CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE MAKES IT OFFICIAL

ONE OF THE FIRST candidates to take out nomination papers and make the cash deposit required by election law was Egan Chambers, the official conservative entry in the August 10th

Keep Speed Bylaws, Or Else Says Police Department

Westmount police officers will be paying particular attention to those automobile drivers who by their failure to observe the rules of the road and the speed restrictions of the Quebec Motor Vehicle

Rooming House Owner Is Fined In Court

Stanley Dellagana, a rooming house keeper who operates his boarding house at 342 Kitchener avenue, was fined the maximum of $40 and given one month to desist in operating when he pleaded guilty in Westmount Municipal Court to breaking a city by-law.

Mr. Dellagana entered the plea of guilty after a Superior Court judgment ruled that Westmount Municipal Court had the right to enforce a city by-law prohibiting rooming houses from operating in certain sections of the city.

The rooming house keeper had applied for a ruling from Superior Court on the same grounds that two other rooming house keepers had successfully prevented Westmount from taking action.

Mr. Justice Stewart B. Ralston ruled in the Dellagana case, however, that the conditions were not the same. Mr. Dellagana, he said, had begun operating after the zoning by-law had been enacted while the other rooming house keepers had been in business prior to the by-law in 1948.

The Examiner had inadvertently listed Mr. Dellagana's address as 25 Arlington avenue last week. The correct address is 342 Kitchener avenue.

Act have caused a fifty per cent increase in cases of speeding by-law infractions according to information received from the city hall.

Authorities are determined that the speed laws in the municipality will be observed and for the benefit of local residents who may quite unintentionally leave themselves open to court action the following extract from the provincial act is published.

"d. In cities, towns and villages, a speed in excess of thirty miles per hour in any street or public highway bordering an agglomeration of dwellings, saving the provisions of the following paragraph:

e. A speed in excess of twenty miles per hour on winding mountain roads, in dangerous curves, in commercial districts, in front of schools, at intersections and at level railway crossings."

Recent amendments to the provincial act have endowed various municipalities through the province with powers to handle their own traffic speed laws and this matter is under consideration by the City council which contemplate proposed amendments in local speed by-laws covering safety zones, schools, playgrounds and even lanes.

Cedar avenue residents who have been annoyed by the squeal of tortured rubber on the curve from the Boulevard despite the sign requesting courtesy and residents residing on the hilly avenues of the city who have been appalled by the speed of descending vehicles will welcome the police campaign

City Decides To Appeal Court Edict

The city of Westmount intends to appeal to a higher court against a ruling handed down by the Superior Court.

City officials decided at a council meeting this week they would appeal the ruling which prevents them from billing the Montreal Transportation Commission for one half of the snow removal costs on streets used by the Montreal Transportation Commission tramways and autobuses.

The Superior court had ruled that since the tramways system had been municipalized under the Transportation Commission they could not be forced to pay the costs.

Westmount, however, has decided to seek a judgment from a higher court on the issue.

Fire Causes Damage At Bakery Plant

Fire department personnel and equipment under Captain Emile Durocher, paid a hurry-up call to the Somerville Ave. plant of Wonder Bakeries at 6.30 A.M. last Sunday morning when they were informed by Dominion Electric Protection Service that the bakery sprinkler system had started to operate.

Damage to the plant was confined to low figures and production which ended on Friday evening was resumed on schedule.

Are Political Candidates News Minded, Asks Scribe

There may have been a time when candidates in the St. Antoine - Westmount constituency were really serious about political affairs such as their nomination papers, their cash deposit, the state of the country, and showed this depth of purpose in ways which made election time a veritable harvest for a humble news gatherer — but judging from events to date on the local scene, that time has gone for ever.

With an official Liberal candidate, a C.C.F. candidate, an L.P.P. candidate and a conservative candidate contesting the seat and seeking the favour of the voters one would expect that all of the candidates would be eager to reach the electors with their side of the story through the medium of the news page but with the exception of a young doorbell ringing conservative, running a campaign on a shoestring and anxious to tell his story of the conservative party by any means, all candidates appear to be on vacation, recovering from vacation—thinking of next year's vacation; or they are negated in a conspiracy to make life hard for news reporters.

Monday is the deadline for official nomination and to date all of the candidates have filled in official papers and deposited their money with the exception of the C.C.F. candidate and in days of yore this was an ideal chance to show the voters that they really meant business but what happens in St. Antoine-Westmount? One candidate thinks enough of the readers and is shrewd and thrifty enough to cash in on the opportunity with the result that his picture appears in the paper, while the others immediately label the paper as Conservative.

None of the candidates seem to have the old fashioned idea of holding a public meeting and thereby providing interesting news for voters with the exception of Egan Chambers who did bring down Donald Fleming from Toronto and held a rally up in Ridgcrest Hall on Ridgewood avenue early in July.

Another news item provided by the conservatives, for which we are truly grateful is the fact that the conservative has invaded the St. Antoine street part of the constituency with two committee rooms, thereby carrying the battle into a section of the riding which

Library Travel Exhibition Is Extended At Institute

Members of the Mechanics' Institute Library have shown so much interest in the Travel Folders and Booklets, currently on display in the library, that the librarian, Miss Sybil Grimson, says they will remain on exhibition for another month. Beautiful booklets were donated by the Federal and Provincial Tourist Bureaus, Railway, Steamship, and Air companies, and are available for members, while the supply lasts. Neighbouring gas stations were so generous with road maps that they ran short themselves and had to send enquirers to the library.

 By JACK HIRSHBERG

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 — TICKETAPE: In recent years many legitimate theaters have been sold to television networks for use as studio facilities. Putting the reverse twist on this, however, is Huntingdon Hartford's purchase of the famed Lux Radio and TV Theater on Hollywood's Vine Street. The A and P heir will turn it into a legitimate theater and dramatic workshop . . . In 1946 the eight major film studios employed over 26,000 permanent workers. Today the aggregate figure is less than 11,000 . . . Roy Rogers will sell his rodeo, film and TV holdings for $8,000,000 — if he can find a taker.

But it takes more than TV and tightened purse-strings to wreck the movies. Now oil has been discovered on the studio lots of MGM and 20th CenturyFox . . . Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, whose TV show heads the U.S. polls, may buy the Charlie Chaplin film studio . . . Jacqueline Cochran, whose Canadair F-86 recently fractured the world speed records, is married to financial magnate Floyd Odum and lives on a 2,000 acre ranch about 150 miles south of Los Angeles. Odum spends every day from sun-up to dusk standing in his swimming pool dictating to two secretaries and talking via long distance with his representatives across the world.

Ingrid Bergman is not likely to visit her daughter in America for some time . . . Richard Avonde, former Canadian fencing champ and Toronto bandleader is building a reputation as one of the screens busiest menaces . . . While Louis B. Meyer is virtually out of Cinerama, the Canadian expatriate retains ownership of "Paint Your Wagon" and "Blossom Time" and may produce them independently . . . Sonny Tufts, one of the town's more dedicated drinkers, was slightly high and heckled a night club master of ceremonies the other night. But the emcee shot back with: "If I did anything to offend you, Sonny—please believe me!" . . . Same fellow same evening "Sophie Tucker—she's the Judy Garland of the Stone Age!"

Lanza Stays 'Legit'
 Esther Williams expects her baby in two months, but still gives daily swimming lessons to blind kiddies at a Los Angeles nursery school . . . Mario Lanza, reportedly near bankruptcy, turned down an offer for more than $20,000 a week to sing at a Las Vegas casino. Gambling and singing, says he, do not mix . . . MGM's "Rose Marie" is being shot at Jasper National Park

THE COMMODORES: Add old-time fiddling to the feats of The Commodores, known to listeners throughout Canada for their four-part rendition on CBC networks of sea chanteys, western ballads, Negro spirituals and "the old songs". The nautical gents haven't actually taken up violins yet, but they'll be backing Canada's 1953 champion old-time fiddlers on the CBC Trans-Canada network broadcast from the All-Canadian Open Old-time Fiddlers' Contest in Shelburne, Ontario, Saturday, Aug. 8. The Commodores are (from top to bottom) John Ringham, of Vancouver, baritone; Donald Parrish, of Wallaceburg, Ontario, bass; Carl Tapscott, Toronto, second tenor and arranger; and Harvard Reddick, Bloomfield, Ontario, first tenor.

. . . Because an increasingly large number of jazz musicians have been arrested and jailed on charges of using narcotics the American Federation of Musicians voted to expel any member guilty of criminal dope addiction or use . . . Sign of the times is this advertisement in Variety: "Theater For Rent, 8,500 square feet, suitable for conversion to bowling alley or storage."

One of the industry's key figures told me yesterday television saturation has reached its peak, three-dimension is a quickly passing craze which helped Hollywood coin a fast added profit, the public has broken the oldtime movie-going habit but has developed a discriminating taste for good films, and such pictures as "Shane" and "Stalag 17" are drawing crowds . . . Hume Cronyn, who jumped from McGill Players' Club shows to stardom on stage and celluloid, hopes to develop a national repertory company with his wife, Jessica Tandy, in the States . . . Another former Canadian, Mary Pickford, has applied for a license to operate a TV station . . . There's a bar in downtown Los Angeles near the Courthouse called Club Alimony.

And a motel in Santa Monica advertises thus: "Morally Clean—Free TV" . . . Newest thing in makeup for males is a crewcut toupee and canned dandruff to sprinkle upon it. And, of course, the Max Factor Company specializes in chest wigs for hairless-chested males to wear at the beach!

PUTTING

The Honey-Pot Tournament held on Wednesday evening, July 15th, proved to be very popular in that there were twenty-five participants.

Mr. W. Scott won the men's competition going away with a high of 102. The nearest score to him was 97.

Mrs. R. Kent and Mrs. Aldford were the leaders in the ladies' tournament, but did not play off due to the terrible heat which had begun to take its toll. Each of the winners received a silver teaspoon for their effort.

There are quite a few new faces showing at the green now, and we would like to take this opportunity of welcoming you and any other friends that you may bring along.

Westmount residents may play on this green, but should have a card permit which is issued from the Recreation Department at 4350 St. Catherine St. W. For further information please call Rocky Rothwell at FI. 6975.

Cerebral Palsied Publish Magazine

The first issue of a new digest-size magazine devoted to the interests of those suffering from cerebral palsy has just appeared. Its name is Quest, and its editor is Eleanor M. Hill.

Quest is published by the Southern Alberta Cerebral Palsy Association, from an office at 223 Seventh Avenue, East, Calgary. Income from its sale will be used to assist cerebral palsy groups from coast to coast.

"Cerebral palsy is not a disease, it is not hereditary nor is it contagious," writes Miss Hill. "It results from an injury to cells in the brain which control our muscles, and it occurs either before, during, or after birth. There is no known cure to date, but nearly all cerebral palsied children can be helped through adequate treatment, care and education. Treatment is slow. It cannot be measured in days or months—only in years, under the guidance of trained personnel. A cerebral palsy program is a costly one.

"It is our desire through this magazine to bring help and encouragement to parents of cerebral palsied children, to C.P. persons themselves, and to bring interesting and educating reading to their friends."

First issue of Quest runs to 72 pages.

Speed Keynotes Rotary Lunch

Any member of the Westmount Rotary Club who took part in the local club's annual golf tournament at Whitlock on Wednesday and who was humbled by Old Man Par should have no trouble in obtaining a watertight alibi to account for his high score—if hurried eating is conducive to poor golf, for speed was the dominant keynote at the local Rotary club's weekly luncheon in Victoria Hall.

The food served at the weekly luncheon is excellent and the weekly post-prandial speaker is invariably of a high calibre but this week the members failed to show the slightest interest in the bill-of-fare and there was no after-dinner speaker.

The fascinating lure of Whitlock golf course, wide fairways, cool velvet breezes, smooth greens, below-par scores and the annual golf tournament, were the thoughts which filled the minds of most of the diners as was evident in the number of Rotarians lugging golf club and also in the speed of the exodus immediately following the singing of God Save the Queen.

The annual tournament was played in perfect July weather, so members have no cause for complaint on that score and as stated in the opening paragraph no player should blush or hang his head if his score for the eighteen holes emulates the thermometer, and reaches the high numbers—his alibi was provided for him before the tournament started.

MARITIMERS GO WEST

A special Canadian National train named the "Overlander" arrived in Montreal recently en route from the Maritimes to Western Canada. It carried Maritimers from Moncton and other eastern points to Winnipeg and Edmonton, with connections to Jasper and Vancouver. They will start the return trip from Edmonton on August 7th.

Playground Inauguration Held At Athletic Grounds

The Inauguration of Playground Mayor, Aldermen, and City Manager was held on Thursday, July 16th, at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Mayor Roy Campbell, Parks and Recreation Commissioner R. Panet-Raymond, and City General Manager T. J. Hughes, were all present to receive their honoured counterparts in a way worthy of their position.

Mayor Campbell, in his address to the boys and girls, stressed the fact that it was the City's wish that they should make maximum use of the facilities provided for recreation, and to have plenty of healthy fun while doing it.

Alderman R. Panet-Raymond read the playground pledge to the newly elected council and they repeated it after him.

The parade of the three playgrounds entered the Athletic Grounds to the tune of a very invigorating march played over the P.A. system.

In the lead there was one of Westmount's finest mounted on a new combination bike, and followed by an open convertible carrying the Mayoress, two Aldermen, and the General Manageress. This convertible was driven and supplied by Mr. Ross McFarlane, Vice-President of Town & Country Motors.

Regimental Band Concert To Be Given In Park Camp Westmount Keeps Cool, Quiet

The following programme will be given by the Band of The Royal Montreal Regiment (MG) by permission of Lt.-Col. J. P. C. Macpherson, M.C., C.D., in Westmount Park on Monday, July 27th at 8:30 p.m. — Captain T. E. Jackson, Director of Music:

March: "Mon Ami" by O'Neill; Overture: "The Golden Dragon" by King; Cornet Trio: "Fantasy for Three" by Walters; Novelty: "Fiddle Faddle" by Anderson; Selection: "South of the Rio" by Olivadoti; March: "Pasadena Day" by Vessella.

Intermission

Spanish March: "La Donna" by Tarver; Patrol: "Men from Mars" by Walters; Samba: "Copa Cabana" by Walters; Selection: "Souvenir de Québec" by O'Neill; Marches: "Playfellow" and "Regimental March" by Fillmare. "God Save The Queen"

During the heat wave that flooded the City and district the end of last week and the first of this, Camp Westmount found little to squirm about. Their motto during those hot and humid days was, "keep cool and quiet". Being quite a problem to keep sixty active boys quiet, the solution to keeping them cool was easily overcome in the pool. Mr. Bob Drain's well kept pool provided a headquarters for the boys, with the result the Camp Westmount boys could brag about keeping coolest for the longest period of time in the City.

When the temperature and humidity dropped on Tuesday, the regular program once again took command with the boys packing lunches and heading for Malo Beach for an all-day picnic. On Wednesday afternoon, Fry-Cadbury Ltd. makers of those good chocolate bars were hosts to a tour of their plant. Mr. J. E. B. Greeves, Vice-President of the Company personally looked after guiding the tour and saw that the boys got a generous supply of chocolate bars before leaving. Today, Camp Westmount joins with N.D.G. "Y", Northmount "Y", Lachine "Y", at a track and field meet being held at the C.N.R. Lachine Grounds. Results of that meet will appear in next Friday's edition of the Examiner.

Tonight is family swim night with the boys bringing Mother, Father, sister and brother for a cool get-together in the pool. After the swim, refreshments will be served in the boys' games room.

CBC Extends Radio Far North Coverage

Radio listeners in six isolated communities of the Canadian north will soon be able to hear regularly the CBC National News and News Roundup programs of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Acting general manager E. L. Bushnell said recently that beginning July 19th, the National News Bulletin and National News Roundup would be relayed by the shortwave facilities of the CBC International Service into northern areas which are beyond the range of national network stations.

These relay broadcasts will service mainly Churchill, Man., Yellowknife and Hay River, N.W.T. and Aklavik and Dawson, Y.T.

A Fair Trial * * * Canada's Combine Legislation In Need Of Revision

It is the object of a country's laws to afford justice to its citizens. If a law is a poor one and legality is still asserted without regard to justice, it is failing in its object and should be carefully examined. But if the law is sound, then justice demands that it be applied as written and not on the basis of vague interpretations given to it by men in office.

The present combines legislation in Canada offers a good example of the misapplication of these principles. In simple justice, any man, before he is punished, is entitled to a fair trial to show him guilty of the crime of which he is accused and, in any fair trial, he is entitled to be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty. That, surely, is the basis of justice.

But what does our present legislation offer to companies accused of violations under the Combines Investigation Act? The law states quite definitely that, in order to establish that the agreement in question is an illegal combine, it must be shown that it operates, or is likely to operate "to the detriment of the public." The Criminal Code takes the same line — the offence is defined as lessening competition "unduly."

That, then, is what a company is accused of — that it sought to limit trade "unduly" or that its actions were, or were likely to be, "to the detriment of the public." That is the accusation and that is what ought to be proved.

It is a further accepted axiom of justice that a man shall not be punished until he has been proven guilty, after a fair trial. But, again, in the case of companies accused of restrictive practices, the report on their actions is published in advance of their trial and this publication is in itself a punishment — an extra-judicial punishment admittedly, but a punishment just the same. And those companies may later be found innocent of the charges laid against them! What sort of justice is that?

If men or companies or any combination of both are guilty of a crime under the law, then let them be punished. But, before they are punished, let them at least have a fair trial and, for that purpose, let them be presumed innocent until they are proved guilty. They surely are entitled to equal justice with a murderer.

Thy Will Be Done

IV

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor

(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

We have been thinking of this petition in the Lord's Prayer from a positive point of view, perhaps as a challenge to engage in a crusade on the Lord's side. If we ever think that there is no place for such a crusade all we need to do is to remove our blinkers and look about us.

One of my clerical friends told me some years ago that I should read three modern novels a year in order to find out what people, and particularly young people, stock their minds with. I tried but found the labour too great, but I read enough to find some very disturbing things, things which must leave the absorbing minds exceedingly dirty and avid for more. I recommended another type of book to one woman and she said she preferred "Forever Amber."

Now we all know that Charles II had his mistresses; and we know that modern and ancient life alike have had their immoralities and infidelities; but do they need to be so bluntly portrayed as they are in some of the modern novels? Can we truly pray "Thy will be done" and then condone the blatant immorality of some of our best sellers?

There is a very real moral problem involved. If a novel revolves around problems of infidelity the novelist must present his characters in such a way as to make them appealing to the reader, if he is going to sell his book. Then we end by approving the adulterer and also the fact of adultery. A steady diet of books of that kind will certainly have an effect on moral character. We not only grow accustomed to that type of literature and take it for granted, but we demand stronger and stronger doses of it. It is like the passion for strongly spiced foods.

The Christian will probably admit that this is not according to God's will, but a solution to the problem is not easy to find. Censorship is very difficult. The line between the bawdy of Shakespeare and the nastiness of some of the modern pocket editions is extraordinarily hard to draw. And yet if we engage to be fellow-workers with God in a crusade to see that "His will be done," there are lines of approach which are open to us.

In St. Paul's day, though books were few and hard to come by, there was still the problem. I suppose the story tellers took the place of the books, and they had the same range as the modern novelists. St. Paul had his answer for them! It comes in the "finally" of his letter to the Christians of Philippi. "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Just as our Lord referred moral problems to the inner soul of man, so did St. Paul. It is a question of thinking on these things. If we think immorally we will hunt out immoral books; and if we read immoral books we provide ourselves with immoral thoughts in an ever deepening degree and that surely is contrary to the will of God.

Westmount Baptist

Sunday morning Dr. J. A. Johnston, of Westmount Baptist Church will have as his theme: "Christ Liveth in Me". This will be the final address in a series entitled—"What do your Christians Mean?"

In the evening Dr. Johnston will conclude another series entitled: "Questions People are asking" with this question—"How May I become a Real Christian?" Fine congregations attend both services. The church also continues its mid-week fellowship throughout the summer each Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Visitors are cordially welcomed.

Among the ministers who will occupy the Westmount Pulpit during the pastor's vacation will be Rev. Prof. F. W. Waters, Ph. D., Rev. Ken Gillespie, B.A., B.D., and Rev. Dr. H. S. Hillyer, general secretary of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Refrigerate This Fruit-Nut Dessert Ahead of Serving

Here's a dessert you can make and put in your refrigerator hours ahead of serving. You'll need a small loaf pound cake for its base. Slice this cake horizontally into 3 equal layers. Whip 3/4 of a cup of heavy cream and add to it 2/3 of a cup of crushed pineapple, drained. Spread this cream-pineapple mixture between the layers of the cake and ice the top and sides with it. Using at least 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts, sprinkle all over the top of the cake. Refrigerate and then slice to serve.

Scholars Wonder If Apples In Bible Weren't Apricots

The apple, fruit of the "tree of knowledge of good and evil" has usually been depicted as this familiar food, although translations of the temptation story do not specify. Discussion has surrounded the subject. It has been variously identified as an apple, an orange, a quince, a citron, a fig, and an apricot, as have the many "apples" elsewhere in the Old Testament.

The common apple is raised in parts of Palestine today, but is not considered a native tree. Study of all the references in their context has convinced researchers that the word "tappuah," translated apple or just tree or fruit, was not an apple but an apricot.

The "apples of gold in pictures of silver" (Proverbs 25:11), for example, fits best the golden apricot seen among its silvery leaves. The apricot was introduced into Palestine before Noah, and in Cyprus is still called "golden apple."

When unexpected guests drop in and there is no dessert in sight you can turn plain bread into cake by this quickie method. Cut slices of white bread into strips, dip into sweetened cream, or condensed sweetened milk, roll in shredded coconut and bake.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that blind belief provides no means of approach to the Truth that is God; but that this Truth, when understood, can be demonstrated scientifically in the correction of sin and the healing of disease.

The Golden Text is from Psalm: "Thou art the God of my strength: . . . O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me."

Bible citations include the following from Psalms: "Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened; burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. Withhold not thou tender mercies from me, O Lord: Let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Mortals try to believe without understanding Truth; yet God is Truth. It is essential to understand, instead of believe, what relates most nearly to the happiness of being. To seek Truth through belief in a human doctrine is not to understand the infinite. We must not seek the immutable and immortal through the finite, mutable and mortal, and so depend upon belief instead of demonstration, for this is fatal to a knowledge of Science. The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

Don't be fooled by what you think is sex appeal. Sexual compatibility is usually much more the result of psychological than physical factors.

Machine Sewing Easiest Stage in Home Dressmaking; Present Day Models Easy to Handle Even For Beginner

"Sewing tension" is a term often used by women well-known for their ability to make their own clothes successfully. The phrase is apt to baffle the beginner who may be inclined to apply it to herself. Actually sewing centers, who work a good deal with beginners, point out that few women today feel tense at the sewing machine. "Much of our work in home dressmaking courses", said a Singer sewing expert, "is concerned with giving advice on choosing the right style and colour for the woman's type and figure, fitting the pattern to the figure, and cutting out. Once the machine sewing stage is reached, the women are ready to relax and enjoy it."

"The present day machines with stitch regulators, presser foot that sews over pins, backward and forward stitching mechanism, labour saving attachments, and electric power smooths rather than furrows the brow of a home dressmaker."

But what is "sewing tension"?

The dictionary defines "tension" as "stress by pulling". It is the pulling of the threads together that completes a stitch on the sewing machine. There are two tensions on the lock-stitch machine: the upper controlling the movement of the thread from the needle, and the lower governing the rate at which the thread unwinds from the bobbin. If both are adjusted at the proper tension, the lock in the stitch occurs in the thickness of the material and a perfect stitch is formed.

If the needle tension is too tight and bobbin too loose, the needle thread will show unsightly loops on the right side of the material. If the error in tension is the reverse, the loop will show along the underside. If tension is too tight on fine material, threads will break, if too tight on a seam, the seam will pucker, if too loose on a seam, the seam may pull out.

When in doubt about adjusting tension, or unsure of the proper tension for different materials, the safest thing is to consult a sewing center. Good tension is what gives clothes a well finished look.

Summer Is The Time For Honey Drop Cookies

One-half cup butter, 1/3 cup strained honey, 2 eggs, 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda,

Fashion Hints

Brown and white striped seersucker, so easy to keep looking fresh and crisp, is used for a dress that would be at home in town or country. It has brown cotton piping at the neck, and a brown cotton belt. The slantwise closing is marked by curved buttons. Skirt is pleated all around with an inverted box-pleat in front. Like denim and gingham seersucker is stepping out a bit, getting to look smarter and more embellished with pretty detail each season.

1/4 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
 Cream butter and honey. Add the eggs, continue beating until well mixed. Sift together the flour, nutmeg, baking powder, soda and salt. Add dry ingredients to the creamed mixture. Stir in raisins and vanilla. Drop batter by tablespoons — 2 inches apart — on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 12 minutes or until golden brown.

New Way To Protect Woolens From Moths

A new method of treating washable woolens in the home to protect them against damage by moths and other insects during summer storage, has been developed by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Savannah, Ga.

The method essentially involves the use of a mixture of D. D. T. emulsifiable concentrate known under the code name EQ-53, reports C-I-L Agricultural News. With it, housewives can moth-proof woolen blankets, sweaters and other washable woolens by merely pouring a few spoonfuls of the solution into the wash water. The moth-proofing material can be used in most home washing machines or in a wash basin or tub. After the clothes are washed and dried, they can be stored without fear of attack by moths and other wool-eating household pests.

Tests show that for each pound of woolens, only two teaspoonsful of EQ-53 are required for the water of an average sized tub.

fifty-four forty or fight

Orators like to remind us of three thousand miles of undefended frontier, but there were times when our relations with our good neighbours to the south were not so chummy.

Take the Oregon Controversy, for example. In the 1840's, we came perilously close to blows about that one. We couldn't or wouldn't agree on an international boundary line from the Rockies to the Pacific coast. It took, of all things, a slogan to bring matters to a head. Although today most people are at a loss to recall the incident, almost every Canadian schoolboy can parrot the slogan.

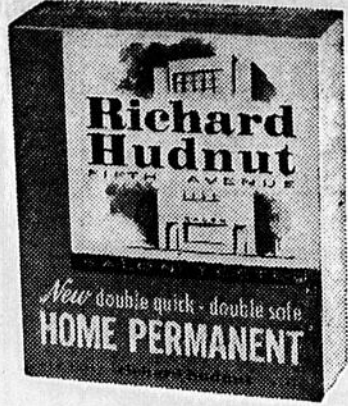

We wanted the Columbia River as the boundary line, but the Yankees insisted on the forty-ninth parallel. When we became stubborn and wouldn't budge, they upped their demands to the parallel at 54° 40'. It was at this point that an early species of American advertising copy-writer created a political battle cry — "Fifty-four forty or fight." Like wildfire it spread amongst the American electorate. It swept James Polk into the presidency. The combination of slogan plus U.S. election results served to shake us out of our lethargy. We modified our stand, the U.S.A. agreed and all ended happily.

Few slogans can claim such spectacular results. But then not many combine so successfully alliteration — with such strong emotional appeal. One comes to mind. Long before the Oregon controversy, Canadians began repeating "Make Mine Molson's", — since 1786 in fact. The results have been pretty satisfactory, too, for today more Canadians say "Make Mine Molson's" than ask for any other brand.

New invisible hair net!

Helena Rubinstein's HAIR SPRAY!

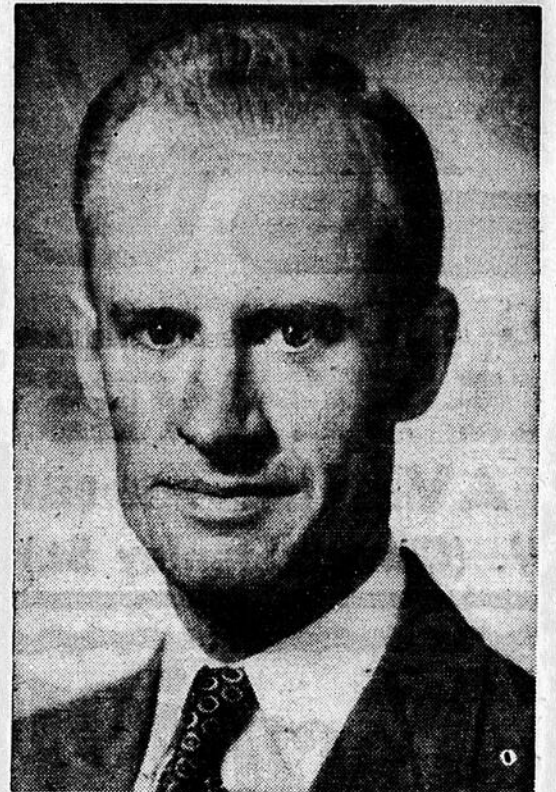

How wonderful to have every hair in place on the beach—instead of in your eyes. To be able to wear it any way you want because it suddenly has body. To stay "set" through wind, damp weather and a dunk in the ocean. To wind up the summer with a soft, silky head of hair instead of a hank of seaweed!

Helena Rubinstein, who answers every hair problem with marvelously effective products, has invented a brand new Hair Spray that does all this for you... and more. It's fine... non-sticky... better than a hair net because it's invisible. Keeps every wave and curl in apple-pie order... guards the health and silkiness of your hair with a built-in conditioner. Spray on damp hair for a perfect, longer-lasting setting. Spray on when you comb—and you'll cut down the number of times you have to set your hair between washings. Spray on flyaway, "thin" hair and it becomes manageable. Hair Spray costs 2.00... lasts ages... we predict you'll never be without it!

Level, Variety in Joan Blanchard's Life Home Economist, Fashion Co-ordinator

Pretty young Joan Blanchard, former student of Jésus-Marie convent, in Quebec City and home economics graduate of l'Ecole Sagère at Plessisville starts a new and exciting career as home economist and fashion co-ordinator of Dominion Textile Company Limited, Montreal, according to an announcement from the company.

Travelling back and forth across the country is to be Miss Blanchard's job, as she makes personal appearances in department stores in all the large cities, giving lectures on the care and selection of the company's wide range of Tex-made products for household purposes. In addition she will operate a help-for-wives service by direct mail from her headquarters at 1950 Sherbrooke St. West, Montreal. She will write a national column of advice to housewives.

Joan was set to be a teacher when she graduated from Jésus-Marie convent in Quebec, but she went on to study for her degree in home economics at Plessisville, where she later graduated from the Copenhagen School of Fashion in New York City. For a time she worked with the fashion department of a large Montreal department store. Then she served for two years as a Canadian stylist for the McCall Corporation of New York, handling their patterns right across Canada. She has also been fashion co-ordinator for Hudson's Bay Company in Vancouver and, more recently, stylist and designer for M. Ballantyne Co., Stratford, Ontario.

Joan's new career will be a busy one, taking her to all parts of the country to appear in retail stores. Her lectures, at first at least, will be primarily on the use of Tex-made household cottons in their various ranges.

How she will manage to do all this work and travel too Joan doesn't know herself, yet somehow she hopes to find time to engage in a variety of hobbies. She sings (in a contralto voice) and paints with real talent, and keeps up her studies at both. And her spare time? Well she's fond of horse-

LEE-WELLINGTON

A V neckline and short sleeves and a skirt, fashioned with a bustle, falling into a slight train. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of organdy flowers and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Anne Carey, and Miss Beverley MacKinnon, as bridesmaids, were in frocks of white embroidered organza over taffeta, with full skirts, Miss Carey's frock being over yellow taffeta and Miss MacKinnon's over orchid. They wore bandeaux of white flowers and carried colonial bouquets.

Mr. Donald Richardson acted as best man for Mr. Lee and the ushers were Mr. Donald Lomax and Mr. Donald Wellington, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Lee, member of the bride-groom, wore a gown of ashes of roses crepe with a navy blue hat and a corsage bouquet of pale yellow Sweetheart roses.

BARES - NOSEWORTHY

The marriage was solemnized in St. Matthias Church Westmount, on July 11, of Joan Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Noseworthy, to Mr. William Daniel Bares, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Bares, of Douglaston, L.I., N.Y. Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Verna C. MacKinnon was matron of honor for her niece while Mr. David V. MacLean acted as best man for Mr. Bares.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate family at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bares have left on an extended trip to the Gaspe Peninsula and on their return will take up residence in Long Island, N.Y.

The bridal couple both attended McGill University, from which Mr. Bares graduated in arts in 1951.

Catholic High Board Issues Revised Results

A revised list of leading students in the classical section, fourth year high school was released during the weekend by the Catholic high school examination board.

It read: "Audrey Deegan, St. Augustine of Canterbury school, 96 per cent; Dario Lorenzetti, Thomas D'Arcy McGee High School, 95.9 per cent; and Patricia Simpson, St. Paul's Academy, 94.5 per cent."

Initial Payment Made On Pledge For $5,000 To Aid Haifa Hospital

At the closing banquet of the Hebrew Ladies' Sick Benefit Society of Montreal the members presented a cheque for $1,500 as the initial payment on their pledge of $5,000 to provide an infirmary in the proposed Social Service Centre in Haifa, which will be built by the Mizrahi Women's Organization of Canada.

In addressing the closing banquet, Mrs. I. Lief, executive vice-president of the Mizrahi Women, complimented the officers and members for their wisdom in perpetuating the name of the Hebrew Ladies' Sick Benefit Society in such a noble and humanitarian manner. "This pledge" said Mrs. Lief, "is strong proof of the devotion of the members to Israel,

'Camp Roslyn' Pioneering Venture By Westmount High's Jim Patrick

By Allan Sandzelius Attention, parents of high school boys and girls!

If you are parents of scholars who will be taking supplemental examinations this fall in order to enter eleventh year, or fourth high, this is of vital interest to you.

It has been proven conclusively through yearly statistics compiled by many high schools, that a large majority of those taking 'supps' to push through into their final year, become what is termed "Matriculation Casualties". In other words, fail their finals.

The fact is that in most such cases, the student with a weak subject or subjects, who is required to take supplementals before qualifying for promotion, goes on his summer holidays as usual and generally doesn't start studying till the last two weeks before the tests.

This studying consists, for the most part, of concentrated 'cramming' which may just get the pupil the necessary passing mark, but is of no value to him, or her, as a base for the advanced work to come in the matriculation year.

Study Camp

At this point you may be wondering what we're getting at, and that is a "Summer Camp Tutorial".

Don't be misled by this title. It is not a school or tutor's classes bent on charging large fees for helping the child cram for the 'supp'. It is a pioneering attempt by a group of young west end teachers to combine the healthful relaxation of a summer camp away from the city, and a month of individual organized tutoring designed to aid the tenth year student with certain academic weaknesses, to overcome them and to continue on in their matriculation term to keep a standard that will assure them of a first class matric result.

Your reporter made an on the spot observation of the camp's organization and general programs and was quite favourably impressed with the possibilities the project afforded.

The camp, which begins operations this summer, is located only 38 miles from Montreal, about ten miles north east of St. Jerome near the village of New Glasgow, yet, snuggled in the cool, green foothills of the Laurentians, it seems far remote from the heat and grime of the city. Its name, incidentally, is Camp Roslyn.

A family group would most concisely describe this camp and its environs, for the land on which it is situated is the property of the founder-owner's family (160 acres) and is ideally located by a picturesque river on a wooded hill, completely private, engagingly rustic, the perfect spot for avid campers and with no outside, 'modern', attractions to lure students from their studies and organized activities.

James H. Patrick, graduate of Westmount High and McGill University and now a teacher at Westmount, is the founder of this pioneer project, aided by another Westmount High staff member, phys. ed. instructor, Ron Sharp, also a graduate of McGill, who has had eight years of practical child psychology, and a brother, Dr. John Patrick, camp physician and adviser who is always on the premises.

Limited Enrolment

At the present time, and for a few years to come, the capacity enrolment of this camp will be but twenty, fifteen boys, five girls. Newly built three-room cottages fitted with electricity and up-to-date plumbing will be available for the girls while boys will rough it in true camper's fashion, five boys to a tent. The other buildings on the site are the dining hall and kitchen and Mr. Sharp's residence.

Your correspondent also had the pleasure of sampling a typical campers' midday meal. All food is selected personally by camp directors from the finest government inspected meat available, fresh vegetables are supplied daily and milk and butter (pasteurized) are provided daily by a local dairy. Meals are quite substantial and well prepared by an experienced cook whose daughter is also a camper. Meal planning is carried out daily by Mrs. James Patrick.

Athletics Too

Swimming and boating facilities are excellent and completely secure while a well-kept tennis court is available on the premises as well as a large field the size of three football fields for those who may prefer more strenuous sport.

And last, but most important, the tutoring. Classes are held five days a week as in a regular school week from nine to twelve in the morning plus a two hour assignment which must be completed by the following day. In other words, it would mean that if one subject was to be taught, the student-camper would receive, in the twenty days at camp, the

Air Cadets to Visit Here

Four Scottish Air Training Corps Cadets will cross the Atlantic as part of a contingent of fifty air cadets from public schools and the Air Training Corps, who have been chosen to visit Canada and the United States in August. They will be the guests of the Aid Cadet League of Canada and the Civil Air Patrol of the United States. A similar number of U.S. and Canadian cadets will visit Britain.

Another eight Scottish boys, from Glasgow, are among 40 boys from Britain who visit Canada in July, under a scheme founded by the Bradford philanthropist, Mr. W. H. Rhodes, in 1938.

Canada is assumed to need a population of 30,000,000 by 1978 to absorb her own industrial production, meet responsibilities of defense and to fill a framework of government for times too large for the country.

Westmount Rink Wins Brooks Memorial Trophy

Winifred A. Mann
The Westmount Bowling Club is justly proud of four of its members, who, last Saturday, brought honour to the club by winning the Brooks Memorial Trophy in the Mixed Rink Tournament held at the Mount Royal Bowling Club. This handsome trophy was donated in 1951 by members of that club in memory of John Brooks, a charter member, and is held for a year by the club claiming the winning rink. Sixteen rinks from the city and district clubs braved the heat to take part in the tournament Westmount being represented by: Mrs. G. Hill, Mr. W. Kalls, Miss E. Johnson and Mr. W. Brown (Skip) and Mrs. H. Griffin, Mr. D. B. McKenzie, Mrs. J. A. McCrindle and Mr. W. Hunter (Skip). One game of 15 ends was played in the afternoon and two of 10 ends each in the evening.

It was Mr. Brown's rink, with 2 wins and a tie, who carried off the trophy, Riverside coming second and C. P. R. third, and Mr. Brown is especially happy to have his name inscribed on the trophy, because of his long bowling association with Mr. Brooks.

At the Westmount Club several members, in spite of the extreme heat, turned out on Saturday afternoon to play Mixed Trebles, winners of the tumbler being Mr. A. S. McIntosh, Mrs. A. Melville and Mr. F. Thomas (Skip). After the game the players were glad to adjourn to the verandah to partake of refreshments. The usual weekly fixtures were held on Wednesday evening and Friday afternoon, and several matches in the club singles and doubles competitions were run off.

The P. Q. L. B. A. Doubles Championship got under way on Tuesday, the 14th, a day late on account of Monday's rain. Teams entered from Westmount Club were: Douglas and Braithwaite, Heggie and Stewart, Hunter and Logan, Keen and Melville, Lambert and McKenzie, Perrigo and Henderson. On Friday evening play narrowed down to the semi-finals, the lone Westmount entry still in the running being Douglas and Braithwaite. In the semi-finals played on Monday evening, however, they lost to Burnside and Foster, Verdun, 17 to 16, after playing an extra end.

COACH TALKS TO HIS PLAYERS: Dick Hudson, manager and mentor of the Chicago Hottentots, is giving some advice to his young players after their defeat at the hands of the strong Steinberg squad on Saturday night. The smiling player, wearing the distinction. Ellsworth Vines, in his time one of the court's great perfectionists, thinks there shouldn't be any argument at all. His choice, by a wide margin: Tilden.

"Budge never saw the day when he could beat Tilden at his best," Vines said recently in Toronto where he competed in the Canadian golf championship.

"Sure, he beat Tilden. So did I. But Tilden was giving us 19 years in age at the time. And we were going five sets in order to beat him."

For the record, Vines played Tilden 125 matches in their professional tour and Vines won at least 100 of them. But Vines, a real admirer of Big Bill, maintained the results had no particular significance.

"I was 23 at the time, Tilden was 42. I beat Tilden simply by running him ragged."

Couldn't Keep Up
In the first 20 matches of the tour, Tilden won nine. After that he couldn't keep up. He was starting to tire and youth was in Vines' favor.

Ten years later Tilden was still playing stars like Budge, Fred Perry and Bobby Riggs. And making a pretty fair showing.

Vines was looking ahead during the latter stages of his pro tennis travels. Wanting something to do when he quit the court, he took three golf lessons a week for six months.

An apt pupil, Vines turned out to be a better-than-average golfer and set out on his second career as a professional. He is the pro at a California club and competes in a few tournaments.

He figures professional golf is tougher than pro tennis.

"For one thing there are more good players in golf than there are in tennis. There's a golf tournament every week. You don't have that in pro tennis."

He named the late Jack Wright as the best Canadian he ever saw in tennis. "He could have been among the top 10 in any U. S. rating during his time," Vines said. "He had a good serve."

That was high praise, coming from Vines whose service was rated the best in the modern game.

New Handsome Tuna Trophy Adds More Zest To Thrill For Anglers

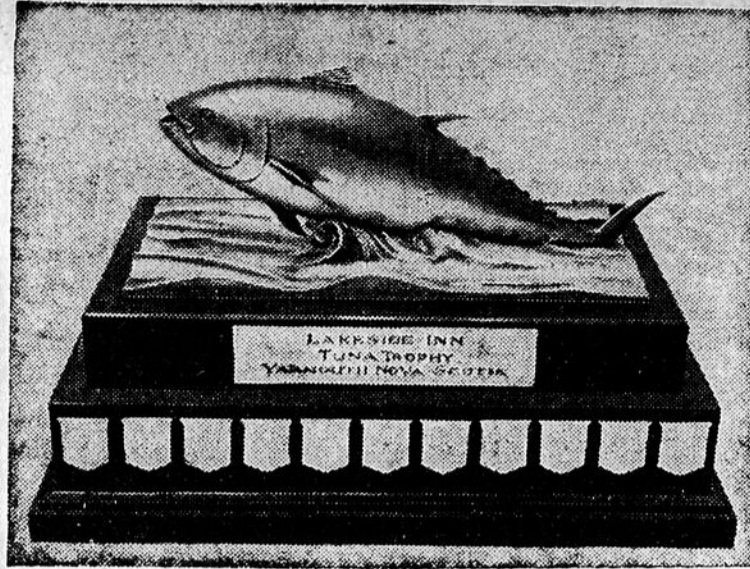

One of the most beautiful trophies ever put up for competition in Canada will add even more spice to the thrill of hooking into a giant bluefin tuna in the famous big-game fishing waters off the coast of Nova Scotia. Known as the "Lakeside Inn Tuna Trophy" the silver masterpiece stands more than 20" high and depicts one of the battling bluefins breaking the surface and will be awarded annually to the contestant entering the largest catch.

To be competed for by guests of the Lakeside Inn, a Canadian Pacific Railway summer resort at Yarmouth, N.S., the trophy is to be kept at the Inn and the winner's name will be inscribed annually on a shield to be placed on the trophy. This is the first year that the competition has been held, but it will be open each year during the period that the Lakeside Inn is in operation — usually from the last week of June to mid-September. All entries must be in by October 1 and a winner will be declared on Oct. 15.

Other conditions governing the competition are that entries must be sealed and deposited with the manager of the Lakeside Inn, on declaration forms supplied for the purpose, within 15 days from the date that the tuna was caught. Sealed entries will be forwarded to the judges.

The tuna must be taken in coastal waters of the Province of Nova Scotia on rod and reel. Details of the tackle used, with the weight of the entered tuna, must be included in the affidavit. Entries must state date and place that the tuna was weighed, giving particulars of the scales used.

The panel of three judges is made up of well-known sportsmen — Lt. Cmdr. D. M. Hodgson of Montreal, holder of the world's record tuna catch, a 977-lb. denizen of Nova Scotia waters; M. C. "Joe" Gale, of Montauk, N. Y., captain of the United States International Tuna Team which will take part in the 10th International Tuna Cup Match at Wedgeport, N.S., near Yarmouth, in September; and D. McD. Hains of Montreal, general tourist agent for the C.P.R.

From July through September bluefin tuna surge through the turbulent tidal waters along the length of Nova Scotia's southern and eastern shores. Mute testimony to the quality of the fishing to be had in the big-game fishing "hot-spot" is in famed Soldiers Rip, at Wedgeport, scene of the International Tuna Cup Matches. Fourteen of the giant tunas were landed there during the three-day 1952 tournament, with their weight averaging well over 500 pounds and the largest going well over 700 pounds. Largest tuna caught at Wedgeport last year was an 813½-pound bluefin beauty taken the day before the cup matches got under way by Rod Tilt, of Mt. Kisco, N.Y., eastern manager of Sports Afield Magazine.

EGAN CHAMBERS For Lower Taxes!

The Liberals say
they can't cut your taxes!

WE WILL!

the Main Issue
in this election is YOUR MONEY!

We will budget for Government's legitimate needs ... we will stop budgeting for bloated surpluses which—in three years—took from the people's pockets the staggering sum of $1,618,000,000 more than the Government needed.

We will, without impairing the efficiency of our Armed Forces, correct the appalling inefficiencies in the administration of the Department of National Defence.

We will end the shocking conditions in our Defence Department which the Government's own investigator, (Col. G. S. Currie) described as: "A general breakdown in the system of administration, supervision and accounting ... Accounting records in a chaotic condition and of little use in determining the nature and extent of irregularities ... Waste and inefficiency far more costly in loss than that covered by actual dishonesty".

We will provide the nation with an administration whose attitude towards the spending of public monies will be one of prudence and common sense. A new Government in itself will mean substantial savings to the taxpayer—it will replace a Government whose arrogant indifference to economy was best expressed by Mr. Howe's scornful remark, "What's a Million?". Or, "If they need a gold-plated piano it is our duty to buy it".

We will reduce or eliminate countless hidden, indirect taxes which grossly inflate the cost of consumer goods, add to the grievous cost of living, increase the price of homes beyond the capacity of most of our people to pay, discourage saving and initiative.

VOTE

We will reduce federal taxes by at least $500,000,000 a year ... without reducing any pensions, family allowances, or other social security payments.
