

'I will repay judgment of voters': Drury

Election 'high honor, responsibility' to winner

Egg-tosser misses mark

All was quiet on the election front in Westmount. Police received no calls for trouble but there was one incident reported where an egg was cast instead of a vote.

The odoriferous missile was thrown by a youngster at a candidate who was passing in a car, it was reported. The egg missed its target and ended up on the sidewalk on the opposite side of the street.

There were no casualties and the poor marksman disappeared up a lane before he could be caught.

MR. DRURY FLASHES A VICTORY SMILE

"It's a high honor and a great responsibility which I will discharge to the best of my ability. I will try and repay the judgment of the voters by attending to their problems. As to the future at this moment, all that is clear is that the Liberal Party is going to form the Opposition."

Thus stated Charles M. (Bud) Drury successful candidate in the St. Antoine-Westmount federal constituency following his election last Monday.

All stops were pulled out as candidates carried out the most exciting election campaign in Westmount, and one of the most interesting in Montreal's 21 constituencies. Open air rallies, picnics, speeches, heckling, parades, balloons, canvassing and the usual band and fanfare were resorted to in electioneering.

Although no one would officially predict the outcome of this enthusiastic contest, remarks by voters were frequent. "Kerrigan is no match for Drury" was heard. This prediction came true as residents chose Charles M. Drury to represent St. Antoine Westmount in the House of Commons by more than 3,000 votes over Kerrigan. Drury, probably would have been Canada's next Minister of Defense if the Liberals had won the election.

Problems of today's teenagers tackled by medical science

An insight into what is being done for today's teenagers from a medical viewpoint was given to members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at their regular weekly meeting held in Victoria Hall on Wednesday.

Summer hours

Summer hours have started at the Westmount Public Library. It is now closed all day Saturday until the Saturday after Labor Day. The Library also will be closed all day next Monday, St. Jean Baptiste Day, and all day Monday, July 2, Dominion Day.

John Elder, pediatrician, well-known medical authority who comes from a long line of distinguished surgeons.

In speaking on the subject of the place of the adolescent in society, Dr. Elder enlightened his listeners to the methods employed in "getting through" to the average teenager because of their reticence and non-conformist attitudes.

It was sometimes very difficult to find out exactly what is troubling them but once their confidence is secured and they are ready to speak out it makes the problem much easier, he said.

"If the teenager is anything, he is a non-conformist and if he isn't he becomes a carbon copy of his parents who are sometimes very dull. Conforming is all right for adults but it doesn't enter into the teenagers' picture. It must be remembered that as a child he is a supreme egotist and as a teenager he is exploring his own emotions and anything that arouses his emotions interests him."

The teenager, according to medical findings said Dr. Elder, is thoroughly loyal and does not like to talk about what is bothering him. This makes it extremely hard to understand him and get to the bottom of his trouble.

The teenager is keen on ability and worships his father, and fathers should accept the fact that the teenager is trying to find out the solution of problems for himself and is seeking the ability to establish an attitude of his own.

Dr. Elder stated that Montreal was fortunate in not having gang elements as they are generally known in other large centres and complimented Ro-

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 23 to 30

Sunny and quite warm with high humidity to commence the week, then cooling winds and scattered thundershowers. Cold drizzle in the mountains, clearing afternoons. One inch of rain during the week would be normal. Temperature range 40-75°F or higher, with 55 hours of sunshine.

Delicate plants should be protected; evaporation of dew can produce the equivalent of a sharp frost.

Hot humid days with morning fogs or heavy dews in the middle of the week, then a deep temperature inversion accompanied by local thundershowers and hail.

This is tornado time for Ontario and along the Ottawa Valley, particularly in the Carillon-Montebello and Ste. Anne de Bellevue-Cartierville regions.

Spotting rain, mainly sunny and very warm but sultry for the end of the week. Morning drizzle for many places. Dawn fishing good, evening only fair.

ROTARY CARNIVAL LOOT: These three youngsters — Richard Barnaby, 14; John Bryant, 12; and Harvey Alter, 12 — are full of whoopee as they carry home prizes won at the Westmount Rotary Carnival now in progress in Westmount Park skating rink. Crowds will continue to throng the location for the rest of the week in order to add to the Community Fund work of the Rotarians. The carnival is the only means the club uses to raise funds for its endeavors.

Platter Matter

RCA Victor: Black Tights. An original soundtrack recording. FOC-3. This is one movie soundtrack recording that does not pall on the listener, as the music on this one has a great deal to contribute to the success of the movie now playing at the Seville in Montreal.

'Black Tights' is actually four petit ballets with a French accent featuring dancers Cyd Charisse, Moira Shearer and Zizi Jeanmaire. They are 'The Diamond Cruncher', in modern style but not too so; 'The Merry Mourning', bouncy and waltzy; the flashy and exciting 'Carmen' music of Bizet; and a bombastic and nostalgic 'Cyrano De Bergerac', each introduced by the inimitable Maurice Chevalier, and all well-recorded and performed.

Love Walked In. Arranged and conducted by Morton Gould. LM-2633. A dozen old and new love songs, painstakingly arranged for brass and strings by the well-known musician Morton Gould. Mr. Gould never loses sight of the simple melodies, permitting the musical styling and rich orchestration to enhance these familiar ballads: — 'Love Walked In', 'I'm In The Mood For Love', 'Let's Fall In Love', 'Speak To Me Of Love', 'My Silent Love', 'I Love You', 'I Love Thee', etc., and Mr. Gould's own 'I'm Sure Of Your Love'.

The Bridge — Sonny Rollins and Co. LPM-2527. Sonny Rollins is a young, colored saxophonist who having been considerably successful in this field, 'retired' in 1959 to study and try out new ideas with his music.

This is his first recording since then, and Sonny and Company present a program in a refined version of the hard-bop style he is noted for. Sonny's sax is crisp and staccato, yet very fluid, and never raucous in delivery, the arrangements with Jim Hall, guitar; Bob Cranshaw, bass; and Ben Riley and H. T. Saunders on drums, soft and driving, diversely intricate and simple in construction, with plenty of exciting improvisation. The programme includes four standards: — 'Without A Song', 'Where Are You', 'God Bless The Child' and 'You Do Something To Me', and two Sonny Rollins originals, 'John S' and 'The Bridge'. A great disc for lovers of abstract jazz.

Babysitting is no soft touch

Two letters have arrived on my desk in the last week regarding babysitting — that time-honored profession by which most teenage girls (and the occasional fellow) make pin money.

Exhibit A: A young mother of two children who feels that babysitters pledge themselves to a code of honor before launching a sitting career.

Exhibit B: A 16-year-old Halifax girl who submitted with her letter a carefully prepared list of do's and don'ts that more parents should follow when leaving junior with a sitter.

Mrs. C. B. W. (also signed "Fed-Up" mother of Two") writes: 'You've mentioned babysitting as a good summer job. Tell me, how many teenagers figure it is a chance to watch TV, read someone else's magazines, and raid a strange refrigerator?

"I would seriously suggest that young girls who think the money sounds attractive agree to abide by the following suggestions I've drawn up before they take their first sitting job:

Don't cancel

"DON'T promise to take a job if there's a chance that you might cancel out at the last minute because of a date. Just think what it does to our evening!

"DON'T agree to look after a small baby if you've never had experience in caring for one. It either means that the youngster is going to be neglected, or the parents are constantly being phoned at their party.

"DON'T say that you'll stay all night if your parents haven't agreed to it earlier. We feel great when a mother or father telephones later to accuse us of being slave-drivers or responsible for juvenile delinquency."

Interesting words, but Joan Brant, 16, of Halifax, has her own list of what babysitters expect from parents.

Be available

"DO leave a number where you can be reached at any time during the evening.

"DO leave a list of other important numbers — the family doctor, neighbors, fire department, and police. Most sitters should know the last two, of course.

"DO tell the sitter approximately what time you'll be home, and try to stick to that time.

"DO not leave the sink stacked with dirty dishes unless you offer to pay the sitter extra for doing them. An extra 15 cents an hour is a good yardstick.

"DO tell the sitter all you can about your offspring — his or her nickname, the exact bedtime, what he should or shouldn't eat, and when.

"DO spell out for the sitter in a tactful way the snacking privileges, and show her where the snack can be found.

"DO make sure that she gets home safely. If you are unable to drive her home, send her home in a taxi. The parents' responsibility increases, of course, the later it becomes."

Joan: "Don't feel, please, that we sitters are trying to have it all one way. We realize that we accept a great responsibility in looking after the welfare of another person, but the simple rules I've outlined help so much."

And, she added, parents with really large families — four children or more — should expect to pay extra rates, especially if there are young babies in the family who need special attention.

We're staying on the fence in this issue. But you may at least find the two points-of-view interesting, if only because they prove that parents and sitters really have the same worries in mind.

Election quiz

How many teen-agers in Canada were interested in the Federal Election, and had positive views about the political platforms of the parties involved? This is a moot question this week.

Our friends in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver tell us that while a significant number of young people were helping to canvass homes most teen-agers were apathetic about the election.

What about you? Could you name the candidates in your own riding? Do you have any idea of the basic issues which they've been discussing?

Who is the Member now representing you in Ottawa?

An interesting situation in a Montreal constituency was that 75 young people were working for their McGill University professor in the election — even though many were unable to vote.

The students, who were helping Prof. Charles Taylor, a professor of political science at McGill University, call him "Chuck" in his New Demo- (Continued on page 6)

Swimming pool construction slated to begin in few days

Westmount's new swimming pool to be erected at a cost of $150,000 will be started within a few days, according to word from official sources. All that is needed is the approval of the plans by provincial authorities, which will be forthcoming within a few days.

The new pool will be located at Western and Landsdowne avenues and will be of Olympic dimensions — 72 feet long and 42 feet wide with a sloping base providing varying depths for waders and competent swimmers.

The latest in diving equipment will also be a feature of the project as well as facilities for patrons with permanent bath houses and storage facilities available.

The new pool will have a water heating system which will allow an extension of the swimming season for patrons. The project received enthusiastic approval at the last meeting of the Community council.

"If the mountain won't go to Mohammed then Mohammed must go to the mountain," was the observation made at the scene of a slight fire which occurred in front of No. 2 Fire Station located at Victoria avenue and The Boulevard this week.

It appears that a sight-seeing bus caught fire just as it was approaching the station. The chauffeur calmed his passengers and drove to the station, where he stopped and called for help.

A single hand-extinguisher quenched the flames in the floor of the bus. Bus and passengers then proceeded on its way.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Three cheers, Mr. Drury!

WE believe it is in order to congratulate Mr. Drury on his election to the House of Commons.

As expected, the fight narrowed down to two of the four candidates running in St. Antoine-Westmount — Mr. Drury and Mr. Kerrigan.

We have no way of proving this, but we are almost sure there wasn't a riding across Canada in which a cleaner campaign was waged.

There was a tremendous amount of hoopla and good humour — and we see nothing wrong in these gimmicks when they are conducted in good taste.

The Examiner, in reporting campaign activities, was able to get in on the fun, too, by kicking around such phrases as "Bud blooms" and "Kerrigan krooners."

Also, "Drury dolls" got into the act!

To be sure, voting is both a right and a duty — a very serious business, in fact — but we are sure few if any citizens were offended by the funny antics of some of the candidates' organizers and other supporters.

To all candidates — Mr. Drury, Mr. Kerrigan, Mr. Assels and Dr. Hushley — we say "thank you" for conducting a fair fight and refraining from mud-slinging.

We congratulate you all!

'Garage' buses annoy traveler

Sir: When are the officials of the Montreal Transportation Commission going to wake-up and serve the public as to when and where it should be served?

I am speaking now of the innumerable buses marked "Garage" which speed by leaving waiting customers at the bus stops early in the morning. I live in Westmount and work in Verdun, I would suggest that some of the MTC officials try and board some of the buses marked "Garage." They just go speeding by.

Finally the waiting group board a bus which takes them to the Atwater terminal just in time to find the 108 Verdun bus has also been marked "Garage" and speeds by.

Just let the officials try going down to St. Remi street. Here they will wait at St. Remi and St. James street while another parade of empty buses marked "Garage" leave the passengers standing for as much as 15 minutes waiting for a 78 bus.

I am seriously thinking of moving to New York where I can commute by air to and from Montreal in 59 minutes rather than wait for a MTC bus, which sometimes takes me over an hour to get from N.D.G. to Verdun!

Is there no way whereby buses on their last trip to the garage could be compelled to pick up passengers on their last run to the "Garage." It would save time and speed up the service for the benefit of paying passengers?

Delayed traffic light installation gets underway at busy intersection

By VALENTINA RAHR

At long last most of the equipment for the traffic light installation at Park Place and St. Catherine west has been delivered to the City of Westmount, and on Tuesday workmen got the go ahead on ground excavation.

"When the holes are dug, concrete bases will be poured. Then standards will be bolted to these concrete bases. Installation of fibre conduit for cables will take place while the holes are being prepared. All the equipment should be ready in about two weeks unless unforeseen problems arise."

This is the word of Alexander Heron, superintendent of the Light and Power Department, who is in charge of the project.

When a car travelling east along St. Catherine approaches this spot the driver will first notice a three-color traffic light overhead, which will be seen directly over the center of the eastbound traffic lane. On the north-east corner a secondary traffic light will be mounted. On the south side and directly from that corner will be another traffic light.

Three traffic lights will control the eastbound traffic along St. Catherine street. Travelling west, the order will be reversed but control will be similar, with a traffic light mounted at the bus-top. Pedestrians will follow ordinary traffic signals. Cars approaching St. Catherine from Park Place will see the overhead traffic light first.

Petition for traffic light installation was given its final reading before Westmount city councillors by Councillor Drury.

He has the respect of both union and management and refuses to discuss the ways in which he arrives at workable agreements between disputing parties.

"Get Goldenberg" is the remedy suggested by labor or management when a deadlock is reached. At the present time he is arbiter of a dispute between the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission and its employees, thereby delaying if not yet averting a strike that has been explicitly forbidden by special act of Ontario Legislature.

The most embarrassing and costly strike which was settled by Mr. Goldenberg in his career was the Royal York Hotel strike in Toronto that lasted more than a year.

Red Cross seeks volunteers

To meet the requirements of hospitals, 4,000 pints of blood must be collected each week and to meet this demand Red Cross urgently needs volunteers to assist in the telephoning of donors for appointments. During the summer months many Red Cross volunteers are on vacation and replacements for this important work must be found.

Any one wishing to enroll in the Red Cross Voluntary Services may do so by telephoning the Montreal Headquarters at WE. 7-7761. Young ladies between the ages of 16-18 who are free from studies during the summer would be most welcome.

Roger Pickeldorf, always given to unthinking remarks, became exceptionally angry at a small country garage the other day. "Tell me," he asked. "What do you fellows wipe your greasy hands on when you run out of steering wheels?"

"LIKE many smart women," says a chronicler, "she takes a puff or two at a cigarette, and then discards it." Women who are even smarter stub it out and shove it behind their ears or in the lining of their hats, "for a rainy day," as Nuclea Button-Farragut said laughingly.

Selwyn House School prize-giving attended by many parents, friends

Selwyn House School graduates received their awards in a colorful prize-giving ceremony which took place at Selwyn House School before a large gathering of parents and friends last week.

The students were given a heart-to-heart talk by Dr. C. L. Ogden Glass, principal and vice-chancellor of Bishop's University, who told them that a redress in the imbalance between arts men and scientists in present day society is urgently needed.

"This is not to decry the science student or the scientist," he said, "I am simply trying to point out that we have just as urgent a need for lawyers, economists, businessmen, historians."

Dr. Glass continued: "Canada and her sister democracies of the West will continue to lead the world only if they take advantage of the education offered them and seek at the same time earnestly to improve that education." James Brunton won the Lieutenant-Governors Silver Medal (for academic distinction in Senior School) and the Lucas Medal (awarded to the most outstanding boy in Senior Form of the School in work, games, leadership and character and vote of Staff and his fellow students).

Winner of the Thomas Chambers Brainerd Memorial Award was Jon Scott. Gordon Norsworthy was awarded The Jeffrey Russel Prize (awarded for all-round ability).

Unity Boys' Club

We go on the air

By MAURICE MARIASINE

The "Like Young Show" of CFCF Radio will emanate today from the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount from 3.30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The program will be broadcast live from the premises at 1090 Greene avenue.

Everyone in the community is welcome to attend. There are no limitations. The program will consist of a record hop, on-the-spot interviews, some entertainment and refreshments.

The open-door policy of the club will be in evidence this afternoon. Make up a party and plan to attend. There are no restrictions. Come one, come all!

SUMMER PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Arrangements have been completed with the Seignior Park Beach Club for members of the Unity Boys' Club to participate in a weekly program of fun and frolic at Chateauguay's swimming pool. Beginning July 3 and continuing every Tuesday throughout the summer, club members are asked to be at the club at 8:30 a.m. sharp.

Another highlight of the summer program will be the tour of an ocean liner provided through the courtesy of the Canadian Steamship Services. The date has not as yet been selected, but it will be on a Wednesday in July or August.

Registration for the learn-to-swim project at the YWCA this summer will continue until the end of this month. All beginners interested in learning to swim under expert instruction are asked to register immediately. The course, a six week affair, will start on July 12 and end on August 16.

eratic Party headquarters. Quite a difference from the classroom.

Several of the students decided to give up summer employment to work unpaid for Prof. Taylor. On June 18 all the students put in a full day as scrutineers at some of the 269 polling stations in Mount Royal constituency.

As Carol Brainin, a McGill political science student, phrased it: "I'm too young to vote so I feel I simply have to do something in the election, you know, to feel that I'm part of it." Bravo to Carol and other teen-agers who feel the same way!

New Lingo

Anyone heard the latest slang phrase in the Russian teen-ager's vocabulary? It's one word — "iron."

Recent visitors to Moscow report that the word has come to mean a superlative adjective. What an "iron" book, an "iron" girlfriend, an "iron" weekend.

Victims revived by firemen

On the occasions this week the Westmount Fire Department were called upon to use their first aid and rescue squad to do resuscitation on individuals who had taken sick and collapsed.

The calls were answered promptly and artificial respiration given before the doctor or ambulance arrived. In two of the three cases their efforts were successful in reviving the victims, who were taken to hospital by ambulance.

This living room features traditional furnishings and decor

New Forty-Three Hundred wing features 'latest in living'

Keeping in step with the latest look in home furnishings, Westmount's largest luxury apartment, the Forty-Three Hundred, is displaying two furnished apartments in the new wing which will be ready for occupation early in October.

Copies of furniture pieces which were once confined to exclusive shops are now being manufactured in Canada and stock items may be purchased at short notice. Following this trend in using graceful replicas of antiques, decorator Frank B. Pearson, Kensington avenue, has made use of the color, pattern and intricate wood mountings inspired by the ancient cultures, and combined them with contemporary pieces that still retain an Old World look.

In the living room of the traditionally styled apartment now on view, off white colored chairs with pleated material, and neutral shades combine with white, off white, brown and natural tones predominating.

Floor length draperies in natural tones are a special feature of the whole apartment unit. An interesting wood chest with Italian renaissance wood scroll work on the doors combines beautifully with lamps that feature with antique Italian shades of glass.

Carpeted from wall to wall in fawn broadloom, this spacious room has an air of added distance given by the floral garden mural above the boxy silhouette of the rich brown toned four cushioned sofa.

'LATEST WORD' IN KITCHENS

The kitchens in this apartment and the second one on display are similar in that they feature the latest word in kitchens. Twin compartment sink, wood finish teak wood, formica cabinets, two sliding hardwood cutting boards, built in eye level ovens with rotisserie, two door refrigerator with separate freezer, under the counter dish washer, recessed kitchen telephone with retracting cord, washer-dryer connection. A special intercom system telephone connects the kitchen with the front door, garage, housekeeper, etc. Smartly uniformed help on hourly or daily or full time basis — maids, houseman, chauffeurs, butlers, is available.

The den or TV room which may also double as an extra bedroom or guest room is decorated in shades of brown, off white and light brown, with walnut wood predominating in furnishing. On the wall may be seen a walnut wood shell and fish montage, with neutral tone draperies at the windows.

The debutante's room is decorated in several shades of rose, white and light pink, and is practical yet feminine.

The master bedroom features an extra wide bed in walnut wood of a light shade, with matching night tables and extra long chest of drawers. Tones of blue predominate here and all shades of blue culminate in the beautiful tufted print chintz chair. Full width mirror over the chest of drawers, and built in drawer cupboards in the clothes closet are additions to every apartment. Air conditioning units are also installed in every apartment.

The bathroom in this six and a half room apartment are tiled one in gray and the other in tary members for the fine work they were doing in aiding youth through clubs such as the Unity Boys' Club and their efforts in furthering scholarships.

Teenagers must have something to occupy their time and the clubs sponsored by Rotary were solving many of the problems in this respect.

He urged fathers to take more interest in their teenaged children.

Through clinical studies at the Montreal Children's Hospital, Dr. Elder stated, it was found that symptoms which appeared to be physical by the parents who brought them to the clinic were really emotional and many of the psychiatric problems of parents were found to be reflected in the children.

Dr. Elder was tendered a vote of thanks by Dr. John Lockhead who presented him with a certificate of appreciation given by Rotary for his service to the community.

Drury elected...

iod in the near future, and endeavors by the Diefenbaker Government to cling to power prolongs the uncertainty and makes the difficult period worse," further explained Mr. Drury. "Countries outside of Canada regard this as confusing and look at us with suspended judgment. That's what we've been suffering from during the last two years — want of a strong competent government — and we will have less of it now."

"However, it is a great source of satisfaction to see that voters should have understood the issues at hand, and showed their disapproval at the polls. Lester B. Pearson has been working during the last five years to recruit a lot of highly competent individuals," stated Mr. Drury. Candidates for constituencies were selected by local constituency members, witness the nominating Liberal convention in Westmount just before the election campaign. Quite a change from the past."

Mr. Kerrigan and his group fought a hard campaign. Great satisfaction was expressed by Mr. Drury that there was no attempt to indulge in personal incriminations.

C. M. Drury comes to his new post with a tremendous background of experience in Canada and abroad. In 1945-47 he was Chief of UNRRA Mission to Poland, Warsaw; Economic Division, Department of External Affairs 1947-49; Deputy Minister Department of National Defence 1949-55; past president United Nations Association in Canada; president Montreal Board of Trade 1961-62; past president Canadian Centenary Council; chairman Montreal Branch Canadian Institute of International Affairs; Member of the Northwest Territories Council.

He attended Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., Canadian Army Captain 1940; one of the youngest Canadian officers to be promoted Brigadier in 1945. He was awarded CBE and DSO. A family man he was born in Montreal and lived most of his life in St. Antoine-Westmount riding. Educated at Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, McGill University; Université de Paris, France and is married with two daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Drury comes originally from Hamilton, Ontario, where she was born and educated. They lived away from Montreal for sixteen years after being married. At the end of World War II, they went with their two daughters Diana and Leith to live in Poland. Two sons Vic and Gib are attending Bishops College School. Said Mrs. Drury: "The children are proud and delighted that their father was elected. During the campaign weeks before election day we met an enormous number of extremely interesting people that we would never meet in the normal course of events. It was very stimulating and we thoroughly enjoyed it all. People like Mrs. Coristine and Mrs. Asselin, members of the Women's Liberal Association were invaluable in the help they gave voluntarily during coffee parties, lunches, and other functions.

Without the full support of people like these, we would never have been able to enjoy the success we have now. The mad rush to keep appointments, and all the hubbub of campaigning was very exciting. We enjoyed it all thoroughly."

Fire-hazard drive is well received

Westmount Fire Department officials are pleased with the cooperation they are receiving from the citizens in their present drive to make the city as safe as possible from the hazards of fire.

Three times weekly a platoon of uniformed firemen equipped with fire truck and all the necessary means of extinguishing fire are conducting a house-to-house visit. They are instructing the householders on the general procedure to be followed in case of fire.

The survey of inspection includes all single and two family dwellings as well as apartment houses and is being made between the hours of 1.30 to 4.30 p.m.

The fire inspection program is a department effort to reduce the hazards by pointing out danger spots to the householder. The move on the part of the department is entirely voluntary and gives the residents of West-mount an opportunity of meeting the men who are looking after their safety.

During the inspection all men will be in uniform and will ask permission of the householder to enter before making an inspection. The sole purpose of the inspection is to aid the householder to make his home as fire proof as possible.

Inspection will be made of basements, utility rooms, storage rooms, kitchens and garages as well as other rooms should the householder desire. At no time will there be a demand to inspect the premises.

According to Director of Public Safety, Chief E. C. Harper, the inspection tour is meeting with full cooperation.

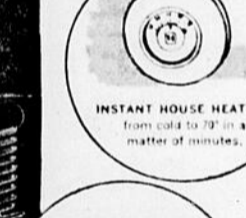

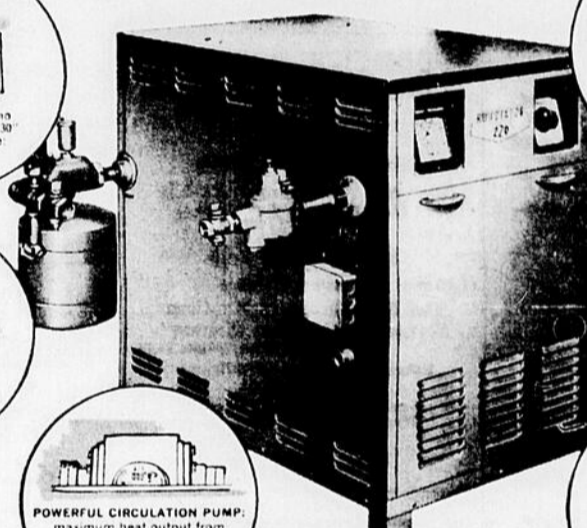

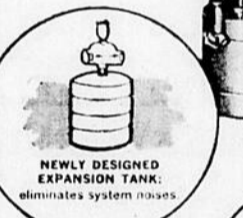

Death toll from U. S. accidents in 1960 was about 93,000, or 1 per cent higher than 1959, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Eye-catching in this furnished apartment are the many beautifully shaded lamps with unusual shaped bases. These are the personality traits of the decor. Of this apartment Pearson says: "The furnishings in the apartment are designed so the lady of the house can impress her personality on it."

The second furnished apartment that is on display in the new wing of the Forty Three Hundred was decorated by Robert E. Dugan, whose experience in design and decoration came after years of training in New York City. Within five and a half rooms Decorator Dugan has combined gold tones, white, off white, rich blues, black and burnt orange making a home suitable for the family that intends to entertain often. In this unit, pieces of furniture examined separately are traditional in style, yet the whole impression on entering the apartment is that of an airy, contemporary arrangement and design.

'House and Garden' tours are popular

By Millicent Hickmore

IT IS NOT surprising that the "house and garden" tour is so popular. This year some of the finest homes in Westmount and Outremont were on view. Of special interest to women is the fine paintings, china, figurines and furnishings, and to the men, I imagine the architecture would be of great interest and the patios etc., in the gardens. These tours are usually in aid of hospitals and this one which took place in May was sponsored by the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital Auxiliary and took place on May 23 — tickets for the tour were sold out well in advance of the day. Some of the homes in Westmount on the list were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruddy, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lechartier, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Webster, Mr. and Mrs. John Frosst and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hodgson. The amount raised this year was not available at press time — but the total amount raised from the house and garden tour (begun in 1953) to May 1962 is $32,459. This is just one of the many projects of the Hospital Auxiliary.

McLaughlin, press convener, Mount Royal Toastmistress Club... Muriel S. MacIsaac, corresponding secretary, Blue Goose Ladies' Auxiliary... Mrs. M. D. Colson, The Catholic Women's League of Canada.

* * * ANNUAL RECITAL: Miss Frances Goltman, well known music critic and teacher, is holding the annual pianoforte recital, to be given by her pupils in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Tuesday, June 26 at 8:15 p.m.

BEAUTY HINT: More and more women are realizing that fragrance can give them summer refreshment. Elizabeth Arden gives a few hints on how to use fragrance during the humid summer months. Blue grass is one of the fragrances most used in warm weather, it is an airy bouquet of many flowers including jasmine and rose braced with lavender and a green woody note. A cool touch of perfume at pulse spots, a mist sprayed on handkerchief, hair, knees, temples is instantly cooling. Even your coiffure can be brought into harmony, for the same fragrance is used in the shampoo and the hair spray.

The Point of View

No need to travel round the world
To find a place that's new,
Within each heart, a new land lies,
It's just a point of view.

The things of yesterday are dead,
Bright dawns a vision new,
So why waste time, for the lost years,
Just change your point of view.

14 Indians win two more

The Westmount Examiner, Friday, June 22, 1962

Westmount's Unity Indians collected two more wins this week, to bring their unbeaten stretch this season to 12 straight, with victories over Orioles and Red Sox.

At Clifford park on Monday, they crushed Orioles 21-2 under the two-hit pitching of Dalton Barnoff, who bagged his fifth straight mound triumph.

The locals bagged 18 hits, with Lawrence Crouch smashing out two homers, aided by Steve Ailyen and Zigi Rodoman with single four baggers. The latter was a grand slam, scoring four men.

Losing pitcher was Michel Matte.

On Wednesday, the Indians sped to their 12th straight win, whitewashing Red Sox 22-0. Lawrence Crouch was the winning pitcher, bringing his seasonal tally to 4-0.

Bradley Syvret and Dalton Barnoff both homered. This was Barnoff's eighth of the season.

Losing pitcher was Andre LaVoie.

Pirates take PeeWee crown

Pirates won the City of Westmount Recreation Department 1962 Pee Wee Championship by trouncing the second place Mets in a sudden-death play-off game by an 11-6 score.

Barry Josephson and Dalton Barnoff shared the pitching assignment, while sound defensive team play aided the victory.

Following is the champions roster:—

Paul Ono, Captain.
Gordon Holland, Co-Captain.
Bruce Lerner.
Duncan Wray.
Roger Helgason.

Snowdon fastball re-union

Old-timers thrill fans with base hitting glut

Nostalgia, breathlessness and muscle rub were the order of the day at Tremholme Park on Tuesday evening, as a large crowd saw the re-union of many former stars of the Snowdon Major Fastball League, in a special 'old timers' game.

A grand total of 19 base hits, in all points of the diamond, delighted the assembled 1,200 fans. Greens beat out Reds 14-8.

Proceeds went to the N.D.G. Maple Leafs Junior Football Club.

When the pace began to tell on the young-in-heart veterans, the game was called after six innings.

Four homers counted

Four homers were smashed out, proving that the old-timers can still hit hard.

Joe Bervaldi homered for the Greens, managed by Jay Killoran and Jack Egan.

For the Reds, managed by Buddy Atchison and Irving Selick, outfielders Bernie Leebosh and Cy Sokoloff majored, as did pitcher Nick Borzelli. Canadiens former ice hockey star and current manager Toe Blake made a big hit, but couldn't muster the speed or energy to make more than three bases, and was thrown out at the plate.

N.D.G.'s popular All Star defenceman Doug Harvey was able to make a late appearance, but went hitless at two at bats.
