Rosebery Speaks At Sheffield.

Stands For Free Trade—Balfour's Programme Bad and Chamberlain's Worse—Predicts That Either Would Bring Disaster.

London, Oct. 14.—An immense audience at Sheffield welcomed Lord Rosebery last night, with great enthusiasm on the occasion of his addressing the local Liberal League. Lord Rosebery declared that he was a convinced imperialist, but was equally a convinced free trader. Prime Minister Balfour's recent speech, he said, was a "wet squib" and Mr. Chamberlain's scheme was a mass of glittering soap bubbles. Free trade had not failed the country had enjoyed and was enjoying prosperity from free trade. Mr. Chamberlain's proposals would reverse this, and almost inevitably dislocate the colonies now in perfect harmony, and he pleaded that this harmony should not be disturbed. Foreign tariffs, Lord Rosebery declared, must be fought with science, education and a more adaptive spirit, and by keeping the universe as a market for the purchase of food and raw material. Towards the close of his speech, Lord Rosebery used a characteristic enigmatical expression, which was interpreted by the audience as indicating his readiness to lead the Liberal party. He said: "I will not allow to be dispelled, so far as my strength goes, my idea of the future of the Empire as the strong mother of strong children, each working out its own political and fiscal salvation with perfect freedom." At this statement the audience rose, waved handkerchiefs, and cheered itself hoarse. A resolution condemning any fiscal changes was carried by acclamation.

Children Attempt Thrilling Fire Dive Seen at Sherbrooke Fair.

Children are imitators and this was illustrated by a remarkable incident which occurred in East Sherbrooke yesterday, and which nearly proved fatal to a little five-year-old girl. Everybody who attended the evening performance at the recent Sherbrooke Exhibition remembers the thrilling feat of the high diver, who wrapped in flames leaped from a great height into a tank of water. This was the kind of play that five little girls in East Sherbrooke thought they would indulge in yesterday. They chose the scene of the performance in a woodshed belonging to Alfred Mayo. The children had been together all afternoon playing different games, while the fertile mind of one of the quintette suggested the high dive which had been seen at the exhibition. A tub of water was in the shed and a box considerably higher than it. At first the children only "made believe" to dive. This became tedious and finally the thrilling and dangerous "fire-dive" was suggested. It met with instant favor and steps were at once taken to carry it out. Long strings of paper were made and everything put in readiness. Then Miss Alberte Ennais, aged five years, got ready to perform the feat. The paper was tied around her and she dived around feeling quite proud. The only thing that was lacking was the fire on the water. This could not be produced. The children had seen the high diver at the exhibition come out of the fire unhurt. They touched a match to the paper which had been wrapped about her. A large blaze soon developed, and the little girl failed to dive into the water. The fire began to burn her, and the other children became frightened and ran screaming out of the shed. Mrs. Charest, Mrs. Letourneau and Miss Menard happened to be passing at the time and on hearing the cries ran to the rescue. They found the little girl enveloped in flames and still in the shed. A rug, which was near at hand was thrown over her and the fire was immediately extinguished. She was carried into the house and Dr. Lamy called. He dressed her wounds, and the little sufferer was afterwards taken to her home. She is a daughter of Mr. Octave Ennais, and resides on First avenue. The little girl is quite seriously, but not dangerously, burned, the prompt arrival of help no doubt saving her life.

King And Queen of Italy Arrive in France To-Day.

Paris, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Royal train, conveying the King and Queen of Italy, arrived at Modano, France, this morning. The engine is decorated with French and Italian flags. Every precaution has been taken to secure the safety of the Italian sovereigns. Six hundred and thirty-five arrests have been made during the last few days of tramps or suspects, all of whom will be detained in custody until after the King's departure.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL ON SATURDAY.

Fouquette Brought Before the Judge and Remanded

WITNESSES WILL, IN THE MEANTIME, BE SUMMONED.

Napoleon Fouquette, the LaPatric, farmer, arrested on the charge of causing the death of his two-year-old step-daughter, was brought before Judge Malton yesterday afternoon. The proceedings were very short. The papers in connection with the coroner's inquest had previously been deposited with the district magistrate. The Judge informed the prisoner that at the coroner's inquest held at LaPatric a verdict was rendered against him and that a preliminary examination would be held next Saturday. In the meantime witnesses will be subpoenaed. The accused was thereupon conducted back to jail.

A LYNCHING IN MONTANA.

MURDERER TAKEN FROM JAIL LAST NIGHT BY MOB AND PIT TO DEATH.

Hamilton, Montana, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Walter Jackson, the convicted murderer of Bonnie Bask, a six-year-old boy, was taken from the county jail here last night by a mob and hanged.

Mrs. William Shearer and little daughter, Jean, left on Monday morning for a visit to friends in Montreal.

SENATOR COX AND THE G. T. P.

Replies to Attacks Made Upon Him.

HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT THE "COX CANNOT WAIT" PHRASE.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—In the Senate yesterday, Hon. Mr. Scott resumed the debate on the second reading of the transcontinental railway bill. He was followed by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who condemned the Government for rushing such a big measure through the House of Commons. To any businessman the all-rail route was impracticable. He thought that the Canadian Northern might have been completed before the necessity of this outlay had been decided on. Personally, Sir Mackenzie said he was opposed to the Government owning or running railways, and if they were to take the I. C. R. as an example, God protect the country.

Following Sir Mackenzie Bowell came Senator Casgrain, of Montreal, and he was succeeded by Senator Bolduc.

Senator Cox then took the floor. In connection with his speech he said: "Under the circumstances to which I intend to refer later on, I do not propose to say much in support of the bill now before this House, nor do I think it is necessary that I should do so. I think, however, that I owe to this honorable House and to myself to make some reference to the manner in which my name has been used in a certain section of the press and in the debates that have taken place in the House of Commons in connection with the G. T. P. Railway. I desire to explain that the project was well under way when Mr. Chas. M. Hays, the vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, did me the honor of asking me to be one of the provisional directors of the G. T. P. I regarded it then and I so regard it now, as a very great honor to be associated with one of the most, if not the most, important undertakings, that has ever been entered upon in Canada. I do not place it second in importance to even the C. P. R. My compliance with the request of the G. T. P. authorities to act as one of the directors of the company is the sum total of my offence, if such it may be called, that has brought down upon me most unfair and untruthful criticism both in and out of Parliament.

"COX CANNOT WAIT." expression used by Mr. Blair during the debate in the House, when he ascribed the Government's haste to the fact that "Senator Cox cannot wait."

"This statement," Mr. Cox went on to say, "may be taken in itself to mean anything or nothing. I have not the slightest conception of what the Hon. ex-minister intended to convey to the public by making use of such a statement. Whatever his intention was it certainly has been used by other members of the House of Commons and by a section of the press as a justification for making the most untruthful and dishonorable attacks upon the Government and myself. Notwithstanding the statement that 'Cox cannot wait,' I have been patiently waiting for the simple justice that one gentleman has the right to expect from another. I have been waiting for the ex-minister to either apologize or remove the false impression that his words have conveyed to the public, or else to do me the justice to explain to the country and myself what he meant by using my name in the way he did. In the meantime in the absence of such apology or explanation, I desire to say to this honorable House that the implied charge of improper conduct upon my part or of any undue influence or any attempt at undue influence with the Government, or with any member of it, is absolutely and entirely false. There is no foundation, whatever, in fact for such a slanderous statement. The futile attempts that have been made in certain directions to use the remarks of the hon. ex-minister for the purpose of injuring my financial standing are as amusing as they are absurd, and as unworthy of notice as the source from which they emanated."

HON. J. I. TARTE FOR SHERBROOKE.

SO SAYS POLITICAL GOSSIP RE- PORTS LIBERAL COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER.

A well-known commercial traveller states that he has it on good authority that Hon. J. I. Tarte, at the coming general elections, will be a candidate either in Bagot or Sherbrooke.

He says that in political circles the impression prevails that the ex-minister would very much like to represent the manufacturing city of Sherbrooke. The gentleman who brings the news that Mr. Tarte has his eye on the Eastern Townships metropolis has been seen to wear a rouge tie and he says Mr. Tarte won't get his vote. He predicts, however, a lively time wherever the fighting ex-minister decided to plant his standard.

TOMORROW, THANKSGIVING DAY, THERE WILL BE NO ISSUE OF THE DAILY RECORD.

ANOTHER PIONEER HAS DEPARTED.

Ronald McDonald, of Cor- ris, Passes Away.

FOR FIFTY YEARS A MUCH RE- SPECTED FARMER OF THE TOWNSHIP.

Richmond, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Another of the pioneer fathers in the person of Mr. Ronald McDonald, of Corris, has passed away after a somewhat lengthened illness, borne with much courage and cheerfulness. He came to Canada early in the fifties, and during the half century that has expired has been engaged in the occupation of farming which he conducted with diligence and success. A typical Celt of the old school, he had been during his long life a constant reader of the leading newspapers and good books and had amassed a considerable amount of knowledge. He was a man of decided convictions which he held with great steadfastness. He came from Sutherlandshire, Scotland, where his forefathers held a small holding. After a long life without much incident to vary its even tenor, he has passed away peacefully from amongst us, with an implicit trust in the revelation of mercy in that Great Book which he knew so well. He died on Monday morning, at 8 o'clock, and is being buried to-day in the Lower Windsor cemetery, where the services will be conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Kellock, Richmond. He leaves a widow, a son, and three daughters to mourn his loss.

THE CAMPAIGN IN BROME COUNTY.

MR. McCORKILL ISSUES A LETTER ACCEPTING LIBERAL CANDI- DATURE.

Knowlton, Oct. 14.—Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer, has forwarded the following letter to Mr. H. E. Williams, President of the Liberal Association of Brome:

"I duly received copies of the resolutions passed at the convention of your association, held at Knowlton, September 12th, in one of which your association did me the honor to tender me the Liberal candidature in the County of Brome, in the bye-election which is about to be held to replace your late lamented member, Hon. H. Thos. Duffy.

"Hon. Mr. Parent, Premier of the Province, did me the honor to offer me a seat in his Cabinet as Treasurer of the Province. I, therefore, have much pleasure in accepting the candidature in Brome, and would ask you to notify the Liberal Association of the County of my acceptance of their nomination, and at the same time tell them how deeply honored I feel at this mark of confidence which they have shown me.

"I would like to meet the Liberals of the County and all others who approve of my acceptance of the trusteeship of the Province, in a public meeting at Knowlton at as early a date as possible, and would suggest that such a meeting be called as soon as convenient."

RICHMOND HAS THE HONOR.

HAS AMONG HER CITIZENS ONLY ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERYMAN IN CANADA.

Mr. F. T. Mappin, of Richmond, is the only Canadian who is entitled to wear the uniform of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of London. Although Mr. Mappin has lived in Richmond fifteen years, he still takes great pride in his connection with the company, wears his uniform on state occasions and takes an active interest in the festivities. Mr. Mappin is a nephew of Sir Frederick Mappin, and is connected with the well known English house of Mappin and Webb. He leads the quiet life of a gentleman farmer in Richmond.

DENIED ADMISSION.

ENGLISH GLASSBLOWERS NOT ALLOWED INTO THE STATES.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 14.—A special to the Herald from Malone, N. Y., says: United States Commissioner of Immigration, Robert Watchorn, stationed at Montreal, has denied admission to the United States to the twelve glassblowers held here, and recommended that they be taken to New York and deported to England. Unless the Department at Washington decided otherwise, this course will be pursued. These men, who are from England, were on their way to the Stuben Glass Works in Corning, N. Y., to go to work. They were accompanied by Joseph Onions, of Corning, who met them in Montreal.

Alaskan Tribunal At a Banquet.

Lord Alverstone Causes Sensation by His Remarks— Resents Criticism—Some Interesting Speeches.

London, October 14.—The members, counsel and attaches of the Alaskan boundary tribunal were entertained by the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Marcus Samuel, at a banquet at the Mansion House last night. Attorney-General Finlay and Sir Edward Carson were notable absentees, but most of the others associated with the case were present. It was a memorable occasion, attended by all the ancient customs, loving cups, city liveries and gorgeously appafelled footmen.

The Lord Mayor proposed the health of President Roosevelt while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner." Then His Lordship proposed the toast of "The Alaskan Boundary Tribunal."

He declared that the present method of the submission to a tribunal of a dangerous dispute between two great nations would be a lasting lesson of peace to the world.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, in replying, after referring to the death of Sir Michael Herbert, said that though the tribunal was not an illustration of arbitration it was "an honest and patriotic attempt to solve by mutual discussion subjects which might become serious." "I have no fault," he said, "to find with anything that has been said and done. We have proceeded with great unanimity, and I only wish that those who do not understand the methods of the tribunal would abstain from attributing motives to its members which do not exist."

This open reference to Canadian criticism of Lord Alverstone's supposed pre-disposition towards the American case caused no little sensation. It was followed by Lord Alverstone somewhat passionately declaring that in a long public career he had never objected to criticism after he had taken a certain course of action.

DEATH OF MR. ARCHIE EXLEY.

ANOTHER POPULAR YOUNG MAN HAS PASSED AWAY.

The death of Mr. Archibald Exley occurred yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, at his residence on Queen street, after an illness of about a year, during which his health was constantly failing.

Mr. Exley was a native of Sherbrooke. His parents have been old residents here. Until the time of his illness he was employed in the Jencks Machine Shop, where he was much esteemed by his fellow workmen. For a number of years he was one of the "stars" of the Sherbrooke Lacrosse Club, which he captained two years. He contributed to many hard fought victories and was always one of the most popular members of the Sherbrooke club. Until about two weeks ago the doctors attending him were hopeful, but a sudden change occurred, and he sank rapidly.

He leaves a wife and one son, two years of age. Deceased was only 29 years of age. For nine years he was an active member of the 53rd Regt. Band, who will attend his funeral in a body.

The funeral will leave the house tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Oct. 14.-The ladies of the Baptist church will give a Thanksgiving supper on the 15th at the parsonage.

Mr. D. J. Ayer and the bookkeeper, Miss Fuller, left on Monday for Lennoxville, the new headquarters of business.

Great scarcity of water still prevails. Mr. Roy Lennon and Miss Lena Spaulding were married at the R. C. church on the 17th.

Mr. George Corcoran is still quite poorly, having been ill for some months.

Mrs. William Patterson is improving. Mrs. Fred Patterson is, also, said to be mending slowly.

All seemed to enjoy the chicken pie supper on the 9th. Mr. Moulton's assistance with the Coaticook orchestra was much appreciated, also, the fine solos rendered by Mr. and Miss Thomas, Mr. Hadlock and Miss Demersé.

The new organ, for which Mr. and Mrs. Dow have labored so untiringly, was christened on this occasion. May it be the means of blending much harmony with the discords of life.

The ladies of the church extend many thanks to all who so kindly assisted in any way to make this entertainment a success.

DOUGS IN TROUBLE

CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE TO BINDERS.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 14. - Since the Doukhobors came to this country several years ago they have furnished much interesting matter for the papers all over the continent. Now there are six of them held over to the next sitting of the Supreme court of the Northwest Territories at Yorkton, for setting fires to binders.

Last week they were brought up for a preliminary trial at Yorkton before H. Christopherson, J. P., the Northwest Mounted Police prosecuting for the Crown.

They were charged with having wilfully set fire to a binder, and a quantity of grain some three weeks ago. Two witnesses were brought, from the Doukhobor village, but as neither of them had seen the prisoners set the fire going, the prosecution had nothing to work upon beyond the confessions of the prisoners.

The prisoners were asked to select one of their number who should give evidence for them all. The prisoner chosen was a well-set man of medium build, and evidently the leader of the band. This is the man that was designated during the last notorious pilgrimage as "John the Baptist." He gave his evidence in a cool manner in the following words:

"The wheat we are accused of rolling down and injuring was ours as well as the other Doukhobors. We helped sow it, and it was sown with animal labor, therefore, it was sown in accordance with the new life. The binder also belongs to us, as much as to brethren, and we burned it to show the new life to the world. We think that everything invented by man is evil, because these inventions injure both man and beast. Even matches are evil, and by burning the binder and the grain we exhibit the evil thereof. We wish that all evil works be put away and we would that our brethren cease using horses and oxen as beasts of burden: We are anxious to be the protectors of the beasts of the lower life, and for that reason we live the life we do. In Russia we burned guns and destroyed cannon as examples, but in Canada we burn grain and binders as examples. You may prosecute us if you wish, but we would like to gain our liberty and live as a free people, living the life of the universal brotherhood and we desire to be known as God's commune."

The magistrate committed them for trial at the next sittings of the Supreme Court, and it was certainly pitiful to see these six sturdy men begging to be given apples instead of bread.

SHOT HIMSELF DEAD.

MR. J. G. HOPKINS KILLED WHILE HUNTING.

Tobermora, Ont., Oct. 11.-Yesterday while hunting in company with some friends J. G. Hopkins, a respected farmer of this place accidentally shot himself. He was two hundred yards from the rest of the party. The dogs were running some game close, and it is thought Mr. Hopkins had his gun cocked ready for a shot. His companions heard the report, and hurried to see what he had shot, and found Mr. Hopkins lying on his back. The contents of both barrels of his gun had struck him in the chest, death being instantaneous. Deceased leaves a wife and family of several children.

GIVE TO THE POOR.
Give to the Poor—
Hath not their toil procured
A thousand blessings for your hearth and board, Which never comes to theirs? O! then impart
Of your abundance, to the sad of heart!

Give to the Poor—
The wealth of harvest came
To gladden all—one fount supplied the rain,
One urn the sunlight; let your mercies spread
The gifts of bounty, God hath richly shed!

Blend with the Poor—
We are one family.
Bound by one Father to one destiny—
Shall darkness, penury, suffering, on our way, Mar the high claim of our humanity?

Plead for the Poor—
The struggles they overcome, Strangers to wildering want have never known;
O save from sin, by charities of Heaven,
The oppress'd, whose graveyard path to gloom is given!

BULBS, BULBS.
We have just received our regular fall importation of winter and spring flowering bulbs, consisting of Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils, Narcissus, Crocus, etc. John Milford & Son.

ALL ABOUT RONDEAU

IN THE COUNTY OF KENT, FROM A NATURALIST'S POINT OF VIEW.
Where Lampman Was Born and Where the Late Hon. Senator David Mills Taught—A Charming Spot in Western Ontario—Rondeau Park a Veritable Paradise to the Botanist—Garden of Wild Flowers.

It is safe to say that no prettier drive exists in Ontario than that from the village of Morpeth, in Kent, to the lighthouse at the entrance to the Rondeau Harbor. At least nothing could be more charming from a naturalist's point of view. Morpeth itself is a quaint old-fashioned little village, which at one time was a thriving metropolis, the centre of trade for the district; but when the railroad came into Ridgeway, five miles away, it diverted the business from Morpeth, and for the last thirty years it has been dwindling away.

Up to a year ago, however, the village contained two interesting buildings at least, which have associations of their own aside from any changes in the commercial world. One is the old school house, in which the late Hon. David Mills taught in his younger days, and which is now used as a residence. The other was the birthplace of Archibald Lampman, Canada's first and truest poet. This building was worth very little, only a few hundred dollars at the most, and was used as an English church parsonage. It could have readily been preserved at a small outlay, but no effort was apparently made to save it, and it was pulled down a year ago to make way for a safer building.

A mile and a half south of Morpeth is Terrace Beach, a group of summer cottages, and a favorite resort for the smaller picnics. An unused dock, rapidly rotting away, and an empty warehouse remind the visitor of the days when Morpeth was the shipping port of the district. In the old times before the railroad came in, I took a turn through the warehouse and found it haunted only by bats and by the chimney swallows, who glued their nests to the walls of the grain bins.

From Terrace Beach the road runs along the shore of the lake for several miles, and a more charming drive than this it would be difficult to find.
Within a mile or so of the Eau we come to a little village of rather picturesque fishermen's cottages, which separate the lake from the Eau. The left side of the Eau, you will notice at a glance, is covered with a dense forest, mostly pine and oak. It is a large, triangular peninsula, lying between the Rondeau harbor and the lake, and containing some thousands of acres. This peninsula, two miles long by two or more wide, is what is commonly known as the Rondeau Provincial Park.

The sandy waste lying between the fishermen's village and the park proper is crossed by a gravel road, recently constructed by the Government. This road is being extended this season from the entrance of the park to the pavilion and picnic grounds. At the picnic grounds, some years ago constructed a residence for the park ranger, a dancing pavilion and a wharf, in addition to the usual conveniences for picnic parties.
An effort has been made to stock the park with deer and pheasants, but for several reasons progress has been slow. The pens at present contain a good number of pheasants, and about a dozen deer are at wild in the park, while seven or eight more are confined in the enclosures.

Since the new road has been built through the sand the park has become a favorite picnic resort, and it is not an uncommon thing to find a couple of thousand people gathered together from all parts of the country.
And at the Government wharf you are almost sure on picnic days to find a sailboat moored, in command of a characteristic darky prospector, who in ferrying you across the water supplements his income by the kindred calling of "sawing soles."

From a naturalist's point of view, however, the park has greater attractions than its picnics. First and foremost are its famous black squirrels, which exist here in thousands, and are growing more numerous and more tame every year. The red squirrels, the enemies of the black, are shot off, but all the other smaller rodents—the chipmunks, muskrats, wood hares, raccoons and woodchucks—exist in considerable numbers. Every spring a trapper obtains the privilege from the Government of trapping muskrats and digging out the foxes, which are in danger of becoming too numerous on the upper end of the park.

Next to the squirrels the wonderful monster ant-hills claim my attention.
The majority of these giant ant-hills are six or eight feet in diameter, but I have seen some as large as fifteen or twenty feet. Some of the ants in these communities are black, but the majority are red-headed, the Rondeau Park, it is claimed, being the only place in Ontario where this species is found. But, although they are exceedingly interesting, they are in some respects very disagreeable, for they seem to cover not only every square inch of the ground, but also the trunks of the trees, up and down which they make a perpetual procession. In the lower end of the park a great number of them have been dug out and fed to the pheasants in the pens, who are especially fond of the larvae.

To a botanist the park is a veritable paradise, and in the midsummer season of the year is a perfect garden of wild flowers. The sides of the road leading to the piers are gay with a profusion of wild bergamot, tick-troffil, yellow St. John's wort, black-eyed Susans, and the delicate white flower of the spurge, while through the denser woods and along the marshes are to be found almost every species of flower that the season affords. The trees on the lower half of the park are mostly scarlet oak, but the rarer species, the chestnut oak, is also found. On the upper end of the peninsula the pine predominates. A rustic road runs through the woods from one end of the park to the other up to the piers, ten miles away, and a most beautiful drive it is, in spite of mosquitoes and deer flies, past great wild-grape vines forming "many a banner fair;" past the wild bergamot and black-eyed Susans, the purple beard-tongue and the flaming cardinal flower; past the monstrous hills of red-headed ants; past the famous twin pines, into the cool pine woods beyond, with luscious black squirrels frisking across your path and the hoarse scarlet tanager singing in the trees above, till you come to the open space at last and see the lighthouse of Erie Eau in the distance, standing out white and distinct against a background of water and sky and sand.

Once, indeed, in your progress to the lighthouse, you turn aside from the path to a little open space in the woods, it is an Indian clearing, in which, when I first stumbled over it years ago, I found only an old log hut, a broken-down cutter and a lonely forsaken grave. The Erie Eau, where the lighthouse stands, is simply the outlet of the Rondeau Harbor, where it joins the lake. In spite of the dust and sand, and the dirt, from the great coal hoist, it has grown rapidly into a considerable summer resort. The bird student who visits Erie Eau cannot but notice the great numbers of swallows, purple martins, chimney swifts, kingbirds and other insect catchers that hover over the spot, in pursuit of the flies that are attracted thither no doubt partly by the picnic supplies.

On an excursion day you may perhaps find that your darkey friend with the "saw box" has preceded you here from the other end of the park, and if you wish to continue your excursion around the Eau you cannot do better than take passage with him in the "Wave Crest." He takes you down the western shore of the Eau, and as he passes Shrewsbury, from which he himself hails, some three or four miles from the lighthouse, it would be worth your while to land.
Shrewsbury is only a little poverty-stricken negro village, but even as such it is interesting, and if you happen to arrive on one of the feast days of the village, as threshing or wedding, it is doubly so. As a thriving, growing, go-ahead town it had its own hopes in days past, as the farms for a mile around actually laid out and fenced off into streets and blocks destined never to be built abundantly testify. Its founder, an agad had great expectations regarding the great trading metropolis which should some day rise on the marshy borders of the Eau. There was a momentary flutter of excitement, and speculation ran high. But alas! today the wild ducks, rising unmolested in its reedy harbors and the call of the night heron alone disturbs the silence of its rushy shores.

Between Shrewsbury and the Government dock, for which the Wave Crest is bound, the shore is, in a sense, unimproved, the marshes, reeds giving no indication of the rich farm lands behind it. But down in these same desolate marshes there is at least one spot of romance about it. In a little clearing in front of a chump of forest, by the side of a creek, which affords an outlet through the marsh, stands a small white dwelling, in which a solitary Frenchman lives alone, in company with his dogs, his tame quail, and the volumes of his favorite Moliere, a well-read and well-educated man, notwithstanding his loneliness, and an allowance two or three times as yearly from France to keep the wolf from the door—a lover of the birds and marsh flowers and the lovely Eau, but a mystery, and to me at all times the true habitat and gen-tius of the woods.

The channel near the foot of the Eau is bounded by shoals, and more than once have I spent an uncon-fortable and unprofitable hour in vain efforts to clear myself of an unexpected sand-bar; but to-day, being in the hands of the experienced ecclesiastic who conducts the service of a Sunday in the dancing pavilion, and by long experience knows the safest channels, we arrive at last in safety at the Government dock.—Naturalist, in The Toronto Globe.

A LOVER'S FREAK.
OFFICER'S THEORY OF THE ROCK
LAKE DYNAMITE OUTRAGE.
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 14.—Unless Provincial Constable Rush's theories are astray, love was at the bottom of the recent dynamite outrage at Rock Lake, by which the Lunge of George Matheson was blown to pieces and Mrs. Matheson and her sister miraculously escaped death. According to Mr. Rush a young man for whom he is now looking was desperately in love with Matheson's sister-in-law, but the parents objected. It is said this young man had often been heard to make threats against the girl and her family. Almost immediately following the dynamite affair the young man left this district.

TRIED TO ESCAPE
FROM REFORMATORY.
THEY FAILED AND TODAY ARE TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY.
Charlie Stark, Bob Walker and Jas.
Slatter, of the Sherbrooke Reformatory School, were transferred to the St.
Vincent de Paul penitentiary this morning.

On Monday morning they made an attempt to escape from the reformatory. They had manufactured a key which was going to aid them in getting out. It was about 11 a.m. that they came down stairs to the office door to make their dash for liberty.
One of them had a piece of rubber hose with an iron rod in it, which made a dangerous weapon.
They were discovered, however, and the attempt to break jail frustrated.

STATES FARMERS FLOCK TO CANADA.
 Official Report From Washington Sounds Note of Alarm.

GEN. CORBIN TELLS OF GREAT DEVELOPMENT OF CANADIAN WEST.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The exodus of United States farmers to Manitoba and Alberta, according to official reports, is increasing.
 The steady high price of beef, the opportunity to take up large tracts of cheap land, and the gradual decline of productiveness of wheat land in the Northwest are believed to be causes for this peculiar movement. At the same time there is going on a steady movement of farmers from New England and the Middle States to Canada, where recent successes in fruit raising have attracted attention. Canada has entered into the shipment of apples, plums and peaches to Europe on a large scale and fortunes have been made in the industry of late.

General Corbin, speaking of the migration of our farmers to the British possessions, gives the following account of what came under his observation during his recent tour of western military posts.

"Thoughtful persons must be impressed by the great army of settlers which is going into the Northwest Territory from the United States. While I was travelling on the Northern Pacific last week a conductor told me that he had taken 500 American settlers into Canada the day before, and said it was nothing unusual for that number to cross the Canadian line on trains from the United States. This movement was going on for several years, and will continue. It is interesting to consider what changes the settlement of Western Canada by American farmers will bring about. Farmers from Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska, all of them Americans of the sturdiest type, are flocking into the new country. They are selling their high price lands in the United States and buying cheap lands in the new country. Settlers are living in tents along the railway lines. It is impossible to build houses fast enough to accommodate them. In many places whole districts are taken up by American farmers. The country is being Americanized at a rapid rate.

"In 1876 I was through the territory which now makes up the Dakotas and Montana. We had to have guides to find our way through the country. Now that territory has been converted into one great wheat field, and fine farm houses are scattered all over it. Persons who have not travelled through the great Northwest have no idea of the vast development which is going on there."

SWINDLED AN OBLATE FATHER.

MAN IN LOWELL HELD IN $500 ON A CHARGE OF LARCENY.

Lowell, Oct. 14. — An unusual method resorted to by Arthur Gauthier, of this city, to raise funds two years ago is disclosed by his arrest in Salem and his appearance in court here yesterday. Gauthier, who is but 26, is charged with forging a cheque for $75 which he tendered to an Oblate father at St. Jean Baptiste Church here in paying expenses for masses for a deceased relative. The young man admits the wrong-doing. The priest gave him $70 for a cheque for $75, drawn on the Lowell Machine Company, and Gauthier went his way. After Gauthier had got the money he stayed around this city for a day and then went to Montreal, where he learned that the cheque which he had given to the priest had been refused at one of the local banks. He served a term of imprisonment there for uttering a cheque, and regaining his liberty went to Lynn, Mass., where he also got into trouble and was sentenced to jail for several months. About five months ago he went to Salem to live. In the police court, Gauthier pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and was held in $500 for his appearance before the court to-morrow. The forgery charge was not pressed at this time.

COOKSHIRE

Oct. 14.—Mr. Ayton Cromwell has secured stumpage from the British American Land Co. on a large tract of timber limits on the Stoke mountain and intends lumbering there this winter, and will, also, erect a saw mill in South Dudswell, a short distance from the C.C.R. line. Logs will be hauled to the mill and there manufactured into different kinds of lumber and shipped to points in the United States. Mr. Cromwell has already commenced operations and has a lot of men at work there now. It is understood the C.C.R. will put in a side track from their main line to Mr. Cromwell's mill, a distance of about a mile.
 Saturday evening Miss Learned gave a card party to about twenty-five of her young friends in farewell to Mr. William Learned, who has been spending his holidays here and returned on Monday morning to resume his duties at the E. T. Bank.
 Mrs. H. H. Pope gave a party to a number of the juvenile ladies Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Florie Ingram, of Sherbrooke.

WOMAN FOR N. H. LEGISLATURE.

MRS. CLARY NOMINATED BY FIRST HAMPSHIRE PROHIBITIONISTS.

Boston, Oct. 14. — The first Hampshire district again furnishes the unique spectacle of a woman running for the Massachusetts House of Representatives. This was unprecedented in this State until last year, when the Prohibitionists of that district nominated Mrs. Fanny J. Clary, of Williamsburg, and now they have re-nominated her. Mrs. Clary is the wife of Dwight E. Clary, a prosperous farmer.

From the standpoint of practical politics she did well enough last year to warrant this second trial, lifting the usual prohibition vote of say 75, to 493, thus defeating one of the Democratic nominees in three towns and three wards of Northampton. Mrs. Clary is not only prominent as a temperance worker, but has been the lecturer of the county grange. "She is a well-educated and capable woman, and would make a better representative than some of the men who are sent to the Legislature," said the Northampton Gazette last year. The voters in Mrs. Clary's district (Goshen, Hadley, Hatfield, Westhampton, Williamsburg and Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of Northampton) can commission her to do service on Beacon Hill if they will. Mrs. Clary's name went on the official ballot last year, after due official study in the office of the Secretary of State. Good lawyers say that while by law only male citizens are entitled to vote, there is no restriction of sex as a qualification for a member of the General Court. Therefore, they say, Mrs. Clary, if elected, could take her seat.

Mrs. Clary had this to say in her convention speech accepting the nomination:

"That you have again to-day placed a woman in nomination for representative to the General Court proves your loyalty to the principle of equal suffrage. And I can in no better way demonstrate my faith in and my loyalty to those principles which underlie all good governments than here and now to accept as a sacred trust the honor you thus confer upon me and all womankind. Could I feel free to follow my own inclinations in this matter, regardless of the progress of reform, I should certainly hesitate to lead again in this path hitherto untrodden by those of my sex in this State, enjoying best to confine my efforts to the duties of wife and mother in our home. In the true homes men and women together perform its duties and govern its affairs. So should they, moral and intellectual peers, together perform the duties and govern the affairs of State and nation.

"One class cannot legislate for another, so varied are personal interests. The capitalist is not in a position to legislate wisely or safely for the workman, nor will the laborer, unaided, legislate to-day for the best results to capital. But when labor and capital work together harmoniously for a common good, there will come a millennium of prosperity to our country.

"The white man, full of race prejudice, will not alone legislate to any great extent for the welfare of his unfortunate black brother, nor will the Negro, remembering his cruel bondage, legislate nobly for the upbuilding of the white race. But working together with a spirit of love that knows no color line, the stain of dark crimes, resulting from unbrotherly, separate interests, will no longer mar and disgrace our civilization. No more can man alone best legislate for woman. Her highest interests and those of her children cannot be best subserved while she remains ignorant of and helpless before the law. We have discovered that father, mother and children united in effort make and perpetuate the pure home. It has fallen to your lot, my brothers of the Prohibition party, to take the initiative step of weaving into the fabric of our Government to purify and uplift this three-fold influence of the home."

-DRAWN BY KITE.

ATTEMPT TO CROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL FAILED.

London, Oct. 14.—A man named S. F. Cody left Dover for Calais at noon Saturday in a collapsible boat drawn by a kite. A good northwesterly breeze was blowing. Great interest was manifested in Cody's attempt to cross the Channel, which, however, failed. The kite was somewhat on the principle of a box kite and capable of lifting several tons. The boat weighed four tons and was decked with canvas. It resembled a miniature submarine boat. A steering gear manipulated the kite and the boat's rudder alike, and enabled Cody to manoeuvre with comparative ease. When he was a mile and a half off shore the navigator appeared to be in difficulties, and abandoned his attempt after being three hours at sea. The boat was towed back to Dover. In an interview Cody said that the kite served well till the wind failed, when the boat drifted with the tide. In favorable weather he is confident he can accomplish the trip.

Bernard Derocher, carter, of East Sherbrooke, in Magistrate's Court, today, admitted that he had drawn sand from Ball Island, in the St. Francis, though notices were posted forbidding this.
 A fine was imposed, which with costs amounted to $7.50.
