World News In Brief

Ottawa, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Defence Minister Claxton and Veterans Minister Lapointe left Rockcliffe airport today in the R.C.A.F.'s C5 aircraft for a visit to Canadian forces in the Far East.

The big plane which carried Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on the Royal tour took off at 9:29 A.M. EST. It was scheduled to make two-hour stops at Saskatoon, Anchorage, Alaska, Shemya in the Aleutians and Haneda near Tokyo. The party is due at Tokyo at 2 P.M. Tokyo time Dec. 29.

The two ministers will visit the Canadian troops at the front and in hospitals, and the three Canadian destroyers in the theatre, returning to Ottawa Jan. 11.

London, Dec. 27.—(Reuters)—The 7,115-ton Canadian steamer Islandside today was reported to be in a mid-Atlantic hurricane, with two starboard lifeboats carried away.

The Islandside, en route from Narvik, Norway, to Baltimore, gave her position well out of the southwest Irish coast.

Pusan, South Korea, Dec. 27.—(Reuters)—Home Minister Lee Soon Yong of South Korea today denied reports that South Korean police had arrested two farmers for surrendering Maj. Gen. William Dean to the communists in August, 1950.

Lee said that reports of the fighting around Taejon in which Dean was captured were so confused that it was not possible to say whether anyone had betrayed the General, as communist sources have claimed.

Dean's name was listed last week among prisoners held by the communists.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that 350 persons may die in traffic accidents in the United States during the New Year's holiday period. The estimate was for the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday. The total number of traffic deaths for a similar period over Christmas, as compiled by the Associated Press, was 535.

Pusan, Korea, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman today was awarded the first national medal of the Republic of Korea for his selfless service and devotion to the alleviation of human suffering. President Syngman Rhee pinned the medal on the Cardinal in a ceremony at the presidential home.

Washington, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Announced American battle casualties in Korea have risen to 103,418, including 17,470 battle deaths and 11,043 currently listed as missing in action. The new totals were announced by the defence department late yesterday.

Macao, Dec. 27.—(Reuters)—Two mysterious explosions last night shook Chingchow, outer district of the Portuguese colony 35 miles from Hong Kong. No casualties were reported.

R.C.A.F. Aid Is Sought To Check Flood Near Montreal

Montreal, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The R.C.A.F. today will be asked to bomb an ice jam causing floods in the north-end of greater Montreal.

Mayor Rosario Fortin of Riviere des Prairies said he will call on the air force to break the cause of the flood, a massive ice jam at the rapids where the Back river meets the Riviere des Mille lacs before flowing into the St. Lawrence.

The R.C.A.F. could not be reached for comment.

Meantime, some 200 homes have been damaged by the flood waters which continue to rise at the rate of two to four inches an hour and more than 25 families were forced to flee their homes.

The water has already reached 10 to 15 feet above normal levels. Mayor Fortin could give no estimate of damage but said he expected it to run into "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Red Cross and volunteer relief workers have been called in to help the affected residents.

Many of the flooded dwellings are summer cottages along the river's bank. A church and a parish school which were earlier pumped out are again flooded with water.

Gouin boulevard, a main street through the north-end of the city has been crossed three times by water. Traffic has been halted and streets blocked off. In nearby de l'ile the riverside streets are under four to six inches of water.

30-Day Cease Fire Line Agreement Ends Without Settlement Being Reached

European Army Set-Up Is Discussed

Paris, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Leaders of six European countries met here today to devise a plan for pooling their military strength into a single, one-uniform continental army.

They have several points of disagreement on which compromises must be worked out.

The best guess was that they would be successful on a compromise agreement to create a high commissioner who would act as a sort of European defence minister. His job would be to recruit a European army of 43 divisions in the next three years.

France and Italy would provide 12 divisions each. Germany's proposed 14 divisions and the five from the Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—would be stripped-down versions of not more than 13,000 men each.

They would be merged into international corps and armies and their supply lines would be strictly international.

Optimism that agreement could be reached was based mainly on reports that the French would be willing to compromise simply to get the European army formed. The French seem to think organizational differences can be solved later after a trial period of one to three years of actual practice.

Two main differences confront the delegates in addition to the comparatively minor problem of whether the European army shall be headed by a single high commissioner or a governing body of defence ministers of all six countries.

The main points are (1) whether to draft a common budget for the army and levy taxes against the six countries to finance it and (2) whether to allow any of the six member countries to exercise veto power over plans for army expansion or operation.

Delegates are expected to work through Saturday getting their plan ready for consideration of the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty organization council at Lisbon Feb. 2.

The European army would be turned over to Dwight D. Eisenhower as part of the allied defence force.

Flooded Homes Swept By Fire

Montreal, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Fire broke out in the flooded community of Riviere des Prairies early today and at least three homes were destroyed.

Eight other houses, under several inches of water from the rampaging Riviere des Prairies, were in the fire-path. Firemen from Montreal North, also hit by flood waters, rushed to the residential suburb to lend a hand.

No casualties were reported.

Fears Voiced That Reds May Report Many Of 50,000 Unreported Prisoners Have Died.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
Munsan, Korea, Dec. 28.—(Friday)—(AP)—The 30-day Korean cease-fire line agreement ran out today on "a rather ominous note" in truce talks about allied prisoners-of-war deaths.

There was no indication here of plans to extend the agreement responsible for the 30-day twilight war. The full five-man armistice committees which signed the original agreement Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official United Nations spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

But in a sub-committee session at Panmunjon Thursday, Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby said the communists hinted they may report that many of the 50,000 unaccounted-for allied prisoners died of exposure and disease.

Libby said it was "a rather ominous note. It might have been a warning that all these people died of illness."

Sub-committees working on the problems of exchanging war prisoners and supervising a truce still were deadlocked when they adjourned their last session before the scheduled expiration hour. The agreement was timed to run out at midnight (10 a.m. EST) Thursday.

Each committee scheduled another meeting for 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EST Thursday) in Panmunjon.

Washington sources expressed belief Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway would approve a 15-day extension of the period in which the 145-mile line drawn across Korea Nov. 27 could become a permanent cease-fire line.

Nov. 27 negotiators drew a tentative cease-fire line and agreed it would become the centre of a 2½-mile buffer zone if an armistice were signed within 30 days.

Otherwise the line would be redrawn just before a truce is signed to follow changes resulting from battle action.

In Thursday's fruitless talks in Panmunjon each side accused the other of needlessly delaying the truce.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho charged that the U.N. wasted time by refusing to agree to a communist proposal for an all-for-all exchange of prisoners.

Rear Admiral R. E. Libby told the Reds they wasted 12 days by refusing to set up a prisoner exchange sub-committee, then delayed for another eight days before agreeing to exchange prisoner lists.

The list finally submitted by the Reds was "fatally deceptive," Libby asserted.

In a nearby tent, the communists promised not to build up their armed strength during an armistice. But they refused to put it in writing.

Police Fire On Rioting Cairo, Alexandria Students

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Police fired on rioting Egyptian students today as protest demonstrations broke out in Cairo and Alexandria for the second day in a row over the apparent entry of the palace into power politics.

Buckshot fired from police riot guns injured 15 students at Alexandria.

Several students and police were reported injured in Cairo. The students overturned and set fire to a street car near the parliament building and police waded in with clubs.

Ten students were arrested and Cairo traffic piled up for blocks before several hundred police restored order.

The disturbances spread to secondary school students today.

Four secondary schools in Alexandria were ordered closed, including the Abbasia school, near the Alexandria main railway station where police fired on the students.

Thousands of secondary school students in both of Egypt's major cities were involved in the demonstrations.

Fouad and Mohammed Ali Pasha Universities in Cairo and Farouk University in Alexandria were ordered closed indefinitely yesterday after collegiate riots against King Farouk's appointment of pro-western advisors on his palace cabinet.

Big Three Make Plans For N.A.T.O.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
London, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The big three western powers are working on a plan to set up a sort of super-cabinet to run the North Atlantic Treaty Organization informed diplomats reported today.

Prime Minister Churchill is expected to discuss with President Truman at Washington in early January some definite proposals to widen the scope and power of the 12-country alliance.

Some of the changes under study in the United States provide that Britain and France would:

1. Turn the London-based council of deputies into a permanent council of ministers to consider the day-to-day economic, military and production problems of the allies.

2. Bring all N.A.T.O. agencies—now split between the big three capitals—under one roof in Paris next door to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters.

3. Appoint a civilian secretary-general whose powers, prestige and role would match those of Eisenhower's.

The projected super-cabinet in no way would have supra-national powers but could act on its own when the occasion demanded speed. Each of the allies would retain the right of veto.

All these ideas right now are tentative.

First of all the big three will need to agree among themselves what should be done. Then they will need to sell their recommendations to their nine smaller partners. All that is expected to take time.

BATTLE OF THE SNOW-REMOVERS — Men seeking jobs as snow shovelers in Detroit storm the snow removal office, causing a riot. They pushed, shoved and threw snowballs, but no one was hurt. More than 2500 men sought the 1000 jobs, as Detroit battled to dig out of 16 inches of snow.

No Immediate Resumption Of Heavy Fighting Is Expected On Korean Front

Steel Strike Decision Is Awaited

Pittsburgh, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The steel crisis came to a head today with union policy makers meeting to decide whether to strike or work.

While leaders of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) gave no hint what kind of action they may take, it was believed generally they will vote to delay the country-wide strike set for New Year's Day.

The union's 36-man executive committee meets first (10 A.M. EST) and then the 170 member wage-policy board.

The sessions are secret, no announcement is expected before the larger group completes its session, probably late today.

Possibilities before the union seemed to be:

1. Acceptance or rejection, complete or conditional, of President Truman's demand that the wage fight between the 700,000-man union and the steel industry be turned over to the wage stabilization board for study or settlement.

2. Postponement of the strike at least until Jan. 3 when a special international convention will be held at Atlantic City to plot the union's future course.

Hungary May Free U.S. Fliers Today

Vienna, Austria, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The four American fliers jailed by communist Hungary since Russian fighters forced down their unarmed cargo plane 39 days ago are expected to be set free today.

The United States government agreed to pay fines totalling $120,000 to save them from the alternative of three months in prison.

A Hungarian military court secretly convicted them four days ago of deliberately crossing the border with intentions of dropping spies later.

The American explanation is that they got lost on a routine flight and had no idea of flying cloak-and-dagger missions.

George Abbott, U. S. charge d'affaires in Budapest, said at 10:20 A.M. (4:30 A.M. EST) there still was no news that the airmen had been released.

U. S. air force authorities in Germany assumed the fliers would be sent back through Vienna, where American officials and troops are stationed nearest the Hungarian border.

Cryptic dispatches from Budapest, the Hungarian capital, said yesterday there were "certain signs" that the men had been freed or would be freed last night. But reporters there could not amplify that reference or describe events immediately.

Cutty Sark May Again Put To Sea

Greenhithe, Kent, England, Dec. 27.—(Reuters)—The Cutty Sark, sleek, fast-moving ocean greyhound of the last century, may sail from here to end her days in Sydney Harbor, Australia.

Known as the fastest clipper on the Australian wool run in the 1890s, the Cutty Sark has been passed as sound following a dry-dock inspection.

Hugh Vaudrey, president of the Thames Barge Sailing Club, is leading a group of part-time seamen who have a hankering to "sail before the mast," recapturing past glories on the Australian run.

The cost of refitting the clipper for the voyage would be high," he said. "The lowest estimate I have been given is £10,000."

But he believes the prosperous Cutty Sark societies in Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania would help bear the cost.

Most of the crew would have to come from the Pacific where there are sailors still experienced in handling square-rigged wind jammers. But many amateurs would be willing to pay for the privilege of serving on the 82-year-old ship.

She is at present owned by a nautical college for boys, but is no longer an economical proposition as a training craft.

Frank Carr, director of the National Maritime Museum, thinks the plan to put the Cutty Sark on the high seas again "completely impracticable."

Spurred on by one of Britain's legendary seadogs, Capt. Dick Woodgett, the Cutty Sark in her day whipped everything on the high seas.

The clipper once did 1,050 miles in three days and in one trip completed the London-Melbourne run in under 70 days.

In 1899 she had a race with the steamer Britannia and passed the steam ship—whose passengers lined the decks and cheered the clipper—reaching Sydney four hours ahead of her rival.

But her greatest rival was the Thermopylae, another clipper, built on Britain's east coast in 1868.

The Cutty Sark—Scottish for short shirt—a year later to prove their craftsmanship was Britain's best.

The great race began in 1879 from London. The Thermopylae, picking up a favorable wind, raced into the lead and was eight days ahead at the Equator.

But the irascible Woodgett would not admit defeat. The Cutty Sark picked up powerful winds and six more inches of snow. Some parts of Maine had up to 14 inches of snow from three to four other storms in less than two weeks.

Middle East Turmoil Keeps United Nations Occupied

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Paris, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The turmoil in the Middle East is making a big noise in the United Nations and the volume is expected to increase.

Morocco, Iran, Egypt, Palestine and Kashmir are names which raise blood pressure as well as many words in U.N. meetings and corridors. The U.N., however, has not been able to do much, if anything, to settle any of these tense problems.

Russia is taking every propaganda opportunity in the U.N. to pose as the protector of Middle East countries and the western powers are having a tough time keeping what goodwill there is left for them among those states.

Egypt has made the loudest noise on Middle East and other questions at the present session. She has not yet brought the present Anglo-Egyptian situation before the U.N. but is expected by many diplomats to be ready to do so.

The Arab states are hitting at France as well as Britain in their complaint that French policy in Morocco violates human rights. ## Canadian Yule Toll Was 43

Forty-three persons were killed in Canada during the Christmas holiday between midnight Friday and midnight Wednesday. Traffic accidents claimed 24 lives.

A Canadian Press survey early today showed 15 persons killed in Ontario and 12 in Nova Scotia.

Other provinces reported these totals: British Columbia, 3; Alberta, 2; Saskatchewan, 2; Manitoba, 1; Quebec, 7; and New Brunswick, 1.

Besides the 24 traffic fatalities, 12 persons died in fires, two were shot and two starved to death. One child died of scald burns, one person smothered to death and another choked to death.

walled Sari Taffy, a petite brunet. "Why, the women on the screen have more clothes on than the women in the audience."

"It's terrible, that's what it is," chimed in her soft-spoken sister, Ann. "There's just nothing for the boys to look at anymore."

The Taffy sisters sighed in chorus: "They weren't for anything that wasn't nice and proper, they drewled."

It was just that they believed that producers ought to go back to the old device of putting at least one talking scene into every picture to be sure of drawing men into the theaters.

There were other little tricks that paid off big in the '30's, too. Like a star fastening her stockings to her garter belt or getting her skirt blown away over her head by a gust of wind.

"Why, men used to storm the theater doors to see Jean Harlow in black step-ins or Norma Shearer undressing behind a screen while she talked to Clark Gable," Ann said. "Nowadays a star starts taking off her clothes and the camera cuts away quick-like."

"Anything to help?" "It's plain silly," said Sari. "Little things like that help a picture."

"They cheer the boys up," from Ann. "Had I checked morning attendance at the popcorn palaces lately, Sari wanted to know?"

Well, one of her friends was an exhibitor and she had it straight from him that salesmen just weren't dropping in the way they used to.

"The fellows like to knock off for a few hours if there's a movie with a little zip to it," Sari said.

"It inspires them. The word gets around if Lana Turner is swishing around in a negligee and sort of forgetting to keep the lace together. Only they don't let Lana do that in Hollywood any more."

Telephones began to jangle at their Beverly Hills salon and the Taffy sisters rushed away to assure Gza Zsa Gabor that her evening gown was ready, and to make an afternoon appointment for a fitting with Rhonda Fleming.

"We think of men when we design clothes for women," Ann teased it to me. "Right now I'm thinking of the expressions on the faces of the men who see Zsa Zsa in her evening gown."

"If we gave a little thought to men as Hollywood does," Sari added, "we'd be out of business."

"That's right." "You've got to think of the boys."

Go Ahead And Tell "Could the Taffys, I wondered, name any movie producers who were giving male moviegoers—a little peek-a-boo consideration?"

"There's Cecil B. DeMille," Sari said. "Watch the women in his movies. Their skirts are always falling aside to reveal a shapely leg. Or they're doing all sorts of wonderful, feminine things. That's why his pictures make money."

"And then there's Howard Hughes," exclaimed Ann. "Of course," said Sari, reverently.

Ann sighed. "If only he could put in movies what he puts on his big billboards—wow!"

They had been offered jobs as designers on the movie lots, the sisters volunteered. But they had decided it would get them all frustrated and that they had better stick to whipping up fancy duds for the off-screen hours of movie shebas.

We made some sexy gowns for the 'Quo Vadis' premiere," Ann said. Spectacles, who needs spectacles? shrugged Sari. "The burning of Rome is fine, but the boys would rather see Ava Gardner's bare back."

Chalk River Reactor

are stationary, and there's enough uranium to maintain a chain reaction, provided the neutrons producible are kept busy splitting uranium atoms.

This is where the "heavy water" comes in. It is pumped from the bottom of the cylinder until it reaches a level where it heads off sufficient neutrons to keep the uranium "burning."

Thereafter, the power output can be regulated by raising or lowering the water level. It's so sensitive that, to keep a steady level of power and radio-activity, the water level must not vary more than a fraction of an inch.

The whole shebang can be shut down by dropping neutron-absorbing "shut-off rods" into the reactor. The furnace also shuts off automatically if it gets too hot.

Materials designed for exposure to radio-active rays within the reactor are fed into the device by a kind of ingenious pin-ball machine.

Substances, like cobalt, that "irradiated," are first placed in tiny aluminum balls. The balls are pushed by compressed air into the area of radio-activity, and likewise withdraw after the desired exposure.

"You pay according to position in the reactor," I was told by Dr. David A. Keys, general supervisor at the Chalk River plant. He meant that materials exposed in the "hottest" inner part of the furnace cost most of all.

Radio-active cobalt, which must be exposed from a year to 18 months to achieve its highest radio-activities, costs about $18,000 in the tiny amount needed as filler of an anti-cancer "bomb." But it packs the radio-active power of $5,000,000 worth of radium.

"Oh, we're glad you dropped in—it started out to be an awfully dull evening anyway!"

COWANSVILLE

Prosperity Rebekah Lodge held its last regular meeting of the year with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Elsie Syberg, in the chair, assisted by Mrs. James Williams, vice-grand.

Sixteen officers responded to the roll call. The minutes of the previous meeting, were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. D. Stevenson and accepted as read. A letter was read from the president.

Mrs. Edith Boyd, of Asbestos, asking if the secretary would be kind enough to forward her by return mail the names of all the sick and shut-in members of Prosperity Lodge, as she wished to remember them at Christmas. As two candidates were awaiting the Degree was then conferred in an excellent manner. Thanks were extended to Mrs. W. H. Smith, who so ably looked after the arrangements for Christmas party.

The children were all presented with gay colored hats on their arrival and after a period of games and carol singing, with Sister Isabella Beattie at the piano, Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts and candy to all the children. Several of the youngsters delighted the audience with recitations, which were much enjoyed.

Before leaving, they were served chocolate milk, sandwiches and cake.

The W.M.S. met in the Church parlors one afternoon, with Mrs. C. Hamilton, as hostess.

Mrs. Guy Cousins led the devotion and singing, with Sister Isabella Beattie at the piano. Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts and candy to all the children. Several of the youngsters delighted the audience with recitations, which were much enjoyed.

At a recent Ladies' Guild meeting held at "Idlewyde" a drawing was held on a luncheon set, who was given by Mrs. George Holden, and won by Mrs. Marion Tracey, of "The Elms."

Military Honors Given Sandy Smith At Funeral Service In Lennoxville

Full military honors were accorded yesterday afternoon to Ordinary Seaman, Naval Air Service, Sanborn Ayer (Sandy) Smith at his funeral service which was held from his home, 28 Prospect street, Lennoxville, to St. George's Church.

The young naval rating — he would have been 18 in April — was fatally injured Friday night near Steiwacke, N.S., when the car in which he was a passenger came into collision with a truck.

Four other young navy men, from widely scattered parts of Canada, died in the same accident, including Ordinary Seaman Gordon David Ryan, 18, of Vancouver, who was to spend Christmas with Sandy Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smith.

At the time of the tragic accident, the young sailors were on their way home for Christmas.

A representation of Sherbrooke branch 10, Canadian Legion, headed the military cortege and six close friends of Sandy Smith carried the flag-draped casket, on which rested Sandy's naval cap, from the residence to the hearse of Johnston's Funeral Home.

Bearers were: Arthur Lessard, Allan Hunting, Ross E. (Ted) Jenne, Ronald Jenne, Donald Downs and John Nichol.

A total of 21 uniformed young servicemen completed the guard of honor, including 15 naval ratings who had served with Sandy Smith on the east coast.

The sailors were: Able Seaman L. McHarg, Joseph Lamontagne, T. Lawrence M. Routhier, Ordinary Seaman W. R. Blanchette, NAS, N. Lemaire, NAS, C. Dube, SMS C. Croteau, NAS Bob McCour, NAS

SANDY SMITH

A. Aube, NAS N. Couture, S. Ian D. Muir, NAS J. L. Yvon Boulanger, NAS M. Record, and CKS R. Labrecque.

All the boys are residents of this district, with the exception of AB Lamontagne, who was a pupil at Lachute High School where Mrs. Smith formerly taught.

Representing the Army in the guard of honor were: Pte. W. E. Blake, R.C.O.C., and Privates G. Allen, L. Neely, and D. Audet, all of the reserve R.C.A.M.C. Two army men were present: AC. 1 J. W. Brown and AC. 2 A. H. MacLeay.

Legion President Sydney Hart and Comrades Ernest J. Marshall, James Hunter, Sydney Spanswick and Edward White, Campbellford, Ont., were in the honor party representing the Legion.

Rev. Archdeacon Albert Jones conducted prayers at the residence and at St. George's Church. The congregation, which filled the church to overflowing, joined in two hymns, "Fight the Good Fight" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Interment was at Malvern Cemetery where Archdeacon Jones again officiated and Comrade Marshall conducted a Legion service at the graveside.

Sanborn (Sandy) Ayer Smith was born at Timmins, Ont., on April 19, 1934, and was educated at South Porcupine, Ont., Noranda and Lachute High Schools, his mother, the former Frances Ayer, having taught at schools in each of these locations. She is now principal at Beebe Protestant School. Mr. Smith is with Canadian Ingersoll-Rand, Sherbrooke.

Sandy joined the R.C.N. in January of this year, completed his basic training at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, N.S., in the Algonquin division, and transferred to the Fleet Air Arm at H.M.C.S. Shearwater, Dartmouth, N.S., in June, in which month he was last home on leave.

Three weeks ago he was posted to the destroyer H.M.C.S. Iroquois and the Christmas holiday at home was to have been his embarkation leave. Always interested in sports in events, the boy played hockey at Cornwallis and formerly at Lachute High School.

Many beautiful floral tributes and messages of sympathy to the grief-stricken family were received from such widespread centres as Noranda, Lachute, Beebe, Waterville, H.M.C.S. Iroquois, Montreal, Rochester, N.Y., South Porcupine, Ont., as well as from Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

The family is very grateful for the condolences, particularly to the sailors who gave up their leave to be at the funeral, and have announced that the presents which their son was to have received this Christmas will be divided among his closest navy friends at Shearwater, Cornwallis and on the H.M.C.S. Iroquois.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by one brother, Clarke Smith, at home; an aunt, Mrs. Clarke, wife of the late Roy S. Clarke, of Lennoxville; Mrs. Fred

Sherbrooke High School News Report

By THOMASINE MAWHOOD

The Students' Council of the Sherbrooke High School held their final assembly of the year on Friday, December 21. To open the programme, Mr. Brown, our Musical Director, led us in the singing of three familiar carols, "The First Nowell," "We Three Kings," and "Good King Wenceslas."

Garth Smith, president of the Students Council, reminded us that the main purpose of the assembly was to hold the Second Annual Christmas Festival, in which the classes, with their own conductors and accompanists, compete in the singing of carols.

This year Mr. Austin, choir-master and organist of St. Peter's Church, was the adjudicator for the Festival. On behalf of the students, Garth Smith made a presentation to Timmy Morgan in appreciation of the fine work he did as pianist for the operetta.

At the conclusion of the President's remarks, the following classes were heard singing their selections:

(1) Grade 10C — Adeste Fideles, and The Holly and the Ivy.

(2) Grade 9B — March of the Kings, and Beautiful Saviour.

(3) Grade 8A — Angels We Have Heard on High, and Christmas Bells.

Then followed a skit, "Grandma's Conversion," staged by several students. Written by Bruce Wilson and produced by J. Arthur Stank (Bruce Wilson), it told of an old woman who thought that Christmas was a lot of nonsense, and who was finally convinced that Christmas is indeed a wonderful season.

The last group of carols was sung by the following classes:

(1) Grade 10A — What Child is This, and Evergreen.

(2) Grade 8B — God Rest You Merry Gentlemen, and In Dulci Jubilo.

(3) Grade 9A — Rocking Carol, Noel Sing Good News.

While the adjudicator arrived at his decision, the assembled students sang three carols, Deck the Halls, Silent Night, and Joy to the World.

Mr. Austin said that the singing on the whole was very good. He spoke to each class and told how they could improve their presentation. Grade nine girls, conducted by Diana Montgomery and accompanied by Sylvia Riley, were chosen winners, with grade eight boys a close second.

Garth Smith, on behalf of the Student Council, wished the teachers and students a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Masonic Lodges Of Province Name Officers; Montrealer Again Is G. M.

Membership in the Masonic Order in the province of Quebec has reached a total of 17,111, according to the report presented at the 81st Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Quebec.

There were 699 new members added during the year, and the net increase was 187. One new lodge was instituted, North Star, Baie Comeau.

M.W. Brother J. W. Buckland, of Montreal, was re-elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge for a second term, and represented the installation of the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England.

During the year Masonry suffered a severe loss in the death of M. Bro. W. S. Williamson, who had been a member 67 years and Grand Secretary 32 years. He has been succeeded in the post by R.W. Brother R. Louthold, of Royal Albert Lodge, No. 25.

During the year Royal Victoria Lodge, No. 57, celebrated its 75th anniversary.

In celebration of St. John's Day several lodges will hold banquets. Other lodges through the district will install officers, if they have not already done so.

Following are officers of lodges for the ensuing year:

Death Claims G. E. Mitchell In 86th Year

One of Sherbrooke's oldest residents, George E. Mitchell, passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital early yesterday morning, in his 86th year. His wife, the former Nancy Grace Heath, predeceased him in May, 1930.

Survivors are his brothers-in-law, James and Percy Heath, of East Angus; George and Irwin Heath, of Sherbrooke; sisters-in-law, Minnie Heath, Mrs. W. J. Nutbrown, Mrs. George Heath and Mrs. Irwin Heath, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. James Heath and Mrs. Percy Heath, of East Angus; nieces, Mrs. George Rolfe, of Ascot Corner; Mrs. Wilson Beck, of Sherbrooke, and a nephew, Elmer Heath, also of Sherbrooke.

The remains are resting at Johnston's Funeral Chapel, 21 Melbourne Street, where the funeral cortege will leave on Friday, December 28th, for service in St. Peter's Church at 2 p.m.

Rev. Canon Russel F. Brown will officiate, with interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

Industrial hazards include injury to the skin through burns, cuts or from the effect of chemicals or other substances. Oil and grease may clog the pores and hair follicles, introducing infection. Mild soap and water and, if necessary, a hand cleanser with a vegetable abrasive such as cornmeal, will usually do a safe and efficient cleansing job.

Important Discussion Of Financial Matters Slated For Council Tonight

Sherbrooke aldermen will enjoy their Christmas season celebrations this evening by what promises to be a long and important session. Although nominally an adjournment of the regular gathering of December 20, the Council will break much new ground as it digs into the subject "new and unfinished business."

In all probability they will seek to give all three readings to an extensive list of by-laws, most of which involve the borrowing of money — approximately $5,000,000. If they can dispose of these items tonight — even at the extent of sitting until early tomorrow morning — it will be possible to hold a referendum on the proposals late in January.

The proposed expenditures cover a wide ground. There are new streets to be opened, sidewalks to be built, gas water and sewer mains to be laid, a baseball stadium to be erected, industrial buildings to be financed, a filtration system to be installed, a bridge constructed to link the North and West wards, improvements to be made to the electrical distribution system, machinery and equipment to be purchased. In fact there seems to be something for everybody, even for the taxpayers — footing the inevitable bills for principal and interest payments.

The question of where to raise the money may also come up for discussion, notice having already been given of a resolution to authorize the floating of a $4,500,000 loan in the United States. The idea is that interest rates are cheaper in New York than in Canada and that there may be more competition for municipal issues. Whether this is so or not remains to be seen but certain aldermen with a "trust" complex feel that the Canadian brokerage houses are "ganging-up" under new issues in an effort to depress prices. They hope to test out the truth of their arguments by the switchover. In any case, the change would require the approval of the Quebec Municipal Commission.

Then, several aldermen may bring forward other matters which they feel should be disposed of before the year ends — but the municipal pension plan is not included as far as can be learned.

Anyway, there should be big money talk tonight.

Thanks Voiced By Retiring Kiwanis Head

Kiwanis president Guy Blanchette, in the chair for his last meeting as head of the club, last night expressed thanks to his executive and all the members for their unflinching co-operation during 1951.

Stating that he felt his election as president was a tribute to the racial element which he represents, rather than to his personal ability, he said that he had enjoyed the wholehearted co-operation of the executive, all worthy directors of the club, and that he had also found the individual members very helpful and sympathetic at all times.

He expressed special thanks to press representatives Margaret Doherty and Guy Fournier for the publicity received during his term, adding that the press had played no small part in the success of the Club.

Reviewing the year's activities, President Blanchette mentioned the British Motor Show, donations to the Summer Music Camp at Knowlton, to the Harmony Band and other worthy organizations.

He thanked Kiwanian Sam Gillman for his tremendous task in organizing the Easter Seal campaign, Dr. Cadman for his interest and work with the underprivileged children, Fred Knowler, chairman of the inter-club committee, Past President Newman Hunter for his efforts on behalf of the baby club, Magog, and Gilbert Rheau for the pep and energy he had injected into the Club since his arrival from Montreal.

Thanks went also to the treasurer, Reg Bishop, for a task well done, to Mrs. Fauteux who supplied the music during the meetings, and to vice-president Les Memory, referred to by President Blanchette as "the backbone of club."

He said that it was with pleasure and the certainty that Kiwanis would prosper that he handed over the reins of office to Les Memory. He wished him a constructive year in Kiwanis and expressed best wishes to all the members for a happy and prosperous 1952.

Past President Newman Hunter proposed a standing vote of thanks to the retiring president who had stepped into his office a year ahead of time, from the position of second vice-president, and in spite of pressing personal duties, had devoted so much of his time and talents to Kiwanis.

One guest, visiting Kiwanian Dr. Howard Dixon, of Medicine

SUPPORTS QUEBEC MILITARY ACADEMY

Support for the establishment of a military academy in Quebec Province is forthcoming from a leading Ontario paper, The Windsor Star, which says:

When it was pointed out that only 2 1/2 per cent of the officers in the Canadian Army are French-speaking, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton observes French-speaking officers have done very well. The two facts, of course, are associated. There are ample opportunities for advancement for those who speak French.

The problem is to get more French-speaking officers in the Army. This, in turn, would be an encouragement to French-speaking men to enlist in the ranks.

We believe there should be a military academy established in Quebec, similar to Royal Military College at Kingston or Royal Roads in British Columbia. There isn't much inspiration for a young French-speaking youth to enrol in the R.M.C. or Royal Roads. If they had an academy in Quebec Province, where they could be taught in their own language, it would be helpful.

The Army now provides a fine career, especially for men of officer material. We believe there are plenty of high class men in Quebec who would welcome opportunity to go to a military academy in their own province.

RE-ARMING JAPAN

Even if some miracle should bring an early end to the current hostilities in Korea, there will be no early end to Communist aggression in the Far East. Japan, helplessly unarmed, if forsaken by the United States, would be rich and ripe for plucking. This makes the issue of re-arming Japan a live one. The process is as essential for the free world as West Germany, lying athwart the path of Soviet hosts, taking up defence arms and positions.

Regardless of the Korean decision, it is inconceivable that Japan should remain completely disarmed except for a mere police reserve of 75,000 men. In a world that is re-arming, how can any nation under the very guns of Soviet aggression hope to remain free without adequate defences? And the sooner Japan is able to protect herself, the quicker will some other burdens be lifted.

John Foster Dulles, author of the peace treaty, was eminently right in reminding the Japanese in a Tokyo address that they were assuming a moral obligation to provide armed forces against any aggressor.

In the war against Asiatic communism — which will not end with the Korean truce — it would be heartening indeed to see more anti-Communist Asiatic forces in the fight, as many of them desire to be.

Though Japan's contribution, financially or militarily, can only be small at the outset, it nevertheless can be significant. Then Japan will be a self-respecting member of the free world and not a nation which gets a free ride at the expense of others.

UNITED KINGDOM-CANADIAN TRADE

Indignant over a Canadian financial writer saying that Canada might as well write off the United Kingdom market and seek out another market for her exportable surpluses, the United Kingdom Information Office in Ottawa has put out a blistering press release about "crepe-hangers" and "coffin-pushers" plus all others "singing funeral hymns for Britain's early economic demise." It adds:

"The goodbye kiss is lush and lingering. In the first 10 months of this year Canada bought 17 per cent more from the United Kingdom than in 1950, while Britain boosted her imports from Canada by 42 per cent.

"Britain still buys from Canada half as much again as Canada buys from Britain, and after allowing for rising prices Britain has stepped up her purchases this year over last, while Canada's purchases from Britain are falling off.

"On a national income basis, Britain is still Canada's best customer."

Our Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday put out the trade figures for November, and they give the UK Information Officer's piece even more point. The UK, in November, increased its purchases from Canada by more than $20 million; Canada, in the same month, decreased her purchases from the UK by $7 million.

The UK, without a dollar shortage, would buy much more from Canada. The real question is: Why does Canada, with no currency problem, buy so little from the UK?

SENATOR SEEKS NEW PROBE OF FHA-CONTRACTOR RELATIONS

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Further investigation of the relations between the Federal Housing Administration and two Charleston, S.C., builders and contractors has now been demanded by Senator Richard M. Nixon of California.

In a letter to FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards, Senator Nixon has asked the government's multi-million dollar mortgage insurance agency to look into reports brought to his attention.

They charge FHA discrimination against out-of-state builders in the Charleston area, where J. C. Long and his brother Leonard D. Long are the biggest operators in the housing construction field.

It was Senator Nixon who first drew public attention to the business relationships between J. C. Long and Frederick Carpenter, FHA's director in Puerto Rico. Senator Nixon called the Carpenter case to the attention of FHA officials in a letter dated Nov. 13.

FHA headquarters in Washington says it received its first report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation on Carpenter's connections with Long's private business enterprises in Puerto Rican housing projects. This was on Dec. 4. The next day Carpenter was fired from his government job.

Senator Nixon and Commissioner Richard had a meeting after Carpenter was fired. Following this session the Senator issued a statement in which he commended FHA for its prompt action in discharging an employee after his case had been called to the agency's attention.

The Senator then stated that Federal Housing Administration should be given every opportunity to make its own investigation of any complaints brought against it. What action is taken subsequently will be dependent on the manner in which FHA corrects any irregularities disclosed by its own investigations.

What Senator Nixon is aiming at ultimately is the question of influence in the granting of major project mortgage insurance, over-evaluation on commitments, and the pyramiding of operations by builders so that, from small beginnings, they become, in time, big operators under the FHA system.

Nixon Shoots For FHA Investigation

In other words, what Senator Nixon is shooting at is a possible investigation of FHA on a big scale. The Puerto Rico case, involving Mr. Carpenter and J. C. Long was a relatively minor incident uncovered along the way.

Long's interest in Puerto Rican housing goes back to the days of Governor Pinero, who was anxious to do something about the island's terrible slums. After the war, Pinero persuaded Long to build 4,000 small houses on the outskirts of San Juan, to sell for $4,000. By special tax concessions to Long, payments were reduced to minima that Puerto Ricans could afford.

Federal Housing Administration was brought into the picture to insure the mortgages, but its dealings were with the purchasers.

Frederick Carpenter, who had gone to Puerto Rico in 1938 when FHA first opened its office on the island, was made its director in 1940, and he naturally came into contact with J. C. Long.

El Mundo, San Juan newspaper, first uncovered the fact that Carpenter was working on the side as manager for three of Long's enterprises; a market, a drug store and a rent-collection agency, at the same time he was serving as director of the FHA office in Puerto Rico.

Violates FHA Rules

This outside activity is in direct violation of FHA rules, which specifically bar any employee from engaging in any business other than his government work, without first obtaining approval from higher authority.

Periodically, FHA employees are required to make affidavits they have no outside employment. Carpenter had not reported any such outside activity, and that is what led to his firing.

The FBI is now making a further investigation of the case and final action is dependent on its report. Under Civil Service rules, Carpenter has a right to make a reply to charges against him and appeal to the Civil Service Commission on his firing.

J. C. Long has denied charges that he employed Carpenter. But his trouble over this case has been responsible for the further investigation of his relations with FHA.

PRESS COMMENTS

PREPARE FOR PEACE AS WELL AS WAR

Kingston Whig-Standard

Stanley M. Wedd, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, told shareholders at its annual meeting yesterday that the over-riding concern today is preparedness for peace. The present task facing Canadians, he said, is to mesh a preparedness program with the civilian economy so that our resources will be effectively utilized with a minimum waste in business and government, while in our free market society we develop our productive facilities. Later Mr. Wedd added that the indirect methods of controlling inflation might lack the glamour, but are sounder, in an economy which is neither at peace nor at war, than the more dramatic methods of price and wage controls, rationing, subsidies and compulsory saving.

Mr. Wedd's opinions on controls, coming as it does from the head of a great Canadian financial institution, supports the wisdom of the course adopted by the Canadian Government, approved by Canadian spokesmen for many interests, and finally approved by the Conservative Opposition, which was at first critical. Monetary and credit restrictions, together with some restrictions on capital expansion and taxation measures — the program Mr. Wedd favors — may be to some even less pleasant than the more "dramatic" controls, yet they appear to be playing an increased part in bringing about the desired effect. That they have affected certain sections of the community more adversely than others was perhaps to be expected, but it is to be hoped there will be an early betterment of conditions caused by the changeover from a peacetime economy to one neither peace nor war.

It is the continued attempt to "mesh" a preparedness program with the civilian economy" that will likely encounter the greatest obstacles and difficulties. As in the United States, the decision here was not between "guns or butter," but was "guns and butter." The latter gives every appearance of being a more difficult decision to implement than either of the former, but Mr. Wedd's confidence in the ability of the nation to meet this test successfully is most encouraging.

Chalk River Reactor Is Unique Among World's Atomic Furnaces

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of stories on Canada's atomic-energy project. It is written by an Associated Press science writer from the point of view of the project's possible importance in relation to American developments.)

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Reporter

Chalk River, Ont., Dec. 27.—(AP)—If it weren't for its isolation—and the armed guards and high steel fence around it—you might mistake Canada's atomic project for some every-day industry manufacturing anything from chocolate to babies' rompers.

In a picturesque spot along the Ottawa river, the plant consists of 100 buildings spread over 800 of a total of 10,000 forested acres—the extra acreage being for security.

The 100-foot-high stone building which houses the "heart" of the Dominion's project is prosaic externally.

And the device that provides atomic energy has roughly the outside appearance of a vat for making beer.

But the device—a so-called "heavy-water" reactor or furnace—is unique among all known atomic furnaces in the world.

DON'T RUIN A HAND BY POOR PLAYING

Harry Fishbein, the sage of the Mayfair Bridge Club, has the artist's approach to a bridge hand. It hurts him when a good hand is butchered, even when it is an opponent that yields the cleaver.

In the hand shown today, Fishbein opened the deuce of hearts from the West hand. He expected dummy to show up with strength in hearts and clubs (actually dummy had far less in clubs than was proper for a sound re-bid of two no-trump) and hoped that declarer would mis-guess the hearts because of the opening lead.

Declarer did mis-guess by playing the eight of hearts from the dummy; but it was his best chance rather than a poor guess. East also mis-guessed by finessing the nine of hearts, which would have been correct if West's opening lead had been from the jack instead of the ace.

South won with the jack of hearts and promptly returned his singleton diamond. Fishbein took the ace of diamonds and returned another low heart. This time the maneuver bore fruit, since declarer played the ten of hearts from dummy, and East was able to win with the queen.

East recovered from his surprise at winning this trick in time to return a heart to Fishbein's ace. Fishbein now returned a club, and declarer agonized over a choice between the queen and nine from dummy.

Since East held both the king and jack of clubs the play from dummy made no difference, but South couldn't know that. Declarer finally played low from dummy, and East's jack forced out the ace.

South had lost two hearts and a diamond, so he needed the rest of the tricks. He began the trumps by leading the deuce to dummy's king. This spoiled a very artistic hand and almost soured Fishbein's notoriously amiable disposition.

South should have led the four of spades to dummy's king, and should have dropped the seven of

The structure enclosing the reactor is about 35 feet high and across.

Each second 60,000,000,000,000 neutrons pass through an area roughly equivalent to that covered by a five-cent coin.

And, it's this concentration of neutrons that makes Canada's reactor something super-special.

Because of it, Canada can make plutonium faster from a given amount of uranium fuel than any other known country.

Thanks to this high "neutron flux," Canada's device can produce radio-active isotopes "hotter and smaller" than those producible anywhere else. For example, radio-active cobalt for treating cancer can be prepared in tiny wafers totalling four ounces, yet packing the radio-active punch of virtually the entire world supply of radium.

Secret of Canada's championship so far in the reactor field lies in the "core" of the reactor structure.

This core is a cylindrical vessel about 10 feet high and eight across. In it are 176 uranium metal rods—the "fuel" of the furnace—and these are immersed in a special kind of water called "heavy water."

The Record Short Story THE SURVIVAL TEST

By ISABEL JOHNSTON

"But I never dreamed you would object," Diane protested with the passion of a thwarted 18-year-old. "Bartwell says Mrs. Kosloff's houseparties are famous! Bartwell says she serves cocktails by the swimming pool. He says all sorts of celebrities drop in."

"I'm sorry," Mrs. Hanley refused to be moved by Diane's hurt, brown eyes.

"But why, Mother, why?" Diane demanded. Mrs. Hanley took a moment to answer. She did not want to tell Diane her main objection was Bartwell Sanders himself — at least, for a young girl like Diane. Bartwell was the son of wealthy, divorced parents. He had been educated in schools, hotels and at cocktail parties all over Europe, South America and the Orient. In a dark, pale, night club sort of way, he was extremely handsome, but too pale, too blasé — a young man with too much money to spend. He wasn't the wholesome American boy Mrs. Hanley wanted for Diane.

"For one thing," Mrs. Hanley pointed out, "you don't know Mrs. Kosloff, and she hasn't written a note, inviting you."

"But people don't go in for all that stuffy, formal stuff nowadays," Diane argued. "She told Bartwell to bring a girl—and I'm darned lucky he's bringing me."

"Besides, your father and the boys and I have planned a family camping trip this week-end."

"A family camping trip when I could go to one of Mrs. Kosloff's houseparties!"

In the end Diane, almost in tears, went to the study to telephone Bartwell. After a few minutes, Diane called hesitantly from the study.

"Can Bartwell come camping, too? If I'm going, he says he wants to come along."

"Of course, we'd love to have him," Mrs. Hanley agreed enthusiastically.

Her enthusiasm was sincere. Here was her chance to cure Diane of her infatuation, Mrs. Hanley decided. She would hide her disapproval of Bartwell and be charming to him—but the woods would show him up. Mrs. Hanley could picture how a young man, soft from cocktail parties and night clubs, would act on a primitive camping trip.

If Diane's interest could survive such a spectacle—survive—the word gave her an idea—a wicked one perhaps, but all for Diane's good. It didn't take more than a hint to get Bob and Dick enthusiastically planning to make the last day in camp—a survival test. She let the boys select the campsite where they had practiced survival tactics on a boy scout outing. She cautioned them to say nothing to Diane.

Young and forgiving, Diane dismissed her regrets about missing Mrs. Kosloff's party in the happiness of having Bartwell coming with them.

A week-end practically alone with Bartwell did have its points — and Diane did not notice that Mrs. Hanley took fewer supplies than usual. The boys whispered and giggled—but as usual Diane ignored them. To spare Diane too much humiliation, Mrs. Hanley told Diane a luxury touch of steak for the first camping meal.

When Bartwell presented Mrs. Hanley with an expensive camping icebox, Mrs. Hanley was very gracious in her thanks. It would be heavy to carry—and she let him carry it. He was also laden with a guitar, a shiny knapsack and other fancy equipment, obviously newly purchased for a luxury camping trip. Climbing to the campsite he had no hands free to give Diane gallant assistance—or even light a cigarette.

On their arrival at the camping site, Mrs. Hanley was equally sweet when Bartwell brought out a bottle and insisted on mixing cocktails—even those served in paper cups, but Mrs. Hanley noted with satisfaction that he couldn't make a fire burn. He was full of charm, however, and flattered young Dick, listening to Dick's instructions on fire-making.

After the hike to the campsite even Bartwell, used to late hours, was glad to turn in early. Next morning Mrs. Hanley hid a smile when Bartwell brought out a camp shaving kit. Diane loyally insisted

When Diane and Bartwell returned, Bartwell was scratched, his clothes torn but he was still smiling. Diane was a bit quiet. Of his own accord Bartwell joined Mr. Hanley fishing. Triumphant he returned with one fish. He insisted on cleaning it himself and considerably helped Mr. Hanley clean the rest.

It was well into the early afternoon before the boys returned with the food for the survival meal. Plantain, wild sweet peas and other weeds Mrs. Hanley could not identify. Bartwell helped the boys scrape the salsify roots for boiling.

The fish, of course was familiar, but the rest of the menu was rather strange. The meal was eaten with much laughter and occasional grimaces. After dinner, Diane cornered her mother.

"You did it on purpose. You tried to make a total flop of this trip for Bart!" she accused her mother.

"Be a good sport about it—after all maybe Bartwell will be, too." Diane stamped back to Bartwell.

"I want to apologize for this survival dinner," Mrs. Hanley heard her telling Bartwell, "the boys planned it as a big, stupid joke."

Mrs. Hanley was startled to hear Bartwell laugh and then turn very sober.

"In my whole life I've never been on a camping trip with a mother and father and kid brothers—and a girl like you," he said. "I think it was swell!"

"You do?" Diane demanded incredulously.

"Much more fun than the yakety yak at Mrs. Kosloff's parties! Don't you think so?"

"Why yes, I suppose I do," Diane faltered, gazing up at Bartwell adoringly.

It hadn't turned out as she expected. Diane's interest in Bartwell—and Bartwell himself—had survived the survival test! But suddenly Mrs. Hanley's heart warmed toward the over indulged rich boy who'd had so much—and so little.

OBITUARIES

MRS. D. M. MATHESON, OF SCOTSTOWN

Scotstown, Dec. 27.—The death occurred suddenly in Scotstown, on Friday, October 26th, 1951, of Mrs. D. M. Matheson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John MacKenzie, of Marsboro.

She was born on February 3, 1875, and married to Daniel Matheson of Marsboro, on June 27, 1906. The family lived in Marsboro until they moved to Scotstown in October, 1950. Mr. Matheson died July 7, 1942.

Mrs. Matheson is survived by four children, John, Margaret, Peter and Eva; one sister, Mrs. Wallace Jondro, of Roxbury, Vt.; and a brother, Mr. Alex MacKenzie, of South Hampton, Conn.; and a sister-in-law; five brothers-in-law; and several nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her parents, her sisters, Annie, Mrs. Conway, Kate, Mrs. John Aldrich, and brothers, Angus, Norman, James and John, and two who died in infancy.

Funeral services, following prayers at the family residence, was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, on October 28, with Rev. J. W. Smith officiating. Miss Kay MacLeod was at the organ. The 23rd Psalm was sung in Gaelic, also two hymns, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Interment was made in Marsboro Mills Cemetery.

The bearers were all nephews, Messrs. Donald Matheson, Allan Matheson, George Matheson, Lachlan Matheson, Hector Matheson and Lloyd Matheson.

The many beautiful flowers showed the esteem in which Mrs. Matheson was held.

Those from out of town, who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jondro, of Roxbury, Vt.; Mrs. William Askew, of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cheever, of Montpelier, Vt.; Mr. Lloyd Matheson, of Montpelier, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Hector Matheson, of Granville, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frattini, of Barre, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Matheson and Mr. and Mrs. Lechlan Matheson all of Lennoxville; Mr. and Mrs. George Matheson, of She brooke; Mr. Murdoch Matheson, of Maine; Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. Angus M. # Annual Concert Is Given By Meridians Choir

Derby Line, Dec. 27.—The Meridians, Boundary men's choir, presented their annual Christmas concert last Friday evening to a large and happy audience. The concert was notable for quality, variety, and also for a very delightful stage setting in the Haskell Opera House.

Besides the several groups of songs by the Meridians, there were songs by Miss Joan Crawford, a ten-year-old young lady with a lovely little voice. Miss Madeline Poulin sang "Jesu Bambino" and "Ave Maria, to the delight of all those present. A special added attraction was Denis Rodrigue, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Romo Rodrigue, of Rock Island, who played two Chopin numbers, "Minute Waltz" and "Waltz Minor," with a Rachmaninoff Prelude for an encore. The three special features were a sort of Christmas bonus that made the evening that much more enjoyable and increased the local indebtedness to the Boundary men's choir.

The choir was led by Jack St. Sauveur, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. St. Sauveur. The audience joined in the singing of three numbers, "Joy to the World," "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" and Luther's "Cradle Hymn."

The complete program follows: "The Star Spangled Banner," specialist at the St. Agate des Monts School, is the guest for the holidays season of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Deleuze.

The meeting of the Bridge Club which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Edmund Jess, on Stanbridge Ridge, has been postponed, until after the holidays.

The final meeting of the Bridge Club until after the holidays, was held on Tuesday evening, at the home of Miss Glenna Perrault, when the prize for the highest score for the evening, went to Mrs. L. Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blelock, together with their son, Wesley, left on Saturday to spend the Christmas week-end in Litchfield, Conn., guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Blelock.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Williams will spend the Christmas season as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Davidson, together with their son and daughter, of Montreal, were the guests for Christmas of Mrs. Davidson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ford spent the Christmas season in Montreal, guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ford.

"Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Joy to the World" and "Pleading" by the Meridians.

Miss Joan Crawford sang "White Christmas," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," followed by the Meridians singing their second group, "Jingle Bells," "Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Deep River."

Miss Madeline Poulin made her appearance at this point, and sang her two lovely songs in her usual splendid manner and voice. The Meridians then made their third appearance, singing "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," "Silent Night" and "The First Noel."

Denis Rodrigue played his piano solo much to the pleasure of the audience, and for their final group the Meridians sang "Bells of St. Mary's," Luther's "Cradle Hymn," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Oh! Come All Ye Faithful," and closed the concert with "O Canada."

These Christmas concerts by the Meridians are an important and worthwhile feature of Christmas at the Boundary, and the entire group deserve the congratulations and thanks of the public for making this annual appearance and bringing with them talented and varied extra features.

Christmas Tea, Sale Held At East Angus

East Angus, Dec. 27. — The Christmas tea and sale of the Senior Guild of Christ Church was held in the Club House, on Wednesday afternoon, December 12. Mrs. Thomas Mason, president, received the guests.
The Club Room was decorated for the occasion with a large Christmas tree, prettily decorated and lighted.
Mrs. John McFadden acted as cashier. Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. R. Willard were in charge of the fancy work and knitted articles, while Mrs. Warner looked after the raffie on the cake and ham and the sale of home-cooked food.
Mrs. Hodges was at the candy and mystery table.
Mrs. Herbert Lloyd and Mrs. G. Robinson presided at the tea table, which was centered with a potted cherry plant and red tapers, in silver holders, while the small tables were centered with lighted red tapers.

Members of St. Mary's Guild assisted at the tea hour, while Mrs. Jack Westgate, Mrs. Ernest Bowen and Mrs. Reginald Bailey, were in charge of the tea.
The rug that was made by Gerald Gaulin and raffied, was won by Mrs. MacInnes, of Montreal, the ham was won by Robert Mason and the Christmas cake went to Mrs. Henry Labonte.
The proceeds of the afternoon were very satisfactory.

LODGE MEETS
A regular meeting of Protector Rebekah Lodge, No. 34, met in the I.O.O.F. Hall, on Monday, December 17, with an average attendance.
Sister Isabel Rowland Noble Grand, was in the chair and opened the meeting in regular form. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.
A Christmas basket was packed for Miss Susanna Cummings, patient in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, in Sherbrooke.
Plans were made to hold a social evening, following the next meeting, which will be held on Monday, January 7. Members are asked by the Noble Grand, to bring a friend and lunch enough for two.

General Notes
The turkey raffied by the Odd Fellows, was won by Mr. Rance Rayes, and due to the bad weather, the card party, which was to have been held, by the Oddfellows, on Tuesday evening, December 18, was cancelled but will be held on Tuesday, January 27, and tickets previously sold will be good. The door prize will be drawn then.
Mrs. Ethel Stapan has left for Chatham, Ont., to spend the holidays with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stapan.
Mr. Fred Little is spending the Christmas and New Year holidays with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Little, in Oshawa, Ont.
Mrs. Fitzgerald and Miss Kay Fitzgerald were in Sawyerville, to attend the funeral of the former's brother, Mr. John Patrick McCarthy.
Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Beattie and son have left for La Tuque, where they will spend the Christmas holitake advantage of it much, as they would have liked.

This branch wishes to do its part of the County Project, at the Cookshire Fair, in August, and will notify the County Publicity Convener, just what it intends doing, at a later date.
The president had received a letter from Mr. J. A. Blanchette, M.P. in which he is going to bring before the Minister of Finance, the request of "Re-Sale Price Maintenance."
Another item discussed was the Council of Community Program. Annual report books were given out by the secretary.
Instead of the W.I. donating money towards the Christmas Treat, at the Community Tree, the president requested Mrs. Towers to decide, which would work to better advantage, as she kindly supervised the filling of the candy bags. She decided by stating that if each member made a certain amount of candy, and cut it in small pieces, it went further and packed to a better advantage. The members were very pleased to comply with her wishes.
A donation of $5 was given by the "Busy Bees Society" to buy dishes for community use. Mrs. V. Bell and Mrs. James Towers were appointed to see about purchasing the dishes and also use the remainder of the money received from a card party.
The W.I. donated $5 to the United Church Fund.
The business meeting, being over, the president, requested Mrs. Bell to read "A Prayer for the New Year," which she did very appreciably. This was followed by all singing "Silent Night."
The president asked Mrs. Irwin McBurney to act as auctioneer of the many little wrapped parcels, which had been donated by the members and were on and around the prettily decorated Christmas tree. This she did in a pleasing and capable manner, bringing gratifying results. Master Freddie Bryant and Miss Darlene Bain were very ready to supply the customers with their purchases.
The secretary was requested to send the regular Christmas cards to the aged friends and shut-ins.

Mrs. James A. Bellam kindly offered to attend to the parcels from the friends to Mrs. Ellen Blair, the eldest resident in town. These will be delivered on a little Christmas tree.
Mrs. Ray Waldron will supervise the sending of Mrs. Henry Stoddard's parcels, which will be prepared on a little Christmas tree or another festive manner.
The president in closing, wished the members and friends, a very happy Christmas and all the good wishes, which go for a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year.
A contest followed, by each one trying to throw three soft balls through a Christmas wreath. Mrs. Frank McConnell was the lucky winner.
Before the guests dispersed, cookies were served over a friendly cup of tea. In leaving a special "Thank-You" to the hostess brought a busy and pleasant meeting to a close, leaving the old year behind and with a desire to make the New Year better than the last year.

East Clifton W. I. Held Dinner And Fine Program

East Clifton, Dec. 27. — The Women's Institute held its Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Waldron, with nine members and several visitors, including several children, on Thursday, December 13.
A delicious dinner was served at the noon hour, by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Desmond Bain. The house looked very Christmassy, with its many decorations of wreaths and potted plants, giving it a festive appearance.
The meeting in the afternoon was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ray Waldron, with a Christmas program, opening with the singing of "Away In The Manger," with Mrs. James Towers at the piano, followed by "The Christmas Story," told by Darlene Bain. The members repeated in unison, "The Flag Salute," "The Opening Ode," "Many Sawyerville," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The motto was "We must not let the Christmas spirit come and go, but so live that it will come and stay." Roll call objection was to make and wear a Christmas corsage, and worn by the members.
The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. James Parkinson and were adopted as read.
Correspondence included a letter from Principal McGill, of the St. John's Sawyerville Consolidated School, announcing to the Women's Institute, that the prize, which they had donated on "Health" had been won by Stanley Bell, an East Clifton pupil.
The president brought before the members the necessity of advertising the principal at an early date for what the prize was to be donated in 1951-52. Mrs. Frank McConnell, convener of Education, requested that the prize for this term be donated for the highest marks attained in arithmetic, from Grade I to Grade X. The members being agreeable, the secretary was authorized to write to Mr. McGill on an early date.
Regarding the Christmas Short Course from December 27 to 31, at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, many felt that due to their own Christmas and New Year celebrations, they could not day, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jamieson.

Mr. Edward Tincarre spent a recent week-end in Newport, Vt., as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Currier.
Miss Margaret Hutchison and Miss Lockwood, of Sherbrooke, were in town to attend the Senior Guild Christmas tea and sale.
Mr. and Mrs. George Rowley are spending Christmas as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Rowley, at Terrace Bay, Ont.

General Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waldron and daughter, Nancy, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Waldron, at Sawyerville.
Mrs. Alice Bryant and Mr. Douglas Laroche, of Sawyerville, Miss Jean Picken, of Lennoxville, and the Messrs. Albert and Kenneth Luce, of Moe's River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Luce.
Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cairns and little son, Terry, were guests of Mrs. Leta Cairns.

BRIGHAM
Rev. C. Belbin, of the United Church of Canada, conducted the services in the United Church on Christmas Sunday. The Farnham Sunday School took charge of the service on the 18th and presented a Christmas pageant.
The Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahannah for their December meetings. At the close of the Ladies' Aid meeting, the W.M.S. held a candlelight service. Twenty-five members and friends were present.
A Christmas party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hawk for the Sunday School.
Mr. and Mrs. Clark Powers are spending the Christmas holidays at Bishopton, the home of Mrs. Powers' father, Mr. Benton Gilbert.
Rev. Norman Hillyer, Mrs. Hillyer and son Bruce, of Montreal, are Christmas guests at the home of Mrs. Hillyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thomas.

Waterville Couple Celebrated 55th Wedding Day

Waterville, Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Abram Foote were feted at the home of their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson, on Sunday, Dec. 15, on the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary, by members of their family and many friends.

The decorations were carried out in the Christmas colorings. The dining table was covered with a lace banquet cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, which was made and decorated by Mrs. Davidson, and flanked by lighted red candles in silver holders.

Tea was poured by Mrs. J. W. Foote, of Hatley, and Mrs. Fred Bell.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Todd, of Compton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foote, of Hatley.

The bride and groom of 55 years ago were the recipients of many beautiful gifts and congratulatory messages.

Fordyce Farm Forum Held Xmas Party

Cowansville, Dec. 27.—Fordyce Farm Forum held a Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Beattie and enjoyed a hot dish supper. Over thirty members and friends were present.

The tables looked lovely with their Christmas decorations and groaned beneath their load of delicious food. After the sumptuous repast the next item on the program was the prettily decorated tree with a present for everyone.

Recitations were given by the Misses Marilyn Miner, Helen and Margaret Mason and Master Wesley Mason. Violin selections by Miss Muriel Hockins, of Sherbrooke, accompanied by Miss Isabella Beattie at the piano.

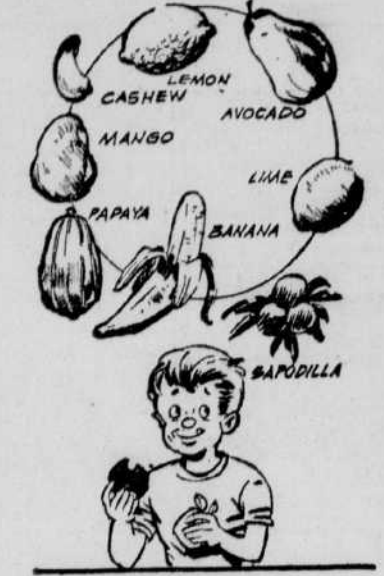

Christmas carols brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

The chairman, Mr. Reginald Miner, on behalf of the gathering thanked the host and hostess for their hospitality and extended best wishes for a happy holiday. The next meeting will be held on January 7 at the Ingalls home in Stanbury.

The Children's Corner Food From Far Away

FOOD hunters have taste-tested their way around the world to bring many strange tropical fruits to American stay-at-homes.

More than 100 different tropical fruits are now well established in Florida and California. Some of the fruits have become commercially important and many others hold great promise for the future. While most of them must grow in the relatively small area of our sub-tropics, improved methods of quick freezing may soon bring these exotic fruits to our grocery stores.

MANGOES should soon appear on fruit counters, for improved varieties are being planted commercially. Tasting like a mixture of pineapple, peach, and plum, the mango has been thought too juicy to ship well, but new strains have overcome this drawback. When large groves now planted come into bearing, the present luxury price will be lowered and the mango should become widely popular.

Three sub-tropic fruits now being perfected have bright futures, according to the experts. The Barbados Cherry, besides being very good to eat, contains 100 times as much Vitamin C as a like weight of oranges. The litchi, once dried and imported from China is a strange scarlet fruit with its seed outside and a crisp grape-jelly like center where the seed might be expected to be. Gauava, from which excellent jellies are made, has been cross bred until its disagreeable odor when fresh has been eliminated. The new gauava is said to smell more appetizing than fresh strawberries.

THE long list of tropical imports includes many familiar fruits such as oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, coconut, and several kinds of bananas. Less well known items are sea-grape, large grape like clusters of fruit used for jelly and jam that are borne on a woody shrub; the cashew, which has the popular and tasty nut growing on the outside like an edible comma; the Surinan, cherry, with an acid, aromatic pulp; the papaya, tasting like a cantaloupe; the sapodilla from Mexico whose sap is the chicle of which chewing gum is made and which tastes like a taffy apple; the sapota bearing green apple-like fruits, and the soursop that is good raw, cooked or made into ice cream!

Most successful tropic import is the avocado, grown in the U. S. for more than a hundred years. Popular as a salad, 60 million

DANVILLE

Mr. Harry Marek and Mr. John MacDonald motored to Laconia, N.H., and were accompanied home by Mrs. Marek who spent a week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Shaw after her husband's funeral.

GLENBURN

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Langlois and Mrs. Mary Aldrich were guests of Mrs. Robert Musty and family.

Mr. Albert Davis, of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musty. Mr. S. Berwick was also calling at the same home.

Mrs. H. R. Ross, of the Brompton Road, has returned home, after spending two days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Savage.

Mrs. Hugh Savage spent a night at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wells.

KINGSEY FALLS

Miss Marion Gifford spent a week-end in Montreal recently. Master Brian Frost spent several days with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frost, and family in Danville.

The Brownleigh-Kingsey Falls Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Leith on, December 18. In the absence of the president, Mrs. F. Brown conducted the meeting. A Christmas carol was sung in opening followed by Scripture reading from Matthew, Chapter 2. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Business items were discussed and the treasurer reported that pennies saved for missions by members during 1951 amounted to $34.32. The meeting closed with another Christmas carol and the Mizpah benediction. All the members were hostesses and a lunch and pleasant social hour were enjoyed.

QUEBEC EPSILON CHAPTER, BETA SIGMA PHI

The Quebec Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its regular meeting at Rockcliffe, on Monday evening, December 17.

Mrs. Howard Brooks, president, was in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report were read and adopted.

After a short business meeting, the XI Exemplar joined the Quebec Epsilon Chapter for a Christmas program, which proceeded as follows: Two vocal solos, "The Virgin Slumber Song," by Max Regier; Schubert's "Ave Maria," sung by Mrs. Gerald Spafford; a short story entitled "The Undelivered Letter," read by Mrs. G. Rheume; a poem, "The Usual Way," recited by Mrs. Guy Blanchette. Christmas carols were then sung in unison.

The next interesting feature was the despoiling of the Christmas tree by a member who was dressed as Santa and distributed a gift to each member from her secret pockets.

The Christmas party followed when a very enjoyable social hour was spent while partaking of the refreshments.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. G. Rheume, Amherst Street, on Monday, January 7.

MYRTLE REBEKAH LODGE

The regular meeting of Myrtle Rebekah Lodge, No. 28, was held in the Gertrude Scott Hall, Lennoxville, on Wednesday evening, December 19, opening in regular form with Sister E. Edgecombe, N.G., presiding.

The Noble Grand extended a hearty welcome to two new members, also to several visitors and others who had been unable to attend lodge for some time.

Several Sisters were reported ill. The roll call of officers took place following which bills were ordered paid. "Thank you" notes and letters were read from members and others who had received gifts and donations, also a large number of Christmas greeting cards received from out-of-town members and friends.

Sister B. Hirtle and Sister A. Taylor thanked lodge and members for cards received.

There being no further business the meeting closed in regular form. Members attending the community party were asked to help serve refreshments. Due to children's parties it would be difficult for many parents to attend the community party.

After the regular meeting the officers and members held a very enjoyable Christmas party.

The party was complete with Santa, (impersonated by Sister Wells) and a Christmas tree laden with presents given by the members to each other, and the hamper of gifts for shut-ins.

Sister Neeley, P.D.O.P., convener of entertainment, assisted by Sister D. Pearce, V.G., had arranged a very attractive program consisting of duets and short skits.

Those taking part included Sisters Irene Hadlock, Irene Cathcart, Elaine Cathcart, P. Rowe, D. Pearce and Neeley, P.D.D.P., Sister M. Walton, P.N.G., acting as musician. Everyone took part in the singing of Christmas carols and songs.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Sisters M. Povey, Morey, Winget, Stanford and Edgecombe, assisted by several others, the tables looking very gay, decorated with pine cones and tall red and green candles.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all and hearty thanks were voiced to the Sisters who had helped in any way towards the success of the Christmas party.

Cowansville Home And School Group Decides To Leave Holiday Unchanged

Cowansville, Dec. 27 — The monthly of the Cowansville Home and School Association was held in the High School. Owing to the extreme cold weather, the attendance was not as large as usual.

The president, Mr. Gordon Shuffelt, conducted the meeting and routine business transpired. The matter of the traffic problem, so widely discussed at the last meeting, was left in the hands of the Town Council, after a letter written by Mr. J. J. Bertrand, M.P., on behalf of the Association, had been sent to the Council.

A motion made by Mr. A. Grey-born expressed the desire of Association to work as closely as possible with the School Board and advised the members of the Association to show their interest by attending the School Board meetings.

A roll call of parent attendance showed the largest number of parents present from Grade III. Two very interesting films were shown entitled "Why Won't Tommy Eat" and "Children Act Their Age," dealing with various common problems arising in bringing up small children.

A suggestion made by Westmount Home and School Association that the Easter vacation be shortened and that three days' holidays be given in mid-winter was voted upon and Cowansville voted in favor of leaving the Easter vacation as it is now.

A pleasant closing of the meeting was a singing of Christmas Carols conducted by Mr. Guy Cousens with Mrs. Cousens at the piano.

Refreshments were served in the lunch room, with the committee in charge.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of Emmanuel Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Johnson with the president, Mrs. R. F. Stockwell in the chair. After all bills were paid and obligations met, a nice balance was on hand. Money was voted for Christmas gifts.

Rev. Mr. Fee took the chair for election of officers which was as follows: President, Mrs. L. S. Henderson; secretary, Mrs. F. E. Johnson; treasurer, Miss Alice Draper. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Birthday Party Held At Boundary

Rock Island, Dec. 27. — Mrs. W. B. Dustin entertained a number of young people on Tuesday afternoon, December 18, in honor of the 7th birthday of her daughter, Beverly.

The guests arrived after school each bringing a prettily-wrapped gift. These Beverly excitedly opened, surrounded by her friends.

This was followed by supper served in the dining room, where the table was lovely with a Christmas cloth, centered with a miniature Santa, sleigh, reindeer and evergreen trees on each side were red candles in crystal holders.

These were lighted and the children enjoyed eating by candlelight. At each place was a Santa and Rudolph with each guest's name written on the latter. Red and green Christmas crackers completed the decorations. When all were seated Mr. Dustin took flash pictures of the happy occasion, as a remembrance for years to come.

Supper included the traditional cake trimmed in white, green and red. Games were played until time to have been a very successful year, and all obligations met with a balance on hand. The new officers for the year were Mrs. T. Foster, president; Mrs. George Brown, vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Smith, secretary; Mrs. Ogden treasurer. Refreshments were served and a social hour was spent.

SENATORS DOWN SAINTS 4-2; BRAVES HERE TONIGHT

Locals Stage Close Battle With Durnan's Squad; Fabi And Fils Donate $25 For Tonight's Drawing

Ottawa, Dec. 27.—(P)—Ottawa Senators last night defeated the cellar-dwelling Sherbrooke Saints 4-2 in a rough Quebec Senior Hockey League game before a crowd of 3,300.

The win gave Senators sole possession of fourth place, one point ahead of Montreal Royals who tied 4-4 with Quebec Aces. Sherbrooke's bus was 50 minutes late arriving, delaying the game 25 minutes.

Marksmen for the winners were Al Kuntz, Jackie Giesebrecht, Vic Grigg and Red Johnson. Defense-man Joe Lepine scored both the Saints goals.

A fight broke out in the penalty box in the final period between Ottawa's Bill Warwick and Sherbrooke's Tod Campeau after they were penalized for high-sticking. Misconduct penalties were added to the minors.

Sherbrooke's Bill Kyle was given a misconduct penalty later in the period for arguing over a roughing penalty to teammate Bill Wright. Wright was sent off with Ottawa's Red Johnson. Ottawa served four of the other six minor penalties.

Kuntz put Ottawa ahead at 3:14 of the initial period on a breakaway after taking relays from Butch Stahan and Jackie Giesebrecht. Giesebrecht made it 2-0 at 16:50, beating goalie Roger Bessette on a corner drive from 12 feet out.

Grigg scored from close in at 14:44 of the middle frame to give Senators a 3-0 lead. Lepine put Sherbrooke into the game at 16:41 on the first of two goals.

He picked up a loose puck at the Ottawa blueline and beat goalie Bill Fraser cleanly on a long drive. Johnson blasted the puck past Bessette for Ottawa's final goal at 17:53 of the third period and Lepine netched his second for Sherbrooke from a scramble with only seconds remaining in the game.

Sherbrooke—goal, B. Fraser; defense, Labrie, Sandalack, Lepine, Wright; forwards, Tremblay, McDougall, Kyle, R. Pepin, B. Pepin, Smith, Biggs, Campeau.

VALLEYFIELD HERE THIS EVENING

Toe Blake and his second-place Braves will be paying their third visit of the season here tonight. On their first appearance the teams battled to a 1-1 overtime decision while on their second visit the Braves emerged on the long end of a 4-1 count.

Tonight's game will be the last one this year as the Saints travel to Valleyfield, on wind up the year's activities on Sunday, before taking a week's lay off.

This evening the sum of $25 will be drawn. The usual $35, which is being donated by Fabi and Fils, plus the sum of ten dollars which wasn't claimed last week. The drawing will take place between the first and second periods.

I.B.C. Offers Matthews Shot At Maxim's Crown

New York, Dec. 27.—(P)—The International Boxing Club has offered Harry (Kid) Matthews a title shot at light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim—but all they heard from Jack Hurley, Matthews' manager, was silence.

The I.B.C. has most big cities lined up, but Matthews and Hurley have been campaigning outside I.B.C. territory with great success and are in no hurry to come to terms.

Matchmaker Al Weill of the I.B.C. said yesterday he had jumped an offer to Hurley from 15 per cent of the gate to 20 per cent if he would take a Feb. 22 date with Maxim for the title.

Weill added that if Hurley doesn't agree to the fight by the end of the week he's likely to lose his chance.

Burr Rides 305th Winner At Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 27.—(P)—Charlie Burr, the leading jockey in the United States, won the feature race at Tropical Park yesterday when he drove Lido Stable's Amphibien up in time to overhaul Easy Whirl and Three and Me at the wire in a photo finish. The race was at 11:16 miles.

It was the 17-year-old Burr's 305th win of the year.

Amphibien, lightweight of the field, under 105 pounds, paid $23.80, $11.80 and $6.20.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York: Roger Donoghue, 153, Yonkers, N.Y., stopped Vinnie D'Andrea, 148 1-2, New York (2).

Milan, Italy: Bobby Dawson, New York, outpointed William Poli, Italy, (10).

Victoriaville Men Set Hot Pace Atop E. T. Hockey League Scoring

Alain continues to set a hot pace atop the scoring statistics of the E.T. "A" Intermediate Hockey League, it is shown in the latest standings released by official statisticians "Chick" Whalley.

The Victoriaville forward has notched eight goals and the same number of assists for 16 points in six games. Five of his mates on the Tigers follow, Belhumeur and Theriault with 11 points, Newton and Proteau with 10, and Salvail, nine points. The statistics include Sunday's games.

Rangers Shut Out Red Wings For First Loss On Road; Rookies Do The Job As Canadiens Edge Leafs

New York Rangers, who haven't been doing too well in front of the home-town folks this National Hockey League season, presented the Broadway faithful with a delayed Christmas present last night—a stunning 1-0 victory over the league-leading Detroit Red Wings.

And for the Blueshirts, it couldn't have come at a better time. There were 13,556 fans on hand—largest of the season in New York. It was Detroit's first loss away from home this season and it was Ranger goalkeeper Chuck Rayner's first shutout.

In addition, it broke a last-place deadlock with the idle Chicago Black Hawks.

The loss for Detroit wasn't too tough a blow. The second-place Toronto Maple Leafs failed to take advantage of the Wings' setback as they dropped a 3-2 decision at Toronto to Montreal Canadiens in the other game of the night. Detroit still holds its 13-point edge over the Leafs.

Winger Ed Slowinski was the marksman at New York, scoring early in the first period. The Blue shirts peppered Wing goalkeeper Terry Sawchuk with 38 shots compared with 21 saves by Rayner as they outplayed the leaders almost throughout the 60 minutes.

Canadiens came from behind a 2-1 second-period deficit to gain their victory in a sluggish game before 13,155 fans.

Canadiens played without Rocket Richard, sidelined due to a groin injury. But his replacement, Dick Gamble, on the Elmer Lach-Bert Olmstead front wall, made up for his absence. The rookie from Moncton, N.B., scored the game-winning goal with less than three minutes remaining.

Paul Meger sent Canadiens into a 1-0 first period lead at 18:55. Leafs came up with two goals in the middle session with Harry Watson and Ted Sloan the scorers. Geoffrion tied it up at 1:50 of the third.

Larry Kwong Tallies Three Goals To Lead Braves To 6-1 Win Over Shawinigan In One-Sided Affair

Valleyfield, Que., Dec. 27.—(P)—Larry Kwong last night scored three goals as Valleyfield Braves downed sixth-place Shawinigan Falls Cataracts 6-1 in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game here.

Some 2,500 fans witnessed the game. The win put Valleyfield in sole possession of second place with 36 points, one ahead of the idle Chicoutimi Saguenays.

Rosaire (Kitoute) Joannette, Paul Saindon and Paul Larivee scored the other Valleyfield goals. Billy Arcand got Shawinigan Falls' sole effort.

Joannette put Valleyfield ahead 1-0 just past the halfway mark of the first period on passing play with Andre Corriveau which completely fooled goalie Al Millar. Saindon went in alone to increase the lead at the 16:31 mark of the period.

Valleyfield led 4-0 at the end of the second on goals by Kwong. He

Tigers At Home To Pirates Tonight And Waterloo Plays At Magog Aces

Two games are scheduled in the E.T. Intermediate "A" Hockey League tonight, Drummondville journeys to Victoriaville in its third attempt to halt the league-leading Tigers. The other game will see Waterloo Maroons playing at Magog.

Drummondville Pirates have played two games against Victoriaville to date, dropping the first, 7-2, and fighting to a 5-5 draw in the other. The Tigers are unbeaten in six starts but should have their hands full fighting off the bid of the second-place Drummondville crew.

Magog will be out for its first victory of the season at the Telle Town tonight when last year's E.T. champions, the Maroons, try to replace Richmond in third place in the league standings.

Two games are also scheduled for Friday night. Sherbrooke plays at Waterloo and Victoriaville journeys to Windsor Mills.

All teams with the exception of Sherbrooke play Sunday. Waterloo plays at Richmond, Windsor Mills at Drummondville and Magog at Victoriaville.

Chamberlain Given Leave Of Absence

Vancouver, Dec. 27.—(P)—Coach Murph Chamberlain of Vancouver Canucks was given leave of absence today to attend business in the east and there were indications he may not return to the Pacific Coast.

Coley Hall, owner of the Pacific Coast Hockey League team, said: "I have given Murph a two-weeks leave of absence. He will fly to the east tonight. Any further statement about his connection with the Canucks will have to come from him."

Coaching duties on the seventh-place team were taken over, temporarily at least, by Hugh Currie. Later, in a statement, Chamberlain said: "Recently I purchased a feed-mill business with another fellow in the East. We have just lost $12,000 in the deal and they want me back there to help straighten out a few things.

"It might take 10 days, maybe only a week. It might take all my time. However, I will say this: I have no other hockey interests apart from the Canucks."

Chamberlain, a former National Hockey League star, was appointed coach of the Canucks in November last year. At that time he was released at his own request as coach of Charlottetown Islanders of the Maritime Senior Hockey League.

It was presumed that he was

Arcaro's Dad Arrested In Gambling Raid

Erlanger, Ky., Dec. 27.—(P)—Northern Kentucky's first gambling raid netted Pasquale Arcaro, identified by police as father of Jockey Eddie Arcaro.

The raid was conducted at Arcaro's restaurant and bar.

Pasquale Arcaro, listed as owner of the establishment, was cited to appear in court on a charge of permitting gambling on his premises.

Police confiscated several race result sheets and some unissued betting tickets.

Aces And Royals Tie 4-4 In Overtime

Quebec, Dec. 27.—(P)—Winners of their last five games, Quebec Aces last night were held to a 4-4 Quebec Senior Hockey League overtime tie with Montreal Royals before a crowd of about 11,500 fans.

The league-leading Aces had to come from behind a two-goal deficit to tie the score.

Rookie Claude Robert scored twice for Aces while singletons went to Martial Pruneau and Jackie Leclair.

Jacques Locas, Les Douglas, Art Rose and Lulu Denis scored for Royals.

The tie left Aces with 40 points, four more than Valleyfield raves who whipped Shawinigan Falls 6-1. Royals dropped into fifth place in the standings with 33 points, one less than Ottawa Senators, who defeated Sherbrooke 4-2 and the idle Chicoutimi Saguenays.

Royals got off to a 2-0 start in the first period when they took advantage of Quebec defence lapses. Gerry Couture set up Royals' first marker with a net goal-side pass which Locas lifted into the Quebec goals.

Late in the period, Douglas topped a three-way passing play with linemates Rose and Bob Fryday inside the Quebec blueline with a 10-foot back-hand shot that found the bottom of the cage.

Aces came back to tie the score in the third period, but Royals moved ahead 3-2 with little more than two minutes to go.

Robert scored his first goal early in the period on a screen shot from directly in front of Jacques Plante's nets after taking Herbie Carnegie's pass. Leclair also assisted.

Rose connected for the Montrealers at 17:55 when he took Bill Gould's pass from behind the Quebec nets. Jean Marois made the stop but Rose beat him on his second assist of the night on the play.

Denis made it 4-2 for Royals early in the third period on a passing play with Locas and Couture. Aces started to roll once more, with Robert scoring his second goal of the game after a face-off netted Montreal territory. Carnegie and Leclair assisted.

Leclair tied it up late in regulation time when he split the Montreal defence on a solo dash and blasted a hard, low shot between Plante's legs.

There was no scoring in overtime.

Quebec showed a strong edge over Montreal, outshooting them 39-20.

Only two minor penalties were handed out by referee Pen Bennett in the fast, clean game. They were to Dugger McNeil of Montreal in the second period and to Copper Leyte of Quebec in the overtime.

Hurler Rogovin Had Best E.R.A. In A.L.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—(P)—The American League today acclaimed its first "big six" pitching crop of 20-game winners in 29 years and heralded a "sleeper" as 1951's most efficient moundman.

Official statistics for last season certified Saul Rogovin of Chicago White Sox, a 12-game winner, as the earned run champion with a sparkling 2.78 average.

Rogovin, 28, a righthander, was the 21st of Pale Horse Pilot Paul Richards, who obtained him early in the season from Detroit as a "sore-arm'd" plodder.

The 205-pound Brooklyn native responded with the sharpest pitching in the major leagues. His E.R.A., coming as he allowed only 67 unaided tallies in 217 innings, topped the 2.88 with which Boston Braves' rookie Chester Nichols led the National League. Rogovin lost eight games.

Not since 1922 had the American League produced as many as six 20-game winners in a single season.

The winningest 1951 pitcher was Cleveland's Box Feller with 22-8.

Rounding out the select six were Eddie Lopat and Vic Raschi of the champion New York Yankees with 17-9 and 21-10, respectively; Cleveland's Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, each with 20-13, and Ned Garver of St. Louis Browns with 20-12.

Lopat, the only left-hander in the big six, also was runner-up in the earned run department with a 2.91 average, the only other tosser to finish under the three-run level. Under a new rule, 154 or more innings were required for E.R.A. reckoning.

Cleveland, which folded at the finish despite its 20-game trio, led the team earned run average for the fourth straight year with 3.38. Chicago was second with 3.50 and New York third with 3.56.

Raschi was the strikeout king, whiffing 164.

Wynn, a 20-game winner for the first time in his career, was the season's work-horse, twirling the most innings, 274, and facing the most batters, 1,008.

New York's Allie Reynolds, who fired two no-hitters in a 17-3 record, led in shutouts with seven.

Richmond Wins Second Hockey Game By Defeating Windsor Mills 5-4

Richmond, Dec. 27.—Richmond last night won its second straight game in the young E.T. Intermediate "A" Hockey League season, turning aside a strong bid by the invading Windsor Mills Paper Makers, 5-4. With the win, Richmond moved into third place.

Richmond's other game was against the same team at Windsor when they copped a 6-4 overtime decision. Last night's contest was every bit as close.

Windsor took the lead early in the first period only to see the home team tie the score at 1-1 in the last minute of first-period play.

Richmond scored three more in the second period without a Windsor reply to hold a commanding 4-1 edge when the final frame began. Windsor roared back strong and tied the score at the 15-minute mark of the third period but an unassisted tally by Richmond's Bissonette at 17:46 broke the hearts of the visitors.

Austin Cook, of Richmond, led the scorers with two goals, while Durocher and Theroux scored once each for the winners. Laporte, Couture, Dionne and Guillemette counted for Windsor Mills.

Lineups: Windsor Mills: Goal, Murphy; defense, Dionne and Bachand; forwards, Laporte, G. Spenard and R. Spenard; alternates, Parker, Couture, Cloutier, Guillemette, Abaran, Goulet, Allard, Robinson and Lapierre.

Australia Virtually Wraps Up Davis Cup By Taking Doubles; Schroeder Turns In Poor Display

Sydney, Australia, Dec. 27.—(P)—Australia virtually wrapped up the Davis Cup today when its great doubles team of Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor slaughtered the United States best pair of Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert, 6-2, 9-7, 6-3.

The American debacle was a sad disappointment to the capacity crowd of 15,300 at White City Stadium. They had anticipated a hard fought tennis match.

The Australians now lead 2-1 in the best-of-five matches. The final two singles matches will be played tomorrow.

Schroeder, possibly weary from his fine stand against Sedgman yesterday, failed his youthful partner completely. Towards the last of the one-sided tilt Schroeder was a pathetic figure.

He scored only three places in the entire match to 17 by Trabert, 24 by the way and 19 by McGregor. The way he played today he will be extremely lucky to defeat Mervyn Rose in tomorrow's opening match.

Australia could well retain the cup by a 4-1 margin as Sedgman now is at the peak of his career and will be heavily favored to trim Vic Seixas in the final singles match.

While disappointed in the failure of his pair to make a better showing Frank Shields, captain of the U.S. team, refused to find fault with either.

As the match progressed it became difficult to see how the American pair ever conceived the notion they might upset the world's doubles kings. They looked like boys who had been sent out on a man's errand.

The last seven times Sedgman and McGregor served in the last two sets they yielded a total of only three points. McGregor wound up the affair with two blazing love games behind his amazing varied delivery. Sedgman was carried to deuce once in the second set, but his partner never yielded more than two points in any of his nine services.

There was disagreement among the Australian experts as whether Sedgman or McGregor performed more valiantly. Some insisted McGregor was more eye-catching, particularly in the opening set when he scored five clean winners on service returns. Sedgman's supporters declared their man was more consistently brilliant as the match progressed. There could be no disagreement about Schroeder being the goat.

In the first and third sets Ted's returns from service, particularly those to his backhand, were alarmingly poor. He committed a total of 29 nets in the three sets compared to 14 for Sedgman.
