspection.

The 35th Field Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, regarded as one of the city's most efficient military units, staged a splendid demonstration in the Belvidere street armory last night when they were inspected by Brigadier R. O. Alexander, D.S.O., O.C.M.D. No. 4, and Lt.-Col. G. W. F. Johnston, O.C. 6th Field Brigade, R.C.A. The Battery's fine performance under the direction of the Commanding Officer, Major Lt. W. Greenland, Capt. P. Slattery, Lt. F. R. Pattison and 2nd Lt. R. M. Bishop won high and well-merited praise from the inspecting officers.

Brigadier Alexander and Lt.-Col. Johnston arrived at the armory at 8:30 o'clock and received the general salute from all ranks, drawn up in review order.

After the inspection of the ranks, the Battery carried out an orderly foot drill in squads and then proceeded on a scheme of occupying a position in action, which was adapted to the limitations of the building.

A demonstration of the procedure for daylight shooting and an exhibition of night firing, including a reply to a front line S.O.S. call, were then staged.

The inspection concluded with the muster parade, taken by Lt.-Col. Johnston, and the examination of the mess quarters and the Battery offices.

The following military officers were present at the inspection: Col. S. Echenberg, O.C. 10th Infantry Brigade; Col. W. E. Baker, O.C. Sherbrooke Regiment (M.G.); Lt.-Col. E. Levesque, O.C. Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke; Col. M. W. McArthur, O.C. Bishop's University C.O.T.C.; Lt.-Col. Resolute Barry, V.D. past president of the Conference of Defence Associations; Major C. L. H. Bowen, staff captain 10th Infantry Brigade; Major H. Church, O.C. 72nd Battery, Coaticook; Capt. C. G. M. Greer, R.C.A.; Col. Robinson, M.C.; Capt. Wallace Barry, Sherbrooke Regiment (M.G.); and Capt. G. Denault, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke.

CITY ENGINEER RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE

Thomas Tremblay, Concluding Forty Years as City Engineer, Will Continue to Act in Advisory Capacity.

Concluding forty years of devoted service to the City of Sherbrooke, Thomas Tremblay today enters into a well-earned retirement. Mr. Tremblay has been City Engineer during the past forty years and in this period has planned and supervised paving of streets, building of sidewalks and all municipal construction. He was considered by city officials as one of their most valued employees.

Although he has retired from the post of City Engineer, Mr. Tremblay will continue to act in an advisory capacity as consulting engineer, where his advice and the value of his experience will be available.

His successor pro tem is W. H. Veilleux, municipal employee for the past ten years. This arrangement will remain in effect until December 31, when authorities will decide whether or not the appointment is to be permanent. Mr. Veilleux is to be assisted by M. A. Fuller, who has been in the service of the city for the past eighteen years. Mr. Veilleux was born here in 1888 and studied at St. Charles Seminary and the University of Ottawa. He received his degree in civil engineering from McGill University in 1914.

Thomas Tremblay, the retiring official, was born in Eboulements. He studied at the Ottawa Seminary and began his engineering career in Ottawa.

Dr. George Hume Has Ended Notable Career

Eastern Townships Today Mourn Passing of Highly Esteemed Member of Medical Profession Who Died Suddenly at His Home Here Yesterday Afternoon—Seventy Years Old, Dr. Hume Was Dean of Sherbrooke Hospital Medical Staff.

The Eastern Townships today mourn the passing of a notable physician and surgeon in the death of Dr. George L. Hume, who died suddenly at his home on Montreal street yesterday afternoon at the age of seventy years.

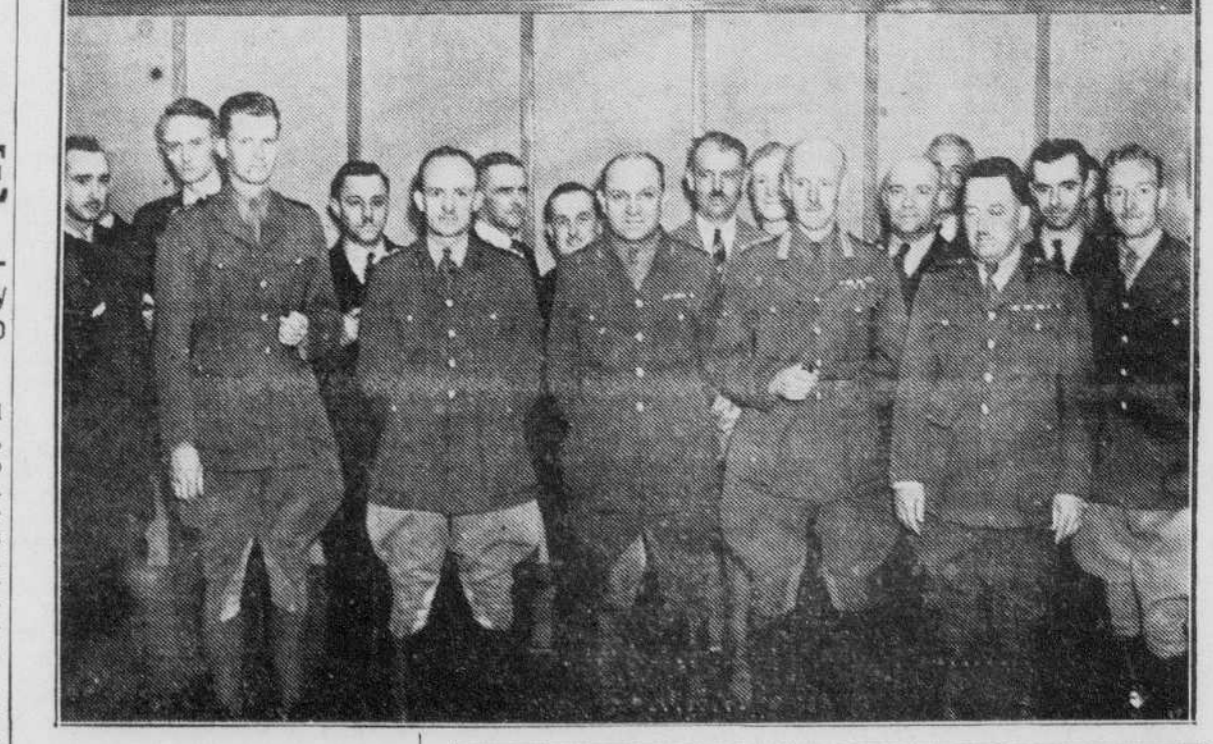

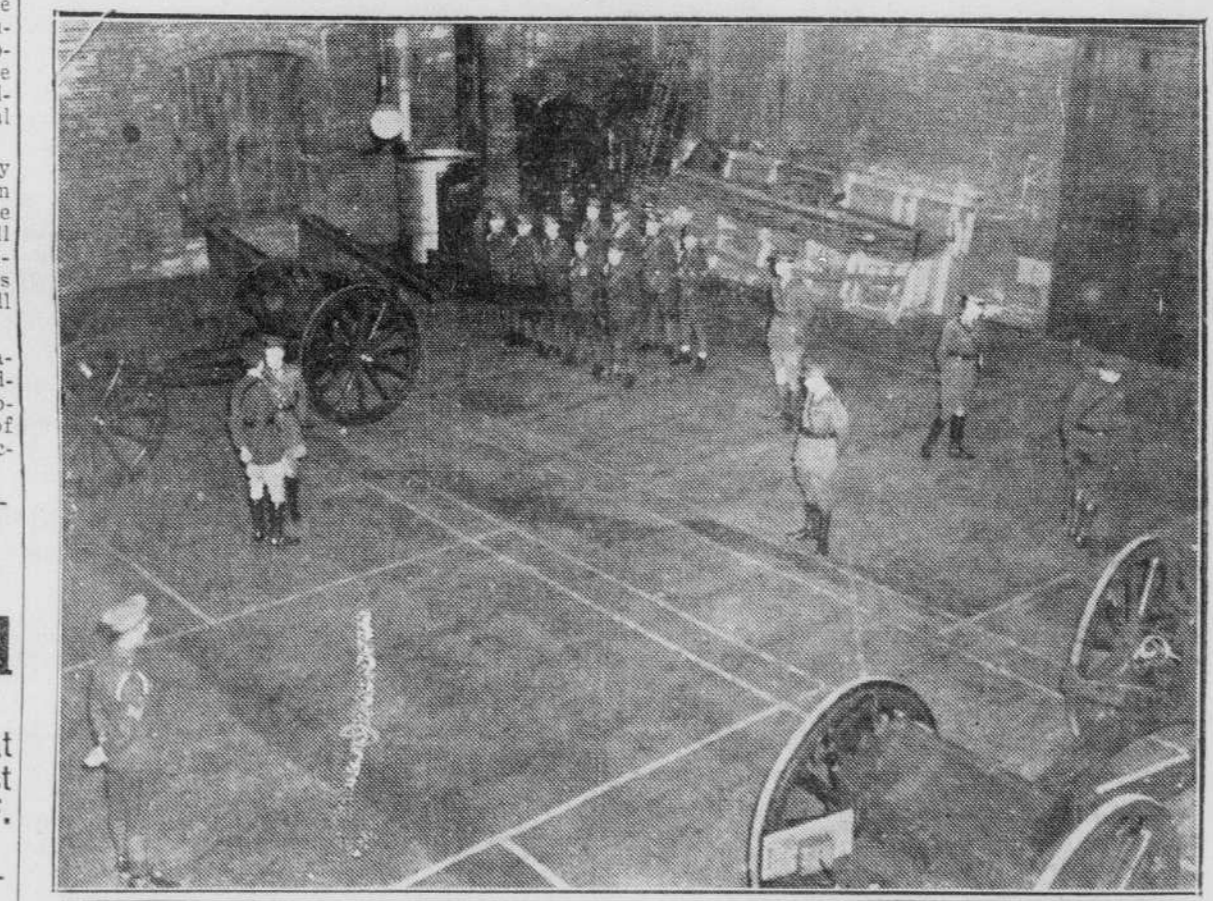

In Dr. Hume's death citizens of all classes and creeds regret the passing of a skillful man they esteemed as a benefactor, a friend, a thoughtful and genial doctor who ever tried to be their counsellor and their proverbial Good Samaritan.

Dr. Hume's consideration for others, his quiet wisdom, his pleasant disposition and his kindness under all circumstances were qualities which earned him a host of friends who today join in profound sorrow at his passing. He was beloved and esteemed. He was cherished in many hearts, his memory lingered in many homes where he had relieved suffering and pain, his smile and cheerfulness had remained in many hearts through those whom he had visited during periods of agony and misfortune.

Members of a family long associated with the medical profession, Dr. Hume was Dean of the Sherbrooke Hospital and outstanding among the English doctors of Sherbrooke. He was born in Leeds, Que., September 8, 1868, the son of William Hume and Alice Jamieson Hume. He graduated in medicine at McGill University and practised for a few years at Compton, after which he established himself in Sherbrooke. The years earned him experience, and steadily he won for himself a sterling reputation and a host of friends who had always to gain from his company and his advice. As the years grew upon Dr. Hume, so did his friends, and at the time of his passing these friends were legion. "Dr. George," as he was familiarly known, had over a kind word for the one in misfortune, sympathetic advice and thoughtful consideration and care for the one in suffering. Many a time did his professional skill, coupled with his admirable qualities as a man who observed life and understood, relieve pain and bring comfort and happiness into a home.

Dr. Hume, in recognition of his able practice, possessed the Degree of M.D.C.M. and was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He came from Compton to Sherbrooke in 1907 and during his stay in this city had evinced a deep interest in all activities connected with the welfare and progress of the community. He was a member of the Protestant School Board for several Continued on Page 6, Col. 5.

Mrs. E. W. Browning, of Vancouver, B.C., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Johnston, and Mr. Johnston, Laurier avenue, for a month, left this morning for Toronto, where she will meet her husband. After visiting friends in Ontario, Mrs. Browning will return to Sherbrooke for a longer visit with her relatives.

The Misses Sara and Eva Hall entertained the members of the Ladies' Guild of Plymouth Church last evening at their home on Prospect street. Miss Ruth Stoddard presided over the brief business session during which plans were completed for a rummage sale on June 10th, and the sum of fifty dollars was voted by the Guild towards the general fund of Plymouth Church. A few items of unfinished business were disposed of prior to adjourning until the autumn. A pleasant social hour followed and at its close the hostesses served delicious refreshments, assisted by their sister, Mrs. Morse, and Mrs. George Alexander, Richmond.

Mrs. Douglas Ross, Mrs. Hiram McLeod and Mrs. Samuel Clark entertained at a charmingly arranged towel and cup and saucer shower on Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Eva Bailey, a popular bride-to-be, whose marriage takes place this month. A profusion of white lilies, narcissi, snapdragons and pink larkspur were placed about the rooms and also decorated a special chair reserved for the guest of honor, who was escorted to her place by the Misses Virginia Browne and Myrtle Page. The dainty color scheme of pink and white was continued on the artistically adorned basket, filled with lovely gifts, which was later presented to the bride-elect. After the excitement of opening the numerous parcels had abated, the hostesses served delicious refreshments, being assisted in their pleasant hospitable duties by several of the guests.

Mrs. G. R. Kendall and Mrs. Spencer LeHury were hostesses for last evening's meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church at the home of Mrs. E. E. Messenger, King street west. Mrs. Wilfred Davey, first vice-president, presided and conducted the opening devotional exercises, and Miss Margaret Robins, treasurer, submitted a most gratifying report on the proceeds from the tea, food and mystery sale, and the recent rummage sale given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Prior to adjourning until the autumn plans were completed for a strawberry social at Shore Acres, an event which is largely anticipated by the members, who look forward to this pleasant outing at the lakeside. It was announced that the pillow slips, donated by Mrs. P. D. Mathias, had been won by Mrs. E. E. Messenger. With business disposed of until the fall, the members enjoyed a pleasant social hour together prior to dispersing for the summer holidays. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Harold Shearn doing the honors at the lace-covered table which was attractively centered with pink and mauve sweet peas in a silver bowl and green candles in silver holders. Assisting were Mrs. S. Messenger and Miss Rhena Pariseau.

Under the convenship of Mrs. S. P. Smith, assisted by several members of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid, a very successful rummage sale was held yesterday afternoon at the A. and P. store on Wellington street south for the benefit of the above organization. The sale is being repeated this afternoon under the same auspices.

Congratulations are being extended to Miss Helen Armitage, of Sherbrooke, a member of the staff at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, who was one of the twelve educationalists to receive the Order of Scholastic Merit. Miss Armitage won first degree "For Merit," awarded to persons who have demonstrated that they have attained a definite degree of success as teachers or demonstrators. The honors will be awarded at a meeting of the Board of the Order of Scholastic Merit, in October during the annual conference of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec. Miss Armitage is a daughter of Mr. George Armitage and the late Mrs. Armitage, "Strenslawood," Montreal Road, the announcement of the awards was made from the Montreal office by Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant Education.

Seldom has the parish hall of the Church of the Advent looked more inviting than it did last evening for the delectable supper given under the auspices of St. Agnes' Guild. Flowing with masses of lovely flowers into a veritable garden, the already attractive room formed an ideal setting for the artistically adorned table done with exquisite pastel shaded sweet peas, donated by Mr. George Carr, with matching serviettes and lighted candles. The tout ensemble was really lovely and reflects much credit on the members who thus expressed their quite evident artistic ability. Miss Evelyn Kinder, the president, received and Miss Doris Price acted as treasurer. The tempting menu included assorted cold meats, spring salads, condiments, rolls, luscious pies, cake, tea and coffee, the delicious edibles tasting all the better for being served so daintily and amid such beautiful and fragrant surroundings of lilies and other spring flowers. Supper was served by the Guild members, assisted by the Misses M. Peak, S. Murray, A. Gray, K. Simpson, V. Haggie, L. Sayer, Mrs. W. Rolfe, Miss M. Bachelder and Mrs. Arnold Price.

CHILD'S SELF-RELIANCE FOSTERED BY PARENT
Every few minutes little Stanley went to the kitchen door, peered through the screenings and anxiously called his mother. He had to be sure she was there. When she answered he was satisfied and went back to play. Then before long he would be in doubt again, and would call again.
Mother thought, "He wants me with him all the time. I must learn to play by himself and stop annoying me."
The next time Stanley came to the door, he could not see mother as she stood in the dark kitchen. He called, but this time there was no answer from mother. His worst fears confirmed, the boy gave a terrified scream, and when mother reached him he was quivering with emotion. She could see it was not feigned.
"You and I know, when mother leaves home, that it is unlikely she will be gone forever. The little child, however, does not know this. Discovering mother slipping out or worse, that she has gone without saying a word to him, he believes himself deserted."
Stanley's mother must try to restore his confidence in her. When he plays out-of-doors, he is advised to communicate with him from the door or window at regular intervals in an attempt to forestall his going to look for her. After two or three days this won't have to be done so often and, in time not at all.
A wise mother matters-of-factly tells a child where she is going and when she will return. She leaves him in competent hands. She says good-by briefly without looking back to see if he minds. She does not go back to humor him if he cries. She keeps on going.

STRAWBERRIES, HONEY
Put strawberries in orange cups and top them with strained honey. Serve the berries as an appetizer or dessert.

Mrs. P. Ansell, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. Wright, and Mr. Wright at their home on Laurier avenue, is leaving tonight for her home in Boston. Mrs. Ansell will be accompanied on the return trip by her grandson, Edward Wright, and also by her mother, Mrs. H. Fox, of Huntingville.

Mrs. J. Alex Hutchison, of Montreal, who is spending the summer at her country home in North Hatley, is at present visiting her sister, Mrs. George Hume, Montreal street, having been summoned here by the sudden death of Dr. George L. Hume yesterday afternoon.

SAME DRESS IS WORN DAY OR EVENING

Well-dressed women frequently select a model that suits them and have it copied in several colors and materials. Now the owner of one of our better shops lets me into a most interesting variation of this practical idea. He calls attention to a dress in both dinner and street length. He explains that in many instances women have bought the same dress for both afternoon and evening, in different colors. One of this sort is done in net, a practical, wearable coat type of dress with crisp and tailored white pique accents. It is worn both in navy and black.

After all, it is often only a matter of the length of one's skirt that determines what type of dress it is. If you will look into the bathing suit situation, or lingerie lines, you will be surprised to find that the same ideas follow through. So why not in day and evening clothes? We are also accustomed to the idea of the mother and daughter model, which is another version of the same repulsive idea.

To quote the same authority, and he is an authority, it is the print dress with navy blue light-weight woolen coat that women liked best for spring. In ensembles of this sort, it is said that both the fitted and the straight type of coat have been chosen.

In other types of ensembles, the free, casual jacket built on bolero lines and terminating at the top of the hips is cited as having general approval.

Women like the idea of a skirt with easy movement. Pleats that are worked cleverly, giving a slim line at the hips, are well received. It is the skirt cut on straight lines rather than bias that women approve, he adds.

In prints, he said that white grounds have a definite following, with designs in navy and black especially favored.

Modes and Manners

Question: "After visiting with a friend for a few days, how should one go about tipping the maid?"
Mrs. B. E.

Answer: Before leaving go to her when you know she is alone, hand her the money and say, "Good-by, Mary." Nothing more needs to be said.

Question: "In introductions is it ever in good form to use the phrase, 'Let me make you acquainted with'—Mrs. A. W."
Answer: This phrase should never be used. Say, "Mrs. Smith, this is Mr. Jones." But never say, "Mrs. Smith, meet Mr. Jones." The word meet should never be used in introductions.

Profiles For Today

IT MAY LOOK AWFUL, BUT IT'S ART
Almost all of us know some amateur, untaught painter, most likely in a small town, who creates pictures for the sheer love of it. No doubt many of you readers are amateur painters yourselves.

The painting's perspective may be a little faulty, people's faces may be warped and have about human eyes, colors may be wild or muddy—but that's all right. The Museum of Modern Art, in New York City, is holding an exhibition of just such painting, which it calls "Popular Art." It certainly is an exciting and unusual exhibit.

There are many "popular" artists on display, French, American and one Canadian. All their stories are interesting, but space limits us to Patrick J. Sullivan, a typical popular painter.
Sullivan was born forty-six years ago in Braddock, Pennsylvania. His father died when he was two. His family was so poor he had to live in an orphanage until he was fifteen. After that he rejoined the family. He worked at many and various jobs. Today he is a house painter and lives in West Virginia with his wife and children.

During the depression he found time to paint. A slow worker, he has done only three pictures to date. All art on exhibition. They are symbolic and of a religious nature. I wish space would permit telling more about these painters. Chester Danson, the Canadian, is about thirty-two and a laborer. He is represented by two Canadian landscapes painted in 1936. He has disappeared. He was last heard of working in a lumber mill in Melancon, Wolfville, N.S., in 1936.

Don't throw out that hideous painting of Main street that Aunt Sarah or Grandpa made. Remember that when Joseph Pickett, of New Hope, Pennsylvania, died in 1918 they found three childishly large naive oil paintings in the little country store he ran. His widow couldn't get more than a dollar each for them. You couldn't get any single one of them for a thousand times that today.

Women No Longer Merely Echo Men

Moved by Same Urge to Exel, Declares Noted Photographer

Brief play shorts or a skirtless swim suit are only for the girl with a nearly perfect figure, says Photographer Toni Frissell.

Women haven't followed men into sports just to be near the men. They play tennis and golf, ski and ride because they delight in excelling in something that looks difficult.

That is the conclusion of Toni Frissell who has gone all over the country photographing girls out-of-doors.

She thinks it has been a long time since women merely echoed men's desires. Today they have good reason of their own for the kind of lives they lead.

As for the girl who wasn't a tomboy, but turned into an outdoor girl, Miss Frissell thinks there is only one "must" in the world of sports—and that is tennis. She should not only know how to play tennis but she should play a fairly good game.

And the reason for that is that tennis is such an important part of most summer week-ends in all parts of the country. Golf is too, of course, but a golf club isn't likely to spoil the pleasure of anyone else. Whereas a poor tennis player ruins either singles or doubles matches with good players.

If a girl rides—so much the better. But that isn't a "must" because riding is such an expensive pastime that only a few can take their exercise on a horse.

As for swimming, Miss Frissell thinks it is more important for a girl to know her figure than a stroke. If she isn't a swimmer, she can usually manage to have a good time sunning on the beach and splashing around in shallow water. But unless she knows her figure-faults she is likely to be pretty funny looking strolling around in a bathing suit.

Toni Frissell has found out from the thousands of pictures she has taken of girls lying on beaches and wading in shallows that only the girl with a near-perfect figure should wear play shorts or a brief skirtless swim suit.

And if their legs are very bad, they should keep a terry cloth robe about them when they aren't actually in the water, or wrap up in a huge towel.

One reason why she likes to photograph out-of-doors girls—besides being one herself—is because she thinks women look better in sports clothes than they ever manage to look in evening things.

And she is convinced that the way a girl dresses for sports—much more than the way she dresses for a dance—indicates her sophistication, or lack of it.

Tested Recipes

SHELF OF SALAD "MAKINGS" HELPS YOU SERVE GREENS
If your family likes salads, then start a salad shelf. Choose any convenient shelf in your kitchen or pantry and keep on it all the things you use for making salads, especially the salad dressings, for the dressing frequently makes the salad just as the clothes make the man.

If your shelf is in a sunny spot, put on it your growing pot of chives or parsley, or your sweet geranium or other favorite plants.

Arrange on the shelf your vinegars (for you should have more than one kind), mustard, pepper, salt, paprika, Worcestershire sauce, horseradish, relish, curry powder, buds of garlic, celery salt, cans of fruit juice and salad oils. Underneath hang your utensils, sharp scissors, vegetable cutters and can opener. Line up your salad bowls and your salad fork and spoon in a convenient spot.

Add these dressings to your collection of recipes:

CREAMY FRUIT DRESSING
4 egg yolks
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons sugar
24 marshmallows
1 cup broken nut meats
2 cups heavy cream
Beat the egg yolks thoroughly, add the vinegar, sugar and mustard. Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Cool, then add the marshmallows cut into small bits, then add the nut-meats and whipped cream. Mix thoroughly and use over fresh fruit. This recipe makes enough dressing for about 12 servings. Since it should be used at once, use smaller proportions for a small family.

TANGY FRENCH DRESSING
1 clove garlic
3 tablespoons elder vinegar or lemon juice
A few grains pepper
2 drops Tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Rub the bowl in which you mix the salad dressing well with the cut clove of garlic. Add the remaining ingredients and stir vigorously with a fork. If a stronger flavor of garlic is wanted, leave the clove in the dressing until you are ready to serve. Remove and beat the dressing thoroughly before pouring over a bowl of mixed greens to which tomato wedges and sliced radishes or scallions have been added.

LEMON CREAM MAYONNAISE
1 egg
1 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Beat the egg and salad oil in an electric mixer using high speed, or use a rotary beater, and beat vigorously. When stiff add the remaining ingredients and beat slowly until well blended. This makes 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise and has excellent keeping properties.

Chapter Two

As Jim's plane disappeared into the night, Gunner took a deep breath. His eyes showed the relief he felt at Jim having got off the ground carrying his heavy load, without mishap.

The city lights were far behind him as the pilot tensely watched his instrument board, missing nothing. For an hour he flew steadily, his eyes always glued to the board. He flashed by mountain after mountain, canyon after canyon, climbing now to avoid a treacherous peak, dropping to avoid storm clouds and snow areas.

Into the dawn the plan sped, ghostlike, its nose an incandescent ruby gleam. Once lightning shot across a wing and ran crazily across the fuselage. But nothing happened. Then, suddenly, the ship was in the midst of a storm. Torrential rain lashed the sides of the plane, turning abruptly to hail. In a moment, Jim was flying blind.

The glass cowl was iced with snow; visibility was absolute zero. Carefully, Jim manoeuvred the plane up above the half storm. He was beginning to breathe a little easier now. But his relief was of short duration. With an exclamation, he noted that the oil gauge had broken!

As the needle started slowly but inexorably toward the zero mark, Jim reached over and pulled open a dump valve. Streams of gasoline poured out of the main tank.

Carefully the flier banked the machine, diving into the lower strata of clouds as the motor began to sputter ominously. For the first time he was really worried. He prepared to bail out, but in the next instant he was clear of the clouds and a stretch of earth was visible. He shuddered to think how close he had come to crashing, but now he straightened the plane out. With relative ease he glided earthward. The space ahead was clear. . . his estimate of the distance perfect.

The plane bumped to a stop. Leaping out, Jim hurled his helmet and goggles to the ground and rushed swiftly to the motor. As he reached up to adjust a valve, a stream of oil gushed over his face and shoulders. Frantically he cleared his vision and turned again to the motor for a quick inspection. But one glance told him it was useless. He couldn't make repairs without new parts.

Pulling the zipper of his oil-stained suit, he stepped out of it. The next moment he started as he heard a girl's voice.

"Are you all right?"

Turning, Jim saw a girl running toward him. She stopped, out of breath, and he saw that she was stammering—even in the country dress she wore. She looked at him curiously and smiled as he stared.

"I guess you're all right," she said with a curious inflection.

"Yes, I'm all right," Jim frowned, finding his voice. "I had her licked, too. A new record from Los Angeles. Now it's good-bye record!" She smiled mischievously. "But why have you been so long?"

"What?" Jim demanded.

"You see I've waited for you . . . lying here in the field. I've watched the planes fly by, and I knew some day my Prince would come . . . right out of a clear sky."

Jim was speechless. He wondered if he hadn't landed too near an asylum of some sort.

"Say, listen . . ." he began.

The girl smiled disarmingly. "What's the matter, is it too much for you?"

Jim shook his head. "Well, you had me winging for a moment, pal," he admitted.

"Are you a famous flier?"

"I'm Jim Lane," he said, as if no further explanation was necessary. But the girl didn't react.

"Am I supposed to faint on that one?" she asked.

"No. All you've ever seen me do is flop."

"I entered high school a sophomore and came out a freshman," Jim said.

"Well, I'm glad to hear it," Jim said.

By this time, they had reached the farmhouse. Ann led the way up to the second floor and into a spare room.

"I'll tell Mom to set an extra place," she said, and left him alone. Jim washed his face and hands, brushed his hair and found his way downstairs to the kitchen.

Jim liked Ann's parents at first sight. Mr. Barton was a typical farmer, friendly and frank, and Mrs. Barton was a sweet, young-looking woman. When Jim explained how he came to land in the wheat field, talk turned to general things. Then the pilot asked permission to put through a call to the airport in California, and came back to finish the ample breakfast.

Conversation turned to the general subject of education.

"Oh, Ann is smart," Mrs. Barton said.

"Smart?" the father repeated.

"Ann graduated from the state university," Mr. Lane, and with highest honors!

"You bet," smiled Ann. "Broke all records."

"Did you go to college, Mr. Lane?" asked Mrs. Barton, turning to Jim.

Ann laughed suddenly, and her parents reproached her.

"That's all right," Jim said, "she's crazy! I broke all records, too. I entered high school a sophomore and came out a freshman."

Their laughter was interrupted as the telephone rang.

"Must be your call, Mr. Lane," Barton said.

Jim rose, thanking him. He started toward the hall, but suddenly stopped and turned to Ann. "No smart cracks now," he admonished.

Mrs. Barton lowered her voice. "He's a charming man, isn't he?" Her husband nodded, and both looked at Ann. The girl seemed unaware of the unvoiced question in their minds.

"He's . . . very different," she said slowly.

At the phone, Jim was explaining to Gunner, "forced down . . . Yeh, about twenty miles from Wichita . . . The oil pump let go. You'll have to bring on a new pump and a set of lines." He paused. "Wait, I'll find out. I'll ask Ann."

Disappointed at the failure of the flight, but relieved to learn that Jim was safe, Gunner, scowled. "Who's Ann?"

But Jim was already talking to the girl.

"Will anyone in Wichita with a cab know how to get here all right?"

"Oh sure," she replied. "That is the main highway. Everybody knows the Barton farm."

Jim thanked her and turned back to the phone. "It's due west of Wichita," he explained, reciting what Ann had told him.

"What's all this Ann stuff?" Gunner persisted.

Jim smiled at the girl, who was watching him, her eyes shining. "Listen," he said into the transmitter, "have you got all that dope or hen's you? What time do you get to Wichita?"

Gunner shook his head. "I'll hop the first airliner east," he muttered. "Get there about half-past five, I figure." Then, suddenly, he was angry again. "Why do you always have to land way out in the sticks?"

"This is not the sticks, lad," Jim retorted. "This is the prettiest farm

GEORGEVILLE WAS SCENE OF AMUSING PLAY

'Where's Grandma?' Presented Before Large Audience in Community Hall—Creditable Performances Given by Players.

Georgeville, June 1.—The play "Where's Grandma?" given by local talent in the Community Hall, was a huge success both financially and dramatically.

Those taking part were Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, Mrs. C. Burnet, Mrs. Robert Packard, Miss Barbara Hand, Miss Louise Peckes, Miss Elizabeth Roy, Nelson Farrington and Elgin Hand. Music between the acts, which was much enjoyed, consisted of vocals with accompaniment by an orchestra company. Mrs. Norman Evans piano, Vernon Packard, Carroll Cass and Gordon Boynton, guitar and violins. A piano duet by Mrs. N. Evans and Miss Ila Cass was very well rendered. Rev. H. Rice acted as chair man.

Much credit is due Mrs. Arlington Davidson, who acted as director and to Mr. Davidson for his interest in decorating the stage and in other work.

General Notes

I ever saw. Wait till you see it!" He hesitated. "Why, the wheat sways in the field like a silken sea! How's that?"

"Sounds like a blonde!" Gunner muttered. His voice took on a warning note. "Don't fool around all day now, Jim. Get that old pump out so I can stick the new one right in, and we may be able to get out tonight."

Jim paused, watching Ann.

"I'll be busy all afternoon," he promised, but Gunner wouldn't have wagered any money that Jim was talking about the plane.

British Now Admit They Are In Arms Race With Reich

London, June 1.—The mask is off, camouflage is finished and concealment ended, for now Great Britain stands before all the world as a great, rich power which is rearming against the menace of Nazi Germany.

The decision to spend $7,500,000,000, the feverish haste to create a great air force, the preparation of war-time food plans, the enlisting of thousands of men and women to do service in case of air raids, the imposition of a tax which takes eleven cents out of every forty cents of income, the hasty patching up of ancient quarrels with Mussolini's Italy, the strengthening of the Anglo-French entente — all these are acts designed to get ready to fight Germany if necessary.

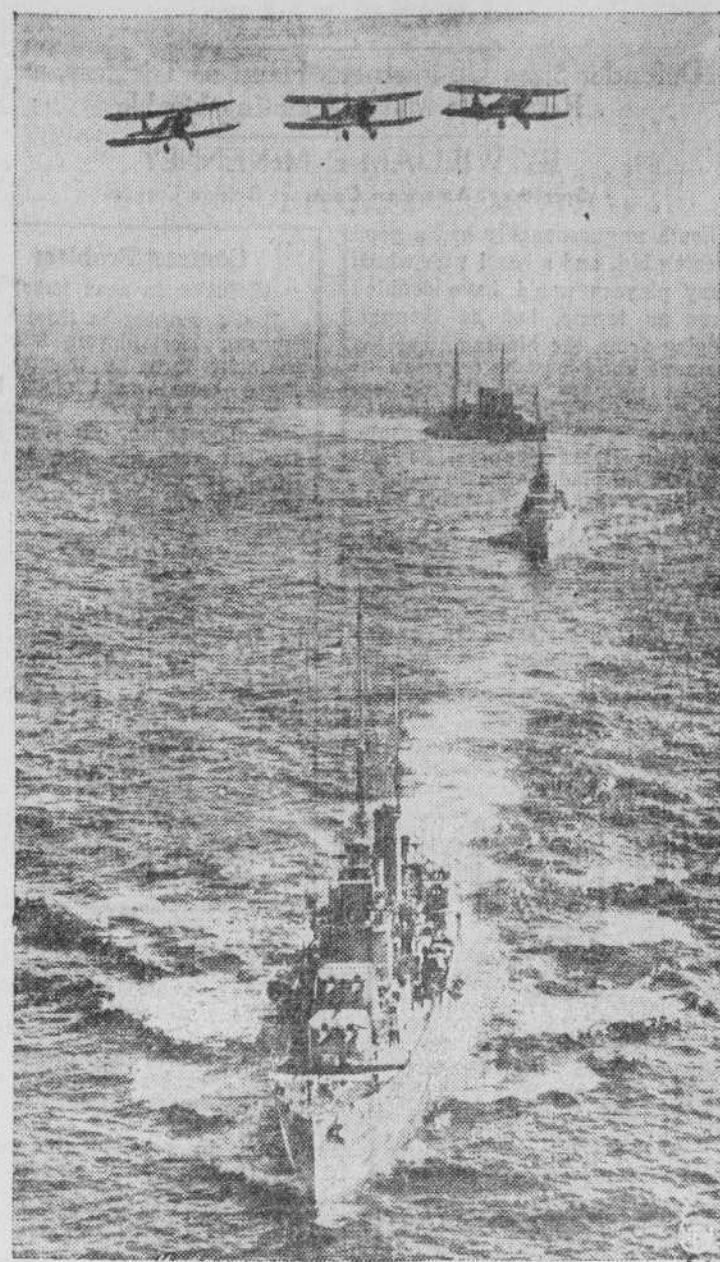

For a long time the truth was dodged. When England prepared to rearm quickly to make up for lost time, there were generalizations, such as "John Bull must rearm when everybody else is doing so." But in recent debates in Parliament about the progress of the air program, now she is building a vast air force, alarmed by the gigantic size of the one created by Nazi Germany.

It was the threatening German situation which, in mid-May, caused a parliamentary hurricane to strike the British cabinet. When this storm was over, Lord Swinton had been blown out of his job as Minister for Air and Sir Kingsley Wood found himself catapulted into the vacant seat.

In recent debates in Parliament, the belief was expressed that Lord Swinton was not successfully pushing the British air force program. The fear was expressed that Germany, not only at present had far more army airplanes than Britain, but that her factories had been so geared up that it was almost impossible for Britain to overtake her.

Now the thankless task of seeking a remedy has been again given by Premier Chamberlain to Sir Kingsley Wood, a lawyer whose career to date has been an unbroken record of successes. Sir Kingsley has been described as "a tiny man with a tiny voice." But if he is tiny, he is, like so many able men of his physical build, endowed with a big brain, a courageous heart and dynamic energy.

Since 1918 he has represented Woolwich in the House of Commons.

BRITISH SEA AND AIR POWER ON REVIEW

Once concerned only with the maintenance of the world's most potent navy, Great Britain now must look to the defense of her aerial frontiers.

After being made Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Education, he was from 1924 to 1929 Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Health. His chief then was the man who is his chief now—Nevill Chamberlain. In 1931 Wood was made Postmaster General.

By his drive, his genius for publicity, his original plans for popularizing the post office, he made himself so important that his post was elevated to that of a cabinet

CONGREGATION FETED PASTOR AT KIRKDALE

Farewell Party Given by Congregation of United Church for Rev. A. V. and Mrs. McLaren, Who Are Leaving the Parish.

Kirkdale, June 1.—Large numbers of the congregation and friends of Holy Trinity Church met in the parish hall at a farewell party for the Rev. A. V. McLaren and Mrs. McLaren who, after spending the past two and a half years at the parsonage, are leaving for their new home in Marlinton.

Supper was served to all, and the churchwardens, Messrs. D. D. Nixon and R. F. Woodburn, on behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. and Mrs. McLaren with a purse of money.

A short presentation poem, composed by Mrs. E. M. Cross for the occasion, was read, after which Mr. McLaren expressed his thanks in a few well chosen words and hoped his success would be as happy here as he had been.

Mrs. McLaren also thanked the ladies for the very pleasant memories she would take with her and for the presents, that had been given them.

Rev. H. O. N. Belford spoke of the conscientious work Mr. McLaren had done as Rural Dean of St. Francis District, Mr. A. Johnston, of Ulverton United Church, expressed his pleasure at the pleasant relations existing between the two denominations during Mr. McLaren's tenure, and Rev. Robins, of Danville, who has only been in the district a short time, said he was pleased to meet the people of Kirkdale and hoped to return again shortly.

Miss Ruth Randlett, of Montreal, entertained with several dance numbers, including a Scott reel in highland costume, a sailor hornpipe, a military tap and a double tap.

Mrs. McLaren gave a request recitation in her usual happy manner and several musical and vocal selections were played and sung.

A very pleasant and sociable evening was brought to a close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." The best wishes of the whole community go with Mr. and Mrs. McLaren in their work at Marlinton and Bishopton.

WISE PASS

Defender Sizes Up Partner's Hand as Trickless, and Refuses to Make Tempting Double

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Contract Bridge League

South unquestionably had a good opening bid, and a hand with which many players would have doubled three no trump, but he thought, judging from the bidding, that his partner's hand must be trickless.

West perhaps was slightly optimistic when he jumped to game in no trump, but with his partner showing great heart stoppers, he felt there was a good chance to make it, and feared that East probably could not bid again.

East won the opening trick with the heart nine, then led the spade nine and took the finesse against South's king. A second finesse was taken, and on the third lead of the suit the king dropped.

Contract Problem
(Solution in next issue)

East's contract is three no trump. Most players failing to make three no trump on East's hand would claim it was hard luck to find the bad club distribution, but regardless of that fact the hand should be made. Can you discover how?

heart stop, he could see nothing to gain. He went up with the king, cashed his good clubs, the remaining spade and high diamonds, for four odd.

The play of the hand presents no intricate problem, merely illustrating the choosing of correct plays at the right time. It is much more important from the bidding angle. A large percentage of players with the South hand would double a three no trump contract, but South had a much better pass than double, with a silent partner and actively bidding opponents.

Now the club ace was driven out, and South shifted to a diamond. While East could have let this trick pass in safety, still having another

EFFORT MADE TO STIMULATE CHOIR'S WORK

Clergy of Cookshire Deanery, with Members of Their Choirs, Met in St. Paul's Church at Bury.

Bury, June 1.—In an effort to stimulate interest in church music and to improve the quality of the singing in the churches, the clergy of Cookshire Deanery with members of their choirs met in St. Paul's Church on Ascension Day evening and rendered the service of evensong. The visiting clergy included Rev. A. E. Tulk, rural dean, who gave the blessing; Rev. Prof. Elton Scott, of Bishop's University, who preached the sermon appropriate to the day; Rev. C. E. S. Bown, of East Angus, who read the closing prayers; Rev. W. C. Dunn, of Sawyerville, who read the first lesson, and Rev. Sidney Wood, of Scottstown, who read the second lesson. Capt. Butler, of Lawrence, and Brett-Perrin, of Lake Megantic, of the Church Army, were also present in the choir. There were seventy voices in the choir, with Mrs. C. Hawley as organist, and Rev. W. Smith, incumbent of Bury, presenter.

The service opened with the hymn, "Hail, Festal Day," the men singing the verses, Psalm 24, the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were sung to chants. Other hymns sung were "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven," to the first tone, "Hail the Day that Sees Him Rise," and "The Head that Once was Crowned with Thorns." The service was an inspiring one and cannot help but have a stimulating effect on the work of the various choirs.

After the service the choirs remained for a short rehearsal of some of the music in the new Canadian hymn book which will be in general circulation in September. Prof. Scott is the Quebec representative for the School of English Church Music and it was a privilege to have his advice and instruction.

General Notes

At the recent examinations taken by St. Paul's Sunday School and conducted by the General Board of Religious Education on the work of the past nine months, all the pupils who wrote, passed. Donald Smith in the junior department obtained the highest marks in the Diocese of Quebec. The examiners for the diocese are Ven. Archdeacon Jones and the Rev. Canon Eardley-Willmot. Last year Lucy Brown obtained a special award from Toronto, and this year Donald Smith's paper will qualify with the best from other dioceses in Canada for highest honors.

At the recent Diocesan girls' festival held in Lennoxville, the girls of St. Paul's Junior W.A. did not carry back any of the prizes but were well up in the total standing. In the essay competition, Bury came first out of five groups. The prize in the competition was for the best individual essay. The other results were as follows: Choir work, Bury, third out of five; needlework, third out of nine; posters, seventh out of eight; reading, third out of seven. The girls are to be congratulated particularly in winning the group entry competitions and on their fine display of needlework.

Rev. C. Gilbert, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Sarah MacDonald, Mrs. F. W. Gilbert and Mrs. L. D. MacLeod were in Waterloo to attend the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery.

Mrs. C. J. Buckley, of Lyndonville, Vt., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. Morrison, and Mr. Morrison.

Word has been received by relatives in town of the passing of Mrs. Annie Blodgett at her home near Lyndonville, Vt. Mrs. Blodgett was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacIver, who lived in Bury for several years. Friends extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss B. Grayton, of Sherbrooke, is spending a week at her home here.

Mr. M. Trombley has been quite ill for the past week.

Mrs. Gordon George (nee Elsie Bishop) and little son, Ronald, of Lashburn, Alta., are the guests of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Stokes, after an absence of nine years.

Mr. George McClintock was in Montreal on Sunday to see his sister, Miss Helene McClintock, who is a patient in the General Hospital.

Mr. P. F. Doyle, of Claremont, N. H., spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. M. T. Stokes, and Mr. Stokes, and was accompanied home by Mr. Stokes, who has been in poor health for some time.

Mrs. Jessie McLeod, who spent the past month at the home of Mrs. Della Clarke, has left for Milby.

ULVERTON

The many friends of Mr. Norman Johnston regret to learn that he is not improving in health and are hoping for his more speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. A. Wadleigh spent the week-end in Lennoxville and Sherbrooke.

Miss R. Elliott, of South Durham, visited Mrs. B. E. Reed, accompanied by Mr. M. Husk, of Gore.

A number from here attended the farewell party in Kirkdale Hall on Wednesday evening in honor of Rev.

PRESBYTERIAL HELD SESSIONS AT WATERLOO

Many Important Measures Discussed at Twelfth Annual Meeting of Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial Society.

Waterloo, June 1.—At the twelfth annual meeting of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial Society held in St. Paul's United Church here, many important measures were discussed. The motto, "We must sacrifice, serve, spend and share," served in itself to inspire each delegate with enthusiasm and determination to promote the welfare of the Women's Missionary Society in the individual branches, thus strengthening the work throughout Canada.

Following an executive meeting and the registration of delegates at 9:30 a.m., the devotions opened at 10 o'clock with a hymn and a prayer service. At 11:45 a memorial and communion service was conducted immediately after which luncheon was served in the church parlors. During the afternoon the agenda included "Home Organization and Finance," followed by a prayer service. At two o'clock a poster parade was staged. At 3:30 P. M. Present and Future. Reports of Auxiliaries, Circles, Mission Bands, Baby Bands, affiliated Canadian Girls in Training groups and Associate Helpers were presented.

At 2:45 p.m. discussions, relative to methods of increasing membership, which should constitute membership in the W.M.S., and the relation of the W.M.S. to other women's organizations in the Church, were held. The junior choir of the church was in charge of the music at the afternoon session. Supper was served at five-thirty and while in the banquet hall the assembly enjoyed a sketch staged by members of the Waterloo Circle.

"Our Needs Abroad" captioned the programme for the evening's meeting, which was opened by Rev. E. M. Wilson, minister of the church, with a worship service, during which period Roger McKergow very de- voutly rendered a vocal number, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. David Brown. The feature of the evening was an interesting illustration in Korea and Manchuria, in Miss Jean Ross, of Manchuria. In closing a hymn was sung and the benediction pronounced.

The morning session, which opened at 9:30 a.m., dealt with "The Good Citizen and the Good Neighbor," and immediately after a short prayer service, reports were presented by secretaries of literature, Missionary Monthly, supply, temperance, Christian citizenship and world peace, and community friendship. At 11:30 the nominating committee presented its report, which was followed by the election of officers and secretaries and delegates to the Conference Branch.

Luncheon was served at 12:30, the afternoon session, which dealt with "Our Needs Abroad," commencing immediately after the morning session. An impressive ceremony of installation of officers and secretaries was performed as a fitting closing of the highly gratifying and successful Presbyterial.

JOYCE LED LOCAL NINE IN SOREL VICTORY

Toyed With Opponents In Thirteen-Four Win

Sherbrooke Batters Collected Twenty Hits While Joyce Held Sorel to Seven Scattered Safeties—Huxtable, Joyce, Barry and Allen Wielded Potent Bats.

Sherbrooke swamped Sorel thirteen to four today in the first game of the two circuits start into foreign territory and old Lou Gehrig starts another thousand or so consecutive games.

Jack Huxtable, Dale Allen and Dave Barry starred at bat for Sherbrooke, the former rapping out four hits in six times at bat and the latter two connecting safely three times.

Sherbrooke scored two runs in the first inning. Mandeville, the first man up, singled, and went to second on Elliot Small's neat sacrifice bunt.

tre field, sending Olson to third, and, while Sime was being thrown out, Olson scored.

Sherbrooke went on a rampage in the second frame, no less than twelve men facing the Sorel pitchers.

Amedee Roy went out, pitcher to first, to start the inning. Joyce rapped a clean single, Mandeville fled out to left field. Then the "ball started rolling." Singles by Small, Huxtable and Dirubio and doubles by Barry and Allen drove in four runs and forced the Sorel manager to derick Hill and bring Johnson in from the bull pen.

The Sherbrooke total was raised to eleven in the seventh. Allen singled, Conte walked, and Roy advanced both runners with a timely sacrifice. "Nippy" Joyce became the man of the hour again by clouting a single and driving Allen and Conte home.

Boley scored for Sorel in the same inning, romping home on Johnson's double after he had been given an intentional walk to first. Johnson scored on two successive put-outs and an error.

Huxtable and Dirubio singled and scored in the eighth to complete the Sherbrooke scoring and Sorel got one more in their turn at bat on a three hundred and forty-five foot homer over the left field barrier by Galen.

There was no scoring in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Sherbrooke 20 000 220-13 20 4

Sorel 7 000 210-4 7 1

Batteries: Joyce and Barry; Hill, Johnson and Galen.

GRANBY WON THREE TO TWO

With "Ace" Corrigan turning in the fourth consecutive victory.

"Burr" Maloney's Red Sox downed the Drummondville Tigers three to two in a tight Provincial League game played under arc-lights.

A pitching duel between Corrigan and Johnny Pomorski, playing manager of the Tigers, featured the tilt up until the eighth, when Phil Corrigan's smashing double drove Leo Maloney in from second base with the winning run.

Granby took an early lead when Leo Maloney singled to drive home Desmarais and Nolan in the first, but Drummondville drew even in the third as Dupont and Dupont ambled home on Bud Smith's two-base clout.

Score by innings:

Granby 2 000 01x-3 10 2

Drumville 2 000 000-2 4 4

Batteries: Martin and Ethesey; Steinberg, Albert and Conley.

DARKNESS HALTED QUEBEC GAME

The match between Three Rivers and Quebec was deadlocked at 3-3 when darkness stopped the game in the Ancient Capital.

Quebec went ahead three to nothing in the second inning, making three hits good for as many runs.

Three Rivers marked up one run in the second, and tied it up in the seventh when Gene Sullivan singled to drive home Houston and Demers.

Score by innings:

Quebec 3 000 000-3 6 0

T. Rivers 3 010 000-2 3 2

Batteries: Martin and Ethesey; Steinberg, Albert and Conley.

New York, June 1.—(AP)—The surprise of it was that Ross stayed as long as he did. To many it looked as hard as he did to mow down Pezety Sarron and some of his more recent opponents. Jim Braddock sat at the ringside and pulled hard for

NEW PITCHER TO ARRIVE FRIDAY

A new pitcher, J. Desjardin, is expected to arrive in Sherbrooke on Friday with Bob Cohen. Both these boys come from Springfield, Mass.

Desjardin will try out with the local Provincial Baseball League team and officials hope that he will add strength to the pitching corps.

BOIS ROUSSEL CAUSED DERBY UPSET TODAY

Forty Thousand, Including King and Queen, Saw Twenty-to-One Shot Win—Favored Pasch Finished Third Behind Scottish Union.

Epsom, England, June 1.—(AP)—Showing stout courage over the difficult uphill homestretch, Hon. Peter Beatty's French-bred colt Bois Roussel, a son of the great Vatout, today won the Derby before the King and Queen and a gathering of 40,000.

James V. Rank's Scottish Union was second, beaten by four lengths, while the top-heavy favorite, H. E. Morris's Pasch, was third, two lengths farther back.

Bois Roussel, purchased only a few weeks ago from the French owner, Leon Volterra, was twenty to nothing in the betting, but throughout the pre-race wagering was well supported. This morning he was one of the "tips" bandied about the stands.

Scottish Union, who finished second to Pasch in the Two Thousand Guineas at Newmarket in April, started at eight to one, while the disappointing Pasch went to the post the nine to four choice.

A field of twenty-two ran in the 150th renewal of the great test.

CANADIANS WIN DERBY PRIZE MONEY

Toronto, June 1.—(AP)—A Canadian who used the non-de-plume "Bad Luck" today won $150,000 in the Irish Hospital Sweepstake as Bois Roussel won the 150th running of the Epsom Derby. "Bad Luck" had ticket No. CH99906.

Aurèle Labelle, thirty-three, of Buckingham, Que., and William Riddle, of Mount Pleasant, Ont., won $50,000 each when the favorite, Pasch, placed third.

Total Canadian winnings in the sweep exceeded $500,000 as seventy-six held tickets on non-starters and horses unplaced worth $2,650 each, four won residual prizes worth $5,805 and one hundred and twenty-two won $500 consolation prizes.

Labelle, an electric company employee, and Riddle both sold half interests in their tickets on Pasch for $20,000. When the favorite came in third their net winnings amounted to $45,000.

WEIGHT THROWER FLATTENED CY WILLIAMS

San Francisco, June 1.—(AP)—Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, 281-pound Dublin, Ireland, surgeon and world's record holder in the hammer throw, made his professional wrestling debut here last night, flattening Cy Williams, 225, of Tallahassee, Fla., in four minutes and 25 seconds. It was a one-fall match, and the doctor used a hold he termed the "hammer throw."

Barney, although he admitted Ross was on his way out before the fight was half through. The fact that Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee home run knocker, was with Braddock and Gould gave rise to fresh rumors that Gould is handling "DerMag's" business affairs. Fresh denials followed.

HATLEY SQUAD DOWNS AYER'S CLIFF OUTFIT

Scored Shutout in Opening Day Engagement of Stanstead County Baseball League—Barnston and Waterville Rang Up Wins.

Barnston, Hatley and Waterville chalked up victories in the opening games of the Stanstead County Baseball League.

The Barnston win was scored in Beebe, the visiting team piling up twenty-two runs as against six by the home team.

In Beebe the Barnston sluggers men got to their deliveries for only six hits, but many Ayer's Cliff errors proved fatal to their chances for a win.

Young Johnny Chadsey started on the mound for the Ayer's Cliff nine and was replaced in the seventh by E. Slack. The Hatley batsmen got to their deliveries for only six hits, but many Ayer's Cliff errors proved fatal to their chances for a win.

A neat pitching performance was turned in by Wayne Hodges, who allowed but five safeties and struck out sixteen.

Hatley 9 6 2
Ayer's Cliff 0 0 0
Batteries: Hodges and Bessette; Chadsey, Slack and McVeay.

In Beebe the Barnston sluggers blasted out twenty-eight hits off the deliveries of C. Goudreau and J. Goudreau, and made the most of seven errors by the home team in piling up their twenty-two runs.

On the other hand, the Beebe boys collected fourteen hits off Sutton and Menard, but were unable to bunch them effectively.

Barnston 22 28 4
Beebe 6 14 7
Waterville defeated Stanstead eight to six in a hard-fought game on the Waterville diamond. Although out-hit twelve to eleven, the Waterville team connected at timely intervals and pushed across enough runs to win.

A. Smith drove a circuit clout over the short left field barrier. Waterville 8 11 3
Stanstead 6 12 4
The remainder of the schedule has been released for publication. With nine games operating in the loop it was decided to split the schedule in two to parts, with one section playing on Saturday and the other on Sunday.

YANKEES OPEN ANNUAL DRIVE FOR TOP RUNG

McCarthy Minions Hit Old-Time Form, Consolidating Hold on Second Place with Twelve to Five Win Over Red Sox.

A new picture of the major league situation is on display today as the leaders of the two circuits start into foreign territory and old Lou Gehrig starts another thousand or so consecutive games.

Yankees, as attested by their doings of the last two days, are coming right along in old-time form and Chief A. Cubs are doing just as well. Indians and Giants haven't shown signs of slipping, but they don't have far to fall.

Yankees really began to show their mettle in the just-concluded series with Boston Red Sox Monday 83,529 fans came out to see Yanks move into second place with a double victory over the Sox. Yesterday they consolidated their position by whipping Boston again, twelve to five, in the only game on the big league programme. Lou Gehrig hit a homer Monday, but only a single yesterday.

Stanstead, June 1.—The Dufferin Heights Country Club opened the season with the president-vice match.

Twenty-two players took part in foursomes and twosomes, and the president's side, led by Fred Robertson, substituting for Walter Norris, won the honors of the day with a score of eighteen to twelve over the vice-president's team led by Arthur Wessell.

A delicious supper was prepared by the ladies of the executive committee, with Mrs. J. G. Murphy, president, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, vice-president, and other members of the club in charge.

Owing to the disaster at the College the ladies generously contributed the supplies to the College, and they were transferred to Genetery Church and served there at six o'clock.

New members are joining daily and everything points to a successful season at the Club this year.

Armstrong In Surprise Win Over Barney Ross

Registered Startling Upset Before 30,000 Fans in Madison Square Garden Bowl—Literally Tore Welterweight Championship from Shoulders of Ross in Machine-Like Display.

New York, June 1.—(AP)—The world welterweight boxing crown rests today atop a little black buzzsaw.

Henry Armstrong, who fights as though he were a machine instead of a human, literally tore the championship from the shoulders of Barney Ross here last night, drove him into retirement and wrote a new chapter in fistic history.

The unlooked-for victory made the colored fighter from California a double champion and was the most amazing feat of the year. The 128-pound featherweight class skipped over the lightweight division to topple the king of the 147-pounds.

No sooner had he gained the unanimous decision over Ross in a bloody fifteen round affair that was a rout the last half of the distance, than the black man invited lightweight champion Lou Ambers into his homicidal parlor.

"I'm looking for that Ambers' address," he said as they led him from a gladiator's pit splashed with the blood of the white man. "I'd like to lick him in July and win my third title."

And while the twenty-six year old victor, flushed with his easy triumph and the shouts of thousands ringing in his ears, plotted new master the bruised and beaten Jewish boy from Chicago, looking old and weary at less than twenty-nine, was announcing his retirement.

In achieving the upset before the unbelieving eyes of almost 30,000 half-frozen fans in the Madison Square Garden Bowl, Armstrong gave the colored folk their fourth championship.

Before the fans donned overcoats and furs against the unseasonable breezes whipped around the shallow sports saucer and contributed toward a gross gate of $160,860, they had seen the colored folk their fourth championship.

In the first round, again in the fourth and in the fifth, the puzzled Ross seemed at times to have found the answer to Armstrong's dervish attack. Holding the muscular little Californian off with a straight left or bringing him out if his smother with sharp uppercuts, Barney scored with a crisp attack to the head.

But always Armstrong ambled through the barrage that came only in flurries anyway and once inside the long-range guns, belted his own short punches from stomach to head and then kidneys. Ross wilted steadily after the fifth round. He was given the seventh when the featherweight fired a low blow in a bull-like rush. From then on he just absorbed leather that landed with the ratat monotony of machine gun fire.

There are a lot of things to say about Gehrig: His 1,797 hits, his 1,897 runs batted in (he drove in 184 in one year for the league record), 469 homers, second only to Ruth's 714; his 1,138 extra-base hits.
