JUSTICE WAS SWIFT IN THIS CASE

Albert Wolter, the Slayer of Little Ruth Wheeler, Found Guilty of Murder.

New York, April 22.—Albert Wolter, a youth of 19, who was "crazy" about women, must die in the electric chair for the murder of Ruth Wheeler, a 15-year-old stenographer. After one hour and 50 minutes of deliberation, a jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree at 10:30 o'clock to-night, bringing to a close a trial marked by its swift movement. The boy's counsel said this afternoon that Wolter was too tender-hearted to harm a cat, but twelve men decided to-night that he had strangled Ruth Wheeler and thrust her while yet alive into the fireplace, where, soaked with oil, her body burned. With the same indifference that he had shown throughout the trial, Wolter evinced no emotion when the verdict was announced. He had been asleep in his cell—and sleeping soundly—when the jury was deliberating on his fate. Immediately after the announcement of the verdict, Wallace D. Scott, counsel for Wolter, moved that the verdict be set aside, but Judge Woster overruled him and he left the court, after having obtained a stay of sentence until Wednesday.

The jury in themselves showed emotion while the boy who must die showed none. As the jurors filed in, the prisoner was led into the room. His face was the color of putty, but his complexion is naturally unwholesome. When asked if they had found a verdict the foreman answered in a shaking voice, "We have." He then announced that he and his associates had found Wolter guilty of murder in the first degree. All eyes immediately shifted toward the prisoner but he was stolid as a piece of stone. As he was being handcuffed to officers, preparatory to being taken back to the Tombs, he gazed about him unconcernedly.

Neither relatives of the murderer nor of his victim were in court to hear the verdict. His aged parents were in court during the afternoon, but as he heard the decision, which means death, he was alone among strangers. Efforts were made to get a statement from Wolter on his way to the Tombs, but he refused to talk. "I don't want to talk tonight. I'm tired and I want to get a little good sleep first," he said.

Ruth Wheeler was killed on March 24th, Wolter was arrested on March 26th, and was placed on trial last Monday.

GAYNOR AS A MAGISTRATE
New York, April 22.—Mayor Gaynor appeared to-day in an old role and one rarely exercised by a mayor of this city. Sitting as a magistrate, he issued a warrant for the arrest of J. J. Cauldwell, of Brooklyn, who was a dock master in the employ of the dock department. The charge is grand larceny, and the warrant was issued following a complaint made by Commissioner of Accounts Fosdick. It is alleged that the commissioner found that $10,000 had disappeared in a year. Deputy Dock Commissioner Cronson had a conference to-day with District Attorney Whitman, and it is understood that other employees may be involved.

HOTEL CLERK IN THE TOILS
St. Catharines, Ont., April 22.—Albert Robinson, clerk at the Russell House, is in the toils charged with committing an indecent assault last night upon the twelve year old daughter of the widow of the late A. S. Martin, a former well-known newspaper man of Toronto, Kingston and Peterboro. Robinson, who is 62 years of age, pleaded innocent of the offence this morning and was remanded until Monday.

GALA DINNER TO MR. ROOSEVELT

By President and Mme. Fallieres in Paris—It was a Most Brilliant Function.

Paris, April 22.—President and Mme. Fallieres to-night gave a gala dinner of 104 covers at the Elysee Palace in honor of Theodore Roosevelt. President Fallieres took out Mrs. Roosevelt, who wore a gold brocade gown embroidered with gold and crystal ornaments, while Mr. Roosevelt escorted Mme. Fallieres. Miss Ethel Roosevelt, who wore a gown of pink satin was escorted by M. Jusserand, French Ambassador to the United States. Among the other distinguished guests at the dinner were Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon, former President and Mme. Loubet, Premier Briand, Foreign Minister, and Mme. Pichou, and other members of the cabinet and their ladies. During the dinner, which was served in the Salle Des Fetes, which is hung in priceless Gobelin's, the band of the Republican Guards played. In proposing Colonel Roosevelt's health, President Fallieres said: "I cannot allow this dinner to terminate without seizing the occasion to offer a toast to Theodore Roosevelt, an illustrious man, who is at the same time a great citizen, a great friend of France and a great friend of peace. I lift my glass also in honor of Mrs. Roosevelt, to whom goes out the homage of our respectful sympathy. I congratulate myself at being able to tell our guests how happy we are to receive and fetter them."

Mr. Roosevelt replied in French, saying he was profoundly touched by the words of President Fallieres. "Mrs. Roosevelt and I," he continued, "will never forget the welcome we have received in France, especially from you, Mr. President. Made to understand and love each other, our two countries have been friends from the beginning and no doubt will always remain friends in the future. Every civilized man who comes to France learns something, because France is the cradle of modern civilization. Even to-day I have learned much, and one thing in particular which will appear in my lecture tomorrow. I raise my glass in honor of the President of the republic and Mme. Fallieres, whose guests we are to-night."

A reception followed the dinner, to which many other notables of the French literary and scientific worlds and a number of prominent persons of the American colony were invited. During the reception a literary and musical programme was rendered by artists from the Comedie Francaise and the opera. Mary Garden and M. Saleza sang the duet from "Romeo and Juliet," and M. Mounet-Sully and Mme. Bartet recited selections from Victor Hugo's works.

At midnight a supper was served. To-morrow Mr. Roosevelt's time will be devoted entirely to the programme at the university.

EIGHTEEN MINERS LOSE THEIR LIVES

By an Explosion in an Ohio Coal Mine—The Shock Felt Like an Earthquake.

Stuebenville, O., April 22.—The lives of eighteen miners were snuffed out in a tremendous explosion in the Younghigheny and Ohio Coal Company's mine at Amsterdam last night. Seven men, bruised and burned, were rescued. The interior of the mine was wrecked and all ventilation cut off. Mine inspectors and mine experts are searching the wrecked workings for the bodies of twelve victims who have not been found. The mine had been inspected but two days before the explosion by Inspector Thos. Morrison. From the condition of the interior, it is said the explosion, in point of force, was the greatest ever recorded in Ohio. About 9:45 o'clock last night the earth within a radius of several miles was rocked by a terrific explosion. People thought an earthquake had occurred. A train on the Lake Erie, Alliance and Wheeling Railroad was passing the mine and every window in the train was shattered. Mine inspectors, although unable to give cause for the explosion believe a miner with an unprotected light struck a gas pocket. With the explosion the cages in the shaft, which is 60 feet deep, were blown out, the tipples wrecked and all machinery wrecked. The fans in the pump house were put out of commission. As soon as a rescue could be rigged up, rescuers were sent down but they remained only a few minutes. However, they succeeded in rescuing the men from the north entry, as the air there was comparatively free from the noxious fumes. After working all night, the rescuing crews found six bodies. These were taken out. Two men, brothers, were found locked in each others arms. This makes it probable that the men were not killed instantly, but were suffocated.

BORN ON A TRAIN
Smith's Falls, Ont., April 22.—An immigrant woman gave birth to a baby boy on a C.P.R. train shortly before it arrived here. Dr. J. A. Anderson, of Smith's Falls, was notified to meet the train on its arrival here and attend the mother and child. They were both well and continued their journey to the Far West.

PUT IN A COUNTER CLAIM
Toronto, April 22.—Claiming that while he was manager of their mining properties in Cobalt, by reason of his actions, Keeley Mine, Ltd., have filed a counter claim for $30,000 against Major Boyd Magee, of this city. Major Magee is the plaintiff in an action against Keeley Mine for $25,000, which he alleges is due him under contract.

G.T.R. WORK IN TORONTO.
Toronto, April 22.—Chas. M. Hays, of the G.T.R., passed through Toronto this morning en route to Montreal from London, at which place he attended the Board of Trade banquet and at which he said much work would be done this summer in Toronto. He said the work that would be done would be chiefly the depressing of tracks between Bathurst street and Sunnyside Crossing. This work would cost nearly nine million dollars.

KILLED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK.
Halifax, N.S., April 22.—The Windsor Hotel, New Liskeard, was the scene of a sad fatality last night when a young man about 19 years named Wm. Eaton, who was employed as porter, went down in the cellar to change one of the electric light globes. His hand came in contact with one of the electric wires and he was killed instantly. He has no relatives in this part, but it is thought that his home is in the vicinity of Ottawa. No inquest was held.

AMERICAN CANALS
Albany, N.Y., April 22.—F. C. Stevens, State Superintendent of Public Works, announced to-day that the opening of the Erie, Champlain and Cayuga and Seneca canals and the Oswego canal, excepting that portion between Three River Point and Lock 11, at Fulton, will take place on May 16. The superintendent also gave notice that portion of the improved Champlain canal between Fort Ann and Whitehall is so far completed as to be utilized for navigation the coming season, and that animal power on the Champlain canal will be limited to that portion between Waterford and Fort Ann.

THEATRICAL EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES
Albany, N.Y., April 22.—The Green Employment Agency bill, known as the "White Rats" bill, on account of radical changes in the conditions of employing theatrical people, was again recommended to the assembly committee on general laws to-day for the incorporation of additional amendments. The measure as amended has been accepted by the several interests involved and those in charge say that it will pass without material change. The bill provides for a rigid investigation of the character of theatrical employment agencies before granting a license and that if a license be revoked the holder shall have recourse to the courts. The agency must give $1,000 bond and keep an exact record of its transactions. Its maximum fees shall be five per cent on the gross salary for vaudeville and circus performers during the entire period of their engagement and five per cent on no more than ten weeks salary for those employed in regular theatres. No female shall be sent to an employment agency without rigid investigation of its character. When a manager or other employer of theatrical performers applies for help he must file a verified statement showing that he has not failed to pay salaries or left company stranded during the five years preceding the date of such application.

THE WIFE NOW IN TROUBLE.
Niagara Falls, Ont., April 22.—Bertha Blount, wife of Joseph Blount, the would-be murderer and suicide of April 13th, was arrested here as a result of information received, at the inquest, which brought out the circumstances surrounding the tragedy. She was fined $30 and costs charged with keeping a disorderly house.

A MUCH AFFLICTED FAMILY
London, Ont., April 22.—Thomas Parker is dead as the result of being squeezed in an elevator at McClary's. This makes the third tragic ending in the family in a short time. Mrs. Parker fell down stairs and died of brain concussion, and her son was struck a short time ago by a street car and instantly killed.

FISHERMEN STILL MISSING
Charlottetown, P.E.I., April 22.—The three fishermen who went adrift off the north shore of this island on Tuesday afternoon have not since been heard from. The Government steamer Brant rushed to the scene on Wednesday morning and has been cruising in that vicinity ever since but has not as yet reported having picked up the slightest clue to the fate of the men. Little or no hope is retained for their rescue.

MINISTER OF MARINE'S TOUR
Charlottetown, P.E.I., April 22.—The new ice-breaker Earl Gray, which has given the most satisfactory service in history of winter navigation between Prince Edward Island and the main land, is now in the drydock in Halifax undergoing a complete overhauling before proceeding south to Atlantic City to bring home the Minister of Marine who will visit the principal ports of the Maritime Provinces on a tour of inspection.

A GREAT ROWER'S SON.
Toronto, April 22.—Edward Gordon Hanlan, a son of the great single sculler, Ned Hanlan, will be trained next fall by James Rice, the Toronto boy coaching Columbia. "Hanlan did me many a good turn and it is up to me to do as much for his son," says Rice. Young Hanlan is employed by a mining concern and will leave soon for Cobalt to be gone until the autumn. When he gets back his sculling work will begin. Young Hanlan is 18 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. Rice says he will be a good one.

MR. ROOSEVELT IN PARIS
Paris, April 22.—The Academy of Moral and Political Sciences, the meeting of which ex-President Roosevelt will attend to-morrow in his capacity as foreign member and at which he will be officially received into the organization, is one of the five academies which together form an institute of France. The institute as such is an outgrowth of the old academies founded during the seventeenth century under the protection of Richelieu, Colbert and Seguier. The oldest and most famous of these is the French Academy, known as the Forty Immortals, which was established in 1631 by Richelieu, its object being the improvement of the French language. The preparations for Mr. Roosevelt's visit to the Sorbonne, where he will deliver his lecture, have been worked out with the greatest care. Although it was announced that the lecture would be open only to students and professors, the university officials and the United States Embassy have been deluged with requests for tickets.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.
The following building permits were issued at the City Hall during the past week:—Mme. C. E. NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

Immigration into Canada—The Shaw-ville Murder—Ring for Bishop Fallon—Farmer Runs Wild.

Ottawa, April 22.—The total immigration into Canada during March was 33,065 against 16,464 in the same month last year. During the fiscal year ending March 31st, 208,794 arrived, an increase of 42 per cent. of the year's total 103,798 came from the United States. The immigration for March was the largest in Canadian history.

The preliminary hearing of Mike Murphy and his wife, Annie Murphy, for the Shawville affair, whereby two young men lost their lives, did not take place to-day. The Attorney-General's Department at Quebec wired to Magistrate Rainville, of Hull, to go to Shawville to hold the trial, but he did not get the telegram till too late to catch the train. The hearing will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Murphy is likely to be charged with aiding and abetting the crime. Three men are detailed to guard the prisoners at Shawville lock-up to assist the bailiff.

A man under the influence of liquor went to an undertaker's at 8 o'clock to-night and said his wife was dead. It was found that the woman, Mrs. Catherine Beauchamp, of 467 St. Patrick street, died at four o'clock, and as the woman had a mark on the side of the cheek, the Coroner will hold an inquest. No explanation is just now forthcoming.

Thought to be mentally deranged, Arthur McKittrick, a farmer of Wakefield township, cut loose yesterday, and caused considerable excitement in the vicinity of his home by threatening to shoot his neighbors with a shot gun. He was, however, overpowered before he could do any damage. McKittrick was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Magistrate T. A. Stevenson and brought to Hull, where he is locked in jail. He will be examined as to his sanity.

The episcopal ring which all bishops wear and which Bishop Fallon will wear for the first time just after his consecration at London, Ontario, on Monday, is the gift of Mr. M. P. Davis, of Ottawa, and is a magnificent piece of jewellery. It is of solid heavy gold and is set with diamonds of the finest water.

In the future Miss McTavish, who is in charge of Settlement House, will be assisted by Miss Jennie M. Pearce, a graduate of Toronto University. For several years Miss Pearce has resided in Worcester, Mass., where she was engaged in similar work, which she conducted with the most satisfactory results.

A deputation headed by Sir MacKenzie Bowell and Senator Edwards, waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to-day and asked that a pension be provided or annuity purchased for Mrs. W. H. Fuller, an aged lady, the only living descendant of the late Simon Dawson, who established the Dawson route, and upon whose reports largely the policy of opening up the Northwest was decided upon. The Premier promised that the matter would be considered.

Messrs. Herbert S. Mussell and N. J. Ogilvie, D.L.S., of the International Boundary Survey Branch of the Department of the Interior, leave on April 30 on their annual journey to the Far North, where they will be engaged in exploration and other survey work until the winter sets in. Mr. Mussell leaves for Juneau, Alaska, and will spend the summer months doing topographical work up the Taku river. Mr. Ogilvie will be more especially engaged in triangulation observations, but will also do topographical work along the Chilkat and Taku rivers.

THE BERLIN STRIKE OVER
Berlin, April 22.—The award of the trades arbitration court, which grants the workmen a small increase in wages beginning August 13th and a further increase October 1st was accepted to-night at a general meeting of workers and employers. This will terminate the general strike in the building trades in Berlin. The agreement is to remain in force three years from April 1st.

CITY HALL
Quebec, 18th April, 1910.

Tenders for Printing and Binding.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY given that sealed tenders will be received from this day till Thursday, the twelfth day of May next (1910), at 1 o'clock p.m., for the Printing and Binding that may be required by the city for one year, specifying the prices for one year, from the last of June next to the 31st May, 1911, according to specifications, to be seen at the office of the undersigned.

The Tenders to be endorsed "Tenders for Printing and Binding," addressed to, and deposited in the office of the City Clerk, from whom any information may be obtained. The tenderer may see the scrap book containing all the samples of the required documents from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

The fees for the drawing up of the contracts and two copies for the city to be paid by the contractor.

The city does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any of the tenders.

H. J. B. CHOUINARD,
City Clerk.

A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said: 'I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one. I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished. They thought that there was smell and smoke from an oil stove and that it heated room just like any other stove. I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now, not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost.'"

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking. Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove means to you? No more coal to carry, no more coming to the dinner table so tired out that you can't eat. Just light a Perfection Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven. But the room isn't heated. There is no smoke, no smell, no outside heat, no drudgery in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

It has a Cabinet Top with a shelf for keeping plates and food hot. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

THE TERMINALS.

The inauguration of the operations of these works is, as we all know, pretty much in the hands of the Railway Commission, of which the Hon. S. N. Parent is chairman; and it behooves our Mayor and City Council to meet the Railway Commission even more than half way in the locating of the same. There have been preliminary negotiations, but it requires more than preliminary negotiations to set the public mind at rest in regard to what is going to be finally fixed upon as a certainty in their location. In this connection the public interest is paramount; and, when such is the case, no one can raise an objection to the impertinence of the press. Every day we are in receipt of reports concerning the harbor ameliorations that are being provided for Montreal, under their new Harbor Board. There is no "hope-deferred" eating worm-holes in that city's expectations. At an enormous expense, the plans for a lower harbor, have not only been in process of being prepared during the winter months, but now that navigation is opened, operations have been started, in face of difficulties of survey that do not exist with us here in Quebec. And when enquiry is made, why Quebec should still be chained to an effete status quo, we are told that the Mayor of Quebec is waiting for the Chairman of the Railway Commission to take the initiative and that the Chairman of the Harbor Commission has been in attendance on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Minister of Public Works, with the hope that the initiative will be reached after Parliament rises. Now it is no intention of the Chronicle to locate the blame on any of these gentlemen. To do so would involve a mixing up of politics with public business, and leave us open to the worn out charge of "making political capital" for or against some one. There is no more of a party plea in our present contention than there was in our contentions during the late municipal elections. We are pleading for Quebec and Quebec alone. There have been promises, and these promises should be fulfilled. Quebec cannot afford to lose its opportunity again, nor have it delayed beyond the patience point. But for the timidity of the Board of Trade, in its fear of offending some one or other, the press might appeal to it, as one of Quebec's corporate activities, to locate the cause of the delay in selecting the site of the terminals at least, not to speak of other operations and co-operations that Quebec is so sorely in need of at the present moment. Perhaps, however, Mayor Drouin may be able to relieve the tension on the public mind at the next meeting of the City Council or later.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY

To-day will be the festival of St. George, the patron saint of England, Germany and Venice, as of soldiers and armorers. It is the supposed anniversary of his martyrdom under the Emperor Dacian, A.D., 303.

The legends concerning him are almost as numerous and varying as those which deal with the Irish patron saint. But it is generally agreed that he was born in Cappadocia in the third century. In his quest of adventure he arrived at a city, either Sylene in Libya or Berytus in Syria. At the time of the coming of the plague was greatly harassed by a monstrous dragon, which it was necessary to appease with a victim each day. Failing this, in the language of the chronicler "it emitted a pestiferous and death-dealing stench." As is usual in these romantic affairs the fatal lot had fallen to the King's daughter, whom the knight-errant encountered on the way to her doom. The facts of the case being duly presented to him he engaged the monster in battle and by help of his good sword, Aescalon, pinned it to the ground. Then binding it with the girdle of the princess he led it to the town. "Seeing that many would have fled at the sight, St. George called out to them not to be afraid, but to trust in the Lord, who had aided him, and to be baptized in the faith, and the animal would be slain before their eyes. And as many as twenty thousand were baptized. Then the saint drew his sword and slew the dragon. Some of the legends make him marry the princess. All agree, however, that he was murdered under the Emperor Dacian. He was first submitted to various tortures, but through miraculous intervention they proved incapable of hurting him. He was then taken to assist at the heathen sacrifices in the temple, and crowds came to witness his humiliation, but a flash of lightning from heaven destroyed its temple, and with it many of his enemies. Finally on April 23, A.D., 303, he was beheaded."

His worship began in the East, where he was known as the Great Martyr. The Western Church practically ignored him until the time of Godfrey de Bouillon, who found his intercession of great value in military matters. When Richard I. went to Palestine, he placed his country under the protection of St. George, and his recognition as England's patron saint dates from that time. Popular English legend, however, has it that when Robert, Duke of Normandy, was besieging Antioch, and the Saracens had come to relieve the town, St. George suddenly appeared on the scene with a numerous army, coming down the hills all in white with a red cross on his banner, and the infidels were routed.

Englishmen have the reputation of being undemonstrative, and are perhaps not so gregariously disposed as other nations. But they could do no harm by taking a leaf from the book of their Irish brothers, and making a little more of their national festival. There are clouds athwart the horizon of the Motherland at this time, and Englishmen the world over should draw closer relying on "Our ancient word of courage, fair St. George."

THE MICROBE AND THE DOLLAR BILL

The Ottawa Free Press has been making a census of the microbes that make a local habitation and a place for themselves on bank notes when they have been in circulation for some time. So many as three millions of these "beasties" have been located on a one dollar bill. The Free Press has also been making a list of the opinions of certain medical men on the question, and the consensus seems to be that paper money carries infection to an inordinate extent. "Some men moisten their fingers with a saliva to count bills; and, if such men are tubercular, there is certainly direct infection," says Dr. Higgins, the Dominion bacteriologist. "Some of these old and worn-out bills simply reek with infectious germs," says Dr. Kennedy. "It is almost an insult to offer a man in payment of a debt some of these unsanitary bills," says Dr. A. T. Shillington. And Mr. Lewis, a member of the House of Commons, has been asking the Government what they propose to do about the matter. The Minister of Finance was not present when the question was put, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier was. "We are bringing in a pretty large budget this year," said the Prime Minister, "to issue a good deal of clean money; and, whether it is clean or not clean, I have to say that in this matter he will have to take the good with the bad, including the bills with the microbes upon them." Whatever the doctors may think of this rather callous reply, no other reply could very well be expected to be given than the one that is always being given when the malversator, boodler or corruptionist is found lurking within the Liberal administrative environment. Even Mr. Bickerdike, who expects in time to find a seat within that realm of bliss, the Senate of Canada, pipped out the Premier's bit of witticism, if it was such, by wanting to know that if three millions of microbes could congregate on a one dollar bill, what would be the income tax of those who find a living on a fifty dollar bill.

A NEW MEANS OF RAISING THE WIND DURING AN ELECTION

Mr. Sharpe, member for Lisgar, has discovered quite incidentally a few traces of how the Hon. Mr. Fisher distributes his favors when an election is in prospect. In Winnipeg his Department supports five veterinary surgeons with almost as many more for the Province at large. These are all said to be electioneering agents. A little before the last general election the list of these horse doctors and inspectors of animals had to be increased by ten additional frontier quarantine inspectors, in order to check the inroads of a suppositious epidemic of smallpox, the whole business putting into circulation over fifty thousand dollars, as a means of influencing votes. "And I am ready," said Mr. Sharpe, "to take my affidavit at any time, that I never heard of a smallpox case in Manitoba during the whole of that year, nor even met a medical man who had found a case." Things are getting pretty low down in this corruptionist business, when the Liberals get to squeezing a supplement to their electioneering fund from smallpox. They managed to draw quite a bit of boodle-extract out of a sawdust heap in Richibucto; but that was a classic affair in meanness compared with their drawing a percentage from a scared-up epidemic. Talk about microbes on dollar bills being good enough for the populace to handle; but surely the populace have had enough of the men who have been trying to win elections by making a "corner" in sawdust heaps and smallpox percentages. And any one who wishes to find substance for the above, will find it in Mr. Sharpe's speech in reply to the three hours harangue of the Minister of Agriculture we referred to in our yesterday's issue. "Some of these gentlemen," said Mr. Sharpe, "never sent in a report at all. Some of them only one, while one wrote to the department and said, tell me where you heard there was some smallpox so that I can get a case, or words to that effect. When I asked the Minister for the return in connection with this matter of the appointment of these inspectors, he absolutely refused to furnish it and said it was not the custom of the House to bring them down. These men are good party workers and I want to say right here, that the quarantine inspectors and the custom house officers at Moberly, were the best organizers that the reform party had in the whole of my constituency. They took an active part in every way possible, in every election in that part of the country. Now we have thirty-four of those quarantine inspectors throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan. These men draw $65,268 of the people's money, and if they are anything like the quarantine inspectors we have throughout the province of Manitoba, it is no wonder there are not many members on this side of the House from those two provinces. The Minister does all this under the name of agriculture. This money, I claim is being spent largely as an organizing scheme for the Liberal party."

Mr. Fisher's patent scissors for saving the stems of peaches, will surely pass out into the shade, along with his feeding squirt for the fattening of chickens, after this last invention of his to run an election by trading in smallpox scares. The Richibucto Sawdust Deal, which has been engaging the attention of the House of Commons for some days past shows how difficult it is to keep the doings of the chronic corruptionist out of sight, and when they do come in sight of themselves how difficult it is to have them "exploded," by a vote of the phalanx that is prepared to vote down any attempt at disclosure or condemnation.

IN MEMORIAM, MARK TWAIN

There are men who are born for the universe, who are world-citizens, and whose loss is a world's regret. Such a one was Samuel Clemens, or "Mark Twain," as he is better known, the famous American humorist. There are Englishmen and men of other nations, who do not understand what is called American humor, or what often passes for it in the shape of local slang. But we venture to say that the name of Mark Twain is as much revered in England to-day as it is in the States in that he is recognized as the foremost exponent of true American humor. A good laugh is the most potent of tonics, and he in his time has been more worth than many doctors. Ever his wit was spontaneous and genuine, his facile pen a travelling sunbeam that lit the world with laughter. Shakespeare said that the evil that men did lived after them, the good was oft interred with their bones. With Mark Twain it is otherwise. He is dead, but his voice will live in the future, a memory surpassing sweet and green that not all the running waves of Time can overwhelm, nor obscure in their graying waters. They are, it may also be said, those who are so mistaken as to think that the ends of humor may best be served by irony and sarcasm. But he was not of these, was against these. He knew that the intrinsic value of true humor came from the treasure-house of sympathy, and in battling against all things false and unlovely, he did the will of Beauty and Truth. Of him we say in the words of Tennyson that he was "Dowered with the hate of hate, the scorn of scorn, The love of love." Those who read his life and his work will be the better for the reading. It is a sad irony of fate, that they who minister to the mirth of others, are too often acquainted with grief themselves, and there can be little doubt but that his mourning of friends and relations hastened the end. But the fact remains; the world is the brighter for his writings. And in conclusion we would humbly dedicate to his memory these words: "He ringed the world with laughter, and the breath Of blissful magic o'er his stories blew Drawing mirth-loving peoples close. His death Is all the world's to rue."

HE GOT RELIEF RIGHT AWAY
Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Kidney Disease of Eight Year's Standing.

That's What they did for William O. Cain, and now he says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills are a great medicine."

Mapleton, Albert Co., N.B., April 22.—(Special).—"When I began taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I got relief right away. I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills a great medicine." So says William O. Cain, well known and highly respected in this neighborhood. And Mr. Cain has a very good reason for making so emphatic a statement. For eight years he was a sufferer from Kidney Disease, and did not seem to be able to get relief. "Why, I was so bad," Mr. Cain goes on to state, "and my kidneys bothered me so that if I would go to pick anything off the ground I would fall." But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him just as they have cured thousands of other sufferers all over Canada. They never fail to cure Kidney Disease of any kind. Not once, but scores of times, they have vanquished Bright's Disease, the most deadly of all kidney troubles, while every day brings stories of cures of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Dropsy and Heart Disease from various parts of the Dominion. Other kidney medicines may cure. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure.

SHIPPING NEWS

TO BE LAUNCHED THIS MORNING

New Ferry Steamer Levis will be Put Afloat at Lauzon—Many Passengers Sail for Quebec.

The new ferry steamer Levis, built by Messrs. G. T. Davie & Sons, their yard, Lauzon, Levis, during the past winter, will be launched between five and six o'clock this morning. She was built by the Messrs. Davie for the new ferry company, and the builders have no financial interest in her nor her sister vessel, the Lauzon, which was also constructed by them during the past winter.

FREIGHTS.

New York, April 20.—Chartering continued limited in both the steam and sail tonnage markets, and rates were steady and unchanging. Freights were limited in number and tonnage offerings light. Quotations to Liverpool and Glasgow, 14d; London and Antwerp, 1d; Hull, 13d; Bristol, 2d; Rotterdam, 34c; Hamburg and Bremen, 17 1/2 pfennigs; cotton to Liverpool, per 100 lbs., 15c.

New York, April 23.—Freights quiet; cotton to Liverpool, 100 lbs., 14c; grain to London, 14d.

DAMAGED BY ICE.

Port Colborne, Ont., April 22.—The steamer C. M. Bradley, with two barges in tow, ran in here to-night, leaking badly, having stove in a plank below the water line, while coming through the ice between Buffalo and here. A sail has been drawn under her and a diver will try and patch the leak. The Bradley was bound from Buffalo to Duluth with salt.

CANADIAN AUSTRALIAN LINE.

A contract is shortly to be placed for another steamer of the Makura type for the Canadian-Australian Line, according to recent official advices from Sydney. Sir James Mills, managing director of the line, states that the company had decided to proceed with the construction of a new passenger steamer at once. It is expected it will be delivered in time for the summer travel of the summer season of next year. The New Zealand Shipping Company has withdrawn from the Canadian-Australian line. Until the withdrawal of the steamer Aorangi, the New Zealand company held a one-third interest in the line and supplied one steamer. The Union Steamship Company purchased the Aorangi and withdrew her, tying the vessel up at Sydney. Hereafter the Union Steamship Company will supply all three steamers for the line.—N. Y. Maritime Register.

LLOYD'S QUARTERLY RETURNS.

From the returns compiled by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, it appears that, excluding warships, there were 383 vessels of 1,057,635 ton gross under construction in the United Kingdom at the close of the quarter ended 31st March, 1910. The tonnage now under construction is about 144,000 tons more than that which was in hand at the end of last quarter, and also exceeds by about the same amount the total building twelve months ago. The figures of the warship tonnage now being built (303,655 tons displacement) are the largest reported since September, 1904. Of the vessel under construction in the United Kingdom at the end of March, 314 of 734,530 tons are under the supervision of the Surveyors of Lloyd's Register with a view to classification by this society. In addition, 72 vessels of 213,505 tons are building abroad to the society's classification. The total building at the present time under the supervision of Lloyd's Register is, thus, 396 vessels of 948,028 tons. The work in hand in the principal districts; owner-ship and size of vessels under construction; foreign and colonial ship-building and warships under construction in the United Kingdom is also given.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different treatments, but none broke up the cough. My wife told me to use Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I had no more colds or pleurisy and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline

CURE CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or The Carrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

FAVORITES FARE BADLY

Aqueduct, N.Y., April 22.—The form players at Aqueduct to-day received a hard blow when Firestone, the favorite, was left in the handicap of 6 1/2 furlongs fourth on the card. Firestone was extremely mean going to the post and cut up badly while standing at the barrier. When Cassidy gave the word to come on Prince Gales' Michael Angelo went away running while Firestone refused to move. Prince Gales made all the pace and won galloping by three lengths. The summer-like weather drew a big crowd to the races, but the favorites fared badly.

Compare Your Razor

With the New Carbo Edge

Don't be satisfied with the razor you are using, because you merely think it is the best.

Get the Carbo-Magnetic. It will last longer—it will give you a quicker, smoother shave.

Try it for 30 days at our expense—then you will know which is the best—for the sure test of value is comparison.

"Right Tempering" is the secret of Carbo-Magnetic Superiority. The "Carbo edge" is secured by an even electric heat of 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit—Process of carbonization similar to that by which diamonds have been produced. The result is the hardest cutting edge known to science—a blade that you never have to hone or grind.

Don't take our word for it—the razor proves itself—come in today and get one on 30 days' trial—free.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

SIX HORSES SUFFOCATED

Stables of Frontenac Steam Laundry Were Destroyed by Fire Last Evening.

There was a serious fire in Crown street last evening, when the stables of the Frontenac Steam Laundry were destroyed. Six valuable horses were suffocated by the smoke before the firemen reached the scene.

An alarm from box 55 was rung in shortly after nine o'clock, and when the fire brigade reached the scene lost by the firemen in getting to work, and three lines of hose were at once laid down. The firemen worked well, and finally succeeded in confining the fire to the stables, the laundry escaping.

It is supposed, that by the time that the firemen arrived, shortly after the blaze had been discovered by the residents of the locality, that the horses had already been suffocated, for there was no sound from the stables to indicate that the animals were alive. The loss will be heavy.

SERGEANTS OF THE R.C.G.A.

Were at Home to Their Friends on the Citadel Last Evening.

The warrant officers, staff sergeants and sergeants of the R. C. G. A. were at home to their friends on the Citadel last evening, when a very enjoyable euchre and dance was given. There was a large attendance, and everybody spent a very pleasant evening, the event being universally voted one of the most successful and charming affairs of the kind ever held by the gallant sergeants of the R. C. G. A.

The entertainment took place in the Sergeants' Mess, and the first portion of the evening was devoted to euchre, there being a very keen competition for the handsome prizes offered. The winners were as follows:—

Ladies:—1st, Mrs. E. Adams; 2nd, Mrs. A. Robert; 3rd, Mrs. Cruckley.

Gentlemen:—1st, Sergt. Stan Pugh; 2nd, Q.M. Sergt. Underwood; 3rd, Lieut. Haggerty.

After the euchre there was dancing, music being supplied by a full orchestra, and the dancers enjoyed themselves thoroughly until an early hour this morning. The hospitality of the R. C. G. A. Sergeants is well-known, but upon this occasion they fairly excelled themselves, and the greatest credit is due the committee in charge, which was composed of Q.M. Sergt. Robert, Lance-Sergt. W. Pugh, Sergt. Horgan and Sergt. Baugh. During the evening number of the officers of the Regiment were present, among them Majors Sharples, Mills, and Lieut. Haggerty.

POLICE AND FIREMEN'S PAY.

The question of increasing the pay of the police and firemen is to be referred to a special civic committee, which will study the matter and report to the Finance Committee.

$30,000.00

We have received more than $30,000 worth of Carpet, Rugs and Oilcloths of all sizes, besides portieres, curtains, brocades, mattresses, iron bedsteads. Come and pay us a visit.

FAGUY, LEPINAY & FRERE.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Five prisoners for drunkenness, were before the Recorder yesterday. Three of them were fined $5 and costs or one month's jail each, and two were condemned to a similar fine or fifteen days each. The proprietor of a moving picture show, in St. Roch's, was fined $40 and costs for keeping open on Sunday.

FIRE AT LEVIS.

The Levis firemen had quite a difficult blaze to battle with yesterday morning. Shortly before eight o'clock fire was discovered in the residence of Mr. Pierre Boivin, on St. Louis street, near the workshops of the electric company. The strong gale blowing made the situation serious, but the good work of the firemen confined the fire to the building in which it originated, and after a couple of hours' work the fire was got under control. How the fire originated is unknown.

CHALMER'S CHURCH.

The morning subject, "The Prayer of the Destitute." The evening subject, "The Fall of Lanech of the Sin of Progress."

EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF WAISTS

The special Sunlight Orange Sale, which starts next week, offers the public an opportunity to buy the Sunlight quality California oranges, and every one should take advantage of the offer.

MISCHIEF MAKER

A Surprise in Brooklyn.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says:

"When baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was, at first, attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment.

"One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in a saucer with a little sugar and warm milk. This baby ate so ravenously that she fixed a second which he likewise finished.

"It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. To-day the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen-month-old baby is expected to be.

"We have put before him other foods, but he will have none of them, evidently preferring to stick to that which did him so much good—his old friend Grape-Nuts.

"Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household."

Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains, it is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups.

THETFORD MINES.

The directors of the Thetford Mines Asbestos Reserve Co. were here on Monday, accompanied by their mining engineer; it is said, that the financial future of this company is now assured and that they will soon have 250 men working on the mine and construction of a 500 ton mill. The company owns 150 acres of land adjoining the Jacobs, Johnsons and Kings mines, in Thetford, and has already expended several thousands of dollars in development, showing the same quality of fibre at the same depth. These mines, at depth, are producing the finest and silkiest fibre in the world. The location of the property said to be the best possible, in the heart of the Serpentine belt of the Thetford District, and an unequalled opportunity in the asbestos field to-day for Canadian investors. Their prospectus and map of the asbestos mining district, are full of desirable information for any one interested in the asbestos production.

WOMEN'S WHITE WEAR.

Messrs. F. Simard & Cie. have bought a manufacturer's sample set of women's white wear at very special low prices, and have decided to make their customers profit in the same proportion. Ladies will do well to anticipate their wants for the future by making their purchases now, besides saving money on their investments. See advt.

VICTIMS OF THE LANDSLIDE

Names of Those who Lost Their Lives Near La Tuque.

N. Coulick, a Pole, M. Sainetto, an Italian, H. Patchie, a Pole, A. Crepotenko, a Pole, F. Plicco, an Italian, and C. Illooff, a Bulgarian, were the victims who lost their lives in the fatal landslide at Coucoucacho, near La Tuque. There are still in the hospital about a dozen injured, none of whom are in danger.

Coroner Vanasse held an inquest upon the bodies of the dead, when a number of witnesses were heard. The jury was composed as follows:—Messrs Geo. Cote, A. Z. Colette, H. T. Palmer, E. B. Scott, A. Grundy, P. Marchand, W. Dreyer and A. Cote.

The verdict rendered was to the effect that the accident was caused by the fall of the earth, which had been undetermined by the heavy rains, and that no person could be held responsible for the catastrophe.

FIELD DAY FOR 8TH R.R.

Regiment Will Have Whole Day Outing on May 5th—Church Parades.

The first church parade of the present drill season of the 8th R. R. will take place to Trinity Church on Sunday morning next. On the Sunday following the Regiment will parade to St. Patrick's Church.

On the 5th of May (Ascension Day) the regiment will have a field day at St. Joseph de Levis, when the military exercises will occupy the whole day. The field day will be preparatory to the annual inspection of the regiment, which is to take place on the 21st, when as already stated, the regiment will be reviewed by Sir Percy Lake, who is expected to be accompanied by General French. The regiment will proceed to St. Joseph de Levis on the morning of Ascension Day, when the members will put on their scores at the targets. Lunch will be supplied to the men, and in the afternoon there will be field work, in which a tactical scheme will be worked out. The outing promises to be a most interesting one.

Oranges Are Now Cheap and Good—
By the Peck They Cost Less Than Apples

5,000 California Orchards Stripped of Choicest Oranges

“Sunkist” Oranges

By-the-Peck Sale

Sale Begins Monday, APRIL 25TH

Of all times of the year this is fruit buying time. Of all fruits—oranges are cheapest and best right now—and of all brands of oranges the “Sunkist” Orange is King.

At this great sale “Sunkist” Oranges by-the-peck cost one-third less than table apples. Get a peck of choicest “Sunkist” Oranges, then inquire what a peck of choice table apples are worth—prove it yourself.

The unsurpassed lusciousness of “Sunkist” Oranges will make you want to go back to the store for another peck and another. Every table should have “Sunkist” Oranges at every meal.

“Sunkist” Oranges Are Seedless

They are firm, sweet, tree-ripened, delicious. Their exquisitely rich juiciness is found in none but “Sunkist” brand. Their deep tint vouches for matured full-flavor in the tender pulp.

They are picked by gloved hands and with the same extreme care that is taken in their scientific cultivation.

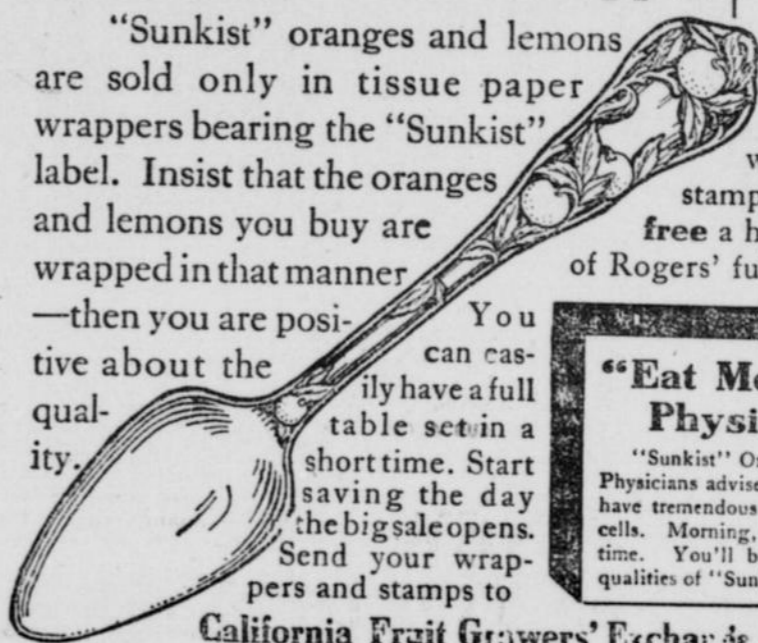

“Sunkist” Oranges are our choicest fruit from 5,000 groves.

“Sunkist” Lemons are firm, tree-ripened and contain an unusual amount of juice. You’ll quickly see the difference between “Sunkist” and common lemons.

“Sunkist” on the Wrapper | Free Orange Spoon

“Sunkist” oranges and lemons are sold only in tissue paper wrappers bearing the “Sunkist” label. Insist that the oranges and lemons you buy are wrapped in that manner—then you are positive about the quality.

Send us 12 “Sunkist” lemon or orange wrappers and 6 two-cent stamps and we will send you free a handsome orange spoon of Rogers’ full standard plate.

“Eat More Oranges”—Physicians’ Advice

“Sunkist” Oranges are unsurpassed as a tonic. Physicians advise oranges as a digestive aid. They have tremendous food value for brain and nerve cells. Morning, noon and night is orange eating time. You’ll be surprised at the health-giving qualities of “Sunkist” Oranges.

HOW THE TELEPHONE TRANSMITS SPEECH.

(By W. F. Johnston, Doan Chief Operator.)

There are, no doubt, employees of our company who do not know what action takes place when they speak into a transmitter, and a distant party hears their voice reproduced by the receiver.

The object of this article is to give a simple explanation so that those who read it will derive some conception of this action. The theoretical side has been left out entirely, the explanation being practical almost to the point of crudeness.

The transmitter will be explained first.

The sounds of the voice enter the transmitter through the hard rubber mouthpiece, which directs the sounds against the diaphragm.

The diaphragm which is a metal disk of thin sheet-iron or ferro-type, is pliable, so that sounds entering the mouthpiece and striking against it, cause it to vibrate to and fro.

Now we come to the concealed part or heart of the instrument, so to speak. In the centre of the diaphragm and passing through it will be noticed a small lug with two small nuts screwed into a projecting end. This lug connects with a small flat disk of polished carbon, about the size and shape of a five cent piece, back of the diaphragm, so that when the diaphragm is moved to and fro by sounds striking against it, this carbon disk moves with it.

Facing the polished side of this carbon disk, but not touching it, is a similar polished carbon disk mounted solid in the rear of the transmitter. One wire of the telephone line is connected with one carbon disk and the other wire of the line is connected with the opposite carbon disk. The two lines wires are termed a metallic circuit.

The small space or chamber between these two polished surface or carbon is partly filled with finely granulated carbon, which is held in place in such a way that the electric current from the exchange battery, in order to flow and complete the circuit from one line wire to the other, must pass through this granulated carbon.

The granulated carbon in this form does not allow as much current to flow through it as would flow through a solid piece of carbon occupying the same space. It follows then that the amount of current flowing over the telephone line depends on the condition of these tiny carbon granules, as to whether they are loose or compact.

When the diaphragm is made to move forward by a sound striking against it, the front carbon disk or button, fastened to the rear of the diaphragm presses the little carbon granules against the opposite or rear carbon disk, packing them more solidly together and allowing a larger current to flow through the carbon chamber and out on the line.

Other sounds allow the diaphragm to move back again and the granules are loosened up and a smaller current is allowed to pass through. In this way the current is varied, the little cup of granulated carbon acting as a valve on the battery, one instant allowing a large current the next instant a small current to flow out over the line, as the action of the diaphragm varies the pressure on the carbon.

These varying currents pass over the line wires to the receiver at the distant end, and the action of which will now be described.

The receiver is less mysterious than the transmitter, it being practically nothing more than that interesting toy of our school-days, the horse-shoe magnet, modified in form and mounted in a hard rubber casing.

Only the two projecting ends of the horse-shoe magnet are visible when the receiver is opened at its end. Mounted on each projecting end of the magnet is a spool of fine insulated wire, so connected that it forms a continuous path or circuit for the varying currents coming over the line as follows:—Starting from one metal post on the top of the receiver, through one spool of fine wire, then through the other, then to the remaining post on the top of the receiver. The two wires of the metallic circuit that connect with the transmitter, eventually connect with the receiver at the distant end, one wire to each of the two metal posts.

Over the ends of the horse-shoe magnet, but not touching the ends is mounted a diaphragm similar to the one described in connection with the transmitter. A hard rubber cap to hold the diaphragm in place and to make the receiver fit the ear, completes the description of this instrument.

When the rapidly increasing and diminishing currents of electricity caused by the action of the transmitter, pass over the line wire and through the coils of fine insulated wire on the ends of the receiver magnet, alternately increased and diminished rapidly, due to well-known laws of electro-magnetism.

The receiver diaphragm being made of iron, is attracted by the magnet with greater or less strength depending on the condition of the current flowing through the receiver coils. This causes the receiver diaphragm to vibrate to and fro in exact unison with the transmitter diaphragm, and the small sound waves sent to the drum of the ear by the vibration of the receiver diaphragm are a faithful reproduction of the sounds entering the transmitter.

Other apparatus and principles enter into the transmission of speech by telephone; but these two highly sensitive and very simple instruments form the nucleus of the thousands of exchanges, with their complicated mechanisms, that are now in existence.—Cleveland Telephone News.

BIG OIL TANKS ON FIRE

Point Richmond, Cal., April 21.—A large tank at the Standard Oil Co.'s plant caught fire to-day. To-night the flames are still leaping furiously, illuminating the country for miles. The burning oil burst from the tank late to-day, and blazes of fire began spreading in the yards. More than 600 men are building a large dyke around the reservoir. It is believed that this will prevent the flames spreading to other tanks. Fully 350,000 barrels of oil were collected in the reservoir, and it is thought it will burn for three days. The loss is $200,000.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLAR EDITOR Says He Would Feel Almost Ashamed to Wear Ordered Clothes.

Before an audience of Chicago gentlemen recently, Mr. Brisbane, editor of the New York American, who is reputed to be a fifty-thousand dollar man, said that he had been following the split in the clothing and tailoring trade. Speaking of some of the American manufacturers who have been following the ideas of the Semi-ready Tailoring in Canada, he said: "These people have built up a reputation. They have got so that a man nowadays feels almost ashamed to order clothes made. They have painted such beautiful pictures men in their clothes that, when I looked at myself in the glass, I saw that the trouble with me was that I hadn't a Semi-Ready tailored suit."

No man need ever feel ashamed of his clothes, but Canadians cannot help being proud of the high-class product exemplified in the system which gave birth to Semi-ready tailoring.

instead of 12. The officers laughed at the idea, but while the man was lying in prison awaiting execution several persons came forward and swore that the clock actually did strike 13, whereupon the soldier was pardoned and released.

Wells Cathedral contains the most interesting and the oldest self-striking clock in the whole world. It was constructed by Peter Lightfoot, a monk, in 1320, and embraces many devices which testify to the ancient horologist's ingenuity. Several celestial and terrestrial bodies are incorporated in interesting movement and relationship. They indicate the hours of the day, the age of the moon and the position of the planets and the tides.

When the clock strikes the hour horsemen, fully armed, dash out of two gateways in opposite directions and charge vigorously. They strike with their lances as they pass as many times as correspond with the number of the hour. A little distance away, seated on a high perch, is a quaint figure which kicks the quarters on two balls placed beneath his feet and strikes the hour on a bell. The dial of the clock is divided into 24 hours, and shows the phases of the moon and a map of the heavens.

Busy Reducing Your Fat?

Are fat folks enthusiastic about performing athletic stunts when garbed in heavy woolen underclothing? No—not enthusiastic. Do not subscribe readily to a diet of half a glass of buttermilk and a toasted cracker? No—not readily. Are they happy, then, while reducing by such methods during this hot weather? No—they are not exactly happy.

Some fat reducers are happy though during the process, but these neither exercise nor diet. They lose fat—as much as a pound a day, in many instances—but they do it without missing a single, righteous meal or lifting an unnecessary finger.

These emancipated ones reduce either in hot weather or cold, without bother or harm to themselves, by taking quietly and secretly, and even cunningly—one little Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime.

That's all. They get their tablets (made after the formula of the famous prescription) in large, generously filled cases at a cost of seventy-five cents the case from any drug store or from the makers, the Marmola Co., 854 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., take one as per directions, and get as thin as they want to be—just that way, without causing a wrinkle or the least internal fuss.

CLOCKS THAT STRIKE 13.

Timepieces Without Hands—Ancient Horologist's Queer Devices. (From the London Globe.)

In Worsley, Lancashire, are two clocks which never strike one, being arranged to strike 13 at 1 a.m. and 1 p.m. One of them is over the Earl of Ellesmere's newly constructed entrance to Worsley Hall, and is the original which the Duke of Bridgewater had placed in the tower in his Worsley depot.

It is said that his grace had the clock made to strike the "unlucky" number so as to warn his workmen that it was time to return to work after dinner, some of them having excused themselves for being late on the ground that they could not hear it strike one. This recalls the incident when the big clock of the House of Parliament saved a man's life.

A soldier in the reign of William and Mary was condemned by court-martial for falling asleep while on duty on the terrace at Windsor. He stoutly denied the charge and solemnly declared that he heard Old Tom (the predecessor of Big Ben) strike 13

An oddity in clocks is the invention of a Frenchman, M. Paul Corant. It consists of a dial mounted above a reservoir and having a sort of seesaw mounted upon its support. The reservoir holds sufficient alcohol to last for a month, and this serves as fuel for a small flame which burns at one end. The heat from the flame causes the air to expand in the bulb of the seesaw directly above it. As a result the seesaw moves every five minutes. The movement is the sole motive power which actuates the hands.

In Switzerland clocks are now being made which do not require hands and faces. The timepiece merely stands in the hall and you press a button, when by means of the phonographic internal arrangement it calls out "half-past five" or "five minutes to nine," as the case may be.

A Munich professor has invented a remarkable sick-room clock. When a button is pressed an electric lamp behind the dial throws the shadow of the hours and hands, magnified upon the ceiling, so that invalids can see it from the bed without craning their necks or putting themselves to any inconvenience.

A German shoemaker spent 15 years of his leisure movements in constructing a clock of the grandfather shape nearly six feet high, made entirely of straw. The wheels, pointers, case and every detail are exclusively of straw. The most remarkable fact is that it is reported to keep perfect time, though the durability of this strange piece of mechanism is a matter of doubt.

The Czar is the proud possessor of a unique clock which records not merely the passing seconds, minutes and hours, but the days, weeks, months and years. The clock was invented and manufactured by two peasants, who presented it to the Emperor as a token of their loyalty. In St. Petersburg, too, it is to be found a clock having five faces, indicating simultaneously the time at 30 different spots on the earth's surface, besides the movements of the earth's surface, besides the movements of the earth and planets.

In the Kurpark at Interlaken may be seen a clock constructed of flowers. The plants are arranged in a sort of mosaic and the hour and second figures are made of colored cactus plants. The works of the clock, hidden beneath the roots of the plants, move the hands over the face as the minutes

UNIQUE FAVORS BY LONDON HOSTESS

Mrs. Miller Graham, Widow of American Millionaire, Charms Her Guests.

SOCIAL MAP CHANGES

Once Tabooed District Now Houses Many Anglo-Americans and Brilliant Society Favorites.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

THERE does not appear now to be any hard and fast rule, such as prevailed only a few years ago, as to where in London one may or may not live without danger to social prestige. Time was when to live on the north side of Hyde Park was to be out of the calling radius of aristocratic friends. But Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, who has a house in Great Cumberland place, has done much to make that and the surrounding squares popular with society, where even royalty frequently calls. But it was visitors from America who first discovered the charm of the old world streets at the back of Dean's Yard, Westminster, and gradually these are being reclaimed from slumland and transformed into the residential quarter for society people of artistic taste.

In the pretty little green and white houses, which not long ago were let out in tenements, people with handles to their names live alongside shining lights of stageland or the world of letters. One of the latest recruits to the neighborhood is Lady Ripon, who has taken one of the houses in North street and transformed it into an abode so charming as to win the admiration of her intimate friend Queen Alexandra, who visited her the other day and inspected the house from kitchen to attic. The Hon. Maurice Baring, one of society's cleverest writers, who has a new book just published, is a neighbor of Lady Ripon's.

Rents have, of course, gone up enormously in this old world backwater, within sound of Big Ben, and the property is proving more lucrative than some of the London County Council's properties in more populous parts of London.

AMERICAN TENANTS

But, most remarkable of all, every available house in Grosvenor Square has been acquired by an American for the coming season. Lady Amary and Mrs. Frank Mackey have both secured residences there, and a new hostess will make her appearance in society at No. 41, taken from Lord Nunburnhohe by Mrs. William Miller Graham, widow of a California millionaire, who is no stranger to London and who was a prominent figure at Marlborough last season, when she was entertained by King Edward. Mrs. Miller Graham has remarkable talents as a hostess. She gives delightful fetes and cotillions, and it is said that her figure in the next cotillon she is to give will create something of a sensation in London, where there is constant quest for society among hostesses.

At a recent dance Mrs. Miller Graham had an immense watermelon rolled into the ballroom. With tremendous preliminary a gigantic knife was brought and the melon cut, to release a little pickaninny, who bounced out and flung flowers at the dancers. In another figure of the cotillon a Russian sleigh with all the paraphernalia of a snowy Northern clime was drawn into the room by six Cossacks. Two girls sat in the sleigh, and the eight figures joined in a Russian dance and subsequently distributed Russian gifts to the guests.

AMERICAN BRIDE'S MANSION

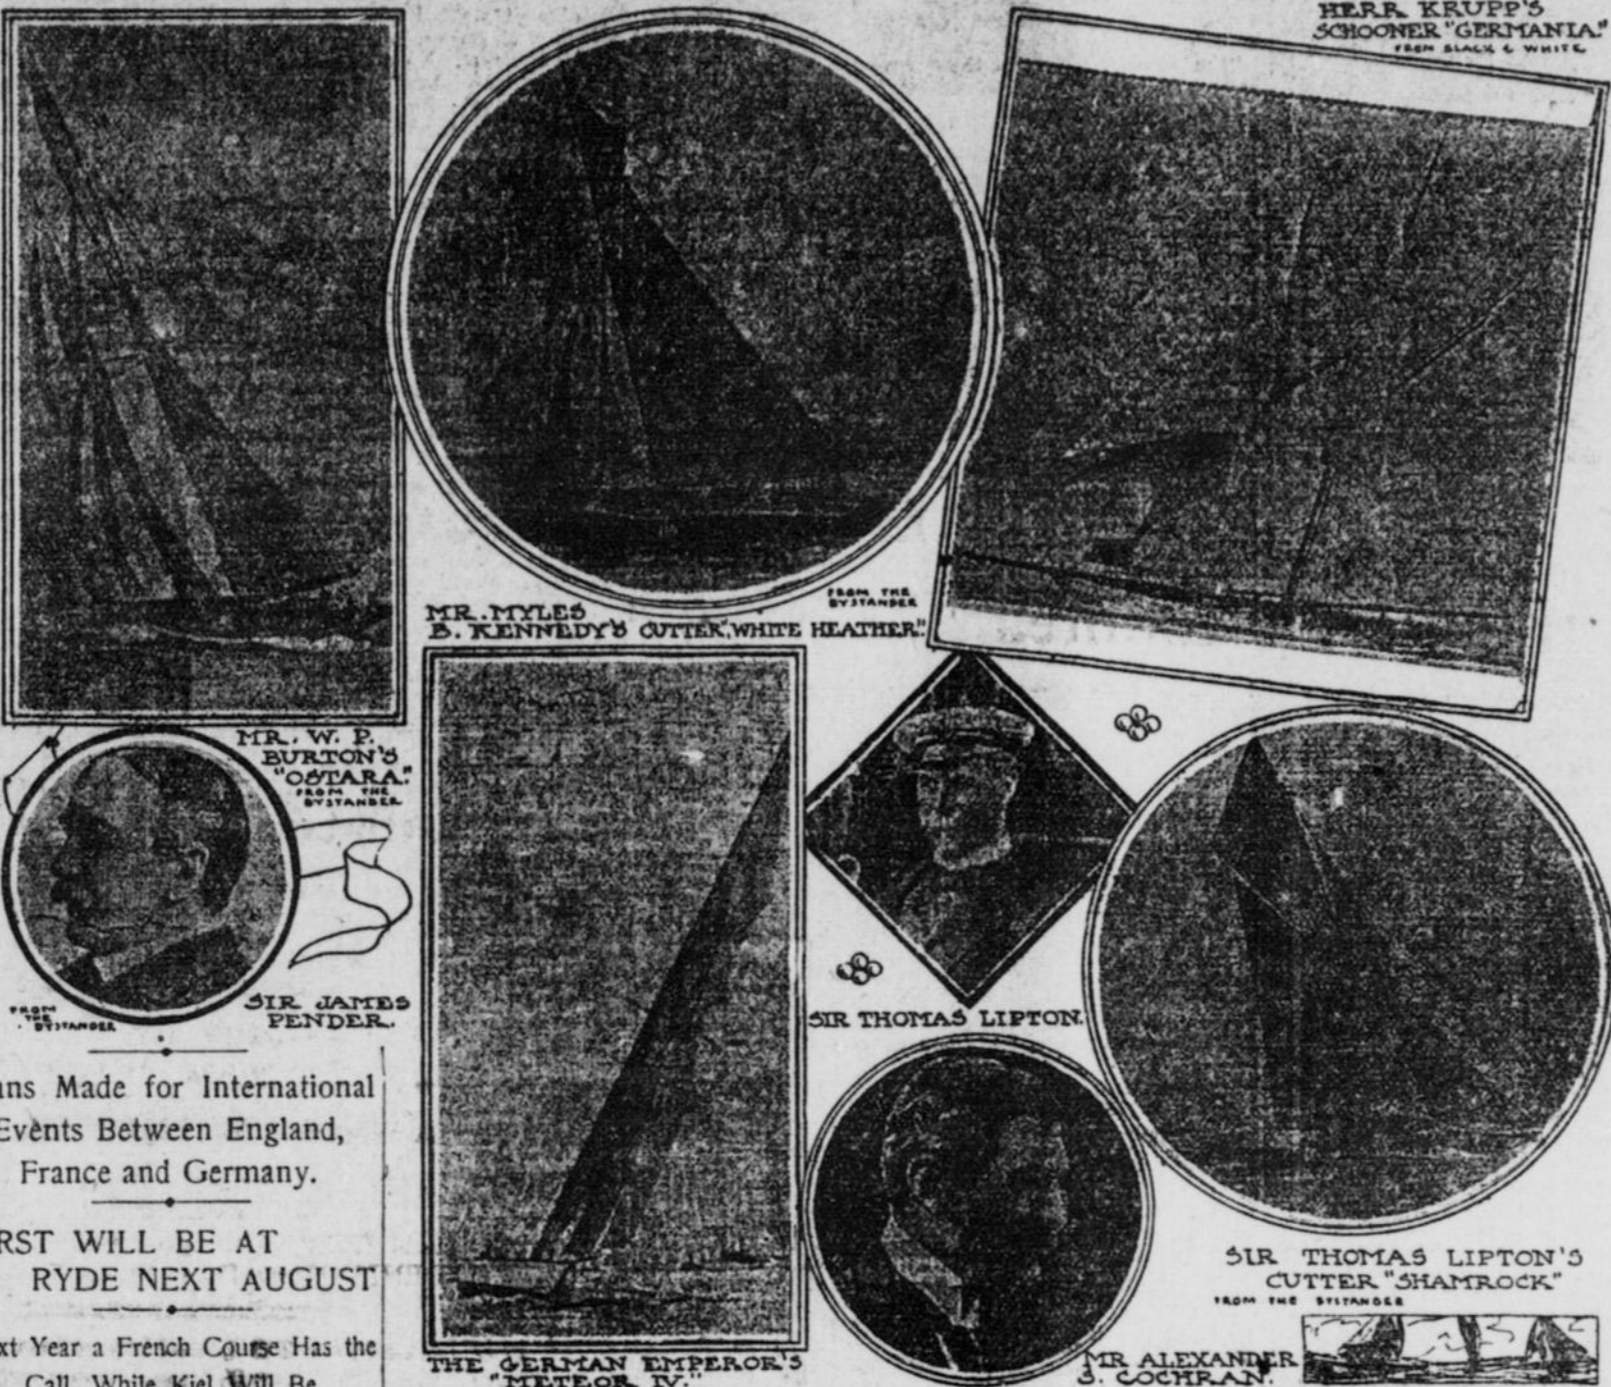

Young Lord Maidstone, the future husband of Miss Margaretta Drexel, will, in the ordinary course of nature, own one day one of the most historic old mansions of England. Kirby Hall was at the beginning of last century, and for some years afterward, a very perfect specimen of an Elizabethan mansion. It lies on the slope of a shallow valley on the outskirts of the ancient forest of Rockingham. Some eighty years ago or so the Earl of Winchelsea, of the day, coming to the end of his tether, stripped the hall, in which there was much silver, from the roof of Kirby and sold it to a contractor. The story goes that the contractor went bankrupt and Lord Winchelsea never got his money, a just punishment to such vandalism. Kirby Hall for many years stood roofless to the sky and was a sort of stone quarry for new farmhouses and cottages in the neighborhood. Then it was partly roofed in and an attempt made to check decay. A shepherd and his family live in the old drawing room. The rest of the mansion is at present uninhabitable. As it is very unlikely that the Winchelses will ever restore Kirby Hall, it is suggested that perhaps some of Miss Drexel's wealthy relatives may make her such a wedding present as to have the hall restored and refurnished by Hall rebuilt, the old home of the Maidstones restored to all its ancient glory.

ROYAL BEAUTY TO VISIT ENGLAND

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

THE prettiest princess in Europe, it is now definitely settled, is to be among the royal visitors to England this summer. This is the Crown Princess of Roumania, one of the four beautiful daughters of the late King of that country. The princess and her husband will probably be here for London, and other royal activities expected in London about the same time as the King and Queen of the Belgians and the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden. Nearly as beautiful as her mother are the children of the Crown Princess of Roumania. Her first child, a girl, for they can boast descent from Queen Victoria, from Charles I. from Henry IV. of France, from the Empress Maria Theresa, from the Tsar Nicholas I. and Peter the Great, and also from the humble village cooper, who was the father of the Marquis.

Yachts of Three Nations to Compete in a Series of Regattas in British Waters

Plans Made for International Events Between England, France and Germany.

FIRST WILL BE AT RYDE NEXT AUGUST

Next Year a French Course Has the Call, While Kiel Will Be the Scene in 1912.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

THE forthcoming yachting season in British waters promises to be a brilliant one, for international racing will play a prominent part in it. This is due to the Yacht Racing Association's agreement with France and Germany for a series of regattas. Since the rules of the various countries in Europe that foster racing were consolidated into one code common to all there has been a steady growth in international racing, and with several countries competing with one another to attract the pick of the fleet there was considerable risk of the sport being marred by an undue clashing of interests. The Yacht Racing Association's agreement with Germany and France, however, for the promotion of a series of big international regattas saves the situation. Arrangements have been made by which international regattas are to be held triennially in British, French and German waters. The first of these great festivals will be held at Ryde, commencing on August 8 and extending over a week. Next year France has the call, while in 1912 Kiel will be the venue.

THE OPPOSING YACHTS.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock and Mr. Myles B. Kennedy's White Heather, which had such a tussle for the big cutter championship last year, will be opposed this season by Sir James Pender's Brynild. The last mentioned boat, which did not race in 1909, has had more lead added to her keel, which has been remodeled in a broader but shallower mould. This has had the effect of reducing her draught and girth measurement, leaving a margin in her rating for an additional 100 square feet of canvas.

The Shamrock has also been altered, her garboards have been padded in a similar manner to that which proved so effective in the case of the White Heather in 1909, and she will have the benefit of an enlarged sail plan. What with these alterations and the presence of a third yacht, the class presents an open appearance and the racing of the trio should be full of interest.

HARD FIGHT FOR THE OSTARA.

International racing will also play a prominent part in the fifteen metre class during the latter part of the season. Two vessels now in course of construction on the Clyde, from the designs of Messrs. Fife and Mylne respectively, are designed to carry the German flag, and two others are being built at Kiel. This quartet, with the Spanish vessel the Hispania, the Tuiga and the Encarnita, will form a strong opposition for the English yacht to meet, and Mr. W. P. Burton's brilliant Ostara is likely to have a hard fight to retain the International Challenge Cup she won last year.

WANTS A RACE OF PLAYWRIGHTS

Mr. Henry W. Savage Says American Theatregoers Demand Plays Intrinsically Worthy, Besides New.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

"NOW that the grand opera madness has abated in America and general business conditions have resumed their normal state," said Mr. Henry W. Savage in the course of a conversation I had with him, "I look for a distinct boom in legitimate theatricals at home. The season just ending there has been generally satisfactory, if not quite up to the average. A wave of hysteria, stimulated by the frantic efforts of the rival grand opera companies, upset the equilibrium of a good many ordinarily sane persons, with the consequence that the theatre suffered in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and one or two other cities.

"However," continued Mr. Savage, "was obvious from the start that grand opera in any language but English can never be other than an exotic in America. The public has now discovered that fact and also the equally important one that stars manufactured by megaphone publicity methods have little enduring quality. Hence business has quickly recovered its balance.

"The natural great demand for class good theatrical fare is again asserting itself. America is far excellent in the play-going country, but it is also becoming a clear sighted and discriminating one. The attractions must be intrinsically worthy as well as new.

"What we need chiefly is a race of capable playwrights. It doesn't matter whether they be native Americans or Europeans. If there ever was any prejudice against the imported drama it has passed away completely.

"For my own part I am planning on a larger scale than ever for next year and year to come to include both American and European works. London will provide me with Maudslayi's 'The Little Damsel', and from Berlin I shall get a remarkably promising new opera, 'Little Boy in Blue.' This is seen to have its premiere at the Johann Strauss Theatre in Vienna. Paris will provide me with a slightly little fare in 'Theodore & Co.' which is one of the new real hits in that city.

QUEENSTOWN YET A PORT OF CALL

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

BOTH business men and tourists will be interested to know that Queenstown, Ireland, is not to be abandoned entirely as a port of call for mail steamers between the United States and England. Since the great Cunard line that began calling at Fishguard and the report was circulated that Queenstown was to be abandoned, because such an eventuality concerned not Queenstown only, but an influential deputation, representative of Irish Members of Parliament, both Unionist and nationalist, as well as of the Cork Corporation, the Cork Chamber of Commerce and the Cork Harbor Board, was appointed to wait upon the Postmaster General, the Rt. Hon. Herbert Samuel, to ask his assistance in having the long-suffering Cunard line, especially the Lusitania and the Lusitania, call at Queenstown instead of proceeding to Fishguard. The Postmaster General, remarking that Ireland was in many respects the "Cinderella of the Empire," said: "There is no intention of abandoning Queenstown as a port of call, but it is found that by calling at Fishguard the mails arrive in London on the average three and one-quarter hours earlier than formerly. That is a great difference, and it means the difference between catching the night mail out of London on Monday and having to wait for the Tuesday morning mail. Ninety per cent of the mails carried by the Lusitania and Lusitania are for Great Britain.

"The intermediate ships of the Cunard and White Star lines carry a much larger mail, about thirty-three per cent, and those ships do, and so far as I am aware, certainly will in future continue to call at Queenstown. As Postmaster General I must look primarily to the hour of the delivery of the mails from the point of view of the country as a whole.

MR. VANDERBILT'S COACHING PLANS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

MR. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT has completed all his arrangements for another season of daily coaching runs between London and Brighton. He has changed the route somewhat, his intention being to go by Old Malden, Epsom, Dorking, Horsham, Cowfold, Newfield and Plumpton, a longer but rather more interesting route than by the main Brighton road, through London to Old Malden and from Plumpton to Brighton the route must be as before.

OWES HER LIFE TO HER BIG HAT

English Girl, Thrown Through Window, Gives Practical Demonstration of Large Headgear's Utility.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

PARTS has informed the world of how the magnitude of a hat worn by one of its popular actresses during a promenade in the fashionable little town of St. Germain-en-Laye all but led to a duel. But London is prepared to contend that the justification of the manœuvre had the 'Merry Widow' no—has been forthcoming.

Practical experience has been invoked to silence those querulous persons who complain that such feminine headgear blocks the rush of the public at railway stations and other places, gives women the appearance of huge inflated umbrellas, disturbs the acoustic properties of churches and obstructs the view of tourists who hanker to get glimpses of Niagara Falls, the Pyramids, the Matterhorn and Westminster Abbey. Here is the evidence:— "She met with a serious cycling accident yesterday," runs the thrilling recital that appears in an English provincial newspaper. "Her brake jammed while she was riding down Crosby street, a steep hill, and the machine dashed along at a great pace. Sweeping into Wood street, it ran into the front of the Sun Inn, and the rider was thrown violently against and partly through a window consisting of plate glass three-quarters of an inch thick. The impact scattered and smashed the bottles displayed in the window and the girl was severely cut about the face and neck. But for the fact that she was wearing a large 'Merry Widow' hat, which partly protected her head and face, she might have lost her life."

It is now whispered by mere men that, in the face of this practical demonstration, the mammoth feminine hat will become strictly de rigueur for bicycling and automobile riding. For no woman knows the day or hour when she may be thrown through three-quarters of an inch of plate glass.

MR. REVELLE ONE GRATEFUL ACTOR

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

ONE of the most grateful English actors that ever played in America is Mr. Hamilton Revelle, who has just arrived in London on his annual visit to his home. His first American reputation was made as leading man with Miss Olga Nethersole in 'Sapho.' Later he played in Mr. Wallace's company, when he played 'The Girl in the Red Coat' and 'The Rose of the South.' Recently he finished a tour under Mr. Frankham's management as the star in 'The House of Fate.'

"I have now been acting in America ten months in the year for the last five years," said Mr. Revelle, "and I am beginning to consider myself a real American. Only a short time ago 'Jack' Mason referred to me as 'Our Hamilton Revelle.' I even had the accent."

"We old saying that a prophet is not without honor except in his own country applies to the theatrical profession more than to any other. An English actor might struggle unsuccessfully all his life to get to London, but if he goes to New York he will have an engagement in a month. More than that, an English actor is treated as charmingly in America that he can never forget it or hope to repay it. In all the years I have been here I received nothing but courtesy and consideration from managers and public. Take Mr. Frankham, for instance. He may be a difficult man to approach, but he is the kindest of employers. Just think, he gave me the American rights to 'The House of Fate' and 'Sapho.' Mr. Revelle has a house in Santa Kensington which he has kept all these years, although he lives in it only a few weeks each year.

NOT OVERANXIOUS TO EAT WALLABIES

Attempt to Introduce Meat of Little Kangaroos in London Restaurant Fails.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

Whatever may be the prospective success of the Australian beef supply in England, the attempt to introduce wallabies in the London restaurants has not proved a success. It recalls how, a year or two ago, gastronomic experts were all puffed up the gut with an announcement that experimental shipments of penguin's eggs were about to arrive. The eggs came, but— "Well, no one wrote to the newspapers describing the joys of consumption, as a few enthusiasts did about the wallabies.

Presumably most purchasers thought the least said on the subject the better, and there may have been details they shrank from disclosing. The wallabies, or little kangaroos, have been braised, jugged, roasted, stewed, cut up in pieces, and put in pie, while their tails have gone to make wallaby soup. The brave Britons who have done this thing have not pursued the result, but there are rumors about town that wallaby is hardly likely to drive spring lamb and mint sauce, not even rabbit, from the restaurants, and that its duration as an English viand has just about as much chance of succeeding as had the penguin's egg.

Choice Cigarette Betrays Boy Outlaw

Police of English Village Capture Youthful Emulator of Robin Hood and Dick Turpin, Who Lived in Cave, Robbed Stores and Fared Well Until His Aristocratic Taste in "Smokers" Led to His Undoing.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

A bright youth up in the reek country, whose aspirations led him to adopt the picturesque but dangerous career of a modern emulator of Robin Hood or Dick Turpin, had confined his tastes in cigarettes to those more in keeping with his outward semblance he might be still living in the hills and covered in one end so as to make a hut. The ingenuity which he displayed is surprising. The roof of the cave is composed of green sods, which he cut close by. The doorway to his abode is about a yard high by two feet wide and over it hang branches of larch and pine.

"On crawling into the cave one finds that it is of oval shape, measuring about seven feet one way by five the other. Upright timbers, cut from the trunks of young trees, rise from the floor and support other branches placed horizontally, which form the foundation for the roof. The place is very strongly put together.

"But the triumph of the cave is the fireplace. With a number of flat stones, carefully placed on each other, the young outlaw built up the two sides, and between them stretched several iron bars, and a quantity of wire netting, to hold the fire. "Stretching out in front of the cave is the long line of rugged rocks fringing Stangage Moor. Among these rocks is a cave known as Robin Hood's cave, which, as the crow flies, is only about a mile from the hiding place of the youth who has shown something of the spirit of the old freebooter.

"But, although living with nature, Fieldsend did not altogether follow the simple life. He believed in enjoying himself as much as possible. When the police found him he was surrounded by good things, showing that he had kept an excellent table."

from the village, and can be gained only by mounting rough roads or steeper field paths. It is actually in the township of Outcasts, on the Bole Hills, and in a recess of thick, gloomy wood of fir, pine and larch belonging to Colonel Shuttleworth.

"It is not a natural cave. Fieldsend made it for himself. He found a hollow place in the hillside and covered in one end so as to make a hut. The ingenuity which he displayed is surprising. The roof of the cave is composed of green sods, which he cut close by. The doorway to his abode is about a yard high by two feet wide and over it hang branches of larch and pine.

"The chief engineer of the London County Council has designed the tunnel, which will be carried under the river by means of the Greenhead shield—a shield forced forward by hydraulic pressure and operated under compressed air—that was used so successfully in the boring of the Blackwell tunnel.

The oldest of the London tunnels is that at Wapping, which was considered one of the wonders of the world when it was built. The longest, and certainly the most imposing, is the Blackwell tunnel, which is claimed in London to be the greatest engineering work of its kind ever constructed, and which was opened by King Edward in May, 1897. It is nearly a mile and a quarter long and has a roadway wide enough for two omnibuses to pass each other, besides the separate shafts on each side for foot passengers.

DIG NEW $5,600,000 TUNNEL UNDER THE THAMES RIVER

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

THERE are already seven tunnels under the Thames between Blackwell and Westminster, but work has just commenced upon a new one, this time between North and South Woolwich. At present the only means of communication between the two places is a free ferry service, which is apt to become rather irregular, owing to fogs and the density of the river traffic. The Blackwell tunnel is some distance up stream from Woolwich, so in case of any stoppage of the Woolwich ferry the loss of time is considerable. The new tunnel will be about five hundred yards long, the building operations will occupy about two years and the cost is estimated at $5,600,000. The preliminary work is nearly completed and the first shaft will shortly be sunk on the north bank.

MEMORIAL TO VICTORIA READY

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

Another important stage has just been reached in connection with the national memorial to the late Queen Victoria opposite Buckingham Palace. Mr. Brock, R. A., the sculptor, has practically finished the statue of her late Majesty, which will occupy the central position of the massive pedestal. She is represented in a sitting posture, wearing the crown and robes of state. The unveiling ceremony, which will be attended by monarchs or their representatives and state dignitaries, will, it is now hoped, take place early next January.

THE APACHE DANCE FAILS IN LONDON

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] LONDON, Saturday.

The Apache variety of waltz, a quaint conceit modelled after the gawsome dance which the Palace Theatre, London, imported from Paris, is not catching on. It has struggled hard at sporadic moments during the winter to creep into favor, but it is dying the natural death. It was given a good chance at the Prince's Gardens the other night, but it didn't go. The dance is certainly passing grotesque to look at. The couples hold each other closely, face to face, gaze straight into each other's eyes and wriggle round the room silent and serious. There is a sawing movement of the arms. There is nothing graceful in it, and it certainly has none of the rhythmic movement one usually associates with dancing.

In fact, Mr. d'Albert, one of the foremost "professors" of dancing in Mayfair, said it never had a chance from the very beginning on account of its utter lack of grace. It was simply a bit of a fad taken up by certain hostesses eager to find something novel for the entertainment of their guests, and who got some of their young friends to learn it with the idea of inducing others to learn it too. Attempts are made every year to introduce some new dance to West End ballrooms, but the Apache waltz has proved very near the light of absurdity.

WONDERFUL CURATIVE QUALITIES OF FRUIT

Demonstrated by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Physicians puzzled over the strange case of Kingston girl. Nothing did her any good until the Famous Fruit Medicine completely restored her to health.

The people are awakening to the marvellous powers of fruit juice as a preventative and cure of disease. "Fruit-a-tives," the only medicine in the world actually made of fruit juice—has demonstrated the extraordinary value of fruit juice even in cases that were apparently hopeless. The strange case of Miss Mabel Todd, of Kingston, Ontario, well illustrates the wonderful properties of "Fruit-a-tives."

From a happy, rosy cheeked girl, she had become pale and thin and so weak that she could hardly stand. Her many friends knew that something serious was the matter. The best medical attention was sought but the ordinary resources of the physician failed to do any good. As a last resort, "Fruit-a-tives" was tried. Read the result.

MISS MABEL TODD

91 Clergy St., Kingston, Ont. November 4th, 1909. "I suffered for some years with a dangerous form of Heart Trouble. There was severe pain over the heart and down the arms, severe Palpitation, Headaches, Constipation and Indigestion. I became so weak that I could hardly stand and my friends were greatly alarmed. I was treated by physicians and took many remedies but none did me any good. Then I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine completely cured me of all Heart Disease, Constipation and Stomach Trouble and gave me back perfect health."

MISS MABEL TODD.

"Fruit-a-tives made this wonderful cure because "Fruit-a-tives" is a magnificent heart tonic and nerve tonic. "Fruit-a-tives" soothes the stomach and stimulates the liver, kidneys and skin, thus purifying the blood and restoring the heart action. "Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c., or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE TELEGRAPH POLE

(G. K. Chesterton, in the Daily News, London.)

My friend and I were walking in one of those wastes of pine-wood which make inland seas of solitude in every part of Western Europe; which have the true terror of a desert, since they are uniform, and so one may lose one's way in them. Stiff, straight, and similar, stood up all around us the pines of the wood, like the pikes of a silent mutiny. There is a truth in talking of the variety of Nature; but I think that nature often shows her chief strangeness in her sameness. There is a weird rhythm in this very repetition; it is as if the earth were resolved to repeat a single shape until the shape shall turn terrible.

Have you ever tried the experiment of saying some plain word, such as "dog," thirty times? By the thirtieth time it has become a word like "sank" or "pobber." It does not become tame, it becomes wild, by repetition. In the end a dog walks about as startling and undecipherable as Leviathan or Croquemitaine.

It may be that this explains the repetitions in Nature; it may be for this reason that there are so many million leaves and pebbles. Perhaps they are not repeated so that they may grow familiar; perhaps they are repeated only in the hope that they may at last grow unfamiliar. Perhaps a man is not startled at the first pig he sees, but jumps into the air with surprise at the seventy-ninth pig. Perhaps he has to pass through thousands of pine trees before he finds the one that is really a pine tree. However this may be, there is something singularly thrilling, even something urgent and intolerant, about the endless forest repetition; there is the hint of something like madness in that musical monotony of the pines.

I said something like this to my friend; and he answered with arduous truth, "Ah, you wait till we come to a telegraph post."

My friend was right, as he occasionally is in our discussions, especially upon points of fact. We had crossed the pine forest by one of its paths which happened to follow the wires of the provincial telegraph; and though the poles occurred at long intervals they made a difference when they came. The instant we came to the straight pole we could see that the pines were not really straight. It was like a hundred straight lines drawn with school boy pencils all brought to judgment suddenly by one straight line drawn with a ruler. All the amateur lines seemed to reel to right and left. A moment before I could have sworn they stood as straight as lances. Now I could see them curve and waver everywhere, like scimitars and yataghans. Compared with the telegraph post the pines were crooked—and alive. That lonely vertical rod at once deformed and enfranchised the forest. It tangled it altogether and yet made it free, like any grotesque undergrowth of oak or holly.

"Yes," said my gloomy friend, answering my thoughts. "You don't know what a wicked shameful thing straightness is, if you think these trees are straight. You never will know till your precious intellectual civilization builds a forty-mile forest of telegraph poles."

We had started walking from our temporary home later in the day than we intended; and the long afternoon was already lengthening itself out into a yellow evening when we came out of the forest on to the hills above a strange town or village, of which the lights had already begun to glitter in the darkening valley. The change had already happened which is the test and definition of evening. I mean that while the sky seemed still as bright, the earth was growing blacker against it, especially at the edges, the hills and the pine-tops. This brought out yet more clearly the owlish secrecy of pine-woods, and my friend cast a regretful glance at them as he came out under the sky. Then he turned to the view in front; and, as it happened, one of the telegraph posts stood up in front of him in the last sunlight. It was no longer crossed and softened by the more delicate lines of pine-wood; it stood up ugly, arbitrary and angular as any crude figure in geometry. My friend stopped, pointing his stick at it, and all his anarchic philosophy rushed to his lips.

"Demon," he said to me briefly, "behold your work. That palace of proud trees behind us is what the world was before civilized men, Christians or democrats or the rest, came to make it dull with your dreary rules of morals and equality. In the silent fight of that forest, tree fights, speech against tree, branch against branch. And the upshot of that dumb battle is inequality—and beauty. Now lift up your eyes and look at equality and ugliness. See how regularly the white buttons are arranged on that black stick and defend your dogmas if you dare."

"Is that telegraph post so much a symbol of democracy?" I asked. "I fancy that while three men have made the telegraph to get dividends, about a thousand men have preserved the forest to cut wood. But if the telegraph pole is hideous (as I admit) it is not due to doctrine, but rather to commercial anarchy. If anyone had a doctrine about a telegraph pole it might be carved in ivory and decked with gold. Modern things are ugly, because modern men are careless, not because they are careful."

"No," answered my friend with his eye on the end of a splendid and sprawling sunset, "there is something intrinsically deadening about the very idea of a doctrine. A straight line is always ugly. Beauty is always crooked. These rigid posts at regular intervals are ugly because they are carrying across the world the real message of democracy."

"At this moment," I answered, "they are probably carrying across the world the message, 'Buy Bulgarian Rails.' They are probably the prompt communication between some two of the wealthiest and wickedest of his children with whom God has ever had patience. No; these telegraph poles are ugly and detestable, they are inhuman and innocent. But their baseness lies in their privacy, not in their publicity. That black stick with white buttons is not the creation of the soul of a multitude. It is the mad creation of the souls of two millionaires."

"At least you have to explain," answered my friend gravely, "how it is that the hard democratic doctrine and the hard telegraphic outline have appeared together; you have . . . but bless my soul, we must be getting home. I had no idea it was so late. Let me see, I think this is our way through the wood. Come, let us both curse the telegraph post for entirely different reasons, and get home before it is dark."

We did not get home before it was dark. For one reason or another we had underestimated the swiftness of twilight and the suddenness of night, especially in the threading of thick woods. When my friends, after the first five minutes' march, had fallen over a log, and I, ten minutes after, had stuck nearly to the knees in mire, we began to have some suspicion of our direction. At last my friend said in a low, husky voice:

"I'm afraid we're on the wrong path. It's pitch dark."

"I thought we went the right way," I said, tentatively.

"Well," he said; and then, after a long pause, "I can't see any telegraph post. I've been looking for them."

"So have I," I said. "They're so straight."

We groped away for about two hours of darkness in the thick of the fringe of trees which seemed to dance round us in derision. Here and there, however, it was possible to trace the outline of something just too erect and rigid to be a pine tree. By these we finally felt our way home.

AN ANCIENT RING.

Was Given By Ramses II. To One Of His Wives.

The Musee Guimet of Paris has just acquired a priceless treasure, provided that it will bear investigation better than did the notorious Isira of the Louvre a few years ago. M. Guimet, whose name the museum bears, is an antiquarian and a voluminous writer on antiquities. He seems quite satisfied that he has added to his collection a ring of the time of Ramses II, who flourished about 1,300 years before our era.

The ring was acquired from a family of Grenoble in whose possession it had been for many years, and the former owners produced documents which satisfied M. Guimet as to the authenticity of his acquisition. The ring bears hieroglyphic inscriptions showing that it graced the hand of Nefritameri Mout, one of the wives of the once powerful monarch of Egypt.

The ring is of thick gold, carrying a cornelian stone rectangular, large and flat. The stone is incised in gold and the ring itself is ornamented with a fillet of gold. The stone tells the story in hieroglyphic sign to represent the king and Nefritameri. The perfection of the intaglio is considered a proof of the genuineness of the ring, for the modern engraver seldom succeeds with that sureness of cut which is the wonder and admiration of all who are familiar with the engraving of the ancients.

The ring, we are further told, although gracing the hand of a court beauty of Egypt in the depths of past ages, would not be much sought after by a fashionable lady to-day.

GREAT NOVELIST'S GRATITUDE

His Bonny Child Stricken with Eczema.

Marvelous Deliverance by Zam-Buk

The beautiful three-year-old son of Mr. Campbell Rae-Brown, author of the famous "Kissing-Cup's Race" and "The Great Newmarket Mystery," has been cured in a fortnight by Zam-Buk, of a most distressing attack of eczema.

Little Stuart Campbell Rae-Brown, because of his clear skin and regular features, is constantly being sought as a model by painters and photographers, but his prettiness would now be a thing of the past, but for Zam-Buk's timely healing of the terrible sores on his face.

"I cannot express to you," writes Mr. Campbell Rae-Brown from his country home at Eden Villa, Dunoon, "the gratitude felt by my wife and myself for the astounding way in which your Zam-Buk cured our only child's face of its terrible affliction. "There was scarcely a pins-point of his face left untouched by the disfiguring eczema. Perfectly sound and well in other respects, imagine our feelings when, after trying many so-called cures in vain, we began to think our boy might be permanently disfigured!

"No sooner had we applied your great remedy, than, hour by hour, and day by day, the unsightly blotches began to disappear, to fade—I can think of no better expression—gradually away, leaving behind not the very slightest trace of the affection! The skin on his face again assumed its own delicate texture and natural bloom, and when the glad day came when the cure had been wholly effected, we could scarcely believe our eyes. Our boy, whose beautiful face had been lost to us, had been restored—a miracle had been performed—by Zam-Buk."

Surely no higher testimony could be required to prove Zam-Buk's unique power over skin diseases than this spontaneous and unsolicited letter from such a popular author.

Eczema, disfiguring sores, rashes and skin injuries, are daily perils, and Mr. Rae-Brown's practical advice to all parents, is to get Zam-Buk into the home, and to have it always handy.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for ulcers, skin eruptions, poisoned sores, bad legs, varicose veins, chilblains, cold sores, piles, itch, ringworm, and all skin diseases. Also heals cuts, burns, bruises, etc., and, used as an embrocation, relieves rheumatism, sciatica, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Severe Pains in Side and Back.

Could Not Walk a Block Owing to the Excruciating Pains Which Were Caused by the Kidneys and Now She is Completely Cured By

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

The World's Best Remedy for Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood

Mrs. L. Swanson of New York City writes as follows: "After receiving your free sample bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, I bought several bottles and am very thankful for the results. It has cured me completely and removed all my troubles. My ailment started with a severe pain in my side and back, and when I would walk only a block the pain was so great that I was obliged to sit down and rest. No person can imagine what pain I suffered. I advise any person who has trouble with his kidneys to use Warner's Safe Cure. I thank you again for your great remedy, which I know has saved my life." (Signed) Mrs. L. SWANSON, 309 East 91st St., New York City.

"Diseased kidneys cause more sickness, suffering and serious complications than any other disease. Thousands of people have kidney troubles and do not know it."

IF IN DOUBT MAKE THIS TEST:

Put some morning urine in a vessel, let it stand 24 hours. If there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy, or milky, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, your kidneys are diseased and you should get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure at once.

Warner's Safe Cure is made from the fresh juices of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the proper season in the various quarters of the globe. Men skilled in botany and chemistry compound it. It is pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach. It is put in 50c and $1.00 sizes and sold by all druggists.

Constipation and Biliousness

When the bowels do not move freely, it shows that the liver is inactive, and the bile, instead of being eliminated by the intestines, is taken up by the blood. In consequence the internal organs are deranged and you have a bilious attack. After frequent attacks the skin becomes sallow and rough. You are troubled with headache, coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the side and you feel out of sorts and should take Warner's Safe Pills, purely vegetable, sugar coated, absolutely free from all injurious substances, a perfect laxative. They cure Biliousness, Torpid Liver and Constipation. They do not grip or leave any bad after effects. 25c a Box.

SAMPLE BOTTLE AND BOX OF PILLS FREE

To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will absolutely cure them, a sample bottle and also a sample box of Warner's Safe Pills will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Toronto, Ont., and mention having seen this offer in the Quebec Chronicle.

PRINTING

IF you use Printing in any form and desire to have it put in the most suitable shape, we can serve you.

In Printing, good or bad, the main items of cost are fixed and you pay as much for stock, for composition, and for presswork to one printer as another, provided he is estimating with a true knowledge of his costs and a fair profit. The fact that one piece of work is more attractive than another is caused only by the intelligence with which it is planned and care which the work receives. This planning and careful supervision is not expensive, and the difference in price between good and poor printing is less than you may suppose, while the difference in selling power may be---probably will be---several times greater than any POSSIBLE difference in cost.

We have the knowledge and facilities necessary for producing good Printing and shall be glad to exert them on your orders.

COLONIZATION STILL THE TEXT

In a Lengthy Discussion in the Assembly—Why Certain Journals Support the Government.

Colonization and agricultural matters have been discussed at length during the past week in the Legislative Assembly, and were probably the cause of the House having a night sitting yesterday, as colonization matters took up most of the time at both sittings and will again be discussed next week. As a rule there is no Friday evening sitting, as most of the members leave for their homes by the afternoon trains. An exception was, however, made to this rule yesterday, as very little practical work was done in the afternoon, and although there were only twenty-one members present, the House sat until 12.10 this morning, and at that hour there was barely a quorum, several of the members leaving by the night train for Montreal. The House will sit again on Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday the Montreal bills will again be discussed in committee, when large deputations from Montreal will be present.

A few bills were introduced and read a first time and then answers to questions were in order. Mr. Bourassa had several queries regarding the amounts paid certain Government organs since 1st July, 1904 to date, for printing, binding, subscriptions, etc., and Hon. Mr. Mackenzie replied as follows, the amounts being given in detail—

Le Soleil, $158,933; Le Canada, $137,192; Daily Telegraph, $75,336; La Vie since 1906-07, $16,501.

Mr. Blouin is also anxious to know what the Conservative organs received from 1892 to 1897, and has no less than eight questions to that effect on the order paper.

Hon. Mr. Devlin, in answer to Mr. Tellier, remarked that the Government had not appointed a game warden for the protection of game on the North Shore of the St. Lawrence from Cape Whittle to Good Hope; that according to information it was true that foreign fishermen commit depredations there, especially by destroying and taking away the eggs of sea birds frequenting that shore, and that the Government was disposed to inquire into the matter and to stop such depredations if it be true they are committed.

Mr. Cousineau moved for the production of correspondence relating to the higher commercial studies at Montreal, remarking that the building was only half finished although commenced last year. He did not think that Mr. de Bray, the Principal of the school, had anything to do as yet, but draw his salary, and he might oblige the House by supplying it with the curriculum of studies which might be of some use for schools who are preparing their pupils for higher studies.

Premier Gouin replied that the building was being erected as promptly as possible under the superintendence of a well-known expert, and he was delighted to see the member for Jacques Cartier take such interest in an institution which he did not look upon with apparent favor last session. Among the professors to be appointed would be several professors who at present are teaching in Normal schools.

Another lengthy debate arose on Mr. Lavergne's motion for a copy of the last letter between the Government and the President of the Credit Foncier Franco-Canadian, of Providence, R.I. This organization was incorporated with a capital of $500,000, in 1908, under the laws of Rhode Island and during that year, their agents came to Quebec and requested the Government to grant them certain lots in Escourt Township, Temiscouata County, the object being to colonize that part of the Province with French-Canadians from the New England States. The request was granted but the new settlers had to make affidavits as to their good intentions of settling down in this Province, and sent in affidavits sworn to before a notary of Providence, R. I.

Mr. Tache, Deputy Minister of Crown Lands, questioned whether or not these affidavits could be used in this Province, and the matter having been referred to Mr. Lanctot, Deputy Attorney-General, who decided that according to our statute these affidavits could not be sworn to before that notary although the settlers had been accepted by the Minister of Agriculture. The Credit Foncier had received the congratulations of the bishops of the Province, and offered sufficient guarantees that the settlers were bona fide settlers. However, the Government did not want to displace the lumber merchants, who were ignoring all laws and preferred to encourage the Miller Company than the large number of French-Canadians, who were desirous of settling down in this Province.

Hon. Mr. Devlin favored the establishment of these settlers at Escourt, but as usual had to face the difficulty of two proprietors on the one piece of land. This was the way colonization was carried out by the department, which is the cause of so many thousands leaving this Province every year. They preferred protecting speculators, and allowed lumber merchants to take about twenty million dollars worth of timber out of this Province, instead of encouraging the exiled French-Canadians to settle down in this Province, and while the Federal Government was encouraging the immigration of about 200,000 foreigners yearly to this country such as Jews, Russians and Bulgarians.

Mr. Dion, member for Temiscouata, followed in defence of the Government's immigration policy.

Mr. Plante was the next speaker, and spoke of colonization generally throughout the Province, and followed in the same strain as Mr. Lavergne respecting the settlers brought here from the Eastern States.

Hon. Mr. Devlin replied, and remarked that he did not think that the document asked for really existed. He then related the connections the Government had with the Credit Foncier and although the former could not recognize the latter according to law they were ready to do business individually with the new settlers. The Department in such matters had to act with prudence, and as he was inclined to protect the settlers he personally investigated the good faith of the new arrivals from the United States. However, the object of the Credit Foncier was not only to encourage colonization but also to own lands and carry on lumbering and pulp manufacturing business. One hundred and eighty-six lots were given to this company in one of the best colonization centres in this Province. He claimed to have given all the encouragement possible to that Society and even granted them almost eleven thousand dollars towards the improvement of roads in the township of Escourt. The work was under the supervision of a practical engineer, and as a result good roads were made, and one was so good that he had it named "Boulevard de la Republique," in honor of the American settlers. He had, on a recent visit to that colony, asked the settlers if they had any complaints, but none were forthcoming and all they asked for was a subsidy for a school and a bridge.

Over an hour was spent at the commencement of the evening sitting on Mr. Geoffroy's bill to amend the charter of the General Trust, which was finally adopted in third reading, with amendments, on division.

The following bills were read a second time and referred to different committees—

An Act to incorporate the Jewish Congregation Nusach Hoanri, of Montreal.

An Act to incorporate the Jewish Congregation Beth Israel, of Lachine.

An Act to incorporate l'Association des Anciens Elèves de l'Ecole Polytechnique de Montreal.

An Act to amend the charter of the town of Longue Pointe.

An Act to incorporate "La Ligue Anti-Tuberculeuse de Quebec."

An Act to amend the charter of the town of Outremont.

An Act to authorize the College of Dental Surgeons of the Province of Quebec to admit Alcide Louis Larose among its members.

The debate on the Credit Foncier settlers in Escourt was continued by Mr. Bourassa who, documents in hand, strongly condemned the colonization policy of the Government which was too exacting on a company which desired to help colonization, while it encouraged the speculating lumber companies. The testimony of Hon. Mr. Devlin, respecting the good faith of the Credit Foncier, was sufficient to show that they were sincere. It has been sufficiently shown that the Minister of Colonization was forced to obtain the permission of the Minister of Crown Lands. Two patriotic priests from the United States had given sufficient references to the Minister of Colonization, and Mr. Lafamme had approved of the stand taken by Rev. Mr. Gaboury, of New Bedford, and Rev. Mr. Beland, of Central Falls. The work of the Credit Foncier was also approved of by the Archbishop of Quebec, his Coadjutor, and the Bishops of Three Rivers, St. Hyacinthe and Rimouski.

The Minister of Colonization was in favor of the requests of the Credit

Foncier, but the opinion of the Attorney-General's Department prevailed. Mr. Bourassa concluding his remarks, blamed the Ministers who set aside their responsibility for such policy, in getting their political organs to falsify facts.

Mr. Kelly followed, and remarked that the proprietors of the Credit Foncier Company showed indication of speculation on provincial lands, and properties, and the poor people who invested their earnings in the company will probably get no return. No money could be made in colonization.

Mr. Lavergne—But the company pays dividends.

Mr. Kelly—Perhaps, but not with the money they make in colonizing in Escourt, although they claim to have land there worth $400,000.

Mr. Kelly also blamed the attitude taken by the Opposition, who are turning settlers towards other places. He denied that the bishops of this Province had approved of the programme submitted by the Credit Foncier.

A letter of Mr. Roy was read by Mr. Kelly, but Mr. Prevost raised a

USING PURGATIVES INJURES HEALTH
What You Need in Spring is a Blood Building Tonic.

A spring medicine is an actual necessity to most people. Nature demands it as an aid in carrying off the impurities that have accumulated in the blood during the indoor life of winter. But unfortunately thousands of people who do not recognize the necessity of a spring medicine do not know what is best to take and dose themselves with harsh, gripping purgatives.

This is a serious mistake. Ask any doctor and he will tell you that the use of purgative medicine weakens the system but does not cure disease. In the spring the system needs building up—purgatives cannot do this—they weaken you still more. The blood should be made rich, red and pure, and only a tonic medicine can do this. The best blood building nerve restoring tonic medicinal science has yet discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine actually makes new, rich blood. This new blood strengthens every organ, every nerve and every part of the body. This is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure headaches and backaches, rheumatism and neuralgia, banish pimples and eruptions, and give a glow of health to the most sallow skin. Men, women and growing boys and girls who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills eat well, sleep well, and feel bright, active and strong. If you need a medicine this spring—and most likely you do—try this great reviving tonic, and see the new life, new health and new strength it will put into you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIG MILLING RE-ORGANIZATION.

Negotiations for what is undoubtedly the largest milling consolidation on that has ever been effected in Ontario have just been completed in Toronto, and following them the official announcement is made of the organization of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, with a capital of $5,000,000.

The new company has taken over the properties of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, and the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, and in addition secures from the new interests that have become identified with the company $1,000,000 additional cash capital, which, besides permitting of the erection of a modern 6,000 barrel mill and a million bushel elevator and storage warehouse at Port Colborne, will supply the new company with further working capital. It is understood that Mr. Cawthra Mulock, Toronto, is associated with Mr. Hedley Shaw of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, and Mr. D. C. Cameron, President of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, in the organization of the new concern.

The share capital of the new company will be $5,000,000, divided into $2,500,000 of 10 per cent. Cumulative preferred stock, and $2,500,000 of common stock. The company has no bonds either issued or authorized. The preferred stock will, therefore, be in a particularly strong position as it is preferred both as to assets and dividends.

The ability of the company to easily earn the 7 per cent. Cumulative preferred dividend on $2,500,000 of preferred stock is indicated by the net earnings of the old companies, as per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, which shows that from September 25th, 1908, from which date the plants of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, were in operation, to August 29th, 1909, these net earnings amounted to $218,843, and from August 21st, 1909, to February 28th, 1910, the net earnings of the company amounted to $166,733. This would be equal to over 13 per cent. on the preferred stock, and the payment of the 7 per cent. dividend on that stock would leave slightly over 6 per cent. for distribution on the common stock. The new company's earning power will be very greatly increased once the new mill, now under erection at Port Colborne is completed. The future of the company is sure to be watched with the greatest interest by Ontario, inasmuch as the new company will have a capacity fully equal to that of any other Canadian milling concern, and, perhaps, more than any other company here and will be almost entirely an Ontario concern having all but one of its mills as well as its head office within the Province of Ontario.

The entire plant which the new company will have at Port Colborne will be the most modern of its kind in Canada, the equipment of the new mill being fully equal to that of any other mill in the world. Such a site it is believed by experts will make the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, an important factor right from the moment the mill is in operation at that point, inasmuch as by its geographical position, it will enable the new company to lay down its flour almost at any point in Canada, at all Atlantic sea ports, and in the British and Foreign markets, considerably cheaper than can be done by any other milling concern.

During the past few years the farmers of Ontario have been getting further away from the cultivator on wheat and going more extensively into stock raising, and this should give the Port Colborne Mill a very ready market for its by-products.

All of the old officials who made the old companies so successful in the past will, in addition to retaining their financial positions in the company, retain their active interest in its management.

Mr. Hedley Shaw, who was the founder of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, and the general manager of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, will be managing director of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited.

The firm of Cawthra Mulock & Co., members of the Toronto Stock Exchange, have made arrangements for a public offering of $2,000,000 of the 7 per cent. Cumulative Preferred Stock at $100 per share, the same to carry with a bonus, equal to 25 per cent. of common stock, that is for every four shares of the preferred stock subscribed for the applicant will receive as a bonus one share of common stock.

To a very large extent, the shareholders of the old companies have become shareholders of the new, indicating their continued confidence in the bright future the company should have now that it will be able to do business on a larger scale, owing to the large amount of additional capital that has been placed in its treasury. It is expected that full details in connection with the public offering will be made public within a few days.

point of order as Mr. Kelly had only read a portion of the letter and had drawn a wrong conclusion with the intention of deceiving the House. Speaker Pelletier decided that he did not think that Mr. Kelly had any intention of deceiving the House, as the letter was a well-known document. After a few remarks from Hon. Mr. Caron, Mr. Prescott moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 12.15 this morning.

NOTES

Mayor Guerin, of Montreal, accompanied by Dr. Lachapelle and Messrs. Wanklyn, Dupuis and Ainey, comptrollers of that city, had an interview with Premier Gouin and his colleagues when the House adjourned yesterday afternoon, the object of their visit being to request the Government to devise means by which the comptrollers' powers will be more fully defined, and that the Government support the Citizens' Bill in relation thereto. At present there was a deadlock between the City Council and the civic comptrollers as regards the latter's powers, and as Mayor Guerin explained it, the comptrollers wanted more powers. As things stand at present it looked as if the City Council, instead of the Commissioners, wanted to assume the administrative power instead of legislative power, and this was against the idea explained last fall, when the comptrollers were elected. Dr. Lachapelle remarked that they could not be considered comptrollers, if the City Council could amend their reports. Although Premier Gouin did not commit himself, he appeared to be in full sympathy with the ideas expressed by the comptrollers. The Citizens' Association bill, with the Montreal city bill, will be discussed before the Private Bills Committee on Tuesday next, when Mr. Henri Bourassa is expected to take a prominent part in the discussion in support of the Citizens' Association bill.

In the Railway Committee yesterday, the bill to amend the charter of the Quebec and Island of Orleans Railway was considered, Mr. P. Corrivane, K.C., appearing for the company, while Mr. Pelletier and Mr. St. Laurent opposed the bill in behalf of the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co. Mr. Corrivane, in asking for a delay in carrying out the charter, explained that since its incorporation the company had expended considerable money in drawing out plans and if the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co. opposed their demands, it was because they wanted a monopoly. Hon. Mr. Pelletier replied that the company was not serious in their demands, as the principal directors were unaware that such a bill was before the House. The Quebec and Orleans Company wished to start an almost parallel line to the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co., which was at present running a double line almost over the same ground. Hon. Mr. Taschereau, who represents one of the counties, through which the proposed line was to run, suggested that the Quebec and Island of Orleans Company should begin work within two years and finish within five years, instead of three and ten years as proposed by the company. Hon. Mr. Taschereau's suggestion was approved.

The Railway Committee granted powers to the Montreal Underground and Elevated Railway Co. yesterday and to the Suburban Tramsway and Power Company, but these bills will have to previously obtain the consent of the municipalities through which they intend to run. These two companies, as well as the Montreal Street Railway Company, will have to expend two million dollars each within four years or forfeit their franchise. In the Private Bills Committee the bill to amend the charter of the three Rivers to amend the charter of the Canadian Light and Power Co. and to consolidate the charter of L'Union des Commis Marchands de la Cite de Montreal, and to give it the name of L'Union de Commerce, were adopted.

LEPROSY IN NEW YORK
New York, April 22.—Suffering from what is believed to be leprosy in its advanced stage, an unfortunate woman, coddling an eight-month-old baby to her breast, was found by Dr. Trask, of Bellevue Hospital, to-day. The woman was discovered living in a squalid East Side tenement house, which fairly swarmed with lodgers. Living in the three-room tenement were five children besides the victim's baby, a young woman, two men and their wives. Ten days ago the woman with leprosy came to this city from Baltimore. She was lost track of. The case will be reported to the health depart-

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MARK TWAIN

The Body will be Taken to New York Today—Many Tokens of Sympathy for the Family.

Redding, Conn., April 22.—The little village of Redding was in mourning to-day for its benefactor and friend, Mark Twain, and to-morrow morning, when the body is taken to the station to be placed on the train for New York, all business will be suspended and the villagers and farmers from the surrounding hills will assemble and pay their last tributes. All day long the villagers passed by the house and parties in automobiles from neighboring cities drove up the river road and stopping, looked over the lowlands to Stormfield on the hill. Late to-day the body was prepared for burial. Dressed in the white flannels which he so constantly wore in the later years of his life, it will be placed in a plain mahogany casket which will arrive here early to-morrow morning. Many messages of comfort were received to-day by Mrs. Ossip Gabrilowitch, Mark Twain's only living daughter. Among them were a telegram from President Taft and a cablegram from former President Roosevelt. A message was also received from the authorities of Hamilton, Mo., asking that Mr. Clemens' body be brought there for burial. Mrs. Gabrilowitch replied that as the family burial ground was in Elmira, N.Y., it was thought best that the body be taken there. The body will be taken to the West R.R. station at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning and placed on board the Pittsfield express. It will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gabriowitch, Albert Bielow Peine and servants who have been in Mr. Clemens' service for many years. On the arrival of the body in New York it will be taken to the Old Brick Presbyterian Church where services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Henry Vandewick, asisted by the Rev. J. S. H. Twitshell, of Hartford, a life long friend of Mr. Clemens. After these services the body will be taken to Elmira, N.Y., in the private car of S. E. Loomis, vice-president of the Lackawanna Railroad.

FOUND SOMETHING TO CURE ECZEMA

Trial Results in Complete Cure of Fifteen-Year Case in Two Weeks.

In a letter published in his lodge paper, Mr. F. O. Thompson, of Elizabeth, N.J., states that he was a sufferer from eczema for fifteen years, and one day spoke about his trouble to Dr. L. E. Todd. "Dr. Todd replied that he had something that would relieve if not permanently cure me," says Mr. Thompson, "but after treatment for so many years I had grave doubts. The doctor produced a box of poslam, and I promised to give it a faithful trial. I followed directions and in two weeks' time find myself entirely cured. The fifty cents I paid for the box was the best investment I ever made."

Not alone eczema, but every surface skin disease is permanently eradicated by poslam, itching being stopped at once. Write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, for a free trial package of poslam. With this simple alone complexions may be cleared and pimples banished from the face. For sale by Henry Willis, 4 St. John street, as well as all good druggists everywhere, always carry poslam in the regular sizes at 50 cents and $2.

THE MURDERER STILL AT LARGE

Pr. civil, Ont., April 22.—The murder of Nathan Bolton, by Albert Holmes, on the farm of the latter yesterday morning, just outside the village of Cardinal, has stirred the whole country side into a fever of excitement. Careful inquiry fail to reveal the slightest motive for Holmes' terrible act. He and Bolton were evidently on the most friendly terms and there was no reason why he should murder him. After committing the deed Holmes immediately fled to the adjoining woods. On the next farm he passed a boy named Geo. Perry who says Holmes was in a highly excited state of mind. He warned Perry to keep away from him on pain of his life, and intimated his intention of committing suicide upon reaching the woods. No trace of the murderer has since been obtained. It is the popular opinion that Holmes is undoubtedly insane.

CURES CATARRH

Stomach dosing was found ineffective and the principle of inhalation was finally perfected. Even the Romans and Ancient Greeks used it, but not in the scientific manner that the physician prescribes to-day. The most wonderful results have been secured with a new treatment known as "Catarrhazone," which sends germ destroying vapors directly into the air passages of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs. Rich, Pure Essences are Breathed Right to the Parts That Are Sick. Cure Follows.

Catarrhazone proves especially good in those chronic cases where mucus drops down the throat, sickens the stomach, and pollutes the breath. When the nostrils are stuffed, only a few breaths through the inhaler are needed to clear the passages, and where there is coughing and sore bronchial tubes, the soothing, healing properties of Catarrhazone are almost as magic. Once you stop taking medicine into the stomach and get the healing oils and pure balsams of Catarrhazone at work you can be sure of quick and lasting cure for nose colds, catarrh, weak lungs, bronchitis, and speaker's sore throat. Catarrhazone Beware of imitations. Three sizes, 25c., 50c., $1, the latter being guaranteed. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or by mail from the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE SUBSCRIPTION LIST WILL OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF THE GUARDIAN TRUST COMPANY, LTD., TORONTO, ON MONDAY, APRIL 25th, 1910, AND WILL BE CLOSED ON OR BEFORE MONDAY, THE 9th DAY OF MAY, 1910, AT 3 P.M.

NEW COMPANY A GOING CONCERN.

Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, is a new company which has taken over the whole undertaking as a going concern of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company Limited, including therein that of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company Limited. The company has mills at Kenora, Thorold, St. Catharines, Welland, and Port Colborne (the last named in course of construction) in the Province of Ontario and at Brandon in the Province of Manitoba. When the construction at present under way at Port Colborne is completed the company will have a total milling capacity of 12,800 barrels per day. The company has at present thirty-five elevators situated throughout the Western Wheat Belt, and fifteen additional ones are being added at the present time. A million bushel elevator is being constructed next to the new mill at Port Colborne. The company has also warehouses and offices at Toronto, Winnipeg, Kingston, Ottawa, and Montreal.

MARKET FOR OUTPUT.

The rapid growth of the business of the two companies taken over has long made apparent the necessity of additional milling capacity. Further, the tremendous increase in the total output from the Western wheat belt makes it absolutely necessary to have more mills in Canada to handle it. Last year the output of the Western wheat belt amounted to about 125,000,000 bushels, and men who have made a close study of the development of the Western country is likely to see, estimate that by the end of the year 1920 Canada will be producing at the rate of fully 500,000,000 bushels annually. As in the past, a great proportion of this large production will of necessity find its way into Canadian mills. Larger demands are bound to come as the population of the country increases, and the enquiry for the Canadian product, both from Great Britain and from the foreign markets of the world, will increase. The chain of mills that is now controlled by the new company will enable it to go ahead and secure its full share of the trade of every section of Canada, as well as to obtain even a very much larger proportion of the export business to Great Britain and to foreign markets than it has up to the present time.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER: The assets of the old Companies taken over as above stand in excess of all liabilities and without any allowance for good-will, trade marks, etc., at $3,770,524.11, this amount being ascertained on the basis of an appraisal by the Canadian-American Appraisal Company, Limited, as of March 17th, 1910, of the capital assets taken over, and the certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, as of February 28th, 1910, as to current assets and current liabilities, with a liberal allowance for all contingencies. There has also been placed in the Treasury $1,000,000 of additional cash, besides permitting of the completion of a 6,000 barrel mill and a million bushel elevator and storage warehouse at Port Colborne, and of fifteen additional elevators in the West, will provide the new Company with further working capital. As per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, of London, quoted below, the earnings of the old Company on the present plant amounted from September 25th, 1908, to August 20th, 1909, to $218,843.39. And from August 21st, 1909, to February 26th, 1910, to $156,793.29. The following is the certificate of Price, Waterhouse & Company:—
"Messrs. Cawthra Mulock & Company, Toronto, "Gentlemen:—
"We have examined the books of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, which include the transactions carried on under the name of The Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, at Toronto and Branches, from September 25th, 1907, (prior to which date the Company's principal mills were not completed) nor in operation) to February 26th, 1910, and we certify that the profits for the period, after making provision for depreciation, but before charging interest on loans, were as follows:—
From September 25th, 1908, to August 20th, 1909 $218,843.39
From August 21st, 1909, to February 26th, 1910 $156,793.29
"Yours very truly,
"PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO."

MANAGEMENT.

The properties of the old companies have been constructed and developed under the direction of Mr. Hedley Shaw, late General Manager of The Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, and of The Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, and Mr. D. C. Cameron, late President of The Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited. Both these gentlemen will retain large interests in the new Company, besides being actively identified with it. Mr. Hedley Shaw will occupy the position of Managing Director of the new Company, thus giving to it the full benefit of his long practical experience.

FAVORABLE LOCATION OF NEW LARGE MILLS.

The location of the new large mill at Port Colborne is without exception the best there is in Canada. This mill when completed, in addition to having the large capacity mentioned, will have one of the most modern equipments in the world. The Company at all times will be able to keep it well supplied with wheat. In addition to its own 1,000,000 bushel elevator, which will be situated just alongside of the mill, the Company will be able to make arrangements to have the last steamers, coming down from the West at the end of the season of navigation, tie up for the winter months at the elevator and in this way afford additional storage capacity without any necessity of any capital outlay for it. Should at any time the Company find it advisable to do so, it will also be able to draw from the Government elevator, which will be situated on the same pier as its Port Colborne mill.

The location of the Company's mills is such as to provide a ready market for the bye-products of each. The greater part of the milling capacity will be in Ontario, where, as Government statistics show, a smaller amount of wheat is being grown each year as the farmers go in more and more for stock-raising. This means a brisk demand for the bye-products of the mills for feed.

A complete report on the advantages of the Port Colborne site, prepared by Mr. Hedley Shaw, will be found in the prospectus. Prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained at any branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada or The Royal Bank of Canada, from Guardian Trust Company, Limited, Toronto, and from Cawthra Mulock and Company, Toronto.

APPLICATIONS FOR SHARES SHOULD BE MADE UPON THE FORM ACCOMPANYING THE PROSPECTUS AND SHOULD BE SENT TOGETHER WITH THE REMITTANCE DUE ON APPLICATION TO:

CUBA'S PARTY OF COLOR

Havana, April 22.—General Evaristo Estenoz, the negro leader, to-day denied that he had used the inflammatory utterances attributed to him, and declared that he has no desire to array the blacks against the whites, but only an intention to secure for the negroes a proportion of the public offices to which their numbers entitle them. The Independent Party of Color, he continued, is fully organized in all the provinces, and embraces 95,000 voters. He charged that the Government is sending troops into Santa Clara province for the purpose of intimidating the negroes and preventing legitimate political organization. Reports from all sections of the island show that there are no disturbances, but a continuance of lack of confidence and a feeling of apprehension and agitation on the race question. This is especially true in Santa Clara and Oriente provinces.

WILL NOT COMPETE

Toronto, Ont., April 22.—Jack Tait said to-day that he would not compete in Ottawa at the athletic meeting on Victoria Day. Woodstock and Ottawa were both anxious to have him and as he got no definite word from Ottawa he has promised to go to Woodstock.

ITS ORGANIZATION COMPLETED

Toronto, Ont., April 22.—Organization of the Maple Leaf Milling Co., Ltd., with capital of $50,000,000, has been completed. The head office will be at Toronto. The new company has taken over the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Ltd., and in it the Hilday Shaw Milling Company, Ltd., and there is the investment of $1,400,000 of additional cash made by the interests behind the new company.

DETROIT UNITED RAILWAY

Detroit, Mich., April 22.—For the first time since the committee of fifty started the street railway investigation early in 1909, the officials of the D. U. R. to-day made public the amount they claim its property is worth as a going concern. The figure, $20,532,676.43, is arrived at by the officials by taking 82 1/2 per cent. of the reduction value of the property as found by the appraised made for the company by Hon. J. Arnold. The detailed figures of the company's claims are given out in a bill of particulars which Judges Murin, Grant and Taylor, of the court of arbitration, asked the officials to furnish the court and Attorney Webster, of the Committee of Fifty, a week ago. The bill of particulars is signed by Attorney Chas. B. Joslyn and by ex-Judge Wm. Carpenter, and John C. Donnelly, of counsel. From that it is believed they are the lawyers who will represent the companies in the hearing.

I Was Nervous, Anaemic, Sleepless

LOOK AT ME NOW AND-SEE WHAT A WONDERFUL CURE FERROZINE HAS MADE.

"So ill and miserable was I for nearly two years," writes Mrs. J. E. Nimmo, of St. Annes Bay, "I began to look upon my life and its future as a sort of living death. I tired so easily I could not go anywhere. Even the thought of slight exertion made my heart flutter and excited me to trembling. Then came the misery of the long nights, with their dreary and forebodings. Medicines and tonics seemed fruitless to help me. Nothing did me any good till I used Ferrozine. At first I think Ferrozine must have made my blood richer and redder. My ears began to lose their thin waxy look which had been a sign to everybody that I was sick. My weight increased steadily—I slept stronger, and at last began to sleep better and become less nervous. Look at me now—a stronger, heartier, more energetic vigorous woman you can't find."

The one tonic that will build up everyone in poor health is Ferrozine—try it—just one or two tablets at meal time, 50c. per box, six for $2.50, all dealers, or The Catarthozone Company Kingston, Canada.

BUY WEDDING GIFTS BY MAIL

It's simple, safe and satisfactory. The Mail Order Department of Birks', Montreal, is serving hundreds of customers daily. It has specialized its work, so that purchasing by mail is as satisfactory as purchasing over the counter.

The simple act of writing a letter of inquiry, will bring such information, as one would scarcely obtain from a personal interview with a jeweller's salesman.

As for Wedding Gifts—no store can better serve you. Write a letter and ask the question "What is new for Wedding Gifts?" and see what our reply will be. You need feel under no obligation.

HEAVY FINES IN LIQUOR CASES

Toronto, Ont., April 22.—Five hundred dollars and costs was the amount in fines imposed by Magistrate Denison this morning in liquor cases as the result of the energy of Inspector Aycarst in West Toronto. Yesterday county magistrates imposed fines totalling $320 on offenders just outside the limits of the district.

It often happens—your sore corn is stepped on. Why not use "Putnam's Corn Extractor." It cures in one day. Absolutely no pain with "Putnam's." Use no other.

RELIGIOUS ORDERS IN THE WEST

Winnipeg, April 22.—In a recent speech, Archbishop Langevin said that during the past five years the Oblate Order had spent $910,000 on its work in Western Canada; the Archdiocese of St. Boniface, $852,000, and other Catholic bodies nearly $700,000. He also stated that there are thirty thousand French-Canadians in Saskatchewan, outside the towns and cities.

PITTSBURG GRAFFY CASES

Pittsburg, April 22.—After deliberating over the cases of Councilman A. V. Simon for twenty-four hours, the jury had failed to reach a verdict when the court adjourned for the day, and they were locked up for the night. Simon is the second of the indicted councilmen to be put on trial for bribery. Early in the date a note was sent to Judges Frazer and Cohen by the jury. It asked for the dismissal, as the jury was unable to agree, but the request was denied.

DALLAS PRESS CLUB'S IDEA

Dallas, Tex., April 22.—The Dallas Press Club to-day started a campaign for the establishment in Texas of a National Press Club Home and farm to afford a place of recreation for newspaper men in poor health, and a permanent abode for workers who have become infirm from age or disease. It is proposed to have newspaper organizations of the United States co-operate in the purchase of about 20,000 acres of good agricultural land, which would make the enterprise self-supporting.

TROOPS IN SIBERIA

Tacoma, Wash., April 22.—G. Korpit, a naturalized Russian, to-day received a letter from a brother living at Irkutsk, Siberia, stating that Russians are pouring troops into Irkutsk for use on the Pacific Coast in event of need. The letter says 300,000 inhabitants or Irkutsk were thrown into a panic by the comet "nineteen ten," which was plainly visible during January. Believing that Halley's comet "a nineteen ten" is to destroy the world, the Russians there have stopped business and work of all kinds. Farmers are burning barns and killing their cattle for food. They refuse food to soldiers, and troops have to obtain provisions by foraging.

STRUCK NATURAL GAS

Moncton, N.B., April 22.—Another strike of natural gas was made in Albert county to-day, when at a distance of a thousand feet oil sands were struck. The flow of gas from this well is estimated at 800,000 cubic feet daily, and the total yield daily of all wells drilled so far 2,500,000. The company plans to furnish cheap power to Moncton and nearby towns, and has given contracts for large quantities of piping.
