Municipal election

The candidates East Ward seat No. 2

Only lady candidate is trained lawyer

SHERBROOKE (CJ) — The second woman to seek a city council seat in Sherbrooke and the only woman running in the present civic election campaign, Lise Dube, is attempting to oust

SHER. PARTY'S DUBE

Ald. Romeo Quintal, Civic Action representative for East

Ward seat 2. Completing her law studies at the University of Sherbrooke in 1964, she was admitted to the St. Francis District Bar in June, 1965.

Today she is a member of the legal firm of Steinman, Nadeau, Dube and Beauchamp.

In addition to her regular practice of law, Miss Dube serves as judge for the municipal court of Lake Megantic and during the college years of 1968 and 1969 was professor of criminal law at Sherbrooke CEGEP.

She is a member of the Conference of Municipal Judges of the Province of Quebec, a director of the Association of Advocates of the province, is a member of the Association of University Women and secretary of the St. Francis District Bar.

Education specialist seeks second term

SHERBROOKE (CJ) — First Civic Action League candidate to be elected to the Sherbrooke City Council East Ward Seat No. 2 in 1967, Romeo Quintal, 38-year-old educationist, is seeking his second term in the Nov. 1 general elections.

CAL'S QUINTAL

In one way, Mr. Quintal faces unusual opposition in that his only opponent to date is a woman, Lise Dube, an attorney, who is a supporter of the Sherbrooke Party.

Mr. Quintal is a native of the East Ward, being born there in May, 1932 and where he now resides. He received his education at various East Ward schools. Following the completion of his classical studies, he was awarded a B.A. in education and began teaching duties in the Sherbrooke Roman Catholic school system in 1956.

During his period as an elementary and secondary school teacher he carried on postgraduate studies, receiving his mastership in education in 1962.

That fall he was named an assistant director of a Sherbrooke school, becoming a director in 1963 and assistant director-general of the Sherbrooke Roman Catholic schools in 1966.

The following year he accepted a post with the Compton County Catholic Regional School Commission as director general of the schools in East Angus, a position he holds at present.

An accomplished musician, Mr. Quintal was organizer of a junior choir which he now directs.

He is president of the Ste. Famille Branch of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, a member of the Association of Directors of Studies, of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, the Sherbrooke Elks Lodge and president of the supervisory committee of La Caisse Populaire Ste. Famille.

May grant police forces special powers

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says the federal government may give urgent consideration—probably at a cabinet meeting in Ottawa today—to a proposal that police be given extraordinary powers in investigating the Montreal kidnapping of James Cross and Pierre Laporte.

from Ottawa that the move, rejected earlier in the kidnapping crisis, could involve proclamation of the War Measures Act. Once invoked, the act would give the government power to sanction a number of extraordinary police procedures.

Among them would be the power to search premises without a warrant and to hold persons for questioning without laying charges.

It also says Prime Minister Trudeau indicated to the Liberal caucus in Ottawa Wednesday that the Federal government has not altered its opposition to trading FLQ prisoners for the safe return of Mr. Cross and Mr.

Laporte.

The newspaper quotes sources as saying there were a number of views expressed at the caucus meeting. "If there was a consensus, it was that the government should stick to its hard line and brace itself for the consequences," it quotes the source as saying.

The newspaper says Senator David Croll of Toronto suggested that Mr. Trudeau cancel his 10-day trip to Russia, scheduled to begin Sunday, if the kidnap crisis is not resolved. It quotes him as saying it would be disquieting for the public if the prime minister were out of the country at a time of national emergency.

Communications problems delay resumption of kidnap talks

MONTREAL (CP) — Talks aimed at freeing two political hostages held by Quebec terrorists were up in the air today with the kidnappers' spokesman in Montreal and the government representative in Quebec City with the provincial cabinet.

After a one-hour meeting with Robert Demers, government contact man, lawyer Robert Lemieux said Wednesday he had been invited to continue the sessions in Quebec City where Mr. Demers had gone.

The Wednesday session was a continuation of discussions by which the government seeks establishment of a "mechanism" to guarantee the safety of British diplomat James (Jasper) Cross and Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte, abducted last week and held for ransom by the revolutionary Front de Liberation du Quebec.

Mr. Demers had gone to the provincial capital with the provincial cabinet which moved there from temporary quarters in Montreal.

ASSEMBLY MEETS

The cabinet had to be there for an important session of the national assembly on the province's vital medical care insurance program starting today.

No one said why Mr. Demers, a Montreal lawyer, had to go to Quebec City, but it was presumed he had to be in close touch with the cabinet.

The FLQ lawyer said he expected to be in telephone touch with the government representative to discuss the next meeting.

"It was impossible for me to accept this invitation," Mr. Lemieux said at his Wednesday news conference.

"I would be prejudicing the interests of my clients here if I moved to Quebec. And besides I have no money."

The lawyer says his only income is about $3,000 a year—"sort of an allowance" from the FLQ.

DEALS THROUGH MEDIA

He also said his communications with the FLQ are through the Montreal news media.

The lawyer has said he is not in direct touch with his clients.

He learns their needs through the communiques the FLQ leaves in Montreal trash-cans and phone booths, after tipping radio stations on their presence.

For example, a Wednesday communique from the FLQ bore the postscript: "Please send a copy of this communique to Mr. Robert Lemieux."

When he arrived in Quebec City Wednesday night, Premier Robert Bourassa told a news conference that Mr. Lemieux' refusal to go there "is going to See KIDNAPPING, p. 5.

QUEBEC IN FOCUS

Says backlash will hurt PQ

WINNIPEG (CP) — The recent FLQ abductions in Quebec will jeopardize the chances of a democratic separatist party like Rene Levesque's Parti Quebecois, a French-Canadian author and journalist said Wednesday.

Solange Chaput-Rolland predicted a backlash against the recent kidnappings that "will hurt the Levesque party," even though the party is in no way linked with the FLQ.

She said that the majority of the Quebec population strongly resent the abductions and will make their sentiments known by voting against the separatist party.

Mme. Chaput-Rolland is in Winnipeg for the Mosaic Congress, a first-ever meeting of cultural specialists and ethnic representatives.

Threat forces evacuation

QUEBEC (CP) — Three telephone bomb threats Wednesday forced the evacuation of two television stations and a government building housing about 1,000 persons but police did not find any bombs.

The largest disruption occurred when an anonymous caller said a bomb had been placed in the Quebec Health Services building in suburban Ste. Foy. The building also contains offices of the Quebec Police Commission and the University of Quebec.

English-language television station CKMI and French-language station CBVT also received warnings of bombs on their premises. Both are CBC outlets.

Pyromaniac appears in court

QUEBEC (CP) — A man believed to be responsible for setting a fire which destroyed St. Patrick's Church appeared before fire commissioner Cyrille Delage Wednesday.

Police were searching for another man believed also responsible for the blaze which destroyed the church Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Redemptorist order said there is no possibility of restoring the historic Roman Catholic church, built in the Upper Town in 1832.

The building had not been used for services since May, 1968 when the English-speaking congregation moved to the new St. Patrick's Church of fashionable Grande Allee.

The Redemptorists had tried to sell the old church but the sale was opposed by the Quebec cultural affairs department, which wanted to preserve it as an historic site.

MDs refuse request to halt medicare strike

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec Federation of Medical Specialists refused to return to work Wednesday despite a call from the Quebec College of Physicians and Surgeons urging the specialists to end their six-day strike.

A spokesman for the 4,000-member federation said the specialists remain "firm in the defence of our professional liberty although we are ready to negotiate."

"The specialists will not return to work at this time," he said, and added that "as far as we are concerned the situation remains the same."

The Quebec Association of Hospitals earlier Wednesday described the situation as "intolerable and prejudicial to the health of the people" and called on the government to take the corrective measures.

The specialists dismissed the assessments of the situation by the health department, the hospital association and the college of physicians and surgeons as "false."

The strikers, about three-quarters of the 4,000 members of the Quebec Federation of Medical Specialists, walked out last Thursday in protest against terms of the Quebec medical care plan which takes effect Nov. 1.

In the Eastern Townships today, high winds and rain in all areas. High today in Sherbrooke, 65, low tonight, 50. Outlook for Friday: generally cloudy and cool with chance of showers.

Wales Home officially opens C.E. Manning wing

By GERRY FLAHERTY

RICHMOND — "The Wales Home is an excellent example of the Eastern Townships English community's interest, devotion and pride in the care of its elderly citizens," Louis Beaupre, regional co-ordinator of the Quebec department of family and social welfare, told more than 150 persons yesterday at the celebration honoring the Home's 50th anniversary.

"I am most impressed that this example of social responsibility has been achieved without substantial government grants over the years," he said. "Thanks to the Wales Home, the Eastern Townships is far ahead of other regions of the province."

The gathering was held for three specific reasons, President Eric Morrison explained in his opening remarks. The home was indeed celebrating its 50th anniversary, he said, but also was honoring the completion of the new Manning Wing valued at more than $1 million.

"And it's also our annual open house since construction prevented us from having one last year," he said.

INCREASED CAPACITY

The Manning Wing has increased the capacity of Wales Home to 240 persons, and it is considered to be one of the most modern homes for the elderly in Eastern Canada.

In his address Mr. Morrison quoted a letter from Wesley Bradley which referred to the institution's founder, saying "to him more than any other single individual is to be attributed the present status of the home."

Praising the founder, Mr. Manning spoke of the constant need for even further improvements. We must continue to move forward, even though the strain on our budget might be considerable, he said. He noted that the home had borrowed $335,000 in order to complete the present phase of its expansion.

Very well-spoken A.C. Stevens introduced the main speaker, past-president George Ewing, saying he had served with interest and keenness and a great deal of effort.

Discussing the past achievements of the Wales Home, Mr. Ewing said the institution was a "monumental structure which stands as a memorial to H.P. Wales and many other Eastern Townships residents."

PRAISED DETERMINATION

Referring to Mr. Wales who had been a successful dry goods merchant in Richmond, Mr. Ewing praised the vim, vigor and determination of those who have come before.

"We must try to emulate them so that those to come will be able to say about us what we are able to say about our founders — they've done their job well," he said.

Mr. Ewing went on to describe the progress which had been made during the past 50 years.

"Then we had 30 residents, a staff of six and assets valued at $179,376. But now, 242 persons live in facilities valued at $3,818,618 and are served by more than 80 staff members," he said.

He reserved particular praise for matron Mrs. Marjorie G. Armstrong R.N. whose "efficiency, good will and unlimited patience have made an invaluable contribution." Mrs. Armstrong has been employed at Wales Home for 19 years.

"Mr. Wales has inspired the minds, hearts and bodies of those who have built this home," Mr. Ewing concluded.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE

Those in attendance were treated to a musical interlude organized and directed by Mrs. C.M. Stevens. Pianist John D'Arthenay of the Richmond Regional School and soprano Mrs. Armand Hebert performed and the response of those present was very appreciative.

The combination inauguration and commemorative event ended with a tour of the new facilities, and a tea in the lower-level cafeteria.

One aspect of the Wales Home operation particularly impressed The Record when it was explained yesterday by several white-clad staff members.

Quizzed as to the cost of a private room per month, I was told that at the Wales Home the individual person is what matters — and not that person's financial support.

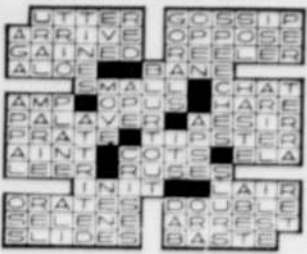

The cost for a single room or for a room where two or four persons live is exactly the same, and they are provided on a first come, first serve basis.

Women planning 50th anniversary party

STANBRIDGE EAST — Members of the Stanbridge East Women's Institute enjoyed the beauty of the glowing autumn foliage when they met at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. M. Tait, for the October meeting.

Following a discussion on celebrating the 50th anniversary of this branch and honoring members of 25 years standing with 25-year membership pins in 1971, a motion was carried to this effect, with Mrs. T. S. Davitt and Mrs. F. Corey appointed joint chairman of a committee to determine those eligible to receive pins.

Correspondence included letters of thanks from Mrs. B. Campbell who has returned from hospital, and Mrs. H. Yates and the staff of Stanbridge East Elementary School for a donation towards prizes for the school fair which many of our members attended at the school and thought highly commendable.

A letter from a senior teacher in the same school, explained the circumstances of a child with poor eyesight having need of special books, the price of the arithmetic book alone being $15 for this worthy cause.

Convener's Reports: Agriculture, Mrs. F. Corey gave hints on planting spring bulbs — one method being to set the bulbs in pots and bury them in the garden till spring.

Citizenship: In reply to a note from Mrs. Sheppardson, convener, a motion was carried to sponsor the collection for UNICEF again this year at Hallowe'en.

Education: Mrs. H. Riordon, convener, had charge of the program for this month and brought as a guest speaker, Mrs. A. C. Tanner, Cowansville, who is well known to many in this area through her association with Missisquoi Community School.

In her usual humorous and pleasing manner, Mrs. Tanner spoke on the fundamentals of learning French the easy way, which was contrary to some of our old ideas.

She was thanked by Mrs. Riordon and presented with a gift in appreciation. Mrs. Riordon also conducted a little contest in French which was won by Mrs. Primmerman and Mrs. Tremblay, who each received a prize.

Home Economics: Mrs. David read an article "A Child Learns" which follows:

If a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn with hostility, he learns to fight with fear, he learns to be apprehensive with pity, he learns to feel sorry for himself with encouragement, he learns to feel confident with tolerance, he learns to be patient with praise, he learns to be appreciative with acceptance, he learns to love with approval, he learns to like himself with recognition, he learns to have a goal with fairness, he learns what justice is with honesty, he learns what truth is with security, he learns to have faith in himself with friendliness, he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.

Publicity: Mrs. Tremblay explained the Tweedsmuir Competitions and gave a brief history concerning them. Welfare & Health: Mrs. K. Smith read an interesting article "Sick Soil" which told of the close relation of soil to our health.

The report of the winners in the senior class for wild flowers sponsored by this branch at Bedford Fair was inadvertently omitted in the September report, and follows: First prize, Julie Sylvester; second, Annie Rhicard; third, Sheila Chandler; fourth, Mario Martel, Farnham.

ERN and Meade Monroe suggested that we use high-card points as the basis of our first response, we felt that it was a gadget for the public. Then we tried it out with several hundred computer hands and found that we had improved our bidding also.

Oswald: "The first response to a two-club opening in JACOBY MODERN shows high-card points as follows: two diamonds 0-3, two hearts 4-6, two spades 7-9, two no-trump 10-12 and three clubs 13 or more. We could go on the line but you won't be looking at 13 points or more opposite a two-club opening often enough to bother."

Jim: "Here is one of our hands. Playing JACOBY MODERN it is easy to stop at four hearts. South knows that his partner doesn't hold an ace."

Oswald: "Standard American bidders would arrive at four hearts but a lot of South players might now try Blackwood to see if partner holds an ace. Five hearts would appear to be safe but this time, all four trumps in one hand, the most South can make is 10 tricks and game and rubber will have been thrown out the window."

Oswald: "My first use of point count was to teach your mother how to play bridge when we were married back in 1932. In those days, experts all thought they were far too good to bother with mathematical valuation. In teaching her, I found that point count helped my game also and I became the first expert to use it in my bidding."

You see, Arnold's portable FM/AM radio has a pop-up TV in it.

We have succeeded in pulling a particularly interesting upstaging caper: A portable radio with a pop-up, honest-to-goodness television.

Goes anywhere. On battery or house current. And it delivers a great black and white picture, as well as great FM/AM music.

This innovation popped up at our TV factory. Where we make TV's ranging from 1½ inches to 20 inches in screen size. The 1½-inch one is the world's smallest TV. Sort of like a wrist-watch.

You've got the idea now. We become very involved in making TV's.

And we make them in all kinds of combinations. Some with FM/AM radios. Some with clocks. Even portable TV's with batteries inside so you can take them anywhere.

And as features go . . . we don't skimp. Which explains our slide lever controls for precision adjusting.

Speed-o-Vision for instant sound and picture — so the team doesn't score while your TV is warming up. And a few other goodies like dark-tinted screens and direct vision tubes for better viewing.

So go to any Panasonic dealer and ask to see our TV's.

Ask our dealer what Arnold has to say about us.

Special Bishop's convocation honors five

LENNOXVILLE — Five prominent Canadians will be honored by Bishop's University at a special convocation tomorrow to install Dr. Dennis M. Healy as principal and vice-chancellor.

University Chancellor, Brig. John H. Price will confer honorary D.C.L. degrees upon Geoffrey C. Andrew, executive director of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada (AUCC); Sidney Jellicoe, Bishop's dean of theology; poet Irving Layton; painter Jean-Paul Lemieux; and Malcolm F. McGregor, head of the classics department at the University of British Columbia.

Dr. Healy came to Bishop's from York University where he was vice-president (academic). After an impressive military career, he received his Ph.D. from the University of Paris in 1946, and was a professor of French at the Universities of Alberta, Long Island and British Columbia before becoming dean of arts at the latter in 1965.

The author of several French texts, Dr. Healy places the highest priority on increasing Bishop's contact with the French community in Quebec.

Mr. Andrew, a graduate of Oxford University, was for 15 years a professor of English at UBC before he accepted his position at the AUCC. Since that time, he has been a driving force behind the Bladen Commission on university accessibility and finance and Canada University Service Overseas and a key contributor to the increased communications among Canadian universities today.

Dr. Jellicoe is a world authority on the Septuagint and the Greek New Testament. His definitive work on the former gained him the coveted Grinfield Visiting Lectureship at Oxford University for 1969-71.

He won a Canada Council Award for manuscript research in European libraries and has been dean at Bishop's since 1952.

One of Canada's best-known and most controversial poets, Irving Layton, has produced no less than 22 books of poems since 1946 and has edited four anthologies of Canadian poetry.

He so seldom resists an opportunity to comment on Canadian literary affairs and many have known his sharp tongue and perceptive barbs over the years. He is currently poet-in-residence at the University of Guelph.

Quebec is rich in native artists, but Jean-Paul Lemieux is one of its most sensitive painters. In an age of surrealism, his paintings are simple and direct.

His portrayals of loneliness and tragedy have gained him an international reputation, with recent exhibits in the top galleries of Brussels, Venice, Paris, London and New York, in addition to the 1967 exhibition of his works at Montreal's Museum of Fine Arts.

This year, Dr. McGregor became the only man to be named president of both the Classical Association of Canada and the American Philological Association. He won the Award of Merit from the latter in 1954, and is a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and member of the Canada Council.

Dr. Healy will deliver the keynote address at the convocation which will be held in Bishop's Centennial Theatre at 2:30 p.m.

Stanstead Ploughing Match

Ploughers young and old fill record field

FAIRFAX — The weatherman smiled on Saturday, Oct. 9, for the 51st annual Stanstead County Ploughing Match, which was held at the farm of Leslie and Ethel Bliss on the Fairfax Road.

Close to the record of 15 years ago when 68 people competed, there were 61 tractors and three teams of horses entered on Saturday.

It had been the decision of the Directors to discontinue the class for horse teams, but when it was learned there were some people interested it was quickly agreed to continue the class.

Three beautiful teams came and were a real attraction to people of all ages. No doubt it took some of the elder people back to the days when all the ploughing was done by horses as was the case the first few years of this county match.

The teams were those of Ed Sarasin of Waterville, Gordon French of Sawville and Norman Bonnalie of Brompton. The Match started at 10:00 a.m. but for an hour preceding Sherbrooke's Herbie Winget, who recently represented Canada at the World's Match in Denmark, gave a demonstration of Canadian rules. He also competed in a plowing class.

Allen Cass of the Fairfax Road, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Wendell Cass, was the youngest person to plough in the field, with Alexander Johnston, not yet 70 years of age, the oldest ploughman in the field.

A fried chicken box dinner was served at noon by Pat's from Lennoxville to 200 persons.

Trophies and prizes will be presented on Saturday, Oct. 17 at the program in the Village hall at Hatley to be preceded by a turkey dinner served by the Hatley United church women in their church hall starting off at 5:00 p.m.

This dinner is open to the public, as is the program which will include presentations, slides of local areas, Ayer's Cliff Fair, plowing Matches, and the Gaspe, along with short talks.

Monday, Oct. 12, thanksgiving day, classes were in session as usual but that evening there was a special thanksgiving dinner.

Oct. 17, a bus load of boys and members of staff will be guests of students at Kings Hall, Compton, for a dance.

Haskell offers Eastern prints

ROCK ISLAND (IH) — The Haskell Free Library's current exhibition of art features a group of twelve Japanese woodblock prints, classical and contemporary, from the large collection of Mrs. John D. Richer of Wilmington, Delaware, and her son, the Rev. William Hutchinson of Derby Line.

The exhibited prints were collected, together with many others, while the Hutchinson family was on duty with the United States Consular Service from 1932-1936, in Japan, and again from 1947-1951 in Korea.

Included in the collection are five prints by the great Japanese artist Ando Hiroshige (1797-1858) one of which "Dance of the Foxfires" is regarded by many critics as his greatest work. Other artists are the contemporary printmakers Basuki, Yoshida, and Haul.

The exhibition will remain at the library through October.

Plymouth comes through for you with a new design concept: '71 SATELLITE

SATELLITE BROUGHAM

More style in hardtops, more room in sedans and wagons — all at a sensible price.

Plymouth's new approach to mid-size cars is 2 different approaches.

Satellite hardtops like the new Sebring Plus are built on a 115" wheelbase. They're round, sleek, like a jet's fuselage. Very smooth. (For performance lovers, there's Road Runner & GTX.)

Satellite sedans and wagons are designed differently — for family roominess: 117" wheelbase, almost 5' of shoulder and hip room front and back and loads of legroom. And speaking of loads, 2- and 3-seat

Satellite wagons take more... even that old bugaboo: the 4' x 8' sheet of plywood, flat on the floor!

Depending on the model, power goes from a 225 Slant Six to a potent 440 V8. Grrrr!

Whatever you've got in mind, Satellite and your Plymouth dealer will come through for you. See them today.

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M. D.

Lose 10 to 20 Pounds A Year With Walking

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

If you are having a problem controlling your weight a change in your physical activity may help a great deal. Fat stores develop because you either eat—or drink—too many calories or don't exercise enough. Exercise programs and diets often fail because they are undertaken on a crash basis rather than as permanent living habits.

If you want to use exercise to lose fat you don't need to work the heart and circulation at the high levels resulting from jogging, running or a number of competitive sports. A brisk 30-minute walk each day will cause most average-weight people to lose at least 10 pounds a year—PROVIDED they don't increase their usual calorie intake. If you need to lose more fat or lose faster, the best approach is to increase your walking time gradually. An hour a day can eliminate 20 pounds of fat by the end of the year.

Losing fat by exercise does not always mean losing weight. In fact, you can gain weight while losing fat. This is why the bathroom scales don't tell the whole truth. I first learned this by studying young, healthy men put to bed rest, to find out how weightlessness during space flight would affect the astronauts. The explanation is that one pound of fat tissue contains five times as many calories as one pound of lean muscle.

Theoretically, if you converted all the calories in one pound of fat to muscle tissue you would gain four pounds net weight. With inactivity, as the calories in muscles are converted to fat, you lose pounds but not calories. If five pounds of muscle turns to fat you will lose four pounds net weight.

The difference in calories in fat and muscle explains why so many people who go on a combined diet and exercise program fail to lose weight. The waistline may slim and the body become firmer—then when they step on the scales they are disappointed to see that they haven't lost weight. The best way to tell if you are losing undesirable fat or not is to feel a fold of the skin around the waist. Any major fat roll under the skin is evidence you still have work to do.

Remember, if your goal is to lose ugly and unhealthy fat stores, regular exercise DAILY, even in small amounts, can do the trick—if you are patient and stay away from the calories. It is persistence that counts.

Bridal showers

DERBY LINE — Helen Routhier, home from Burlington, for the weekend, was on Friday evening, September 18 the guest of honor at a delightful shower held at the home of a neighbour, Mrs. Joseph Blais.

Helen had thought she was attending a shower for another friend and on entering the home was much surprised to learn that she was the guest of honor as she was presented with a corsage of white gladioli tips and bachelor buttons.

Amid salutations, Helen was escorted to the rumpus room and a chair between her mother, Mrs. Adalbert Routhier, and her Godmother, Mrs. Alphonse Blais. Mrs. Routhier and Mrs. Blais were each presented with a corsage of gladioli tips.

Punch was served, Mrs. Joseph Blais proposed a toast to the bride elect for every happiness.

The decor was carried out in mint green and pale yellow and a white wedding bell over the chair of Helen. The gifts, arranged on a table overflowed onto the floor. These were opened to reveal a wide selection of lovely things for the new home.

In her usual nice way, Helen voiced her appreciation. There were also gifts from people invited but unable to attend.

Games were played and the winners received a prize. The refreshments were served upstairs and included a shower cake made and decorated by

Mrs. Benoit Blais in twin hearts design centered with the wedding rings and topped with slippers, roses and lily of the valley in white, green and yellow.

The guests were from Newport and Boundary Villages. Miss Routhier and John Clarke Olson are being married in early October.

ROCK ISLAND — The home of Mrs. Rose Lyons was the scene of a pleasant occasion recently when relatives and friends of Albert Malouin gathered to meet his future bride, Helen Cormier of Chambly, and to shower her with gifts.

On arrival, Miss Cormier was taken by complete surprise as she was presented with a corsage of sweet peas by her future sister-in-law, Mrs. John Cox and was escorted to a chair where the decor was carried out in shades of pink and mauve. Sweet pea corsages were also presented to Mrs. Cox and her mother, Mrs. Wilfred Molway who were seated with the bride elect.

The trio opened the gifts which were arranged on the coffee table and the floor. The lovely and useful items for the new home were admired after which Miss Cormier voiced her appreciation for them and the pleasant surprise shower.

A game was then played after which the hostesses served refreshments. The shower cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Lyons, in white with yellow decor and a bride under a parasol in a garden of roses.

Mrs. Lyons was assisted by Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Molway, the shower was attended by upwards of 30 relatives and friends from Ascot Corner, Sherbrooke, and Boundary Villages.

DO YOU REALIZE that over 6 generations of Canadians — children and adults — have used DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY for relief of diarrhea? My own grandmother was a booster of Dr. Fowler's... and for a very good reason. Fowler's is a gentle, restorative formula, based on roots and herbs. It relieves nausea and cramps... and gently restores intestinal balance. Dr. Fowler's is not constipating, although it does act quickly. It has come to the aid of many a distressed mother after her children have over-indulged in food or play. For soothing relief from embarrassing, uncomfortable diarrhea, keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand.

TRAVELLING CN IS ONE 'HABIT' I THOROUGHLY ENJOY! As a woman travelling alone, I really appreciate the friendliness and courtesy of the CN staff. Where they find such cheerful, efficient people I wouldn't know. But I do know that as a regular passenger I feel comfortable, pampered and completely relaxed. And dining à la CN is one of the delights... whether your choice is succulent roast beef... delectable sea food... or one of the many other superb dishes prepared by their expert chefs. Sounds great? It is! And it doesn't batter the budget, either!

WHAT A WONDERFUL DAY it will be when science announces a cure for the common cold! But until then, like many others, I've discovered NeoCitran... a warm and comforting remedy... that quickly soothes away the miseries of a cold. You see, NeoCitran comes in powder form and when added to hot water it becomes a pleasant-tasting, lemony-flavoured drink. And because it is taken as a liquid the special ingredients contained in NeoCitran get into the system faster to effectively relieve the pain and reduce the fever of your cold. Pick up a package of NeoCitran... at any drug-counter today.
