CONFERENCE DISCUSSED GENERAL ELECTIONS IN SOUTH IRELAND

Majority Of Those Who Signed Irish Peace Treaty Met Again In London On Saturday—In Session Four Hour And A Half—Churchill To Make Statement In House Today

London, May 28.—A majority of those who signed the Irish Peace Treaty met again around the table in the Prime Minister's official residence in Downing street last night to consider the present position of the Irish toward that agreement. The British representatives were Premier Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Winston Churchill and Sir Hamar Greenwood.

The Irish representatives were Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins, Eamon J. Duggan, William T. Cosgrave, Diarmuid O'Hegarty, Secretary of the Dail Eireann, and Hugh Kennedy, legal adviser of the Provisional Government.

Only a few curious persons gathered in the street, and no public interest was displayed. The conference was held at six o'clock in the evening and lasted for an hour and a half when it was adjourned until Monday morning.

A brief official statement was issued, which merely said that the business considered had to do with arrangements for the general election in South Ireland in June.

After the meeting the Irish delegates went quickly to their hotels; they informed the reporters that it had been agreed to give no information to the press. It appeared evident that the conference was taking no chances of any misunderstanding over the proceedings as four stenographers were present. It is believed Mr. Churchill will make a statement in the House of Commons on Monday on the Irish situation.

The Prime Minister left last night to spend Sunday in the country.

Murder Pure and Simple.

Dublin, May 28.—There is no intention on the part of the Republican forces to evacuate the Four Courts building which was occupied some time ago, it was said yesterday at the Republican general headquarters here.

The armed guards are being withdrawn from the Kildare street club and from Orange Hall in that land square and the buildings will be used to house refugees.

It is expected that Masonic headquarters also seized will be turned back to its owners Monday, but the resident faction of the army is not expected to leave the Four Courts building for some time.

The agreement between Michael Collins and Eamon de Valera, it is prescribed that the Minister of Defence shall represent the Army. No agreement has yet been reached as to whether the united army would be subject to the civil authority of the Dail Eireann but it is admitted it would not be subject to the Provisional Government.

The British have handed over to the Provisional Government all the main Irish barracks, much military equipment and army cars.

The shooting of two British soldiers in Dublin yesterday is regarded as having brought about a serious situation as the men belonged to the Army Service Corps. No political motive is ascribed for the shooting, and it was done by any section of the Republicans it is declared it will be a breach of truce of July with General Macready, Commander of the British troops in Ireland.

Regular and irregular army men are co-operating in an endeavor to bring about the arrest of the perpetrators of the deed.

Rory O'Connor, one of the leaders of the irregular army, said tonight: "It was murder, pure and simple. We cannot find words strong enough to condemn it. We hope the citizens will help track the murderers. If they are found, they will be suitably punished."

The two sections of the Irish Republican Army will be brought together in the near future, it is asserted today on what are considered good grounds. The negotiations which have been proceeding for a considerable time are reported to have reached a definite conclusion.

An announcement of peace between the army factions is expected at the meeting of the Dail Eireann Wednesday.

Sergeant Leech of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot dead in Brunswick street this evening while walking with a woman friend. The murdered escaped.

James Greer, a former sergeant in the Royal Irish Constabulary, was taken from his house in Coote Hill, County Roscommon, yesterday and shot dead in the road. His son, who was a demobilized Black and Tan, was mortally wounded.

The attack on young Greer took place in the house, he having received a truce on the Louth-Armagh border to leave it. He received eleven wounds.

The Provisional Government announces that in accordance with Article 17 of the treaty signed in London in 1921 and the schedule of the Irish Free State agreement Act of 1922 it has been decided to summon parliament to meet in Dublin July 1.

Louth-Armagh Truce.

Belfast, May 28.—Unofficial reports were received here today that a truce on the Louth-Armagh border was reached at both Newry and Dundalk this morning.

The Ulster special constables used carrier pigeons during the fighting at South Armagh yesterday to summon assistance. No further casualties were reported today but it was stated that the bodies of civilians were lying in the vicinity where the fighting took place.

A man named McCabe was taken to the hospital at Newry this morning, suffering from a bullet wound in his head. His horse was killed under him. The man is said to be the same person who was court-martialed a year ago by the Irish Republican Army at Castle Blaney.

He was charged with being a spy and sentenced to death. After conviction he was taken along a road and shot and left for dead. He recovered and later was awarded £4,000 by the Castle Blaney Quarter Sessions as compensation for his injuries.

Dundalk is crowded with people from the border districts. Some of them unable to secure sleeping accommodations, walked the streets of the town all night Saturday. Gunboats are lying at Carlingford, in Dundalk Bay.

An unidentified man was wounded yesterday in the Falls district. A pedestrian who went to his assistance was shot through the head.

Incendiary again played an important part in the week-end proceeding in Belfast and there was considerable looting. Seven business houses were destroyed, four of them today, principally the properties of Protestant firms in Catholic areas.

These included a paper warehouse in Kent street, in the heart of the city, a linen factory, a cloth factory, a cabinet factory, an oil warehouse and a paper making plant. The damage amounted to thousands of pounds.

One block in Talbot street was almost completely destroyed. A bomb thrown into a house in Shaftesbury Avenue wounded a man and his wife and baby. The Irish Republican Army commandeered the residence of Judge Cooke, of the Donegal County Court at Fahan on Lough Swilly. Several other loyalist residents of the districts were evicted. A school master's house at Buncrana, Donegal, was burned last night by masked men, who ordered the family to leave.

Moss in Jury Room.

Omagh, Ireland, May 28.—For the first time in the history of the building, Moss was celebrated in the Grand Jury room of the Omagh Court house this morning for the Sinn Féiners arrested in last week's raid. All the prisoners, who are confined at special headquarters, were marched to the city hall to participate.

ROUND-WORLD FLIGHT HELD UP

Major Blake Compelled To Make Forced Landing Outside Marseilles

Marseilles, May 28.—Major W. T. Blake was compelled to make a forced landing at Borely Park, just outside Marseilles this evening, while on a flight from Lyons to Turin, Italy, in the continuation of his attempt to fly around the world.

The machine struck on rough ground, damaging the running gear and smashing the propeller. It is being towed to the aerodrome Aviation field for repairs, and the flight probably will be delayed for several days. Neither Major Blake, nor his companions were injured.

Off For Turin

Lyons, France, May 28.—The British round-the-world fliers, headed by Major W. T. Blake, left here for Turin at 10:45 o'clock this morning. They may proceed on to Rome this evening if weather conditions permit.

GERMANS ACCEPT RE REPARATIONS

Commission's Demands To Be Agreed To On Condition Loan Granted

The hope of a settlement of the Reparations crisis without the necessity of action by the Allies together or by France separately raised by the auspicious opening of the bankers' conference diminished yesterday on receipt of news from Berlin indicating that, though a German Cabinet crisis has been avoided, agreement is not complete on the understanding between Finance Minister Hoesly and the Reparations Commission.

The optimism of the past few days is not shared in official circles here and the impression still prevails that the Germans will do only what is necessary and prolong the negotiations. The climax will come only after the deliberations of the Reparations Commission, which, in case of final default by Germany, will probably require a fortnight or longer, until just about the time of Premier Poincaré's visit to London for the Verdun commemoration.

This trip was arranged some time ago without reference to politics but it is regarded as unlikely that the French Premier will return from London without seeing Mr. Lloyd George and exchanging views on the situation.

Diplomatic negotiations between the Allies, whether opened in this way or otherwise, would take several weeks so that action if any, probably would be deferred until some time in July.

Conditional Acceptance

Berlin, May 28.—The Tageblatt says the note to be handed to the Reparations Commission tomorrow by Germany will indicate acceptance of the Commission's demands on the express condition that acceptance shall be followed by an international loan on tolerable conditions.

To-morrow's debate in the Reichstag, the Vossische Zeitung declares, will be devoted almost exclusively to the Geneva Conference. It adds that Chancellor Wirth and the party leaders have decided that it still would be premature to discuss publicly a solution of the Reparations questions.

The Pan-German press today sharply attacks the Government's Reparations policy but says it would appear that there will be an adequate majority in its favor in the Reichstag.

SACRIFICE CROSS WAS HANDED OVER

A Protestant and Catholic clergy had blessed the cross, the Belgian Minister of Justice in a stirring speech glorified the soldiers who came from all corners of the world to help Belgium in the Great War. Hands played Allied Anthem and numerous wreaths were laid on the monument.

READJUSTMENT IN WAGES OF 400,000 RAIL EMPLOYEES

Decision By United States Railroad Board—Effective July First

SAVE MANY MILLIONS Expected To Reduce Present Payrolls In America $48,000,000 Per Year

Chicago, May 28.—Readjustment of the wages of approximately 400,000 maintenance of way employees of the railroads of the country, effective July 1, in accordance with decreases in the cost of living and wages in similar outside employment since the decision of the board last July, was provided for in a decision by the United States Railroad Labor Board and made public tonight.

The decision is expected to reduce present pay rolls of the railroads about $48,000,000 per year and to reduce the pay of the majority of the maintenance of way men five cents per hour, but important classes of the employees were given a smaller cut. Under the majority head were included track laborers and other classes usually designated as "common laborers."

The decision was signed by the three railroad members of the Board and the three members representing the public group.

A dissenting opinion was filed by the three members representing the labor group. The dissenting opinion contended that the wage scale provided in the decision was insufficient to sustain life on the basis of American standards.

The Board's decision followed the hearings held on the request of the railroads, for wage reductions and the counter request of several classes of employees for increases in pay. These hearings began in Chicago March 6 and ended April 28. All except three of four classes of the larger railway systems of the United States were affected by the hearing which included all classes of employees except those in train, yard and engine service who were then conducting negotiations with the railroads which had not terminated when the hearings began.

In announcing a separate decision for maintenance of way employees in advance of its decision as to the other classes, the Board complied with a request made by the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and the Railroad Shop Laborers which asked that its case be given precedence and decided as speedily as possible.

The classes not embraced in the decision number from thirty to thirty-five percent of the whole railway employees. In the decision, the Board called attention to the fact that the present adjustment was based on previous wage adjustments, the first of which, on July 20, 1920, increased the wages of all classes of employees approximately $600,000,000 a year and, under the decision of July 1, 1921, which slashed about $400,000,000 from the wages of some two million employees in all parts of the country. These decisions were based on horizontal increases or decreases of the scales prevailing prior to Federal control of the roads, all of which were different for different divisions of the same road.

Thus, it was said, the minimum rates authorized in the present decision will apply only on a very few divisions of a few roads in small groups of states, principally the South and Southwest.

All of the former differences were continued in the present decision, it being stated that the wages of this class of employees had not been standardized and uniform throughout the country and will not be made so under the decision. The wages of track laborers at present rates range from 28 to 40 cents an hour.

Under the decision they will range from 23 to 35 cents an hour. The decision asserted that under the new scale, common labor on the roads will still be receiving a rate higher than that paid similar labor in most other industries.

In a statistical table based on the figures on wages and the cost of living by the Department of Labor, which is incorporated in the decision, the Board declared that while the cost of living in March 21 (last available Government figures) was approximately 17.2 percent over that of December 1917, the hourly rate of pay for maintenance of way employees under the present decision will be 69.9 percent above the hourly rates of December, 1917, and the purchasing power of the wages of employees affected by the present decision will be 64.5 over the purchasing power of their wages in 1917.

MUCH DAMAGE IN FIRE ON BORDEAUX PIER

Bordeaux, France, May 28.—Fire broke out this morning on one of the piers in the harbor and spread quickly to various other structures. A high wind was blowing at the time. Thousands of barrels and hogheads of wine on one of the wharves were destroyed. Although not under control early in the afternoon the losses were already computed at many million francs.

FRANCE NOT TO ABANDON ALLIES

But Won't Permit Vanquished To Become More Powerful Than Victors

Paris, May 28.—"France does not wish to abandon her allies, but she will not permit the vanquished to become more powerful than the victors," M. Clemenceau, France's war Premier, declared in an important speech delivered tonight at a banquet after the unveiling of a monument at Nantes to the teachers and students who fell in the war.

"We will not abandon our allies; on the contrary, we desire to remain united with them," Mr. Clemenceau continued.

"However, we demand a little justice in our behalf. We shall not forget the assistance which was given, nor shall we forget our duty. We ask that on their side they understand; that they do not accuse us of ulterior motives."

"They must not sacrifice the interests of others. We want to do all that is possible to make peace, but there is a limit beyond which we will not go. We did not wish the war, but we did wish peace. However, we are capable of making war. Nations are like their people. For the moment we are friendly, but unfortunately we have not ended wars."

"We seek no additions to-day, but neither do we desire a dishonorable peace. I prefer to see my country in an honorable position, even though that honor be very dearly bought."

Clemenceau asserted that the very people who are accusing France of a desire to begin war again had said in 1914 that France was not able to fight and win a war.

NO PROHIBITION FOR ANTICOSTI

Islanders Have Taken Kindly To Policy Of Beer And Light Wine

(Canadian Press)

New York, May 28.—After fourteen years' attempt at the enforcement of total prohibition on the island of Anticosti in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Governor Martin Seide told New Yorkers today that the few hundred inhabitants of this small Canadian possession have taken more kindly to a policy of light beer and wines, which he inaugurated in 1919.

The Governor returned yesterday on the steamer La France from a trip to France, where he went to negotiate the purchase of some fine light wines for his fellow islanders.

For four years before the enactment of prohibition in Canada and the United States, the Governor said he had tried to enforce a policy of total prohibition on the island, which is inhabited largely by Canadian Government light-house keepers and fishermen. Results he said, had been "only negligible." Since 1919 he has had great success with a program of light beer and wines, which is proving more effective and producing better results than the total attempt of abolition of intoxicants.

WILL ADVOCATE CLAIMS OF LABOR.

Herbert George Wells, who is regarded by many as the greatest of living English novelists, has announced that he intends to abandon fiction and devote the rest of his life to the advocacy of the claims of labor. This has given rise to some jesting among the frivolous, but it is one of the portents of the day, and his own writing and thinking, his mode of thought and his sympathies as we have known them in his work, indicate that there is something here to be noted. The writers who have been worth while have always interested themselves in social problems; consequently, they have been thinkers, and men who think are men to be listened to. Wells has made a tremendous impression upon the reading world, if not upon the world of scholarship, by his "Outline of History," and now naturally turns to it for a clue to his attitude on the problems of labor with which he is now to concern himself. The compact method by which the history of the world is compressed into 1,300 pages does not permit of any elaborate treatment of labor, but there is sufficient to show his inclinations. Wells writes from the point of view of the theory of evolution, which conceives of man having struggled up out of animal existence and gradually become more intelligent. During the 15,000 or 20,000 years in which he supposes civilization to have sprung up, the life of the common man was only affected and changed as the lives of the domestic animals were changed and as the face of the cultivated country was changed.

"In ancient Assyria the land seems to have been held as a sort of fief, and the occupier paid the taxes; in Babylonia the land was the god's, and he permitted the cultivator to work thereon. In Egypt the temples or Pharaoh-the-god or the nobles under Pharaoh were the owners and rent receivers. But the cultivator was not a slave; he was a peasant, and only bound to the land in so far as there was nothing else for him to do but cultivate and nowhere else for him to go."

On the whole, the common men were probably well content to live under the lord or king or god and obey their bidding. It was safer. It was easier. All animals—and man is no exception—begin life as dependants. Most men never shake loose from the desire for leading and protection. Out of these conditions of 10,000 years or so ago Wells notes the rise of different classes. "In modern political and economic discussions we are apt to talk rather glibly of 'labor.' Much has been said of the solidarity of labor and its sense of community. It is well to note that in these first civilizations, what we speak of as labor is represented by five distinct classes dissimilar in origin, traditions, and outlook." These are the tillers of the soil, the artisan class, the herdsmen, the domestic servants or freed slaves, and the gang workers, prisoners of war or debt slaves, or impressed or deported men and the oar-tugging class of the seamen. "The solidarity of labor" is, we shall find when we come to study the mechanical revolution of the nineteenth century A.D., a new idea and a new possibility in human affairs."

In the oldest surviving civilization we have, that of China, the subdivision of the land, the drift to the cities, and the growth of gang labor under government are what strike Wells as the feature of labor development. From China to Britain we pass by a leap in the second volume along with the Black Death of 1348, when between a quarter and a half of the whole of the population of England died. The whole organization of labor was thrown out of gear. The scarcity of hands made it difficult for the minor tenants to perform the services due for their lands, and only a temporary abandonment of half the rent by the land-owners induced the farmers to refrain from the abandonment of their farms. It was from these distresses that the peasant wars of the fourteenth century sprang. The nobles and rich merchants were too ignorant of economic laws to understand that they must not press upon the toilers in this time of general distress. It was in the preaching of John Ball that England first listened to a declaration of natural equality and the rights of man. "Good people," he cried, "things will never go well in England so long as goods be not in common, and so long as there be villains and gentlemen." A note in the "Outline" says, "The seeds of conflict which grew up into the peasants' revolt of 1381 were sown upon ground which is strangely familiar to any writer in 1920. A European catastrophe had reduced production and consequently increased the earnings of the workers and traders."

These upheavals of the common laboring man in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries were the most serious that had yet occurred, and show a new spirit growing in human affairs. All the early revolts had been stamped out with much cruelty, but the movement itself was never stamped out. "From that time to this there has been a spirit of revolt in the lower levels of the pyramid of civilization. The Socialist movement of the nineteenth century was only one version of that continuing revolt. There can be little doubt that this steady and, on the whole, growing pressure of the common man in the West against a life of toil and subservience is closely associated with Christian teaching. The church and the Christian missionary may not have intended to spread egalitarian doctrines, but behind the church was the unquenchable personality of Jesus of Nazareth, and even in spite of himself the Christian preacher brought the seeds of freedom and responsibility with him, and sooner or later they shot up where he had been." Wells discusses the beginning of the Socialist movement in the nineteenth century under Robert Owen at some length, and emphasizes his services in freeing labor from many grievances, and for the release of little children, of nine and under, from factory labor. This was not a worker's movement, but a master's movement, he notes. In 1824 came the right to "collective bargaining," and then Marx with his "class-consciousness" entered the field. But Marx "failed to grasp the fact that labor everywhere has a common interest in the peace of the world." Still, Marx has carried the day against Owen, and Wells disposes briefly of "the undemocratic idea of the Russian leader Lenin." In a note on Professor Soddy's interesting paper on the Communism of Science, Wells gives us what may be the key to his own views. "A communism sustained by a community of will based on education—an extension, that is, of the communism of scientific research to human affairs generally—is the ideal underlying the political ideas of most intelligent modern men."

SHABUOTH OR CONFIRMATION DAY.

The Feast of Weeks, which in Hebrew is called Shabuoth, falls this year on Friday, June 2nd, and will be observed by all synagogues on that day, and in orthodox congregations on the following day as well.

Particular importance is attached to the celebration of this day by the fact that the Reform Congregations of this country set aside this festival as Confirmation Day wherein the children of the religious school who have attained sufficient knowledge of Jewish History, Religion and Biblical Literature are graduated or confirmed.

This confirmation ceremony possesses a certain religious character since it aims to impress the graduates of the school with a sense of obligation towards their religious heritage. Of their own accord, however, they express their convictions and pledge themselves to uphold with loyalty and devotion the covenant of justice and humanity which they received from their fathers.

Originally the Feast of Weeks was the occasion for one of the three pilgrimages undertaken by the inhabitants of ancient Palestine to the Temple at Jerusalem, where they flocked together to sing the praises of the Lord. In those days the ceremonial consisted in the offering of the first fruits and grains of the field, in thanksgiving for the new crop that was being harvested. (Deut. XVI:10).

This feast of the first fruits, like the other pilgrim festivals, was gradually transformed by the rabbis and invested with a more spiritual intent; particularly after the Jewish people began to link historical events with those institutions and festivals that were transmitted from remote ancestry. In the case of the Feast of Weeks the giving of the Decalogue was associated with it, thus investing it with an historical association.

By this coupling of the giving of the law with the Feast of Weeks, the Jews developed the consciousness of their appointment as a priest-people at the altar of humanity. The purpose of this consecration is a dedication of the Jewish people to the service of the Lord. Teaching this law of love by word and example, and striving to bring about the glorious era when all humanity shall be united to do honor to God as the universal Father of man, is the announcement of Shabuoth.

It was by means of this symbolism of the consecration of Israel that the Reform Congregations enriched the Feast of Weeks, by adding thereto a Confirmation Service. The children, representatives of the new spirit, were to be consecrated anew to Israel's age-long task of serving humanity. To this end Confirmation Day becomes a means of adding new recruits to the host of those battling for truth and justice.

A Verse Or Two

(By Modern Poets)

A WHISPERING GALLERY.

In the great Cathedral of St. Paul's
There is a mighty dome
Where even a whisper travels round
As if it liked to roam.
Now this strange old world of ours
A whispering gallery has become
And mysterious voices travel far
By the wonderful radio phone.

Entrancing song from artists great
The whispering breezes bring,
Coming to us from distant parts
In our ears they sweetly sing.
And messages fly around the world
Making the earth seem very small
We hear them coming through the night
And delight to listen to them all.

The world is getting now to be Like one huge neighborhood,
And that is why wars soon must cease
For the neighbors peace and good.

HABIT-FORMING DRUGS.
(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

Traffic in habit-forming drugs appears to be increasing both in those countries under prohibition and in those where liquor is to be easily obtained. The craving for narcotic drugs has little connection, or a connection not easily traced, with the taste for alcoholic beverages. Drug users are rarely drinkers. Once they acquire the drug habit they find little solace or stimulus in ordinary liquor. Heroin to whiskey is as cognate to lager. The increase in the habit may be due in part to the war, to the fact that desperately wounded and suffering men have been given drugs to ease their pain, and their pain not completely disappearing, they have acquired the habit of thus seeking ease from physical distress. In others it may be that the struggle of life under modern conditions has made them willing enough to take a drug that will bring them forgetfulness for a while and perhaps noble dreams of grandeur. In England the traffic has increased to such an extent that it has been proposed that vendors of these drugs should be punished by flogging. Imprisonment fails to cure them of their evil business and fines are even less effective. Flogging is objected to on the ground that public opinion would not tolerate the flogging of women, who thus would be given a monopoly of the business, and it is known that women are already active in it.

Moreover, flogging would not cure a drug addict, and many of the dealers in these drugs, if not the majority of them, are themselves victims of the habit. One drug addict recognizes another, and if one has a little capital he finds that by ministering to the base cravings of his associates he himself may debauch himself without expense. International action will be needed if the curse is to be abolished. As long as one nation permits the manufacture of these drugs for other than medical purposes, as long as less drastic restrictions are not thrown about the business than those that control the printing of paper currency, just so long will there be a surplus which will find its way into the hands of the dealers, and eventually will be secured by the addicts. The business is a highly profitable one. Drugs are easily smuggled. They occupy small space and sell for high prices. Everybody concerned in the trade has no object for keeping it concealed. Not more than one per cent of those who sell or use drugs is ever apprehended. The League of Nations has a commission for the purpose of controlling the sale of opium, but nations that are not members of the League—the United States, Russia and Germany—are not represented upon it, and Germany is the home of heroin. To cope with this evil is a tremendous task, and it can be done only when all nations act unanimously. The day when they will thus act will not dawn until the many political problems which appear to be more pressing have been solved, and that day seems distant.

KEEP YOUR NECK BEAUTIFUL NOW

Great Asset To Women's Good Looks—Aid In Displaying Gowns

(By Elizabeth Bohn).

What a shock it is to suddenly discover that the ravages of time and of neglect have manifested themselves in so conspicuous a way that an evening gown is no longer a joy but a dread! Most women look their best in evening attire and there is no reason its charm should ever be lost to them. Perhaps unconsciously most of us pay the tribute of keen admiration to a beautiful neck; there is surely nothing which is a greater asset to a woman's good looks. It is much easier to keep a neck beautiful in the first place than to attempt to remedy the lack of care when the havoc is wrought.

The neck which fulfills the requirement of the lover of the beautiful must be lovely in texture and tint. Its connection between the curves of the face and the line of the shoulder should be symmetrical and full of grace. In youth such a neck is usual to behold and it should be retained through the years if the owner were ambitious enough to be willing to devote some time and attention to its care.

The truly flawless neck is most readily obtained by those who do not wear high nor tight collars. Luckily Dame Fashion has been very kind for the past few years in decreeing so many collarless gowns; it is always so much easier to obey the laws of health when it is the fashion to do so. It is certainly true that if a woman would have a throat perfect in contour and texture, she must avoid the tight neck band or collar as she would a most dangerous enemy. To be beautiful the throat must have perfect circulation and freedom of movement. High collars destroy the color and texture of the skin and any one who has worn them for any length of time will show muscles which have become shrunken and skin that has become discolored and flabby. When the neck is long and high collars are a real necessity, they should be made of some transparent material so that the air may circulate freely about the throat.

Another thing that is ruinous to a beautiful neck is hot water. While it is of the utmost importance that the neck be thoroughly cleansed each day, and this through the agency of hot water and soap, the most vital thing to remember is that this warm bath should always be followed by a cold treatment. After bathing the throat or neck in warm water, very cold water, ice water preferably, should be applied for fully five minutes. This treatment tightens the skin and is absolutely essential whenever warm or hot water is used; it also imparts a brilliancy to the skin after the pores have been opened. Cold cream should be used next; the market is full of good creams and quite a few of inferior ones, so consult your beauty specialist before you purchase. Some women should use a cold cream that contains no oil, while other skins require the ingredient. Be sure to find out the need of your special type before you apply anything to your face or throat. When you have determined with cream you should use apply it generously, working it in lightly with the tips of the fingers and using a rotary massage movement. After it has remained on the skin for a few minutes remove it with a small ball of absorbent cotton. These balls of cotton will astonish you by revealing that the warm water and soap alone cannot perfectly cleanse the skin.

The woman who sees that the muscles of her throat are beginning to sag needs an astringent. Alcohol is excellent for this purpose, but in these days of prohibition is difficult to obtain. There are numerous other excellent astringents on the market which you may easily secure. Besides using an astringent, a cotton bandage is often advised for preventing sagging muscles. This bandage should be about two inches in width and should be tied at the top of the head. It should, of course, be worn at night and it is also helpful to apply a good skin food to the chin before putting on the bandage.

The objectionable double-chin can easily be remedied by persistent exercises and massage. A simple exercise that will disperse the surplus fatty tissue is to put the head as far back as it will go and while in this position go through what might be called the "chewing motion." This is done by opening the mouth widely and putting the chin up in the air as far as it will go with each chew. "Chew" in this manner at least 10 times before retiring each night and continue it systematically for at least a month and the unsightly double chin will begin to disappear.

Many women who have taken on weight rapidly find that the flesh has collected at the back of the neck and between the shoulders. Much of this fatty tissue can be scattered by placing the tips of the fingers on the points of the shoulders and making the shoulders move in a circular motion. Start this exercise with the shoulders down—draw them back—draw them forward and up and continue it 10 or 12 times.

Another exercise that will keep the throat graceful is to lie flat on a couch, hang the head far over the edge and then bring the head up and over until the point of the chin touches the chest; repeat about 10 times or until fatigued.

Soft dressing for the neck will help restore its beauty and when indoors collars should be loosened to give it a chance to improve. Marvelous changes can be wrought in the shape of the neck by systematic exercising and proper massage and its rejuvenated appearance will be the wonder and admiration of friends and acquaintances.

Communities Described.
Communities along the lines are described and pictured with special reference to advantages they offer for industries. Five hundred pages are devoted to the classified, indexed lists of manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers, contractors, retail merchants, grain elevators, electric light and power plants, coal operators and dealers, and agricultural producers. Stock yards, feeding stations and packing plants are noted.

Commercial and kindred business organizations, with the names of their presidents and secretaries and number of members, as well as all banking institutions located on the New York Central system, are alphabetically listed. Every railroad station of the system, with its connections, is listed alphabetically, together with up-to-date lists of railroad officers in charge at all points. Articles by experts deal with the best packing methods and avoidance of loss and damage to freight. A feature article by Charles Frederick Carter, the noted writer on railroad topics, gives in tabular form near the front of the book the extent of the physical properties, of the service rendered, and the future development and financial requirements of the New York Central system.

The books can be examined at the office of this newspaper, and requisites for copies of it may be sent direct to the Publicity Department, New York Central Lines, Grand Central Terminal, New York.

PRESBYTERIAN
DIVINES IN TOWN

Distinguished Clergy Of
The Church Of Scotland
Preached Here Yesterday

The congregations of St. Andrew's and Chalmers' churches
were privileged yesterday by visits
from the Rev. Dr. Macfarlane, of Kinrossie, and the Rev. Dr. Martin, ex-Moderator of the Church of Scotland, of Peebles, Scotland, late of Harony Church, Glasgow, who arrived in Quebec Saturday by the Metagama, en route to Winnipeg,
where they will convey the greetings of the churches in Scotland to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The pulpits of both churches were occupied at the morning and evening services respectively by the distinguished visitors.

At the evening service at St. Andrew's, the Rev. Dr. Love, pastor introduced the Rev. Dr. Martin to the congregation, and in glowing terms spoke of his great work in Scotland, mentioning that he came to this country along with the Rev.
Dr. Macfarlane as delegates to the General Assembly of the Canadian Presbyterian Church, which is to be held in Winnipeg shortly.

The Rev. Dr. Martin, before proceeding with his sermon, which was an eloquent and masterly discourse, thanked Dr. Love for his greeting,
and congratulated the church upon having such good singing and the congregation for joining in so heartily in the Church Praise, and said that he would convey to the Church in Scotland the whole-hearted measure in which the Church Praise was rendered in Canada, with the object of an example being taken from the standard set in Canada.

The Rev. Dr. Macfarlane addressed the children of St. Andrew's Sunday School in the afternoon. The children of the Highlands of Scotland, he said, spoke
two languages as they did in Quebec, Gaelic and English, the former
at home and the latter in school.
He expressed his pleasure at seeing
so many young men in the senior classes of the Sunday School. In Scotland the young men attended Bible classes, Dr. Macfarlane concluded by relating several stories
of his experiences as a chaplain at the front.

There will be a reception held in the Kirk Hall this evening, when the members of St. Andrew's and Chalmers' churches will extend a formal welcome to the distinguished delegates, who it is expected,
will refer to matters of interest to adherents of the Presbyterian Church.

An interesting feature of the morning and evening services at St. Andrew's were the solos rendered by Miss Frances Smart, of St.
Andrew's, and St. Paul's Church,
Montreal, whose delightful mezzo-
soprano voice afforded much pleasure
to the congregations.

A large congregation was again
present yesterday afternoon when the Venerable Cardinal arrived to administer Confirmation. His Eminence addressed the children
briefly previous to administering the Sacrament and a short sermon was likewise delivered by Rev. Pater O'Hara, C.S.S.R., who had instructed the children for the reception
of the sacraments.

Following the administration of Confirmation, His Eminence presided at the solemnization of Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shields acted as sponsors for the children.
Previous to coming to St. Patrick's Church His Eminence administered at the Sacrament of Confirmation at the Ursuline Convent.

CAUGHT FINE TROUT
AT TOURILL CLUB.

Mr. E. A. Panet, N.P., of St. Raymond, caught a splendid speckled trout on the preserves of the Touril-
l Fish and Game Club north of St.
Raymond last week. Mr. Panet although he has reached the three score and ten mark, is still a keen sportsman and is much more active than many half his age. He hooked the trout in the Ste. Anne River opposite the Club House and after an interesting fight landed his prize which weighed 4 3-4 pounds.

GREATER TEA CONSUMPTION
IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The reduction of the English duty
on tea by four pence a pound will undoubtedly result in greater consumption on the part of the public of Great Britain, which is now by far the largest tea consuming country in the world. This increased demand will tend to raise the present abnormally high market, and an increase in cost of tea throughout the world may be expected.

ANNUAL VISIT TO "LA CRECHIE"

The annual visit of the Lady Patronesses to "La Crechie" will take place Wednesday, May 31st, from 3
to 4 o'clock p.m. (day-light time).
Friends and benefactors of the Institution will also be heartily welcomed. The visit will end by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

BUSH FIRES ARE RAGING AGAIN

Outbreaks Reported From Several Of Outlying Districts—Rain Badly Needed

That bush fires have broken out again in many places owing to the prolonged drought has been reported to Chief Forester G. C. Piche
over the week-end.

Commenting upon these reports
last night, Mr. Piche said that unless rain came soon the situation
threatened to become very alarming in some districts. He said that in the woods everything was very dry and up to the present there was scarcely any undergrowth with the result that a discarded match or cigarette or cigar butt found ready under in the dry leaves which covered the ground. He again urged that all parties visiting the woods
at this season should exercise the greatest care.

On Saturday Mr. Piche was informed that several fires were burning in bush areas in Bellechasse County particularly near Inauquim
and St. Camille. One of these fires
he said, was threatening the village of St. Camille. There were also forest fires in Lotbiniere County. As soon as the news reached here instructions were issued to Forest Ranger Auger to muster his men
and combat the outbreak.

A rather big fire was raging on Saturday near Parent on the Transcontinental Railway, but since that time no news has been received.

CELEBRATE THEIR
GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McMan-amy Honored By Their Children On Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McManamy, of this city, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage here
on Saturday and the Golden Wedding was marked by a memorable
family gathering, all the members assembling at the home to pay a tribute of respectful affection to the Jubilarians.

The celebration took place precisely on the anniversary of the wedding for Mr. and Mrs. McManamy were married on May 27th, 1872 in St. Patrick's Church by Rev. Father Neville, a Secular priest. Just six months previous to the Redeemer's Fathers taking over the direction
of the parish.

Fourteen children were born to the Jubilarians, eight of whom and six
of that of number seven survive today.

The happy event was commemorated on Saturday by the solemniza-tion of a mass at St. Patrick's Church. The celebrant was Rev.
Father McCormick, assisted by Rev.
Father Holland and Rev. Father O'Hara. A special musical procession by members of St. Patrick's Choir and solos were impressively rendered by Miss Vera Henchey, Mr.
Jos. Shields, Miss Esther McManamy
and Mr. James A. McManamy.

It was the intention of the family
to carry out the jubilee celebration
as much as possible like the nuptial ceremony of fifty years ago and with this end in view those who had attended the wedding fifty years, or their descendants were invited.

Following the church service the party repaid to Bertalan's where breakfast was served and the party
then motored to Loretteville where lunch was served. The health of the Jubilarians was proposed by Rev.
Father McCormick and seconded by the Hon. John C. Kaine, while Mr.
James A. McManamy responded for his parents.

The day was pleasantly spent out of doors with the children romping
about and enjoying themselves while the parents looked on and shared their happiness.

The out-of-town guests who attended the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McManamy, of Sherbrooke; Miss North, McManamy, Brooklyn; Mr. H. D. Belland, son-in-law, of Margot, P.Q.; Mrs. Martin Branswell and her sister, Miss Coan,
of Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. McManamy, who are both enjoying excellent health, received many messages of congratulation as well as a large number of valuable gifts from the members of their family and their numerous friends.

LIGHT FROST ON SATURDAY MORNING.

After the strong east wind which prevailed on Friday had died down
the temperature dropped so low during the night that there was a light frost which, while not causing any serious damage, nipped some of the more tender plants and flowers. The frost was very light in the night,
but far-distant vicinity of the city, but there north it was considerably
heavier.

NEW LIGHTING LAWS
IN SASKATCHEWAN NOW.

Regina, Sask., May 28.—The youth who disports a bicycle after dark without a lamp in Saskatchewan
will have a new worry to contend with as he is apt to be brought to an abrupt halt by the police wanting to know "Where is your light?"
New provincial legislation which became effective May 1 requires all bicycles in the province as well as motor cycles to carry lighted lamps, which must be bright enough to shed a ray at least 200 feet ahead.
In addition a red lamp or some reflecting device must be carried on the rear of all bicycles.

HIGH SCHOOL OF QUEBEC SPORTS

Heavy Program Of Events
Run Off At The Exhibition
Grounds Saturday

The High School of Quebec held their annual track meet on the Exhibition Grounds on Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance of parents and friends of the scholars, which combined with ideal weather acquired well for a successful function.

The program was a heavy one, especially in the junior events, and heat followed heat in quick succession. The officials were kept busy from two o'clock till nearly five,
thirty marshalling the competitors,
and before one race was over the spectators saw the line up waiting for the next event.

In some events the starters stretched almost across the exceptionally wide track, and upon enquiry it was found that there were 175 entries in the junior events, an average of 25
for each race, and 120 entries in the Senior Events, or fifteen to each event.

Many creditable performances
were witnessed in the junior events (which were limited to those under 14-15 years of age on May 1 of this year) particularly in the jumps,
and sprints. The Senior 100 yards provided a spectacular race which Kaine won in 11 3-5 seconds.

The Great Inter-school which is decided by the number of points gained by the members of each form in the school. This was won by the Fifth with 99 points, closely followed by the second with 92 points. The Fourth 18 points, Third 15 points.

In the "Victor Ludorum" Medal,
an individual point competition for Juniors and Seniors respectively, a very close contest was witnessed.
The Senior Medal was finally won by Addie who secured the necessary points needed to out point his nearest rival Kaine in the last race of the day. Addie was first in the half

QUEBECERS MADE
GOOD SHOWING

Boys From Commissioners;
High School Competed In Sports In Montreal

At the Interscholastic Track and field Meet under the auspices of the McGill University Track Club at the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium,
Montreal held on Saturday, May 27th, Conrad Peterson of the Commissioners' High School, Quebec
City came third in the 220 yds.
Finals.

Six boys went up from the Commissioners' High School, Wallace
Fitzgerald, Lawrence Cassels, Lorne
McLaren, Conrad Peterson, Fred
Hobbs, and Teddy Devine.

The first event on the programme
was 75 yard dash in which there were forty contestants. The Commissioners' High, Quebec had an entry in the third heat of the trials. C.
Peterson running under No. 212.
Peterson came second in his heat
and thereby gained admittance to the final heat for the race.

Peterson was right on edge for a win in the final but was rather keen and "Beat the gun" at the start for which he was put back 2 yards. No others met with this misfortune.
Peterson, however, proved himself
dangerous and finished fourth place
in the final.

In event No. 3, Running High Jump, Junior Class II, Teddy Devine
from the Commissioners' High, (No.
209) acquitted himself very favourably in a very keenly contested event. Ted, however, was forced to retire at a height of 4 ft. 6 ins, at which time 8 remained of the 36 entries. This event finished at 4 ft.
11 ins.

In event 4, Junior Class II, 100
yards dash, there were two entries
from the Commissioners' High School,
L. Cassels, No. 208, and T.
Devine, No. 209. Neither of these entries were successful in the trials.
This event was very keenly contested by 48 entries and was finished in the record time of 11 sec. flat.

In event No. 6, Running High Jump, Junior Class I, there were 18
entries, in which number the Commissioners' High had a dangerous contestant in F. Hobbs, No. 210.
Hobbs was tied for 3rd place in the trials but failed to clear 4 ft. 4 ins.
in the Finals.

In event No. 7, Junior Class II, 440
yards, there were 42 entries which was run off in three heats. This caused a crowded track and the entry from Quebec, T. Devine, No. 209
who ran in the second heat was accidentally tripped and fell but suffered no serious injuries from the spill which put five or six contestants out of the running.

In event No. 8, Senior 44 yards,
Lorne McLaren failed to get admittance to the finals.

In event No. 10, Junior Class I, 220 yards dash, there were 18 entries, in which number the Commissioners' High had two, F. Hobbs,
No. 210 who had in the second heat
and No. 212 who ran in the third heat. Hobbs came second in his heat and Peterson ran first in his,
both entries thus gaining admittance to the Finals. In the finals, Peterson came third and Hobbs,
a very close fourth.

In event No. 11, Senior 100 yards,
Wallace Fitzgerald from the Commissioners' High School, Quebec,
"beat the gun" in his heat and was put back one yard. This proved fatal to his success and he failed to get into the finals, coming fourth in his heat.

Event No. 20 Senior 220 yards gave Fitzgerald third place in his heat, but he was unsuccessful in the final.

Although the boys from the Commissioners' High School did not come in for many prizes, they all proved themselves dangerous contenders or the laurels, and in consideration of the difficulties under which they labored, they acquitted themselves most favourably.

INSPIRING EVENT
HERE LAST NIGHT

Demonstration In Blessed Sacrament Parish In Honor
Of The Holy Eucharist

An inspiring demonstration of faith took place here last night at the Blessed Sacrament Parish on St.
Foy Road when thousands of citizens from the different Catholic parishes of this city joined in a demonstration in honor of the Holy Eucharist and to call down the benediction of Heaven upon the labors of Eucharistic Congress which has just come to a close at Rome.

Yesterday in all the Catholic Churches of the city, reference was made during the sermons at High Mass to the closing of the Eucharistic Congress and at the conclusion of mass the Blessed Sacrament was exposed and remained in exposition
until Benediction was solemnized
yesterday afternoon.

The greatest demonstration was held in the Blessed Sacrament
parish last evening and was participated in by nearly all the parishes
of the city. A procession formed up at Avenue des Braves and proceeded along St. Foy Road which was adorned with flags and bunting for the event. When the procession reached the Blessed Sacrament Church Benediction was solemnized
on an imposing repository erected in front of the Church.

His Eminence Cardinal Begin officiated at Benediction and among the state dignitaries present were Sir Honour the Lieutenant Governor, the Prime Minister as well as members of the Bench and Bar.

St. Pats And Naps Won; Fights At "Ex" Grounds To-Night

NAPOLEONS BEAT BOSWELL'S AND ST. PATRICKS TRIMMED BELL TELEPHONE YESTERDAY

Levisites Won By Score Of 13-12 And Irishmen Doubled Score On "Wiremen" Winning Out 14-7—Five Home Runs Were Made During Contests

Five home runs and excellent pitching on the part of Tingman, the box for St. Patrick's featured the Quebec City and District Baseball League games which were played at the Ball Park on the Charlesbourg Road yesterday. The matches resulted in Napoleons defeating Boswell's 13-12 in a ninth-inning rally which netted the sufficient runs to win, and St. Patrick's doubling the score on Bell Telephone winning out by a count of 14 to 7.

One home run was made during the Naps-Boswell game and went to Arton, a new comer to City League ranks and who pitched creditably for Napoleons. He pitched four innings, though by no means brilliant games. However, the contests were an improvement over Thursday's exhibitions and it is safe to say that after a couple of more games the players will have found their bearings and good ball can be expected.

The Naps-Boswell match was a regular see-saw affair from the first couple of innings, with one team, then the other taking the lead. Naps started off in the opening frame with a duo of runs, while Boswell's took the lead in the second inning by putting three runners across the plate. In the third Naps once more took the lead by counting four times making the score read 6-3 for Naps, only to have Boswell's come back with four runs in the fifth to make the count 7-6 for the Brewers. This see-saw business continued until the ninth frame. Napoleons went to bat for their last time with the score standing 12-10 against them, and the fireworks started. Gervais, the first man up sent a high fly to McCord who juggled the ball and let it drop. Jones, playing-manager of the Levisites, who had reduced Piton behind the bat in the eighth frame then hit a three-bagger, sending Gervais across the plate, later to come home himself on a grounder by Maurais who in turn circled the bags to score the winning run before one man had been retired. Though Boswell's only had five errors chalked up against them one of these came at a crucial time. Martineau, let a slow grounder roll through his legs in the third inning with the bases full, while both of McCord's muffs paved the way for a couple of runs. Gilbert, in the box for the Brewers, twirled good ball striking out fourteen batters, while Maurais, on the mound for Naps, had twelve strikeouts to his credit and also contributed a home run and a single.

SECOND GAME.
The St. Patrick's-Bell Telephone contest was nip and tuck from the opening inning until the seventh when the Irishmen put the game on ice by pushing nine runners over the plate on four hits, including homers by Acquin and Conroy and a two-bagger by Tom Kelly, and four errors, twelve men facing Fortie before the side had been retired. This inning spelt the downfall of the "Wiremen" as up to that time the score stood seven to five for Bell. Tingman, in the box for St. Pat's, was the big noise of this game, fanning seventeen of the heavy-hitting Bell sextette and issuing only three bases on balls. Fortier started out well on the mound for the "Wiremen" but after the fourth frame the "Saints" fattened his plants and hammered his offerings all over the lot.

First Radio on a Train
The Canadian Pacific is the first railway in Canada to instal a radio apparatus on its trains. Those on the livestock improvement train of seventeen cars now touring the Province of Manitoba will hear from Winnipeg headquarters radio concerts, and receive all the big news of the world as they go along their itinerary, even to the quietest rural places. Two Marconi representatives and a radio mechanic accompany the train to insure the successful working of the apparatus.

The livestock improvement train is equipped and maintained by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The project is backed by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural College, the Livestock Exchange, the Packing Companies and the Cattle Breeders' Association of Manitoba. It will tour the Western Provinces in the interests of better farming and particularly to encourage the breeding of higher-grade and more profitable live stock.

EMPRESS WON FROM VETERANS

Sailors Doubled Score In Football Game On Saturday Afternoon

The Empress of Scotland and Veterans football teams inaugurated the 1922 senior soccer season on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds, when they clashed in the initial league contest of the season. The sailors doubled the score on the rivals, winning by 6-3 after an hour and a half of hard play, but the locals do not imagine that they were worse than the mariners to the extent of three goals.

Fields registered the first goal of the game for the winners after about fifteen minutes of play, pushing the ball into the net with his body, while the same player tallied a second a short while afterwards.

The Empress made it three to none before the Veterans scored, and then it was Winslow who tallied a fluky goal, the ball striking his knee, and rolling between the goalkeeper's legs. The sailors made it 4-1 before the half ended, although Cromley, in goal for the Empress, injured his wrist in stopping a hard drive from McQueen.

The second half saw the Empress add another to their score before McQueen scored the second goal for the Veterans, who added a third while the sailors were making it a round half dozen.

For the winners Fields scored three goals, and Kelly, Carr and Gerbens one each. A good crowd of spectators watched the game.

The teams lined up as follows:—Veterans: Morton, goal; Arnold, Roberts, hacker; Pont, H. Warner, Jones, half-backs; Reid, McLean, McQueen, Winslow, Campbell, forwards.

Empress of Scotland: Crossley, goal; Massey, Crook, backs; Burrows, Quinn, Egerton, half-backs; Rex, Gerbens, Fields, Kelly, Carr, forwards.

There were fierce exchanges in the fourth and both men were tired at the end.

In the fifth round, Goddard sent Wells down for the count of nine with a right to the jaw. Wells rising as the bell sounded.

In the sixth round, Goddard rushed in for a knockout and sent left and right to the head. Wells was groggy and Goddard with a straight left to the chin knocked him out.

CAN THOMAS PUT DUMONT AWAY
Pair Will Meet In Feature Bout At The Exhibition Grounds Tonight

All that is necessary now is that the weather man will be on his good behaviour and if this is forthcoming, fight fans can be pretty well assured that they will witness some good boxing bouts at the Exhibition Grounds in front of the Grand Stand this evening. Four bouts, making a total of thirty-four rounds of milling are on the bill.

The curtain raiser of the evening will be a four round affair and will bring together Kid Johnny and young Dorval. Next on the program will be a ten-round contest between Kid Mitchell of this city and Frank Provencher of Three Rivers, champion of the St. Maurice Valley. Both boys are in the best of shape and have been training steadily so they can be expected to put up a great fight. The semi-final will be another ten-round battle with Frank Corrigan of Stoneham and Jack Jarvis of Toronto as contestants and the scrap should also prove to be a regular hum dinger.

The last fight on the program and the one carded as the feature will be the next and will bring together Jack Thomas the crack Montreal welterweight and Dusty Dumont the "Bideford Bearcat." Thomas is no stranger to local followers of the fistie art and he no doubt, will be given an ovation on climbing into the ring.

Tickets for the scraps are selling fast, and all appearance point to a record attendance.

In the event of rain the right will be staged to-morrow night.

New York Market Closed Strong; Montreal Was Active

BRIEF SATURDAY SESSION IN NEW YORK MARKET WAS BRIEF BUT ACTIVE ONE

Oils, Motors, Steels, Tobaccos And Chemicals Propelled Market—Recent Demand For Rails Fell Off Markedly—List Closed With Strong Tone—Foreign Exchange List Unchanged—British Rate Firm

New York, May 27.—Oils, steels, motors, tobaccos and chemicals propelled today's brief but active and strong stock market session. Those groups were mainly represented by Mexican Petroleum, and several domestic oils as well as Republic Iron, Studebaker, Kelly Springfield Tires, Mack Trucks, American Sumatra Tobacco, Tobacco Products common and preferred, Industrial Alcohol, Davidson Chemical, Famous Players and Coca Cola.

The recent demand for rails fell off markedly, dealings centering in Lake Erie and Western Common and preferred. Reading second preferred and several less prominent grangers and coals.

Extremes gains of one to almost five points were subjected to the usual profit taking movement, but the list closed with a strong tone, short covering continuing to the end. Total sales amounted to 700,000 shares.

Loans of local banks again expanded during the week by a little more than $8,000,000, but reserve of members at the Federal Reserve Bank increased almost $15,000,000 offsetting a large part of the preceding week's decrease. The actual cash gain of about $13,000,000 increased excess reserves to slightly more than $18,000,000.

The attitude of the Reparations Commission toward Germany failed to unsettle the foreign exchange list. In fact, bills on Berlin strengthened, the British rate held firm and Allied bills showed moderate gains.

Central European quotations continued to ease, however, and Far Eastern remittances were featured by the weakness in Chinese exchange.

Weekly reviews of general business conditions emphasized improvement in crop prospects and wider distribution of merchandise.

Announcement of further advances in wool fabrics by the American Woolen Company denoted the stronger tone of the textile market.

Today's two-hour session of the bond market was fairly lively and irregular in tone, although gains predominated among the more important issues. Moderate declines were made by most Liberty and Victory bonds.

Several recent underwritings, including New England Telephone were in demand, but most utilities and investment rails eased fractionally.

Total sales par value $7,832,000.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By Bruneau & Co.)
New York, May 27.—The market has shown a confident tone throughout the day, but without any special feature. The motors stay firm, with Studebaker the leader. The bankers conference in Paris has the prospect of important results, but it involves the agreement to the requirements of the Reparations Commission, which has heretofore been a political stumbling block. If it does not cause a political upheaval in Germany, the way will clear for much better financial conditions in Europe. This would naturally find reflex here. As long as money is in good supply, and the general outlook favorable, the market is not likely to turn from its present attitude.

(By Breen, Gourdeau & Co.)

New York, May 27.—The stock market took on a decidedly buoyant tone in today's brief session and new high prices for the current movement were established in a number of issues. While practically no department of the list was excepted in the improvement, demand was rather pronounced in such stocks as Studebaker, Mexican Pete, United States Steel, Republic Steel, United Retail Stores, Tobacco Products, American Ship & Commerce and Baldwin Locomotive. Prices at the opening were approximately a half point up from the previous day's final quotations, and while further gains were recorded in the first hour, realizing around mid-session led to some recessions. However, heavy buying was again resumed in the latter half of the final hour, this being retained to the close of the market. In the late dealings Famous Players, Sears-Roebuck, Baldwin Locomotive, Lehigh Valley and Chesapeake & Ohio reflected urgent demand, all of which sold at about the best prices of the day. The tone of the market at the close was strong.

Sales, stocks 714,000; bonds, $5,671,000.

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)

New York, May 27.—Some departments of the market have been buoyant strong this morning, the leaders being the oil and tobacco shares, although a large number of stocks which previous have been strong were quiet and inactive. Attendance in the financial district was small and the turn over was not a large one.

The tobacco stocks have been nervous and advanced excitedly on reports that a big merger will be announced early in the week.

Preliminary terms for a German loan, as reported by cable today are to the effect that they will amount to practically a receivership for that country.

Some important news developments are anticipated over the week end.

The Chicago Produce Market

Chicago, May 27.—Liquidation in May wheat toward the close of the month session today through selling by commission houses that took cash wheat in on deliveries caused a break to the lowest price of the month. Buying of May and selling of July by a big elevator concern was a supporting factor in the May, the difference between two months being slight. It finished 3-4 to 1-2, the deferred deliveries showed a net gain of 1-8 to 3-4, while the deferred deliveries showed a net gain of 1-8 to 3-4, with July $1.22 1-2 to 5-8.

Corn was 1-4 lower to 1-4 higher, oats unchanged to 1-4 off while provisions ranged from 5c. decline to 2-5c. advance the latter gain being in pork.

Wheat, May $1.24 1-2 to 1-2 1-2; Sept. $1.19.

LOSSES OUTNUMBERED BY GAINS IN THE MONTREAL STOCK MARKET SATURDAY

Prices Remained Firm, Despite Prevailing Dullness, Which Curbed Activity And Breadth In The List—Brazilian Led Market And Closed With Half Point Gain—Canada Cement Touched New High

Montreal, May 28.—Saturday's prices on the local Stock Exchange remained firm despite prevailing dullness which curbed activity and breadth in the list. Gains slightly outnumbered losses neither of which were substantial.

Brazilian led the market in activity and closed at 48 7-8 for a net advance of 1-2. Canada Cement was second and closed up 3-8 at 57 7-8 after touching a new high at 58.

Steel of Canada was third in activity and closed unchanged at 75. The greatest loss of the day was in Canada Car preferred, which closed at 55 for a loss of two points.

There was also considerable falling off in bond activity with a slight weakness showing throughout the victory loan group.

Total sales listed, 3,606; bonds $63,800.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

(Special to The Chronicle)
The reaction of Wall Street to the freight rate reductions was mixed. In some quarters it was construed bearishly, but James A. Payne, a keen student of economic events in their relation to stock market movements said:

"We think too much attention is being paid to the freight rate decision. It will have very little effect upon the selling prices of rails in the long run."—(Nat. Financial News Bureau).

In his efforts to get for the people of British Columbia the best price for their bond issue, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, yesterday declined to accept any of the tenders submitted by the fourteen firms which bid on the $2,000,000 issue of 5 percent British Columbia Government bonds, which are being put out. The highest price bid for the issue was 97.82 from Ames & Co. and Halsey, Stuart & Co.

British Government's revenue in week ended May 20th amounted to £18,108,944, exceeding expenditure by £6,892,719 or over 35 percent. Total floating debt has been reduced to £343,440,500, compared with £1,029,515,500 March 31st, and £1,301,561,000 a year ago.

Pynchon & Co. wires Craig, Lathier & Irvine, in part: "When stocks such as Studebaker, Retail Stores and Steel turn upward, it means something more than an ordinary recovery. It means that we have become accustomed to in last few weeks while market was digesting spring rise. It was only a question of time when standard stocks would be taken up again, and think with a little activity now in case of Baldwin, it would be fairly safe to predict new high prices in all standard stocks as well as increased activity in that part of the list."

Authorized capital of $26,952,500 is represented by companies whose incorporations were reported to the Monetary Times during the week ended May 20th, compared with $19,821,500 previous week.

A statement issued by the car service division of the American Railway Association shows that there were a total of 512,198 freight cars idle in the United States because of business conditions on May 16th, compared with 521,746 on May 8th, a decrease of 9,55

Jacques Cartier Bridge.

The new bridge on the Jacques Cartier River which had been undertaken at private expense was carried off during last week, notwithstanding all the precautions made to secure it by those interested; the roads leading to it have been excavated at great expense and labor, and the bridge was to have been formally opened to the public in a few days. The waters of the Jacques Cartier River rose to a great and unprecedented height carrying down enormous trees and other materials. The sudden melting of the snows to the north have caused rivers taking their rise in that quarter to rise rapidly, and in many cases to occasion serious losses.

Mr. Fielding's Budget

Montreal, May 25th, 1922
Room 34, Molson Bldg.
14 St. John St.,
Montreal, Que.

Editor:
The Quebec Chronicle,
Quebec, P.Q.

Sir:—
The Budget as presented by the Honourable Mr. Fielding has created some surprise and awakened some resentment. Those who know Mr. Fielding have the utmost confidence in his sincerity, and appreciate his ability. Nevertheless, the changes that will come into effect are such as to provoke discussion and lead to criticism being strongly directed against the administration.

Confronted as we are with a huge debt and a very considerable deficit, even a financial genius would have the greatest possible difficulty in making ends meet. The obligations we have assumed must be met. If we are to retain our national honour. Therefore, it behooves the Minister of Finance to utilize every expedient in order to obtain as much revenue as can possibly be had from the people of this country.

It will be noticed that again, and in spite of all that the agricultural element may say, that the taxes bear very heavily upon industry. The sales tax and the income tax come almost wholly from those whom a certain element are always denouncing. To wit, the industrial and commercial classes. It is regrettable that the cost of living will be affected by the new taxes. The sales tax is becoming almost as the customs tariff an indirect tax, where it is charged against the consumer by the wholesaler or retailer. Be that as it may, the consumer has to pay in the last analysis.

Mr. Fielding suggested that the present is time for self denial. Those who have been denying themselves for so long and particularly the returned men will agree with him. It is hardly likely that those who have been enjoying life and some luxuries, will bother their heads very much or seek to profit by the advice given. They will continue to spend, no matter who pays. There are still many who through circumstances were able to acquire, a good deal of wealth and are not at all affected by changes in taxation, unless it be that they are mulcted of part of their income or wealth through the income tax.

In all likelihood, the members of Parliament and particularly the Progressives, will at once translate into action the counsel of Mr. Fielding by reducing their indemnity to the pre-war standard or at least by deducting $1000.00. The gentleman of the Senate will no doubt follow the example of their friends in the Commons.

To one who is interested in national welfare and development, the huge burden of taxation resting upon our shoulders is something that calls for very serious thought. We can only expect to pay the interest on this debt and meet our

The eldest son succeeds to Clivedon Place, near Taplow, and his wife is the well-known first lady M.P. Lady Hinchinbrooke is a cousin by marriage to Lord Astor.

All the former students of the Convent of the Holy Names, Hochelaga, Montreal, are invited to the reception to be tendered them by their Alma Mater on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 31. Following the welcome to the guests at two o'clock, reunion in auditorium, procession of the B.V.M. through the convent grounds, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, afternoon tea will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Billet, of this city, who have been staying with their sister-in-law, Mrs. A. Tremaine of Green Avenue, Montreal, for the past ten days, will return home at the end of next week. They were to have spent the summer with relatives and friends in England, but owing to the death of their son-in-law, L. W. H. Knap, formerly of the P.P.C.I.L., at St. Agathe, have cancelled their trip.

Co-ed Slang.

The phrases used by the slangy co-eds to characterize the varieties of the masculine members of the genus homo, however, created the greatest stir on the campus by the lake here. Popular classifications divided the sheep and the goats among the men in the following classes: booby, dumb-bells, he-flappers, "intellectual and pseudo-ones," grinds, hicks, ideals, drunks, politicians, fusers, non-fusers, loafers, woman-haters, roughnecks, duds — and some more.

One feminist said there were "pokey ones and fast ones—slow, fast and medium."

Another divides them by the way they fix their hair, "banding haired, normal-haired and sub-normal haired."

Others said there were "snobs, lowbrows, drunks, highbrows," "those who are getting an education and those who are having an education thrown at them," "those who only work, those who only play, and those who do both successfully."

One cheerful lassie sums up the less deadly sex like this, "But for a that, they're not a bad lot. They are usually pleasant to talk with, pleasant to walk with, and pleasant to work with."

The men are circulating a questionnaire among themselves, to get the masculine viewpoint on women.

long to these great groups that are not entitled to our praise or support. There are also quite a number who are nothing less than parasites upon the body politic. Canada has no room for the parasite, the schemer, the bucketeer, the indolent and the criminal. But it requires and should encourage all those who are prepared to assist in the positions they occupy. The promoting of production and the increasing of national wealth. Decrying the average manufacturer or employer, who wishes to be just to his employees, the public and the country has not in any way contributed to Canada's upbuilding. The worker and the employer must endeavour to live together on terms of amity. It is not impossible to effect an arrangement that will be satisfactory to both. If this is done, the eloquence of the demagogue and revolutionary will be wasted. A fair day's work is deserving of a fair day's pay. Brain power and organizing ability and inventiveness must receive their just compensation. If all these factors are given the consideration they merit, we shall go forward. If on the other hand those who create wealth either through brain or brawn, or both together, are constantly subjected to carping criticism, we will, instead of progressing, go backward.

Our object should be, to work honestly; produce abundantly; be friendly in our relations with each other from the standpoint of employer and employee; be optimistic; discourage pessimism; inspire confidence; attract capital; appreciate the sincere worker; and determine that we will do everything possible to make Canada a land fit to live and work in, for both returned heroes and hard working toilers.

While it is true that agriculture is one of our basic industries and deserving of every possible consideration, it is not our basic means of revenue. We can only carry on the business of Government and keep transportation functioning, if industry and commerce furnish the means in the form of taxation, permitting the Government to administer its affairs. This is what must be borne in mind by all those who profess to have a knowledge of industry and particularly economics.

In the present stage of our national development, it is not the knowledge of agriculture that is so urgently required, as a proper understanding of economics, which is merely another name for the principles and methods that influence the production of wealth.

It is the practice to denounce the bankers and the manufacturers. Undoubtedly there are some who be-

UNIVERSITY GIRLS'
VIEW OF MERE MAN

Conceit is His Most Despicable Quality — Fickleness Also One Of Failings

Madison, Wis., May 28 — The quality a woman most despises in the opposite sex is the same quality that she wants to predominate in her husband, results of a questionnaire circulated among University of Wisconsin co-eds showed today.

"Conceit" is the most despicable, and common qualities of the university male, 185 of the 200 women who answered the questions declared.

"Ambition" was the most-called-for qualification of the same ladies in her definition of the ideal man for matrimony.

Professors admitted the two were not far apart.

Eighty-three of the girls said that university men, in their desire to show their superiority, apparently were impolite, ill-mannered, thoughtless, rude, and disrespectful to their feminine colleagues.

"Fickleness" of the men was scored by 64 of the voters. "They're too superficial—they seem to have no aim in life," said one.

The other four counts of the principal indictments for the "seven deadly sins" were: Drinking, 62 votes; selfishness, 60; laziness, 58; "tea-houndishness," 50.

A certain mental simplicity is also remarked upon, sarcastically. One called it "small-town personality," another, "simple-mindedness," six "stupidity," and one remarks naively that "men are awfully young at times."

A Female Champion.

A female champion steps forward declaring "on the whole I like them very much. Their wit, keenness, tolerance and nonchalance win my admiration, while their braggadocio, attempted worldliness of thought and action, and their queer ideas about their place and function in this universe, puzzle me."

"The tea-hound is awful," says one dependent. "The rest are fine if not dissipated."

Seventy-seven of the co-eds declared for the Cassius-like quality of ambition as an integral part of their future hubbys, if any "hubby" was a close second with 66 votes.

"Intellect" was modestly asked for by 64. Social poise and grace in handling a tea-cup was rated a necessity by 39, and "unselfishness" and "sympathy" were desired firstly by 29 co-eds.

The women believed that 73 per cent of the men marry for "love," while giving credit to her sisters of only 63 per cent, marrying for the same reason. Money as a reason for marriage is more frequent among women than among men, the ladies opined.

Three-fourths of them wanted to marry a college man.

Sardou's
Immortal drama

At stake was the life of the ages, a man who had awakened love in her breast. Imperial power, riches of a kingdom meant nothing to her. These she gave, and that he might escape she turned a horde of hungry lions upon helpless thousands.

SUCH WAS HER AMAZING LOVE

This great heart drama of the ages has been given a setting that has made critics gasp for adjectives. It cost $3,000,000 and required two years time to produce "Theodora."
