Young Progressive Conservatives Active At Provincial Convention

Attending their first provincial convention since the Association's formation last fall, the Young Progressive Conservatives of St. Antoine-Westmount took an active part in every phase of the deliberations held last Friday and Saturday at the Windsor Hotel.

Speaking to the convention banquet Friday evening, which was also addressed by John Bracken, A. Guy Grimaldi, president of the local group, reminded delegates that the Westmount association was the first of its kind to be formed in the province.

"Young Progressive Conservatives," Mr. Grimaldi said, "are anxious that Canada should take her place among nations as an equal."

Must Be United

"But to be a truly great nation we must be united at home. Enough of this foolish prattling about being English Canadians, French Canadians, Polish Canadians," he continued. "It is about time we forgot such foolish propaganda which certain ideologies, in order to further their own nefarious schemes for world domination, have advanced. We are Canadians all for one and one for all behind the Progressive Conservative party because this party can give the type of leadership Canada needs to increase her international stature."

Earlier in the day, Miss June Richardson, vice-president of the Westmount group, had been guest speaker at a luncheon given for women delegates.

Must Use the Vote

"We no longer have to fight for the vote," Miss Richardson remarked, "now we have to fight to get women to use the vote."

Explaining the missionary work which must be done by the women already in the party, Miss Richardson compared the task to that of a salesman.

"Whether we are successful in selling something depends upon three things," she said. "First, quality of the product, second, the usefulness of the product, and third, the attractiveness of the product. There is no doubt in any of our minds as to the high quality of the Progressive Conservative Association, but we cannot expect all women outside the party to recognize these qualities without being told about them."

Other members of the young group attending the convention included Wallace Beaton, Lorraine Favreau, René Pouliot, Ralph Johnson, and Tam Deachman.

The local Progressive Conservative senior association was also well represented, delegates including president C. S. Madill, C. F. Carsley, Mrs. Alex Hutchison, Mrs. Andrew Fleming, Keith Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bogart, Ronald Dick, J. W. Weldon, and others.

Foodhandlers' Instructional Course Repeated

Another Foodhandlers' instructional course of three weekly lectures has been planned by the Department of Health, it was recently announced. Due to the great success of such lectures in the past, it has been decided to conduct a course on proper food sanitation and handling for the benefit of a group of local caterers, catering to weddings, churches, and other functions, many of them in Victoria Hall.

The course will consist of three separate lectures, and will commence next Monday at Victoria Hall at 3 p.m. The other two lectures are to be held on June 30th and July 7th.

Correct methods of preparing, storing, and preserving food for human consumption, and the basic rules for health and sanitation are most necessary if we are to maintain high health standards, especially among those who eat out. Experience with food sanitation courses has proved their practicability and effectiveness, and the lectures have proved popular in the past.

It is proposed to give basic information in the first lecture about bacterial contamination and the spread of disease through bacterial action. Everyone who handles food should be acquainted with germ and bacterial food contamination, and how to prevent it, and the lecture will include the showing of a well-produced film entitled: "Germs Take Pot Luck."

These lectures are being conducted in the interest of general public well-being and in response to many requests. They are open to the public, and a large attendance is expected.

Don't Penalize Local Merchants

The Business Association of Westmount reports that due to the road rebuilding now under way on Sherbrooke and Victoria streets, the business of the local merchants has fallen off appreciably.

On behalf of the Westmount merchants, the Association urges the residents of Westmount who have patronized local stores in the past to continue to do their shopping locally in order that our merchants shall not be unduly penalized due to the present street improvement work.

Youth Severely Injured By Truck

John McManus, 14, of 149 Selby street, was severely injured on Tuesday afternoon while walking across the property of the Ice Manufacturing Company with some friends. The boys were rounding a corner at the rear of the building when young McManus was brushed and knocked down by a Company truck driven by Roméo Groulx, and a wheel passed over his ankle. An ambulance was called, and the youth was taken to Western General Hospital where he was X-rayed and treated by Dr. Asch. It is reported that an operation was necessary.

HOT DAWG! Westmount Rotary Carnival first-nighters, Miss Ruth Matheson and Ken Wright, avail themselves of the opportunity to buy hot-dogs on an otherwise meatless Tuesday while two happy youngsters look on.

Carnival Opens With Good Crowd

The Rotary Carnival in Westmount Park got off to a good start on Tuesday evening, with a large and happy crowd which thoroughly enjoyed itself despite the slight dampening of a few brief and sporadic showers which temporarily drove the merry-makers under cover.

A wide variety of entertainment is provided for happy carnival-goers and the spirit of general gaiety on the opening night was enhanced by the strings of multi-coloured lights which set off the many attractions in the booths operated by the Rotarians and their helpers turned carnival men for the occasion.

The attractions include a well patronized "bingo" tent from which many a happy player emerged bearing various and assorted prizes. The many booths, arranged in a great circle around the "bingo" tent, contain dart games, spin the wheel games, baseball throwing games, toss the ring games and others, all of which offer attractive prizes such as blankets, baskets of groceries, towels, nylons, boxes of candies, and tickets on the car raffled off at the close of the carnival on Saturday night. Also featured were a weight-guesser, and a cartoonist who produced "likenesses" for those who so desired sufficiently to pay the modest fee.

Yes, you can enjoy yourself at the carnival, playing the games and watching the reactions of others who do likewise. You'll enjoy yourself, and you'll be glad you went, and contributed to the good works being carried on by the Rotarians with the Carnival proceeds.

INJURED BY CAR

William Allingham, 73, 19 York Avenue, Westmount, suffered a probable fracture of the left shoulder Friday night at 10:45 when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Decarie Boulevard opposite house number 5022, south of Queen Mary Road.

The car was being driven by Jacques Badaux, 80 Chesterfield Avenue, Westmount, who drove the injured man to the Homoeopathic Hospital for treatment.

UNRRA Official Speaks About Trip To China

Speaking before the Westmount Rotary Club this week, George S. Mooney, former UNRRA official, gave the Rotarians an address on "Some Observations and Memories of China."

The guest speaker, who was introduced by Rotarian Colcomb, went to China in 1944 in order to expedite the delivery of UNRRA supplies. Thousands of tons of them were lying where they had been unloaded after being shipped to China, because of transportation difficulties, he said, and it was his job to see that they reached their proper destinations in the interior.

MAJOR GENERAL WALFORD

Major General A. E. Walford, C.B., C.B.E., M.M., E.D., of 60 Arlington Avenue, Westmount, who was recently elected governor of McMaster University at the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. Major General Walford is a graduate of Westmount High School.

SABOURIN RE-ELECTED

Ivan Sabourin, K.C., already recognized as the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Quebec, was re-elected Chairman of the Executive Council of the Progressive Conservative Party of the Province of Quebec at the annual meeting of his supporters last Saturday.

Among those who were elected members of the Executive there are: John T. Hackett, K.C., M.P. for Stanstead; Mrs. Andrew Fleming, Westmount; John Crankshaw, K.C., Montreal West; Lt. Col. Pierre Sevigny, Westmount.

China is a country with a population of 450,000,000 people, said Mr. Mooney, which is now slowly emerging from the bondage of its feudal and agrarian economy. It has an acute shortage of timber, but the tables of its other resources, including manpower, are starting in their implication of future greatness for this vast country.

Experiences in China

He went on to relate some of the many very interesting experiences he had, and impressions he received while visiting China. He pointed out that the country is in the throes of inflation which is almost astronomically out of hand, it reached a ration of 17,500 Chinese dollars to one dollar American; and that it is poverty stricken and disease ridden. Moreover, the country roads, as well as railroads, are almost completely broken down. However, he said, the ingenuity of the Chinese in meeting their manifold problems is outstanding.

Predicts Great Future

Mr. Mooney indicated his belief that "China is destined to become one of the greatest industrial nations of the world," but that it will take time. He said that in his travels he saw many British, American, and Dutch commercial men from time to time, and he was sorry to have to report that not once did

Young Musicians Impressive In Friday Evening Recital

By DOROTHY DORSEY

Last Friday evening the Westmount Junior High was the scene of a pianoforte recital given by the pupils of Miss Irene Nichols, L.R.S.M. (London).

"The Rainbow Concert" derived its name from the pastel hues of the gay bonnets and pill-boxes worn by the younger children seated on the stage and was further emphasised by the competent playing of "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" by Betty Smith.

David Gould, as master of ceremonies, opened the recital by introducing the young beginners group in Nursery Rhymes. Each member played a familiar nursery song while the remainder of the group on front stage sang and interpreted the song with gestures. Those participating were Jan Millican, Peter Denis, Edith Dorsey, Martha Fellows, Ralph Roskies and Althea Nonneman, and a surprisingly poised pack of small fry they were.

Selections Contrasting in Mood and Rhythm was exactly that. David Zackon did very well with some boogie-woogie and Teddy Fullerton displayed an amazing musical feeling for shade and tone in one so young. Others in this talented group were Jimmy Fullerton, Pamela Gould, Jill Adams, Nancy Willis, Elsie Bertram and Duncan Robertson.

Helen Tucker, Diana Currie, Heather Wilson, Donald Hendry and Elizabeth Coffey did exceedingly well with popular selections from Walt Disney.

THREE LITTLE PIGS

The Three Little Pigs was narrated by the Master of Ceremonies and interpreted musically to good advantage by Margaret Clegg, Lynda Melling, John Wilson, Shirley Chalk, Peter Leslie, Margo Weller, Bobby Hamilton, Graham Duff, Nancy Vickerson and Bobby Gilmore.

A beginners Group of Folk Song Duets provided John Lochead, Jimmy Craig, Andrew Robb, John MacFarlane, Ian Leslie and Brian Wilson with a good opportunity to display musical teamwork.

Selections from Romberg were charming as done by Dorraine Cunningham, and Robert Coffey, also a beginners group.

THEME MELODIES

Theme Melodies introduced more advanced pupils playing themes of famous concerti and symphonies. Patsy Smith played unerringly and beautifully the opening of the Grieg Piano Concerto. Anne Bonathan, Eddie Rodney, Helen Garner and Peter Ferguson were part of this promising young group.

Variety of Dance Music gave John Foote a chance to show some sure playing of "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree", whilst the rest of the group sang the words with comic gestures. Louise Sharpe, Brenda Keddie, Pat Scarfe, Shelia Duff, Judy Bowen, Barbara McLean and June Ito all played charming dances. Judging by the audience's reaction to June Ito's waltz number an encore would have been very welcome.

The Finale brought forth the most advanced students of this gathering and difficult music of Beethoven, Chopin, Brahms and Paderewski was attempted with fine success by John Bertram, Elizabeth Lochead, Priscilla Sargent, Heather Munro, Liane Norcket and David Gould.

DAVID GOULD IMPRESSES

David Gould as master of ceremonies, narrator and then performer had ample opportunity to display talent and poise in all three directions.

Miss Nichols is to be congratulated for taking so large a group and giving it variety, movement and color. She is to be commended further for arranging that the proceeds of the recital, $204.76 should go to the Cedar Association, a group of ex-pupils of the School for Crippled Children organized in 1945 to extend the limitations of handicapped personnel in Montreal as much as possible. The Cedar Association provided the assistants and ushers for this pleasant occasion, which was attended by approximately 600 people.

THE PILLAR

FATHER'S DAY (BAH!)

So you think that Father's Day is a lovely institution, eh, Murgatroyd? You think it's just plain ducky for everyone to pause once every 365 days to pay homage to the guy who pays the bills?

You do, don't you, Murg? Well, Father's Day, little fellow, is one of the most commercial rackets there is. And just to prove it there came drifting into The Examiner office this week two mimeographed bulletins from the Canadian Father's Day Committee's department of public relations.

The self-avowed purpose of these gentlemen is "to direct the theme and activities of the country as to Father's Day observance." What these lads are really out to do is direct you to the nearest store after instilling in your credulous heart a feeling that "nothing is too good for Pop."

Consider, for example, this subtle piece of propaganda:

"Richard Toomath, of Toronto, father of 25 children, 20 of whom are living, has been selected as Canada's "Father of the Year." The choice was announced by the Canadian Father's Day Committee.

"Mr. Toomath, who is to be presented with a new suit in recognition of his honor on Father's Day, is 84. Irish by birth, he came to Canada in 1923. Seventeen of his family are residing in Canada, two in the United States and one in Belfast, Ireland.

"Mr. Toomath was selected as the Canadian "Father of the Year" because in raising his large family he has been truly representative of fatherhood as a "builder of our children's future."

Follows a paragraph on Mr. T's gardening activities.

The other communique is a sentimental morsel of folderol which tells the story of a towheaded tyke who went into a haberdashery with 25 cents to buy a tie for her father. She picked out a whizeroo (cost: $3.50) and asked the clerk how much it was.

"How much money have you to spend?" asked Joe Jerk, I mean Joe Clerk.

The little girl showed her 25 sous.

Joe the Clerk ambled off to see the manager and he, big-hearted capitalist that he is, sold the tie to the little girl for a mere one quarter of a dollar.

Moral: why not buy pop a tie for Father's Day?

Bah, humbug and phfft!

P.S.: How did you like that tobacco, Dad?

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

Cape May Warbler

Equipped with field-glasses, Alice and I started down the road intent on ascertaining how many kinds of birds could be found on our own property. Wrens, Catbirds, Hermit Thrushes and Veerys had returned in full force; Red-eyed Vireos sang their monotonous chant; Swallows flew overhead; and the tiny voices of Magnolia, Myrtle, Chestnut-sided and Blackburnian Warblers sounded incessantly from the bushes on either hand. Then a new song mingled in.

"What's that? Listen a moment. I don't recognize it; do you?"

"No: It's far up in the branches of that big spruce by the fence."

To whichever side of the trees we went the singer moved around to the other. This was exasperating; our necks were nearly broken from gazing skyward. But the high-pitched, squeaky whistle kept on—something like the Black and White Warbler's, but with a different rhythm. We counted off the syllables.

Just as we were losing hope of seeing the small musician, Alice spied a bird flying to the next tree a few yards off. There it alit in better view and continued the same ditty. A symphony in yellow, brown and black, it might have been a young relative of the tiger. Throat, breast and most of the underparts were bright yellow; there were black stripes on the head, back and sides; a burnt sienna splotch on the face covered the eyes and ears; a white patch showed plainly on the wing.

Although this was a new Warbler for our list we had no idea how fortunate we were until later on we consulted the bird books and became aware that this was the rare Cape May, or "dendroica tigrina". The scientific name fits it well: "tree-dwelling tiger". But the common name is most unsuitable. George Ord first recognized this Warbler on Cape May at the tip of New Jersey in 1809. As its migration does not ordinarily touch the coast, it was not again recorded at that spot for about 100 years.

In winter these tawny little birds concentrate chiefly on the Island of Haiti in the West Indies. At migration time they pass through Florida, so for a while are fairly common there. But once they spread out, flying up near the centre of the continent to their breeding grounds mostly north of settlements, seldom are more than half a dozen ever seen together. Even leading ornithologists report the worst luck in getting good views of the little tigers.

What distinguishes the Hermit Thrush?

"Daddy, what is leisure?" asked the child.

"My boy, leisure is the two minutes' rest a man gets while his wife thinks up something for him to do."

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

There will be no movies this Saturday at the Westmount "Y". Special films will be shown as announced on Friday afternoons however, during the Westmount Camp program.

Last Friday afternoon, the Junior Hi-Y Club — Alpha Chapter — of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. held its induction. The club pledged itself to a platform of Christian thought, Christian action and Christian leadership. Members of the group will serve as Junior leaders during the Camp Westmount program, and the club will take an overnight trip to Camp Perrot, leaving this Saturday and returning to the City on Sunday. While at Camp, the Club will give a hand in erecting the tents in preparation for the opening of the Camp.

Camp Westmount

An in-the-city camp operated by the Westmount Y.M.C.A. will open Monday, at 9.30 a.m. Boys wishing to join the Camp will be given a chance to register on this day. The Camp is open to boys 9-16 years of age. This Camp is planning to provide camping experience for boys who are unable to be out of the City during the whole Summer. The Camp will open with Assembly period in the morning, the theme of which will be "Know Montreal". Speakers, films and visits in Montreal and vicinity will be utilized. Morning periods will consist of swimming, crafts and out-door games.

Program for the week June 23rd to June 27th is as follows:

Monday, 9.30 a.m. — Assembly, followed by baseball and swimming.

12.15 p.m. — Lunch, with after lunch program of singing.

2.00 p.m. — Baseball.

4.00 p.m. — General swim.

Tuesday: 9.30 a.m. — Assembly, speaker — Mr. Holliday, Christian Emphasis Secretary of the Montreal Y.M.C.A.; a 'quiz' contest on "Y" followed by swimming, registration for craft groups and gym.

12.15 p.m. — lunch and after lunch program.

2.00 p.m. — Parents invited to attend opening of the Camp. Speaker — Mr. H. Nourse, Chairman Camp Westmount Committee.

3.15 p.m. — Campers will attend the St. Jean Baptiste parade, followed by swimming.

Wednesday: 9.30 a.m. — Campers will meet and leave the Westmount "Y" for Mon Repos Beach, bringing with them their swim suits, towels and lunches. The group will return to the City by 4.00 p.m.

Thursday: 9.30 a.m. — Assembly, with film, followed by swimming, crafts and out door sports.
12.15 p.m. — Lunch.

1.30 p.m. — Campers will leave for Industrial trips.

Friday: 9.30 a.m. — Assembly, with special demonstration with scientific equipment used in Montreal, followed by our regular type of program.

12.15 p.m. — Lunch.

1.30 p.m. — Leaving from Westmount "Y" for the Redpath Museum. There are still a few vacancies for boys wishing to join this Camp, and parents who would like to see their sons take part in a supervised program of this type are invited to enquire for further information at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Invited to Camp Westmount

Parents of boys attending Camp Westmount, the in-the-city camp of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. are invited to be present on Tuesday, at 2 p.m., at the Westmount "Y". This invitation to parents is being extended so they might meet parents of other boys attending the Camp, and so that questions about the program of the Camp may be answered. Mr. H. Nourse, Chairman of the Camp Westmount Committee, will say a few words of welcome to the parents, and a copy of the Camp Westmount "NEWS" giving the program of the Camp and details as to its operation will be distributed among the parents.

St. Henri "Y" Work

The extension work of the Westmount "Y" in the St. Henri Area is progressing favourably. Boys 9-12 years of age, meeting in Lewis Evans School, have formed their group and are going to meet again in September with the opening of school. This group will carry on an athletic program, consisting of baseball, gym work and crafts in the school. The older boys club, the St. Henri Jr. Hi-Y held a boxing competition last Monday in the school, and the entries were quite numerous. This group is now planning its Constitution and applying for affiliation with the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Members of the St. Henri Jr. Hi-Y will make an overnight trip, together with the Boys' Secretary of the Westmount "Y", on the week-end of Saturday, July 5th.

As yet no definite place for meetings of this group has been found. Several suggestions have been given, and we expect that this group will be located within the near future.

Many Aid In Rotary Carnival To Obtain Funds For Good Works

It may not be generally realized that almost everyone having anything to do with the Westmount Rotary Carnival is giving freely of his own time. Having done their regular day's work, the Rotarians, members of the Westmount Police and Fire Department, and all others working for the success of the Carnival are freely contributing their time and energy to aid the Rotarians in their efforts to collect funds to be used toward furthering their increasing and worthy responsibilities.

Rotary Clubs are Service Clubs, and the term "Service" means just what the name implies. Years ago, a group of businessmen started to meet once a week for dinner in order to exchange ideas, and enjoy one another's company.

How Rotary Developed

A club was formed, and the idea caught on, and it spread to other communities. It was found that the collective influence of the men in these clubs enabled them to serve their communities in various ways. Then someone had a bright idea; why not organize these businessmen's clubs into "service clubs" pledged to serve various worthy causes in their communities. Rotary Clubs resulted, and were later followed by other Service Club organizations.

Westmount Rotary Club is pledged to help the youth of the community, in so far as is possible. To do this it has organized the Unity Boys Club, which is now one of its major projects and is instrumental, through its organized activities, in greatly diminishing local juvenile delinquency.

Another worthy project it has undertaken in the past two years is to provide two first year university scholarships yearly to aid deserving local students who are graduating from High school, and need encouragement and help in order to become established at University.

For years, the Westmount Rotary Club has been aiding sick and crippled children through the substantial support it regularly contributes to the Montreal Children's Hospital and the Julius Richardson Convalescent Home for underprivileged children. Thus, children whose parents are not in a position to provide required expert medical care are assured of adequate attention, which they would otherwise lack to bring them back to health.

These and other services performed by the Rotary Club require funds for their continuance. The Carnival is organized and operated to provide those funds. So, attend the carnival and enjoy yourself, and know that your patronage will aid in the worthy cause.

Stamp Club Has Successful Year

The Westmount Stamp Club closed a very successful season at its final meeting on the evening of Thursday, June 19th, which occurred as an informal banquet held at Victoria Hall. Approximately 140 members were present at this closing night banquet which featured the showing of two coloured films, one taken in the Canadian Rockies, and the other dealing with fishing. Cliff Ellis, treasurer of the Club, presided.

The Stamp Club has had an excellent and active year, the best yet; and the weekly meetings of the Club at Victoria Hall boasted an average attendance of 65 to 70 members. Present plans call for a re-opening of activities on September 4th.

YOUNG PC'S REPRESENTED

Salvation Army Campaign Goes Over The Top

A gathering of the Salvation Army's Red Shield Campaign for Greater Montreal and district, with its objective of $125,000, was held on the closing evening of the Campaign, June 11, at the Windsor Hotel, when announcement was made of the success of the Campaign with a grand total of $136,184.

Results were tabled as follows: Women's Division, under Chairmanship of Mrs. H. M. Little, $26,265; Women's Special Names, under Chairmanship of Mrs. Earl Spafford, $7,300. The Industrial Division checked in $31,654, but included in this total was an estimated $17,347 still to be received and in actuality needed to attain the splendid objective-topping total. By estimating such an amount and depending on subscribers for it only is the Campaign successful, otherwise the objective will not be reached.

Firms Division showed a result of $10,734; Special Names, under Chairmanship of Col. Griffin, reported an amount of $58,088 and, as stated, the total receipts, inclusive of the estimated $17,347, brought the Campaign grand total of $136,184.

T. H. Atkinson, Campaign Chairman, Royal Bank of Canada expressed his pleasure at the satisfying conclusion of the Campaign and remarked on the excellent achievement as yet another instance of the generosity of Montrealers when the need arises. He thanked all Campaign officials and workers associated with him for their splendid endeavours.

Col. Allan Magee, C.B.E., K.C., spoke briefly on behalf of the Advisory Board and said how grateful the Board was for the great efforts of Campaign officials and canvassers to achieve such a remarkable result as to put the Campaign over the top in such days of difficulties.

Brigadier Peter Forbes, Campaign Director, added his own personal expression of pleasure and revealed that he was never once in doubt as to the final issue of the Campaign, being fully satisfied with the calibre of all officials and workers and also as to the generosity of the citizens of Montreal and district towards the Red Shield Campaign.

Lt.-Col. Junker, Divisional Commander, spoke on behalf of the Salvation Army of Montreal and thanked the various Committees and canvassers for fine co-operation; while Don Bankart, Publicity Chairman, thanked the Press, Radio, Theatre and large stores, for fine window displays, in connection with excellent publicity lic for their generous and wholehearted support and the free giving which had ended with such splendid results as to put the Campaign over with a nice surplus to the objective.

TEMPERANCE COURSE

Mrs. F. Osborn gave five lectures during the winter to the boys at Weredale House on the temperance course study. A total of 52 boys wrote the examination paper and of this number 32 won certificates and 10 prizes.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Osborn presented the prizes to the 10 boys. The prizes consisted of billfolds, bats, gloves, marbles, etc.

WHEN SCHOOL ENDS, EDUCATION BEGINS

One of our greatest mistakes in thinking of education is to put a period instead of a comma after public school, high school or university. We set a mental terminus to our learning.

Strangely enough, progressive in many other ways, we are inclined to look upon adult education as something for those who missed the chance to finish school in their youth. Instead, it should be regarded as a stimulus for all minds that have grown beyond the easy judgments and mechanical training of youth. It might be said that not until the mind develops into adulthood is education really possible.

"But," says some, "you can't teach an old dog new tricks." If that is true, it is because the old dog doesn't want to learn; not because he can't. It is too bad that such a saying should be allowed to deprive people of the big and happy things they could do.

The fact is that the average adult is more intelligent and has more learning capacity than the academic world supposes.

Because of its nature and the standing of the adult in life, his education is voluntary, with no more compulsion than the person has within him. People study because they wish to, and their wish arises from their needs, their interests and their intellectual craving. It is no field for missionary endeavour, nor for the imposing of ideals from above.

Adult education in Canada takes for granted that men and women have mental and spiritual resources capable of solving their problems, and it is the function of the adult education movement to make available the knowledge which will help bring out their best. — Royal Bank of Canada News Letter.

Churchill Is Still Alive And May Lead Again

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

"To the virtue and ability of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, during whose administration in the reign of George Second and Third, Divine Providence exalted Great Britain to an height of prosperity and glory unknown to any former age." I copied this inscription from the base of the memorial statue to the great British statesman in Westminster Abbey. Apart from students of history it is doubtful if William Pitt is anything more than a name to the average Englishman today. Yet it was to his statesmanship that the British people owed their national salvation in one of the most perilous periods of their history, and he, more than any other one man, was responsible for the creation of the British Empire.

As I read that inscription it struck me that with little alteration it could be ascribed to Winston Churchill and the perilous years through which he led the British people to victory. There is a striking parallel between the lives of the two men. Both entered politics at an early age. Pitt was a great orator, and with an eye to the greatness and glory of England, he rallied the nation to look to its laurels and saw the French, the rivals of England, beaten back in the four quarters of the globe. Although he was finally driven from power, he still maintained a passionate regard for the honor of his country, and the last time his voice was heard in Parliament was in protest against what he described as her "degradation by an ignoble alliance with savages" in the war with the American colonies. On this occasion he fell back in a faint into the arms of his friends, and died a little more than a month later, murmuring, "My Country! my Country! How I leave my country!"

Referring to the life of Pitt, Carlyle wrote: "He was for four years King of England; never again he; never again one resembling him, nor indeed can ever be."

If Carlyle were living today he would recant that saying, for Winston Churchill resembles Pitt in all the salient features of his character and actions. Like Pitt, Churchill is one of the greatest orators Britain has produced, and as a statesman and leader of the people in the most terrible and fateful of all wars, he is without parallel. Of Churchill too it can be said: "He was for four years King of England." Whether there will ever again be one resembling him, or whether he is the last of his illustrious line, depends upon whether Britain can regain her position as a great commercial and imperial world power.

The world is vastly different today from what it was in the time of Pitt. The United States—an offshoot of the British Empire—has, as a result of two world wars which have weakened Britain financially, inherited a large part of Britain's industrial and commercial prestige. Russia, also as a result of the two wars, and latterly with the help of both Britain and the United States, is now making

FATHER AND SON

Last Sunday was "Father's Day," and the Saturday before it happened to be Boy Scout Peanut Day. This fact bore peculiar significance to us, as our thoughts flashed back to the days of our scouting. We particularly remember attending a Boy Scout Father and Son Banquet as one of the junior members. Without further comment, we reprint below a poem written for that occasion.

I WISH I WERE A BOY AGAIN

By Wallace Havelock Robb

If I were only a boy again,
The swish of my flying skis
Would sing in the air,
Across the snow,
As down I'd go
Through a wooded hill,
With never a care;
And I'd dodge the trees
With a dangerous skill
That would raise my hair;
Or maybe I'd fall in a heap,
And then . . .
Oh, I wish I were only a boy again!

I'd sail my punt all over the bay;
She'd be slow as molasses,
But bright red and gray;
And nothing surpasses
A mid-summer's day
With a bay and an old punt upon it.

If I were only a boy again,
I'd belong to a gang that would never be men;
I'd tear my pants on an apple tree,
But my dog would be sorry and worship me.
He'd lick the tears from my dirty face,
Till I'd hug him and love him and give him a chase.

And I'd meet all the fellows,
And then, oh then . . .
I wish I were only a boy again!

At heart I am, for in my lad
I see my carefree self once more;
And though his Dad, a boy again,
His caves and treasures I'd explore.
I plan and scheme to have him know
My happy boyhood of long ago,
To live what I do but dream.

Oh, my pals of memory now may be men,
But I think, in their hearts,
They'd be boys once again.

a determined bid for imperial power.

But Britain, in spite of her poverty at home and disruptions in certain parts of the Empire, is the only real, established imperial power today. Governments come and go in Britain, and no one party or leader can remain long enough in office to assume the power of a permanent dictatorship. The political changes are superficial; they do not penetrate to the foundations of the State which were laid through centuries of struggle for freedom and constitutional development. The political pendulum swung to the extreme left under Cromwell, but it swung to the extreme Right with the Restoration under Charles the Second. It steadied itself in the Victorian Era in which Britain not only ruled the Seven Seas and extended the bounds of civilization, but also led the swiftest movement of industrial, scientific, educational and political progress in the history of mankind.

It is unfair to judge the national stamina of Britain under the present political circumstances at home and abroad, or to judge the moral stamina of the British people in their present state of destitution. Britain is suffering from exhaustion resulting from six years of tremendous effort, endurance and sacrifice as the chief bulwark of world freedom. The British have great powers of recuperation and they may yet emerge stronger than ever from their ordeal by fire and privation.

The outlook for Britain today is no darker than when Pitt on his death-bed despairingly cried, "My Country! my Country! How I leave my Country!" Churchill is still alive, and judging by the vigor and the grasp of national and international affairs which he displayed in his great speech of March last in the House of Commons, he may yet lead the British people out into the sunlight of a new and better day.

Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this

"Anyone who stops learning is old whether this happens at twenty or eighty" said Henry Ford, "and anyone who keeps on learning" he added, "not only remains young but becomes constantly more valuable."

Paul Hutchinson, Editor of The Christian Century, recently told 200 ministers and church leaders that "churches are faced with a moral crisis, the limits of which are far beyond the conception of any man. The ordinary man, however, has no burning belief, that religion is anything really vital to do with the breakdown of civilization. It is quite impossible to exaggerate or to begin to approximate the extent of devastation in the world today—not only physical devastation but the tremendous unprecedented moral and spiritual devastation. Concluding his first speech since returning from his recent world tour, he declared "Our task is to live and think in the most radical fashion, as radical as the fashion which Jesus of Nazareth lived and thought."

J. Hutchison Cockburn, former Moderator of the Church of Scotland and President of the World Council of Churches, speaking recently at the World Council meeting in Buck Hills Falls, Pa., said in part: "The anti-Christian forces of either Fascism or Communism cannot be argued down; they must be lived down. Christianity has truth on its side, but that truth must be demonstrated in living terms if Christian civilization is to survive."

Soaring prices have brought so many dog thieves back on London streets that the National Canine Defence League has issued a special warning, says the London "Daily Herald."

Prices of popular breeds of dogs have trebled since 1939. Present prices in London are: Wire-haired terrier, fifteen guineas, Alsatian (female), ten guineas, Corgi (Welsh sheep dog), twenty-five guineas, Scottie pup, twelve guineas.

Hans von Bulow, the celebrated musician, was not easily disturbed. Once, when he was going up the badly lighted stairs of his London hotel, a man descending hastily knocked against him, turned angrily upon his heel and shouted, "Donkey!"

Politely lifting his hat and bowing, the famous pianist and conductor replied, "Mine's 'vop Bulow.' I'm happy to make your acquaintance."

Shades of the 1920's! Sweater girls are again becoming "flappers."

Hon. L. H. Eyres, trade and industries minister, recently revealed that British Columbia scientists have come up with a method of making a new fabric from chicken feathers.

Mr. Eyres, establishing himself as an authority on the subject told members of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association convention that it takes the plumage from a mere thirty broilers to turn out a size eighteen sweater.

Like any wool, the new fabric is said to be warmer, softer and lighter and can be dyed any color.

The feathers from thirty-eight chickens will, under the new process become a full man's suit. With 13,000,000 pounds of feathers going to waste in Canada, the clothing shortage would be solved, or so Mr. Eyres says.

A "floating culture centre" is being prepared by well-known Norwegians in the form of a 3000-ton ship to be named the "Peer Gynt," to bring music, art and the theatre to the most isolated people on the Norwegian coast line, says the Worldover Press.

The vessel will be equipped with an art gallery, an aquarium, a dance floor, a lecture auditorium, and a movie theatre seating 1100, besides accommodations for a crew and cast totalling seventy persons.

Temple Emanu-el To Play Host To American Rabbis' Conference

Temple Emanu-El will play host to the Central Conference of American Rabbis at its 58th Annual Convention June 24th through 29th.

This convention marks a jubilee occasion for Congregation Emanu-El, for the Central Conference met for the first and only time outside of the U.S. here in Montreal in 1897 under the leadership of Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, organizer and founder of American Liberal Judaism.

Opening session of the Conference will take place at Temple Emanu-El on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Programme opening prayer, Dr. Emil Leipziger; Greetings, Rabbi Dr. Harry J. Stern; greetings from the Rt. Hon. Lyon W. MacKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, and the Rt. Rev. T. W. Jones, D.D., Moderator of the United Church of Canada; response, Dr. Abraham J. Feldman the presidential message will be delivered by Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, President of the Conference, Kaddish and closing prayer by Dr. David Philipson.

Sessions of the Conference, Wednesday morning through Sunday morning, June 29th will be held in the Cardy Hall, Mount Royal Hotel. On Wednesday afternoon the round table theme will be "The Pastoral Ministry." Wednesday evening papers will be presented on "Prayer In Our Times". Thursday morning will be devoted to reports. On Thursday evening the theme of papers will be "A Re-evaluation of the Good Will Movement." Friday morning June 27th will be devoted to religious education day. Friday afternoon reports of committee on nominations and committee on resolution. Sabbath eve services will be held June 27th at 8 p.m., at Temple Emanu-El. The conference lecture will be given by Dr. Julian Morgenstern, President of the Hebrew Union College, Saturday morning service June 28th at 10 a.m. at the Temple the Conference; sermon will be given by Rabbi Jacob Rudin.

Luncheon

Following divine services Saturday morning, congregation Temple Emanu-El will tender a luncheon to all delegates at the Mount Royal Hotel. A civic reception to the Conference by the City of Montreal will be held at 4 p.m. at the Chalet, on Mount Royal when His Worship Mayor Camillien Houde will bring greetings. Saturday evening will be devoted to dinner meetings of the Alumni associations of the Hebrew Union College and the Jewish Institute of Religion. Closing sessions Sunday morning at the Mount Royal Hotel. First meeting of the new executive Board will be on Saturday afternoon.

Congregational Events in connection with the Central Conference:

Following the opening session of the Conference on Tuesday evening, the Temple Sisterhood will tender a reception for all delegates in the Temple Community House.

Fellowship Meeting

On Thursday, June 26th, at 8.30 p.m., a congregational fellowship get-together and reception will take place in Temple Community House. The guest speaker on this occasion will be Rabbi Dr. Barnett Brickner, distinguished leader on Liberal Judaism who has just returned from Europe and Palestine. Greetings will also be brought by Rabbi Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, president of the Conference. This evening's fellowship will be under the auspices of the Temple Expansion Committee and is for members of the congregation and families.

Luncheon to wives of rabbis will be given by the Sisterhood at Elm Ridge Golf Club, Thursday noon, June 28th.

The Congregation will tender a luncheon to all delegates at the Mount Royal Hotel, Saturday June 28th at 1 p.m.

We are happy to announce the unusual and significant fact that 38 devoted members of Congregation Emanu-El have already contributed the sum of $42,250 to the cause of the greater Emanu-El. The Temple Expansion Committee under the chairmanship of Messrs. M. Arnovitz, H. Benson, G. Hollinger with their respective teams are now calling during these coming weeks upon the large membership to make generous offerings in order to meet the challenge of the urgent need for larger and spacious quarters to accommodate the growing membership of the congregation and to meet the needs of the religious, educational, cultural program of the Temple.

GUEST PREACHER

The Welsh Church of Montreal, 1234 St. Catherine St. west, will welcome as its guest preacher this Sunday at 7.00 p.m., the Interim Moderator, the Rev. Allan S. Reid, D.D., Clerk of the Presbytery of Montreal.

Dr. Reid will conduct the service and deliver the sermon. Miss Jenny Purnell will be the organist.

A feature of the service will be congregational hymn singing in four parts in conformity with the Welsh tradition of choral worship. The service will be conducted in the English language. A hearty invitation is extended to all, and particularly to Welsh members of the British and Canadian merchant marines.

St. Luke's United

The Minister will preach Sunday morning in St. Luke's on the subject, "The Seed Growing Secretly".

Through the kindness of Mrs. J. E. Ritchie and her helpers the Nursery Department will remain open on Sunday mornings during the summer. Parents may bring their children from 2 to 5 years of age at 11 o'clock and leave them with Mrs. Ritchie till the close of the service.

He continued by stressing that the Chinese Communists are not communists in the Soviet sense, and the Kuomintang are not democratic in the democratic sense. It is most important to remember that the Communist revolution in North China is not a revolution of industrialized factory workers as in Soviet Russia. The Chinese revolution is among the peasantry, firmly rooted in the soil, which is emerging from its ancient feudal and agrarian economy, he concluded.

The speaker was thanked by Rotarian Don Ross.

Friday Night Club

The Friday Night Club will go to Belmont Park tomorrow, the trip last week being cancelled on account of rain. There will be a 40% discount on all tickets purchased. Members of the Club and their friends pay 30c for 50c worth of tickets. At the conclusion of the evening, there will be a dance held at the Park. Two parties will be leaving from the Westmount "Y" one at 6.30 p.m. and another at 7.00 p.m. All members and friends are invited. It promises to be a very joyful evening.

A regular Friday Nite Dance will be held at the Y.M.C.A. tonight.

Beginning with Sunday, June 29th, and throughout the month of July, we will worship with the Dominion-Douglas congregation in their Church. The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. D. Wilkie. During August, the services will be held in Stanley Church and will be conducted by the Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, and the Rev. Graham Barr, of Dominion-Douglas.

Calvary Church

The Services of Worship in Calvary United Church on Sunday next will be conducted by the Minister, the Right Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., who has just returned from visiting the Western Conferences of the United Church of Canada. He will be assisted in the service by Mr. Maxwell Reader, B.A.

At the morning service Dr. Jones will conduct the sacrament of Baptism. The sermon will be based on the great Missionary theme, "Ambassadors for Christ", in which he will tell of aspects of the thrilling Home Missionary enterprise of the Church in Western Canada. The sermon will be followed by the Communion of The Lord's Supper, to which all who love the Lord Jesus Christ are cordially invited.

At the evening service at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Jones will preach on the theme "Great and Precious Promises", dealing with the abiding resources that are ours as Christians, for the carrying on of the great Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom. The sermon at the evening service will also be followed by The Communion of The Lord's Supper, thus making it possible for all members of the Church to share the fellowship of the Communion Service. All who love the Lord Jesus Christ are invited to share in these services.

These will be the only services that Dr. Jones will conduct in Calvary preceding the summer vacation period. The congregation of Calvary will worship in First Baptist Church on Sunday, June 29th.

Before Door Is Opened Prepare For Entrance, Advises Teacher

Making an entrance is an art worth mastering. Actresses think so and they work hard at it.

Trainers of models who devote whole class-periods to entrance-making think so, too.

They realize the importance of first impressions. And they know that the way a woman enters a room will tell many things about her to those who are meeting her for the first time.

Before you turn the doorknob, you should begin making your entrance, says Helen Fraser, director of the Barbizon School of Modeling. By that she means putting clothes in order; making ready with a smile or a pleasant expression.

Important point she stresses is entering a room with "presence" but without fanfare. Pausing at the door after entering is a good idea, she says. It gives you a chance to look around, get your bearings, even pick an objective.

Walking leisurely — not rushing — to a chosen spot in a room is necessary if you want to give an impression of poise, according to Miss Fraser. If you approach a person, she tells you to stop before you get too near. As she puts it: "You don't want to overpower your victim."

An approach, says Miss Fraser,

A pause at the doorway before entering a room adds to poise. Arlene ("My Wild Irish Rose") Dahl demonstrates.

is less overpowering if you stop with your weight resting on your back foot.

Practice Your Skill In Tile Decorating

If you wish to try out your own talents in designing tiles, there are a number of attractive things to make with them. For the decorating itself use a good, quick-drying enamel. It will last some months and you can retouch it or put on another design.

A good piece to start with is a tray worked out with eight to twelve tiles, 4 1/4 inches square. After painting, mount them on very thin plywood with a bonding compound and have a picture framer frame the whole in natural wood.

For an unusual wall decoration, make your own design or copy a design you like on a six-inch square tile and have it boxed with a wide wood frame. Even your own be made up of tiles with your own designs or monogram. A piece of felt glued to the back of each tile will provide the necessary smooth surface for the bottom.

Try The Limbering Roll To Keep Trim Waistline

This limbering roll will help the waistline as well as your posture. Stand against the file or a wall, knees bent slightly. Let your body drop forward, relaxed, keeping the hips against the file or wall. Now, slowly, roll the spine up the wall until finally the whole spine, as well as the shoulders are touching it.

The desk chair twist works for the waistline, too. Sit, back straight, shoulders back, hips against the back of your chair. Place the fingertips on the shoulders and without moving hips, twist the shoulders first to one side as far as they will go, then back to the other side.

Make a business of stretching. Stand with feet together, knees slightly bent and all of the spine touching the wall and arms raised. Stretch one arm up, then the other, as high as possible. Keeping the spine touching the wall, the hips stationary. This is a quick refresher-relaxer.

If you want to lose weight, do these exercises after lunch—if you want to maintain your weight, do them before eating.

Charlie Spivak Paves The Way

That ten thousand dancing feet can't be wrong was amply illustrated at The Forum a few evenings back when Charlie Spivak, "sweetest trumpeter in the world", and his accompanying aggregation of star performers met with a reception the like of which has seldom if ever, before been equalled by any musical organization in Spivak's category ever to visit the metropolis. Every number on the lengthy programme was wildly acclaimed, and there wasn't the slightest doubt in the minds of the onlookers, judging by appearances, dancers and non-dancers alike, that every minute of the occasion was being enjoyed to its absolute utmost. The non-dancers, however, were very much in the minority. Indeed, there were at times some three thousand people on the magnificent new floor, and in the brilliant rays of the batteries of spotlights a colorful picture they presented, the gay frocks of the feminine element naturally standing out in bright panorama against the more sombre garb of their masculine attendants. There was, however, one minor defect, the height, or rather lack of it, of the bandstand, which prevented many of the audience from getting a full view of proceedings on the podium. This, however, will be fully corrected before the world-famous Harry James moves in also under the aegis of Impresario Maurice Des Lauriers, for another evening of top-notch diversion for Montreal's dance devotees, this time on the evening of Friday, July 11th, and again at the Forum.

Mr. Des Lauriers, who, incidentally saw lengthy service as a war correspondent on many fronts during the recent fracas, expressed himself as so well satisfied with the results of the Spivak visit that he promises, in addition to Harry James, several other sensational "treats for dancing feet" in the near future.

Hobby Promotes New Friendships

A hobby can be your vacation-time entree to interesting new friendships that add fun to a holiday.

A camera swung into action, for instance, is as good an opening to casual conversations as a promenade at home with an engaging pup. The click of the camera shutter is a signal for fraternal questions from other camera "bugs." Camera models, shutter speeds, exposures, special techniques and composition provide topics of absorbing interest to vacationers with the same hobby.

If you are staying at a resort, guests who have no cameras themselves will respond to your friendly offers to take their picture. Such snapshots presented with your compliments are friendly gestures which carry more impact than letters of introduction. Sketching or painting is another conversation-starter. No matter how amateurish her art work, the girl who pulls out a canvas or a sketch pad soon has an audience. If there are apt to be some potential pals who can add more fun to her holiday.

Proficiency in an active sport—tennis, golf, swimming or even shuffleboard—is an open sesame to casual friendships with others than letters of introduction.

Skirts are more newsworthy and interesting than they have been in many years. Definitely longer, they range from the full ballerina and newly designed umbrella skirt through pleats of all kinds to pep-poms, side drapery, front folds, and flattering cut-away hemline and, back through time and space, to the emerging also the difficult acrobatic routines were danced by SPECIAL PROGRAM AT THE AVENUE! Shirley Temple is starred in the laugh-filled "Kiss And Tell", which plays a special engagement at the Avenue Theatre starting on Saturday until Tuesday night. The main feature of this program will be the very popular, "Sentimental Journey", starring John Payne and Maureen O'Hara.

Biggers School Of Dancing Recital Proves Huge Success

The Victoria Hall, last Friday evening was a brilliant spectacle of "The Canadian Follies of 1947." Miss Carrie Biggers, of the Biggers School of Dancing, was responsible for the exotic affair. Every number on the lengthy programme was tremendously received.

To open the well-balanced show was the Highland scene led by Marjorette Dorothy Cunningham, the Pipe Band, and Twenty Highland dancers marched in to the stirring strains of the bagpipes and drums. The kilts flew as the dancers danced their way through the reel O'Tulloch, Highland Fling, Sword Dances.

Ruth Randlett danced a very fine Shean Trews and, little Kenneth Matheson excelled himself in an exhibition highland fling. Douglas Waldie, attired in full highland evening dress, sang in beautiful tone, the everlasting "Annie Laurie", Noel Beck was seen to advantage in the Dutch Dance. The Hungarian Maids, danced by May and Lorraine Grant, was very well received, Irene Waldie closed the first part of the programme singing in her golden voice "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody" with six beautiful girl-models who charmed the audience with their gowns.

My Prayer, a very beautiful ballet, opened the second part of the programme. As the curtain opened, Joan Collier sang the "Lord's Prayer" in her rich contralto voice. The dancers, who were statuettes, came to life and danced their way through a lovely toe ballet with Margaret Noakes as soloist. Jean MacMillan, a very capable dancer, did three solo numbers, Miss America, Mexican Hat dance, and Moods In Dancing. A very intricate modernistic ballet was very well done. George Waldie, who leaped and danced his way through the solo, kept the audience applauding. Jean C. Purvis sang the very beautiful "Il Bacio" (The Dream Of Home).

Changing the tempo once more, Eva Watt and Bill Waldie danced a very smooth and delightful tango. Waltzes of Yesterday (a ballroom scene), with five couples in full evening attire danced to the ever appealing Blue Danube. Wayne MacKness led the Irish scene by singing and dancing "The Leader of the Band". Douglas Waldie once again pleased everyone singing "The Rose of Tralee". The second part of the programme closed with Audrey O'Connell, Irene Waldie, Lorraine Grant, Ruth Randlett, Jean MacMillan dancing the Irish Jig. Sweethearts Waltz was well received as twelve very lovely girls waltzed their way through an eye-appealing extravaganza gowned in long multi-coloured cellophane dresses. The spot light turned to their sweetheart, Eva Watt, on the top of a stairway, who danced her way up and down and captured the girls' hearts with her pleasing personality. Two very difficult acrobatic routines were danced by Irene Haydock, with much grace and ease.

Gypsy Enchantment was a real treat with Margaret Noakes singing "The Gypsy". Noel Beck, Irene Waldie, Barbara and Joan Nicholson and Margaret McLetchie dancing a fast and pleading gypsy frolic. Their queen, Eleanore Duvall, danced a strenuous routine to Espana. An exhibition waltz with Jean Sutherland and Bill Waldie was an added attraction. The elfin grace of Margaret Noakes was seen to advantage in the "Copelia Ballet" partnered by George Waldie. Once again Eva Watt excelled herself, dancing the ever-immortal "The Swan". Others who danced solo were Beatrice Noakes, Margaret Burns, Ellen Larkins, Mima Sutherland, Margery Lee, Aileen Hogg, Geraldine and Margery Devan, Chris Askwith and Doris Lee, Bernard Devan, Eddie Leonard, Sam Mackness. Two very outstanding musicians, P. Burnham Collier played the organ and Joan Collier was at the piano. Their music blended excellently with the rhythm of the Canadian Follies. As the Canadian Follies, being recognized as an outstanding show of the year, Miss Carrie Biggers has had numerous requests to repeat this performance.

Engineering note: in the ordinary automobile, weight of the engine sinks front wheels in mud or any soft surface, and push from the rear drive tends to bury them deeper; but in the rear-engine type, it's the rear wheels that sink more, thus giving better traction.

BEST-SELLING NOVEL FILMED! Herbert Marshall, Gene Tierney, Tyrone Power and Anne Baxter, above, are co-starred with John Payne and Clifton Webb in the film adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's popular novel, "The Razor's Edge," which starts on Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre, playing for one week.

Record-Smashing Musical Film "The Jolson Story" At Westmount

"The Jolson Story", which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, brings to audiences the magic of Technicolor and some of the most glorious music ever contained in a motion picture. Important cast are Larry Parks, Evelyn Keyes, William Demarest and Bill Goodwin.

Melodious is the word for "The Jolson Story" as the re-telling of this panorama of show business appear the beloved tunes that Jolson made famous and which remain just as famous today. There is no segment of his past, whether it be burlesque and vaudeville days in the hinterlands, years of successive hits on Broadway, or his striking career in Hollywood, that does not conjure up at least a "Jolson Story", for everywhere in half-dozen haunting melodies; now, they are all together in one imposing cavalcade of entertainment. To mention only a few: "April Showers", "California, Here I Come", "About A Quarter To Nine", "Liza", "You Made Me Love You," and "Swanee."

In one of this season's inspired performances, Larry Parks, as Jolson, zooms into prominence as a dazzling new star. On screen in nearly every scene, his is a tremendous role and he makes it a triumphant one by the uncanny way in which he brings the famous entertainer to life, with gestures, mannerisms and facial expressions that are practically perfect. Evelyn Keyes, in the romantic lead opposite Parks, also scores in impressive fashion. Her flaming-haired beauty is more radiant than ever in the glowing Technicolor of the film.

William Demarest, beloved character actor of a score of hits, knowingly brings to life the long-time friend of Jolson, Steve Martin; Bill Goodwin does similarly in his portrayal of Tom Baron. Others in the cast include Ludwig Donath, Scotty Beckett, Tamara Shayne, John Alexander, Jo-Carroll Dennison, Ernest Cosart and The Mitchell "Boychoir."

JEROME KERN'S GREAT MUSIC! Robert Walker, as Jerome Kern, Dorothy Patrick and Van Heflin, above, are co-starred with June Allyson, Lucille Bremer, Judy Garland, Kathryn Grayson, Lena Horne, Van Johnson, Tony Martin, Dinah Shore and Frank Sinatra in "Till The Clouds Roll By," in Technicolor, which starts on Saturday at the Snowdon United Theatre for one week.

Opera Director Cites Qualities Singers Lack

Incomplete Musical Education Listed As Prime Fault

Incomplete musical education and a lack of the study of languages were cited by Laszlo Halasz, musical director of the New York City Opera Company, in an interview yesterday at the offices of the Montreal Festivals, as the main qualities lacking in the singers who have been auditioning for Mr. Halasz during the past three days. Mr. Halasz was in Montreal to give auditions for the chorus and minor roles in the forthcoming opera season to be given by the Montreal Festivals at the Molson Stadium from July 23 to August 13.

The famous New York conductor was ample in his praises of the vocal talent to be found in Montreal. He discovered a young soprano and a young tenor, who, he believes, will make their mark internationally in the not too distant future. He felt, however, that more attention should be paid by vocal teachers to making their pupils pay more attention to other phases of music. They should, he said, study a second instrument, the piano or the violin, and certainly another language apart from their mother tongue.

Mr. Halasz emphasized the need for ear training and sight reading. These indispensable studies for the singer, he feels, have not been developed by

Montreal teachers as much as they should.

MONTREALERS IMPRESS
The conductor was impressed by the appearance of the Montreal singers whom he auditioned. "Appearance is a very important factor in the modern theatre," Mr. Halasz said. "And it was good to see such handsome, well built people here."

The Montreal Festivals season opens on July 23 with Aida starring Marjorie Lawrence, Ramon Vinay, Norman Gordon and Enza Mascherini. Madame Butterfly will be given on July 30 with Camilla Williams in the title role and Eugene Conley as Pinkerton. On August 6 there will be a gala concert and the season will close with Carmen on August 13.

Joint Living-Dining Room Eliminates Waste Space

Modern architects have solved the dining room problem in a number of ingenious ways. The most popular is to combine the living and dining rooms in one large area — which makes a functional room spacious enough to entertain company comfortably or to provide for several family interest centers.

The dining portion of the room may be partially set off by a low wall of shelves or a sectional sofa. It may take the form of a small alcove, or the entire area may be L-shaped, with the dining space at right angles to the rest of the room. One dining arrangement is set in a curve at the end of the living room with a circular track running around the ceiling.

MORE CANNING SUGAR AVAILABLE ON JULY 8

The validity date for the remaining five canning sugar coupons has been advanced from July 17 to July 8, it has been announced by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The first five canning sugar coupons became valid on May 15. These coupons will provide the 10 pounds of sugar per person for home canning under the rationing system.

The validity date was moved forward to enable women to use the sugar during the berry season.

"The Secret Heart", Drama Of A Divided Family, Now At Monkland

One of the most powerful and unusual dramatic triangles to reach the screen in some time is now being presented at the Monkland Theatre, until Friday night, in the new production, "The Secret Heart" with Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson the pawns in a conflict that holds the spectator arrested from opening reel to final fadeout.

The memory of a girl's father is the strange "rival" in the engrossing narrative of "The Secret Heart". Miss Allyson, playing Claudette Colbert's neurotic step-daughter, is estranged from her family because she has been spared the truth of the fact that her father killed himself because of dishonor. Instead, she believes his death to have been caused by her stepmother, a distortion which discolors her life to the point where she eventually attempts suicide. It is Walter Pidgeon, the man whom Miss Colbert turned down in order to devote her life to the upbringing of her step-children, who precipitates the final climax in Miss Allyson's emotional mixup and who is able finally to clear up the girl's distorted viewpoint.

Both Claudette Colbert and Miss Allyson give first-class performances. Miss Colbert's portrayal of the misunderstood step-mother has tenderness, a glowing warmth and complete credibility, while Miss Allyson reveals a new depth as the tragic, young heroine. Pidgeon is excellent as the man whom both mother and daughter come to love, and other forthright portrayals are offered by Lionel Barrymore as an understanding psychiatrist, Robert Sterling, Marshall Thompson, Elizabeth Patterson, Richard Derr and Patricia Medina.

Lovely Aerialist At Belmont Park

Lee Wallenda, slender, blonde former member of the world-famous Wallenda high-wire troupe and considered one of the most beautiful girl aerial gymnastic stars in the world, is currently being featured at 5 and 11 p.m. daily at Belmont Park with Henri Kimris, famous French Ace of the Air. Miss Wallenda came to America in 1937 and was one of the featured attractions with the Ringling Circus until last year when she joined Les Kimris, Henri and Leon. Together with Henri — brother Leon, since his accident a few years ago confining his activities to the supervision of the rigging, making sure that none of the intricate mechanics will fall — they present their renowned Aeroplane Tourbillon Contraption. Suspended 100 feet in the air, they execute some of the most amazing and hazardous stunts, on this revolving super-structure, ever seen anywhere. They work entirely without any safety net between them and the ground.

Benny Louis and his famed Casa Loma Orchestra featuring vocals by Lee Farley; and Max Sherman 16 year old clarinet virtuoso; supply the dance music nightly as well as every weekend in the pavilion. Belmont Park operates daily, rain or shine.

The School for Handicapped Children is holding its picnic at the Park today, Thursday, and on Friday the Marconi Athletic Club; the Dominion Bridge Recreation Club; the Club Excelsior; Henry Birks and Sons Ltd., and the Academic du Sacre-Coeur, Sorel, will be holding their outing.

AT BELMONT PARK
Lee Wallenda, one of the world's most beautiful girl aerial gymnasts, featured with Les Kimris at Belmont Park daily at 5 and 11 p.m.

RECORD-BREAKING MUSICAL TRIUMPH! William Demarest, Evelyn Keyes and Larry Parks are co-starred in the musical hit, "The Johnson Story," in Technicolor, which starts on Saturday at the Seville United Theatre.

Screen Story Of Twin Sisters, "The Dark Mirror" At Seville Soon

A striking novelty in off-pattern screen entertainment opens next Wednesday at the Seville United Theatre. It is "The Dark Mirror," which co-stars Academy Award winner, Olivia de Havilland and Lew Ayres, in his first role since his return from the war.

The picture remarkably works out a premise that supposedly identical twins can be diametric opposites and builds exciting suspense in the process. Miss de Havilland plays the dual role of twin sisters, one of whom committed a murder. Her rich delineations of divergent characters should make her a contender again this year in the Academy Award sweepstakes.

Ayers, returning to the screen after four years' absence, looks more mature, somewhat leaner and perhaps more romantic than in his previous roles. He does an excellent job in the role of a psychiatrist who, by scientific deduction based on graphic tests which are depicted interestingly, determines which of the two young ladies is capable of having committed the murder.

Thomas Mitchell's fine talents get full expression as the detective lieutenant who stalks the murderess. It should win this fine actor many new fans. Richard Long, Charles Evans and Gary Owen also turn in fine portrayals.

Superlatively done in all departments, "The Dark Mirror" deserves top position on any theatre-goer's must-see list.

Big-Time Track Meet July 4

Amateur Stars To Compete

On Friday, July 4 at Molson Stadium, the Montreal Track & Field Club in conjunction with McGill University, will sponsor, for the first time, Eastern Canada Track & Field Championships. Preliminaries will be held in the afternoon at 2.00 o'clock while finals in Senior events will be held under the floodlights commencing at 8.45 p.m.

The evening meet — "Olympic Sports Festivals" — will be one of the most pretentious amateur sports shows ever staged in Canada. As the Meet is being staged for the benefit of the Canadian Olympic Fund — contributions to which are not earmarked for any particular sport — the sponsors have invited other amateur sports groups to stage added attractions.

Leading local boxers and wrestlers will be seen in bouts while there will be a special exhibition of sabre fighting by Olympic Fencers. In one corner of the field Weight-Lifters, exceedingly popular with French-Canadian sports fans, will stage the Montreal Weight-Lifting Championships. The piece de resistance will be exhibition High Diving by George Athans, McGill's Dominion champion and probable Olympic point winner. A tank will be erected for George's hair-raising dives.

Track Programme

The track & field programme offers a full list of events for men, women, boys under 18 years and girls under 16 years. Entry forms are obtainable from Hugh Bosman, McGill University, 475 Pine Avenue West, Montreal. The events are:

MEN'S: 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards, one mile, three miles, 120 yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles, 440 yard relay, one mile relay, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, 16 lb. shot put, discus throw, javelin throw.

WOMEN'S: 60 yards, 100 yards,

80 yard hurdles, 440 yard relay, high jump.

GIRLS (under 16 years): 60 yards.

BOYS (under 18 years): 100 yards, 440 yards, one mile, 440 yards relay, high jump, broad jump.

Many Competitors

Every Olympic track and field candidate in Eastern Canada is expected to compete and it is already known that Toronto, Western University, Quebec City and Fredricton Y.M.C.A., will send strong teams.

The individual star of the meet is expected to be Bob MacFarlane, one of Western University's football brothers. Bob was clocked in 48.9 seconds for the 440 yards at the Western relays in the driving rain and also starred on two Western relay teams. Bob should crack the Canadian 440 yard record of 48.4 seconds on July 4 and is a likely point-winner for Canada at London next summer. Incidentally that 440 yard Canadian record is closely related to Montreal. In 1912 on the old M.A.A.A. third-mile track, Robbins of New York set a record of 49.6 seconds, which was not broken until 1937 at Molson Stadium when Arthur Godfrey Brown of the Oxford-Cambridge team beat Johnny Loaring of Western University to create the present record. Nothing more fitting than that another illustrious Western athlete should regain the record for Canada on the Molson cinders.

Bob MacFarlane's brother, Don, is expected to shine in the 220 yards and 440 yards on July 4. Other outstanding athletes and likely Olympians are Jimmy O'Brien of University of Toronto, Chuck Beaudry of Frontenac A.C.,

Quebec City, Ron Skerrett of Montreal Track and Field Club and Sandy Spence of Montreal High in the sprints. O'Brien was the sprint series winner at the Forum indoor meet in March with Beaudry, French Canadian U.S. Pentathlon champion, in close pursuit. Skerrett and Spence are two local schoolboy sensations and appear to be Montreal's best bets since Merth McKecheaney, member of the 1928 Olympic team.

PREVIEW JUNE 28

A pre-view to the Eastern Canada Meet will be held on Saturday, June 28 at Molson Stadium, when the Montreal Track and Field Club stages closed Province of Quebec Championships. Teams are expected from Quebec City, Sherbrooke and Lennoxville. McGill University will defend the William Northey Team Championship Trophy against strong bids from M.T.F.C. and Montreal Police A.A.A., and Frontenac A.C., of Quebec City.

A feature of the Eastern Canada Meet will be the fact that from the results will be picked the team to represent Eastern Canada in the International Dual Meet versus the Eastern United States at Molson Stadium on Saturday, September 6.

Y.M.C.A. Briefs

Parents and friends of the boys and girls in the Learn-to-Swim classes were on hand Thursday and Friday afternoons to see the children go through their last swimming classes. Sixty-one of the seventy-seven boys registered in the classes learned to swim across the pool. In the girls' classes, forty-seven of the sixty-four participating learned to swim across the pool. Twenty boys learned to swim the length of the pool and twelve learned to dive. Of the girls, fourteen learned to swim the length and eleven of these learned to dive.

Among those boys and girls who did not quite pass the "across the pool" test, several could swim half a width, and all learned to float, kick and use their hands and arms.

Everyone learned how to hold their breath, jump into the water, and the water-safety habits of floating and elementary swimming techniques.

All parents expressed their delight at the swimming progress their children made. George Barker the swimming director, said in an interview to-day, that "it was one of the most successful Learn-to-Swim Campaigns in the past eight years". He also assured us there would be another campaign next year for those who were unable to register this year.

The four boys participating in the Boys' Life Saving Classes, continue to practise regularly. The examinations will be held the last week in June.

John Vinters coaches the six men in the Life Saving Class every Monday, in preparation for their examination the second week in July.

Chris Isaacs is in the pool every Monday evening for the Men's Learn-to-Swim Classes. New members can join at any time.

The Friday night mixed splash parties are a popular activity. Last week, a water poloball added fun and excitement for the twenty young people in the water. The mixed splash begins at 9 p.m.

Softball: Westmount 'Y' dropped their first two games in the Inter "Y" Softball League, losing to Central 22 to 13, and to Rosemount 18 to 6. The next game in this league will be against International on Friday night.

We learned from reliable sources that Westmount is going to have Junior, Intermediate and Church Softball Leagues starting the last week of June. The "Y" expects to have a team in all these Leagues. Those interested in playing in any of these teams should contact George Barker, the physical director, now.

Senior League Batting Records Released Here

Soccer Club Elects New Executive

The Westmount Soccer Club, now tied for first place with N.D.G. Rovers in the Westmount Soccer League, met at the Westmount Police Station Tuesday evening and elected a slate of officers.

On the new executive are: president, H. Griffin; vice-president, Walter Pick; secretary-treasurer, A. Lawson; directors, W. Guyon, J. Bunten, J. Rock.

A. Lawson was elected player-manager and Chief A. R. Byford was elected to the position of honorary president. A motion was passed to the effect that E. J. Anderson be asked to accept the position of honorary vice-president of the club.

Also discussed at the meeting was a plan of selling club memberships tickets to all those interested in giving financial assistance.

The league standings, excluding cup games, are as follows:

ROYALS TOO STRONG FOR OTHER CLUBS

If the recent road trip of the Royals is any indication of what to come during the balance of the race, the chase is over right now. It was called a suicide trip before the boys left town, but winning some seventeen games of twenty-three, they came home good three and a half games out in front and all set to add to the margin on the home lot.

If it wasn't for the Shaughnessy playoffs, which guarantee one or two other teams a crack at the title no matter how far behind they might happen to be, the race would be all over about July 15. Clay Hopper has done a remarkable job with the Royals this year. After winning the minor leagues championship last season, he had to start all over from scratch this spring, and although there are some people who still say the present Royals aren't as good as last year, their numbers are decreasing with each passing week. Right now, there are at least two stars on last year's team who couldn't make the present edition.

FREE-FOR-ALL ON LAKE ST. LOUIS

A few score local fishermen will be out on Lake St. Louis Saturday competing in that big fish derby which promises to be the biggest thing in the hook, line, and sinker sport ever staged around here.

Saturday is going to be some day on the lake. From what we hear, there will be so many fishermen out that the boys will be casting their plugs into each other's boats.

There's going to be a great old race for the favourite spots — the reefs and eddies. One fisherman told the writer that he is getting up at five a.m., and expects to be on the lake at six, anchored at his favourite spot. "There's going to be fifty-seven varieties of fishermen aiming for that place," he told us, "and the newcomers will find themselves on the fringe on the battle, watching the fun."

"From what we hear," your chronicler put in, "that might not be such a bad spot. What fish survive the first onslaught will be scared out to the fringe."

Fishermen are requested to refrain from casting after the ninth unless they have a clear space of one hundred feet all around their boat — which will be doubtful — and not to throw any bottles overboard.

ONE WAY TO RUIN BASEBALL

U.S. baseball writers are viewing with some alarm the agitation among some of the big league baseball players for release from the contractual obligation which makes a player the property of one particular club until sold or traded. Some of the players want all contracts terminated on a free agent basis, with the player free to deal with whomever he wishes.

The defects of this plan are obvious, as Gordon Cobbledick points out in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Should players become free agents at the termination of their contracts, it would be only a matter of time until the wealthier clubs had the pick of all the stars on their rosters. The rich would get richer and the poor would get poorer. And the poorer clubs would find the fans staying away from their turnstiles in droves as they failed to keep within striking distance of the richer clubs in the standings. The introduction of big outside money into the game of recent years has given an impetus to these demands on the part of the players who feel that the game is not now so much dependent on the gates as it once was. The money wealthy owners want to sink into their hobbies. With these wealthy owners bidding against one another for the star players, the latter would most certainly have a field day.

The milder demand for "no sale or trade" without the player's consent carries equally dangerous possibilities. Suppose, for example, the Cardinals have a player they want to sell. They get an offer from the Braves, but the player says no, he doesn't want to go to Boston. Over a period of time, the Cardinal management finds he doesn't want to go to any of the National League clubs, so eventually agrees to go to the Detroit Tigers — where he wanted to go in the first place — because the Tigers pay the biggest salaries in baseball. It would take longer, but eventually the wealthy clubs would collar all the talent under this system too.

No, the only safe procedure for the best interests of baseball is to continue the present system under which a player is the property of the club that originally signs him until he is sold or traded.

Cards Eke Out 6-5 Win Over Royals Monday Eve

The game between Royals and Cardinals last Monday evening proved out to be quite a thriller with the Cards winning by the score of 6 to 5. Bill Graham, pitching his second game for Cards, allowed the Royals 8 hits and struck out 10 of his opponents. He went further to help win himself the game by knocking in two runs.

George Edwards, pitching for Royals, allowed the Cards 11 hits. Jimmy Haggerty clouted the only circuit run of the game. Fairhead was the leading hitter for Cards having clouted 3 runs and Bob Leach of Royals got two.

The game gave Dodgers quite a scare last Thursday evening when they lost to the last of the ninth they beat the Dodgers to a 9-9 score. Two men on base and one out in the last of the ninth, Aces were unable to break the deadlock. Dodgers, with the advantage of another frame, kept their unbeaten streak intact by collecting four runs and to win the game 13 to 9.

Shorty Hayes, for Aces, and Logue MacDonald, for Dodgers, pitched good ball with Logue getting 16 strike outs.

During the course of next week or so, Junior, Intermediate and Church leagues will be started with meetings for Junior on Monday, June 23, Intermediates on Wednesday, June 25 and Church representatives on Friday, June 20. All meetings will be held in the greenhouse at 8.30 p.m.

Monkland Tennis Club On Way To Superb Year

Despite the most unfavourable month of May as far as weather was concerned, the Monkland Tennis Club seems well on its way to its most successful season. The membership list has been closed with 300 members enrolled. Most of the familiar group have returned, and many interesting new players have joined. Doug "Pop" Kerr has reunited with his long-time partner, Dr. Henry Brown, after a season's absence due to ill-health, and from all reports this team has improved in all departments of the game, especially in lobbing. The Thundering Herd of Monkland, Frank Eddolls and Glen Harmon have not been playing as a team so far, but it is anticipated that they will soon be challenging all comers, as usual.

The club has entered two teams in the P.Q.L.T.A. Inter-Club League, a women's and men's team, each in the Class A Section. The ladies are captained by Mrs. Lang, and are composed of the team which won Class B honours for the Club last season, plus several promising newcomers. The Men's Class A Team is headed by Edgar Lanthier and will have such players as Percy Bennett, (Provincial Intermediate Champion), Gordon MacNeil, Harry Cardall, Bob Middleton, and many others trying for places.

Round Robin Played

The only event, which the weatherman has permitted so far, was the Round Robin played on the 24th of May. This tourney was won by Mrs. Mary Lang and partner, Mal Thompson, who defeated Betty Ashton and Errol "Bud" Smith in the final round.

The Monkland Tennis Club has been chosen again this season as the location of the Provincial Senior Tournament, which will take place June 21st to 28th. This is the main event on the P.Q.L.T.A. tourney list and it provides the members with a close-up view of the top-ranking players of the Province.

Coming Events

For the benefit of those who plan their vacations, to avoid missing any tournaments, the following is a list of Club events and the dates they will take place:

- Ladies' Singles, July 3 to 13.
- Men's Singles, July 3 to 13.
- Ladies' Doubles, August 14 to 24.
- Men's Doubles, August 14 to 24.
- Mixed Doubles, Sept. 4 to 14.
- Ladies' Handicap Singles, Sept. 11 to 21.
- Men's Handicap Singles, Sept. 11 to 21.

Ready Money

FOR PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

He wanted to pay the Bank

A BONUS!

June 20th — John J. Veroba of Lampman, Sask., applied to the Bank of Montreal for a loan of $2,000 to purchase a threshing combine. His proposition was sound . . . and the loan was made.

John Veroba's new machine was delivered on June 25th. Ten days later, with his own crops still four weeks from harvesting, he set out for Sharon Springs, Kansas. With his new combine he worked for the farmers there and in the neighbouring communities for one month to the day.

In the meantime his own crops were ripening. Early in August he turned northward to Lampman, and on his arrival, August 11th, immediately remitted to us the full $2,000 he had borrowed. His work had given him back the entire purchase price of his combine!

The total interest charge was $12.60. So pleased was this customer to possess his own combine free of all debt, and to commence his own harvesting with a happy and easy mind, that he wished to pay the Bank of Montreal a bonus to mark his appreciation.

The Bank, of course, declined the bonus, but is gladly accepting the expression of John Veroba's thanks in the form of his permission to tell his story in this advertisement.

This case is typical of the assistance which the Bank of Montreal is extending to progressive people in every walk of life and demonstrates how it makes true its promise: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour."

If you need money, see your nearest B of M manager today. If your proposition is sound, there's money for you at the B of M.

weeks with their officers. This year's camp will far exceed previous sessions as much equipment has been given to the camp by friends. A record attendance is also forecast as enrolment is limited and up to the moment is within three of the top number. Despite flood conditions prevailing in this vicinity, the camp site is in good condition and with a few sunny, dry days, should be in readiness for pitching of tents.

Last Saturday afternoon a crew of boys spent several hours taking inventory, and cleaning for painting all sections of the dining hall and hospital. While outdoor conditions were most unfavourable, much was accomplished indoors and another party will set sail for St. Andrew's East this week-end, when much painting will be completed.

This summer's camp will have 9 tents. Councillors will be: L/Cpl. Gordon Turner, Cpl. John Gillingham, L/Cpls. Will Hill and Rufus Curry and Ptes. Bingham King and John Sheppard. A number of these councillors have been taking special Life Saving instruction so as to act as Life Guards as well as instruct all campers who are non-swimmers. Red Cross tests will be taken at Camp for boys desiring to complete them.

Captain J. Howard Richardson will have associated with him Lieuts. A. G. Anderson, Sam Hallam and Jack Nichol, along with Rev. Clifford A. Seiby of Flint, Michigan, former Dominion president of The Boys' Brigade.

Local Gardeners Are Very Active

Despite the serious set-back of a cold and rainy Spring, about one hundred Westmount gardeners are hard at work cultivating their plots, according to Eddie Anderson, of the Westmount Park Department.

Mr. Anderson, who works closely with the officials of the Community Garden League, a Red Feather Service of Welfare Federation, announces that the number of gardeners this year is about the same as last, and has not dwindled sharply from the peak gardening years of wartime.

Westmount has no centralized gardening district, as has Notre Dame de Grace, blessed this year with the first civic garden park to be established in Montreal. The Westmounters manage to produce excellently on vacant lots and areas which are plowed for them in the Fall.

This year, thrift gardens will supplant the victory gardens of the war years. Extra incentive in gardening has proved a boon in getting would-be tillers of the soil actually out with spade and trowel. The prevailing high prices for foodstuffs has provided the extra reason for putting in the time and work on a garden, now that the patriotic purpose of producing for victory no longer applies.

Capt. Wm. Bowie, head of the Community Garden League, feels that Westmount is an accurate example of the whole of Greater Montreal as far as this year's gardening plans are concerned. According to Capt. Bowie, interest in gardening has not declined since the war, on the contrary has become more deeply stirred.

This is the major reason why the Community Garden League is continuing its drive for garden parks, the first of which has already been established by the City of Montreal in N.D.G. This, the first of what is hoped will be a series of such developments, occupies a 13 acre tract, providing enough space for 1,700 families to garden free from interruption, and the ever present danger that their gardening land will be sold from under them.

Westmount Librarian To Attend Conference

Miss K. Jenkins, librarian of the Westmount Public Library, will be one of the delegation of librarians from this province which will attend the annual conference of the Canadian Library Association, to be held at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, June 21 to 26.

Executive and council meetings are scheduled during the first two days followed by a pre-conference trip to the Fraser Valley Union Libraries on June 23. The conference proper will commence on June 24.

When coats are taken off in the house they should not be draped over the backs of chairs. It's Mother who should quietly but firmly ask John and Bill and Uncle Hugh to hang their coats in the hall closet or fold them up and place them in an inconspicuous corner. Coats just don't fit into any decorating scheme, and a housekeeper is within her rights to insist that they be kept out of sight when not being worn.

The site has great historical significance. Indians from the northern regions of the Ottawa River used to paddle down to this Island each Spring and set up a temporary Camp site where traders from Montreal wishing to avoid the taxes imposed by the City Officials under the old French regime, met and traded. Isle Perrot was cut off from the mainland until the erection of the Bridge from Ste. Annes and has only been easy of access during this last century.

Camp Perrot was founded four years ago and many improvements have taken place on the Camp property. The Camp is well situated and has extensive swimming facilities, being situated on the finest beach in the Montreal area.

Interest is added to the Camp by a bush which is at the rear of the property, and by travelling af steamboats and tankers through the locks on their way up to the Great Lakes. We can be sure that the boys and girls who spend their holidays at Camp Perrot will have a really enjoyable Summer.

Railroads of the United States used 53 standards of time before standard time was adopted here on Oct. 18, 1883.

The Canadian Red Cross Is A National Body Linked To International Red Cross

It is nearly a century since humanitarian ideas for treatment of the wounded during battle took form internationally and gave birth to the world-wide organization known as the Red Cross.

And it is almost exactly a half century since the Red Cross was set up in Canada, as a Branch of the British Red Cross Society. The actual, official Act of Canadian Parliament which gave a charter to the Canadian Branch of the Red Cross goes back to the year 1909—38 years ago.

The Canadian Red Cross continued as a branch of the British Red Cross for a quarter of a century. It grew in stature and extended its good works, particularly in time of war. It was for a service in war-time that the Red Cross of the world was originally created; but it later became an agent of mercy and of public health in peacetime as well.

Twenty years ago — on May 20, 1927 — the Canadian Branch of the British Red Cross forwarded to the International Committee of the Red Cross, in Geneva, Switzerland, a formal application asking for recognition as an organization independent of the British Red Cross. Canada had become of age, and the Canadian Red Cross felt that it, too, had become of age. The time had come for the Red Cross in Canada to stand on its own feet and decide for itself many of the matters which affected it and Canada only.

The request was regarded as thoroughly reasonable. Six months later, on November 15, 1927, the International Committee in Geneva issued an official circular in which it stated that the British Red Cross had informed the Committee in Geneva that — to quote the circular — "the National Red Cross Societies of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and British India were no longer branches of the British Red Cross".

To quote further from the Geneva circular: "Desiring in particular to accede to the request of the Canadian Red Cross, the International Committee is glad to be able to recognize this (the Canadian) Red Cross as a national society and to accredit it to all the Central Committees."

The proclamation meant that the Canadian Red Cross Society ceased to be a minor organization under the tutelage of its parent society — the British Red Cross, and had become a major unit, one of the scores of independent Red Cross Societies found in as many nations throughout the world. Incidentally, these different Red Cross societies of the different nations are co-ordinated for international purposes into a League of National Red Cross Societies. In time of war much of their efforts are accomplished through that thoroughly international body which knows no barriers, recognizes no enemy, favors no cause — the International Red Cross, with headquarters in Geneva. It was in Geneva, as you know, that the whole idea of Red Cross took form.

The Canadian Government now recognizes the Canadian Red Cross Society as an auxiliary of the Department of National Defence in time of war; as the official agency for locating lost persons in conjunction with the Governments and the Red Cross Societies of other nations; and as the official agency for the teaching of arts and crafts to disabled veterans in hospitals throughout Canada. Also, the Canadian Red Cross is recognized as the official organization to create a nation-wide blood bank for civilians who need transfusions; and it is recognized by governments and municipal authorities as the logical agency to respond with emergency relief in case of disasters such as fires, floods, explosions and epidemics.

The act of Dominion Parliament dated 1909 authorizes the Canadian Red Cross to promote public health and humanitarian interests. To quote its motto, the objective is, always: "The improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering". Thus the Society has undertaken such work as outpost nursing; a national blood bank; home nursing; first-aid; water safety; mobile medical and dental clinics; and other tasks of the kind in Canada. Thanks to the benevolent collaboration of millions of Canadians, the Red Cross in Canada marches on to bigger and better accomplishments.
