HEART-RENDING TRAGEDY FOUND

Deserted Wife Died From Starvation And Birth Of Murdered Child.

Montreal, Que., August 18.—A heart-rending tragedy was revealed at the inquest held under Coroner McMahon at the Morgue this morning in the death of Mrs. Nellie Babcock which occurred yesterday. The verdict returned was to the effect that death resulted from starvation and child-birth. Investigation revealed that the unfortunate woman had been deserted by her husband, who was the sole support of her five children, and that another child was expected. As she had neither food nor money the woman wished to destroy the child before its birth, and had recourse to a physician. The baby was born dead and the mother burnt it in the stove and shortly afterwards succumbed to starvation.

The few rooms where the family lived were visited in the course of the investigation and were found to be almost bare of furniture, while not a single morsel of food was discovered. After the tragic death of their mother the children were cared for by neighbors but they have now been taken in charge by the police. A search is being made for the father who is at present reported to be in the United States.

Ottawa, Ont., August 18.—"Preventive dentistry," is the slogan of the Canadian Dental Association, which resumed its sessions here today, with President Dr. Frank Woodbury, dean of the University of Dentistry of Dalhousie University, presiding.

Preservation of teeth rather than extraction is the aim by removal of the causes of decay. Papers were read by Dr. T. Sydney Smith, of San Francisco, and Dr. Wallace Secombe, Supt. R.C.D.S., and discussions were led by Dr. E. Dubau, dean of the Dental Faculty, and Dr. Fred Hudson.

The delegates visited the Parliament Buildings this afternoon and will be entertained at the Rideau Aquatic Club this evening. There are 160 members present so far.

ROYAL GEORGE

Neither company had anything to say on the matter today but on reliable information it appeared that the vessel is likely to go on the Boston-Liverpool route of the Furness-Withy Line.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Melita was reported inward bound 60 miles east of Belle Isle today and is expected at Quebec on Friday.

AN INTERESTING DEVELOPMENT IN RAILROAD RATES

Manitoba Counsel Claims
Less Necessity for Increase in West.

SURPLUS OR DEFICIT.
C.P.R. Estimate For Current Year Opposed By Toronto
Lawyer.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—Can. Press.—An interesting development in the hearing before the Railway Commission of the application of the Canadian Railways for increases in freight and passenger rates came just before the five o'clock adjournment this afternoon when E. J. Symington, counsel for the Government of Manitoba, threw out the suggestion that in view of the fact that operating expenses are lower than in the East and the West C.P.R. lines the same necessity does not exist for an increase of rates in the West.

Mr. Symington had been examining Mr. W. J. Moule, Assistant Comptroller of the C. P. R., at length on the cost of operating in the East and West. It being shown that during the past four years net operating expenses in the West are lower than in the East and the net earnings per train mile are higher, these for 1919 being approximately eighty percent higher.

"Would you say in view of these figures," asked Mr. Symington, "that freight rate increases should be the same in the West as in the East if the increase is to be upon the basis of paying money for services rendered?"

Mr. Moule, in reply said, the operating expenses in the East are largely incurred for the benefit of the West. These include large expenditures for port terminals, etc. For this reason, he said, operating rates are not a proper indication of earnings on Eastern and Western lines. Expenses in the East of this kind were not, he said, spread over the entire system.

The fight throughout the entire sitting was centered on the statement submitted last week by the C.P.R. and designed to show the need of that company of higher rates if it is to be prevented from having a deficiency during the year which will end June 30, 1921. It was stated that it was claimed that the C. P. R. faces a possible deficit of thirty-seven millions if the existing scale of wages is continued in force.

Mr. A. C. MacMaster, counsel for the Toronto Board of Trade, met the C.P.R. figures with a counter-statement designed to establish that the company is likely to have a surplus of at least nineteen millions.

Mr. W. J. Moule, the statistical expert for the company, controverted many of Mr. MacMaster's figures, declaring that those submitted by the company were well within the mark.

Mr. Symington, counsel for the Government of Manitoba submitted figures to show a natural increase in traffic in 1920 over the preceding year. On this basis, he said, the total increase for the year would be $24,000,000 of which the C.P.R. would get 44 percent. While agreeing that the increase in freight traffic for the first six months of 1920 was over twenty percent, Mr. Moule was not certain that this would be maintained. A forty percent increase in freight rates, he said, would give a surplus on freight traffic, but he was not certain that a twenty percent increase in passenger rates would lead to such satisfactory results. If not the difference would have to be made up from the earnings on traffic. Mr. Moule was willing to admit that the increase in rates on the other side of the border was a factor in the present application, but it was by no means the only factor. The application being based upon the need of the railways for more revenue. It had been thought, he said, that an increase of more than twenty percent in passenger rates might have a tendency to dry up the business.

Questioned by Mr. Symington as to the present ability of the C. P. R. to function, Mr. Moule said that the system was in better condition in 1913 and subsequent years when the train mileage was higher. He agreed that an increase of twenty percent, or one-half cent per mile, in passenger rates would probably yield an additional revenue of eight and a half million dollars.

In answer to Mr. Symington Mr. Moule stated that he estimated that the adoption of the Chicago Labor Board scale of wages by the C. P. R. would mean an increase in the payroll of approximately $22,000,000.

WANT RATE INCREASES.

Washington, D.C., August 18.—Great Lakes, Coastwise and Gulf carrier today urged the United States Shipping Board to grant applications involving approximately sixty steamship lines for rate increases in conformity with advances already allowed the railroads by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. A majority of the lines are now operating at deficits which threaten their existence, Examiner Maughan was told by witnesses.

RAILROADS AND FIVE-HOUR DAY

Union Executive Issues Statement To Correct Misleading Impression.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 18.—Declaring that certain evidence regarding the five-hour day as given before the Dominion Railway Commission in connection with the application for increases in freight rates has been misunderstood and used to make it appear that the strongly organized trainmen by their demands have been exploiting the public and are responsible for the further rate increase, a statement has been made by the Executive of the unions. The principal contradictions are as follows:

1.—The basic five hour day for passenger engineers is not equivalent in any way to the eight hour day in industries.

It is a minimum guaranteed day measurement for special occasions, very seldom used. The general rule is that engineers in the passenger service are paid on a mileage basis. The hours of work are most irregular, often extending from twelve to eighteen hours on a single trip.

2.—There is a not great deal of overtime in the wages of trainmen. Engineer operating passenger trains do not get time and a half for overtime. The only men who receive this are the train and engine men in the slow freight service, which is not the general rule.

3.—It is true that time as well as mileage is one of the factors that partly determine pay, and that delay is sometimes paid for. But this is only on special occasions and it is untrue to say that there is any inducement for engineers to run slowly or to strive for delays. The inducement is all for operating on time.

4.—The present salaries for engineers run from $200 to $250 a month. Their hours are usually very long and irregular and they are the poorest paid of the highly skilled mechanics, according to the men engaged in that kind of work.

N.B. APPLE CROP IS

Dominion Fruit Commissioner
Inspected Orchards Along
St. John River.

Fredericton, N.B., Aug. 18.—C. W. Baxter, Dominion Fruit Commissioner, accompanied by E. P. Bradley, Deputy-Minister of Agriculture and G. A. Turney, Provincial Horticulturist, have returned from a trip of inspection of the orchards along the St. John River, between this city and Lower Gagetown and reports that the apple crop for this season is exceptionally clean and the quality very much superior to the crop of last year. The crop is estimated at about sixty percent of last year's crop and will probably amount to about thirty thousand barrels.

Mr. Bradley, stated today that the only varieties which seemed ready for packing at the present time were the yellow transparents and the crimson beauties.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 18.—The Canada Pharmaceutical Association tonight in convention here adopted a proposal looking to the appointment of an official who shall consist in strengthening the national organization by propaganda work and otherwise with a view to a more effective development of pharmaceutical interest in Canada. This organizer's salary it was suggested might be set at $5,000 per annum with the addition of a secretary and a stenographer.

Tomorrow will be elected and a place chosen for the next annual convention.

LONGSHOREMEN FIND TORSO OF UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN

New York, Aug. 18.—The torso of an unidentified woman, with head, arms and legs chopped off was found last night by longshoremen in the Hudson River, it became known late today.

Clinging to the skin were shreds of cloth, whips of twine and the minute pieces of wrapping paper. Medical examiners estimated it had been in the water about two weeks.

The police believe that the woman was about 25 or 30 years of age and weighed about 120 pounds.

WILL ENTER POLITICS.

Ottawa, Ont., August 18.—The Ottawa Journal today says: "The Chairman of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, Mr. J. W. Black, has resigned. It is understood that Mr. Black will become chief executive director of the organization of the new National Liberal and Conservative Party. It is understood that he has a liking for political life and his energies will be devoted entirely to that field."

PACIFIC FARES INCREASED

Montreal, Que., Aug. 18.—It was announced yesterday by the C.P.O.S. that on and after September 15 fares on all the company's trans-Pacific liners will be increased twenty percent.

WARSAW NOW SEEMS SAVED FROM ENEMY

President Pilsudski's Armies
No Longer Obligated To Keep Defensive.

IMPORTANT RESULTS.
Polish Offensive On Left Wing
Led By Two French Generals.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Warsaw now seems to be saved from the Bolshevik. President Pilsudski's armies no longer are obliged to fight a defensive battle and the offensive on both wings has reached the first objective. The Poles appear to be pausing before attempting to develop their success.

The offensive on the left wing is being personally led by French generals Henry and Billotte and already has yielded important results. It has once more put the Poles in possession of the key to the Warsaw defenses—the fork between the Narew and Bug rivers—while the forces advancing toward Miawa, which have reached Tieschanoff, 12 miles to the south of Miawa, will force the Bolsheviks marching toward Plock and Thorn to beat a hasty retreat and consequently re-open the direct railroad line to Danzig.

But the manoeuvre on the right wing along the line of Garvolin and Parachoff, between the Vistula and the Bug, is the more interesting of the two, from the strategic viewpoint, because it threatens the communication of the main Bolshevik forces. Swelled by troops freed by shortening the front in the Brody region the movement already has gained rapid headway and driven the Bolsheviks back all along the line toward Brest-Litovsk for distances varying from 25 to 50 miles. The Poles captured Novo-Minsk, a short distance east of Warsaw, according to a dispatch from the Polish capital today. The battle of Warsaw appears to be favorable to the Poles, the dispatch says.

Wants Volunteers.

Moscow, Aug. 18.—(By Ass'd Press)—Leon Trotsky, Soviet Minister of war, today issued a call for volunteers for service on the southern front. The call was issued in the course of an address at an opera house meeting here in honor of Bela Kun, Communist leader and former Foreign Minister of Hungary.

Soviet Russia's position on both the Polish and South Russia fronts are pronounced "generally satisfactory" by Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik War Minister, in an address here today. The speech was delivered at a meeting of the Moscow Soviet.

AMERICAN WHISKEY SEIZED

Montreal, Que., Aug. 18.—One hundred and thirty five quarts of American bottled whiskey was seized by special Customs officers C. F. Hewson and H. McCrea, at Lacolle, today, and was taken to St. John's, Que. The liquor was in an automobile which was abandoned by its occupants when hailed by the officers. It is believed to be part of large quantities of whiskey stored at points along the border prior to the enforcement of prohibition in the States and which it is now sought to smuggle back.

The Weather.

Toronto, Ont., August 18.—With an unusually high barometer from the Great Lakes eastward, the weather today has been fine and warm with light winds. In the West great heat has prevailed in Montana, while in Saskatchewan and Alberta the weather has been cool, with scattered showers.

Message Rate Service For Business Telephones

UNDER the schedule of rates filed with the Board of Railway Commissioners, business telephones in this city are placed on the message rate basis.

An equitable schedule of telephone rates places upon all subscribers an adequate toll for their use of the service.

This allows to those whose outgoing calls are few the benefit of their restricted use.

All classes of users pay for what they get.

This principle has long been recognized as fair as applied to other services. Flat rates for gas, electric light and power have given place in most communities to metered service. The results have been satisfactory both to the users and to the organizations furnishing the service.

Similarly, flat rates for telephone service—especially on business telephones—have been withdrawn in the majority of larger cities of this continent and Europe, and for the same reasons.

First: Under the flat rate the small user bears an unfair proportion of the cost of giving service. The big user, through the unrestricted service he gets, creates an operating load, an unfair proportion of the cost of which the small user must bear.

Second: To enforce an adequate average flat rate for business service, at present high costs of labor and material, would aggravate the injustice to the small user. No fair apportionment of the burden is possible until we apply the principle, as in other services, of payment for specific use.

The fairness of the measured rate basis for business telephone service is apparent. It works no hardship to the legitimate business of the community. Rather, by wholesome restriction, and elimination of unnecessary calling, it has been found to benefit the whole telephone using public, business and residence subscribers alike.

A KNITTED SPORT FROCK.

(By GERTRUDE BERESFORD)
This is quite an unusual but at the same time a very attractive costume for outdoor sports. The dress is made of an orange-colored knitted fabric. Very straight, it possesses the elastic qualities that are essential in the dress of sportswomen. Patch pockets accommodate the hands in front. A narrow belt of green patent leather encircles the waistline. A ribbon of the same hue is knotted at the collar. The shirt worn with this frock is of heavy white wash silk. Hemstitching and tiny pleats are its adornments. The hat shows a clever union of strips of orange felt and metallic braid.

How to Keep Summery

(By RITA STUYVESANT)
Half of the secret of looking well dressed in Summer lies in keeping the clothes in good condition, and this requires a little time and planning, especially if one has a limited wardrobe.

Nothing is more unbecoming on a warm day than a soiled white sport skirt or an organdy frock that has lost its crisp charm and delicate color. Neckwear, too, must not be neglected if one desires a well-groomed appearance, and footwear should be kept in good order.

Perhaps the most popular garment of the season is the white baronet satin sport skirt, or one of the fancy silk crepe weave. It is best to launder these frequently, rather than let them go until they are too soiled. Warm water and frothy white soap suds is an excellent solution for them to soak in for perhaps a half hour to dissolve the dirt. Never rub soap on such a garment.

Several rinsings in clear water are necessary, but one must graduate the heat gently or the garment is liable to turn an ivory shade. Wrap up in a thick bath towel and do not expose to strong light or sun.

When pressing the garment, the crepe effect will be raised delightfully if you press your skirt on the wrong side into a bath towel folded several times.

Organdy frocks will gain a new lease if carefully laundered. But very often a good pressing will suffice to renew the crispness if the frock is not soiled. Soap suds is again valuable, and some fastidious folks starch their organdies with thin potato starch. To renew the dainty tint, if faded, one has only to dip it after rinsing in a colored solution. There are many excellent tints on the market that require no boiling and restore color beautifully.

Frocks should have detachable white collars and cuffs and sashes so that they might easily be removed for laundering. It is economy to have at least two sets for each dress. This will save considerable laundry, as it is not always necessary to wash the entire frock if the white neckwear is removable.

Have at least two pairs of white pumps, so that they will not have to be cleaned so frequently or worn continually, and thus they will last nearly twice as long.

THE FIRST "BEANFEAST"

Many a holiday and country jaunt has been referred to as a "beanfeast," and the great number of outings which are now being arranged by various societies in England for the benefit of children, chiefly members of the Boy Scout Association and the Church Lads Brigade, are alluded to by what is to many people the mysterious cognomen mentioned. It is almost a certainty that were a group of people, wherever found, asked to give an explanation of the much-used phrase, not more than 1 per cent. of that could correctly describe its origin.

The story is simple and historic. As long ago as 1773 King George III of England visited Woolwich Arsenal near London, he day was the second Saturday in July and on this occasion His Majesty, being in a jovial mood, unbent to the extent of dining with the laborers of the Arsenal. The simple fare of the royal visitor and his humble fellow roysterers consisted of beans and bacon. Ever since that historic date of 1773 in the history of the Arsenal the employees of the Royal Arsenal at Woolwich have annually on the second Saturday in July, held their commemorative feast which has since the first spread been known as "beanfeast." The phrase has passed into common use in regard to similar functions and whenever in the country roads the sounds of wagons are heard with "revelry by night," it is understood that a party of belated "beanfeasters" is on the way home.

UNDERWRITERS
IN CONVENTIONPlenty Of Interest At Ottawa
Gathering Of Life Insurance Men.

Ottawa, Ont., August 18.—Plenty of interest was injected into the opening session of the fourteenth annual convention of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, this morning, by Mr. E. T. Burke, Montreal, during the discussion on "what can be done to eliminate taxation on life insurance," when he strongly criticized the Quebec Legislature for passing laws which made insurance taxable by both the Province and Municipality.

The endeavor of that Government, he said, would appear to be to deprive the business from the province. The laws in Quebec also prevented a woman insuring and making her husband the beneficiary, he said. This had done much for the new womanhood movement throughout the country.

"While we have not reached that high tone of professional ethics in the business that we would like and the Government has not done everything it could for the Association, I believe they are now travelling in the right direction."

There were about five hundred delegates registered at noon, and it is expected that before this evening they will be in the neighborhood of one thousand members in attendance, from every part of the Dominion, with a few from the United States.

The conference is to last three days.

SUGGEST FOUR
AMENDMENTSScandinavians Have Important
Changes For League Covenant.

London, August 18.—Headquarters of the League of Nations announced today that four important amendments to the covenant have been suggested by Denmark, Norway and Sweden, for consideration at the U. N. meeting of the League Assembly on November 15.

The four proposed amendments were announced as follows:

- (1) Providing for a fixed annual meeting of the Assembly and proposing that ten members of the League can demand and secure a special meeting at any time at the seat of the League.

- (2) Seeking to regularize the method of selecting the four non-permanent members of the Council. It is proposed to accomplish this by providing that the assembly, after making the first selection of four to serve respectively three, four, five and six years, shall name a new state yearly after the third year to serve four years and not be subject to re-election for the following period.

It suggested that this method would secure successive representation on the Council, of a large number of states, and would maintain continuity in the composition of the Council.

- (3) Making the obligation for arbitration more absolute by omitting the word "generally" from Article XIII. In the paragraph beginning "disputed," and ending "submission to arbitration."

- (4) Permitting the Council to authorize a state in the vicinity of a state against which an economic blockade is in force, to maintain a degree of intercourse with the latter, provided the Council considers this necessary in order to prevent the blockade state from attacking its neighbor.

TENNESSEE GIVES
VOTES TO WOMENSuffrage Amendment To Constitution Ratified By Lower House.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The amendment extending equal suffrage to women of the United States was ratified today for inclusion in the Federal constitution, the Lower House of the Tennessee Legislature voting 50 to 46 to concur in the Senate resolution adopted Friday 25 to 4.

Action of the House made Tennessee the thirty-sixth State to approve the amendment which lacked only one night to become a part of the Federal constitution.

There is still a possibility that the House may rescind its action. At the last moment Speaker Walker, leader of the anti-suffrage forces, changed his vote from no to a yes, having the way for a motion to reconsider. Under House rules he can present such a motion to reconsider within the next two legislative days.

Suffragists launched an uproarious demonstration before the clerk announced the vote for there was no question that they had won.

Women screamed at the top of their voices, scores placed their arms around the necks of those nearest them and danced so far as it was possible to do so, in the mass of humanity. Hundreds of suffrage banners were waved wildly and many removed the yellow flowers they had been wearing and threw them upward to meet a similar shower from the galleries. There were few tears of joy shed by the suffragists. Some wiped their eyes but on the whole they considered it no time for weeping. Their happiness was far beyond that stage.

A motion to adjourn until ten o'clock to-morrow morning was offered after the official vote was announced but in the uproar it was doubted whether any members heard it or whether it was seconded. The Speaker put the question, called for the "ayes" and "noes" and announced gravely that the motion had carried unanimously.

Prompt Promulgation.
Washington, D.C., Aug. 18.—Prompt promulgation of the Federal Woman Suffrage Amendment should action of the Tennessee Legislature today be confirmed, was promised by Secretary of State Coby when word of the vote at Nashville reached the State Department. He was prepared Mr. Coby said, to issue the necessary proclamation immediately on receipt of official notice that Tennessee had ratified the amendment.

At National Headquarters of the various suffrage organizations news of the ratification evoked a storm of enthusiasm.

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, Chairman of the National League of Women Voters, said:

"Our slogan is every woman a voter in 1920."

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press).—That it will be possible by next summer to travel over improved highways, from Windsor, Ont., to St. John, N.B., is the hope of officials of the Federal Highways Aid Department. If present indications are borne out by subsequent construction, there will be good roads all the way between these points, and also between Niagara Falls and St. John, N.B. There will, however, the necessity of ferrying across the Ottawa River on the highway between Ottawa and Montreal.

AUXILIARY SLOOP
IS TOTAL LOSSCrew Of Boston Vessel Reach
Yarmouth—Will Return Home.

Yarmouth, N. S., August 18.—(By Canadian Press).—The Boston auxiliary sloop Regina, Captain Jack McGrath, is a total loss near Forbes' Point, Shelburne County, the crew arriving in Yarmouth and proceeding by the steamer Prince Arthur tonight for Boston.

Captain McGrath reports that the fog after he left port was densely thick and after making the Seal Island fog alarm, he shaped his course as he thought, to take him well off shore, and everything went well until 11 o'clock that night when the vessel struck on a rock off the above point. The crew remained aboard for about an hour and a half after, but as the tide ebbed the Regina fell over on her side, filled with water and the men were obliged to leave her.

The Regina was a comparatively new craft. She was built at Quincey, Mass., about two years ago. Captain McGrath attributes the loss of the craft to his compass, which he claims put the vessel ashore where she is, claiming that it must have been at least some four or five points out.

CANNOT PREVENT
JOINT ACTIONCachin Says Entire British Working Class Insulted By France.

Paris, August 18.—The expulsion from Paris of William C. Adamson, Labor member of the British Parliament, and Harry Gosling, leader of the British Transport Workers, would do more for establishment of "councils of action" in France than any other propaganda, remarked Marcel Cachin, Socialist Member in the Chamber of Deputies, today, to the Associated Press. Mr. Cachin has just returned from Moscow, strongly advocating that the French Socialist Party join the Third International.

Referring to the incident yesterday when Adamson and Gosling, who had come to Paris for Labor conferences, were requested to leave, Mr. Cachin said:

"It is the entire British working class which has been insulted. Our British friends had come to Paris in accord with the French workers and in order to conclude a definite peace with Russia. If our rulers decide that by expelling British delegates, they can prevent us of proletariats. Decidedly, were our Ministers in the pay of the Bolsheviks, they could do little better work for them than by exasperating the working classes of both France and Great Britain."

CANADA'S GRAPHITE

DEPOSITS ARE RICH

Toronto, August 18.—Canada's deposits of graphite are the richest in the world, according to a report issued by the Department of Mines. The largest and the richest deposit is found in Ontario, at Calabogie, and is now being operated by the Black Diamond Graphite Company.

In the past the chief difficulty has been in the concentrating and refining of the product. The oil flotation system is now being used and is proving so successful that Canadian mills can now produce graphite equal, and in some cases superior, to graphite produced elsewhere in the world.

REGULATION OF MINES IN BRITAINBill Provides for Mineral Resources Being Developed and Welfare of Miners

London, Aug. 18.—The text of the bill introduced by Sir Robert Horne, to establish a Ministry of Mines and to regulate the coal industry, and for other purposes connected with the mining industry and the persons employed therein, has been issued.

The bill is divided into three parts, all of which deals with the establishment of a Ministry of Mines, the second the regulation of coal mines, and the third general matters. Clause 1 provides that "For the purpose of securing the most effective development and utilization of the mineral resources of the United Kingdom, and the safety and welfare of those engaged in the mining industry, it shall be the duty of His Majesty to appoint a Minister of Mines, who shall, by virtue of his office, be an additional Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade and shall hold office during His Majesty's pleasure."

Duties of Minister.

Clause 2 defines the general powers and duties of the new Minister, and provides that there shall be transferred to the minister of mines all the powers and duties of the board of trade with respect to the mining industry, and all the powers of a Secretary of State, under enactments relating to coal mines, metallic minerals, and quarries. It is deemed expedient other powers and duties of any government department relating to mines or the mining industry shall be transferred to the minister by Order in Council. The minister of mines will undertake the collection, preparation and publication of information and statistics relating to the mining industry, and will co-operate with other government departments in the initiation and direction of research.

Under Clause 3 the Minister may, subject to the approval of the Board of Trade, during a period of one year from August 31 next, give directions regulating the export of coal and the pit head price for coal sold for consumption in the British Isles. When any such directions are given the Minister may also give directions as to the wages to be paid to workers in coal mines, and by order may regulate the distribution of any draft order to be approved by both Houses of Parliament. The Coal Mines (Emergency) Act of 1920 will continue in force until the date, as from which the first order made under this section takes effect, or until March 31, 1921, whichever may be the earlier.

Conditions to be Improved.

Clause 4 provides that the Minister of Mines shall appoint advisory committees. The committee, as regards coal and the coal industry, will be summoned to meet at least once a quarter and will consist of a chairman and 21 other persons, four of whom will be owners of coal mines, four will be workers in or about coal mines, three will be employers in other industries, one a mining engineer, two managers of coal mines, one a coal exporter, one a coal merchant, one a person with experience of commerce other than the production or distribution of coal, and one a person with experience in co-operative trading, and three persons with expert knowledge of the arts and sciences.

Clause 5 deals with the appointment and remuneration of the staff of the Ministry of Mines, and provides that the salary of the Minister shall not exceed £2,000 a year. The Minister of Mines may be a member of the House of Commons, and the person who is first appointed to be Minister shall not, by reason of such appointment, if a member of the House of Commons, have to vacate his seat.

In part III of the new bill, provision is made for the establishment of a fund for the improvement of the social conditions of colliery workers. For this purpose the owners of every coal mine shall pay into the fund a sum equal to one penny a ton of the output of the mine.

IMPROVEMENT OF PENITENTIARIESCanada Has Kept Pace With Other Countries During Last Twenty Years.

Ottawa, Ont., August 18.—(By Canadian Press).—Canada has kept pace with other countries in improving her penitentiaries during the last twenty years. In no country in the world has the improvement been more pronounced and more sane than in Canada. A statement issued from the office of Brig.-Gen. W. St. Pierre Hughes, Superintendent of Penitentiaries, sets forth some of the changes which have recently been made. The building policy of the Department, suspended in 1914, was resumed in 1918 and is now being prosecuted in all Dominion penitentiaries. It aims to remodel old buildings and construct new ones, which, when completed, will enable the segregation of first-timers from the old hardened criminal or recidivist. In separate institutions, and prosecute more satisfactorily methods of reformation of those committed to its charge.

The Secretary of State referred to French recognition of General Wrangel in South Russia as a "divergence," between the two Governments on one point, but said the United States was "disposed to regard the declared agreement of France with the principles of the United States as of more significance than any divergence of policy involved in the specific action of France in this single respect."

The French note declares that the French Government "is of the same opinion" as the United States Government "concerning the present rulers of Russia" and proceeds to condemn the Bolsheviks in language almost identical with that employed in the United States note to Italy.

Asserting that France is "in complete accord with the United States as to necessity for an independent Polish state," the note adds:

"This is why there is agreement between the French Government and the United States Government to encourage all efforts made with a view to bringing about an armistice between Poland and Russia, while avoiding giving to the League of Nations a character which might result in the recognition of the Bolshevik regime and in the dismemberment of Russia." By this declaration France was regarded here as joining with the United States in opposing any negotiations with the Bolsheviks such as had been proposed by Great Britain in the once-projected London Conference.

GREAT DEARTH

Fact Strikes British Agriculturalist

Farming Says Editor.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press).—"Of course the thing that strikes a British agriculturalist about your farming is the dearth of livestock," said S. J. MacDonald, Editor of the Farmer and Stock Breeder, (England), who is touring the West with the Imperial Press Delegation.

"You will be compelled to extend your farming before long, I think. You can crop wheat here for twenty dollars an acre, I believe," he said.

"The same operation on English fields would cost $65 to $85 although of course, the yield would be larger. There are other points on which you have a great advantage. In all young countries the time comes when a break must be made and nature, having parted with her resources, must be systematically helped. The best way is to extend more capital to farming in other words, farm extensively. This may be most surely achieved by entering more largely into livestock breeding and feeding and the establishment of permanent pasture."

ARE AGREED
IN PRINCIPLEUnited States And France At One Regarding Poland And Russia.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 18.—The United States and French Government are in entire agreement in principle as to the future of both Poland and Russia. Secretary of State Coby declared today in a formal statement interpreting France's rejoinder to the United States note to Italy.

His statement accompanied publication of the translation of the French note which was delivered to the State Department, August 14 by Prince De Bearn, the French Charge.

France's declaration "of its opposition to the dismemberment of Russia" is "most gratifying," Mr. Coby said.

The Secretary of State referred to French recognition of General Wrangel in South Russia as a "divergence," between the two Governments on one point, but said the United States was "disposed to regard the declared agreement of France with the principles of the United States as of more significance than any divergence of policy involved in the specific action of France in this single respect."

The French note declares that the French Government "is of the same opinion" as the United States Government "concerning the present rulers of Russia" and proceeds to condemn the Bolsheviks in language almost identical with that employed in the United States note to Italy.

Asserting that France is "in complete accord with the United States as to necessity for an independent Polish state," the note adds:

"This is why there is agreement between the French Government and the United States Government to encourage all efforts made with a view to bringing about an armistice between Poland and Russia, while avoiding giving to the League of Nations a character which might result in the recognition of the Bolshevik regime and in the dismemberment of Russia." By this declaration France was regarded here as joining with the United States in opposing any negotiations with the Bolsheviks such as had been proposed by Great Britain in the once-projected London Conference.

DEPLORES UNFAVORABLE

BALANCE OF TRADE

Major Portion Due To Canada's Tremendous Iron

Importation.

Sudbury, Ont., Aug. 18.—Deplores the unfavorable trade balance existing between Canada and the United States and proving by statistics that the major portion of this adverse state of affairs was due to Canada's tremendous importation of iron ores and iron and steel products, the Ontario Mining Association this morning appointed Col. R. W. Leonard, Geo. E. Cowie and A. J. Young, a committee to tender assistance and to represent the views of the mining industry of Northern Ontario before the Government Commission now investigating the possibilities of the iron ore industry in Canada. Government assistance in the beneficiation of iron ores to smelter grade was accepted in principle and as being highly desirable, and the combination benefited iron ores of New Ontario and coal from Alberta was accepted as commercially practicable.

THREE PARTIES
ARE PREPARINGVoting Only Three Months
Distant In East Elgin Bye-Election.

St. Thomas Ont., Aug. 18.—With voting three months distant all three parties are preparing for the bye-election in East Elgin. The L.P.O. has had a candidate in the field for some time in the person of ex-warden Sydney S. McDermid, and it is almost certain he will remain W. G. Charlton, who was defeated by David Marshall in the general election of 1917, was nominated by Liberals, a couple of years ago, but has since moved out of the riding and if a change is decided on, Warden Wilson H. Mills, who retired in the Provincial contest in favor of the U. F. O. candidate, will be urged to accept and there is likelihood an effort will be made to throw the U. F. O. support his way.

A Government candidate is being sought and the name of E. A. Miller, lawyer of Aymer, is mentioned in this connection. Nomination takes place August 30.

OTTAWA RETAIL

MERCHANTS AGT

Affirm Proposed Increase In

Telephone Business Rates

Is Unreasonable.

Ottawa, Ont., August 18.—Affirming that the proposed increase in business rates which the Bell Telephone Company is applying for before the Railway Commission is unreasonable and excessive, and that the increase if granted would hit the retail trade harder than any other line of business, the retail merchants of Ottawa, at a special meeting of the local branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, held today, under the chairmanship of Mr. A. J. Freeman, President of the Ottawa Branch, voted their opposition to the increase in unmitigated terms.

As a result of the meeting the decision was reached to ask the Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, to engage counsel and experts to look after the interests of the Retail Merchants from coast to coast when the Bell Telephone Company's application comes up before the Railway Commission.

QUEBEC, AUGUST 19, 1920.

LYNCH LAW.

Lynch-Law, that peculiarly American institution, has attempted to assert itself in Canada within the past few days at Thorold and very fortunately for our national well-being and reputation, came to nothing. It is only natural—commendable even—that public opinion should be moved to righteous indignation at such a brutal crime as the outrageous and murder of two girl babies, for the two victims in question were nothing more; but the only real protection of society against violence, against wrong-doing of every kind, is to be found in the absolute reign of law. When public opinion takes the issues of guilt and atonement out of the hands of the law into its own, by force, that protective power becomes dangerously impaired and the way is thrown open to lawlessness that must ultimately lead to anarchy.

Vengeance for its own sake is contrary to Christian principle and, apart from momentary gratification of physical instincts, serves no purpose whatever; a fact that has long been recognized by the law which concerns itself more with safe-guarding the living than with avenging the dead. Here, moreover, the justification even of certain guilt appears to have been absent for David McNeal had not yet stood trial and the only known evidence against him was of the most circumstantial character. At the time that the crime was first discovered an impulsive, spontaneous demonstration might have been understood, if not excused, but the action of the mob at Thorold was directed by plans made deliberately in advance.

Again the unintelligence of mob action, well known to the psychologist, is strikingly displayed. McNeal's guilt was decided without proof and he was denied the chance for life that a legal trial affords. After he was captured and powerless, however, such chance was given him at the prompting of a casual voice in the throng. Had anyone thought of shouting "what chance had his victims?" it is but too probable that not only the battered unfortunate but his rash advocate would have received summary treatment.

McNeal pleaded at length to keep the breath within his body, declaring by solemn oath that he was innocent and asserting that only a degenerate could have accomplished such a crime. Under these circumstances a man would hardly confess his guilt and it has yet to be decided whether or not McNeal is a degenerate. He was just as much a murderer or no less a wronged man at that moment as he was when smoked out of the burning building, but the anger of the mob had evaporated and a jovial mood had set in by reaction. Now belief in the innocence of the man it set out to lynch is just as firm as was conviction of his criminality.

Even the law is liable to errors of justice but its processes are infallible when compared with those just described. Those who took part in the regrettable riot are almost certainly ashamed of their conduct when reviewed in a cooler moment, but it cannot be too strongly urged that such steps be taken as will definitely discourage the future assertion of lynch-law in this country where men are innocent until their guilt has been judicially proved.

GERMAN POLICY.

Candid comments by Admiral von Tirpitz on world politics to which we referred recently in these columns are concluded by the London Times in two further instalments and, if they prove anything more than the abiding hatred of the Hun, appear to indicate the difficulty of Great Britain's future position in Europe.

Tirpitz, like Count Reventlow, has seen nothing in the history of England except the career of a successful pirate whose putative methods he hoped to emulate and surpass, with the object of supplanting him in business.

He continues to profess the belief that England entered the war in pursuance of a well-considered plot to capture the trade of Germany. He boasts that, from the beginning of his career, he had regarded enmity to England as the lodestar of German policy. The creation of the German fleet was directed to the overthrow of England. For that object he would have been friendly to France, given Russia Port Arthur and the Dardanelles, controlled the policy of Austria, and nipped in the bud the Berlin-Baghdad scheme. Even the remotest colonial projects of Germany were in his eyes valuable chiefly in so far as they were directed against England; the German Dares-Salaam, for example, was to replace Zanzibar as the centre of trade in East Africa.

German policy before the war took the wrong turning, he thinks, because it did not pursue hostility to England with unswerving resolution, just as the war itself went wrong because Zeppelins and submarines and the Fleet were not hurled against England with sufficient venom. Germany must learn the lesson of her defeat, and shape all her ends to uniting the Continent against England. She must use her brains and her discipline to bring the vast resources of Russia to the right side, and she must win over France to the view that the Continent as a whole has lost in the war to the gain of England, and that the contest of the future must be between a united Continent and England. The German Governments which, since the Revolution, have been attempting to destroy the military caste in Germany and protesting their complete break with the old regime, have been disastrous blunders.

"It is significant," observes the Times with reference to this attitude, "that these old voices should again be allowed to trumpet in Germany, and that a Government which professes a change of heart should show so little ability or eagerness to control them. It is the more significant inasmuch as the noisy Admiral is only proclaiming a policy which abler and more prudent Germans are pursuing with a patient diligence. They have many cards in their hands. The scheme of a Continental alliance against England is centuries old. Before the war some leading Germans would have achieved it at the cost of a voluntary restoration of Alsace and Lorraine to France, and M. Caillaux and his group would have accepted it at the cost of abandoning the hope of recovering them."

"The war, von Tirpitz and others may think, has removed the obstacle. There are many ways of representing to France, to Italy, and to Belgium that England, which has suffered least by the war, is seeking her own interest in the confused and wavering kaleidoscope of peace conferences and negotiations. All these opportunities of suggestions are being used with persistence and adroitness. But the best weapon in the hands of those Germans who are working for their old policy under new conditions is any appearance of shiftiness on the part of this country. If we appear to be stretching out hands now to this country or party, now to the other; to be taking away with one hand what we give with the other; to be offering support and not giving it; to be refusing it and secretly supplying it, we are courting future trouble.

"A few days ago the Prime Minister rightly insisted on the disarmament of Germany, only to be followed by the Secretary of State for War, who urged that the mission of Germany was to be the sword of civilization against Russian Bolshevism. Last night Mr. Lloyd George neither disavowed nor confirmed the pronouncement of Mr. Winston Churchill. Electors have short memories, but nations remember. It is our business to see that in our international affairs there shall be not only clear purpose and consequently honest statement of it, but action in conformity with it. Only thus can the distracted Allies ultimately attain a lasting peace."

HOW MISUNDERSTANDINGS GROW.

Von Tirpitz, in his article discussed above, asserts with unconcealed satisfaction that even in France signs are coming to light of the realization that the interest of the Continental nations of Europe are opposed to those of England and that they should combine against her. It is no secret that Anglo-French relations have been subjected to some strain on more than one occasion but these are declared to be still cordially sympathetic and there is no reason why they should not remain so, if there is good-will and straight-dealing on both sides.

At the same time, it is highly desirable that there should not be too many incidents of the character of the last Spa Conference to breed misunderstandings. A letter to the English Press by Mr. Henri Bernier of Marseilles reflects what seems to be a fairly general sense of discontent among Frenchmen in this connection. The feeling is that, if France was not taken advantage of by Great Britain for her own advantage, Great Britain was at least lenient with Germany at the expense of France.

In an authoritative speech on June 28 last, at the great public meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce in the Sorbonne, M. Eugene Schneider, the well-known French metallurgist, said that it seemed to him that "Coal could no more be refused to France than water to a wounded man." And he reminded his hearers that, at the very moment he was speaking, German metallurgy was working at 65 percent of its pre-war capacity and French metallurgy at 25 percent only.

It was proved at Spa that Germany, for the last quarter (April, May, June, 1920) had only supplied 3,000,000 tons of coal instead of the reduced 6,000,000 tons, for the same period of time, fixed by the Reparation Commission, and as against 10,000,000 (always for the quarter) resulting from the treaty of Versailles, a diminution of 66 percent on what she had gained.

It was recognized by Dr. Simons at Spa, and since, before his own countrymen, at the recent sitting of the Economic Council of the Reichstag, that a goodly quantity of German coal was exported by fraud to neutrals instead of being delivered to the Allies; and that he had the impression that his own "specialists" exaggerated the impossibility for Germany to fulfill a very substantial part at least of her Treaty obligations on this point.

As a matter of fact also, Germany's production of coal in 1919 reached 210,000,000 tons, and it is increasing in 1920. And while Germany's output of coal was already in 1919, only about 68,000,000 tons behind her 1913 production, that is about 25 percent below pre-war level, France in the same year, had only 20,000,000 tons of national coal at her disposal, a loss of 50 percent, and only received at enormously increased prices 20,000,000 tons from the outside, leaving her with a deficit, in quantity, of 33 percent on her pre-war situation (total consumption, 60,000,000 tons), to which must be added the requirements of Alsace-Lorraine, which the local production in the two recovered provinces, even adding the output of the Sarre, can barely satisfy.

In such circumstances Mr. Bernier considers that France has not been fairly treated at Spa—

"First, by only obtaining for herself 1,000,000 tons of German coal per month, or 10,200,000 tons per year, when the Versailles Treaty entitled her to 27,000,000 tons—that is to say, 7,000,000 tons, representing what she imported before the war, from Germany and Belgium (to whom France desired to leave an entirely free disposal of her coal), plus what Germany's wilful destruction has deprived her of;

"Secondly—by having been constrained to pay for an important part of those 1,000,000 monthly tons—which only represent about one-tenth of Germany's 1919 output (and will represent a still smaller percentage for 1920) at an exorbitant price.

"Thirdly—To Germany, who has, in the case of our mines at least, realized her boast of crippling French industry for at least 10 years; who, after what shuffling and under what menace, has at last consented to ooze out for her victim less than 10 percent of her production; we are going to be constrained by an extraordinary invention, which is not ours, to advance out of our own pockets a minimum of 400 million francs for three months (very nearly—for it is a minimum—two milliard francs per year if it is kept on) to enable Germany to buy, not principally from us, mind you, who have none to sell, foodstuffs that may be necessary for the miners of the Ruhr coalfields, but which the enhanced price of five gold marks per ton was, we thought, destined to procure for them."

"Do people in England realize," enquires Mr. Bernier, "that this price we pay for English coal has obliged us to force up the interior price for our own coal, by a perquisition, which doubles the cost in Southern France, so as not to handicap too severely those users of coal who are obliged by geographical reasons to burn English coal only, as a result of the wilful suppression by Germany of half our own output, through the destruction, with diabolical thoroughness, of our mines in the North, especially in the Pas de Calais?"

OCEAN FREIGHT RATES WEAKER

Great Decrease In Coal Exports, Due To Domestic Shortage.

New York, August 18.—The great decrease in coal exports due to domestic shortage, together with weakness in exchange and poor railroad conditions still prevailing, have caused cargo offerings to be much less than space on all routes, except to the West Indies, the last few weeks. Ocean freight rates, therefore, show decided weakness.

The withdrawal of Shipping Board vessels from the coal trade was forced by demoralization that was developing. Coal rates having declined 10 per cent, to 50 per cent, in the last two months. This will strengthen coal rates somewhat, but little improvement in coal exports is expected before another two months, probably not before the election.

The decline in coal charters has resulted in much bidding for export coal, forcing the price to $24 a ton at Hampton Roads and $19 at Baltimore. More recently, and making the decline in rates, large as it is, considerably less than the rise in price of export coal.

Decrease in coal movement has forced ships into other trades, and as result grain rates are, at least, 30 per cent lower than two months ago. Wheat rate a 100 pounds is now 46 cents to Rotterdam, compared with 60 five weeks ago, and 50 cents to Hamburg, compared with 65, some recent shipments to Rotterdam having been at as low as 35, and to Hamburg, 40 cents.

Both wheat and cotton are beginning to move, but it will be October before either is exported in large volume. With several hundred ships tied up in harbor awaiting cargo and with practically all ships leaving port much underloaded, the prospect is for weak freights for another six or eight weeks, with line rates on general cargo holding fairly firm.

SULPHUR MINE IN CRATER.

In the crater of a snow-capped volcanic mountain on Aniakchak Island, one of the Aleutian group is a large deposit of sulphur, believed to contain from 10,000 to 15,000 tons, says Popular Mechanics. A claim has been filed for the location, and mining operations probably will start in the near future. Subterranean heat and a hot vapor, the latter issuing from cracks in the rocks, keep the deposits free from ice and snow, though these permanently cover nearly all the remainder of the peak, which is about 6,000 feet in height. Another sulphur deposit has been discovered on Akun Island, in the same group, and a third near Stepanov Bay, on the southern shore of the Alaskan Peninsula.

How the Udder of a valuable cow was saved

Chas. K. Robbins, of Chatham Point, Yarmouth, N.S., writes:—
"A recent experience in reclaiming what was supposed to be a lost section of valuable cow's udder has demonstrated again the great worth of Minard's Liniment. I can recommend it in the highest terms to all who have a herd of cows."
"For years I have never considered my household stock complete without a bottle of Minard's. For burns, bruises, sprains, frostbites, or chilblains, etc. And I know of no better remedy for a severe cold."
"I think I am safe in saying that among all the patent medicines there is none that covers as large a field of usefulness as does Minard's Liniment. A real 'trouble-shooter' for Man and Beast."

EARL THOMSON

AN ANSWER TO
MR. GAZINSKY

Charlie White's Manager Offers To Take Up Challenge Issued Yesterday.

In connection with the criticism of the Chronicle's report on the White-Gould bout at the Rustic Theatre on Monday evening, the following letter was received last evening:

Quebec, August 18th, 1920
Sporting Editor,
Quebec Chronicle,
City,

Dear Sir,
Just a few words in answer to Mr. D. Gazinsky's great surprise at all the Quebec newspapers, giving the decision to Charlie White. First of all I have always found our Quebec Sporting Editors decisions to be just and fair to every boxer who has appeared in a Quebec ring.

If Charlie White had adopted the same tactics as Benny Gould the contest would not have been worth while looking at. Why Charlie chased this boy Gould, around this ring much after the fashion of a small boy chasing a hoop. It was so plainly visible that 75 per cent of the fans present were calling out to Gould with all his natural advantages of weight, reach and height to stand and fight. But instead Benny used every foot of the ring to sheer clear of Charlie.

Now, Mr. Editor, if you could arrange to have Mr. Gazinsky meet me at your office, I would only be too glad to have Charlie White box Benny Gould any number of rounds for a wager providing that Benny Gould can make the bantamweight limit, 115 pounds, ringside.

Charlie White in most of his matches has been giving away from 6 to 12 pounds.

Now, Mr. Gazinsky, if you mean business, kindly let us hear from you immediately.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your valuable space.

Yours truly,
NED McDERMOTT,
Manager of Charlie White

TWO UPSETS IN GRAND CIRCUIT

Track At Philadelphia Slow
Yesterday's Races—Five Events Run.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 18.—Upsets in two of the five races featured the second day of the Grand Circuit race meeting at the Belmont Track, Narbeth, today. The track was slow owing to the heavy rains.

The biggest surprise was the defeat of Peter Manning, Tommy Murphy's trotter, which hung up a new world's record for trotting geldings in a race at Cleveland last week. The veteran Ed Geers was behind Murphy's horse in the $5,000 Winogruck Farm Stake, the richest of the week, and set the crowd wild in the first heat by coming from behind with a rush, beating E. Colodaro in a terrible drive to the wire. In the second heat, however, Peter Manning made a bad break at the first turn and was many lengths back of the last at the three-quarters. Geers did not try to drive the gelding out and was distanced. Tara's Hall won the heat in 2:08 1/4, but was beaten by E. Colodaro in the third heat. The race was decided on the three-quarter mile and the money divided according to the standing with E. Colodaro the winner of the Cup and the largest share of the purse.

The second surprise came in the $2,000 Mawbeck Farm Stake for 3-year-old trotters. Great Britain, driven by J. L. Dodge, was picked to win this event, but after taking third place in the first heat, broke and was distanced in the second. Emma Harvester won the event in straight heats.

Lou McDonald captured the B. F. Keith Theatre Cup in straight heats with Baroness Cochato in the 2:14 trot. Dora Haynes was the winner of the Novelties Dash Race at one mile and 100 yards. This is the first race of the kind ever held here, the horses getting the word on a walk. Only two started in the 2:03 pace for the Horse Association's Cup and Geers won with Goldie Todd.

LAWLOR GOT DECISION

Montour took the first, Alexander the second and third, the final being of the whitewashed order, decided in one minute, with a somewhat boisterous lip known as the "flying mare."

BIG LACROSSE
GAME SUNDAY

Frontenacs And C.N.R. Clash
In Contest That May Decide Title.

Sunday next may see the 1920 lacrosse title for the District of Quebec decided, when the C. N. R. and Frontenac twelve cross sticks again. If the Railroaders emerge victorious, they will be the champions for the season, but if the Blue and White are victorious, there will have to be another game to decide the pennant.

The C. N. R. twelve are practicing nightly in preparation for the "crocodile" game, and are confident that they will repeat their last Sunday's victory, while on the other hand the Frontenacs have confidence in their ability to reverse the tables, and tie-up the standing once more.

Whichever way the game goes, it should be a great contest, and witnessed by a tremendous throng.

Established A Score Of 493
In Match For The Gzow-ski.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—Fine bright weather with a fairly steady strong light wind greeted the D.C.R. A. competitors this morning when they opened the third day's shoot. The morning is taken up with the two long ranges 600 yards in the Bankers' and Walker matches, the shorter in which competitors were shot yesterday. Despite complaints about the rifle the peculiar fact remained that some very good scores were being made.

All are looking forward, however, to to-morrow when the first stage of the Governor-General's shoot. This morning the military matches shot yesterday were declared and resulted as anticipated in a win for the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto in the Gzowski with the splendid score of 493, a new record for the match. The 4th also of Toronto took second place. The Dundonald fell to the 42nd who beat out the Q.O.R. by reason of having no misses on their targets. The British Challenge Shield was an easy win for the Q.C.R. who far outshot their competitors.

The Dundonald Cup, open to teams of six men from any unit, 150-200 yards, 8 rounds per man.
Cup and $36.—48th Highlanders, 144; $30.—Queen's Own Rifles, 144; $24.—Governor-General's Foot Guards, 141; $15.—York Rangers, 108; $12.—38th Battalion, 99; $12.—Royal Grenadiers, 88.

The Gzowski Cup, for teams of six men:

St. Patricks were defeated by the Shamrocks last night on the Esplanade by 1-0 in a Junior Football League game.

The New York Yankees again defeated the Cleveland Indians yesterday at New York in the American League.

The States are far ahead in the track and field events at the Olympic Games. In eleven events they have scored 101 points, as against 49 by Finland, who is second.

Billy Miske has arrived in Chicago in preparation for his bout with Jack Dempsey at Benton Harbor, Michigan, on Labor Day.

There were no games in the National League yesterday, while only two took place in the International League.

Antwerp, Aug. 18.—Earl Thomson, of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, who is representing Canada in the Olympic Games, today won the final heat of the 110 metres hurdles, hanging up a new world's record of 14 4-5 seconds. H. E. Barron, of the Meadow Brook Club, Philadelphia, was second, and Fred E. Murray, of the New York A.C., third.

Wilson, of New Zealand, was fourth, Walker Smith, of the Chicago A.A., fifth, and Carl Christensen, of Sweden, sixth. The old record for the event, both Olympic and world's was 15 seconds flat.

This gives two world's records to Thomson. He also holds the world records of 14-2-5 seconds for the 120 yard hurdles.

EARL THOMSON
SET NEW MARK

Canadian Broke World's Record In 110 Metres Hurdles At Antwerp.

Antwerp, Aug. 18.—Earl Thomson, of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, who is representing Canada in the Olympic Games, today won the final heat of the 110 metres hurdles, hanging up a new world's record of 14 4-5 seconds. H. E. Barron, of the Meadow Brook Club, Philadelphia, was second, and Fred E. Murray, of the New York A.C., third.

Wilson, of New Zealand, was fourth, Walker Smith, of the Chicago A.A., fifth, and Carl Christensen, of Sweden, sixth. The old record for the event, both Olympic and world's was 15 seconds flat.

This gives two world's records to Thomson. He also holds the world records of 14-2-5 seconds for the 120 yard hurdles.

The Canadian hurdler's victory has been anticipated as it was considered he outclassed the field. He won by a good margin, having a comfortable lead in the latter part of the race. For the first 50 yards, however, it was a thrilling contest, Thomson, H. E. Barron, of Philadelphia, and Fred S. Murray, of New York, taking the hurdles abreast. Then Thomson began to draw away with a perfect gliding stride. He gained a lead of 10 feet, and it was seen he would be an easy winner unless he should fall over a hurdle. Thomson continued gaining to the tape, which he broke in 14 4-5 seconds, smashing the world's record of 15 seconds flat made by F. C. Smithson, of the United States in the London Olympics of 1918.

Thomson was 2 1-2 yards ahead of Barron at the end of the race, with Murray third by an inch. The New Zealander Wilson just nosed out Walker Smith, of the Chicago A.A., for fourth place, Carl Christensen, of Sweden, was outclassed, finishing a poor last. At the finish of the race it was discovered the Belgian Committee had not provided a Canadian flag to raise over the entrance tower, so the British flag was hoisted.

Just before the start of the final it was announced that Ordian, the French hurdler, credited with a place in the final, was not Ordian at all, but the New Zealander Wilson. The error was due to faulty announcement and confusion in numbers.

Explanation by Pitcher Mays

Headgear For Batsmen Being Considered By Baseball Club Owners.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—Explanation by Carl Mays, of the New York Americans, that the killing of Ray Chapman, star short-stop of the Cleveland Club, was due to a rough spot on the ball Mays pitched which caused it to take an unexpected twist was the subject of a statement today by Umpire William Evans and William Dinneen, of the American League.

"No pitcher in the American League resorted to trickery more than Carl Mays in attempting to rough a ball in order to get a break on it which would make it more difficult to hit," the statement said.

"Until the new pitching rules came into force which put a severe penalty on a pitcher roughing the ball, Mays constantly used to drag the ball across the pitching rubber in order to roughen the surface. Hundreds of balls were thrown out every year because of this act."

Batting Helmets.

New York, N.Y., Aug. 18.—Introducing of headgear for batsmen is being considered by baseball club owners, Magistrate Francis X. McQuade, Secretary-Treasurer of the New York Giants, declared here today in commenting on the fatal injury received by Ray Chapman, of the Cleveland Americans last Monday when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball.

Humanitarian impulse, quite as much as anxiety to protect the heavy financial investment in their star performers, had moved club interests to consider headgear as a desirable additional to players' protective apparatus, Magistrate McQuade asserted. Solid helmets similar to those prescribed for naval aviators and those formerly used for football linemen, may be the head pieces decided upon, he said.

TEN NATIONS ALL
SCORED POINTS

Canada Won Four Firsts At Games Yesterday—Thomson Broke Record.

Antwerp, Aug. 18.—The breaking of one world's record—the 110 metres hurdles—which had stood for 12 years, and the scoring of points by ten nations in four final events featured the fourth day in the track and field sports in the Olympic Games today.

The record performance was made by Earl Thomson, of Prince Albert, Sask., representing Canada. He went over the hurdles in 14 4-5 seconds and world's was 15 seconds flat. F. Smithson, established the mark by running for the United States in the Olympic Games in London in 1918.

Thomson was an example of the perfect hurdler today, with a stride over the hurdles fully ten feet apart in the last fifty yards where he gained ground in his greatest lead.

While Canada, Italy, Finland and Sweden won all four first places in today's events, the performances of the United States contestants gained for them three second places, two thirds, two fourths, one fifth and one sixth—a total of 32 points.

Sweden came next in the scoring with fifteen points and Finland third with 12 points. These three nations now are leading in the point honors, with England fourth.

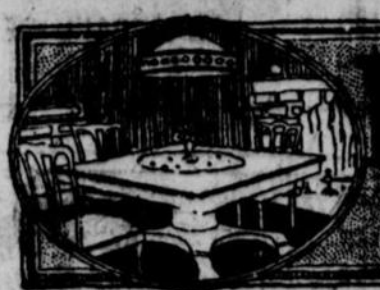

Aside from the consistency of the United States athletes, there was nothing especially noteworthy in today's performances. The shut-out of United States men from first place were decisive.

The mile runners did excellently in the trials of the 1500 meter run today, three out of four of them qualifying for the final. Jole Ray, of the Illinois A.C., though slowed up by a weak lead, proved himself the best of the United States team, living up to his reputation by leading a fast field most all the way and winning his heat impressively.

Peterson, of Sweden, won the final of the broad jump with 7.15 metres. C. C. Johnson, United States, was second, with 7.09 metres. Abrahamson, of Sweden, was third, with 7.08 metres.

The final of the shot put was won by Porkkala, of Finland, who put the sixteen pound shot 14.81 metres; H. B. Liveridge, of the United States, was second; Niklander, Finland, third.

Those who qualified for the 1500 metre run were Vohralik, Czechoslovak

A Complete Cottage Home

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK.

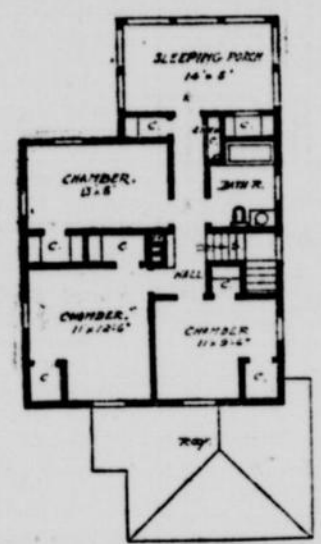

STUCCO houses are now in vogue and home builders are finding them not only most satisfactory in appearance, but in durability and service they are most practical. For one thing, a stucco house is more or less fireproof and then whether they are kept white or colored some delicate shade, such as green, yellow, or brown, they adapt themselves to almost any surroundings in which they might happen to be built. A stucco house is always in good taste and such houses are featuring some of the most exclusive suburban sections.

Six rooms and a bath, together with two porches, one of them for sleeping, one for a service and a sun room comprise this very compact and attractive little house. In these servantless days it is well enough to arrange the rooms in the most convenient and practical manner, and in this house such has been admirably done. If the builder so desired, he could for summer weather, make the sun room into a most charming outdoor sitting room by removing the glass and substituting screens. A sense of charm and space is gained in the living room by the wide arched doorway through which one glimpses the stairway and a cozy alcove. An open fireplace is directly opposite the entrance and adds additional charm to the room.

The dining room is delightfully featured by a square bay window in which the flower loving housewife would joy as a place for her winter plants. In the rear of the kitchen are a service porch and a storage room which add to the general convenience of the floor plan. Upstairs one finds three bed rooms, bath and sleeping porch, all of which are well arranged and with ample closet room. This house, which the designer estimates as costing between $4,000 and $4,500, exclusive of plumbing and heating, is of frame construction with stucco exterior and has a shingle roof, stained. It has a concrete foundation with a full basement and its size, exclusive of the sun room, is 24 feet wide by 36 feet deep. The first story is 8 feet 6 inches high with oak floor and finish, while the second story is 8 feet high with birch floor and finish.

also sell larger "Bayer" packages.
There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer" Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Mono-aceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

SHIP FOR ARCTIC

TRIP NEARLY READY

Portland, August 15.—The auxiliary schooner Bowdoin, in which Donald
B. MacMillan is to make his expedition into the Arctic region in the summer of 1921, will in all probability be launched at East Boothbay some time this fall. It is announced the Bowdoin, which will be 90 feet in length, is being built by the Mac-Millan Arctic Expedition. The undertaking of Mr. MacMillan is receiving the strong support of Bowdoin residents. The Bowdoin is modeled somewhat along the lines of fishing vessels from Maine ports and also in accordance with the belief of the explorer that a vessel of the auxiliary type is best suited to exploration work in the ice fields of the North.
The craft will be launched in oversized, fully equipped, with equipment for the severe battering of the ice floes, and will be thoroughly seaworthy. The expedition programme as outlined for the 1921 expedition will cover a period of about three years and will be carried on under the auspices of the National Geographic Society.

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE LOCAL BROKERS

(By Canadian Press)

New York, Aug. 18.—The session of the Stock Exchange today differed in no essential particular from the listless and reactionary trend of recent days. Shorts again controlled the market and exerted fresh pressure against many of the more volatile issues.

European affairs, as expressed by the Russo-Polish crisis were once more an overshadowing influence, although this was perhaps less perceptible in the desultory movements of foreign exchange, sterling, lire and marks being irregularly lower, but the Paris rate strengthened.

Local monetary conditions also provided the bears with fresh ammunition. Money continued to flow from this market to crop centres, with consequent depletion of time funds, and call loans rose to nine percent in the final hour, after opening at the prevailing rate of seven percent.

Advices from leading commercial and industrial centres were decidedly mixed, some supporting the views of local financial interests of gradual betterment. Recognized trade authorities made pointed allusion, however, to the failure of the railroads to come into the market for new equipment.

Prices of stocks were mainly higher at the outset, but gave way under a series of selling movements during the intermediate and later periods. Motor, metal, leather and sugar issues were most frequently singled out by the shorts, oils and shippings, retrieving part of yesterday's losses at the irregular close. Sales amounted to 375,000 shares.

Trading in bonds was progressively dull, but embraced an unusual number of issues. Many of the active domestic groups, including Liberty bonds, eased slightly, but Dominion of Canada fives of 1931 made up yesterday's two point loss. Sales (par value) aggregated $7,300,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

DAILY GOSSIP ON THE LEADING STOCKS

The Daily Financial News Bulletin says: "What is overhanging the market" is a question frequently met in view of its seeming ability to hold short covering rallies followed by sinking spells. Is only fair to say that private London cables continue to be unsettling. This does not refer to Bolshevik drives at Warsaw, but to "a financial crisis", alleging to be pending. The "low visibility" of buying orders is again encouraging the professional element to work for declines.

E. W. Wagner & Co., says: "Until decisive operations begin we will probably have dulness with occasional bear raids upon what may appear to be vulnerable spots."

According to the Wall Street Journal: There is no doubt that a lot of short covering came into the market beginning Tuesday of last week and extended through Friday. Traders used this fact as the basis for raising yesterday, no indication of any outside buying power has yet appeared, and until it does traders will probably continue their hammering tactics.

Clark, Childs & Co., think that: Banking opinion of the most representative sort is in favor of a most conservative market position pending a more definite determination of the probable future relations between England and France as to the resignation of Soviet Russia.

In the opinion of the New York Times: A single day's business cannot be viewed as a barometer of the speculative period, but yesterday's reaction, which included the railroad stocks, drew fresh attention to the recent sharp break in prices.

Block Maloney & Co., says: "We must be prepared for important developments in Europe from now on and our belief is that they will not be calculated to induce buying. On the contrary they are more likely to cause liquidation."

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

(By Breen & Gourdeau)

New York, Aug. 18.—The market opened slightly higher today, but quickly started a declining movement that carried the list, as a whole, to below yesterday's lows in the early trading. The sugar stocks were first singled out for selling, several of them making new lows for the year, following news of weakness in the sugar market. Several of the automobile stocks were weak, but there was not a general break as there was in the equipments. Selling of the last named was based upon newspaper reports that the railroads have not as yet started the long expected extensive purchase of cars and locomotives.

The market continued easing until mid-afternoon when there was a fair rally in a few stocks, but it was apparent that buying power was on a very limited scale, but on the other hand the concentration of selling in the sugar and equipment stocks failed to bring about any important liquidation even in them. The steel stocks and some of the oil stocks related the selling in other places and it was apparent that bear attacks were not bringing out any stock. Although call money rates advanced to nine per cent in the last hour the rallying tendency continued, especially in the equipment stocks. Closing prices were at near the same levels as the previous day with fractional gains and losses about equally divided.

Sales stocks, 404,800; bonds $8,317,000.

(By Brunau & Dupuis)

New York, Aug. 18.—The market has been very much the same today as it has been for the past two weeks. It was steady, and in spite of a speculative money rate late in the day, did not weaken at all. The best opinion here seems to be that we will have this sort of market for some time, with possibly moderately lower prices but the belief is if expressed in sight quarters that the bulk of the liquidation is over. Foreign news as published in the papers is somewhat bitter today but people are becoming skeptical of the authenticity of these reports as they are believed to be a great extent worked up from comparatively meagre cables, following the fertile imagination of some reporter.

OSHAWA GORGING AHEAD RAPIDLY

Great Industrial Expansion Has Increased Population 200 P.C. In Few Years.

(Mail And Empire)

Unlike many towns that have accepted the dearth of housing facilities as one of the conditions of the times Oshawa is determined to go one better than last year when it established a national record in the matter of building permits per capita of population.

With the advent of new subsidiary plants of General Motors, Limited, the approaching completion of the immense new plant of the Pedlar People Limited, the extension of the Oriental Textile Company's factory and many other signs of industrial expansion, the citizens of Oshawa have taken hold of the housing situation in real earnest.

The Oshawa Improvements Company, Limited—a new incorporation under the Ontario Companies Act—with an authorized capital of $500,000 has just been organized by prominent local men for the purpose of carrying out an extensive home building program to meet the present and constantly growing needs of the factory help. The company has taken over four large subdivisions within the town limits and is starting with an established business and to carry out its home building plan is offering part of its 4 1/2 per cent. cumulative preferred stock for public subscription with a bonus of 25 per cent. of common stock.

It is proposed to make the company a permanent organization by acquiring other tracts of land for development as the present properties are sold. Mr. H. A. Butt, the vendor of the sub-divisions, who has conducted a large house and land business in Oshawa for the last six years, will be at the head of the new company as president and managing director, aided by prominent local business and professional men.

It is reported that a well-known American automobile truck company is about to build a huge plant in Oshawa, while other industries are being attracted there by exceptional railroad facilities and the presence of several good foundries. An inter-switching system that brings freight to the doors of every factory, from any of the three railroads, free of hauling charges, is also regarded as one of Oshawa's unique assets.

Some idea of the city's tremendous industrial efforts may be gathered from the fact that its Customs returns last year were $1,000,000 more than those for the whole of Alberta, $300,000 more than Saskatchewan and in excess of the combined returns of all the other Customs collecting ports between Montreal and Toronto, while the population has increased 200 per cent. in the last few years.

Wm. Desmond Plays in Western Satire at Classic Today—His Latest Picture

The Classic has a particularly choice offering for the balance of the week. Commencing today they will present a production which fairly bristles with comedy, unusual and humorous situations. William Desmond does a remarkably clever satire or "western stuff" in "The Prodigal Liar" his latest. Desmond has the greatest part of his screen career in the play and is assisted by a splendid cast which includes Betty Compson. As Monte, a college-man, he agrees to pose as a western desperado to supply "romantic" western atmosphere for the niece of his pal, Jim Rainey. Hope Deering, the girl in the case "Falls" for the hoax and also falls in love with the "bandit" which complicates Monte's affairs, as he finds himself taking a keen interest in the girl. Having started by lying, he continues his prevarications and invents wondrous tales of his past. The comedy moves at a rapid pace throughout the melodrama which is chock full of humor of the wholesome kind that finds response in laughs that come from the inside out. This picture should be seen by anyone who appreciates a "good thing."

There are other excellent offerings on the bill.

Bert Lytell in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and Larry Semon at Victoria Today

Presumably taking a hint from the song, everyone is looking out for "Alias Jimmy Valentine". In this case it is Metro's screen version of the famous Paul Armstrong drama, with Bert Lytell the star, and it is due for a showing today at the Victoria Theatre.

As may be recalled, Jimmy Valentine is a prisoner in Sing Sing on a charge of bank robbery, who has earned the enmity of the brutal warden because he always "plays the gentleman." Jimmy has the reputation of being a master cracksmen who opens safes without burglar's implements, relying upon his extremely sensitive touch to feel the slight jar of the tumblers in the combinations of safes. What followed—the effect of Jimmy's reputation and the possession of this odd skill on his after life—forms one of the most thrilling, breath-catching melodramas ever written.

The cast supporting Mr. Lytell includes Vola Vale, Eugene Pallette, Wilton Taylor, Marc Robbins, Robert Dunbar, Winter Hall and James Farley. Finis Fox wrote the scenario, Sol Polito photographed the picture, and Sidney Ullman arranged the special art settings. Maxwell Karger, director general supervised the entire production.

Larry Semon is on the same bill in "Solid Concrete" his latest laugh-getter and is sure a funny one in every way. The last episode of "The Silent Avenger" will be shown on this program as well.

Mary MacLaren in Story of Stage Life, "Rouge and Riches," at Empire Today

A story dealing with life behind the scenes with a chorus girl as the principle character which not only reflects the popular conception of a chorus girl's heart affairs the jealous intrigues and glamor of the footlights, but establishes a real and intimate touch with theatrical life. Such is the theme of "Rouge and Riches" in which, pretty Mary MacLaren has the principle role and which is being shown at the Empire today. See why this pretty chorus girl has done so well in order to catch a millionaires. The final episode of "The Lost City" a rollicking two-part race track comedy "Won By A Nose" and the second chapter of "The Vanishing Dagger", Eddie Polo's world wide serial are also included in the program for today and the balance of the week.

Coming Monday, August 30th, "The Virgin of Stamboul".

Big Attraction at Auditorium Next Week, Featuring Wm. Faversham

William Faversham, the famous star of the speaking stage and now a photoplay actor of outstanding merit, will give his debut at the Auditorium for the first time next week, August 23rd, 24th and 25th, in his first Selznick picture, entitled "The Man Who Lost Himself".

The story was written by the popular novelist H. de Vere Stacpoole, and pictured under the direction of George D. Baker. It is a most interesting story which holds earnest attention of the spectators throughout; it also points to an honest moral.

Do not fail to see Faversham, the internationally-famed star in this wonderful production.

Religious Tolerance.

Paris, April 26—Letters from Rome announce that Religious Tolerance has achieved a victory in the chief City of Catholicism. His Holiness has permitted the Calvinists at present in Rome, the public exercise of their worship, and in consequence they have administered the Sacrament in a church open to the public. N. Necker, an ancient Cynic, of the Republic of Geneva, being at present in Rome, the Protestants have requested him to walk at their head in going to the communion. This has been done and gave general satisfaction.

"TIZ" EASES TIRED, SORE, SWOLLEN FEET

Instant relief for aching, puffed-up, calloused feet and corns

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a box of "Tiz" from the drug store and gladden your tortured feet.

"Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

They are all dancing to Harry's Jazz at the Island now. Tonight's boat leaves Champlain Market at 8.

A New Woman.

Just think of a young French woman, 18 years of age, who has just passed an examination for the degree of licentiate in philosophy and is now a lecturer on the science of the mind in the college of Ruen. She was a professor of philosophy in a woman's college at Lyons when she was 16 years old. She is familiar with all the sciences and a prodigy of learning generally and has amazed the most learned men in France by her erudition. If she should ever marry her husband will have a hard time of it if he should be imprudent enough to give her any "back talk." Perhaps she may escape matrimony. But will she escape the bicycle? or bloomers? Ah! there's the rub!—(Boston Herald)

To Be Moved.

It has been decided to remove the tablet lately erected in the interior of the old military building on the Citadel hill in memory of General Montgomery's soldiers who were buried below. It is to be taken from the interior of the building and placed on the exterior wall, so that the military authorities will not be pestered with the crowds of curious visitors who seek permission to enter the store-house to view the inscription. In the yard where Montgomery himself lay buried for some time, Mr. Fairchild proposes to place a block of granite over the scene of his grave, to bear his name with that of those of his Aides-de-Camp, Cheeseman and McPherson.

MAIL SERVICE BETWEEN

BRITAIN AND HOLLAND
London, August 18.—(By Can. Press)—A daily service for the despatch of mails by airplanes between London and Amsterdam began on July 15th.

The air mail fee—which is in addition to the ordinary foreign postage charge—has been fixed at the low rate of 3d. (6 cents) per packet. The fee for express delivery is 6d. (12 cents) per packet. Express packets are delivered normally the same evening in Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

It is possible by this means for a London business house to receive a reply from Amsterdam within about 30 hours.

THOUGHT OF OTHERS MAKES HER SPEAK OUT

Farmer's Wife Wants Every One Suffering With Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble To Know How Tanlac Brought Health To Her.

"Since Tanlac has done so much for me I can't help but think of others who need it like I did, and I feel that I ought to tell them about it," declared Mrs. L. P. Summers, wife of a well-known retired farmer, who recently moved to R. R. No. 8 London, Ont., from Lambeth. "Before I got Tanlac I suffered terribly from stomach trouble, and I have been bothered with sick headaches and dizzy spells as long as I can remember. My appetite was so poor that I didn't relish a bit of my food, and anything I did eat seemed to turn to sour gas which caused my heart to trouble me a great deal. I had no energy at all, and could walk only a little way before I would give out completely and have to sit down and rest. About four years ago rheumatism started worrying me and kept getting worse until my bones and joints ached dreadfully, and my back was so bad that after sitting down I could hardly get up again. It seemed like every muscle in my body hurt me, and I underwent treatment for about a year for muscular rheumatism but got no relief. I saw in the London Advertiser when Tanlac was helping others so much that I began taking it. I started to improve from the very first and after finishing my second bottle I could eat all kinds of meats and vegetables, and thoroughly enjoyed my meals. I have taken five bottles now and no longer feel a sign of rheumatism, and never have a pain of any kind. Tanlac has certainly done a lot for me, and I believe in it so strongly that I want to recommend it to others suffering like I was."

Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Martel & Dion, druggists and by Jolicoeur's Pharmacies, and in Lewis by Maurice Dion, Druggist, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.

THE LAW OFFICER

The Law Officer in English-speaking countries is a very different person from an officer of the law and, broadly speaking, is usually the Attorney-General and his various assistants or the Solicitor-General and his various assistants. The two offices in a general way are alike on both sides of the Atlantic, but there is this difference: for a very long time, if not always, in the United States, neither the Attorney-General nor the Solicitor-General has been allowed to do any private work nor hold any briefs save those for the federal government, and this rule has been followed in the various states, its reason being one of a sound public policy most necessary perhaps in a republic.

On the other hand, in Great Britain, the law officers have been allowed to hold briefs in private cases, as anyone acquainted with the English reports knows, and at times their emoluments have been enormous. But there is this to be noted in regard to the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General: not only do they receive salaries as legal advisers to the Crown, but receive fees for the "contentious" work in addition. Taking then these three sources of income together, we can see that the fee-bucks would tell a rich and splendid story, although it must be conceded that these offices are "two of the hardest worked men in the government." It is stated that Sir John Simon, during his last year as Attorney-General, earned some £20,000, a very respectable showing. At the beginning of the great war, Lord Birkenhead, then Sir Frederick Smith and the Solicitor-General made an arrangement by which the income of each Law Officer suffered a diminution of some £2,000 though the House of Commons was given to understand that this arrangement was only for the duration of the war. It is now being mooted that these emoluments be raised to the level of the days before the war, and the question has given rise to the usual discussion.

One thing is certain: there is nothing to be gained.

ing democratic about low salaries and equally that low pay too often means indifferent quality of work and mediocrity of character and ability in the official a fact proved plainly enough in the many states that have an elective judiciary with small salaries. This is a fact that the average man is unwilling to recognize, but if the public intelligence increases, it may be grasped after a while.

A WEALTHY NEGRO.

Topeka, Kans., August 11 — George W. Jones, a well-to-do negro of Jefferson county, where he has lived for 56 years, recently distributed some of his estate among his ten children. He sent them a check for $1,000 each. Three of his children live in Topeka. Jones was born a slave in Montgomery county, Ky., in 1845. When the Emancipation Proclamation freed the slaves he was owned by a Platt, county, Mo., farmer. A year later he went to Jefferson county, Kansas and took up a homestead. He is considered one of the successful farmers of the county.
