EGYPT OFFERED PLACE IN NEW COMMAND

World News In Brief

The Hague, The Netherlands, Oct. 13.—(Reuters)—British warships designed for atomic warfare will soon be put into service, Stanley Wright, information attache of the British embassy here, said today.
The ships would be streamlined to withstand atomic blasts. Atomic-powered submarines will be able to develop "tremendous speed" when submerged, he said.

Caracas, Venezuela, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The government announced today that "terrorist elements" of the outlawed Accion Democratica attempted unsuccessfully to assassinate the ruling military junta last night.

A communiqué said an unreported number of terrorists hurled a bomb at the country's rulers as they were leaving official ceremonies at the Plaza de Colon. The communiqué said other terrorists seized government buildings in the towns of Rio Caribe, Tunapucito and Caudedo but soon lost control of them. It said two persons were killed and one wounded.

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Negro baritone Lawrence Winters sang the title role in "Rigoletto" last night with the New York opera company. He was the first of his race to take this leading part in any major opera house.

Manila, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Typhoon warnings flew today for northern Luzon, although latest word was that a violent storm moving in from the east would veer northwest. The typhoon had winds of up to 130 miles an hour.

Cheap Grade Milk Is Not Allowed

Montreal, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Quebec Dairy Commission yesterday refused a request by Quebec distributors to allow them to sell a cheaper grade of milk. The cheaper grade would contain less butterfat than the present grade but would have added vitamins.
This decision came shortly after an order allowing distributors to increase the price of a quart of milk one cent in many Quebec centres including Sherbrooke, Montreal, Quebec, Lévis and Three Rivers among others. The new price will be 20 cents in Montreal.

Combines Committee Urges Price-Fixing Elimination

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—(CP)—The four-man MacQuarrie committee on combines has labelled the common practice of retail price-fixing "restrictive and monopolistic" and has recommended that the government eliminate it.

But the legal and economic brain trust also struck a blow at another retail practice—that of selling quality goods at below cost to attract customers to other goods—and suggested that legislative action be taken against this, too.

The "loss-leader" device, said the committee in a 29-page, 12,000-word preliminary report tabled in the Commons yesterday, also was "monopolistic" and against public welfare.

Because of inflation, the committee did not consider that it presented "any immediate danger," even if the government took action to eliminate the more extensive resale price maintenance practice. "Extreme forms of price-cutting are not very likely in this period of inflation and relative scarcity," the committee said.

Yet in Hamilton, Ont., a price war seemed in full swing, resulting from the government's disclosure in the speech from the throne last Tuesday that it planned legislative action on the MacQuarrie report.

One store cut prices on quality goods; another followed and a third, serving a "price war notice" in a newspaper advertisement, said it would "match or better any cut price in town."

Informants said the parliamentary weapon being prepared will strike at both interprovincial and provincial trade.

Convinced that it stands on safe constitutional ground, the government has decided, the informant said, to risk the possibility of court action and make its new combines legislation comprehensive—no field of retail sales will be overlooked.

The government's bill, amending the combines investigation act as well as the criminal code, may be based on these two specific recommendations of the committee:
1. To make it an offence for a manufacturer or supplier to re-

U.N. Hears Protests On Strafing

By NAE POLOWETZKY
Munich, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A 15-year-old Korean boy today told United Nations investigators his 12-year-old brother was shot and killed yesterday by strafing U.N. warplanes on the fringe of the Kaesong neutrality zone.

His story was designed to support the latest communist charge of neutrality-zone violation by the allies. The charge Friday jolted hopes for an early resumption of armistice talks.

AP correspondent Robert B. Tuckman, who accompanied the U.N. liaison officers in their investigation of the charge, said "correspondents at Pongmumjon generally felt the communists had presented enough tangible evidence to back up their case—although there still were enough unknown factors to make a clean-cut opinion impossible."

A U.N. spokesman said the evidence was being studied and evaluated. The allied findings probably will be announced by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo.

Allied officers said the Reds had not lodged a formal protest but had asked for an official investigation.

The communists meanwhile went ahead with their preparations for the resumption of negotiations. They put up three more tents at Pongmumjon, presumably to be used by Red delegates.

Red and U.N. liaison officers scheduled another meeting for Sunday morning at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Saturday, E.S.T.) in a new effort to get the stalled talks going again.

The investigation Saturday was dramatized by the appearance of the dead boy's father. The bearded farmer hurled bitter remarks at allied officers and interpreters.

U.N. officers said he had been coached. They said in the preliminary investigation Friday night he addressed his grief and bitterness largely to the Reds.

This is the story of the alleged strafing, as told to allied liaison officers Saturday.

Egypt Would Have Full Equality And Partnership In Middle East Command.

London, Oct. 13.—(Reuters)—Britain will hand over her garrisons in the Suez Canal zone to international control if Egypt agrees to become a member of the proposed Middle-east command, it was authoritatively stated here today.

The four powers sponsoring the proposals—Britain, the United States, France and Turkey—invited Egypt today to become the fifth founding member of the command on a basis of full equality and partnership.

London, Oct. 13.—(Reuters)—Britain today handed Egypt new proposals on the future of the Sudan, over which Egypt claimed absolute sovereignty last Monday in defiance of an 1899 pact providing for joint British-Egyptian administration.

The proposals were submitted by Sir Ralph Stevenson, ambassador to Egypt, at the same time as he and the envoys of the United States, France and Turkey presented Egypt with an offer to take part in a proposed Middle-East command.

UK Liberals Are Facing An Enigma

London, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Official Liberal opinion today appeared to be hardening against the Conservative party. Such a trend might have a decisive effect in the Oct. 25 general election.

The Liberals are the enigma of the election. Party candidates are contesting fewer than one-fifth of the country's 625 seats, leaving Liberals in about 500 constituencies without a representative. Up to now it has been assumed that many Liberals in these constituencies will abstain and that the rest will split evenly between Conservatives and Socialists.

Now Philip Fothergill, party president and candidate for Oldham West, says the Tories seem to be doing their best to alienate the Liberal vote.

He presented a picture of a country completely soured on the Social government, but at the same time strangely determined not to have the Tories back. In this situation, Fothergill said, the Conservatives merely lessened their chances by "acts of tactlessness" in areas where Liberals were standing.

At the same time, the Liberals aren't getting much support from Labor.

In a speech yesterday the Board of Trade president, Sir Hartley Shawcross, said Britain's electoral system has no room for more than London, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Britain intends to keep her troops in Egypt to guard the Suez Canal and will fight if the Egyptians try to drive them out by force.

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison says Britain won't attack, "but if somebody else does start, then our people will defend themselves and the government will support them in doing so."

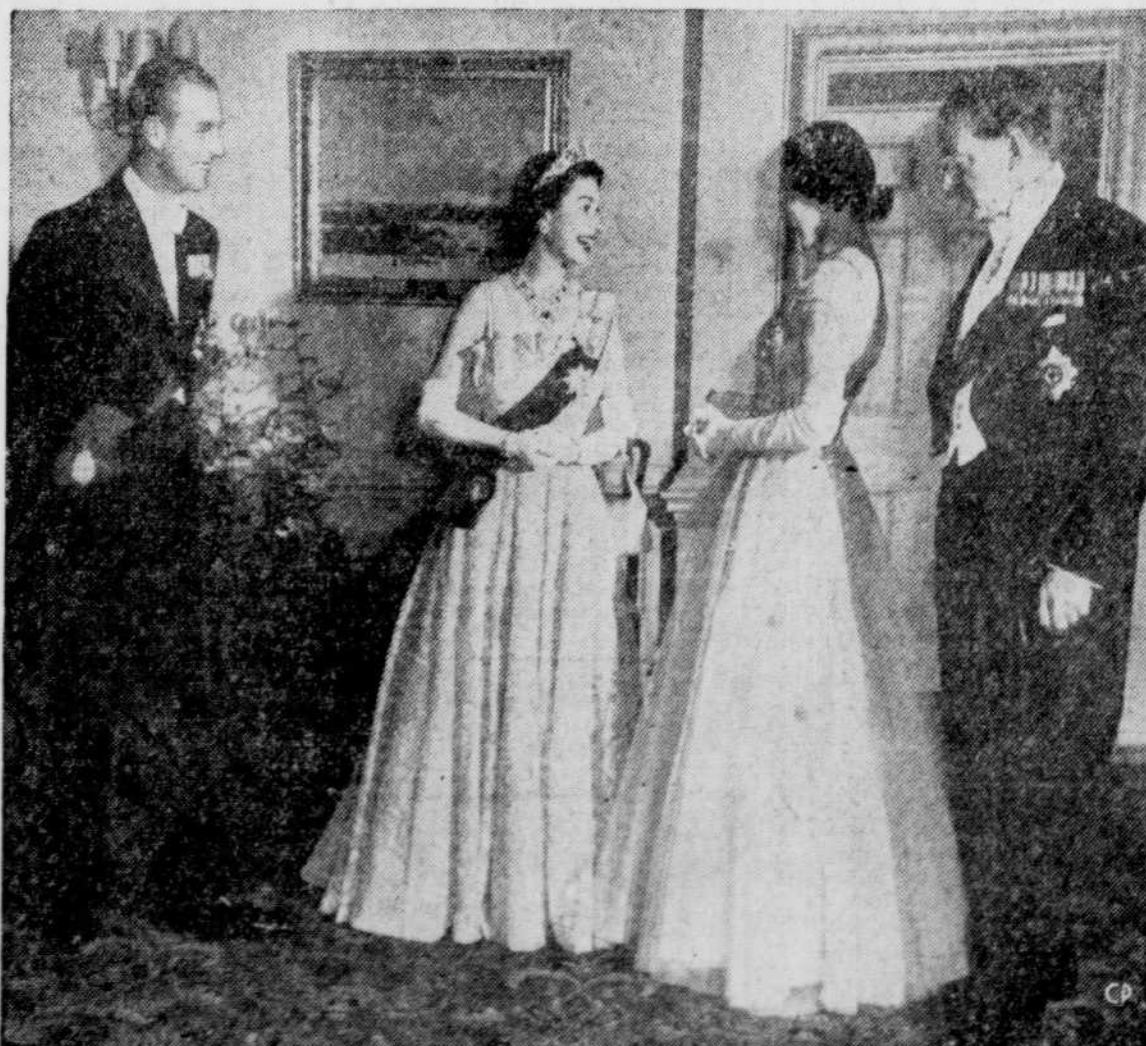

The scummy Cockney socialist made the pledge at an election rally at suburban Staines last night. The warning brought cheers from the crowd.

The firm stand may benefit Labor in their campaign to keep the reins of government in the Oct. 25 elections. Winston Churchill's Conservatives have been belaboring them over the decline of British possessions during the post-war socialist regime. The Tories have laid special emphasis on the growing troubles with Egypt and the retreat from British oil holdings in Iran.

Egypt's Prime Minister, Mustafa el Nahas Pasha, called this week for junking treaties with Britain which permit 10,000 British soldiers to guard the Suez Canal.

At State Dinner

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh are seen with Governor-General Viscount Alexander and Lady Alexander outside the dining room in Government House, Ottawa, following the state dinner to the Royal couple Wednesday night. Princess is wearing one of the magnificent evening gowns she brought to Canada with the sash of the Order of the Garter and a diamond tiara. During the dinner she spoke on a coast-to-coast broadcast in French and English. It was the second broadcast of her tour.

Queen's Carpet To Gallery

Princess Elizabeth turned over to the National Gallery at Ottawa the carpet made by her grandmother, Queen Mary. The presentation—made to Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Chairman of the board of trustees of the Gallery—was during the Royal couple's visit to the capital Wednesday. The carpet was purchased by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire for $100,000. Left to right, those present were: Senator Elie Beauregard, speaker of the Senate; Prime Minister St. Laurent, the Princess, Mrs. John H. Chipman, National President of the I.O.D.E.; the Duke of Edinburgh and Mr. Massey.

Bitter Fighting Flares Up Along Whole Korean Front

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A captured North Korean officer today told United Nations' intelligence officers "the North Korean army now is practically non-existent."

His statement came as infantrymen of the United States 23rd Infantry Regiment scoured out the last 35 Korean Reds holed up in bunkers on the slopes of the northernmost peak of Heartbreak Ridge.

A pooled dispatch from the front said the mopping-up action was one of the bitterest of the Korean war.

All across Korea fighting exploded to an extent unequalled since the Reds' offensive last May was crushed.

The North Korean officer gave principal credit to allied artillery, which pounded Red positions on Heartbreak Ridge unmercifully for weeks.

Another captured officer said his division of 4,000 men suffered 2,000 casualties in killed or wounded in the 30-day battle for Heartbreak Ridge and had been sent only 500 replacements.

The last of the Reds on Heartbreak's northernmost peak had holed up in the suicide bunkers, determined to fight to the last.

The last three bunkers were cleared by flame-thrower and grenade attack at 5:30 p.m.

On the central front three allied divisions drove 1½ miles toward Kumsong along a 22-mile front. The U.S. 24th Division and two South Korean divisions made the push.

Tanks and artillery backed the drive against the Reds' main supply depot and headquarters for central and eastern Korea.

On the western front, a battalion of the U.S. 7th Regiment was shattered and cut up by waves of attacking Chinese Reds southwest of Yonchon.

A regiment rescued remnants of the battalion, but only after loss of ground some 35 miles north of Seoul.

The Eighth Army communiqué Saturday said an estimated battalion of Reds attacked the first Commonwealth division west of Yonchon. The communists were thrown back.

In the east, North Korean Reds threw the United Nations allies off a height on Heartbreak Ridge southwest of the main crest. The latter was taken Friday by French and Americans of the U.S. 2nd division. Supporting tanks were turned back west of the ridge by Red bazookas and anti-tank guns.

Action stepped up on land, sea and air at a time when new communist charges darkened prospects for an early resumption of armistice talks. U.N. officers were investigating Red charges that U.N. planes strafed Kaesong, the former site of the talks, and Pongmumjon, the area chosen for their resumption.

In the air, allied jets shot down one Red jet and damaged six others Friday at a cost of one damaged U.S. Sabre. Two sky fights involved a total of 164 jets.

In the drive toward Kumsong, the advancing U.S. 24th and the South Korean 2nd and 6th divisions met only moderate resistance.

The attack opened at dawn. Kumsong is a vital road and rail center 29 miles north of the 38th parallel.

The swift and crushing Red blow against the 7th regiment's first battalion fell Friday southwest of Yonchon. The defeat halted the U.S. 1st cavalry division's push both west and northwest of there.

Princess Story Draws Protest

Regina, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Regina Gryo Club yesterday voiced "unanimous disapproval" of some press reports of the Royal tour.

The resolution, sent to Walter S. Thompson, chief information officer of the tour, suggested it was bad taste to report the amount of sherry drunk by the Duke of Edinburgh, the use of lipstick by the Princess, or the adjusting by the Princess of her dress.

The club members felt such reporting is "in bad taste, since it implies criticism of our guests."

At the House opening, Trade Minister Howe announced that payments totalling more than $100,000,000 will be made to Prairie farmers shortly from surpluses of sales of wheat, oats and barley. The sum represents the difference between what farmers were paid on delivering their crops and what the Canadian wheat board obtained in selling the grain.

Justice Minister Garson tabled a report showing that the MacQuarrie committee on combines has recommended to the govern-

Fantastic Welcome Given Royal Couple At Toronto

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Toronto, Oct. 13.—(CP)—Fantastic.

Even veteran reporters were saying that today about the Toronto welcome that embraced and engulfed the Royal Couple yesterday.

There were 18 miles of it, miles of humanity that rolled up into an estimated total of more than 500,000 people and climaxed in scenes before city hall that sent some 30 persons away on stretchers.

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, hardly able to believe what they saw, told intimates they were thrilled, that never had they seen what they saw here.

Royal tour reporters agreed that it dwarfed anything they had seen in the previous five days.

It dazed 3,000 police who said they had never anticipated anything like this.

It left officials long used to great occasions convinced that it even dwarfed the Royal visit of 1939.

It boomed well beyond 1,200,000 the number of Canadians who have seen the Royal couple since their arrival at Montreal Monday.

It even made Santa Claus look like a piker. Police said the Princess outdrew Toronto's famed annual Santa Claus parade at least two to one.

And it left police wondering what it will be like today when the little Princess and her dashing sailor husband embark on a day of 10 events that once again takes them through miles of streets on a tiring 12-hour schedule that begins with a visit to a huge gathering of school children and ends with an official dinner attended by 900 of Toronto's social elite.

For the Royal couple it will be hard for anything to surpass yesterday.

For thousands of those people, the Royal couple had a smile and a wave. She wore perhaps the smartest outdoor ensemble she has worn since landing in Canada. It was topped by a knee-length overcoat in dark brown beige or velvet, a fitted model with a full skirt.

The sailor Prince wore his Lieutenant-Commander's uniform after changing from civilian clothes early in the day.

In Cornwall, most of the town was out for a 15-minute greeting that included 8,000 flag-waving children. The Princess got a bouquet of yellow roses and a $300 sterling silver tray.

At Brockville, more than 20,000 people broke through police barriers to surround the Royal train when it stopped for water shortly after pulling out of the station.

At Kingston, 40,000 people lined the streets but there was a general lack of demonstration. At Royal Military College, 350 officers of tomorrow paraded smartly.

At Belleville, it was "terrific" as one official put it, with thousands of adults and school children swarming about the Princess and Prince, cheering and shouting.

But at Trenton these preludes to Toronto had their climax. For into and near this city of 15,000 swarmed possibly 100,000 people, a roaring, happy gathering that virtually stole the show from an air force demonstration that produced a guard of honor which British reporters even admitted compared quite nicely with the Guards.

Then, having already travelled

LEGION LOG

SHERBROOKE BRANCH, NO. 10
The Command Revue, on Saturday, October 27, at 8:30 p.m. in the Bishop's University gymnasium.

Stupendous, colossal, magnificent. These are the only words we can use for this show. The tickets are going like wild and those of you who wish to go or who have friends who want to go, you better get your tickets right away. There are novelty dances, ballet, baritone and tenor singers. There will be a chorus of 12 beautiful girls doing the Can Can, Hungarian dances and several other numbers.

These dancers and singers are truly professional, many of them have been in the troop shows—Legion, Etanettes, Blue Bells—that appeared at military camps overseas and in Canada during the last war.

Command Revue is a fast moving musical that will send you away singing the praises of the performers. It is something you should not miss. Tell your friends about this revue if they have not already heard about it.

The revue coming here will be a completely new show with all new dance routine and new costumes. Your president or comrade Paul Leier can give you information about tickets.

Tonight, the Ladies' Auxiliary is holding the drawing for the patchwork quilt. From what we have heard this will be a total success. Proceeds from the drawing will be used towards a gift to the branch. The Auxiliary has asked that all the executive and members be on hand for this presentation.

The ladies are putting on a lunch spread and there will be several prizes given out. They are trying to line up entertainment for this evening. The Honolulu Quartet may be down to entertain us as they did at our grand opening. This troupe is really entertaining, as many of you know, and we hope they will be present.

This evening promises to be a gala one.

I would like to congratulate the Ladies' Auxiliary on their last meeting, which I attended. I was amazed at the wonderful way they ran their meeting. The parliamentary procedure and the enthusiasm were well worth seeing. Congratulations to president Ivy Waele for doing a grand job.

This Sunday, all Legionnaires are asked to join with the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Association in their church parade. We are meeting at the New Sherbrooke Hotel and marching to the Sherbrooke armoury where there will be services for Roman Catholics and Protestants. The messes at the armoury will be open following the parade and the Canadian Legion, Branch No. 10, will be host to the Association between 2 and 5 p.m.

We intend to have movies, sing songs and entertainment during the afternoon. This is for members and their wives, or girl friends. Do not bring any guests who are not members as the home will be crowded.

For the parade, berets or wedge caps, blazers and medals will be worn. All Legionnaires are asked to be at the New Sherbrooke at 10 a.m.

And don't forget the gala evening tonight at the home.

President Syd Hart.

COATCOOK, BRANCH NO. 26

Here we again! Perhaps I had better explain omission of copy for past few weeks. It was due to the fact of my being a guest at Queen Mary Hospital. Comrade Woodman took over the job of secretary for our Branch but was just too busy with other duties to look after the Log. At the last general meeting the boys voted the assignment back to "Old Bill."

During the past few months things have been moving. We have at last purchased a "Legion Home" of our own. For years the Coatcook Branch enjoyed the hospitality of the Department of National Defence and met regularly at the Armouries in the Gunter's Mess. Last spring we purchased a property on Main Street, formerly owned by the St. Jean Baptiste Society. We have now moved in, had the house warming, all that remains to be done now is pay for it. This will be quite a task, but if every member continues to give his best I am sure this will be accomplished.

A month ago we held our Tombola. In spite of the weather and local fairs we cleared over $800 we feel it was very successful indeed. Comrade Woodman who was acting chairman comes in for a pat on the back for his achievement, the Pipe Band from the Sherbrooke Branch came up for the last evening and was very much enjoyed. Come again pipers.

Last week a large delegation from our Branch journeyed to Rock Island for their 25th anniversary. The boys reported a good time, real hospitality, encouraging and enlightening speeches.

Our last meeting was held on Monday, October 1st. "Tink" was in the chair as usual. We had a very good turnout, three new members were accepted. The remainder of the meeting was largely taken up by discussion of our next big project, "Remembrance Day." The sale of wreaths and poppies is well under way, Comrade Stan Beerworth being the chairman this year.

The next meeting will be on Monday night, October 15th, 8 p.m., a social evening. The regular meeting on November 5th. Every member is requested to attend.

"Old Bill."

of the development which belongs to the fulness of Christ instead of remaining immature. (Eph. 4:13). With Him we can do all things, and nothing lack. He has generously made provision for our spiritual life and entrusted to His Church "the means of grace" with an assurance of "the hope of glory." Praise Him then from Whom all blessings flow!

"I AM A CANADIAN"
Inspiring, isn't it? to know that the Canadian people from sea to sea gathered in their churches and chapels on Thanksgiving Day, 1951, to render thanks for the great benefits they have received at God's hands, and for which they set forth His most worthy praise. That's the typical Canadian spirit—the spirit of our forefathers, who to the score of faith, hope and love, marched across

BILLY GRAHAM ISN'T WORRIED ABOUT "WICKED" HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood—Exclusively Yours: Evangelist Billy Graham isn't worried about "wicked" Hollywood's soul.

"I was surprised, when given the facts and through some personal observation, by the number of church goers and normal families in Hollywood," the young personality boy of old-time religion told me between revival meetings at the Hollywood Bowl.

"I'm going to defend Hollywood on my radio and TV shows. Just because a few movie people make the headlines doesn't mean Hollywood is a land of sin."

Billy's about to premiere a $500,000, full-hour movie, "Mr. Text," financed by his followers. "It's a western with Biblical overtones—about a Texas oil millionaire who doesn't find true happiness and peace until I convert him."

Inspired by Glenn McCarthy? "No," Billy grinned, "but I hope he sees the picture."

Now it's Bob Hope who wants to co-star with Greta Garbo in a comedy.

There's even been some studio talk about it, Bob admitted. "My best box office pictures have always been with women the years as victors, never victims.

The story of your land and my land takes us back to those clusters of encampments on the banks of the St. Lawrence which the Indians called "kanata." Across the years we travel until we find Canada now holds a position of great international importance, one of the richest of nations.

If Canada is your adopted home, you have thanked God for having guided you to choose such a land wherein there is bread without scarceness . . . a land where the Four Freedoms flourish . . . a land (they call it God's country) with people devoted to the common good.

But what of your home? Is it basically Christian with Christ enthroned as the Head of the House? Are your children being educated morally and spiritually? Do you actively support the Cause of Christ? Do you find happiness in your work with provision for leisure to rest? Are the people you really know reflecting in their lives, the beauty of Canada the Beautiful?

On guard the leaders of this nation stand defending our rights, speaking oftentimes with authority in the councils of the world. Canada's name is high and noble; so must yours as a Canadian be! Aware then of our noble heritage (for we are only stewards) and armed with virtue and true religion, let us see to it that we pass on that heritage unimpaired and strengthened, and in so doing may we say, in war and peace, "Thank God, I am a Canadian."

HOPE—"IMMORTAL DIET"
Certainly then a Canadian will face tomorrow with vision and faith. For Canada is a young country, discovered by John Cabot in 1497, which reached nationhood in 1867, 84 years ago, and, therefore, thrives on hope. Proud of her illustrious past, your land and mine is building an ever greater future. Here there is no room for defeatism! From her guide book—the Bible—a Book of Hope, we are encouraged to expect great things from God and challenged to do great things for Him. Open your heart to the love of God and the Holy Spirit will enable you to achieve a hope that disappoints not.

Canadians then fed on the immortal diet of Hope and armed with Christian graces as well as with the larger love, the purer will, and the challenge to the nobler heights of living, dominated by the spirit of service, love and mutual forbearance, go forward resolved to make Canada a land wherein peace, prosperity, and happiness dwell from sea to sea, and the Thanksgiving Ode accordingly filling the space between earth and heaven.

On future Thanksgiving Days, won't you make a special effort to think about your many blessings and, in sacrament and prayer, in hymn and thanks-giving demonstrate that we are a people mindful of God's favor and glad to do His will? This is the climax of thank-thank!

Milkmen, Bakers Give Assistance To Fire Brigade

The local bakeries and milk companies are the latest of many local firms to co-operate with the Municipal Fire Department during Fire Prevention Week.

Tomorrow morning when citizens of Sherbrooke take in their morning quarts of milk, they will find around the neck of the bottles fire prevention slogans on cards designed with a hole at the top to enable them to go around the bottle.

The slogan says: "Beware of Fire always, 365 days a year," which is the motto of Fire Director W. P. Donahue, who urges vigilance always, not only during fire prevention week.

The bakery men will present householders with cards advising what to do in case of fire.

The advice reads as follows: Know the location of the nearest fire alarm box and notify the fire department. Know how to handle a fire alarm box. Somebody should always stay near the alarm box until the arrival of the brigade and direct the firemen to the fire, thus avoiding unnecessary delays which might be costly. The fire department telephone number is 3-2511.

If the brigade is called by telephone, the person calling should always indicate the kind of fire, that is—chimney fire, stove pipe fire, oil burner, overheated stove, outside rubbish fire, etc.

Try to put out the fire only after notifying the fire department and after everyone has evacuated the house, if necessary. No use having competent personnel and up-to-date equipment, if the brigade is not called on time. NEVER DELAY AN ALARM.

A good thing to do if you do not wish to call the fire brigade is to prevent fires.

World Jersey Federation Will Convene

The tiny Island of Jersey will demonstrate its dominant role in world cattle breeding when representatives of ten countries gather on the Island on Oct. 15 for the second meeting of the World Jersey Federation.

The Jersey breed, developed on an island small enough to fit within the boundaries of the city of Toronto, is now found in virtually every country of the world. This popularity is due to the high butter-fat content of Jersey milk and the adaptability of the breed to all types of climate.

Jerseys have reached such a peak of popularity in New Zealand that they now form 85 per cent of that country's cattle population.

Delegates from Australia, New Zealand, Great Britain, France, Denmark, Sweden, South Africa, Kenya Colony and Canada will meet in St. Helier, Jersey Island, to discuss the development of uniform standards for the breed throughout the world.

The first meeting of the Federation was held two years ago. The date of the next meeting will be decided at this year's conference.

whose initiative the branch was formed, is looking forward to an active and satisfying season with this newest member of the Q.W.I.

The 2,500 Jersey owners in Canada will be represented by James Bremner, of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club. Mr. Bremner, who was to fly from Toronto on Oct. 6, said he planned to invite the World Federation to hold its next meeting in Canada.

"Canada, one of the first countries to import cattle from the Jersey Island, has developed a thriving Jersey-breeding industry and now exports large numbers of the breed," Mr. Bremner said. "Canadian breeders would welcome an opportunity to show the rest of the world the progress they have made since the first Jersey cow arrived here in the middle of the 19th century."

Kiwanis Meeting Held At Waterloo

Waterloo, Oct. 13. — At their weekly Kiwanis meeting, the members of the Waterloo Kiwanis Club listened to an exceptionally fine address given by their own member, Kiwanian Rev. Dan Mitchell who spoke on "Thanksgiving—Why Be Thankful?" The speaker stated that there are two types of people, the optimist who always sees the silver lining, who always sees the good in people, and then there is the pessimist who sees nothing but the black clouds, who can see nothing but evil in his fellow men. So keeping this in mind, Mr. Mitchell explained, we can be thankful that good can come out of evil—that there is the silver lining—that there are good people and friends and fellowship. With a quote, the speaker went on to say why this writer liked depressions. He got to know his neighbors, he got to know his wife, he had time to go to church, he had time to do things he never had time to do when he was busy. He never had time to go with his wife,—she, likewise never had time between club meetings to go out with him,—they had drifted apart. The depression brought them together again—so he likes depressions. Rev. Mitchell stated that good can come out of evil. Even depressions have their silver lining.

In the painting of the Angelus, we see two people, a man and wife with bowed head at noontime, as the bell in the church spire in the distance rings out the angelus. This picture depicts fellowship, a man and wife working together in a field, taking time out of a busy day for meditation. We see worship with the bowed heads in a prayer of thanksgiving to the creator and thirdly we see work with the hoe at their feet—and the tilled fields reaping their harvest—the harvest of their toils. Thanksgiving originated in the Americas with the Pilgrim Fathers. They had been in the New World for about one year and they had sown their fields and had witnessed a wonderful transfiguration into a bountiful harvest for which they were thankful. They decided to hold a harvest feast of Thanksgiving and the men went into the forests to kill the wild birds, and they invited the friendly Indians to join with them in this happy feast, which actually lasted three days. General Washington properly expressed the spirit of the day in his Proclamation of Thanksgiving in 1789 when he said "Whereas now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday the 26th day of November next to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious being, who is the Beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks for his kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various favours which he has been pleased to confer upon us." The speaker continued that in the Old Testament it stated that a gift to the Providential Creator must be perfect, without blemish. Also that the corners of the fields must be left for the poor that they too might be remembered during this time of Thanksgiving to God for his bountiful gifts in this, their harvest. Rev. Mitchell concluded his talk in presenting the

Small Fire At Olivier's

Light damage was done to Olivier's Restaurant, 12 Wellington north, last evening. The fire broke out in the kitchen due to a short circuit in the fluorescent lighting system. Firemen from No. 1 station, under the direction of Director Percy Donahue, quickly extinguished the blaze.

Combines Committee

It noted that the practice of maintaining retail prices at the manufacturers' request now was growing "extensively applied and of growing importance in Canada."

Aiming its sights at a freer economy, the committee opposed the view of those who supported resale price maintenance and said it seriously restricted the working of a competitive system, and was similar in effect to that of "direct collusion" among producers and distributors.

In fact, if the practice was backed up by a manufacturer's restrictive measures against the retailer, it virtually established "a private system of law allowing no appeal to the courts of justice."

A large crowd in attendance. It was also announced that the annual Kiwanis Concert will be held early in November in the High School, and this year, a very special treat will be in store for all who patronize this event. Mr. Tom Auburn, Canada's outstanding mentalist, illusionist and magician will be here for a full hour's show. Mr. Auburn is in a class by himself, and the members of the club are indeed proud to be able to announce that his services have been engaged for this show. Mr. Auburn will be presenting an afternoon show for the children in the high school when all kiddies from two to granddaddy age will be welcome to attend at a very modest fee. The evening show will have other numbers to round out a full and attractive program. The date will be announced later, and tickets will again be sold by the members themselves.

The price for this outstanding show will be the same as in previous years, and it is sincerely hoped that the citizens of Waterloo will keep this date as an appointment, and attend to see Canada's leading magician enthralled, thrill and completely captivate his audience.

The monthly meeting of Beaver Chapter number 7, Order of the Eastern Star was held on Monday night in the Masonic Temple with Sister Ethel Beale in the East. Following the regular meeting, a social hour was enjoyed with a rousing sing song, followed by refreshments, when the hostesses were Sisters Muriel Bockus, Shirley Rydzik, Bertha Cousens, Lena Coppie, Olive Tetreault and Anne Ives.

Ming Sung Ships "Hide" From Canada

Hong Kong, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Seven Chinese-owned ships flying the Canadian flag and built with Canadian money today were hiding from their creditor behind communist China's watery curtain. The ships' crews were reported to be detaining them for fear of seizure in lieu of a payment of their $12,000,000 debt to Canada.

Privately-owned Ming Sung Industrial Co. had the passenger vessels built in 1945 under credit arrangements guaranteed by nationalist China and Canada. When the Chinese civil war sent the nationalist regime packing to Formosa, the Canadian government took over the debt.

The Ming Sung company has since been operating cargo runs out of Hong Kong to communist-held Canton.

Ming Sung's canton office telephoned Hong Kong last night that the ships were being detained. It blamed the action on "crew members who protested against sailing until Canada reconsiders her attitude" on repaying the loan.

The company claims it has met its obligation so far, but has been asking more favorable terms for the remainder of the debt.

(It was learned in Ottawa Thursday that the Ming Sung company defaulted on the initial $1,275,000 payment of the loan, and that Canada would have to make it good to the three Canadian banks which jointly extended the credit.)

The company said that Canada cannot do much about collecting the debt as long as the ships stay in communist waters.

The seven ships are the Shih-men, Chienmen, Lungmen and Yumen. Humen and Yenmen—3,000 tons.

Ming Sung, with major shareholder T. F. Loo in Red China, is the only service authorized by the communist to operate between Hong Kong and Red China.

Operation of the ships under the Canadian flag became a live issue in the Canadian parliament last spring when opposition members charged they were shipping strategic materials to China.

al from Egyptian bases and provide for joint rule of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. Egypt also wants sole control of the Sudan.

The Egyptian parliament is speeding the passage of laws to carry out his treaty denunciation. The whole Moslem world, from Morocco to Indonesia, supports Egypt.

Egypt, Morrison said, "has no right unilaterally to bring that treaty to an end, and she cannot do it. I am not going to submit." Churchill, who took part in the last days of British Empire building and served in the army that won the Sudan almost 60 years ago, claims he will halt the decline of British possessions.

Six years of Labor rule, he said yesterday, "have marked the greatest fall in the rank and stature of Britain in the world which has occurred since the loss of the American colonies 200 years ago. Morrison said Britain will continue to maintain its rights under the Anglo-Egyptian treaty, which expires in 1956, "until some new arrangement comes along to be substituted for it."

A proposed "new arrangement" which was being prepared when Nasser abruptly denounced the treaty is a Middle-East defence command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Under this plan Egypt would share in Suez defence along with Britain, the United States, France and Turkey.

Britain also has taken a firm stand on the Sudan, insisting she will share in governing the country until the Sudanese are capable of self-government and can decide whether they want to unite with Egypt.

The Egyptian defiance of Britain was the latest piece in a pattern of nationalist ferment that has risen throughout the Moslem world since the Second World War.

In Iran—another Moslem nation—talk of a "holy war" against Britain had run high until the last ment that it make it an offence for a manufacturer or supplier to prescribe or recommend the minimum price at which his product can be sold on the retail market.

Several government and private bills, unpassed at the last session, were reintroduced and given first reading.

Members accepted a recommendation of a committee that new sitting hours be tried on an experimental basis for the next two weeks.

The house ordinarily sits from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. For the week starting Monday, it will sit from 1.30 p.m. to 7 p.m. without a break. The following week it will sit from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Toward the end of the second week, the committee will consider the results of the experiment and make further recommendations.

Fantastic Welcome

by train and car, the Royal couple took to the air in the R.C.A.F.'s luxurious four-engine C-7 transport. They will fly them several times in their month-long tour.

They reached Toronto and landed at Malton airport at 4.47 p.m. What happened from there on had reporters dusting off their strongest superlatives.

It began without any usual spectacle—possibly 3,000 spectators, a guard of honor, a welcome by Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson and Premier Frost, the thunder of a 21-gun salute.

But it soon began to snowball as the cavalcade of long black cars moved southward towards the city of 700,000.

They drove first in an open convertible because the Princess wanted to see the people. The Prince told her she should keep warm and wrapped a rug around her.

As night came on and daylight surrendered to dusk and dusk to darkness and a moon came up, they drove slowly behind the escort of red-coated Mounties on motorcycles.

There were people for miles along the route.

There were so many people that the Royal visitors told the driver to go slower and slower until they were creeping along. It got cold and as the darkness strengthened they shifted to a closed car so the lights could be on them and show them to the people.

Some people later said the lights weren't on and that they could hardly see the Princess at all, but their complaints were lost in a wall of shouts that went up as the car moved into the city, up through cavernous Bay street and into City Hall Square.

The scenes in front of City Hall were what veteran reporters could only describe as fantastic.

The shouting, clamorous enthusiasm that rolled up from at least 70,000 throats, the Princess smiling as she has seldom smiled before on her tour, the Prince, keeping his usual position a few feet back of her, the giant blue-and-red decorations, the great lights that blazed down and turned the whole, seething scene into a Hollywood-like extravaganza.

Then the Royal couple went in to the City Hall to sign the visitors' register and something happened that summed up the whole bewildering impact of the day.

The Princess couldn't remember the date when she went to write her name. The mayor had to tell her.

A few hours later they went to a private dinner given for them in the Ontario Parliament Buildings by the Lieutenant-Governor. There were 25 guests and they ate French dishes at Elizabeth's request.

The Princess wore a white satin evening dress, an ermine wrap, a diamond bracelet; the Prince wore a diamond evening dress with decorations.

When they came out, it was about 11 p.m., and 5,000 people were waiting on the Legislature grounds to cheer them all over again and to sing one final song for the day—"God Save the King."

U.N. Hears

The 15-year-old was fishing about one-half mile north of Panmunjom on the main highway to Kaesong late Friday afternoon. His 12-year-old brother, holding their two-year-old brother in his arms, was watching.

The oldest boy said he saw three planes and a rocket under a bridge, but that his two brothers were hit. The youngest was shot in the left arm.

Investigators also were told that three North Korean soldiers saw the planes.

While the investigators were at the bridge, the dead boy's mother arrived, carrying the injured two-year-old.

As the U. N. team got ready to leave, the boy's father hurled a harangue at Lieut. Richard Woodward, one of the allied interpreters.

The farmer complained that the shooting occurred in the peace conference area, and that he would not have minded sacrificing his son if it had been in war zone.

British technicians were pulled out of the Abadan refinery.

Another Moslem nation, oil-rich Iraq, now wants to change its relations with Britain. The British Foreign Office reported Iraqi Premier Nuri Al Said urged revision of the 1930 British-Iraqi treaty which lets Britain have air bases in Iraq.

Even Jordan, traditionally Britain's best friend in the Middle East, has become a question mark since the assassination of King Abdullah, her pro-British monarch, last summer.

two parties. He advised Liberals not to "throw away" their votes on Liberal candidates.

Officially, the guide for Liberals in a constituency not contested by a Liberal comes from questionnaires distributed to Tory and Socialist candidates. The purpose of these questionnaires is to determine which of the two is the more Liberal.

Results of the quiz will be made known soon. Meanwhile a preliminary report indicates a marked similarity in Tory replies. This suggests, a Liberal spokesman said yesterday, that a direction might have been given at a high similarity in replies does not appear. The spokesman said this similarity does not appear to the same extent among Labor candidates.

"At last! I have a PLAN FOR SAVING that works!"

"I'm something like you. I've a good job... a family... plenty of things I hope to do... plenty of places I hope to see someday. And, like you, I have bills to pay... am concerned about the future... wish I could save more money."

"Luckily, my wife is good at family finances. She can make a dollar go farther than anybody I know. We sat down and did some figuring. To put it briefly, we decided that the best way to make our savings grow was through life insurance."

"So we called in the Mutual Life representative. He was good at family finances too."

"We talked it over... figured it all out. Now, with a Mutual Life policy we have a plan for savings that works."

That's something to remember. An insurance policy is not only protection for your family; it's also a plan for family saving that works.

LIMIT FOR HOLDING IN ANY ONE NAME—$5,000.
CASHABLE AT FULL FACE VALUE PLUS INTEREST AT ANY TIME

THE LONGER IT'S HELD - THE BETTER IT GETS

Canada Savings Bonds - Sixth Series - have a "life" of 10 years and 9 months from date of issue and bear 10 coupons of equal value. The first coupon covers 1 year and 9 months and is payable on August 1st, 1953; subsequent coupons come due August 1st yearly thereafter until maturity. If cashed before August 1st, 1953, simple interest is paid at 2% per year (calculated monthly). This is because "dividing up" the first coupon payment over the period of 1 year and 9 months comes out to this "rate-per-year". This "rate-per-year" gradually increases as each coupon becomes payable until, for a bond that is held for its full term, the average annual interest rate reaches 3.21%.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS are registered in the owner's name. They are non-assignable and non-transferable.

Rally Day Service Held At Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff, Oct. 12.—The annual Rally Day of Beulah United Sunday School, was recently held, with the pastor, Rev. W. H. Boomhour, taking the service. The prepared program, with the theme, "A story to tell the nations," was used with special musical numbers.

Following the prayer of Thanksgiving, two songs by the primary department, under the direction of Miss Leta Dustin, were sung. Motion Songs, "The Light of the World Is Jesus," and "Saved Every Day of the Week."

The story, "Frederico of Angola," was told by Mrs. C. J. Thompson, who emphasized the fact that it was a true story, as Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston of this place, had the pleasure of hearing him speak, when he was in Montreal, and to know his winning smile and happy personality and they heard him say over and over again, how glad he was to see so many children in Day School, and Sunday School. Because of his limited knowledge of English, Rev. T. Tucker, of Angola, translated his message and so this story was told by him.

The story started with Frederico as a boy, and his desire for education. He quickly finished all that he could learn at the village school, and then he was sent to Dondi. There, at the United Church Mission, he learned the Bible, reading and arithmetic. He went to Sunday School.

The story went on that he became a Sunday School teacher, then a full church member. At fifteen, Frederico, went out to teach for the first time. He taught for the summer preparing for his attendance at Currie Institute. He taught, studied and in the early twenties, he married the girl of his choice, Justine Hoop and they went to Nova Lisboa. He continued to teach and to preach and accomplished great things. In 1950 Pastor Frederico Mussili was chosen to be a delegate to the World Convention of Christian Education in Toronto. At first, with no English, he thought it would be impossible to attend, but he and two other Angola pastors travelled through Portugal, then to New York and to Toronto.

The opening night, it was Frederico that carried the banner for Angola in the procession and one of the others spoke for Africa. After that, he visited many young people's camps, Sunday Schools and churches from Montreal to Vancouver. Many saw him and heard his plea "Why don't you Canadians send more teachers?" The boys and girls in Africa need your help now.

Mrs. Thompson was listened to with attention as the "true story was impressive to all."

The Senior pupils sang in two parts, the Hymn, "Living For Jesus." The collection was taken up by Jackie McVeay, Howard Thompson, Charles Boomhour and Stanley Sanderson.

Following the dedication of the offering, the following pupils received pins or bars for perfect attendance, aside from illness, by Mrs. Thompson. The promotions were as follows:

First year, Peter McHarg, Sandra Mosher, Shirley Dezan, Dyanne Keeler, Nicky Keeler and Mary Waite.

Second year bar: Marion Fisher, Charles Boomhour and Lawrence Boomhour.

Third year bar: Joan Belyea and Dean Waite.

Fourth year bar: Dickie Waite,

Billie Thompson, Margaret McHarg and Ernestine Whipple.

Sixth year bar: Gordon Thompson.

Beginners to Primary: teacher, Miss Whipple, Douglas Graham, Garry Dezan, David Dezan, Patricia Garwood, Larry Dezan, Barry Dezan, Sandra and Gail Smith.

Primary to Juniors, girls teacher, Mrs. Belyea: Joan Belyea, Susan Buckland, Sandra Hibbard, Janet Dezan, Margaret McHarg, Bonnie Lyford, Shirley Dezan, Dianne Garwood, Geraldine Martin, Elizabeth Martin and Elizabeth Piercy.

Junior boys, teacher, Richard Colt: Donald Thompson, Dean Waite, Alfred Walker, Billie Thompson, Nicky Keeler, Dale Mosher, Michael Goode, Gary Sanderson and Stephen Stafford.

Juniors to Intermediate, girls, teacher, Mrs. H. N. Pierce: Jean Sanford, Marguerite Allen and Juniors to Intermediate, boys, Sandra Mosher.

teacher, Mrs. Thompson: Lawrence Boomhour, Dickie Waite, Charles Boomhour, Errol Smith, Howard and Jackie McVeay.

There are 72 pupils enrolled, with an average attendance of 55. There are eight classes and it is still very much regretted that due to lack of teachers, some of the Primary pupils have to be classed with juniors. The service closed with the hymn "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee."

General Notes

Subject: "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Testimonial meeting, Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock.
Reading room open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 3:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., at his Majesty's Building.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 14th, 1951.
The Golden Text is from Psalms 118—"The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation... I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible—"And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was

Miss Edith Lavalley, a November bride-to-be, was recently surprised by a group of twenty friends at the home of Mrs. Norman Coates. The guest of honor who was met by the hostess and escorted to her special chair, decorated in blue and white, was presented with a corsage of white "mums" by little Martha Coates. Later on during the evening, the presentation of a tilt-top coffee table was made to Miss Lavalley, on behalf of her assembled relatives and friends. For this beautiful gift and the enjoyable party, the bride-elect graciously voiced her thanks to her hostess and the entire group.

Cards were played for a time, when the prizes were won by Mrs. William Lavalley, Mrs. Edith Hill and Mrs. E. Fearon.
Mrs. Lavalley and Mrs. Arthur Coates poured at the tea table when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. Beattie, of East Angus.

healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God."—(Luke 17).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The progress of truth confirms its claims, and our Master confirmed his words by his works. His healing-power evoked denial, ingratitude, and betrayal, arising from sensuality. Of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed, but one returned to give God thanks... that is, so acknowledge the divine Principle which had healed him."—(Page 94).

MARRIAGES

BANKS—HOBBS

Granby, Oct. 13.—St. George's Anglican Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, September 22, when Ruth Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hobbs, was united in marriage to Corporal John Martin Banks, of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Banks, of Richmond Hill, Ont. The Reverend Archdeacon Lidstone officiated. Miss Doris Lewis, organist, played the wedding music and Mrs. L. Kavanagh sang "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register. The church was decorated with gladioli in pastel shades and other autumn flowers, the pews being marked with gladioli and hydrangea tied with white satin ribbon. Mrs. William Harvey was matron of honor for her sister and little Gayle Livingston, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Mr. James Banks acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were James S. Simpson, of Ottawa and Sapper R. C. Hughes, of the Army Survey Establishment in Ottawa.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle with a full skirt falling into a long train. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a halo hat of tiny white feathers, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white gladioli.

The matron of honor wore a gown of white embroidered tulle with a full skirt of silk marquisette, and she carried a nosegay of gladioli in pastel shades.

Mrs. Hobbs, the bride's mother, wore an afternoon costume of bottle green crepe and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Banks, mother of the groom, was in slate grey velvet and she wore a corsage of yellow carnations.

The reception was held in St. George's Church hall, and later Corporal and Mrs. Banks left by motor for points in Quebec and Ontario. The bride's going away outfit consisted of a dark grey wool suit with dark green felt hat and a camel hair coat, with which she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Guests were present from Ottawa, Toronto, Ont., Montreal, Lachine, Waterloo, Que., and Bronxville, N.Y.

played by Mr. Dale Jackson, and the soloist, Miss Shirley Fields, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." The church was decorated with standards of multi-colored gladioli, and the guest pews were marked with white bows.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle over taffeta. The lace bodice was fashioned with a Mandarin collar, long sleeves and a peplum from the waist. Her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a heart-shaped crown of taffeta, lined with lace and trimmed with pearls, and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace and earrings, the gift of the groom.

Miss Barbara Taylor, as bridesmaid, was in a gown of mauve taffeta, styled with a full skirt. The fitted bodice featured a round neckline with bertha collar and short full sleeves. With this she wore a crown of multi-colored sweet peas to match her colonial bouquet.

Mayor Howard To Officially Open Hockey Season

Coach Dugre To Present Revamped Lineup Against Senators Tomorrow; Game Slated To Commence At 2.30

His Worship Mayor Charles B. Howard will face the puck tomorrow afternoon to officially open the 1951-52 season when the Sherbrooke Saints will be hosts to the Senators of Ottawa in the initial home game of the Quebec Senior Group Hockey League schedule.

Mayor Howard will be accompanied by Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands, Forests and Hydraulic Resources, Maurice Gingues, M.P., the executive of the local team and members of the City Council.

The local club will present practically a new team as only six members of last year's team is back. The holdovers are Roger Bessette, who will be in his second season with the Saints holding down the goal keeping chores. Guy Labrie is the only rearguard held over while on the attacking line Adj Cote, Jimmy Planche, Tommy McDougall and Bobby Pepin are the returnees. The new additions have been picked at random from all over the country and should add considerable strength to the team once they get the system down. On the blueline Joe Lepine, Sandy Milne, Alex Sandlack and Pete Wright are the newcomers, a hard-hitting punch of players. Lepine needs no introduction to local hockey fans as he is well remembered when he performed with the Montreal Royals, Milne, Sandlack and Wright all hail from the west and last season played in the Western Senior League, with the exception of Wright, who played in England. The quartet, with Labrie, should play a big part in the future of the club.

THE 1951 EDITION OF SAINTS — The above photo shows members of the local club who are preparing for the opening home game of the season tomorrow afternoon when the Senators of Ottawa will tangle with the Saints at the local Arena at 2.30. The squad, under Coach Ivan Dugre, have just completed a series of pre-season games and will now swing in action for league honors commencing this evening in the Capital City. The local club chalked up five victories out of seven games during their pre-season training period and with a few changes are prepared for the heavy 70-game schedule.

On the attacking line newcomers are still in the spotlight as seven new men are with the team. Nils Tremblay, Bill Kyle, Lucien Gilbert, Lloyd Ferguson, Bud Smith, Ken Biggs and Gilles Dube comprise the new additions to the squad. Dube is a former member of the team, having played with the Saints before he signed professionally with the Montreal Canadiens.

The rest of the list are in their first season with the Saints although Tremblay played with the Ottawa Senators last year. Kyle, the property of the New York Rangers, has been loaned to the locals as well as Ferguson, who comes from the Montreal Canadiens with Dube and Lepine. Smith played in Edmonton last year while Ken Biggs performed for Glace Bay in the Maritimes. Gilbert hails from Quebec and last season commenced with the Acts before finishing the year in the Lake St. John District League.

The Senators, who are here tomorrow in the curtain-raiser, will be a power-packed aggregation and only a few of last year's team are around. T. P. Gorman, during the off-season, made a strong bid to have his Barber Poles back in the thick of the race. He purchased Leo Gravelle for a reported $10,000, and Vic Grigg for $5,000 from the Detroit Red Wings.

Ian "Fritz" Fraser, who played with Minneapolis last year, and Gordie Hudson, a former Quebec Citadel, are the other new rearguards on the team. On the attacking lines T. P. has added quite a few from the Maple Leaf organization, including several former Marlboros who copped the Allan Cup two years ago when they knocked off the Saints in the Eastern Canada final.

Never before in the 14-year history of the league has competi-

Teams In National League To Play Sunday Hockey For First Time Since Founding Of Circuit; Open Dec. 9

London, Oct. 13. — British teams will play Sunday hockey this winter for the first time in National League history, regardless of ancient Sunday observance laws.

Al Hunt, newly-appointed boss of Earls Court Rangers, says Sabbath play will start Dec. 9 when Rangers take on Streatham. The Rangers have been forced from their home territory on week-days by an ice pantomime.

What about the Sunday observance act of 1780? "I don't see anything to worry about as long as it's orderly," Hunt said in an interview. "Some of these dusty laws get broken occasionally without anybody doing anything about it."

One thing which makes it easier for the Rangers to flout the law is that an act has been passed abolishing the common informer—the system whereby private persons could set prosecutions in motion. Another is that they've been playing organized hockey on Sundays in Brighton, just an hour's run by train from London, for about a decade.

Teams in the Brighton League are pretty casually organized and most of the players are Canadian.

There has been so keen a mass influx of professional players from the disbanded United States Hockey League is believed to be the reason for the unexpected boost in material throughout George Slater's loop.

Famed Baseball Scout, Bill Essick, Dies

Los Angeles, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Death today claimed the second of two famed West Coast baseball scouts for New York Yankees.

Bill Essick, christened William Earl 70 years ago, died in his sleep. The most famous player, Essick signed for the Yankees was the great Joe DiMaggio.

Last month Essick's old sidekick and associate, Joe Devine, died in San Francisco. Baseball people credit their astute scouting over the years for many of the Yankee successes.

Essick, ill since May with a heart condition, retired from baseball last Jan. 1.

Churchill's Racehorse, Colonist, Is Retired

London, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Winston Churchill's first racehorse, Colonist II, which had a lot in common with his owner, has run his last race.

The French-bred grey was injured when one of his plates worked loose and cut in a race at Goodwood in August.

Trainer Walter Nightingall said yesterday, the horse will never be fit for racing again.

Colonist II won 13 of his 24 races in England.

Colonist never liked left-hand turns on a racetrack, always preferred racing in front of the field, and never knew when he was licked.

Churchill has six other horses besides Colonist II. The chief hope now for the chocolate and pink silks is a French-bred three-year-old filly, Cybarine, a full sister to the grey who won Stakes of £2,000.

Senior Group Prepares For Bumper Year As All Teams In Loop Are Strongly Reinforced For Season

The Quebec Senior Hockey League opens its 14th successive season this evening when the Sherbrooke Saints pay a visit to Ottawa to tangle with Bill Durnan's power-packed Senators of Ottawa.

From advance reports it would seem that George Salter's circuit is in for one of their best seasons for years. Veteran league observers have visions of another bumper year such as 1948-49 when 988,007 patrons took in the games.

Never before in the 14-year history of the league has the competition been so keen. Hockey camps are over-run with outstanding players, who are available in staggering numbers for the first time in years. Mass influx of professional players from the disbanded United States Hockey League is believed to be the reason for the unexpected boost in material.

Every team in the Q.S.H.L. has extended the welcome hand to these homeless performers, with the possible exception of the champion Valleyfield Braves, who haven't signified publicly whether they grabbed any of the players.

The Braves, under the "Old Lamplighter" Toe Blake, are ready for the defence of their title. They have the bulk of last year's team which won the Major Series and brought the Q.S.H.L. its fifth Canadian championship since 1943.

Blake has Goalie Paul Leclerc, defencemen Jack Irvine, Bingo Ernest, Jacques Deslauriers, forwards George Bougie, Andre Coriveau, Jean Paul Bissailon, Koutou Joannette and others who comprised the title squad in 1950-51. Blake will undoubtedly have some new faces but he is not revealing any names until he has them under lock in the Capital. Coach Bill Durnan has only a few remnants from last season's team.

More than 15 new players were added to the Senators during the off season, including Leo Gravelle of the Detroit Red Wings, whom the Ottawans reportedly purchased for $10,000. Jackie Giesbrecht, from the Cleveland Barons, Bruce Giesbrecht from Omaha, Bill "Wiggie" Wylie of the New York Rovers and Ted O'Connor, a junior defenceman from the Oshawa Generals.

The Aces have also added big Jean Beliveau, the rage in junior hockey last season with the Quebec Citadels, who has as big a following at the box office as some of Hollywood's established stars.

Shawinigan Cataracts will undoubtedly benefit from a working agreement with the Detroit Red Wings. They have already had a half dozen players sent their way from the Wings' training camp including Sam Mulholland, who was with Milwaukee last year, Lloyd Hinchberger of Omaha, Don Grosse with Windsor Spitfires last season, Goalie Al Miller, former Quebec Aces netminder and last year at New Haven, Ron Rohmer of Brandon Wheat Kings, Red Bowness of Detroit Hetches, and Montreal-born Lyle Wiseman, who was with Indianapolis in '50-51.

The Cataracts, under Don Peniston, should be able to improve their last season standing—last in a seven-team—with such an array of material. Then there is always the irrepressible Bucky Buchanan to lend scoring punch to the Shawinigan attack.

Chicoutimi Saguenays purchased a pair of ex-professionals, Goalie Marcel Pelletier from Milwaukee and defencemen Jean Paul Lamirande of the St. Louis Flyers during the summer months and Coach Rollie Hebert is building his team around these two players. He has lost centre Gerry Cabana from last season to New Westminster Royals.

The Montreal Royals appear to be the strongest team on paper at this stage of the season. They have added defenceman Glen Harmon of the Canadiens and forward Normie Dussault, Les Douglas of the Cleveland Barons, Tod Campeau, Gerry Plamondon and highly publicized Dickie Moore from the Junior Canadiens.

Many of last year's regulars will return. There will be Goalie Jacques Plante, rearguards Dollard St. Laurent, and Rollie Rousseau and forwards Billy Gould, Art Rose, Jacques Locas, Bob Fryday, Lulu Denis and Gerry Deslauriers.

Coach Frank Carlin should have no worries this season with a lineup studded with stars. Early in The fourteenth season of George Slater's Quebec Senior Hockey League opens this evening and from the advance reports it would seem that the circuit is in for the best year in the history of the circuit.

All the teams in the loop are reinforced, in fact some of them could make creditable showings against some of the professional clubs without too much effort, and come out on the long end of the count. With the disbanding of the United States Hockey League it left the gates open for quite a few of their top players on the market and where there were hookups and a little spare cash the boys found a place for themselves.

The winner of the circuit this season, will be in our estimation at least 100% stronger than last year. It is nothing more or less than a professional league camouflaged under an amateur rating, but with all this the hockey should definitely improve as well.

It looks as though T. P. Gorman, Ottawa's congenial sportsman, has invested quite a lot of greenbacks in order to bring his supporters a top team. During the off season he hit the headlines by announcing the purchase of twelve new players and glancing through the names you can see that they will be a hard team to dispose of once they get rolling. They pack plenty of punch.

Frank Carlin's Royals will be right in the thick of things from the looks of his star-studded aggregation. When you think that Harmon and Dussault, who performed with the Montreal Canadiens, and Les Douglas of Cleveland, one of the top scorers in the American League, will be with the club you can well realize just what we mean when we say it is a camouflaged bunch of pros. In fact practically all the clubs are the same with the exception of maybe a couple and perhaps they will try to pick up a few in order to be able to keep pace with the rest.

Tod Campeau and Gerry Plamondon are back with their old Alma Mater, The Royals, and with the bunch of up-and-coming youngsters Pilot Frank Carlin should have an easy season ahead of him. For once he will be able to hold on to his players, under the new Major League ruling, and should be in the middle of the fight.

Joe Blake, Valleyfield's guiding hand, seems to think that it is practically impossible to compete with the top money clubs in the circuit, and we figure he is right. How can Valleyfield, Shawinigan and Sherbrooke stand in with Ottawa, Royals and the Aces? These clubs have the do-re-me and that is by the looks of things playing a big part this year.

It will be interesting to watch just how these power-packed clubs will turn out. We have seen many a star-studded outfit drop by the wayside when they clash with a bunch of up-and-coming fellows who are not afraid of "Name Players."

The brand of hockey should improve when you consider the list of players and the fans should witness some very good games. The only trouble is that a few of the clubs may be a little too strong for the rest of the loop but this, with time, will no doubt be straightened away as the heads of the league wouldn't want such a thing as it would ruin the loop.

The local squad is presenting a changed lineup from last year and although there are no outstanding stars we figure they will give a good account of themselves, whatever is the outcome. They seem to be a real bunch of fighters and this may go a long way in their favor. At least it should give the fans plenty of exciting moments.

So all around it looks like a winter of fast, heavy-hitting hockey with plenty of experience packed in with the youngsters to balance off the clubs to give the supporters what they want.

The Saints tackle the Senators this evening and tomorrow and this will afford Corb Dugre a wonderful opportunity to see how his squad will stack up against Gorman's power-laden outfit. One thing certain, we think the boys from the Capital will know they have been in a jam.

The Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League ended its activities for the season with their annual banquet Saturday evening and from all reports it was a huge success.

President Ted Anderson presided over the presentation of the different trophies and crests. A hundred and seventy-five attended the annual event comprised of the players and supporters. It was the most successful season since the founding of the league.

The most valuable player award was topped by Marcel Blondeau, the Railroaders' ace hurler, after a close battle with Rene Pepin and Marcel Bouchard, Textile's pitcher and outfielder. Following the dinner and presentation a dance was held.

Rubins won the league championship.

Hill Prince To Run In Jockey Club Gold Cup

New York, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Hill Prince goes after his second straight victory today in the $50,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park.

Chris Chynery's powerful Virginia-bred four-year-old colt, American champion last year, is expected to be a 4-to-5 choice to whip five rivals in the 1 1/4-mile event.

The main opposition is expected to come from C. V. Whitney's Countess, the best route runner in the three-year-old ranks and a contender with Ruffian and Hall of Fame for sophomore championship honor.

Hill Prince will be ridden by Eddie Arcaro, who has won four Gold Cups and the Earl Sande record of five with a victory today.

Tail-Tieing Episode Ends With Suspension

Columbus, O., Oct. 13. — (AP) — The tale of alleged tail-tieing at Hamilton Race Track came to an end today with the final decision going against the man who brought the charges.

The State Racing Commission upheld the suspension of Track Stewards of G. T. Becknell, Emory, Tex., horse owner, for "conduct detrimental to racing." He had charged the tail of his odds-on favorite, Detroit Tiger, was tied to the starting gate at Hamilton last Aug. 22.

Not content at merely upholding the suspension, the Commission extended it to Dec. 20. It said it had "reached the conclusion that tail-tieing or other improper practices alleged by Mr. Becknell actually did occur."

ionship and the Sidney Spanswick Memorial trophy in their first year in the loop and are to be congratulated on their fine effort. They then went on to win the City Championship by downing Le Laurence in two straight games.

A meeting of the Minor Hockey Leagues of the District has been called for Tuesday evening at 8:30 in St. Patrick's Church Hall to plan the coming season.

President Maurice Parsons is looking forward to a bumper season and a new record in the number of teams and players to register. Last year 38 teams with 470 players took part in the Pee-Wee, Midget, Bantam and Juvenile circuits throughout the District which was a considerable jump over the previous year.

There seems to be plenty of players waiting for an opportunity to play but organization for handling them is lacking. So if anybody is interested in helping out an ambitious bunch of kids now is the time to step forward and take over. It is really worth a trial and there is a lot of fun attached with it. So don't forget Tuesday evening at 8:30.

DiMaggio Ready To Retire But Yanks Ask Him To Think It Over A Little More; Goes To Japan Next Month

New York, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, baseball's greatest star since Babe Ruth, has played his last big league ball game unless he changes his mind between now and next spring.

The brilliant outfielder of New York Yankees, after weeks of pondering, entered the club offices yesterday and informed his boss, President Dan Topping, that he had decided to retire from baseball.

That was at 11:00 A. M. EST. A club spokesman announced 2 1/2 hours later that the 37-year-old Yankee Clipper "came into the office with intentions of retiring but decided to give the subject a little more time at the request of Dan Topping."

Topping and DiMaggio discussed the matter for close to two hours. The Yankee co-owner did not attempt to talk DiMaggio into changing his mind. But Topping asked him to withhold his final decision.

"Now Joe," Topping said, "I'm not fully convinced that you have made up your mind. You might feel differently a month from now. Why don't you go on your trip to Japan and give this matter a little more thought."

"I've got a lot of cleaning up to do yet. When you get back to the States in about a month from now, I'll be waiting right here for you. Then we'll talk it over some more."

DiMaggio agreed to give the matter "a little more thought and a little more time."

The opinion in this corner, however, is that Joe's brilliant 16-year big league career, three of which were spent in the service, is over.

DiMaggio indicated last spring that 1951 would be his last season but few believed him. If he had any doubts then, his sub-par work this year convinced him. He batted only .263, the second time in 13 active years with the Yankees that DiMag had dipped below .300. His once powerful arm had lost its snap, he had slowed up in the field, and most important, he was just plain tired.

During the World Series, in which he looked woefully weak at the plate in the first three games, DiMaggio hinted strongly that he was through. Nobody, however, wanted to believe it.

Manager Casey Stengel must have known, or guessed that DiMaggio was ready to call it a career.

"We couldn't have won the pennant and Series without Joe," he said. "I hope he changes his mind about retiring."

"The day DiMaggio quits," Stengel said recently, "part of the Yankees will be gone too."

Break Up The Yanks? Is Old Cry Once Again But Stengel Has Fine Youngsters Ready To Move In

New York, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Hardly had the hubbub of the 1951 World Series died down when the time-honored "Break-Up-The-Yanks" talk started sprouting again.

Maybe they are right this time. Maybe they will break up the world champion Yankees, Joe DiMaggio may make good his threat to retire. Johnny Mize, Bobby Brown and one or two others may have played their last games as Yankees.

Replacements such as Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald, Jackie Jensen, Bob Cerv, Tom Morgan and others, have been readied to step in for the outgoing veterans. But thus far they have not yet found anyone to nudge Phil Rizzuto out of his shortstop post.

If ever proof was needed to show how invaluable Rizzuto has been to the Yankees it was found in the recent World Series. The mighty mite, playmaker extraordinaire day after day, was the big hero of the Yankees' 14th championship in 29 years.

When Manager Leo Durocher was asked who was most responsible for beating his Giants, he answered without hesitation: "Rizzuto. He's a double pro."

When Ed Lopat was being congratulated for his two triumphs over the Giants, the southpaw shook his head and said: "Give all the credit to the Scooter. Without him behind me I don't think I would have won."

Lopat was referring to the four double plays in which Phil figured in one game, two of which he started and two of which he acted as the pivotal man.

As Allie Reynolds put it, there is nothing Yankee pitchers enjoy so much as the knowledge that Rizzuto is behind their backs.

It may have escaped general notice that Rizzuto was the only Yankee to hit safely in every game. Or that he led all Yankee regulars with a .320 batting average.

The Yankees tied a series record with 10 double plays. Rizzuto partook in eight of them. Phil accepted 40 chances, a record for a six-game series, and handled 39 of them cleanly.

He appeared disturbed.

"Mr. Hornsby, I battled this way ever since I got out of high school," he told me, "and I don't think it matters how funny it looks as long as I get results." I let him keep the stance and he hit .337.

Casey Stengel is in agreement with Hornsby.

"Sure, Gil holds the bat cock-eyed," the little funny man of Yankee Stadium admits, "but there ain't a thing wrong with the way he swings it. Lots of players make it with unorthodox tricks."

Hornsby is higher than an angry cat's back on Jim Rivera, the phenomenal Seattle outfielder purchased by the White Sox for $50,000 and four players.

A great prospect," says the Rajah. "He's 28, but wild about the game, and that's why he'll make the big leagues."

"I first saw Jim playing winter ball in Puerto Rico, and what I saw I liked. When I discovered his name on the draft list, I grabbed him for Seattle. He led the Coast League in just about everything but pitching—and he might have done that, too, if I had let him pitch."

"Rivera is aggressive, anxious to please."

"This was only his third year in organized ball. He was green as grass in some spots when he came to me. I taught him to time slow pitches and not to be caught off stride. He learned to bunt and drag the change-up so pitchers will be less eager to throw it."

Rivera is a sparkling prospect, and nobody knows it better than Rivera. Early last Summer the Bronx, N.Y., boy asked a Seattle newspaper photographer to give him a print of a certain picture so he could send it home to his family.

"Get it quick as you can," Jim Rivera urged. "I might not be here long. I might go to the big leagues."

Syracuse To Get Hockey After 10-Year Lapse

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 13. — (AP) — Professional hockey returns to Syracuse tonight after a 10-year absence.

Syracuse Warriors, formerly Springfield Indians, open the American Hockey League season against Indianapolis in Syracuse's new $4,000,000 Memorial Building.

The last professional hockey game here was played in the State Fair Coliseum in 1941 by a Syracuse club in the now defunct International League.

The Warriors came here tonight from Lindsay, Ont., where they have been training.

Cates Wins Marathon; Demar Gets The Cheers

Boston, Oct. 13. — (AP) — Fred Cates of Springfield College was the winner but 68-year-old Clarence Demar drew all the cheers yesterday in the Columbus Day 10-mile road race.

Demar, a seven-time winner of the famed Boston A. A. Marathon, finished far back in the 42-man field after completing the 1,000th road race in his competitive career that started back in 1907.

Before he left the starting line, Demar was presented with a gold trophy by Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston, to commemorate the historic event.

Cates covered the course in 54 minutes, 39 seconds and he was followed over the line in order by Edward Dullen of New York, and three Bostonians, Ralph Murphy, Johnny Kelley and Don Fry.

Glance Bay Miners Sign Ex - Pro Bloomer

Glance Bay, N. S., Oct. 13. — (CP) — Glance Bay Miners last night announced the signing of Sheldon Bloomer of Winnipeg, an ex-pro defenceman who comes to the Cape Breton Major club from Tulsa of the United States League.

Bloomer, who played with New Haven in the A.H.L., is 23 and weighs 165. The defenceman will be here in time for Miners' opening game Tuesday with Moncton Hawks.

MacIntyre, Pidsodny Return To Sydney Club

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 13. — (CP) — Star hockey players Dunc (Big Train) MacIntyre and Nick Pidsodny arrived yesterday from Buffalo after attending the Bisons' training camp.

Both will be playing with the Sydney Millionaires when they begin their Maritime Major Hockey League schedule here Monday.

Hornsby Insists Veeck's Sideshow Ends When Browns' Games Begin

New York—Tris Speaker once paid Rogers Hornsby, new manager of the Browns, one of the finest compliments one baseball man could pay another.

After the seven-time National League batting champion and Hall of Fame second baseman had been shoved down the chute as a generalissimo of the Browns in 1937, Speaker was asked if he would hire The Rajah here at the head of a club.

"Maybe not as manager," Spoke said, "but I'd pay him well just for sitting around and keeping me from making mistakes."

After successful runs to the wire at Beaumont and Seattle the past two seasons, Hornsby returns to the big tent bent on making people forget the man who was fired by the same St. Louis Americans for betting on the horses.

The new 55-year-old Hornsby can be counted on to expedite Bill Veeck's building job at Sportsman's Park if he sticks to baseball.

From all early appearances, he is going to do just that.

He already has had an understanding with Stunt Man Bill Veeck that the side show ends when the game begins. Meaning the Little Brownies have seen the last of midgets and clowning coaches.

Hornsby Top Appraiser

No one can appraise a ball player quicker or more accurately than The Rajah. He is a master with recruits, having developed Gil McDougald of Yankees, among others.

McDougald, who helped the erstwhile Bombers to their third straight pennant with a .306 batting average in his first big league campaign, and hit the home run with the bases full in the World Series, has the most unorthodox batting style seen since Al Simmons. The rookie second baseman keeps his hands far apart, the bat held off his hip and hanging as limp as a rag.

"The first time Gil showed up in Beaumont," says Hornsby, "I suggested he change his stance."

C. R. U. Committee Complete Plans For Final Tilt On Nov. 24; Game Time Advanced; Tarp To Be Ready

Toronto, Oct. 13. — (CP) — The one-year experiment of distributing part of the Grey Cup tickets by mail order has been ditched. Now, the Eastern and Western Canada football clubs will look after the complete sale of the 27,000-odd tickets for Canada's No. 1 sports classic.

This was disclosed yesterday following a meeting of a committee set up by the Canadian Rugby Union—ruling body of the game in the country—to figure ways whereby the fans who pay the freight of clubs throughout the season are given a half-decent chance of sitting in on the Nov. 24 spectacle.

The plan works this way: The Big Four and Western Canada Unions each will continue to receive 30 per cent of the tickets and the Ontario Rugby Football Union 10 per cent. The other 30 per cent, previously handled by the C.R.U., will be turned over to the Big Four and Western clubs for distribution.

"It simply means that over and above their 30 per cent of the tickets, the Big Four and Western clubs will get the C.R.U.'s share for their fans," C.R.U. president Myer Insky of Montreal said in an interview. "We are trying to get the tickets into the hands of people who support football and we hope that this is the solution," he added.

"Last year's plan of distributing 30 per cent of the tickets by mail order was not successful, and we just had to evolve some other plan."

The C.R.U. Committee was made up of Insky, vice-president Arthur U. Chipman of Winnipeg and secretary Tommy Allison of Toronto. Harry MacBrien of Toronto, C.R.U. registrar, was called into yesterday's meeting which also decided that:

1. The game will start at 1 P. M. EST instead of the usual 1:45 P. M. kick-off. "Toronto was on daylight time last year due to the power shortage but now that it is going by standard time we cannot take a chance of darkness interfering with play," Insky said.

He added that in event of a tie after the regular 60 minutes two 10-minute overtime sessions will be played. He said the referee has "full authority to call the game if it gets dark."

2. The $12,000 tarpaulin, ordered by the C.R.U. after last year's swampy field, will be ready in 10 days or two weeks and, depending on weather conditions, it will be put down on Toronto Varsity field a week before the game.

3. The gross gate for the classic has ballooned from $25,459 in 1947 to a potential $122,000 this year.

"Enlargement of Varsity Stadium from a 20,000 capacity to more than 27,000 and the increase in tickets from the $3 and $2 last year to a top of $5 this year, has made this thing big business," Insky said.

The C.R.U. will invite Governor-General Alexander to kick off this year.

THE ROSENBLUM REPORTER

It's Hat Week!

WITH PRETZEL WEEK, Doughnut Week, Smile Week and the like, there are probably more weeks than you could cram into 25 years if they were all stretched out end to end. Can any bright pupil in our class tell us why there shouldn't be a Hat Week? After all, your hat is really one of the most important articles you wear, if you dress to build up your appearance. People do notice your hat.

WE CAME ACROSS an interesting feature in a trade journal some time ago. On one side of the page were photographs of a number of men, most of them typical young chaps, all shown bareheaded. Directly opposite were photos of the same men in similar poses but with hats on. The differences were truly amazing. In every case the hat made the man look more reliable, more successful and more important. Our experience leads us to believe that the right hat will produce similar results in most cases.

THE HAT PEOPLE do not expect you to get all het up about National Hat Week, which starts today. But we do invite you to celebrate it in this simple way: Call in at Rosenbloom's any day this coming week and try the hat test explained above. We promise that we won't coax you to buy. We just want to show you what our hats can do to help your appearance. Look at yourself in the mirror, with and without the hat. We repeat, no salesmanship! Of course if you happen to be in a buying mood, we're sure you'll be favorably impressed with our smart selection. The newest Fall hats are here now. Christys from Britain at $11.50, Canadian Stetsons at $8.95 and $10.95, and other good hats at $5.95.
