

DOUBTFUL BATTLE OF BALLOTS BETWEEN WILSON AND HUGHES BECOMES A VERITABLE SEE-SAW

One Leads One Minute and the Other the Next—Outlook is Still Good for Hughes, But Indications are that it will be Practically a Neck and Neck Finish—Western States Fluctuate—Unusual Interest in Election Owing to Its Closeness.

New York, Nov. 8.—At midnight tonight, 24 hours after every important newspaper in the United States regardless of political affiliations, had heralded the election to the Presidency of Charles Evans Hughes, the result of the election is still in doubt. In striking contrast to the virtual certainty of Republican success in the early hours of this morning is the tensity of the situation that exists tonight.

As early as eight o'clock last night the leading newspapers of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston and other cities in various sections of the country definitely announced the election of Mr. Hughes. As the night wore on whatever uncertainty of the election of the Republican candidate existed was gradually dissipated and the country retired to rest without any doubt that the fourth of March would witness the inauguration of a new incumbent. But at 3 o'clock this morning the tide began to turn.
Western States whose early returns showed a strong trend toward Mr.
Hughes began to develop Wilson strength. Gradually the Hughes majorities changed until States that were conceded to him first drifted into the doubtful column and then into the group claimed by the President.

This sudden change in the fortunes of the two great parties aroused in the people a degree of interest that even on election day was noticeably lacking. Great crowds began to gather in front of newspaper offices, where editions were issued at short intervals recording the varying changes in the battle of ballots, and all day and all night tireless vigils were kept by anxious watchers at the various headquarters, where the returns from the doubtful, or pivotal States—California, North Dakota, Washington West Virginia, Minnesota, Nebraska and New Mexico—were closely and anxiously scanned as they slowly filtered in.

At midnight, returns, such as were complete or so far complete as to be regarded as indicative, gave President Wilson 232 votes in the College; Hughes 239 and left sixty votes doubtful in eight States. It requires 266 votes to elect a President.

Although California still showed a lead for the President and his campaign managers were claiming it by at least 1,500 the President's majority there had dwindled to a little more than 1,400 with about one-fifth of the districts missing.

In Minnesota too, the Wilson lead which was as high as 10,000 early in the day steadily decreased as the vote from the rural districts came in.
During the evening Hughes took the lead with a small margin and then the President shot ahead again but with less than a thousand votes. The Republican managers claimed the State on the final returns.

Idaho was estimated for the Wilson column with a majority of 10,000.
Kansas, while incomplete, with a little more than two-thirds of the districts reported showed President Wilson leading with more than 87,000.
Washington, a little more than half reported, was giving the President a lead of 7,000.

West Virginia, two-thirds reported, was showing Hughes a majority of nearly 2,000. North Dakota was very close, two-thirds complete, showing a Hughes majority of less than 1,000.

Wilson was leading in New Mexico with only a small proportion of the precincts reported. Delaware and New Hampshire, counted among the Hughes States, but incomplete during the day, definitely turned into the Republican column.

New York, Nov. 8.—With thirty congressional districts to be heard from at 10.45 p.m., 202 Republicans, 199 Democrats, 2 Progressives, 1 Independent and 1 Socialist have been elected to the House of Representatives for the sixty-fifth Congress. Of the 30 districts yet to be heard from, 17 are represented in the present Congress by Democrats and thirteen by Republicans. Should these districts be unchanged the next House would be composed of 216 Democrats, 215 Republicans, and four scattering who might elect to affiliate with either side.

SENATE STAYS DEMOCRATIC.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Senate will remain under Democratic control by a reduced majority of 10 or 12, dependent upon the outcome in New Mexico where A. A. Jones, Democrat, is maintaining a slight lead over Frank A. Hubbell, nominated by the Republicans to succeed Senator Catron. At this hour the Senate stands: Democrats, 53; Republicans, 42; one undecided.

FIRST WOMAN IN CONGRESS.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns early this morning indicate the election for Congress of Miss Jeannette Rankin, of Missoula, Montana. Miss Rankin will be the first woman to sit in the Congress of the United States.

TWENTY-FOUR STATES WILL BE DRY.

New York, Nov. 8.—According to a statement received by the Associated Press from the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League, five States, Michigan, Montana, South Dakota, Utah and Nebraska, have been added to the state-wide prohibition list as a result of yesterday's election. If this claim is borne out, exactly half the States of the Union, or 24, will be found in the dry column. In addition, late returns from Georgia give S. J. Catts, prohibition candidate for Governor, a substantial lead over his Democratic opponent.

NEWSPAPERS' VERDICT.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Tribune and Sun which supported Mr. Hughes give him 252 votes in the Electoral College and give President Wilson 251. They regard California, Minnesota and New Mexico as the only doubtful States.

The World, which supported President Wilson, gives him 251, Hughes 250 and regards California, Connecticut, Minnesota, New Hampshire New Mexico, North Dakota and West Virginia as doubtful.

CHAIRMAN WILCOX ISSUES STATEMENT

CONFIDENT THAT CHARLES
HUGHES WILL WIN OUT—
DELAY IN RETURNS.

New York, Nov. 8.—Chairman
Wilcox, of the Republican National Committee, issued the following statement at midnight:

"The returns from states in which the vote is close are coming in slowly. The delay appears to be caused by the time required to get in reports from rural communities. The latest returns clearly indicate that Minnesota, North Dakota, New Mexico, Oregon and probably California have gone for Hughes. These added to the states already certain give him 280 electoral votes. Even if all or some of the electoral votes of California should go to Wilson
there are still enough left to assure the election for Hughes.

"Every precaution must be taken to secure an honest count of the ballots in every close state. Anybody who intimates that Charles Evans Hughes would permit any man or group of men to attempt to steal the Presidency for him is a contemptible scoundrel and knows it.

"I say further, with a full sense of responsibility to the American people, that any man or group of men who attempt to steal the Presidency from Mr. Hughes will do so at their peril."

BECAME ENTHUSIASTIC.

Audience Cheered Russian Officer
Who Lectured in Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—So enthusiastic did the gathering at a luncheon of the Canadian Club in the Windsor Hotel today become over an address by Lieut. Z. Pechkoff, a Russian officer who has served with distinction in the French Foreign Legion, that the entire audience broke into spontaneous cheers some time before he had finished his speech, and kept cheering so long he did not rise to complete it. This dramatic close came after a touching description of conditions at the front, as the Russian lieutenant had seen them, and the Allied parade in Paris on July 14th.
Lieut. Pechkoff lost his right arm in the war.

according to private advices received here today from Alexandria.

The Ensch, owned by the Moss Steamship Company, Limited, of Liverpool, carried about 15,000 bales of cotton, valued at $2,000,000, the greater portion of which was intended for transshipment to this port.

METHODIST PLANS.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The Methodist
General Conference special committee today appointed a committee to outline a policy for the foundation of union churches.

Where there are two weak churches which desire to unite, the weaker one must lose its identity and become merged into the stronger of the two. That would be a union church under the wing of the stronger denomination. If, however, neither of these two weak churches wants to relinquish its identity they may co-operate by having one pastor, who may be either a Presbyterian, a Methodist or a Congregationalist.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

To the Editor:

Dear Sir,—We have a men's and a ladies' Recruiting Association, recruiting offices in prominent parts of the city, a civic grant, etc., but it seems as if the most potent recruiting factor has been overlooked, and that is the high cost of living. "A full purse makes a dull conscience," as the Hindu proverb has it, and as long as men in these parts were making plenty of money, they soothed the prickings of conscience with a silver plaster. But a change is coming here, as elsewhere, and it is getting harder to live on the old salaries, apart from the fact that jobs are getting scarcer, and will become more so all the time as wounded soldiers return, and come into the labor market with the preference of practically every employer of every kind of labor.

It is a serious situation, which will have to be faced, and it will be found that Quebecers will probably have to meet it in the same way as others,—by enlisting. Apart from any question of patriotism, it is the only common-sense way of meeting the emergency. A man who enlists is clothed, fed, housed and doctored free, and draws his pay all the time. His family receives whatever portion of this pay he likes to assign to them, and if they were dependent on him, they receive a separation allowance as well as a grant from the Patriotic Fund according to their numbers, and not as a charity, but as a right. Put in this way as a straight business proposition, enlisting takes on the form, not of a painful duty, but of a means of livelihood calculated admirably to meet the present difficult situation.

There is, of course, the danger of being killed, or partly unfitted for work after the war. This is smaller than most people imagine, the proportion of killed being very small compared to the number of men in the armies. Those incapacitated for work are taught whatever trade they are most suited for at home, and are cared for until they are able to earn by it. The government pension system will look after the dependents of the killed and disabled, so that the element of personal risk is the only drawback to a most attractive employment. And this is where patriotism comes in, but it will be found that patriotism when backed up by solid financial reasons such as the above will have twice the force of patriotism alone, and he is a wise citizen who will meet the situation before it becomes too acute.

With thanks for allowing you to trespass on your space, I am,

Yours truly,

SINKING OF ARABIA
Washington Awaits Information With Concern.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Full information regarding the torpedoing yesterday of the British passenger liner Arabia is awaited at the State Department with concern. There has been no report indicating that Americans were on board the vessel but the announcement of the British Admiralty that a ship carrying hundreds of passengers, including women and children had been destroyed without warning added seriousness to the submarine questions now pending.

If it should develop that the Arabia carried no Americans, the United States probably would take no official notice of the incident, although the deepest interest would be felt because of the possibility that it might mean a change in Germany's methods of submarine warfare.

A brief cablegram from Ambassador Page at London late today announced the sinking of the liner. It made no mention of Americans on board. In the absence of Secretary Lansing, who will not return to Washington until tomorrow no formal comment on the case was forthcoming.

MUNITION WORK IN PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Premier Hearst tonight announced that the provincial government through Dr. W. A. Riddell, its recently appointed superintendent of the Trades and Labor branch, is about to open a public employment bureau in Toronto to meet the need of the Department of Labor of the Imperial Munitions Board. Mr. Mark Irish, the director of the department, has reached the conclusion that the increased output asked for by the Imperial authorities cannot be had except by a careful dilution of the male labor now employed with additional female help.

The munitions manufacturers are willing to provide the requisite accommodation for women wherever the work they are doing can be done by women. It is therefore expected that within the next three or four months many more women will be employed making munitions than at present.

AMERICAN ELECTION PUZZLE
A SUSTAINED UNCERTAINTYLONDON PAPERS MOVE OTHER WAR NEWS INTO SECONDARY POSITION TO THAT OCCUPIED BY PROBLEM IN UNITED STATES.

London, Nov. 9.—The American elections occupy leading positions in both the news and editorial columns of the London papers this morning and the war news finds itself crowded into a secondary position for the first time since the outbreak of the war.

The papers devote from one to five columns to what they call the "American Election Puzzle." Some of the editorials stretch into nearly two columns in an endeavor to explain the whys and wherefores of the dramatic finish to the campaign. In the streets, hotels and clubs little else but the election was discussed today, and the bulletin boards were scanned by eager crowds in search, not of war communications, but of the latest election news.

It is evident, as the morning papers point out, that this Presidential contest has been followed with more interest in Great Britain than any since the republic was founded, and that the man in the street has, as never before, made himself acquainted with the issues involved and with the personalities of the candidates.

The editorial generally emphasizes, as they have repeatedly during the past two months, that the election, whatever its issue, is not likely to affect to any marked degree the foreign policy of the United States or its attitude toward the war. Thus the Times, after a painstaking discussion of the views of President Wilson and Mr. Hughes on domestic politics, says:

"But, whatever the course of America's domestic politics and whoever her President, we trust and believe that she will continue to give the Allies the legitimate support, moral and material, which she has afforded them throughout the war."

The Daily News says: "The election of 1916 has clothed itself with characteristics worthy of the historic times in which it has fallen. In its sustained uncertainty it has carried to a fitting climax the alternating vicissitudes of the campaign. One fact remains certain, namely, with the field shared by two candidates of honor and integrity, a President of honor and integrity will necessarily rule at the White House during the next quadrennium, as in the past quadrennium."

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

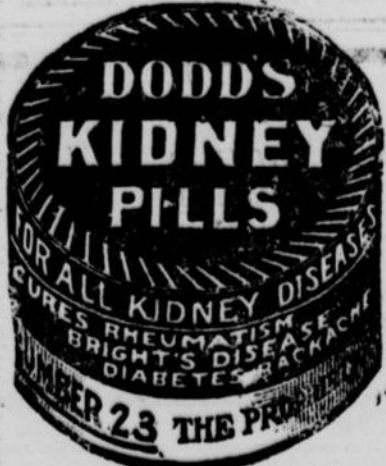

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 8.—Mr. J. S. S. one of the old-time residents of this city, fell from the apron at Wilkes Dam here this forenoon and was drowned. He had been fishing and in an attempt to cross the apron, slipped into the water.

MAN CHARGED

WITH FORGERY.
London, Ont., Nov. 8.—Lindsay Allen, a 22-year-old youth of Walkerville, left here this morning in the custody of a Walkerville officer to answer to a charge of forgery preferred against him by the Chief of Police of his home town.

BRUTALLY MURDERED.

Welland, Ont., Nov. 8.—The body of Dominico Loberto was found last night in a ditch on Ontario Road, lying in a pool of blood. He had been brutally murdered, having many knife wounds about the neck, shoulders and chest. His right leg was broken below the knees. So far there is no clue to the murderer.

DEBATE ON ADDRESS
IN THE ASSEMBLYLIBERALS WON BY APPEALS TO RACIAL PREJUDICES, SAYS MR. SAUVE.

The debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne which was begun and finished in one sitting of the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon, threatened to be a very tedious of self-glorification by the members of the Government, had not Mr. A. Sauve, of Two Mountains, the Leader of the Opposition, intervened and added spice to the monotony of the proceedings. He succeeded in arousing the ire of Sir Lomer Gouin, and after the Premier's reply the address was carried.

At the opening of the sitting yesterday, a large number of petitions for private legislation were presented, most of them being for charter amendments sought by small towns in the vicinity of Montreal.

The address was moved by Mr. Hector Laferte, member for Drummond, who is usually a very able and lucid speaker, but his efforts yesterday lacked originality and seemed to have been a pot-pourri of departmental reports on roads, agriculture, colonization, etc., and last but not least, the Speech from the Throne.

Mr. Hodgins, the new member for Pontiac, who was elected by the Government to second the address in English, was hardly a suitable choice. Mr. Hodgins is, no doubt, a worthy man and will represent his electors in a becoming manner.

After hearing Mr. Hodgins yesterday, there is no doubting that he is a staunch Liberal, and he quoted statistics most "liberally" to show that the Gouin Government is the greatest blessing that ever befell this Province. Providence only excepted.

Mr. Sauve's Speech.

Mr. Arthur Sauve in rising to reply explained to the House that his position was a rather singular one, and were it not for the duty which he owed the Province of Quebec, he would ask to return to the seat which he formerly occupied as a simple member. He would accept the task and the heavy responsibilities of the position and would make every effort to give the best that was in him for the interests of the Province and the Conservative party, which was founded by Sir George Etienne Cartier.

Recalling the last Provincial Elections, Mr. Sauve affirmed that it was not the popularity of the Government which had defeated the Conservative party, but a combination of personal interests and the raising of racial and religious prejudices. He considered that the party which had fought so hard in the Legislature and through the Province to defend its best interests deserved a better judgment from the electors.

Mr. Sauve then turned to the Speaker and congratulated him on his election as president of the House, and also had a word of praise for the member for Drummond, and expressed the hope that he would branch out from the beaten path of the Government and give his attention to some of the economic questions which would occupy the attention of the House.

The Leader of the Opposition spoke in praise of the million dollar grant which the Government proposed making to the Patriotic Fund and he expressed hope that there would be no more Liberal members running through the Province deploring the expense of the war.

Mr. Sauve then took up some of the Government boasts concerning their agricultural policy, and he quoted several prominent Liberals, such as the Hon. Sydney Fisher, Senator David, and others, who stated publicly that the agricultural policy in this Province does not bear the desired results.

Sir Lomer Sarcastic.

Sir Lomer Gouin after warmly congratulating the mover and second of the address and extending his best wishes in a sarcastic manner to the Leader of the Opposition, he declared that it was the leaders of the Conservative party who were responsible for the downfall of the party and amongst them was the member for Two Mountains.

The Premier defied the Leader of the Opposition to cite one instance in which a Liberal member had been elected on the Ontario School issue, or that any Minister in his Government had ever uttered a word on that question during the campaign. The demagogues to whom the member for Two Mountains referred, the Premier said, were probably those who had figured in the Drummond election in 1910, and they were now traversing the Province preaching in favor of contribution.

After reciting what the Government had done for the labor interests in this Province, Sir Lomer closed his speech with the declaration that the Province of Quebec held first place in Confederation, a place which it deserved and which it would keep.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was passed in the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon after it had been moved by Hon. J. L. Perron the new representative of the Division of Montarville, in the Upper House, and seconded in English by the Hon. Geo. Smith.

Mr. Perron's first words were expressions of veneration and respect for the memory of his predecessor, the late Hon. Mr. de Boucherville whose political career, he said, might be taken as an example by all politicians.

Recalling the departure of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Mr. Perron paid tribute to the late Governor General of Canada and pointed out how during his sojourn in this country, during a particularly difficult period, had won all hearts. Mr. Perron paid glowing tribute to the brave Canadians who have covered themselves with glory on the battlefields of Europe, and he expressed the conviction that there would be frequent repetitions of the glorious feats of Courcellette. It was the duty of the Government, he said, to relieve the worries of the brave volunteers who had left their families behind them to go and fight. It was, therefore, timely to thank the Government for having subscribed one million dollars to the Patriotic Fund.

The Government was also accomplishing useful and patriotic work in caring for the soldiers who return from the front and in appointing a commission to securing employment for them according to their respective capacity. This commission whose chairman, the Hon. Mr. Simard, was a member of the Legislative Council, had already begun its labors and there was no doubt that it would do a great deal of good.

The Province of Quebec should also be congratulated, being the only one to maintain its surplus during the crisis caused by the war.

Hon. Mr. Perron closed his speech with a strong appeal in favor of public instruction and quoted from a speech delivered by the late Honore Mercier in 1889.

Hon. Geo. Smith who seconded the address in English praised the patriotic devotion of the women of Canada for the manner in which they had assisted all works pertaining to the war. He praised the Government for its vigorous Good Roads policy and thought that the time had come to take the problem of maintaining macadamized roads.

Mr. Smith also referred to the great riches of the mines of this Province and stated that the greatest difficulty in the working of the mines was the shortage of labor.

The address was then unanimously carried.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Perreault the Standing Committees of the Upper House were named.

The Council then adjourned until Tuesday, November 21st.

PARCELS FOR WAR PRISONERSSIR GEORGE PERLEY EX-PLAINS NEW PLAN OF PRIS-ONERS OF WAR COMMITTEE

Concerning the forwarding of parcels to prisoners of war in Germany the following despatch will be of interest to any Quebecers who have friends or relatives in the hands of the Germans:—

Ottawa, Nov. 2nd.—Sir George Perley, Acting High Commissioner cabled today to the Prime Minister in confirmation of press cables that the War Office had issued regulations forbidding the sending of individual parcels to prisoners in Germany direct.

Sir George Perley explains that the plan was formulated by the new Central Prisoners of War Committee of the British Red Cross Society, and the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, and it has been approved by the British Govt.

The changes are made with the object of preventing information being sent to the enemy through these parcels. Supplies will be co-ordinated and controlled and the British Censorship will thus be eliminated. The new arrangement will take effect on December 1st next, and will apply to all the British prisoners. Naval military and civilian, except officers.

Sir George in his cable adds that he is asking colonial office to have the present regulation still apply regarding Christmas parcels reaching England after December 1st.

It is still permitted to send individual parcels to prisoners in Germany, but they must go through authorized organizations and they must not contain bread, cake or tinned food, such articles are difficult to censor without spoiling the gross weight, which must not exceed thirty pounds per week. No parcel will be sent to a prisoner unless examined or packed by an organization authorized by the committee.

Adequate supplies of food will be sent by authorized organizations to every prisoner.

AMENDMENT TO

SAN FRANCISCO CHARTER

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—An amendment to the San Francisco charter, prohibiting picketing appeared tonight to have been adopted. Complete returns from 644 precincts out of 684, showed 66,743 for and 63,407 against.

The amendment was fathered by the Law and Order Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in furtherance of its fight for the "open shop" to carry on which a fund of $1,000,000 was pledged.

REDISTRIBUTION
OF QUEBEC WARDSLEGISLATURE WILL PROB-ABLY TAKE MATTER OUT OF ALDERMEN'S HANDS.

Dame Rumor has it that the Quebec Legislature will intervene in the redistribution of the Wards of the City, a problem with which the Quebec aldermen have been struggling for some time.

It will be recalled that without any premonition whatever the reduction of the number of wards in Quebec from thirteen to eight and the number of aldermen from twenty-five to sixteen was imposed by the Legislature at its last session. The change, of course, will only take effect at the next municipal elections in 1918, but the City Council, fearing that the Legislature at the present session would make the redistribution, started out recently to study the question.

There are as many plans of subdivisions as there are aldermen, but two particularly seem to have the largest number of supporters. The first is a division into eight wards with five in Lower Town and three in Upper Town, and that plan was carried at the last meeting of the Council. At the next meeting of the Council, Ald. Bouchard will move a six-ward division, and even though it is defeated in the Council it is stated that the Private Bills Committee will favor the six-ward plan when the Quebec Bill comes up for study.

QUEBEC, NOVEMBER 9, 1916.

A GOOD RECORD.

In any record of the part which the City of Quebec has played in the present war a good deal of credit will have to be given to the Eighth Royal Rifles for its contribution to overseas forces. Of course the largest item in the computation must be the 27 officers and 350 N.C.O.'s and men who went with General Watson in the Twelfth Battalion, First Canadian Expeditionary Force. However, there has ever since been a steady stream of recruits joining other overseas battalions. In addition to the ordinary drill training these men have had a good grounding in discipline, barracks routine and duties. That they profited by this is evident from the high percentage of promotions which they received on being transferred to regiments of the Expeditionary Forces.

The record of transfers to date is as follows:—

Battalion.	Officers.	Men.
No. 12	28	350
No. 23	21	21
No. 40	8	8
No. 41	14	14
No. 42	2	2
No. 52	3	3
No. 57	2	11
No. 60	13	13
No. 69	13	13
No. 73	11	11
No. 87	3	50
No. 117	1	30
No. 124	1	1
No. 167	1	9
No. 171	8	29
No. 189	5	5
No. 244	50	50
No. 245	1	1
Other Battalions	2	7
Permanent Force	1	20
Imperial Army	1	—
Total	51	647

This is a record which cannot be approached by any other battalion in the district. And, in addition to this, it should be remembered that this regiment has from the beginning of the war been furnishing guards far out of proportion to its numerical strength, a fact which was recognized by the Headquarters Staff in Ottawa, when they came here on a visit of inspection and complimented the regiment upon its appearance and upon the work which it was doing.

THE HEARST PAPERS.

Congratulations to Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, the Postmaster-General, for his action in refusing the Canadian mails to the venomous and mendacious Hearst papers! The Chronicle has frequently protested against these papers and has not failed to point out the extent of the mischief which they were doing.

THE IMPOSSIBILITY

OF LAURIERISM

The Canadian people were recently informed by Liberal politicians and by the Liberal press, that there is to be immediately a general election, and that the true hope of the future is the Liberal party. With a delicacy born of discretion they omit to mention that the Liberal party means Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Why are they sensitive on the subject of Laurier? It is because they realize that the continuance of the Laurier leadership is an affront to all that is best in Liberalism. Fetters worship is losing its hold. Canadians are looking for real men and real things in these grave times. A plume carried about on a pole no longer commands the obedience and docile submission of a people whose eyes have been opened in a tremendous trial. In a crisis which has called for virile Canadianism, what has Sir Wilfrid Laurier done? He has reaffirmed his position as a pacifist. He has chattered of militarism, of some mysterious menace of militarism to be fought and subdued when the war is over. He has urged that the Germans, who have slain so many thousands of Canadians—sometimes with torture—be treated gently when the war is over. And he has refused to play an active part, or any part, in the call which is being made to the manhood of Canada for the winning of the war.

In refusing to aid in that call he has given open encouragement to the Nationalists.

At a time when all true Canadians are engaged in war upon the country's enemies, either in the army or in work at home, this man comes forward with warnings against military preparedness and with kind words for an enemy which has violated every law of God or man, an enemy who has made war upon the helpless and the innocent, who has slaughtered and pillaged and burned, who has committed, deliberately, atrocities more horrible than those practiced by North American Indians. And this man seeks to be Prime Minister of Canada, to secure that office by a system of insidious warfare against a Government which is prosecuting the war vigorously and well. And he calls himself a British Liberal.

The thing is unthinkable. Canada is far too earnestly engaged in the war to permit a betrayal of that kind. Sir Wilfrid Laurier forgets the thousands of homes in Canada which have become places of mourning because of this war for which he would not allow the country to prepare. There are desolate hearts, too many empty chairs, too many wounded hearts in Canada to let this thing succeed. There are too many graves out there in Picardy and Flanders to make it possible.

CANADA'S ACHIEVEMENT

Since the outbreak of the war, twenty-six months ago certain Liberal newspapers have never ceased to vilify Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes, Canada's energetic and efficient minister of militia. The following article from the Toronto News shows what Canada has accomplished and effectively disposes of General Hughes' vilifiers:—

It will be easier to appreciate the military effort put forth by Canada if the record of Great Britain in two previous wars be examined. At the time of the war with Revolutionary France, which began in 1793, the British Isles had a population of about 15,000,000. The Mother Country had months of warning, but six months after the declaration of war she had but 10,000 poorly-conditioned troops on the battle line in Flanders.

At the outbreak of the Crimean war, the United Kingdom had a population of 27,000,000, and was exceedingly prosperous. Here again, ample notice was given of the outbreak of the war. The expedition which Great Britain sent, first to Turkey and then to the Crimea, with abundant leisure for preparation, consisted of 31 battalions of infantry and 10 regiments of cavalry, with 60 guns. The imperfect provision made for this force and the difficulty experienced in keeping up its numerical strength, constitute a commonplace of British history. All told, less than 50,000 men proceeded overseas from Great Britain to Russia during the Crimean war.

The present war broke out suddenly, but Canada, with a population of 8,000,000, sent 33,000 men, gathered from the whole Dominion, across the ocean two months after hostilities began. This force was improvised and so presented some of the imperfections of haste and emergency, but it was far more scientifically organized, and it had far better medical, transport and supply services than the armies sent forth by a much more populous Britain in earlier wars. Let us recapitulate:

Great Britain, in 1793, sent abroad

about 10,000 men, badly found, in about six months.

Great Britain, in 1854, sent abroad about 30,000 men, badly found, in about six months.

Canada, in 1914, sent abroad about 33,000 men, on the whole well found, in two months.

Even Wellington never had more than 40,000 or 45,000 British infantry, cavalry and artillery at his command, and that was after the Peninsular war had been several years under way. Always a peace-loving country, Great Britain never would keep a considerable standing army, and so it was that she always made a poor showing in the early stages of every military conflict into which she was drawn. She never armed on a large scale until the cause of human freedom was well lost. Then she went in and saved it.

Over and over again in the last three centuries she has gone late to the rescue, and always in the end successfully, if at great cost. In the present instance she had only her navy ready—a navy strong enough to hold the enemy in check until she prepared her land forces to join the embattled forces of the allies. As an eminent American observer has said, "never before in the history of the world has there been such speedy preparation as Britain's. The aviation, artillery, ammunition and communication and commissary supplies of the British forces in France are miraculous, when it is considered how they started with nothing when hostilities began. Britain will reach the acme of her preparation for war next spring, when she will have five guns for every one she has in the field now."

But Canada's effort has also been marvellous. Two years and a quarter after the declaration of war the Dominion has over 100,000 men in France, 140,000 in England and on the way there, and well on to another 100,000 in training here at home. Altogether we have enlisted 370,000, and sent 260,000 overseas. The Canadian troops are supported by splendid transport, artillery, commissariat and medical services. For a country with a small population, scattered over half a continent, the Dominion has done, and is doing, amazingly well, so well that the Canadian government and people may well be proud. But more still must be done before we can be satisfied. Sir Robert Borden's appeal cannot be evaded. As the prime minister says, the last 100,000 Canadians to come forward may complete the defeat of the enemy and restore the blessings of peace to an agonized world. Who would not be one of the glorious hundred thousand?

THE MOLSON'S BANK.

Mr. William Molson Macpherson, in submitting his report as President, to the Shareholders of The Molson's Bank at their annual meeting, went further afield than usual in his address and touched on some points which are, just now of more than passing interest.

After noting that the Bank had shown satisfactory profits, which while not up to record years amply provided for usual dividends and left a good margin to be carried over to credit of "Profit and Loss", Mr. Macpherson touched on the very satisfactory condition of our farming community—which never before has received such high rewards for its labor.

Then he touched on the importance of preventing the destruction of our forest wealth either by fires or by careless and ruinous cutting—both of these evils by wise efforts on the part of our government, can be avoided—and action in the matter cannot be too prompt.

Mr. Molson Macpherson lays stress on the fact that now is the time for all classes to lay aside something for the rainy day. Business is good, employment plentiful and wages high, and it is well to remember now that less prosperous days may be in store for us.

It is satisfactory to note that The Molson's Bank have enjoyed a good measure of prosperity—deposits especially—showing a large increase and a splendid showing being made in the matter of quick assets which are unusually large. The Molson's Bank once again justifies its reputation of a conservative energetic and wisely progressive institution and the General Manager, Mr. Edward C. Pratt, together with the Staff of the Bank, is entitled to congratulations on its excellent showing.

Those who fail to view the present war in its true perspective are apparently willing to treat for peace on any terms but those who take such a stand are not statesmen. They have no vision. They do not realize the responsibilities which rest upon the statesmen of today. If as a people we had wilfully entered upon this war as Germany claims, and like the wolves up the stream threatened

TRANSCONTINENTAL PAYS WATER RATES

MUCH REJOICING AT CITY
HALL — NEW CONTRACT
WITH HARBOR COMMISSION

There was much satisfaction expressed at the meeting of the Civic Waterworks Committee last night when it was announced that the difficulty between the Transcontinental Railway and the City relative to arrears in water rates due by the railway had been settled and the company had paid up.

It is also likely that a settlement will be reached relative to the removal of the snow from the Transcontinental property in winter time.

The Committee discussed the water rates charged to the Quebec Harbor Commission and authorized Mayor Lavigne to sign a contract for two years with the Commission to supply water at the rate of $5,000 a year and also binding the commission to pay half the cost of installing an eight inch pipe on Ramsay street to connect with the Harbor property.

A letter was received from Mr. Perreault Casgrain, Assistant Manager of the Waterworks Department, and Mr. J. A. Tremblay, Assistant Engineer, asking to be named respectively manager and engineer of the department.

The letter was left over until the next meeting.

ADMIT WOMEN TO THE QUEBEC BAR

MR. LUCIEN CANNON HOPES TO PASS HIS BILL THIS SEASON.

Mr. Lucien Cannon, member of the Legislative Assembly for Dorchester County, is still a strong defender of the fair sex, and hopes to win for them the right to practice law before the Bar of the Province of Quebec.

Last session Mr. Cannon presented a bill to admit women who had made the required studies and qualified for the practice of law to be admitted to the Bar of this Province. In support of his bill Mr. Cannon delivered a speech which won him compliments from both of the House and also won him many votes in favor of his measure, which, however, was defeated by a small majority.

With twenty-two new members in the Assembly this year, Mr. Cannon hopes to change the tide in his favor and will, therefore, introduce a new bill this session on behalf of the lady barristers.

171ST BATTALION HOLDS GALA NIGHT

MEMBERS OF 9TH REGIMENT ENTERTAINED BY QUEBEC RIFLES.

An excellent entertainment was given last night by the 171st Battalion, C.E.F., in the Immigration Building to the members of the 9th Regiment. The attendance, including many civilian friends. The program consisted of solos, boxing, dances by Russian members of the regiment and selections by the band.

There was not a dull moment during the entertainment, and the artists taking part are deserving of much praise for their contributions. During the evening, Lt.-Col. Chabot, of the 9th Regiment was called upon to give an address, and in the course of his remarks spoke in glowing terms of the friendship existing between the 171st and 9th Regiments and also of the hospitality displayed towards his officers by Lt.-Col. Sir Wm. Price and the officers of the 171st. He hoped that a number of his regiment would join the ranks of the 171st Battalion. He then called upon the members of the 9th Regiment to give three cheers for Sir Wm. Price's officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the Quebec Rifles, which was responded heartily, followed by three cheers for Lady Price and the officers wives.

Lt.-Col. Sir Wm. Price then arose and in the course of an interesting speech thanked the civilian friends of the Battalion for their attendance and invited them to come again and bring their friends. Referring to Col. Chabot's speech he thanked him for his kind remarks and called upon the members of the 171st to give three cheers for Col. Chabot, officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the 9th Regiment, the request being responded to with enthusiasm.

During the entertainment Capt. J. A. Scott acted as chairman. Corp. Moody was the referee for the boxing bouts.

The band under Sergt. Huxley gave great pleasure during the evening with their splendid selections. "Denis" a black bear, the mascot of the Battalion was brought out on the stage and received an ovation.

Previous to the entertainment a dinner was tendered to the officers of the 9th Regiment by the members of the 171st Battalion's Officers Mess at which the following officers of the 9th Regiment were present:

Lieut.-Colonel L. G. Chabot, Captains J. R. Trudel, J. A. Beaubien, P. E. Trudel, L. Bouchard, C. Desrochers, Lieutenants J. J. Chouinard and L. Grenon.

GRAND PATRIOTIC SPORTING SOIREE

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT SEMI MILITARY DISPLAY HELD IN ARENA LAST NIGHT.

The Grand Patriotic Sporting Soiree held in the Quebec Arena last night was a very successful event so far as the display itself was concerned, but the attendance was not anything like what it should have been considering the object for which the display was intended to benefit; and needless to say, this is somewhat disheartening to those members of the Patriotic Sports Committee who have worked so hard with a view of making the Christmas of Quebec Boys at the front a happy one.

The programme was an elaborate one, and those taking part in the military display went through their movements in splendid style.

One of the features of the soiree was the unveiling of the names of Quebec boys who fell at the front, including those of natives of France, who, previous to the war, were resident to Quebec, and left to rejoin their regiments in France. Above the names were splendid pictures of King George, and also President Poincaré of France, which were painted by Messrs. Marier and Tremblay. The names of the fallen heroes, the battles in which they fell and the mottoes displayed at each end of the arena were beautifully executed by Mr. Percy Copeman, Gauthier and Frère, and Marchant Bros respectively, and donated by them for the event.

Mr. Louis Larose, a member of the Patriotic Sports Committee, was responsible for the beautiful electrical display whilst Messrs. N. Beliveau, V. Bedard and A. J. Dejeu performed splendid work in the bunting display.

During the evening speeches were made by the Chaplain of the 167th Battalion and Lieut. Chaumonal of the French army.

The programme was as follows:

THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN

The man who'll win the battle
Is the man behind the gun
He can shoot 'em down like cattle
And can get 'em on the run.

So the shirking slacking ones, who Loaf at home are helping, mind,
For they're all behind the guns, too—
Several thousand miles behind.

BUDGET SPEECH NEXT THURSDAY

DR. E. M. DESAULNIERS, OF CHAMBLY, APPOINTED
DEPUTY SPEAKER OF AS-SEMBLY.

It was announced in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon by the Hon. Walter Mitchell, provincial Treasurer, that he will deliver his Budget speech next Thursday, the 16th instant. This is another indication that the Government intends to carry through the work of the session with all dispatch possible.

On motion of Sir Lomer Gouin, seconded by Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Dr. E. M. Desaulniers, of Chamby, was appointed Deputy Speaker of the Assembly.

Dr. Desaulniers was chairman of the Private Bills Committee last year, and his appointment as deputy speaker will mean that the Private Bills Committee will have a new chairman. The various committees which were drafted yesterday will meet today to elect their respective chairmen and the name of Mr. J. N. Francoeur, of Lethbridge, is mentioned as the successor of Dr. Desaulniers.

FIVE MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, NO GAS OR ANY STOMACH MISERY

Don't Suffer! Here's the quickest, surest relief known for Dyspepsia, Sourness, Heartburn or an Upset Stomach—Try it!

Wonder what upset your stomach—Which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

MAJOR LEAGUE

ANDREWS AND BROWN
BANTAMWEIGHTS TO MEET
HERE TOMORROW EVENING

Two Crack American Midgits Will Battle for Supremacy at Grande Allee Rink Tomorrow Night—Charlie White Will Meet Kid George—Dumont vs. Gagnon in Semi-Windup.

The much-talked of battle of premier bantamweights will take place tomorrow evening before the Irish-Canadian Club at the Grande Allee Rink, when Willie Brown, the idol of the United States Navy, will meet Billy Peppy's loudly heralded aspirant for the bantam title, Willie Andrews.

That it will be a genuine battle from start to finish is assured as both boys are eager for a go with Johnny Ertle, the leader of the bantam class. Brown is positive that he will not only defeat Andrews, but that he will stop him before the tenth round is reached.

Andrews has a big reputation around New York, and Peppy's persistence will yet get him a decision bout with the champion. Should Andrews win in a decisive manner over the Sailor Boy, it is assured that Ertle's manager will give him a match. Both boys are in the pink of condition, have been fighting regularly and are prepared to go the ten rounds at the highest rate of speed.

In the semi-final, Kid Gagnon, who has been cleaning up all the local boys will try his hand out against Young Dumont, who it is said will give Gagnon a beating. The latter is a rough and ready boy and is a hard one to down. Dumont, however, who is a member of the Victoria and St. Saviour, promises to give him a terrific battle for the honors, and as the bout is scheduled for the eight rounds the contest is bound to be full of exciting incidents.

In the preliminary, Young Charlie White, the little battler from Cap Blanc, will meet Kid George. George is out to defeat White if possible, and if he can stop the aggressive little boy he will make a big name for himself in local pugilistic circles. White, however, is not taking any chances, and will try to down his man in hurry-up fashion.

The Irish-Canadian Club expect a record attendance at the bout, as they have been put to considerable expense to secure two clever boys down here for a mill, and if the crowd shows its appreciation of the top-notch stuff, they intend matching Johnny Ertle up with the winner or the better of the two boys.

Seats are on sale and the advance sale is proceeding briskly. Joe Montminy will referee the bouts.

PATRICK'S OBJECT TO

OATMAN'S MOVE.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Frank Patrick, according to latest information from the Coast, is agitated over the report that Eddie Oatman will be found with the 228th Battalion team. Patrick states that the N.H.A. clubs agreed to keep away from his players, and claims that the soldiers violated the peace pact when they sent Howard McNamara and Goldie Producers to interview Oatman, who enlisted with the 228th. However, he has no intention of stirring up fresh trouble.

LAVAL ADMITTED TO CITY LEAGUE

STUDENTS WILL TAKE OVER LAURENTIDE FRANCHISE IN HOCKEY CIRCUIT.

At last night's meeting of the Quebec City Hockey League presided over by President Newton, the Laurentide franchise was given to the Laval club for operation during the coming season. The Laurentides, however, have the option of taking it over again next season if they so desire.

The league studied Mr. Hart's proposition but decided to do nothing until a delegate had seen Hart and other members of the proposed organization concerning definite plans, when the matter of co-operating with the Montreals would be thoroughly threshed out.

Many different matters were discussed, chief among them being the question of playing double-headers, which did not meet with favour with several clubs. Another meeting will be held on Wednesday next. The clubs are obliged to post a $50.00 guarantee this season.

FRANK CHANCE TO MANAGE CUBS

FORMER "PEERLESS LEADER" WILL SUCCEED JOE TINKER IT IS SAID.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—A letter written in the home of Joe Tinker, in Chicago, reaching here today, told that Frank Chance had been appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs, to succeed Tinker.

The letter was received by Wade Powers, the automobile tire man, from his mother, Mrs. J. A. Powers, who left Philadelphia last week to visit Mrs. Tinker.

Mrs. Powers is a sister of the mother-in-law of Joe Tinker, who makes her home with the present manager of the Cubs. The part in the letter relating to the sensational change in the management was brief. It merely read:

"Frank Chance has been appointed manager to succeed Joe Tinker. Joe left today on a fishing trip."

There was no other reference in the note.

This was the first inkling of such a move. When credulity was expressed, Mr. Powers said:

"You can take my word for it that Joe Tinker is out, and Frank Chance is the new manager. My mother knows baseball and would never have written what she did unless it were true."

"I presume," he continued, "that Mr. Weegman and the other owners of the Cubs told Joe just how things stood and advised him to go on a fishing trip, and they would make an official announcement of the change during his absence."

Frank Chance was manager of the Cubs in the days when Chicago was a power in the National League.

He took over the Yankees in 1913, and was in control for two years. Since then he has been on the Coast.

"CAP" ANSON SEES A MAJOR LEAGUE TOWN IN TORONTO.

Plainly Sees the Queen City As a Major League Prospect After the War.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The famous "Cap" Anson is in town this week. The veteran is perhaps the best known of the old school of baseball men, but he keeps strictly abreast of the times. It is his opinion that the commercial aspect of baseball is being too much emphasized, and that the sporting element of the game is being lost sight of to too great an extent.

"I can quite plainly see that Toronto is a great ball town. I have always had that impression from what I have read and been told. There seems to be no reason why Toronto should not be a major league success when the effects of the war have disappeared," said the famous old-timer. He is accompanied by the Misses Anson.

Boston, Nov. 8.—Eleven teams of bicycle riders, competing in the six day race which began Monday, were all on even terms at 10 o'clock tonight. Each team had covered 603 miles and seven laps at that hour.

STAR PITCHERS
ALL REPEATED

W. JOHNSON AND G. ALEXANDER SHOWED THAT THEY ARE CONSIDERED LEADERS.

Grover Cleveland Alexander and Walter Perry Johnson were repeated last season, the Phillies and the National leading their respective ball leagues in lasting through games they started, just as they had in 1915. The Nebraskan pitched 38 complete contests in 1916, as against 36 in 1915, and the Kansan 36 as against 35. Alexander was entrusted with 45 starts, and Johnson with 38, Walter putting it all over Grover on the percentage basis, in the matter of travelling the full distance. The American leaguer only was extracted from two contests, while the National leaguer fell by the wayside in seven. Johnson had a finishing percentage of .947; Alexander of .833. Howard Ehmke, of the Tigers, and Burleigh Grimes, of the Pirates, made the fine record of not being withdrawn from any games that they started, each leading off in four.

"Alex" Was Busy.

Alexander led all fast set contemporaries in the number of jitching starts, Pat Moran picking him on 45 occasions to abate the foe. Bill Carrigan let "Babe" Ruth do pioneer work in 40 controversies, which was two more than Johnson started for the Nationals. Harry Coveleskie led off in 39 games for the Tigers; Al Mamaux, of the Pirates, in 38 games, and Dick Rudolph, of the Braves, in 36. The Pole displayed more stick-tiveness than any other member of the Jennings' pitching stable, figuring in 2 contests all by his lonesome. George Dauss pitched 18 complete games, Bill James 8; Jean Dubuc, 8; Willie Mitchell, 7; Bernie Boland, 5; Geo. Cunningham, 5; Howard Ehmke, 4; Earl Hamilton, 3, and George Boehler, 1.

The Leading Twirlers.

Ranking ahead of Coveleskie in the number of full games pitched stood Alexander, with 38; Johnson, with 36; Elmer Myers, with 31; Ed. Pfeffer, with 30; Al Mamaux, with 28; Al Demaree, Joe Bush and Dick Rudolph, with 25, and Jeff Tesreau and "Babe" Ruth, with 23. "Bob" Shawkey pitched the same number of complete games as the man from Shamokin, Fred Toney, Jim Vaughn, and Geo. Tyler on less, and Eppa Rixey and Carl Weiland two less.

Seven men in the National and eleven in the American failed to travel the distance even once. Dave Danforth, strikeout king of the American Association, in 1915, pitched only one full-game for the White Sox out of eight attempts, and that game was the one in which he made his debut with the White Sox. Incidentally, it was against the Tigers. He won it, 8 to 6.

Ed. Walsh's Record.

In all probability the modern record for pitching complete games is held by Ed Albi Walsh, of the White Sox, who started 49 games for them in 1908, and finished all of these except six. His boss was Fielder Allison Jones. The former spitball monarch, last season, only was permitted by Clarence Henry Rowland, to attempt to lead the South Side team to victory once and then he flivvered in the attempt, Washington knocking him out before the third of the game had been completed.

ROBERTS MAY PLAY ON COAST

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 8.—Gordon Roberts, ex-Wanderer hockey player, who is practising medicine in New Westminster, and a deal for whom is now pending between Sammy Leitch and Frank Patrick, declared today that he was anxious to play on the Vancouver team in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

President Frank Patrick stated that the deal for Roberts was still hanging fire and that while he was certain that Roberts is a star fully worth the $500 Lichtenhein is demanding, he thought the price might be lowered.

BILLIARD PLAYER

REGAINS TITLE

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 8.—By defeating Hugh Heal here tonight, George Moore, of New York, regained his title of three cushion billiard champion. The final score of the Moore-Heal match was 150 to 125, the New Yorker leading consistently and adopting the safety style of play throughout the contest.

Moore won the first block on Monday night, 50 to 41, the second went to Heal 52 to 50.

It is the second time Moore has won the title, taking it the first time from Alfred De Ore in a tournament in Chicago. He lost it to Charles McCourt, of Pittsburg, from whom Heal obtained it.

Sporting Notes

Those American elections are simply great:

1.30—Hughes is elected.
2.30—Wilson is returned to power.
3.30—Looks like Hughes again.
4.30—Wilson sure of election.
5.30—Hughes defeats Wilson.
6.30—Wilson due for another term.
7.30—Hughes new president.
8.30—Victory for Wilson.
9.30—Same thing.
10.30—Take your pick.
The Sayville wireless has at last met its match.

The Emmets were represented at last night's City Hockey League meeting by Johnny ("Spike") Sullivan and John Doyle. Frank McLaughlin's interests were well-looked after with two such heavyweights.

Speak up there, Umpire Sam, the crowd can't hear you.

There is a six-day bicycle race going on in Boston, and yet John H. Roberts says boxing is brutal.

It is pretty certain now that the Sons of Ireland will retain their whole forward line of Carey, McNaughton and LaRoche. With a solid defence, the champs will be right in the running again this season.

The Laurentides will be replaced by Laval in the local hockey league this season. The Students will likely have a strong team. They also have an option on the service of last year's players of the Laurentide club, though Mr. Letourneau, of the Montagnais, would have preferred that these should have been declared free agents.

"Steve" Newton presided for the first time over a meeting of the Quebec City Hockey League. The baseball manager and catcher will be an enthusiastic officer.

Hockey has not yet received proper attention from the fans. Nothing has yet been heard from "Joe" Hall.

The Patrick's are said to have objected to the manner in which the 228th Battalion team secured Eddie Oatman. McNamara and Producers secured a recruit and a hockey player. We cannot see how the Patricks can object and still pose as being patriotic.

Last summer when big Jess Willard was hit on the head by a pitched ball, a cruel fan shouted: "Good boy, Jess, that's the way to put the wood to it." Jess was nearly being put in a little wooden box over it.

Montreal papers are making a big splash over the fact that Fraser struck out 20 batters against St. Patrick's. Desjardins did better than that when he shut-out Patricks without a hit or a run, and fanned twenty batters in the very first game of the season.

The N.H.A. will meet in Toronto on Saturday evening. The schedule for the season will likely be submitted by the president.

Now that Hearst's papers are barred, what are you going to do to see Silk Hat Harry's divorce suit or read Beatrice Fairfax's advice to the lovers?

SNOWSHOE CLUB'S
SMOKER PLEASANT

RETURNED WOUNDED SOLDIERS WERE ENTERTAINED LAST EVENING.

Say, did you hear in your dreams last night sounds as of angels singing, nightingales trilling and harps harping? Maybe you thought: sleepily that the nigger minstrels had come to town, but it wasn't that at all—it really wasn't. 'Twas simply the echoes of the Quebec Snowshoe Club's military smoker rolling over the hills as the boys came home. It was a dandy smoker, too—lots of music, lots of fun and lots of grub. The programme which follows shows that nothing short of the best of talent is heard at the Snow Shoe Club Wounded Soldiers' concert.

The performers were:

Song Miss Rogers
Recitation Mrs. Amaron
Whistling Solo Miss Seifert
Duet
Sergts. Coles and Wiseman.
Recitation Mrs. A. E. Scott
Reading Pre. Fisher
Song Mr. H. Kinnear
Song Sergt. Roberts
Song Spr. Crutcher
Song Miss D. Gibsone
Song Corp. Fraser
Song Pie. Humm

The accompaniments were very ably played by Mrs. Thorn, Mrs. Stott and Mr. J. Kinnear. Every number on the program was heartily enjoyed, and if the soldiers had had their way, the concert would be going yet.

MAY ORGANIZE
NEW MAJOR LEAGUE

BEST CITIES OF INTERNATIONAL AND AMERICAN ASSOCIATION TO BE IN IT.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Evening Sun today says that plans have been laid by the baseball magnates of the two major leagues for the formation of a third big circuit, in which it is intended to combine the best cities in the International League and the American Association. The new league, it is said, will take in Toronto, Buffalo, Baltimore and Newark in the east and Milwaukee, Louisville, Indianapolis and Toledo in the west. The new organization, according to present plans, will not be subject to the draft rule, and may have a representative on the National Commission.

The National Association of minor leagues will convene at New Orleans on November 14th, and delegates from big and little clubs in all parts of the United States and Canada will discuss plans for the building up of the sport outside of the major leagues. With Ban Johnson standing sponsor for the proposed circuit, it is believed by the magnates that organization will be perfected and that Edward G. Barrow will be elected president.

The New York State League, according to the plans outlined, will change its name to the International, with Rochester, Montreal and Providence taking the places of Utica, Elmira and Troy. Richmond will probably return to the Virginia League or be given a franchise in the American Association. The removal of the draft which would enable the new American Association to hold all of its players with the privilege of disposing of some of them to the highest bidder.

If the new major league should develop high class playing skill next season, it is intimated that it might be admitted to the world's series of 1918. That would mean a three-cornered battle for premier baseball honors, which would interest 24 cities instead of sixteen.

THIS WOMAN IS ANXIOUS TO FIGHT.

A remarkable letter from a married woman who desires to become a soldier was read to the Blackpool, England, tribunal the other day. The letter bore the name and address of a local woman, and, referring to the large number of appeals, suggested that the shirkers should stay at home to do civilian work.

"Why can't we women," it asked, "go to the war when we are anxious to? We can use a rifle as well as any man, and I should be delighted to go into the infantry, artillery, or any service, having wanted to go since the war began. I have very strong nerves, and have been in several aeroplanes. Why can't we be soldiers like Russian women? I have been in the Women's Training Corps, but walking about in khaki with nothing to do is no use to me. I have ever done household drudgery, which is hateful and a curse."

CHARLEY CHAPLIN ATTRACTS LARGE CROWDS TO OLYMPIA.

"The Walls of Jericho" Fox Feature
Is Also Good.

Charley Chaplin and Mabel Normand in "His Trysting Places" attracted large crowds to the Olympia Theatre yesterday.

"The Walls of Jericho," a big Fox production featuring Edmund Breese, was also well received.

This programme will be offered for the last time today. Don't fail to see it.

THE RUSSIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Advance Sale For This Great Event Opens Saturday.

The beautiful Russian music now used by the Pavlova Ballet, the Diaghileff Ballet Russe, and other world-famous organizations, really owe their introduction to the Russian Symphony Orchestra. Even selections from the Russian operas "Boris Godounoff," "Prince Igor" and others were heard in concert before the works were produced at the opera. Modest Altschuler and his eminent musicians always had in mind to introduce their national music and make it better known to the people. The present transcontinental ental tour of America will bring forward to American and Canadian music lovers several Russian novelties which are practically unknown. They are wonderful masterpieces of the Russian composers which will delight to a superlative degree all those who will hear the Russians.

The Quebec concert takes place on Thursday of next week (the 16th) at the Auditorium. The event is being looked forward to as the biggest thing ever brought to Quebec and will be attended by the elite of our society and music-loving public. Seats will be on sale Saturday morning. Strictly a cash sale.

CHILDREN HATE
PILLS, COLOMEL
AND CASTOR OIL

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, colomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Judgment—Writs Issued.

Judgment by Hon. Chief Justice Lemieux:

Turgeon vs. Gravel, Judgment as prayed.

Judgment by the Prothonotary:

Feeney vs. Defoy. Judgment against defendant for $222.75, interest and costs.

Hon. Justice Belleau will deliver judgments in the following cases: Bernier & vir, vs. Pageau & Comeau, vs. Lapierre, tomorrow morning at half-past ten.

Judgment by Hon. Justice Cannon:

Barbeau vs. Dombrowski. Plaintiff sues defendant for $50 damages, asking that by the judgment of the court the insurance to the premises leased to plaintiff ceased, and that damages be paid him according to the conclusions of the action; a general denial was filed by defendant; the learned judge declares that the Superior Court has no jurisdiction whatever in the matter, considering that plaintiff claims $50 damages, and that the action is between a lessor and a lessee; doth order that the parties in the present cause be sent before the Circuit Court, for this district, to proceed with the case, without costs.

Writs of summonses issued from the Prothonotary's office:

The Omega Pump and Windmill Co., Ltd., vs. Arthur Noreau, St. David de l'Aube Riviere, $421.26, account.

Ovilda Vallee, vs. Azarias Langleis, St. Casimir, $243.70, promissory note and account.

HAS BEATEN GAS POISONERS.

I do not believe that war by chemicals or poisons will be very long lived, says Sir Hiram Maxlin. It is quite true that chlorine is a gaseous form mixed with air has proved very effective recently, but this was because it was a surprise. It was something new.

Chlorine in gaseous form is two and a half times as heavy as air, but in escaping from the receptacles in which it is contained it mixes with it at least five times its volume of air, and this, of course, reduces its specific gravity correspondingly, then, as it is blown down on the English trenches, it mixes with more air, and by the time it reaches the men there is at least twenty times as much air as chlorine; but this mixture is quite strong enough to produce fatal results.

Of course, when there are twenty or thirty times as much air as chlorine, ine, the mixture is only slightly heavier than the surrounding air, and it does not take much to dissipate it. And that is the last job I have been working on.

I have designed an apparatus that will dissipate these poisonous gases very cheaply and effectively, and it is being made at the present moment; but of course it would not do to divulge the system I employ.

As this apparatus of mine will remove all the terrors of chlorine, it is safe to say that its use will be counteracted.

The City of Quebec, Plaintiff;

NOW IS THE TIME

to send some Zam-Buk to your soldier friend at the front. With the coming of cold weather, the men in the trenches all suffer, more or less, with chapped hands, cold cracks, chilblains and cold sores, and the soldier who has some Zam-Buk on hand to apply immediately any of these painful ailments make their appearance, will be saved hours of suffering.

Pte. E. Westfield of "C" Company, 3rd Worcester Regiment, writes: "We wish our friends would send us out more Zam-Buk.
It is splendid for sore hands, cold cracks, cold sores, etc."

Nothing ends pain and heals so quickly as Zam-Buk, and being sterilized, it prevents blood-poisoning.

SAVED ALIVE FROM THE JAWS OF A BEAR

Brother Struck Enraged Brute With an Ax and Rescued Ellery Harer.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 7.—Ammon Harer, a farmer living near Liberty, saved the life of his brother Ellery (who lay prostrate under a wounded bear, which was tearing and chewing the man's arm) by striking the animal on the head with an ax.

The exciting battle occurred on the Harer farm recently. As Ellery Harer opened the kitchen door at his farm home to investigate a peculiar noise he was confronted by a large black bear only a few feet from the door. The farmer jumped back into the house and slammed the door
almost in the face of the bear.

Armed with a gun containing one shell he partly opened the door and fired. The shot wounded the bear, which turned and disappeared down a gully below the house.

Harer, carrying his gun with five shells—all the ammunition in the house—and his brother, armed with an ax, followed. They soon overtook the bear. Harer pumped the remainder of the ammunition into the bear's body and the enraged animal turned on him.

Raising itself the animal struck Harer with a front paw, tearing the flesh of his arm. As the bear struck both fell, the man under the bear.
The man was held a prisoner as the bear tore and bit at his bleeding arm, until his brother rushed to his rescue and with a blow with the ax on the bear's head killed it.

The Pepp way of treating coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung and throat troubles. How? Well, up to now people with these chest and throat troubles have used lowed cough mixtures, sickly syrups and the like, into their stomachs. Sore lungs and throat get no good by dosing the stomach. Pepp works differently.

Pepp are tablets made up of Pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes
—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing. Try a 50c. box of Pepp for your cold,
your cough, bronchitis or asthma.

THE RUMANIAN SOLDIER.

A Brave and Indomitable Fighter.

(By a Correspondent.)

He would hardly do for the Long Valley. But, then, he, or those who make him, do not intend him for show. The primary idea is work, and this idea is followed to the last. As a marching man, I do not suppose there is any soldier of any other land
to whom he cannot, when necessary, give points and a beating, and he will do it on a scrap of maize-meal boiled
but a few minutes, and a little ditch-water. On service, it is true, he is fed on black bread and soup, made of beans with a little, a very little, meat,
and when he has this, he, the peasant soldier at least, thinks he is faring royally, for at home the aforesaid maize porridge is all he eats, with,
perhaps, an onion or so now and then,
and, if he is very lucky, a bit of meat on Sundays and holidays. The Rumanian peasant does not speak of meal times; he has no specific word for breakfast, dinner, or supper. He says it is time for "mamalgia," his word for the maize food he is ever ready for.

He will march, if he is ordered to,
till he drops, and this carrying more in the way of equipment and ammunition than any other European soldier, with no music of the band to cheer him; only, perhaps, some of the soldiers may play their native wooden whistles, or they will join in chorus in the old war songs of long ago or in their peasant ditties.

His Fighting Kit.

He is not very beautiful, this Rumanian soldier, but he looks workmanlike, and immensely so. He wears a uniform for campaigning of a "mignonne" green grey. In summer he wears a loose holland blouse; at other seasons the tunic and trousers are of a thick serge. The blouse and tunic have two breast pockets with buttons, and two in the skirt, slanted to meet his hands. His footgear is a pair of heavy comfortable lace boots, reaching over his ankles, in which his trousers, narrowed down for the purpose, find a home. This idea is borrowed from his neighbour and archenemy, the Hungarian, with whom he is now at grips. In fact, his whole equipment is the outcome of careful study of that of other nations. His haversack is of strong canvas, the water bottle (of tin) fitting into a pocket on the outside of it and thus saving a strap. His knapsack is of strong canvas, much the colour of his uniform, and he carries his ammunition in four clip pockets much as his new ally, the British Tommy, does.
His weapon is the Mannlicher and short bayonet.

I said his footgear was the ankle-boot, but he also wears in preference,
when his commanders and the weather allow, the native sandal with thongs tied half-way up his calf; and admirable for marching, it is, except in wet weather, when it slips. The cavalry, too, have adopted putties, always of the same colour as the uniform.

He is as brave as a lion, this Rumanian soldier, and whether he be the very spick and span officer from Celea Victoria, or the rough peasant from the Baragan or the Olt, all have in their veins a certain amount of the same blood as flowed in Tra-jan's legionaries, for it is from these Roman colonists that they descend and of which they are so justly proud; whereas he is a bonny fighter.
Only now at Turtukai, against five times their number of Bulgars and Germans, for four days and nights they fought unceasingly, most of them, it is proudly related, never able to stop to eat or drink for three days and three nights, only getting and occasional drink passed along when a lull in the frightful fighting occurred, never having a moment's rest to touch the food brought to them. "If we stopped firing a moment they were on us," I was told by one of the wounded back from the great fight.

The dead Bulgars and Beches, it is stated by eye-witnesses, were piled up breast-high before the Rumanian trenches, for the inundating system of the Germans was used here once again, with disastrous effects on the attackers. No official figures are given, but anything like ten to fifteen thousand dead is talked about, and cannot, if not absolutely correct, be far short of the mark. One wants no better proof of valour than this. It was only when very heavily artillery was brought up and turned on the devoted Rumanian trenches that a withdrawal was necessary, and even then the remnants of those who had fought so stubbornly begged with tears in their eyes to have "just another volley" at the brutes of Bulgars, their ever hated enemy.

Courage and Cheerfulness.

Nor is it only the peasant who is such a great soldier. Among the regiments at Turtukai was one recruited in Bucharest, in the ranks of which are to be found all the apaches, corner lads, and "such like wild-fowl" of Bucharest. No one regiment did better than this one—whatever he be—Boyar, peasant, judge or criminal, the moment he puts on his uniform he is a soldier not on the outside only, but through and through. Nor is the dandy officer, whom the tourist or occasional visitor to the capital always saw, any but a fighter. He is proving a splendid leader of his men, and, where necessary, displays reckless courage, as a dozen tales from both frontiers confirm.

The wounded, back in some hundreds from Turtukai, show a wonderful spirit, and all ask to be cured of their wounds to get back at the "brigands of Bulgars," as they term them. There is reason for this adjective. In Rumanian Dobrudja, in the Bulgarian villages, when it was known that war was declared against Austria, Austria, let it be noted, and not Bulgaria—the inhabitants, without previous warning, attacked the weak parties of Rumanian soldiery in them with scythes, hatchets, knives or what not; inflicting hundreds of fearful wounds, the women, and even children, joining in the butchery of the military, who were helpless against these latter.

One other trait of this Rumanian soldier is his wonderful patience and good spirits under pain. During the last few days hundreds of wounded have come into the Bucharest hospitals with every imaginable kind of wound. They have travelled all the way by motor or rail, yet no word of complaint. They all quietly bear their agony, and are deeply grateful for all that is done for them. Let me tell one fact. A doctor was about to remove the arm of a soldier, shattered by shell. "Now the chloroform," said the surgeon. "Ah, no,
never mind, sir," replied the soldier.
"The Bulgars did not give me chloroform before they fired the shell at me, did they?"

Arms have been chopped off and other nameless horrors perpetrated by these fiends in human form. A heavy toll is taken in the fighting for this, but not on the women and children, for the Ruman is a clean fighter, if a terribly fierce one, when he gets to grips with his traditional enemies.

Severe Headaches

and Pain in the Back

Resulted From Deranged Kidneys and Constipation of the Bowels.

It is in vain to try to regulate and restore the healthful action of the kidneys until the liver and bowels are set right.

And just here is where so many kidney medicines fail. Kidney disrangements almost invariably begin with constipation and torpidity of the liver. The whole work of filtering the blood is thrown on the kidneys, and in time they fail to stand the strain.
The poison in the system gives rise to severe headaches, pains in the back and tired, depressed feelings.

Because they act directly on the liver and bowels, as well as on the kidneys, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are eminently successful in the treatment of kidney derangements.

Mr. William Loney, Marysville, N.B., writes: "I am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anybody who is suffering from kidney trouble or constipation. I suffered for a long time from kidney

SHIP MOVEMENTS ABOUT THE PORT

ONLY LIGHTER CRAFT ACTIVE YESTERDAY—SS. CRIB OWNED BY QUEBECERS.

With the exception of the ocean freight carrying vessels in port either discharging or taking on cargo, yesterday did not add to the activity along the water front.

Several lighter craft either came in or left port during the day. Among them the steam barge Wakamaw which left port for Dalhousie after discharging a cargo of coal in the inner basin.

The steam barge Cabotia arrived down with a cargo of coal which is being discharged under the clams of the Canadian Import.

SS. Cairndhu passed inward and the Durley Chine outward.

The whaling ship "Crib" reported in these columns yesterday as having been sold to the Holiday Co. of Montreal, we are informed is owned by Messrs. M. Holliday and A. L. Wade of this city who purchased the vessel last fall from the insurance company while she was aground.

After having been refloated the present owners brought the Crib to Quebec for repairs. The vessel is now in the Davie Dock and it is expected that the repairs will be completed next week when she will be offered for sale by Messrs. Holliday and Wade the present owners.

FREIGHTS AND CHARTERS.

New York, Nov. 8.—Steamer rates held firm and a steady demand prevailed for tonnage, but the limited offerings of tonnage restricted chartering. Quotations on grain were nominal, but cotton to Liverpool, per 100 lbs. was quoted at $1.50.

Charters: Norwegian steamer, 26,000 quarters grain, Atlantic route to Norway, private terms, November; British steamer, 34,000 quarters, same; British steamers, 34,000 quarters, same; British steamer, 2,875 tons, coke, Baltimore to west coast South America, private terms, November-December; Spanish steamer, 1,313 tons, general cargo, New York to Barcelona, berthed, November; British schooner, tons, lumber, St. John, N.B. to Las Palmas, $18 and port charges; British schooner, tons, lumber, Bridgewater, N.S. to Havana, $11.25; schooner, 492 tons, salt, Turks Island to Baltimore private terms.

RAPPAHANNOCK OVERDUE.

Sailed From Halifax With Apple Cargo 22 Days Ago.

Halifax, N.S., November 8.—Un- easiness is felt regarding the Fur- ness-Withy steamship Rappahan- nock, which sailed from Halifax for London twenty-two days ago. The greater part of the Rappahannock's cargo was Nova Scotia apples. She has been sailing out of this port and has the record of landing car- goes in much better condition than any other steamer except, perhaps, the Kanawha, a sister ship.

A cable from London yesterday announced that no news of the steamer had been received on that side and that in order to keep up the sailings the steamer Edenmore would be despatched at once to Hal- ifax, calling first at St. John.

The Rappahannock is equipped with wireless and it seems strange that she has not been in communica- tion with some point if she is still afloat. Her usual trip to London from Halifax is within twelve days and she has made the voyage in a little over ten days. Early this year

MERELY FLIRTING.

Conversation Is Entirely Emotion Says the Late Raymond Asquith.

A very interesting article by the late Raymond Asquith, the Premier's eldest son, appears in The London Chronicle, for which it was written just before the writer went to the front.

"What is the object of Conversa- tion?" he asks. "What is its essence? I assert in the broadest and vulgar- est way that all good modern conver- sation is flirting. Neither more nor less.

"It is a profound mistake to sup- pose that the object of conversation is merely or even mainly the com- munication of ideas. The essential function of conversation is to be the medium not of an intellectual, but of an emotional interchange. In the mere exchange of ideas emotion has no say. It is a business more easily and effectively transacted between persons of the same sex than between persons of different sexes. In the discussion of any given subject two men (or, for all I know, two women) can get to the root of the matter more nearly and more quickly than a man and a woman.

"A clear head, a quiet pulse, a com- mon dialect—these are the conditions most favorable to a purely intellec- tual commerce. There is a cold, im- personal lucidity, at once unheated and unclouded by emotion, which distinguished ideal discussion from ideal conversation.

"On the other hand, an excess of emotion is not less fatal to conversa- tion than a defect. As in the sea- less interchange of ideas between man and man, emotion has little part in that warm transference of spirits which occurs between a man and a woman who are actually in love with one another.

"But midway between the inter- change of ideas and the transference of spirits stands that subtle and ambiguous form of communion, at once intimate and superficial, which for want of a better name I have called flirting.

"Each of the two parties to this delicate relation must be conscious of the other's charm, must be attracted and desirous of attracting, yet not in love. Love is clamant and invasive. It strives to possess or even to be- come that which is its object. The emotion which underlies flirting is ap- preciative rather than appetitive, and would enjoy the treasures of an- other's nature not by appropriating, but by appraising them. It aims at achieving a real but transient intima- cy, an illuminated glimpse into some gracious aspect of another's being.

"Intimacy of this sort is a thing more likely to spring from the flicker of an eyelash or the curl of a lip than from a mouth of the most sacred confidence; it is something both brief and sudden; an intuition, not a habit; a gulp of champagne against the palate, never a millstone round the neck; the wing of the kingfisher dip- ping in the pool of the soul and flash- ing on again, not the neb of the duck nuzzling in the slime for worms.

If Stomach Hurts

Drink Hot Water

A Physician's Advice.

"If dyspeptics, sufferers from gas, wind or flatulence, stomach acidity or sourness, gastric catarrh, heart- burn, etc., would take a teaspoonful of pure bisaturated magnesia in half a glass of hot water immediately after eating, they would soon forget they were ever afflicted with stomach trouble, and doctors would have to look elsewhere for patients." In ex- planation of these words a well known New York physician stated that most forms of stomach trouble are due to stomach acidity and fer- mentation of the food contents of the stomach combined with an insuffi- cient blood supply to stomach. Hot water increases the blood supply and bisaturated magnesia instantly neu- tralizes the excessive stomach acid and stops food fermentation, the com- bination of the two, therefore, being marvelously successful and decid- edly preferable to the use of artificial digestants, stimulants or medicines for indigestion.

GREAT WAR PICTURES OF "BATTLE OF THE SOMME" AT AUDITORIUM TODAY

FAMOUS FILM OF BRITISH ARMY ACTUALLY AT THE FRONT WILL BE SHOWN IN QUEBEC FOR THE FIRST TIME UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE QUEBEC CHRONICLE.

"The Battle of the Somme" in motion pictures will be shown for the first time today in Quebec, at the Auditorium Theatre, under the auspices of the Quebec Chronicle. This afternoon the first performance will begin at 2 o'clock and the second at 7:30. The evening shows will be at 7:30 and 9:00 p.m. Prices for matinees are 15 and 25 cents. The evening prices are 30, 25 and 15 cents. There is bound to be a record attendance.

When General Sherman said that war was hell, he spoke what was a truism to every soldier and a world which knew that side of war which is concerned with broken hearts and ruined homes, agreed with him.

But the world did not know war at first hand; the question was, should it be enlightened so far as the moving picture camera could accomplish that feat. Should those who worked or waited, or most of all, those who were not giving the maximum of effort in support of those actually fighting, be shown in a more intimate and nearer way than even before. Something—but not by all means all—of what these last were suffering in the cause of justice and of freedom.

The judgment of authority was given in favor of the revelation and the nation has endorsed it. It was no question of making a show of death or suffering for the recreation of pleasure-seekers, nor have the pictures so widely shown ever been accepted in that spirit. They are to the vast mass of the nation a sacred thing for they show something of the greatest sacrifice that man can make—the giving up of life itself, and all that it holds dear in a noble cause.

But then came sinister rumors of an attempt, by means of subtle influence, such as we have learned to know well in this war, to get certain scenes removed from the films that are being shown. These scenes, it was understood, are not those which deal with the charges of our troops under fire and in which men are seen to fall, perchance to rise no more; there are the scenes which might be considered offensive to German or pro-German sentiment. It was asked whether an unseen hand was at work once more through the medium of our sentimentalists and whether this underground agitation was another phase of the "Don't humiliate Germany" movement that was so sternly repressed by public opinion at the opening of the conflict.

The English public, however, would stand no tampering with the films which are now to be shown in Quebec. They have already been carefully edited, they contain absolutely nothing which it is unfit that the nation should see and as they are now, so they must remain. The beginning of the terrible combat on the Somme, an actual battle in progress, artillery actions, mine explosions and charges into the enemy trenches is shown in the official pictures.

The films include five sections dealing with the preparatory action from June 25 to June 30, and an attack on June 31 and July 1, and every phase of the action is marvellously depicted.

The Battle of the Somme in motion pictures is the greatest production of its kind the world has ever known and it rivets the attention of the audiences wherever shown. The film will be presented to Quebec audiences for the first time this afternoon, when the Quebec Chronicle will display the film at the Auditorium Theatre.

AN ENGLISH BASEBALL STORY

REPORT OF A GAME IN A LONDON PAPER IS "BRAND NEW."

The following account of a baseball game played by two military teams in England appeared recently in a London daily:

Salisbury were the first to bat, but were soon out, and Prior Park took the bat. The pitchers, especially Sergt. Rogers, whizzed the balls up at tremendous speed, and most of the batsmen dismissed were out through missing it. Much fun was caused by the attempts of the base-runners to steal runs and the efforts of the fielding side to catch them napping. One of the fieldsmen while Salisbury were batting, caught a batsman notwithstanding a collision between batsman and the fieldsmen which brought down the latter.

Overlooked a Run.

When Salisbury were batting four balls with no strikes were sent to Sergt. Rogers, who accordingly walked over to first base, and immediately afterwards he gained another base by a venturesome run after a batsman had been dismissed for not running or striking a legitimate ball. In this inning Sergt. Rogers completed his first run, which, as it afterwards transpired there was only one in the first inning, made two for the side. And so the game proceeded. The first base through a ball from the pitcher striking him. Prior Park then got all their bases full, and scored a run, and then two more followed some poor throwing and an overthrow. Another came in the same innings. The score was now 4-2 for Prior Park.

Time Was Up.

The biggest hit of the match—by Corporal Dick—produced three runs for Salisbury, and they took a good lead. Subsequently the run-getting proved fairly even, and at the close of the eighth inning—it being half-past five—the game finished, with the score officially given as 9-6, in favor of the Salisbury Canadians.

THE WOMEN'S RECRUITING LEAGUE OF QUEBEC

An Appeal.

Any Woman who can look upon the sufferings of the women and children of Belgium and Northern France, of Serbia and Poland and Asia Minor and Persia, without having her deepest feelings of sympathy aroused, and her equally deep feelings of indignation and anger stirred up against the ruthless enemy, has surely failed to realize that those who have been made to suffer are women with as fine a sense of the value of purity and honor as herself. And any woman who does not recognize that defeat for us and our Allies brings at once the same shameful persecution to her own door has not grasped the fact that Canada is the prize our enemies seek above all other British colonies.

But, when women realize all these things, what can they do?

1. Help our eligible men to go and do their duty to Canada and the Empire;

2. Help to keep the industrial and commercial life of Canada going so that our heroes may come back to a country throbbing with the pulse beat of healthy vigor.

And, any eligible man who, hearing the call of King and Country for men, fails to respond because of some trivial excuse, must at last stand condemned before his mother and sister and wife or sweetheart, for, in addition to liberty and justice and honor in a national sense, it is their womanly purity he refuses to defend.

Surely, we men and women of Canada must unite in order that we, together, may rise to the heights of service and sacrifice to which the great needs of our country call us!

FORMER QUEBEC BOY IS MISSING

LT. C. C. TEMPLE OF 2ND BATTALION, C.M.R., ON CASUALTY LIST.

Word has been received from the front that Lieut. Claude C. Temple, of the 2nd Battalion Canadian Mounted Rifles is missing, and no definite information as to his fate can, as yet be procured. Shortly after the outbreak of the war, Lieut. Temple, who at the time was on the Staff of the Northern Crown Bank in Vancouver, enlisted in the Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles; and was wounded at the battle of Ypres. Afterwards, he was given a Commission in the 2nd Battalion of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, in which Corps he served until the time of his disappearance.

From a letter received from an officer, it would seem that at the time he disappeared, Lieut. Temple was endeavoring to establish communication with another body of troops, and had gone forward to look over the ground. Unfortunately, however, in doing this, he got out of touch with his own men and has not been seen or heard of since, owing to its having been daylight at the time a search could not be made without exposing the search party to heavy fire. The opinion is that he has been killed.

Lieut. Temple belonged to a military family: his grandfather, Major Henry Temple, well-known in his day in Quebec Society, having for many years been an officer in H. M. 15th Regiment, other members having also served in various branches of the English Army.

THE WHIRLPOOL BATH.

It Is Replacing Bandages in English Hospitals.

Of new and improved appliances and methods of treatment many wonderful examples are to be seen at the English military hospitals.

Queen Alexandra's Military Hospital is described as follows by the London Daily Mail: I saw several patients undergoing a new healing treatment. Two of these men were most severely wounded in September of last year, and for ten months had been treated in the customary way without any sign of healing. On August 2 they were brought to Millwall, the bandages were flung away, the wounds were subjected to repeated applications of a stream of ozone, being lightly covered with a loose layer of lint in the intervals, and in four days healing was in rapid progress.

This treatment is simplicity itself. Oxygen passes from a reservoir into an electrical machine which converts it into ozone; the ozone flows out through a fine metal tube. The machine is wheeled close to the patient's bed, the wound uncovered, and a stream of microbe-killing ozone flows into the deepest recesses. No painful dragging off of bandages, no re-bandaging of the limb to hurt and exhaust the patient. I saw here a soldier who had lost his right foot, with a stump covered with skin so healthy and hard that he could walk upon it, a surgical marvel.

What might be called the open-air treatment of wounds has come to stay. At the Herbert Hospital is a soldier with a bad compound fracture of the leg. The limb is not swathed in many yards of bandages as was the custom, but lies between bandages to secure immobility and is covered only with a single layer of lint.

The lint is kept constantly wet with an antiseptic fluid (peroxide of hydrogen). Surrounding the leg is a large cage covered with a sheet of thin butter muslin, so that the wound is constantly refreshed by a free current of air. Extremely rapid healing and freedom from the agony of manipulation are the great gains from this mode of treatment.

The whirlpool bath is entirely a war invention, from which excellent results in cases of stiff joints have been obtained in France. As I saw it at some of the military hospitals visited, it consists of a small oblong bath, filled with water which is kept in continuous movement by a miniature propeller revolved at a very high speed by means of an electric motor. A stiff arm or leg, hand or foot, placed in the bath and kept there for some time is much improved by the stimulus of the running water.

Marvellous examples of bone carpentry are to be seen, such as the transference of a large piece of bone from the leg to fill a gap in the arm bone or jaw.

Trench-foot is being more or less successfully treated by massage, operation, and other methods. I saw a soldier victim of this affliction walking with a little difficulty, but very well pleased with himself; it was the first time he had put on boots for nine months.
