WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1939

PRICE—TWO CENTS

CITY WILL REMEMBER WAR DEAD SUNDAY

Westmount To Pay Honor To Soldiers In Fitting Manner

Will Commemorate Heroism of Citizens and Regiment Members Who Died in the Great War — Memorial Wreaths Will Be Placed — Service Commences at Three O'Clock — Inspection of Colors

While her sons are engaged in a new fight for freedom Canada will not forget her glorious war dead who laid down their lives for King and country in the great conflict 1914-18.

A commemorative service in memory of the citizens of Westmount and the members of the Royal Montreal Regiment who gave their lives in the Great War will be held at the Westmount War Memorial at 3 o'clock on Sunday.

Memorial wreaths will be placed on the cenotaph by the following:

J. A. MATHEWSON GETS IMPORTANT CABINET POST

J. Arthur Mathewson, K.C., a life-long resident of Westmount, is the new Provincial Treasurer, having been sworn in yesterday afternoon. The new Treasurer, who lives on Trafalgar avenue, was elected in the neighbouring division of Notre Dame de Grace, by the largest majority in the entire province. Mr. Mathewson's appointment was expected, but some surprise was expressed that Gordon Hyde, elected in Westmount, was omitted from the Cabinet, as announced last night. Many of his supporters had hoped he would be included.

Next to the office of Premier, the Treasury is the most important of the entire slate, being the provincial equivalent of the federal Ministry of Finance. In appointing Mr. Mathewson to this important portfolio, the Premier followed the tradition which decrees that a French Catholic will be Premier, and an English Protestant his chief associate.

It is assured that the Godbout-Mathewson relationship will be happy and successful, for of all the leaders of the minority in this Province, none is held in higher esteem by the French people than the new Treasurer. Mr. Mathewson speaks French fluently, reads it and writes it. He is known throughout the entire Province as a man who thoroughly understands the French-Canadians their aspirations and problems. And he is held in equally high esteem by his English-speaking associates.

Song Service To Be Given At Stanley Church

On Sunday evening at Stanley Presbyterian church a Service of Song of "Old Fashioned Hymns" will be given under the direction of Walter S. Clapperton. The singing will be led by a choir of sixty male voices.

Beginning at 9.15 p.m. the Montreal Masonic Choir will give a Sacred Concert, assisted by Mrs. W. S. Clapperton and Miss Dorothy Crabtree, as soloists, with George M. Brewer at the organ. Collection will be taken up in aid of the Red Cross.

Driverless Car Runs Away; Damage Is Slight

A driverless automobile which commenced to roll down a slight incline on Chesterfield avenue shortly after 7 o'clock Friday evening, caused but slight damage when it collided with a stationary vehicle a few feet from its starting point.

Miss C. M. Harvey, of 55 Chesterfield avenue, told police that she had left her car, with the brakes set, in front of her residence. Some 15 minutes later she emerged from the house to find that it had gained momentum on a slight incline and had rolled backward into a car parked on the opposite side of the street.

The Royal Montreal Regiment, 58th Westmount Rifles. Ladies' Committee of The Royal Montreal Regiment. Civic Bodies and Societies. Private Individuals. Other features of the memorial service will be: Inspection of: Escort to the Colours; The Royal Montreal Regiment (MG), C.A.S.F.; Veterans, The Royal Montreal Regiment (14th Bn. TED PIPER TO PREACH SUNDAY AT ST. ANDREW'S

Will Have as His Subject "Some Practical Religious Questions for Youth To Solve"

Ted Piper, a youthful Montreal barrister and recent graduate from the McGill Law School, will speak on "Some practical religious questions for youth to solve," in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday evening. He is replying to a request to condense into a single sermon what he regards as the essence of religion.

First he will ask why one man is a Christian and another a Hindu or a Jew. Then he will deal with the question of eternal damnation, the shortcomings of the church and the conflict between Christian sects. The address may prove very disquieting to some who resent any questioning of accepted tenets, but these young men have been given this one opportunity to express their deepest thoughts, even if some may disagree and dislike them.

After the evening service Lyle McMaster, president of St. Andrew's Young Folks Club, will preside at the youth forum. Miss Marjorie Bredie will relate the impressions gained on a visit to Amsterdam.

Library Closed Until 2 p.m. Saturday

The Westmount Public Library will not open on Armistice Day, Saturday, until 2 o'clock. It was announced yesterday by Miss Kathleen Jenkins, head librarian. This means that the building will be closed in commemoration of the event from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Walker, assisted by Miss Vera Jamieson as accompanist.

NATIONAL WAR MEMORIAL

"Honoring the Dead While Remembering the Living"

The Canadian Legion, His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, recently has an important part to play in the present crisis. The war work it has recently accepted at the invitation of the Federal Government has borne out the truth of the Governor-General's statement.

Left over from the days and years prior to September 3, 1939, however, is one of the most important of the tasks to which the Legion, ever since its formation, has dedicated itself. That is the annual Poppy Day appeal.

Although the Poppy Day campaign this year will be held at a time when the thoughts of everyone are concentrated on present hostilities and new international problems, the difficulties of the last war are by no means completely solved. It would be most unfortunate, in the words of Brigadier W. W. Foster, D.S.O., V.D., Dominion president of the Legion, "if, in the excitement of the moment, the veterans of the former war were forgotten, and the people of Canada were not given the opportunity of continuing their practical support of those veterans who served the Empire at the time of trial 25 years ago."

Heading the campaign in Montreal and district this year are Col. Andrew Fleming, V.D., and Lt.-Col. E. J. Nantel, V.D., as joint chairmen. All branches of the Legion throughout the area are co-operating one hundred per cent in street collections and publicity efforts, and are being strongly backed by the I.O.D.E. forgetting the living."

Parent-Teachers Group Will Inaugurate Series

The Parent-Teacher Association of Shaare Hashomayim Synagogue, of Westmount, will inaugurate a series of public meetings at the Synagogue on Monday evening at eight o'clock with a panel discussion of "Jewish Education—For What?" The discussion will be conducted by three leaders, who will each approach the problem from a different point of view. Harvey Golden, executive director of the Y.M.H.A. will interpret the question from the standpoint of the communal worker; Mrs. Alta Kahn, executive director of the Y.W.H.A., will deal with the subject from the aspect of developing individual personality and qualities of leadership in our youths. Nathan Mendelson will view the problem as one of the developing the religious consciousness of our youth and of maintaining unimpaired the traditional heritage of the past. The meeting is planned as an (Continued on page 2)

Cars Damaged In Collision At Junction

Considerable damage was caused both vehicles when an automobile driven by Mrs. Hermann Van Elken, 4455 Montrose avenue, and a truck operated by Carlo Piccoli, 2535 St. Charles street, collided at the intersection of Westmount and Sydenham avenues, at 4.10 o'clock Monday afternoon.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Van Elken was proceeding from south to north on Sydenham and the truck was travelling from east to west on Westmount avenue.

Both doors on the right side of the car were ripped from their hinges as were the two right mudguards. The radiator grill and fenders on the truck were damaged.

NEW MEMBERS JOIN UNIT OF BOYS BRIGADE

Rev. Dr. W. O. Mulligan, Chaplain, Conducted Service on Sunday

New members of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade were officially enrolled on Sunday morning at the annual enrolment service, conducted by the Chaplain, Rev. Dr. W. O. Mulligan. In his remarks, Dr. Mulligan referred to the Brigade's anchor with the motto, "Sure and Steadfast," inscribed on it. This complete insignia is based on the verse of Scripture, (Heb. 6-19) "Which hope we have as an Anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast," and was chosen by the founder, Sir Wm. Smith, to symbolize the solid foundation upon which every boy should build his life. Following the address, officers were re-dedicated to their tasks and then N.C.O.'s, followed by the new recruits, who took their pledge as members of the Boys' Brigade. Following the service, the company marched to Claremont avenue via Sherbrooke Street and thence to Western and Grosvenor avenues where it was dismissed. Each boy received his membership card, presented by Captain Richardson and Lieutenant Sutherland.

Rev. Dr. T. A. Wilson attended the regular Brigade meeting on Friday. He inspected the boys and was very much impressed with the display of activities he witnessed. During the evening the following boys were promoted: Donald Taylor and Philip Lamb to Sergeants and Duncan Patterson and Robert Morrow to Corporals. Several additional promotions will have to be made in the near future due to the size of the company. A new squad has been formed which will be under Corporal Morrow and care for all new recruits who are admitted from now on.

Preparations are now being made for the award to be presented to Sergeant Donald Taylor for having rescued a young lady from drowning in Orford Lake, last summer. Brigade headquarters in London announced they were happy to make this award and a letter of congratulation from the Brigade president, The Earl of Home, has been sent to Sgt. Taylor. Arrangements will be made for the presentation to take place at a public meeting.

Model builders are getting busy for the Christmas display of Company handicraft, and classes on Tuesday evenings are well patronized by boys in the company. Leathercraft is to commence this week.

REGULAR MEETING IS HELD BY SISTERHOOD

The regular monthly meeting of the Montreal Protestant Ministerial Association will be held in the Willingham room of the Central Y.M.C.A., Drummond Street, on Monday, November 13th, at 10.30 a.m.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

The armistice which ended the Great War of 1914-1918 will be commemorated generally Saturday, the two-minute silence being observed at eleven o'clock—the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. Although we still are suffering from the wounds of the last conflict, we find ourselves this Remembrance Day engaged in another and greater war, so that our services on Saturday and Sunday will be doubly significant. This war, even more than the last, is a war for the survival of everything free people hold most dear. Liberty has been challenged throughout the world by men who are probably the most absolute despots of the past thousand years. Only in France, the British Empire, a handful of lesser European countries, and the United States does freedom still ring. War is a hateful thing—a recourse to which civilized men are driven only as a last resort. France and Britain postponed recourse to it until all means of avoiding the issue were exhausted. But when it had finally to be faced, they took up the challenge. And it is to Canada's everlasting glory that we ranged ourselves at their side, without hesitation in the great crusade, above all, that freedom still lives where the flag of Britain flies, and God granting we win this war, this freedom will be passed on to our children and our children's children.

A HEALTHY SIGN

One of the healthiest results of the recent Provincial election campaign was the manner in which the voters forsook party allegiance to vote "for the man" or for the principle involved. Years ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier condemned the habit of party voting to the exclusion of all other considerations as tending to retard national development. Sir Wilfrid was not complaining from the opposition benches at the time—it was during his long tenure of office that he made his famous speech on the subject; consequently, he spoke with absolute sincerity.

Condemnation of the party vote, however, was not condemnation of the party system, for Sir Wilfrid was a strong party man. He believed, as most thinking people do today, that the British two-party parliamentary system of government is the best the world has evolved; but its benefits are largely lost when the people at large form the habit of voting a party ticket, regardless of the character or qualifications of the candidate or the issues involved in the election.

From this point of view, the result of the recent election was encouraging to those who want to see the system working at its best. The voters all over the province, voted on the issues and on the quality of the candidates. This applied even in those divisions where National Union men were elected—men like Hon. Johnny Bourque and Hon. Mr. Sauve because their personal popularity and integrity overbalanced the unpopularity of the issues their party sponsored. In other constituencies, like Notre Dame de Grace and Westmount, the voters found both the issue and the candidate under a party banner which they traditionally have opposed, yet they did not hesitate to change their allegiance when they considered it right that they should do so.

This is a healthy and encouraging tendency. The voters should not be party followers. They are the ultimate judges of all politicians, statesmen, and other public men, and they should cast their ballot with the same impartiality that a judge renders a verdict after hearing all the evidence. If they would develop the habit of doing that consistently and conscientiously, public life would be lifted to a high plane indeed.

GERMAN FINANCES

German newspapers are publishing statements in the hope of proving that the country is in prosperous financial condition and well able to carry the war to a "victorious end."

The weakness is that German newspapers must publish everything the Government wants published—which means, of course, that no importance can be attached to their statements.

It is impossible to believe that Germany's financial condition is good. The country was in a bad way long before the war started. What must it be now? And picture what it will be a year or so hence.

THE LUCKY PLUMBERS

Plumbers working under pressure to transform a Windsor auto plant into winter barracks for the Essex Scottish Regiment are reported to have been quite satisfied with their $125-per-hour wage—until C.I.O. guardian angels came along this week and notified them they mustn't work overtime unless they are paid double the hourly rate. Thus, for a nine-hour day, say, on this wartime rush job, the John L. Lewis emissaries insist on payment of $12.50.

These figures may represent an honest wage, provided the work is efficiently done. But, in comparison to the $1.30 a day paid the boys in khaki, doesn't the C.I.O.'s double-for-overtime demand seem just a teeny bit ridiculous?

BOOK REVIEW

BY

"ANNE OF INGLESIDE"

By L. M. Montgomery
With a frontispiece "Anne" in color by Charles V. John
McClelland & Stewart, Limited,
245-249 Victoria Street, Toronto.
Price $2.25; Pages 323

When Anne of Green Gables married Dr. Gilbert Blythe, her first year was spent in the House of Dreams, and then they purchased the lovely place they named Ingleside.

Anne of Ingleside she is now with her small children laughing through the days, romping in the brick-walled garden, playing pirates along the orchard brook, fleeing from ghosts in the old graveyard. The escapades of the small youngsters enliven the pages. At Windy Poplars she was a charming young girl; at Ingleside she is a delightful young mother, gay and ready for the adventures of each day.

One of the most attractive characters of the author is the faithful maid Susan who speaks her thoughts with no frills, and brooks no nonsense, but whose heart is in the right place.

Humor and pathos march side by side and Anne Shirley is the same attractive character we knew at Green Gables.

The author has a world wide following, to whom she is known as the creator of several charming girl characters—Anne of Green Gables, Emily of New Moon and Pat the heroine of Silver Bush.

The setting of most of her stories is her native province of Prince Edward Island, although she has for many years made her home in Ontario. Her books have been translated into Danish, Swedish, Dutch, Polish, French and Braille. They are popular in England, Australia and the U.S.A.

In 1935, King George V conferred upon her the decoration, Officer of the British Empire—O.B.E.

In a popular contest "My Favorite Author" held by the Family Herald and Weekly Star, the author came second to Charles Dickens in a list which included the principal writers of the present and the past.

Paul A. Harsh Heard in Excellent Address Here

In a lecture entitled "Christian Science: Its Discoverer and Founder," Paul A. Harsh of Toledo, Ohio, declared that Christian Science is the full and final revelation of divine Principle, God; what He is and how He may be understood; that it is the present-day Saviour of mankind; that it is Christianity itself scientifically applied to human needs. Mr. Harsh spoke at Victoria Hall Monday evening.

During the course of his lecture, Mr. Harsh told of the ceaseless search for light throughout the ages, that the first recorded act of creative Mind, God, was the introduction of light—Let there be light! He pointed out that spiritually-minded men, Abraham, Jacob, Moses, and others, caught glimpses of this light, but that it remained for Jesus the great Master to reveal it in its fullness. He affirmed that this light, was to all practical purposes, lost to the comprehension of men after the resurrection and ascension of Jesus.

Mary Baker Eddy, he declared, regained or rediscovered this light after many years of vain seeking through long-tried human avenues for peace, health, and spiritual understanding. She spent years in testing and proving her discovery, he went on to say, and as the true meaning of light became clearer to her, she realized its import to others, and to pass on this light, this revealing truth which had come to her, became her all-absorbing lifework. Accumulating proofs convinced her, Mr. Harsh declared, that the method she was employing was the method of the Master Christian; that it was divine because it had no human mode or process in it.

The Bible became her constant companion, the lecturer related, and as her understanding of God as infinite good enlarged, she gave to humanity her revelation in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

Mr. Harsh made clear to his listeners the meaning of prayer in Christian Science, which, he said, consists of deep, persistent, earnest affirmations of God's allness, His goodness, His loving care of His children. He said that prayer in Christian Science may be effectively employed to bring into human experience those things which Jesus declared would be added to all those who sought first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness.

In speaking of the establishment of her church, Mr. Harsh who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., pointed out that Mrs. Eddy wrote that "it is designed to be built on the Rock, Christ, even the understanding and demonstration of divine Truth, Life and Love, healing and saving the world from sin and death; thus to reflect in some degree the Church Universal and Triumphant." In forming the entire Christian Science Movement, Mr. Harsh declared, Mrs. Eddy knew that because it was a divine idea, she could rely on its divine source, God, to protect it, advance it, establish it in human consciousness.

THEATRICAL
ATTRACTIONSDaughters Courageous Is Playing At Monkland

Does it make any difference to an innately bashful young film hero what girl they select to play opposite him?

"You're darned tootin'!" cries Jeffrey Lynn, with fervor.

Jeffrey had come out of one of those warm young love scenes in "Daughters Courageous," the Warner Bros. comedy now playing at the Monkland United Theatre. He thrust a finger into his collar and loosened it around his throat. He patted the make-up carefully on his flushed brow.

"Hey," said the make-up man, unfeelingly, "your lips are all messed up with Priscilla's war paint. And that make-up on your coat lapel—let's brush it off."

Jeffrey shrugged.

"Matter-of-fact stuff, this picture making," he muttered.

Make-up adjusted, he settled back in a canvas chair, drank a glass of ice water.

"Ah that's better!" he said, after a long draft.

Priscilla Lane, who had shared the love scenes with him, didn't join the group. She looked a little abashed — glanced toward her chair, and then decided on her dressing room, which was beside the set.

"Priscilla," chuckled a hair-dresser, "looks flustered. Nearly as flustered as you Jeff!"

The film folk around, veterans of a far greater number of make-believe love scenes of various temperatures than either of the young lovers in this picture, laughed.

"You'll get over it, Jeff," said an electrician. "You'll learn to drop the gal when the director says 'Cut,' and come off the set all hot and bothered to find out what horse won the sixth race."

"I wonder!" was Lynn's reply. "Anyway it's lucky I'm in this one with Priscilla. Our being together in 'Four Daughters' and in 'Yes, My Darling Daughter,' makes it seem more natural for us to be sweethearts in this one."

Fay Bainter, Gale Page and May Robson laughed. Claude Rains and Donald Crisp smiled indulgently.

"You know, my boy," Rains said to Lynn, "I've been in a great many love scenes, here and in England, but I've never quite reached the stage where I'm thinking about race horses the instant the scene is over."

Battle Of Music
Will Continue At The Auditorium

The intense enthusiasm aroused in the dancing public by the "Battle of Music" series now being staged at the Auditorium Ballroom by a number of the city's outstanding orchestras to determine the right to the title of "Montreal's Most Popular Dance Band" is attested by the fact that on Saturday evening last some hundreds of would-be patrons had to be turned away. The management, owing to the unanticipated demand, were, they frankly admit, caught napping, so far as checking facilities were concerned, and had some trouble in handling the crowds.

However, the various staffs have been greatly increased, and no difficulty in this direction is looked for in the future. Results of the contests are by popular vote, and last Saturday's decision went to Irving Laing and his merry men by 555 as against 244 for Maurice Meerte, many of the dancers being too busily engaged to take time out to fill in the ballots. The coming Saturday will see Irving Laing pitted against Len Howard. Both are leaders of ten-man organizations of a high order, and will undoubtedly provide enjoyable medleys. If one is to judge by last week's showing, however, it would seem to be the part of wisdom to "come early and avoid the rush."

A telegram received by Basil Rathbone on the set of Universal's "Tower of London" brought word that his son, Rodion, has apparently been successful in enlisting with the Royal Engineering Corps at Toronto, Canada.

The 22-year-old recruit left three weeks ago to enlist after completing his second film role, in "Tower of London," in which his father is starred.

THE CASE FOR LOVE

Lovely, red-headed Susan Hayward finds it hard to resist Joseph Allen, Jr. when he presents his plea for her love in the new Paramount drama, "Our Leading Citizen," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday. The picture stars Bob Burns in his grandest role as a lawyer-philosopher who, among other things, straightens out the romantic difficulties of Miss Hayward and Allen.

"THE OLD MAID"

Miriam Hopkins and Bette Davis in a scene from the film "The Old Maid" which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Saturday.

ROMANTIC COMEDY!

Ginger Rogers and David Niven in a scene from the film "Bachelor Mother" which opens Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre for a three day engagement.

Lady Tweedsmuir Will Be
Adjudicator At Festival

Her Excellency The Lady Tweedsmuir, herself author of several successful books on various subjects, has graciously consented to act as adjudicator for the Finals of the English literary works entries in the forthcoming Quebec Musical Competition Festival, according to an announcement made by Miss D. Shearwood-Stubington, secretary of the Festival here.

Entries in the literary and speech classes comprise original literary works (poems, essays, short stories, plays) dramatic and choric recitals, original speeches, sight reading—for children and also for adults.

Entries accompanied by original, unpublished literary compositions will be acceptable until Jan. 5, 1940; each entry must be accompanied by a copy of the work. For school children's entries, preliminary adjudication will take place in the schools. The choice and number of works sent in from each school will be left to the discretion of the Principal and Staff of the school.

The preliminary adjudicators will make a written comment on the works sent to them by the committee, and the comment will be sent to the competitors concerned. Results of the competitions will be announced at one of the sessions of the Festival; if practicable, arrangements may be made to have the work of some of the successful competitors read or played during the Festival.

M. Maurice Genevoix of Paris

Conway sent an assistant after the actress to stop the game and to forbid her playing baseball for the duration of the picture.

"If she had missed and that ball had hit her in the face it would have been the end of 'Lady of the Tropics,'" he declared.

FINE PROGRAM

Reginald Stewart Opens
Nine O'Clock's With Splendid Recital

By Frances Goltman

Last Monday evening that eminent pianist, Reginald Stewart, inaugurated the first of Nine O'Clock Series to an enthusiastic audience in the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Mr. Stewart is no stranger to Montrealers as he is the well-known conductor of the Toronto Promenade Concerts and is a thorough musician with true artistry.

Presenting a varied program, Mr. Stewart began with Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D Minor followed by two famous Choral Preludes. Being a Bach exponent his rendering of these numbers displayed excellent technical powers. Sonata in G Major in delicate and fine tone. Then came Mozart's contrast.

Schumann's Toccata is not often performed, perhaps because of its study-like phrases but Mr. Stewart made the most of it. Four Chopin works followed and the audience was highly pleased with the beautiful nuances. The seldom-heard Staccato Etude by Rubinstein followed.

The last group was completely modern with the exception of Bizet's popular Minuet Le Petit Ane Blanc by Ibert is an odd little tid-bit but quite fascinating and Ravel's Jeux D'Eau was superbly played. For those who like noisy modern music, Gopak by Moussorgsky may have completely satisfied their preference and the program ended with a Scherzo-Valse by Chabrier. Of course Mr. Stewart had to add encores. Liebestraume by Litz and an unusual arrangement of the Rakoczy March and the audience was very demonstrative in its appreciation.

Fine Response

Receipts from the Tag Day conducted for war service by the Salvation Army last week were $4,438.00, the highest figure for any tag day for 10 years. According to a communication from the Divisional Commander, Gilbert Best, the effort was "an unequalled success."

"Business as usual during alterations," reads a sign of a London Eng. store.

Hedy Unable To Play Ball; Studio
Won't Risk It

Hedy Lamarr's beautiful face is such an asset to M-G-M that she is confronted by several recreational taboos because of it.

The first ban handed to Miss Lamarr was that she must not play baseball during the filming of "Lady of the Tropics," the new picture in which she is co-starred with Robert Taylor now showing at the Westmount United Theatre.

On the first day of the production Miss Lamarr, in an exotic, flowing Adrian gown, watched several members of the company as they played baseball adjoining the Saigon street set.

Then she entered the game, running bases and stabbing at Texas leaguers. Director Jack Conway happened to look up, saw Miss Lamarr catch a "hot one" with her hands cupped in front of her face, and groaned.

ENTIRE PROCEEDS TO
THE CANADIAN RED CROSS FUND!Kiddie's Morning Show at Snowdon
Armistice Day; in Aid of Red Cross

Miss Mary Beetles, principal of the Mary Beetles School of Dancing, announces that all is in readiness for the children's performance to be held next Saturday morning — "Remembrance Day" at the Snowdon Theatre; the entire proceeds to be given to the Red Cross fund.

A program of dances, readings and music has been arranged, honoring the spirit of service that the Red Cross typifies throughout the Empire. Margaret Robertson and George Erskine-Jones have created and will appear in a number specially attuned to the spirit of Remembrance Day this year, entitled "Recessional — Lest We Be Forgetting." Jeanne Rodier will also be seen in this number together with the senior group. It is dedicated to the soldiers of all time and to those who stand behind the battle-lines of the nation — the mothers, wives and children. Miss Mina Webster will sing the refrain and the accompaniment will be played by Miss Suzanne Hopkins and percussion instruments by Miss Mary Beetles.

The second part of the program will feature several pupils of Miss Vera Hudspeth, instructor of the Drama Department, in recitations and monologues. Among them will be Master Bryant Gunhouse, who, it will be remembered, completely captivated the audience at the Bonfire Theatre program presented by Miss Hudspeth at the N.D.G. Y.M.C.A. last summer. A variety of dances including ballet, tap and acrobatic numbers will conclude an enjoyable morning's entertainment. The school's pianist, Miss Suzanne Hopkins will provide the accompaniments. The program will commence promptly at 10:30 o'clock.

Journalist Will Address Men's Canadian Club

An address of more than usual interest will be given at the Young Men's Canadian Club Monday evening, November 13, in the Queen's Hotel, when Willson Woodside, outstanding Canadian journalist will speak on "A Survey of Europe."

Mr. Woodside, who was born at Portage la Prairie, and was of the staff of Toronto University for a number of years, has made annual visits to Europe since 1930, visiting principally Germany and Russia. This summer his travels took him to all the countries that are now in the war news, so that he is in a position to speak with authority.

Mr. Woodside is probably best known for his articles in Saturday Night, MacLean's and Harper's Magazine.

FOOTBALL SEASON COMES TO END; HOCKEY TO FORE

WESTMOUNTS ONLY TEAM THAT WILL CONTINUE GRID WARS; M'GILL FINISHES SCHEDULE

Redmen Engage Toronto Varsity at Toronto — Hope to Get Out of Cellar Position — Clary Foran's Westies Tackle Peterborough Here — Assured of Play-off Berth — Loss of Jimmy Riddell Will Weaken Team

King Football's lease expires on most gridirons this week-end as the 1939 schedules see the sixth week of campaigning spell finish for all but playoff winners. Coach Clary Foran's Westies will be the only local entry that will not hang up its cleats till next year when Saturday eve rolls around. For win or lose against Peterborough this Saturday the Westies, now tied with Balmy Beach for first place, are assured of a playoff berth in the Ontario Union. While the Foran Legion clashes with the winless Orfuns from Peterborough at Westmount Athletic Grounds, Montreal's Big Four Royals will be winding up their inauspicious season at Molson Stadium against the champion Argos. McGill who made their final local appearance last week bow out of the rugby parade at Toronto in a struggle to break the deadlock for cellar position with Varsity.

Carrying the prestige of being unbeaten always weighs heavy on the team possessing this distinction. Now that Westmount has tasted defeat for the first time this season they can turn their full attention on ways and means of taking their league play-off and upsetting the Big Four winners when the time comes.

On Saturday their opponents will be a young and fearless squad from Peterborough who have yet to break in the win column this season and are known to delight in upsetting stronger teams in the late stages of the season. Witness their sole victory last year was gained at the expense of the champion Sarnia Imps. While not watching the progress of the game on the grid below, spectators in the Westmount A.C. Stadium will be scanning the scoreboard to get the results of the Sarnia - Balmy Beach encounter. For the winner of that game will be Westmount's opponent in the coming play-offs.

Lose Riddell

Loss of the services of their stylish signal-caller, Jimmy Riddell, who was injured at Toronto last week, will rob Westmount of one of their key men. It is hoped that he will only be kept on the sidelines for this week's game and will be in action when the

He leaps through the air — that American football player at left — in a mighty effort to down his dark-shirted foe. He failed — but the only penalty for his failure is bruises for him and a short gain for his opponents. In the picture at right, a youth about his own age leaps through the air to down HIS foe.

FINNS HAVE A FINE RECORD IN TRACK WORK

It must have seemed incredible to Americans how three Finns managed to run under the world two miles record in a single race. The fact is, however, that Finns like company. When one Finn starts smashing records, or making a collection of Olympic medals, other Finns like to join in the fun.

When Hannes Kolehmainen, 'way back in pre-war days, expressed his scorn for the pronouncements of medical men regarding the limits of human speed and endurance, and bewildered track fans and sports writers into imagining he actually flew, he had his brothers Tatu and Viljam help him identify the Finns with the winged species.

When Paavo Nurmi made the world gasp at his record-breaking orgies, he had Ville Ritola pay him company. The next great Flying Finn, Lauri Lehtinen, shared the fun with Volmari Iso-Hollo. Gunnar Hockert wasn't particular; just so long as it was a fellow countryman, he'd do.

Umar Salminen brought along his pal Asko. Now Taisto Maki has Kauko Pekuri in tow — with Veikko Tuominen, an upstart from nowhere, wolfing into the honors, as he did in the greatest two miles ever run, by beating out Pekuri for second place.

The Finns go about smashing their records systematically. Each fellow in the conspiracy takes his turn setting the pace for a lap or so, and lets his pals loaf in the wake for the nonce. Each runner co-operates according to carefully laid out plans.

There is no jockeying, no sudden sprinting for advantage, no elbowing, no boxing-in. Only the final lap is reserved for a free-for-all. Then it's every man for himself. By then the record has been doomed, and the competitor with the most steam left becomes the winner and gets his name in the books, although one or more of his fellows crosses the finish line in better time than the old mark.

When Taisto Maki recently ran the two miles in 8:33.2, and Veikko Tuominen in 8:33.5, and Kauko Pekuri in 8:34.8, all in the same race, it was simply in the spirit of an old Finnish custom.

France bought 129 American aircraft engines in August.

RAIN or SNAINE IN SPORT

Out with the old, in with the new. Off with the cleats, on with the skates. This week-end will mark the swing in most of sport attention from gridirons to hockey rinks as ice schedules take on where rugby dates leave off. For those who relish a full bill of fare for their week-end menu Montreal offers a wide choice. After having attended either the Westmount - Peterborough game at the Westmount Stadium or the Royals-Argos match at Molson Stadium, sport enthusiasts can see the second local puck parade in the National Hockey League when the Canadiens hunt for another victory when they match strides with Red Dutton's Americans. Having gotten the taste of hockey in their system, there will be no keeping them away from the Forum Sunday afternoon to witness the first Sabbath double-header in the Senior Group.

Having gotten away to a flying start last night the Senior Group stands good to justify its boast of supplying the fastest amateur hockey. Royals seem to be even stronger than last year and are being picked to retain their Eastern title. Having Russ McConnell, leading scorer in the Intercollegiate League last season, Ronnie Perowne, stocky and tricky winger, and burly Andy Anton, a rugged defenceman, three graduates from McGill's hockey ranks, on their roster, is not going to harm the chances of Frank Carlie's Royals in the least. Montreal's other two entries in this league, Verdun and Concordia, will make the three out-of-town teams hostile if they intend to make play-berths when the end of the trail is reached.

Last Saturday Westmount looked like an accident trying to find a place to happen. Balmy Beach were very obliging and helped the Foran Legion get a very bad performance out of their system. The 23-1 trouncing which Westmount received at Toronto should serve as a good stimulant to put the Westmount grid machine into full gear for the pay-off games which loom on the horizon. If and when they come up against Balmy Beach this season the Westies should have adequate respect and special attention for a bright half, Thompson, and sticky fingers that won't throw away touch-down pigskins to reverse the score. Coach Ted Reeve will probably be making his last appearance as a local football mentor when the winless Royals entertain the galloping red-haired menace of the rugby range, Red Storey, and his mates, the Toronto Argonauts. McGill having relinquished its newly won title to either Western or Queens, will try to elude the league cellar at the expense of Varsity. The Redmen have shown great improvement since falling prey to Warren Steven's Blue Boys earlier in the season while the latter have been unable to produce another winning game.

Immediately after the final whistle is sounded Saturday there will be loud clamouring over All-Star selections. Since the range of this correspondent have been very limited this season it would be futile to try to pick an all-Eastern All-Star squad. Instead he will devote his efforts to try and weed from Montreal's three Senior All-Montreal Star team. Any suggestions from readers of this column (both of you) will be appreciated and considered in making this difficult choice.

Seeing as the past week's selection have mostly gone on the rocks, an entirely new method will be tried in this final week of campaigning. The winners will be chosen in alphabetical priority. Here goes nothing.

O.R.F.U. Balmy Beach will nose out Sarnia. Peterborough will upset Westmount.

College McGill will beat Varsity. Queen's will take Western.

Big Four Argos will beat Royals. Hamilton will surprise Ottawa.

CARDS LOOM AS FLAG WINNERS NEXT YEAR

For almost a decade now a league of one-year champions—the 1936-37 Giants were the only exceptions—the National League is already looking toward 1940 with the idea that the Cincinnati Reds will be supplanted. Their total collapse against the Yankees should be a powerful stimulant to Cardinal aspirations.

The opinion was rather general that the Cards were the league's strongest outfit at the close of the past campaign. They failed to decide that at Cincinnati, but overhaul the Reds in the season's from mid-July to October, they won ten more games than the Rhinelanders.

These are statistics that must be considered in a league that is generally so evenly balanced. Cincinnati, for instance, caught the eye in the closing weeks of 1938 as the team on the way up. That promise was fulfilled this year.

Heavy Hitters

The Cards are what is unquestionably the most authoritative batting team in the circuit. Johnny Mize, Joe Medwick, and Don Padgett finished among the league's first five, and the developing Enos Slaughter, and Terry Moore rounded out an all 300 hitting outfield. As a team they combine speed with power, and can be guaranteed to be run-makers.

That they didn't win this year can be traced to early season pitching shortcomings. Ray Blades had to remake his staff while the season was in progress. Except for Curt Davis, the supposed veteran standbys couldn't qualify as consistent winners, and as a campaign went along, Blades had to replace them with a group of first-year men.

Three of these caught the eye as exceptional prospects — Bob Bowman, Mort Cooper and the left-handed Max Lanier—and the experience they obtained through the past summer should be decidedly beneficial next year. Blades confidently expects at least one of them to develop into a 20-game winner.

Cooper Most Promising Of the three Cooper has the strongest natural equipment. He's tremendously fast and his curve is one of the league's sharpest. Unhappily he is a rather frail youngster, and arduous regular work may impair his strength.

The left handed Lanier also throws a tremendous fast ball, and Blades is probably counting most strongly on him. Top notch left handers are few in the National League, and in a league where most of the batting power is left handed, a developing Lanier would enjoy a tremendous advantage.

Confronting the Cards is seemingly the same test they couldn't quite meet this year. Cincinnati still has Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer, and to beat them will be the task. The rest of the Red-

Frank Carideo Is Still An Ace At Booting

Frank Carideo can still kick 'em out of bounds in the coffin corner.

Back in 1930 when he was known as the "playing coach" under the late Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, Carideo was one of football's greatest kickers. He still is.

Now a backfield coach at the University of Iowa he goes through punting drills with the Hawkeye kickers. He consistently punts 60 yards and they go where he wants them.

Punting drill over he turns his attention to the passers. It's the same old Carideo. He can pass with any of his pupils, including Nile Kinnick, one of the Big Ten's best.

land team is scarcely formidable, and except for Lonnie Frey and Frank McCormick it is unlikely any of the regulars will improve. The Redland picket patrol is a distinct problem, and until McKechnie lands a couple of outfield walkers, the Cards' batting advantage will be pronounced.
