CARRANZA FORCES AMBUSH AND KILL AMERICAN SCOUTS

FORTY AMERICANS ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN KILLED IN SURPRISE ATTACK AND SEVENTEEN CAPTURED—MEXICAN GENERAL KILLED.

El Paso, Tex., June 21.—A detachment of American cavalry clashed with Carranza forces at Carrisal, about 30 miles south of El Paso early today, both sides suffering heavy casualties, according to unofficial reports received by Mexican military authorities in Juarez tonight.

According to the report, forty Americans were killed by machine gun fire in a surprise attack. The Mexican casualties were said not to have been so heavy, but General Felix Gomez is named as being among the Mexican dead.

The American command is said to have been part of a scouting patrol from Guzman, returning to General Pershing's line of communication.

Later General Francisco Gonzales, Mexican commander at Juarez, gave out a statement in which he announced officially that the Mexican command had taken 17 prisoners. He also said that General Gomez' death had been confirmed, but said he had no official report as to the number of casualties on either side.

Funston Admits Clash.

Washington, June 21.—General Funston reported late tonight that he had received official confirmation of a clash between Carranza and American troops early today near Carrisal, Mexico. He transmitted to the War Department the following report from General Bell at El Paso:

"There was a clash this morning at Carrisal near Villa Ahumada, between Carranza and American troops in which General Gomez and other Mexicans were killed, the number unknown. Numbers of Americans killed or wounded unknown."

PRESSURE ON CARRANZA.

Entente Allies Need Oil From Tampico.

Washington, June 21.—Some intimation as to what General Carranza's next step would be was expected tonight at the State Department. Official advices reported that the American refusal to withdraw General Pershing's troops from Mexico was under consideration by the First Chief.

Special Agent Rodgers who made the report, was unable to forecast the action of the defacto government and threw little light on what was going on in the Mexican capital. From other sources, however, it was learned that European diplomats are exerting pressure on Carranza to prevent him from going to war with the United States. The Entente Allies are practically anxious, it is understood, that nothing should occur at this time to shut off the oil supplies for the French and British navies from the Tampico fields.

Allied diplomatic representatives in Mexico City believe, too, that German influences have been working on Carranza in an effort to create a situation that might embarrass the enemies of the Central Powers. They have asserted that German agencies have been active in stirring up feeling against the United States not only in Mexico but throughout south and Central America, to prevent this country from securing the trade formerly controlled by German mercenaries.

The State Department had no information of these peace making efforts. A study of all General Carranza's communications and actions during the last months, however, has given little ground, officials feel, for a hopeful view. His attitude has been one of growing hostility and officials are not inclined to believe that it could be readily overcome.

At the War Department telegrams came during the day from many states reporting the progress of the mobilization. Scores of regiments are under canvas tonight. As yet no marching orders for the border have been given, but they will go before the week is out.

"Watchful Waiting."

Washington, June 21.—Officials betrayed grave concern at news dispatches telling of what they realized might be the first bloodshed of a war with Mexico; but none would make any formal comment. Many believed that while some clash might have occurred, it was not of a nature to provoke war.

Army officers insisted that it was impossible that any American officer, under the standing orders issued weeks ago to General Pershing, would make an attack on Carranza troops, as indicated in the Mexican version sent from Juarez.

President Wilson was told of the reported clash early in the evening, and remained up until late at night awaiting some official word regarding it.

It seemed certain that the President would await an official report before taking any drastic step in retaliation upon the Mexican forces. If an American commander precipitated an engagement this might have weight with the administration in determining its course of action. All commanders are under instructions of the most positive kind to avoid friction with the Mexican troops, and they have no authority to attack any Mexican force.

Officials continued to express entire confidence in the ability of General Pershing to maintain his position in any emergency.

Village Of Gruziatyn Changes Hands Several Times —Vicious Encounters Take Place In Many Sectors—Strong Enemy Attacks In The Region Of Verdun Are Repulsed By French Artillery—Allies Win Further Successes In Asiatic Turkey And German East Africa

Fierce fighting, with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and Germans in Volhynia, along the Stokhod and Styr rivers, and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynski. The Russians, who had crossed the Styr and reached the village of Gruziatyn, west of Kolki, entered the town and captured eleven officers, 400 men and six machine guns. In the fighting the town changed hands several times, but under a concentrated German artillery fire the Russians finally were driven back with the loss of 1,000 men made prisoner.

Along the Stokhod near the village of Rajmiesto, the Germans delivered a heavy attack which resolved itself later into hand-to-hand fighting, in which the Russians, according to Petrograd, forced the Germans to flee. Near Kiseline another heavy onslaught was stopped by the Russians and the Germans put to flight. Near Lokatchi, southeast of Vladimir-Volynski, Vienna reports the capture of 1,300 Russians.

North, west and north-west of Lutsk, vicious encounters are ensuing. Across the frontier in Galicia the stalemate in the region of Buczacz persists. In Bukowina the Russians continue to drive the Austrians west and south-west. Petrograd announces that the prisoners taken by the Russians in Volhynia and Galicia up to June 15 aggregated 172,484.

The Germans claim successes for their arms on the northern part of the Russian front in the Dvinsk, Smorgon and Dubatowka sectors, with the infliction of heavy losses on the Russians in the latter region.

On both sides of the Meuse river in the region of Verdun the Germans again launched strong attacks against the French positions, but were everywhere repulsed by the French artillery. Except for intermittent bombardments, there was comparative quiet on the other parts of the French front Wednesday.

Rome reports the capture of an Austrian position in the Positano, further progress by the Italians north of the Frenzella valley and the stopping of Austrian surprise attacks south of Asiago.

In the fighting in Asiatic Turkey, and in German East Africa, the Russian and British War Office record further victories for their forces respectively against the Turks and the Germans.

THE RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

Petrograd, June 21, via London, 7.48 p.m.—The official announcement says that in a severe engagement on the Stokhod river German troops which made an attack in massed formation were repulsed and took to flight. The announcement follows:

"Desperate fighting continues in the region north of Gadamitchi, on the Styr. The village of Gruziatyn changed hands several times. Yesterday afternoon we entered the village and captured 11 officers, 400 men and six machine guns, but gusts of German artillery fire compelled us to evacuate the town again.

"With furious persistence the Germans operating in the region of Vorontschine, northwest of Kiseline, under cover of gusts of artillery fire from both light and heavy guns, made repeated attacks on the evening of June 20 against our young regiments. Our troops by impetuous attack put the Germans to flight, taking nine machine guns and a number of prisoners belonging to various regiments.

"At 3 o'clock on the following morning in the region of the village of Rajmiesto on the Stokhod river, northeast of Vorontschine, the enemy attacked in mass formation. The engagement became a hand-to-hand struggle in which the Germans, unable to sustain our steady pressure, took flight, leaving in our hands wounded and prisoners not yet counted.

"Desperate fighting is in progress in the region of Kiseline further south.

"On the extreme left wing we are still pursuing the enemy and have crossed the Sereth river."

"On the Dvina front, German artillery violently bombarded the region of the Ikskul bridgehead, and the northern sector of the Jacobstadt positions.

"On Tuesday night the Germans, after an intense bombardment of our lines to the southward of Smorgon, succeeded in penetrating our trenches but were soon dislodged by our artillery and driven back to their own lines by a counter-attack.

"In other sectors in this region all enemy attempts to attack were repulsed, either by our fire or by the bayonet.

"Enemy aeroplanes dropped about 40 bombs on the Vileika station.

"On the Oginski Canal, there were some isolated encounters and violent artillery duels at different points.

"Caucasus front: Near Diarbekir, our scouts ambushed and shot down a strong enemy detachment which was on the way to relieve outposts.

"In the direction of Mosul, in the region of Revanduzo, our detachments, including Georgian tribesmen, put to flight a strong band of Kurds, who left a large number of dead.

"In the direction of Bagdad Turks were driven by Cossacks from the region of Kola-y-Shabin."

THE FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, June 21, 10.45 p.m.—The official communication issued tonight reads:

"On the left bank of the Meuse, a German attack against new trenches conquered by us on June 15 on the slopes south of Le Mort Homme was completely arrested by our fire.

"On the right bank, after a violent bombardment with big shells which lasted all day in the region of Hill 380, the Chapitre Wood and Fumin-le-Chequois, the Germans attacked our positions west and south of Fort Vaux. Our curtain of fire, and the fire of our machine guns twice broke the assaults of the enemy, who suffered heavy losses.

"There was an intermittent cannonade on the rest of the front.

"Belgian communication: Artillery duels occurred at divers points, especially north of Dixmude. There was bomb fighting in the direction of Steenstraete."

"Aviation: On the night of June 20-21, one of our bombing groups dropped 210 shells on the station at Arnville, and 276 on the military establishments and the Metz station."

TENDERS FOR THE CITY COAL SUPPLY

CONTRACT WAS AWARDED TO THE FIRM OF ARCHER & COMPANY.

Tenders for the general supply of coal and wood for the City Hall, Police and Fire Stations and other civic buildings were considered last night by the Road Committee.

There were two tenders for coal, from the firm of Archer & Company and the Canadian Import Company. The prices quoted by Archer & Company were lower and they accordingly received the contract. The prices are as follows:—

Archer & Company—(Lower Town delivery) Furnace coal, $7.79; Egg, $7.89; Stove, $7.99. (Upper Town delivery) Furnace, $7.94; Egg, $8.04; Stove, $8.14.

Canadian Import Company—(Lower Town delivery) Egg, $7.92; Stove, $8.04. (Upper Town delivery) Egg, $8.05; Stove, $8.19.

The contract for the supply of cord wood, which is about 150 cords, was awarded to Mr. Edouard Gravel, of Chateau Richer, the only tenderer, who quoted $6.24 a cord for birch and $6.59 a cord for Maple.

Keep Check on Delivery.
In order to keep check on delivery of coal it was decided at the suggestion of Ald. Pettigrew that all coal delivered to the civic buildings be received by two employees, both of whom will be obliged to sign the delivery checks presented by the carter.

INTERVIEW WITH EXILED MONARCH

KING NICHOLAS OF MONTE-NEGRO IN A FRENCH CHA-TEAU.

(By Paul du Bochet, Bordeaux.)

There is at Merignac, five kilometres from Bordeaux, a small chateau in the French style, architecturally graceful, pleasing and light, with a pretty avenue of chestnuts, an elegant stone flight of steps leading to a large square courtyard and a vast park shaded by heavy foliage, and carpeted with fresh, thick grass. But in this happy countryside your attention is so frequently drawn away by unexpected and charming visions of every kind that you would pass on almost without glancing aside, were it not for the group of idlers from morning to night take their stand at a respectful distance from the open iron gateway. For two months ago this forgotten monument became the object of curiosity for the village, a kindly curiosity and somewhat gar-rulous, lovingly indulging in one speculation upon another and delighting in the uncertainty, so stimulating to the play of the imagination, the nervous strain of expectation and the element of the unknown;
all things necessary for the southern soul ever prompt to emotion and hazardous hypotheses.
It was a coup de theatre and no mistake! One fine day it was announced that the Bordeaux authorities, in response to the desire of the Government, were putting the chateau at the disposal of King Nicholas of Montenegro, who had arrived a short time before at Lyons. To back it up, there were the motor-cars and high covered wagons that were seen passing through. Strange preparations were afoot. Doubt was no longer possible. Then one morning the cortege, so long awaited, arrived and there was the official reception with flags and speeches.

A Talk with the King.
And to-day Merignac has its king.
A king! In this countryside where memories of the France of old are still so much alive, this word has kept a magic consonance. Think, too, an authentic king, and what is more, the king of a far-off foreign country, a king of advanced years, and wearing the aureole of sorrow and misfortune! You will understand, then, the emotion of these young girls and pipe-smoking burghers who have collected in front of the gateway, admiring in silence the guards in their blue uniform and little soft caps cocked jauntily over one temple, marching with the easy gesture of good-humoured giants from some strange land from end to end of the courtyard.

Passing by chance through Bordeaux, I too had a wish to make the pilgrimage to Merignac; and so it happened that I had the honour of being received, twice in succession by the King.

My first interview was very simple and intimate. Just at the time the King was posing for two painters, both wearing decorations and very solemn. But, recalling a conversation we had formerly had at Cetinje, he cut the sitting short to receive me. I found him bravely facing two easels that were still levelled against him. He was sitting in his favourite position, his chest well out, his knees apart, his fists on the arms of a chair, and a Russian saber athwart his thigh. From the very opening words, our talk ran on the terrible events which preceded his departure into exile. He spoke slowly and in low tones, expressing himself in French with perfect ease, but as if he were overwhelmed by the visions that came back, one by one, to haunt him.

"You were with us," he said to me, "and you saw in what distress we were. At Louven, for five days, my soldiers remained exposed to the fire of over 100 guns, without even a crust of bread to eat. Then the Austrian fleet came out and ranged itself where it could shell us with impunity. What could we do, abandoned thus to our own resources?
Yet we covered the retreat of the two Serbian armies, and to feed them we gave up to them all that remained to us—the last potatoes, the last cattle. For firewood we had to burn our houses to the roof, and the very crosses from the cemeteries. You remember those fine acacias of mine at Podgoritz? Ah, well, not one of them remains..."

"But the worst trial of all for me is that I must confess that I have on occasion been misunderstood, even by my friends. The truth is, I had a weak Government, which did not second my efforts well. But these are matters that I do not wish to raise now. For the time being, there is only one thing to do: make ourselves strong. Later, we shall talk!"

In every word one felt a deep sadness, and at the same time a deep and tenacious love for his lost country and its people. The trial has aged him. I found him more light-eyed than formerly and more highly-coloured, but his features were drawn, and had no longer the same imperious assurance. In his rich Montenegrin dress, all blue and gold-braided, he made a strange and grievous contrast in this framework of delicate and ancient elegance.

The Serbian Feast Day.
I saw him again three days later.
It was Saturday, May 6, St. George's Day in the Orthodox calendar, the patronymic feast-day of the Petrovitch dynasty. Now for the Serb, his Saint's Day is the one great day of the whole year. The finest lambs and sucking pigs are roasted on spits before immense braziers in the open air; there is laughing, dancing, and singing. Raki and sweets are handed round. The arrival of a traveller or a poor man is hailed as a blessing.
The very dead are invited to the feast, and flowers and choice dainties are placed on their graves. This is the "slava," the old pagan ceremony in honour of the household gods, which was maintained and introduced into the new cult by the first Christian missionaries. Never, even under the most tragic circumstances, will a Serb forget to celebrate his "slava." It had been my lot to join in such feasts with him all around: "I had almost said corpses. But this 'slava' was perhaps the saddest and most moving."

The whole Montenegrin colony had come from Bordeaux. There were civil servants, students, a few officers, poor refugees. Tattered garments were rubbing against official frocoats and uniforms. We were brought into the grand salon of the little chateau, a high and bright apartment with fine brown carvings on a pale blue ground sprinkled with gold. Altogether some forty of us at most were there.
Towering over the groups with his great stature, the iguman Nin-kovich, Superior of the Convent of Ostrog, the sanctuary of Montenegro, proudly showed off his black soutane and crimson silk sash that were all he had succeeded in saving from the disaster. After fighting bravely against the enemy, he had doed his uniform and resumed his garb as a priest. But he had not lost his fine serenity. And as I expressed to him the sympathy with which the misfortune to his people inspired me, a sad smile flickered across his beard and small brilliant eyes.

"To lose his motherland," he replied, "is the cruellest bitterness that can happen to a man. Serbs and Montenegrins at this moment are enduring terrible sufferings. But I am used to it. I am from Herzegovina, and twice have I lost my country."

We waited a moment or two, and the King made his entry, followed by the Queen and the two Princesses, Xenia and Vera. After the hand-kissing ceremony, he took his seat. The Serb colonel attached to his person as aide-de-camp offered to him, in loud, soldier-like tones, the good wishes of the little colony of exiles. But he, plunged in thought, made no answer. At last he lit a cigarette, and mastering his emotion, he found speech. There was a long stop between each word.

"I feel at this moment great distress," he said. "I would have liked to receive you, you brave Montenegrins and Serbs from Bosnia and Herzegovina, to receive you as we do at home in days like this. We should be roasting lambs, and it would be a real 'slava'—Ah, well!
I thank you all, Montenegrins and Serbs of Bosnia-Herzegovina, for coming to greet me in my misfortune. I have to tell you that from to-day onwards we are to have a new Government. It is for us the opening of a new hope..."

That was all. His thoughts once more began to wander. Upright in her armchair, Queen Milena stared in front of her. Her face, with its simple, regular features and her large brown eyes expressed calm decision, much kindness, and an austere sense of duty done. She was a true incarnation at this moment of the Roman ideal of the wife and matron.
Was she thinking, maybe, amid those faithful few, and with the evidences of exile around her, of her scattered children, her absent sons, of her daughters, one of them Queen of Italy, the two others Russian Grand Duchesses, and all three loaded with honours, but almost lost to her; and perhaps she thought of her eldest, too, the Princess Zorka, who was the wife of that unfortunate hero, King Peter of Serbia.

The silence became gradually more oppressive. One by one we quietly withdrew. And it was the fifty-sixth anniversary of a reign we thus had just celebrated.

BOY IS DROWNED.
Toronto, June 21.—Cecil Revoy, 10 years of age, of 49 Saultier street, was drowned in the Humber river at Wood bridge, shortly after 5 o'clock this evening, when bathing with a party of boys who had accompanied their parents to the annual outing of the Wood Green Methodist Church.

REPINERY OUTED.
Cobalt, Ont., June 21.—Nipissing
Refinery, attached to the Highgrade Mill, the largest silver refinery in Canada, was gutted by fire this afternoon. The damage will be extensive and the refining of bullion will be prevented for some time.

GERMAN LOSSES AT VERDUN HAVE REACHED 415,000

Swiss Estimate Places the French Losses at Same Place at 165,000.

AERIAL COMBATANTS

The Russian Successes Have Afforded Great Relief to the French.

London, June 20.—Since the beginning of the battle of Verdun on February 21 last, the Germans have lost about 415,000 men, it is stated here. Statements of prisoners, captured documents, and other sources are the basis of the estimate.

A Geneva despatch says the French losses around Verdun in killed and wounded amount to approximately 165,000 to date.

These losses have occurred on a front which is not more than thirty miles in length.

Much Aerial Fighting.

The British official statement issued
last night reads:

"During last night and today the German infantry carried out no enterprises along our front. Except for some heavy shelling of our trenches southeast of Neuville-St.
Vaast, the enemy artillery was fairly quiet."

"Arras was shelled last night, and during the day there has been some shelling about Becourt, Thiépale and Hulluch. East of Souchez there have been reciprocal trench mortar actions. Today our artillery dispersed enemy working parties west of Hulluch, and in this region the enemy blew up a small mine which destroyed one of his own posts, but did us no damage."

"The chief point of interest to record is the aerial report of yesterday, when there was a marked increase in the work of hostile aircraft. In all, there were twenty-seven combats, in which the enemy suffered the following losses: One hostile aeroplane was brought down in our lines near Doullens; the occupants were made prisoners."

"Two of our fighting aeroplanes encountered two Fokkers in the vicinity of Lens. One hostile machine was driven down damaged; the other shot down, crashed to earth from 4,000 feet. In other air fights, two more German machines were driven down in a damaged condition and another was brought down near Wingles."

"Hostile reconnaissances, which crossed our lines in force, were attacked and dispersed by our aeroplanes. One of our pilots reports seeing two hostile machines hit by anti-aircraft fire."

Huns Bomb their own Men.

Paris, June 20.—The official communication issued by the War Office
last night, reads:

"Between the Aves and the Oise two enemy detachments, after a spirited bombardment, attempted to approach our lines; they were repulsed by grenades."

"On the left bank of the Meuse the artillery action was intermittent."
On the right bank there was a violent bombardment north of the Thiaumont fortified work, and in the sectors of Vaux, Chapre and Souville.

"An enemy air squadron dropped numerous projectiles on a village south of Verdun, where a camp of German prisoners was located. Several of these prisoners were killed or wounded."

"The day was calm on the rest of the front."

"Belgian communication: 'Calm prevailed today.'"

The recent Russian successes have afforded great relief of the French people, for it has taken their attention away from the slaughter at Verdun. The French are encouraged, because the activity of the Russians has shown that the Allies are ready, and that the heroic resistance by the French has given the other Allied armies time to make ready for an offensive.

The French, being ready first, greatly served the Allied cause by holding the Germans in check until the British and the Russians got ready. The British claims that they were ready during the Verdun battle were probably true, but the chances of success from a premature offensive have grown smaller.

The French have filled the breach and have kept the main German reserve busy at the western front preparing for an allied attack.

It is considered likely that the Russians will continue their drive until the Germans armies on the western front have been weakened by the necessity of sending fresh troops against the Russians. When that has been done the Germans will be faced by a united attack on all fronts, which, it is believed, they will not have the strength to meet.

Then the Central Powers may collapse. Already the Italians are taking advantage of the withdrawal of Austrian reserves toward the Galician front. At last the Allied plan of operations is in full swing.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA MIGHT APPEAR IN QUEBEC

FAMOUS BODY OF RUSSIAN MUSICIANS HOPED TO BE INDUCED TO VISIT QUE-BEC NEXT SEASON.

Most unexpected and agreeable hopes are given to Quebecers in the special announcement made by our local impresario to the effect that the famous Russian Symphony Orchestra, one of the greatest musical organizations from Russia, our gallant ally, might be induced to include Quebec in a tour of America to be made during the early part of the coming season. It is not necessary to say how pleased our music lovers would be of the visit of such a grand body of Russian artists. A hearty and most enthusiastic reception would certainly await them and the event would be epoch-making in our artistic life.

But there is a very serious point being considered presently,—a point which naturally merits to be fully pondered: i.e. the huge expense to be involved by such a majestic enterprise. To play such big attractions we would really need here a large concert hall seating many thousands such as Massey Hall in Toronto or the Arena in Montreal, or a much larger theatre. However, there are chances that things might be arranged satisfactorily so that Quebecers could be given the chance of hearing the Russian Symphony Orchestra under the famous conductor Modest Altschuler.

VICTOR MOORE AT OLYMPIA THEATRE

The Great Filmdom Comedian
Starring in "Snobs"

This "Famous Player" comedy
"Snobs" will be presented for the first time at the Olympia Theatre today. Victor Moore who stars in the leading role needs but little introduction to moving picture patrons. He is wellknown as a mirth provoker, and it is an assured fact

BIRTH OF A NATION STAR AT THE EMPIRE.

Patrons of the screen dramas in this city will be delighted to learn that Henry Walthall, who played such a conspicuous part in the Birth of a Nation, is appearing in the leading role in "The Raven" which will be shown for three days at the Empire Theatre Fabrique street, commencing today.

Mr. Walthall as the "Little Colonel" in the Birth of a Nation made such a strong impression on the thousands who saw Griffith's masterpiece on the screen here that there is little doubt that in "The Raven" he will attract record crowds to the Empire Theatre for the balance of the week.

Besides this feature photo play the management has also secured a comedy which will equal if not surpass many of the fun making reels which have been shown at the Empire to date.

BAAZAR FOR ALLIES A GREAT SUCCESS

New York, June 21.—The great bazaar for the benefit of the war sufferers of the Entente Allies, which has been in progress here for eighteen days, closed tonight with profits unofficially estimated at $1,500,000 and an attendance record of nearly 750,000.

Toronto, June 21.—Mrs. Elizabeth Meech, 90 years of age, who resided with her sister, Mrs. H. Banger, at 21 Brookfield St., was burned to death in her room tonight. It is thought that in lighting a match she ignited her bedding.

LONDON, ONT., RESTRICTS SALE OF HARD LIQUOR

London, Ont., June 21.—London hotel keepers in a meeting here today decided to place the ban on the sale of all "hard stuff" after five o'clock in the afternoon. This ruling, which is in response to a request from the military authorities goes into effect at once and applies to civilians as well as soldiers. From now on only beer, ales and porters will be sold after the hour agreed upon.

LIBERALS GAIN ANOTHER SEAT.

Halifax, N.S., June 21.—Latest returns show that the Liberal victory in the Nova Scotia provincial elections, held on Tuesday, was even greater than was at first reported.
Instead of thirty-one Liberals and twelve Conservatives elected, the count now shows thirty-two Liberals and eleven Conservatives, a majority of twenty-one for the Murray government.

The additional seat for the government was obtained in Inverness Co., where two Liberals were elected, instead of one Liberal and one Conservative, as at first reported. Donald MacLennan, M.P.P., and John C.
Bourinot, were elected with majorities of 155 and 71 respectively.

CLOSING EXERCISES BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL

PAST YEARS WORK DISPLAYS SPLENDID RESULTS—MANY OLD BOYS AT FRONT.

A large gathering of pupils, teachers and friends assembled yesterday to witness the closing exercises of the Boys' High School, which took place in the spacious hall of the Institute.

Mr. John T. Ross, chairman of the Board of Directors, presided, and seated on the platform with him were Mr. F. T. Handsombody, Principal of the High School; Mr. F.
C. Wurtele, Secretary of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners; Rev. Mr. S. T. Martin, pastor of Chalmers Church; Rev.
Dr. Andrew T. Love, pastor of St.
Andrew's Church; Hon. Richard Turner, and Mr. J. G. Scott, President of the Quebec Board of Trade. Rev. Canon E. A. W.
King, was also present.

The Rev. Dr. Love opened the proceedings with prayer. Mr. Handsombody, the Rector, then submitted his report which showed that the standard of work attained was higher than formerly, but the Rector regretted the punctuality of the pupils was not what it might be. Only four boys won the prizes for punctuality including Gordon Teakle, who has now won this prize for four years in succession. Reference was also made in the report to the work of the School Cadet Corps under the direction of Capt. H. Fellows. One of the boys, H. Bradley, had enlisted last month and more are expected to follow this example in the near future.

The Rector expressed the hope that as soon as the war was over a suitable memorial would be provided in honor of the Old Boys of the school who fell at the front. The dux of the School this year is Sydney W.
Williams, who also takes the Governor-General's medal. The Superintendent's medal was won by Francis
R. Scott, who also secured the Lieut.
Governor's Medal for French. The Norman prize awarded for the highest average was won this year by J.
J. Schleifstein of the 3rd Form. Under the direction of Mr. E. A. Bishop the singing class rendered a fine selection of songs.

Speeches were delivered by Rev.
Mr. Martin, Rev. Dr. Love and Mr.
J. G. Scott, President of the Board of Trade, and a graduate of the School in 1862, who said:—

I do not know why you ask me to speak. I suppose it is because I happen to be President of the Board of Trade, as well as an old pupil of the Que High School. But, then, there are many old pupils of the High School who have also been Presidents of the Board of Trade. I am certainly an old pupil, because it is more than fifty years since I left this school. I think, only five are now living. One of my class mates was the late D. R.
Wilkie, of Toronto, son of Dr. Wil-kie for many years Rector of this school. He was indeed a great man having founded one of the largest and most prosperous banks in Canada. Another scholar built the railway system of New Zealand, where he now lives, others have built railways in Brazil and in this province, have established ranches and industrial establishments in Texas and in British Columbia, and great industries in Quebec. Your Chairman is the head of one of our local banks.
In a military way, the Quebec High School is even more famous, because Quebec counts no less than five generals in the field in the present war, and our men have won two Victoria Crosses and several distinctions of C.B., K.C.B. and D.S.O. So that the boys of today may well be proud of their school, and determined to emulate the achievements of their predecessors, though I hope and pray not in the arts of war, righteous though our cause is, in the struggle which has been forced upon us, but rather in helping the progress of the world, in peace.

SWEDISH JOURNAL SAYS GERMANY CANNOT WIN

BAD FOOD SITUATION OF HUNS IS CONSIDERED RESPONSIBLE FOR USELESS OFFENSIVE AT VERDUN AND RECENT NAVAL BATTLE.

Stockholm, June 21, via London, June 22, 1.35 a.m.—The Swedish trade journal called Affarsvarlden, representing the best business interests in Sweden, today prints a remarkable editorial commenting on the war in which it says it is time for the Swedes to realize that the outcome cannot be favorable to the Central Powers. The food question, says the newspaper, will decide the war, and it declares that the bad situation in Germany is responsible for the useless offensive at Verdun and the recent attempt to win a naval battle.

The article says:—
"From the very beginning, it has been pointed out that for Germany the food question was to have a decisive influence on the war. Gradually this view has been more and more adopted. The food situation in Germany is bad and much worse than the Swedish people generally think. Swedish conceptions as to how peace will be concluded have not taken sufficiently into consideration the importance of the campaign of starvation against Germany."

"We will not attempt to prophesy on the conclusion of peace but it is important for our business interests, irrespective of sympathy or prejudice, not to be too sure of their calculations as there may be a surprise in store for them. The central powers cannot obtain a peace advantage to them. It is said in a long German article regarding the Central disposition of food that the butchers are unable to supply more than one third the normal quota, and that Germany in the very near future must feed her people chiefly on vegetables. Even if it is possible to train the population to a vegetable diet, this cannot be done unless there is plenty of bread, butter, and eggs, and turnips, beans and such other vegetables but none of these, not even potatoes, can be had in the quantities the people require them. Especially there seems to be a shortage of bread, beans, peas, butter, eggs, rye oats and all the nourishing vegetable foods. As a matter of fact there is greater of these than meat."

"According to an article in the Berlin Boursen Courier a large number of housewives in cities cannot get sufficient food for their families, and consequently central kitchens are the last resort. It is obvious that such a state of affairs can not go on year after year. It is in this condition that we have the nearest reason for the reckless offensive at Verdun and the main attempt of an offensive at sea."

CHANGE NAME OF BICKELL'S BRIDGE

ROAD COMMITTEE WOULD GIVE BRIDGE THE NAME OF PRESENT MAYOR.

As a preliminary step to the inauguration of the new Bickell's Bridge, which has been reconstructed in steel on the Bascule type and which will be officially opened to traffic in a short time, it was decided at the meeting of the Road Committee last night to change the name from Bickell's Bridge to Lavigne's Bridge, as a token of recognition for the services rendered the City by the present Chief Magistrate, who was chairman of the Road Committee when the reconstruction of the bridge was decided and the work started.

The motion to change the name was moved by Ald. Galibois, seconded by Ald. Theriault and unanimously carried.

Ald. Theriault in seconding the motion remarked that the late Mr. Bickell, whose name the bridge bore since 1866, may have been an excellent gentleman, but his name was not of sufficient historical importance to be perpetuated. He paid tribute to the work done by Mayor Lavigne and thought that the least the present Council could do was to give his name to the new bridge as the preceding Council had named Drouin Bridge after his predecessor.

GREECE PROTESTS AGAINST BLOCKADE

NOTE OF COMPLAINT IS HANDED TO THE WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT.

Washington, June 21.—An identical note protesting vigorously against interference by the Entente Allies with the maritime trade of Greece has been presented by the Greek Minister to the State Department and the diplomatic representatives here of the Latin-American republics. It asserts that "traditional principles" have been violated, and that Greece has been unable to obtain any official explanation in response to inquiries.

Since June 6, the note asserts, the Greek coast has been subjected to a limited blockade, ships being held up and searched and taken to Naval bases established by the Allied forces. Various vessels flying the Greek flag, it is stated, have taken to Bizerta, Algiers, and there converted into transports by the Allies.

As a result, it is declared, Greece's food supplies have been cut off and her maritime commerce "the essential of her national economy" stopped.

MEDERIC MARTIN ON THE WARPATH

Montreal, June 21.—"I wish I were not the Mayor of Montreal for only one week. It would give me a chance to punch the nose of some of those fellows," remarked Mayor Martin today, as he joined the Commissioners after a stiff encounter with representatives of the press, whom he had curtly admonished not to smoke in the City Hall. The Mayor complained that he had been insulted by the reporters.

STEAMER WRECKED OFF NOVA SCOTIA.

Halifax, N.S., June 21.—During a dense fog yesterday, the Canadian steamer Stormount, from Philadelphia for Sydney, struck Gull Rock, four miles from Guysboro, on the east coast of Nova Scotia, and will be a total wreck. The vessel registered 1,351 tons. The sea was calm at the time and the crew had no difficulty in reaching Marie Joseph, four miles from the scene of the wreck.

NEW NAMES FOR BERLIN, ONTARIO.

Berlin, Ont., June 21.—The City Council tonight decided on the following six names to be submitted to the electors of this city on Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next: Brock, Kitchener, Corona, Adanac, Keowana, and Benton. Over two hundred names were submitted.

SUGGESTIONS TO HELP THE TRAFFIC

ALD. MARTIN SUBMITS CERTAIN PROPOSALS TO ROAD COMMITTEE.

On behalf of the Quebec Automobile Club and with a view to improving traffic conditions at certain congested points in the City, Ald. Martin submitted suggestions to the Road Committee last night, which were accepted by the members.

His first suggestion was that the City request the Street Railway Company to have the car coming from Limoilou on Crown street stop on the north side of St. Joseph street. At the present time, both the north and south-going cars stop on the south side of St. Joseph street, opposite the Merger Building, and it often happens when there is a car on each track that congestion and delays result.

The second suggestion was that cars on d'Auteuil street, at the corner of St. Louis street, wait at the landing for down coming cars from Grand Allee, instead of advancing on the curve as is often done at present, thus impeding traffic.

The Committee thought well of both suggestions and will take the matter up with the Street Railway.

Ald. Martin's third request concerned d'Youville street, between d'Aiguillon and St. John streets. He thought that it would be a great relief at this point if down-going traffic were directed via Glacis street, and d'Youville was reserved for up-going traffic.

Mayor Lavigne pointed out that it would be difficult to oblige anybody to go by a certain street, but as the idea was a good one, it would be seen what could be done by relying on the good will of the public to follow out the suggestion.

WOLF IS AVERSE TO EATING LAMB

GERMANY NOW REPUDIATES HER DESIRE TO ANNEX BELGIUM.

Berlin, June 21, 4.30 p.m., via London, June 22, 1.40 a.m.—That the Imperial Chancellor is opposed to the annexation of Belgium and other far reaching plans of the Pan-German Expansionists—a fact which has often been referred to by intimation in these despatches, although the censorship restrictions forbade open discussion of this subject—was flatly announced by the Socialist, Philipp Scheidemann, in a speech at Breslau last night. Herr Scheidemann's statement was based on the Chancellor's own declarations to the Socialist leaders, and it was made before a great Socialist meeting which had assembled to receive an account and explanation of the attitude of the majority of the Socialists in the Reichstag.

Referring to a recent publication by the Belgian Minister of State, Emile Vandervelde, in which the Imperial Chancellor's policy was described as aiming at the annexation of Belgium, and all the occupied French districts, Herr Scheidemann declared:

"Those ascribing to the Imperial Chancellor such intentions do him a great wrong. I know he has no thought of such plans. When six Pan-German Associations submitted to the Chancellor their well-known project of conquest, I and several party friends made representations to the Chancellor in protest against such plans and referred to our declaration in the Reichstag of August four. We heard from the Chancellor's own mouth that he wished to have nothing to do with such plans. He rejected them decisively, and most firmly disapproved of them, like all similar plans."

ANOTHER LIBERAL SCANDAL EXPLODES

SO-CALLED DEFECTIVE AMMUNITION WAS SATISFACTORY TO ADMIRALTY.

Ottawa, June 21.—The Auditor-General, having secured authority from the Governor-General at this afternoon's session of the Davidson War Contracts Commission, which is inquiring into the sale of so-called defective ammunition produced a supplementary cable message dealing with the transaction, so far as it concerns the Admiralty. The cable follows:

"London, June 16, 1916.

"With reference to my telegram June 3rd following further message to Admiralty:—
"The ammunition forming the subject of an official inquiry under Sir Charles Davidson has been duly received by the Admiralty and has been found entirely satisfactory. The manner in which the purchase and payment was carried out for the ammunition, boxes, etc., is in accordance with instructions that were issued to the Admiralty's representative. The special account opened with the Bank of Montreal at New York is not yet closed, there being a balance on deposit which will be accounted for to the Admiralty."

(Signed) "BONAR LAW."
"Is there anything to show what brought forth this second cable?" asked Mr. Dewar, K.C.

"Nothing at all that I know of," said the Auditor-General.

It is evident from the cable that though the ammunition is described as defective and as such had been condemned it was perfectly satisfactory to the Admiralty.

Written argument will be submitted by counsel.

C. O. O. F. CONVENTION.

London, Ont., June 21.—The Canadian Order of Foresters in their Convention session here attended by about 450 delegates this morning voted to hold their 1917 convention at Hamilton. Officers were elected as follows: H. C. R., J. A. Stewart, of Perth, Ont.; H. V. C. R., Alderman J. A. A. Brodeur, of Montreal; High Secretary Robert Elliott, of Brantford; High Treasurer A. R. Galpin, London; High Auditors W. L. Roberts, Brantford; J. P. Hoag, Toronto; High Registrar, W. M. Couper, Montreal and High Chaplain, Rev. W. J. West, Port Perry, Ont.

SCHOONER RUN DOWN BY BRITISH CRUISER

Lunenburg, N.S., June 21.—The schooner Lucille M. Schnare, commanded by Captain Artemas Schenck, five days ago left here after discharging a catch of fish and outfitting for the summer trip, and when about ten miles from Cape Race, was run down by a British man of war and cut in two. The vessel went right down, and one of the crew, John Beck, from Centre Range, was drowned. The remainder of the crew were taken off and landed at Sydney.

PROLONGATION OF TWO CITY STREETS

COMMITTEE AGREES TO PAY $25,000 TO PROLONG LOCKWELL STREET.

The Road Committee decided last night to offer a sum of $25,000 for the Gale property to open Lockwell street to DeSalaberry street, and if the offer is not accepted to proceed by expropriation.

Mr. Gale when last seen by the representatives of the City asked $170 a foot which would bring the cost of the entire property to more than $35,000.

Besides being able to open the street the city would have several lots to sell, and it was pointed out by Ald. Theriault that the price was a fair one.

A letter was read from Revd. Father Woods, Rector of St. Patrick's Church offering to sell the city a strip of land in the rear of St. Bridget's Home for the opening of Maison-neuve street to DeSalaberry street. The price asked was 75 cents a foot which for the strip required for the street would amount to $18,839.50 and with an extra strip providing building lots would cost $28,326.25.

A special committee composed of the Mayor, Chairman Bouchard, Ald. Collier and Ald. Dinan was named to interview Father Woods and ascertain the lowest price at which he would sell the land to the city.

Ald. Dinan made a complaint as to the manner in which the Transcontinental Company kept their sidewalk on Champlain street, and also to the way in which the city neglected the street itself.

Mayor Lavigne promised that the city would see to repairing the street without delay and as to the sidewalk they would give the Transcontinental a certain time to make the sidewalk and if they failed to do so the City would do the work and charge it to the company.

KILLED BY EXPRESS

Paris, Ont., June 21.—Robert Chalk, of Brantford, a Grand Trunk fireman, was struck and instantly killed here today by the eastbound express number 14 when he failed to notice the approach of the train and stepped onto the track of the main line. Chalk's train, a freight, was standing on a siding and the fireman had been cleaning the fire box.

C.P.R. TRAINS HELD UP.

Vancouver, B.C., June 21.—While nothing definite can be stated at present as to when through trains from the east and west on the C. P. Railway system can be running again, officials are hopeful that the work of clearing the tracks in the mountains will be finished tomorrow night. In the meantime all the trains that have left Vancouver for the east and those that have left the east for the Pacific coast, are being held up in the mountains, owing to the washouts, and everything is being done for the comfort and convenience of the passengers, some of whom are at Lake Louise Hotel and some at Field.

GARDEN PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

SOCIAL EVENT FOR BENEFIT OF SOLDIERS WAS WELL ATTENDED.

The Garden party given yesterday afternoon by Stadacona Chapter, Daughters of the Empire in the beautifully laid out gardens of Col. Wm. Mc'oson Macpherson was one of the most successful functions held by this enterprising Chapter since its inception. The proceeds of the party will be used to purchase comforts for the soldiers.

Early in the afternoon rain threatened to spoil the event but it fortunately kept off, and the large attendance of citizens were enabled to take full advantage of the attractions provided.

Numerous small tables were placed in different parts of the grounds which the guests took possession of and quickly made themselves at home. Strawberries and cream as well as other delicacies were on sale and a nice sum was realized from these. Mrs. McLimont, President of Stadacona Chapter, and Mrs. Montefiore Joseph, vice-regent and other members of the Chapter were in attendance and rendered much assistance in looking after the comforts of the guests.

Amongst those who gave their services during the afternoon were Boy Scouts. In addition to other duties they sold pictures, supplied by Mrs. Montefiore Joseph, depicting a Bull-dog with one of his front paws placed on a sheet of paper on which was written the signatures of the nations. On the back ground of the picture was a large Union Jack. The picture was entitled "It may be a scrap of paper but I'll fight for it." The supply of these pictures was quickly sold out.

Great credit is due to Miss Veda Macpherson for the trouble she took in preparing the grounds and providing the strawberries, etc., and in doing everything possible to make the event a success. The members of Stadacona Chapter desire to tender Miss Macpherson their gratitude for her kindness.

MUMANE HUNS.

Berlin, June 21, 4.30 p.m., via London, June 22, 1.20 a.m.—"Germany's foundation for protecting infants and small children," is the name of a National Society founded here today for combating infant mortality. The Duchess Victoria Louise of Brunswick was present at the meeting as protectress. The Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and Field Marshal von Hindenburg were chosen honorary Presidents.

Physicians and statesmen of all sections took part in organizing the society. The chairman, Prof. Carl Behr-Pinnow, in his opening address, said that Germany would save annually the lives of 200,000 children.

Prof. Langstro, of Berlin University outlined comprehensive plans for the society, indicating that it proposes to attack the problem from every possible angle.

GERMANS MAKE STAND TO AVOID LOSS OF KOVEL

GREAT BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF RAILWAY JUNCTION IS DEVELOPING.

London, June 22, 3.55 a.m.—Military experts say that a great battle is developing on the line of the river Bug or a parallel line to be drawn through Kovel, Vladimir-Volynski and Lemberg, where the Germans are making desperate efforts to arrest the Russian advance, in order to prevent the important railway junction of Kovel from falling into Russian hands.

"The northern part of the front," says the Daily Mail, "seems likely to become as active as the southern part has been lately. The Germans know that the loss of Kovel would seriously affect their northern army. It is significant that while they had transferred troops from other fronts they have not moved any from this particular district."

The Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent observes that the Germans are making a stand before Kovel-Vladimir-Volynski, but that the Russian advance continues on both flanks, "encountering stubborn resistance only on the direct road to Lemberg and the lower reaches of the Stripa." The correspondent adds that the German line on the Russian front is assuming a zigzag appearance, suggesting many possibilities which had better be left for the present to conjecture.

LONDON LIGHTSHIP SUNK BY A MINE

VESSEL WAS COMPLETELY BROKEN UP AND SANK AT ONCE.

Yarmouth, June 22, 106 a.m.—The Corton Lightship which was stationed several miles off the English east coast, has been sunk by a mine, according to the survivors who are two in number. They say that Captain Ruff at the Bow sighted a mine and gave warning. The explosion came an instant later, and the force was so terrific that the vessel was raised out of the water and completely broken up. She sank immediately.

The survivors were picked up by a fishing boat after being ten minutes in the water. There was no sign of the Captain or the other members of the crew.

This is the first lightship sunk during the war.

The Growing Tendency of the Age---

A noted English scientist asserts the tendency is toward "neurasthenia, 'nerves,' etc." A remarkable statement!

No less remarkable is the CAUSE which, he adds, "is not unlikely due to removing from our diet those elements of cereal food which Nature has hid in the husk of grain, and which man in his ignorance discards."

The elements to which he refers are the well-known MINERAL SALTS of phosphorus, lime, iron, etc., removed in milling flour to make it white, but which physicians know are indispensable to normal, well-balanced nerves, bodies and brains.

NEEDLESS SUFFERING.

We are informed that when any Canadian soldier figures on the casualty list as "missing" his pay immediately stops and those who are depending upon him receive nothing more for the time being. If this be so then it is a grievous injustice which should at once be remedied by the government. It is bad enough for the relatives and dependents of the missing man to endure the misery of suspense without being deprived of money which they can ill afford in most cases.

We have heard of one case of an old man whose son was paying him twenty dollars a month. Now the son is "missing" and the father, who apparently had no other source of income, has had to give up his home and is now obtaining food and lodging at the house where his daughter is in service.

These things should not be and we hope this matter will soon be taken under consideration by the Government.

BERNHARDI AS PROPHET.

In a remarkable sense Bernhardt's "How Germany Makes War" is a very great German book, for almost everything that the German navy has done, not done, or attempted, during two years of war, is actually and in detail anticipated and enjoined upon her in a single chapter of that unpleasant volume.

The policy prescribed is on the whole craven, hideous, stupid, unpatriotic, inhuman; but Germany has swallowed it whole. Seldom has the pen shown itself so completely the prophetic master of the sword.

The chapter is headed "Considerations on Naval Warfare." "Isolated offensive strokes," says Bernhardt, "will often be imperative." (He is speaking of a weaker on the defensive against a stronger naval power) "especially at the beginning of the war, and sometimes in peace even—there is no other means of defending oneself against superior force—it will be advisable to attack the enemy by torpedo and submarine boats, and to inflict upon him unexpected loss."

"This war," continues Bernhardt, "must be conducted as ruthlessly as possible. . . . A certain amount of terrorism must be practiced on the sea."

Contrary to the express terms of the "Declaration of London" which Bernhardt, writing in 1914, professes on the same page to accept without reserve, "(the weaker naval power) will naturally destroy at once the hostile (merchant) ships captured; short work must likewise be made of neutral ships carrying contraband." The details of how the supposedly superior fleet is to be staved off and worn down are, if somewhat unheroic, at all events curiously exact, viewed in the light of August, 1914, to June, 1916.

"(The waiting and inferior fleet) will have to make extensive use of reconnaissance by air; it being very difficult to start enterprises of this sort from the attacking fleet, whereas ascents can always be made easily from the coast and reach the hostile offensive fleet in a very short time."

"Keeping up a blockade makes very great demands upon a blockading fleet" . . . in the absence of bases near at hand "it will no doubt exact from the assailant great exertions, severely strain his ships and entail heavy losses."

The Germans must never on any pretence accept a challenge to fight in detail; must turn to "constant and, if possible, sudden attacks, especially at night" and "always break the action off, when the enemy succeeds in uniting superior forces" against the ships engaged on the German side.

All this is very shrewd and business like and so prophetic that faint-hearted readers may be disposed to reverence a gift of prediction so precise. Such may be consoled by reading on to the end. The prophet of Germany does not boldly predict that naval victory which he prescribes every kind of pusillanimous and reptile device for trying to snatch from the hands of that Providence of Fate, which he claims as the national divinity of his porcupine fatherland.

The crowning ingredients he prescribes for such a not-to-be-expected issue of that artful dodgery, which he substitutes for naval warfare, are two-fold: "German spirit and genius of command" and finally, in the moment of conflict, this last counsel of perfection: "Ruthless sacrifice of human life!"

ANOTHER BLOW

TO GERMANY.

One of the most significant items of news in the despatches today is that the government of Holland has met a popular demand to relieve the scarcity of food in that country by prohibiting further export to Germany until the supply in Holland shall have reached normal again. It is well known that German agents have long been busy in Holland buying and sending to their own country all the food they could procure and what has been purchased in this way has, doubtless, done much to help the food situation in the German empire. This situation, however, even with Holland's help, up to the present has not been so good as to prevent food riots in various cities.

Now that Holland has decided to keep her food at home it is likely to become worse and the fact that British submarines and larger Russian war vessels are fast gaining full control of the Baltic, thus shutting off communication between Germany and Sweden will not help to improve the outlook any from the German point of view.

There was a time when such a slap as Holland is giving Germany now by cutting off the food supply might have been considered as an act of hostility but Germany has other troubles on her hands at present and is not likely to make any very serious threats against her fully prepared neighbor to the north.

There was a time when such a slap as Holland is giving Germany now by cutting off the food supply might have been considered as an act of hostility but Germany has other troubles on her hands at present and is not likely to make any very serious threats against her fully prepared neighbor to the north.

It is becoming very evident that, along with the millions of money we have despatched to France for relief, and the many aviators, soldiers and hospital attendants who have gone there from our country to lay down their lives, if need be, for a cause which they regard as sacred, we have sent to France a great sorrow. This sorrow is apparent in many recent articles, not one of which is written in anger, that we have lately noticed in the French papers. The Transcript printed on June 6 a translation of a remarkable editorial article from the Paris Temps of May 23, in which sad note was taken of President Wilson's recent words: "If the rest of the world has become insane, why not refuse to have anything to do with this rest of the world?" In the same speech Mr. Wilson declared that those engaged in the greatest strife in Europe had been carried beyond the limits of responsibility. By these words, said the Paris Temps, Mr. Wilson "offended the free nations who are struggling for their liberty, their dignity, and their existence." The Temps did not impute this unfriendly sentiment to the American people, declaring that France had had too much evidence of this sympathy to doubt it. But it expressed undisguised sorrow at this failure of the President of the United States to appreciate the nature of the struggle in which our sister republic is engaged. A similar feeling of sorrow is expressed in a brief article which we find in the Paris Echo of May 31, by Gabriel Hanotaux, of the French Academy, a distinguished publicist, who has often shown himself an admirer of America. In this capacity of his as a friend of our country, M. Hanotaux tells how he had just returned from participation in a memorial service at the little church in the Avenue de l'Alma, May 30, in honor of the American soldiers who had died for France, and from placing flowers upon the statues of Washington and Lafayette, when he read these words, so bitter for the Frenchmen of the American President. The Frenchman is moved to think in connection with all this, of the lesson, for the American democracy, of the sacrifice by the German crown prince of 400,000 lives at Verdun merely in an attempt to gratify the dynastic ambition of the Hohenzollerns; and of the tearing up by Germany, of all its promises to America. In the face of this, France turns to America to learn from President Wilson that it is committing a madman's act in defending its soil against the invader! "In France we think, on the contrary," says Gabriel Hanotaux, "that in fighting for the right, for the weak peoples, for respect to treaty obligations, we are doing an act of profound wisdom; and we think also that those who express the contrary opinion, and express it in terms so rude are not wise at all." Not wise! The gentle Frenchman, stigmatized with all his nation as a madman, goes no further than that in his rejoinder. Mr. Wilson will have his wish with regard to any participation of his own in the settlement of the troubles of Europe. Intimating his determination not to have anything to do with the rest of the world in this matter, he will not be asked by anyone—certainly not by

Two more Quebec boys were wounded in the recent fighting around Ypres. They are Lance-Corporal J. Ryan and Private Lenny Roach, who left Quebec with the First Canadian Contingent.

Corp. Ryan, according to official notification received by his mother yesterday, is in No. 2 Stationary Hospital at Boulogne, suffering from gun shot wounds in leg and arm.

Pte. Roach, also a resident of Champlain street, has been wounded in the abdomen. His father received news to this effect from Ottawa yesterday.

All will join in wishing for the speedy recovery of these two brave boys from this city.

INDEMNITIES FOR QUEBEC ALDERMEN

ALD. LOCKWELL MAKES SUGGESTION AT MEETING OF ROAD COMMITTEE.

The project of holding the sittings of the Civic Committee in the afternoon instead of at night which was suggested at the meeting of the Road Committee last night by Chairman Bouchard, incidentally gave birth to another project—that of paying a certain indemnity to the aldermen for their services in the interests of the City, which have been given gratis up to now.

Ald. Bouchard merely suggested that the Committees sit in the afternoon instead of in the evening, expressing the belief that more practical work could be done, and the aldermen who reside out of town might be able to spend the evening in the country.

It was time to consider paying the aldermen for their services, Ald. Lockwell affirmed. And if the Committees sat in the afternoon, he would certainly insist upon an indemnity being voted to the aldermen. It was the practice in other cities to indemnify the representatives of the people and he felt that public opinion in Quebec was favorable to it.

Ald. Madden did not believe that it was the intention of Chairman Bouchard when suggesting afternoon sittings for the Civic Committees to couple with it the paying of salaries to the aldermen.

Ald. Bouchard replied that he had never thought of the question of indemnities.

It was the ambition of every alderman to serve the interests of the City to the best of his ability. Ald. Madden added, and he did not think that any of the City Fathers would work any better or any harder if they were remunerated for their services.

While the idea of Committees sitting in the afternoon did not appeal to the majority of the aldermen present they seemed inclined to meet the views of Ald. Bouchard for the summer months.

There will likely be a motion at the next meeting of the Council for afternoon sittings of the Committees during the summer months, and Ald. Bouchard intimated that he would also suggest limiting the sittings of the Council to eleven o'clock instead of midnight.

CANADIAN ORDER OF FORESTERS CARRIES WAR BURDEN LIGHTLY

ANNUAL REPORT JUST ISSUED SHOWS LARGEST INCREASE IN INSURANCE FUND IN THE HISTORY OF THE ORDER.

The 37th Annual Meeting of the Canadian Order of Foresters, as published in yesterday's issue, has brought out very clearly the soundness and strength of fraternal insurance as handled by this old, established order. In spite of the loss of revenue, and increase in death claims directly due to the War, the Insurance Fund was increased last year by $465,500.31—the largest sum added in any one year since the Order was established in Canada in 1879. The Sick and Funeral Benefit Fund also shows a record increase of $55,398.81 for the year.

The provision made for enlisted men who were in the order prior to August 1st, 1914, has been generous indeed. Insurance has been kept in force without increase in rates, and for the first time all insurance, and sick and benefit assessments of enlisted members were paid out of the General Fund since February 1st, 1916, this is done from the time enlisted members leave Canada for Overseas service.

About 2,000 members of the Order are now actually overseas, and more than 100 have been killed and their insurance paid. Advantage has been taken of exceptional opportunities for investments in Government Bonds, and Canadian Municipal and School Debentures in the past few months further strengthening the position of the Order. Revenue from investments last year paid over 42 p.c. of the total Death claims.

TRIDUUM OPENING AT ST. PATRICK'S

SPECIAL SERVICES LASTING THREE DAYS WILL OPEN THIS EVENING.

This evening at 7.30 the opening exercises of a solemn Triduum, or a three days' special service of prayer in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, will take place in St. Patrick's Church.

This Triduum is being held in commemoration of the Golden Jubilee of the Restoration to public veneration of the Miraculous Picture of Our Lady of Perpetual Help. The story of this renowned picture need not be rehearsed here, for it is a familiar one to Catholics, especially to those who live in the parishes of the Redemptorist Fathers, who have been so fortunate as to be the custodians of the famed miraculous picture for the past fifty years. For, on the 19th of January, 1866, after having been hidden away in the comparative obscurity of the Augustinian Convent at Rome, the picture of Our Lady of Perpetual Help was given by the late Supreme Pontiff, Pius IX, into the care of the Redemptorist Fathers, who solemnly enshrined the picture in their church of St. Alphonsus at Rome. Since that day half century ago, St. Alphonsus' Church in the Eternal City has been a much-frequented spot of pilgrimage by those who love to invoke the Mother of God under the potent title "Lady of Perpetual Help." This year, the Golden Jubilee year, every Redemptorist church throughout the world is holding, during the month of June, the solemn services of a Triduum in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help to fitly commemorate the many favors and graces that have been gained the world over by Mary's clients at the foot of her holy shrine.

The Redemptorists of Quebec intend to make the Triduum held in their church a red letter event in the parish annals. Therefore, they desire every child of the parish and every true lover of Mary to join in the public acts of prayer and public services which will begin this evening at 7.30 and will end on Sunday evening at the same hour.

Four special sermons will be preached during the course of the Triduum. Rev. Father McCandlish will preach the opening discourse giving an historical account of the famed picture. On Friday evening the sermon will be preached by Rev. Father Healey. This discourse will treat of Mary—God's Mother—therefore, powerful to be a "Perpetual Help" to man. Mary—Our Mother—therefore, eager and willing to be our "Perpetual Help." On Saturday Rev. Father McCandlish will preach taking as his theme, Mary—Perpetual Help against the three enemies of the soul—the world, the devil and the flesh. On Sunday evening Rev. Father Healey will preach the closing sermon on "The Catholic's Debt of Gratitude towards the Mother of Perpetual Help."

Each evening of the Triduum special prayers will be said, and the services will close with solemn Benediction. After Benediction a souvenir in the form of a copy of the miraculous picture will be given to those who attend the exercises.

In order that all may have ample opportunity of receiving the sacraments during the Triduum, confessions will be heard after services Thursday evening, on Friday afternoon and evening, and on Saturday afternoon and evening.

C.B. SECONDS ARE

AMENDS ITS SCHEDULE FOR THE SEASON.

The official standing of the Quebec Junior City Baseball League is as follows:

Teams.	W.	L.	Pct.
Tipperary	4	0	.1000
Red Rose	3	1	.666
Volteigurs	3	1	.666
Sillery	2	2	.500

(*Dropped from League).

Next Sunday's Games:

Sillery at Volteigurs, in Levis.
Umpires: E. Dion and T. Phillips.

Red Rose at Tipperary.
Umpires: H. Stevenson and E. Gendron.

A meeting of the Quebec Junior League was held in the Victoria Hotel last evening under the presidency of Mr. C. T. Phillips, at which much important business was discussed. The C. B. Seconds are considered as dropped from membership and their games were forfeited to the other clubs.

An amended schedule was drawn up and next Sunday's games and umpires were decided upon.

The clubs in the league have all strengthened up and though the Tipperary club has passed through the first half of the schedule without a defeat, they will have a hard task in the second part of the season. The Red Rose club will meet them Sunday next and Manager Johnny Caron's boys will put up a great battle to win. The Tipperary club will practice this evening behind the Drill Hall, and a full turnout is requested.

Sillery will play Volteigurs in Levis, Sunday next, and the Sillery boys expect to put over a win. The team got away to a bad start this season, and suffered the loss of two good men in Tommy Moore and Jerry Aubin who signed up with the City League. However, President Phillips has the club reorganized, all the boys are home-brews and they may be looked to for big things from now on. The Volteigurs have a good team and there will be big doings in Levis on Sunday when they meet the Silleryites.

The amended schedule reads:

June 25—Sillery vs. Volteigurs.

July 2—Red Rose vs. Tipperary.

July 9—Volteigurs vs. Sillery.

Tipperary vs. Red Rose.

July 16—Sillery vs. Red Rose.

Tipperary vs. Volteigurs.

July 16—Sillery vs. Tipperary.

Volteigurs vs. Red Rose.

JUNIOR BASEBALL.

Concerning the Standards demand to have the game with Young Emmets, which was stopped in the first of the fifth inning on account of rain, awarded to them on the grounds that the umpire ordered the teams to continue. President McDonald, after consulting with Umpires Roach and Fuller, has decided that the game shall be declared postponed. The rule states that five complete innings must be played unless the side second at bat has scored sufficient runs in four innings to win, the side first at bat having completed five innings. The game was called at the beginning of the fifth inning. Standards being first at bat, had scored two runs in this inning when game was called, therefore, Young Emmets being second at bat had the right to their half of the fifth, which was not played, thereby the result was "no game."

McNaughton, Jimmy Lonergan, C. Malone and Justin Kirkwood, will be playing with Celtics, Sunday next, against the Standards.

The Young Vics will have a hard game on hand against Belvederes.

The Fleming brothers, Joe McDermott and "Pat" Lambert, have signed with the Young Emmets.

The Young Vics will hold a practice this evening at 6:00 o'clock, on the Cove Fields. A full turnout is expected.

HARVARD BEATS YALE.

RECORDER'S COURT.

There was a larger number of prisoners than usual before the Recorder yesterday morning, all of whom were charged with drunkenness. Three of the delinquents were granted their liberty, whilst the remainder were fined in sums ranging from $2 to $10 and costs.

Sporting Notes

No change in the Quebec and District baseball league schedule after all. Laval and Napoleons will play Saturday afternoon on the Exhibition grounds while on Sunday C.B.'s will meet Patricia and Emmets hook up with St. Romuald on the Exhibition grounds.

The Emmets practice this evening at 6 o'clock on the Cove Fields.

The Quebec league had a long meeting last evening under the Presidency of President Bruneau. St. Patrick's withdrew their protest against Wingo after the league's stand in the matter was disclosed. The money was not forfeited as St. Pat's entered the protest in good faith and in accordance with what transpired at a previous meeting. However, Wingo will be allowed play in the league for the balance of the season, a special permission being granted St. Romuald in this case in view of extenuating circumstances.

Lachapelle will be back on the National Lacrosse team's line-up next Saturday.

The Victorias will practice this evening on the Cove Fields.

The Indians will make a big effort to trim the Emmets, Sunday next. The Bridge boys have not yet won a game in Quebec city though they have always played great ball here. Manager Boucher will have a strong team in line and has great expectations.

Dan Price, a former third-baseman of St. Patrick's, Quebec, is now playing for Casquettes in the Montreal League.

"Goldie" Prodgers has enlisted again.

Detroit has at last got to the top of the American League. If the Tigers trim the Indians tomorrow they will have a clear lead.

The Giants do not seem to have accompanied much since their famous winning streak.

Popular Pastime, No. 467.—Holding up the street-car service with a "divver."

SOCCER SHOTS.

The "crossball" game of the local Football League will be fought out on the Exhibition Grounds, Saturday, between the champion Montmorency outfit and the Frontenac United.

The United have so far escaped without defeat, the nearest approach to one being a drawn game with the Engineers. The Falls, on the other hand have succumbed to a loss at the hands of the feet, rather, of the United in the opening game of the season. But the Falls' specialty is losing opening games. There is no reason to expect that because the champions lost before they will do so again. Captain Mills has gathered or should say "mobilized" (more military-like) a very likely looking bunch of footballers. Of the old guard, he has himself, Frank and Harry Warner and also Jack Lovett, while Page may also be on hand. With a goal-keeper measuring up to the standard, as McKean apparently does, Mills, Page or Dowds in front of him, the Warners and Packie on the half line and Davis or Lovett, Pugh, Grant, Redman and McKee on the assaulting division, Montmorency certainly does not look very sick.

The United undoubtedly are strong both on attack and defence. Charlie Hart keeps a good goal, while the men in front of him have shown good judgment. Cooper is a strong kicker and makes few mistakes, while his partner is about on a par with him. Jack Dornan at centre-half is a great help to the team and does any amount of work. With Ivor Bridge and Norris to round out the trio, the half-line looks almost as strong as the champions'. The forward line of the United seems to be a scoring one. Alet McLean is always dangerous and the United's captain is generally well fed when he gets into a scoring position. Zeller's playing this season warrants his special mention and the little fellow shoots hard and straight.

It will be a hard decision to call before the game is played as the eleven look to be very evenly matched.

The 8th will meet the Engineers and this game also promises to hold thrill for the spectators as both teams played a fine game the last time they met.

HE WAS KNOCKED DOWN
ONCE.

Montreal, June 21—Frankie Fleming, the Canadian featherweight boxed ten lively rounds in a no-decision bout with Eddie Wallace, of Brooklyn, N.Y., at the Gayety Theatre here, tonight, and shaded the New Yorker, in the opinion of the local fight fans, though in the 5th round Wallace sent Fleming to his knees, and had the Canadian groggy for the remainder of the round.

Both contestants were bound over, under a bond of $1,500 each, in the police court this morning, not to engage in a prize fight in Canada for twelve months. They were charged by J. H. Roberts, of the Vigilance League, with an intention to engage in a prizefight tonight.

the city court, at the hearing of the case of Arthur Denham, thirty years old, who is charged with being a fugitive from justice.

As a result of Cowles' testimony, Denham is in jail here awaiting extradition to Chicago, Denham was arrested in the crowd here for the automobile race on Memorial Day.

One of the confidence men scraped acquaintance with Cowles and then introduced Denham as C. H. Clark, "the man who never lost a bet on a horse race." They later went to a pool room and Cowles won a few small bets. Then Cowles put up a $10,000 check and won, but he was told he would have to produce $8,000 in cash to show that his check was good. Cowles deposited the money and was then informed that Denham's partner had placed another bet and lost all the money.

Cowles testified that he did not lose confidence in Clark and met him later in Chicago where the same plan was being worked, but that he was stopped by the Chicago police. Cowles said he was worth about $100,000.

RE-EDUCATION OF RETURNED SOLDIERS A GREAT PROBLEM

MR. W. M. DOBELL, OF THE CANADIAN MILITARY HOSPITALS COMMISSION, PUBLISHES RESULT OF HIS FINDINGS.

What might aptly be called the Book of the Returned Disabled Soldier has just been issued from Ottawa as a special bulletin. It is principally the report of Mr. W. M. Dobell, of the Canadian Military Hospitals Commission, who recently visited England and France to study at first hand the question of the rehabilitation of the wounded soldier. With Mr. Dobell's report are published several other articles or documents by experts in re-educating or training soldiers deranged in body or mind.

Through Mr. Dobell's report and through practically every article in the special bulletin runs an emphasis upon the moral difficulty which is being encountered by those making themselves responsible for the welfare of invalided soldiers. Not to beat about the bush, this moral difficulty is a pronounced present disinclination on the part of a large percentage of the men in question to prepare themselves for serious and permanent employment.

Evil Counsellors.

In France particularly this moral aspect of the situation is causing anxiety to the authorities. Mr. Bourillon, head of one of the important French hospitals visited by Mr. Dobell, says in his report printed in the bulletin on the Vocational Re-education of Disabled Soldiers:

"All are not immediately willing to take up some work; far from it, and this is a tendency; the consequences of which are to be feared as much for themselves as for the state. It is all the more necessary to fight it, as evil counsellors, profiting by the disarray and workmen are plunged, have begun their disastrous work. To the question which so many of the invalids are posing, 'What is to become of me?' they reply: 'Make your claims heard. The state owes you everything. Was it not in her service you were wounded? Even now there is talk of forming a syndicate of the disabled which will be a hotbed of revolutionary movements.'"

Work Is Sole Salvation.

In one sense there is some justice in such an attitude. When one reflects that the possessors of these maimed and broken bodies were either compelled, or, as in Canada, strenuously urged, to sacrifice them for their country, it would seem that nothing the stay-at-homes could do for them, or indulge them in, would discharge the moral debt. On the other hand, human experience proves conclusively that neither for the rich nor for the poor is idleness the way of happiness. Professor Jules Amar, head of a Paris research laboratory into vocational re-education, says in another article in the special bulletin:

"The disabled man must be made to understand, and he will easily grasp the fact, that work alone is the regenerator and sole fortifier of his body and his mind; it alone furnishes material resources for a livelihood, and those moral resources, which, in him especially, excite our admiration."

Convalescent Homes Condemned

For as the most immediately interesting part of the special bulletin are the sections headed "Conclusions" and "Suggestions" in Mr. Dobell's report. The paragraph in regard to convalescent homes is so important that we quote the whole of it. It reads:

"There is an absolute unanimity of opinion that the influence of convalescent homes is bad; the life in these institutions is conducive to lax discipline and idleness; men are shown a different standard of living from what they have been accustomed to, and one which they will probably not be able to maintain. This naturally produces unrest and dissatisfaction. The aim should be to keep men in military hospitals under military discipline until they have thoroughly recovered from their wounds, and then either return them to their homes, or when required, induce them to take vocational training with a view of making them capable of supplementing their pensions."

Basis of Pensions.

As to the basis of pensions, Mr. Dobell strongly supports the principle of "physical disability in the untrained labor market." This basis, of course, would ignore entirely what a man earned before the war and also what he might be able to earn in the future.

Mr. Dobell states at this point that, having worn an artificial limb himself for many years, he thoroughly agrees with the French experience that complicated artificial limbs are not desirable. The French now supply them as strong and simple as possible. In many of the places visited by Mr. Dobell men only wore their artificial limbs going to and from the workshops, the moral being not to make man dependent upon these aids any more than is absolutely necessary.

Under the rubric of "Government positions" we are informed that the French government has announced that all government or government-controlled positions will be offered first to wounded men. Mr. Dobell believes this and thinks that after the men have been trained many in such positions will be able to earn more than formerly.

Agricultural Colleges.

An emphatic word is spoken against soldiers' homes for totally disabled men. The view is expressed that in Canada the number of the latter will be small. "I should think," says Mr. Dobell, "that there are sufficient institutions in the different towns in Canada to take care of such cases without establishing any actual soldiers' homes as there will undoubtedly be a tendency on the part of some who can do a certain amount of work to become inmates of them, rather than exert themselves."

In his "Suggestions" Mr. Dobell again emphasizes that, "Two outstanding necessities have been impressed upon me, viz., a clear understanding as to pensions and the reduction of convalescent homes to a minimum." Another interesting "suggestion" is that "the agricultural schools now in operation in the western provinces" be used for training purposes along with the Macdonald college at St. Anne de Bellevue and the Guelph Agricultural college.

Conflict of Opinion.

On the question of supplying artificial limbs to Canadian soldiers who used them there is a direct conflict of opinion between Mr. Dobell and Surgeon-General G. C. Jones, director of medical services for the Canadian contingents. Mr. Dobell recommends that a central depot be established in Canada "for the making, fitting and supplying of artificial limbs." Surgeon-General Jones, on the other hand, expresses himself as "strongly of the opinion that the men should receive their limbs in England before returning to Canada." At the present time all Canadian amputated cases go to the Granville Canadian Special hospital at Ramsgate on the Kent coast under an arrangement with the Roehampton hospital in Surrey to which old country cases go.

Mr. Dobell tells us that in France some 50,000 soldiers have undergone amputations and that it will take some time to supply them with the necessary limbs. At the Roehampton hospital there is also a long waiting list. Four hundred men had been fitted with limbs when the visit was made and 2,500 were still to be fitted. An effort is being made to have a branch factory manufacture artificial limbs at Ramsgate. American firms, we are told, are the best makers. "I find," says Mr. Dobell, "a great disinclination on the part of all makers to have anything to do with arms; they are all ready to make legs, but apparently an arm is never as satisfactory as a leg and very seldom brings them any credit."

What France Is Doing.

In France, Mr. Dobell found that about fifty re-educational establishments had been organized, all of them receiving more or less public assistance, and for the rest supported by private subscriptions. As illustrating the difficulties connected with this work of re-education the St. Maurice hospital, presided over by Dr. Bourillon, is mentioned. Here, in order to obtain 250 students no less than 2,000 wounded men had to be interviewed.

Bearing on this is the work done by Professor Dr. Jules Amar, director of the Paris research laboratory for vocational training. In France, according to Dr. Amar, only 17 per cent of the disabled soldiers are willing to take vocational training. But a further 25 per cent can get employment as janitors, game-keepers, watchmen, elevator-men etc., without training. "This leaves," points out Mr. Dobell, "30 per cent to 55 per cent of injured men who are apparently not trying to do anything. This percentage will, I feel sure, be reduced as the men become more assured that their pensions will not be reduced in proportion to their earning capacity." Dr. Amar estimates that 80 per cent of the disabled soldiers can be made competent workmen.

England Behindhand.

Of England Mr. Dobell states: "From what I have seen I am of opinion that Great Britain is, so far, behind both France and Belgium, though I believe considerable attention is now being paid to the question." A paragraph or two further on he states:

"There is no doubt that the shock to the system is very often not fully realized until a man begins to try to work, but the percentage of cases who suffer from trying to start too soon is, in my opinion, very much smaller than that of those whose working capacity has permanently deteriorated through the enervating influence of a long period of idleness."

At the Roehampton hospital book-keeping, shorthand and motor-car classes are the most popular. Mr. Dobell, makes, however, the following complaint:

"No scientific examination is made of the men and they are allowed to take up practically any trade that they fancy; few of them do anything, most of them being absolutely determined to learn nothing until they have had their full pension allotted. . . . This condition will

ONE of our fellows swore off swearing at New Year's. He puts five cents in the baby's bank every time he forgets himself. It cost him half a dollar to get dressed every morning when he wore a ten button Union Suit. Now he wears the Hatch One-Button Union and gets out with a nicker. It's tough on the baby though!

He says if the button were not so conveniently placed in front it would cost more.

Hatch One-Button Union Suits are made in Zimmerknit quality. That makes a pretty good combination.

Other Articles.

The remaining reports or articles are of equal interest. Dr. Amar's article on testing the psychological and physical values of disabled men is accompanied by many illustrations. This is also the case with a lecture by Dr. Armand Deltenre, director of the Anglo-Belgian hospital at Rouen for therapeutic, or therapeutic and other treatment. Dr. Bourillon's article on vocational re-education has already been mentioned.

From the Medical Record, New York, is reproduced an article by Dr. Douglas C. McMurtrie on "Provision for War Cripples in Germany." Dr. C. K. Clarke, dean of the Medical School of Toronto university, has a memorandum on "Psychiatric Treatment," and finally there is an article by Surgeon-General Jones on the "Treatment of Canadian Wounded in England."

HOLLWEG FACES A DUEL

WHEN THE WAR IS OVER
Berlin, June, 19.—Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, who was criticised severely by the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, in a speech in the Reichstag on June 5, as among "the pirates of public opinion" owing to a pamphlet by Dr. Kapp sharply attacking the Chancellor's policy, now publishes a card showing that he tried to call Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg to account.

Dr. Kapp sent an agent to negotiate with an agent of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg. The Imperial Chancellor's agent declared, in the Chancellor's behalf, that he declined "to make the subject of personal explanations an action imposed upon him by the duties of his office." The agent of Dr. Kapp thereupon declared that "Dr. Kapp would seek satisfaction at the moment when the Chancellor no longer was under the protection of the war, his position and the muzzled press."

CANADA SS. LINES HAS GOOD BUSINESS

TRAVEL HAS BEEN VERY GOOD, SAYS OFFICIAL, DESPITE BAD WEATHER.

Montreal, June 21—"In spite of the record amount of wet weather which we have been having in June, the passenger business has been very good," said Mr. John F. Pierce, of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., yesterday afternoon in answer to a query as to how the tourist business for this summer is shaping.

"On Sunday, June 11th, the National Hardware Association members made a trip from Kingston to Montreal. Although originally we had only expected 150, there were 237 who took the trip eventually. "On June 14th the Canadian Coal Dealers' Association held their convention on board the steamer Toronto while she made her round trip from Toronto to Prescott and return. There were more than 250 delegates and the success which attended the venture makes it probable that a great many conventions will be held in this agreeable way. There is something exceedingly attractive about the idea of having a pleasant outing at the same time that one fulfills his business engagements.

"On Saturday last it was necessary to run two boats to Quebec to take care of the number who wished to avail themselves of the excursions conducted under the auspices of Rev. Father Walsh, of St. Mary's Church. More than 370 people left Montreal on these two boats."

A party of sixty tourists from all parts of Mexico, under the leadership of Mr. Keith, arrived in Montreal on the Rapids Prince at 6:15 o'clock last night. These are on their way to New York.

Mr. Pierce also stated yesterday that tourist bookings promise excellent business. The weather had had a deterring influence on local excursions and week-end business, but otherwise there had been a large number taking the steamers.

On Sunday last the railroad ticket agents of Boston came through to Montreal from Alexander Bay, where they had been entertained, all enjoying especially the well known Rauville trip.

yesterday and went into the inner basin to discharge a cargo of coal.

The Danish steamer Neil R. Finse, from Barcelona, Spain, arrived in port yesterday and will take on about 900 standards of deals for England. She is in command of Captain Olsen.

SS. Acadia, chartered by the Robt. Reford Co., left port last night for Rimouski, to complete her cargo of lumber.

Steam barge Compton passed up yesterday with a cargo of pulp.

The New Zealand Shipping Company has maintained the monthly service which it was running before the war between Montreal and Australia and New Zealand through the summer season. Although in the winter season from St. John one or two sailings have been missed, not a single one has been omitted from Montreal a noteworthy performance in these days of alleged shipping shortage. What this means in trade to Canada is indicated by the fact that the Pakeha, lately in this port, took more than $1,500,000 worth of cargo with her on her trip southwards. This is larger than most of the vessels carry, but most of the vessels in this trade are commodious cargo carriers. The vessels from Montreal vary their route to Southern Pacific ports, sometimes going by the Panama and sometimes the other way. From London all the company's vessels will take the Panama route in future every fortnight.

EVENT IN PROTESTANT
SCHOOL, BELVEDERE WARD

The closing exercises of the St.
George's school took place last night in the presence of a large number of parents and friends of the pupils.

Mr. Alex. Hyde presided, and occupying seats on the platform with him were Rev. Eardley Wilmot, Mr.
E. H. Walling, Dr. J. M. Harper, Mr.
J. C. Sutherland, and Mr. H. B. Pol-iwka. Miss E. Moffat, principal, and Miss Brown, teacher, were also present.

Interesting and instructive speeches were delivered by the chairman, Mr.
Hyde; Dr. J. M. Harper, Rev. Eardley-Wilmot, and Mr. J. C. Sutherland, inspector-in-chief of the Protestant schools.

The Principal's report showed excellent condition insofar as studies were concerned. The number of pupils on the roll is 116, and the average daily attendance was 75, which was considered good, in view of so many children being unable to attend on account of sickness, which was prevalent amongst them last November and December. Inspector McCutcheon's report of his examination of the school held early in the year, gave great praise to the Principal, Miss Moffat, for the work she had accomplished under very difficult circumstances.

The chairman announced that both Miss Moffat and Miss Brown were leaving the school to take up positions in Victoria school, and in the name of the School Board, parents and pupils, wished these ladies every success in their new sphere.

Mr. E. H. Walling and Mr. Poliwka shared the honors in distributing the prizes to the successful students.

An excellent musical selection was rendered by the children.

Girl a Nervous Wreck At Eleven Years of Age

Was Tired Out, Pale and Sallow—Would Tremble Till the Bed Would Shake—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured Her.

In the schools of to-day there is found an alarming proportion of weak, nervous children who have little chance of developing into healthy, useful men and women.
Nature requires the assistance of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help them over a trying period and set them on their feet.

There would be fewer wearing glasses if the nerves were invigorated, less irritation in the school and home, more robust health and a greater pleasure in the school tasks.

This letter bears a cheering message to parents whose children are weak, puny and nervous. It shows you what may be expected from the use of this great restorative.

Mrs. Stephen Hartman, Italy Cross, Lunenburg, N.S., writes:

"My little sister at eleven years of age became nervous, irritable and seemed all tired out. She had no appetite, was lifeless and drowsy, and

QUIET WEDDING.

On June 20th at 4 o'clock a quiet wedding was solemnized at the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity by the Rev.
C. R. Eardley-Wilmot, when Miss Alice Mildred Gertrude Sweeney, only daughter of Mrs. R. R. Sweeney, of Quebec, was united in marriage to Mr. Reginald William Louthood, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Louthood, of Three Rivers, Quebec.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. H. B. Poliwka, wore a tailored suit of Alice blue silk poplin with hat of grey tagel straw and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Edith Louthood, sister of the groom, wore a frock of pink and white flowered voile with black hat and her bou-quet was of pink roses and maidenhair ferns. The groom was attended by Mr. Douglas Ritchie, of Quebec, and Mr. Bishop, organist of the Cathedral, played the Wedding March.

Mr. and Mrs. Louthood left by the 5 o'clock train for Montreal and points West.

BRITAIN RESTRICTS USE OF AUTOMOBILES

London, June 21, 9:20 p.m.—The government has decided that a more effective diminution in the use of motor cars can be obtained by control than by increasing taxes on cars.
Hence, according to an announcement made in the House of Commons today, the increased taxes are to be rescinded and central authority created with power to grant permits for the purchase of specified amounts of petrol, on which a license of sixpence per gallon must be paid at the time of purchase. For commercial cars or those of doctors and veterinary surgeons the permits will be issued at half rates.

The discussion in the House of Commons elicited the general opinion that the control of petrol would be more equitable than increasing the tax on motor cars, though one member pointed out that the extra tax on the petrol would be more than the cost of the petrol.

Efforts were also made in the House to have the maximum income tax reduced from five to four shillings per pound, but the government declined to do anything except to endeavor to relieve the incidence tax on small unearned incomes.

SPRIT MAKES HIM TRAMP.

An Old Man Says a Malign Influence Set Him Wandering.

Rydal, Pa., June 19.—Because of a "malign influence created by another man who is always with me in spirit and dictates all my actions," John Ward, age seventy, asserted he became a vagrant ten years ago—and has been one ever since. All efforts to shake off the evil spirit have been unavailing, and Ward, who says he is a Philadelphian, asserted he could not hold any jobs because of his tormentor.

That's the story Ward told Magistrate Williams at the Abington Station. He had gone to the Curtis country place at Rydal and asked for something to eat. Because the food given him did not please either his taste or his fancy he threw it away and created such a disturbance that members of the family were frightened and telephoned to the Abington police station.

Patrolman Nice found the aged, but still husky, vagrant a half mile from the Curtis home. Ward was not going to be arrested if he could prevent it, and gave the officer a lively battle before he was subdued.

Magistrate Williams sent Ward to Norristown to the County Prison to serve a thirty-day sentence. Physicians will examine him to determine how much the hallucinations have affected his mentality.

RESTRICTION ON VISITS TO WOUNDED

London, June 21, 8:50 p.m.—After Monday next no relatives of sick or wounded officers will be permitted to visit France unless the officer's condition is dangerous and special permission has been granted. It was announced today. This restriction has been imposed owing to the necessities of the military situation.

RULES OF HEALTH FOR DYSPEPTICS

DIETING UNNECESSARY.

There are two ways by which people who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, flatulence, etc., can overcome the trouble. First, as practically all cases of the above are directly or indirectly traceable to acidity and fermentation, they can eliminate from their diet all foods which ferment and form acid, such as all starches and sugar and foods containing them, thus prohibiting bread, potatoes, fruits and most meats.

About the only safe foods are gluten breads, spinach and small quantities of white meat of chicken or turkey.
This diet is almost a starvation one,
but it is sometimes quite effective.

The second way, which appeals especially to those who like to eat heartily meals of good foods, is to eat whatever is reasonably digestible, neutralize the acid and stop fermentation by the use of a good anti-acid such as bisurated magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work without pain or hindrance. Owing to its simplicity, convenience and effectiveness this latter plan is now being adopted, instead of the old fashioned, expensive, weakening starvation process. In this connection it is interesting to note that since the widespread use of bisurated magnesia has been established, many druggists have arranged to supply it in 5 gr. tablets 2 or 3 of which are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder form and are much more convenient to carry.
