Batman Begins

Actor Christian Basle - Batman Begins

The film Batman Begins is well received by the public. The scenario is very well written and several lessons of life can be drawn from the screen play which lasts 2 hours and half. The character Batman shows us that the individual fears can be a powerful motivator for a person if one is able of channeling those towards a positive and reasoned action. Batman also teaches us that to fall is a reason to force itself to get up and start again. The last scene is edifying. Bruce Wayne is in front of his destroyed manor all in ashes and whereas he thinks of his future, he commits himself to rebuild the manor stone by stone and continuing his personal combat.
