HUNTINGDON, Q., SEPT 25, 1902

NOTES OF THE WEEK

The unseating of the federal member for Two Mountains, who is a Liberal, has caused the Conservatives to bestir themselves in the hope of regaining the seat. On Sunday a mass meeting was held in front of the church at St. Eustache, at which Mr. Monk made what may be accepted as a program speech. He began with the usual outburst about race and creed. Let us, he declared, Conserve with care the traditions of the great race from which we have sprung, the language of the country of our origin, our religious faith, that precious inheritance which neither climate nor reverses can change, but let us all be united in one national Canadian sentiment.

He went on to condemn immigration, on which the present government had spent 5 million dollars, money which would have been better applied to founding industrial and agricultural establishments controlled by the state. A gentleman with Socialistic views of this nature is naturally an extreme protectionist. Mr. Monk wants a tariff that will stop buying from the States and impose such an export duty on our raw material that Americans who want our nickel ore, or our pulpwood, would not get it. Coming to the preferential tariff to Britain Mr. Monk said he would repeal it, as it ruined our manufacturers. Mr. Bergeron endorsed what Mr. Monk had said and so did the subsequent speakers.

When the leaders of the Conservative party in this province address an audience in Ontario they have along, stereotyped palaver about soaring above sectional feeling, toleration, and the steadfast loyalty of the habitant, but their church door speeches may be summed up in two words, nativism, protection.

Thanksgiving this year is to be on Thursday, 16th October. A good deal could be said in favor of keeping to the old arrangement, of having thanksgiving on the same day as our neighbors. There are so many Canadians resident in the States, that a joint observance of the day enabled them to attend family reunions.

The official announcement that Montreal is clear of smallpox is accompanied by the statement that to attain that result has cost the city $34,000. There were in all 654 patients; of these 561 had never been vaccinated. The experience of Valleyfield has been similar. To stamp out the disease cost the town $9000, which would have been saved had vaccination been general. The people who shirk vaccination and the cranks who oppose it cost the community a lot of money and cause much trouble.

In retaliation of Ontario's export duty on pulp wood, the U. S. department has used its permissive power to increase the duty on all pulpwood from Canada by 40 cents a ton. As the Americans will have to pay the increased duty, the act is of no interest to Canadians beyond showing the hostile disposition of the Washington authorities. The feeling is growing in favor of the forbidding altogether of the export of pulpwood. Were that done the Americans would be compelled to manufacture the wood into paper in Canada. Almost daily heavy trains of pulpwood pass Huntingdon en route to the States.

When, on his conviction for inducing deputy returning-officers to stuff the ballot boxes, Alfred Brunet was let off with 6 months' jail, there was general indignation at the inadequacy of the sentence. Instead of being satisfied with his having got off so easily, his influential friends have secured an order for his release after serving two months. This is a grave scandal. When parliament meets it will be its duty to discover who is accountable.

Mr. Tarte is taking a round among the manufacturers, visiting the factories and, at board of trade meetings, holding out promises of more protection. It would be interesting to know if the gentleman who told us elections are not made with prayers has subscriptions in view. Besides that of St. James division there are several other by-elections coming on where funds will be needed.

There has been a gratifying advance in butter and cheese, which is likely this time to be sustained, if from no other cause than the remarkable shrinkage in production, due to the drouth that has prevailed of late and so shrivelled the pastures that cows, in many localities, have to be fed. Oats keep falling slowly, and for peas there is little demand. At Chicago wheat has been manipulated freely by speculators and the price has varied daily. On the whole the tendency is upward, and that is also the case with corn. It is no longer possible to conceal the fact that a considerable percentage of the wheat in the Northwest has been frosted. The English market for wheat rules steady, due, in part, to advice that the yield in Southern Russia is the largest for many years.

The return of three parties of arctic explorers took place last week. All started confident of reaching the pole, and all equally failed, the highest latitude attained being 83°, which is a long way off. Captain Bernier, of course, takes advantage of the momentary revival in arctic exploration to tell us he has the original and infallible plan by which the British flag can be hoisted on the mythical north pole if the Dominion will only give him $150,000. The captain would better serve the Dominion by turning his attention to raising potatoes.

Disturbances multiply in the district of the coal strike and the number of soldiers needed to protect life and property increases. The strikers are especially angry at the persistent efforts of the masters in introducing negroes. Contributions for the support of the strikers are so liberal that it is alleged they can hold out until Christmas. The coal famine has become so acute that public meetings are being held in the cities to consider what can be done to fight Jack Frost. There is a supply of English hard coal now on hand in Montreal, selling at $8 a ton. Laid down in Huntingdon it would cost $9.50. It has less ash than American and gives greater heat.

The civil war in Venezuela has given much annoyance to the governments of the world, arising from the disregard shown by the natives for the rights of foreigners. Not long ago the United States government had to threaten to use force in order to protect the property of its citizens and Germany has been provoked by the repudiation of debts due its capitalists. Under the pretence that Britain has been aiding the revolutionary party, the Venezuelan president has instigated outrages on the property of several Englishmen that have brought matters to a crisis. In old times, long before this, an allied fleet of the Powers would have enforced respect for international law, but ever since President Cleveland's interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, as forbidding the landing of European forces on South American soil, none of the Powers care about provoking a possible contest with the States. If the present Washington government adheres to the policy laid down by Cleveland it ought to do itself what it forbids to the European Powers, namely, discipline the South American governments.

On Friday, an English balloonist, Stanley Spencer, started from the crystal palace grounds in an airship of his invention, and sailed across London, making a trip of 80 miles before landing. The airship steered perfectly and at one time sailed against the wind, propelled by a motor of 40 horse-power. This is the first practical exhibition of aerial navigation, but it is of no commercial value, as Mr. Spencer states the load his airship can carry is small and the expense great.

The United States government, joined by that of Britain, has sent a protest to the Powers, asking that they compel Bulgaria to cease persecuting the Jews. The grievance of Britain and the States is, that the persecution is causing a wholesale exodus of Jews, who are landing by the thousand on their shores, penniless and without the ability to become useful citizens, as they are neither tradesmen nor farmers, but pedlars and small shopkeepers.

The French minister of marine,

M. Pelletan, speaking at a banquet given to him on his visiting Bizerta, said—

We do not say we want to make the Mediterranean a French lake. We have been cured of the dreams of that great man who wished us to dominate the world. But part of the Mediterranean is French and will remain French. With this powerful rampart so well situated for defence, and also for attack, and with Corsica and Toulon we can hold the open door between the two halves of the Mediterranean, in spite of Malta and Gibraltar. Certainly, I do not desire a conflict of peoples against England any more than against Italy; but as we do not know what others are doing, it is part of our duty to prepare for the holy war for the French Fatherland against its enemies, whoever they may be. I am convinced, thanks to the fellow-workers with whom I am surrounded, that we can face every eventuality. Security hardly exists any more for the civilized world. At the end of the 19th century, after the defeat of France by the barbarism of old Germany, we saw an offensive return of the law of brute force. The whole world seemed to be dominated by the maxim, "Might before right." We must then devote all our efforts to keeping intact that focus of justice and light—French genius.

Questioned in the legislature Mr. Combes, the French premier, tried to laugh the incident away by declaring after-dinner speeches were not to be taken seriously. Opinion in Germany and England is, that Mr. Pelletan said what he believed, but would not have said what he thought had he left the wine glass alone.

The Boxers are again showing their hand in China. In one of its provinces they have made such headway that there is danger of their obtaining control of it. The insurrection interests Canada, for laboring in the section where the rebellion exists are 20 missionaries of the Methodist church. Apprehensions as to the fate of these devoted Canadians are acute and painful.

ORMSTOWN

Tuesday evening Robert McCurdy was bringing a cow to the cattle car for Wednesday's shipment, when the animal became furious and broke away. Alex. McCurdy, his father, ran to stop it and was knocked down, getting a sore fall. The beast ran up the railway track to a culvert, where it stumbled. The evening train came up just then and passed over, cutting the rope close to the cow's head but not hurting it.

Peter Cavers sent a car load of good cattle and hogs to Montreal this morning.

The W.C.T.U. had a tent at St. Louis, and, considering the rain, did better than could have been expected. As at St. Martin's, they filled a van in supplying a wholesome and appetizing lunch at a low cost.

BRYSONVILLE

Tenders are being asked for conveying the mail from here to L'Artichère, calling at Tullochgorum and Cairnside. The distance is given as 7½ miles. The road across the rock is a bad one.

HOWICK

Mr. Danesrean, one of the most extensive horse buyers in this section, bought 30 horses in 2 days, some being shipped by rail and some by Beauharnois boat.

Delegates from Tres St Sacrement council, accompanied by representatives from St. Louis, interviewed members of the government at Montreal on Monday, concerning the proposed bridge at Allan's Corners. Although St. Louis uses the bridge at the corners as much as the residents of this parish, there seems to be little likelihood of the former doing anything towards building it, and not much encouragement was given by the government members that a bonus of any consequence would be given. The bridge is estimated to cost about $18,000, which would require a tax of about $17 per $1000 valuation to raise the money from this parish. Farms generally are valued at from $5000 to $6000.

Hay is being shipped at the rate, on an average, of 16 cars each day from the G. T. depot. Prices are unchanged.

BEAUBARNOS

Seraphin G. Patenande has taken out an action for $500 against E. Anderson, now in British Columbia.

Mrs. Wm. Jamieson has sued Jas. B. Jamieson for $331.

Michael Head of St. Antoine has taken out an action against Thos. Cassidy.

Judgment for $246 has been rendered in favor of James McCane against Mrs. Joseph Latham.—Le Progrès.

HEMMINGFORD

The outbuildings of Mrs. E. Ryan, half mile south of this village, were burned on Friday. The fire originated about 10 a.m. No cause is assigned. There was an insurance of $540 in the Mutual, about half on buildings, the balance on produce and implements.

VALLEYFIELD

A source of attraction for the younger element has disappeared this year from the country fairs. The merry-go-round has been leased. Its dulcet tones were not mingled with the cries of the pop-corn and peanut vendor, the neighing of horses, crowing chicks, and the rasping, clanging of farm machinery. Even the frowny-haired lady pianist did not exultate the awe-stricken audience with a merry chase of chromatic scales, thereby saving the head clerk in the village store the envy of his less fortunate companions in their aspirations towards social distinction.

The west ward has been embellished by a fine block of brick houses, put up by Mr. A. Morand. Mr. Corbelle is completing a handsome store. Mr. Leger is remodeling his store. Mr. Dion's store is now in course of construction. The iron frame for the same has reached town and is being put up by the Dominion Bridge works. The building, when completed, will be the handsomest and most substantial in Valleyfield. Its estimated cost is in the neighborhood of $30,000.

The public and property-owners on Victoria-street are indignant that the town authorities did not take steps to preserve the line of alignment on that street, which has been broken by the alterations of the government lock-master's house, at the corner of Victoria and Jacques Cartier streets. The disfigurement to the street is to be regretted and some effort ought to be made by those interested to have the wall removed.

It is nearly as bad as the checker-board appearance of Dufferin road from the bridge north.

The property of the Methodist church has been freshened by the painter. The planting of some clinging creepers would in a few years greatly improve the little brick church.

No less than 15 couples, undaunted by the high price of coal and the inevitable tax-collector, have, within the last few weeks, entered into the bonds of wedlock. May their coal-bins never be empty. This holds the record for Valleyfield.

A photographic group of the pupils of the Gault institute was taken on the 17th. Great preparations had been made for the picture, which will, in a few years, be a source of pleasant memories. May its occasional view remind some of the rough asperities in the hard struggle for life.

The old-time amusement of kite-flying, which, for some years, has been neglected, is reviving in Valleyfield. The paste-pot, scissors, jack-knife, etc., are being put into requisition by the boys, who are now indulging in the kite-flying pastime.

Mr. E. Charlebois, driver for Lebeuf & Co., is confined to his home with a broken leg. The accident took place on Thursday on the Larocque road.

The north ward is not to be outdone in the construction line. M. Lavoie is putting up a fine store and dwelling.

A number of our local musicians are organizing a past-time club for the winter season. A preliminary meeting was held on Monday evening, when the project received good encouragement.

The investigation into the stone-crusher imbroglio has been postponed, in order to allow the one party to prepare its accusations and the other its defense. The matter should be properly ventilated. This is due to all interested.

The board of directors of the Provincial bank have decided to open a branch in Valleyfield, and have secured the premises lately occupied by the Molson's bank for this purpose. Mr. Thos. Prefontaine has been appointed local director, and Mr. R. S. Joron manager. Both are highly qualified to fill their responsible positions. Mr. Lavimodiere has been appointed notary of the new institution and Mr. Z. Boyer notary for the Hochelaga bank, filling the position recently occupied by Mr. Joron.

VICARS

Drink was freely and openly sold here on show day. The usual results followed and melancholy scenes were presented. Men who got liquor at the corners went down to the show ground, and by their condition brought, in the eyes of visitors unacquainted with the facts, discredit on the society and on our respectable community. Is it or is it not the business of our collector of inland revenue to protect the revenue by stopping illicit sale? Last year we had to complain of the sale of drink on, we may say, the open highway, without let or hindrance, and this year we have the law again openly defied, and the persons who sold the stuff untouched and without fear, probably to do the like next show day. Havecock grants no license, and is as sober and orderly a township as there is in the Dominion, and it is disgraceful its good name should be tarnished on show days by persons for whom it is not responsible.

FRANKLIN

A successful social gathering was held on Friday evening last at the home of Mr. Simon Reaume under the auspices of the ladies of the Congregational church. The evening was perfect and the attendance large. Proceeds amounted to $29.

WHITE'S STATION

An extra freight train on Sunday afternoon ran into a group of 5 colts near here, injuring 3 to such an extent that they had to be killed at once. Three of the number were pastured on the David White farm; one, a 2-year old, was owned by Mrs. Henry Wilson, the others were year olds, one owned by Robt. Todd and one by Alex. Watson. These were killed. The two that were injured were owned by J. H. Goodfellow, who has the David White farm rented. Owing to a defective line-fence the colts strayed into George White's lot, and it was from it they got on to the track. A G. T. official investigated into the circumstances on Monday, and found the company was not to blame, the fence and gate being in good order. The colts were fine animals.

HUNTINGDON VILLAGE COUNCIL There was an adjourned session Monday evening; Coun Crawford and Philps absent, the latter being still confined to his room by illness.

A by-law was passed to regulate the electric light. It provides, under a penalty of not less than $1, or more than $10, 1st, That, unless on the streets, no lamp shall be installed or used larger than 16 c.p.

2nd, That no greater number of lamps shall be installed or connected with the electric light system by any person than the number which is actually in use and paid for at the rate fixed.

It also gives the council power to appoint an "inspector of electric lights" to enter into and inspect any building where the electric light is in use.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—The Boer generals, Botha, De Wet, and Delarey, have issued a manifesto in the shape of an appeal to the civilized world. This document recalls how, after the terrible struggle in South Africa, and the Boers were compelled to accept the British terms of peace, the generals were commissioned to proceed to England and appeal to the new government to ally the distress which is devastating the colonies, and in the event of the failure of the mission, to appeal to the civilized world for charitable contributions. Continuing, the generals say, that, having failed to induce Great Britain to grant further assistance, it only remains for them to address themselves to the people of Europe and America. "The small Boer nation," goes on the manifesto, "can never forget the help it received in its dark hours of suffering. Our people are completely ruined. It has been impossible to make a complete inventory, but we are convinced that at least 30,000 houses on Boer farms and many villages were burned or destroyed by the British during the war. Everything was destroyed and the country was completely laid waste. The war demanded many victims and the land was bathed in tears and our orphans and widows were abandoned. We are appealing to the world for contributions to assist the destitute and help in the education of the children." The generals repudiate all desire to inflame the minds of the people, and declare: "The sword is now sheathed and all differences are silent in the presence of such great misery."

Cape Town, Sept. 19.—A parliamentary return issued today shows that 3,497 rebels who surrendered under the peace proclamation have been disfranchised for life.

THE SHOW AT HAVELOCK.

WEATHER and roads were all that could be wished on the 17th, with the result of a larger attendance than has been seen for many years. There was an unusual number of visitors from the neighboring county, and we observed several from St. Louis. Among those from the banks of the Chateauguay was the veteran John Anderson, now rarely seen at any public gathering. The two members for the county were present. The brightness and warmth that prevailed made the day enjoyable, and the occasion seemed more one of social re-unions than of interest in the exhibits. The most casual observer could not help noticing the number of handsome turnouts, stylish wagons and harness, with well-dressed occupants, all signs that good harvests have induced farmers to be more free in spending than they have been in former years. The people were out for a holiday and they enjoyed it. The receipts at the gate were $325. Adding members' tickets, this would give an attendance of over 2000. The ladies of the Methodist church, Hemmingford, occupied the dining-room and had all they could do. They cleared $225, which goes towards repairing the parsonage.

In heavy-draft horses the judges had little to do, the classes being small. When the progeny of Royal Marvel begin to appear in the ring, this will be changed. This noble Clyde is fulfilling all that was expected of him, and is developing into one of the finest horses the district has seen, having both size and quality. The Keddys are satisfied with the patronage received during the past season; when the colts become known it will increase. The entries of light-draft horses were numerous and the judges were kept busy until late in the afternoon. They rejected a number of likely animals from being under-sized or unsound. In cattle the herds of Bustard, Cleland and McDowell were prominent features, and they would do credit to any show. Both aged and young bulls were well spoken of. Sheep were numerous and presented a greater variety in breeds than is to be found at any other show. In the Leicesters there were two extra ewes—a shearerling and aged. Swine tho' few in number, were good. There were two particularly fine sows. The exhibit of poultry was small. Of vegetables the display was meagre, and not to be compared with that of a few years back. The competition in potatoes was the best, and a finer lot could not be found. The 1st prizes in Green Mountain and No 2 went to potatoes which for smoothness and shape could not be excelled. Reports as to soundness and yield are favorable. The reverse is true of corn, which is the poorest in the memory of any present at the show. In bulk it is not half a yield, while ears there are are poorly filled. Wm. Gilmore stated it was the first time in his knowledge that fields of corn failed to tassle. Corn is so important a crop in the three eastern townships of Huntingdon that its partial failure is serious. The loss is not made up in buckwheat. It promised excellently, but those who failed to have it cut before the blast of the 9th suffered from the wind threshing it. The same gale did great damage among the apple-trees. The exhibit of fruit was the smallest Havecock has had, and in no way representative of the orchards. The opposite side of the room, where the preserves, sugar, bread, and the like were displayed, sustained the reputation of the housekeepers of the eastern part of Huntingdon. There were 15 entries of pears, all extra, and a number of plates of capital plums. Downstairs the benches were nearly as empty as St. Martin's. Prominent at the head of the room were a cluster of beautiful growing plants, whose rich bloom indicated careful cultivation. The bouquets comprised a surprising variety and several rare flowers for this late season. The fancy work was well spoken of by the judges and domestic manufactures were up to the average. The entries of butter and cheese were few. The 1st prize dairy butter was A 1 as to flavor. There was only one box of creamery.

Alexander McMillan had 2 stylish wagons, both finished in the natural wood. He states he has no trouble in selling, as most farmers prefer hand-made wagons, even though they cost more than those that come from the factory.
