

Huntingdon Minor Hockey League's midget division has been bolstered to four teams this year with the addition of a squad from Malone, N.Y. The new team made its debut in Huntingdon Monday night in a contest with a local squad. The Huntingdon team had little respect for their visitors and dumped them 5-2.

CVR takes second place in national hockey tournament

Chateauguy Valley Regional High School's hockey team is Canada's second best in that category judging by the results of a holiday hockey tournament. The local squad defeated two heavily-favored teams to advance to the finals in the third annual Copper Cliff High School Hockey Tournament at Copper Cliff, Ontario a few miles from Sudbury.

The CVR roster of 16 players, a manager, a chaperone and coach Russ Hawarth left the school the morning of December 26 to compete with seven other teams from Ontario (5), New Brunswick (1) and Manitoba (1).

The CVR senior team met stiff opposition in their first encounter December 27 from Lockerby High School but downed the defending champs 3-2 in overtime.

The score at the end of regulation time was 1-1 on the strength of a CVR goal by Gib Campbell. John Laurie added another marker for the locals in the extra period but the Sudbury area squad replied in kind. Gib Campbell netted his second and CVR's decisive goal with three minutes remaining in the ten-minute period. Goaltender Larry O'Neil is reported to have played an outstanding game and managed to preserve the win with a number of clutch saves.

A North Bay, Ontario team was favoured to down the locals in their December 28 encounter but CVR ignored local hockey scribes' opinions and scored a 5-2 upset victory on the strength of goals by Bob McEwen, Bob Bateman, Bob Renzo, Danny McArthur and Mario Faubert. Netminder Larry O'Neil baffled the opposition with goaltending at its finest.

December 29 the area team met more than their match when they contested the championship with the Copper Cliff Braves. The Braves, playing on home ice, put nine unanswered goals past O'Neil and kept CVR from testing their goalie's ability with strong defensive play. Copper Cliff led by a one-point margin at the end of the first period but came back early in the second period to score a back-breaking goal while they were shorthanded. They increased their lead to four points in the middle period and added five more in the final.

Despite the lopsided result more than a few of those who made the trip said O'Neil played a respectable game and was complimented by all, including the referee, after the encounter.

The loss was CVR's first in seven starts this season. Canada's 'almost finest' returned to Ormstown December 30.

Monsignor David marks 60th anniversary as priest

Today is a memorable date! It's the 60th anniversary of the Ordination of Mgr. Joseph-Arsène David. Back in 1963, year of the centennial of St-Joseph's parish, one of his friends wrote a biography of Father David.

Joseph Arsene David is of St. Antoine Abbé where he first saw the light of day on the 15th of May, 1888, son of Arsene, Grand Trunk Foreman, and of Demerise Gamache. He attended the primary school of Ormstown while his father was employed there but very soon went to St. Remi, where the young Joseph pursued his commercial course at the college of Les Clercs Saint-Viateur. He went later to Bourget College Rigaud to finish his classical studies in June 1908. He studied theology at Montreal, at the Seminary of St. Boniface, Man., and at Valleyfield. He was ordained priest at the Valleyfield Seminary by Mgr. Emard, Jan. 6 1912 and was a professor there till 1922, as well as chaplain for the poor Clares from 1914-1922. He was then named Curate at Vaudreuil, 1922-24, with studies of philosophy in Montreal and assistant at Dorion. He was called by Mgr. Rouleau to be pastor of St. Agnes de Dundee 1924-35 where he built Catholic schools, formed school boards and built a church. Mgr. Langlois named him pastor of Hemmingford in 1935. He repaired the church and the presbytery with limited finances. In 1937 he left for Dorion, where he remained till 1951. During his administration he built a church Sainte Trinite de Dorion, founded the parish of Saint Jean Baptiste and endowed it with a church and presbytery and both were under his guidance till 1951, when the parish of St. Polycarpe was confided to him. He repaired the church and had it redecorated, and he was named Honorary Canon of the Cathedral of Valleyfield November 12, 1952. At the death of Canon A. Pigeon, he was named pastor of Huntingdon, April 9, 1954.

The arrival of Rev. Canon David opened the annals of the contemporary history of the parish. It isn't a question of judging his work. A simple list of facts suffices to review the work accomplished to date. Let us recall that the fabrique upon his arrival consented to a loan of land to complete the construction of Notre Dame School, that a subscription was made in 1956 in favor of the Grand Seminary of St. Boniface, that a beautiful presbytery adjoining the church has been constructed; the interior of the church and the paintings were washed by a specialist in this line from Montreal, who also gilded the altars. Much work has been done in the basement in Msr. Joseph-Arsène David, retired from active duty in the Roman Catholic priesthood since 1969 resides in Huntingdon and continues to say Mass daily in his home. Msr. David marks his 60th anniversary as an ordained priest today (Wednesday).

Ormstown to have swimming pool

The Village of Ormstown has signed a contract with Val-Mar Ltd. of Ste. Therese for the construction of a semi-olympic cement swimming pool. The contract is for $33,000 with total final cost including sidewalks, fence and chalet to be about $45,000.

The project is the result of much work on the part of Les Loisirs d'Ormstown. Although for business reasons the project is in the name of the municipality the Loisirs will oversee the construction and be in charge of the operation of the completed pool.

Generous financial assistance has already been pledged by the two local councils, the Lions Club, the Community Centre and of course the Loisirs themselves. The Loisirs will be conducting a canvass in the area in the near future.

Construction should be completed by the end of May, and location will be approximately where the barns were on the Albert Moore farm.

Beaver road couple robbed

Three area youths were arrested Tuesday, December 21 for their part in a 7:05 p.m. robbery on the Beaver road, Dundee. The trio were apprehended the same night while walking along the New Erin road near Huntingdon by Agent Bernier of the Huntingdon detachment of the Quebec Police Force.

The youths are alleged to have forced Mr. and Mrs. Remi Allen to hand over $20 after pushing the couple about and holding a broom handle about Mr. Allen's throat and threatening to choke him. Two of the youths are reported to have gained entrance to the home by requesting use of the telephone while the third remained outside.

Ormstown shut-ins visited by many

Happiness is that state of mind which makes some of us smile, and some of us cry. Happiness was that state of mind on Christmas day at Pleasant Valley Convalescent Home in Ormstown. Twelve elderly patients were blessed with good health for the special day and they all smiled and cried as they examined the contents of well filled stockings left by Mrs. Santa, in the person of Mrs. Arabella Ovans.

Because of the enthusiasm of Mrs. Ovans and her family, the entire community seemed to be aware of the importance of doing something for someone special during the holiday season. The Ormstown Lions Club sent gifts as did several stores. The scouts, and MSD class of CVR, several choirs from the area, members of organizations and individuals from Ormstown, Huntingdon, Valleyfield, Hemmingford all visited the shut-ins and brought cheer and good will and gifts.

It is at this time of the year that we all should think about how easy it was to be kind and thoughtful during the festive season and yet how easy it is to put off until another day, that proposed visit to a shut-in, after Christmas is over.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovans are most grateful to everyone who in any way contributed to the success of Christmas activities at Pleasant Valley Home. A special 'thank you' to Mr. Viau who never forgets to leave a gift for each patient every Christmas.

New Year's Day accident injures St. Regis lad

A 9-year-old St. Regis lad is in critical condition in Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall as a result of a New Year's Day accident involving the snowmobile he was operating and an automobile.

The near-fatal mishap occurred at an intersection on St. Regis Road when the snowsled driven by David Gregory was involved in a collision with a 70 model car driven by Angus Thomas of Cornwall Island at 11:45 a.m.

Ormstown man hurt in mishap

A 23-year-old Ormstown man is in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal recovering from extensive injuries suffered in a December 27 snowmobile accident in his hometown.

Marc André Forget, only son of Mr. and Mrs. René Forget of Ormstown is reported to have lost control of his snowmobile in the vicinity of Lambton and Bay streets at approximately 5 p.m. when it hit the edge of a sidewalk. He was thrown from the vehicle and landed back first against a utility pole. Rushed to Barrie Memorial Hospital in Ormstown by McGerrigle ambulance his injuries were diagnosed as a broken rib, a leg fracture above the ankle and severe back injuries.

Mr. Forget was transferred to the Montreal hospital the same night and underwent an operation on his back the next day.

Hospital suspends visiting because of flu outbreak

Visiting privileges at the Huntingdon County Hospital have been suspended as of Saturday due to the recent flu outbreak that has been plaguing the Chateauguy Valley and elsewhere. As of Tuesday morning Barrie Memorial Hospital in Ormstown has not posted any such restrictions.

First New Year baby born in Ormstown

The first baby of the New Year in this area joined the outside world at 7 p.m. New Year's Day at Barrie Memorial Hospital in Ormstown. Parents of the 6 pound 11 ounce lad are Mr. and Mrs. André Rousseau of St. Bernard de Lacolle. There were no births at Huntingdon County Hospital in Huntingdon since the New Year.

Public response to the December 23 Huntingdon Rotary sponsored carol-sing could be described as sluggish at best. Approximately 50 hardy souls braved the cold and made up for what they lacked in numbers with a fine show of enthusiasm.

Monday evening marked the opening of the Huntingdon Minor Hockey League exhibition season as two town Bantam division squads worked out a few pre-season kinks. Serious competition starts next week when the league title chase begins in earnest with the official opening of the season.

Valleyfield

Obituary
The Late

Mrs. Marthe Evans
The death occurred on Tuesday, December 21, at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Montreal, of Mrs. Marthe Evans, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Evans lived in Valleyfield and is survived by her husband, Mr. Gwil Evans and daughters, June and Janet. She is also survived by her sister, Eveline, Mrs. Mike Riley of Downey, California, who formerly lived in Valleyfield.

Mrs. Evans was a Special Education teacher at the Ormstown Elementary School. Her teaching career extended over seventeen, of which ten years were prior to her marriage.

Daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Louis Abram of Valleyfield, Mrs. Evans had lived in Montreal and several cities in the United States, but had always maintained a close contact with Valleyfield.

Her interests were many and varied. She did extensive work in church organizations wherever she lived and also in scouting activities. Over the years, membership in church choirs and solo singing was of great interest to her.

During her years in Valleyfield, she was an active member of the Valleyfield United Church choir and the United Church Women.

For several years she had been a Director of the Chateauguy Valley Association for Retarded Children.

A Memorial Service was held at the Valleyfield United Church on Sunday, January 2.

Memorial Service held. A Memorial Service was held in the Valleyfield United Church on Sunday, January 2, for the late Mrs. Marthe Evans. The service was conducted by the minister, Mr. Jack Skues, and special music was provided by the organist Mrs. A. Chaplin and the choir. As an organ prelude, Mrs. Chaplin played "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth", which was often sung as a solo by Mrs. Evans. The choir sang the Anthem "The Lord's My Shepherd". The hymns were: "Praise my soul, the King of Heaven", "This is My Father's World", "Take My Life, and let it be", "Unto The Hills Around Do I Lift Up", and "Love Divine, All Love's Excelling". These were all favorite hymns of Mrs. Evans and were chosen by her family. During his Oration, Mr. Skues spoke of Martha's devotion to her work, her pupils, and her church, as well as being a devoted wife and mother. She never lost faith even in her last hours of pain and suffering. She will be greatly missed in the community.

Messrs. Wayne and Glenn

Mrs. Wallace Middlemiss of Huntingdon spent the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. Murdoth Rosevear.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Lang and son of Toronto spent a long Christmas holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waller and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lang of Ormstown.

Norman of Montreal spent Christmas Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Norman.

Dr. White and Mrs. N. Shattuck of Huntingdon were Christmas Day dinner guests of Miss Alice Cain and Mrs. O. Trainer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Laine of Montreal spent their Christmas holidays in Rockburn while her mother, Mrs. F. Pawluk visited old friends in Ontario.

On Tuesday evening, December 21 a number of younger folk from the Rennie, Rockburn and Franklin Churches joined Rev. W. Milne in calling on the shut-ins and friends in various homes, singing a number of the beautiful old carols, to cheer any who might be quite ill or convalescing, and lovers of music. This kind of feature was much appreciated by all.

On Friday, evening, December 24, a Christmas service was held in the Rockburn church which was well decorated with colored lights and flowers. Many attended this service which was conducted by Rev. W. Milne. Readings in keeping with the Yuletide season, an organ solo by Mr. Milne, also a vocal solo by Mrs. Walter Currie and the singing of the carols by all was much enjoyed.

Our wishes for a speedy recovery to Mr. Caldwell Scriber who is slated for surgery at Montreal General Hospital.

Sympathy goes to the Cassidy families, Mr. Walter Scott, the family of the late Miss E. Brown and the family of Mrs. Archie McNeil on the death of their loved ones.

Mr. Dee Glover has returned to his studies at Guelph and Mr. Jay Glover to his work in Toronto.

Havelock

A large congregation was in attendance on Christmas Eve for the annual Yuletide service at Trinity Church. Decorations in keeping with the festive season were in evidence, including a Christmas tree, fully trimmed. Rev. Keith Dickerson conducted the service.

Mrs. George McKee has been called east from her new home in Vancouver, to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, the late Mr. Angus Orr of Barrington. Sympathy is extended to the McKee family. Friends from here also extend get well wishes to Mr. George McKee, who is not feeling as well as might be hoped.

One cold winter evening recently, a power failure, one of the longest to hit this region for some time, caused much discomfort to the people of our area. It disrupted barn chores, and the suppers in many homes were cold by the time the power was restored.

Miss Pat Goodman of Montreal spent Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Allan were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pilon and family in Ormstown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Allan spent New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Allan and family in Huntingdon.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Allan were Mr. and Mrs. Dale MacNaughton of Halifax, N. S., also Mr. and Mrs. Armand Maynard. Congratulations to Mr. Tom Walsh who retired recently from his employment at the Turnbull Elevators Co. in Montreal. May you enjoy your retirement and leisure hours for many years to come.

Mrs. G. McKee, who receives The Gleaner regularly in her Vancouver home has voiced an opinion of disappointment that she does not see more news of what her former friends here are doing, so we'll try our best to get more news in the column each week.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Hubert Poissant, who has been ill with pneumonia. Congratulations to Mr. Keith Buchanan, who was a lucky winner of $200 in the Inter Lotto drawing on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buchanan spent the New Year weekend with her parents in London, Ont.

Christmas holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walsh were Mr. and Mrs. Randal Walsh and family of Montreal.

Hemmingford

Friendship Club

Hemmingford Friendship Club met on Thursday December 16 in St. Andrew's United Church hall, for a Christmas "get together" with a good attendance as well as some visitors.

This being a Christmas party, it was very much enjoyed by all, and special attractions had been added, including the lovely trimmed tree, Bridge, 500, Domino and Cribbage were enjoyed by many. Bridge winner, Mrs. Chas. Petch, Sr. 500 winner, Mrs. W. J. McKay. Domino winner, Mrs. Parker and the cribbage honors went to Mr. Ed. Ellerton.

A very hilarious Santa Claus arrived in all his glory, with candy bags for each and everyone, regardless of age. Then followed a chance game which caused much fun and hilarity, as no one was supposed to leave this game without one prize. After which the ladies in charge served a delicious turkey dinner to everyone, and that meant turkey and all its trimmings.

Mr. George Stanford called the crowd to order, as he had a presentation to make to the ladies, who had worked so hard to make the Friendship Club the success that it is. The ladies who received this honor were Mrs. Pete Pederson, Mrs. Harry Warner, Mrs. Joan Kyle, and Mrs. June Palmer.

This was followed by a film shown by Mrs. Joan Kyle of the Highland Games held in Maxville, Ontario and was very much enjoyed. Next meeting will be held Thursday, January 6.

Miss Donna Tannahill honored

After the regular morning service on Sunday, January 2, the congregation of the Ormstown Presbyterian Church was invited to go to the Church Hall to have coffee and sandwiches, when Miss Donna Tannahill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Tannahill was the guest of honor. Donna is now attending Ewart College in Toronto, on a three year course in Christian Education.

Rev. J. W. Milne called the gathering to order, and extended the Congregations best wishes to Donna in her new work. He then called on Mr. Alvin Gruer to present her with a gift, a leather writing case.

Although taken by surprise, Donna capably thanked everyone for the gift and good wishes and all those present signed the enclosed card.

Mr. Gerald Boyer and his staff wish to extend their best wishes to the population of Beauharnois, Chateauguy, Huntingdon and Vaudreuil-Soulanges counties for the New Year. They thank you sincerely for your patronage and wish to assure you of their close cooperation in all sectors during 1972.

By Bernice Cullen

The lack of respect of discipline or the lack of the discipline of respect is a costly non commodity which we should examine with much more seriousness than we have done in the past.

Respect of property, respect for persons and their freedoms, respect for the law are old cliches which we tend to ignore. We ignore those cliches in the same way we ignore those busy kill joys who complain about snowmobiles and other nuisances. It would not be too much to expect if we insisted on the teeth of municipal law to enforce stiff penalties on all who do not discipline themselves to observe respect for the rights of others and that certainly is some snowmobile operators.

Not all, indeed very few operators make life a little less pleasant for others, but that's all it takes to stir up resentment, that's all it takes to kill and to maim and it has already happened within the last two weeks right in our area.

Why in the name of Him who gave us the right to live, do we not do something. Are we afraid to hurt someone's feelings, are we afraid of how the citizen will cast his vote, are we afraid that we may lose a job, what in H-- is the matter?

A 23-year-old lad may never walk again because no one had the guts to make him shape up to staying off the sidewalks with his snowmobile. If he had killed a policeman, or a policeman's son or the small daughter or son of one of our distinguished citizens, would that have made a difference?

We really cannot afford the price we are paying, or is someone else's life becoming such a cheap commodity that it's of no value to us?

Christmas concert held at Howick school by United church children

A tall tree sparkled and evergreen boughs wafted fragrance into the room as a large, enthusiastic group welcomed Santa at the Howick Elementary School, Saturday evening December 19. The event was the Howick United Sunday School Christmas Tree.

Santa departed followed by thank-yous and good wishes and, I dare say, some longing requests for Christmas Eve too. The happy, exciting evening was over and as families bundled up against the cold night air, the Christmas feeling continued to make itself felt in the sleepy good-nights and happy wishes for glad holidays.

Ormstown

Holiday visitors of Mrs. H. Lawrence were Mr. and Mrs. Mac Lawrence, Janet, Nancy and Greig of Belleville, Ont. and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitney of Abbotford.

Christmas Day and night folks at the Donald McEwens were Misses Betty McEwen and Lois Hicks, Mr. Don McEwen of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. John McEwen, Dorothy, Linda and Wendy of Brockville, Ont. Messrs. John and Jim Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hamilton and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Hamilton, Mr. Roy McNicol and Miss Jane McNicol, Mr. and Mrs. Archie McEwen of Ville de Léry and Mrs. M. Brannen and Joey of Ottawa.

Miss Susan McNicol left on Tuesday by plane for George River, where she has accepted a teaching position. Hope you remembered to take your mitts, Susan, hear it gets pretty cold on the shores of Ungava Bay. Good luck in your new job.

Miss Shirley MacDonald of Montreal spent the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacDonald and family. Mr. C. P. MacDonald and the Ken MacDonalds were Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Arnold and family in Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cairns of Cornwall, Ont. spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Wes Cairns and family. Mr. Wm. Cairns was also a guest.

Aubrey-Riverfield

The annual New Year's Day party for the Orr families was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr on January 1. This family get-together has taken place for 50 years, beginning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Orr. Each year a few more places are set at the table so that now a buffet table is arranged with hot casseroles, squares, cookies, etc.

Owing to illness ten persons were unable to come this year but 40 aunts, uncles and cousins enjoyed a delicious meal. The afternoon soon passed with music, singing and visiting. The younger people played games and listened to records.

Sometimes a discussion arises as to whether these gatherings should be continued, but when the young people continue to come and bring friends one would gather it is a worthwhile tradition. All left happy and thanking Willard and Phyllis for a wonderful day together.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr entertained their family on Sunday, December 26 with 22 present.

George and Margaret Anderson of Hamilton were visitors during the long holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Math McKell.

Howick
Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchanan were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin McCartney, Sharon and Scott of Chateauguay, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Buchanan, Susan Ronny, Ricky and Sandra of Howick, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Buchanan, Darrell and Troy of Sudbury, Ont. who spent the past week visiting Cullen and Buchanan relatives.

The McCoy's from Huntingdon and the Carsons from Vankleek Hill, Ont. were Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Younie.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Younie, Margaret and Elaine spent the Christmas holiday at Campbellford, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Younie entertained the Bryson Family on Christmas Day.

A tribute . . . the late Ed McNally

Text of remarks made by Ken Johnstone at Rockburn, Wednesday, December 22, 3:00 p.m. at the home of The Late Ed McNally, on the occasion of a gathering held there to mark his passing.

Joanne, Jan, Friends and neighbours. I must apologize for reading what I have to say, for I am a poor speaker, with no capacity for memorizing what I may have written. So please bear with me.

First, I should explain that this gathering is not intended as a typical formal memorial service. It is really an occasion on which many of the friends and neighbours of Ed can come together to mark his passing in something like the spirit which we think Ed would have liked best.

Both his daughter Joanne, and his dearest friend, Jan Wright had this feeling, and we, who like to think that we were his closest friends, wholeheartedly agreed that it is the way Ed would have liked it best.

I should note here that the one man who was probably his longest and most enduring friend, Max Newton, is not able to be here because of illness. Otherwise certainly he is the person who should be talking now, for he really knew Ed, and Max surely would have said better and with more knowledge some of the things I would like to say now.

Max and Ed came together about thirty years ago, when Max was in the Navy as an art director and Ed was a Navy artist, covering the Canadian Navy's War effort. Their first collaboration was in a book about the Navy at war. After the war, they both came to Montreal; Max to become photo editor of the old Standard, which is now Weekend, and Ed as a freelance artist.

It is a mark of their long and close friendship that Ed, the day he died, had an illustrating job for Max, almost finished on his drawing board.

Max, when he talked to me last night on the phone, said of Ed that he was a professional's professional.

Duncan MacPherson, who was probably the only serious rival to Ed McNally as the greatest political cartoonist this country ever knew, is also known as a man who believes in calling a spade a goddam shovel. He wouldn't give a kind word to his own grandmother unless she had earned it ten times over.

MacPherson spoke about Ed this week. He talked of the days in the 50s when they were both freelance artists. I'd like to quote him: He said: "even then, he was the fastest with the mostest, and his death is a loss to Canada. The economy, grade and maturity of his work is with us; the memory of Ed as a man and gentleman is with me."

Words like those, from Duncan MacPherson, were earned, ten times over.

But it is really Ed the man and gentleman we are thinking about here today.

The very fact that it was decided to hold this gathering in Ed's home, was really a tribute which both Joanne and Jan wanted to pay Ed, and which we close friends strongly support.

Ed did not believe in facing death with tears. He felt that each person had the right to deal with death in his own fashion. He saw nothing wrong with people who wanted to say good-bye to their loved ones in a traditional ceremony; but he wanted no part of it for himself, and when my own wife died less than ten years ago, it was Ed who came to my side and helped me find a solution which, I know, shocked many of my friends at that time, but which I felt was the way my wife would have wanted it.

So, what we have called a memorial service, since that is the closest term to what we mean, is really simply an occasion to say good-bye to an old and dear friend, to talk about him, and to measure within ourselves just what he meant to us, and what we got from knowing him.

What did I get from Ed? An awful lot.

To begin with, and to be completely honest, when I first met Ed through Max Newton, in Ottawa during the war, I didn't like the guy at all. I thought he was aggressive, opinionated, and full of a lot of wrong information and ideology.

Besides, he drank too much.

---	--	---	---	--	--	---	---	--	--	---	--	--	--	---	---	--	---	--

It is not surprising that Ed later told me he had exactly the same opinion of me.
I don't think either of us, changed much from that time.
Well, I didn't really get to like Ed for another seven years. I didn't like him, in fact, until he moved to Rockburn, to the country, and I had a chance to know the real Ed.
Somehow, I think, this was the place which really gave Ed a chance to reveal the rather wonderful and exasperating person he could be.
I started coming down here in the early 50s from my home in St. Marc on the Richelieu, to go fishing with Ed. We used to fish the little streams along Highway 52, and catch our limit of brook trout in an hour or so.
Charlie Douglas will remember how he taught me to drop the line over the bank so that the trout would not detect my presence and vanish.
Then Ed and I would go over the border to Chateauguay and save money by drinking booze at 45 cents a drink, which would have cost 60 cents in the Press Club. Now it's $1.30, so you can see it was the early fifties.
We'd buy some beautiful big steaks of western beef, a bottle of wine, and come back for dinner.
Around three in the morning I'd wake up from a drunken slumber on the couch in Ed's studio and head for home 90 miles away at St. Marc.
It was a tough way of getting to know Ed, but most people who knew him will agree that it was not easy to get to know Ed. He was a complex, strange person. His loyalties invariably overcame his good sense. That is why I always considered him a most loyal friend.
He was loyal to Rockburn, Franklin Centre, Huntingdon County - fanatically loyal.
Oh, he could find fault, alright. But let some stupid outsider step in and say that there were certain things about the area which made it less than Paradise, then he risked violence from Ed.
But it was also typical of Ed that he couldn't be satisfied with just loving the place himself. Everybody else he knew had to love it, too.
That's how it was that I was dragged from a lovely old home on the Richelieu and stuck into a rather beaten-up old place on the Rockburn Sideroad, while Ed master-minded the renovation of the place, which was, in fact, done by a talented architect, Zula Makowska, who today, unhappily, rests in the Rennie Church Cemetery. Her parents still live here, victims, as I was, of Ed's love for Rockburn.
Ed was responsible for hiring my stone mason, who was great as long as you didn't give him any money to get drunk on. He built one of my chimneys after I had paid him an installment and when Ed indignantly pointed out that the chimney was cockeyed, the mason said: "O.K. I'm quitting. Come on, men, we're leaving."

I hastily told him that the chimney looked great to me, so he returned to the job, but if you happen to visit my place on the Rockburn Sideroad, take a good look at that first chimney you see, and decide for yourself.
Then there was the day of the big ice storm. Ed always watched the weather like a hawk, and he came up to my place early on that Saturday, as the fog formed and the air became still.
Ed knew lots of forest lore, though I sometimes suspected he got it a bit mixed up.
"The squirrels are running around" he told me. "The weather's going to be bad. There'll probably"

Editorial Notes 'Tis the Season

Today is the fifth day of January and our first issue in 1972 and we take pleasure in wishing all of our readers, advertisers, correspondents and friends health, happiness and prosperity for the 361 days which lie ahead in this New Year.

We had a White Christmas after all, despite the fact that everything was green ... and wet ... the previous day.

Perhaps that wetness and the greenness contributed to the many colds and flu cases which have been reported. We hope so. We hope so because now with snow on the ground and more reasonable temperatures, we believe there will be less sickness.

The snowstorm last week started Thursday afternoon and lasted until after daybreak on Friday. High wind caused drifting. By New Year's Day all roads were open. The storm caused inconvenience for a time but we believe most people were pleased to see the snow arrive in such quantity that they knew that at last it was here to stay.

And more important, the seasonal temperatures meant that Huntingdon County War Memorial would soon be open for skating and hockey. Ski and snowmobile enthusiasts are also in their glory and no doubt are hoping for even more snow before the end of the week.

The long-awaited 'winter look' for the great outdoors means fun for everyone who enjoys winter sports and that, in turn, means more fresh air and better health.

Years ago, before trucks became the customary method of transportation in the farming industry, the arrival of snow meant that horse-drawn sleighs could be used to transport logs, feed, milk, etc.

Perhaps one of these mornings we'll face days like we experienced last winter when we'll be virtually 'snowed in' for a time. We hope not. We like snow, but in moderation. It dresses up the countryside, lays the cold and 'flu bugs low and has a cheerful appearance. It means skating, skiing and snowmobiling. It's great stuff. We even believe people who leave for warmer climates early in December and don't return until it's all gone are missing something.

And, if we sound as if we're trying hard to convince ourselves, look at it this way: it's winter, it's here and why complain? There's nothing we can do about it so let's enjoy it.

About pictures . . .

There was a period of a few weeks recently following the sudden death of Kenneth MacNair, who was our cameraman here at The Gleaner, when the pictures which appeared in this newspaper did not reproduce well. We were keenly aware of the poor quality of the pictures, fully as much as both readers and subscribers who either wrote or phoned us, but there was little that could be done that we didn't try in order to improve the situation.

We aren't boasting, we're stating a fact: our camera equipment is the best there is in our opinion and it's less than a year old.

But, therein lay the trouble.

As many readers are no doubt aware, Ken MacNair practically grew up with photography. For years photography and all kinds of camera equipment had been both a business and a hobby for him. Not only that, but he had been here when the new camera equipment arrived and he had been versed in its operation by company instructors and technicians; he had visited The Lachute Watchman and was given additional instruction by John Giles ... he was an excellent cameraman.

His sudden death was a distinct loss to all who knew him but it also created a very real void here at The Gleaner. We knew little about the equipment.

Roy Hiscock a man who possesses many of the qualities Ken had, stepped into the breach. He was shown the equipment he was to work with by foreman Renaud Mainville and editor/photographer Eric Belanger, but beyond that he was practically on his own.

For a couple of weeks he was near despair. The photographers gave him good negatives to work with but somewhere between developing and printing on the press things were going wrong. The pictures themselves would come out A-1, but in the newspaper, yuckkk.

It was trial and error, trial and error. For every picture which finally appeared in The Gleaner, perhaps fifty of each were tried and discarded.

Finally, through trial and error, Roy emerged one afternoon from the camera room and he was beaming. "I think we've found it!" he exclaimed.

Sure enough, he had. We were as happy for him as he was for us. From now on, the pictures in The Gleaner should again be good.

We aren't relating all of this merely to explain why they weren't up to par for a few weeks.

We're doing so because we believe The Gleaner can be made more interesting, with your cooperation.

People in the Fort Covington area are acclaiming The Fort Covington Sun a good newspaper and one of the reasons is because we feature "Pictures From The Past" in it. They've varied from scenes taken 30 or more years ago in Fort Covington, Bombay, the St. Lawrence River, Bangor, Moira, North Bangor, Massena, etc. to group pictures such as the graduating class of '08 at Fort Covington; from hockey teams to horse-drawn carriages; from people posing with old-time cars to wedding photos of yesteryears.

People there tell us they're greatly interested in the 'Pictures From The Past' section.

We believe such columns would be of interest to Gleaner readers also.

Readers who have or remember the Gleaner Centennial issue (1963) will recall that it was a great success. Many people cherish that issue and will always keep it.

Our belief is that one of the reasons the late Sid Smith's issue in honor of The Gleaner's 100th birthday was so well received was because of the many fine pictures of people and events dating back for years.

We can have a section like that every week if readers want it. It will mean that pictures will have to be brought or mailed to The Gleaner together with the information needed for the caption to be printed with the picture. They can either wait and take the picture back or we will send them back within 48 hours.

For instance, does anyone have a picture of a load of logs on a double sleigh, someone standing beside an old-time car, a group swimming at Port Lewis in costumes of yesteryears, old landmarks, streets

Huntingdon Locals

Mr. and Mrs. James Willock had as their guests over the New Year's weekend, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ian Spark, Mrs. Wm. Spark and Mrs. Norman McCallum and Kelly, all of Oakville, Ont.

Following an enjoyable two week stay at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Milne, their sons and daughter-in-law, Murray, Marvin and Heather Milne have returned to their homes in Calgary. Murray left on Tuesday, and will travel via the State of Virginia, while Marv and Heather will fly the direct route on Wednesday from Dorval. Miss Shirley Moore of Toronto and Miss Carol Herdman of Howick also visited the Milne home during the holidays.

Messrs. Dwight and Tommy McConville of Hamilton have been recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConville. Dwight had just returned from an enjoyable two-week vacation in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Arthur and family of Ottawa were Christmas weekend guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Arthur. Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Arthur and daughter Evelyn of Dorval spent the New Year weekend at the same home, and Mrs. Ethel Sturtevant and family of Waterloo were dinner guests there on Sunday.

Recent guests of Mrs. J. E. Wilson were Mrs. D. E. Watson of Lexington, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. James Watson of Scituate, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson of of houses, individuals ... anything ... only stipulation being that the picture be at least 30 years old.

Please, try to identify the year the picture was taken, the subject, names, etc. if possible.

We feel our problem in the camera room has been beaten, thanks to Roy Hiscock, and we hope readers will cooperate to make a 'Pictures from the Past' section in The Gleaner.

Dedication

Service at St. Andrew's

A dedication service was observed during the morning service on December 26 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon. This act of dedication was conducted by the minister, Mr. Clair MacLeod, who was assisted by members of the Smellie and Kelly families, two members of the choir and the President of the Western Division of the Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell. The outline of the service was as follows: choir chairs which had been purchased from the memorial fund, given in memory of Mr. MacArthur Kelly; the Cross, given by Mr. Allister Kelly in memory of his brother, MacArthur; choir gowns given by Mr. and Mrs. J. MacNair Smellie in memory of Mr. Smellie's mother and father; the carpet in the church entries, given by the Western division of the Ladies Aid Society, in memory of Mrs. E. Smellie.

ROCKBURN
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lindsay and family of Orangeville, Ont. spent the holiday season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lindsay and visited other relatives.

CARDS OF THANKS
The family of Mr. Desilva Tailleur wish to express their sincere thanks to their friends and relatives for expressions of sympathy, Mass cards, flowers, cards, visits or assistance at the funeral, on the occasion of the death of Mrs. Desilva Tailleur. Thanks also to Mrs. Thompson and Lefebvre and the staff of the Barrie Memorial Hospital in Ormstown.

We would like to thank the members of the Fort Covington, Godmanchester, Hinchinbrooke, Bombay, Trout River and Westville Fire Departments for the tremendous effort they made on the evening of the fire which destroyed our barns and livestock; also to our many kind friends, neighbours and relatives for their generous help during that night, for the food they brought, and for the help they gave during the clean-up chore afterwards.

Our special thanks to Father Gagnon and Mr. Romuald Quenneville, who arrived at our home on December 22, and brought with them a most generous collection of money donated by our many friends throughout the County of Huntingdon. We thank you all most sincerely for this donation, especially those who solicited on our behalf: Messrs. Edgar Leblanc, Theo Knoops, George Blankers, Henry Bonenberg, Claude Chabot, Winston Armstrong, Emile Quenneville, Lucien Latour, Elie Leger, Gerald Faubert and Albert Leger.

Again, many thanks Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nieuwenhof and family.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and everyone for their acts of sympathy, and the kindness of their sharing in our recent loss and bereavement. James and Francis Durain.

Our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbours for their acts of kindness, flowers, cards and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement.

Mr. Merrill Rosevear and Mrs. Ernest Rosevear.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Dr. McCrimmon, the nurses and staff of the Huntingdon County Hospital for the good care I received while I was there; also to everyone who remembered me with cards, visits and gifts. All was appreciated.

Isabel Ferns.

Christmas services well attended at Howick United

Howick United Church was filled for morning and evening services on Sunday, December 19. The beauty of poinsettias, evergreens and candles, placed in the sanctuary and narthex by the Hi-C group and in the chancel by the United Church Women enhanced the Christmas services of praise and worship.

In the morning a choir of eighteen voices sang two anthems with Rev. John S. Anderson, Michael Fingland and Peter Miller taking solo verses.

The lovely voices of a Junior Choir trained by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller were heard.

The Rev. John S. Anderson preached a splendid sermon on the subject "Through Lowly Doors".

Preludes, Postludes, and organ accompaniments by Mrs. R. Stewart throughout both services were pleasing and inspiring.

The special evening service is an annual event prepared by the organist in co-operation with the minister. This year the Rev. John S. Anderson gave further assistance by directing the choir during the service.

The congregation joined in the singing of six hymns, while the choir of 20 voices sang two anthems with solo parts by Michael Fingland and solo verses by Carolyn Templeton, Lynn MacFarlane, Michael Fingland and three girls in unison, Pamela Ness, Janie Templeton and Susan Hale. As an offertory a mixed quartet, Rev. John S. Anderson, Jean Templeton, Joan Knox and Peter Miller, sang "Hymn to Joy".

Each year people look forward to hearing the violin ensemble under the direction of teacher, Mrs. J. E. A. Johnstone. Such poise, precision and beauty of tone is to be expected of professionals. These children have all that plus an angelic charm which added a new dimension to the old and familiar carols. Those taking part were Bruce Barr, Linda Bennett, Michele Dumoulin, Melanie Guer, Brian MacFarlane, Kenny McRae, Michel Mallette, Carole Ness, Kathy Pedersen, Christiane Pomier, Daniel Touchette, Holly Williston.

The chancel lights alone were on as the talented Gail Ledderhoff sang unaccompanied and most effectively, "I wonder as I wander."

Later the Concert in A Minor for two violins, first movement, by Vivaldi was played by Mrs. Johnstone and Miss Jean Murray with Mr. Johnstone taking the organ part. It was grand. The two violinists joined also with the organ in all the hymn accompaniments which helped to inspire the congregational singing.

The Hi-C group of some 20 young people from 13 - 17 years of age added the enthusiasm of youth as they sang two carols under the direction of Bill Welburn who, along with Wayne McKell, Clifford Furcall and Mark Templeton played guitars, Pamela Ness, tambourine, and in the second carol, Susan Murray provided a fine organ accompaniment.

At times solo verses by recorders made a pleasing change. They were played by Janie Templeton, Susan Hale, Michael Fingland and Johnny Stuckey.

The readings were taken by Evelyn Lamb for Explorers Messengers and Tyros, Leslie Orr, the choir, Erma McKell, U.C.W. and all the women in unison; Gordon McKell, the Stewards, Valerie Furcall, the Hi-C Donald Templeton, the Sunday School, and Henry Welburn, the Session.

The minister in a brief Christmas message said these services helped in a small way to keep Christ in Christmas where He should be, then and everyday.

At this point the full beauty and meaning of the service reached a grand climax as the Rev. Mr. Anderson asked the organist to play "O Come All Ye Faithful" which the congregation sang with fervour. The Nunc Dimittis was repeated in unison, the Benediction was pronounced and the service closed with the Choral Amen.

Noyan and Clarenceville

Several boys of the local hockey teams attended a hockey school in Bedford this week.

Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McClay were her mother, Mrs. J. Mosher, and Mrs. McClay's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mosher, and Billy of Cantic.

Mrs. Ethel Derrick is much improved in health and back with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hislop and Bruce in their new home. Mrs. Derrick was a patient in Bedford Hospital for some time.

Mr. Jimmy Mosher spent a couple of days at Christmas time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mosher and family in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Cosquer spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaufman in St. Thomas, Ont.

Christmas guests of Mrs. Nettie Fadden were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Blinn of Stanbridge east.

Sunday supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herron and family were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herron Sr. of Lafleche also Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gallely and family of Lasalle. Mr. and Mrs. Herron Sr. remained to spend several days with their son and family.

Mr. Robert Simpson of Franklin Centre is spending his Christmas vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dallaire, Chantal and Angèle of Laprairie were Christmas weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Georges Dallaire.

Mrs. Stella Derick and Mrs. Dorothy Weir were Christmas guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Purcell and Allan in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. William Warner and daughters of Barrington accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pedersen and baby of British Columbia were Sunday visitors of Mr. Edwin Lamb.

Christmas marked at Elgin Church

Christmas was celebrated at Elgin Church recently and an enjoyable day it proved to be. The young people from St. Andrew's Church Huntingdon joined the young people of Elgin Church in presenting a carol service - an inspiring start to the day.

All members of the congregation were invited to partake of tea or coffee after the service whilst the young people were encouraged to join in the fun of party games. A hot casserole luncheon followed at noon when approximately 68 friends, both old and new, were seated at the gaily decorated tables. All the ladies of the Church are to be commended for the delicious refreshments and special mention should be made of the assistance provided in the kitchen and at the tables by some of the gentlemen. The stove didn't go out once and tea and coffee were made and served constantly by them.

After lunch the children gathered around the piano and led the gathering in carol singing after which gifts from under the tree were presented to the children of the Sunday School.

All in all it was a happy time for everyone present and because of this it was most rewarding for all those who so willingly gave of their time and energy in stoking the furnaces, decorating the church and basement, arranging the meal and transporting friends and neighbors to and from church. Perhaps the atmosphere at Elgin Church that day is best described by a compliment from a one-time resident and parishioner - "It was like going home" - and that's how it should be at Christmas.

Franklin Centre

New Year's Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dawson, Frank, Beverley and Noreen of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr, Janice, Bruce and Heather of Howick, Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, Lorne and Sharon of Franklin Centre, Mr. and Mrs. George Atcheson, Susan, Karen, Danny and Nancy of Powerscourt, Mr. and Mrs. James Barr, Scott and Cheryl of Franklin Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barr of Cornwall, Mr. Gordon Hope and Mrs. Helen Peddie of Allan's Corners, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Peddie and Mark and Miss Christine Winter of Ormstown.

be a power failure. You'd better fill up your bathtubs."

"By this time I'd long stopped even trying to resist Ed's orders. I dutifully went and filled both bathtubs."

"That night Ed was at my place when, right in the middle of the hockey game, the lights went out, and then, outside, the tree limbs, caked stiff with ice, began to fall. Ed decided it was time to leave, and eventually he made it back home."

Next day, I made my way down here through the devastation to find out how he had made out."

"Oh, fine," Ed said cheerfully. "But I got to go down to the brook to get some water. I forgot to fill my bathtubs."

I guess I could talk all day about the way Ed cared about people. I guess that's why I think of him first as a person and not the great artist he was."

Ed took his art casually.

I used to kid him about it, perhaps when he had a complex set of illustrations for Weekend, something that might take other artists days or weeks to finish."

He'd be working intensely for maybe a half hour and I'd say: "What's the matter, Ed. Losing your grip, not finished yet?"

Ed would give me that slow grin of his and say: "Go pour yourself another drink. I'll be with you in a jiffy."

Ed, the musician, was another person. He was self-taught, with an accurate ear and a great memory. I don't know anything about music, but I had some old jazz numbers which I liked very much. They were by Jelly Roll Morton and they were called "New Orleans Memories". Ed liked them, too.

And this was one of the frustrating but endearing things about Ed; if you had something which he liked very much, you either ended up by giving it to him or he just plain came and took it away from you.

There's more than one person in this room who can drink to that.

So he ended up with my Jelly Roll Morton Album. But I got something far better back.

I got Ed; everytime we had a few drinks and got together at the piano, him playing and me listening to "Mamie's Blues", "Buddy Bolden", "Wining Boy" and all that great collection, done "Live" by Ed, with a feeling and mood that completely contradicted his good Christian upbringing.

Jelly Roll Morton learned to play the piano, as he put it in one of his songs, as the "Can Rusher" fetching beer to ladies of easy virtue, in New Orleans Houses of ill fame, and if I didn't know better, I'd say that Ed was Jelly Roll's son.

Ed, the dog-lover was something else again.

When I first visited him in Rockburn he had three hounds, and they roamed the countryside, getting into garbage, killing chickens and generally terrorizing the population.

His neighbours - and this is one of the touching things about country people which surprise city dwellers - didn't complain, as they rightfully should have, to Ed. Occasionally and regretfully, someone would report a dead chicken.

But farmers at a distance from the village were not so gentle with Ed. One by one, the dogs met their just reward.

Then Ed acquired a monstrous and beautiful Labrador and a completely mad Rhodesian Ridgeback, both of which continued to terrorize the neighbourhood.

Which dog did Ed love best? The Ridgeback, of course.

Cecil, the Ridgeback, was completely stupid, a coward and a bully. He loved to frighten little children.

When Ed regretfully had to choose between Cecil and his friends, a decision that took several agonizing months, while I learned to frighten Cecil in turn with a water-pistol, a great blank entered Ed's life.

Oh, he was fond of my boxer, Marmaduke, whom he always called "Marmydooky" while "Marmydooky" slobbered all over him.

But it was not until Bruce Johnson acquired another quite stupid animal called Olaf, a Weimaraner, did dog love really enter Ed's life again.

Ed, I think, really fell in love with the dog after it started to appear outside his door and bark and snarl at him several mornings in succession. Ed told me at first: "Godamit, on my own property, that lousy dog has the nerve to bark at me like I'm the stranger."

Next thing I knew he was telling me: "That Olaf is really a very intelligent animal, not like poor stupid Marmydooky."

Marmaduke made the mistake of never barking at Ed.

Ed, the neighbour, I suspect, is how most of us knew him, and I guess we all can wish that our lives were populated by neighbours like Ed. If you were in trouble, he was automatically the person you turned to. He seemed positively to love to help solve other people's problems, and you never had the feeling that he was doing you a favor. It was something natural, to be expected, and even to be taken for granted.

And, with Ed, a neighbour was anybody in Huntingdon County, or even in Chateaugay County.

Of course, if you were a neighbour, Ed could lean on you, too.

Like the time he persuaded Claude Lussier to show him how to make calvados. They were a long time getting the stains off the ceiling when the still exploded, and an eye-witness said that Ed was the fastest man in the room to dive for cover when the air-raid warning sounded.

But Ed was very proud about the 20 ounces that were salvaged, though nobody could drink it.

But, to speak more seriously ... Ed suffered a lot in his last ten years, while he underwent several serious operations on both his legs.

He was a proud man, and for him to confess pain was a weakness he could not recognize.

It is heartbreaking to recall that just a few weeks ago, Ed said: "Now, I feel like a whole man again. I can walk on both legs."

Ed didn't know it, but he always walked on both legs.

I guess that's about all I wanted to say about Ed at this moment. We have no formal agenda here. As I said, it's really just a get-together of Ed's friends and neighbours, and if anybody else has something he'd like to add to this point, now's the time to take the floor.

Otherwise, I think it's the appropriate time to charge our glasses or cups with coffee or ginger ale or whatever else the bar provides, and offer a toast and a good journey to Ed McNally.

Kelsey Jones will speed him on with some of Ed's favorite tunes.

Mgr. David...

anticipation of a new floor and new pews in the church.

In 1956 the work of the subscription to the Bishopric of Valleyfield was carried out. In November of the same year Rev. Canon David was promoted to the dignity of Roman Prelate by His Holiness, the Pope. This elevation was the occasion of splendid feasts in Huntingdon as well as Roman and diocesan honors to a few parishioners: the medal Bene Merenti, (Rome) to Mr. Noel Poisy, and the medal of diocesan merit to Messrs. François Cleyn, Norbert Barnabé and Marcel Benoit.

The 6th of January 1962 was the 50th anniversary of the Ordination of the Pastor, marked by great feasting in May.

June 1st, 1969, after completing some 57 years of ministry, Mgr. David retired in Huntingdon. On May 14th of this year, a solemn Mass will be held in St-Joseph church to commemorate this event. Mgr. David was the ninth pastor of Huntingdon.

Retourner en classe: oui ou non!

Le torchon brûle toujours entre la Commission Scolaire Régionale Salaberry et les étudiants inscrits à cette dernière. Voici comment se présente le problème: les étudiants réclamaient en effet la prolongation du congé de Noël jusqu'au 10 janvier, au lieu de rentrer le 3 seulement; or, les conseillers scolaires refusent de passer à cette demande.

Position des étudiants. Lors d'un premier communiqué, les étudiants déclaraient le fait que l'année scolaire comportait 180 jours alors que le calendrier de cette année en compte 185, contrairement aux dispositions normales. Les étudiants voulaient récupérer ces journées durant la période des fêtes. Il faut dire qu'un grand nombre de professeurs et de parents les appuyaient.

Et dans ce premier communiqué, les étudiants se montrèrent très fermes dans leur position: ils proclamaient qu'ils ne rentreraient pas en classe le 3 janvier tel que prévu par la Commission Scolaire. Ils déclarèrent qu'ils retourneraient en classe seulement le 10 janvier.

Dans un deuxième communiqué, les étudiants ne firent point allusion au nombre de jours de classe que doit comporter une année scolaire, mais ils s'en prirent surtout cette fois, à ce qu'ils appellent la mauvaise foi des autorités scolaires. Or, le président de la régionale, M. Armand Miron, et le directeur des études, M. Maurice Marleau, avaient déclaré qu'ils n'avaient point reçu de demande officielle de la part des étudiants en vue de ce changement d'horaire; les étudiants répondirent que leur président, Pierre Leclerc, avait eu un entretien de plus d'une heure avec le directeur des études, M. Marleau, et aussi une représentante de la gent étudiante, Mlle Karol Paradis, avait elle aussi discuté durant une demi-heure également avec M. Marleau.

Position des dirigeants scolaires. D'un autre côté, les dirigeants scolaires démontrèrent, avec preuve à leur appui, que le calendrier scolaire, tel qu'approuvé par le ministère d'éducation, comportait au moins 200 jours dont au moins 180 devraient être consacrés à l'activité directe des classes. En d'autres mots, les étudiants doivent suivre des cours durant un minimum de 180 jours et un maximum de 200.

Le 20, il y eut 190

jours de classe alors qu'il y en a 5 de moins de prévu pour cette année soit le total de 185. M. Miron a déclaré que les ateliers pédagogiques de l'élémentaire et du secondaire de Valleyfield et de Huntingdon, l'association des enseignants de la Régionale Salaberry, de la commission scolaire de Valleyfield et de Huntingdon, le personnel de direction de même que le personnel non-enseignant furent tous appelés à se prononcer et donnèrent de la sorte leur opinion avec le résultat que le calendrier fut accepté à l'unanimité.

M. Miron avait déclaré que la réponse serait la même: les cours reprennent le 3 janvier.

La situation.

Lundi dernier, à la Polyvalente Baie St-François, à la première heure de cours, il manquait plus de la moitié des étudiants, soit autour de 900 sur 1.800. Les étudiants présents à l'école décidèrent de retourner chez eux. La Commission Scolaire fit un appel aux parents des élèves afin qu'ils insistent que ces derniers retournent en classe. Mardi, tout était normal, et on ne prévoyait plus de trouble.

Mardi dernier, à l'école secondaire Edgar-Hébert, les étudiants se rendirent aux cours, mais décidèrent de retourner chez eux peu de temps après. Il y avait seulement 100 étudiants présents sur 600. Des parents reconduirent leurs élèves à l'école; il avait près de 300 élèves présents. Les cours se donnèrent de toute façon, même s'il manquait la moitié des étudiants.

Décès de M. Omer Legault

Nous apprenons avec regret le décès de M. Omer A. Legault survenu le 24 décembre 1971 à l'hôpital de Huntingdon après une courte maladie à l'âge de 84 ans.

M. Legault était né à Valleyfield mais vint demeurer à Huntingdon avec ses parents alors qu'il était enfant. En 1912, il épousa Lina Tessier et de leur union naquirent trois enfants: Horace, de Ste-Agnès de Dundee, Juliette (Mme Elie Bisson) de Huntingdon et Laurent de Huntingdon également. Tous lui survivent. Il laisse également dans le deuil trois sœurs et un frère, 19 petits-enfants et 9 arrière-petits-enfants.

M. Legault avait pris sa retraite en 1953 après avoir été au service du New York Central Railroad Company pendant plus de trente-cinq ans dans la région de Huntingdon.

La dépouille mortelle fut exposée aux salons Montpetit et les funérailles furent célébrées en l'église St-Joseph de Huntingdon le 28 décembre à 10 heures de l'avant-midi par M. le curé Georges Quenneville. Un grand nombre de parents et amis avaient tenu à lui rendre un dernier hommage. Nos sincères condoléances à la famille éprouvée.

60ème anniversaire de prêtrise de Mgr Joseph-Arsème David

En 1963, lors du centenaire de la paroisse St-Joseph de Huntingdon, un ami de Mgr. David écrivait une biographie assez complète de ce dernier. Aujourd'hui, le 6 janvier 1972 marque le 60ème anniversaire de prêtrise de Mgr. David.

Joseph-Arsène est de St-Antoine-Abbé, où il a vu le jour le 15 mai 1888. Il est issu d'Arsène, contre-maitre au Grand-Tronc, et de Demerise Gamache. Il fréquente l'école primaire d'Ormstown où ses parents se sont transportés pour aller bientôt à St-Rémi ou le jeune Joseph poursuit ses études commerciales au collège des Clercs de St-Viateur. Il ira ensuite à Rigaud au Collège Bourget, finir ses études classiques en juin 1908. Il étudie la théologie à Montréal, au séminaire de St-Boniface et à celui de Valleyfield. Ordonné prêtre au séminaire de Valleyfield, par Mgr. Emard, le 6 janvier 1912, il sera le professeur jusqu'en 1922 avec l'aumônerie des Soeurs Clarisses de 1914 à 1922. Il est alors nommé vicaire à Vaudreuil, 1922-24, avec études de philosophie à Montréal et desserte de Dorion. Il est appelé par Mgr. Rouleau à la cure de Ste-Agnès de Dundee, 1924-35, où il rétablit le corps de la fabrique, fait corriger le décret d'érection de la paroisse, crée des écoles catholiques et la commission scolaire de la paroisse, et bâtit une église.

Mgr. Langlois le nomme à la cure de Hemmingford en 1935. Il y réparera l'église, et le presbytère en réglant, au mieux, la situation financière de son prédécesseur. En 1937, il quitte pour Dorion. Il y séjournera jusqu'en 1951. Pendant son administration, il construira une église pour Ste-Trinité de Dorion, fondera la paroisse de St-Jean-Baptiste qu'il dotera d'une église et d'un presbytère et la gardera sous sa houlette jusqu'en 1951. St-Polycarpe lui sera confié en 1951. Il y réparera l'église et la fera décorer. Et il est nommé chanoine honoraire de la cathédrale de Valleyfield le 12 novembre 1952. A la mort de M. le chanoine Arthur Pigeon, il est promu à la cure de Huntingdon, le 9 avril 1954.

L'arrivée de Mgr. le chanoine David ouvre les annales de l'histoire contemporaine de la paroisse. Il n'est pas question de juger son oeuvre. Une simple nomenclature des faits suffira à faire revivre l'oeuvre accomplie par le chanoine David. Rappelons que la fabrique, dès son arrivée, consent un prêt de terrains pour achever la construction de l'école Notre-Dame, qu'une souscription en 1956, a été recueillie en faveur du grand séminaire de St-Boniface; qu'un magnifique presbytère a été construit attenant à l'église; que le lavage des peintures a été exécuté à l'intérieur de l'église par un spécialiste de Montréal, lequel a aussi doré le maître-autel; que des travaux, au sous-sol, furent entrepris en prévision d'un nouveau plancher et de nouveaux bancs dans l'église.

En novembre 1956, M. le chanoine David, après la souscription pour l'évêché de Valleyfield fut promu à la prélatrice romaine par Notre-Saint-Père le pape. Cette élévation fut l'occasion de fêtes splendides à Huntingdon, puisque des honneurs romains et diocésains distinguèrent aussi des paroissiens: la médaille Bene Merenti, de Rome, à M. Noël Foisy, et la médaille du mérite diocésain à M. François Cley, Norbert Barnabé et Marcel Benoit.

Le 6 janvier 1962, le chanoine David célébrait son 50ème anniversaire de sacerdoce. Des fêtes grandioses marquèrent cet événement au mois de mai. Le 1er juin 1969, après 57 ans de ministère, Mgr. David s'est retiré ici même à Huntingdon. Le 14 mai prochain, une Messe solennelle sera chantée en l'église St-Joseph pour souligner cet anniversaire.

Mgr Joseph-Arsème David célébrera son 60ème anniversaire de prêtrise demain. Il continue de dire la messe chaque jour chez lui.

Gagnants du concours décoration Noël

Comme par les années passées, le conseil de la municipalité de Huntingdon accorde des prix pour les plus belles décorations. Ces prix sont de l'ordre comme suit: $25 pour le premier prix, $15 pour le deuxième prix et enfin $10 pour le troisième et dernier prix.

Les trois juges de ce concours étaient représentés par un membre de différentes organisations de la municipalité. Le Club Rotary est représenté par M. Jean Brunet, la Légion par George Zeldenrust et enfin les Chevaliers de Colomb par Médario Laberge.

Mlle Alice Vine, résidant conjointement avec Elsie Halliwell au 53 rue King, remporta le premier prix soit de $25. M. Louis M. Parent, résidant au 57, rue Bouchette, se mérita le deuxième prix soit $15. Et enfin, le troisième prix soit de $10 fut remporté par M. Gerald Smith, résidant au 59 Fairview.

Homme blessé gravement en motoneige

Un homme âgé de 23 ans de Ormstown a subi des blessures sévères à la suite d'un accident de motoneige le 27 décembre dernier, à Ormstown. Il est présentement dans un état critique à l'hôpital Royal Victoria à Montréal.

Vers les 5 heures, M. André Forget, l'unique fils de M. et Mme René Forget de Ormstown, a apparemment perdu le contrôle de sa motoneige dans le voisinage des rues Lambton et Bay, lorsqu'il frappa le bord du trottoir. Il fut projeté et il rebotta le dos contre un poteau de téléphone. Il fut transporté à la Barrie Memorial Hospital de Ormstown, et on constata la nature des blessures: côté fracturé, une jambe fracturée et des blessures graves au dos. M. Forget fut transféré le soir même à la Royal Victoria à Montréal. Le lendemain de l'accident, il devait subir une opération au dos.

Jeune enfant blessé à St-Régis

Le 1er jour de l'année 1972 ne fut pas des plus heureux pour tout le monde. Vers 11 heures 45, un accident est survenu à St-Régis.

M. Angus Thomas, de Cornwall, Ont., circulait avec sa voiture de marque Ford 1970 sur le St-Régis Road, et à une intersection, une motoneige sortit du champ. Cette motoneige était conduite par un jeune garçon de 9 ans de St-Régis, soit David Gregory. Ce dernier heurta la voiture de M. Thomas sur le côté droit en avant, causant ainsi des dommages estimés à près de $200. Le jeune Gregory fut blessé gravement dans cet accident et il fut hospitalisé à l'Hotel-Dieu de Cornwall où son état est critique.

Propos sportifs de Huntingdon

* Très bientôt, le baseball nous reviendra! Chaque club ouvrira leur camp d'entraînement; plusieurs se poseront ces questions: Qui fera le club? Y-aura-t-il de nouvelles figures, des recrues? C'est pourquoi je réserverai un espace à chaque semaine dans les Propos sportifs afin de parler d'un club des majeurs.

* Le premier club dont nous parlerons sera les Expos de Montréal; il n'y a aucun changement majeur! Le champ intérieur est aussi fort que l'an dernier, soit avec Wine, Fairly et Hunt. Le champs extérieur est rapide et très bon: Staub à la droite, Day au centre et deux joueurs alterneront à la gauche soit Woods ou le nouveau venu Keith Lampard. Les lanceurs partants seront les mêmes: Stoneman, Renko, Morton et McAnally. La relève est améliorée sensiblement avec l'arrivée de Ron Taylor et de Denny Lemaster. Ces derniers avec Marshall et le nouveau-venu Bob Walker donneront plus de tigre à la relève. Claude Raymond redeviendra l'excellent lanceur qu'il fut il y a deux ans; John Strohmayr pourrait devenir cette année un lanceur de première classe. Terry Humphrey et Bateman seront les deux receveurs du club montréalais. Ce dont les Expos ont vraiment besoin: un bon troisième but, un arrêtcourt plus jeune soit Hacker, un frappeur de longue distance, plus de rapidité sur les buts, et un ou deux lanceurs gauchers. Les Expos se classeront en quatrième position... Espérons-le!

* Le 28 décembre dernier, la War Memorial Arena ouvrait ses portes pour les fervents du patin.

* Il faut mentionner un fait grandiose dans le monde du sport: présentement les Lakers de Los Angeles révolutionnent le monde du ballon-panier professionnel. Ils ont établi une marque de 21 victoires consécutives et de plus ils n'ont pas terminé leur marche victorieuse. Goodrich des Lakers est le troisième meilleur compteur de l'Association Nationale de Ballon-Panier, et Jerry West et Wilt Chamberlain sont les deux autres piliers des Lakers.

* Lundi soir dernier, c'était l'ouverture des activités de l'Association de Ballon-baie de Huntingdon.

* La malchance frappe le club Lazure Fr. de la ligue de hockey du comté: une "recrue" soit Maurice Leboeuf vient tout juste de se briser une main. Nous ne savons point combien de temps durera la période d'inactivité, mais souhaitons lui un prompt rétablissement. Maurice était un joueur de défense très habile, il y a quelques années.

* Luc Ringuette, un lecteur très assidu, est un autre fervent du camping. Il souhaite et espère entreprendre un voyage avec M. André Dorais aux Etats-Unis.

* Le hockey mineur ouvrirait ses activités lundi soir dernier, à la War Memorial Arena de Huntingdon. Les premières joutes sont hors-concours, ceci afin que les instructeurs puissent connaître le calibre de leurs joueurs

* La ligue du comté de Huntingdon débutait sa cédule officielle mardi soir dernier à la War Memorial Arena de Huntingdon. Quatre clubs font partie de cette ligue.

* J'invite tout le monde à participer aux activités de la ligue de hockey mineur de Huntingdon... En sorte de venir encourager les jeunes joueurs.

Le maire Pilon: pour un comité des sports!

Depuis déjà très longtemps que plusieurs gens en parlent: ils sentent le besoin de la formation d'un comité des sports et des loisirs pour la municipalité de Huntingdon. L'an dernier, le président de la ligue de baseball mineur locale, M. Jean Galipeau, adressa la parole aux membres du club Rotary: il disait que les tâches seraient moins difficiles pour tous les bénévoles qui s'occupent d'organiser des sports pour les jeunes, si la municipalité avait un comité directeur de toutes les activités sportives et de tous les loisirs. Ensuite, plusieurs ont continué sur cette idée.

Maintenant, une pétition circule à ce sujet. Déjà, plusieurs ont signé; de cette façon, ils appuient le mouvement qui veut un comité général des sports et des loisirs à Huntingdon.

Une personnalité du monde sportif déclarait à la Gazette que le Maire Claude Pilon était favorable à cette idée. Aussi, deux échevins se montrent favorables: ils appuient fortement les représentants de ce mouvement. Il faut considérer une chose, les échevins, ou du moins certains, et le maire Pilon reconnaissent de certes les nombreux efforts de tous les organisateurs de sports pour la jeunesse locale.

La Campagne du Timbre de Noël

La Campagne du Timbre de Noël est vraiment une oeuvre de classe. Elle accomplit un travail dont plusieurs doivent être fiers. Encore, cette année, le comité de la Campagne du Timbre de Noël est fier de l'encouragement porté par les gens, et de la sorte elle tient à remercier tous les collaborateurs directs et indirects pour le succès remporté.

Le 31 décembre 1971, le total des contributions se chiffrait à $1.200. On sait que la Campagne du Timbre de Noël contribue à la recherche médicale pour combattre les troubles respiratoires. Tous ceux qui n'ont pas encore contribué peuvent le faire en s'adressant à la Caisse Populaire.

Accident à St-Anicet

Le 31 décembre dernier, un accident survenait à St-Anicet, soit sur le chemin du parc Somerville, près de l'entrée de M. Urgel Poirier, vers les 22 heures.

Cet accident impliquait Roland Richer, 21 ans de St-Anicet; il conduisait une automobile de marque Ford 1965, lorsqu'il dérapa pour aller heurter un arbre. Les dommages sont estimés à plus de $500.

Lors de cet accident, il y eut des blessés: M. Roland

Timbre de Noël

Richer dut être hospitalisé à la Barrie Memorial Hospital d'Ormstown, ayant subi une hémorragie interne. Les deux passagers du véhicule subirent des blessures moins graves: Micheline Richer, 20 ans, de St-Anicet, a subi des coupures au genou, et elle fut hospitalisée à la Huntingdon County Hospital; l'autre passager était âgé d'un an, soit Luc Richer, de St-Anicet. Ce dernier recut son congé de l'hôpital après avoir subi des traitements.

Un nouveau bureau d'aide sociale pour le comté

Québec (OIP) - Le ministère des Affaires sociales annonce l'ouverture récente d'un nouveau bureau d'aide sociale, au 64 de la rue Chateauguay, à Huntingdon, comté de Huntingdon.

Ce bureau qui sera connu sous le nom du bureau local de Huntingdon sera sous la direction de M. Georges Boulanger.

En opération depuis le 29 novembre dernier, il dessert le comté de Huntingdon en entier ainsi que la municipalité de Saint-Antoine-Abbé qui se trouve dans le comté de Chateauguay.

La clientèle desservie par le nouveau bureau avait recours antérieurement au bureau de Valleyfield.

Le numéro de téléphone du bureau de Huntingdon est: 264-5323

Cercle de Fermières

La prochaine assemblée sera organisée par un autre groupe de dames sous la direction de Mme Irène Ringuette; Mmes Doris Vachon, Florian Perreault, Lucienne Perreault, Gaétane Montpetit, Nicole Laurendeau et Claude Renaud.

Collision à Vaudreuil

Une collision survenue le 24 décembre dernier vers 23 heures sur le boulevard de la Cité des Jeunes à Vaudreuil et impliquant deux automobiles a fait non moins de 5 blessés qui ont tous été hospitalisés.

Il s'agit de M. et Mme Denis Pilon d'Alexandria, en

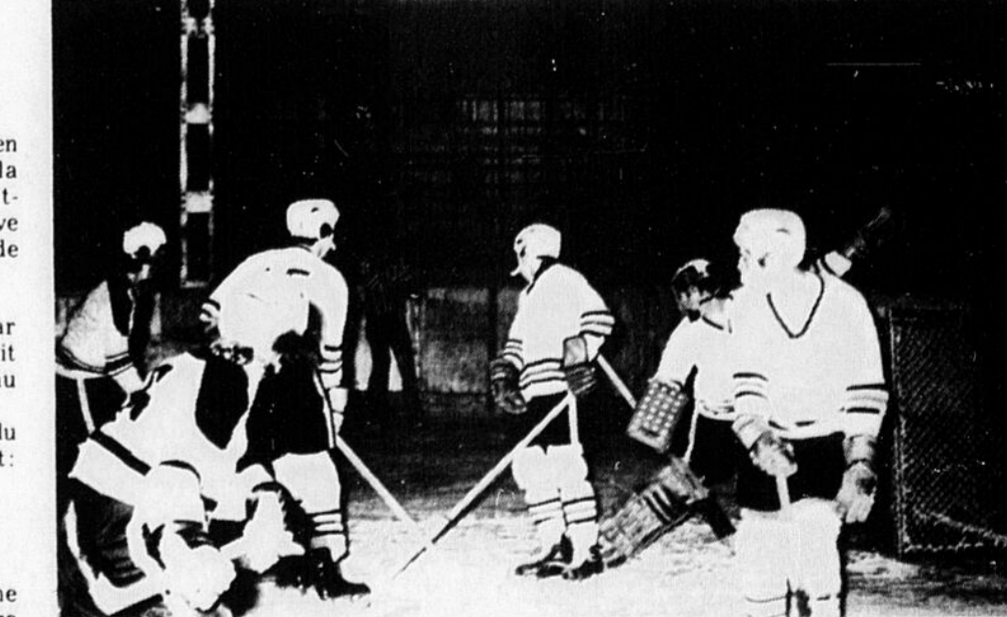

Il y aura une invitée, Mme François Benoit qui viendra nous entretenir d'un sujet surprise. Donc, venez toutes à l'assemblée du 11 janvier 72, vous ne serez pas déçues.

Merci à toutes celles qui se dévouent pour la réussite de ces soirées.

Mme Roméo Payant,

Ontario, de sa soeur et de l'époux de cette dernière sans oublier le conducteur de l'autre véhicule.

Leurs blessures seraient graves. Présentement, ils reposent tous dans un hôpital montréalais.

Une formation de Malone s'est jointe à la ligue de Hockey Mineur de Huntingdon. Le compte final fut de 5 à 2 pour le Huntingdon.

Malone se joint à la Ligue de Hockey Mineur

Lundi soir dernier, lors de l'ouverture des activités de la ligue de hockey mineur locale, le président, M. Bob Marshall déclarait à la Gazette qu'une formation de catégorie Midget s'était jointe à la ligue locale.

On sait qu'il y avait un certain manque de joueurs dans la catégorie Midget de Huntingdon: la ligue locale, soit la direction voulait voir 4 clubs de cette catégorie et non seulement 3. C'est alors qu'une quatrième formation s'est dite intéressée, soit un club de Malone N.Y.

Lundi soir, cette formation de Malone visitait un club de Huntingdon, mais n'a pas eu de veine, perdant au compte de 5 à 2. Le Huntingdon a tout à fait surclassé le Malone: l'attaque de Huntingdon fut menée par une performance de 2 buts de Randie McLean; les autres compteurs furent Michel Crête, Leslie Rudock et Steve Robidou, avec un but chacun. Denis Vanier enfila les deux buts du Malone. Le gérant de cette équipe, M. Larry Stewart disait à la fin de la rencontre: "C'est la première joute". Le Malone a tout simplement manqué de précision dans leurs passes et surtout dans leurs lancers. Mais quand même, ils offrent un beau spectacle: ils pratiquent surtout un jeu rude. Leur échec-avant laisse à désirer, mais certes le Malone s'améliorera avec le temps.

L'action recommence...

Nous venons de traverser une période d'inactivité quasi totale: en effet, l'automne est terminé. Aucune organisation sportive offre des activités pour cette période de l'année. Oui, il est vrai que vous pouvez jouer aux cartes durant les longues soirées monotones de cette saison.

Mais lorsque vient l'hiver, tout change! Il y existe plusieurs possibilités de se divertir; plusieurs organisations sportives s'activent.

Le hockey fait ses débuts: les jeunes se précipitent vers les patinoires extérieures et intérieures afin de pratiquer le sport national du Canada. D'autres vont tout simplement patiner avec des amis. La ligue de hockey mineur locale entreprend une saison; plusieurs joueurs y participent.

Ensuite, il y a aussi le ballon-baie: plus souvent, des personnes plus âgées s'adonnent à ce sport qui peut devenir si souvent violent, mais quand même ils jouent pour le sport. Les différentes municipalités organisent différents clubs, une ligue est formée.

Ensuite, il y a les écoles: ces dernières participent à différents tournois. La direction des écoles organise plus souvent des formations de hockey.

L'hiver, c'est une saison pour les sports. L'arrivée de l'hiver est un signe que l'action recommence.

Le Bonhomme Carnaval sera personnifié par M. Jean Paul Lebrun. Les programmes sont un hommage de M. Jacques Viau, agent de la Brasserie Molson et M. Marcel Bégin, représentant.

Chanson du Carnaval: (Air: Sur la route de Berthier) Venez tous au Carnaval (bis) A l'école du Village (bis) On veut jouer (bis) Et s'amuser (bis) Et rigoler à notre goût On se rencontre un peu partout, tout, tout, tout

Une belle joute de hockey (2) Qui est bien organisée (2) Ca fait de l'action (2) Pour les garçons (2) Qui recherchent toute l'attention Ils sont remplis d'émotion, tion, tion, tion

Une partie d'ballon balai (2) Capte les yeux indiscrets (2) Les courses à pied (2) Ca fait du bien (2) Mais ce n'est pas comme en patins On s'ramasse souvent s'u'l'dos, dos, dos, dos, dos

Et pour tous les amateurs (2) De raquettes, de motoneiges (2) Suivez les trails (2) Allez partout (2) Amusez-vous comme des fous Rechauffez-vous par un p'tit coup, coup, coup, coup, coup

Un bon mot reconnaissant (2)

A tous les participants (2) Ils sont venus (2) Et ils ont vu (2) La joie des organisateurs A tous nous disons Merci... Merci... Merci... Ah, Quel beau Carnaval, amis... Carnaval.

Une reine et deux duchesses: Il nous fait plaisir d'annoncer officiellement la candidature de Mlle Doreen Carrière, de Mlle Denise Haineault et de Mlle Gisèle Laparé comme candidates au titre si convoité de sa Majesté la Reine du Carnaval d'hiver de St-Anicet, en l'an de grâce dix-neuf cent soixante-douze. Les règles du concours sont très simples: celle qui vend plus de billets est automatiquement proclamée la Reine du Carnaval et ses deux rivales deviennent ses duchesses. Connaissant la générosité de tous les gens de la paroisse et des environs, nos candidates seront accueillies à coeur ouvert dans toutes les familles. Ces argents perçus seront distribués à nos jeunes et à l'occasion aux moins jeunes avec achats d'équipements de sport, compétitions, trophées, voyages, etc., etc.

Anniversaire de naissance: Le Cercle de l'Age d'Or de la paroisse de St-Anicet sous la présidence de Mme Georgiana Oumet offre leurs meilleurs vœux de bonne fête à Mme Gaston Caza à l'occasion de son anniversaire de naissance le lundi 3 janvier 1972.

Réunions de l'Age d'Or: Tous les membres du Cercle de l'Age d'Or de la paroisse sont priés de noter que les activités du Cercle reprendront à compter de jeudi le 6 janvier à 1.30 p.m. et le mardi soir également à 7.30 p.m.

Magnifique réception: M. et Mme Adélaïde Oumet (Georgiana) recevaient les parents et amis la veille du jour de l'An pour célébrer l'anniversaire de naissance de M. Oumet. Etaient présents à cette fête, M. et Mme Roger Oumet et leurs trois enfants, Réjean, Nicole et Robert ainsi que Carole Maxwin; M. et Mme Réal Oumet et leurs quatre enfants qui étaient tous accompagnés; M. et Mme Guy Oumet (Diane), Mlle Ginette Oumet et son fiancé Claude Smith dont l'anniversaire de naissance est le 2 janvier, Mlle Claudine Oumet et son ami Gilles Rousseau; Mlle Louise Oumet et son ami Michel; M. et Mme Roland Jobin et leurs deux fils Marc et Claude.

Visites au Lakeview Inn. A l'occasion de la fête de Noël et du jour de l'An, beaucoup de parents et amis sont venus offrir leurs meilleurs vœux au nouveau propriétaire de l'Hôtel Lakeview Inn, M. Gilles Bergevin, à son épouse Pierrette et au chef Rolly. De Toronto, M. Malcolm Scott, De Montréal: M. et Mme Michel Revtak; Pierre Elie et Jean Guernon; Mlle Betty Genest; Mlle Nicole Brochu; Miles Louise Tremblay et Nancy Duggin; Henri Tremblay jr. Bob Smythe, Don Ross; Mlle Maureen Newman; M. et Mme Claude Tremblay (Thérèse); M. et Mme Royal Blanchard; Mr. Raymond Turgeon et ses deux filles Ginette et Louise; M. Raynald Ratté; M. et Mme Guy Goyette; Yves Goyette; Normand Prévost. De Valleyfield, M. et Mme Albert Tessier et leur fils Denis; M. et Mme Guy Laparé; M. Yvan Bergevin; M. et Mme Normand Brissou (Nicole); M. et Mme Paul Benoit. De Ste-Barbe: M. Ernest Bergevin; M. Maurice Bergevin; M. et Mme Roger DeRepentigny (Lucie); De St-Stanislas: M. Jean Louis Girouard; M. Richard Leduc. De Laprairie, M. et Mme Guy Pilon. De Dorval: M. Russell Cordell. De Lachine: M. Tom Mahoney; M. Jack Brennan.
