Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

July 26 to August 2

Pleasant, mainly sunny and warm, with morning fog and only occasional thunder showers. Heavy wet mists in mountain districts. Hot again in the Prairies and Ontario, followed by thunderstorms, even tornado conditions for some places with risk of floods. Thundersqualls in Abitibi, Maurice, along the Gulf shores and in the Maritimes. Temperature range 45-85 in the south, and 35-75°F in the north. Sunshine this week, 55 hours. See below.

Bright and continuing moderately warm in the middle of the week. A full moon to make evenings interesting, with northern light displays as an added attraction. Nights cooling, with some wind. End of July atomic test could reduce temperatures 15 to 20 degrees.

Hot spells are coming to an end, but agreeable weather will continue with blue skies and only occasional thundershowers. More fogs along the Atlantic coasts. Fishing fair all day, but dawn or late evening best.

Canada 'third class nation' in physical fitness realm

George Bossy, a two-time Olympic canoeing contender, spoke to Westmount Rotarians Wednesday on the subject of "Canoeing and Physical Fitness".

Condemning the lack of interest shown in physical fitness in Canada, he cited a test carried out in Ontario which showed that by its standards 90% of the children were unfit.

Eastvale news and notes

Eastvale — (DNC) — You know, it's funny about people — especially tourists. They seem to know a little about a lot, and they seem to get to know less and less about more and more as time goes on. Pretty soon they'll know nothing about everything.

Talking about time, a funny thing happened recently in our town about the tourists and our flower-clock, the big one near the town hall where all the sightseeing buses stop to let the tourists change their watches.

The oldtimers are pretty proud of the whole works — the clock's works that is — because they came out of an old model-T and they're still running. They're proud, too, of the Roman figures and the Latin phrase, tempus fugit, it means don't forget the time, or something like that.

But they had to change it. Too many tourists were baffled by the X and V.

One would say: "Beautiful!"

"There are definite signs of deterioration in the physical abilities of Canadians," he said, "and in fitness, we are slowly developing into a third-class nation."

Turning his attention to canoeing, Mr. Bossy remarked that the sport was once dominated by Canada and was referred to by other nations as "Canadian Canoeing." Now, however, the Iron Curtain countries were proving far more successful at it than we were.

He put this down to two facts. First that Canadian athletes tended to give up sports at a comparatively early age, whereas in Europe many continue into their late thirties. A 39-year-old Swede, for example, won a Gold Medal at the Melbourne Olympics in the single-canoeing race.

Secondly, there was a complete lack of support from any source to send Canadian canoeing teams to Europe to compete regularly against the toughest opponents. For example, there is still bickering going on as to who to send to take part in the competitions at Prague this August.

Mr. Bossy is the head coach of the Cartierville Boating Club

$31,120 is committed for street, traffic lights

Council approved commitments Monday night of $31,120.00 to cover cost of street lighting and traffic lights at different locations.

Commitment was made of $25,000.00 to cover the cost of re-lighting Clarke avenue from Sherbrooke street to The Boulevard. This will renovate the lighting of Clarke avenue in keeping with the modern improvements being made in the City's general lighting program.

The lighting will be of the same type recently installed on Westmount avenue and currently being installed on Sunnyside avenue.

A further commitment was made of $6,120.00 to cover the cost of installing new traffic signal lights at the intersection of Glen road and St. Catherine street.

When St. Catherine street and Glen road were reconstructed in the summer of 1957, provision was made for the installation of these lights through the laying of the conduit at the time of the construction. The actual installation of the lights will take place as soon as the necessary equipment is delivered from the supplier.

Machine for ice to cost $9,450

A commitment of $9,450.00 was approved by Council Monday for the purchase of an ice resurfacing machine. This machine known as the Zamboni Ice Resurfacer, performs in one operation the shaving of the ice surface, picking up snow, and the laying of water on the ice to provide a fresh new surface.

The machine is similar to that used in the major artificial ice rinks on the Continent, and by way of comparison is similar to the one used in the Montreal Forum.

Due to the large rink surface, which in the City of Westmount rink permits ice hockey and pleasure skating under one roof at the same time, the capacity and size of the machine was increased by the manufacturer at our request. The water supply capacity is 240 gallons, and the over-all dimensions are as follows: — width 6'7½", length 13' 3", height 7½".

$11,000.00 had been provided for the purchase of this equipment in the original estimated cost of the rink.

Tax receipts up at end of June reports manager

Westmount collected almost $3,000.00 more in taxes during the month of June than during the same period last year, according to the General Manager's monthly report released this week. Arrears, however, show an increase of $1,500.00 over the 1957 level.

Total tax arrears at the end of June amounted to $289,577.04.

PUBLIC WORKS

Operations of the public works department occupied the majority of the report, which was presented to Council Monday.

Eleven building permits were issued, bringing the total value of permits for 1948 to $546,141.00.

Work progressed speedily on the breaking out and reconstruction of sidewalks, private walks and driveways on Anworth road and Cedar avenue. The same work was commenced on June 30th on selected portions of Hallowell street.

Claremont ave. was reopened for traffic on June 20th after a substantial reconstruction program, including widening and resurfacing, was completed.

The artificial ice rink was virtually completed with the pouring of the concrete main rink slab June 26. All lockers, washbasins, toilets and showers are now installed.

POLICE

One accidental death was reported by the police department along with 19 injuries sustained in 94 accidents. Of the 19 persons injured, 11 were taken to hospital in patrol cars and six by ambulance.

The fire department responded to 32 calls; 15 for fires, 3 false alarms and 14 miscellaneous.

Of 282 premises inspected by the department, 37 required notices of defects and 52 were issued cautions.

During the month, a system of "in service" inspections was inaugurated which provides an opportunity for department personnel to inspect and gain valuable knowledge of various large buildings in the municipality.

There were 85 cases of communicable disease reported by the health department.

STOPS SUDDENLY

Car driven by Argiryos Konfordakis, 44, 82 St. Catherine st. west, crashed into the rear of a truck driven by Jean Guy Marciel, 23, 6664 Casgrain st., Monday when the latter stopped suddenly at a red light on Wood avenue.

R. Beresford-Howe dies in accident

Russell Beresford-Howe, CLU, 67, died at daybreak July 16th, without recovering consciousness, two days after an automobile accident at St. Andre, Quebec. He was motoring from Montreal to join his family at their summer home, Quatre Vents, in Cacouna.

The funeral service was held at the Church of St. James the Apostle in Cacouna, and the burial took place at the cemetery of the Anglican Church of St. Bartholomew in Riviere-du-Loup.

Mr. Beresford-Howe, a district manager of the North American Life Assurance Company, was born in Devonshire and educated at Cheltenham College, the London School of Economics, and the Tilley School of Languages in Germany. He came to Canada in 1913, and received the degree of Chartered Life Underwriter from McGill University in 1923. He had been with the North American Life for twenty years.

An active member of the Notre Dame de Grace Community Council for the last seven years, Mr. Beresford-Howe was this year elected Chairman of the N.D.G. Arts and Letters Festival. He was a member of the Advisory Board of the Church of St. Columba, and a Mason of long standing. A keen golfer, he was a member of the Hampstead Golf Club and the last two years in succession saw him the winner of the MacKay Cup at the Cacouna Golf Club. He was a member of the St. James Literary Society and of the Canadian Club.

Recently Mr. Beresford-Howe had moved to the City of Westmount. He is survived by his wife, the former Margery Moore, a son, John now teaching in a high school in California and a daughter, Constance, an Assistant Professor at McGill University.

He believes that canoeing is one of the hardest sports in the world and that if more people took it up in their teens they would realize that, only through making special efforts to overcome the hurdles of such a sport, would they eventually come to the realization that life itself is no easy matter.

The Canadian Canoeing Association, he said, promotes the sport so that boys, through hard training can achieve character. "Our contribution," he concluded, "is to develop good citizens for the community and Canada."

Mr. Bossy illustrated part of his talk with a color film he took at the 1956 Olympics, featuring the canoeing races held on a lake at Ballarrat, near Melbourne.

Red Feather needs are on the increase and more cash asked

Increasing needs of the 31 agencies of the Red Feather campaign serving Greater Montreal has set a goal of $1,921,000 in their forthcoming campaign for funds to carry on their effective work stated John H. F. Turner, OBE General Campaign chairman "I can assure you that it is realistic in that it is the minimum amount required for the carefully screened operating needs of the 31 services for the coming year. Last year's objective was $1,862,000, under which $1,785,000 was collected," he said.

Recreation program in full swing

The Westmount Recreation Department Summer Playground Program, held daily at Prince Albert, Westmount and Staynor playgrounds, has had a very high turnout of children. Registration to date is Westmount — 115; Staynor — 106 and Prince Albert — 85.

During the past week, the Pepsi Cola plant was visited, 103 children making the trip on buses provided by the company.

Next week, a weiner roast will be held and the playgrounds will take picnics to Beaver Lake and Summit Park.

Regular weekly swimming periods have been well attended. The boys have a swim on Wednesdays to themselves and the girls join the boys in a mixed group on Friday afternoons at 3:00 at the "Y" pool.

Westmount Park Summer

Of the 31 services, many of them are of great interest to the West End district, such as the John Howard Society, the Society for the Protection of Women and Children, Summerhill House, Weredale House, the Child Health Association, Daily Vacation Schools, Montreal Boys' Association, Montreal Parks and Playgrounds Association and the St. Andrew's Youth Centre, and the Montreal Council of Social Agencies, the majority of which operate from the Federation Headquarters at 1040 Atwater avenue.

According to condensed reports issued on the 1957 activities

Playground, under the supervision of Ron Worme, have been turning out some excellent craft work, currently working on Shellcraft and Modelling Clay projects.

Jane Morrison, Prince Albert Park's supervisor, has her group turning out some fine Leathercraft work and will start on Plastic Lacing on completion of the Leathercraft project.

it has been shown that practically all have been taxed to their utmost in facilities for carrying on their good work.

The John Howard Society the object of which is to promote by all lawful means the welfare of adult offenders and their dependents, and to examine and to promote penal reform in accordance with modern principles of penology report that during 1957 their operations financially, amounted to $38,078.23.

The Society for the Protection of Women and Children report that from 1955 to 1957 they were faced with a 62.4% increase in cases of abusive conduct and assault. Desertion and non-support cases, one of their major problems showed no substantial improvement. Legal aid was given in many cases, while unemployment did not ease their burden.

Summerhill House, the Montreal Ladies Benevolent and Protestant Orphan's Society reported that among their activities 1957 as many as 13,049 days service were given to 66 girls in their capacity as an agency to improve juvenile delinquency. The age span was from eight to sixteen. Expenditures for the year 1957 amounted to $67,968.99.

Weredale House a home for boys of any race or creed aged 11 to 18 years who would otherwise be homeless, were provided with educational, social sports and camp activities with a daily average of 162.2 boys in residence with a total number of days' care given amounting to 59,220. Expenditures amounted to $152,690.90.

The Child Health Association operating six health centres for children and families with medical, dental and mental care operated on $93,811 after having given service to 3,912 clients with total contacts of 6,867. It cost $93,811.41 to operate the 1957 season.

Operation of the Daily Vacation Schools with Summer classes for character-building and recreation of children accounted for an expenditure last year of $4,031.23. These schools provided useful instruction and attractive recreation for hundreds of children during the hot summer months.

The Montreal Boys' Association devoted to the improvement of and development of youth generally accounted for attention being given to 10,755 individuals who were all in need of some service.

This association looks after the activities of the East End Boys' and Girls' Club, the Point St. Charles Club, the Griffintown Summer Day Camp, the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount (Continued on page 12)

ROGER HART wields his bat for the greater glory of Staynor Park in this action from the recent Summer School Championship Game. John McNally is catching for Prince Albert Park's team and playground supervisor Paul Williams is umpire. Staynor emerged victorious by the score of 16 to 14.

WE SAY

Boys, girls here inspect services

BOYS and girls attending the city's parks and playgrounds summer school recently visited the fire and police departments, rang the warning bells on the fire trucks, watched the police radio announced "Calling all cars".

This lesson in citizenship is excellent public relations for the departments in question, and affords the younger set an opportunity to see for themselves that these two branches of the city service are on their toes and ready to go to keep the city from falling prey to flames or lawbreakers.

Boys are naturally attracted to fire engines and the men who fight the flames. Many a lad expresses an early desire to be a fireman when he is asked what he is going to be when he grows up.

A visit to a fire station gives them the opportunity of a life-time, and they are really thrilled by it.

The visit to the police station is something else again.

Many children are told when they are mischievous that their parents will turn them over to the policeman. The man, in blue is sometimes given the attributes of a bogeyman.

But boys and girls visiting a police station on a tour of the kind taken by the children from the summer school find that policemen aren't as bad as they are sometimes painted. They are human beings, capable of a joke and a kind word.

The police, moreover, never fail to get in a few good words for law and order.

THEY SAY

A fact merely marks the point where we have agreed to let investigation cease.

Gracious living still reflected

A PICTURE of the lighted bandstand in Westmount Park, with a smattering of citizens on the benches that appeared in last week's issue of The Examiner might well have been taken 25 years ago, or 50 years ago for that matter.

Westmount Park, the bandstand as well have changed not at all over the years.

Although modern apartment buildings and modern style homes are going up on many of the vacant lots in the municipality — the fine tall trees, the wide green lawns, the well-trimmed hedges, the flower gardens lend the city an air of gracious living.

While much of Westmount is changing it is in summer that we can still find parts that seem to be able to cling to the charm of the yester-years.

And in the winter too, perhaps not more than once a season, we catch a glimpse of hoar-frost thick on the branches of the trees, lending a lacy quality to the petit panorama we can see from a window, or up the middle of streets where the branches overhang.

We should make every effort to preserve these mementos — there are far too few of them left.

Blood depots spearhead

By CYNTHIA JONES

Each week the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service Depot at Victoria and Isabella distributes 2,000 pints of blood among 110 hospitals in and outside Montreal to save lives.

Medical director of this depot, the largest in Canada, is Doctor Joseph Marc Fortin, a handsome, young physician of 37, who has been at the helm for the past two years.

"Last year our depot object was 1,800 bottles but seven or so hospitals joined the list, so we increased our output to 2,000 bottles this year," said the white-coated doctor during an interview in his office at the depot. "We serve 58 city hospitals and 52 hospitals out of town including those at Three Rivers, Sherbrooke, the Laurentian mountain towns such as St. Agathe and St. Jovite and those in the Eastern Townships.

Dr. Fortin took us to the shipping room to show us the insulated steel boxes with Red Cross stickers proclaiming "Human Blood" and filled with bottles of blood which will keep chilled for 48 hours in the freezing units. Each box was addressed to a different hospital.

Free service

"This is a wonderful service and we get many congratulatory letters from hospitals," said Dr. Fortin. "Although we don't usually ship to Quebec City, we received an emergency call for blood today and will send out a number of bottles tonight to oblige them. You know, of course, that all blood is given free to the hospitals.

"My job here is to collect blood. When the blood arrives treatment; fibrinogen used for severe bleeding in child-birth cases; and fresh frozen at the depot, we test it and if it's ok we send it out to the hospitals. If the blood is not used there within 16 days it is returned to the depot to be (Continued on page 12)

Westmounters active at conference

The Tenth International Congress of Genetics will be held at McGill University in Montreal August 20 to 27 inclusive. This is the First International Congress of Genetics to be held in Canada, and the second to be held in North America (the first was held in Ithaca, New York, in 1932).

Westmount is well represented in the Ladies Committee making arrangements for the entertainment of approximately 400 women accompanying their husbands to the Congress. About 1,500 to 1,600 people will be in Montreal for this event and will be bringing with them between 200 and 300 children. A stop at the Westmount Library story hour on Friday, August 22nd, is one of the features of the interesting children's program.

Chairman of the Ladies Committee is Mrs. J. W. Boyes of 484 Strathcona avenue, and other members who are residents of Westmount are: Mrs. H. Garcia, Mrs. G. A. Grimson, Mrs. C. P. Leblond and C. J. Malloy, Professor J. W. Boyes is Chairman of the General Organizing Committee, and General Secretary of the Congress.

The scientific program will consist of symposia, invited papers contributed papers and demonstrations, exhibits, panel discussions and special meetings. The symposia will be plenary sessions at the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium during morning and the contributed papers and demonstrations will be arranged into concurrent afternoon sessions, mostly in the Physical Sciences Centre. These afternoon sessions of contributed papers, each 15 minutes in length, will be presented by members of the Congress in the language of their own choosing.

A very extensive exhibit, illustrating the numerous ways in which the science of Genetics has contributed to human progress and welfare is being prepared. There will be about one hundred booths, including many exhibits brought from Japan especially for the Congress, a number being prepared by the Department of Agriculture of the Government of Canada, some by the United States Department of Agriculture, and some by the Swedish Seed Association. The Japanese exhibits illustrate genetic and cytological work on morning glory, rice, radish, silkworm, goldfish, fowl and old documents. Exhibits on plant genetics, studies on animal genetics, the use of genetics in medicine; the Canadian exhibit will demonstrate aspects of the application of genetic principles to studies of wheat, etc. Many other exhibits will refer to microbia genetics in the preparation of pharmaceutical preparations, the use of the electron microscope in genetic studies, etc. Exhibiting, among others, will be the Schering Corp. The entire exhibit will be located at the McGill Winter Stadium, and will be open to the general public. Children must be accompanied by adults.

Three public lectures will be of interest to the general public. The Huskins Memorial Lecture of the Genetics Society of Canada will be presented in English by Dr. Arne Muntzing, Chairman of the Mendelske Sällskapet Genetiska Institution of Lund, Sweden in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 19. A public lecture in French will be presented by Dr. Jacob in the Auditorium of the University of Montreal at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 21. The subject of these two lectures will be announced later. A second public lecture in English will be given by Prof. Theodosius Dobzhansky of Columbia University, New York City, at the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium at 8 p.m. on Monday, August 25. His subject will be "Genetics and the Destiny of Man."

A number of tours have been organized for members of the Congress. A two-day trip to Ottawa will be available both before and after the Congress. A group visiting Quebec City will leave Saturday, August 23, and return in the evening of August 24. An inspection tour of the St. Lawrence Seaway will be arranged for Sunday, Aug. 24. A short Canadian tour to Niagara Falls will leave Montreal on August 28 and return via the Muskoka Lakes and Ottawa on September 2. A longer tour of genetics.

A special program has been prepared for ladies not attending the scientific program. Visits to the Montreal Botanical Gardens, artists studios, and other points of interest in and around Montreal are included. There will be a Fashion Show on St. Helen's Island, a luncheon in the Laurentian Mountains and of course, the ladies will attend the general receptions, exhibits and other interesting events connected with the Congress.

"Progeny Park" will be the centre of children's activities. Programs are arranged to delight all age groups and include wiener roasts, Indian campfire stories and picnic. For the younger children slides and sandboxes will be under professional supervision. Indeed, children of all ages will have special activities designed just for them.

Invitations have been extended to over sixty countries through the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa. The General Secretary has extended personal invitations to over 230 individuals and about 300 institutions in many different countries. The responses to these invitations have been numerous and encouraging. Official delegates of 17 universities (or other organizations) have already been appointed and many more are expected.

FLYING OFFICER JOHN E. MACK, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mack, 315 Melville avenue, took part Monday in the largest mass fly past of jet and piston-driven aircraft ever flown over Victoria, B.C. in an aerial salute by the RCAF to Princess Margaret. The participating CF-100, F-86 Sabre, Lancaster and Neptune aircraft, numbering 37 in all, saluted her Royal Highness at a ceremony in front of the Legislative Building in Victoria. THIS department's duties in posting readers on matters concerning restaurants, supper clubs, guests, shows and related happenings, naturally tinge its thinking on the subject of dining out. We're definitely all for it. Although, along with the next person, we can appreciate at the same time the value of a couple of soft boiled eggs and meditation by the hearth at home. However, the cafe industry is the fourth largest service industry in our economy and it attained this enviable position — not by just sitting on its hands — but through dint of hard effort to offer the public something in the way of a few extras in value: high quality in food and special delicacies; comfort, and in some cases downright luxurious surroundings; expert chefs and qualified waiters or waitresses; and frequently for good measure, music and dancing girls. Since the first cavemen tapped his lady fair gently one the noggin and dragged her lovingly to a secluded spot to share a side of freshly caught dinosaur, we've all had the atavistic compulsion to eat out, see or be seen out, or just get out and away from the humdrum routine of everyday living. And, we're ripe for the industry's pleasant offerings and persuasions. A husband wants to show off his family; a wife entertain a visiting relative or old school friend; sweethearts to dream and plan; the consummation of business deals away from office din. Generally, the choice is a restaurant. Furthermore, with a prix fixe policy prevailing in most places, the Sunday night dinner out for the whole family is fast regaining popularity without upsetting the household bankroll to any extent. There are times, to be sure, when Mom and Dad might like to forego parental pride, leave the kiddies at home, and enjoy a quiet repast, in peace and comfort. It should be pointed out, however, that early exposure of the younger set to public eating has great educational value. After they get over the first inclination to bite waiters and throw crockery the experience tends to reflect favorably in table manners at home. At least it will enable them to enter restaurants in later years, without looking as if they're equipped with a pair of large red hands and two left feet.

She spent four months in an Arabian harem

By STEPHEN HARPER

A dark-haired Scots girl returned to Britain recently after escaping from the silk-draped harem of the King of Yemen across the deserts of Southern Arabia.

Mrs. Rita Nasir, 25-year-old and 200 concubines of 68-year-old King Ahmed II.

Mrs. Nasir said she was 17 when she married her husband Ahmed at a Moslem ceremony in Cardiff.

OFFERED JOB
 "We lived happily in England until I met the Crown Prince of Yemen, Prince Seif Ul Islam Badr, at a reception in London.

"He offered my husband, who comes from the Yemen, a job in Taiz as an instructor. She lived with the two wives in electrical engineering. There would be free housing and free passages for all the family.

"We were flown to Taiz and put in a palace guest house.

"We had been there two weeks when King Ahmed first saw me. We were at a sort of military review. There were Italian and Russian women, wives of pilots and technicians, present besides me.

"Next day a shooting-brake came to the guest house and three soldiers ordered me to go with them to the king's palace. My five little girls were allowed to go with me.

"I was given a room in the harem. There were lots more like it opening on to a central garden. It was luxuriously furnished with a thick carpet, silk drapings and deep cushions.

"I was very frightened, but nothing happened for several days.

"Then I was told to get ready to meet the king. I sat on cushions near his throne and we sipped coffee and talked. He asked about England and what I thought of the new hospital in Taiz.

"The king was always very kind to me. He gave me lots of fruit and money.

JUST TALKS

"I was called to the king five or six times. I was always frightened. But we only talked.

"I saw him almost every day walking through the harem. The other women seemed very happy. They spent most of their time sewing. They all had lots of clothes and used to change three or four times a day.

The wife of an Indian diplomat who is now stationed at the Indian embassy in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Munsiff became a member of the Baha'i faith when she was 14 years of age, and since that time has travelled throughout the world and studied the customs of many peoples.

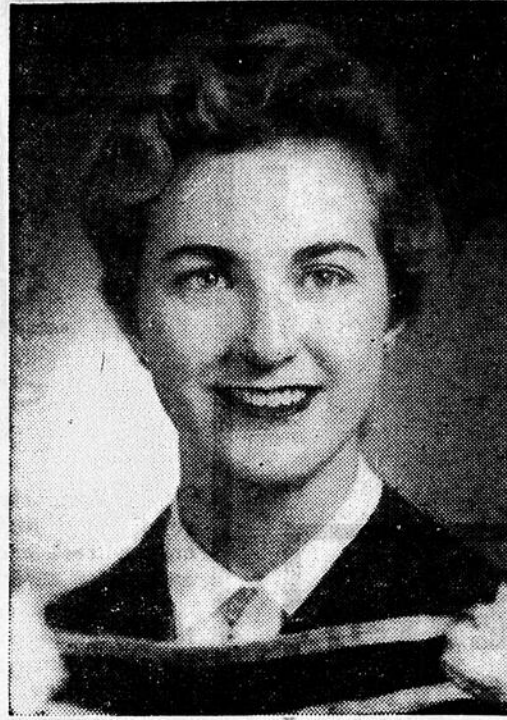

Mrs. Munsiff has travelled extensively and given lectures in Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Italy, British East Africa, India, Madagascar, North Africa and French West Africa. She has also visited Israel to study the people, their customs and their outlook.

In July and August of 1956 she undertook an extensive tour of the southern, western and mid-western parts of the United States, covering over 8,000 miles by road and she addressed public meetings in over 55 cities.

At one point Mrs. Munsiff undertook to live on an American Indian reservation where she studied the customs and way of life of this people.

At Rawdon Mrs. Munsiff will be able to give the students of the summer school the benefit of this wide and varied experience.

"At the summer school," Mrs. Munsiff said, "the tenets of Baha'i will be taught but in addition much time will be spent in studying the scriptures and the prophets of other religions." The school Mrs. Munsiff said would last for a period of two weeks. She said that it was not compulsory for Baha'i members to attend.

JEAN-EUDES GUY, son of the late Ernest Jacques Guy, of Paris, France, and Mrs. Ernest Guy de Zavala, of Madrid and New York, whose engagement is announced. The marriage has been arranged to take place on Saturday, September 13, in the Church of the Ascension of our lord, Westmount. Miss Wright graduated in Arts and Mr. Guy in Architecture from McGill University.

Explaining some of the tenets of Baha'i, Mrs. Munsiff said that their fundamental beliefs are the unity of God, of prophets and of mankind.

"Baha'i," she said, "wishes to do away with prejudice, it wishes to see all people use their minds and hearts to investigate the truth." A universal auxiliary language, control of the gadgets that men have made to destroy themselves, establishment of an international police force are all things which Baha'i hopes one day to see implemented.

"One of Baha'i's tenets which is dear to me," Mrs. Munsiff remarked, "is the equality of opportunity for men and women. This does not mean that men and women should try to do all the same things but rather that they should both excel in their own way. Abdul' Baha the son of Bahi's founder compared the relation of men and women to a bird in flight. Both its wings, which represent men and women, must be strong or it can not fly high."

After teaching at Rawdon, Mrs. Munsiff will return to the United States.

APPROACHING MARRIAGES

The approaching marriage is announced of Miss Betty Henwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Henwood, of Jamaica, B.W.I. and Mr. Colin Smallridge, son of the late E. K. Smallridge and of Mrs. Smallridge, of Plymouth, Devon, England. The ceremony has been arranged to take place Saturday August 9, in St. Matthias Church, Westmount.

Social & Personal

Director E. C. Harper of the City of Westmount Fire Department is on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Robinson, Cote St. Antoine road, have returned from Kennebunkport, Maine, where they were guests at The Seacrest.

West End women to play major role in conference here August 12 - 16

Westmount Examiner, 17
Friday, July 25, 1958
the American Association, who will be speaker at the banquet and Mrs. W. V. Ramplee-Smith, chairman of the international relations committee for the Association of the University Women of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

University women from all parts of Canada, the United States, Britain, France, Rhodesia and Nyasaland, will soon be greeted by local hostesses at McGill University as they attend the 14th Triennial Conference of the Canadian Federation of University Women August 12-16.

Miss Alice Miller, 49 Nelson street, is chairman of the Montreal Conference Committee in charge of all arrangements for the conference. Working with her are Dr. Mary Winspear, principal of Weston School, who is co-chairman of the publicity committee for the conference, Miss Alma Hart, 590 Cote St. Antoine, who is convener of the art exhibit and Miss Kathleen Farmer, 57 Chesterfield avenue, secretary of the Montreal Conference committee.

Miss Margaret MacNaughton, 26 Burton avenue, is chairman of a study group at the conference on "life in Japan as revealed in contemporary literature." Dr. Winspear will also be chairman of a study group on "Black Africa as revealed by recent books." Mrs. W. D. H. Buchanan, 5255 Cote St. Luc road, chairman of the Fellowship Committee of the CFUW, is acting as liaison officer between the national executive and Mrs. Miller's committee, and Mrs. Saul Hayes, 5668 Notre Dame de Grace, as federation representative of the Montreal University Women's Club, will be a delegate to the conference.

Other local women who are working on various conference committees are Miss May Robertson, Mrs. Robert Leslie, Miss E. Massy-Bayly, Mrs. H. O. Lough, Mrs. George Savage, Mrs. Trevor Thompson, Miss Mildred Couper, Mme. Lucien Langlois, Miss Helen Falconer, Miss Barbara Lax and Mrs. A. M. West.

One of the conference highlights will be a public lecture in Moyses Hall August 13, at which Dr. Morris Bishop, professor of Romance Languages at Cornell University, lecturer, poet and mystery story writer, will speak about "literature for the mass and literature for the elite."

Throughout the conference delegates will attend study groups discussing the lives of people as reflected in the literature of India, Japan, Germany, Brazil, the Arab World, France, Russia, Africa and China. Theme for the study groups is "Candles of Understanding."

At a luncheon August 14, Monseigneur Olivier Maultail will describe Montreal to the conference, which will then tour the city. Other events include a vin d'honneur by the University of Montreal, a garden party at McGill, a civic reception, a tea and tour of McGill University and a banquet at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

An organization of university women's clubs and alumnae associations across Canada, the Canadian Federation of University Women is also affiliated with the International Federation of University Women, an organization formed shortly after the First World War to promote more friendly understanding and cooperation among university women of all nations.

The Canadian organization consists of 99 university women's clubs and six alumnae associations whose total membership is roughly 8,100. Part of the work of the clubs is to award fellowships and scholarships to women. During the past year, 71 clubs and six alumnae associations have awarded $21,000 in scholarships, bursaries and prizes.

Other aims of the university women's clubs are to arouse interest and encourage active participation by women in public affairs, to guard and improve the economic, legal and professional status of Canadian women and to facilitate co-operation with the international organization and participate in its work.

The Canadian clubs study political and social problems which affect Canadian women, and at the present time they are particularly interested in reform of the penal code and the succession duties acts. During the past year in British Columbia and Ontario, university women's clubs studied emotionally-disturbed children and ways to provide adequate help for them.

Members of CFUW have been appointed to government positions and are representatives of Canada on UN committees.

In the Montreal area, five clubs are affiliated with the CFUW. The University Women's Club of Montreal, La Societe des Femmes Universitaires de Montreal, The Alumnae Society of McGill University and the newly formed St. Lambert University Women's Club and the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club.

Prior to the August Triennial Conference, the annual council meeting of the International Federation of University Women will be held in Boston, and delegates from that meeting will attend the Montreal conference. These delegates include Mile. Jeanne Chaton, president of the International Federation from Paris, who will give the Keynote address August 13; Miss Irene Hilton, president of the British Federation; Miss J. M. Bowie, immediate past president of the British Federation, who will be one of the luncheon speakers; Dr. Anna Rose Hawkes, president of stored in our refrigerators here and then sent to Toronto to be made into blood plasma and sub-products."

These four sub-products are serum albumin used for severe burn cases and chronic hepatitis; gamma globulin used for the prevention of measles and polyomelitis plasma for hemophilic cases. (There are 38 children in the Children's Memorial Hospital under active treatment for hemophilia).

Dr. Fortin's duties do not include organizing clinics which are arranged by a blood donor panel. The permanent clinic, open all week to blood donors, is at Dorchester and Atwater. The amount of blood collected there each day varies between 100 and 150 bottles.

"We also have two mobile clinics in service either in the city or at one of the many communities on our list," said Dr. Fortin. "This week a mobile, a team of two nurses, seven nurses aides, one technician and three drivers visits La Sarre, Amos and Senneville in the north. The crew is an all-woman one. To give you an idea how much blood we collect, in the week of July 6 we collected 2,598 bottles in the city and in the north country. Sometimes, once or twice a month, I travel with the crew but more often than not I am needed here at the depot. My staff here is an all-woman one. It includes seven nurses, 30 nurses' aides, 15 drivers, 15 technicians and four secretaries.

Regular Donors

"Most of the people who give blood attend the clinics regularly," said Dr. Fortin. "A man gives his blood every three months; a woman, every four. We take blood from anyone who is healthy between the ages of 18 and 65. It does not hurt at all."

Dr. Fortin's history? He was born the son of a successful farmer (who died in 1956) in St. Joachim, Montmorency County, Quebec. He was the youngest son in a family of three brothers and five sisters. "My oldest brother has taken over the family farm," Dr. Fortin said. "My other brother works for my uncle, a wholesale grain merchant. One of my sisters is married to a doctor."

Dr. Fortin's father saw that his youngest son got a good education. First he attended the parish schools. Then, off to the Seminary St. Victor in Beauce County which is run by secular priests. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree there after an eight-year classical course which included studying Latin and Greek. On graduation in 1945 Dr. Fortin decided he wanted to become a priest, and entered the Grand Seminary at Chicoutimi. He took three years of theology and decided he was not cut out for the priesthood. In 1948 he entered Laval University and graduated from there in 1953 with a degree "cum laude" in medicine.

"I had a general practise at St. Joseph D'Alma, Lake St. John, for three years," said Dr. Fortin. "It's a big town of 20,000 and there were seven doctors serving the community. There was no hospital there at the time, although there is one now. I delivered babies and did everything else in the run of the mill general practise. I prefer administration work so when this job was offered to me I accepted it right off.

Dr. Fortin is single, "but it is possible that I may marry soon." His hobbies are traveling, reading, and listening to music. He used to be a tennis player, now intends to take up golf.

A personable man with a charming manner, Dr. Fortin brings an enormous amount of enthusiasm to his job and is intensely proud of his staff, and the depot.

"Yes, this is one of the 11 services the Canadian Red Cross offers the public and it is a wonderful one," beamed Dr. Fortin.

Witnesses to attend convention

Jehovah's Witnesses from the West Unit of the Montreal Congregation today announced plans are under way to attend an international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York city this summer.

Mr. E. Vaillancourt, presiding minister of the local group, said the convention could well be the largest in the history of Jehovah's Witnesses. It is scheduled for July 27 through August 3 and will be held in Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds simultaneously.

The last international convention, attended by many local witnesses, was held in 1953 in Yankee Stadium, and reached a peak attendance of 165,000, including the overflow audiences. Watchtower officials, Mr. E. Vaillancourt said, have arranged this year for the program to be held in both places, with most program features repeated at the Polo Grounds immediately following the first presentation in Yankee Stadium.

The Watchtower Bible & Tract Society, governing agency for Jehovah's Witnesses, has been making special travel arrangements for foreign delegates. Many missionaries who have served in other lands will also be brought to the United States for the Bible convention. Purpose of the gathering is to provide stimulus for the New World society of Jehovah's Witnesses in Christian association, Bible instruction and ministerial training. This, Mr. Vaillancourt said, is in accordance with provisions made for God's people in Bible days.

Mr. Vaillancourt stated that it is not yet known how many Witnesses from the area will attend but he added special travel arrangements are being made (by plane, train, bus, etc.). He said further it may be necessary to make limited meeting arrangements or cancel local meetings altogether during convention time.

In terms of constant (1949) dollars Canada's gross national product is estimated at $1,534 per capita in 1957, compared to $1,587 in 1956 and $1,474 in 1955.

The Archbishop and the Bomb

By The Reverend
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The Archbishop of Canterbury is a controversial figure and when he speaks on public issues he is apt to present his case in a flat-footed way that gives offence to some people. So when he contributed a chapter to a composite work on the H. Bomb he used an expression to which some of his hearers have taken serious exception. He feels that it is not a contradiction of the Providence of God that men should destroy themselves by the use of the H. Bomb. I am not going to criticize the Archbishop's statement because I have not seen the book and I do not know the context. I shall content myself with some comments on the way in which God seems to deal.

We may reduce the matter to a single question: Is it the will of God that man should destroy himself by H-Bombs, or poison gas, or bacteriological warfare, or by the exhaustion of the soil and other natural resources, or by careless driving? The answer is a definite negative for God is "not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9). But the implication is that if men do not change their minds, that is repent, they will bring themselves to destruction.

Our Lord once took up the question of undeserved suffering: He said the sufferers were not sinners above other men, and then added "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish". He did not promise ease and prosperity and security even to His most faithful followers; rather He promised them persecution. He did not promise the world peace: "I came not to send peace but a sword" (Matthew 10:34). Where Christ comes He challenges men; some accept and some reject, for all are free, but the result is division.

In 1917 we emphasized the evils of poison gas because it was the most destructive thing we knew; today we emphasize the horrors of the H-Bomb and rightly so, and we are prepared to blame God if it is used. But God has made us free, free even to destroy ourselves if we are so far gone in our sins that we cannot turn and repent — "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish". But it is not God's will, for His will is that every one should repent and not perish.

It is objected that it is not in harmony with the nature of God as Father that He should allow such things to happen, but we very often misinterpret the word "Father". God is not patterned after the indifferent carnal American father who says: "Oh he will grow out of it". No, God is not only a loving Father but a disciplinarian as well. He is the same God of whom it was said: "Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity" (Habakkuk 1:13). Man was created not to exhaust the soil, but to care for it; not to hate his fellow man, but to love him; not to ignore God, but to worship Him. He has broken the intention of God at every point, and he suffers at every point; and he is the means of inflicting his own suffering. It need not be so, for man is still capable of a change of heart. We could turn and serve God and our fellows if we could only forget ourselves a little. At any rate there is one thing that a Christian must never give up, that is hope.

Westmount Baptist Church

In logic the little word "if" is important, it binds together cause and effect; if this is true then the result must follow. The 'ifs' of the Bible help set the believer on the right path. At Westmount Baptist Rev. E. J. Bailey will preach in the morning on "The Land of 'If'" and at night on "Life's Dimensions".

During the summer when many churches are closed in the evening, Westmount Baptist invites members of other churches to share our evening worship at Westmount Baptist Church. Prayer meeting continues on Wednesdays at 8 p.m.

Dave Baille wins BEG silver medal

Dave Baille of Westmount, a member of the recreation department of Noranda, Quebec, gave Canada another silver medal at the British Empire and Commonwealth Games.

The Westmonuter placed in the heavyweight lifting title, the same one that he also placed in 1954 at the Games in Vancouver.

Grout places 4th in 110-yard swim

Cameron Grout

District athletes competing in the sixth British Empire and Commonwealth Games have come up with the odd surprise mostly from the swimmers who were not expected to do too much, but the women's 440-yard relay team won a second place for a silver medal.

Ausie team won the race with a time of 4.30, while the Canadian team anchor swimmer, Gladys Priestley of Verdun swam her heart out to give the team second place ahead of England.

The Canuck's time was 4.17.4, while the U.K. team's time was 4.32.5. Other members of the Canadian team were Sara Barber, Brantford; Margaret Iwasaki, Vancouver; Susan Sangster, Toronto.

Also in swimming, Cameron Grout, Westmount, was third in the 110-yard freestyle heat on time, on which he qualified for the final.

In that final, Grout placed fourth and missed winning a bronze medal. This is Grout's first trip on a Canadian game team.

Intermediate softball have 8 games to play

Thirty-two games have been played in the five-team Westmount Intermediate Softball league.

Most of last year's stalwarts will be back in uniform along with several newcomers one of whom Mike Ellis is expected to fill the gap at wing forward left by the retirement of former inter-provincial player Bill Cullens.
