OVER A HUNDRED MURDERED BY MEXICAN REBELS Flood Toll Mounts--Farming Conditions In West Are Satisfactory

Death And Famine Rode On Tide Of Worst Flood In History Of Mississippi

Damage to Property Has Already Reached an Unestimated Figure in Millions of Dollars--Thousands of People, Driven from Homes by Waters, Suffering for Food, Clothing and Shelter, While Others Who Had Braved Flood to Stay in Their Homes Perished.

SEVEN STATES BATTLING AGAINST ENCROACHMENTS OF THE RISING WATERS

Outlook Throughout Affected Areas Was Far from Bright as Overhanging Skies and Rain Storms Were Forecast--Cold Wave, Accompanied by Hail, Added to Suffering of Homeless.

(Associated Press Despatch) MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—Death, famine and pestilence rode Gulfward today on the ever increasing tide of the greatest flood in the history of the Mississippi Valley.

Thousands of square miles of fertile soil lay inundated. Damage to property had already reached an unestimated figure in the millions of dollars. Thousands of persons, driven from their homes by the waters, were suffering for food, clothing and shelter, while others who had braved the flood to stay in their homes, had perished.

Seven states—Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana—were battling against the encroachments of the river. Texas was receiving a quantity of water from western tributaries. Arkansas, through which several major tributaries were rising and casting aside all barriers, was the worst affected in the group, though danger points had developed at points in Illinois and Mississippi, which were not apparent yesterday.

The outlook throughout the affected areas was far from bright as overhanging skies and rain storms were forecast.

Will Drive More People From Their Homes.

A cold wave, accompanied by rain added to suffering of hundreds of homeless in Oklahoma and Kansas where acute conditions were reported following a long siege of storms and floods. Red Cross branches in Oklahoma received urgent calls for food, while Kansas streams rose again after rain last night.

With Oklahoma and Arkansas streams already overtaxed and running from one to three miles wide, the additional rainfall in Kansas was expected to drive more farmers and townspeople from their homes. The cold wave swept out of the northern Rocky Mountain states, where freezing temperatures were general. Snow fell yesterday in Western Kansas. Hail storms struck communities near Picher, Oklahoma, causing damage to out buildings.

A New Menace to Sufferers.

Epidemics had broken out yesterday in two refugee camps in Arkansas. Mumps and other contagious diseases were offering a new menace to the sufferers.

Organized relief agencies estimate the number of homeless in the flood throughout the Mississippi Valley at fifty thousand and up. The organization of relief stations was immediately started after the issuance of a call for financial aid by the American Red Cross. Other agencies were carrying on in a smaller, but effective scale.

Town a Desolate Wast of Swirling Water

Weather observers believed continue cold weather forecast for the southwest might curb the tornadoes apparently resulting from recently rapidly changing weather conditions. The most critical situation in Arkansas was at Clarendon, where the White and Cache rivers come together. A break in levee there yesterday caused widespread desolation and rendered many homeless (Continued on page 11)

U.S. Flood Situation At A Glance

The flood situation in the United States at a glance, as supplied by the Associated Press, is as follows:
States Affected—Arkansas, Missouri and Mississippi, and to lesser extent Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana.
Estimated Area Inundated—4,000,000 acres, or 6,250 square miles.
Estimated Homeless—50,000 persons.
Persons Affected—100,000 directly or indirectly.
Lives Lost—Impossible estimate, more than a dozen known dead.
Property Loss—Not estimated, but far into the millions of dollars.
Worst Sufferer—Arkansas, with most of its low lands inundated.
Persons Homeless in Arkansas—Upward of 20,000.
Cities Hardest Hit—Clarendon, Pine Bluff, Little Rock and a number of smaller communities.

The Results—Epidemic in two Arkansas refugee camps; rail traffic and wire communication demoralized; cities cut off from the outside; schools closed and threatened breaks of other levees on major streams in the state.

Relief Measures—American Red Cross; federal, state and city government co-operating in rescuing homeless, establishing camps and caring for refugees. National Guard troops, members American Legion and Boy Scouts doing police and guard duty.

Outlook—Even higher stages forecast as cloudbursts and heavy rains, principally in Arkansas, added more water to that already in height. River stages at many places already highest on record.
Probable Duration—New Orleans weather bureau estimated from two to four weeks before flood waters will pass that city.

AIR RACE FOR TIME BETWEEN PARIS AND N. Y. LOOMED TODAY

When backers of Bellanca plane heard French ace is preparing for an early flight, instructions were given to rush plans for Bert Acosta and Lloyd Bertaud to take off as soon as possible.

COULD MAKE READY FOR HOP-OFF IMMEDIATELY

G. M. Bellanca, Designer of Plane Which Recently Established New Endurance Record, Admits that French Plane Is Causing Him More Anxiety Than Any Other.

(Associated Press Despatch) MINNEAPOLIS, N.Y., April 21.—An air race for time between New York and Paris, with $25,000 as a prize, loomed today. When the backers of the Bellanca plane—which recently established a new endurance record—heard that Captain Charles M. Nungesser, famous French flying ace, was preparing for an early flight from Paris to New York, instructions were given here to rush plans for Bert Acosta and Lloyd Bertaud to take off for Paris as soon as possible.

G. M. Bellanca, designer of the plane, said that everything could be put in ship-shape for an immediate hop, if necessary. He admitted that the Nungesser plane was causing him more anxiety than any plane in the country. Nungesser's plans originally called for the take-off from Paris next Sunday morning, and Bellanca was prepared to meet the challenge. However, Nungesser later announced that he probably would not start before ten days, so Bellanca will take a little more time for preparations.

ABLE TO FORETELL SEX OF EXPECTED CHILD

(Canadian Press Despatch) MONTREAL, April 21.—By a person's handwriting it is possible to foretell the sex of the children he or she will have, stated F. D. Jacob, handwriting expert of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, in the course of talk here yesterday.

Mr. Jacob said that after making a study of this angle of graphology, he was now convinced that it was possible to predict with accuracy from the handwriting of the parents whether the expected child would be a girl or a boy.

PLANES MET IN AIR AND BURST INTO FLAMES

Cheers on Lips of Thousands Gathered to Greet Duke and Duchess of York Changed to Cries of Horror.

(Canadian Press Despatch) MELBOURNE, Australia, April 21.—Cheers on the lips of thousands gathered to welcome the Duke and Duchess of York as they arrived here today were changed to cries of horror when two aeroplanes collided and burst into flames. Four occupants were killed.

The eyes of the Duke and Duchess were turned in another direction at the time and they did not see the disaster. Great crowds of a member of his staff to make enquiries.

An imposing display of naval and military forces greeted the battleship Renown, on which the Royal party is travelling, when it entered the harbor. Great crowds of all the vantage points shouted enthusiastically, and then the accident marred the ceremonies. The planes were part of a group of forty flying in formation and carrying out stunts. They fell on a garage, which was set on fire.

ONE THOUSAND HOUSES WERE SWEEPED BY FIRE

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, April 21.—A fierce fire, which is believed to have caused many casualties and destroyed about one thousand houses in the town of Kanazawa, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo. ## Expectations Of Money Market Fulfilled When Bank of England Reduced Its Rate

Bank's Action Made Possible by Recent Influx of Gold, Which Since Beginning of Month Has Totalled More Than $15,000,000.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, April 21.—The Bank of England reduced its rate from five to four and a half per cent today. The Bank of England thus fulfilled the expectations of the money market. The five per cent rate had been instituted on December 3, 1926. The Bank's action was made possible by the recent influx of gold, which since the beginning of the month has totalled more than $15,000,000. For the past few days the money market had become easy, largely through special operations in connection with wiping out the Bank of France's debt to the Bank of England. Open market discounts weakened also, and the Bank's minimum of five per cent proved ineffective. The reduction was anticipated by the stock market for the last day or two, gilt-edged and government stocks being buoyant. A period of easy money is anticipated in financial circles, unless there are unforeseen adverse happenings abroad.

On his first journey to the United States in more than twenty years, Ramsay MacDonald, only Socialist ever to be prime minister in England, reaches New York on a pleasure trip with his daughter, Miss Isabel MacDonald. Below is Miss Lillian D. Wald, head of the Henry Street Settlement House in the metropolis, the MacDonalds' hostess during their sojourn in the United States.

Mexican Bandits Killed Fifty Military Guards Then Set Train On Fire

Statement Issued from Mexican Presidential Office Charges "Catholic Rebels" With Responsibility for Attack, Asserting Three Roman Catholic Priests Were Among Leaders.

PASSENGERS HELPLESS

President Calles is described as burning with wrath and indignation—He has ordered that no effort be spared in campaign to round up attacking party.

(Associated Press Despatch) MEXICO CITY, April 21.—Fifty-one bodies and thirty-two injured persons had been taken today from the charred coaches of a passenger train burned by bandits in a hold-up in the State of Jalisco. Unofficial estimates indicated that the total dead might reach one hundred. The military escort of fifty, which was on the train when it was held up, fought until all were dead or wounded. From five to seven Americans are reported to have been on the train but none of them was injured.

A statement issued from the presidential office charges "Catholic rebels" with responsibility for the attack, asserting that three Roman Catholic priests were among the leaders. It said that Secretary of War Amaro had ordered "the required measures for an energetic pursuit of the priests who received their instructions from the Episcopate of Mexico City."

Almost without warning the train was stopped in a lonely region and a group of bandits or rebels, estimated at five hundred to one thousand, hastily disposed of the military guard, poured oil and gasoline on the coaches as the passengers looked on helpless, and soon the coaches were a mass of flames. As the terrified passengers tried to scramble through the windows to the ground, they were shot.

One Passenger Became Insane. One report received at the railroad offices was that a passenger became insane when his wife and five children were burned within a second class coach. The man crawled out of a window thinking his family was behind him. He attempted to return to them when he heard their screams, but the flames prevented.

As the only comment on this painful happening, the statement from the presidential office said, "we desire to call the attention of the people of this country who have common sense and especially of the poor classes, to which the passengers who were barbarously burned alive by this church crowd belonged, where

Q.C.R. TRAINS TO USE C.P.R. DEPOT EARLY IN JUNE

No Official Announcement Is Made, Although It Is Understood that Negotiations Have Been Completed—New Station at Newington Progressing.

The Record learns from unofficial reports but on good authority that about June 1st the Quebec Central Railway trains will be using the Canadian Pacific line into Sherbrooke, instead of the Canadian National as at present.

This will mean that the Quebec Central trains will have their terminus at the Canadian Pacific depot, on Belvidere street, uptown, instead of at the Canadian National depot. The change, it is understood, will affect both passenger and freight trains.

It is also understood that the construction of a depot at Newington is progressing favorably. With the residents of East Sherbrooke having a station within their district, they will be relieved of the trouble of having to take the train at the Canadian Pacific depot, which is a long distance from their section of the city, while people wishing to go to Newington will also find it convenient to be able to take the train from this part of the city.

Western Farmers Optimistic On Prospects Of Crop—Despite Cold Weather Conditions Generally Are Regarded As Satisfactory

Abundant Moisture in Ground, Though Seeding Will Be Later Than Anticipated—Live Stock in Good Shape After Hard Winter—British Columbia Fruit Outlook Good.

(Associated Press Despatch) WINNIPEG, April 21.—Despite the cold changeable weather that has been prevailing throughout the west for the past two weeks and the saturated condition of the soil, agricultural conditions generally are regarded as satisfactory. A general report of agricultural conditions issued through the offices of D. C. Coleman, vice-president, western line, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, indicates that, while farmers are not getting as early a start as anticipated, they are very optimistic and looking forward to a good crop year. Some seeding in the west has started off with as much moisture in the land as there is now, and that in practically all districts throughout the west there should be enough moisture in the ground to carry the crops until the beginning of June.

Except for a small amount of ploughing and discing in southwestern Alberta, southern Manitoba and southern Saskatchewan, very little work on the land has been begun. Some seeding in southwestern Alberta has been done, but this is only in isolated districts. It is not likely that seeding will become general in the west before the end of the present month or the beginning of May. On higher lands, however, as it was pointed out that in 1920 seeding was not general in Manitoba till May 3; Saskatchewan, May 5, and Alberta, May 5, and in 1923, Manitoba, May 6, with Saskatchewan and Alberta, May 1.

The estimate of acreage prepared shows a substantial increase over last year in each province, with the exception of Manitoba. The aggregate for the three provinces shows an increase of over 10 per cent. Details reported are as follows: Manitoba, 3,076,700 acres, a decrease against 3,399,700 acres, a decrease of 9.5 per cent; Saskatchewan, 8,020,631 acres, as against 7,448,485 acres last year, an increase of 7.7 per cent; Alberta, 4,277,531 acres, as against 3,015,486, an increase of 41.9 per cent. The total for the three western provinces, therefore, is 15,374,862 acres, as against 13,863,671 acres last year, or an increase of 10.98 per cent.

Winter wheat and rye, from present indications, are reported to have come through the winter satisfactory. These crops show an increased acreage over 1926, the totals for the three provinces being: Wheat, 48,000 acres; rye, 365,000 acres, as against 30,000 acres of wheat in 1926 and 629,650 acres of rye the same year. It is thought that importation of seed will be necessary in many districts, principally in Saskatchewan and Alberta, due not so much to the fact that there was any particular shortage, but that some of the grain, especially oats, suffered through exposure to wet weather last fall. Farmers are guarding carefully against the danger of sowing poor seed. To this effect special seed trains have been operated, counselling the farmers and assisting them in determining the vitality of their seed.

SIX THOUSAND REFUGEES ARRIVE AT FOREST CITY ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 21.—Six thousand refugees, gathered from inundated parts of the basin of the St. Francis river by Red Cross officials, were brought to Forest City, Ark., by means of steamboat, motor boat and barge. KINGSTON, Ont., April 21.—Thomas McCoskey, convicted slayer of Guard M. E. Jenkins of Portsmouth Penitentiary, was hanged at the county jail at 12.07 this morning. The hanging was one of the fastest on record, only thirteen seconds elapsing from the time McCoskey left his cell until the trap was sprung.

LONGLEGS EXPLAINS

Be not deceived by fickle fame; There's very little in a name. —Longlegs the Heron.

Peter Rabbit was beginning to feel quite well acquainted with Longlegs the Heron. When Longlegs had had good luck fishing he often was very good natured and ready to talk. Then it was that Peter learned much about Longlegs.

"You belong to a good-sized family, don't you?" asked Peter.

Longlegs nodded. "A fairly good-sized family," said he, "a fairly good-sized family. Of course, you know my cousin, Quawk the Night Heron, and my still smaller cousin, Poke the Green Heron."

Peter nodded. "Of course I do," said he. "I knew them before ever I knew you. I suppose you are the largest of the family?"

Longlegs nodded. "I suppose I am," said he.

"You know he's a Crane, the Blue Crane," interrupted Redwing the Blackbird, who had been listening. Longlegs looked up quickly. "No such thing!" he snapped. "I'm not a Crane. I'm a Heron—as a true a Heron as ever breathed. What people call me a Crane for I don't understand. The idea of calling me a Blue Crane!"

Peter was thoughtfully scratching a long ear with a long hindleg. "Is there any such person as a Crane?" he ventured to inquire.

"There certainly is," replied Longlegs, "but Cranes are of another family altogether. The Crane family may be a nice enough family, but I am proud of my own family and I don't like being called what I am not."

"Perhaps you'd like being called a Stork better?" interrupted Redwing. "It seems to me I've heard you called a Stork."

"I don't doubt it," replied Longlegs bitterly. "It is queer to me how ignorant some people are. I am no more a Stork than I am a Crane. Why, I have actually known people to call me Sandy the Crane, meaning Sandhill Crane; and there is a real true Sandhill Crane. I don't know what those folks would call him if they should see Sandy. I'm a Heron, and there's all the difference in the world between Herons and Cranes and Storks. I suppose it is just because my legs are long. What's the good of a name, anyway, if you can't have it to yourself?"

"I suppose," said Peter, "that you spent the winter in the Sunny South."

"Well, if I hadn't, I wouldn't be here now," retorted Longlegs. "How under the sun do you suppose I could have lived up here with the snow and ice? Certainly, I spent the winter in the Sunny South."

"There is one thing you ought to be thankful for, and that is that you are not hunted like Mr. and Mrs. Quawk the Ducks. They have to worry all the time they are making that long journey twice a year, and I think it is dreadful," said Peter.

"Huh!" retorted Longlegs. "You seem to think I don't have anything to worry about. I don't. My Quawk, once they have reached their nesting grounds, can nest in peace and forget their worries. I can't. Do you see that gap in my wing?" He spread a long wing and, sure enough, several of the feathers were missing.

Peter nodded. "How did it happen?" he asked.

"Guns! Terrible guns!" replied Longlegs. "I lost those on my way up here, and during the summer I never know when somebody is going to shoot at me. It makes me terribly nervous."

"Why do they shoot at you, Longlegs?" inquired Peter innocently.

"Because," said Longlegs, "I'm a Heron, and there's all the difference in the world between Herons and Cranes and Storks. I suppose it is just because my legs are long. What's the good of a name, any-

Human Salt Licks

Almost from the beginning of the world metallic salts have been appreciated as remedies in disease not only by man, but by the lower animals.

The buffaloes of North America or the guanacos of South America can be still seen to leave their grassy plains and rush in a body to the salt licks. "Salt licks" is a term given to places where the deer and other animals come to eat a certain soil containing earthy salts. They dig it up with their hoofs and eat it. This is very common in the backwoods, and hunters lie there in wait to shoot animals when they approach.

The craving in man for peculiar articles of diet indicates a similar natural instinct. Thus persons recovering from a long wasting illness such as fever, show very capricious appetites. Typhoid fever patients crave for salt ham, a salt herring, or salted meat. To the therapist this indicates a loss of chlorides in the system which nature seeks to make good.

Whenever a mineral spring with metallic salts in its water is found, patients crowd to it. But for every thousand persons who can afford to rush to these salt springs, or human salt licks, a million have to stay at home.

Modern science, however, has so brought it about that if the patient cannot go to the salt licks, the salt licks come to the patient. This is one of the principal reasons why Kruschen Salts has obtained so great a name for itself. It is a preparation containing in itself all the principal metallic salts found in Nature. It has not the crudeness of any one particular salt, but is an elegant combination of them all in proper quantity. It is a preparation with one further advantage, that it contains no gas and does not effervesce.

COWANSVILLE, Que., April 21.—A very impressive service was held in Emmanuel United Church Easter Sunday morning when eighty-two persons were received into membership, some by letter of transfer, but the greater number by confession of faith. The Holy Communion was celebrated at the close of the service. The choir rendered an anthem and a male quartette composed of Messrs. H. Parker, J. Webster, W. Sharples, and J. McClure sang unaccompanied. The church was decorated with seven pots of Easter lilies, provided by the Young Ladies' Club. The congregation filled the church, and the service throughout was very inspiring. At the evening service three anthems were sung by the choir, and Mrs. Harden and Mr. Harry Parker each sang a solo, most acceptably.

DAWN OF WOMANHOOD

A Time of Difficulties When Watchfulness is Needed

Some girls upon the threshold of womanhood drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. Even strong and usually lively girls become weak, depressed and irritable, and listless. It is the dawn of womanhood—most important in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to keep the blood rich and pure. If your blood is not in a healthy condition at this stage, the body becomes ill-nourished and other ailments develop. If the health is not maintained by a sufficiency of rich, red blood, all sorts of weaknesses are likely to arise. Remember this, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of girls and women from being life-long invalids, because of their wonderful blood-making qualities.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to young women whose health was failing has been proved over and over again. These pills are the most reliable blood builder, fortifying weak nerves and creating a liberal supply of rich, healthy blood which a girl needs to sustain her strength.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Nujol method is the modern Scientific treatment for Constipation

That is the verdict of an extensive inquiry recently conducted among practicing physicians. We found that 8 doctors out of 10 recommended the Nujol type of treatment. We found seven out of ten thought laxatives and cathartics harmful if used frequently.

Here are typical statements made by doctors: "Preferable to laxatives because it does not cause patients any pain or discomfort." "Not habit-forming." "Now recognized by all physicians to be better because it is not absorbed." "Ordinary laxatives are too drastic in reaction, too exhausting." "Helps to establish habit-time." "Is a rational corrective for constipation."

Doctors Advise Nujol

Eight doctors out of every ten told us they were advising the Nujol type of treatment for their patients in place of laxatives—and for these reasons:

1. Nujol is not habit-forming.
2. A more natural method.
3. A lubricant is better than a laxative.
4. Does not gripe.
5. Is not irritating.
6. Nujol gives lasting relief.

Unlike Laxatives
Laxatives and cathartics act by irritating the intestinal tract. They cause the bowels to frantically expel the contents of the intestines and thus rid the system of the drugs that pills and potions contain.

Nujol acts entirely differently. It contains no drugs, no medicine. Its action is mechanical. It merely softens the dried waste matter in the intestines and lubricates the passages so that the muscles of the bowels can expel the waste matter regularly, naturally and thoroughly.

Nature-given Remedy

Nujol appeals to the medical man because it is a simple, scientific and safe remedy for constipation, no matter how severe the case may be. It is gentle in its action and pleasant to take. Children love it!

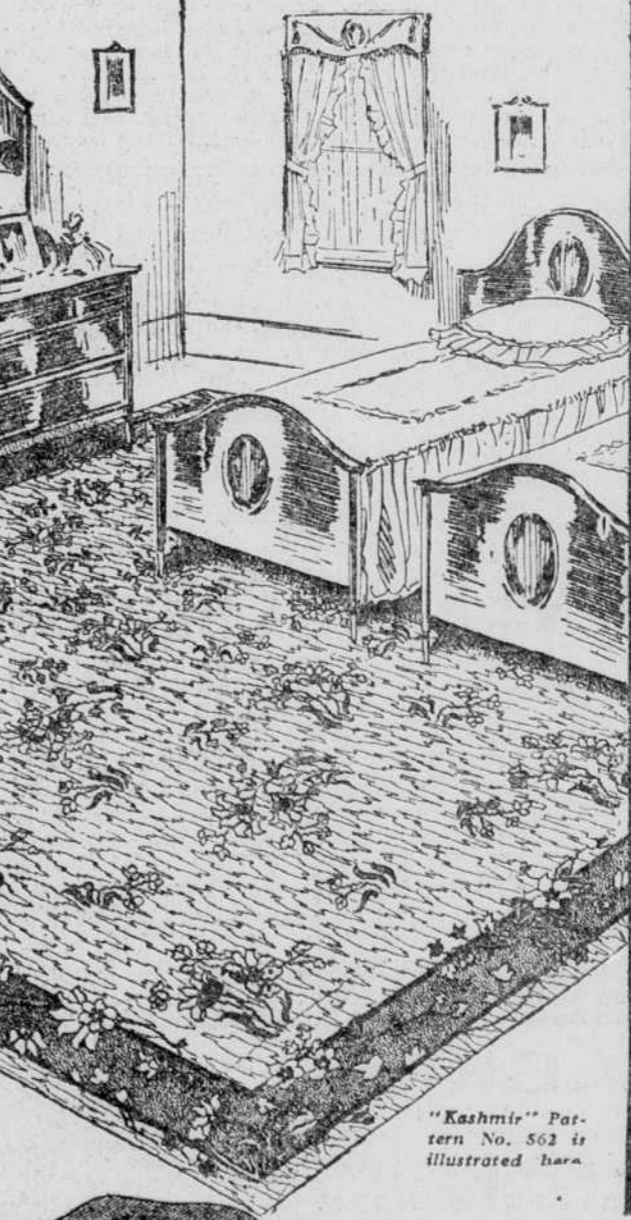

Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today. Doctors advise it for constipation, whether chronic or temporary. Avoid substitutes.

SO THAT'S THAT
Spring cleaning is a nerve-racking time for most people, and during the past few weeks residents have been worried over certain sections in the streets that needed prompt attention in the way of cleaning-up.

One of the objectionable places was at the corner of Wellington Street and Strathcona Square, where the winter's rubbish lay exposed. However, this morning some of those worried people wore a concented smile, for the corner has been cleaned!

It is also whispered in the street that the Southern Canada Power Company contemplate removing "that awful fence" also the trucks and rubbish behind it. This move towards improving a section of street that is noticeable all along Wellington North, will be gratefully noted by citizens who have the welfare of our pretty city at heart.

FORMER ST. PETER'S CHURCH ORGANIST AT QUEBEC

The following clipping from the Quebec Chronicle will be of interest to Sherbrooke people, as Mr. Reed was formerly organist of St. Peter's Church:

"So favorable an impression was created by the presentation of the mystery-play entitled 'The Key of Life' last week, that arrangements have been made to repeat the performance for one night only on Easter Tuesday.

"This time the play will be given as a testimonial to the composer of the music, Mr. William Reed, of Quebec, formerly organist of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, of St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke, and latterly organist of St. Andrew's church, Quebec.

The charm of Mr. Reed's music made a strong appeal to all who heard the play and the request that the play might be repeated which were forthcoming at the conclusion of the final of the series of performances last week, were numerous and insistent.

"In consequence, the author of the play, the Venerable Archdeacon Scott has consented to give one more representation of the sacred drama for the express purpose of giving the public an opportunity of showing their appreciation of the genius of the composer who through physical infirmity, is not only unable to hear the strains of his own composition, but who wrote the entire musical score, like the great Beethoven, bereft of the power of hearing."

POWER DEVELOPMENT PROPOSAL.

The City Council has decided to go ahead with the development of the Westbury power and are asking the ratepayers to approve a loan of $500,000 for this purpose. Voting is to take place on the 27th and a public meeting has been called for this evening to discuss the project.

Thus the proposition is put up to the citizens.

The Westbury power has long been associated with Sherbrooke's municipal affairs. It was the first property purchased by the city, more than twenty-five years ago, in its municipal ownership venture. The city thought it had purchased the entire rights, but found later that it owned only the banks of the river. The power rights have now been acquired from the Quebec Government, for a consideration.

The city now proposes to enter upon a serious undertaking involving the expenditure of a large amount of money.

The time is, therefore, opportune for a frank and full discussion of the city's position as regards its electric properties. Annual statements show very considerable operating profits. Are these paper profits or are they actual gains?

The civic authorities should present at the meeting tonight a comprehensive statement of the situation. This should show just what the city's investments in its electric venture amount to up-to-date, and what the profits and losses have been, when depreciation and other relative matters are taken into consideration.

Now is the time for ratepayers to express their views if they have anything to say on the subject of a further investment of half a million dollars in power development.

The aldermen, who are supporting this project, will no doubt be prepared to answer any questions that are submitted.

The Council should be required to defend its administration and justify the proposed development.

This will prepare the way for an intelligent verdict on the Westbury by-law on the twenty-seventh.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

On March 27th an embargo was declared on milk and cream entering the United States from a territory within a radius of 200 miles of Montreal, where typhoid fever was raging at the time. This has just been reduced to 150 miles. The whole of the Eastern Townships remains within the restricted zone.

Thus for a further period the dairy farmers of the Eastern Townships are obliged to dispose of their products elsewhere than in the American market. The shutting out of milk and cream has meant a speedy return to butter making, and in many cases the discarded churns have been brought out and the home dairy re-established.

The Lenroot bill and the embargo both suggest the uncertainty of the American market as an outlet for milk and cream from this territory. Many have contended in the past that the closing of butter and cheese factories in the Eastern Townships was a mistake. This opinion is now confirmed to a considerable extent.

If the embargo continues long enough the local dairy industry may benefit. In Great Britain there is a ready and permanent market for Canadian dairy products. We cannot jump back and forth between the British and American market with profit, but if we would turn permanently to that which never has and never will produce Lenroot bills and embargos we would find an open way for the development of this great agricultural industry.

THE PHILOSOPHER.

Conviction brings a silent, indefinable beauty into faces made of the commonest human clay; the devout worshipper at his shrine reflects something of its golden glow, even as the glory of a noble love shines like a sort of light from a woman's face.—Balzac.

THE VITAPHONE

(By Dr. Frank Crane)

The Vitaphone represents the latest improvement of the movie.

It is a successful endeavor to bring music and musicians to the screen and to synchronize sound with sight.

What Thomas Edison prophesied thirty years ago when working with the phonograph, that some day we would see as well as hear the performances, has come to pass.

This synchronizing seems to be perfect. For example, in John Barrymore's latest production, "When A Man Loves," we have Vitaphone presentations of Marion Talley and other grand opera singers. Their voices seem to proceed directly from the pictures. The sound fills the large auditorium, and the performance is a marked triumph of invention.

The Vitaphone does not give us a talking movie. It is a question whether a talking movie will ever be a success, because it is a question whether the public wants it.

The Vitaphone supplies the necessary music and such important and dramatic sounds to make the movies more realistic.

In the Vitaphone we can see the orchestra play and also hear its sound quite as well as if it were in the same room. When I attended the Vitaphone performance it sounded as though the orchestra were in the usual pit. There was no orchestra at all, but the sound came to us through the Vitaphone apparatus.

This wonderful invention will do much to add to the pleasure of those living far from great cities. These cities employ the great artists and have money enough to present spectacular performances, the sight of which is denied to smaller centers.

The Vitaphone will bring the work of the great artists to the small town and to the country. Thus it will be an aid to the spread of culture.

One of the greatest benefits of the Vitaphone will be to record and preserve the appearance as well as the voices of great persons after they die. At present we can only read their works in the library or see their pictures in some form of still life.

The apparatus is the result of the joint effort of the Western Electric Company and the Bell Telephone laboratories, with Warner Brothers, producers of John Barrymore's pictures. Its first movie was that of Will Hays, the movie czar, making a speech.

As a means for preserving the personality of those who are famous, the Vitaphone ranks at the head.

It is the most significant improvement made in recent years in the art of moving pictures.

Like every other invention it comes as the result of the work of many men.

The delicate business of recording human speech and natural sound seems to be satisfactorily solved.—Cpt. 1927.

PRESS COMMENT

CIVIC PRIDE.

(Kingston Whig-Standard) Civic pride is but local patriotism. In fact, civic pride is the most common manifestation of patriotism. Every citizen of a community who feels a sense of responsibility toward that community, and who is convinced that his community is superior to all others, is a patriot who differs from the national patriot only in that he has brought his patriotism home to himself.

"BE PREPARED."

(Peterborough Examiner) The London Fire Department carried life nets for over twenty years without having occasion to use them at a fire—yet when an emergency at last arose that called for the nets to be employed they saved a dozen lives. There is a moral to be found in this experience that can be applied to the whole matter of fire protection.

ECONOMY OF "WHITE COAL."

(St. Thomas Times-Journal) France is doing more than any other country, right now, toward the electrification of her railroads. Several lines are almost completely electrified, and work is proceeding on others. This is part of a great hydro-electric development fostered by the Government with the idea of relieving France from dependence on foreign-mined coal, and providing cheap power for railways and industries.

SKILLED LABOR IN CANADA.

(Brockville Recorder and Times) It is quite wide of the mark to describe Canadians as, in the main, employed in unskilled labor. Skilled labor is required not merely in the factory and workshop, but also on the farms and in the forests and mines. We speak often quite thoughtlessly of our agricultural exports as raw materials produced by unskilled labor, whereas little of the product of the farm can fairly come within such category. Successful dairying, wheat-growing, cattle-raising, horticulture, all call for a very high degree of scientific knowledge and good business management.

PUNISHING MOTORISTS.

(Toronto Globe) Friends of law enforcement will welcome the court decision that a charge of criminal negligence may be laid against a motorist who kills a person through carelessness. Hitherto the only charge that could be laid was manslaughter. Such a charge might be justified in some cases, but it seemed so severe that rarely, if ever, was a conviction recorded. The accused, therefore, went without punishment, though it was evident some penalty should be imposed.

According to Crown Attorney Armour, there is greater reluctance now than formerly among jurors to find a verdict of guilty in the case of a motorist unless it is a case of an intoxicated driver or a gross violation of traffic rules. The juror feels like a "freemason" which the general public should resent, but it may be laid to human nature, and the feeling of the motoring juror that "it may be my turn next." The alternative course now open to the Crown should operate to bring deserved punishment in a greater number of cases, and is therefore a concession to conditions and sentiments which are regretted but which have to be met reasonably.

Miss Mary Hawley And Mr. John Hawley, Of Clarenceville, Now Living On Farm Where They Were Born Well Toward A Century Ago

19th in series of personal sketches of aged people in the Eastern Townships.

Clarenceville, Que., has two highly esteemed residents who have spent their long and useful lives in their native town and are now enjoying the contentment of old age. They are Miss Mary M. Hawley and Mr. John A. Hawley, who were born on the same farm where they now reside.

Miss Mary Hawley was born November 23, 1833, and Mr. John Hawley was born November 29, 1841, children of John and Lydia (Marvin) Hawley, and representatives of a notable pioneer family of that part of the Eastern Townships.

Miss Hawley, who is now in her ninety-four year, still takes an interest in the life of her home town, and in vital questions of the day. In reading a letter from Miss Hawley to an old friend some interesting points were noted, among them the fact that she was writing (in the graceful chirography practiced by our grandmothers) with a pen sent her from friends in California as a gift for her ninety-third birthday.

A Temperance Worker In her letter Miss Hawley made reference to her early experiences in temperance work, and to the present liquor situation. She was a charter member of the Independent Order of Good Templars when organized in Clarenceville, and has always been a deeply interested and faithful worker for the cause of temperance.

Miss Hawley was the first vice-president in the subordinate lodge, then later took the Grand Lodge degree and was with the lodge in Montreal, Three Rivers, Danville and Sherbrooke, as Grand Vice-Templar. She says of the late Mr. H. W. Lambly, Grand Chief Templar: "He was as fine a man as ever led a Temperance Lodge."

The aged lady continues: "When I was in Sherbrooke I was presented with a regalia that cost twenty-five dollars. It was a gift from the Grand Lodge, and it is a beauty. I have it now, and as I look at it I am reminded of the many who have passed on before me, who worked for temperance. I see with sorrow how little is done for the temperance cause now, and when I read of men in public office boasting of how much money is made by selling liquor, it makes me sick and faint. They do not take into account how many, every year, fill drunkards' graves. My day is passed; I did all I could, and now things seem to be going at loose ends—as we say, and it makes me sad." Miss Hawley, like many others who have followed the trend of the liquor situation in this country and in the other world, for the past half century or more, cannot help but feel that the work is not progressing as the officers and members of that grand old lodge, the I. O. G. T., hoped it would.

Miss Hawley completed her education at the Clarenceville Academy; she joined the Methodist church in 1853, during the pastorage of Rev. F. Lanton, who later went to Ontario, and among other lines of work Miss Hawley has contributed to the pages of the St. Johns News almost since its appearance in the newspaper world. This aged lady also has the splendid record of having had medical attendance only six times throughout her life.

Mr. John Hawley a Military Officer Mr. John Asabel Hawley received his early education at the district school and later at the Clarenceville Academy. When a young man he joined the 60th Battalion and took a term of training at the Military College in Montreal. He participated in the battle of Eccles Hill and "had a shot at the invaders."

Mr. Hawley received various promotions, and in 1886 he became major and served in that capacity until he was retired on account of age limit, retaining his rank. Mr. Hawley, as well as his sister, has been an active and devoted member of the Methodist Church, and favored Union. In politics he is a Conservative.

For nearly fifty years Mr. Hawley has been a director of the Missisquoi and Rouville Insurance Company, of which he is now local agent. He has a splendid record for health and activity, and the Hawley family has a place in records for longevity. Miss Nancy Hawley of Clarenceville, a near relative, died in 1908 at the age of 103 years and nine months. Both these aged people, Miss Hawley in her ninety-fourth year, and Mr. Hawley in his eighty-sixth year, have the sincere wishes of all their friends, also the readers of the Record who enjoy these humble sketches of our venerable people, that Miss and Mr. Hawley will retain their good health, their fine spirits, and continue to live in contentment in their pleasant home, fine representatives of the Eastern Townships pioneer.

Meeting in Connection With Dominion Day Programme—Other General News Notes.

COOKSHIRE, Que., April 21.—A preliminary meeting was held in St. Peter's Church Parish Hall on Monday evening last in connection of forming plans for the forthcoming celebration of Dominion Day, July 1st, which this year marks the sixtieth anniversary of confederation and will be celebrated on national lines throughout the whole Dominion.

The meeting was called to order by Major Rev. Buckland, who explained fully the object of the meeting and Hon. Senator Rufus Pope was elected chairman of the meeting and Mr. Geo. O'Neil secretary. Be SURE of your drinking water. If you have the slightest reason to doubt its absolute purity have it analyzed.

Legal Incapacities, Subject Chosen by Speaker—Restrictions in Law Regarding Women and Minors—Advantages Pointed Out—Marriage Contract Explained.

"Legal Incapacities," was the title of an excellent address given under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Clearing House by Judge J. H. Lemay at the City Hall last night.

Judge Lemay opened his address by stating that many people look unfavorably upon restrictions in the law and do not grasp their importance. To illustrate his point, the speaker mentioned that a great many incapacities were directed against women, and many are inclined to believe that they were made by man in order to subordinate the fair sex, adding that it was quite the contrary, for they were really a strong protection to their rights.

"The Civil Code is the result of thousands of years of study and experience, dating back from the time of the Roman emperors through the ages until the present time," continued the Judge. "Basically they are Latin in origin and spirit. Let us look upon certain incapacities established by law and we will find that all have been established for protection."

The Judge brought to the notice of his audience that every person has a legal capacity to enter into a contract, with few exceptions, among these being minors and women. After pointing out that a minor is a person not yet twenty-one years of age, the speaker stated that this class is subdivided in two sections, the emancipated and the ordinary, the former being a minor who has been declared so by court or who had become so "de facto" on account of getting married.

"Emancipation gives a minor certain extra capacities, such as right of administration. A minor, though emancipated by law or marriage cannot, however, borrow money without the assistance of a tutor, with very few exceptions. If a note is not given for payment of goods for trade, a minor can be sued through his tutor if he is well off. "A minor can only be emancipated by the Superior Court of the district where he lives, a non-emancipated minor being almost incapable in law, the restrictions being placed on him to prevent unscrupulous persons from encroaching on his rights. A tutor must administer his holdings and take care of all acts of administration with two exceptions. Minors of fourteen years old or over may bring up an action alone to recover wages, and if he is a trader, for all acts relating to trade. In dealing with minor cases, care must be taken that the tutor is aware, for a contract made without the tutor's knowledge can be set aside by the court in most cases. A minor cannot leave a will. The estates must be divided as in the case of a person of full age who dies without making a will." In finishing with the incapacities of minors, Judge Lemay brought to the notice of those assembled the following warnings when dealing with minors:

- 1—When dealing with young persons, inquiries must be made to see if he is emancipated either through marriage or law. 2—If not, whether banker, trader or mechanic. 3—If transaction is mere administration or one bearing on transaction of titles in real estate. 4—Find out if transaction presents advantages to minor or is to cause financial loss.

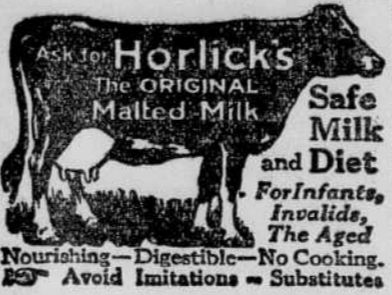

"Every sound law must have its moral side," stated the speaker, "and the best way to establish solid and peaceful society is to put it on the basis of a firm foundation, namely, the family, which consists of three elements the father, mother and children. The authority must be in the hands of some one, preferably the father.

"An unmarried woman enjoys absolutely the same rights as men in regards to the ability to contract and possess real things. Married women, however, lose certain rights which are exercised by husbands. "It is important to know something of the matrimonial status, which means whether or not there is a marriage contract. All kinds of agreements can be made in marriage contracts, but after marriage cannot be altered or revoked. Women married without a contract, can, if they wish, demand separation as to property when the affairs of the husband are imperilled. A husband has the right to endorse the note of his wife, who is separated as to property, but she is not allowed to endorse his."

Mr. M. A. Laine, manager of the Sherbrooke Clearing House, acted as chairman of the evening and introduced the speaker. At the conclusion of Judge Lemay's address, a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. H. S. Lawrence, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and seconded by Mr. H. B. Wilson, manager of the Royal Bank.

A Policy Made Possible by adding Non-Breakable Barrels to the All-Enduring Duofold Points

$7 is the first and last cost

This new Parker policy, effective April 10th, is due to the fact that barrel breakage has been reduced to the vanishing point by Parker's new Non-Breakable Permanent, now used instead of rubber, as formerly. Coupled with our jewel-smooth Duofold Point which yields to any style of writing yet ever retains its original shape, this insures a pen of which the first cost is the last, and which we will maintain in perfect writing condition without charge.

Choose your colour combination from these four rich effects:—Black-tipped Lacer, Red, Black-tipped Jade, Black-tipped Lapis (Mottled, Blue), or Black and Gold. And choose your point—Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub and Right or Left Oblique.

The first cost of a Parker Duofold Pen is the last cost. The only thing to worry about is whether the pen you buy bears the imprint of master craftsmanship—“Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD.” Insist on this.

The reports of the secretary and the treasurer were most encouraging, showing the society to be in a solvent condition financially.

The presidency of the Union is now vested in Mrs. Clara Jenkins; secretary, Mrs. R. W. Cairns; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Tilton; first vice-president, Mrs. John McIntosh, second vice-president, Mrs. R. O. Ross. A very pleasant feature of this annual meeting was the helpful spirit manifest in the workers present.

MACKMEN SCORE WIN OVER HARD HITTING YANKS

Giants Celebrated With Victory Over Phillies and Cardinals Took Fall Out of Cubs.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 21.—Two big league teams are happy today in the realization that they celebrated two highly important occasions to the home town fans by turning in resounding victories.

When the World Champion Cardinals took the field yesterday in St. Louis for their first game this year on the home lot, the National League pennant that they won last season after thirty-eight years of hungering for it, was spread out for all to view. On the strength of that, the Cards went out and beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, with the competent Wee Willy Sherid in the box.

The Giants were celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of John McGraw's management of their team and their own return to the Polo Grounds for their first home game of the year. Led by Hornsby and Lindstrom, who did most of the hitting, they scored a 5 to 1 victory over the Phillies.

Still another team that had a happy home-coming was the band of veterans led by Connie Mack. Not only did they beat their red hot rivals, the Yanks, by 8 to 5, but they outdid them, too, which is something few clubs have been able to accomplish. The home run hitting this time was done, not by Ruth, but by Mickey Cochrane, Philadelphia catcher, who knocked the circuit clout in the sixth to help drive Urban Shocker from the hill.

Detroit's 7 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Browns also was on the occasion of a first appearance this season in the home park. Before a big crowd that turned out to greet the Tigers, they came through with a shut-out triumph marked by the pitching of Whitehill, steady south-paw, and the hitting of Fothergill.

The return of the White Sox was not attended by such success, although it looked in the first few innings as though they had the Indians beaten. Then the Redskins fell on Lyons in the sixth and collected enough to win.

The Brooklyn Robins beat the battling Braves in a hard-fought game, 4 to 3. Bob Barrett, late of Memphis, was the hero of the day with a homer that won the game and snapped a seven-game losing streak.

The return of the White Sox was not attended by such success, although it looked in the first few innings as though they had the Indians beaten. Then the Redskins fell on Lyons in the sixth and collected enough to win.

SEVEN POINT LEAD WON BY LOCAL Y'S MEN

Montreal Engineers Defeated by Sherbrooke Cagers in First of Home and Home Series for Intermediate Basketball Championship, Final Count Being 42 to 35—Contest Very Fast.

The Sherbrooke Y's Men's basketball team have an excellent chance of carrying off the intermediate championship of the province, for, playing the Montreal Engineers in the first of the home and home series final for the provincial championship last night at the 53rd Army, they chalked up a seven point lead over the visitors, the final count being forty-two to thirty-five.

Bryce and McCaw were certainly on their best behavior last night, and, with the wholehearted support of their team-mates, kept the tally of the locals to the fore throughout the whole contest, although the Montrealers, led by Kennaway and Brown, proved to be very dangerous, especially in the final minutes of the contest, when the locals' twelve point lead was cut down to five, a counter by McCaw in the dying moments of the stanza bringing Sherbrooke's advantage up to seven points.

The fast pace set by the locals throughout the whole contest had a tendency to roughen up the play, and with a less capable referee than Mr. James Corfield the game would have soon got out of hand. A close watch was kept by Mr. Corfield, however, and the most ardent spirits were damped when penalty shots were given for the 'east infringement of the rules.

The game was speedy from start to finish. The opening minutes found both squads trying hard to score, but excellent defensive tactics by the opposing guards prevented the sharpshooters from tallying. The locals had the first break and were quick to seize it. When the smoke of battle had cleared away, the sign board read "Y's Men 10, Engineers 0." Bryce and McCaw nothing up the Sherbrooke points. The Engineers stiffened up and for the rest of the period gave the locals a run for their money, the count at half-time being 26 to 13 for the Y's Men's.

Sherbrooke began the second stanza with a rush that tallied their eight points to the two secured by the Montrealers. The visitors did not lose heart, however, and stubbornly held their own for a time, waiting for a break. They were not disappointed and taking advantage of it, counted up ten notches on their war stick compared with the lone basket obtained by the locals. Instead of slowing up in the final minutes, as is usual in the case of a hard encounter, the game increased in speed until it was hard for the spectators to distinguish the difference between the red and blue of the Engineers' to the maroon colors of the Sherbrooke boys. The Montrealers cut the lead, obtained by the locals down to five points and chances looked favorable for either a tie or a win, but a basket by McCaw in the final minutes dashed their hopes to the ground and the whistle blew with Sherbrooke leading 42 to 35.

The line-up was:

Engineers	forward	Lougheed
Edman	forward	Bryce
Davis	centre	McCaw
Parsons	guard	Rowell
Fleming	guard	Green
Marshall	sub	Robertson
Brown		Pearson
Holzberg		Thomas
Kennaway		Macdonald
Clark		Taylor
Doherty
Crosbie
Referee, James Corfield.

The late Mr. Brooke was born in Shropshire, England, the fourth son of the late Rev. A. G. Brooke, rector of Asley.

He came to Coaticook as a young man where he met and married Charlotte E. Molony, daughter of Major J. S. Molony, late of Her Majesty's 83rd. regiment.

The first two years of their married life were spent in Bury, where their only daughter, Annie, now Mrs. G. W. Johann, was born. Later they moved to Lennoxville, where Mr. Brooke's genial disposition won hosts of friends for himself. The last few years of his life were spent in Coaticook.

Mr. Brooke had enjoyed good health until a short time ago when he was stricken with pneumonia. Although he was tenderly cared for by his wife, daughter and sister, Miss E. Brooke, he failed to rally and passed peacefully away on Thursday.

Mr. Brooke's death has left a gap in the community which will be hard to fill. Of a free and generous nature he was ever ready to lend a hand in case of need and his never failing good humor will be sorely missed.

Children were his special favorites and he showed a marked tendency to follow the words of the greatest of all teachers, who said, "In as much as ye have done it, ye have done it unto Me."

DEATH AND FAMINE

(Continued from page 1) With little food or clothing. The story of how Clarendon, a thriving little city of 3,000 people, had become a desolate waste of swirling flood water was told by Professor J. E. Howard, who arrived in Stuttgart, Ark., late last night after an arduous motor boat journey for four hours.

"If the water reaches a predicted stage of forty-three feet in the White river there will be no town of Clarendon by tomorrow," Professor Howard said.

"The food situation there is bad," Professor Howard said. Merchants and other dealers were unable to move their wares to the upper floors before the crash came.

The only water available for drinking purposes during today was by holding a cup or bucket out of a window and letting it be filled with rain from the eaves of houses.

Latest Break is Very Serious.

Wind and rain storms swept over the western and southwestern portion of Arkansas early today, pouring a part of a torrential rainstorm into a corner of Texas, near Texarkana.

The St. Francis river valley in the northeastern portion of Arkansas was in the path of a gigantic volume of water flowing through a gap in the dyke at New Madrid, Mo. It was estimated that more than a million acres of land will be inundated from this break alone.

A telephone operator estimated less than one-tenth of the two thousand New Madrid residents remained a few of these were gathered in the courthouse and school house, but most of them were at their homes and planned to remain until the flood subsides.

Lack of Drinking Water

Four women telephone operators struck heroically to their task of maintaining communication with the outside world. Less than two dozen local telephones were still in operation. A few marooned residents went about in boats, but most of them stayed in upper stories. Lack of drinking water was one of the features.

At Little Rock, in the central portion of the state, a deluge yesterday flooded many streets and continually pounded at the Arkansas river levees. The danger of losing the source of the city's water was alleviated late last night when engineers successfully built a barrier around the pumping station. Little Rock reported six more deaths in that vicinity yesterday, bringing the total number to well over a score of known dead as a result of the flood.

The south half of the Missouri Pacific bridge across the Arkansas river at Little Rock was swept away by the current early today, carrying with it trains of iron loaded with rock which had been run on it in an attempt to hold the structure down.

SIX MORE LIVES HAVE BEEN ADDED TO TOLL

(Associated Press Despatch) LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 21.—Six more lives have been added to the toll taken by Arkansas flood waters.

Julius Lamb, 3, was drowned when he fell from the front porch of his home near Truman into backwater.

E. Rainwater, 24, was drowned near Morrilton. Three negroes are known to be drowned and nine others missing when six skiffs towed by a motor boat turned over when the motor stalled, just as a levee went out within ten feet of it here last night.

Another negro was drowned near Bradley during the morning.

ONE KILLED AND FIFTEEN HOUSES WRECKED BY A TORNADO YESTERDAY

(Associated Press Despatch) CADDO, Oklahoma, April 21.—A tornado took one life and wrecked fifteen houses here yesterday. G. A. Crockett said the funnel-shaped cloud was seen approaching for fifteen minutes before it struck. Nearly all of the inhabitants rushed to storm cellars where they remained until after the danger had passed. G. N. Overstreet was killed.

FLOOD WATERS ROARED THROUGH ARKANSAS TOWN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—The persistent pressure of the Mississippi floods broke through two more levees yesterday, and an indication that there will be no early slackening of the floods was seen in the weather bureau forecast for rain or showers generally in the states affected.

Near North Little Rock, a break in the Arkansas River levee flooded the town of Levy and let loose a flood of water to sweep down on North Little Rock.

At Clarendon, another Arkansas town, the White River levee gave way suddenly and reports were received that numbers of persons had been caught in their homes. Water roared through Clarendon, a town of 3,500 inhabitants, with a roar that could be heard above the screams of women and children, and early reports said river craft were literally smashed to pieces against buildings. Pears were expressed that lives had been lost due to the suddenness of the break. The water was said to be ten to fourteen feet in parts of Clarendon.

The wall of water that started toward North Little Rock was described as eight feet high and as it swept over levee, rescuers got to work in boats getting out inhabitants who failed to heed the warning shriek of locomotive whistles.

Mrs. Parker, of Portland, who visited her father, Mr. John McLellan, and sister, Miss Elizabeth Lellan, recently, has gone to Montreal for a few days before returning home.

Miss Eulah Reed went to Drummondville Friday last to spend the week-end with friends, after which she will go to North Hatley to spend the rest of the Easter holidays the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reed.

Miss Horner went to East Farham on Friday to spend the Easter holidays with her parents. Friends of Mrs. R. Cowling will be glad to hear that although she is still confined to the house, she is improving.

JAPANESE BANK SITUATION IS VERY SERIOUS

Official Denies that Question of a Moratorium Has Been Discussed—Two More Banks Close.

(Associated Press Despatch) TOKIO, April 21.—The Bank of Japan held an urgent meeting this morning at which it was reported the question of a moratorium was discussed, owing to the serious financial situation. Later, the premier summoned all the big banks to his official residence for a conference.

A majority of the Tokyo banks are experiencing runs and the question is being asked whether the situation can be stemmed, notwithstanding that the government is exerting every effort to renew confidence.

It was stated by the Bank of Japan today that at least 500,000,000 ($250,000,000) yen more was necessary to protect the banks, and it is understood that government assistance may be asked.

The Bank of Japan is endeavoring to supply currency to most of the hard-pressed banks. Lines of automobiles were outside its doors, with employees carrying out to them suitcases and sacks filled with bank notes. Even the largest banks are experiencing runs, and every effort is being made to replenish their currency.

Today the Bank of Japan advanced to Tokyo institutions more than 100,000,000 yen, bringing the gross outstanding advances to approximately 1,163,000,000 yen.

Two small banks appeared today, but the others apparently withstood the runs temporarily. It is understood that institutions at Kobe and Osaka are hard-pressed, but no panic news has been received. The stock market was sinking and speculators generally were depressed.

Governor Ichiki, of the Bank of Japan, told the Associated Press that the difficulties were only temporary, due to the depositors being panic-stricken. He expected the situation would become normal, because his bank was assisting the hard-pressed banks, and he believed confidence would be restored soon. He said a moratorium was not being considered.

COURT RULED SHIP'S SEIZURE ILLEGAL ACT

Judge George M. Bourquin Likened Offense to That Which Contributed to War of 1812—Was Heading for Buena Ventura, Colombia, When Seized.

(Associated Press Despatch) SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., April 21.—Federal Judge George M. Bourquin ruled as illegal, yesterday, the seizure by the United States of the Canadian-owned rum vessel Federalship, its million dollar cargo and arrest of its captain and crew.

The Federalship, under Panama registry, was seized 200 miles off the California coast by coastguard cutters last March and towed into San Francisco harbor, where it was skipper, S. S. Stone, of Ontario, and crew of nineteen men were jailed.

It was charged that the vessel had infringed the United States liquor laws on previous voyages.

Attorneys for the owners of the vessel challenged the jurisdiction of the United States courts, declaring that this country was without right to seize a vessel on high seas.

The Federalship was owned by the Consolidated Exporters, Limited, of Vancouver, and at the time of the seizure was said to be headed for Buena Ventura, Colombia.

In his decision Judge Bourquin declared that the seizure was in violation of treaty relationships between nations.

Other Canadian members of the crew were First Officer J. V. Donahue, of St. John; George Westwood, of Ottawa, and R. McKinnon, of Antigonish, N.S.

It was recently announced at Washington that Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister, had asked the State department on what grounds Canadian citizens and Canadian property were interfered with on the high seas. No reply has been forwarded to the Canadian Legation by the State Department.

It also was understood that the British Embassy was considering lodging an enquiry on behalf of British citizens arrested, and that Panama had asked for an explanation of the seizure so far out to sea of a ship under that Republic's registry.

(Associated Press Despatch) WINDSOR, England, April 21.—A dapple gray rocking horse and a talking doll were the gifts of the King and Queen to their granddaughter, Princess Elizabeth, today on the occasion of her first birthday.

Other gifts came from various parts of the world. They were from Elizabeth's father and mother, the Duke and Duchess of York, who also sent radio greetings from Australia, where they are on a visit of state; from the Prince of Wales, who is visiting in Spain, and from Prince George, in France. Canada and India were also represented.

The cake was of three layers with plain white icing and a lone candle of pale blue, the favorite color of the Duchess of York, little George and Gerald Lascelles, Princess Mary's sons, and Alexander Ramsay, son of Lady Patricia Ramsay, the former "Princess Pat," were guests.

A new furnace was installed during the year, and the interior of the church re-decorated at an expenditure of over $600.

The cost of repairs was met by the Ladies' Aid, whose funds reached the splendid total of $1,100. The church is indebted to Mrs. J. A. Bothwell for the installing of a fine lighting equipment. CITY BRIEFLETS PAPER CHASE CAUSED TROUBLE IN NORTH WARD

During the present week many residents in the city have been actively engaged in cleaning their lawns, driveways, backyards, etc. Last evening their efforts were thrown to the winds as several boys throughout the north ward put on a spirited paper chase, and scattered torn pieces of old newspapers on many newly-laid lawns and driveways. One of the residents claim such actions should be stopped at once, as no resident wishes to have his private property used for a playground, much less having the same covered with debris.

The letter reads as follows: Sherbrooke, April 20, 1927. Editor, Daily Record, Sir—A word about the Westbury Basin Power at a special meeting of the City Council held about the 7th of April, it was decided to develop the Westbury Basin power, and the motion was adopted without any discussion, while this question will be submitted to the ratepayers for their approval on the 27th of this month, but as yet not a word said to the citizens to think this matter over very seriously and see if it is advisable to spend so much money the city for a loan of $500,000 or perhaps more if needed. If we judge the future by the past no doubt the amount will not be sufficient and will perhaps cost double that amount. I might mention the two miles falls which is costing the city at the present twice $1,500,000.

Do We Need More Power? Now the great question is do we need more power? If so then let the great water power company furnish it and not have the city undertake commercial enterprises which require such a big expenditure and increasing the bonded debt of the city which is already quite large. We have at the present time all the electric energy to supply all our wants. We must bear in mind in order to manage the electric department it requires competent men who have made a special study of that line of business. Now with all due respect to our City Councillors, I might say that there is not many competent to fill that position.

Having looked up the report on the development of the Westbury water power, prepared by Ross and Holgate very reliable hydraulic engineers, it gives us the amount of horse power that can be developed at that place and here is what they say: Taking as the minimum flow of the river 40,000 cubic feet per minute and thirty-seven feet head can develop 2,800 horse power, the minimum output of the station will be 2,100 horse power, so now this will give us all an idea of what we can get from that power. Now it is up to the citizens to think this matter over very seriously and see if it is advisable to spend so much money

EVER SEE WATER BURN?

Oil burns, whether it's on water or in a tank. This picture, showing the destruction of Commander De Pinedo's plane at Roosevelt Dam, Ariz., makes it appear that the water of the lake is actually burning. Only a small part of the wing is still visible.

on such a prospect. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space. I remain yours and a citizen. C. F. OLIVIER.

LONG MAY HE WAVE

A French paper says that hair-dressers ought to have an anthem composed in honor of M. Marcel, to whom they owed much of their prosperity. Good idea! In the meantime they might use the Marcellaise, what!

ROUTHIER CASE WAS HEARD IN LOCAL COURT

Joseph Routhier, of Stanhope, Facing Charge of Selling Liquor Without a Permit—Evidence of Both Parties Taken—Case Taken En Delibere by Judge J. H. Lemay.

The case of Quebec Liquor Commission vs Joseph Routhier, of Stanhope, was opened in the Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon when the accused was charged with selling liquor without a permit. The charge was read and the accused pleaded not guilty. Inspectors Scott and Murphy, of the Quebec Liquor Commission, in their evidence stated that on February 2nd they, in company with Mr. Van Dyke and a hired chauffeur left Cansan, Vt., in a motor car and had arrived at Routhier's about 11.30 o'clock. Van Dyke had treated them to a drink of liquor, paying for it himself and later they bought another drink, but the boy who served would not accept the money until it was given to Van Dyke, who then paid for it.

The evidence of the defendant was next heard, the defence being based on the fact that the two inspectors had not arrived on the second but on the third of February. Routhier's son, who is alleged to have sold the liquor to the inspectors, stated that he did not see the men in question on February 2nd. The chauffeur, who had driven them to Routhier's, also gave evidence and produced papers from the American Customs officials showing that he had crossed the line on February 3rd with three passengers. Routhier and his wife were next to give evidence and pointed out the fact that the officers had not appeared on February 2nd. At the conclusion of the hearing of the witnesses, the case was taken en delibere by Judge J. H. Lemay.
