NORTON GRIFFITHS SPEAKS AT MONTREAL

OUTLINES PROGRESS IN BRITAIN TOWARDS IDEA OF IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The progress of the movement in Britain towards the idea of an Imperial Parliament was outlined before the Canadian Club here today by J. Norton Griffiths, Unionist M.P. for Wednesday, England. "There have been many suggestions," he said, "as to the method of creating an Imperial council, and once public opinion throughout the British Empire is convinced that an Imperial constitution must be written, it will not be long before a clear and cohesive proposition will be laid before the people. Our present aim is to have the whole Empire united in demanding such a council for their protection and their welfare."

"I am not going to tread on forbidden ground today, but many people in this country have asked me what is the real position in the navy. Are we facing danger or are we not? Now could an Imperial council, unaffected by party bias, have given the true lead and told the Empire really the truth." He had no hesitation in saying that the critics of the world realized that in naval matters we were going through one of the most critical periods in our history. Behind security and strength lay cheap money and prosperity. The British Empire had always had cheap money because of her naval strength. He added that had there been a serious cabinet crisis on the naval question the decrease in the Bank of England rate during the recent discussion in the press would not have taken place.

MONTREAL'S MORALITY SQUAD KEPT BUSY

Montreal, Feb. 2.—During 1913 the morality squad working under Inspector O'Keefe, made 2,006 arrests. They raided 281 disorderly houses, in which they arrested 941 women and 570 men. Six gambling houses were raided in which 82 arrests were made, while there were 101 convictions for keeping "blind pigs" and 82 convictions for keeping liquor for sale without a license.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Belleville, Ont., Feb. 2.—Fred J. Hall, a Grand Trunk Railway employe, who has been but a few months resident of this city, was today arrested here and taken to Montreal on a charge of bigamy. In Montreal in July last, he married Miss Beatrice Snulchey, of that city. It now transpires that wife No. 1 is still living and the parties had not been divorced. The accused is 27 years old and the second wife is but 20 years of age.

HEAVY FINES FOR ALASKA COMPANIES

Juneau, Alaska, Feb. 2.—Fines aggregating $28,000 were imposed here today on six corporations which pleaded guilty to discriminations in restraint of trade and conspiracy to monopolize wharf facilities at Skagway Alaska. Cases against the officers of the corporations, who also were defendants were dismissed. The defendant companies with their fines were as follows: Pacific and Arctic Railway and Navigation Company, controlling the White Pass route, $2,000; Skagway Wharf Company, $10,000; Pacific Steamship Company, $5,250; Alaska Steamship Company, $5,000; Canadian Pacific Steamship Company, $3,500; Pacific Coast Company, holding company, $1,250. The Humboldt Steamship Company was the complainant.

DEMOCRATS ARE TIRED OF MURPHY

THINK HIM TO BLAME FOR DEPLORABLE CONDITION OF THE PARTY.

New York, Feb. 2.—A meeting of the National Democratic Club ended in disorder tonight after a resolution demanding that Charles F. Murphy be retired from the leadership of Tammany Hall, on the ground that he was responsible for the "present deplorable condition of the Democratic party," was declared to have been adopted on an aye and nay vote. When the chairman announced the result of the vote the Murphy partisans and those favoring his retirement started a demonstration against each other. Fists were shaken freely, threats were made and hard names used. There was a lot of shoving and hustling and it was fully ten minutes before a semblance of order were restored.

DEBATE ESTIMATES FOR AGRICULTURE

ITEM OF $27,000 FOR DAIRY INDUSTRY AROUSES DISCUSSION.

With the exception of concurrence in Council amendments to a number of private bills of a minor nature and the adoption of several motions the sitting of the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon was devoted to discussion on an item of the Agricultural Estimates of $27,000 towards the encouragement of the Dairy Industry generally.

In the course of the discussion there was reference to the breeding of cattle, the demonstration train which circulates through the Province teaching scientific agriculture, and other subjects. Mr. J. M. Tellier, Leader of the Opposition, remarked that it would be more practical if the Government instead of embodying instructive articles on agricultural questions in voluminous reports which are seldom read, should have such articles reproduced in daily newspapers.

The item was not passed and when the House adjourned at 6 o'clock it was reported with progress.

LIGHTHOUSE DESERTED.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Feb. 2.—The Earl Grey, which left Pictou at 7 a.m. today went a considerable distance out of her course to call at Amet Island, a message having been received from Pictou on Sunday that a flag of distress was flying from the island. A doctor was taken on board at Pictou in the event of sickness being in the family of the lighthouse keeper. When the steamer reached there today the lighthouse was found deserted but the flag was still flying. It is understood the keeper and his wife who were ill had landed at Malagash before the steamer arrived. The Grey is stuck in the Straits and did not reach Georgetown tonight.

STORM-TOSSED SCHOONERS ARRIVE AT HALIFAX.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 2.—Two storm-tossed vessels made port here today. The schooner Lawson arrived with loss of sails, and her commander, Captain Digon injured. In a gale off the coast a big sea swept him off the forward house against the sail, smashing three of his ribs. The Gloucester fishing schooner Georgia put in rudderless, the vessel having been steered into port by her sails only. She will repair here.

Illness of Accused Affects Scope of Inquiry

MR. MOUSSEAU NOT ABLE TO TESTIFY BEFORE COMMITTEE

Inability "May Be For Years And It May Be For Ever"—Case Showing Similar Symptoms Ended In Asylum, Says Member's Physician

An altogether new feature was added to the investigation of the charges of corruption against members of the Quebec Legislature when Dr. Adelstan DeMartigny, of Montreal, appeared as witness before the Committee of Enquiry of the Legislative Assembly last night to explain why Mr. J. Octave Mousseau, the accused ex-member for Soulanges, was not present in response to a subpoena which had been served on him.

Dr. DeMartigny explained that he had attended Mr. Mousseau twice a day for the last five days, and that the patient was in a grievous state of health, which he described as being between unconsciousness and coma. It might also be termed, he said, as "choc cerebral," or in English as nervous prostration. Mr. Mousseau was not in a condition to be examined before the committee or even at his home, and he could not say if the patient would recover in some months or if he would ever recover. He took no nourishment and evinced no interest in his surroundings. He also added that Mrs. Mousseau was in a state of prostration somewhat similar to that of her husband.

Mr. Lavergne remarked that he had seen such scenes acted on the stage and when the doctor said that the patient did not evince any interest in his surroundings, the member for Montmagny asked if they had shown him any money.

COUNCILLORS PRESENT.

Hon. Messrs. Berard and Bergevin, the two members of the Legislative Council who are accused, were present before the committee, and both of them bore visible traces of the strain which they are undergoing due to the charges which are hanging over them. They did not remain long in the committee room, as they were told that they would not be required at that sitting.

BECK'S EVIDENCE IN.

Mr. Beck's evidence was continued after Dr. DeMartigny had been heard and his testimony completed last night. He was asked, however, to remain in the city as he might be required to give further evidence before the committee.

No new features came out in Mr. Beck's testimony last night, as he was not permitted to give the names of members of the Upper House, which he said had been mentioned in Mr. Mousseau's conversations. He said that he was unable to give the exact or approximate cost of the organization conducted by the Burns' Agency, and thought that the only man able to do that would be Mr. Lorne McGibbon, who had financed the affair.

At the close of the sitting Mr. Appleby, one of the Burns' men, was called, but he did not respond to his name. A telegram was read from Mr. Biddinger stating that the witnesses had left New York last night.

The committee then adjourned until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

De Martigny Appears.

At the opening of the sitting of the Investigation Committee last night Mr. Aime Geoffrion, K.C., representing Mr. J. O. Mousseau, ex-member for Soulanges, asked that Adelstan De Martigny, of Montreal, be called to the stand to explain the non-appearance of Mr. J. O. Mousseau, in response to the subpoena which had been served on him.

The committee agreed to suspend the hearing of Mr. Edward Beck, and Dr. De Martigny was accordingly interrogated.

Mr. Aime Geoffrion: "Dr. De Martigny, you are a physician practicing in the City of Montreal?"

Dr. De Martigny: "Yes."

Mr. Aime Geoffrion: "Do you know Mr. J. O. Mousseau, ex-member for Soulanges?"

Dr. De Martigny: "Yes."

Mr. Aime Geoffrion: "Were you called to attend him during the past few days?"

Dr. De Martigny: "Yes."

Mr. Aime Geoffrion: "What is his present state of health?"

Dr. De Martigny: "He is in that state which may be described as being between unconsciousness and coma."

Mr. Geoffrion: "Is he in a condition to appear here?"

Dr. De Martigny: "Absolutely not."

Mr. Geoffrion: "Would his condition permit of his examination at home?"

Dr. De Martigny: "No."

Mr. Geoffrion: "Is there any means of saying when he would be in a condition to be examined?"

May Never Appear.

Dr. De Martigny: "I do not know Mr. Mousseau very well, his constitution or powers of resistance, but I have been told by his friends that he is a proud sensitive man, and his present condition may last for months, and even for ever."

Dr. De Martigny then cited a case of a patient similarly affected, who had finally to be confined to an insane asylum.

In reply to a query from Hon. Mr. Taschereau, the witness said that his patient was grievously ill, dangerously ill, and he was not sure whether he would live or die. He had seen him twice a day for the last five days, and the fact that Mrs. Mousseau was practically in a similar state of prostration to her husband obliged him to seek information concerning Mr. Mousseau from friends.

Hunger Strike.

The patient persistently refused to take any nourishment, did not sleep, and understood absolutely nothing. He did not speak, and his only movement was to place his hand on his heart.

To Mr. Bisaillon, K.C., representing Messrs. Nichols and Macnab, the witness said that if the patient persisted in refusing nourishment he would surely die. On Sunday, which was his best day, he took nothing but four glasses of water. The witness went on to describe how he had spoken soothingly to the patient, telling him that things were going better. The only response was a shudder, and large tears trickled down the patient's face, but he could not speak.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "What consequences would result if he were examined?"

Dr. De Martigny: "He would not be able to understand difficult questions."

Fears He May Die.

To Mr. Aime Geoffrion the witness stated that if the patient in his present condition were able to understand the questions asked him, it might have very grave results, for when he had spoken to him soothingly, he showed such emotion that he was afraid the patient would die. He said that he was not his regular physician, and that he had been called in by a friend

THE REQUISITION OF MAYOR DROUIN

HON. MESSRS. TASCHEREAU, MACKENZIE AND DELAGE SIGN IT.

Editor Quebec Chronicle, Sir:—In the course of my remarks in St. Peter's Hall, on Sunday last, I mentioned the fact that my lists had been signed by three members of the Provincial Cabinet, namely Messrs. Devlin, Taschereau and Mackenzie. I had received such information from my canvassers. I now find that my statement was accurate as regards Messrs. Taschereau and Mackenzie. Hon. Mr. Devlin, however, who is ill at home, did not sign my list which was not presented to him. I hasten to correct an erroneous statement which was purely unintentional. I may add that in addition to the two above-mentioned ministers, Hon. Mr. Delage, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, has also signed my list.

I beg to remain; Yours very truly,
(Signed) NAP. DROUIN

WESTMOUNT TO HAVE A NEW CITY HALL.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The City of Westmount tonight decided on the purchase of a block of 80,377 square feet of land on Sherbrooke street for $150,000 for a new City Hall, light office, fire and police station. This is subject to approval by the ratepayers. The buildings will cost another $150,000.

ENGLISHMAN ADMITS COMMITTING MURDER

MAN IN PETERBORO CONFESSES TO CRIME DONE IN WILTSHIRE.

Peterboro, Ont., Feb. 2.—This afternoon at 2.30 an Englishman giving the name of Alfred Kimberly, and aged 28 years, entered the police station and requested to be placed under arrest for the murder of a woman. He confessed to having committed the crime in Wiltshire several years ago. He told how he and another man had killed the woman and hidden her body behind a hedge. He was held.

FORGET ATTACKED BY APPENDICITIS

CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY—NO OPERATION WILL BE NECESSARY.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Sir Roderic Forget, M.P., is confined to his house here through an attack of appendicitis. His condition tonight was reported as very satisfactory and the doctors say no operation will be necessary.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY

ABLE TO SIT UP
Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 2.—Jas. Lesboth the distinguished patients in Toronto General Hospital, Sir James Whitney and Sir George Ross, showed decided improvement today. For the first time since he was stricken down Sir James sat up in a chair to-day. Sir George Ross also was reported improved. Both patients took nourishment well.

"You've your Valentines out, I see," remarked the Oracle, as he came in this morning. "When is St. Valentine's Day? The fourteenth. I always thought it was the day before Ash Wednesday. Don't know where I got the idea. Isn't it peculiar the way you'd get an impression and how it sticks to you after. Used to have an uncle who was the most impressionable man I ever saw. Once he had an idea, there was no shaking it. When he was young, he got the impression that working between meals was bad for the health, so he took good care of his health as long as his money lasted. Then when he was obliged to go to work to support himself, the impression was still so strong with him that he quickly sickened and died. The doctor called it a case of aggravated impression. Well, so long—Windy today."

Impressions do not stick, but fortunately this holds for good as well as bad ones. We wish to make only good ones and for that reason are offering you today.

QUEBEC, FEBRUARY 3, 1914.

A BIG PROGRAMME

If the present session of Parliament does not develop any outstanding issue—and with the navy bill out of the way for the time being that seems rather unlikely—it will, at least, be remembered as a session when business of importance to the country was much advanced.

If the present session brought nothing else than a parcel post system for Canada it could well lay claim to being historic. There is probably no measure brought down in the last ten years which will more quickly and more directly affect every Canadian than this splendid measure for which Hon. L. P. Pelletier may properly claim the honor.

The completeness with which every detail of the plan has been worked out is a tribute to the energy and ability of the Postmaster-General. He has given months of care to its details. And in connection with parcel post he was able to make an arrangement with the railways for the carriage of mails generally which must be regarded as a great triumph for the Government.

Announcement has already been made of several very important bills which will be before the Commons. These include acts relating to trust and loan companies, coming from the finance department and supplementing the Bank Act of last session.

From Hon. Martin Barrill's department it is expected that there will be acts regulating cold storage and consolidating and amending the Dairy Act. Other large acts which will be reviewed and consolidated this year are the Railway Act, the Shipping Act and the Fisheries Act.

When these important revisions are added to the ordinary legislation that marks the ordinary session, it is plain that Canada's lawmakers at Ottawa will have their time fully employed between now and May 24, when the session may be expected to be well over.

POLITICAL STRINGENCY

Well informed financiers are now practically unanimous that the period of financial stringency is over, and that easy money will be the outstanding feature of the year. Some reliable financial journals predict that the money market will be easy throughout the whole of 1914 and 1915. This will be all news to the Ottawa Opposition. They do not want Canadian prosperity, they want a policy, and "blue ruin" was the only one in sight.

LIKE KILLING INSECTS.

When a slender youth of peaceful mien confesses to having set off some seventeen or eighteen bombs and assisted with as many more, saying that murder to him was just the same as killing an insect, the first impulse is to call his story the bravado of a romancing degenerate.

But the story, told in a New York court last week fits the truth. It describes the methods of the bomb planters and their callousness. By placing bombs again and again in crowded tenements at night, and in one instance within a few feet of a packed moving picture theatre, they have shown a disregard of death and suffering as absolute as the young man's words imply. His story is confirmed by that of another informer as ruthless as himself. It squares with well-known and admitted facts.

THE DISARMAMENT FALLACY.

Rear Admiral Mahan of the United States navy presents a view upon the "fallacies of disarmament" in an able article in the Army and Navy Journal of the Philippines. Men are apt, he says, to look upon war as a fortuitous evil, regardless of its being a manifestation of deep-seated causes which must be removed if the effect is to be obviated.

Arms are the organization and consecration of force as a factor in the maintenance of justice, order and peace. It is the highest expression of that element in civilization—force—which has created and now upholds society, giving efficacy to the pronouncements of law whether of the Legislature or of the courts. Organized force alone enables the quiet and the weak to go about their business and to sleep securely, safe from the assaults of violence from within and without.

Nations, says the admiral, have the same need for quiet that the individual feels and the necessity is the more urgent by so much as the welfare of millions exceeds that of the individual. Arbitration he sets aside as incompetent to pronounce in a large minority of cases—if not an actual majority—upon the conflicting claims of nations. It is incompetent, sometimes because there is no existing law applicable; sometimes because such law as does exist is far behind the necessities of the case.

KEEP THE MOUNTED POLICE.

Owing to the advance of civilization in the West there seems to be an impression in certain quarters that the work of the Mounted Police is nearly complete and there has even been a suggestion that the corps should be disbanded. Quite the opposite, however, is the case. Of the immigration pouring into the three Prairie Provinces much is of a character requiring constant vigilance in the repression of crime, while the continual opening up of new sections of the country by railway construction correspondingly widens the sphere of operations.

And so it is found that for a nomadic and practically ubiquitous means of impressing upon all and sundry the majesty of law, the need, instead of becoming less, is growing greater than ever. The nature of the work may have changed; its volume is at least undiminished.

The force today numbers 763, of whom 55 are officers. This is an increase of 109 over last year. In Saskatchewan there are now 390 men, in Alberta 290, in the Northwest Territories 12, in New Manitoba 22, and in the Yukon 49. The number of cases dealt by the police shows how busy they are kept. In Saskatchewan there were last year 7,050 cases, in Alberta 5,626, in Manitoba 154, and in the Yukon 193. The total number of convictions was 12,985, as compared with 11,435 in the previous year. Of murders there were 44. There were over two thousand cases of vagrancy.

If, throughout the length and breadth of our great northwest, the British flag means law and order, and the same security of life and property as in the more densely peopled east, the credit must be given to this magnificent force established by Sir John Macdonald as minister of the interior while everything western was in its infancy. Among the traditions of this force is the story of the transfer of Sitting Bull from American to Canadian custody. The ferocious old Indian, after the Custer massacre, had surrendered to the American army, on condition that he should be allowed to retire to the territory of the "great mother," Queen Victoria. When taken with his braves to the border line by an American regiment, the general was surprised to find, waiting to receive the prisoners simply one man on horseback. "Where is your army?" asked the American commander. "I have none," said the Canadian officer. "Then how do you expect to control these men?" Pointing to his tunic, the Canadian said, "I wear the British scud." That was quite enough. Knowing what he represented, the Indians went off with their keeper as meek as lambs.

A Liberal senator is quoted as denouncing the tempting of public men to accept bribes in order that they may be entrapped, as is alleged to have been done by Burns detectives in the case of one or more Quebec legislators. If the charges in the lower province are sustained, they will convey a wholesome lesson to every part of the country where knowledge of the incidents reaches. No one will rejoice in the exposure of a public man as a grafter. The newspaper men who are behind the charges do doubt have not acted because they desired to injure anyone in particular. But it seems to be regarded as necessary that these exposures shall be made from time to time in order that the crime of graft may not be permitted to grow beyond control. Legislators are human, and need to be constantly upon their guard. The temptations which come to them directly and indirectly are probably many. Moreover, the public are entitled to protection. If a servant of the people will accept a bribe offered to him by a detective whom he does not recognize, is it not fairly to be presumed that he will also sell out in a case where the public interests will suffer? Why then show sympathy for the exposed grafter, even though the temptation which comes to him is "framed up?"—London Free Press.

PRESS COMMENT.

The second volume of the report of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Education has just been issued in proof form, and is made up of reports of the inquiry conducted by the commission of which Dr. James W. Robertson is chairman, in England, Scotland, Ireland, Denmark and France. An important chapter relates to trade classes and trades unions, and shows the methodical manner in which restricted classes cater for every trade and industry, and how students in these schools are specially instructed in the vocation they will make their life's work. In the evening schools in London the trade classes are open only to those in the trade—workmen or apprentices—and that is really an agreement with the trades unions. This means that only a bricklayer can join in a bricklayers' class; the hardware man is not allowed to join the plumbers' class, and so on. If a boy or a man wants some training in woodwork, but is not a carpenter, he cannot join the carpenters' class, but is put in the manual training class, where there is only woodworking with tools. For fifteen years the council has had very little trouble with trades unions. It does not matter whether a pupil belongs to the union or not, but he must be in the trade. The council judges how many the trade can absorb, and trains about that number in that trade for local absorption. It is noteworthy, however, that the educational council does not take the stand that it is not right to train pupils for other places, such as the dominions and colonies, because of the expense to London itself; on the contrary, it would be very glad if a boy trained by these schools were able to become an adept in his trade in Calgary, for example. As a rule, however, the students attending these classes in either of the countries named have no thought of getting employment anywhere except near their homes. The same rule that applies to trades is equally applicable to professions, and art is taught in its application to architecture and town planning, whilst at the same time art courses in close relation to trade are specialized in reference to lithography, color, display and ornamental printing, to enable England and the other countries successfully to compete in these branches of industry with Germany and the United States. These reports should be carefully perused by Canadian educators, for they contain much that will be useful alike for inspiration and imitation.—Calgary News-Herald.

Why should a party of militant suffragettes insist on carrying their grievances over the forcible feeding of prisoners of their class in British jails to the Archbishop of Canterbury? Why should they lay siege to Lambeth Palace and resent being put off with the calm reply that the head of the Church of England would take the matter under consideration, and at any rate must hear both sides? The English Primate is not the British Government. He is not in charge of the prisons. Did any of the highly excited suffragettes who clamored at his door imagine that he could overrule the Government authorities and deprive them of their powers as he might a priest of the Church? It would have been more to the point if the Archbishop had asked why these suffragettes were in jails where they were forcibly fed. For committing arson? For using dynamite bombs to blow up people's houses? For what crimes? Possibly it occurred to him, as it has to most other people with a grain of common sense, that the best way for suffragettes to stop forcible feeding would be for suffragettes under sentence to eat the food presented to them, or, better still, to quit their criminal methods and keep out of jail by behaving themselves decently, like so many other men and women who believe in equal suffrage and carry on their agitation in lawful ways.—New York World.

PAINFUL AND SCALY PIMPLES

Like Boils, Worst on Face. Watery When Rubbed. Also Hands Cracked and Smarted. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Main St., Eye-Brow, Sask.—"I was bothered with small pimples similar to little boils for four or five years. They were all over me but worst on my face. Of course they gave me a bad appearance. The pimples were both painful and itchy so I scratched till quite large sores would be the result and they seemed to be very watery after I rubbed them to a sore. My face was very scarred during the time it was sore. "I was troubled with sore hands most all winter for two years. They kept cracked till they would be bleeding, and they smarted and were so sore I could hardly bear to get them wet. "Upon using Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised I thought there would be no harm in trying them so I started with a small sample. I purchased a full-sized case of Cuticura Soap also a box of Cuticura Ointment and before I had quite finished this I saw I was lots better so the second case of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment was purchased. But little was used when I was entirely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Wm. Dickson, May 23, 1913. For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Ointment have been the world's favorite for more than a generation. A single set is often sufficient. GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, January, 1814 and 1914.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Kirby On Canadian Literature. In these columns 30 years ago, appeared an interesting article by Wm. Kirby the author of "Le Chien d'Or" on Canadian Literature, of which the following are some extracts: It was asked some time ago, "Is there such a thing as Canadian literature?" The answer was: "Yes! There is not only a Canadian literature but there are two Canadian literatures, each a noble scion of its respective mother tongue, the English branch of it contributing an affluent to the great stream of English speech that now encircles the earth. The other, the French branch of it, older, fuller and still more characteristic of its province, has taken complete possession of its own domain, where it shines with no borrowed light, but by its own lustre, un vrai enfant du sol, owing little to modern French literature, but all to its own native energy and genius. Has already received high honor, and is destined to receive still higher from the masters of the French language, in its European home.

Crowned by the French Academy.

The unique and altogether pure poetry of Lower Canada has been crowned by the French Academy and has done much to create that new interest which has been awakened in France towards her ancient Colony. French-Canadian literature is full of the spirit of its own people, and is warm with the affections that spring from a native soil.

JESUIT PRIESTS RELEASED BY CHINESE BANDITS.

Shanghai, Feb. 2.—The Jesuit priests Fathers Allain and Taille, who were captured by bandits, when they sacked and burned the town of Luan-Chow, recently, have been released and have reached a place of safety. At the time the two priests were seized, Father Rich, a French Jesuit missionary, was killed.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Have the Arms of the U. S. Failed?

In this column yesterday appeared a criticism of the conduct of the war by Mr. Murfree, of N. C. Now we have Mr. Wright of Md. asking the above question. Have we not on the contrary been marvelous successful? We have gained a province taken from us. Is that nothing? Lake Erie, a great inland sea, occupied by the enemy at the commencement of the campaign, and all the shores are ours. We conquered and took the army of the enemy in that quarter; we reduced all the Indian tribes under the yoke of the United States and compelled them to beg for subsistence for their wives and children from us. Here there is a whole country emancipated from the British sway. Yes, sir, we regained a province we had lost and conquered all Canada to the east end of Lake Ontario. Under a Pike did we not succeed in taking York? did we not succeed entirely in everything—previous to the close of the campaign? On Lake Ontario the great Yeo, who was to conquer us with so much facility, was driven into port, and we were in possession of all the waters of the Lake with the exception of the waters in the vicinity of Kingston. Even now our troops are lying at the Key of Canada, and ready to descend to Montreal the moment the season permits.

KNIGHT CONGRATULATES RUSSELL.

Just before leaving for England Mr. Chas. Y. Knight, the inventor of the Knight engine, wired Mr. Russell, the General Manager of the Russell Company, his heart-felt congratulations on the results of the test which has just been concluded at the Russell works.

Canada has done her part in contributing to the world's motor records for the results of the 300-hour test; just finished justify the claim that the Russell Company are turning out an engine unequalled anywhere in the world. This Russell-Knight engine has established four world's records and Mr. Knight takes it as a matter of personal pride that he had something to do with the designing of this Russell-Knight engine.

LABOR TROUBLES IN SOUTH AFRICA

BILL TO PROHIBIT RETURN OF STRIKE LEADERS GETS FIRST READING.

Capetown, South Africa Feb. 2.—A bill to indemnify the Government for all its acts under martial law and prohibiting the return of the strike leaders recently deported from South Africa, was introduced in the Assembly today by General Jan Christian Smuts, Minister of Defence, and passed its first reading. Prior to this, a labor amendment proposed by Frederic H. Creswell, the acceptance of which would have been equivalent to a vote of censure, was defeated, the Laborites alone supporting it.

The Unionists voted with the Ministerialists in all the divisions. Their spokesman, Sir Thomas Smuts, defined their attitude as "one of suspension of judgment until all the facts are before the House."

General Smuts promised a full explanation of the Government's action when the bill will come up for second reading Wednesday. Mr. Creswell in an impassioned speech, condemned the deportation of the strikers, and declared that the Government had, by its action, struck a blow at the foundations of civil liberty in the country.

EXONERATES GLADSTONE.

London, Feb. 2.—The Postmaster-General, the Rt. Hon. H. L. Samuel, speaking at Harrogate tonight, made reference to the deportation from South Africa of the strike leaders. He declared that no responsibility for this act attached to Viscount Gladstone, the Governor-General, because under the constitution of South Africa, his assent was not required and was not asked.

SCHOONERS COLLIDE.

Woods Hole, Mass., Feb. 2.—The schooners Jane Palmer and Frontenac were in a bow-on collision off Harrogate Shoal today. The former, which was lying at anchor, was shorn off all her headgear, and also lost her jibboom. The Frontenac, crossing the shoals on her voyage from Jacksonville for Boston, was also damaged but was able to proceed.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

SUICIDE ATTEMPT PROVES FAILURE

MAN STABBED HIMSELF WITH POCKET KNIFE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

In what was apparently a fit of insanity, Henri Bilodeau, who is thought to hail from a place along the line of the C. P. R. between here and Montreal, tried to end his earthly existence by stabbing himself twice in the abdomen with a pocket knife in his room in the Canada Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The hotel, which is situated on Henderson street, opposite the C. P. R. Station, is conducted by Mr. Jean Bouchard, who, becoming anxious as to what was keeping Bilodeau in his room so long entered the apartment about 2:30 p.m. to find the unfortunate man stretched on a bed and a pen-knife close by stained with blood. The hotel-keeper immediately summoned the police who, in turn, called for the ambulance and the would-be suicide was conveyed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital where he now lies.

The authorities at this hospital think they will be in a better position to pronounce on Bilodeau's chances of recovery later on in the day.

When the victim was found, he was conscious and remarked when questioned, that he had stabbed himself but his reasons for his attempt on his own life were vague.

Mr. Bouchard, the hotel-keeper told The Chronicle that, Bilodeau is aged about forty-five and came to his hotel on Saturday last. He was assigned a room in the usual way, but, judging from his speech at times, he did not seem to have the proper use of his mental faculties. During the course of his conversation, Bilodeau said that he was separated from his wife.

PRIVATE OFFER FOR TARA HALL

LITERARY SOCIETY MAY RE-BUILD IF BIDS ARE NOT HIGH ENOUGH.

A meeting of the St. Patrick's Literary and Historical Society will be held in their rooms, Ann street, this evening for the purpose of considering a private offer, said to be $8,500 for the Society's property, known as Tara Hall, situated on St. Ann street.

The property was put up at auction sale yesterday morning at an upset price of $9,500, but as the highest bid only reached $7,500, the property was withdrawn from sale. Later a private offer, rumored to be $8,500 was made and it was decided to consider the offer at a meeting to be held this evening.

Mr. Thos. Delaney, president of the St. Patrick's Literary Institute, speaking to a Chronicle reporter last evening, stated that in the event of a satisfactory price not being made, the Institute would rebuild on the ground formerly occupied by the Tara Hall as he considered the site was too valuable to be left unused.

MECHANICS WANTED AT RUSSELL PLANT.

One result of the 300-hour engine test which has been concluded at the Russell factory is the demand for more workmen to build Russell-Knight engines and cars. An increased demand for "Russells" has followed the earlier announcements, for the results have gone to show that the Russell engine is unequalled for power and efficiency at all speeds. Workmen are needed at once, but only first-class machinists of the highest type can hope to find employment.

ST. MICHAEL'S PARISH.

The first of a series of Missionary meetings organized by the W. A. of this parish, will be held on Wednesday, the 4th inst., at the Mountain School House (two minutes' from the terminus of the Sillery cars), at 8.00 p.m.

The special speaker will be Mr. W. H. Wiggs, of Quebec, who will give an illustrated lecture on the missions of the church. A collection will be taken up in aid of the sons of the W. A.

Light refreshments will be served gratis. All are most cordially invited.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A QUEBECER AT THE 500

A telegram received here announces the sudden death at Sault Ste Marie of Malcolm Duval, of this city. Death was caused by heart failure. Deceased was a son of the late Captain Pierre Duval, of No. 5 Fire Station, and brother of Mr. P. Duval, assistant superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph. The body will arrive here this morning.

PLEASING EVENT IN THE COURT OF KING'S BENCH.

The Court of King's Bench (Appeal side), opened its February term yesterday morning, with Chief Justice Sir Horace Archambault presiding, Hon. Justices Carroll, Lavergne, Tremblay and Gervais being also on the Bench.

Address to the Chief Justice.

Shortly after the Court opened, Chief Justice Archambault was the recipient of an address from the members of the Quebec Bar upon the honor which had been conferred upon him by His Majesty the King, who recently bestowed upon the Chief Justice the honor of knighthood. The address was conveyed to Sir Horace by Mr. Ensebe Belleau, Batonnier of the Bar, who in doing so remarked upon the honor bestowed, which reflected not alone upon the recipient, but also upon the judiciary. The honor was well deserved, Mr. Belleau said by Sir Horace's loyalty, talents, probity and merits.

Sir Horace made a feeling reply, thanking the Bar for its kindly congratulations and good wishes.

There was a large attendance of the members of the Bar.

The Court then proceeded to business, and took up the case of the C. N. Railway Company vs. Valliere. This case is in regard to the expropriation of certain property in Limoilou, required by the railway company, and upon which Mr. Valliere was awarded in the lower court, a sum of $32,000.

The following judgments were delivered by the Prothonotary yesterday morning:

Gauvreau vs. Lemarier.—Judgment against defendant, for $100,000, interest and costs.

A. B. Dupuis, Limited, vs. Labine.—Defendant is condemned to pay plaintiff $135.59, with costs.

Desilets et al. vs. Robitaille et al.—Judgment against defendants, jointly and severally, for $515.40, interest and costs.

Trepanier vs. Lee.—Judgment in plaintiff's favor for $141.05, interest and costs.

Racine vs. Marcoux.—Judgment against defendant for $138.84, interest and costs.

Delle, Maud Aubert vs. James McCone, Quebec.—$300.00 damages.

Georges Gagne vs. Edmond Bouchard et al.—$145.50, damages, Quebec.

Etienne Genest vs. Wincelas Lacroix St. Romuald.—$1,400.00, obligation.

Philibert Langlois vs. Ephrem Audet, St. Lazare.—$325.00, damages.

BUSINESS FAIR AT THE RECORDER'S COURT

Eight prisoners, charged with drunkenness, appeared before the Recorder yesterday. Two were condemned to fine of $10 and costs or one month's jail each; four, $5 and costs or two days' jail and one was discharged. Files Turco, a motorman on the street railway, charged with carrying a revolver, was fined $25 and costs, or one month. He was subsequently sent to the Court of Sessions to answer another charge.

GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE.

The young man arrested last week on the charge of robbing his employer, Mr. Joseph Cote, Cigar and Tobacco dealer, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday and pleaded guilty, as his employer did not wish to prosecute. Judge Anger, who presided, read the young man a severe lecture, and gave him his liberty on a suspended sentence.

CONFERENCE ABOUT FIVE O'CLOCK TRAIN

C. P. R. OFFICIALS DISCUSS MATTER WITH THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Messrs. George Hodge, General Superintendent, R. W. McCormack, District Superintendent, Emile J. Hebert, First Assistant Passenger Manager, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived in the city yesterday to confer with the Council of the Quebec Board of Trade regarding the five o'clock evening passenger train, running between Quebec and Montreal, that was discontinued at the end of January. It will be remembered that the Board of Trade at its recent general meeting, protested against the cancellation of this train, which was recognized as a necessary accommodation by the business men of Quebec and Montreal, and by them well patronized.

At the close of the Board meeting, the context of a resolution adopted was wired to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C. P. R., with the result that the three mentioned C. P. R. officials were dispatched to Quebec to meet the Board.

The conference took place yesterday afternoon at the Board Room, where the Council was convened to receive the visitors, who were introduced by Mr. G. J. P. Moore, City and District C. P. R. Passenger Agent resident at Quebec. The members of the Council of the Board present were Mr. J. G. Picard, President; Messrs. J. G. Scott and O. W. Bedard, Vice-Presidents; W. J. Banks, Treasurer; Messrs. John T. Ross, J. H. Fortier, E. T. Nesbitt, C. Noreau, Napoleon Kirouac, J. H. Gignac and Secretary T. Levasseur.

After the formality of introduction, the members of the Council in discussing the reasons why the 5 o'clock train should not be cancelled by the Company, and gave reasons in support of their argument. The C. P. R. officials, in answer, made it clear that the Company would only be too pleased to continue the running of the train, which was cancelled for the simple reason that it was not a paying proposition, and in support of their contention, placed facts and figures before the meeting.

The Council members suggested that one of the three other trains, the 8.30 a.m., 1.30 p.m. or 11.30 p.m., could be taken off the service to continue the running of the 5 o'clock train, and suggested that the 1.30 p.m. train could be discontinued.

It was shown by the officials that the 1.30 p.m. train was one that was the most patronized, besides this train was specially kept on the line on account of the Western connections.

Mr. J. G. Scott pointed out that in this case the 1.30 p.m. train from Montreal could be taken off, as there were no connections to consider when this train reached Quebec, and a 5 o'clock train from Montreal to Quebec placed on the running instead.

The following telegram message, received from the Three Rivers Board of Trade, was read:

Three Rivers, Feb. 2, 1914.

President Board of Trade, Quebec:

Understand Messrs. Hodge and Hebert meet you today re 5 o'clock train service. The continuing of this train is of great importance to Three Rivers business men. Notify deputation you have our support.

Three Rivers Board of Trade.

It was finally agreed that the officials on their return to Montreal would take the matter into consideration, and promised that the 5 o'clock train would be re-established on May 1st, or perhaps April 1st, provided their recommendations met with approval, and in the course of a few days they would wire the Quebec Board of Trade the Company's official decision.

One of the members of the Council drew the attention of the visiting officials to the smoking car on the 1.30 p.m. passenger train, which he said was one-half a car, and besides its smallness, the smoke found its way into the other half occupied by non-smokers, which was a nuisance.

Mr. Hebert said this matter had already been brought to his attention and a change would be made.

The meeting was fraught with much good, as it brought the C. P. R. officials and the Quebec Board of Trade together in pleasing intercourse, and the visitors, by their gentlemanly conversation, manifested a desire to please Quebec in any demands made to them within reason.

At the close of the conference, the President of the Board of Trade thanked the officials for their visit and the satisfactory result of the conference.

St. Patrick's expect to do well in this fixture and with more practice, should come out with a victory.

AVIATOR'S NARROW ESCAPE.

New York, Feb. 2.—While Charles O. Niles, a youthful Rochester N.Y. aviator, was making a slight upside down at an altitude of about 3,000 feet over the Hempstead Plains of Long Island today, the gasoline in the engine of his monoplane gave out. Tail first, the machine dropped quickly. Miles remained calm, however, and with dexterity partly righted the monoplane and made a safe landing after a series of spiral dives.

YANKEES TRY TO GET COLE BACK

New York, Feb. 2.—Leonard "King" Cole, who jumped from the New York Americans to the Chicago Federal League Club, was brought to New York tonight by Arthur Irwin, scout for the Yankees. Frank Farrell, President of the local Americans, believes he is legally entitled to Cole's services.

Cole said tonight that he is a Federal Leaguer, but that he wants to do what is right. He came to New York with Irwin, he said, in order to find out where he stood. When asked with which club he would rather play, Cole said he would play where he got the most money. He added that the Federal League was to give him more money than he asked from Farrell.

APPOINTMENT OF KNOX WILL HELP BRITISH ATHLETES

SCOTCH CANADIAN, WHO WILL TRAIN ENGLAND'S OLYMPIC TEAM, A GREAT NATURAL ATHLETE, SAYS ROBERTSON

(By Lawson Robertson, America's Foremost Trainer of Athletes.)

New York, Feb. 2.—England can and does produce track performers in sprinting distances running and occasionally hurdling, but the science that is required in coaching and developing weight throwers, jumpers and vaulters has been sadly neglected there, as may be noticed in the summaries of recent British championships and Olympic games.

When the British Olympic Council after almost two years of deliberation and squabbling about the ethics of Olympic competition, decided to spend $2,000 per year for a trainer they made the best and most practical movement in their campaign to retrieve their lost supremacy as the premier athletic nation by appointing Walter Knox, the Scotch Canadian to take charge of the team for the 1916 Berlin Olympic games.

Knox, a great natural athlete, with sterling performances at sprinting, weight throwing, jumping and vaulting to his credit, has already had one experience handling an Olympic team. He directed the Canadian team at the last Olympic Games at Stockholm and under his guidance the wearers of the Maple Leaf were fairly successful. As an all-round athlete in his day Knox had no superior. His records of 10 seconds for the 100-yard dash, 48 feet with the 16-pound shot, 12 feet 6 inches in the pole vault, 23 feet 8 inches in the running broad jump and 150 feet with the 16-pound hammer have never been equalled by any one man in the history of athletics.

His knowledge of athletics was picked up by practical experience in both amateur and professional competitions and by his coaching various athletic clubs and institutions in this country and Canada.

Rather short in stature, he is heavily built, with powerful legs and abundance of springy muscles. He was very popular with the athletes that made up the last Canadian Olympic team and that he was a strict disciplinarian was shown by his treatment of Howard, a big negro who was his best sprinter. Howard violated some of the training rules and Knox threatened to send him back to Canada without allowing him to start.

When I met Knox in Stockholm he was friendly to all of the members of the American Olympic team and expressed great admiration for the American training methods and said that most of his technical knowledge of athletics was gleaned in the United States.

He regretted that the Canadian team lacked the spirit and organization that was shown by the American boys.

In the course of one of our conversations he said that Melvin Sheppard was the greatest runner he had ever seen, and he prophesied that Shep would be a keen competitor in the Berlin games of 1916.

I saw Knox just after the finish of the Stockholm games and he deplored the miserable showing made by England. He attributed England's defeat not to lack of enthusiasm, but to "stick-in-the-mud" methods of training and to Englishmen's utter inability to realize that science must be used in training for field events.

He pointed out the fact that there were more athletics meetings in Great Britain than there were in any other country in the world and that the value of the prizes induced more athletes to compete, but that the boys in Great Britain had not yet been educated up to the scientific methods of putting the shot, hammer throwing or pole vaulting. He added that it was his opinion that if England would teach its athletes the correct methods in these events she would no doubt regain her lost prestige as an athletic nation.

While Knox has always been considered a great athlete by Americans, he never had a chance to show at his best, as he was declared a professional before he had reached the zenith of his career. He entered to compete in the national championships that were held in Seattle, Wash., in 1909, but got into difficulty with the Amateur Athletic Union authorities and was barred from competition. If he had had a fair try at the all-round record there is little doubt that he would have surpassed even the great record of F. C. Thomson, the Princeton student, who now holds the world's record.

SPRING MEETING OF INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, Feb. 2.—The Spring meeting of the International League will be held in this city Feb. 9. The most important business to come before the meeting will be the adoption of the playing schedule, which already has been prepared and submitted to the club-owners by President Barrow.

LOOK TO FAR WEST FOR FRESH PONIES TO DEFEND TROPHY

AMERICAN POLOISTS MAKING PLANS TO OBTAIN MOUNTS TO USE AGAINST BRITISH PLAYERS.

(By Herbert Reed.)

New York, Feb. 2.—To the Far West custodians of the international polo trophy are looking for fresh horseflesh against the invasion of the Englishmen next June. The search includes most of California and extends even to Honolulu.

Following the procedure of a year ago, it is probable that both the Baldwins of Honolulu and Carleton Burke of Los Angeles will come East in the spring with large strings of mounts, but it must be remembered that some of these big and powerful mounts of a year ago, which were not yet thoroughly schooled and were not really up to the international calibre, are still available.

Chief among the "left-overs," of which little was heard last year, yet with qualities of the utmost promise are Dandy, a big chestnut gelding used by Frank Baldwin—this mount a seven-eighths thoroughbred born and trained in the islands; Romona, a big strong and very fast chestnut mare, and Tipperary Boy, a strong chestnut gelding with four white feet, the two latter familiar already on Los Angeles polo fields under the ownership of Carleton Burke.

Each one of the three is a weight-carrier of the first order, the courageous type of hard-galloping pony that does so much execution in international matches. Two of the ponies purchased in California last year by Thomas Le Boutillier, Merido and Waldrew, are also still available, and there is every prospect that with the additions from the Coast when the Westbury season opens, the Western mounts will be in a majority over the English and Irish ponies that are left to the American string.

John Weber, who had charge of the California string last year, is still counting upon the appearance in the internationals, and in their top form, of both Teddy, a brown gelding with one white foot, and Natalia, a chestnut mare, which, while probably the lightest of the lot, should fit well in one of the forward positions, where a comparatively light rider may appear in the internationals.

Of last year's Far Western and Hawaiian strings, there will also be available Carry-the-News, one of the best mounts for a No. 3 seen on an Eastern polo field; Helen C., a fast bay mare with remarkable stamina, and others which have been through the fire of an international match.

Independent dealers, who are in the business for revenue only, are also preparing for the Eastern season, and will bring with them not fewer than 100 ponies, born and bred largely in the Southwest. This is an element due almost entirely to the international matches, for the picturesque Western breeders made their appearance for the first time at Meadow Brook three years ago, before the matches against Captain Hardress Lloyd's British team. Probably a very small percentage of their string will make the international team, but they will undoubtedly make enough sales in the East to furnish fresh blood for the polo pony strains in evidence at Narragansett, at Piping Rock, Myopia and other Eastern centres.

Since, for the purpose of international matches, the restriction as to size has been waived, and is in force only when the mounts are to be shown in the ring, the unusually large Western mounts—some fully fifteen hands—should have better than an even chance against the best of the Eastern strings. The change in the size of the pony has been due to the change in the pace of the game and in the size of the players. There is, of course, a limit beyond which it is hardly advisable to go, but certain it is that the international mounts, at least so far as the Americans are concerned, will look like hunters compared with the polo ponies of years ago, when the game was just taking hold at Westchester.

ENGLISH FEATHERWEIGHT STOPS FRENCH BOXER.

London, Feb. 2.—"Kid" Lewis, the English featherweight, defeated the Frenchman Paul Til here tonight, in a one-sided contest which was scheduled to go twenty rounds. Lewis had all the better of the fighting, and Til was so badly punished that the referee stopped the bout in the twelfth round.

MATCH POSTPONED.

New York, Feb. 2.—The bout to have been held here on Thursday, Feb. 12, between Packey McFarland, of Chicago, and Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, was postponed today until the first week in March.

AD WOLGAST MAY FIGHT IN ONTARIO.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 2.—Ad Wolgast former lightweight champion, whose recent victories over Charlie White, and Joe Rivers, showed him to possess much of the ability he had as champion until a surgeon's knife stopped him, may fight Patsy Drouillard here on Feb. 18th. Promoter Glasco, this afternoon agreed to pay Ad the same amount of money he paid Packey McFarland, which is more than any fighter ever pulled down in the local arena.

The Company is authorized to act as Trustee, Executor under Will, Assignee, etc., to give Bonds in connection with Judicial Proceedings, and to accept any Financial Agency. As the law of the Province of Quebec does not require Executors to give security for their administration, nor does it oblige them to render accounts to the Courts, the nomination of The Royal Trust Company rather than an individual, as Executor, affords the greatest possible security to Testators. The Company does not die. Its charges are reasonable and its appointment is the best guarantee a Testator can have that his Estate will be honestly and economically managed. The Company will act as Agent and Attorney for Executors already acting, will manage Estates, and will receive free of charge, for safe keeping, sealed Wills in which it is named Executor. The Company is also prepared to receive securities for safe keeping, collection of coupons, etc. Solicitors and Notaries placing business with the Company may be retained to do the legal work in connection with such business. Information and advice may be obtained at the Company's Quebec office, Bank of Montreal Building, St. Peter Street. A. J. NASH, (Manager of the Bank of Montreal), MANAGER IN QUEBEC.

HOUSE ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS

OTTAWA GOVERNMENT GIVES MUCH INFORMATION ON MANY SUBJECTS.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 2.—The House today had its first opportunity of receiving answers to nearly 200 questions which have come on the order paper since the opening of the session. More than three-quarters of them were answered and a vast amount of information of every description and relating to every department was forthcoming.

It was a great day for acquiring information and among the interesting items were the following:

A contract has been let to the Warner and Swaney Company, of Cleveland, for the mechanical part of the great new telescope which the Dominion Government will erect.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IS MUCH PLEASED

H. R. H. SAYS THE STATE BALL WAS A PLEASANT AND MEMORABLE ONE.

The following letter has been received from H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Francois Langelier: (Copy.)

Government House, Ottawa.

31st January, 1914.

Dear Sir Francois:

His Royal Highness the Governor-General commands me to express to you his high appreciation of the manner in which he was received at the recent State Ball in Quebec. The rooms were beautifully decorated, all the arrangements were admirably made, and everything contributed to make the occasion both a pleasant and memorable one. His Royal Highness trusts that you will convey to all those whose hard work contributed to the success of the Ball an expression of his cordial thanks.

Believe me, Yours very sincerely,
G. FARQUHAR,
Lieut.-Colonel,
Governor-General's Secretary.

Provincial Subsidies.

The question of readjusting the Provincial subsidies at the present session is under consideration as is also the appointment of a public prosecutor to act in cases of electoral corruption.

The whole 418 miles of the Hudson Bay Railway has been contracted for. Of this 86 miles has been laid, 56 miles surfaced and 137 miles more has the grading fairly completed. The bridge at Le Pas has been opened since July 13.

Railway Compensation.

Mr. Pelletier informed Mr. Lemieux that the additional compensation to be paid to the railroads for carrying of mail was estimated at $786,000 for 1914-15. This would dispose of all claims including the carriage of parcels post.

Hon. Mr. Oliver was informed that the steamer Karluk of the Stefansson expedition was last heard from at Point Barrow on October 30th. It was supposed to be frozen in the ice but had drifted out on September 23. Before sailing, the vessel had been thoroughly inspected and was believed to be in good shape.

Stefansson had notified the Government that he would undertake other exploration work.

Canadian Naval Service.

Mr. A. K. McLean, was informed that the Canadian Naval Service now consists of 45 officers, 19 midshipmen and 246 petty officers and men. On the Niobe, there are 14 officers and 153 petty officers and men. The total cost of the Niobe last year was $317,881. The total cost of the administration of the Naval Service Department was $2,364,322. Mr. Boulay was informed that the 548 of the enlisted men who had left the service divided as follows: Dead 9, no longer required 57, time expired 100, purchased 18, invalided 21, desertions 241.

Fenian Raid Bounties.

The Minister of Militia told Mr. Boivin that 3,045 requests for Fenian Raid bounties had been refused and that 14,337 applications were under consideration. Mr. Sinclair asked if it was intended to make provision for payment of the bounty to widows of veterans who died prior to April 1st, 1912. Col. Hughes replied: "The Act will be amended if necessary to meet every case not settled yet. A total of 34,050 veterans have applied for the bounty."

Fielding Without Seat.

B. B. Law, of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, rose to deny a report appearing in an Ottawa paper to the effect that he would resign his seat in order to allow Hon. Mr. Fielding to go into the House. Mr. Law said that he had never been asked to resign nor had he any intention of doing so.

..... A Regular Trip.

Hon. J. D. Reid said he had looked into the case of the steamer Alert, to which reference has been made in the House last week and the charge made that it had been used for carrying the Conservative candidate and organizer to Victoria county, where there was a bye-election in progress. Dr. Reid said that it was the custom for the Alert to carry passengers on its regular trips and the occasion spoken of was a regular trip to that part of the Province.

Customs' Receipts.

Customs' receipts for January show a slight falling off compared with the previous month the figures being as follows: January, $7,065,165; December, $7,779,060. For the ten months of the fiscal year ending January 31, 1914, the receipts were $91,343,951 as compared with $94,329,836, a decrease for the ten months of $2,985,884.

ACCEPTED BRIBES.

New York, Feb. 2.—Joseph Cassidy, until recently the Democratic leader of Queens County, and Louis T. Walter, jr., were found guilty by a jury in the Supreme Court late tonight of accepting a bribe in return for a judiciary nomination given William Willett, jr., former member of Congress in 1911. The jury was out 52 minutes.

Willett was convicted nine days ago of paying money for his nomination. He was to have been sentenced today, but Justice Jaycox consented to wait until after the jury had rendered a verdict in the case of Cassidy and Walter.

STAR WITNESS DIES OF PNEUMONIA.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 2.—James Lester, the most important material witness in the charge of murder against Van Horst, was admitted to the General Hospital on Saturday, suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, and died this morning.

Wagner's Parsifal is Played at Covent Garden.

London, Feb. 2.—The first performance in England of Wagner's opera Parsifal took place at Covent Garden tonight. A brilliant audience, which included the Queen Mother Alexandra crowded the garden and displayed great enthusiasm. The house was sold out a month ago, with the exception of 500 gallery seats, for which a long line waited from dawn.

DUKE AT TORONTO.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—His Royal Highness was himself the host at a luncheon at the York Club at noon, while in the evening he was a guest at dinner at the Government House.

Attendance at the first concert of the Mendelssohn Choir in Massey Hall completed a busy day, after which he went straight to his train to return to Ottawa.

VILLA PLANNING ANOTHER SIEGE

WILL PERSONALLY DIRECT OPENING OF THE BATTLE AT TORREON.

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 2.—With his army of 12,000 rebels already advanced to points north of Torreon and awaiting word to open the attack on the Federal garrison in that city, General Francisco Villa planned to leave tonight or early tomorrow for Chihuahua, whence after a stay of several days, he will himself march south to direct the opening of the battle. How long General Villa will remain in Chihuahua will depend on the rapidity with which trainloads of ammunition and rations can be dispatched southward.

A courier who arrived from Torreon said the rebel advance guards had already surrounded the city, but that General Refugio Velasco's Federal soldiers had not opened fire. The Federal soldiers in Torreon, it was said, were being kept ignorant of recent rebel victories, and to sustain their courage they were told that General Mercado won a signal victory at Ojinaga. General Marcello Caravals, one of the volunteer Federal generals who escaped from Ojinaga, had arrived in Torreon and was given a triumphant reception because he informed the soldiers the rebels had been defeated at Ojinaga, according to the courier.

Mexican Federal sympathizers protested to the United States army officials in El Paso that Raoul Madero, brother of the late President and an officer on Villa's staff, was permitted to go to the American side. Madero has been seen daily in the hotels and at social affairs on the American side. The Mexicans complained that this was a violation of the neutrality laws and was not the same treatment as accorded General Mercado and other Federal officers who are held prisoners at Fort Bliss because they crossed the river. It was said a protest would be made to Washington.

EDMONTON POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS

CORRUPTION AND MALADMINISTRATION IN HIS DEPARTMENT.

Edmonton, Alb., Feb. 2.—At a meeting of the City Commissioners held this evening, Chief of Police Carpenter was summarily dismissed from office and A. C. Lancy, former chief of police, appointed in his place, effective immediately. There have been rumors for some time that there would be a clean-up in the police department, but all along Chief Carpenter has strenuously denied that he would resign. Last week, following charges in the council of corruption and mal-administration in the department, the chief demanded a judicial investigation, but this was refused by the Mayor, who said he was convinced that the department was rotten.

THE JULES GAUVIN FIRM

There are only a few vestiges left of the former store of L'Heureux & Gauvin. The contractors for the superb new edifice of Mr. Jules Gauvin which will be opened about the 1st of April have accomplished wonders in the demolition of the former store.

It would appear from the headway which is being made in the work that the new store will be completed even before the required date.

In the course of the present week Mr. Gauvin will open three temporary stores on Crown Street to clear off the balance of his stock.

The first of these stores is at the corner of Crown and Notre Dame des Anges will serve for the important Semi-Ready Department and clothes for men and children.

Considerable discount will be allowed at this store, where our customers will be able to dress to their taste and at a low cost.

At the second store, former quarters of Cote & Lemieux, 52 Crown street, ready-made clothes, novelties and goods for ladies will be sold at reductions.

At the third store, which is as important as the others, situated at No. 29 Crown street, gents' furnishings will be sacrificed. The prices will attract many purchasers for the offers will be unprecedented.

We want to go into our new quarters with fresh stock, and we are ready to lose money on the assortment which remains. Let all profit by this occasion.

The offices will be moved on Tuesday to No. 52 Crown street.

Wait for the temporary opening of these stores, you have all to gain.

Illness of Accused Affects Scope of Inquiry

of Mr. Mousseau's, and it was from him that he had learned something about the patient's constitution.

Replied to Mr. Lavergne, as to what he was prescribing for the sick man, he said he did not want to administer morphine to make him sleep, as it would be as difficult to cure him from that habit later on, as it was to cure his present illness.

Mr. Tellier: "Was Mr. Mousseau in Quebec last Thursday?" Dr. De Martigny: "It was on Thursday night that his friend came for me."

Mr. Tellier: "Are you not mistaking Thursday for Friday?" Dr. De Martigny: "I am not quite sure, but if I had my call-book I could tell you in a minute."

In answer to Mr. Tellier, the witness said that he had been called in by Mr. J. A. Fournier, one of Mr. Mousseau's intimate friends.

Mr. Tellier: "Nobody of Mr. Mousseau's family called you in?" Dr. De Martigny: "No."

Mr. Tellier: "What is his malady?"

Nervous Prostration.

Dr. De Martigny said that it was "chole cerebral," which is known in English as nervous prostration.

Mr. Tellier: "It will be some time before he will be able to appear as a witness?"

Dr. De Martigny: "It will be a long time before he is able to do any thing."

To Mr. Armand Lavergne, the witness said that the treatment should be complete isolation from his family.

"In his present state," added the doctor, "he lies with his eyes open and does not sleep."

Mr. Lavergne passed a remark about having seen such scenes acted on the stage, and when the witness said that his patient did not evince any interest in his surroundings, Mr. Lavergne asked if they had shown him money.

This closed Dr. De Martigny's examination, and Mr. Edward Beck was then called.

Mr. Beck's Evidence.

The former editor of the Montreal Herald began to recite the facts of the famous interview in Room 369, Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, on January 8th, between Mr. Hyland, the bogus millionaire and notorious Burns' detective and Mr. Mousseau, the member for Soulanges, who has recently resigned.

"Hyland asked: 'Is Mr. Berard all right?' 'Mousseau replied: 'As far as I am concerned, he is all right.' 'He went on to explain the situation in the Upper House. Mousseau said: 'We have secured our end. There is a big Liberal majority in the Upper House, and of twenty-four members only four are in Opposition.' 'He explained that the official representative of the Government in the Upper House was Hon. Mr. Perceux, and he said he thought they might rely upon his support for the bill because at the cabinet meeting at which the bill was discussed, Mr. Perceux had given it his approval. Mousseau said that Mr. Perceux had taken upon himself to pledge his support, and then he said: 'It remains to us to see Mr. Devarennes.' 'Hyland asked: 'Can't you have him come to see me?' and Mousseau explained: 'There might be some opposition from Mr. Devarennes, because Mr. Devarennes or some of his friends were interested in the sale of a plot of land to the Government, which sale had been defeated by the Opposition of the Prime Minister.' 'He thought that in retaliation for the failure of this sale of land, that possibly Mr. Devarennes might oppose the Montreal Fair Association bill, but he said he did not have very much fear of that. The name of Mr. Myant was mentioned in connection with this land proposition."

Worthy of Lucullus.

"At this point of the interview the waiter appeared and an order was given for the dinner which was served tete-a-tete, between the politician and the millionaire. The menu consisted of venison, duckling, Mexican salad, all the vegetables, water-cress, sweet Slater Champagne, two Bronx cocktails, and two bottles of wine. During the dinner the conversation reverted to the possible opposition of the bill in the Upper House, and Mr. Mousseau attempted to assure Mr. Hyland on that point. Hyland said: 'When you called me up last night, and informed me that the bill had gone through the Lower House you took a great load off my mind, to which Mr. Mousseau responded: 'I did that as soon as I could, because I know what it is to be in a position of anxiety.'"

Wants Other $1,150.

"Mousseau then reverted to the necessity of settling with the members of the Lower House for whom he had already collected $1,150. He insisted that it was the opportune time to receive and pay over the balance, and he pleaded for the other $1,150, which made a total of $2,300. Mousseau said that the safest way was to pay the balance at this time and argued that he had acquaintances in the Upper House whom they could influence to vote for or against the bill, and that if the promises to them were not kept, and the balance of the payment was not made some of them might be inclined to oppose the bill through their friends in the Upper House. If the balance was paid, he

Upper House Names.

Continuing his recital of the conversation between Hyland and Mousseau, Mr. Beck began to refer to the names of certain members of the Upper House, and Mr. Perron again raised his objection to reference being made to members of another House, who had a committee of their own to enquire into their own connection with the graft charges.

Hon. Mr. Turgeon, Speaker of the Upper House, who was present as a spectator, rose and declared that his colleagues in the Upper House had no objection to their names being mentioned at this committee, but the chairman, Hon. Mr. Taschereau, sustained Mr. Perron's objection.

Mr. Armand Lavergne appealed against the decision of the chairman, but he was defeated by four Liberal to three Conservative votes.

"The conversation then turned," said Mr. Beck, "upon the question of money, and Hyland said to Mr. Mousseau, 'I want to give you a little money on your own account, and he handed over two five-hundred dollar bills, saying: 'I give this to you Mr. Mousseau.' Mr. Mousseau's acceptance was couched in the words, 'Magnificent,' and he complimented Mr. Hyland upon his excessive generosity. The talk then centered on the license feature of the bill and that led into a discussion on newspaper opposition, during which Mr. Mousseau produced a telegram which he said he had received from La Presse of Montreal."

La Presse Mentioned.

Mr. Beck: "The interview at 8.53 p.m. closed with a reference to La Presse. Mr. Labelle promising to see La Presse and head off any adverse comment on the Fair Bill."

Mr. Marechal: "This was the interview of January 8th?"

Mr. Beck: "January 8th."

Mr. Marechal: "There were other interviews, I think, one on January 14th, in room 369 of the Chateau Frontenac, when Messrs. Hyland and Sampson were both with Mr. Mousseau. Did you hear the conversation which took place?"

Mr. Beck: "No, I was not present; another operator was there."

Mr. Marechal: "Will you tell the facts of the interview following the one you have told us about, and which you heard between Mr. Mousseau and other parties in the case?"

Mr. Beck: "The meeting of Wednesday, January the fourth. There were two on that day, one at 8.34 p.m."

Mr. Marechal: "Between whom?"

Mr. Beck: "Between Mr. Hyland and Mr. Sampson. Mr. Mousseau called."

Mr. Marechal: "Go ahead."

Mr. Beck: "There are obstacles in this interview, as it takes in the names of members of the Upper House." (Objections to mentioning members of the Upper House at the present stage of the investigation was voiced by Mr. Perron on Friday, and upheld by a vote of 4 to 3.)

Mr. Taschereau: "Can you give us the interview in substance without mentioning names?"

Mr. Beck: "Well, leaving out names, Mr. Mousseau said he could not stay long, he just came in to say how the Bill was going in the Upper House. Hyland said, 'Fine.'"

Mr. Tellier: "You are not giving us many details."

Mr. Beck: "I cannot give you any details, without giving the names to which you refer. The conversation then touched on Atlantic City, and later Mr. Sampson referred to the case of wine he had sent to Mr. Mousseau."

A member of the Committee: "What brand of wine was it?"

Mr. Beck: "Sparkling Burgundy." Mr. Sampson went on to say that Mr. Mousseau had invited him to call and sample the wine. The conversation again referred to the progress of the Fair Bill through the Upper House. Numerous names were mentioned."

Mr. Marechal: "Is that the end of that interview?"

Mr. Beck: "Practically all, except that Mr. Labelle was present at part of that conversation."

Mr. Beck: "On January 14th." Mr. Beck: "On January 14th." Mr. Marechal: "Mr. Beck, look over your notes and see are there any others mentioned by Mr. Labelle, outside of Upper House members."

Mr. Beck: "There will be the same objections. Complaints, however were made by Mr. Sampson to Mr. Labelle that he had been unable to get an accounting from Mr. Mousseau for money paid out for votes of members of the Lower House. Mr. Sampson said that as a business man he would like to know who received his money. Mr. Labelle remarked that Mr. Sampson was quite justified in asking for an accounting of where the money went."

Mr. Marechal: "Any more?" Mr. Beck: "That's all that affects Mr. Mousseau."

Mr. Marechal: "Now, Mr. Beck, the Daily Mail published certain statements regarding certain members, which Mr. Mousseau or Labelle referred to as being found 'down the river.' Did you hear this expression, 'down the river'?"

Mr. Beck: "Yes, I heard it said that the 'down the river' fellows did not want much."

Mr. Marechal: "You heard that said?" Mr. Beck: "Yes."

Mr. Marechal: "Did you hear a remark made by Mr. Labelle about the thrifty members, who lived at the t. Louis Hotel, saved their money, and took it home?"

Mr. Beck: "No."

Mr. Marechal: "Well, Mr. President, I have no other questions to put to the witness."

Montreal Fair Petition.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau (To witness): "Do you know anything about a petition, presented to the Legislature regarding the Montreal Fair Association Company?"

Mr. Beck: "Nothing to my knowledge. I think I saw a report from the Burns operators, in which a petition was discussed."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Have you it in your book?"

Mr. Beck: "No."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "The meeting at which the petition was prepared was held at the Duluth Building?"

Mr. Beck: "Yes."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "You were not present when the petition was presented?"

Mr. Beck: "No."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Look at this petition, and attest the signatures."

Mr. Beck: "The signatures are those of B. F. Myers, G. S. Sampson, and G. W. Jaquins. These, to the best of my knowledge, were Burns' men. I know that Sampson was one, but am not sure that the first and last names were Burns' operators."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Do you know B. F. Myers?"

Mr. Beck: "I think I have met him on one occasion, I had no conversation with him."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "How long has he been in Montreal?"

Mr. Beck: "I know nothing about him."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "When did you meet him?"

Mr. Beck: "In the early fall."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Have you seen him since?"

Mr. Beck: "Only once, on the occasion I have referred to."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "What do you know about Jacquins?"

Mr. Beck: "I knew him as office manager of Martin and Company."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Was he a detective?"

Mr. Beck: "I don't know."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Is he still in Montreal?"

Mr. Beck: "I don't know."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Was Jacquins a real or an assumed name?"

Mr. Beck: "I don't know."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Who is John Bastino?"

Mr. Beck: "I know nothing about him."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Do you know if he exists?"

Mr. Beck: "I do not."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Mr. Biddinger has no real estate operator, was he?"

Mr. Beck: "He told me he had some real estate, and dealt in it."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Did you make any payments to somebody, in connection with the Bill?"

Mr. Beck: "I have made no payments of any kind, in connection with this Bill."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Who suggested that this Bill should be prepared?"

Mr. Beck: "I have no knowledge."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "What was about the amount it cost to put the bill through?"

Mr. Beck: "I could not say."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Say $25,000?"

Mr. Beck: "I could not say as to that. I would not like to fix the amount, I have not enough data."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "From the detailed reports of expenses could you not give an approximate estimate?"

Mr. Beck: "I could not even give an approximate estimate."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "Who would know it?"

Mr. Beck: "As to returns, Mr. McGibbon is the only one who would know the total cost. As I explained to the Committee, at the beginning, he assured all costs."

Hon. Mr. Taschereau: "That will be all, Mr. Beck. During the course of the enquiry you will be at the disposal of the Committee. You will be in Quebec?"

Mr. Beck: "I shall be pleased to place myself at the disposal of the Committee."

Mr. Marechal then announced that the next witness to be called would be Alex. Appleby, the chauffeur of Mr. Sampson's car, in which Mr. Mousseau was on more than one occasion driven from the Duluth Building to his private residence. The witness, however, did not respond to his name when called, but Mr. Marechal pointed out that he would not be able to call the witness at the present sitting, as a telegram had been received from New York which read as follows:—

Edward Beck, Chateau Frontenac, Quebec.

All witnesses leave tonight.

BIDDINGER.

Mr. Marechal explained that the witnesses could not reach here before Tuesday afternoon.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau then adjourned the meeting until ten thirty o'clock this (Tuesday) morning.

DEADLY DUELLIST TWICE RUNS AWAY WITH AN HEIRESS

THE OUTWITTED MOTHER, WHO WAS LOCKED UP WHILE CHILD ESCAPED, HAS DISAPPEARED.

Warsaw, Feb. 2.—Count Hannibal Meza, who is a sure-enough Count and is reputed to be an American millionaire and, incidentally, the owner of large plantations in Cuba, and who figured in a deadly duel in the Antilles, is the hero of a "double-header" sensation that is agitating Warsaw society. His latest escapade involves a double elopement with a beautiful Polish heiress.

On the first attempt at elopement the ardent young man was foiled by the girl's mother and rounded up by the police, the girl subsequently being sequestered in a convent as impregnable as a fortress. But the eager swain did not give up; on the contrary he tried bribery and political "pull," in vain, it is true, and finally resorted to stratagem which won the day, and the young people are off and safely married, while the girl's mother, who was outwitted, has disappeared and there are hints of suicide from chagrin and humiliation, though there is a doubt about it.

The romance began last year in Rome and Nice, when Count Hannibal met Miss Sophie Zaleska, a young Polish beauty, with whom he fell in love. The girl's mother refused his offer of marriage, saying she could not think of her only daughter living in New York or Cuba, even though she spent some part of the year in Paris, in her husband's hotel there.

But the ardent lover followed the girl here. The parents made inquiries, finding out, through various members of the Polish aristocracy, that Count Hannibal was all he represented himself to be. Papa began to relent. Mamma stood firm.

A couple of weeks ago Hannibal came here all the way from Paris in his car, again proposed to Sophie, and was again refused by her mother. As Sophie came of age last week, they planned an elopement, travelling to Bialystok, the nearest Russian town where they could get married. But mamma, missing her daughter, found out that she had flown, went to the police, declared the girl was a minor, took a couple of policemen with her to Bialystok, and surprised the lovers just as they were getting out of their car to go to church. They had had a breakdown on the road.

Mamma Makes a Show of Count. To the immense amusement of all social Warsaw, the stern mamma arrived with her daughter and her daughter's lover under a strong police convoy, which released them when it was proved that Sophie is of age. She allowed herself to be taken home, tried to poison herself and only desisted when her father swore she should marry the man of her choice.

Count Hannibal was sent for and the engagement announced. According to local ideas, a young woman who runs off with a young man would never have another chance of marrying.

But the troubles were not yet over. When Hannibal called the day after their official engagement the Zaleskas' butler assured him that neither mother nor daughter was in. The bridegroom rushed off to the club for the father, who had left everything all right at home. In a short time the truth was out.

By some means the mother had persuaded her daughter to go to the convent of the Immaculate Sisters. Papa and fiance rushed off after them. The nuns sternly refused to let them in. They have so far intercepted all letters from them both to the girl, who is entirely cut off from the world. Papa went home and declared he would no longer live with a wife who treated his daughter in such a way, packed his trunks and is now living in a hotel.

Would Not Give Up the Girl. Count Hannibal de Meza made several vain pilgrimages to the convent. He threatened to report the whole matter to the Governor-General of Poland unless the nuns gave in. This meant their being expelled from the country, as they are only on Russian soil on sufferance, for the Government taboos Roman Catholic institutions. He only desisted because he did not want the convent ruined. Several priests, including Canon Chielmicki, a well-known prelate, tried to make the nuns see reason; but they refused to listen to anybody but Mme. Zaleska, who once lived with them as pupil.

Then it was that the Count Hannibal decided on stratagem and violence if need be. One morning the Count, with his fiancee's father, called on Mrs. Zaleska to try and persuade her to agree to the marriage. As she firmly refused they got her into a separate room and locked her in.

ed out that he would not be able to call the witness at the present sitting, as a telegram had been received from New York which read as follows:—

Mr. Marechal explained that the witnesses could not reach here before Tuesday afternoon.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau then adjourned the meeting until ten thirty o'clock this (Tuesday) morning.

Chew it after every meal

Then they hastened to the convent, where enough pressure had been brought to bear to cause the nuns to give up the young lady. The young lovers rushed to the nearest church, still accompanied by the father, and were married.

In the meantime, but too late to prevent the ceremony, a servant released Mrs. Zaleska, who rushed out of the house and has not been seen since. Her children fear she has committed suicide, while her husband says she has gone to a convent in Austria.

The newly wedded pair will go to Paris and then to New York, as soon as the bride's mother is found. They ran to the car that took them to church in their house clothes, despite the severe frost. Miss Zaleska was in a dark skirt and white silk shirt-wrist, and the Count in a chocolate colored suit. Both were hatless. Their escape created a sensation and large crowds watched the car off.

One of Mrs. Zaleska's first acts after bringing back her daughter from Bialystok was to go the round of all the photographers and threaten legal proceedings if they dared sell a copy of either the Count's or her daughter's picture. She obtained all places and destroyed them, not, however, before a newspaper reporter obtained some portraits of both the principals in the romance. The mother herself, is a great beauty, and looks as young as her daughter.

An Exciting Career in America. Here there is only a vague hint of the adventurous career of the Count on the other side of the water, but wonderful stories of his great wealth and of his countless romances are beginning to be circulated. While it is known that the Count has been a periodical resident of the United States, it is not known when or under what circumstances he became a naturalized citizen. It is asserted, however, that he is the owner of the Mirimir estates, near Havana. The first time he achieved notoriety in America was in August, 1912, when he complained to the police that he had lost a $1,000 watch and a $2,000 chain from his room in the Hotel Nassau, Long Beach. He said they were heirlooms, and he offered a large reward for their recovery, but he didn't have to pay it, as the watch and chain were found wrapped in a towel at the bottom of an elevator shaft in the Hotel Nassau.

In April, 1913, he reached the zenith of his notoriety, when he killed Rudolph Warren, the son of a prominent American sugar planter, in a duel. The young men met after a quarrel over a girl, in Havana, and Warren fell at the first fire, shot in the abdomen, at thirty-five paces. Warren died in a hospital on April 6th, and three days later Count Meza arrived in New York. On landing, he told the immigration inspectors that he was an American citizen, having lived in this country since he was six years old, and he was never arrested and the case was subsequently dropped.

Five duels grew out of the Meza-Warren meeting, and Havana was kept in turmoil for many days on account of it. There were charges of foul play against Meza, but nothing came of it.

NO GERRYMANDER. SAYS PREMIER ROBLIN. Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—Forty-five bills were assented to today by Lieutenant-Governor Cameron. This is part of the grist already turned over by the Manitoba Legislature. The House spent today's session in debating the redistribution bill, several Opposition members maintaining that it was aimed to eliminate some of the ablest Opposition members from the House. Premier Roblin in reply, said that there was no real criticism of the bill.

MAN SUFFOCATED. Brockton, Mass., Feb. 2.—Firemen fighting their way through the dense smoke in a burning store and basement building on Bay street tonight broke open the door of a room on the third floor and found the body of Timothy J. MOTHER! GIVE CROSS SICK CHILD ONLY "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

If peevish, feverish, tongue coated, give "fruit laxative" at once.

No matter what ails your child a laxative should be the first treatment given.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign your "little one's" stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless fruit laxative. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-up plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

IT ENDS PAIN!

Have you a sore place? Have you any skin disease, old sore or obstinate wound, that has defied all efforts at healing? If so, apply Zam-Buk and prove its merits.

A Woman's Message to Women.

Mrs. James Elsworth, 902 Solkirk Ave., Winnipeg, Man., says:—"Four and a half years ago ulcers started on my left ankle, and spread until the top of my foot and limb, to the knee, was well-nigh covered. I used ointment after ointment, until everything I knew of had been tried, sleep, night after night, from the acute pain and irritation. I consulted doctors, until I had taken treatment from at least five. After using their ointments and preparations until I was positive I could get no cure, I almost gave up in despair. I was next persuaded to try a course of treatment supplied by a company operating in this city, paying as much as thirteen dollars and a half in one week for ointments, which proved of no use whatever. "One day a sample of Zam-Buk was left at the house. This seemed to soothe the pain almost instantly, and encouraged me to get a supply from the druggist and give it a fair trial. Zam-Buk had a wonderful effect in a very short time. The irritation and the pain were quickly relieved, and gradually the ulcers were cleansed of all poisonous matter. The discharging then ceased, and the ulcers began to show signs of healing. I kept on using Zam-Buk until every ulcer had been completely healed."

PLANS EXPEDITION TO ARCTIC REGION

CAPT. MUNN WILL ESTABLISH TRADING POSTS AT PONDS INLET.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Captain H. T. Munn has arrived in the city on his way to England where he has been successful in financing his Arctic venture.

Captain Munn states that he has not yet decided whether he will purchase a whaling ship from the Newfoundland sealing fleet or one of the Dundee whalers. Should one of the latter ships be found to be suitable the expedition will outfit in England and sail from Dundee early in June. Captain Munn intends to establish two trading posts in the Arctic, one at Ponds Inlet, in Northern Baffin's Land, and one further west, down Lancaster Sound. Two posts subsidiary to the Ponds Inlet posts will also be established.

Captain Munn thinks it very probable that his expedition may be of material assistance to the party and crew of the missing ship Karluk, which was last heard of fast in the ice about one hundred and fifty miles off the mouth of the Mackenzie River. The set of the current where the Karluk was last heard from being easterly, it is very possible that the crew will be compelled to make to Melville Island in the event of their having to abandon their ship, as this is the closest known point where they could obtain supplies from any caches left by previous expeditions. Stefansson stated in the last de-

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity.

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure.

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicine as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisubated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatment are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisubated magnesia from their druggists, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.

CARDINAL FERRATA, ALREADY IN FAVOR, MAY BE NEXT POPE

PIUS X. EXPECTED TO INDICATE HIM AS THE MOST SUITABLE PERSON TO SUCCEED HIM IN THE PAPACY.

Rome, Feb. 2.—Rumors of an impending Consistory gain consistence, and it seems probable that the date will be early in March. The critical condition of Cardinal Koop, Archbishop of Breslau, renders the nomination of a fresh German Cardinal a practical certainty, as in the event of Koop's death and the summoning of a conclave, Germany would not have a single representative in the Sacred College.

Among Italians the two most likely candidates for the hat are Mgr. Della Chiesa, Archbishop of Bologna, and Mgr. Guistini, prelate of the Curia. At the Consistory the post of Chamberlain would probably fall to Cardinal Ferrata, who was recently nominated Secretary of the Holy Office, in place of the late Cardinal Rampolla. Ferrata is also likely to be created Chamberlain of the Sacred College in place of the late Cardinal Oreglia.

This concentration of important offices in one person is regarded as foreshadowing Pope Pius X's desire to indicate Ferrata as the most suitable person to succeed to the Papacy. Not only does this seem to be the Popes' wish in the event of his death, but there are growing indications in other quarters that Ferrata is the most capable person to bind the opposing sections in the College; he is, in short, hailed by many as the coming Pope.

Foreign Pope Unlikely.

Cardinal Mañi's chance for the mitre is greatly reduced by the opposition of the reactionary Italian section of the College, numerically very strong, which favors Cardinal De Lai, while the small section which advocates a foreign Pope, in the person of Cardinal Mercier of Belgium would find a strong opponent in Cardinal Van Rossum of Holland. The agitation in Austria and elsewhere for a foreign Pope seems, however, very unlikely to have any practical outcome.

The Sacred College at the beginning of 1914, consisted of fifty-five Cardinals, one of them being still "in petto" (not yet proclaimed), being fifteen short of the full number—the oldest, Cardinal di Pietro, with 86 years to his count, the youngest, Cardinal Merry Del Val, with forty-nine; the senior in creation, Cardinal Netto, formerly Patriarch of Lisbon, with thirty years in the Sacred College; the dean, Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, who is eighty years of age; 29 Italian Cardinals, and 26 of other nationalities, divided as follows: France, six; Austria-Hungary, five; Spain, four; United States, three; Portugal, two; and one each from Germany, Holland, Ireland, England, Belgium, and Brazil.

Eight of the Cardinals are octogenarians; eighteen are septuagenarians; twenty-one are sexagenarians; and only eight are under sixty years. Forty-five Cardinals have died during the present Pontificate, the list closing with Cardinals Rampolla Genini.

The idea, emanating from a commercial group in Germany, of a fixed Easter has been referred to a special commission of the Vatican, which has pronounced against any change in the calendar.

spatch received from him that his intention was to investigate Bank's Land, a large island lying about sixty miles south of Melville Island. Captain Munn will notify the members of the Stefansson party who are on Flaxman Island east of the mouth of the Mackenzie River of the presence of his party in Lancaster Sound, and it is quite probable that the two parties will get in touch with each other in the Winter of 1914-15.

Captain Munn intends to winter at Ponds Inlet, and next Winter, he will take a journey across the centre of Baffin Land to the head of Fox Channel, getting in touch there with a large tribe of natives, who have not been visited by a white man since Parry wintered there in 1820. This portion of the interior of Baffin Land has never yet been crossed by a white man.

The Summer of this year and next year will be spent in thoroughly prospecting the coast of Baffin Land. The syndicate of which Capt. Munn is the head intends to extend their operations next year to the southern portion of Baffin Land and Hudson Straits. The fisheries of these waters will be thoroughly investigated this year, and the syndicate intend, if the results of this investigation warrant it, to place in Hudson Straits some Newfoundland fishing vessels to exploit the cod and halibut fisheries of these waters. The fishing vessels would be wintered in a safe harbor in the straits, and their crews taken up there each year to prosecute the fisheries in the interest of the syndicate.

It will be remembered that Capt. Munn lost his vessel the SS. Algerine in the Summer of 1912 off the northern coast of Baffin Land and was subsequently rescued with his party by "Lucky" Scott and the SS. Neptune. Lord Lascelles, who was well known in Canada during Lord Grey's term as Governor-General, is the chairman of Capt. Munn's syndicate and several other prominent men have interested themselves in the venture.

PLACER MINER MEETS LONELY FATE IN WILDERNESS OF ALASKA.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 2.—A romance made pathetic by a lonely death on a trail in the wilderness of Alaska was revealed today in a telegram received by Mrs. I. H. Haslam, of this city. The telegram was sent from Candler, Alaska, where the body of William H. Meyers, her brother, was found. Beyond the statement of the death, no particulars were given. Meyers was a placer miner and had extensive holdings in gold and coal mines about Candler and White Horse passes. For fifteen years he operated in Alaska where he met Miss L. B. Hayes, a Kentucky girl, who went in to teach school. Meyers planned to emerge from the wilderness Christmas and marry the young teacher. The girl is thought to be in Seattle. Relatives plan to have the body brought out to the place of his birth, Prince Edward Island, when navigation opens in the Spring. A telegram stated that Meyers was frozen to death. His last letter said he had found a fortune.

CLOSING MARKET LETTERS.

Received by Breen & Gourdeau, stock brokers, 63 St. Peter St. and 6 Sault au Matelot.

New York, Feb. 2.—The stock market today was dull for the better part of the session, activity occurring in spots only and prices at the close averaged a quarter to a half point below the opening quotations. The Rock Island issues decidedly weak on reorganization talk, in which the common and preferred stocks lost about four points each from Saturday's final sales, were directly responsible for the recessions in the general list. The market, generally speaking, acted well in the face of the selling of Rock Islands, and offered excellent resistance to selling operations. While values may ease off further, we do not look for any decided decline to develop. We feel friendly to the long side on set-backs. Total sales to 3 p. m., stocks, 423,749; bonds, $3,863,000 bonds.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowan, Stock Brokers, 51 St. Peter St., Quebec. Tel. 246.

New York, Feb. 2.—The market opened active and prices were lower all around on a break in Rock Island issues, all of which sold down to a new low record. The Street put an unfavorable interpretation on Burlington's recommendation in favor of Government ownership of the telephone systems which forced a decline in Am. T. & T. The general list declined only fractionally, however, and by 11 o'clock there was pronounced improvement in all quarters. Union, Reading, Steel, Copper and other big issues advanced sharply, and some of them made new records for the year. Great Northern was a notably strong feature and a good deal of talk was heard about accumulation that had been in progress in this issue for some time. On the advance, however, the market seemed to encounter a good deal of stock, trading fell off materially in the early afternoon, and in the last hour prices began to sag off of their weight, the pressure increasing as stocks sold off so that the lowest for the day was reached in many instances shortly before the close. No real weakness developed anywhere throughout the standard list, but the profit taking sales seemed to be too heavy for the market to stand as no new buying appeared. Considerable shifting of loans took place during the day with the call money loaning about 1/2 per cent higher than of late, but there was no change in time money. Total sales, 484,000; bonds, $3,863,000.

EXPERTS JUGGLE NAVAL STATISTICS

SUCH IS CHARGE MADE BY REPRESENTATIVES AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, Feb. 2.—That experts of the Navy Department juggled the statistics in the navy year book for 1913, to make the American navy appear inferior to the German navy, and thereby set the United States down from second to third place as a naval power, was charged today by Representatives Witherspoon, of Mississippi, and Hensley, of Missouri, members of the House Naval Affairs Committee.

With Secretary Daniels before the committee to explain the naval program for the coming year, the two Congressmen, who are strongly opposed to a "big navy," questioned him at length on what they declared were omissions and faulty comparisons in the year book. The Secretary explained that he was not an expert in comparing navies, and said he had relied on what experts in the navy had advised him about the facts.

In their questioning, the Congressmen brought out that three American battleships, the Oregon, Massachusetts and Indiana, which are of the same tonnage and of heavier armament than ten listed German battleships, are left out of the United States list altogether; and that the year book instead of giving the United States 26 battleships built and building, compared with Germany's 36, should have credited the United States with 29 battleships of heavier total tonnage and armament than Germany. They also developed that the navy statisticians have this year for the first time, taken out of the Dreadnought class the battleships South Carolina and Michigan, which have Dreadnought armament. The year book's comparison gives Germany 13 Dreadnoughts and the United States seven, while the Congressmen insisted that the correct figures should give Germany and the United States nine Dreadnoughts each.

adversely affected by Senate resolution to investigate the payments of rebates to the company by the railroads. As the day progressed the market sagged and final prices were at lowest.

We still advise, however, the purchase of the better class of stocks, especially the safe dividend rails, and expect for them ultimately much higher prices.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.
(Canadian Press Service.)
New York, Feb. 2.—Extension of the upward movement in stocks was prevented today by a combination of bearish influences. The most disturbance factor was renewed selling of Rock Island securities, which became acutely weak. Last week's report that the company would be re-organization was followed today by intimations that dividends might be suspended on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific stock, which is security for the Rock Island collateral 4's. Denial of this report lessened the volume of selling, which for a time was of unusually large proportions, but the stocks reached the lowest prices in the history of the company. The common dropped 3/4 to 9 3/4, the preferred 4 1/2 to 14 1/2, the collateral 4's
2 1/2 to 4 1/2, and the refunding 4's
2 1/2 to 7 1/2. Partial recovery was effected later.
The effect on the general market of the drop in these securities was heightened by extensive selling here for European account. London unloaded perhaps 35,000 shares, principally Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated. Another unsettling feature was pressure against various investment stocks, among which American Telephone, Canadian Pacific and New York Central were conspicuous. Western Union sold off in sympathy with American Telephone, these shares being influenced by the Postmaster-General's recommendations in favor of government acquisition of the wire systems.
December reports of the larger eastern railroads were distinctly unfavorable. New York Central showed a decrease in net of $3,087,000, which was largely responsible for the heaviness of the stock. Pennsylvania's operating income fell off $703,000.
New Haven reported a deficit for the month of $114,000.
With nothing in the way of bul-lish news to counteract the effect of these influences, traders on the long side were unable to bring about a resumption of the upturn of late last week. The movement in general was not large, but the undertone was heavy, and before the end of the day some of the popular stocks were depressed a point or more.
Bonds were irregular. The market was little disturbed by liquidation of the Rock Island bonds. Total sales, par value, $3,900,000. Panama 3's registered advanced 1/4 and the coupon 3's a point on call.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER

By private wire to M. L. Dohan, broker, Dominion building, St. Peter street. Phone 4748.
New York, Feb. 2.—Speculative sentiment was already mildly reactionary this morning, but this feeling was greatly intensified by morning news influences, chief of which was the Burslem recommendation of government control of the telephone and telegraph, and rumors of a reorganization of Rock Island system. The stocks of the latter and the collateral during the early hours and the entire list went off in sympathy. Bears argued that the administration's ban upon holding companies would wipe out the equity on the collateral trust bonds and render the stocks worthless. They could report progress in that direction today when the bonds and two stock issues showed a market value of only about $53,000,000, against a par value of $219,000,000.
For the past four years the equity of the bonds in the earnings of the C. R. I. & Pac. has been equal to

RADIUM PATIENT
AT DEATH'S DOOR

SUPPLY WORTH $100,000 USED ON CONGRESSMAN BREMNER IN VAIN.

Baltimore, Feb. 2.—Congressman Robert G. Bremner, of New Jersey, who had the entire supply of radium possessed by Dr. Howard A. Kelly and valued at $100,000 placed in a cancer last December, is dying. It is announced tonight that complications had arisen and death was a matter of only a few days, perhaps hours; that only the indomitable will of the Congressman was keeping him alive.
Mr. Bremner rallied this morning from the weakened condition of yesterday and insisted on working on a bill he has before Congress. This afternoon he called his brother Leith Bremner, of Richmond, Va., to the bedside and, telling him he realized the end was not far off.
When Mr. Bremner consulted Dr. Kelly in December, he was told that the cancer was so large that it did not lend itself well to radium treatment. It is understood that neither Dr. Kelly nor his assistant, Dr. C. E. Burnam, ever has been sanguine about a cure, but the Congressman's optimism was communicated to all with whom he came in contact.
About four years ago he began to feel the pain of the cancer, but thought it rheumatism. In a few months, he learned its deadly nature. Physicians of this country and of Europe tried in vain to cure him.
Mr. Bremner is a native of Keiss, Caithness, Scotland, whence the family emigrated to Canada when he was a youth. His mother, Mrs. Alexander Bremner, is living in Canada.

MOONSHINER HUNTED FOR TWENTY YEARS IS CAUGHT.

Wakens From Sleep Under a Tree to Find Himself Covered by Six Revenue Rifles.
Waldron, Ark., Feb. 2.—John Dale, who for twenty years, has defied revenue officers in the Western countries of Arkansas, was found asleep in the woods near here and arrested by a United States Marshal's posse, on charges of operating an illicit still.
Dale lay asleep on his rifle at the foot of a tree. Awakened to find six guns pointed at him. He showed fight, but was soon overpowered.
Dale's crude still and 200 gallons of liquor were confiscated and the operator put in jail. His whiskey-making device was of a portable kind generally known as a wildcat still. As early as 1894 attempts were made to corner Dale, and scores of government officers, after trailing him for months in isolated regions of Scott and Polk counties, abandoned the chase.

THE KIRMESS SKIRTS

They Must Be Twelve Inches From the Floor—Fair Dancers Much Worried.

Kirmess Tickets Tomorrow Morning.—Dancers to Be Painted by Professionals.—Costumes Given Out Last Night.

Short skirts and grease paint? The two things appear to be as necessary to a chorus girl as the oxygen she breathes or the plaudits of her admirers. These two words have become sing-song words in the ears of the directors that are drilling the hundreds of young Quebec ladies in the many and beautiful steps of the Kirmess dances. The costumes for the Kirmess are mostly all new and several days ago when measures were taken for the dresses, it was decided to make all the Kirmess skirts twelve inches from the floor, and nothing more was thought of the matter until last night at the dress rehearsal, when the skirts were tried on for the first time and tried out, they were found more suitable for a muddy street than pleasant weather. A howl went up that is still echoing in the ears of the directors. "Mercy," fairly screeched one young lady who swims very beautifully, and who takes a prominent part in several of the dances. "I simply can't wear skirts twelve inches from the floor. What would George say, and what would my poor old maid aunt say?"

"But my dear young lady, you will have to. That's the only kind there are left, all of them have been cut off to fit and you've got to wear them," came back the suave smiling answer. To the thousand and one things that are dinned in their ears in regard to the short skirts, they have one answer that appears to pacify, and that is: "How could you dance Kirmess dances in long skirts?" That appears to meet the exigencies of the occasion for after rehearsing in the skirts, it was found to be most suitable in every way, for in these they have a freedom of movement that no fashionable hobbie skirt would allow.

The Kirmess girls, too, and men are to be painted by professionals. Ordinary face powder and a dab of pink won't do for the Kirmess and the services of six experts have been secured for the eve performances. One will daub cold cream on the ever passing line of Kirmesses, the next is due to apply the paint on their cheeks, the third to the lips and the fourth will pencil the eyebrows, the fifth painter is on the other side and gets the other cheek. Then the sixth, or general superintendent will make an inspection of all the painted ones and add the finishing touches or send them back to the rear of the line to be painted again. In this way speed in making up the young couple unused to slapping off stage paint can be obtained and the best result got.

Kirmess Tickets Tomorrow.

The reserved seat sale will open tomorrow at nine o'clock at the Auditorium box office, and a great crowd of people will surely be on hand to secure choice coupon tickets, for there are many hundreds of tickets sold and they are still being sold by the Kirmess chaperons and dancers. This sale tomorrow morning is for those who have bought tickets from some member of the Kirmess cast or ladies connected with the huge affair. The cash sale will be open for the general public on Thursday morning, at nine o'clock.

To those that want tickets to exchange for reserved seats, they can be had at the desk of the Chateau Frontenac any time during the day and up to ten-thirty tonight.

Ticket Selling Contest.

The different sets in the Kirmess are working hard in a ticket-selling contest, for the set or number that sells the greatest number of tickets will be presented with two special boxes. This applies to the grown people, as the younger sets are working hard for two gold watches that will be given to the boy or girl that sells the greater number.

Miss Bernadette Moreau Arrives.

The special leader of the orchestra that has been engaged to lead the enlarged orchestra at the five performances, arrives this morning at six o'clock, and will take immediate charge of all rehearsals.
(Communicated.)

INDIANS RAID
RANCHES AGAIN.

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 2.—After several weeks of quiet, Yaqui Indians were again raiding ranches in the vicinity of Ures, Sonora, according to reports which reached here today. Several Mexican freighters have been killed near Ures; it was stated, and the inhabitants of that region are practically defenceless.

The Yaqui's have extended the field of their operations, say travelers from Ures, until they reached to the southwestern edge of the Montezuma district, which had hitherto been free from their raids. The hostile bands of Indians were augmented by numbers of "tame Yaquis," who had deserted from the Constitutionalist army it was said.

HEADACHES ALMOST DROVE HER WILD

Until A Friend Advised Her To Use "Fruit-a-lives"

Newbury, Ont., May 29th, 1913.
"About four years ago, I was in a dreadful run-down condition, weak and hardly able to walk up stairs. Weakness peculiar to women was the chief trouble. I had Headaches that almost drove me wild, and most distressing constipation. I took many dollars' worth of medicine from the doctors without any good results.
A neighbor advised me to take "Fruit-a-lives" and they proved to be the best medicine I ever got and the only medicine to do me any good. Today, I feel as a young girl, and am able to go about my household duties as usual. My health is splendid and "Fruit-a-lives" is the cause of it.

GENERAL VILLA
EXECUTES GUZMAN

MESSANGER TRYING TO WIN REBEL OVER GETS SHORT SHRIFF.

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 2.—Francisco I. Guzman, who figured prominently in the revolt against President Madero in Mexico City, a year ago, was executed in the front yard of a house occupied by General Francisco Villa here today. Guzman had just come from Havana where it was charged, he had been given a secret mission by Felix Diaz to induce Carranza to throw the strength of the revolution to Diaz.
As soon as he heard of the proposal General Villa gave Guzman a conference and after making sure of the nature of the visit, ordered the messenger shot. Within a few minutes after his arrival, Guzman was led out of Villa's room, stood up before an adobe wall and with his hands tied and eyes blindfolded, was executed. The shooting was done by a rebel official in charge of the railroads, who happened to be present when the execution was ordered.
Guzman was formerly a private secretary to Dr. Emilio Vasquez Gomez. He was known as one of the promoters of the Orozco revolution against Madero and later joined with Huerta against the late President.

LORD STRATHCONA'S
GIFTS TO MCGILL

TOTAL IS NOW BROUGHT UP TO $2,275,000—$880,000 FOR WOMEN'S BRANCH.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The total of Lord Strathcona's gifts to McGill University is brought up to $2,275,000 by the announcement of the bequest in his will. His last gift of $880,000 is the balance of a sum of one million dollars which he promised for the extension of the higher education of women movement and of which he donated $120,000 on account in 1890, after the Royal Victoria College for Women, affiliated to McGill, had been built by him at a cost of $350,000. During the last fifteen years Lord Strathcona has paid over regularly the interest, amounting to $45,000 a year, upon the promised endowment fund of $880,000, which will be now handed to the university authorities earmarked for the Victoria College. The cheque for last year's interest was mailed to Principal Peterson only a few days before Lord Strathcona died.
While the Royal Victoria College is the only department of the university to benefit by the will, McGill was very generously treated by Lord Strathcona in his lifetime. The medical faculty received $850,000, the pension fund $50,000, whilst Strathcona Hall was made possible by his initial gift of $25,000.

BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.

Boston, Feb. 2.—The Boston and Maine Railroad Company, and the Hampden Railroad Corporation, filed with the Public Service Commission today a petition for approval of a joint operating agreement.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Boston and Maine will lease the Hampden for a yearly rental of $165,000, and will assume all operating, franchise, tax and insurance expenses. The lease is to continue indefinitely, written notice of at least one year being required for its annulment.
