Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely a title or header, which is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through. Some words like "Missa" and "Gloria" might be discernible.

Handwritten musical notation on staves, organized into systems. The notation includes notes, rests, and other musical symbols, though it is very faded and difficult to read. The systems are separated by horizontal lines.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a footer or a concluding note, which is also mostly illegible.
