Train derailed at Magog

2 injured in collision

ASCOT (RH) — A two-car collision at 5 p.m. sent two persons to Sherbrooke Hospital yesterday.

Treated for injuries were Dorothy Froome, 48, of Coaticook and Joanne Arsenault, 19, of Sherbrooke. Both are reported in satisfactory condition following the accident on route 143.

MAGOG (CG-RH) — Police are evacuating people from their homes in the McDermott Crossing area near here following a train derailment at 5:28 a.m. in which one carload of propane gas was overturned. A total of 15 cars of a CP freight train went off the track in the incident, but none of the train personnel on board were hurt.

An unofficial source said it might take two days for each tank of propane gas to empty and that the danger of explosion within a two-mile radius was serious.

A spokesman from the Magog Police said they "had no idea" how the derailment occurred.

The east-bound train was bound for St. John, New Brunswick.

Spanish politicians seek urgent reforms

MADRID — (UPI) — A group of influential Spanish politicians on the centre-right yesterday demanded "profound and urgent" reforms to bring about a change from fascism to democracy.

The group included several members of Parliament, two former cabinet ministers, business leaders and a monarchist believed to be close to Prince Juan Carlos, the designated successor to 82-year-old Gen. Francisco Franco.

The politicians met in Santiago de Compostela, then issued a statement which said they agreed that Spain "must achieve, by way of deep and urgent reform, a change from an authoritarian to a democratic system."

Granby faces drought if local firms won't close

GRANBY, Que. (CP) — The drought-stricken Granby area may be without water during the weekend because 137 local industries refused to halt operations temporarily, Mayor Paul Trepanier said Monday.

Mayor Trepanier told reporters at a news conference he had asked the industries to reduce their water consumption without laying off employees or reducing their pay.

The mayor said he was to meet Quebec Industry Minister Guy Saint-Pierre to discuss provincial grants to help companies meet payroll in a proposed shortened work week.

Neither the mayor nor the city council has the power to order the industries to close down or cut back their water consumption and the city does not have the means to cut off the water supply to individual industries, Mr. Trepanier said.

The city may only forbid citizens to water lawns or wash their cars during water shortages, a measure taken last week.

Minimal rainfall in the area during the summer brought on the drought.

Lake Boivin, a small artificial lake near the centre of town and its main source of water, is almost dry.

A nearby reservoir, the city's second source of water, is down to about half its normal capacity and most remaining water must be saved for fire prevention, Mayor Trepanier said.

The city of 35,000, about 30 miles east of Montreal, normally consumes about 11 million gallons of water daily, although current consumption is about 10 million gallons.

Reducing factory consumption could halve the daily consumption, the mayor said.

Break off talks?

VICTORIA FALLS (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith threatened to break off the Rhodesian constitutional talks today unless black nationalist leaders agree to hold further talks inside Rhodesia.

"Let's wait and see whether we get the right answer tomorrow morning," Smith told reporters when the first day's talks ended at midnight Monday night.

"If we do, this game's on. If we don't, it will be a different game."

Sex discrimination

LONDON (Reuter) — A sweeping bill to outlaw sex discrimination is speeding through Britain's parliament.

But it is being heavily criticized by feminists who say it is filled with loopholes and treats women as poor creatures in need of protection.

Its basic message, complains feminist leader Pat Howe, is that women must be protected and not encouraged to be independent.

The bill, expected to become law in three months, has been proudly described by Home Secretary Roy Jenkins as "the most comprehensive legislation of its kind in the world."

The legislation will confer virtually no new rights on women, says Pat Howe, who is national co-ordinator for the Sex Discrimination Campaign, a feminist movement that has been working since 1972 for "genuine responsibilities and rights for women."

Commute sentences

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek government announced Monday it will take steps to commute the death sentences handed down to former dictator George Papadopoulos and two other leaders of the 1967 coup to life imprisonment.

The government said it will make the move once all legal appeals are completed.

The reduction of sentences was considered a foregone conclusion and reaction was swift and angry. In case of street demonstrations against the move, police were placed on full alert here.

Date set for Nfld. election

ST. JOHN'S — (CP) — A provincial general election will be held in Newfoundland on Tuesday, Sept. 16, Premier Frank Moores said yesterday as he asked voters to give his Progressive Conservative government a fresh mandate to carry out economic development.

"We have had 3½ years to get the job started," Moores said. "We are now asking you to give us five more years to ensure the job is done."

The Conservatives won 33 of the legislature's 42 seats in the March 24, 1972 election.

The Liberals took eight and the New Labrador Party one.

FULL SLATES

A byelection and resignations, including the departure from politics of Mike Martin, leader and sole legislature member of the New Labrador Party, changed the standing which at dissolution was Conservative 32, Liberal eight and vacant two.

A redistribution bill has increased the number of seats to 51. Nomination day is Sept. 6.

At least three other parties will contest the election. Former premier Joseph Smallwood, leader of the Liberal Reform Party founded in July, and Liberal leader Ed Roberts have said they plan to field candidates in all districts.

The New Democratic Party, which has never elected a candidate in Newfoundland, also is expected to contest most ridings.

The New Labrador Party, while still in existence, is not expected to play a significant role in the campaign.

Speculation that an election would be held this year started March 12 when the government introduced the province's first $1-billion budget.

Moores and some cabinet ministers spent much of the summer travelling the province.

Smallwood, 74, who resigned from politics in January, 1972 after an indecisive election the previous fall, also travelled widely during the summer.

Ford is optimistic on Mid East accord

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — (UPI) — President Ford said yesterday he expects Israel and Egypt to reach an interim agreement within a week on disengagement of forces in the Sinai desert.

"I would hope that within a week, at the latest, they would be down to a final agreement," Ford was quoted as telling a luncheon gathering of the editorial board of the Milwaukee Journal and the Milwaukee Sentinel.

The president was quoted as saying a peace treaty between the two countries was "a lot closer" than at any time in the recent past.

Ford was quoted as telling the editors that an interim agreement was in the interests of both Egypt and Israel — though he recognized that Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin has difficult internal political opposition from his country's right wing.

STEADY PROGRESS

Meanwhile in Jerusalem, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger said last night Egypt and Israel are making steady progress on drafting an interim peace treaty, but he openly showed irritation with the Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon for talking about negotiation details in public.

"We are making" solid, steady, progress — no great breakthroughs, no great hold-ups," Kissinger said after shuttling between Jerusalem and Alexandria with Egyptian and Israeli versions of draft treaties in an effort to get an agreement on the writing of a new disengagement pact in the Sinai peninsula.

He said Rabin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat are now down to the stage of trying to agree on the wording of the treaty. Kissinger has designed as the cornerstone for peace throughout the Middle East.

In Alexandria, Sadat told reporters that none of the concessions Egypt might make in a Sinai settlement would be kept secret. He said he was referring to military as well as other aspects of the accord.

Montreal traffic tied up by bus and metro walkout

Montreal's 3,400 bus and Metro drivers will stay off the job at least until Friday morning to await results of negotiations which are to resume today.

About 1,000 members of the Brotherhood of Bus and Metro Drivers decided unanimously yesterday to continue the walkout — in its seventh day — until they meet Thursday to hear a progress report on negotiations.

Union members also voted to extend study sessions another 10 days "if necessary."

According to the union constitution, members must vote to authorize the executive to call 10 days of study sessions, after which another vote must be taken.

Police reported yesterday the worst traffic congestion since the walkout began Wednesday.

IN WAITING

Union president Normand Hamelin told the men he will ask conciliator Andre Coushesne to participate in talks with special mediator Roger Pilote.

Coushesne, conciliator in the contract dispute during June and July, was "favorable to the union's position but never put it into writing," Hamelin said.

Labor Minister Gerald Harvey announced Friday, after more than five hours of separate talks with Hamelin and MUC Transit Commission chairman Lawrence Hanigan, that Pilote would intervene again today.

"In his (Pilote's) preliminary report, he said the union has a good argument," Hamelin said.

HEALTH LAPSE

Pilote was appointed Aug. 14 as mediator, but fell ill Aug. 17 after two days at the bargaining table and was unable to complete his report.

A standing ovation from union members greeted Hamelin's recommendation at yesterday's meeting that they return to work only when guaranteed "in writing" improvements in wages and working conditions in line with their Toronto counterparts.

Hamelin said modified split shifts — which now extend an eight-hour work day up to 13 hours for most drivers — will be one of the first issues he'll discuss at the negotiating table.

Vigilante action feared by police

TORONTO — (CP) — Some Canadian police chiefs say they fear the public might resort to vigilante action to deal with murderers if the federal government continues to commute death sentences.

A committee report on capital punishment to be considered this week at the 75th annual conference of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police says:

"Our greatest concern is that some elements of society may seriously consider taking the law into their own hands."

The federal cabinet has commuted all death sentences since 1962. The death penalty now is confined by law to slayings of on-duty prison guards and policemen.

"The public is concerned with any killing and no doubt emotions will be involved as the killings continue," Association President J. F. Gregory, chief of the Victoria force, said in an interview.

'HANG ALL KILLERS'

He said he believed the possibility of vigilante action was "a very real danger."

The association wants the death penalty restored and used for what Metropolitan Toronto Chief Harold Adamson calls an "excluded and premeditated" murder. Chiefs interviewed were critical of the federal government for ignoring what they said appears to be a strong public sentiment for restoring the death penalty. Some said Solicitor-General Warren Allmand should step down because he has said he would resign before signing an execution order.

Winnipeg Chief Norman Stewart said commuting death sentences makes "a mockery out of justice."

B.C. bakers face lockout

VANCOUVER — (CP-UPI) — The British Columbia Food Council announced yesterday it would lock out bakery workers at 42 supermarkets, a move that could lead to a total shutdown of food outlets in the Vancouver and Victoria areas.

The council said the lockout would begin on Friday and would halt all in-store bakery operations at nearly one-third of the supermarkets on the lower Vancouver mainland and southern Vancouver Island.

The move is the latest development in a wage dispute between the council and the bakery and confectionery workers union, the Retail Clerks International Association and the meatcutters section of the Canadian Food and Allied Workers Union.

The lockout could totally shut down the supermarkets affected if the clerks and meatcutters refused to cross picket lines set up by the bakery workers.

Dozens of other supermarkets might then be shut in a widening conflict.

The showdown follows an unsuccessful attempt by a government-appointed industrial inquiry commissioner last week to produce recommendations for a settlement.

Among speculative issues, North American Rare Metals Ltd. rose 1 cent to 20 cents on a volume of 17,500.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock market recorded its second broad advance Monday as prices continued to recover from recent sharp losses. Trading was the slowest in more than a year.

Analysts say the rebound was prompted by bargain buying following a six-week period of declines and encouraged by a rising New York market trend, recorded its largest gain in more than a month. The index rose 1.42 to 186.20.

Base metals were up 24 to 78.12 and western oils 1.20 to 186.31. Moving against the trend, golds lost 66 to 354.45.

What stocks did:

Total	570	570

Volume of 969,000 shares was the lowest since July 4, 1974 and down from 1.23 million shares Friday. Value dropped to $8.85 million from $12.46 million.

Ten of the 16 industrial sub-indices advanced and six moved lower. Paper and forest, oil refining and chemical shares recorded the largest gains while real estate issues led the declines.

LOWER EARNINGS

Ivaco Industries A fell 1/2 to $9. The company reported earnings of $3.3 million for the first half of the fiscal year, compared with $10.4 million for the same period last year.

Lake Shore Mines, which reported a first-half loss compared with a net profit of $1.53 million a year ago, lost 10 cents to $2.75.

Price Co. gained 1 1/4 to $18 1/4, General Motors 1 1/4 to $49 1/2, Rothmans Pall Mall 1 to $14, Vulcan Industrial Packaging 1 to $12 1/2 and Eddy Match 1/2 to $30.

Losses among industrials included Hudson's Bay Oil, down 3/4 to $30 1/2, Canadian Imperial Bank 1/2 to $26 1/2 and Bell Canada 1/2 to $43 1/2.

United Keno Hill rose 3/4 to $10 1/2, Campbell Red Lake 3/4 to $26 1/2 and Hudson Bay Mining A 3/4 to $19 1/2.

Cassiar Asbestos fell 3/4 to $6 1/2, Denison 1/2 to $55 1/2 and Dickenson 1/2 to $8.

Chieftain Development lost 3/4 to $8 1/2.

New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recorded another broad gain in light trading Monday, extending the technical rally that began last Friday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials posted a 7.58 advance to 812.34 to go with Friday's 13.07-point rise.

What stocks did:

Fri. Thur.	979	990
Advances	391	381
Declines	395	383
Unchanged	1,765	1,754

Big Board volume limped along at 11.25 million shares, compared with 13.05 million in the previous session.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up 78 at 85.06 and the NYSE's composite index climbed 42 to 45.27.

Brokers said the sluggish pace of activity suggested that the buying had come mainly in response to technical forces within the market rather than any single news development.

The sharp pullback in many issues since mid-July was evidently still attracting bargain hunting and short covering by investors wishing to nail down profits on stock they borrowed and sold earlier.

There were two outside influences which might have helped to keep the rally alive—talk of a Sinai agreement soon between Egypt and Israel, and President Ford's call for new tax incentives for business as well as cutbacks in federal regulation of the private sector.

Bank stocks racked up some sharp gains following the assertion by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, during the weekend that the Fed would come to the aid of any bank that might run into financial trouble because of its investment in New York City securities.

Citicorp picked up 1 1/4 to 32 1/2, Chase Manhattan added 1 1/4 to 32 1/2, and J.P. Morgan was ahead 1 1/2 at 57 1/2.

F.W. Woolworth, which reported sharply higher quarterly earnings, was up 1 1/4 to 15 1/2; Sears, Roebuck gained 1 1/4 to 61 1/4; S.S. Kresge rose 1 1/4 to 31, and Federated Department Stores climbed 1 1/4 to 48.

Sony, the Big Board volume leader, slipped 1/4 to 10 1/2 in trading marked by a 65,000-share block at 10 1/2.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index added .79 to 84.37.

Among Canadian issues on the New York stock exchange, Alcan rose 3/4 to $23 1/2, Campbell Red Lake 1/2 to $25 1/2, Inco 1/2 to $30 1/2, Hiram Walker 3/4 to $30 1/2, Canadian Pacific 1/2 to $14 1/2 and Massey-Ferguson 1/2 to $16.

Between Montreal and Ottawa

Heavy losses for STOL service

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's experimental short-haul air service between Ottawa and Montreal finished its first year with heavier financial losses and less traffic than expected but federal officials are unworried.

Transport department officials indicate they are pleased with the performance of the service operated by Airtransit Canada, a subsidiary of Air Canada.

A senior department official said Nordair, a regional air carrier serving Quebec and Ontario, has shown interest in setting up a STOL network linking Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto and other Ontario centres.

He said he expects that from now on the department will be responding to proposals by private industry rather than attempting to stimulate interest.

Airtransit carried 96,000 passengers in its first 12 months of operation ending July 31, slightly below forecasts of 100,000 to 120,000 passengers.

The operating deficit was about $2 million, about double original estimates.

Barry Myers, STOL project officer with the federal Transportation Development Agency in Montreal, said in a telephone interview Thursday that the revenue and expenses estimates were made in 1971. Rising fuel costs and inflation were underestimated.

EXPECTS MORE

He said Airtransit is expected to carry more than 100,000 passengers next year and shave the deficit to about $500,000.

The agency is the research and development arm of the transport department and is evaluating results of the STOL experiment.

The government launched the two-year test program in July, 1974 to demonstrate Canadian STOL navigational equipment and evaluate customer response to downtown-to-downtown air service.

Government officials have said they hope a successful STOL demonstration will help sell the Canadian-made de Havilland DHC-7, a 48-seat STOL aircraft.

Airtransit is using 11-seat de Havilland Twin Otter aircraft as the first production models of the DHC-7 are not expected to be ready until 1977.

The STOL experiment and the federal investment in the Parliament and on newspaper editorial pages for being the wrong solution to inter-city travel needs.

Ian Sinclair, chairman and chief executive officer of Canadian Pacific, said in October last year that the money spent on the STOL experiment would have been better used on subsidizing a more efficient and less expensive rail service between Ottawa and Montreal.

Some airline industry executives are also sceptical about the value of inter-city STOL service though Air Canada, Nordair, Air West and other carriers are showing interest. Air West already operates a STOL-type service between Vancouver and Victoria.

Some critics say downtown-to-downtown STOL service caters mainly to businessmen on expense accounts and likely will capture a small portion of the air travel market.

Mr. Myers said that about 95 per cent of persons using the Montreal-Ottawa service used it for business reasons. Somewhere between 20 per cent and 25 per cent of Airtransit customers were government employees.

About 35 per cent of Airtransit passengers would have flown by other airlines if STOL service was unavailable.

PREFER STOL

Judging from Air Canada figures on their Ottawa-Montreal traffic, most travellers flying between the two cities would use STOL service if Airtransit had enough capacity, Mr. Myers said.

Airtransit is limited in what it can do because it has only six 11-seat aircraft, he said.

Airtransit figures revealed that there were twice as many people requesting seats as the airline was able to handle.

Much of the heavy demand was in peak hours, particularly 8 a.m. On average, aircraft were filled to about 60 per cent of capacity.

Mr. Myers said Airtransit and the transport development agency are considering ways of increasing seating capacity in the Twin Otters. Probably an extra seat might be squeezed in.

SURCHARGE SET

A $5-surcharge for travelling in peak hours apparently has succeeded in shifting some customers to less heavily-travelled flights since it was introduced in early August, he said. This would help increase passenger totals next year.

Because of the small size of the aircraft, the Montreal-Ottawa service cannot be operated profitably, transport department officials say. But it might break even with a larger aircraft like the DHC-7.

Nordair officials have said that network of routes including Montreal-Ottawa may be a profitable undertaking.

Transport department officials say the 350-mile Toronto-Montreal route probably can be operated profitably as more car travellers would be willing to switch to air for such a long journey, longer than the 125-mile Ottawa-Montreal run.

AFTER CHECKING the oil and tires, it's only natural to clean the windshield. In for a routine maintenance check, this Lockheed Hercules jet gets a tail-to-cockpit onceover at Lockheed's Marietta, Ga. facility.

Duty-free parts OKd for Bricklin

TORONTO (CP) — The federal government will allow Bricklin Canada Ltd. to import auto parts duty free from the United States for its car assembly plant in New Brunswick providing certain Canadian content requirements are met.

A spokesman for the department of industry, trade and commerce said an order-in-council was passed by the cabinet July 31.

Malcom Bricklin, company chairman, said Thursday this permits the Bricklin to be sold in Canada at prices comparable to those in the United States. When the sports car goes on sale here, it will be $25 less than the average $9,800 list price in the United States.

Under a previous arrangement, the company could import the parts duty free only if the completed cars were exported to the United States.

The car could have been sold in Canada but the company would have had to pay the duty, resulting in higher prices, Mr. Bricklin said.

He said it will be some time before a dealer network for Canadian sales is established.

Mr. Bricklin is also chairman of the parent company of Bricklin Canada, General Vehicle Corp., of Scottsdale, Ariz., in which the New Brunswick government holds substantial interest.

Dollars & Good Sense

With the summer season comes the need to do more yard work, and this includes cutting the grass frequently. If you are among the 40 million users of power mowers, please take time to read a few words of caution.

There are three danger areas that require particularly special care: steep slopes, gravel drives and low hanging trees.

On slopes, when walking behind your mower, mow across the slope, not up and down the hill. On a rider-mower, do just the opposite to avoid the possibility of spills. If a slope is extremely steep, you should consider an alternative ground cover.

Be extremely careful of gravel and other small objects which can be picked up by the mower's blades and thrown out at terrific speed. Disengage a riding mower's blades and shut off a conventional mower's motor before crossing a gravel area. It is also a good idea to periodically check your lawn for small rocks and debris that might be picked up by the mower.

Saturday gardeners often become so immersed in their work that they fail to watch where they are going. Low hanging trees can hit you in the face by surprise, causing you to lose control of your mower and creating danger for you and your family.

As with any power tool, exercise caution, and you can reap its benefits safely.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5857, London, Ontario.

Group meets to discuss Brome Lake conservation

KNOWLTON — About 350 interested citizens attended the information meeting sponsored by the Brome Lake Conservation Association held in the Canadian Legion Hall Friday, August 22. The guest speaker was Tony LeSautour of the Department of Municipal Affairs, Environment Section.

Members were brought up to date on the work done by the Association as well as the work by the Department in cleaning up Brome Lake.

The meeting was informed that the greater part of the residences on the lake's south shore were now connected to the municipal sewage system, with the exception of the Brome Lake Duck Farm. It has become apparent that the municipal system cannot now handle the volume of effluent coming from this bird-raising operation, without some kind of primary treatment being given to the effluent before it is allowed to enter the municipal system. It is expected that new plans for the treatment of this problem will be forthcoming in the near future.

President Bernard Leveille had the confirmation of the election of the temporary Board of Directors that was gathered last year to reactivate the Association.

The water level of the lake seemed to be another bone of contention. Even during this time of drought the control of the water level cannot be looked after by the Town Council as they are not the owners of the dam at the outlet of the lake. It was the unanimous decision of the meeting that a request be made to the municipal council to acquire ownership of this dam from the Town of Bromont.

Two die on Autoroute

GRANBY (RH) — Two persons died and seven others were injured when a Ford van overturned on the Eastern Townships Autoroute near here in the westbound section of the road Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

The name of one of the victims has not yet been released, but the other is Mrs. Olga Spack of Montreal. Mrs. Spack was approximately 60 years old. The seven injured were treated for multiple injuries at Sheppard Hospital in Granby.

The accident occurred when the driver lost control of the van and the vehicle overturned in the middle of the highway.

Increase given school transportation budget

QUEBEC (BP) — The Minister of State for Transport, Paul Berthiaume, announced Friday that school transportation in the province will be able to benefit from a minimal adjustment in their contracts between nine and 19 per cent, depending on the region, with the possibility of a revision in the rate by the Quebec Transport Commission (QTC).

The previewed adjustments will make an increase of some $18.5 million in the 1975-76 student transportation budget, bringing the total student transport budget to $130 million.

Mr. Berthiaume explained that these measures were written into Rule II, adopted in 1974, concerning reform in student transportation. A virtue of this rule is that the contracts granted in 1974-75 are valid for three years.

Consequently, the price of contracts since 1974-75 will adjust automatically, proportionately to the increase in the new rates and tariffs for school buses.

In other cases, the Quebec Transport Commission will decide the amount of general adjustment, depending on the various regions, between nine and 19 per cent.

The transporting firms which estimate losses can ask for a revision of prices in their contracts and obtain a new adjustment. The student transport companies should produce before the QTC a certified balance sheet of their actual operational costs for 1974-75.

After examination, the QTC will decide the adjustment in concurrence of 12 per cent of the actual costs. Finally, following this revision, the transport commission can allow an additional adjustment up to five per cent (the maximum rate allowed by the rule) to the transporting contractors who furnish proof of the signature of a collective work agreement for 1975-76 which increases salaries above the adjustable norms of the contract.

The other amendments brought by the student transportation ruling anticipate the new norms of grants for school commissions for special charters. Therefore, the new ruling authorizes payment of a lump-sum grant for the Montreal Catholic School Commission and the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal.

Concerning other school commissions, the ruling foresees an easing of norms concerning the transport children accompanied by the mother, the disappearance of a maximum cost by student transported and an increase of grants given for interscholastic transportation and for special activities.

Special sermon held at church in North Hatley

NORTH HATLEY — The conference of the International Association for Religious Freedom was held at Montreal from August 15 to 21 with over 300 registrants from all over the world. This is the first time they met in Canada.

Of particular interest to North Hatley Unitarian Universalists is that they provided hospitality for over a week to a number of visitors from Central Europe: Dr. Joseph Ferencz, Bishop of the Unitarian Church in Hungary; his deputy, Rev. Janos Bajor of Debrecen; Dr. Louis Kovacs, Bishop of the Unitarian Church in Rumania; and his deputy, Dr. Janos Erdo, dean of the Unitarian theological school at Koloszvar (Cluj-Napoca), Rumania.

Although their plane arrival was a day late and the trip a long one, the visitors, tired as they were, were enthusiastic with what they had seen of the Eastern Townships.

A number of sightseeing trips to places of interest in the immediate area and Quebec City gave many opportunities to share impressions of this country's life and worship. On Sunday, August 10th, at the North Hatley Unitarian Universalist Church, Bishop Kovacs and Dr. Erdo gave a joint sermon to a well-filled church. Recently, there was celebrated the one thousand eight hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the town of Koloszvar during Roman times. It was then known as Napoca. This has now been added to the Rumanian name of the town Cluj, Transylvania is an ancient province of Hungary which was ceded to Rumania after World War I. There are 120 Unitarian congregations there. During the 17th and 18th centuries there were over 500 congregations.

Unitarianism was founded in Central Europe in the 16th century. There are 10 congregations in Hungary today.

North American Unitarianism came about as an indigenous movement during the 18th and 19th centuries. But ties have remained close to Central European brethren.

Mrs. Nancy Pacaud deserves special thanks for the hosting and arrangements for the guests. She was helped by many others from the North Hatley Church and the Canadian Unitarian Council. Mrs. Pacaud's guests brought her native embroideries from Hungary and Rumania which are on display at the North Hatley Church.

Sweetsburg Court

SWEETSBURG WARD (JM) — Miss Jocelyne Noel, of no fixed address, was ordered to a psychiatric examination pending her arraignment on two counts of arson, in Waterloo, during June 1975. The motion for the examination was made by her defence lawyer, Claude Leveille. Crown Prosecutor Claude Noiseux approved the motion. Miss Noel was ordered to Sherbrooke for the tests and must be returned to court here no later than September 22 to determine whether or not she can answer the charges.

 Rene Demers, St. Joachim, pleaded guilty to a count of breaking and entering. His sentence was remanded to August 28.

 Judge Bernard Legare, following a motion from Crown attorney Noiseux, adjourned his sentence to November 17.

 Rejeanne Forand, Granby, was acquitted of a charge of theft of two lawn chairs from the Motel des Pins. Judge Legare said the accused had not directly participated in the theft and she had tried to protect her brother who had committed the crime.

 Francois and Paul Malley, both of Granby, were found guilty of theft of an automobile wheel and tire, in Granby, March 15. The brothers were each fined $100 and costs, in default 30 days, and were placed on one year's probation.

 Roger Gosselin, Granby, changed his option and pleaded guilty to a count of hit and run. Jacques Guertin, his lawyer, told the bench his client reported the accident to the police the following day. "He has every intention to reimburse his victim, and as he has no prior record I suggest he be placed on probation as there were no injuries in the accident."

 Crown prosecutor Noiseux asked for a fine of $100 and costs, then suggested sentence be adjourned to allow Gosselin the opportunity of reimbursing his victim. Judge Legare adjourned sentence to September 15.

 Gilles Martin, Granby, changed his option and pleaded guilty to theft of automobile mufflers valued at under $200, in Granby, April 24. Martin, who was represented by Jacques

Guertin, received a suspended sentence and was placed on one year's probation.

 Charles Benoit and Bill Hemmings, both of Noyan, were cited to the next term of the local assizes following preliminary hearing on a count of qualified robbery.

 Gaetan Daigle and Marc Marois, both of St. Joachim, were cited to the next term of the local assizes following preliminary hearing on counts of breaking and entering. Both men stood mute at voluntary statement.

 Daigle and Marois then changed their options and pleaded guilty to counts of theft. They were remanded in custody pending sentencing August 25.

 Paul Emile Robidoux, Wickham, was cited to the assizes by virtue of article 476 of the criminal code on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He then opted for trial before a magistrate alone, which was fixed, for the form, to January 12, 1976.

 Rene Demers, St. Joachim, pleaded guilty to a count of breaking and entering. His sentence was remanded to August 28.

Ontario to the Polls

After 32 years in office, the Ontario Conservatives are bidding with apparent confidence for a new mandate. If Premier Davis succeeds, his party may equal the modern record (of 36 years) set before its fall by Social Credit in Alberta. The two cases have a good deal in common. While Ontario conservatism has produced no single figure as towering as Ernest Manning, it has been guided by leaders of the quality of Leslie Frost and John Robarts — men who, unlike Mr. Manning, were able to pass on responsibility to strong successors. Without a high level of general competence and some dismal performances by its adversaries, no party could have continued to enjoy public confidence for so long. Even so, the Conservatives repeatedly have endured times of troubles, serious enough while they lasted to create an impression that the great success story was nearing its end. The resiliency of the party has been remarkable, especially in an issue-conscious province which commonly favors the Liberals in federal politics.

Nevertheless, since voters tend to distrust parties long in power, the years scarcely can be regarded as Conservative assets in the current campaign. Mr. Davis, sensing his danger, has been working hard to give his party a reassuringly new look. Quite obviously, however, he also is counting heavily on the current slump in the popularity of the federal Liberals, the "kissing cousins" of Robert Nixon, as he chooses to call them.

According to a plausible checks-and-balances theory, Ontario voters favor Conservative administrations at Queen's Park as counterweights to the Liberals, who have ruled for most of the post-war period in Ottawa. But the premier is taking no chances with voter instincts. He has spent much of the summer attacking Ottawa and his election news conference was notable for denunciations of federal policy on taxation, energy and inflation.

The strategy might be rather too obvious. Mr. Frost and Mr. Robarts were much more subtle, strongly defending provincial rights but avoiding dramatic confrontations. Indeed, Mr. Davis has gone well beyond Mr. Lougheed who, after all, merely insisted on resource rights which had been generally understood since 1930 to belong to the provinces. The Ontario premier was sufficiently the aggressor that he has had to retreat from the originally discriminatory rebates on North American automobiles (as Prime Minister Trudeau said, an intrusion into international trade policy under the guise of tax measure). Mr. Davis erred, presumably, because he was over-eager to dramatize his new role as protector of Ontario consumers and Ontario industry. But while the federal government has no proud record on inflation, the premier has chosen to tilt at oil price increases avoidable only through subsidization — with his own province as the major subsidizer. This will not enhance the reputation of Queen's Park in economic matters which has often in the past been better than Ottawa's. Mr. Davis should be able to find less blatantly political, and thus more convincing, ways of demonstrating the rejuvenation of his venerable administration. Certainly a new outbreak of inter-governmental warfare promises nothing of value to the country.

with Rosa Harris

Situated in the heart of Lennoxville is a stately old building known as the Georgian Hotel which personified for me, the Jekyll-and-Hyde characteristics of the town itself. There is no doubt that the fine old inn is past its prime — the latter-day architecture is just as charming as it ever was — but the structure itself has weathered the years once too often and has now caught the equivalent of pneumonia.

DR. JEKYLL

By day, the codgers cradle back and forth on rocking chairs placed by a sympathetic management on the plantation-size balcony. They pass the time of day, chewing the fat and making caustic comments on the people who pass them by. Theirs is a placid existence, punctuated only by the occasional tiff with long-time friends, and they add to the impression frayed around-the-edges of respectability which is the general aura of the place.

MR. HYDE

Ah, but by night! The fabric of respectability becomes completely unfurled as The Georgian Hotel metamorphoses into The "G", a hand-out for low-lives, ne'er-do-wells, and the occasional Record reporter. I leave it to you to decide in which category they fit.

The light is low and the atmosphere is electric. Bald-headed toughs are forever pushing the buttons on the juke-box which competes with the TV, and have been known to sob sentimentally when Olivia Newton-John asks the question "Have you ever been mellow?" Naive first year college students gawk at the goings-on, getting just a little bit too drunk for their own good on the atmosphere as much as the beer. This, after all, is what college is all about.

When the pubs close at midnight, it's standing-room-only at The "G", and the night is young. Romance, beer, perfume and cigarettes fill the air. Hearts are broken, bets are made, long-standing scores are settled, and the night is still young. Fights are picked, old friends are re-united, business deals are arranged, and when "last call" comes around, the night still seems too young to call it a day.

LAST CALL

But day it is. And as the sleepy bouncer-bartenders put the beer-stained chairs on the beer-soaked tables, the sky beyond The "G" is slightly hazy at the approach of dawn. In a matter of minutes, the old-timers will be back on the front porch after a restful night's sleep.

And no-one, except for the true freshmen, will be any the worse.

Did typos convict governor?

Jack Anderson's

Washington Mercury

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department used recklessly inaccurate transcripts of secret tapes to help convict Oklahoma's former Gov. David Hall in a nationally publicized bribery trial.

The official transcripts are loaded with serious mistakes. For example, the word "most" is transcribed as "less," and "disobeying" comes out as "just being." Throughout the transcripts, innocent words appear incriminating and vice versa, lengthy tape gaps aren't mentioned and one person's statements are put in the mouth of another.

Hall's own conversations, recorded without his knowledge while he was still in office, were used to help convict him. Yet part of a key conversation, which tended to exonerate him, strangely was omitted from the transcripts that were used at the trial.

The enormity of the errors and omissions in the Hall transcripts — combined with similar mistakes we discovered in an unrelated Washington criminal case — casts doubt on the convictions of hundreds of suspects around the country.

For it has been common practice to tap telephones, bug rooms and rig informers with body recorders to gather evidence. The transcripts of these tapes have been used in countless proceedings, ranging from narcotics trials to Richard Nixon's impeachment hearings.

Earlier, we reviewed 150,000 words in FBI transcripts, which had been stamped as "Evidence" and had been circulated to prosecutors and courts. We found more than 30,000 errors, some serious enough to jeopardize the rights of the accused.

Wherever such transcripts have been used, the danger exists that the suspects have been improperly jailed unless their lawyers took the unusual pains of going over the government's transcripts word for word and comparing them with the original tapes, as we have done.

A veteran Justice Department lawyer, whose job would be jeopardized if we identified him, has confirmed that the "typical, normal transcription" is a "shoddy job." He considers it "horrendous" that suspects may go to prison on such fraudulent evidence. Yet the department has been satisfied to let its tainted convictions stand.

In the Oklahoma case, Hall was indicted shortly after he stepped down as governor last January. He and Dallas financier W.W. "Doc" Taylor were charged with attempted bribery and related felonies.

Taylor allegedly offered $50,000 for Hall's help in securing a contract. The evidence against them was obtained largely from Oklahoma's Secretary of State John Rogers, who allowed his telephone to be tapped and permitted FBI agents to rig him with a body recorder and miniature transmitter.

In return for his cooperation, Rogers was granted immunity from prosecution on tax and securities charges.

The Rogers tapes were transcribed by the FBI, the U.S. Attorney's office and Oklahoma state personnel. The transcripts were used, mistakes and all, to get the two defendants indicted. Then the same transcripts were given to the defense attorneys who thus relied on tainted evidence to prepare their cases.

Hall and Taylor were prosecuted by U.S. Attorney William Burkett, a Nixon appointee and political opponent of Hall. At the trial, the tapes were a sensation. The transcripts, though not admitted into court evidence were dramatically used by Burkett, nevertheless, to summarize what he said the jurors were hearing on the scratchy tapes.

He used them to examine witnesses, quoted from them to make his arguments and waved them before the jury. Thus, the errors in the transcripts became part of the fiber of the trial.

On some points, the defense attorneys questioned their accuracy, and many transcripts were redone. But even though FBI agents swore the new versions were accurate, we found them still full of mistakes.

Federal Judge Fred Daugherty allowed the error-riddled transcripts to be used at the trial, and both defendants were convicted. Hall was sentenced to three years, Taylor to 18 months. The case is now headed for the appeals courts.

We have listened carefully to the tapes and have compared them to the transcripts. We found error after error, as many as 100 per page. Unaccountable gaps, a la Rose Mary Woods, occur at strategic moments.

Although we found some omissions and distortions which, if corrected, would strengthen Burkett's case, we found more instances that would help Hall and Taylor. In any event, the jury clearly did not get the "best evidence."

Only hours before he was accused, for instance, Hall was still insisting to his secretary of state that he knew nothing about a bribe. Rogers, with his secret recorder going, worked artfully to trap the governor into an admission.

"You know," said the governor, "I don't know what you're talking about."
Rogers seemed to agree, saying "That's a deal." But this statement, tending to clear Hall, never appeared in the government transcript. The defense attorneys were unable, therefore, to present it to the jury.

Footnote: U.S. Attorney Burkett agreed the first transcripts had "lots of errors (and) the second ones weren't a helluva lot better." But he insisted "that was the best we could do. They were a workable tool." He contended that the errors did not affect the trial's outcome because, he said, "I just used them to refresh the memories" of the witnesses. He conceded he also used the faulty transcripts in preparing the indictments but said he did not read them to the grand jury. He let the grand jurors listen to the tapes themselves, he said.

Poetry

IF

If I had more time, I'd travel afar,
I'd hitch my wagon to a star;
I'd see the world, and far-away places,
And gaze my fill on interesting faces.
If I had the money, I'd build a big home
Sumptuous, elaborate, and classy in tone,
No finer one could you ever find.
If I had the health, I'd get things done,
I'd work hard all day, and then have some fun,
I'd make my whole life really worthwhile
I'd be a go-getter, and do things in style.
"IF" (the excuse-maker!) so often used —
It's used so often, it's badly abused;
If we use it in a more positive way,
We'd have a more positive kind of a day!
Be glad of your eyes, to view the good things,
We pass by each day of our life,
The beauty that God put into the world,
The face of a husband, or wife.
Our health may be lacking in one way or more,
But just look around and you'll see
Someone who has troubles graver by far,
And bear them better than you or me.
For money will not buy you happiness,
Nor health, when your quota is spent,
You may travel afar with a book on your knee,
And it needn't cost you a cent.
Some travel for miles — say there's "nothing to see,"
While others can make it a lark,
Some benefit less from an ocean cruise,
Than others, a stroll through the park.
When we hear the trill of a birdsong,
Or a beautiful garden we see,
When we walk down the street, on our own two feet,
How thankful a person should be,
The most "welcoming" home, I often have found
May be simple and plain as can be.
It's the welcome you get — the small things you share,
Life's just what we make it, you see.
Let's not build our hopes around "might-have-beens"
Or sit back and wait for a break
The positive thinkers will pass us by
While we sit and bemoan our fate.
So if we think of the "riches" we have
Instead of "wealth" we might acquire,
The world might be a happier place,
So let us each other inspire.

GOLDEN WEDDING
(Observed by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McClary of Hatley, Que. on Aug. 22nd, 1975)

'Twas fifty years ago today
The Wedding knot was tied;
When Mamie White said the words: "I do"
And became Arthur McClary's bride.
They were wed in California,
Thousands of miles away;
Marriage vows being the same throughout,
Here, or in the U.S.A.
A few years later, they came back home,
To care for Art's Mom and Dad;
Mamie had been a Waterville girl,
While Art was a Hatley lad.
He spent lots of time in his garden,
Hoing out the weeds;
While she might be at a neighbor's house,
Tending a sick one's needs.
They've both been involved in Community work,
And faithful to the Church;
To find two nicer people,
You'd have a long long search.
They don't want to have any Party,
They just want to reminisce;
So the best we can do, is to wish them good health,
And continued Wedded Bliss.

MAGOG — Magog citizens last evening gave a hero's welcome to an outstanding son, Billy Connor, 19-year-old member of the Royal Canadian Navy, the first person ever to swim the 32-mile length of Lake Memphremagog.

The civic reception for the young star started with a parade through Main Street from his home and wound up at the city hall where he signed the Golden Book, heard words of praise from Mayor Ovila Bergeron and members of city council and was showered with gifts from the city and the citizens.

Main Street was crowded with thousands of cheering residents and visitors as the parade, which included three bands, an open car with Connor, his parents and his younger brother, and many other vehicles proceeded slowly to the municipal headquarters.

Upon arrival at the City Hall, Mayor Bergeron welcomed Connor, congratulating him upon his great feat, and said that he was a great credit to Magog and would long remain a hero to its citizens.

Ald. Jean Loslier, representative for the ward in which the Connors live, extended greetings to the object of the fete on behalf of Denis Gerin, M.L.A. for Stanstead, and said that his feat had done much toward moulding the good relations between the two main elements in the city.

HALIFAX — Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau and his three youthful companions took the air at 10:45 a.m., Atlantic Daylight Savings Time on the last leg of the Atlantic Ocean from Germany to New York. They had been held up more than two hours by fog and although that had lifted and the sun was shining brilliantly over Halifax at the take-off the flyers were likely to encounter unfavorable atmospheric conditions along the coast.

Two seaplanes of the Halifax Flying Club, which has been host to the visitors, accompanied the big Dornier-Wahl flying boat at the start of the flight, seeing Captain Gronau safely away on his course to New York. It was one of these planes that flew to Marie Joseph yesterday and guided the German aviators into Halifax, when it became known that they were held up in fog.

Captain Gronau hoped to reach New York well ahead of darkness and to bring the flying boat down on the harbor near the battery. The Dornier-Wahl flying boat is painted a battleship grey with no bright colors or trimmings. The wings bear the registration number D-1422 in large white figures, and they are also on the tail fin. The flying boat is of a monoplane type, with two motors mounted tandem on top of the wing, each driving a four-blade propeller. The fuselage is a boat with an open cockpit in the bow and cabin amidships.

Service in the Anglican Church on Sunday, Aug. 17, was conducted by Rev. G. Rose of All Saints Memorial Church, Providence, R.I., much to the delight of a goodly congregation. As usual, he preached a very inspiring sermon, appropriate at this time, on the eve that St. James is about to receive a new clergyman. He stressed the importance of the attitude of the parish to this man and he to the parish. If it is thoughtful and kindly it will reflect on him and from him back to the people.

Rev. Rose is an annual visitor at Flower Show time. He is always accompanied by several members of his Providence congregation and on this particular Sunday, in his pre-sermon remarks he announced, "The Yankees are invading again."

On these occasions it is a very happy invasion. It is to be hoped that it continues for many years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Barry Emmery and little daughter, Tara Lynn of London, Ont., have been visiting Mrs. Emmery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Stote. While here, they camped for a few days at Lake Carmi State Park and Mr. and Mrs. Stote spent a day there with them.

Guests of Mrs. Ruby Moore during the past week have been Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wigglesworth of Thomaston, Maine. Mrs. Wigglesworth is a great-granddaughter of the late Prudence Cornell and visited the site of the old Cornell home, long since burned down. Also Mr. and Mrs. Collins and two children from Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Humphrey and children of Madison, Wiscon., and Messrs Rginald and Earl Corey of Ottawa and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Laflamme and small daughter have left for a week's visit and family reunion at Elliot Lake, Ont.

Father Andre Vincent of St. Hyacinthe has taken over his duties as priest of the parish of Ste. Jeanne D'Arc. Father Vincent is extended a warm welcome to this community and will carry on the friendly relations that have existed between our three churches over the past many years.

Mr. Neil Creller was host to the 44th annual meeting of the 117th Eastern Townships Battalion. More details to appear at a later date.

Mrs. Wesley Gage and son Floyd are on a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gage at Rouyn, Que.

The many friends of Miss Janette Bullard are pleased to hear that she is gradually regaining her health.

Miss Pamela Dougherty has left for her home in Florence, Italy, after a very pleasant few days visiting her grandparents and her father and mother at the Tree home. While here, a family picnic was held at Lake Carmi, Vt.

Public Hearing by Canadian Transport Commission on Bell Canada Application for Rate Increases

By an application filed on May 30, 1975, Bell Canada requested the Canadian Transport Commission to approve certain increases in its rates for service, equipment and facilities. Bell Canada also asked that approval of part of the proposed increases be granted on an urgent interim basis in the first phase of hearings on the application.

In July the Canadian Transport Commission approved interim rate increases to the extent of 50 per cent of the interim increases proposed by Bell Canada. The Commission also approved adoption of a new rate grouping system which excludes extension telephones from the count used for determining rate groups.

The Canadian Transport Commission has now directed that a public hearing on the second phase of the application will commence on October 27, 1975. At that hearing, Bell Canada will seek approval of all rate increases originally proposed in the May 30, 1975 application. Such rate increases are set out in schedules 1 and 2 to the application.

A summary of the tariff revisions applied for is shown in the table below, together with a summary of the interim increases which became effective August 9, 1975.

Miscellaneous Shower

DANVILLE — Miss Judy Williams entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home, Water St. on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Susan Smith, a September bride-to-be.

On her arrival she was presented with a corsage by the hostess and escorted to a chair over which hung a large white wedding bell and several smaller pink bells. There she proceeded to open the many attractively wrapped gifts and pass them among the guests.

Susan expressed her appreciation to her hostess for the party, as well as her thanks to the guests for their gifts. Lunch was served buffet style from the dining room table, which was centred with a shower cake done in pink and flanked by lighted white tapers. Pink and white sweet peas completed the decor.

Needless to say, this was a very enjoyable evening, as they were all schoolmates from this area and from Richmond, so excitement ran high at the shower for the first member of this group to be married.

All left at last, amid best wishes to Susan for all future happiness.

Ann Landers says:

Can women commit rape?

Dear Ann Landers: My friend and I debated this question for two hours and we couldn't agree on the answer. Please help.

Question: Is it possible for a woman to rape a man? My friend (female) claims it is not possible. I say it is. Granted, the woman might have to hold a gun to the man's head but I'm sure it could be done.

We have agreed to accept your decision as final. Please hurry. We'll be fighting over this until we hear — Hung Jury In Montoursville, Pa.

Dear Hung: According to Harry Busch, a distinguished criminal lawyer in Chicago, it is possible for a woman to rape a man, but highly improbable.

Nature designed humans in such a way that the male, in order to complete a sexual union, must desire sex — or at least be willing to participate. While a male, at gunpoint, might be capable of being sexually aroused, it would be highly unlikely.

Somewhat, somewhere, however, in this world of three billion people, there is undoubtedly a man who could manage it. So — according to Harry Busch — you win.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell "Regrets in Ohio" that her story gave me the final prod to stop smoking. And I'm in today.

For several months I told myself I was going to stop smoking "tomorrow" or "next week." The facts were, I really didn't enjoy smoking. I hated the smell and the mess. But it was the "Regrets" letter that stunned me into awareness. I sat down and asked myself, "Why am I continuing to indulge in a habit that is distasteful, dirty, expensive, and will kill me before my time?" The only answer that came to me was "You're the biggest fool I know."

I cut out the "Regrets" letter and am going to carry it with me. Every time I get the urge to smoke I will take it out and read it. I'll know it by heart soon. But that's okay. I plan to get a piggy bank to carry with me, and whenever I feel the urge to buy a pack of cigarettes, I'll put the money in the piggy bank. Six months from now I will double the amount I've saved and give it to the American Cancer Society.

I'll write again in six months (on February 15) to let you know how I did. I'll be ashamed if I have to report failure, but the idea that our dear friend in Ohio might see the letter will stiffen my resolve. — Shaken In North Carolina — The Heart of Tobacco-Land

Dear Heart: Bravo, Baby! I'll be looking for your letter on February 15 and please know I am betting on YOU!

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Salt-McAteer wed

REV. AND MRS. R. SALT

St. George's Anglican Church, Lennoxville, was very attractively decorated with white peonies, field daisies and wild lupins for the wedding of Catherine Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McAteer, to the Rev. Richard John Salt, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Salt, Millington, New Jersey, on June 21, 1975.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was dressed in a gown of white nylon organza with a white nylon eyelid bodice having long puffed sleeves.

The full skirt fell into a circular chapel train. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a band of eyelet. Cathy carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Her maid of honor, Donna Smerdon, and bridesmaids, Cynthia Daigneault and Katherine Salt, sister of the groom, wore dresses of pale yellow and pale blue printed cotton with white picture hats. They carried bouquets of white and yellow shasta daisies with baby's breath.

The bride's cousin, Shannon McAteer from Ottawa, was flowergirl and was dressed in a pale blue gown of the same style and material as the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of white and yellow shasta daisies, baby's breath and blue bachelor buttons.

Mrs. McAteer, mother of the bride, wore a floor length dress of pale aqua embossed nylon with a gardenia purse corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Salt, was dressed in a long gown of beige printed dacron with a gardenia corsage.

The Rev. Ronald Smith, Coaticook, acted as best man for the groom. The ushers were Rob Salt, brother of the groom, and James McAteer, brother of the bride.

The Rev. A. Salt, father of the groom, performed the wedding ceremony. A Nuptial Eucharist was celebrated by the Right Reverend Bishop Matthews of Quebec, assisted by the Venerable Archdeacon Meade of St. George's, and the Rev. Salt. Christopher Salt, brother of the groom, read the lesson during the service.

Mrs. Elizabeth Warlund was organist and presented a beautiful rendition of organ selections including for the processional, "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" and for the recessional, "Perce's 'Trumpet March.'" The Misses Janet Yeandel and Joanne Kobelt sang the "Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi" during the signing of the register accompanied by Mr. R. Elson on the guitar and Mr. R. Beaudoin on the recorder. With the same accompaniment, they sang "Take our Bread" and "Try a Little Kindness" during the communion service.

The wedding reception was held at MacKinnon Hall, Bishop's University. David McAteer was in charge of the guest book.

The young couple left on their honeymoon to Cape Cod, the bride travelling in a coral linen suit with a navy blue flowered blouse and off-white accessories.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Edmonton, London, Ont., Ottawa, Montreal, Millington, N.J., Derby Line and Sherbrooke.

DANVILLE

Mrs. Margaret Frost 839-2185

The annual Decoration Day Service of the Golden Rule Lodge was held on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 17 at the IOOF monument. The weather was cool and certainly one of the best days, weatherwise, that there has been for many a year, but there were only ten members of Golden Rule Lodge and seven members of Maple Leaf Lodge and a small attendance of guests. The service was conducted by Bro. Edwin Baker, Noble Grand, assisted by Bro. Lorne Ames, chaplain. Names of the departed brothers and sisters were read by Bro. Ronald Stevens and by Sister Myra Whitham, after which Sis. Whitham N.G. and Bro. E. Baker placed a large basket of varied colored gladioli at the monument.

Saturday evening guests of Mrs. J.W. Beliveau included Mr. and Mrs. Errol Beliveau, Jimmy Laurie and Randy and Mrs. Charlotte Howse of Waterville, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Champoux of Pointe Claire and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beliveau of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Rolfe, Shelley and Ritchie have returned from a week's holiday spent with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rolfe in Winnipeg.

Miss Sigrid Rolfe and two friends of Winnipeg were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Rolfe.

Members of Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge are busy selling the cook books which were compiled early this spring. It is hoped that the majority of them will be sold before the opening of lodge on Sept. 2nd. At this meeting there will be first nomination of officers for the coming year as well as the completion of plans for the visit of the President of the Rebekah Assembly. It is hoped that there will be a better than usual attendance at this meeting.

Mrs. Stanley Taylor accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Freda Hughes of Brampton, Ont., to Wildwood, N.J., where they enjoyed a ten day holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hughes and small daughter of Georgetown, Ont., spent their holidays as the guest of Mr. Hughes' uncle, Mr. Everett Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Ross and son Douglas of St. Bruno were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald and were accompanied home by little Terri-Lynn, who had been holidaying with her grandparents. Miss Shelley Rolfe is spending a few days in St. Bruno with the Ross family.

Mrs. James Hill and son Michael of St. Adolphe were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald.

Twin Shower

MANSONVILLE — A large lovely white frosted cake topped with a carriage holding twin dolls and surrounded with a miniature stork and teddy bear graced the head table in the Town Hall at Mansonville recently where approximately 60 invited guests were present for a baby shower held in honor of Mrs. Andre (Phyllis) Marcoux who presented her family and relatives with beautiful twins — a boy and a girl — a little over a week previously. Mrs. Jean McNeil made the cake and Mrs. Gisele Daigle along with Miss Pauline Lessard were the hostesses. The grandmothers, Mrs. Maud Clark and Mrs. Albert Marcoux helped the guest of honor unwrap the wonderful variety of gifts after Mrs. Gwen Marcoux presented Phyllis with a corsage of miniature roses.

Miss Lessard and Mrs. Eleanor Clark brought in the twin babies for everyone to admire.

The happy evening ended with a lovely buffet style lunch donated by several ladyfriends from the area including a delicious Hawaiian (spiked) punch made by Mrs. Fern Tomuschat and Mrs. Dolly Lessard.

Canadian film hit in U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP) — 1947. The Post describes Why Rock the Boat, a Canadian film making its first appearance in the United States as "an amiable and diverting little comedy."

Reviewer Gary Arnold has kind words for William Weintraub, who wrote the novel about the misadventures of a cub reporter on a Montreal daily back in

Arnold writes. Arnold has gone beyond mere review for pertinent background. BASED ON EXPERIENCE Weintraub's book was inspired by his own journalistic apprenticeship at the Montreal Gazette, where he, went to work in 1947 and was fired in 1949 after the managing editor got wind of a previous night's party at which Weintraub had drunkenly lifted a piggy bank and said "I guess we all know who this is."

Arnold says Weintraub's novel received a favorable press "almost everywhere except the two English-language dailies in Montreal—The Star and The Gazette—which assigned their managing editors to review the book." Arnold saves his greatest rave of the film for Henry Beckman who plays Butcher, "the unprincipled and ill-tempered editor, a marvellous comic monster, a credibly capricious and demented authoritarian."

UNABLE TO hitch a ride with a conventional sign showing his destination, 19-year-old Steve Johnson of Phoenix thought he'd try something a bit out of the ordinary. Though no motorists volunteered to take him as far as Mars, many curious drivers have transported him across the country, which is all he really wanted anyhow.

College student wins $1,000 a week for life

JACKSON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — A college senior from Clifton won $1,000 a week for life—with a minimum of $1 million—in the Instant Lottery's grand prize drawing here recently. "I'm stunned. I can't believe it," Rich Glita, 20, said in a telephone interview at his home after learning the good news. Glita, who majors in business management at Fairleigh Dickinson University, said he wasn't sure what he would do with his money but that he "might start some kind of a business." "I'm so shocked, I haven't even thought about it," he said. Glita, who lives with his parents, works part-time at the college bookstore and at a local liquor store. Glita's winning number was picked from a cement mixer holding three million finalists' tickets at Adventure amusement park. A total of 13 million tickets was sold.

Opening lead — ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

When you play Blackwood should you use all four-notrump bids as ace requests? That is the simple way to play the convention. Later on you and your partners might want to play some four-notrump calls as strong bids in notrump. Before doing so, make sure that you are in complete agreement as to which bids aren't Blackwood. You can make this as complicated as you wish, but the best thing to do is to keep it simple.

Jacoby's bridge

When 4NT bid isn't Blackwood

Thus, as a starter agree that an immediate four notrump response to partner's opening bid of one, two or three notrump is a plain raise and does not ask for aces. North's four notrump shows 15+ to 16 points. His plus the three 10 spots. South jumps to six because he holds 17 points plus one 10 and two nines. The slam makes easily when the jack of clubs drops on the second lead. If it failed to drop, South would have had to locate the queen of diamonds.

ASK THE JACOBY'S
A reader from Illinois wants to know what the correct response to partner's opening bid of one diamond is when you hold:
♠ 9 7 6 4 ♥ A 10 2 ♦ J 3 ♣ K 9 7 4
The answer is that you should respond one notrump unless you have some special partnership agreement that you never bypass a four-card major suit. In that case you respond one spade. With eight high-card points, you are too strong to pass and too weak to respond two clubs. (Do you have a question for the Jacoby's? Write "Ask the Jacoby's" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in the column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC MUNICIPALITY OF TOWNSHIP OF ASCOT... To the Ratepayers of the aforesaid Municipality PUBLIC NOTICE... At a regular meeting held August 20, 1975 the council of aforesaid Municipality adopted By-law No. 380...

Birchton Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cartwright, all of Coaticook, were evening dinner guests of Mrs. George Simoneau, Rock Island. They were joined by Mr. L.E. Roberge for the evening. Mrs. Geneva Lyons, Rock Island, left by bus for Springfield, Mass., where she was met by her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Insalco and accompanied them to their homes in Willomantic, Conn. The following morning, Mrs. Lyons and her niece, Mrs. Clark took a jet plane from Hartford, Conn. to fly to Los Angeles, Calif., and spent two weeks with Mrs. Lyons' sister, Mrs. Bernice Abare and her daughter, Peggy in Cota Mesa, Calif. While there, they visited Disneyland, Marineland, spent a day in Mexico, attended taping of two Hollywood Square shows to be on the air August 18-19, spent a day with Mrs. Lyons' and Mrs. Abare's brother, Mr. Lawrence McGivern and Mrs. McGivern at Venice, Calif., and saw many other interesting places while there. Mr. and Mrs. McGivern had left for Connecticut to visit relatives and later with Mrs. Lyons motored from Connecticut to Rock Island where Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGivern stayed with Mrs. Lyons a few days, visiting their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McGivern in Rock Island and others in the communities. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Emslie, Rock Island, spent two weeks with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Brian (Eula) Galloway, also visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galloway in Strathkinness, Scotland, and toured many places in Scotland, visiting Mrs. Ada Dick in Oban, Scotland. While there, Brian and Eula moved to Middlesex, England, where Brian has a position with the Canadian Imperial Bank, he being a former employee of CIB in Toronto, Ont., so Mr. and Mrs. Emslie visited two weeks in Middlesex before returning home. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Thayer and family, London, Ont., while visiting relatives in Fitch Bay and other places were guests of his brother, Mr. Arnold Thayer, Mrs. Thayer and family in Rock Island, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer, Janice, Betty and Linda, also Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dustin, Cathy and Cindy of Stanstead, spent a weekend camping at Lakeside, Island Pond, Vt. Mrs. W.H. Davis, Rock Island, Beebe Road, spent a week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. May Davis, Fulford. Guests at the home of Mrs. Davis have been Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clarkson, East Farnham, Mr. and Mrs. Niles Hagstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Wilden Parker of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis, and Mrs. Hazel Kezar, North Hatley.

After camping for a few days at Brookside Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackson, their son, Merrill, Mrs. Jackson and children, Pamela, David and Patricia, all of Tilton, N.H., returned to their home. Mr. Carl Jackson, with Sean, Dawn and Colleen, of Franklin Centre, Que., spent several days with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sparkes, with most of their family, attended the Sparkes Family Reunion, at the old homestead, now the home of the Malcolm Sparkeses, Miss Donna Sparkes, being on holiday at Hampton Beach, Maine, was absent from the gathering. Miss Joan Halsall has returned home, after being employed at the Home for Crippled Children in the Ayer's Cliff area. Mrs. Roy Smith, with her boys, Glen and Phillip, from North Carolina, are spending a fortnight with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Damon, the boys' maternal grandmother. The early part of May, Brian Dunsmore was transferred to Cornwall, Ont. The weekend of August 16, he was a member of the Cornwall Ball Team in the meet involving Montreal, Sherbrooke and Cornwall. He proudly carried home a trophy from his team for the M.I.P. player. He was guest of his mother, Mrs. Gerald Dunsmore. Mr. Charles Moore visited his daughter, Mrs. G. Robinson, Mr. Robinson and family in John's Town, Ont. Among the guests at the marriage of their nephew John Barter to Lise Bureau, were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers. It was good to hear the ring of Jean Taylor Pike's voice around her childhood haunts, as she, her husband, Herbert McCormick, with her children, Trevor and Susanne, all of Glace Bay, N.S. spent a week with Jean's mother, Mrs. S.J. Taylor.

Led Zep celebrates with new tour

By Stephen Ford

NEW YORK - (NEA) - Mick Jagger and Elton John are not the only platinum-plated deities that can hold their own against the recording industry's money moguls. Led Zepplin's Jimmy Page has also proven he's more than just another pretty face. As guiding light of Led Zep, Page spearheaded many a negotiating session with the cigar-chomping pin-striped suit crowd during creation of Led Zep's own recording label, Swan Song. In less than two years of operation and with only five albums on the market, Swan Song has totaled $27 million in profits... $13 million of that just from the Zep's own "Physical Graffiti" LP.

To celebrate Page & Co.'s business acumen, Led Zepplin will kick off another national tour of the States on August 23 at Oakland Stadium in California where they'll gross $1.1 million for a two-day stand. Sickingen, isn't it?

Rockophiles are the targets of NBC-TV when it broadcasts "Night Dream" Aug. 1 and 8. The sporadic 90-minute programs are to be a video panoply of brief segments featuring rock artists performing selections reflecting a central theme. Appearing in the first two programs are Rod Stewart, Three Dog Night, Black Oak Arkansas, Slade, Freddy Fender and Tanya Tucker...

ABC-TV and so forth will import the band perhaps most responsible for Britain's frenzy these days, the Bay City Rollers. America will finally get its chance to see the Scottish madmen Sept. 20 when the Howard Cosell Show makes its maiden broadcast. Also on hand will be Woody Allen and John Lennon and Wayne... The cerebral jazz-rock duo of Jon Mark and Johnny Almond which broke up two years ago, has reconciled and is now in the recording studio.

Those maudlin, sloppy sentimentalists known as Lynrd Skynrd were all choked up in their hometown of Jacksonville, Fla. when the mayor

BEAU BRUMMELS: More than just nostalgia.

Harper's Bizarre," said guitarist Ron Elliott who writes most of the Brummels' songs. "then my diabetes acted up and I couldn't travel with the band anymore. We found a stand-in for me but then he quit and we decided that was the end."

Elliott and vocalist Sal Valentino continued to play together occasionally when they'd sit in after hours with another band playing at an L.A. club. "And we still sounded good," Elliott said. "So I tried writing a few new songs, we contacted the other members of the old Brummels and last year, got it together again."

The new Brummels don't sound so terribly different from the old Brummels, but don't consider them another '60s band that regrouped hoping to cash in on the nostalgia craze. Their new LP "Beau Brummels" is a soft rocker in the same style as their earlier material. "We keep our songs very tight, condensed," says Elliott, "none of that 20-minute solo stuff. I think that's selfish. You're not thinking of the fan when you do something like that."

The problem with their new album though, is that it's too condensed and tight. The LP threatens to rock out a few times, which it needs to counter its pervading somnolence, but never quite delivers. Elliott says he listens mainly

Emphasis shifts in Ontario election

TORONTO (CP) - A few months after succeeding John Roberts as premier of Ontario, William Davis rolled to an impressive victory in the 1971 election, prolonging a Progressive Conservative dynasty that has governed the province for 32 years.

With a new man at the helm and a number of new faces in the cabinet, the Conservatives won 78 of the 117 seats in the legislature, reducing the Liberals to 20 and New Democrats to 19.

As he campaigns for reelection Sept. 18, Mr. Davis no longer enjoys the advantage of a leader with no personal record to defend. By-elections have cost him four seats and his administration has been subjected to a variety of problems including allegations of corruption and conflict of interests.

In 1971, he was presented to the voters as a low-key administrator, a man less interested in flamboyant rhetoric and the cut-and-thrust of political debate than in the efficient running of the government of his province.

EMPHASIS SHIFTS
 In the current campaign, there has been a shift in emphasis. While the Conservatives continue to present themselves as the only party capable of governing the province in an orderly manner, there has been a noticeable effort to present their leader in a more human light.

The voice, a comfortable monotone throughout the 1971 campaign, has been raised in anger in response to suggestions by Liberal Leader Robert Nixon that the integrity of his government is open to question. He has been trading pleasantries with opposition candidates, kissing brides, cutting birthday cakes.

He has also jumped on political issues, imposing price freeze on gasoline, offering a sales-tax rebate to purchasers of new cars to stimulate the suffering automotive industry.

The 46-year-old Conservative leader started his political career as a lawyer, moving into the legislature in 1959 and becoming minister of education three years later.

HAD REVERSE
 He held the portfolio for nearly 10 years, a period marked by expansionary educational spending and development. Ironically, economic stringencies forced an abrupt reversal shortly after he became premier and some of Mr. Davis' strongest supporters in the education community have become vociferous critics.

The premier still commutes to Queen's Park from his home in Brampton, 12 miles west of Toronto. The family - his wife Kathleen and their five children - also maintains a cottage on Georgian Bay and a condominium in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. Davis is the fifth in an uninterrupted line of Conservative leaders that began when George Drew

Killanin insists on global viewing for Olympics' TV

ALGIERS — (AP) — The 1976 Olympics must be televised throughout the world, the president of the International Olympic Committee said yesterday.

Lord Killanin, addressing a news conference in Algiers, said the IOC has stressed this point with the organizing committee of the Montreal Olympics. He said he was confident an agreement would be reached by the beginning of September.

"There are too many persons on vacation now and that is what is holding up the announcement of an agreement," Lord Killanin said. "We are quite certain the Games will be televised and we are working on this."

"We have told the organizing committee to reconsider their rejection of the Union of International Television Network's offer. We pointed out the offer amounted to twice as much as the organizing committee in Munich received and the question is not solely a financial one."

COJO, the Olympics organizers in Montreal, rejected an offer of $9.3 million for television rights earlier this month.

Killanin said it was necessary for the Olympic movement to have all the publicity it could get and television transmissions were also of the greatest advantage to the city and country which hosted the Games.

"There seems to be a misunderstanding between the systems in North America and in the rest of the world," he said.

Sailing lead challenged

COPENHAGEN — (CP) — Geoff Perry of Baie d'Urfe, and crew member Robert Levy of Hampstead gave Canada a top placing for the second straight day yesterday at the world Tornado sail championships.

The Quebec boat placed second in the 64-boat field, four minutes behind the race winning British twin-hulled yacht skippered by Reg White, but the manner in which Perry manoeuvred to a 2½-minute edge over Jorg Spengler of West Germany indicated good things ahead for the Canadian competitors.

The results left Perry and Levy, who were 12th Sunday, in third place over-all with 21 penalty points to just eight for White and 11.4 for Spengler after two races. It was Spengler's second straight third-place finish.

Another Canadian boat was also in the running. Larry Woods of Winona, Ont., and Mike de la Roche of Kingston, after a fifth-place finish in the first race Sunday, got away to a bad start yesterday but still moved up to finish 13th.

Over-all, the Woods-Roche crew stands fifth with 29 penalty points.

A PALM IS A PALM IS A PALM most places, but not at Georgia's Marshwood golf course. Smack in the middle of the 16th green, "The Palmer Tree" was left standing at the suggestion of the design consultant, Arnold Palmer, for the course at The Landings, residential-resort community on Skidaway Island. It can be both good news and bad news for golfers — a spot of shade from which to putt or a trap 20 feet high.

Eight Quebecers named to Pan-Am track team

Eight Quebec track and field athletes were chosen over the weekend to represent Canada at the Pan-American Games which take place in Mexico City in October.

The team, put together Sunday by the Canadian Track and Field Association after its national championships, still needs the approval of the Pan-American Games committee.

The women's team proposed Sunday will be the nucleus of the Canadian team in Friday's international meet in Sudbury, Ont., against East Germany.

Tennis battles at tournaments

BROOKLINE, Mass. — (AP) — Top-seeded Guillermo Vilas, the 1974 Grand Prix champion from Argentina, defeated Wimbledon champ Arthur Ashe 4-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, yesterday in the semi-finals of the $100,000 United States pro tennis championships.

Defending champion Bjorn Borg of Sweden meets John Alexander of Australia for the right to challenge Vilas for the title and the $16,000 first prize.

A master of top-spin shots, Vilas got going after a slow start and overwhelmed Ashe in their rain-delayed match on Sunday. At one point, the 23-year-old South American frustrated the veteran U.S. Davis Cup star by winning eight games in a row.

Winner of 25 of his last 26 matches and three of his last four tournaments, Vilas won the second set with a service break in the second game. Then he was in total command in sweeping the third set, breaking Ashe three times.

HARRISON, N.Y. — (AP) — Chris Evert, poised and patient, overwhelmed Virginia Wade 6-0, 6-1 at the Westchester Country Club yesterday in the rain-delayed final of a $75,000 women's tennis tournament.

Miss Evert, 20, collected $14,000 for the victory and justified her No. 1 seeding for the U.S. Open Tennis Championships which begins tomorrow at Forest Hills.

Miss Wade, Britain's top woman player for the past several years, won $7,000. She is seeded second at Forest Hills.

Miss Evert, playing on the clay-court surface that makes her, baseline game near unbeatable, was in command from the outset. She broke Miss Wade's service in the first game with a backhand

Yankees top in local Little League circuit

LENOXVILLE (BP) — Which Little League team in the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville-Fleurimont circuit had just one player on their division's all star team, and scoffed at its opponents during league playoffs? The Lennoxville Optimist Yankees, that's who.

Last Thursday, after only seven semi-final and final games, they captured the first Sher-Lenn championship since their inception in the league over 20 years ago. And on the weekend, they proved themselves even more by defeating the opposing division champs, Indians, in two games straight.

Saturday, lanky John Tsai tossed a five-hitter against the Indians as the Yanks went on to an 11-5 victory. Jacques Boudreau was the losing pitcher. John was a bit wild at times, as the nine walks he gave up indicate, but the two strike outs he made narrowed the error gap. Boudreau allowed five walks and didn't get a strike out.

The Yankees fell behind 3-2 after the first inning in Sherbrooke, but evened the count in the second. They scored three runs in the third, and added fifth and sixth inning runs totalling five to give them a comfortable cushion. The Indians scored one run in each of the last two innings.

John Tsai scored four of Lennoxville's runs, three of them after taking a walk to first base. Guy Grandmont made a double and a single. Wayne Cormier had a double, and both Marc Champoux and Kevin Moore passed shot. She broke again in the third with a strong forehand and again in the fifth with a brilliant backhand shot that hit the sideline.

Granby duo win Father, Son meet

Veldon Laurie and his son John from Granby won the Quebec Father and Son golf championship yesterday with a two-over-par 74 on the South Course at Elm Ridge.

That gave them a two-stroke victory in the alternate-shot competition that attracted 277 teams.

"The only time we give advice is when it's asked," said Veldon, 50, a rubber factory manager. "Otherwise you throw the other fellow off. We don't play the same game."

His son John, 23, is an accountant who plays to a seven handicap and his dad is a four.

Lemay Auto takes semi-final opener

FLEURIMONT (BP) — Sawyerville and Lemay Auto Electric swapped seventh innings of five and four runs respectively in the first game in their semi-final series, but the latter came through with the pressure on to squeak a 9-8 victory in Lennoxville Women's Softball League action last night.

Starting pitcher Carole Gamache pitched six and two third innings, and stood to be the losing pitcher, but Mireille Thibault came in and three batters later, retired the third batter, and is credited with the win. Denyse Villeneuve hurled the whole game for Sawyerville. Carole allowed seven hits and gave up seven walks, while she picked up the only strike out against Sawyerville. Mireille gave up one hit and one walk before getting the third batter to ground out. Denyse conceded 12 hits and a walk, while she struck out three batters.

LAE took the lead in the third when they scored a pair of runs, but next bats saw Sawyerville nullify that to even the count to two each. Lemay Auto went ahead again in the fifth with three runs, and Sawyerville narrowed the margin by one in the sixth.

With nothing to lose but the game, Sawyerville banged out four hits, one a two run homer, in the top of the seventh to score five runs and trade places with the hometown LAE squad, which now found themselves in an uncomfortable corner.

Lemay Auto scored three runs before anybody was out, with Mado Trotter on third after her triple. A strike out followed, and then a walk to Mireille Thibault. It was Lorraine Labrecque's hit to the short stop which sent Mado home ahead safely of the throw to produce the winning run.

Lise Thibault was the offensive star for LAE with a triple and two singles, while Mado Trotter had a triple. Carole Frappier had a double and a single, and Lise Boilard hit a double. Carole Gamache, Lorraine Labrecque, Carole Thibault, Chantal Latulippe and Jocelyne Lemay added singles en route to the win.

Chantal Bolduc brought the game back within Sawyerville's reach with her one-out home run which scored her sister, Ghislaine, before her. Brigitte Bolduc, the third family member on the team, complemented her brief appearance at the end of the game with a double. Denyse Villeneuve, Ghislaine Bolduc, Suzanne Breault and Andree Gervais made singles in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings respectively, while Andree also had a single in the seventh.

LAE and Sawyerville advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Clark's Pharmacy and Rand respectively. Lemay Auto downed Clark's 20-1 in the opening game and took the second by default as Clark's failed to have the required number of players. Sawyerville won by 22-6 and 12-7 counts to take their series.

Tonight in Lennoxville, NBS St-Elie opposes La Patrie in the opening contest of that semi-final series. From the two league games this season, NBS seems to hold the advantage after winning by close 5-4 and 13-10 margins against La Patrie. The contest will begin at 7 p.m., an hour earlier than usual.
