

$90 on $30,000 home:

City MUC levy is 30¢ per $100

Notice was given at Tuesday night's city council meeting of a by-law to levy an additional property tax to meet the city's share of the Montreal Urban Community's assessments for the fiscal year 1972.

It will amount to about 30 cents per $100 of valued property or about $90 for a Westmouter with a home valued at $30,000.

City names Dr. A. Valois new MOH

Dr. Antoine Valois, the retiring assistant medical officer of health for the City of Montreal, is to be appointed Westmount's medical officer of health if the provincial government gives the OK, it was announced at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

Every municipality, by provincial law, must have a medical officer of health and his appointment must be ratified by the provincial government, usually routinely given.

Ald. William Wood announced the appointment and added that the city's newly formed medical advisory board had given great assistance to council in its choice.

He said Dr. Valois, a graduate of John Hopkins University in Baltimore, has worked for many years in the medical health field and would be a great asset to the city.

Dr. Valois is at present on vacation.

He will succeed Dr. Angus Boright, who died as a result of a fire in his home here early in December.

Rang alarms

Westmount Police have detained three juveniles, two of whom are believed responsible for the ringing of the fire alarm box at The Boulevard and Aberdeen avenue. The Fire Brigade and Westmount Police are investigating the two false alarms which occurred on Sunday.

The MUC tax could have amounted to 48.5 cents for every $100 of valued property if all of the MUC charges had been paid in one lump, but city council decided to spread part of the amount over a 20-year period.

For the next 20 years the city will be making an annual MUC payment of $63,422, plus future MUC expenses.

Total payment to the MUC this year will amount to $783,422, which consists of the annual arrears payment plus current MUC expenses. At an eight percent interest rate, that works out to $28.87 per $100 per $100 of valued property.

Added to the $1.14 tax already levied this year by the city exclusively for Westmount's needs, it means a total tax this year of $1.94, a jump of about 16 percent from last year.

Notice was also given at the meeting that at a subsequent meeting a by-law would be read to levy a special MUC tax on all taxable immovables valued in excess of $100,000. That tax of 40 cents per $100 will net about $421,000 in Westmount.

Casson house is ransacked

A sharp-eyed neighbor noticed the door of 6 de Casson road ajar Friday, checked the house and found it had been ransacked. It has not yet been determined what is missing.

The thieves gained entry by kicking in the panelling of the back door. The breaking and entering took place some time between Wednesday afternoon and Friday at 2:35 pm.

Stored mud in gardens, St. Antoiners complain

A complaint that storage of earth on the Trans-Canada Highway site in the St. Antoine street-Greene avenue area had caused knee-deep mud in residents' back gardens was expressed by Milton Hotton, 1031 Greene avenue, at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

Ald. Douglas Robertson replied that much time had been spent by city aldermen discussing the problem before the council meeting and that steps would be taken on Wednesday morning to alleviate the problem.

Fernand Leclaire, president of the Lower Westmount Citizens Committee, said he understood that the roads department intended to remove the earth in June.

"Right now we're complaining of mud. In June we might be complaining of dust," he said.

He asked whether the roads department employees would go into houses and clean the dust from carpets and walls which their actions had caused.

Camaro, suspect found

After seven weeks of painstaking searching, Westmount Police have finally latched onto a suspect and have impounded a red Camaro in connection with the hit-and-run killing of Charles Herzberg, 250 Clarke avenue, a well-to-do former businessman, writer, poet, and devotee of the Christian life.

The 76-year-old Westmouter was killed as he crossed de Maisonneuve boulevard west at Clarke avenue on Feb. 16 about 11:30 pm. Since that time Westmount Police traffic officers have been checking all sales since 1970 of red Camaros in the Montreal area.

This week they met with success.

Remains on

City council Tuesday night delayed the retirement of Joseph Avila Arsenault, clerk of the court, beyond his normal retirement date of May 4, 1972, until May 7, 1973. Mr. Arsenault will be 65 on May 4.

Discredited

A People's Credit Jewelers clerk in Alexis Nihon Plaza had her purse containing credit cards stolen on Friday between 5:45 pm and 9 pm. The purse was left behind the counter and the clerk noticed nobody walking round the back of the counter.

BIG FUSS OVER SMALL DOG: The centre of attention here, restored to his mistress yesterday afternoon, is Pappy, the tiny dog which is credited with saving the life of Miss Ethel Ouimet, his mistress, Sunday evening. Motard of the Westmount Fire Brigade who both are admirers of the canine initiative and presence of mind, or instinct.

Tiny barking dog saves mistress in blaze

The desperate barking and pawing of a tiny Papillon dog probably saved the life of a Westmount woman Sunday when a smouldering fire in her living room burst to life, filling the apartment with smoke.

Said Capt.-Insp. William Timmons of the Westmount Fire Brigade: "The dog probably saved her life because the fire was growing rapidly and in another 15 minutes it would have been all over for her."

The woman, Miss Ethel Ouimet, 4508 St. Catherine street, apt. 2, awakened by her dog, rushed into the hall, opened the kitchen windows to obtain fresh air and telephoned the Westmount Fire Brigade at 8:59 pm.

Firemen break in Finding the door locked when he arrived at the apartment, Capt. Edward Martell and his firemen burst their way through the front door, searched the house, found Miss Ouimet in the kitchen by the window and carried her to safety.

They then extinguished the fire with a 1½-inch hose after breaking windows in the house to permit the escape of fumes. Savior of the day was "Pappy Cedious", of the Papillon breed, a "butterfly dog" from Spain.

FIRE SITE: Sunday evening's near-tragic fire occurred in the living room of Apt. 2 (arrows) of 4508 St. Catherine street west. Firemen had to smash these windows to get at the blaze.

Miss Ouimet's second dog, Ming Toi, a Pomerranian, whined, but did not create as much noise and scratching as that of Pappy.

Next Week's Weather

By ERIC NEAL

April 7 to 15

Alternating showers and sunshine for this changeable but pleasant week. Nights still frosty. Days mild. Salmon and peach sunsets, orange and cherry red dawns. Gusty winds until mid-week and April showers, of course, to speed the break-up.

Western blizzards and mid-west tornadoes on their way to the coast pass through Vermont and may spill over into the Saint Lawrence valley.

Improving generally to give us a cool, springlike weekend, but true spring is still a fortnight away.

Temperature: nights 30 degrees, days 55 to 60 F. Rain, ¼". Snow, 2".

Today's World

"... and if either of you has a green thumb, here's your chance to get out of doors and work with the soil."

February sales of local homes sag slightly

After a three-month run of big property sales in Westmount, the number of transfers has decreased with 29 listed for the month of February, but still up slightly from a year ago.

Thirty-seven properties changed hands in January, 40 in December, and 40 in November. In February of 1971, 28 properties changed hands.

Of February's 29 transfers, 17 were fully listed, six were declarations, five sold for $1 and considerations and one was a correction.

The city's valuation of the fully listed properties was 3.4 percent greater than the sales prices of the properties which amounted to $669,300. The 17 properties were valued at $691,900. In January sales prices of the 20 fully listed properties were one percent greater than the city's valuation of them and in February of 1971 sales prices were 2.1 percent greater than the city's valuation of the 16 fully listed properties.

House goes for $15,000

Least expensive sale of the month was 260 Prince Albert avenue which sold for $15,000 and was valued at $19,900. It was sold by the Royal Trust Co. to Mrs. Peter Bedoukian.

The property with the lowest city valuation was 42 Burton avenue which sold for $19,000 and was valued at $16,400.

Christopher Pressnell sold the property to Hudson P. Goodbody.

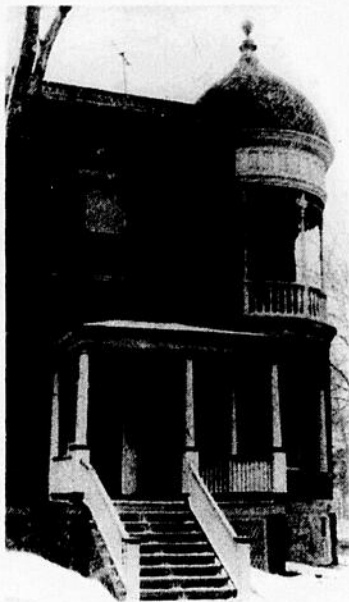

Most expensive fully listed sale of the month was 4389 Westmount avenue which sold for $89,500. It was valued at $65,100. The property was sold by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carson to Mrs. Robert Duncan.

The most expensive city-valuated property listed was 6 Park Place at $228,400. The transfer was a correction from Dinworthy Investments to Dinworthy Investments.

Details are listed

The details:

- 488 Wood: from Judge Jean Tellier to Mr. and Mrs. John Szoges, sale price $39,800 (city valuation $38,000);
- 612 Belmont: from Mrs. Hugh Van Patter to Mrs. William Timmouth, $44,000 ($43,250);
- 471 Lansdowne: from Patrick MacLeod to Mrs. Clifford Montgomery, $37,500 ($31,800);
- 6 Park Place: from Dinworthy Investments to Dinworthy Investments, correction ($228,400);

260 Prince Albert avenue
Lowest priced—$15,000

- 637 Grosvenor: from Kenneth MacIntyre to Mr. and Mrs. George Danilov, $26,500 ($33,000);
- 4389 Westmount: from Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carson to Mrs. Robert Duncan, $89,500 ($65,100);
- 42 Burton: from Christopher Pressnell to Hudson P. Goodbody, $19,000 ($16,400);
- 457 Elm: from Mrs. John Corbett to Mrs. Lewis Patterson, $30,000 ($37,100);
- 3778 The Boulevard: from the estate of Mrs. William Reilly to Mrs. Eric Frank, $37,000 ($37,400); and had taken medication to put her into a deep sleep. Thus, she was not awakened by the smoke which was filling the apartment.

Lost in the fire was a sofa, an armchair, an end table and a rocking chair. The walls, carpeting and other furniture were damaged by smoke and fire.

Taken to hospital

Miss Ouimet was taken to the Reddy Memorial Hospital by Westmount Police patrol car and kept overnight to ensure that she did not suffer from smoke inhalation.

Miss Ouimet is employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and has lived in her apartment for seven years.

Westmount firemen believe the fire was caused either by a lamp falling over and igniting the sofa or by a cigaret.

- 64 Rosemount: from Mrs. Reginald Combe to John Blandford, $30,000 ($34,600);
- 57 Forden: from Mrs. Harold Ludwick to Brian Gallery, $1 and considerations ($51,500);
- 110 Sunnyside: from John William Patrick to Joseph Hazan, $52,000 ($41,450);
- 427 Elm: from the estate of Norton Fellows to Miss Naisi Gordon, $30,000 (25,500);
- 28 Sunnyside: from the sheriff of Montreal to Harry Brumer, $40,000 ($90,700);
- 110 Blenheim Place: from Gerald A. Cooke to Mrs. Gerald Cook, $1 and considerations ($18,650);
- 35 Thornhill: from Mrs. Thomas Hodgson to J. Stuart Spalding, $40,000 ($25,850);
- 51 Sunnyside: from Mrs. Luc Vilain to Mrs. Dan Rudberg, $80,000 ($84,600);
- 3246 The Boulevard: from Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis to Mrs. James Davis, $35,000 ($35,150);
- 127 Clandeboye: from Fernand Choquette and Peter Symcox to James E. Bennett, $1 and considerations ($25,000);
- 557 Grosvenor: from Joseph de Jocas to Mrs. Joseph de Jocas, $1 and considerations ($53,750);
- 385 Lansdowne: from Norman E. Burrows to Mrs. Joseph Friedman, $24,000 ($33,100);
- 4312 Montrose: from John Houghton to Colin J. Adair, $1 and considerations ($38,300), and
- 260 Prince Albert: from the Royal Trust Co. to Mrs. Peter Bedoukian, $15,000 ($19,900).

Three juveniles are arrested in Plaza thefts

Three juveniles have been arrested by Westmount Police in connection with a breaking, entering and theft at Sherman's Record Center in Alexis Nihon Plaza at 1:15 pm Friday.

The youths will appear in social welfare court.

They allegedly were part of a gang of five boys who broke into the store by pulling aside a steel grill door. They stole a cash box containing $82 and managed to evade the efforts of a plaza guard who disturbed them in the act.

The boys, all Montreal residents, ran out the St. Catherine street entrance and three were apprehended later by Westmount Police.

150 present at opening of senior citizen centre

About 150 persons, including city and church dignitaries, community workers, senior citizens and citizen group leaders, turned up at the official opening of Westmount's Senior Citizens' Centre at Westmount Park United Church yesterday at 3:30 pm.

Representing the city at the speakers' table was Ald. William Wood who was taking the place of Mayor Paul Ouimet, who was unable to be present.

Ald. Wood gave a short history of the city's growing social involvement and suggested that the senior citizens' centre may be the beginnings of a multi-service complex, serving the needs of many groups of citizens.

Al Fisher, president of the Westmount Tenants' Association, presented the director of the centre, Mrs. Winnifred Dunn, a cheque for $300, the proceeds from last year's September Fair and stated that more money would be forthcoming from this year's fair which he said he hoped would develop into a "family affair."

Sitting at the speakers' table was the Rev. J.E. Nix, minister at Westmount Park Church; Bishop Leo Blais representing the Westmount Ministerial Association; Mrs. Larry Pearce, chairman of the Westmount Senior Citizens organization; Mrs. Desmarais, Ald. William Wood and Mrs. Winnifred Dunn, director of the centre.

It is intended to create at the centre an information bureau to direct senior citizens to the appropriate agency which can meet their needs. Pamphlets and leaflets on how to secure pensions, pension supplements, hospital attention, welfare rights and any other information the senior citizens might require will be gathered.

Arsenal stolen at local home; car taken, too

If Westmount Police ever catch up with the thieves who broke into 60 St. Sulpice road sometime between last Thursday and Sunday, they might have a hard time bringing them to justice.

The burglars entered by breaking a living room window and stole an arsenal of weapons including an army-type .303 calibre rifle, a .3855 hunting rifle, a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun and a 20-gauge single-barrel shotgun.

It has not been determined what other articles may have been stolen.

The thieves loaded the stolen goods in the house owner's 1971 Plymouth Duster, license number 9C4282, and took off. The car has yet to be recovered.

Loot found

Three calculators, power pack, and electronic brain, valued at $4,640 which were stolen from Dawson College on Jan. 24, have been recovered by Westmount Police following a tip-off. The equipment was found in the downtown CN Central Station.

PLACE ALL OUR TRASH IN THE CHUTE

SOMETHING FOR 'STOP' TO STOP: As just about every Westmounter should now know, the Westmount chapter of the Society To Overcome Pollution (STOP) and the City of Westmount have been urging citizens to take their bottles to a city depot at the Tupper street parking lot and to bundle their old newspapers for pickup for special handling with their regular garbage pickups on the first Thursday or Friday, depending on the district, of each month. The idea is that such material can be reclaimed and recycled. Many city apartment houses have a small garbage room on each floor from which tenants can dump their refuse down a chute into a trailer parked in the basement which, when full, is hauled to the city incinerator by public works trucks. In one St. Catherine street block, there are red-and-white signs on each floor warning about dropping ignited objects into the chute. To this has recently been added a black-and-white sign instructing tenants to do the very thing which STOP and the city now wish them not to do. Prior to this, many tenants had left bottles and papers in the garbage room for the janitor to deal with, hopefully a-la-STOP.

WAC satisfied that city doing best on TCH

The Westmount Action Committee is satisfied with the progress the city is making in investigating methods of alleviating the effects of the Trans-Canada Highway, which is almost completed in the lower portions of Westmount.

David Carruthers, WAC-president, said he saw no need for a full-fledged political campaign because the city government was working on the problem and lower Westmount citizen views could, anyway, be expressed through the urban renewal zone's liaison committee.

He said the city was interested in a wall scheme devised by Norbert Schoenauer, architect and resident of 53 Prospect street. Mr. Schoenauer designed the city's public housing which is projected for Hillside avenue.

He added that some of the residents of Prospect street, which will be one of the worst hit streets in the city, were talking about installing double windows to keep out noise and fumes and that one resident had discussed the idea of a small fountain in his living room to help kill the sound from the highway. But he added that no private alterations probably would be done until the highway is completed and the extent of the various types of pollution—noise, air, visual, etc—evaluated.

Mr. Carruthers believes the east end of Montreal still can be saved from the highway and is optimistic because "provincial government plans appear to be sleeping."

Stirrings in east end

He added that if there were stirrings of fight against the eastern extension of the highway in the east end then WAC would again enter the fight.

"But we don't intend to fight the battle alone and we don't intend to initiate anything in the east end," he said.

The provincial government, he said, had announced plans to cancel the building of expressways on Papineau and Cavendish. He is now more optimistic about the government's approach to highway building in Montreal and believes that the furor over the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway probably had had some influence.

"I would like to believe that our actions had some effect on the thinking of the provincial government," he said.

WAC, he said, intended to remain a local body and stick to affairs of which it knew best, namely the highway.

The organization didn't want to

If the corporation which was formed to transform and obtain inhabitants for the Greene avenue houses once scheduled for demolition by the provincial government wants to obtain possession of the houses, it might have to buy them on the open market.

It was hoped by the citizens corporation that the province would hand over the buildings to the City of Westmount or the citizens corporation for the nominal fee of $1. However, at Tuesday night's city council meeting, City Manager Norman Dawe, in reply to a question from the audience, said he believed the provincial government would put the houses up for tender.

The question was put to council by a member of the anti-public housing association who had previously suggested that the Greene avenue houses be refurbished to provide dwellings for the Selby street people who it is planned, will inhabit a public housing project on Hillside avenue.

Mayor Paul Ouimet said the city had been in contact with the provincial government and hoped for a solution to the problem as soon as possible.

Arthur Dirkman, another opponent of the public housing project, asked council if it had considered an article in Fortune magazine which the anti-public housing group had handed to the city government and also asked whether it could obtain a report from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation which, he understood, condemned public housing.

Ald. Wood replied that the housing report was confidential.

NHL tickets given teams

Westmount Mayor Paul Ouimet at Tuesday night's city council meeting thanked the Westmount citizens who donated the 62 tickets which enabled the visiting Rimouski hockey and the Westmount Pee Wee hockey teams to attend the Canadian-Ranger Hockey game last week. He said the city would be sending personal letters of thanks to the donors.

He added that he was impressed with the fair play and conduct of both the Rimouski and Westmount teams during the annual hockey match.

We Say

Schools or factories

NAIVE best describes the reaction (see "You Say") to School Board Chairman Dr. Stanley French's observations on some Westmount High School teachers in an Examiner profile a fortnight ago. The many competent, devoted teachers at WHS should blush at this letter purportedly written in their name.

Not because of its defence-by-attack directed at Dr. French as board chairman and as university dean—pointlessly personal, intellectually dishonest, irrelevant and immature. Dr. French can demolish this non-argument for himself if he chooses.

But because it so well demonstrates the lack of professionalism of which he complained. The one or more authors of this letter fell into the trap of putting on the cap which Dr. French asserted would fit.

The pity is that the true professionals in our high school probably feel, at this time of confrontation with the government, that they must sublimate their individual pride in their calling to group solidarity.

But surely this encapsulates the "teacher problem." Can true professionalism live inside the type of teacher unionism now become indistinguishable from that of crafts and trades?

Excellence can only be blunted by the factory-worker mentality gaining "tenure" in our schools under the drive for uniformity and the protection of province-wide "ententes."

Both the government and the teachers' associations must share the blame for a quantitative "numbers game," in which all but the incompetents lose, replacing premiums on quality educators.

Open-shut case needs clarifying

WHAT's with Good Friday and Easter Monday?

The banks, the post office, governments and their agencies and most industries and business offices still regard Good Friday as the most sombre day in the Christian calendar, a day for rest and reflection.

Yet stores remain open, albeit curbed where licensed to sell beer, by some extraordinary and schizophrenic government edict.

Then come Monday, when the day before most of us who care already have on Easter Sunday marked the most joyous and faith-founded feast, the merchants remain shuttered.

Who decides these things? Who do they consult? Who leads?

Why close Unity in holiday-time?

PERHAPS it is akin to questioning motherhood or the flag. But we can't help wonder why, when we phoned the Unity Boys' and Girls' Club early Monday evening, we finally were answered by a janitor who said the place was closed.

"Don't you know it's a holiday," we were told.

Yes, we know it was a holiday for, among others, school kids.

Surely holiday time is when Unity can best serve the youngsters, and their parents by keeping the young 'uns occupied in those many worthwhile programs which can't be found at home or on the streets.

We commend to the Montreal Boys' & Girls' Association, of which Unity is a unit, that the paid workers and volunteers be encouraged to take their time off at times other than when their services are most needed.

Teachers at WHS Reply to Dr. French

(A copy of the following letter has been addressed to The Examiner with a request that it be published:)

Dr. S.G. French, Chairman, School Commissioners for the Municipality of the City of Westmount, 256 Metcalfe Ave., Westmount, Montreal 215, Que.

Dear Dr. French:

We, the staff of Westmount High School, protest most strongly your comment in the interview with you in The Examiner on March 23. We refer to the article, which we understand you approved, headlined, "Dr. Stanley French seeks to humanize Westmount High."

We know that you have attended after-school functions such as sherry parties, but we have never been aware of your presence during the normal operation of the school when students are present. The sections in your interview urging us to stop behaving like factory workers contain not only an attack on our professionalism but a slur on factory workers which suggests a snobbery we thought had long disappeared in our society. You say that we, or some unspecified group among us, treat our students as nuisance objects yet, in the worst witch-hunt tradition, you give no examples. Some of us, you say, are "good teachers." What of the rest? Who are they and how did you evaluate them?

You are, we believe, Dean of Graduate Studies at Sir George Williams University, where many of us take courses. We are not yet aware of any improvements at Sir George which come directly from your wish to "humanize" teacher-student

Spiralling health costs

As president of the Treasury Board, I must continually examine all expenditures to ensure that the tax payer is getting the most for his money. In the field of health, this means the best possible health service for every dollar invested.

In Canada, the existing shared-cost programs in hospitals and medical care have been responsible for making services financially accessible to all Canadians. They have also been responsible for an enormous improvement in the quality of health care in Canada.

However, it has to be kept in mind that improvement in the quality of care should be commensurate with every additional dollar spent on behalf of Canadians.

It now appears as though the continuation of the shared-cost programs in their present form will not achieve this end, and in fact, may even be counter-productive. This is because the rigidity and inflexibility of the present programs tend to inhibit the development of less costly but equally effective forms of care, and will thus work against the goal of rationalizing the health care system in Canada.

Goal Becomes Urgent

The achievement of this goal becomes rather urgent when one looks at the record of spending in Canada. Since 1960, health care expenditures have risen by more than 2½ times. Personal expenditures by Canadians are among the highest in the world.

In 1969 (the last year for which figures are available) Canada's health expenditures ranked highest in the world at 5.2 percent of the GNP, followed by the U.S. at 4.7 percent. England's percentage was 3.6 percent.

Naturally enough, Canada now has an abundance of certain types of health resources. For example, Canada has considerably more hospital beds per capita than the United States and most other developed countries. We have one of the highest ratios of doctors to the total population. Therefore, Canadians ought to be, given these figures, one of the healthiest peoples in the world.

But this is not the case. Certainly, there has been an improvement in the health of Canadians, as indicated by improved infant mortality and life expectancy statistics during the 60s. However, there are many other developed countries that still have a lower infant mortality rate than Canada, such as Australia, Sweden, Holland, France, and the United Kingdom. Also, some of these peoples have a longer life expectancy than Canadians.

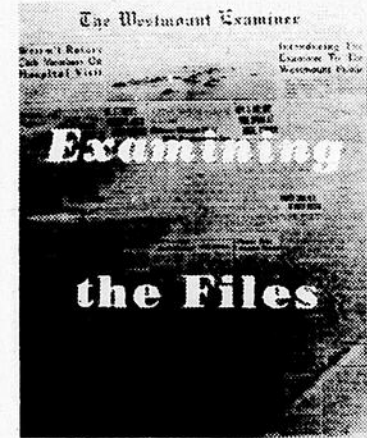

It is significant that these same countries have all had government health insurance schemes in operation in one form or another for many years. Nevertheless, they have all managed to keep their level of spending on personal health care substantially below the Canadian level, expressed as a percentage of GNP.

Highest Spenders

One must conclude that we are spending more proportionately on personal health than any other country in the world. Admittedly not all from the public section, but we are not getting the results we should. What is needed, therefore, is not more money out of the tax payer, but rather more efficient use of his current contributions.

The federal and provincial governments are engaged in a thorough re-examination of the existing arrangements to determine precisely how this can be achieved. The proposed arrangements under study recognize that Canadians ought to be just about the healthiest nation in the world if our money is spent wisely on an effective rationalization of health care in Canada. It is hoped that these discussions will be successfully concluded before long.

Thirty-five Years Ago April 9, 1937

"The campaign of the League for Women's Rights to raise a fund of $20,000 fell far short of the objective, less than a quarter of the twenty thousand dollars being obtained. No doubt this will be used by those who oppose women voting as a pillar to their argument that women aren't really interested in obtaining the vote, but when all things are considered it is surprising that the League succeeded as far as it did. And as the movement gains momentum, the financing will be correspondingly easier.

Twenty-five Years Ago April 4, 1947

"In order to have the necessary information for the new Valuation Roll recorded as correctly as possible, the assessors of the City of Westmount are mailing a questionnaire to all tenants and occupants in Westmount. From the information supplied the Municipal Electoral List, the Jury List, the Business Tax Roll and the Water Tax Roll will be prepared."

"The first robin of the year to be reported in Westmount was seen Tuesday morning by Mrs. E.E. Shaw, 625 Victoria avenue, in her back yard, where she declares she heard him happily singing."

Fifteen Years Ago April 5, 1957

"Capacity houses totalling over three hundred people watched the curtain rise as 65 youngsters performed in Maze Marching and other numbers at Gym Revue Friday and Saturday. This was Westmount YMCA's seventh annual display of physical activities and portrayed a cross section of the gym program held during the year."

"More than a score of arrests have been recorded by Westmount police in the current enforcement of school-zone speed laws locally. Motorists arrested had been clocked going more than 20 miles an hour in the prescribed zones—and an opinion close to the situation is that a high percentage of drivers disobey the laws."

Five Years Ago April 6, 1967

"A well dressed man with a great deal of aplomb bought a fur coat from a local furrier recently, paying for it with a cheque for over $500. The cheque was accepted by the merchant, since he had gone to school with the gentleman. Obviously he had seen little of him since, as it was later discovered that the man in question had been indulging in this habit for many years."

"In fact he had been arrested by Westmount Police 25 years ago on a charge of false pretences."

relationships. We would like to think of you walking the halls of Sir George surrounded by groups of young people relating to you because of your professionalism. Could you let us know your daily itinerary for perambulation? We would like to watch it. We have so much to learn and, Dean, if you could spare the time, you have so much to teach us.

One passage is particularly illuminating. "He is critical of the attitude of many Westmount High teachers but not all . . . teachers now are paid a more or less just salary, but we now have to get rid of the factory worker attitude of some of them and develop a true professional spirit."

Who are the "We," Dean; what is "more

Chairman French answers teachers

(A copy of the following letter has been delivered to The Examiner for publication.)

TO ALL TEACHERS
AT WESTMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL

Dear Teacher,

Enclosed please find (1) copy of The Westmount Examiner of March 23, 1972,

The Westmount Examiner, Thursday, April 6, 1972 5 and (2) a copy of an anonymous letter to me dated March 30, 1972.

In The Examiner interview (p. 6f.) I tried to articulate some of the criticisms that are being made concerning high schools in general and Westmount High School in particular, and I tried to answer many of these criticisms in a sympathetic fashion. On several occasions during the interview itself I emphasized the fact that Westmount High School has a large number of devoted and highly professional teachers.

The author or authors of the March 30 letter appear unaware of these facts. The letter is abusive, and it virtually ignores the substantive pedagogic issues discussed in the interview.

I have two proposals to make to you. The first is that I would welcome an invitation to meet with you. Secondly, I invite you or your representatives to attend the next meeting of the Westmount School Commission on Monday, April 10, at 8 pm.

The purpose of these meetings would be to discuss, in a friendly and positive fashion, such questions as the role of examinations, the use of French-speaking teaching assistants, the problems of less-gifted students in Westmount High School, the use of course evaluation questionnaires, the "humanizing" of high schools, and other mutual problems.

If you wish to contact me, please phone 931-4873 or 879-7320.

Yours sincerely,
Dr. Stanley G. French,
Chairman.

for the Municipality of

Capon, Peters new officers of the General

Two Westmounters were elected officers of the Montreal General Hospital on Wednesday, March 29.

The new president is Frank S. Capon, 2 Westmount Square. C.H. Peters, 35 Barat road, is vice-president. Also elected vice-president was H.K. McLean of Montreal. T.S. Morse of the Town of Mount Royal was elected treasurer.

Outgoing president Melvyn Angus, 699 Aberdeen avenue, presided over the meeting which dealt with the president's, executive director's, and honorary treasurer's reports.

Executive Director William Storrar, MD, reported that the impact of the Medicare program was most felt by the hospital in the emergency departments, the out-patient clinics, and the diagnostic department with the exception of the diagnostic radiology section, which showed a drop in activity.

Said the report: "It is hoped that in the future, with the proposed development of health centers, some of the emergency out-patient load will be diffused."

Gets $57,000

Parleigh Ltd., a Westmount-based business consulting firm which has been involved in bids to acquire the broadcast interests of the Canadian Marconi Company as well as Canadair Limited, has received federal Manpower grants amounting to $57,000 in support of its prospective employment here of 24 persons, Harvey Leigh, head of the firm, said this week.

France 'immersion' visit S.W. Sadler wins enthusiasm McCullough successor

While adult criticism was raised earlier in the winter over the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal curriculum department's scheme to give students, who could produce the price involved, three weeks each of French immersion in France, the tune is turning to enthusiasm and praise from the students themselves as they return.

Over 900 English-speaking Montreal area high schoolers will have made the trip, in six groups of 150 each, by May 19.

In the first group, which returned home Feb. 14, was Murray Brooks, a Westmount High School Grade 11 student. He reported in the PSBGM News, March issue, as follows:

On arriving in Paris, the students enjoyed two fantastic days visiting famous places such as the Louvre, Versailles and the Eiffel Tower.

From Paris to Bandol was an interesting ten hour cross-country train trip. Arriving in Bandol, a small village on the southern coast of France, the Cote d'Azur, we were officially welcomed to the town. Following the civic reception we were taken by boat to l'île de Bendor, then to our respective lodgings on the island.

Our daily activities were divided between classes in French conversation and grammar, science and history taught in the French language, and 'engaetes,' a socio-cultural method of developing an awareness of the people and life of Bandol.

Mayors thank Ouimet

The suburban mayors who joined together to oppose the Montreal Urban Community's recently passed budget thanked Westmount Mayor Paul Ouimet and Westmount officials at a meeting on March 21.

The thank-you note which was read at the March 21 meeting was read by Mayor Ouimet at Tuesday night's city council meeting where it was stated that the suburban mayors appreciated the work done by the Westmount city government.

The mayor had nothing new to report on Montreal Urban Community business.

A successor to Assistant City Treasurer Ed McCullough, who left March 20 to take up an appointment with the Canada Department of Agriculture, was named by city council Tuesday evening.

Appointed acting assistant treasurer is S.W. Sadler, an accountant who has been in private practice prior to which he was employed by Air Canada.

The assistant treasurer works directly under the authority of the city's general manager, N.T. Dawe, who also holds the title of city treasurer.

Mr. McCullough had been with the city of Westmount for 10 years, initially as budget officer and since 1964 as assistant treasurer.

Month's bills top 3 million

The city's bills for February amounted to $3,338,267, it was announced by Ald. Leeds Nelson at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

Payroll expenses amounted to $355,193, while accounts payable totalled $2,983,074.

The exceptionally large payout was due to the inclusion of remittances of Protestant, Catholic and neutral taxes. The city is responsible for the collection of school taxes.

'Counting the Days' at Temple

Sabbath services will be held in the Temple Emanu-El sanctuary tomorrow at 8:15 pm when Rabbi Bernard Bloomstone will speak on "Counting the Days." Classes resume in the Religious School following a spring recess Saturday morning, April 15, at 9:30 am. The Hebrew School resumes its afternoon sessions on Monday, April 10, at 4 pm.

The 1972 confirmation class under the direction of Dr. H. S. Stern and Rabbi Bloomstone is now preparing for the annual confirmation service, scheduled to take place on Shavuot, Friday, May 19 at 7:45 pm. Members of the class are: Wendy Lynn Benson, Elise Rochelle Brigel, Susan Barbara Cohen, Rosemary Engels, Judy Ann Izenberg, David Edward Kahn, Janis Marlene Kerman, Maxine Sevack, Elizabeth Tarshis, and Rose Elaine Varon.

The Sisterhood annual donor luncheon is to be held Tuesday at noon in the Grover Auditorium. General convenor is Mrs. Bernard L. Isaacs.

The Van Cliburn concert on Wednesday evening, April 19, at 8:15 pm in the Temple Sanctuary is open to the entire community. For reservations communicate with Miss Rose Cohen at the Temple office, 937-3575. General chairman is Sydney Lithwick.

The Alvin J. Walker cocktail party on Thursday evening, May 4, in the Temple community house will honor one of its beloved honorary trustees in support of Bonds for Israel. Convenors are Isidore H. Morrel and Lenard Shavick, under the auspices of the Temple board of trustees.

Prof. Siegel is speaker

The Men's Association breakfast forum at Shaar Hashomayim will meet as usual on Sunday morning with its guest lecturer, Prof. Jonathan P. Siegel, who will lecture on "The Second Commandment and Jewish Art."

The program for that morning will have services in the chapel at 8:45 am, followed by a study session at 9:15, breakfast at 10, and the lecture at 10:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

sabbath worship on Friday, April 14, at 8:15 pm. The service of Freedom, Faith and Thanksgiving will commemorate the 24th anniversary of the founding of the State of Israel. Rabbis Stern and Bloomstone will conduct a special ritual of commemoration and the special liturgical music will be chanted by Cantor Gottlieb and the Temple choir under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, Frederick McLearn.

Abe Izenberg, first vice-president of the Temple, is general chairman of the historic events commemorating the 90th anniversary of the founding of Emanu-El and Rabbi Stern's 45th anniversary with the congregation. These events will be celebrated on Friday evening, June 9, with a special service of re-dedication and on Saturday evening, June 10, with a banquet at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel. Distinguished personalities from the United States and Canada will participate. Temple Emanu-El was founded in 1882 and is the mother congregation of Reform Judaism in Canada. It is known nationwide for its programs of inter-faith carried on during 45 years under the leadership of its senior rabbi, Dr. Stern.

Fewer businesses failed last year than in 1970, according to a preliminary tabulation by Dun & Bradstreet Inc.

CAR BUYING TIPS

For Once, I'm at a Loss for Words

After all, what is there to say about the Lincoln Continental? It's the ultimate automobile and that's it.

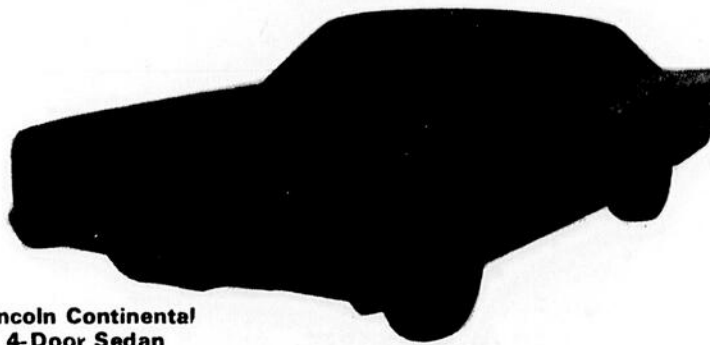

There's nothing really to tell you, except that right now we have several Mark IV Coupes and four-door Continentals you should look over.

But I can give you some worthwhile information on why Cumming Perrault is the best place to buy your new Continental. For one thing, we've been selling them since 1927, so we've had a bit of experience. For another thing, we can offer you a really good trade-in allowance right now.

Come and be tempted.

Readers compete Thursday

The Canadian Association of Reading Clubs will hold its annual competition next Thursday in Melville Presbyterian Church Hall.

Dr. John Richmond, literary editor of The Montreal Star, will be guest speaker and will evaluate the oral book reviews.

Mrs. I. Best, chief librarian of the Town of Mount Royal Library, will decide the winners in the written prose category.
The poetry competition will be appraised by Prof. E. P. Hearsey
(Paddy Webb) of McGill University.

Guests are welcome.

Art vs. decor at Gallery 90-40

Westmount's Gallery 90-40, fresh from its recent shows
"Orange Crate Art" and "How to Sell a War," is presenting from today through May 15 a unique exhibition entitled "Up Against the Wall: Art vs. Decor."

Based on the recently revived premise that "mere" decoration is an art in itself, the exhibit features hundreds of examples of posters, graphics, paper
ephemera, advertising material, and magazine covers that illustrate the show's theme.

"For too long," states Rudy Franchi, Gallery 90-40's owner and organizer of the exhibit at 353
Prince Albert avenue, "people have been told that their walls were only fit for 'fine art' — paintings, etchings, or even the mass produced, but always carefully 'signed' lithos of failing pop artists. The purpose of this exhibit is to restore a little sanity to the decorating scene. It stresses the fact that people can use almost anything to decorate — from torn Ballet tickets to pages ripped from a discarded magazine."

The exhibit is purposely timed to coincide with the traditional spring redecorating period.

Antique show on at Lachute

With the advent of spring, most women are thinking of spring cleaning but not the Lachute United Church Women — they are busily planning their sixth consecutive antiques show and sale which is taking place
Wednesday and Thursday, April 12 and 13, in the church hall, Main street, Lachute.

The two-day event will open at 10 am each day and close at nine o'clock Wednesday evening and at six pm Thursday.

The committee in charge is pleased to have nine highly recommended and reputable dealers — some of them took part in the first show sponsored by Lachute UCW in 1967.

Recent arrivals at The Cloister, Sea Island, Georgia, includ Mr. and Mrs. Alistair Mr. M. Campbell, 3660 The boulevard.

CAT FANCIERS VIEW FANCY CATS: A week ago last Sunday, the ample drill floor of the RMR armory was filled with elaborate cages of cats of all descriptions and breeds and with their dotting admirers. This view shows some of the crowd watching the judging. It was the seventh annual international show of the Cat Club of Montreal. Roger O. Barrie, 4917 de Maisonneuve boulevard west, was manager of the event.

NEW LIBRARY DISPLAY: This is the current display in the series on various subjects at the Westmount Public Library. This week: government publications.

OPENS EXHIBITION TOMORROW: An exhibition of paintings and sculptures by Gwendolyn Norris Fuller opens at 3 pm tomorrow (Friday) at her historic home, Rosemont, at 16 Severn avenue and continues from 2 to 6 pm daily until April 14. Here Mrs. Fuller is seen demonstrating her sculpture technique.

Tournament of games at Unity

There will be a massive games tournament in the Unity Boys and Girls Club gymnasium on Saturday. The members will compete in chess, checkers, slap hockey, bumper pool, table tennis and several other games of skill to determine the champion for each age group and for the overall club champion of the day.

This tournament is open to both members and non-members. A large turnout is expected. There will be a free membership card given to the non-member who accumulates the most points.

A meeting of the Westmount STOP committee is to be held at Unity this evening. This meeting is open to the public and in future they will be at Unity on the first Thursday of each month.

Saturday evening, 14 of the junior boys, ages 9 to 12, will sleep over in the club. This is the first time for this program in the past year at Unity.

Also, Saturday night, two folk singers from the Nyo Mythos theater group will perform for the Unity members. Music of all types is enjoyed by the Unity members. This is the second appearance by this group within the past month.

Weredale defeats Unity

BY DAVID PETERS

The Weredale Senior Floor Hockey Team last week defeated Unity Boy's Club 14 - 6.

This marks the third consecutive time they have beaten Unity. The team has been playing extremely well and it is counted unfortunate that the League, which they were a part of, folded. They would have had a good chance to finish high in the standings.

Elsewhere last weekend, three Weredale boys, Conrad Wilson, Robert Wilson and Albert Boucher, who play for the City of Westmount Rugby Team, visited Brown's University in Providence for a couple of pre-season games. They lost both, one to Brown's and one to Providence, but as these were the first games this year it is not a true indication of the ability of the team.

Most activities throughout the building have stopped this week for Easter vacation and many of the boys have gone home. However, normalcy returns next week with the boys.

Heating pressed

A representative of the Westmount Municipal Association questioned city council after its Tuesday night meeting about when a decision would be forthcoming about heating the city's ice rink.

D. K. Sherry, 359 Roslyn avenue, said the WMA would like some forward progress as an examination of the question had been going on for about 2½ years.

City Manager Norman Dawe said a report from the city's planning and redevelopment committee should be available on Thursday (today).

Westmount Rugger Club 'encouraging in defeat'

Once again the rugby season is with us and the Westmount Rugger Club began the season over Easter by making their annual trip to the Boston area.

This year, as last, the hosts were the University and Providence; with Easter being early together with the cold March, the Westmount squad was young and mainly not fit. It had been said that the team was the youngest ever fielded by Westmount with seven players under 20.

In the first match against the university, it was felt that perhaps Westmount could win—with 10 minutes remaining the club was leading 6-4; it was then that fitness told and the home team scored three times in the last few minutes. Both Richard Snow and Conrad Wilson made promising debuts and both could hold regular positions in the 1st XV.

This game was played in temperature of 65 and this made the play scrappy, which was not to the advantage of Westmount. The most pleasing points to Westmount eyes was the tremendous tackling by the younger players.

Scores for Westmount: Rodney Nichols and Gary Peacock, one penalty each.

Final score: 6 - 20.

On Sunday, Westmount played Providence who were the most successful club in the area last year; it was no surprise when one observer stated that Westmount would do well to stay within 30 points — not a great way to enter a match.

A surprise was in store; Westmount put up a tremendous performance before losing 4-3.

Defending a stiff wind, Westmount took the play to Providence and ran at all opportunities; eventually this led to a mistake when Bob Wilson tried to run in his own end zone, a tackle then to a try for the home team. Despite a good following wind, Providence were unable to add to this score so at half-time an upset was on the cards.

It was now that Westmount wanted the ball but unfortunately the small forwards did not supply the outsiders with this; instead Westmount had to rely on open field play which they did well in their own half but never did they gain control in their opponents end; when they did, Richard Snow spoiled things by running on his own too much. Rodney Nichols put Westmount onto the board with a penalty; then it was all Westmount, but too no avail.

Four summary: this was a very good team effort with much hope for a successful season for both teams in the club.

The star of the weekend: Gary Peacock and Conrad Wilson. Promising displays from Snow and Peter Bolser.

How to make friends with an oil furnace.

If you've just moved into a new home and discovered an oil furnace there, waiting to welcome you, you're lucky. Because an oil furnace really is man's best friend.

But you've just met this one, and there may be a lot you don't know about it. Like what makes it run? Did its previous owner treat it right? How often do you have to feed it? How can you tell when it's happy?

That's where we come in, because we've had many winters of experience with oil furnaces. And we have the people, equipment and radio-dispatched trucks to look after every little thing your furnace or boiler will ever need.

Call us when you move, and we'll introduce ourselves to you, and you to your furnace. We're

FUN WITH THE EASTER BUNNY: These are some of the children of members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at yesterday's family day which took the place of the regular weekly luncheon meeting in Victoria Hall. Many wives were present, too. Here the youngsters laughingly surround the Easter bunny, alias Rotarian Bob Layton whose other disguises include those of a consulting engineer, of chairman of the board of John Abbott College, and of a prospective federal Liberal candidate in his home riding of Vaudreuil. While the picture was being taken, radio personality Andy Barry was setting up a show of eye-popping magic tricks which was enjoyed as much by the parents as by the small fry, and by six visiting Rotarians from as many different clubs, as far away as Glasgow, Scotland.

Intruder takes Bikers' call woman's wallet

The resident of 4200 Sherbrooke street, apt. 5, had her wallet containing $35 stolen about 2 am on Tuesday.

She was awakened by a noise in the hallway, got out of bed, saw the shape of a man and yelled at him to get out. He ran off through the front door and she called the Westmount Police.

The police searched the area but found no one. The woman was unable to give a description of the man.

A bicycle safety contest, sponsored by Miracle Mart, is to be held for youngsters Sunday between 2 and 4:30 pm in Alexis Nihon Plaza. Westmount Police are participating.

Fence okayed

Permission was granted Tuesday night's city council meeting to the Selwyn House School to erect a chain-link fence and hedge along Cote St. Antoine road and over the 15-foot building line on Stanton street.

Mt. Pleasant boarding house brings council residents' ire

Accusations that city by-laws were not being applied impartially were leveled at city council after its Tuesday night April meeting.

The accuser, James Ferrabee, 423 Mount Pleasant avenue, said that a boarding house in the area north of Sherbrooke street in the Mount Pleasant vicinity apparently had been flouting city by-laws while surrounding residents were soon brought into line if they disregarded the rules.

He said one resident of the area who was attempting to construct a porch on his house was ordered to stop by a city policeman because he didn't have a building permit.

Fait accompli

"But I've told city officials about work being done on the boarding house, yet there was no interference until the city was presented with a 'fait accompli'," he asserted.

He added that he himself was told by the city to clean up debris in his back garden within days after he had deposited it there, while debris had remained in the yard of the boarding house for several months.

The residents of the area, he said, paid taxes on the basis of zoning of one- and two-family dwellings and asked if anything could be done to restrict boarding houses in the area.

Mayor Paul Ouimet replied that the city was conscious of the problem and asked Mr. Ferrabee if he would deposit notes with the council so that a reply could be given to the residents in writing.

World War II Cited

City Attorney Arthur Weldon explained that during the Second World War, because of the housing shortage, boarding houses were permitted to be built anywhere by emergency powers which the federal government took upon itself.

"The houses have vested rights now," he said. "It's not so much a question of policy as legal rights."

In reply to a question from a

We're burgled, too

The Westmount Examiner did not have to go to the Westmount Police to get the details of one of the few breaking and entries of the week.

The local constabulary came to The Examiner.

Sometime between midnight and 8 am yesterday, burglars entered 4630 St. Catherine street west and forced open three desks and a cabinet in the ground-floor offices of The Examiner and its associated Weekly Adservice, classified advertising arm of six west-end weekly community newspapers.

Upstairs, the offices of Monitor News & Features Services and of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship also were entered where a desk and a cabinet were broken into.

Approximately $100 was taken from petty cash boxes.

member of the audience, Mr. Weldon replied that the rights remain vested in the building, not the owner, and it would require provincial legislation to change the situation since the emergency powers the federal government took upon itself during the war had since reverted to the provincial government.

City called twice

In reply to a question from Ald. Douglas Robertson, Mr. Ferrabee said that city officials had been called at least twice about the debris in the back garden of the rooming house.

Ald. Wood said he was sympathetic toward the residents of the area who were mainly professionals and who had put a lot of work into developing their homes.

Mr. Ferrabee said that if it was necessary to change provincial legislation to correct the problem, then perhaps some approach should be made to that government.
