GENERAL SMART POPULAR ELECTION CHOICE

BRIG.-GEN. SMART AGAIN CHOSEN CONSERVATIVE STANDARD-BEARER HERE

Other "Blue" Possibilities Refuse Chance for Nomination—Prominent Residents in All Parts of Division Support Mr. Smart—Will Probably Be His Last Session in Quebec as Local Representative.

Nomination of Brig.-Gen. C. A. Smart as Conservative standard bearer of this division at Quebec is now practically unanimous among the "blue" group. Early this week a request was submitted in writing to the General asking him to again allow his name to be put forward as a candidate. The request was signed by most local leaders of the Conservative ranks. Mr. Smart accepted, with thanks.

The General is a popular choice of this district, even among some of the Liberals. His popularity surmounts the party boundaries. In fact, one prominent Liberal, talking to an "Examiner" representative, said he was giving Mr. Smart his support, particularly as this will probably be the General's last session as representative at Quebec.

For a while it was thought that a choice of a Conservative candidate would be made from three candidates, R. L. Calder and Alderman Biggar being named as possibilities in addition to Mr. Smart. Neither would oppose the General, however, Mr. Biggar went so far as to state that he would not under any consideration think of running without Mr. Smart's approval and backing.

Among those who signed in favor of General Smart were: E. W. Sayer, H. Stewart, J. R. Nesbit, J. A. Baillie, W. M. Couper, K.C., R. P. Blair, F. W. Hackett, J. E. Goodman, H. C. Bell, T. E. Lafontaine, Pierre Lemieux, Mayor of Cote St. Luc, Jos. Mackle, George Stephen, Auguste Lemieux, John P. Gunning, Henry Bell, W. T. MacGregor, Andrew Fyfe, G. Severs, C. A. Wilkinson, Edouard Gohier, Mayor of St. Laurent, Henry McCallum, Alex. Murphy, John Hand, J. C. Copping, Norman M. Campbell, A. D. Thornton, F. J. Laverty, K.C., C. A. Hale, K.C., D. H. McLennan, W. M. Campbell, L. D. Richardson, T. G. Wells, Dr. Philip Holliday, Alderman A. L. Robertson, Westmount.

Chas. Duquette, J. H. Lefort, Jos. Beaudin, G. A. Attridge, W. M. Mitcham, A. E. Gallagher, E. L. Gallagher, A. E. Raper, F. P. Irving, D. Benjamin, J. H. Livingston, J. P. Tremblay, Z. Trudeau, S. D. Vallieres, Marius Letourneau, A. A. Beique, J. H. Nault, Phil. Pare and others.

Residence of Late Alfred Joyce Safe

Contrary to many rumors that the old homestead of the late Alfred Joyce, of Outremont, would now be taken over by the City to complete the present Joyce Park, it was learned at the City Hall last week that no such action was contemplated by the City, since the agreement made at the time of purchase of the property stipulated a ten-year extension of the permanence of the late ex-Mayor's residence.

Since only five years of the contract have expired, which was non-conditional upon the death of the pioneer resident, it has yet another five years to run.

City Hall Proposed

Among the various suggestions made by close friends of the deceased, it was proposed that the Joyce Home be made the City Hall or a public library which is much needed in Outremont.

Other proposals called for a museum, or executive quarters for the City, including ample space for special reception rooms, etc.

Long Time Away

While the many suggestions made may never materialize, they are yet far too premature. The City itself has not the slightest idea of eventual disposition of this remarkable property, and will not consider the subject until the time comes.

In the meantime, resident who enjoy the beauty of this memorable spot, may rest assured of its permanence for at least five years more.

On Opposite Platforms As Election Nears

Right. - Brig.-Gen. Smart, Conservative Standard-bearer at Quebec who is again practically the unanimous choice of the "blue" group.

Left. - Tom. Carveth of the Liberal organization who states that the Liberals will contest the seat in this section and that there will be a convention shortly.

LIBERALS SAY THEY WILL CONTEST SEAT

"The Liberals will hold a convention and a representative will be chosen," was the statement made by T. H. Carveth of the Liberal Association last evening.

Mr. Carveth is busy rounding up his organization and will be ready to step into the battle. Mr. Carveth did not reveal the possible candidate, but stated that two prominent men of this district are mentioned, one a French-Canadian and the other a life-long resident of Notre Dame de Grace.

WIDENING OF BELLINGHAM AND PROPOSED PARK SITE ARE REVIEWED BY COUNCIL

Matter of Price Yet To Be Settled—Many Residents Have Varied Views As To Advisability of New Park—Several Complaints Entered Against C.P. R. Nuisance at Rockland Avenue.

A general meeting of the Outremont Council was held on Wednesday night to discuss various items pertaining to the City's by-laws and to hear certain complaints to the Council.

Before going into the matter of the night's agenda, Mayor Joseph Beaubien addressed the Council regarding the recent deaths of great men who had served a good purpose in the City's early administration. He spoke firstly of the remarkable work done in Outremont by the late Alfred Joyce when Mayor of this city. There were three saloons in the City when Mr. Joyce was elected Mayor, and through proper intervention, in a short time after, he succeeded in having these removed. Mr. Joyce had contributed in many other ways towards the proper administration of the City during his long service, the Mayor said. He was charitable and fostered early movements for the adoption of the City's first educational system. Today the memory lives of Mr. Joyce, by the School that was made possible by him, and Joyce Park named after him. A motion for the adoption of a resolution of condolence to the family of the deceased was then passed.

In a manner also reminiscent of the achievements of Mr. Joyce, the Mayor spoke of the great loss of its faithful servant in Joseph Tiernan who was employed with the City for over thirty years, and only resigned on pension a year before his death occurred.

A former Chief of Police, manager of Public Works and lately Health Inspector for the City, Mayor Beaubien stated, a splendid character well liked and highly esteemed by all those who knew him, and a man who had always worked whole-heartedly in the carrying out of his duties, he had followed that path along which we all must go. A resolution of condolence was passed by the Council asking that this be extended to the family of the deceased. The Mayor also voiced the sympathy of the Council in the death of Theophile Trudeau, a prominent resident of Outremont who passed away recently.

Widening of Bellingham

While reports are being circulated about Town that the City's program for widening of Bellingham Road would begin shortly, it is not expected that anything potential will be done before some time yet, according to the City.

No agreement over the price question has been reached between the City and a Catholic again deferred for further consideration at this meeting, and is which will be required by the City in order to go through with their

Many friends and relatives were present last Tuesday morning at the funeral of Thomas A. Callahan, of 17 Sunset avenue, Outremont, which took place from St. Raphael's Church, later proceeding to Cote des Neiges Cemetery where interment was made.

His connection with the Kiwanis Club of Montreal, the Rotary Club of Montreal and the Knights of Columbus and his other sporting affiliations made him widely known and he had an extensive circle of friends and associates.

He is survived by a widow, formerly Ella Walsh, one son, and two daughters; also three brothers and one sister.

Dull Election, Locally

What at first promised to be a real interesting contest locally has developed into no excitement at all. A few weeks ago it appeared as if there would be a spirited contest to decide upon a Conservative candidate, just by way of a preliminary to the real election. General Smart's personal popularity has again asserted itself, however, and he is not only given the unanimous Conservative approval, but, unless developments take place quickly, will be unopposed at the polls. There was a strong local element in favor of pushing Alderman Biggar, of Notre Dame de Grace, for the nomination. The Alderman's record at the City Hall has been outstanding, and there is no doubt he would be a powerful and popular candidate, but he absolutely refused to consider the wishes of his friends if Mr. Smart consented to run again.

The great majority of the electorate belong to one of the two great classes: they are either what may be called back and forth according as their judgment dictates, and they are the ones responsible for the changes of governments.

liberal Conservatives or conservative Liberals. They switch elsewhere, however, the fight is likely to be hot, with the outcome in doubt. Montreal Liberals are concentrating in St. George's, and will make a determined drive to defeat Mr. Gault. In Hon. Gordon Scott they have a popular candidate, one who is highly respected and announcement of whose candidature immediately puts the issue in doubt, even in this strong Conservative division.

Usually, business depression and bad times defeat a government, regardless of the fact that depressions are caused by world conditions and not by acts of the government. It is doubtful, however, if even the severe depression, the low prices of farm products, the great amount of unemployment, can put the Taschereau government out of power. The French-Canadian loves a great name, and, until recently, Mr. Houde was little known outside of Montreal. There seems little doubt, however, that the number of Opposition seats will be increased, and this will give Mr. Houde a better opportunity to establish himself as one worthy to lead the government of the largest Canadian province.

WILLIAM PALMER BURIED FRIDAY

Local Resident Was Executive of Holden Company

William Palmer, a well-known Montreal business man and an Outremont resident died Tuesday morning at his late residence, 204 Maplewood avenue. He was the sales department head and a director of the Holden Company.

For years the late Mr. Palmer was one of the esteemed and popular figures in the business world of this city. He boasted of a wide circle of friends, and to leading business men on St. James street he was affectionately known as "Daddy Palmer."

Mr. Palmer was a life-long resident of this city. He was born here in 1856 and was educated at St. Patrick's School and the Christian Brothers' School. He first entered business about 1876 as an employee of the now defunct James Linton Shoe Company. In 1899 he became associated with the late N. J. Holden in the formation of the Holden Company, Limited, and because of his executive ability he was given enough stock in the company by the late Mr. Holden to qualify as a director.

Mr. Palmer was the oldest officer and employee of the Holden concern, and for thirty-one years—since the company came into being—he was the company's leading sales executive.

He was a member of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, of the Societe des Artisans Canadiens-Français, and of St. Patrick's Society. He was also a member of the congregation of St. Raphael's Church, Outremont.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Mulvina Finn; by four sons, H. W. Palmer, Charles Palmer, Edward Palmer and H. T. Palmer; by two daughters, Mother Edith, of the Sacred Heart Convent, Halifax; and Miss Ida Palmer; by a son-in-law, A. E. Murray, and one sister, Mrs. K. Lachapelle, of New York City.

The funeral service was held yesterday from St. Raphael's Church. Interment at Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

J. A. BUCKLEY IS CALLED BY DEATH

Succumbs To Disease At Grace Dart Hospital

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon of John Ashfield Buckley, staff sergeant in the Canadian Grenadier Guards, who died last week-end in the Grace Dart Hospital after battling with pulmonary disease for some time back. He lived at 27 O'Brien Boulevard and was in the employ of Belding-Corticelli Company, and was in his 47th year at the time of his death.

Born at Llanarvan, Wales, Mr. Buckley came to Canada nearly twenty-five years ago and was for many years outside superintendent for Henry Morgan and Company's factory, both before and after the war. From the very first he displayed great interest in military life and was one of the first men to join up with the Canadian Grenadier Guards at the time of its formation. When the war broke out he offered for active service, but was rejected for overseas service and instead was placed on home duty and assigned to the internment camp at Spirit Lake in the Amos area. There he was sergeant in charge of construction work, and when the chief officer of the detention camps inspected it, he bestowed great praise on the thoroughness and efficiency of the arrangements. Coming to Montreal for a visit at that time, Sgt. Buckley again felt the call to go overseas and succeeded in enrolling with the railway troops, 5th Coy. Thereafter he went over to England and thence to France where he was employed on construction work at the front, being twice wounded. On demobilization he settled here again.

Recently Staff-Sergeant Buckley was made a life member of the Grenadier Guards' mess. He was a member of the Cedar View Country Club and was associated with St. Mark's Anglican Church, St. Laurent, being president of the men's club at one time.

He is survived by his widow and by two daughters, Olive and Joyce.

Following the service at St. Mark's Church, the remains were taken to the Mount Royal Crematorium.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL TURNS FIRST SOD AT NEW JEWISH HOSPITAL

Lord Bessborough Makes Impressive Address at Ceremony—Large Crowd Present—Attended Luncheon at Montefiore Club Earlier in Day.

His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada turned the first sod at the ground breaking ceremonies of the New Jewish Hospital at Cote des Neiges and Ste. Catherine Roads, before a huge gathering.

"I am honored, Mr. Chairman," he said, "in being thus associated with the final stage, and in breaking the earth on which this great hospital is to be erected, and I express my sincere hope that with God's blessing, it may long fulfil the errand of mercy for which it is destined."

As a mater of fact, Lord Bessborough seemed thoroughly to enjoy his job of turning the sod, and went on shovelling for a while removing several spadefuls of earth in fine workmanlike style and concluding with a genial smile to the assembly of about a thousand persons.

From an improvised reception platform, with a distinguished entourage, the Governor-General addressed the gathering as follows, prior to the earth-breaking ceremony.

"Throughout its long history, your ancient race has preserved its own characteristics, with a continuity that is almost unique among the peoples of the world. Among those characteristics, there is one that has always earned the admiration of your friends and your foes alike; it is your magnificent loyalty to your own kindred. In times of prosperity or of adversity, in the face of misfortune, exile and persecution, nothing has ever shaken the ties that unite one member of Jewry to another. Nor has this loyalty manifested itself only in sentiment; it has always taken, when need arises, a very practical shape. The generosity of the richer members of your race in furthering projects for the benefit of those less fortunate, is well-known throughout the world. From my own personal experience in the City of London, I can recall many instances of this generosity—when my admiration has been stirred by the unflinching, and often unrecorded, response made by Jewish business men to appeals on behalf of the poorer sections of the Jewish community.

"The site on which we stand to-day is destined to carry one more example of that generous spirit. On it we shall soon see a monument to the practical sympathy of the Jewish Community in Montreal for their sick and suffering fellows; a refuge from pain and sickness created for them by their own people, who, even in a time of acute depression such as the present, have not hesitated to give, and give generously that this project might be realized. The earliest and most difficult stages in carrying it out have been successfully passed.

Large Crowd Present

Ultra-punctuality was a distinguishing characteristic of the ceremony. A capacity crowd, numbering about a thousand, gathered some time before the appointed beginning of events, and with the Governor-General's prompt arrival the special gubernatorial flag was unfurled to the breeze. The band played the National Anthem.

Invocation by Rabbi Dr. Herman Abramowitz preceded the series of addresses. Then Allan Bronfman, co-chairman, addressed His Excellency. In part, he said: "We greet and welcome you, sir, as the honored representative of our gracious and beloved Sovereign, King George V., and assure you of the loyalty and devotion of our people to the British Throne and to His Majesty's person. We greet and welcome you as a distinguished personage from the Mother Country with a record of an active and useful life, who in so short a time has endeared himself to all Canadians. As citizens of the Empire, we take pride in the careers of those who faithfully serve the nation, and it is with admiration that we recall your services to the Empire as statesman, diplomat and soldier.

"We hope that your visit to some of our communal institutions will have conveyed to you our sincere and earnest desire to assume to the best of our ability our responsibilities as citizens of this Canadian metropolis. This projected hospital is intended to relieve the shortage of hospital facilities in the city and to serve all citizens, irrespective of race or creed. It is designed to accommodate two hundred beds and is the greatest communal under-

Mr. Maynard views the coming season's moving picture releases as indicative of a decidedly different trend in sound entertainment.

TOWN OF MT. ROYAL SITE OF NEW HOME

The Town of Mount Royal will soon see the completed $18,000 residence of John Pratt, of Outremont.

This is but one of the many that the Town will have and just another addition to its numerous beautiful homes.

taking attempted by our people in the City of Montreal. For years it has been the dream of the Jewish people to erect a hospital, and we hope that this building, which is being so auspiciously started by Your Excellency graciously turning the first sod will serve for years in the cause of humanity.

Formal Ceremony

The Governor-General, together with Allan Bronfman, Michael Hirsch, A. M. Vineberg, and Rabbi Abramowitz now left the reception platform for the ground-breaking ceremony. Rabbi Abramowitz repeated the traditional prayer in Hebrew and English.

"Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the Universe, who has kept us in life and hast preserved us to reach this season."

The spade was handed to His Excellency by Mr. Vineberg, chairman of the site and building committee and His Excellency, in his formal attire, became a laborer for a while, to the plaudits of the crowd. The band meanwhile playing "The Maple Leaf For Ever."

Michael Hirsch, joint chairman, delivered the following address from the stand:

"I find myself in the enviable position of being the mouthpiece of the Jewish Hospital authorities to ask your gracious acceptance of a small souvenir of this happy occasion. It is our desire in handing Your Excellency this miniature replica of the instrument used to mark the first official beginning of our great undertaking that it may mean to you a tangible evidence of our appreciation of your great kindness in coming to us this day to rejoice with us in this auspicious event.

"Though diminutive in its size it is emblematic of the fact that without an instrument such as it represents, no work of manual labor can be successfully accomplished.

"Today you have begun the task to which we will set our hands and bend all our energies to complete. A monument to the aspirations of a large community to be erected to the Glory of God, to the service of mankind and to the credit of all those who by their contributions in substance and in service are making its accomplishment a positive fact. May Your Excellency, your esteemed consort and all your distinguished household be spared to enjoy the fruits of today's labors in the contemplation of which we trust you will have much pleasure and genuine satisfaction."

The reception committee, who were hosts to His Excellency at the Montefiore Club at luncheon earlier in the day, were: Allan Bronfman, Michael Hirsch, Rabbi Dr. H. Abramowitz, D. S. Friedman, Maxwell Goldstein, K.C., J. Kellert, Al. Lesser, A. M. Vineberg, Samuel Bronfman, C. B. Fainer, David Kirsch, Louis Salomon, Dr. Max Wiseman, J. Levinson, sr., Michael Morris, H. M. Ripstein, Horace R. Cohen, Harry Bronfman, and E. G. F. Vaz.

Before the ground-breaking ceremony, His Excellency also visited the Hebrew Educational Institute, 269 St. Joseph boulevard west, where he was received by H. R. Cohen and directors; the Hebrew Old People's and Sheltering Home, 373 Esplanade avenue, where he was received by Dr. S. Vineberg and directors; and the Y.M.H.A., 265 Mount Royal avenue west, where he was received by H. E. Herschorn and directors.

EFFORTS OF MOTHER TO REGAIN CHILDREN

Claims Daughters Are Illegally Retained in Orphanage

Upon the alleged refusal of the Mother Superior of St. Patrick's Orphanage to surrender Rita Catherine Sinnett and Helen Evelyn Claire Sinnett to their mother, habeas corpus proceedings before the Superior Court were at once begun.

Mr. Justice Louis Cousineau ordered a writ issued, returnable on August 13.

The writ, secured by Mrs. Earl Sinnett, mother of the two children, is directed against the Mother-Superior, with the Attorney-General of Quebec and Michael Sinnett, grandfather of the children, mis-en-cause.

The petitioner, Dame Helen Gleeson, was married to Earl Sinnett on April 19, 1919, in Verdun, and the two children, now ten and eleven years old, were born of that marriage. In August, 1922, she claims she and Sinnett were living at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and left their domicile because of her husband's cruelty and non-support and in fear of bodily injury and of her life. At that time she placed the two children in the care of Mrs. Michael Sinnett, her husband's mother, and left for Albany, N.Y., where she found work and supported herself.

In November, 1925, she returned to Montreal, she alleges, at the request of Michael Sinnett. Then she learned for the first time that Mrs. Michael Sinnett, in whose care she had left the children, had died and the children had been confided to a Mrs. Dulude of Lachine.

The husband, meanwhile, had left Montreal, and has not since been heard from. Funds, however, were provided for the care of the children by Michael Sinnett.

Enter Orphanage

In that same month Mrs. Sinnett took the children away from Mrs. Dulude and placed them in the orphanage, where she claims she paid for their maintenance until October, 1926, and she returned to Albany and worked until May, 1926. In October of that year she came back to Montreal, she alleged, took the children out of the orphanage and arranged for Mrs. Dulude to look after them again. She paid $35 for the first month's board and lodging, but she could not get work and only sent small sums intermittently from then on.

Water Front Park

By ERNEST PITT

I think all reasonable Montrealers were ready to applaud the announcement of Mr. J. E. Blanchard at the City Hall that he proposed to make St. Helen's Island a real playground and a beauty spot. When the members of the Union of Municipalities went on their annual trip to Detroit and saw the beautiful park on Belle Isle there, they had as excellent example of what can be done with less attractive materials. Belle Isle is larger than St. Helen's but is by no means as beautiful. Nor has it the historic associations that cling to St. Helen's Island, with its old fortifications and its memories of dramatic Canadian history, is the suggestion made by Mr. Ernest Pitt in his weekly review.

Besides, Belle Isle is very flat, whereas St. Helen's Island is a rolling, undulating surface. It is unfortunate that in Montreal an island with nothing so abundant as its waterfront, there is only one waterfront park, Bellerive Park near the Longueuil ferry. The mighty St. Lawrence rolls on over its thousand navigable miles, but the people of Montreal see little of its grandeur, for only a few yards of its banks are reserved as a waterfront park from which the city residents can view its beauties and appreciate them. There must be thousands in and near the city who would appreciate highly the facility of a place where they could sit by the riverside and watch the ships coming and going. To those who have settled here from the old country or from Europe, it would be like creating a link with the home land.

Mr. Pitt calls attention to the fact that the Back River, too, is no mean expanse of water. But not one foot of its space within the boundaries of Montreal city is reserved for a park. It is as large, perhaps larger than the St. Clair river in Detroit. There are many miles of riverfront in the city between Cartierville and the western limits of Montreal North. It would seem as if something should be done about a waterfront park there, before the waterfront is all built up and the opportunity gone. At present it is building up rapidly.

Expropriations are costly things, as the taxpayers are beginning to learn. Once buildings are erected it costs much money to take them away from their owners, besides what it costs to demolish them and restore the land to its normal condition afterwards. It has to be done often, for street widenings, railway facilities and so on. Mr. Pitt suggests it would be much wiser to make necessary reservations of waterfront land for park purposes now before there are buildings in the way everywhere and only costly expropriations can make it possible to accomplish anything.

Hundreds of thousand of Montrealers would find it much more convenient and quicker to reach a park at Back River than to go to St. Helen's Island.

CAIN MARRIED HIS SISTER, SAYS REV. PASSEBOIS

Evangelist Addressed Large Gathering Last Sunday

Rev. L. F. Passebois says that Cain married his sister. He also states that God never created a devil.

Speaking at the S.D.A. church last Sunday night, Evangelist L. F. Passebois said in part: "Unbelievers constantly assert that the Bible says that Cain went into the land of Nod and took himself a wife. In point of fact it does not say anything of the kind. What the Bible says is, 'Cain went out from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east side of Eden, and Cain knew his wife and she conceived and bare Enoch.' Gen. 4:16,17.

What the Bible means by "knew" in such a connection anyone can discover for himself by taking a concordance and looking that word up. He will find that this word "knew" used in such a connection does not mean to get acquainted with, but is connected with the procreation of the species. See Gen. 4:1; Judges 11:29; Matt. 1:25. Cain doubtless had his wife before he went into the land of Nod. But who was she, and where did he get her? In Gen. 5:3,4, we learn that Adam begot many sons and daughters during his long life of 930 years. There can be but little doubt that in that case Cain married one of his sisters. Yes, that was a necessity, for we read in Genesis, "Eve is the mother of all living." If the Adamic race was to descend from one pair, the sons and daughters would have to intermarry.

"That God did not create a devil, but a perfect being, is plainly taught in the Bible. The being, endowed with all the faculties of intelligence to choose good and evil became lifted up and jealous of the Son of God. We read in Rev. 12:6, "There was war in heaven" and Satan was cast out.

"Why did not God kill him? Had God done so before giving him the chance to demonstrate to the family of the Universe, the inhabitants of the other planets and the angelic host the utter failure of his government, the insinuations of the devil against God's government might have remained in the minds of the angels causing them to doubt the justice of God. But the drama of sin on this earth will come to a close with the utter failure and destruction of Satan, and the universal family will know that God does all things well."

The Evangelist will speak tomorrow night, Aug. 9, on "The Devil's Vacation and the Thousand Years of Peace. The Holy War and the Imprisonment of Satan. Millions Now Living will Die Twice, While Some Will Never Die. Will the Heathen Be Converted?"

The Beatitudes will be illustrated. Projections of sacred songs. Wednesday, August 12, Rev. L. F. Passebois will speak on, "What is the Unpardonable Sin? What About Those Impure Bible Stories?"

projected plans. The matter was again deferred for further consideration at this meeting, and is expected to come up again as soon as some agreement has been reached with the interested parties. In the meantime, no expropriations will be made by the City of Outremont to further their program intentions.

To Have New Park

Somewhat upset in their plans for a new park in Outremont on Durocher Avenue on the strength of many complaints by citizens living nearby the site of the proposed Park, the matter was dropped at least for another six months.

It was first suggested that should the City decide to make a Park on the site aforementioned that this be called "Sayer Park". This motion was flatly rejected out of consideration for more informal plans which have been going on for some time now.

Two resident proprietors of the district mentioned, on Durocher avenue between St. Viateur and Fairmount avenues lodged a few heated remarks with the Council.

One contended that the making of a park here would decrease the value of his property. Should a playground be made there, the noise of the children would cause considerable annoyance to his tenants hence their removal from the houses. This proprietor also argued that an ugly looking duplex house would be more becoming than a park on this site. Whereas another complainant said the vacant space would be converted into tennis courts or a softball ground under the supervision of the City, whence this plan would be of great benefit to all residents in the immediate vicinity. In this connection it was understood by the speakers remarks that young and old should be participants in the games in order to enjoy the diversion of this spot.

In the City's opinion, however, the district referred to was badly in need of more breathing space, and the provision of a park here would be of great benefit in the future. They considered an ornamental park with playgrounds would be most suitable to the spot, considering the rather meagre size of the property at their disposal.

But, since nothing definite could be arrived at, this being the second time in two years, the matter was again deferred for six months.

Complaints Entered

Several complaints were entered at the City Hall, and were brought before the Council for summary notice. Many residents on the northern limits of Dunlop and Pratt avenues complained of the bad smell emanating from burning rubbish in the fields nearby the City of Outremont. According to a recent investigation by Health Inspectors of both this City and Montreal, it was found that no such odors were present, and that there was never at any time sufficient to cause complaint.

Other objections to the delay caused at the Rockland railroad crossing and the annoyance of ringing of bells of locomotives also received attention. These latter items were deferred pending correspondence with the C.P.R.

Presided over by the Mayor, the Aldermen present were: Ald. A. Dansereau, Geo. Pratt, Emile Vaillancourt, G. Grothe, J. D. Hudson, C. Bourassa, Ernest Pitt.

THE VALUE OF BIRDS

Seven years without birds, it is said, would mean the annihilation of the human race. Insects are man's worst foe. There are more than 300,000 different sorts of insects known, and tens of thousands more at present unclassified. All these live upon vegetable and animal substances.

Just one of them, the gypsy moth, multiplies so quickly that if unchecked it would, within eight to ten years, destroy all the vegetation in North America.

The potato bug, or Colorado beetle, increases so fast that within a single season one pair will become sixty millions. Birds are the only creatures that keep these two plagues in check. Potatoes, which form a fifth of the food of the white man, would cease to exist if there were no birds.

We talk of a greedy person as having the appetite of a pig and a dainty one as pecking like a bird. What nonsense! The bird has the highest temperature and the fiercest appetite of any living thing, and the amount it eats is almost beyond belief.

A scientific man weighed a canary and found that its weight was 247 grains, just over half an ounce. He weighed all its food, and found that it ate thirty-two times its weight in a month, or rather more than its own weight each day.

P. E. I. LEADS IN GRASS SEED

So fine is the quality of the turf produced by Best Grass seed, a comparatively new variety produced in Canada, that during the past five years between 50,000 and 75,000 pounds of the seed have been exported to the United States each year. The crop produces from twenty to forty pounds of cleaned seed to the acre. It is used for lawns, golfing and bowling green, and wherever the very best turf is required. The best quality is produced in Prince Edward Island.

In the matter of vacations, it takes a little change to take a little change.

ANNETTE AND GERALD KAHN DO SISTER-AND-BROTHER TENNIS ACT

Annex Two Major Titles at Local Courts—Competition Hindered by Weather—Alton Kahn Gives Brother Gerald a Hard Battle.

(By H. W. SYLVESTER)

Heavy overcast skies and scattered drops of rain last Sunday afternoon, nearly brought to an abrupt close the finals of the Rockland Municipal Tennis Court tournament, but, after a long afternoon session and a few hours again in the evening, two winners emerged as title holders of the men's and women's singles contests. Annette Kahn and Gerald Kahn, sister and brother, were the two winners who took their sets very handily. Miss Kahn went five sets with Sylvia Schwartz, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, and Gerald Kahn won three straight sets from R. Singman by the score of 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Inclement Weather

The preliminary matches of the tournament during the earlier part of the week suffered considerable interference due to the unsettled condition of the weather, but were run off remarkably well nevertheless.

Several promising players for the finals were ousted in the very first round of the tournament, meeting heavy odds at the start. Gerald and Alton Kahn, brothers, were matched for the preliminary rounds, and displayed a fine game, equally as exciting as the final tilt Sunday. Gerald downed his brother in two sets losing only one. The score ended at 6-1, 7-9, 6-2.

Alton showed himself almost equal to his brother's quick style, and in the second long set which he took at 9-7, Gerald's hopes of winning appeared at stake.

The third set, however, did not evince quite the same forcefulness, and Alton went down to defeat by 6-2; Gerald having scored many good points by smart net play and fast cross-court driving.

Hogue Eliminated

Up to the semi-finals R. Hogue was a climbing factor, and had bright hopes in view for his place in the finals, until G. Kahn obstructed the way.

Hogue had won his way through to a well-deserved place in the semi-finals after administering several worthy defeats.

His strong service and long arm drives muzzled the most futile efforts of his early opponents to outplay him but for the exception of Kahn who proved himself a ready equalizer and formidable partner. Kahn settled this meeting in two straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

R. Singman was winning his way up steadily on the latter half the tournament ladder to qualify for the finals. He redeemed his chances by a hard defeat over Sydney Cooper in three sets. Cooper went down 5-7, 6-2, 9-7. Losing the first set, Singman raised the marker for the last two sets, in a keenly played game.

Kahn beats Singman

The final match was more like the first step in the tournament. Gerald Kahn defeated his brother, and Singman offered no better leverage to gain a win. Running off rapidly and without many of the tense moments that prevailed in the opening game of the tournament, it was not of course without many moments of volleying shots.

Gerald's steady concentration on his opponent's rather weak back-hand proved very upsetting to Singman's gradually weakening strength, and afforded considerable playing advantage.

Before the third set Singman's speed seemed waning noticeably when he continually failed to retaliate the hard-pressing drives of his opponent.

Slackened to an almost futile degree for the loser, the third session was accentuated with fast, well-placed shots into back courts, before Singman finally admitted defeat.

Annette Kahn, last year's winner of both singles tournament championships at Bellingham and Querbes Courts, emerged again this year as the champion of The Rockland Ladies' Singles Tournament.

This year, however, with but one title in the bargain, Miss Kahn scored a singular victory in defeating Sylvia Schwartz. The latter player extended the match to five sets before admitting de-

LITTLE GIRL DIES FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

While playing in a lane in the rear of her home shortly after 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Ruth Harrison, 6653 Park Avenue, was struck by an auto and died from the effect of her injuries just after her arrival at the Ste. Justine Hospital.

The girl is alleged to have stepped into the path of the machine before the driver had a chance to apply the brakes.

She was rushed to the hospital where all efforts to save her life were in vain and she died a few moments later. The body was then taken to the morgue where an inquest was held.

in continued shouts of encouragement.

Gordon and Lyle were playing standout football for their respective elevens, and Outremont, acting on managerial strategy and advice, strengthened their forward line at the expense of their defence when they shifted the former (Gordon) to his old-time position at right wing. This change almost brought about the desired results, for a moment later a splendid effort from this source struck the upper bar of the Westmount goal and only the worst of luck prevented a score from being marked up.

For the last ten minutes the game was dominated by the Outremont team and with every man playing defensive football it was a harassed Westmount team that staved off effort after effort for never was a one-goal lead in a more precarious way. However, the final whistle found the score unaltered and so the "Red and Black" were ousted from the proud possession of the Sons of England Cup which for the next year at least will grace the portals of another, but hardly a more deserving club.

Play Today

The next game the O.N.E. club plays is the scheduled league encounter with Workers' Sport on Fletcher's Field which takes place on Saturday, August 8, at 5.30 p.m. This will, no doubt, be well attended for the Hebrew lads play a scientific as well as forceful game. Art Deakin's absence from the Outremont lineup will undoubtedly make itself felt but, judging by the game put up by those two sturdy lads, Gordon and Moore, in last Saturday's contest, the loss is not irreparable. Swift will once more grace the nets whilst the positions on the half back and forward lines are still unsettled.

LOCAL BOYS LOSE TO WESTMOUNT SQUAD IN CLOSE CONTEST, 1-0

Outremont Team Put Up Game Fight But Are Handicapped By Shortage of Players—Visitors Show Superior Team Play—Stave Off Last Minute Gallant Effort by Local Boys.

In a thrilling cup tie staged between Westmount and Outremont at Rockland Park on Saturday last, the "Red and Black" were forced to accept defeat at the hands (or rather feet) of their keenest rivals, by virtue of the only goal of the game.

Manager Tommie Cunningham offered no alibi for the local boys defeat but rather commended them on the game struggle they put up, suffering as they were under the handicap of playing with only ten men. The closeness of the struggle, considering this fact, is a result which does rare credit to the club's morale.

The game got under way at 3.45, and the Westmount side, having won the toss, elected to play with the wind in their favor. This advantage soon told, for after some fifteen minutes of play, Bates gave Gordie Swift no chance to save when he drilled home a shot from the six-yard line. For the remainder of the half the Westmount forwards pressed to no avail, for the defence of Gordon and Moore, backed by Swift in goal, was playing sound and heady football.

Outremont did not entirely lack push at this stage, however, and their shorthanded forward line led by J. Nolan, and backed by the "12 cylinder" half back line of Cody, Cody and Johnson were more than harassing the Westmount goal mouth.

The second half found Outremont with a strong wind at their back and with every intention of squaring matters. The Westmounters, however, with superior team play and more thorough tactics were playing with just as grim an endeavor to balk the home boys and it soon became evident that here would be a real football battle. The large gathering of faithful fans, realizing this fact, gave voice to their feelings throughout the game.

Both players displayed different style, Miss Schwartz carrying out a lively controlled overhand stroke, while Annette Kahn used the under-hand drive generally which served her well throughout the game.

She always managed to make the grade in the same manner as she did in former cup matches and did not appear the least concerned over losing the first set.

As the score showed signs of gradual advantage over her opponent, she played without faltering in her strokes throughout the remaining sets. Sylvia Schwartz lost the final set which decided the victory after a hard restraining game. It was not the longest set, but it was filled with many exciting moments.

Handicrafts Still Survive in Old Quebec

Along the shore of the St. Lawrence River are the scattered farms and villages of the picturesque Habitant people, many of them living much as their ancestors did in the days of New France. Here the Quebec Government is encouraging the preservation of old customs and old arts and this year again sponsored the handicraft exhibition at the Manoir Richelieu, Murray Bay, Quebec. The six-day festival opened on July 27th and concluded Aug. 1st. The family scene shown above is a common one in the old parts of the province.

Oil Electric Engines Tested In Many Lands

Europe is making rapid strides, Spain in particular is greatly interested and we have had several there for the past three years," declared H. G. Gill, chief engineer of the Beardmore Company of Glasgow, Scotland, who has come to Canada to study the results of oil-electric motive power operation on the Canadian National Railways. France is also experimenting with this form of motive power, Mr. Gill stated, his company, having installed several units on the French Railways, Italy has only about two which were designed by Italian engineers, while German engineers are also working out a type for use on their railways. The Beardmore Company has also supplied installations to South America and to Australia and India. In the United States the Westinghouse Company are licensees of the Beardmore Company and they have built several units for experimental purposes on United States railways. Mr. Gill, in commenting on the future development of this class of motive power, remarked that his company is working along the lines of perfecting the lighter units as loads on European railways prohibit the use of the larger installations. The aim has been to simplify this oil electric engine and much has been accomplished along these lines, he said, it having been found possible to do away with many of the parts used in the earlier engines and thus reduce the cost of maintenance. Canadian National engineers, with the idea of adopting the oil engine to heavier operations, designed a two engine unit, each of which could be operated independently of the other as a separate locomotive, but for heavy work, such as main line passenger trains, the units are operated as one locomotive. This locomotive known as the "9000" class, was operated as a test on the famous fast train the "International Limited" operating between Montreal and Chicago, and the results were very gratifying. Cheapness in operation is the greatest advantage which this class of motive power possesses. It is also of great value where there is poor water, and through desert country. Mr. Gill made an inspection of the oiled electric cars in use on the lines of

DEPEND UPON "ENZYMES"

Dow brewing process is a distinct brewing process developed to obtain the full power of the enzymes in Dow Old Stock Ale.

Enzymes are the substances which are naturally present in malted barley and whose action on the nutritive elements of barley ensures that their goodness and sustaining qualities pass into the ale — this means that Dow Old Stock Ale is specially nourishing and specially sustaining.

NECESSARY TO LIFE

ENZYMES are necessary to life, because they turn the nourishing properties of food into forms that can be absorbed—they make barley wholly digestible and nourishing.

The Dow brewing process allows the ENZYMES to function fully before the malt enters the brew. As a result, Dow Old Stock Ale gives you real food value and full body-building properties as well as a delicious and refreshing flavour.

ENZYMES

These are essential substances, present in digestive juices and in certain foods, that turn the nourishing elements of food into forms that living cells can assimilate. Without their aid, most living things would derive no nourishment from food. Their action is part of Nature's life process that permits respiration and supports all growth, development and maintenance of strength.
