freedom and love; yet ca le donia! he lov'd are thy valley of dark Loch na Garr.

Ah! there my young footsteps in infancy wander'd,
 My cap was the bonnet, my cloak was the plaid;
 On Chieftains long perish'd, my memory ponder'd,
 As daily I strode through the pine cover'd glade;
 I sought not my home 'till the days dying glory,
 Gave place to the rays of the bright polar star;
 For fancy was cheer'd by traditional story,
 Disclos'd by the natives of dark Loch na Garr.

Shades of the dead! have I not heard your voices,
 Rise on the night rolling breath of the gale;
 Surely the soul of the hero rejoices,
 And rides on the wind o'er his own Highland vale;
 Round Loch na Garr while the stormy mist gathers,
 Winter presides in his cold icy car;
 Clouds there encircle the forms of my Fathers,
 They dwell in the tempests of dark Loch na Garr.
