Sixty-Second Year

Americans And Chinese Begin Formosa Talks

WARSAW, Poland — (Reuters) — The United States and Communist China prepared here today to resume negotiations on the Formosa dispute. Meeting to trade words as the Chinese Communists and Nationalists traded shells in the Formosa Straits were the U.S. ambassador to Poland, Jacob Beam, and Chinese ambassador Wang Ping-nan.

Nationalists Prepare To Run Blockade Again US Air Force Helps

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Heartened by their first success in piercing the Communist artillery curtain around Quemoy, the Chinese Nationalists assembled another convoy today to supply the besieged island fortress.

The Nationalists announced the first sizeable amounts of supplies in a week got through to the Quemoy Islands Sunday by sea and air with U.S. escorts.

U.S. and Nationalist spokesmen announced American air force planes flew protective cover for the Quemoy supply operations.

Nationalist transports also parachuted supplies to the island complex nestled near the mainland for the first time since the Communists tightened their blockade early this month.

REPORTERS BARRED

Reporters were barred from visiting the Pescadores, Matsu and Quemoy islands.

This hint that some sort of major operation might be under way came as a new sea convoy was forming at the Pescadores island supply base 30 miles from Formosa and 70 miles from Quemoy.

The Nationalists also stepped up their propaganda war against the Peiping government. The Nationalist air force said its planes dropped millions of leaflets on the mainland Sunday in 12 provinces, including Hanoi where the Communist capital of Peiping is located.

Sunday's successful convoy was directed by U.S. amphibious experts.

OUTSIDE LIMIT

As usual, escort ships from the U.S. 7th Fleet stopped at the three-mile limit and last offshore. The American jets covering the operation were believed under similar orders.

The supply ship that got through was a Second World War LST (landing ship, tank) a much larger vessel than the LSM's (landing ship, medium), which failed on four convoys last week. The LST can carry about 1,300 tons of cargo compared to 350 for the LSM.

The LST slammed up to the beach and opened the huge doors in its bows shortly after noon. As

16-Year-Old Held For 2 Slayings

VICTORIA (CP)—A 16-year-old youth, injured when the truck he was driving overturned during a police chase, is under guard in hospital here in connection with the fatal shooting of two men and the beating of a woman Saturday in a suburban home.

The youth was arrested Sunday when his vehicle plunged into a ditch near a roadblock 20 miles north of here, about 20 hours after the bloody rampage in a spacious residence at west-side Colwood.

Police would not disclose his name or whether charges would be laid. He was believed to have been a ward at the home for the last three months.

KILLED WATCHING TV

Shot to death sometime Saturday evening were Charles Mudge, 30, owner of the house, and his father-in-law, John Brand, 70. Brand apparently was killed as he watched television and Mudge died in the basement after a desperate struggle.

Mudge's wife Phyllis, 34, wearing only a coat and bleeding from head and face wounds, staggered 300 yards to a neighboring home soon after 8:30 p.m. to seek help. She had apparently been unconscious for about two hours from the time of the shootings.

She told neighbors Mr. and Mrs. William Neil: "He's gone crazy and killed Chuck and my dad."

NO CLOTHES ON

Mrs. Mudge said she had regained consciousness in the basement and the last thing she could remember was being dragged down the basement steps with no clothes on. She said she remembered earlier hearing a shot and then hearing her husband groan.

Police called to the home said both men had been shot with a .30-06 rifle.

4 Years For Race Rioters

LONDON (Reuters) — Nine youths who set out on "a nigger-hunting expedition" which touched off the recent racial riots in London were each sentenced to four years in prison here today.

Passing sentence the judge at Old Bailey Court said: "It was you men who started the whole of this violence. . . ."

The youths, aged between 17 and 20, each pleaded guilty to wounding and assaulting Negroes. They were alleged to have attacked five men during what one of the youths described as a "nigger-hunting expedition."

The prosecution said this was "the very beginning" of the riots which swept the Northwest London area two weeks ago.

Mr. Justice (Sir Cyril) Salmon told the accused: "You are a minute and insignificant section of the population but you have brought shame upon the district in which you live and you have filled the whole nation with horror, indignation and disgust."

"Everyone irrespective of the color of their skin is entitled to walk through our streets in peace with their heads erect and free from fear. That is a right which these courts will always unflinchingly uphold."

Arkansas - Federal Showdown Soon

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas confronted the federal government with a direct and concrete challenge today — four Little Rock high schools with classrooms empty because the Supreme Court ruled that one of them cannot remain segregated.

The U.S. justice department demonstrated by its often mysterious movements that it will not long tolerate Governor Orval Faubus' act.

But the agency's spokesmen refused to reveal how the department plans to employ the small army of U.S. marshals it gathered here. Nor would they disclose tactics of the beefed up federal attorney staff.

CLOSE VIRGINIA SCHOOL

Another southern state simultaneously closed a high school for the same reason. This was in Warren County, Va., where 17 Negroes sought to enroll.

Simmering Little Rock racial troubles boiled over Sunday night when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Central High could not delay integration as requested by the school board and approved by the Little Rock federal district court.

Within hours, Faubus ordered Central High and three other city high schools closed even before they opened for the fall term. This includes Horace Mann, an all-Negro institution.

He said he acted because Central High faced forcible integration and he feared violence and disorder would follow.

White demonstrators rioted last fall in attempting to remove nine Negro students from previously all-white Central High. President Eisenhower sped 1,000 paratroopers to the campus. They drove the demonstrators away at bayonet point and enforced federal court integration orders.

GIVE POLICE DRILLS

Little Rock police authorities today cancelled all department vacations and days off and drilled their forces in use of gas guns, gas grenades and submachine guns.

If the governor expected any immediate startling developments involving him it was not apparent during the night. His mansion was guarded by a routine number of state troopers.

He was expected sooner or later to open Central High and the other institutions as private schools under lease agreements and with the state footing the bills.

Talks between the two came after 73 earlier meetings in a series previously held in Geneva between diplomats of the two nations and dating back to 1955.

DON'T SAY MUCH

An American embassy statement Sunday night announcing today's resumption of the talks, confined itself to outlining the time (10 a.m. EDT) and place of the discussions without mentioning terms of reference.

Main American aims in earlier negotiations were to obtain from the Chinese a commitment to renounce the use of force and to obtain the release of U.S. citizens detained on the Chinese mainland.

The Americans insisted specifically on including Formosa in any such renunciation.

"INTERNAL" PROBLEM

The Chinese also sought renunciation of the use of force but excluded Formosa as "an internal Chinese problem."

The new series comes at a time of extreme tension in the Formosa Straits. Communist China has been bombarding the Nationalist-held offshore islands since Aug. 23 with only token retaliation by Nationalist guns.

In a speech last Thursday, President Eisenhower said there would be no appeasement in the Formosa Straits dispute and the United States would not back down from its commitments to Nationalist China.

The negotiations here come only 24 hours before the United Nations General Assembly meeting where the Far East crisis is expected to be debated.

CBC Strike Called Off

OTTAWA (CP)—A possible strike of CBC television performers slated for midnight Sunday night was averted with union-management agreement Saturday on a question of understudies in CBC productions.

Day - long negotiations ended when the CBC undertook in a non-contract agreement to use a Canadian understudy whenever a "distinguished visiting or Canadian" entertainer performs. This is not now general CBC practice.

Object of the Canadian Council of Authors and Artists (CLC) in this demand was to encourage greater use of Canadian performers on television.

Other issues, including rates of pay, had all been settled before.

Terrorists Attack Minister

Fire Kills Last Of Their 7 Children

OTTAWA (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Butth lost the last of their seven children in a centre-town tenement fire here Saturday. Six persons in all died and a seventh was not expected to live.

Mrs. Butth saw one of her children slaughtered when the Russians bombed East Germany in 1945, before the family emigrated to Canada in 1953.

Another child born during the Second World War died when it was three weeks old. The seventh starved to death during the lean war years.

NEAR COLLAPSE

The mother, 39-year-old Anne-liese Butth, and Mr. Butth, 45, were on the verge of collapse as they gave the arithmetic of death that has been their lives.

"We cannot start over again," said Auguste Butth, burying his head in his wife's lap.

Their last four children—23-month-old twin girls and two other girls aged nine and 10—died along with a visiting neighbor's child, five-year-old Nancy Heron, in the Butth's top floor apartment of the three - storey brick building.

Mrs. Jean Delaney, 32, trapped on a second-floor veranda along with James Barriger, 42, as flames poured out of the building around them, died in hospital.

Barriger was in hospital with third-degree burns and slim hope was held for his recovery.

PARIS (AP)—Nationalist firebrand Jacques Soustelle, Premier de Gaulle's information minister, was hit by flying glass today when Algerian terrorist gunmen fired on his car.

The attack on Soustelle, one of France's leading exponents of continued French control in Algeria, was the most dramatic move so far in the three-week-old terrorist campaign by Algerians in France to press their demands for independence.

Less than an hour after the attack near the Arc de Triomphe, Soustelle vowed to "pursue to the end my action for Algeria whatever efforts are made to prevent me from doing it."

BULLETS WHIZZ BY

In a statement to the press, he said that several revolver and sub-machine gun bullets whizzed by without hitting him. The attack was "minutely prepared," he charged.

Soustelle's car was fired on by several North Africans armed with sub-machine guns.

A police escort fired back at the attackers, killing one and seriously wounding another.

Police said the North Africans belonged to the Nationalist Algerian movement (MNA), one of the two rival spearheads of the rebellion in Algeria. The MNA is headed by Messali Hadj, a bearded Algerian imprisoned on an island off the French western coast.

It was the first attack directed at a top member of the French government by North African terrorists.

STONG PARTISAN

Soustelle has been a strong partisan of complete integration of Algeria with France.

He flew to Algeria in last May's revolution and took over political direction of the movement in Algiers which brought Gen. Charles de Gaulle to power.

The attack occurred on one of the large avenues leading to the Arc de Triomphe.

It came in the midst of a strong wave of terrorism started last Aug. 25 by Algerian Nationalists in France.

In the past few days several Frenchmen, including policemen and soldiers, have been felled by North African attackers. The wave of terrorism has also damaged French industrial and oil industries.

PARIS (Reuters) — Generations of hostility between France and Germany are, say the two "strong men" of Western Europe, finished "once and for all."

This emphatic declaration emerged Sunday night at the end of an informal day of talks between French Premier Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The two men, meeting for the first time, spent several hours together discussing world problems at de Gaulle's country home 150 miles east of Paris.

CONCERNED WITH UNITY

Usually well-informed sources said the talks were chiefly concerned with the future development of European unity and the relations of France and Germany with other countries, principally Britain, not included in the European economic community.

Their joint statement said they were "extremely satisfied" with the talks and said that from now on "Frenchmen and Germans are called to live in agreement and work side by side."

"We believe," said the two chief executives, "that former hostility is finished once and for all. . . ."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One story after another has re-established Hollywood as a source of the bizarre in news headlines. You have only to think of the Stompato playing the Trujillo gift-giving and the Debbie-Eddie-Liz triangle.

The latest of the stories was a shocker even for those close to the Reynolds - Fisher - Taylor triumvirate. But it must be more so for the general public. The reason is that the usual fan magazine foodfaraw has built up illusions about the three principals, illusions that have been shattered in the light of events.

Here is a more calculated view of the trio, taken from a closeup angle:

1. Eddie is a show biz veteran who was singing at New York's Copacabana when he should have been in high school. He came up the hard way, singing in joints as well as the lassy niteries. That's an education that can swiftly make a man out of a boy.

IS AFFABLE FELLOW. Eddie is an affable, amiable fellow. But he has been under stress. His career took a big slide, and he was naturally upset. After he returned from the service, Eddie was tops. Teen-aged girls screamed for him, and every record he made sold 1,000,000 copies. But as it must for all idols, the following passed on to other favorites. Elvis Presley and Pat Boone became the rage.

Months went by and Eddie couldn't get a hit record. His TV show drew poor ratings, though he managed to get a renewal for next season.

Such career tumbles can bring dire results. Thus it was in an upset state that Eddie Fisher found himself in New York with the luscious widow of his best friend.

GETS HER OWN WAY. The public's impression of Elizabeth Taylor has sometimes been that of a girl whose life was ruled by other people. The fact is that she nearly always has gotten what she wanted.

Her parents refused her nothing, including an early marriage to Nicky Hilton. Nor did the tough-minded Mike Todd rule her. It was his delight to satisfy her every whim, whether it was cancelling a social engagement or buying a diamond necklace.

A girl with her attributes obviously could get whatever she wanted, including possibly Eddie Fisher.

3. Debbie Reynolds has been famed for her portrayals of sweet young things. Actually, she is one of the shrewdest of the young stars. She is willing to fight it out with studio heads or anyone

Three Projects Before Waterloo Kiwanis Meeting

WATERLOO — The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was in the form of a business session. Three main projects were introduced and discussed.

The first project to be discussed was the drive for good used toys to be distributed to the children of the Flambeau Home, at the annual Christmas Party given by the club for the children and staff. Those wishing to donate toys to this worthy cause should phone Butch Bouchard or send them to John Chapman at the High School.

The second project was the banquet in honor of the Little League Baseball players and the Hot Rodders. This banquet will take place on September 16 at the Legion Hall. The club will entertain 60 Little Leaguers plus coaches, umpires and other officials, and 15 Hot Rodders. Each Little Leaguer will receive a copy of a book on Little League Baseball, a picture of his team, and he will be allowed to keep his cap as a souvenir. There will also be prizes and trophies for both groups of boys.

The annual bulb sale was the third project to be discussed. This project was introduced last year by Alden Perkins who was then president. It was such a great success and so many people have shown a desire to buy again this year that it was decided in August to carry it again.

Alden Perkins has received the first shipment of bulbs which consists of tulips, crocus, daffodils and hyacinths. This shipment contained 1200 bulbs and it is hoped by the members to be able to sell a second shipment.

These are large No. 1 bulbs packed for Kiwanis in Holland. They sell for less per package than those of seed houses, carrying the same high quality goods.

Soon a Kiwanian will be visiting residents and it is hoped that they will find room for more bulbs or space for a new garden. Those who have no place to plant bulbs may order a package delivered to the church of their choice to help beautify church grounds.

Seated at the head table were President Frank Makinson, Alden Perkins, Tom Wilkinson, Bill Johnston, Phil Bonnick and Leon McGovern.

Woman Killed In Local Accident

FATAL COLLISION — One person, Mrs. Gaston Taillon, of Sherbrooke, was instantly killed and several others injured when these two cars collided on the Bourque Boulevard last night.

NARROW ESCAPE — Four persons narrowly escaped death when this car, owned by Fernand Dagenais, of Montreal, overturned at the outskirts of Knowlton Saturday evening. One woman occupant was slightly injured.

Nine Others Injured In Collision

A Sherbrooke woman, Mrs. Gaston Taillon, the mother of five children, was instantly killed shortly before midnight last night when the car driven by her husband was struck by another machine on the Bourque Boulevard just outside the city limits.

Mr. Taillon and five children, ranging in age from seven months to 13 years, are patients in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where their condition is reported as not critical.

The second fatality from the district over the week-end occurred yesterday afternoon when 15-year-old Monique Deslandes, of Actonville, died in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital from injuries received in a crash on the Actonville-Richmond highway Friday night.

The Taillon car telescoped with one driven by Gerard Skelling, 27, of East Angus. Although Skelling escaped without injury, three passengers in his car, Rejeanne Mailhot and Gracia Menard, 27, both of East Angus, and Bernard Hebert, of Sherbrooke, were hospitalized.

The condition of Miss Mailhot is regarded as serious.

Both cars are considered total wrecks.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Hospitals also reported several more accidents in the district over the week-end.

Mrs. Alfred Langlois, 35, of the Duplessis road, is in Hotel Dieu with injuries received in an accident near Deauville Friday night.

Seven-year old Yvonne Willey, of Lennoxville, was struck by a car while playing on the street near her home Saturday afternoon and taken to the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Reginald Young and two children, John, four, and Joanne, six, are in Canadian Johns-Manville Hospital, Asbestos, following an accident on the Asbestos-Wotton road, and Guy Rodrigue, 27, of Park street, Lennoxville, was hospitalized with severe shock suffered when his vehicle left the road between Hillcrest and Capleton Saturday night and overturned.

Union Nationale Neglecting Farmers, Liberal Chief Says

By CUTHBERT JONES

KNOWLTON — Winding up a day-long speaking tour which carried him into almost every community in Brome County, Hon. Jean Lesage, provincial leader addressed an overflow audience in the Knowlton High School gymnasium Saturday night.

In an hour-long English address, the new Liberal leader dealt primarily with two problems — education and agriculture — both of which he maintained had been seriously neglected by the Union Nationale regime.

The tour through the county, which started off at Adamsville at 10 a.m., included stops at Fulford, Foster, Eastman, Bolton Centre, Austin, St. Benoit du Lac, Vale Perkins, Mansonville and Sutton.

At each place, Mr. Lesage held informal talks with groups assembled and in some cases delivered a brief address.

Prior to the public meeting here, the Liberal chief addressed a gathering of ladies from various sections of the county, during the course of which the problems surrounding the organization of women's groups were discussed.

As a preliminary to his address before the general meeting, Mr. Lesage presented life membership certificates in the Brome County Liberal Association to four men, each of whom had served more than 50 years as supporters of the Liberal party.

They were Clifton Brown, Bolton, father of the Brome County member, Glen Brown; W. D. Soles, of Knowlton; Thomas Brault, of Eastman, and Nap Drouin, of Mansonville.

END DICTATORSHIP

Opening his remarks, Mr. Lesage praised the qualities of the Brome County member, Glen Brown, whom he described as a man "who never gives an inch of ground."

He admitted that he had been rather reluctant to give up his House of Commons seat and his post as third man in the Liberal Opposition to accept the leadership of the Provincial Liberal Party. But Mr. Lesage said he had no choice but to undertake the campaign to "free the province from the dictatorship which oppresses us," and "to end political immorality."

He renewed his earlier call for a general election and declared: "By-elections are no good." Turning to agriculture, Mr. Lesage asked:

"What has the Union Nationale done for agriculture except provide money from the Farm Loan Board?"

To prove his answer that nothing had been done, he said that since 1951, over 40,000 farms had been abandoned in the province because nothing had been done to increase production.

SUBSIDIZE, DIVERSIFY

The Liberal Government at Ottawa, he said, had paid freight charges on feed grain from the Head of the Lakes to the Eastern provinces and he suggested that the provincial administration could pay trucking costs, and perhaps provide a subsidy, for chemical fertilizers.

He also urged provincial assistance to aid farmers to diversify their crops, pointing to the success which had met local efforts to grow such items as apples, beets and tobacco.

Quebec, said Mr. Lesage, produced only 30 per cent of the agricultural products it required and he believed that by proper provincial government guidance, production and distribution costs could be lowered so that the time would come when differentials in the standards of living in the urban and rural areas would be removed.

He also promised the introduction of a provincial prototype for the Veterans Land Act. Under this plan, a farmer's son wishing to establish himself on the land would be given a loan of 90 per cent of his investment in land and chattels. When two-thirds of the loan was repaid, the balance would be cancelled.

The Union Nationale Government held little interest in the progress of the province, but was more concerned with granting contracts without tenders and other moves which would provide additional revenue for the electoral fund.

FREE EDUCATION

On the matter of education, Mr. Lesage declared that education must be free up to the level of junior matriculation. "The school boards cannot hope to obtain additional revenue from property taxation," he declared, "and the only way in which the loss of fees can be offset is by the provision of statutory provincial grants to school boards."

Bows And Arrows For Sherbrooke

At the end of this week, Civil Defence Day will be observed in many communities across the country. These are the communities which, alive to the realities and responsibilities of living in the atomic age have taken at least the first steps toward preparing themselves to meet any emergency which may come along. The fact that they have done so, reflects more than an awareness of the individual community's role in preparedness. It reflects an attitude on the part of civic leaders, and a civic spirit, which could well be emulated elsewhere.

Civil defence, as anyone remotely interested in civic affairs knows, is not a matter of preparedness in the military sense alone. Civil defence organizations have shown themselves in many communities invaluable in meeting other emergencies which arise from time to time.

They are also a means of uniting citizens in the kind of selfless civic enterprises which is essential to real progress.

Asked about civil defense last week Mayor Armand Nadeau of Sherbrooke commented that this was strictly a federal matter. The cost of planning and organizing civil defense should be borne by the federal government and only concerned larger metropolitan areas anyway.

Two obvious comments come to mind on this remarkable statement.

First, in the atomic age, civil defense is a matter for everyone. If disaster strikes Montreal, or St. Hubert, the nerve centre of North American air defence, Sherbrooke will be automatically involved no matter how deep Mayor Nadeau buries his head in the sand. Seventy-five or 100 miles is no protection against atomic fallout. And where does the Mayor think civilians will be evacuated.

Second, the Mayor's comment, in which he echoed the sentiments of the lately-thrown-out Mayor of Montreal, Jean Drapeau, reflects an unhealthy attitude toward federal handouts. It is not enough to sit around and wait for the federal, or provincial government to drop money in our lap. The city must take some initiative itself in civil defense. And this is what has been done in those cities which have received federal assistance in this field.

It is time Sherbrooke stopped playing with bows and arrows in the atomic age.

Age In Teeth

A Tampa, Florida, criminal court judge has recommended the scrutiny of a person's teeth to determine his or her age, "just like a horse."

He passed along this suggestion at the trial of a truck driver charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl. The accused pleaded in his defence that he thought "the girl was older."

"Didn't you look at her teeth?" asked the judge. He was serious, too - he gave the truck driver 90 days in jail!

In our society where so many of the laws have to do with a person's age, or lack of it, the good judge's recommendation may have more application than at first appears on the surface.

Youngsters often lie about their ages to get into the armed forces. Many of them succeed. Why not a "teeth check" for age as part of the regular physical examination?

Many minors violate the liquor laws that say they may not be served alcoholic beverages. Let's initiate our bartenders into the art of telling age "by teeth."

Why not crack down on teenagers who fib about their years to get a driving licence by including a "teeth test" among the regular rule and road tests!

How about the romantic youngsters who make themselves out to be older than they really are in order to marry without their parents' consent? Couldn't justices of the peace and ministers master the "teeth telling" skill?

Not that an inspection of a person's teeth can actually reveal age - perhaps it can, but we leave that for the experts to decide. The point is this: if a person knew that a lie about his age could mean submitting a wide open, defenceless mouth to the keen and objective teeth probings of a perfect stranger, he would probably think twice about telling the lie in the first place.

Well, wouldn't he?

Camillien Houde

The death of Camillien Houde, "Monsieur le Maire" to two generations of Montrealers, marks the passing of one of the most colorful and flamboyant public figures ever to be lampooned by the cartoonist's brush.

He was a man who embodied all that is truly Gallic about our province: stubbornness, a flair for the garish and the ridiculous, a sense of drama, and above all, a good-humored, but keen-witted love for the hurly-burly and inconsistencies which have marked the French-Canadian approach to politics.

Mr. Houde was perhaps most famous for his internment during the war after he refused to conform to national registration, and termed his confinement "a pilgrimage," wryly, perhaps, but with a touch of truth.

Many did not agree with his ideals at that time, but even those who claimed he was but a "political freebooter" could not but admire the way in which he was willing to suffer for his views, which for him, went much deeper than politics.

Mr. Houde was criticized even by his followers when, in 1936, he joined forces with the then young Duplessis organization. Only a few months before, he had resigned as Mayor of Montreal before his term was up, saying he was quitting because Maurice Duplessis had been elected Premier.

But the former mayor was only demonstrating some of the illogical stuff of which politics in Quebec are often fabricated - compromise, re-alignment, flux. Although a professional politician of the first order, Mr. Houde was not one to believe that political ideals are the best in the world, to be held at any cost.

Many are the funny and even ribald stories told about the merry, rotund former Mayor of Montreal. He told quite a number of them himself.

He always held himself as one of the "petits gens" (little people), and it was one of his proudest boasts that he was once as poor as they.

Despite his bulk, Mr. Houde, among his many peculiar talents, was a keen and expert ice skater. In his younger days, he often made sport of challenging other mayors to skating contests.

Such a man, and such a mayor - a living, swashbuckling legend in his time - is gone.

But the legend lives on, and by its very nature, will never require embellishing.

PROPER SCHOOL ATTIRE

(Brockville Recorder and Times)
We say bravo to the students and staff of the Ottawa collegiate in the ban placed on sloppy school attire. Students have been warned that jeans, black leather jackets and the duck-tail haircut are not allowed. Students coming to school in such attire will be sent home for a change of clothes and a haircut.

Parents were advised of the ruling in a letter circulated last June. The letter was authorized by staff and the student council.

It was felt that jeans, jet boots, studded jackets and queer haircuts were the recognized uniforms of an undesirable element among teenagers.

The clothing array is a sorry enough sight. We're still wondering, however, why some teenagers want to look like the rear end of a duck and have their hair styled accordingly.

Canada Favoured

Tops For Young British Adults

By STEWART MacLEOD

LONDON (CP)—All things being equal, most British emigrants favor Canada as the country for young adults. Australia for couples with children, and South Africa as a good spot for old age.

A recent survey by the board of trade, a government department, indicates Canada gets the best of the bargain as far as workers are concerned. About 52 per cent of all British emigrants to Canada are between 20 and 34. Australia, which together with Canada takes more than half the migrating Britons, gets 32 per cent within those age brackets.

However, Australia beats Canada in attracting children. With her program of paying fares for all Britons under 19, she gets about 36 per cent of her emigrants under that age. Canada only gets about 26 per cent in this group.

But when it comes to getting emigrants over 45, South Africa has all countries beaten. More than 19 per cent of her British emigrants are over that age, while Canada's percentage is 7.7.

Together, all Commonwealth and foreign countries take in about 170,000 British emigrants in an average year. Despite growing concern about possible ill effects on Britain's labor force there is apparently no cause for worry. The Overseas Migration Board which studies such movements concludes that Britain's loss is "negligible" when compared with the country's population and total working force.

The board says that with immigrants pouring into Britain almost as fast as other emigrants are leaving, the gross loss of 0.3 per cent is reduced to about 0.1 per cent. And barring an acute labor shortage this figure is "negligible."

Because the British government does not keep detailed statistics the Migration Board says "a fairly wide margin of error" should be allowed in these estimates. The only official government figures are kept by the board of trade which maintains a check on people leaving or entering by sea, and these lists include everyone who is staying away from home for a year or longer.

The other source of information is the number of overseas entries into Britain's national health plan, but officials say these figures include many people who plan on spending only a month or two in the country.

But again allowing for that margin of error, the migration board estimates that Britain's net labor loss between 1952 and 1956 averaged about 38,000 a year. The country's total working population is more than 24,000,000.

Although there are no statistics to show what types of workers replace departing Britons, the board of trade estimates that about 30 per cent of incoming Commonwealth citizens belong to the "white collar" group.

Among departing Britons the "white-collar" workers are said to account for 36 per cent of the total.

These estimates do not apply to last year's record - breaking emigration figures when about 220,000 Britons left this country, half of them for Canada. Fears have been expressed that the 1957 movement included a higher percentage of professional and highly skilled workers, and concern for this outward flow reached the floor of the Commons on several occasions. But the subject dropped from prominence when emigration figures fell back to normal early this year.

So far as incoming workers are concerned, there is little doubt that Britain's chief source of immigrants is the Irish Republic, with its low wages and low standard of living.

The migration board says "there is evidence to suggest" that this number runs about 60,000 a year, and that the Irish population in England now is more than 900,000.

The board of trade reports says almost the same number arrive in England from Commonwealth and foreign countries. It estimates that total immigration is roughly two-thirds the total emigration.

India, Pakistan and Ceylon have been the chief suppliers of immigrants from the Commonwealth. Between 1947 and 1957 they lost a total of 113,000 residents to Britain, but the 1947 peak of 22,000 gradually declined to the 1957 figure of 6,000.

Migration from the West Indies to Britain also became a publicized sensation for several years, but the board of trade figures for sea movements indicate that only 46,000 came between 1949 and 1957.

These same figures indicate that 96,000 Australians and 88,000 Canadian immigrants came to Britain between 1947 and 1957, but officials say these are inaccurate because they include soldiers, students and vacationers who planned on spending a year or longer in the country.

The migration board has asked the government to do something about "this serious defect" in statistics.

With the figures available, the board estimates that about 30 per cent of Britain's emigrants are industrial workers, only 3.3 per cent are general laborers and one per cent are miners. Among females, who account for about 53 per cent of all emigrants, 56 per cent are housewives, 18 per cent are clerical workers and 11 per cent are "professional and managerial."

There is no way of knowing how individual receiving countries fare in these percentages but Gordon Cumming who heads the Canadian immigration service in London, says Canada gets a "fair flow" of doctors, accountants and engineers among the white-collar class. There are some architects, but few lawyers.

Officials of the Australian and South African immigration offices say they get a "cross-section" of all groups. New Zealand officials say their white-collar workers are made up "almost entirely of teachers and nurses."

ART CRITIC?

(Brantford Expositor)
Cheers for that bold Conservative member of Parliament, Mr. Frank Lennard of Wentworth, for serving notice that he, for one, will oppose the wasting of public money on buying crude "modernistic" paintings to be hung in Canadian embassies abroad.

He explains that, several years ago, he went to an exhibition of modern art and was unable to make head or tail of some of the pieces shown.

He wasn't the only one, but he was one of the comparative few who had the intellectual honesty to admit it!

JACOBY On Bridge

HANDS MAKE BRIDGE GREAT

On a recent trip I ran across an old friend, Ralph Ellis of Milwaukee.

Some 25 years ago he finished out a duplicate for me in Boston and had been saving one of the hands to show me. Mr. Ellis sat South.

When his opponents stopped at two no-trump he decided to get into the bidding with his major suits and tried three spades first. West's double sounded so strong that Mr. Ellis decided to run to four clubs before getting around to his heart suit.

West doubled again and this time North redoubled and Mr. Ellis felt that he might as well leave it in.

He was right. West opened the six of diamonds. Dummy's jack forced East's ace, which South ruffed. The ace and king of spades took care of dummy's two major suit cards and a heart was ruffed. The king of diamonds was cashed and a diamond ruff; another heart ruff put Mr. Ellis back in dummy and one more diamond ruff established the suit. He led his last club and the best West could do with his big hand was to make one trick.

Mr. Ellis' final comment on the hand was "After 25 years I still don't approve of my bidding but the result was phenomenal and it's hands like this that makes bridge interesting."

Newspaper Ad Managers Prepare For Expansion

Growing enthusiasm and optimism will mark the 1958 annual convention of the Newspaper Advertising Managers' Association (Eastern Canada), to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 17-19, at the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal. A general trend of lively interest is already expressed by many "ad" officials.

An example of the conviction in the expanding future before newspaper advertising marks the N.A.M.A. convention theme—"The Next Five Years for Newspapers."

One of the most informative gatherings in years is planned, also a host of timely and authoritative guest speakers. Special round table talks and panels, on a variety of vital subjects, are part of the agenda.

Nearly 80 advertising executives are expected to be present at the Montreal conference.

At the opening Wednesday session, first featured by the President's address, the initial round of top speakers is provided by Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., President of the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Canada advertising and sales force members will gain much from the Wednesday luncheon, when Charles B. Lord, advertising director of The Indianapolis Star and News, will be the speaker. As president of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association, his words will carry great weight.

Other interesting addresses on promotion, market potential, planned advertising, training staff and effectiveness will be delivered by John Muir (Hamilton Spectator), John Stark (Toronto Telegram), James Alexander (London Free Press), Gregor Guthrie (Ottawa Citizen), Walter Browne (Halifax Herald) and Leslie Leith, (The Evening Reporter, Galt).

As the convention continues Thursday, D. R. McRobie, president, will make a special presentation on behalf of the Cockfield-Brown organization.

A further facet of advertising, that of the product creator, will feature Thursday's luncheon, when Ron W. Todham, President of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited, will speak on "A Manufacturer Looks At Advertising."

Also on the agenda for Thursday will be the presentation of annual reports by Ian MacDonand an address by W. R. Golding, Howard Parish Classified Advertising Services.

Another attraction later Thursday will be an agency reception, with all key agency officials invited.

With the convention swinging into the final Friday sessions, the first speaker will be Elton Johnson, President, Canadian Association of Advertising Agencies.

Next of the outstanding speakers to be held will be Ken R. Thomson, President, The Thomson Co. Ltd.

Presentation of exhibits and awards will be conducted by W. R. Sootheran, Niagara Falls Review, while the round table will be under Chairman J. C. Anderson, Kitchener-Waterloo Record.

A final, notable contribution will be delivered at Friday's luncheon by the Hon. George Hees, Minister of Transport, who will speak on "Bringing the Diefenbaker Vision to Life." Topics of imperative meaning to newspaper advertising over the next five years will be closely discussed and examined. During the convention a reception will be tendered the delegates by Dow Brew-

New Zealand, which relies heavily on her dairy exports, launched an indirect attack against Canada's dairy import embargoes, warning that curbs against Canadian exports may result.

NEW ZEALAND DAMAGED

"Agricultural protectionism has severely damaged New Zealand," said Finance Minister A. H. Nordmeyer. "It has depressed the income of our farmers. It has deprived New Zealand of many millions of pounds which she requires to buy her imports."

"It has hurt—and it will hurt more severely still—those countries which supply those imports. The less we earn for our exports the less we can afford to buy."

Spokesman after spokesman told of how economic recession had depressed prices of their main products, in most cases raw materials absorbed by the wealthier buyers inside and outside the Commonwealth. They urged that price agreements be developed, to assure producers of steady markets.

The conference must face the situation, said Mr. McEwen of Australia, that exporters of primary products "are unable to plan their development and increase their standards of living with the confidence which is essential."

HUNGER FOR BETTER LIFE

The millions of colored persons in the Commonwealth hungered for the higher living standards found among the whites of the wealthier countries. Yet as world markets shifted and cracked, their earnings declined while prices of manufactured goods, the machines and other capital goods needed to expand economies became more expensive.

Unemployment among the underdeveloped areas had increased at a time when more money was required to build a more diverse economy which would not be so susceptible to shifts in world trade winds.

For India, the most critical need was capital, loans and grants. Said Mr. Desai:

"For India and for the newly independent members of the Commonwealth, the raising of living standards of the people, diversification of their economies and attainment of higher levels of production and employment are crucial."

"It is also, I should say, the most important international problem of our times."

West Indies' Dr. C. G. D. La Corbiniere, deputy prime minister, said: The federation wants "more and steadier markets for its produce, more capital for development, more trade, particularly with members of the Commonwealth—in sum, opportunity for earnings and for paying our way."

Local Resident Is Drowned In South Carolina

Rudolph Dietz, 57, of 1300 Prospect Street, Sherbrooke, drowned in rough surf at Myrtle Beach South Carolina on Friday.

Mr. Dietz drowned when he and his wife, Karla, had been swimming. The victim went under and his wife began searching for him. Police said Mrs. Dietz had almost pulled him ashore when the rescue squad arrived.

Members of the beach rescue squad and two physicians worked 1½ hours but Dietz failed to revive.

Born April 18, 1902, in Germany, Mr. Dietz immigrated to Canada in 1903. He worked in Hamilton, Sarnia and Aylmer Ontario, for the Carnation Milk Company until 1938. In 1939, Mr. Dietz moved to Sherbrooke, where he held the position of Chief Engineer for the Carnation Company Ltd. until his untimely death.

RUDOLPH DIETZ

Mr. Dietz leaves behind his wife, the former Karla Seiden, one son, Rolf, 30, his daughter-in-law and three grandchildren, Karen 5, Steven 3 and Eric 1. The victim's brother and father-in-law are still in Germany.

Remains are resting at the R. L. Bishop Funeral Chapel, 300 Queen North, where family prayers will be held on Wednesday, September 17, followed by services in the Trinity United Church, Rev. Fred Matthews officiating.

U.S. MOTTO

AT KNOWLTON

"Liberty no longer exists in the province in the field of education. School boards are subject to the terror of cash and the blackmail of patronage."

"What does the Union Nationale care for the general good? Why, even school boards who receive financial assistance from the province must give their contracts to a firm which contributes heavily towards the electoral fund."

"Any boy or girl who has reasonable ability and the real will to get an education should be able to get it, regardless of the economic position of the parents," Mr. Lesage said.

Mr. Lesage closed his address with a brief discussion of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation issue.

The bill authorizing the sale of the Quebec Hydro gas plant had been introduced on the last day of the 1957 session and had been forced through despite opposition efforts to get some information on its provisions.

The ministers had been indecent in their purchase of Quebec Natural Gas Corporation stock on the day the sale of the Quebec Hydro system had been announced.

The code of political morality in Quebec, as seen by the Union Nationale, was tragically lower than that of Ontario where two ministers had been dismissed for being "indiscreet."

"The Union Nationale believes," Mr. Lesage concluded, "that anything can be done and everything can be forgiven."

Other speakers included Alcide Courcy, MPP for Abitibi West; Emillion Lafrance, MPP for Richmond; Glen Brown, MPP, Brome; Joseph Deslauriers, of Sutton, and John Long, of Montreal.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Mr. Lesage is carrying out an active campaign throughout the Townships.

Thursday he toured Missisquoi county and closed the day with an address at Farnham in the evening. Prior to the Farnham meeting, he was guest of honor at a dinner held at the Hotel Maurice, Cowansville, at which the guests included Alcide Courcy, MPP, Claude Noisieux, Missisquoi County Liberal chairman; J. A. Richard, secretary; Normand Gaudreau, Dunham; Roger Menard, St. Armand; Henri Dupuis, Stanbridge; Jos. Deslauriers, Brome; Bruce Bailey, Brome, and Andre Gauthier, Cowansville, former Liberal candidate.

On Wednesday, he will tour Compton County, concluding with a meeting at East Angus in the evening. A trip to Frontenac will close with a rally at Lake Megantic Thursday night, with meetings at Weedon Saturday for Wolfe County and at Windsor Mills Sunday for Richmond.

Record Rain

EDMONTON (CP) — Record rainfall for September fell in northern Alberta in an intense storm that began Friday night. Lac La Biche, 110 miles north-east of Edmonton, recorded 2.85 inches in the 24 hours up to 3 a.m. M.S.T. Sunday. Edmonton recorded 2.63 inches Saturday. Previous high for September was 1.3 inches on Sept. 23, 1960.

FIRE KILLS

went up like a cardboard box.

Persons in the crowd on the street said they saw the children's gaunt faces staring from the third-floor windows. They could do nothing to help. Some spectators cried, or turned away their faces.

Mrs. Delaney, Barrigar, and two other second-floor residents—William Warren and Mrs. Marion Chapman — escaped to the veranda.

Firemen arrived, and Mrs. Chapman and Warren escaped down a ladder.

Firemen and the crowd yelled to the other two to descend. Mrs. Delaney was screaming for help for the children she said were inside.

Flames that had been licking out of a doorway behind the two suddenly burst out and engulfed them. The crowd was awe-struck.

CLIMBED LADDER

Fireman Langford McLeod climbed the ladder and reached for the flaming couple, pulling Mrs. Delaney over the railing first so she tumbled into a rescue net below, and then Barrigar.

The fire was believed to have started in a ground-floor kitchen. Cause had not yet been established. Ontario Attorney-General Kelso Roberts has ordered a full investigation, to be followed by an inquest.

Mr. But, at work in a uranium mine at Elliot Lake, 450 miles northwest of Ottawa, did not learn of the deaths until he had been brought to Ottawa Sunday morning.

Mrs. But at the time of the fire was at work at an Ottawa restaurant. A babysitter was to arrive to look after the children shortly after the fire broke out.

70th Anniversary Celebrated By Dixville Church

DIXVILLE — The 70th anniversary of the Dixville Baptist Church was observed Sunday, September 7th, when Rev. G.K. Tyler, of Lakefield, Ont., was guest speaker.

His subject at the morning service was "The Wayside Ministry of Jesus" and in the evening, "Near the Kingdom, but not of the Kingdom." He was assisted in the evening by the student pastor, Mr. Emrys Jenkins, who has since left to resume his studies at McMaster University.

Mrs. A. W. Bailey, of Coaticook, the soloist, rendered "Lead Me To Calvary" and "Alone." She was accompanied by Mr. Tyler on the violin and Mrs. Tyler on the harp. In the evening a choir sang "The Church by the Side of the Road."

The church has been completely re-decorated recently, and for this occasion many beautiful flowers adorned the building.

Several friends from out of town were present at these gatherings.

STUDENT PASTOR FETED
A social evening was held in the Baptist Church Hall to bid farewell to Emrys Jenkins, of Woodstock, Ont., who had served as student pastor here for the summer, owing to the illness of Rev. W. A. White.

Among those present was Rev. G. K. Tyler, of Lakefield, who presented a purse to Mr. Jenkins. Also remembered were his helpers, John Visser and Gerrit van de Mark, in grateful recognition of their work in redecorating the interior of the church building.

Deacon Clayton Thomas voiced the appreciation of the members for the work done by Mr. Jenkins in the field during the past months. A fitting reply was made by Mr. Jenkins, after which the serving of refreshments brought the pleasant evening to a close.

VISIT TO GRANBY ZOO
The children of the Dixville Home for retarded boys enjoyed a trip to the Granby Zoo, where they fed the animals and had great fun at the children's playground. Another trip, to the Fish Hatchery at Baldwin's Mills, is planned for the near future.

The Home was started on Easter Monday last in the Baptist parsonage, which had been rented and renovated for the purpose. Five children are at the Home at present and there is room for six more. Boys of all ages are admitted, regardless of race or creed.

A school will be started September 15.

The Doctor Says

SEARCH GOES ON FOR BETTER TREATMENT OF LUPUS DISEASE

One correspondent asks where Lupus erythematosus comes from "in the first place." Now this question I cannot answer, since as yet the cause of this curious disorder is not known.

There are apparently two main forms of the disease which are closely related. One of them involves primarily the skin. The other is more general in nature and is known as disseminated Lupus.

Although Lupus has been recognized for nearly a century it is attracting more and more interest and study. Furthermore, although still a comparatively unusual disease, it appears to be increasing. One report from Sweden, for example, reveals that it appears to be increasing there also.

The disease is often found between the ages of 15 and 40, but no age is entirely exempt. Women appear to acquire Lupus erythematosus about four times as often as men. Why we do not know. Occasionally it occurs in families and even in twins.

However, part of the apparent increase in frequency may be the result of better diagnosis (more cases recognized), particularly because of the ingenious "LE Test" — a laboratory procedure.

Weakness, fatigue and fever are common early signs of generalized Lupus. Unlike many diseases a c o m p a n i e d by fever, there is a low white blood count — that is, smaller than normal number of white blood cells. Pains in the joints are also common. Although the skin symptoms have long been considered characteristic, they may be absent at the beginning of the disease and sometimes never do appear.

The fever and joint pains are generally improved by using drugs like aspirin, or other salicylates. The sulfa preparations, or at least one of them, may have some value also. Male hormones have been tried but their results are dubious.

The skin of patients with Lupus erythematosus usually has to be protected against sunlight. ACTH, cortisone and their relatives have brought good results many times and such preparations now are probably used more than any other.

Other treatments have been tried, including diet. Adequate vitamins, particularly "B" and "C," have been recommended, but these do not appear to influence the underlying condition. Certain anti-malarial drugs and a substance known as nitrogen mustard also have been used.

Although the cause of Lupus has not yet been found, nor has a completely satisfactory treatment been devised, many victims of it do well under present treatment methods. Furthermore, some of the best medical minds are searching for significant additional knowledge.

Ruth Millett A Touch of Work Sometimes Teaches Value of College

Jimmy, who will be a high school senior this fall, got a summer job with a construction company. He was working with married men who supported families on the same hourly wages Jimmy had to spend on dates and his souped-up hot rod.

He listened to the men worry out loud about the difficulty of getting by from one pay day to the next. He saw them stuck in poor paying work that in not too many years would be beyond their strength. He realized that these grown men had nothing more to bargain with in the business of earning a living than a 16 or 17-year-old kid. As a result, Jimmy got a respect for education his parents and teachers had never been able to give him.

I'm telling Jimmy's story because I have before me a letter from a mother who says that she and her husband can't persuade their son that he ought to go on to college this fall.

They are wondering if they ought to force him to go or give up their dream of seeing that he has the opportunity for a better education than either of them were able to get. Maybe the answer is to let the boy get a job and find out a few of the financial facts of life for himself.

It's a gamble, of course. But it isn't any more of a gamble than sending him to college against his will.

It is hard for parents to tell an 18-year-old anything. But it is amazing how much they can learn from observation and experience when they get in a situation where they are on their own.

Fashion

Clean summer headed bags before storing them. A soft, well-lathered brush does the best job since it works dirt from between the beads. Rinse bag with damp sponge and wipe dry.

Shoe clips should be as sparkling as the rest of the shoe. Often it is difficult to get into crevices a round gay flowers, beads or jewels. Usually a sudsy toothbrush takes care of this task.

Early Start

Airport Established At North Hatley

BY GERALD MCDUFF

NORTH HATLEY — North Hatley has taken a leap into the air age before its big sister, Sherbrooke.

More of a hop than a jump, North Hatley's entry in air transportation field was given a push by a couple of experts, Jacques Robitaille, of St. Jean, Que., aircraft maintenance engineer, and Nelson Levesque, of Quebec, pilot-instructor.

The pair have just opened the first commercial airline in that Lake Massawippi community and have named it Sherbrooke Air Service.

Located on a former private air field on the road to Quebec Lodge, the line will have non-scheduled chartered flights, flying lessons and freight transport.

Renovations are underway to put the field in serviceable condition. The runway will be 2,900 feet long by the time the levelling work has been completed.

The Federal Transport Board has granted a tentative license with the provision that the runway be improved.

Mr. Robitaille said they are aiming for September 25 as the opening date.

AIRCRAFT

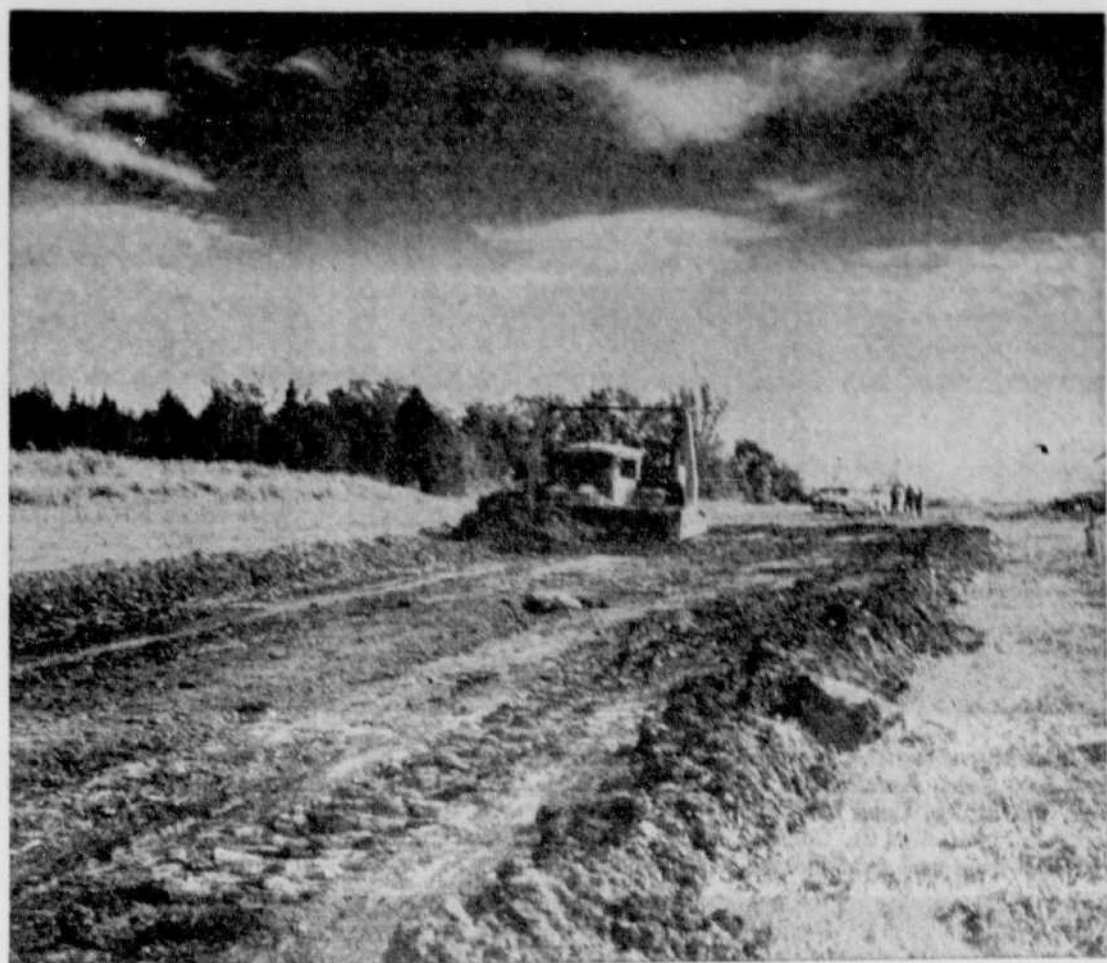

Starting strictly on a shoe-string basis, the company has only one plane at its disposal, a four-passenger Cessna. Another two-passenger Cessna will be bought soon, Mr. Robitaille said.

For the air plane enthusiast, lessons will be held daily weather permitting, from half an hour before dawn to half an hour after dusk. Cost will be about $400.

Once the pupil has completed 30 hours flying time, he will be eligible for a private license and will automatically be reimbursed $100 by the federal government.

For a commercial license, the pupil must fly 200 hours.

Before getting his permit, the qualified pilot must have a medical examination. The age limit is from 17 years of age

RUNWAY IMPROVEMENTS IN PROGRESS

CO-OWNER JACQUES ROBITAILLE AND HIS FATHER

up for private licenses and from 17 to 45 years for commercial licenses.

The North Hatley runway, though somewhat short, is ideal for a beginner, Mr. Robitaille said. The pupil must cope with side winds blowing across the lake although the mountains around the area pose no problem, he said.

All instructions will be under the expert supervision of Mr. Levesque who was both a bush pilot and a member of the R.C.A.F. He has trained air cadets in Quebec City, Mr. Robitaille noted.

HUNTING AND FISHING

For the sportsman who wants to indulge in a hunting and fishing trip in different surroundings, the company will fly him to hideaways near Mont Laurier, north of Montreal, and other sites around LaTuque and Quebec City. Cost is usually figured on the flying time.

Chartered passenger flights will be made to Portland, Boston and Bangor, Me. and to Newport, Vt. The company is licensed under Class 3.

Other flights will go from Sherbrooke, Megantic, Quebec and Montreal. Photographic parties can also be taken on flights.

Freight transportation, which of course must be limited, can be calculated on mileage or flying time.

Mr. Robitaille has eight years experience in aircraft industry and has worked in a flying club as well. He has a commercial pilot's license too.

Plans for the future: The purchase of an amphibian plane and a move to the Sherbrooke airport when it is completed.

COLORFUL TOUCH

NORWICH, Eng. (CP)—Lamp-posts at a shopping centre in this Norfolk community are being painted in five colors—yellow, melon, sandalwood, red and black—as part of a plan to brighten up the city.

Sherbrooke - Lennoxville Little League Officially Ends Season

Last-Ditch Stand In Final Quarter Gives Als Victory Over Argos As Ticats Rally To Edge Riders 24-18

Some university should award Hamilton Tiger-Cats an honorary degree perhaps masters of pushing and passing for their efforts to teach the finer points of Canadian football.

Unfortunately, United States fans don't take to the lessons any better than the Ticats' fellow-clubs in the Big Four union.

Sunday the 1957 Grey Cup winners carried their missionary work down to Philadelphia to polish off Ottawa Rough Riders 24-18 in a scholarly-but-unexciting display. That exercise gave Ticats five wins in as many games and a six-point lead over Ottawa and Montreal Alouettes, each with two wins and three losses.

Montreal proved to Toronto Argonauts Saturday that they must spend more time on their gridiron studies with a 24-21 lesson in Montreal.

Toronto now has passed only one test in five.

FRASER STARS

The skilled booting of Hamilton's home town hero, Cam Fraser, highlighted the Tiger-cats transplanted home game in the 102,000-seat Municipal Stadium at Philadelphia. Fraser showed the 15,110 on hand—including 3,500 junketing Canadians—some powerful punts of up to 73 yards that contributed four singles to the Hamilton total.

A pair of 69-yard efforts supplied half the Tiger-cats' scoring. The first came with Hamilton trailing 15-7 in the third quarter, when Ron Howell made a stirring 69-yard touchdown run. In the final quarter Tommy Grant eluded Ottawa's George Brancato to snare a Bernie Faloney pass for a pass-and-run touchdown of equal distance.

McDOUGALL SCORES

Gerry McDougall had supplied Hamilton's first touchdown in the first quarter after Skippy Gianelli scooped up an Ottawa fumble on the Rough Rider one. Import Norm Hecker kicked two converts to complete the Hamilton total.

Quarterback Tom Dimitroff started Ottawa off weak with a scoring one-yard sneak after three minutes of the first quarter.

Tackle Milt Graham scored the second Ottawa touchdown in the third quarter, grabbing an attempted lateral from Ticats' Eddie Macon to lumber over from the 30. Mack Yoho missed both converts but kicked two field goals.

The ground-bound records—64 yards by Hamilton and 58 by Ottawa—illustrate what kept the U.S. fans yawning.

ARGOS BLOW LEADS

The Alouettes produced a fourth-quarter touchdown to top the befuddled Argonauts by the margin of a second-quarter field goal by Bill Bewley Saturday. The Argos had leads of 14-0 and 21-17 but couldn't hold them.

Montreal's line three times stopped the Toronto halfbacks a yard from goal. The Argonauts started off in fine style with two touchdowns within 11 minutes of play. C. R. Roberts collected both.

Doucette played almost the entire game. He was shaken up after he was shaken up by a tackler.

The Alouettes bounced right back, however. Etchevery fired a 33-yard pass to Hal Patterson on the Toronto one and later a short touchdown pitch to Red O'Quinn.

BOWLEY BOOTS

Etchevery personally added the second Montreal touchdown in the second quarter and Bewley booted his field goal.

Argos regained the lead in the final quarter with Dave Mann carrying over from the five.

A 22-yard Etchevery-O'Quinn pass to the Argos three and an end-run by Pat Abruzzi set Montreal firmly in front again midway through the final quarter.

Kristopaitis converted all Toronto touchdowns and Bewley did the same for Montreal.

The Als amassed 210 yards on the ground to Argos' 113, while Toronto took 212 on passes and Montreal 206.

Ayala away and—as it had done the previous day when the Briton cut down Anderson—it applauded the Englishman all the way off the court.

Two other unseeded players captured the gallery's imagination during the week-long tournament—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Mrs. Long.

Bedard crushed Schmidt and Savitt, regarded as among the top 10 in the world, to reach the semi-final where he bowed to Ayala.

Mrs. Long, 40, who won her first tournament in 1935, stunned the form players by defeating 19-year-old Ann Haydon of Britain in the semi-final.

Maple Leafs Sit Back And Watch Proceedings After Knocking Over Wings; Royals Split And Trail

Toronto Maple Leafs sit back today and watch a curious spectacle. Their neighborhood rivals the Montreal Royals are in a fight for their International League lives against the upstart Columbus Jets.

The Leafs won the first final berth in the governor's cup competition with a 6-2 victory over Rochester Red Wings Sunday. This gave them the semifinal series, 4-1.

But in Columbus, the Royals, who had a veritable breeze in winning the IL pennant, were down 3-2 after the Jets knocked them off 9-3.

The Jets had to scratch for their fourth place finish and a final playoff spot, and were looked on as warmup bait for the Royals' finals series.

Pitching made the difference in both contests. Pat Scantlebury allowed Rochester only three hits, with a little ninth inning help from Bob Tiefenauer, while five Royals hit safely off Bennie Daniels who went all the way.

BROWNING LOSES
A four-run third inning spelled the end for Rochester starter Cal Browning, who took the loss, Joe Hannah led off with a homer.

Columbus tries for a finale berth tonight in Montreal.

Toronto won the fourth game of the series Saturday by an identical 6-2 score. Montreal swamped Columbus the same day 13-1.

Proulx downed Johnson 2 and 1 to win the $700 first money. Johnson got $500.

Bill Kerr of Beaconsfield was third and Henry Dubiel of Marlborough fourth. They won $400 and $250 respectively.

Other money winners: Stan Horne, Islemeire, $200; Jules Huot, Laval sur le Lac, $175; Jim Seeneey, St. Andre d'Argenteuil, $150 and Jim Westwell, Wentworth, $125. Eight other pros won $100 each.

Charlie Cox Cops US Amateur Golf Championship

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Determination born of a miserable round in last year's masters tournament furnished lanky Charlie Cox that extra something needed to win the 1958 national amateur golf title.

"When I shot an 86 for a round at the Masters, I knew I had to do something about it," the 34-year-old Oklahoma City oil broker declared. "So I worked hard at it."

The playoff came Saturday over the tricky Olympic Country Club course when the 140-pound, six-footer whipped husky University of Florida collegian Tommy Aaron 5 and 4 to collect his second national championship. His first was in 1949.

Later the U.S. Golf Association named a team of Cox, Billy Joe Patton, Dr. Frank Taylor and William Hundman III to represent the United States in the world championships at St. Andrews Scotland Oct. 8-11.

SUNDAY'S STARS

Batting: Joe Cunningham, St. Louis Cardinals—Filling in for injured Stan Musial, he hit two home runs and drove in four in 6-3 victory over Philadelphia Phillies.

Pitching: Bob Friend, Pittsburgh Pirates—Won his 21st game as Pittsburgh swept doubleheader from Chicago with 6-2 decision in second game, allowing only six hits.

New York Yankees Clinch American Pennant With Win Over Kansas City; Dodgers Stop Braves, Giants Split

New York Yankees clinched the American League pennant Sunday with a 5-3 victory over Kansas City in the opener of a double bill.

The second game was tied 7-7 after 13 innings.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Chicago White Sox trimmed Washington twice, 7-1 and 6-5; Detroit took third place from Boston, beating the Red Sox 6-1 and 9-3; Baltimore took the second game of a double bill, 4-2 over Cleveland, after losing the first 7-4.

In the National League, Joe Cunningham led St. Louis to a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia by cracking two home runs; the Pittsburgh Pirates twice downed Chicago Cubs, 5-4 and 6-2; Los Angeles stopped Milwaukee 5-3 and San Francisco split with Cincinnati, losing 4-3 and winning 6-4.

BIG DAY FOR LOPEZ
Chicago celebrated the signing of manager Al Lopez for another year by trouncing Washington. Earl Torgeson hit a pair of home runs to pace the White Sox in the second game. In the opener, Billy Pierce gained his 17th triumph, giving up only five hits. Roy Sievers got to Pierce for his 38th home run.

Detroit took over third place behind the fine pitching of Bill Hoelt and Paul Foytack. They stopped Ted Williams, who went hitless in five trips to the plate. His .320 average sagged to .316. But Williams' teammate, Pete Runnels had three hits in seven trips and hiked his average to .319. Detroit's Harvey Kuenn lost a point to 315.

Baltimore broke a seven-game losing streak by winning the nightcap behind Arnold Portocarrero's five-hit pitching. The Tribe won the opener when Rocky Colavito, with two home runs, and Vic Power with one accounted for six runs.

HOT SUBSTITUTE
Cunningham was filling in for injured Stan Musial at first base for St. Louis when he hit his two home runs, accounting for four runs. Sam (Toothpick) Jones fanned six Phillies to run his National League-leading season total to 212 and win his 13th game.

At Pittsburgh, Bob Friend won his 21st game, tops in the National League, in winning the second game. Ted Kluszewski hit a sacrifice fly with the bases loaded to drive in the winning Pirate run in the opener. Reliever Bob Porterfield picked up his fourth win.

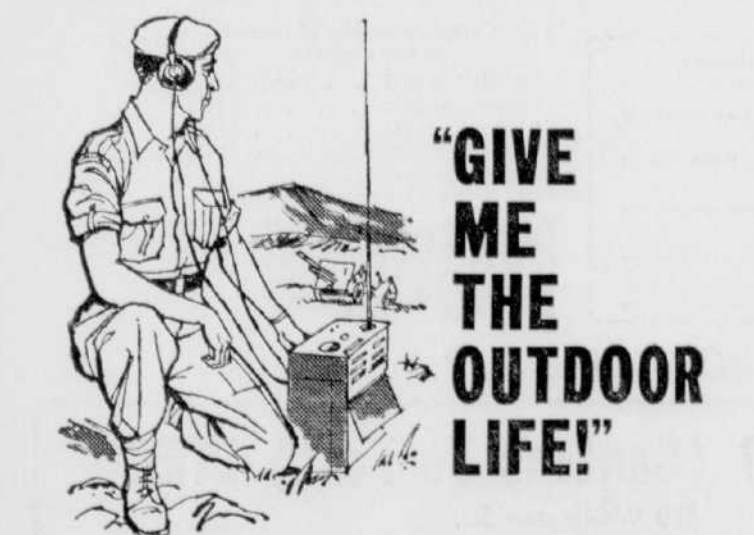

Rookie Don Demeter hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning to gave the Dodgers their victory over the league-leading Milwaukee. The result reduced the Braves' lead to six games over Pittsburgh. Johnny Klippstein got credit for the victory in relief.

Willie Mays and rookie Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's power boys, combined for seven hits as the Giants won the nightcap and hung on to third place. But the 43 Redleg victory in the opening game cost the Giants their last mathematical chance to win the National League pennant.

SATURDAY SCORES
Saturday's scores in the American League were Cleveland 4, Boston 1; New York 5, Chicago 4; Detroit 13, Baltimore 2; Washington 8, Kansas City 5.
In the National: Pittsburgh 9, Los Angeles 4; San Francisco 6, Philadelphia 5; Cincinnati 9, Chicago 2; Milwaukee 8, St. Louis 2.

Burke Emery Faces Mercer In Semi-Final

By NICK POWELL

Tonight the eyes of the boxing world are turned on the city of Sherbrooke.

This is the first time in the history of the city that so much interest from outside centres such as New York City, has been turned to this Eastern Townships city.

They are waiting to see if a mistake has been made. Many are also pulling for one man to prove that he has been "done wrong."

That man is Hurricane Jackson, who meets Johnny Vick of New York in Monday night's main event at the Arena.

People want to see whether Jackson is the physical wreck described by boxing sages in New York City. His supporters would like to see him have another chance. This is Jackson's last chance.

He has everything to gain and everything to lose. This is how he looks at it: How can a man allow himself to be a physical wreck when so much depends upon his making good in a few minutes of fighting within the confines of a few feet of rope against only one other man. This is a better chance he reasons than having to do battle with words against officials who have little or no knowledge of the man — other than hearsay.

This is Hurricane Jackson. He can hardly read or write and the only trade he knows is boxing. He is not fighting a world champion. What is at stake is his own ability to make a living in the ring. He does not ask another shot at the world heavyweight title. He asks that people believe that he is still a professional pugilist.

Whether he proves his point or not, is up to him. There are only two fighters in the ring.

Eastern Townships' Golfers Stop Vermonters In Annual Golf Event

COMPETED IN INTERNATIONAL GOLF TOURNAMENT — Shown above the players of both squads who played in the annual golf tourney held at the Country Club which was won by the Eastern Townships team over the squad representing Northern Vermont for the Canadian Johns Manville Trophy. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

The Eastern Townships golfers dumped a Northern Vermont squad 17½ to 6½ in the annual International Golf Match played at the Sherbrooke Country Club yesterday afternoon and won back the Canadian Johns Manville Company trophy.

Sixteen golfers comprised each squad and some very good scores were registered on each side. It was the fourth victory for the Townships compared to two for the Americans while one finished in a stalemate since the cup has been in competition.

Immediately following the match a dinner was held where special prizes were presented to the visitors. Ray Setlakwe of Thetford acted as chairman. Joe Leblanc, pro at the local club, donated gifts. Les Mercer, executive of the State of Vermont Golf Association, spoke on behalf of the visitors while Pete Leblanc spoke for the local squad.

Don Doe, captain of the team, accepted the trophy from Kermit Grant. Amedee Roy was named chairman for the 1959 Canadian team with the match slated to be played in St. Johnsbury.

Glenn Mitchell of the Burlington Country Club, Vermont, playing over the local course for the first time led the field in individual scoring when he posted a hot one-under-par 70. He was the top scorer for his side and his brilliant shooting enabled him and his mate Chad Ramsdell to top the Laurie brothers, Val and Howard, to pick up two points.

Mitchell was one of the longest, if not the longest, hitters seen at the local layout for quite sometime as his booming drives was something to watch. The Americans were down one at the turn but on the back nine his long drives and iron shots paid off and they managed to emerge with the extra punch to win out.

For the E. T. players Raymond Setlakwe was the pace-setter with even par, 71. Marcel Fortier and Henry Setlakwe were next with 72's, one over. The Mitchell-Ramsdell duo had the best low ball of the afternoon 66. Dave Walsh and Les Mercer, two veterans of International play, followed with 69.

For the Canadians three twosomes were under par with the best ball. The Laurie brothers had 67, Larry Perry and Marcel Fortier, 69, while George Beaulieu and Ray Setlakwe had 68. Dussault-Setlakwe, Dion Lindell, Roy, Hamel and the St. Pierre-Leblanc twosomes all had 70's. Don Doe and his mate, Gordon "Dusty" Miller had 72.

Some very good individual scores were registered as only three Canadian players were in the 80's while four of the Americans were in the 80 bracket. All the others players turned in scores in the low 70's.

For the Townships the Perry-Fortier, Beaulieu-R. Setlakwe and Connie Dion-John Lindell twosomes made a clean sweep of their games taking all three points. Only one American twosome, Dave Walsh and Les Mercer, two of the veterans on the squad who have taken part in every match managed to sweep three points from their opponents.

Bombers Dump Stamps For Fifth Win In WIFU As Esks Top Lions 13-7; Two Games On Tap On Tonight's Slate

Unless there are upsets, the Western Interprovincial Football Union standings should be strung out after tonight's games.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers, already in first place alone as a result of their 20-7 win over Calgary Stampede Saturday night, should maintain their margin with a win tonight at Vancouver over British Columbia Lions.

Stampeders, now tied in second place with Edmonton Eskimos who defeated Lions 13-7 Saturday night, are favored to beat Saskatchewan Roughriders in Regina tonight.

A three-way tie for the second spot would result if George Terlep's Riders won over Stamps. The Saskatchewan team, idle Saturday night, is two points behind Stamps and Esks. Edmonton is idle tonight.

Red Wings Sign Charley Burns

DETROIT (CP)—Detroit Red Wings Saturday signed Charley Burns for the coming National Hockey League season.

The 22-year-old centre played last season with the Whitey club that won the world championship for Canada at Oslo.

Burns suffered a head injury six years ago when he played in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series. Since then he has had a silver plate in his head and wears a helmet for protection.

Double Pays $503.80 With Number Ones Paying Off

"Number One" was the lucky figure at yesterday's races at the local track and the bettors who stuck with it emerged with the profits on Sunday's card. Four horses carrying the number walked off with the honors. It was the same two numbers who teamed up for the double and their backers picked up the top sum of $503.80 for their wager.

It was Lefebvre's Clean Up in the first race and Chabot's Danny Brooke, both with number one on their backs who formed the double. In the third it was the magic number one again when Blue Mountain Brooke, teamed by W. Mosher, who pulled under the wire ahead of the field while in the ninth it was Fern Desrochers and Allie Traux, who finished time for quiet awhile that they finished in the wire at the same time.

There was only one double winner and that was Surprenant's U.N.O. who walked off with both ends of the Handicap "DD" Trot and Pace. The first time the Montreal horse was clocked in 2:10 3/4 while the second time it was just a fifth-of-a-second better. They went the first half in 1:05 and a few fractions and came home a little better. It was close the whole way.

Tarte's Harry Prince, in the sixth, paid the best win bet when $31.30 was collected. The top figure for a place wager was in the fourth when Fernalley's Truly Volo rewarded his backers with $21.30. The best show placement was in the second when Robitaille's Zombett paid his backers $10.20.

The quinellas were $23.10, $68.00 and $16.70. There was no double quinella in the ninth as some people expected as the mutuels paid on the first two horses under the wire although they finished in a dead heat.

On Saturday night the double was $20.40 while the best quinella was in the third when $18.30 was shelled out. The other two were $7.60 and $7.20. The best payoff was in the seventh race when Grenier's Tutti Brooke pulled in ahead of the field in a close finish and the sum of $103.00 was shelled out for the surprise win.

Close Competition Marks Waterloo Hot Rod Races

WATERLOO — The Bouchard Hot Rod Club held its annual race on Clark Hill, where by five o'clock, the traffic had been diverted and the course laid out. Each racer was clocked between two given points and made two runs, the average of the two runs being taken as the official time. The course was three-tenths of a mile.

The "Dart", driven by Roy McKergow, took 32 seconds for the first run while two others, "Black Devil" and "Matador", made it in 31 seconds. However the "Dart" made the second run in 29 seconds while "Black Devil" and "Matador" clocked in again at 31 seconds. This put the "Dart" out front to win the Bouchard Trophy.

This year there were 15 entries, all boys, with the exception of Margaret Atkinson, who drove "Silver Bird". Although she took an average of 34 seconds to run the course Margaret received the support of the large number of spectators present for the fine showing she made in her well-constructed hot rod.

The appearance of the cars showed many hours of planning, building and painting. As much as 60 hours are spent by one boy in the construction of his hot rod. Then several hours are spent making practice runs.

Each year the Waterloo Kiwanis Club gives Butch Bouchard its full support in running the races. This year the president of the Bouchard Hot Rod Club, Frank Makinson, Kiwanians Gene Sheppard and Jacques Chagnon were starters and Roger McKergow, Alden Perkins and Dave Schenfield officiated at the finish line. Kiwanian Emmett Dunlavy was in charge of the P.A. system, while Kiwanian Fred Marsh was linesman.

Police Chief Points Finger at "Protection" Racket

"It's time someone spoke up," says Police Chief Charles St-Amour, Montreal North. "Protection only exists when it covers all possibilities. And the best example of that is anti-freeze. Sure, lots of people say that almost anything will give your car winter protection. But for me there's only one brand of anti-freeze that does the complete job. That's 'Prestone' Brand. In the cooling system of my car it not only guards against frost, but rust, corrosion, foaming and clogging as well. That's what I call complete protection."

The Chief is right. "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze is the only anti-freeze with magnetic film that coats every surface of your cooling system. Make sure you insist on "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze—identified by the Green Tag that will be attached to your radiator.

Red Shells Drive Off Ship Convoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist artillery fire drove another Nationalist supply convoy off the beach at Quemoy in pre-dawn darkness today.

Four Nationalist Chinese supply ships were forced to withdraw after unloading only a small portion of their cargo.

Within one hour the Reds poured more than 7,000 high-explosive shells into Liaofo Beach where the vessels were trying to unload supplies for the besieged Nationalist outpost island.

This was the third unsuccessful attempt by the Nationalists to run the blockade with U.S. warships escorting them within three miles of Quemoy. It was the first attempt under cover of darkness.
