Kierans charges UN separatism sets Que. back

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson and Eric Kierans, a leading member of the Liberal opposition, Wednesday staged a bitterly phrased exchange in the provincial assembly, on the subject of separatism in Quebec.

Mr. Kierans, member of the assembly for Notre-Dame-de-Grace, asked the Union Nationale premier whether the government has a mandate to take the province out of Confederation.

Mr. Johnson called this and other statements by Mr. Kierans "the most demagogic and destructive" ever made on the general subject of Canadian unity.

Honesty demanded

MONTREAL (CP) — Manpower Minister Jean Marchand said Wednesday night that Quebec politicians who support the separatist movement should identify themselves as separatists during election campaigns.

Mr. Marchand, new leader of the Quebec caucus of federal Liberals, told the St. Lawrence-St. George Liberal Association: "I know of several people in the Liberal and Union Nationale parties who are using these parties only as instruments to reach separatist ends."

He said that if these individuals sincerely believe in pulling Quebec out of Confederation "they must also run as separatists and say 'I am speaking as a separatist' at election time."

Rent bill nearly law

QUEBEC (CP) — The legislative assembly Wednesday gave third reading to an amended bill aimed at protecting Montreal area tenants from landlords seeking to make exorbitant profits from the exported Expo 67 tourist boom this summer.

The bill now needs only to be approved by the legislative council, Quebec's upper house, and sanctioned by the lieutenant-governor to become law.

Troops to stay

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Hellyer said Wednesday Canada will maintain troops in Europe for the foreseeable future. There now are about 11,600 Canadian soldiers and airmen serving in Europe.

The minister was replying in the Commons defence committee to Harold Winch (NDP — Vancouver East) who asked why, in view of the changed political situation in Europe, there has been no indication by Canada of a troop withdrawal or reduction.

Surprise move

LONDON (Reuters) — The Soviet and British prime ministers in a surprise move today held highly confidential talks on Vietnam.

Alexei Kosygin and Harold Wilson called off a scheduled full session with officials and met in private as the search for a Vietnam peace breakthrough intensified.

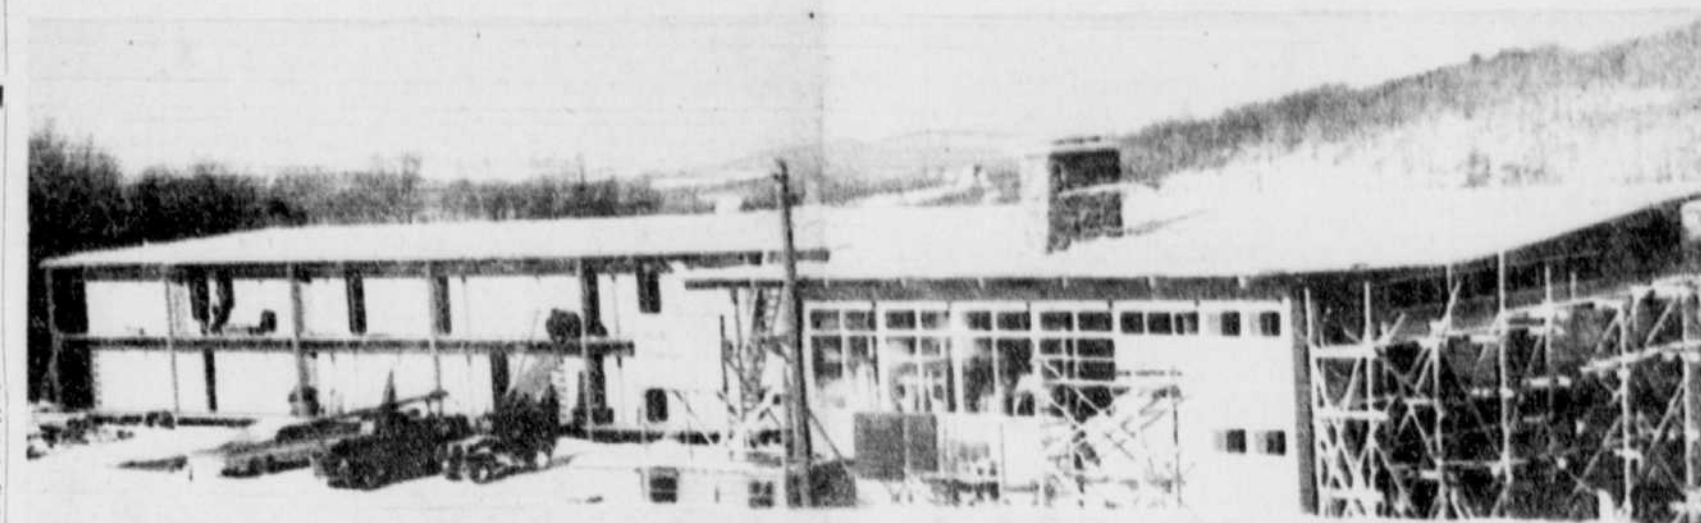

Seeks long truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told Pope Paul that the United States is participating in "intensive efforts" to extend the current ceasefire in Vietnam into a prolonged truce for peace negotiations.

But administration officials said privately that despite a possible brief extension of the ceasefire they are skeptical of a possible breakthrough toward a peace settlement at this time.

Guests and staff escape Sutton blaze

Inn manager lost after fire

SUTTON — The manager of the Foot of the Mountain Inn here was missing following a blaze which completely destroyed the hotel early this morning.

Members of the Quebec Provincial Police are searching for 64-year-old Oscar Kounen, a Swiss native, who was last seen by staff members last night at the switch board located on the building's ground floor.

The alarm was sounded at 2:20 this morning and the ruins were still smouldering at 9:30.

Sutton Fire Chief Sheldon Davis, who estimates that the fire caused a half-million dollars damage, believes that the fire started in a wastepaper basket in the women's toilet.

The chief said that staff employees had thought they had put out a fire in a wastepaper basket earlier in the morning.

Eighteen guests and 12 employees made their way from the flames into the 10-degree weather, clad only in night attire. There was only one known injury, Nicole Beaulois of Cowansville, an employee, who suffered cracked ribs in a leap from a second storey window.

Staff members and guests were brought to nearby lodges and motels. It was reported that some members of the staff were in shock, and under sedation.

Fire chief Davis estimated the loss at a conservative $500,000. This does not include four cars belonging to guests and a hotel truck that were also destroyed in the blaze.

The majority of guests were from Ontario on winter vacation at the ski resort.

All that remains of the hotel is the basement.

Wuhan radio reported that party, political and financial power had been seized in the Hupei city of Huangshi, a big power centre, Jan. 13.

Desertion of military men in Anhwei province was disclosed in an open letter to the Anhwei military district headquarters reported by Hufe radio.

Peking Radio reported today that opponents of Mao were trying to win control of Shanghai, China's biggest city, and called for an all-out effort to crush them.

The Japanese newspaper Asahi Shimbun said of Maoist groups were taking over the city, threatening to arrest and punish opponents of the Communist party chairman.

But they say that if Chinese actions, including the two-week long siege of the Soviet Embassy in Peking, continued with their present ferocity, a rupture could come with Russia declaring itself the aggrieved party.

The People's Daily, quoted by the New China news agency, also comments on the conclusion of U.S.-Soviet treaties on the use of outer space and fisheries, and "brutal force" against Chinese students in Moscow and an attack on the Chinese Embassy there.

"There are different events which have taken place in different places, but they all point to the same fact—the Soviet revisionist leading group are notorious traitors of the revolutionary people and kneeling vassals and pawns of imperialism," the article says.

In Moscow, the Soviet press gave wide coverage to foreign press reports that China was striving for a break in diplomatic relations "at any price."

But the Russian press organs made no comment on their own on these reports, although Russian observers believed the Kremlin would do its utmost to avoid taking such a step that would make final the split in the Communist world.

China greets new year with torn ideology

TOKYO (CP) — The Lunar New Year, normally a time in the capital Friday to be humiliated for his "anti-Maoist" sins.

Japanese correspondents in Peking speculated that this would be a preliminary to Chu's removal from the chairmanship of the standing committee of the National People's Congress, normally one of China's more powerful posts.

Another near-legendary figure in Chinese communism, Marshal Ho-lung, was accused of inspiring resistance to Mao in Szechuan province.

Treason' says China on Kosygin's UK visit

HONG KONG (Reuters) — China today accused Soviet leaders of being "notorious traitors of the revolutionary people and kneeling vassals and pawns of imperialism."

The latest verbal assault on the Kremlin, carried by the official Peking People's Daily, said Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin had humiliated himself in London and "worked in partnership with British Prime Minister Wilson to peddle the peace talks hoax of U.S. imperialism."

The People's Daily, quoted by the New China news agency, also comments on the conclusion of U.S.-Soviet treaties on the use of outer space and fisheries, and "brutal force" against Chinese students in Moscow and an attack on the Chinese Embassy there.

Island inferno toll could reach 100

HOBART, Australia (CP) — The death toll in Tasmania's disastrous bush and forest fires could reach at least 100, a senior police officer said today as flames roared out of the bush again to threaten more towns.

Firefighters battled to beat out the last flames from the holocaust which swept the island state Tuesday and killed a known 55 persons and left 3,500 homeless.

One new blaze raged today in the tinder-dry Derwent Valley, about 20 miles northwest of Hobart, the state capital.

Police said a sudden change of wind could send the flames roaring into Brighton army camp, where hundreds of refugees, their homes razed by the first fire, were sheltered.

Other outbreaks were reported at Bellerive in the Hobart suburbs and on the Tasman Peninsula 20 miles east of the city.

Weather forecasts offered little hope of rain before Monday. Prime Minister Harold Holt of Australia flew here today for a first-hand look at damage to livestock, crops and property, put by a first tentative estimate at about $14,000,000.

Replanting of farm areas and replacement of cows and other stock is expected to cost millions of dollars.

Strike move awaited

MONTREAL (CP) — At least two of Quebec's teacher strikes seem to be in a state of bitter deadlock and some form of provincial action may come today.

"Wait till morning," said Premier Daniel Johnson when he was asked Wednesday night whether a cabinet meeting was studying legislative measures to end the walkouts, which have left about 270,000 youngsters without instruction for weeks.

The Montreal Roman Catholic school commission earlier had formally withdrawn an offer made to its 9,000 striking teachers.

It said "the necessary emergency measures" were being taken "to assure pupils of the education to which they have a right."

Talk of such measures, added to Quebec City speculation as to what the cabinet planned in its meeting there, added up to more official "pressure" on the teachers, complained a top union official.

The Montreal teachers, on strike since Jan. 13 for higher salaries, had rejected the now-withdrawn commission offer earlier this week. A counter-proposal from the teachers was rejected by the school board Wednesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of a special House of Representatives committee looking into Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's qualifications to be seated said today they think the Harlem Democrat has hurt his chances by refusing to answer some of its questions.

Powell, acting on the advice of his lawyers, cited constitutional objections Wednesday as he refused to discuss his New York legal difficulties and charges he misused government travel funds.

PUSH-BUTTON TOYS STIFLE A CHILD'S IMAGINATION
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT M.D.

Toys should help children learn without knowing they are learning. Many modern toys stifle a child's imagination rather than stimulate his creativity. These are the toys that do only one thing, leaving the child nothing to do after he has pushed a button. Here is a list of some of the simple toys that have stood the test of time:

—Well-made building blocks in an assortment of shapes and sizes.

—Wood or plastic construction materials that fit together.

—Toys with which to play at being grown-up, such as dolls, stuffed animals (pets), dump trucks, doctor kits, carpenter tools and chemistry sets — all geared to the child's age and attainments.

—Simple materials for artistic endeavors — crayons, paints, slates, modeling clay and beads.

—Costumes or puppets for producing plays.

—Games that encourage the use of numbers, such as dominoes, parchesi or a toy watch.

—Equipment for exercising, such as tricycles, bicycles, skates, swings, scooters and wagons.

—Educational toys of all kinds, including nesting blocks, geometric design equipment, color-matching games, magnets, magnifying glasses and ant farms.

This is just a partial list of the many fine toys that will help your child develop interests, many of which he will keep throughout his life.

Q—What diseases do cats carry? I've heard they will lie on a baby's head and smother him and that swallowed cat hairs will turn into worms.

A—Mysterious deaths occurring in apparently healthy babies — the so-called crib deaths — have been erroneously attributed to many causes, including malevolent pets. The real cause of some of these deaths is an allergy to cow's milk. Worms are caused by swallowing minute eggs, not cat hairs.

Cats make fine pets but their bites or scratches, like those of any other animal, can become infected and should not be regarded lightly. And then there is the disease erroneously called cat scratch fever which is due to the introduction into a scratch wound (from a pin, thorn or claw) of a virus that was present on the skin at the time of the scratch. In the long run, human beings give cats more diseases than cats give humans.

WOMEN COMPLIMENTED

Mr. Bertrand, and those present, complimented the women on their work. Mrs. Worthen also added that Miss Lillie Eryou, Beebe, and Mrs. K. I. Curtis, Rock Island, have knitted many pairs of socks. Mrs. Harold Beane stated that Mrs. Worthen does all the machine sewing in her home.

The report of Disaster Preparedness noted a fire in 1966 where assistance was given to two gentlemen in clothing valued at $80, some food and wool blankets.

The wheel chair, bought in 1966, has been in constant use since date of purchase in July. The hospital bed is also in use. Equipment is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard Cass, R. N., Beebe.

Gerry Doulon will continue as Blood donor chairman and hopes that 1967, Canada's Centennial, will be a record year here at the Border.

CAMPAIGN

L. E. Roberge will continue as campaign chairman. The campaign will begin as soon as supplies are received from Montreal headquarters. Last year the amount donated here was $1,181.28, up from 1965. He hopes this year to do even better.

The annual Red Cross conference is taking place in Montreal on March 2 - 3 and it is hoped one or two delegate will represent the Branch. Plans are to have another meeting in the spring and if possible have a representative from the Provincial office, Montreal, as speaker.

MERIT BADGES

Applications have been made for three badges of merit from this branch, which will be presented when received. All officers and chairmen were named to continue in office for another year.

WORK DONE

Other work, sewing and knitting, is done by many in their home but Mrs. Worthen reports, "As of old our small group, (usually five workers), have met nearly every Monday afternoon for Red Cross sewing. We have received 18 shipments from Montreal Red Cross headquarters during 1966 and returned 18 shipments: 2,340 garments for children, (26 more than in 1965); 403 knitted articles; 150 baby blankets; 61 crib quilts; 52,375 wipes and 7,267 swabs making a total of 62,596 articles.

The baby blankets, one yard square, were all hemmed and crocheted around four sides by Mrs. Archie Bacon of Rock Island, who also made the crib quilts. Mrs. Charles Clark, Rock Island, has never stopped knitting sweaters after sweater.

Over 50 lovely sweaters were knitted by the Stanstead ladies under the convenship of Mrs. E. J. Curtis and Mrs. Harry Dolloff. The latter of Fitch Bay, who is totally blind, knitted six beautiful sweaters. Most of the wipes have been made at the Hunting Rest Home by Mrs. Claudine Hovey and her friends there. The one box of swabs we were able to finish were made by the work committee on Monday afternoons.

Snag Proof Ltd. Beebe, have made all the buttonholes and Homer Worthen has packed all our boxes, carried them to and from the railway station and delivers materials to anyone who wants it.

One of our faithful workers, Mrs. Alta Dustin, died in 1966 and two have been incapacitated by sickness. So we have been short of people to sew and any help in this line would be greatly appreciated. Once again the committee extends thanks to all who have helped in any way.

Boundary Red Cross groups hold annual meeting, submit reports

BOUNDARY — The annual meeting of the Rock Island-Stanstead-Beebe Branch of the Canadian Red Cross was held on Jan. 30 at the Del Monty Hotel. President Bertrand and Jacques presided over the session.

The report of the women's work as submitted by the chairman, Mrs. Homer Worthen, was another excellent one. For the past two years this section of the Province has led in women's work done. A great deal of the credit goes to Mrs. Worthen, who for the past 20 years has opened her home to women of the communities, willing to work for the Red Cross outside their homes, and a group of senior women do just this, enjoying the company of each other as they sew, make quilts and do other work.

CAMPAIGN

L. E. Roberge will continue as campaign chairman. The campaign will begin as soon as supplies are received from Montreal headquarters. Last year the amount donated here was $1,181.28, up from 1965. He hopes this year to do even better.

The annual Red Cross conference is taking place in Montreal on March 2 - 3 and it is hoped one or two delegate will represent the Branch. Plans are to have another meeting in the spring and if possible have a representative from the Provincial office, Montreal, as speaker.

MERIT BADGES

Applications have been made for three badges of merit from this branch, which will be presented when received. All officers and chairmen were named to continue in office for another year.

WORK DONE

Other work, sewing and knitting, is done by many in their home but Mrs. Worthen reports, "As of old our small group, (usually five workers), have met nearly every Monday afternoon for Red Cross sewing. We have received 18 shipments from Montreal Red Cross headquarters during 1966 and returned 18 shipments: 2,340 garments for children, (26 more than in 1965); 403 knitted articles; 150 baby blankets; 61 crib quilts; 52,375 wipes and 7,267 swabs making a total of 62,596 articles.

The baby blankets, one yard square, were all hemmed and crocheted around four sides by Mrs. Archie Bacon of Rock Island, who also made the crib quilts. Mrs. Charles Clark, Rock Island, has never stopped knitting sweaters after sweater.

Over 50 lovely sweaters were knitted by the Stanstead ladies under the convenship of Mrs. E. J. Curtis and Mrs. Harry Dolloff. The latter of Fitch Bay, who is totally blind, knitted six beautiful sweaters. Most of the wipes have been made at the Hunting Rest Home by Mrs. Claudine Hovey and her friends there. The one box of swabs we were able to finish were made by the work committee on Monday afternoons.

Snag Proof Ltd. Beebe, have made all the buttonholes and Homer Worthen has packed all our boxes, carried them to and from the railway station and delivers materials to anyone who wants it.

One of our faithful workers, Mrs. Alta Dustin, died in 1966 and two have been incapacitated by sickness. So we have been short of people to sew and any help in this line would be greatly appreciated. Once again the committee extends thanks to all who have helped in any way.

WOMEN COMPLIMENTED

Mr. Bertrand, and those present, complimented the women on their work. Mrs. Worthen also added that Miss Lillie Eryou, Beebe, and Mrs. K. I. Curtis, Rock Island, have knitted many pairs of socks. Mrs. Harold Beane stated that Mrs. Worthen does all the machine sewing in her home.

The report of Disaster Preparedness noted a fire in 1966 where assistance was given to two gentlemen in clothing valued at $80, some food and wool blankets.

The wheel chair, bought in 1966, has been in constant use since date of purchase in July. The hospital bed is also in use. Equipment is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard Cass, R. N., Beebe.

Gerry Doulon will continue as Blood donor chairman and hopes that 1967, Canada's Centennial, will be a record year here at the Border.

Flexibility features planned regional school

HOW IT WILL LOOK — A view of how the proposed Eastern Townships Regional School will look from the road. The low building to the right of the architect's scale model is the gymnasium complex. The three other buildings built around the central hub contain the classes, the shops and the labs. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

By PAUL WATERS
(Record staff reporter)

An architect's scale model gave parents and teachers at Monday's meeting of the Sherbrooke Home and School Association their first three-dimensional view of the proposed Eastern Townships Regional School near Lennoxville.

The final cost of the project, to be completed by 1969, has not yet been determined.

Regional Board Director Edward Perry said that Department of Education would give the board its budget after it had given the plans final approval.

Two unique features make the proposed school stand apart from all others in the province of Quebec, Mr. Perry told the Record.

First, there is no wing set aside specially for training in the trades and manual arts. Students will be grouped together regardless of academic standing.

"We don't want any group of students to be looked down upon or looked up to," Mr. Perry said, "we are more concerned that each student is following a course that meets his needs and that he is working to the best of his ability."

Built in five connecting sections, the massive three-storied complex is, in a way, six smaller schools in one.

The school consists of three large buildings built around and connecting a central hub. The fifth section is the gymnasium, and it too is joined to the central hub.

HOME ROOMS

Each of the three major buildings around the hub will contain two houses and each student will have a home room somewhere in one of these houses.

It is the "house system" that is the school's second unique feature. It is designed to keep the student from feeling lost in a huge impersonal school.

Mr. Perry explained each house will have a good cross section of classroom and labs and will give the student a "home base" from which to work and around which his extra-curricular activities will center.

It is not very likely, however, that the student will be able to receive his whole course in his own house. The labs and shops will be scattered throughout the school, Mr. Perry said. "We can't eliminate students' travelling," he continued, "even if we built a rectangular school, they'd still have to travel."

The school will have 56 classrooms, six of them designed for the mentally retarded. "We hope to be able to give these children the specialized training they need," Mr. Perry said, "and at the same time teach them how to get along in a society of normal people."

There will be two language labs in the school, as well as two labs each for chemistry, biology and general science. There are also two geography and history labs planned.

COMMERCIAL

For students taking commercial courses there are two commercial labs as well as a computer writing room, a business machine room, and rooms for office practice and stenography.

In the central hub building, which will house for the most part administrative offices, there will be an auditorium with a seating capacity for 600 students. The auditorium will be supplied with removable walls which will enable it to be made into four large classrooms.

Also in the hub building will be the school cafeteria and the huge school library which will have an audio-visual supply section. Also in the hub building will be four music rooms.

In the physical education department there will be two double gymnasiums and two athletic rooms. Mr. Perry explained that the athletic rooms will be smaller gymnasiums and will provide facilities for sports like wrestling and tumbling.

Red Cross assists family

BOUNDARY — (Special) — The disaster committee of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross says it is grateful to all to whom appeals were made for clothing for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Parker and their ten children, of Fitch Bay, who lost their home and most of its contents by fire on the morning of Feb. 2.

The children range in ages from eight weeks to twelve years.

The Fitch Bay representative of the Red Cross informed the chairman, Mrs. Jean Beasse, and the secretary, Mrs. Ivy Hatch, of the disaster, and immediately the committee went into action appealing for clothing and in a short time a quantity of good clothing in all sizes was donated as well as blankets and quilts and food.

The family was brought to the Rock Island Town hall and fitted, after which the Red Cross bought footwear for some of the children as well as a small amount of underwear. Six wool blankets were also contributed to the family from the Red Cross supply and the Red Cross paid for a supply of food.

The committee is grateful for donations of clothing and bedding, to the IGA store in Rock Island, also the Roderique Surplus store and Ovide Letourneau store for cutting prices and giving a ten per cent discount to the Red Cross for this worthy cause, to the Town of Rock Island for use of the hall and the police department for their participation and cooperation.

Denies flooding of textiles

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Winters denied in the Commons Wednesday that Australian textile manufacturers are "flooding" Canada with their products.

He told Maurice Allard (Ind—Sherbrooke) that Australian textile imports "amount to only $30,000 a year" and fall mostly in the category of high fashions.

Mr. Allard had said the Australians plan to flood the Canadian market and asked for details.

Says unrest harms P. Q. business climate

The business situation in the Sherbrooke Industrial Commission and the speaker.

Referring to this same subject was S. W. Hooper, who shared the responsibility of activity and strikes, said Sherbrooke alderman Paul Gervais last night at a joint meeting of the Sherbrooke Industrial Commission and the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Commission at the Social Club.

"Important industries have left the Province for these reasons and that is why the solution lies in creating a favorable business climate first," continued the speaker.

able political talk and legislation in Ottawa that could only have the effect of discouraging foreign investment in Canada, not only Quebec.

"However, we must be realistic and recognize that Quebec has additional problems to cope with. We need not apologize for that matter change the Quebec character, but we must accept the cold economic facts of life," explained Mr. Hooper, who heads S. W. Hooper Company in Sherbrooke.

"Unfortunately, the few highly vocal people who champion the cause of a separate Quebec are given a great deal of publicity by the press."

"It is surprising how much of this is to be found in the newspapers of other countries."

"I personally have seen this in England, Germany, France, the Scandinavian countries and of course the U.S."

"The people reading this publicity do not understand the Quebec situation and tend to misinterpret what they read," the speaker said.

The president of the Industrial Commission then compared figures between Ontario and Quebec for the period December 1965 to December 1966 in the value of construction contracts awarded.

The grand total for all sectors gave Ontario 2.68 to 1 ratio advantage over Quebec.

Mr. Hooper also underlined the fact of "a greater degree of instability in the labour market in Quebec," as a possible reason for investors' and new industries' shyness.

Zooming in on more local concerns, the president of the Sherbrooke Industrial Commission said that "during the period of 1955-65 . . . about 2,600 new jobs were created by new industry in Sherbrooke."

By the same token an equal number of jobs were eliminated by industry moving out for various reasons and modernizing through mechanization of certain manufacturing processes, he added.

"Each and everyone of you should be an ambassador for Sherbrooke, in your business and social contacts and in your travels," suggested the speaker as a way of improving the situation.

He drew the guests' attention to a pamphlet on Sherbrooke prepared by the Commission which was being distributed to them.

Tirade against RIN leader

Mayor raps separatist forces

"We should get rid of chronically sick and destructive forces like Bourgeois," said Mayor Armand Nadeau last night at the joint meeting of the Sherbrooke Industrial Commission and the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce at the Social Club.

In a tirade against the leader of the separatist RIN party Pierre Bourgeois, Mr. Nadeau shook violently and said that he found it deplorable that the CBC should give this man so much coverage.

"Instead of dirtying Quebec they should try and help it," shouted the mayor.

In a more complimentary vein, he said that never before in the history of this town has the climate of industrial promotion been so keen.

He described the president of the Industrial Commission, S. W. Hooper as being the city's "No. 1 salesman". Mr. Hooper was one of the guest speakers at the Social Club last night.

"You have to go outside of the city to find out what a fine reputation we have and this even beyond the Province of Quebec," the mayor said.

He referred to a conversation with Prime Minister Lester Pearson in which the Prime Minister had said that Sherbrooke was a very hospitable town.

"And here we glorify bilingualism and there is perfect understanding between the two cultures," he said.

According to Coulomb's lawyer, Jacques Page, Coulomb, at one time without a job, did not have money to go to Sherbrooke and file papers with the commission so that he could draw insurance.

Two months later the accused found himself a job and having the money he went to Sherbrooke and filed an application form. He promptly received payment of his UIC.

When the inspectors came it was learned that Coulomb had earned $410 while at the Belleville, Ontario. The girl, an Ayer's Cliff boy, also a minor, will be taken to Social Welfare Court at Sherbrooke, the girl's parents reported.

Reform, not scrap, existing system

Apparent determination of Premier Daniel Johnson to establish the presidential system of government in this province by 1970 comes from a number of reasons but undoubtedly one of the most important is a realization by the Premier that very few of his supporters in the Legislature may be considered of cabinet calibre.

Under the presidential system as it operates in the United States, the head of government selects his cabinet from persons who are not members of the legislature. Reasoning behind this is that the President can pick men of exceptional ability as his advisers without the necessity of considering their capabilities of winning favor with the voters back home.

This would eliminate Premier Johnson's present difficulties which compel him to place almost impossible burdens on two or three of his ministers by asking them to head several departments.

But temporary problems should not bring about the complete renunciation of a parliamentary system that has worked satisfactorily over the years.

Since it was established nearly 200 years ago the United States system has demonstrated many weaknesses and it is significant that many republics set up in other parts of the world have opted for a modification of the British parliamentary set-up rather than for the American plan.

France, Italy, Ireland, for instance, have felt it advisable to separate the duties of head of government from those of head of state. Under their constitutions the president is charged with fulfilling the tasks assigned to the Sovereign or his representative while the Premier carries on much as does the Premier of a Canadian province.

Thus the chief difference is that an elected president replaces a hereditary ruler for official functions.

One great weakness of the presidential system is that too often the executive branch of government is opposed politically to the legislative section.

Many a United States president has found himself unable to implement desirable legislation because Congress was dominated by political opponents.

There may be certain weaknesses in the British parliamentary system but has one great advantage over all others. It has the ability to adapt itself to changing conditions, providing the politicians are ready to let it show viability.

Thus there is no reason why changes cannot be made to correct and modernize procedure without completely junking established practices which have stood the test of time.

Compatriots condemn Separatists

One of the most striking developments on the Canadian political stage during the past few days has been the sudden anti-separatist campaign launched by two French-speaking members of the federal cabinet.

Speaking at widely-separated points in the Province of Quebec, Manpower Minister Jean Marchand and Resources Minister Jean-Luc Pepin have used such descriptions as "ignorant, unrealistic and childish" to describe their compatriots who believe that divorcing of this province from the rest of Canada would automatically remedy the grievances, real or imaginary, of the French-Canadian people.

Fortunately for Canada as a whole these strong words have come from men whose loyalty to their own race cannot be questioned, men who have been considered as among the leaders in the movement for the enhancement of the position of the French-Canadian in the life of Canada.

From this source the call for a united Canada may receive an understanding response from those residents of this province who might have been inclined towards separatism as something of a theoretical development.

Coming from members of the Anglo-Saxon leaders, the words might have done more harm than good, providing the radical elements within the separatist movement with additional examples of the refusal of the majority to realize the desires of the majority.

Perhaps the most interesting question in connection with the sudden pressure from the federal ministers may never be answered — that is why the campaign has emerged so suddenly.

Do Messrs. Marchand and Pepin believe that the separatist movement is making serious gains and that it must be stopped? Or do they believe that the secessionists have shot their bolt and the time has come for positive leadership in favor of Confederation? Or do they believe that the more excessive demands of the extremists may cause a revulsion of popular feeling against Quebec in other parts of Canada?

Or is it a combination of all three?

Those who try to appear somebody they're not fool nobody but themselves.

Enough to scare any youngster

Although chewing gum is not classified as a food, any parent of teenagers will be prepared to swear that it is consumed in large quantities every year.

Thus considerable interest will be shown in a proposal now being considered by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration which would compel manufacturers to list the ingredients now covered by the words "gum base."

These include gutta leche de vaca, masaranduba balata, nispero, jelutong, ter-pene resins, natural rubber and lanolin.

Add sugar, corn syrup, flavoring and softeners and you have a mouthful — and hardly enough room left on the average package to list the warning: "Caution: Chewing gum may be hazardous to the mental health of those about you."

But the sale of chemical dictionaries should go up sharply as adults and teenagers alike seek to determine just what the words mean.

Says Winnipeg natural for parley

The Conservative party hierarchy will meet in Toronto on February 12 to determine a date and a place for the party's leadership convention which everyone wants so badly. Five cities — Calgary, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City — and two university campuses — New Brunswick and Queen's — are said to be in the running.

Gordon Churchill, MP for Winnipeg South, is working hard to have the convention held in this city. He has many strong arguments on his side. There is the obvious one that Winnipeg is in the centre of the country, so that delegates from the far east and the far west will have to travel about the same distance, inflicting no undue travel hardships on people from any part of the country. The city can certainly handle a convention of this size without difficulty, as long as it is not held while the Pan-Am Games are on.

There are more subtle, though not less convincing, arguments in favor of Winnipeg. If Montreal or Quebec City were seriously considered, Mr. Diefenbaker's supporters within the party would be justified in asking for a change of venue on the ground that their candidate (if he runs) might not be assured of a fair trial in a province in which he is held in no lightly. On the other hand, if the gathering were to be held in Calgary or some other prairie centre, Camp followers could claim that a convention held deep in the heart of Diefenbaker territory was not to their liking. As for the university campuses, both pose serious accommodation problems.

Winnipeg therefore appears to be the logical and sensible choice, geographically and politically. It is situated in a province which has a Conservative government, but in which only about half the Conservatives appear to be pro-Diefenbaker. Although eastern Canadians tend to think of this community as part of the solid Tory prairies, the facts are otherwise: of the five MPs from the Metro area, one is Liberal, two are Conservative and two are NDP. The city is far enough removed from Diefenbaker territory to the west and Camp territory to the east to provide a reasonably neutral political atmosphere in which passions will not be aroused and cool sensibility can hold away.

The readers say:

Sir:

The first instalment of Premier Johnson's book, "Quebec, Equality, or Independence," which appeared in Montreal Star on Saturday at least served a useful purpose in that the Hon. Daniel, the prospective leader of the proposed, virtually independent "State of Quebec," has finally nailed his colors to the masthead, and declared for a complete disruption of our present national government association, with only sufficient of it remaining that would enable him to accept the obvious advantages, and deny any obligations. His presumptuous and chauvinistic utterances bear a considerable similarity to those of a Cardinal Richelieu, or a Talleyrand in previous eras, and are equally narrow.

It has a distinctly literary value in its clear verbiage, and gives evidence of being the product of a sound, if very badly misguided, mentality, but it remains the logical presentation of a subject stemming from a thoroughly wrong premise; which is that the French-Canadian people, and the Province of Quebec have been discriminated against, and dealt with unfairly, and have just grievances. Such an attitude can be nothing other than paranoid. Insofar as it has any other effect on the non-French-speaking portion of the population than the arousal of a thoroughly justifiable hostility, it would be that of the rattling of a few peas in a tin can.

He is quite similar to his fellow patriot Rene Levesque, in that he is very masterly in qualifying his proposals, even with their qualification by those whose thinking is radically different from his own, would appear as being seditious, and even treasonable.

That a prominent public figure, such as the Hon. Daniel purports to be, can get away with such attitudes, would seem to emphasize the complete failure of modern democratic government. It is high time that the large part of Canadian citizens of any ethnic origin whatever, who have a sincere regard for their native country, should grab the bull by the horns, face the situation, and perceive that such tactics when pursued by a strong minority, which consists of probably one third of the total; can, particularly when there are splinter parties, so disrupt the affairs of the nation that it inevitable leads to confusion and futility. This has been the real objective for many French politicians for many years, and which has been greatly accentuated in recent ones.

The Canadian nation, along with the United States, and the Western world is at the present moment faced with the imminent prospect of an economic recession of severe proportions, as evidenced by our very dangerous spiral of increased prices, cost of living, and labor troubles of a wholesale nature. Under the conditions which would then prevail, such a fanatic as Premier Johnson, with his crackpot ideas, could become a very dangerous factor indeed. Things could quite conceivably arrive at such a pass that it would become necessary for the welfare of the nation, and to avoid worse consequences that the Quebec constitution be, temporarily at least suspended, and a temporary government by an appointed commission be installed, possibly composed of some of the Federal French-Canadian leaders such as Pierre Elliot Trudeau, member of Mount Royal, Labor Minister Marchand, and Forestry Minister Sauve.

As an example of how history repeats itself, I am quoting herewith verbatim from the report of Lord Durham, who had been appointed by the British Crown to investigate and remedy if possible the reasons for the dissension in the Province of Quebec after the disturbances of 1837: "I expected to find a contest between a government and a people: I found two nations warring in the bosom of a single state (Upper and Lower Canada). I found a struggle not of principles but of races; and I perceived that it would be idle to attempt any amelioration of laws or institutions we could first succeed in terminating the deadly animosity that now separates the inhabitants of Lower Canada into the hostile divisions of French and English. It is difficult to comprehend the interference of the hatred which the difference of language, of laws, and of manners creates between those who inhabit the same village, and are citizens of the same state. We are ready to believe that the motive of the quarrel is something else; and that the difference of race has slightly and occasionally aggravated dissensions, which attribute to some more usual cause. Experience of a state of society, so unhappily divided as that of Lower Canada leads to an exactly contrary opinion. The national feud forces itself on the senses irresistibly, and palpably, as the origin or essence of every dispute which divides the community; we discover that dissensions which appear to have another origin, are but forms of this constant and all-pervading quarrel; and that every contest is one of French and English in the outset, or becomes so, ere it has run its course. The political dissensions, for which the vicious form of government has given too much cause, have for a long time concealed or modified the influence of the national quarrel. The national hostility has not assumed its permanent influence till of late years, nor has it established itself everywhere at once. The exasperation thus generated has extended over the whole of each race. The most just and sensible of the English, those whose politics always had been moderate liberal, those who had been advocating the most moderate policy in the Provincial disputes, seem from that moment to have taken their part against the French as resolutely, if not as fiercely, as the rest of their countrymen, joined in the determination again to submit to a French majority. A few of the French distinguished by moderate and enlarged views, still condemn the narrow national prejudices and ruinous violence of their countrymen, while the equally rest and violent and unjust pretensions of a minority and endeavour to form a middle party between the two extremes."

After all, are the conditions which prevail today very much different from those that prevailed 130 years ago?

PRO BONO PATRIA

By ADAM KELLETT-LONG

The main purpose of the bill was to prevent the multi-racial program from being a member of Parliament, from winning any of the four special parliamentary seats occupied by white members representing the 1,600,000 colored (mixed race) people in South Africa's Cape Province.

WON SEATS

In an earlier provincial election, white members of the Progressive party won seats as colored peoples' representatives. The bill's provisions would have meant total separation of the races in politics and the end of multi-racial political parties.

COMMENT

Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — "Any one who thinks that Canada is a nation," says William J. Keough, the Newfoundland Minister of Mines, Agriculture and Resources, "is on an LSD jag."

Many Canadians, I suspect will be offended by this brash statement and reject it with indignation. In my opinion, the Hon. gentleman may be right in one sense and wrong in another.

If what Mr. Keough has in Realistic definition

The qualifying clause of the second, and to my mind the more realistic definition of a modern nation, is the sharing of a common political philosophy in a degree of unity that enables a particular group of people to produce within the territory they occupy a government peculiarly their own.

In this sense of political nationhood Canada has, in the first century of her existence, already come close to qualifying as a nation. There have been, and still are, obstacles of ingrained regionalism and ethnic particularism that impede full realization of Canada's political nationhood, but by and large the evolutionary thrust toward that goal has been unmistakable and irreversible.

From time to time myopic politicians and the misguided groups they represented or mobilized had tried to change this general course of Canada's development by crusades for the nation - state concept. None of these movements ever got very far, because there never were and never will be objective conditions in Canada for the old

Heritage of Canada

But, as Vancouver newspaper publisher Stuart Keate remarked recently, "... any country that can survive three wars, floods, rock slides and other natural disasters, can survive Walter Gordon."

I fully share Mr. Keate's faith in the hardiness and common sense of the large majority of Canadians.

They, or their ancestors, came to this blessed land not to recreate the crippling problems and upheavals of the tired old nation - states they left behind, but to build a new country in pursuit of human freedom, dignity and material well-being.

This is the foundation and heritage of Canada as a political nation and state. And it is on this foundation and heritage, which is deeply rooted in the philosophy of North American democracy we share with the United States, that Canada will continue to build its future.

To develop and utilize the fabulous natural richness of our enormous land not only for the benefit of Canadians but for the benefit of mankind, we need assistance in the form of capital, research and technology. Twenty million people cannot hope to cope with the gigantic development task alone at a pace necessary for keeping our standard of living, let alone increasing aid to less fortunate peoples.

U.S. capital is vital

I have no doubt that most Canadians want to follow this pattern, because the alternative is the totalitarian method of capital accumulation which, as Communist Russia and China have demonstrated, is too gruesome to contemplate.

PRAYER. Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy Son Jesus, who knows our weaknesses and our strength and loved us enough to give Himself for us, even while we were yet sinners. Forgive us and make us strong, for we come to Thee and offer our prayer in His name. Amen.

Knowlton couple celebrates 70th wedding anniversary

By STEPHEN MORSON
(Record Correspondent)

KNOWLTON — (Special) — In the history of the human race there are indeed few people who can boast 70 years of wedded bliss. Such, however, is the happy situation of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor, who tomorrow will celebrate their seventieth wedding anniversary.

Owing to recent illness however, the couple will spend the day quietly at home with their immediate family.

Walter Taylor and Miss Maude Woodard were united in Holy Matrimony on February 10, 1897 by the late Reverend Venerable Archdeacon David Lindsay, assisted by Rev. Seth Mills, at the home of the bride, in Fulford, Que. Mr. Taylor was born on July 1, 1874 in Waterloo, Que., and his bride was born in Fulford on May 20, 1875, the daughter of Hiram and Abbey Woodard. Mr. Taylor, had five brothers and five sisters, but now has only one sister living, Mrs. Clara Johnson, of Sherbrooke. Mrs. Taylor had three brothers, but now has only one living brother.

Mr. Taylor was a carriage maker and general blacksmith, a trade that he followed for fifty-three years, during which time he faithfully kept a diary, in which he has recorded the fact that he shod one hundred and sixty-eight thousand horses, and used up seven tons of horseshoe nails.

In his early working days, a good salary was ten cents an hour, when he decided to go into business for himself he earned five dollars and thirty cents the first day, a veritable fortune, and so, from that day on, Mr. Taylor never looked back; he even turned down fabulous offers of fifteen dollars a week to work for another carriage maker.

In 53 years of shoeing horses, Mr. Taylor learned a lot about horses, and his customers came to him from many miles around, from as far away as parts of East Hill, Knowlton and Cowansville; he became something of a legend, and if Walter Taylor couldn't fix up a horse, then nobody could. Whether it was for new shoes, or new harness, or horse medicine, or just good honest advice, it could all be obtained from Walter Taylor, of St. Paul's Church, where a day's work forty or fifty years ago was a day's work, able to attend regularly.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have enjoyed the same hobbies over the years, that is gardening and photography, they have a large library of colored slides of photographs taken over the years throughout the Eastern Townships, and many a fascinating hour can be enjoyed at the Taylor household on a winter's night enjoying showing of slides.

The Taylor garden is noted throughout the district for its perennial beauty, masses and masses of perennials and annuals blooming constantly through the summer under the watchful eye of the Taylors, and there are dozen of fully grown weeping willow trees throughout the Knowlton district that got their start in the Taylor garden. There are two of these trees in the writer's garden which will bear life long testimony to the gardening skill of this couple, and the trees growing throughout their home town will stand as a living memorial to one of the finest and happiest couples ever to have lived a decade in this village of Knowlton.

Mr. Taylor was baptised, confirmed, and married by the Venerable Archdeacon Lindsay. He is also a member of Shefford Masonic Lodge No. 18, Dorchester Chapter No. 4, he was Master of Shefford Lodge for two years, he is also an active mem-

Mock war manoeuvres hampered

MONTREAL (CP)—Mechanical difficulties and rapid changes in temperature are some of the problems hampering mock war manoeuvres near Fort Greely, Alaska, as combined American and Canadian forces fight to repulse an "enemy invasion" of Alaska.

Since Operation Frontier Assault began Feb. 1, helicopter manoeuvres planned in advance have had to be cancelled because of sudden weather changes and snowmobiles working in 30 to 60 degree below temperatures have been plagued by mechanical breakdowns.

The difficulties being experienced by the more than 6,000 U.S. troops and 649 Canadian soldiers taking part in the experimental manoeuvre, were described Wednesday by La Presse.

They have led some of the 469 participating members of Quebec's Royal 22nd Regiment—experts in combat under Arctic conditions—to say they prefer their own method of manoeuvring in snow—with snowshoes and sleighs.

The purposes of Frontier Assault are to study the efficiency of a joint Canadian-American command, to test military equipment under polar conditions and to examine the comportment of troops manoeuvring on cold and difficult terrain.

VAN DOOS SAID BEST

La Presse says the Canadian soldiers participating "lost no time in demonstrating their mastery in the battles" and found Alaskan conditions "small potatoes" compared to those they had met in the Canadian Arctic.

The participating soldiers had been divided into two forces—one to represent the enemy and another for the allies.

Originally the commanding officers had planned to place the Van Doos among the enemy forces but had changed their minds and made them part of the defending forces for fear that, with the Canadians' help, the enemy would win, La Presse says.

Since Feb. 1, regiment members commanded by Lt.-Col. Henri Chasse had twice outwitted enemy forces with surprise manoeuvres.

WATERLOO — (Special) — The Messengers of St. Paul's United Church, Waterloo, recently donated a Bible to the church.

This group of boys and girls, aged six to eight, had saved the money for two years for this purpose. It was earned through the sale of church calendars and donations.

The Bible, a revised modern edition, will be placed in the church proper. It was presented to Rev. Allison Haley last Tuesday afternoon and are presently learning about children in other countries.

Serum ban is protested

LADYSMITH, B.C. (CP)—A production and shipment ban on a controversial cancer vaccine is a death sentence, says a Vancouver Island resident who has been taking the drug.

"We are being sentenced to death," said Margaret Wyndlow, of this community 50 miles north of Victoria, after learning Wednesday that a temporary U.S. federal court order has ended distribution of the serum.

She is one of more than 100 persons who went to a Cleveland, Ohio, hospital to receive the experimental vaccine developed by Rand Development Corp.

"Apparently the U.S. government felt we were being made victims in this experiment—but they are forgetting we have nothing to lose," Mrs. Wyndlow said.

She and other patients from all parts of the world had planned a "survivors party" in Cleveland for Sunday. All patients to attend have survived the date on which doctors said they would have died before taking the treatment.

"The court ruling takes away the only hope we have," Mrs. Wyndlow said. "The optimism here was tremendous. I have been helped, and I have seen others tremendously helped."

Fair leather ahead: shoe guide to Expo

If the excitement of Expo 67 is in your future, the forecast should read: Fair Leather ahead. In soft supple leather, your shoes will look breezy and your feet will walk easy through magical days and nights of sightseeing at Canada's first universal and international exhibition.

Like all fairs, Expo 67 is a walking fair, and your shoes will be the most important thing you can take with you. As a guide to appropriate footwear, Leather Industries offers the following suggestions:

UCW plans annual meeting

The first winter annual meeting for the Quebec Sherbrooke Presbyterial of the United Church Women, is to be February 21, at 9:30, in Plymouth United Church, Sherbrooke. Reports must be ready for the Conference annual meeting of March 15-16.

One of the purposes of the UCW is to provide a medium through which the women may express their loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ in Christian witness, study, fellowship and service. The Presbyterial provides an opportunity for spiritual growth and fellowship by bringing together representatives of all UCW groups. Voting delegates are the members of the executive along with the president and four other delegates from each of the local groups. Other members of the congregational group are invited to attend as corresponding members.

An interesting day has been planned. Reports will tell of the progress of the UCW in 1966. The financial committee will recommend the allocation of our Presbyterial to the annual budget, directed by the General Council. Two panel discussions, one on church union and the other on the Sherbrooke welfare organization will contribute to the understanding of the task of the church. Dr. Douglas Smith will be the guest speaker and Mrs. E. Knowles, president of conference, will conduct the worship service and service of installation of officers.

Luncheon will be served for $1.25 and the women in charge would like to know by Feb. 16 how many from each congregation plan to attend this Feb. 21 meeting.

It is hoped the weather will cooperate in this area and there will be a large representation at the annual meeting.

It's been estimated that, on a single day at Expo 67, a visitor may cover as much as 16 miles. Exhibit-hoppers should find the ideal shoe to be a low or mid-heeled leather walker. The style may be spectator, classic pump, tie shoe, sling-back (not too open), or the newly returned wedge. The lowered heel gives a more comfortable base for prolonged walking, and the fact that it's currently high style is a fashion bonus. And the comfort bonus is the flexible leather sole, which gives cushioned support on any surface—concrete tile, or stone.

Out-of-towners should pack at least two or three pairs of walking shoes for their Montreal visit, plus a dressy pair. If any sling-backs or open-toed styles are included, it would be wise to save them for shorter walking jaunts.

Above all, for walking without wilting, your fair footwear should be all-leather. The choice of texture is a wide one—leather comes smooth, grained, waxy, patent, antiqued and brushed. Only leather has the pliability to flex and bend with the movements of your foot. Plus the ruggedness to protect you against sharp objects and the shock of hard or rough surfaces. Plus natural porosity, which permits fresh air to enter and perspiration to escape through its fibrous structure.

Color in shoes is delightfully varied this year, with shades both bright and soft. Pale lush leathers easily come clean with a few dabs from a soapy sponge. If you prefer deeper or clearer shoe tones, red, yellow, mad pink and the natural leather shades are strong color contenders.

After-five festivities call for beautiful leather sandals or pumps in shining smooth, lustre or patent leather. The frankly feminine shoe—with buckles, beading or cut-outs enhancing the leather—is sure to steal the show, whether under the lights of Expo 67 or Montreal itself.

With so much of your time spent on your feet, a change of footwear at least once a day would be a wise move. Back home or at your hotel after a day out on the St. Lawrence, slip into a different pair.

As our country approaches the opening day of our great Centennial Expo, we take time out to look back over the years, to the work of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. This is a Canadian organization and one of the oldest in Sherbrooke. Founder's Day, February 13, is its 67th birthday.

In Sherbrooke the first IODE chapter was organized in 1910, King George V Chapter, Regent Mrs. A. M. Worthington. At the first meeting, 53 ladies became members. In 1911, Sir John Sherbrooke and Duke of Wellington Chapters were formed. This made it possible to have a Municipal Chapter which received its Charter in 1912. In 1914 another chapter was formed, the 53rd Regiment. These chapters were very active in war work as well as giving local assistance when necessary.

Many immigrants came to Canada under the ET Settlement Board. For many years these immigrants needed assistance in clothing, food and other necessities of life which the IODE gave.

The Order, seeing a need for a district nurse, employed the services of Miss Orford. There was a need for a second nurse who was selected and employed by the IODE. Then, on the advice of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, Miss MacKenzie, the travelling superintendent of the Victoria Order of Nurses was approached. In 1913 the VON was started in Sherbrooke through this effort. The Order continued financial aid until it was self-supporting.

Around 1924 there was an upsurge of TB and the Woodward property was purchased to be used as a TB sanatorium. This was known as the IODE Memorial Hospital in memory of our fallen heroes. (This is now the Bruck Silk Mills). It was operated by the IODE for 10 years.

The St. Francis Sanatorium assumed this responsibility and a wing was built on the Hotel Dieu Hospital. The IODE members still kept up visiting the patients and bringing magazines, treats and cigarettes. This building was then leased to the Canadian Legion for $1 a year to be used for a home for returned disabled men that had no home of their own. Later this building was sold to the City of Sherbrooke and the present building on Moore Street purchased. It is now known as IODE House.

The Order has always been interested in Girl Guides and Scouts. Through the years companies have been sponsored and children sent to camp.

In August, 1937, regimental colors were presented to the Sherbrooke Regiment at a cost of over $600. These colors were presented to the Sherbrooke Regiment at the Sherbrooke Exhibition grounds with an audience of over 4,000 attending the ceremony.

Two monuments were erected in 1939 paying tribute to the soldiers of the First World War. One was erected in Elmwood Cemetery, Rev. Biggs officiating. The other one was erected in St. Michael's Cemetery, Father Dolor Biron, of St. Jean Baptiste Church officiating. Others attending were Rev. E. E. Charrier, Rev. J. N. Codere, and Col. J. S. Bourque, M.L.A.

A hospital room was furnished in the Sherbrooke Hospital in memory of Mrs. W. E. Loomis. Also a free lending library was started and is still maintained. Books are distributed by IODE members.

Now the Second World War was starting and this organization was busy again in war work, knitting, sewing, and donating old fur coats to be made into vests for the navy men. During this war a tremendous amount of money was raised, nearly $40,000, to assist in war meals and refreshments.

services. A total of $2,015 was contributed to the National project and a Bomber costing $100,000 was purchased.

Under the Chairmanship of Mrs. A. A. Munster and Mrs. R. L. Duberger, $4,226 was raised for the Library Campaign designed to supply the latest in reading material to hospitals, ships and camps. These are a few of many commitments that were undertaken during the war. The D'Laval Chapter was formed with a membership of nearly 70 women. Mrs. R. L. Duberger was Regent. This chapter did a tremendous amount of work.

During both World Wars the Salvation Army maintained a canteen which was staffed by IODE members who served light meals and refreshments.

During 1948, food packages were sent to Great Britain weighing close to 900 pounds. Few people in this part of Canada know about the peace gardens between USA and Canada. These are situated at Dunseith, North Dakota and Bois-Sevain, Manitoba. It is almost exact center between the Pacific Ocean and the Atlantic Ocean. This is a beautiful garden and well worth visiting when in the vicinity. The "Cairn" has the USA flag on one side of the Canadian flag on the other. There is a plaque on the "Cairn" which reads:

"To God in his Glory. We two nations dedicate this Garden and pledge ourselves that as long as men shall live, we will not take up arms against one another."

Many organizations contribute to the upkeep of this garden, the IODE being one of

The Centennial Project of the Sherbrooke IODE is the gift to the City of Sherbrooke of 67 rose bushes to be planted in Howardene Garden with a plaque to thank the citizens of Sherbrooke and the merchants for their support in making all this work possible over the years. These rose bushes will be purchased through the Rotary Club and in turn will help retarded children.

Also $5000 in Provincial Bursaries will be offered to train teachers to teach retarded children capable of learning.

Since 1950 the IODE has turned to education and welfare work. War memorial scholarships were set up to assist students. Local scholarships are given along with prizes of books for efficiency, to the classrooms of elementary and high school. Each primary chapter adopted a school which they provide with prizes in each room, soup if necessary and school supplies when needed. For some time, assistance was given student nurses. Help has been given to Indian schools and books have been sent to Africa.

Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, representing the IODE has been working in conjunction with other welfare organizations for 26 years. The chapters have provided milk, groceries, and oil as well as new clothing and good used clothing to needy families. At Christmas, baskets of food along with large Christmas stockings filled with treats and toys for the children are distributed. The stockings were the efforts of the Junior Royal Oaktree Chapter.

IODE members work at the cancer clinic folding bandages as well as at the hospital, distributing free lending library books among the patients. Children have been sent to summer camps, equipment has been bought for schools and institutions. A poppy wreath is placed at the Cenotaph every year.

Used clothing, knitted socks and layettes have been sent to Korea. At the time many of the Moroccan children were crippled by consuming bad cooking oil, quilts and other necessities were provided. Contributions were provided to "Save the Children" fund. These are only a few of the accomplishments which are initiated each year.

Today in Sherbrooke the IODE consists of a Municipal Chapter, 4 primary chapters and one Junior chapter established as follows: Municipal Chapter 1912, Duke of Wellington 1911, 53rd Regiment 1914, Aldershot 1939, Sir Dudley Pound 1944 and The Junior Royal Oaktree 1960.

The IODE appeals to women because it is non-sectarian. One can learn much by working with women of all faiths. Each Chapter chooses its own projects, permitting each member to give full expression to her ideas and her skills. Thus, regardless of her interests, she can find her niche. All that is necessary to join is that you be over eight years old and a Canadian Citizen. There is a place for all ages. If you are interested in joining, please call 562-1892.

Missed Shrove Tuesday, did you? patriotic pancakes still a must

If there was ever a year for sticking to traditions, this is it. So — even if you missed serving flapjacks on Shrove Tuesday, you'll surely have to make them this centennial year.

Pancakes were as much a part of early Canadian life as the maple syrup that goes with them. It would be positively unpatriotic to let the week go by without serving them in one way or another.

A stack of puffy, golden cakes with milk for the youngsters and coffee for the grown-ups, would make a real breakfast-time treat to mark the day. (Don't be afraid to use a mix if you want to — it's a short-cut that can't go wrong.)

If you want to have your tradition and be sophisticated too, let your choice be delicate

French crepes with strawberries and sour cream.

STRAWBERRY CREPES
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup milk

Butter
Sugared sliced fresh strawberries
OR drained thawed frozen berries
Sour cream

Combine flour, sugar and salt in sifter. Beat eggs until light and stir in milk. Sift flour mixture into eggs and milk and beat smooth with rotary beater. Set aside in a cool place for at least an hour.

Lightly butter a small frying pan, 6 or 8 inches across, and heat over medium heat. Pour about 2 tablespoonsful of the batter into the pan, tipping and tilting the pan to cover it all over. When set, flip the crepe and very lightly brown it on the second side. The crepes may be made ahead and stacked until needed for serving.

To serve, roll pancakes one by one around drained, sugared, sliced fresh strawberries — or thawed frozen sliced strawberries. Place in a single layer in a buttered pan and brush lightly with melted butter, to prevent tops from drying. Warm in a rather slow oven. Serve with sour cream. Makes about 10 crepes.

(Feeling adventurous? Then add some sliced candied or preserved ginger to the berries; or sprinkle the crepes with cinnamon before serving with sour cream.)

BUTTERMILK PANCAKES
1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups buttermilk
2 or 3 tablespoons melted butter or shortening

Measure one-cupful flour and sift with baking powder, soda, salt and sugar.

Beat eggs until very thick and light. Add buttermilk and melted butter.

Add liquids to dry mixture, combining only until dry ingredients are all moistened. Heat a griddle or heavy frying pan until a few drops of water sprinkled into it will dance across the griddle and disappear. Grease lightly with oil or shortening. (Re-grease between batches if necessary.) Spoon batter lightly onto pan and bake until edges just start to dry and lose their gloss. Turn and bake second side. For some perverse reason, the first lot of pancakes often sticks. Ensuing batches usually bake better.

Serve pancakes quickly, with melted butter and maple syrup, warm spiced honey or other favorite accompaniment. Makes about 12.

THE RED 'GREEP' RETURNS

MOSCOW (CP)—The "griep" has returned to Moscow, rendering half the population miserable and the other half apprehensive.

It's influenza, the Russian translation of which is the same as the English word gripe, only with more of an E sound. It's the only topic of conversation in the streets where the term "epidemic" is freely bandied about. However, the word is not as serious as the one two years ago when a virulent form of the ailment caused many deaths.

Nevertheless, some hospitals and schools have been closed to visitors, doctors have been working overtime, and vaccination programs have been undertaken.

An aggravating factor in any flu outbreak here is the Russians' refusal to stay home when the virus strikes. It may be a matter of pride or it may be that they don't like being cooped up in an apartment. They continue working and the flu continues to spread.

Kindergartens have a reputation as breeding grounds for the flu virus. Stricken children who should be at home are often deposited as usual by working mothers who don't want to take time off to look after them.

Even so, two-thirds of the children in some Moscow kindergartens were reported away sick at one point.

St. Andrew's holds its annual meeting

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held January 31 in the church hall on Frontenac Street, Sherbrooke, Que.

It was preceded by a social hour when the ladies guild of St. Andrew's served dessert.

The minister, the Rev. Alex M. McCombie, B.A., B.D., acted as chairman and Mrs. William Ross acted as secretary.

The minister opened the business meeting with a devotional service followed by reports being read by the heads of the various organizations. These reports were subsequently moved and adopted.

Some of the highlights of the church year were: there are 388 members, the total revenues were $26,696; the allocation for the missions budget 1966 to be raised by St. Andrew's was $3800, and the congregation contributed $3,891. The Sunday School shows growth and consistent attendance. The largest children's group is the C.O.C. with 29 members.

The budget allocation for missions was suggested at $4,000 and was accepted for 1967.

The reduction in the St. Andrew's Centennial (1964) Renovation debt in 1966 was $5,100. The total cost was $27,000 and the balance owing is a little above $8,000.

Stanstead council purchases new truck

STANSTEAD — (Special) — At a general meeting of the Stanstead Municipal Council held on Monday evening, February 6, in the hall of the County building, it was decided to purchase a second hand five-ton truck equipped with a snow plow and hoist for a sum of $3,000.

The truck is a 1960 model and a motion was passed to apply to the Municipal Commission to borrow a sum of $10,000. The truck will be used mainly for garbage pick up by the maintenance men and for other village work.

The village will also apply to the Postmaster General for a postal cancellation stamp for the remainder of the Centennial year noting Stanstead's post masters and other historic information in brief in the 150 years Stanstead has had a post office. Henry Stratton of Stanstead was at the council meeting and displayed some Canadian cancellations from his collection.

While reading the minutes, Mrs. Therese Winter, the secretary, noted that E. J. Struthers, paid and 1877 miles were recently returned to office of Mayor, has served eleven years as Mayor and noted the years since 1951. January 17 a special meeting was called and Mayor Struthers with councilmen Edward Hyatt, Maynard Rollins and Roger Roy were sworn in for another two-year term. Councillor Art McHarg thanked the men for returning to office.

The new committees are: Mayor, Edward Hyatt, Relief, Roger Roy and A. D. McHarg; Roads, A. D. McHarg and Eugene Lachance; Fire, streets and lights, Edward Hyatt and Roger Roy; Finance, Howard Majury and Edward Hyatt; Sewer and Health, Eugene Lachance and Maynard Rollins; Police, Town halls and Parks; Maynard Rollins and Howard Majury. A third was also voted to the police committee, Edward Hyatt. The first name of each committee is the chairman.

They police report noted 132 calls at the control center of which 27 were emergencies.

Two accidents. There were 14 traffic tickets issued with six patrolled. In 1966 the police department costs were $15,622.18 with Rock Island Town paying $8,211.10 and Stanstead $5,474.08, fines collected totalled $1,937.

A notice of motion was given for adoption of a bylaw to submit the territory of the Municipality of Stanstead Plain to the jurisdiction of the Municipal court of the Town of Rock Island pursuant to the procedures of the Municipal courts if and when such Municipal court is established in Rock Island and otherwise subject to a bylaw towards such ends by the Town of Rock Island.

Arthur Langevin, chairman for the July 1, Canada's birthday celebration, asked by letter a guarantee of $125 from the Municipality and this was granted.

Mayor Struthers said the Hackett Park landscape plan is being drawn up. It had been hoped to have the old Sunnyside castle fountain in the park, but the council were advised by the local school board that they had plans to reinstate the fountain on its original site as a Centennial project. Other suggestions were made and will be followed up for a historic watering trough for the park.

The Quebec Central Transportation have restored the buses from Sherbrooke to the Boundary. This provides excellent service and persons wishing to inquire of the bus runs should phone the Q.C. freight office in Rock Island for information. A hearing is soon to be held in Montreal on this matter.

Each councillor is to have a copy of the building bylaws and make a study. A permit was requested from Eugene Roy to build an attached garage to his new home and this was granted.

Another street light is to be added at Terrill Drive. This being Canada's Centennial year it was suggested that there be new vapour lights installed on Dufferin Road.

This is to be studied.

At the March 6 meeting the grade nine students from Sunnyside will be guests of the Council. Mayor Struthers and Howard Majury reported on the police committee meeting held January 27 with Rock Island committee and made recommendations. Another such meeting will be held on March 31.

Mayor Struthers said a valuator from Montreal was here on February 6 to investigate the Meekren property on the corner of Dufferin Road and Maheux streets. The council is interested in purchasing the property with intent of widening this street.

THE QUEBEC SCENE

Presents plans to aid farmers

MONTREAL — CP — Clement Vincent, Quebec agriculture minister, said Wednesday the provincial government has adopted a three-point program aimed at improving the dairy industry in Quebec.

Mr. Vincent gave the board outlines of the program during an address to the annual banquet of the Cooperative Federée du Québec, one of the province's largest agricultural co-operatives.

He said the operation of dairy plants will be streamlined by merging some of the existing plants into larger units.

The government intends to help set up from 15 to 20 of the existing plants into larger units.

The government intends to help set up from 15 to 20 of these plants in the next three years.

Mr. Vincent said a new pure food regulation will be promulgated soon.

The government intends to promote milk improvement contests such as already exist for cheese-making and to overhaul the regional laboratories whose function is to improve the breed of cattle, distribute technical information and test dairy output on the farm.

SHERBROOKE REAL ESTATE BOARD — Hughes H. TATE, president of the Sherbrooke Real Estate Board was re-elected to that post for a second term as were all other officers recently.

World news flashes

NEW YORK — (CP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association reported Wednesday that a survey of Canadian newspapers shows that at the end of 1966, 67 dailies were selling for 10 cents a copy, an increase of 11 from the end of 1965.

The ANPA's annual survey of daily and Sunday editions of U.S. English - and foreign - language daily newspapers and dailies in Canada, Bermuda, Puerto Rico, the West Indies and again shows a continuing trend toward 10-cent papers.

TORONTO — (CP) — The Globe and Mail says Prime Minister Pearson plans to announce his retirement shortly after Expo 67 closes in late October.

In an Ottawa dispatch, the newspaper says Mr. Pearson has made it plain what his plans are in close conversation with Western leaders of the party and with those in Ottawa who may be planning to enter a contest for the position.

Pledges welcome

MONTREAL — CP — Pierre Bourgeault, leader of the separatist Rassemblement pour l'indépendance nationale said Wednesday his party is preparing to receive the Queen on her visit here "after its fashion."

He declined to elaborate on just what form the reception would take.

Mr. Bourgeault said the separatists are planning a "good reception" for the Queen but then he added this statement should be interpreted "in the light of it coming from the RIN."

Illegal spread

QUEBEC — CP — Alcide Courcy, former minister of agriculture for Quebec, said Wednesday that the illegal sale of colored margarine had increased in the province since the Union Nationale government came to power last June 5.

The sale of uncolored margarine had been legalized in 1961 by the Liberal government but selling colored margarine on the Quebec market had been forbidden, he said in an interview.

In the last few months "the sale of colored margarine has become general because of the tolerant attitude of the Union Nationale which allows the law to be broken without taking action."

Activities at Stanstead College

Already it is half term and the students are off for a long weekend which commenced today at 1 p.m. and will end at 9 a.m. on February 13, classes resuming on Tuesday morning.

This evening the greater majority of the staff will be in Montreal to attend a wine and cheese party at Victoria hall, Westmount, arranged by a committee of mothers of students here at Stanstead. The purpose is that staff and parents and their friends may meet at the social level.

Proceeds from this event are being donated to the college for furnishings of the new recreation building, the renovated old gym. The renovation work has been done by the students themselves, advised by Patrick Winsor and other members of the staff in this tremendous undertaking.

February 4 saw some 40 former students of Stanstead College visiting their Alma Mater from various points, but mainly Montreal area. All were evening dinner guests. At the Arena a game of hockey was played with Old Boys losing 5 to the senior team's score of 8 and a basketball game was played between Old Boys and varsity in the Amaran gym.

That the Old Boys are out of condition was observed as the game ended with the varsity boys having a score of 75 to a 29 odd for the oldsters. Anyway the games were a moral booster for the students, say their coaches.

The midweek hockey team played with Selwyn House in Montreal on Feb. 1. It was a very exciting game which ended in a 3-3 tie. With Selwyn holding a score of 75 to a 29 odd for the oldsters. Anyway the games were a moral booster for the students, say their coaches.

The school will also be equipped with two cooking labs, one of them a commercial cooking lab to train short-order cooks, Mr. Perry said.

There will also be two art rooms and a handicraft shop. Mr. Perry said that the board and the Sherbrooke Hospital are considering an agreement for the training of Nursing Assistants. It would be possible for students to take the course's theoretical subjects in the hospital at the same time.

There will also be an agricultural complex containing a testing laboratory, a demonstration area and a 1,200 foot greenhouse. This complex, Mr. Perry said, will also be used by area farmers.

The school will be wired for closed and open circuit television, Mr. Perry said. Some companies have devised systems that are relatively cheap.

In the wings, some of the classrooms will be equipped with folding walls which will allow larger groups and provide room for team teaching techniques.

February 18 is the date of the winter carnival, with sports, games, snow sculpture, dance and eats.

In Memoriam

CHUTE, Hazen — In loving memory of a dear brother, who passed away February 9, 1966. One sad and lonely year has passed.

Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that night,
No one can ever tell,
God gave us strength to meet it,
And courage to bear the blow,
And what it meant to lose you,
Dear brother,

No one will ever know,
God gave us strength to meet you,
We miss you more each day,
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.
You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said goodbye,
You were gone before we realized.

And only God knows why.
Always remembered and sadly missed by
MRS. BROTHER AND SISTERS,
NIECES AND NEPHEWS.

Rising cost of housing hit on two governmental fronts

OTTAWA (CP) — The rising cost of housing was attacked on two fronts Wednesday.

In the Commons, Labor Minister Nicholson announced that provinces will be permitted by Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. to cut rents for public housing by an average of $16 a month.

Ontario immediately announced cuts and most other provinces are expected to follow suit.

And the Commons - Senate committee on consumer prices, which investigated the food industry last fall, announced that it will switch its attention to housing problems in a cross-Canada series of hearings starting Feb. 20 in Halifax.

Mr. Nicholson, minister responsible for housing policy, said the provinces had requested a reduction in rents charged for the 12,000 public housing units in Canada financed by CMHC.

APPROVE NEW SCALE
The federal Crown corporation has approved a new rent scale effective immediately, but each province must decide whether the changes will apply in public housing projects on its territory. The previous scale was adopted in 1962.

The maximum rent, for persons with a monthly income of $576 or more, is trimmed to $173 from $180, including services such as heat and power.

The minimum rent, for families with a monthly income of $192 or less, is slashed to $32 from $

Tigers pay last visit

Beavers gunning for win to settle issue, Guilbault and Mentis tied in scoring race

It will take the last three games of the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League to decide the individual scoring champion as after 38 games Georges Guilbault of Sherbrooke and Johnny Mentis of Victoriaville are deadlocked with 61 points each.

The two leaders will meet this evening at the Sports Palace when the Tigers of Victoriaville will be visiting the Beavers. The game isn't important for the Beavers, who have already wrapped up the league title, but for the Tigers it is very crucial as if they can win their three remaining games they stand a chance for second place in the standing if the Eagles drop one.

The Tigers and Eagles meet once more on the schedule. On Sunday the Tigers will be in Drummondville in a very important battle while the Gauls will visit Sherbrooke. The last games are slated for Tuesday with Sherbrooke in Victoriaville and Drummondville at St. Hyacinthe.

Guilbault, the Beavers' smooth working centre, has amassed a total of 32 goals with 29 assists while his opponent, Johnny Mentis, has only 17 tallies to go with 44 assists. Guilbault is leading the league with his 32 goals while Mentis is tops in the play-making department with 44.

Rene Pepin of Sherbrooke is third in the race, just five points behind the leader. He has dented the net 23 times, just three behind the leader, and has 27 assists for his 56 points. This gives him a four-point spread over Roger Picard of Drummondville who has 21-31-52.

Jean-Pierre Malette of Victoriaville is close on the heels of Picard with 51 points, comprised of 19-32-51. Malette was the early leader in the circuit before he was sidelined with knee injury and was out of action for three weeks.

Bill Dupre of Sherbrooke, last year's champion, has fallen into sixth position since his injury two weeks ago. Dupre had 20-30-50 before his injury. Andre Samson of Victoriaville is next in line with 49 while Guy Black of St. Hyacinthe is close with 48.

The Drummondville duo of Claude Cyr and Yvon Houle are the best in the goal-keeping department with an average of

GEORGES GUILBAULT

3:59 for the 39 games played. Serge Aubry of Sherbrooke is close with 3:62 while Andy Payette and Jacques Monette of St. Hyacinthe follow with 3:82.

Coach Roy plans no changes for tonight's game but if the Beavers should win then maybe Ronald Gilbert, Beavers' sub-goalie, will see action. This will depend if Coach Roy decides to rest Serge Aubry, who has handled the goaling chores all season. A couple of games rest may help him to relax a little before the playoffs.

The Quebec Kandahar has become recognized over the years as the classic Canadian ski competition of international caliber. It has always attracted outstanding competitors from European countries. In 1937, it was won by a Swiss, A. Keach.

In 1940, an American C. Schwallenbach of New York won the event. Again in 1947, another skier from the United States, Bert Irwin of Princeton Ski Club won the honours. In 1957, Josi Reider, a member of the Austrian ski team won the event.

In 1958, Guy Perillat, who later won gold medals at Olympic and F.I.S. competitions was declared the winner. In 1959, Marvin Moriarty of the U.S. ski team won the event. In 1962, another member of the French ski team who was to win medals also in Olympic and F.I.S. competitions took the honours at that year's running of the race.

The list of race winners includes a number of outstanding Canadian skiers such as George Jost in 1932, Vic Cousineau in 1936, Louis Cochand in 1938, Roger Trotter in 1939, Don Stanforth in 1946, Jack Griffin in 1950 and 1951, and more recently, National team members Art Tommy, Bob Gilmour, Darcy Marsh, Peter Duncan, Rod Hebron and Les Streeter.

Hawks and Leafs are moving but in opposite directions, Leafs drop No. 10, Habs blanked 5-0 by Chicago

Chicago Black Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs are on the move in the National Hockey League—the Hawks up and the Leafs down.

Chicago extended its unbeaten streak to 12 games Wednesday night with a 5-0 trouncing of Montreal Canadiens. The Leafs lost their 10th straight, a 5-2 defeat by Detroit Red Wings.

Second-place New York Rangers also stumbled in their bid to catch up with the league-leading Hawks, being edged 2-1 by the last-place Boston Bruins.

While Bobby Hull scored his 33rd and 34th goals as the Hawks extended their lead to 12 points, Detroit's Norm Ullman netted three as the Wings moved one point ahead of the Leafs into fourth place. Hull's lead is the league's best. Ullman banged in goals number 18, 19 and 20 against Toronto's Johnny Bower within three minutes and 19 seconds in the second period to pace Detroit to its seventh victory in eight games.

Other Detroit scorers were defenceman Gary Bergman and centre Alex Delvecchio. Toronto's scorers were centre Dave Keon and left winger Brian Conacher.

At Chicago, Denis DeJordy of the Hawks kicked aside 30 Montreal shots to pick up his second shutout in succession and his third of the season.

Chicago also got goals from Doug Jarrett, Doug Mohns and Stan Mikita, whose 25th goal of the season brought his league-leading points total to 70.

Montreal alternated netminders Gump Worsley and Charlie Hodge at five-minute intervals in the first period, but Worsley played the rest of the game. They stopped 25 of 30 shots.

At New York, Boston's Bernie Parent, playing only his seventh game in nets in the season, led the Bruins to their 2-1 victory over New York.

Parent kicked out 28 New York shots as the Bruins snapped a five-game losing streak. His only miss came on a shot by Bernie Geoffroy, who scored his 14th goal of the season and his third in as many games.

Boston scorers were Johnny McKenzie and Wayne Connelly, who scored the winner in the second period. Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin blocked 26 Boston shots.

At Toronto, Ullman started off on his scoring binge at 11:07. He scored his second at 13:33 after stealing the puck from Ron Ellis of the Leafs and got his third at 14:26 on a pass from Bruce MacGregor.

Detroit's Roger Crozier made 24 stops, including one save on a penalty shot by Peter Stenkowski in the second period.

Stenkowski was awarded the penalty shot after Red Wings defenceman Howie Young threw his stick in the path of the Leaf player, who was going in on a breakaway.

Toronto played Johnny Bower in nets for the first two periods. He handled 23 of Detroit's 29 shots before being replaced by Bruce Gamble.

Chicago has 65 points, New York 53, Montreal 46, Detroit 43, Toronto 42 and Boston 33. The next games are scheduled for Saturday, when the Canadiens call at Boston, the Hawks visit Toronto and the Rangers go to Detroit. Sunday, Canadiens are at New York, Leafs at Boston and Red Wings are at Chicago.

Farnham vestry meets

Largest income in parish history reported by St. James Church

FARNHAM — The annual vestry meeting of the Church of St. James, Apostle and Martyr, was held on Jan. 29, with the rector, Rev. R. Bruce Baker presiding.

Reports showed a record number of communicants and the largest income in parish history, $17,547.42.

During the year extensive structural repairs have been undertaken in the church. A new plywood floor, linoleum covered, has been installed in the nave, the church pews refinished, new foam rubber kneelers given, and the interior walls cleaned.

The cost of this work was met by Mrs. H. B. Higgerty, Mrs. K. Wallace, C. B. Coultas, A. Jenkins and T. R. MacDonald. As a result of a special parish-wide collection at harvest time, the entire church roof has been renewed, the eaves and belfry covered with aluminium (baked white nad black finish) and all brick work has been chipped and repointed.

A contract has been signed to install a new kitchen, washrooms and a south interior wall in the parish hall.

GIVING INCREASED

For the past three years giving to missions has been annually increased with almost 10 per cent of the total income in 1966 given to work outside the parish.

After five years of faithful service as people's warden, M. W. Hesse resigned and C. B. Coultas was elected to take his place. Mrs. Ronald Clark also succeeded Mrs. Keith Wallace as vestry clerk. The rector appointed Mrs. H. B. Higgerty as treasurer and J. H. E. Goodfellow as rector's warden. Alan Hoskin continues as secretary-treasurer of the Cemetery Committee, and Mark Bower and Glenn Smith as delegates to Synod.

RECTOR'S ADDRESS

Emphasizing the need for an awareness on the part of all Christians of Man and his world, Fr. Baker concluded, "The ecumenical and liturgical movements and the writings of the new theologians have provided a catalyst for individual and corporate self-examination and renewal.

"The Christian religion has never been inflexible; the Divine revelation has and progress as creation evolves towards that seventh day which is its goal. The thinking and needs of the world change, and the Christian community must be made to the family of now, as it has in the past, meet this challenge."

Following a discussion of contemporary funeral practices, a motion was passed which strongly urged members of the congregation to give living memorials at the time of death, such as donations of money to the work of the Christian community, etc. Acknowledgment of all such donations to the church will be made to the family of the deceased.

Intermediate, Senior Youth groups lead service at Mansonville church

MANSONVILLE — On Jan. 29 the Intermediate and Senior Youth Groups of the United Church led the congregation in worship. The service followed the usual order, but the material was very different.

The theme of the service was Living It Up, the thought being that every Christian should live it up to the high standards of Jesus Christ. Prayers were in modern language.

David Bailey, a Senior Youth, led the congregational singing of hymns on the electric organ. David Bailey and Rev. E. McDonald led the Youth Choir on electric guitars, in four additional numbers. The point of the service was to illustrate Christian Life as a way of spiritual growth from childhood to mature adulthood, in body, mind and spirit.

Mrs. Merton Bailey's adaptation of a poem by John Oxenham was set to the tune of Green Grow the Lilacs. The well-known Gospel song, Fishers of Men, adapted by Mr. McDonald, illustrated the fact that all Christians should read the Bible, pray, work and think. The Youth Choir sang A Closer Walk with Thee.

The adaptation of Winchester Cathedral by Mrs. Merton Bailey was the climax of the service, the new words illustrating the Christian way of following the lead of the Holy Spirit one day at a time.

John Jewett co-ordinated the service. Cynthia Clark led the reading of Psalm 19. Rhoda Knowlton told a children's story and Anne Jewett led the pastoral prayers. Karen McDonald read Old and New Testament lessons and Ricky Clark gave the announcements.

Ricky and Cynthia Clark, Billy and Janet Jewett, Ralph Knowlton, Karen McDonald and Wanda Lee illustrated the Christian Life in a short drama. Ian Jewett and Jane Jewett played the two scholars, William Lawlor, a Bishop, and Mary Lawlor, a Pentecostal. Mr. McDonald narrated and organized the service, which was an inspiring illustration of how the Christian message may be portrayed to young and old alike.

SCOTSTOWN

Mrs. Bea Atkin has returned to her home, after spending a week with Mrs. C. M. MacRae, and is able to be out again after her illness.

Mr. Burns MacDonald received word of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Smyth, Plymouth, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gill, and little daughter, Debbie, of Sherbrooke, spent the weekend with Mrs. Gill's mother, Mrs. Susie Wonnacott.

Mrs. P. A. Sherman has gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., for a holiday.
