LOAN DRIVE HERE GOES OVER TOP

Quota High But Oversubscribed by Wide Margin Campaign Committee Officials Announce

The Victory Loan Campaign in Westmount last week went over the top, this city over-subscribing its exceptionally high quota by a wide margin. It was announced yesterday by C. E. McKenna, unit organizer for the district.

While complete figures were not available at press time last night, Mr. McKenna stated that sales totaled at least $600,000 more than that subscribed to the first Victory Loan Campaign.

He said that there had been approximately double the number of individual subscribers, this representing about one in four and a half of the possible subscribers in the district. The average for the country as a whole was one in eight, he pointed out.

Mr. McKenna stated that the local committee was more than gratified at the success of the campaign here and expressed his thanks to campaign workers.

"Residents responded to the appeal wonderfully," the unit organizer said.

At the opening of the campaign there was considerable doubt as to Westmount's ability to reach its quota as this was exceptionally high.

Particular credit for the drive's success is due the small subscribers as many of the more wealthy Westmount residents were on the "special names" list.

CAPTAIN JONES IS SPEAKER AT HIGH SCHOOL

Honor Roll to Pupils Who Have Enlisted Is Dedicated by Minister

The Commercial High School recently held a Victory Assembly for the purpose of interesting the pupils, and thus indirectly the parents, in the second Victory Loan. The speaker was Captain, the Reverend T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., who conducted the pupils on a scenic tour of the world, drawing their attention to the localities where the British have been bearing the brunt of the Axis attack.

At this assembly, an honour roll to the graduates and former pupils of the Commercial High School who have enlisted was dedicated by Captain Jones, whilst a few words were spoken to the school by Sergeant-Gunner Coburn Cleland, D.F.M., who has returned to Canada after four years in the R.A.F. The school points out that this roll is not complete and therefore asks all friends of the school who know of former pupils on active service to write to "The Commercial High School, 125 Sherbrooke street, West, giving such military details as number and address.

Thanks to the speakers were tendered by Harold Flegel, prime minister of the school parliament, and the appreciation of the staff was voiced by Alice Rosenveig to Mr. Cockhill for the very artistic and beautiful roll which honors our representatives in the war.

Proceeds Are Given To Junior Red Cross

The proceeds from the Temple Emanuel-EI Carnival held on Purim were donated to the Canadian Junior Red Cross. The Temple School Library has been enriched by sixty new volumes of books of Jewish interest. These volumes have been placed especially for use by the boys and girls in order to further their knowledge of Jewish life.

Business Men To Sponsor Show

The entire proceeds of the sale of tickets in aid of the Westmount No. 1 Squadron, Air Cadet League of Canada, a variety entertainment will be sponsored by the Business Association of Westmount in Victoria Hall on Saturday evening, April 25.

Don Ross, chairman of the entertainment committee, stated yesterday that the association has been assured of the services of a number of noted entertainers who have been presenting shows to the troops under the auspices of the Canadian War League Services. Miss Betty Spiers is in charge of the production.

Proceeds from the show will be used to purchase summer uniforms and camp equipment for members of the local Air Cadet Squadron and wide public support is anticipated.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE CHAS. CREAMER

Resident of Kensington Avenue Was Well Known Advertising Engraving Representative

The funeral service for Charles Creamer, of 349 Kensington avenue, was held in the William Wray Funeral Chapel on Tuesday afternoon followed by interment in Mount Royal Cemetery. Mr. Creamer, son of Mrs. C. P. Creamer and the late C. P. Creamer, died early Monday morning in the Private Patients' Pavilion of the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital following a short illness. He was 39 years of age.

For the past 15 years Mr. Creamer represented Rapid Grip & Batten Limited. He was one of the most widely known engraving representatives in the city and had friends in every branch of the advertising business.

Schooled at Wykeham House, he went to Rotheray Collegiate School, New Brunswick, in 1919, where he was an outstanding athlete, starting at hockey until a knee injury caused his retirement. Returning to Montreal to go into business he became an enthusiastic worker for Rotheray Collegiate School, later becoming a director of Montreal's Rotheray Old Boys Association.

Besides his widow, formerly Stella French, he leaves two sons, Nelson and Richard, his mother, Mrs. C. P. Creamer of Westmount, a brother Albert Creamer of Westmount and a sister, Mrs. Theodore Tebbets of Los Angeles.

SO-ED PROGRAM IS CONDUCTED

To begin the "So-Ed" program of Westmount Park Church on Tuesday night, Dorothy Johnson organized the members in acquainted games. This was followed by a sing-song of old familiar numbers and a quiz contest of musical technicalities.

An interesting half-hour was spent in the demonstration, by Miss Gervais of Eaton's, of professional photo-tinting in oils. The final exhibit expressed quite a compliment to this style of hobby.

Musical selections were rendered by Miss Pamela McIntosh who presented us with "A Prelude No. 10" by Bach and "Arabesques" by Claude Debussy. The devotional period was led by Gordon Young the theme being Treasures of Earth. Assisting him were Betty Russell and Joyce Thorne. Refreshments were served by Ila Pettiford and Marion Stewart as convenors and an interesting half-hour concluded a very pleasant evening.

An educational evening is planned for next week and all young people are cordially invited.

RAGS SOUGHT FOR SALVAGE IN CAMPAIGN

City Conducts Special Appeal for Vitrally Needed Material — Drive Held Last Week Marked Success

A special drive for the reclamation of old rags is being conducted this week by the Westmount Salvage Campaign Committee and a large collection of this important war-time material is aimed at. Residents are asked to co-operate by placing rags and other articles suitable for conversion into wipers alongside their garbage cans on garbage removal days.

The special appeal for waste paper made by the city last week resulted in an excellent response on the part of residents. It was announced at the City Hall yesterday. A total of 17,000 pounds was collected during the week.

This week's drive is particularly important as there is an acute shortage of rags in the country at the present time. Officials of the campaign pointed out yesterday that during the year immediately prior to the outbreak of the war Canada's importation of waste rags totalled 30 million pounds from the Netherlands, 16,300,000 pounds from the United States and 10,500,000 pounds from the United Kingdom. The normal requirement of the community in Canada is 70,000,000 pounds each year and during the first year of the war but 50 million pounds was obtained in this country and all imports have now ceased.

The city seeks, particularly, old clothes, rags, carpets and mattresses and residents are requested to place all such discarded articles beside their garbage cans for collection on garbage removal day.

Most of the rags collected will be used as wipers in war production plants, while woollen rags and other materials will be sent to textile mills to be made into blankets, rugs and great coats.

In a previous drive for rags conducted by the National Salvage Committee, William Knightly, director of National Salvage headquarters, asked Canadians to save their old rags for use in war industry.

HOSTESS HONORED AT WESTMOUNT "Y"

Leaving for Toronto in a few days, Mrs. D'Arcy Hubbell of Westmount, who has been Saturday night hostess at the Westmount 'Y' troop dances and entertainment since the first party was held in September 1939, was honored last Saturday night by her soldier guests. After being thanked for her services by representatives of the Army and Air Force, Mrs. Hubbell was presented with a pin bearing the crests of the R.C.A.F., the Army, the Merchant Marine, and the Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. war services. Miss Peggy French who was in charge of last Saturday night's troop party made the presentation assisted by, left to right: AC2 Andrews, LAC Harley, of New Zealand; Sgt. Lequerrier, and Sgt. Findlator, of Australia. Mrs. Hubbell, wearing hat in our picture, is standing next to Miss French.

Sea Scouts Play Big Part As Wartime Auxiliaries

Westmount, N.D.G. and Verdun Boys Assist C.P.C. and Local Authorities, Besides Training for Sterner Duties — Movement Begun in 1913

This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint the community with one of its most unique and proficient "Older Boys Programs."

The second Great War has suddenly made the community realize that those Rover Sea Scouts, who in peacetime proudly fly the privileged blue ensign of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club on Lake St. Louis, have grown up. From their ranks came Sub-Lieutenant Jack Pickford, mentioned in dispatches from Dunkirk in 1940, as well as many others in the Naval Service, the Merchant Marine, and the Air Force where their previous training has proved invaluable.

The present company of Rover Sea Scouts have also taken a full and enthusiastic part in any event in which the community has called upon them. They never forget the three S's of Rover Sea Scouting, which are, first S standing for Scouting, the second S standing for Seafanship, and the third S standing for Service—Service to the community, their ship and the Rover Sea Scout program. In the official manual for the Sea Scouts of America we find these words: "In the emergency programs of cities, communities, and States, a place of duty has been assigned to the Sea Scout because America has learned from past experiences that the Sea Scout can be depended upon to help. Active service to others constantly reminds the Sea Scout of his obligations to his fellow men and at the same time, trains him for his duties in the emergencies which strike so suddenly and fearfully." Thus in Westmount, N.D.G. and Verdun we find the Sea Scouts playing their parts beside the C.P.C. and local Fire and Police departments in the recent "Black outs."

WORKERS ARE NEEDED FOR BY-ELECTION

As there is now to be a contest in the Provincial by-election in the Westmount-St. George riding, Dan P. Gilmore, K.C., the returning officer, asked the Examiner yesterday to publish a request for deputy returning officers and poll clerks. Persons wishing to fill these posts must be residents of the division and qualified voters.

The address of the headquarters of the returning officer is 3095 St. Catherine street; Wilbank 4332.

Out Of Control, Auto Hits Tree

Considerable damage was caused the vehicle and one of the occupants was slightly injured when an automobile driven by Kenneth W. Jamieson, of 5995 Somerset avenue became out of control and struck a tree opposite 3290 Cedar avenue at 6:45 p.m. on Saturday. The injured passenger was Mrs. Jamieson who suffered minor bruises which did not require hospital treatment.

LIBERAL, 'PROGRESSIVE' CANDIDATES RUNNING IN BY-ELECTION MARCH 23

Entry of 26-year-old N.D.G. Resident Makes Contest Necessary — Decision of Conservatives Not to Enter Candidate Unchanged — "Give Youth a Chance," Lyall's Slogan — Marler Yet to State Platform

Entry of Kenneth E. Lyall as "Progressive" Candidate will now result in a contest in the Provincial By-Election in the Westmount-St. George constituency. Previously it was considered highly probable in political circles that George C. Marler, K.C., acting chairman of Montreal's executive committee and Liberal standard-bearer, would be placed in office by acclamation. The election is set for March 23 with nominations closing on Monday.

At press time last night entry into the field of the 26-year-old N.D.G. resident had failed to change the decision of the Westmount and St. George Conservative Associations not to run a candidate, and there seemed little likelihood that other independent aspirants would take out papers.

Councillor Marler was at an executive meeting of the Montreal City Council yesterday afternoon and he could not be reached last night for a statement.

Mr. Lyall, who enlisted for active service at the start of the war but was later discharged on medical grounds, held his first organization meeting of the campaign at his headquarters in the Windsor Hotel Tuesday evening. Outlining his program, Mr. Lyall stressed the need of every worker striving to the utmost to ensure victory on March 23. "This is a critical time and every Canadian should realize the importance of getting out on election day and exercising his franchise as a Canadian citizen." Continuing he said "It is your duty to get as many people to the polls as possible, and it is my duty to influence them so they will cast their votes for the right candidate."

When queried as to the motive which impelled him to enter the political field, Mr. Lyall replied: "A couple of years from now there will be many Canadian soldiers returning from the war. These men will need guidance to help them over the rough spots of rehabilitation from one who knows and understands their troubles and problems. It was with that need in view, the need of a young man in public life in the City of Montreal that I decided to enter the lists."

"It cannot be repeated too often the dire need of the voters of Canada to wake up and realize the value of their votes. The results of years of indifference by citizens in the matters of public interest has come home to roost, bringing home as well the attending evils of bureaucracy, red tape and inefficiency. Every person has been complaining about the political set up of the Province for a long, long time. The people must realize that March 23 will be the day to register their dissatisfaction. This is the time. Not next month or next year. Then it will be too late. Impress every voter that you meet that they must get out to vote and when they do," here Mr. Lyall introduced his slogan for his campaign "Let Them Give Youth a Chance."

MAYOR URGES BIG SALVAGE EFFORT HERE

While Residents Have Contributed Large Quantities of Waste Material More Needed, Merrill Says

Westmount residents have responded commendably to the local appeal for salvage, conducted in conjunction with the National Salvage Campaign, but a still greater effort must be made, Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., stated in a radio address made over station CFCE on Saturday. Mr. Merrill spoke under the auspices of the City Improvement League and the Municipal Service Bureau.

From May, 1941, to the end of February, 1942, Westmount residents had contributed over 200 tons of waste paper, over 86 tons of bottles, over 59 tons of scrap iron and steel, nearly two tons of brass, over 1½ tons of bones and over half a ton of aluminum, along with sizeable quantities of old tires and rubber, mixed rags, copper, lead, zinc, fats and oils.

"These results, although satisfactory, can and must be improved upon if our citizens can be made to realize the tremendous importance and necessity of co-operating in this war effort," commented Mayor Merrill.

"There are still a lot of salvage materials being wrapped up with the garbage, which prevents their being detected before they get to the incinerator and burned. Then there is still a lot of salvage materials hoarded in basements and attics. Make up your mind to clear out these accumulations now."

"The materials that are urgently wanted are scrap metals, rags, paper of all kinds, cardboard, rubber, bottles not including milk bottles, bones, fats, and phonograph records."

Mrs. M. Thompson's Paintings On Display

The exhibition of water-colours and oils by Margaret Thompson of Westmount, which is being held under the auspices of the Independent Art Association Inc., in their studios, at 1591 St. Catherine Street West, will open on Saturday afternoon, with a private showing for the members and friends.

Mrs. Thompson has selected a wide range of subjects for her exhibition, which include scene-painting on her travels to California, Scotland, France, the Laurentians, Magog, and the Maine Coast. The pictures will remain on view until March 28th open to the public, admission free, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons, and Monday and Friday evenings.

Two of the paintings shown will be donated for the benefit of the Queen's Canadian Fund, and the I.O.E.

MAN HURT HELPING TO FREE STUCK CAR

Robertson Gill, of 656 Roslyn avenue, suffered possible fracture of the right hand when it was crushed between an automobile and a stone pillar on property at 144 Cote St. Antoine road at 8:40 p.m. on Saturday.

The accident occurred when Gill attempted to free the automobile when its bumper some how became caught in the pillar. The vehicle, which was driven by Edward Rowe, of 1979 Grande Allee street, struck the pillar when it became out of control while proceeding from east to west on Cote St. Antoine road at Churchill avenue.

The injured man was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital and treated by Dr. Jaro.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1942

THINK WELL BEFORE VOTING

Canadians will soon be called upon to make one of the most momentous choices that have ever been placed before us. We are to be asked whether, in the conduct of the war which we are waging for our very existence, our government should have a free hand to meet any emergency that arises. Everyone, from the Cabinet ministers down, should join in urging the people to give an unequivocal affirmative answer to the Prime Minister's request. No country can fight a war with its hands partially tied. It will not be sufficient to have a mere majority—it must be emphatic and overwhelming. The government must be in no uncertainty about having all the authority to do what is necessary. It is the only course people who love this country can take.

NOT CROOKED ENOUGH

With at least one of the accused, ex-Premier Daladier, adopting the role of accuser at the Riom "war guilt" trials, the Axis press feels let down, and is screaming that this court sitting is an "international scandal." The supposition is that the Axis is chagrined because its efforts to paint France as an aggressor are being undermined; and one can well understand that it views Vichy's failure to bolster the prosecution with faked documents and perjured evidence as nothing short of scandalous.

DISCOURAGING RECRUITING

Is Premier Mitchell Hepburn giving that enthusiastic all-out support to the United Nations' war effort that we have a right to expect from every one of our leaders? Some of the things he and the Charlie McCarthys who sit with him in the Ontario Legislature have done leads one to doubt it. For instance, just when we are endeavouring to raise as many men as possible for our armed forces, Hepburn's government offers "to give free hospital treatment to soldiers from Ontario who contract tuberculosis or mental illness within ninety days of their enlistment." Nothing could be more mischievous than that, the clear inference of which is that soldiers are so poorly treated that they are likely to contract either or both the diseases mentioned within ninety days of their enlistment. If Hepburn were deliberately trying to discourage recruiting, he couldn't go about it in a more effective way.

POULIOT AND DROUIN

Canadians who want to get along with the winning of the war as quickly as possible have been considerably annoyed by the recent mouthings of Jean Francois Pouliot in the House of Commons and of Hon. Oscar Drouin, a member of the Provincial Cabinet. Pouliot has been making mischief with his references to immigrants to Canada, while Drouin has been doing his best to keep the government's hands tied as securely as possible in its conduct of the country's war effort. Whether they mean their efforts to be helpful to the enemy or not, they are nevertheless doing his work. Pouliot, in casting slurs on anyone not born in this country, in protesting against the equal rights enjoyed by foreign born soldiers, sailors, and airmen, and in deriding Hon. Humphrey Mitchell for helping make Canada a "dumping ground" for all the nations of Europe, is achieving nothing but ill-feeling among the various races and nationalities that make up our country. His talk is about as helpful to those who seek national unity as the braying of a wild ass. As for Drouin, he wants the plebiscite beaten. He wants to keep the Prime Minister's hands tied. He's against conscription for overseas service. He'd wait until the Japs were in British Columbia and the Nazis in Gaspé. Why? The country has a right to expect something better than that from a Provincial Minister, and it has a right to expect something better than silence on the part of the other members of the Cabinet at Quebec who do not think as he does.

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

The services in Calvary Church on Sunday will be conducted by the Minister, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D.

At the morning service the series of Lenten sermons will be continued, the theme being "Beneath the Cross of Jesus." At the evening service the series will be continued on a re-statement of our faith by a sermon on the subject "What can we believe concerning Jesus Christ?"

The Church School will hold regular sessions on Sunday morning at 11 a.m. and in the afternoon at 3 p.m. The Men's Own Brotherhood will meet as usual at 3 o'clock. The pastor's training class for church membership will meet at 4 p.m.

On Monday the Young People's Union will hold a St. Patrick's social. Members of the Air Force and all the young people of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

Tuesday the Red Cross groups will meet and work from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., with the evening branch at 7.30 p.m.

Wednesday, 8.15 p.m., the teachers and officers of the Sunday School will meet to consider the Easter program.

Thursday, 1 p.m., a St. Patrick's luncheon will be held under the auspices of the Women's Association. An illustrated lecture on Ireland and St. Patrick will be given by Capt. T. W. Jones.

A campaign has been started in Australia for motion picture shows after church hours on Sundays for the benefit of patriotic funds, hospitals and charities.

Said to have almost lost her sense of smell as the result of a street accident, Miss B. A. Burke of Henley-on-Thames, England, has been awarded $5,700 damages.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail.

Mrs. Purvis, 3 Cote St. Antoine Road; Dorothy A. Morgan, 321 Victoria Ave.; Herbert Milner, 4840 Sherbrooke West; Mrs. M. Leadbetter, 8 Albert Place; Marion W. Donaldson, 225 Melville Ave., Apt. 3; Mrs. T. L. Blakeney, 532 Prince Albert Ave.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Twenty thousand important conventions are held every year in about 50 United States and Canadian cities. Millions of people attend and upwards of a billion dollars annually is spent. Toronto is one of the 10 leading convention cities with an average of 300 conventions each year—320 this year. Montreal is favored by New York and New England organizations and is considered to be one of the most interesting cities on this continent. While we have large and attractive hotels there is great need of a large auditorium suitable for exhibitions. Three years ago in an address at a Progress Club luncheon I advocated the excavating of space within Mount Royal, by the city, or by a corporation.

on reasonable terms, such space to be used as one of the largest auditoriums in the world with many smaller rooms and in particular some halls suitable for music and drama holding about 1000 persons. The cost of the concrete work would not prevent a reasonable return on the investment. We had not begun to think of air-raid shelters when I made the above suggestion but I also spoke of the value of such well protected space as a shelter.

It is only 285 years since Clive established British power in India. It is only 100 years since the first opium war led to the founding of the colony at Hong Kong. It is only 133 years since Sir Thomas Raffles (after whom the exclusive Hotel Raffles was named), having handled back Java to the Dutch, established Singapore. It is only 99 years since Shanghai was taken over by foreign hands. It is only 88 years since Commodore Perry forced open the doors of Japan.

There are those who try to make things happen and there are those who let things happen.

An American manufacturer reports that, within a recent year, he made and sold no less than 20,000,000 checkbook covers. Evidently the venerable game of draughts in competition with motion pictures, motoring, radio, football and baseball is holding its own.

There are 400,000 members of the United Brethren Church in the U.S.A. and two-thirds live in towns of 10,000 or less.

In Mexico a strong anti-Communist drive is brewing in official circles and it is predicted that as a result the final breaking down of the Communist party's power, possibly its dissolution and outlawry, may be expected perhaps within the present year.

London Remembered

On this old street bluff Henry often strode. Replete with color and with mighty dreams. Elizabethan, in girlish pride, once rode.

To royal fame along this way, where teems Now London's traffic. Here the sea kings walked—

Bold Drake and Hawkins—ere they ploughed the grim Atlantic, seeking gold. There Shakespeare talked Of his new play that would bring fame to him.

Rough Cromwell hatched his plot against the kings In this plain house, and in this quaint retreat

Wise Johnson sat and talked of bookish things To bards and artists. Wesley stirred this street To new found visions of the true and good.

And here young Shelley sang of brotherhood. —Thomas Curtis Clark

Dividends paid to the shareholders in eight of the largest gold mining companies of North-east Ontario, in their last fiscal years, amounted to over 38 per cent. of the total value of gold mined. Doubtless we would all like to be one of the fortunate shareholders but if not we are apt to criticize such large sums for those who have little idea of the hard and dangerous work done by the miners. We should not blame the shareholders and if we do it is a case of sour grapes? There is no doubt a prime cause of disunity is different rates of pay. The world, if there is to be permanent peace and prosperity for all, must find and adopt an economic plan under which it will be as easy for one as for another to share in the bounty of nature, free from the present necessity of paying tribute to anyone. Fortunately more people are beginning to see it would make us all comfortable if the potential abundance could flow freely to people everywhere instead of our economic system being based, as now, upon a cruel, ruthless artificial scarcity.

There are 335,000 Indians in the U.S.A. Navahos, Sioux and Arapahos being most numerous. Indians are on the increase. They have a higher birth-rate than white folk. Medical care to the Indians is reducing the white man's diseases—tuberculosis, venereal diseases, trachoma, which were more fatal to Indians than to whites and caused a high rate of mortality in the past.

Those who try to take the long view of world events will be pleased to learn that Great Britain and the U.S.A. are considering a post-war plan to remove restrictions on the free flow of international trade. The plan is believed to cover in detail mutual trade concessions, and the lowering of tariff barriers as a basis for economic peace.

FUNERAL HELD FOR J. H. WEBB

Attended by a large number of friends, business associates and relatives, the funeral service for James Harold Webb was held on Saturday in the chapel of Jos. C. Wray and Bro., officiated at by the Rev. Angus Cameron of the Church of the Messiah. Mr. Webb, son of the late James Henry Webb, and Mrs. Webb, died suddenly last Thursday at Saranac Lake, N.Y., after a long illness. He was in his 44th year.

Born in Montreal, Mr. Webb was educated here and entered the employ of the firm of O'Brien and Williams. Two years ago he was forced to give up work through illness.

Besides his wife, the former Frieda Orkin, he is survived by his mother and two sisters, Mrs. Edna Watson, who was decorated by the King for heroism in a plane crash off Bermuda and who is now serving overseas with the 14th General Hospital; and Mrs. Harrison C. Hayes, of this city.

The Rover Sea Scouts have no official connection with these bodies, but are the Senior branch of the Boy Scouts. The Sea Scouts movement was started locally in 1913-14 to meet the needs of advanced training for senior and graduate Scouts within the Montreal Boy Scout Association. In the development of their program, details of atmosphere, procedure, equipment, and uniform have been introduced to gain an increased interest and understanding of the traditions of the sea.

Conquest of the Sea
At the weekly meetings, the Rover Sea Scouts study the story of man's conquest of the sea. It is a story rife with courage, endurance, persistence and faith. Along the seaways of Rover Sea Scouting they follow after the early sailors and skippers. Like them they learn to row before they learn to sail . . . to handle small boats before they handle large ones . . . to be a worthy member of a crew before becoming a leader.

In 1920, on the occasion of the launching of the Royal St. Lawrence Rover Sea Scout's 43-foot yacht—that great British seaman of the last war Admiral Jellicoe sent them a letter which is very highly prized by the members, in part he wrote: "I shall esteem it a very great compliment if the Sea Scout Yacht is named after me, and shall also be very conscious of being associated with this effort to bring home to the youth of Canada the great importance of the Sea to the Empire."

NOTE:—There are a few vacancies in the Royal St. Lawrence Rover Sea Scouts, the oldest Ship's Company in Canada, for boys between the ages of 15-18 who have been Scouts or who are interested in obtaining a training in Seamanship. Weekly meetings are held on Thursday evenings at 8.00 p.m., in the gymnasium of Roslyn School, Westmount. Further information can be had from the Skipper F. A. Gnaedinger, at WE. 6978 or the mate R. A. Stikeman at WI. 4043.

MUDDLING THROUGH

Last of the Churchill-in-the-United States anecdotes came this week from Lord Knollys, Governor of Bermuda, on his way back home after escorting the Prime Minister back to the British Isles. Speaking of the pictures of Mr. Churchill at the controls on his flight home, someone wanted to know if the Prime Minister is a good pilot—literally, that is. "Well," replied Lord Knollys with a grin, "we got there."

CHARITY DRIVE LEADERS NAMED FOR WEST END

French Federation Appoints Jean Pagnuelo For Westmount And M. Letourneau for N.D.G.

Jean Pagnuelo, 26 Arlington avenue, will head the campaign organization in the parish of St. Leon de Westmount in the appeal of the Federation of French Charities for $441,500, to open Monday next and continue until March 25.

Marius Letourneau, 3826 Decarie boulevard, will direct the campaign organization in Notre Dame de Grace parishes.

Vice-president of the N.D.G. campaign district committee is Paul E. Labelle, 3809 Old Orchard avenue. Parish chairmen are: Notre Dame de Grace, J. Alfred Huot, 5458 Duquette avenue; St. Antonin, Paul Laurendeau, 4956 Coolbrook avenue; St. Raymond, Maximilien Lecocq, 5535 Western avenue.

To inaugurate the tenth annual appeal of the Federation, a special broadcast in French will be heard next Sunday night between 9 and 9.30 over CBF, the speakers being Mgr. Joseph Charbonneau, Archbishop of Montreal, Mayor Adhemar Raymond of Montreal, Anselme Samois, campaign chairman for Greater Montreal, and Mrs. J. Edouard Dupuis, vice-chairman in charge of the women's division.

Next Wednesday, an English broadcast supporting the appeal will be heard between 9.30 and 10 p.m., over CBM, the speakers being Hon. J. Arthur Mathewson, K.C., provincial treasurer of Quebec, and Mrs. J. F. Ransom

Fine Blackout Offenders Here

Westmount's test blackout violators were dealt with by the Recorder's Court Tuesday when the presiding Magistrate, C. A. Hale, imposed fines of $10 and costs in six cases to bring the total of court prosecutions to 18. One other court arraignment is scheduled for a resident within the next days while 19 others have been warned of minor infractions by the district CPC officers.

Three suspended sentences were passed by the court in the cases of Milton L. Hersey, 13 Rosemount avenue; Mrs. E. Munro, 4873 Western avenue; and Howard Automatic Heat and Air Conditioning, Regd., 4209 St. Catherine street west. In each case furnacemen were reported to have left lights burning in basements unknown to the residents or storekeepers.

Others fined on accusations growing out of the February 22 blackouts were A. T. Jamieson, 35 St. Antoine; F. Leclair, 21 Prospect avenue; Atwater Coal Company, store, 3007 St. Antoine street; Sydney Hodgson, 322 Redfern avenue; J. H. Marchand, 4235 Decarie boulevard, driving a vehicle without lights during blackout; Mrs. Y. O. L. Turcotte, 264 Olivier avenue; T. Berlind, 320 Elm avenue; J. K. Corley, 703 Roslyn avenue; F. Beck, 466 Cote St. Antoine road; Louis Holstein, 457 Strathcona avenue; C. C. Gardner, Sr., 546 Lansdowne avenue; and B. M. Burt, 337 Roslyn avenue.

Wilkes, widely known welfare worker.

The Federation makes its appeal on behalf of twenty-three affiliated and assisted agencies. The budget for 1942-3 has not been increased over that of the year now closing, the directors having trimmed original estimates which totalled more than $580,000. Additional economies in administration are planned so as to make ends meet.

BRIGADE UNIT TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Rev. William Orr Mulligan, D.D., Will Address First Westmount Company Sunday

A special Boys' Brigade service will be held on Sunday evening in Melville Presbyterian Church, to which all who have ever served in the organization are invited to attend. The occasion marks the 7th annual enrolment ceremony of the 1st Montreal Westmount Company and will feature a special address to ex-B.B. members, to be delivered by Rev. Dr. Wm. Orr Mulligan, assisted in the service by Captain J. Howard Richardson and D. A. Grant. Immediately following the service, the company will be inspected in the church hall by Wm. Baird, a former member of the 11th Glasgow Company. F. Bramley, vice-president of the Montreal Battalion will also be present and take part.

The First Company is now well up to full strength and increasing steadily. One of the highlights of the coming open season will be the introduction of "hostelling." This has been brought about due to the fact that many will be unable to take advantage of week-end trips to the country and therefore the Brigade will organize such trips to go out by cycle. Some very interesting week-ends have been already planned and as the company will continue operation during the summer months, there will be activities each week to interest all members. Many of the boys are already members of the Canadian Youth Hostel Association and taking advantage of the facilities offered.

Lance-Corporal David Call is the first boy in the company to reach his 200 hours National Service and is now eligible for a medal. Lance Corporal Robert Burris has only four more hours to make his badge, requiring one hundred hours and many of the boys will soon be reaching their goal as week by week they devote much of their spare time in the collection of salvage material as well as magazines for the men of the Armed Services.

The Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, has found from experiments undertaken at Ottawa that the average loss to grain crop due to mustard over a period of five years was 12.7 per cent.

Tea Car Serving in Britain Named for Capt. T. W. Jones

Apart from the fact that Rev. Captain T. Jones, minister of Calvary United Church, had done yeoman service on behalf of the troops in Britain, the Canadian Corps has still an excellent reason for remembering him. This is in one of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. tea cars donated by the Canadian Gyro Clubs and named in honor of Captain Jones, their chaplain. The van, one of the best yet constructed, was manufactured in this country and serves the Canadians, particularly when in the less populated regions of the Motherland. It was on exhibition in Phillips Square last summer before being shipped overseas.

Recently during two weeks of manoeuvres in Wales the Captain Jones tea car was the only vehicle of its kind to accompany the Canadian troops. A report on the service of the car and its performance among the hills of the Principality — Dr. Jones' native country — has just come to hand from Captain J. McNabb, Dr. Jones' successor on duty, with the Y.M.C.A. accompanying the

CAPT. REV. T. W. JONES

Canadian Corps. The report is as follows:

Report from Wales
Lt-Col. Musgrave of the 1 RCHA requested that the large Y.M.C.A. Tea Car 1020 should accompany the Regiment on a two-week training period in Wales. Mr. McGerrigle, Senior Supervisor, thought this was advisable. We chose our stock carefully. We knew that the supplies of chocolate and biscuits were inadequate, but from the first we planned to ration these to the men.

The convoy planned to leave the starting point at 8.00 hrs. The batteries evidently moved with precision, because they were more than half an hour ahead of schedule. However having arisen at 3.45 hrs. we were ready. Our twenty-five gallons of tea were on board. The morning was cold; the D.R.'s were finding the riding difficult and their hands were numb. The Padre, Capt. Johnston, took ten gallons of our tea and moved to the front of the convoy, we moved to the centre of the last two batteries. The convoy moved steadily and briskly. At 10.40 hrs. there was a 20-minute halt and we served almost all of our battery. At 12.30 there was the mid-day halt of an hour. The men were cold and came at us with a rush, but we were able to serve all the Regiment except some of B battery. There were no long stops during the afternoon, and we travelled about 120 miles in all, the first day before we stopped. As B battery went with them, as soon as we arrived we lit the two stoves in the truck and it wasn't long before we had enough hot tea for the battery. By the time we had finished serving the men it was time to retire. We asked the cooks to do their best for us in regard to hot water for the following day.

It was another early rise. The morning was cold and we knew that another 20 gallons of tea were needed. It was a bit difficult to get hot water, but we managed. Again Capt. Johnston took ten gallons, and at noon we were able to serve the whole Regiment. The previous day some of the men wanted chocolate and matches, which slowed up serving. Now we put them through in a straight line — using their own cups, and no sales. It was done in record time. The padre did a fine job, his driver sat on the back of the station wagon with tea and biscuits, and Capt. Johnston drove. Right up the line he came and his half was done.

Camp was reached about 4.00 hrs. We hadn't eaten much so the driver and I got two poached eggs on toast with some tea. We felt better. The Quartermaster had a room ready (a blessing) and allowed the driver to stay with me. This made it possible to take our stock off the truck and keep it in a dry place. The barracks were good, we had a small stove in the room and it wasn't bad until you hit the cement floor in the morning.

A Day's Work

Every morning during the two weeks in camp, we were out on the ranges, and on several occasions the truck went out again in the afternoon. The wind up on the hills was biting cold. Very often the officers and gunners were out several hours without a break. A work party of diggers also went out nearly every day. All of these men received hot tea and biscuits every day. If the distance was too great for us to go to both parties, we sent our urns with hot tea to one party, while the tea car went to another. Sgt. St. John in charge of the kitchen made our work much easier. He gave us free use of the kitchen, hot water was nearly always available, our lunches were prepared regularly and he sent out cake, apples, sandwiches and gave us milk to add to our supply. As a matter of fact Colonel Musgrave and all his officers couldn't have been more helpful. You can imagine that we were busy, in one day 35 gallons of tea were served from the tea car.

During the afternoons when we were not on the ranges, we gave out writing paper, envelopes, magazines and newspapers. The day before leaving, a free issue of 25 cigarettes to a man were given. We had also taken up plenty of playing cards cribbage boards, draught boards and men, etc. Most of these were given out.

We were a bit sorry to leave the camp. Wales is very beautiful with its high rolling hills and gentle green valleys. The truck had performed. The hills had been very icy almost every day. One morning, only two other trucks made the big hill but it was bitterly cold and the work party were almost perishing that day, so it was worth while. The barracks were quite up to date in many ways; hot water showers, splendid kitchens, but the bathrooms were frightfully cold. Our trip home was a bit difficult. It was very foggy and icy the first day but the whole of the Regiment was served at noon. At night any of the men who wished chocolate from C battery, were able to get it and then we moved over to B battery and gave them their share. The following day we did some organizing. We inquired the night before for water, when none was available at one battery we made sure of it at another.

Our last five gallons of tea were made just as the last trucks were leaving; Capt. Johnston had gone on, so we arranged with two eight hundred weights to help us at noon, and they were excellent. The tea car stopped in the middle of the convoy, one truck went to the back and I went to the front of the Regiment on the other. We had just enough biscuits but not quite enough tea for the whole line. I wish we had a picture of that 8 cwt. two of us carrying tea, one serving biscuits and a driver called Zambi driving like a real Canadian on a road that was as slippery as an eel.

Needless to say we soon moved off and arrived home an hour ahead of the convoy.

The use of capital in the farmers' business is a complicated problem involving such matters as a decision to build a barn or a house, purchase of a tractor or combine, breeding stock or feed, and the selection of seed.

Choir To Render Handel's Messiah

The choir of Stanley Presbyterian Church (augmented) will again render Handel's Messiah on Good Friday evening at 8 p.m. with orchestral accompaniment.

The soloists will be, Mrs. Mary Henderson, soprano; Miss Marion MacGregor, contralto; Flying Officer Harold Gillingham, tenor; J. C. Scott, bass.

Miss Doris Killam, (Idc. Music, McGill) at the piano, George M. Brewer at the organ and Mr. Walter Clapperton, Hon. A.R.C.M., conductor.

Rehearsals are now being held on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8.30 at the church and any choirsters who have taken part in these performances in the past are cordially invited to attend.

First Aid Course

Dr. Norman M. Vines will give a series of lectures under the auspices of Temple Emanu-El Sisterhood on first aid work in the St. John Ambulance course. These lectures and illustrations will be held for two hours each, Tuesday evening, commencing March 17 at 8.30 o'clock. When the entire course is completed examinations as outlined by the St. John Ambulance Corps will be taken in order to qualify for St. John Ambulance certificates.

CONGREGATION TO HOLD SEDER ON APRIL 1ST

Passover Services Will be Held in Temple Emanu-El Synagogue

As in past years, Temple Emanu-El will hold a congregational Seder on the first eve of Passover which occurs Wednesday, April 1st. At 6.45, Passover services will be held in the Temple proper. This will be followed by the congregational Seder in the Temple Community House for those who do not observe the Seder at home. For many years now these congregational Seders have held a place of distinction in the life of the Temple and have attracted capacity audiences. Temple Emanu-El requests this year that members attending the congregational Seder invite out-of-town men in uniform as their guests. Dr. Stern will conduct the Passover Eve Ritual and the Temple choir will chant the musical portions of the Haggadah. The Seder meal will be catered under the auspices of the Sisterhood.

HER ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Marguerite Lois Mary McGilp, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGilp, whose engagement to Mr. Leonard Alexander Storey, son of Mr. A. C. Bray and the late Alexander Storey is announced.

Your Child And You

By DR. FRANCES S. ALEXANDER

Dr. Alexander is associated as consulting psychologist with the Psychological Institute of Montreal and directs its Child Guidance Division.

A child spends the major part of his formative years in school. The knowledge he gains in school is the groundwork for his future work and dealings with his fellow man. It is therefore of great importance that the child like school and that his interest in school work continually be stimulated.

It is important that the child be prepared for his first school adventure. One does not just haul six year old Peter out of bed one morning, dress him quickly and send him off to school with father or his older brother. It is well to start talking about school a long way ahead and an occasional visit to the school yard at recess time often dispels any reservations the child may have with respect to the school situation. Of course, the average child accepts the fact of going to school readily. He is eager for the new experience. But one often comes across the reserved and shy child, who is particularly attached to mother's apron strings, for whom the first school day is full of dread. He is the child who plays sick each school morning, who cannot keep his breakfast down on school days and who is utterly miserable throughout the school day. Sometimes such a child has not been adequately prepared for school, sometimes he has experienced something in the first few days of school which has hurt him deeply. The child has never played with other children his own age and he is suddenly plunged into a situation which he has never experienced and where he is on his own and has to fend for himself.

Little Joan is an only child. She is toted everywhere with her mother. She has no playmates. School is put off as long as possible until finally Joan's father insists it is time to begin. Mother cannot bear to see Joan grow up, and on the morning of the first day of school, father takes Joan and leaves her—kerplunk—with the first grade teacher, Miss Smith, the teacher, has a large class and she cannot give Joan any particular attention. Joan is herded, bewildered and frightened into the group. Result—Joan hates school and continues to hate it for many years to come. Even though Joan is a bright child, she never does particularly well in her studies.

Had Joan's mother given her companionship with other children, had she prepared Joan for school, had she herself taken Joan to school the first few weeks and gradually made the break between herself and Joan, much unhappy consequences would have been prevented.

In other instances, the distaste for school comes after the child has made a good initial adjustment. Parents must be on the lookout for these negative

OVER 500 ATTEND SPRING STYLE SHOW HELD BY LEAGUE

A successful fashion show was held recently by the League of the Sacred Heart, Parish of the Ascension of Our Lord, in St. Leo's hall, under the convener-ship of Miss F. Regan. More than 500 ladies attended the show, which was given with the co-operation of Dobridge Ladies' Wear.

Included in the showing were many new spring coats, some being of the dressy type with soft fur revers, others cut on tailored lines. Spring suits in all the latest shades were also modelled, as well as cocktail and afternoon frocks. Solid color evening gowns and dinner frocks were set off with smart new costume jewelry, and a feature of the display was the bridal party.

Mrs. C. J. Shaw acted as commentator, and Mrs. Joseph Shea was the pianist. The guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. G. A. Meagher; Mrs. E. P. Lennon thanked all those who had taken part in the fashion show.

Father McDonagh and Father Thoms also addressed the gathering briefly, thanking those who had helped with the event.

There are 190,000,000 people in the world who still take their meals in primitive fashion, and 25 per cent object to eating pork, according to a London meat specialist.

Synthetic anti-malaria chemicals are being produced in Germany.

"Shamrock Hour" Will Be Presented Like Radio Broadcast

The "Shamrock Hour," which is the fourth annual St. Patrick's Day presentation of the Young Ladies Sodality of the Ascension Parish, will be held in St. Leo's School hall on March 17 and 18. The production, under the direction of Mr. Fred Browne, will be presented as a radio broadcast, with skits, vocal solos, choral numbers and instrumental pieces.

Miss Carroll McDonald, prefect of the sodality, is the general convener, with Miss Alma Tremblay as ticket convener and Miss Veronica Lunny, the publicity convener. Among those ushering are: Misses Margaret Burns, Mary Dyson, Marguerite Love, Jeannette Corbell, Mollie Hampshire, Mona Lundy, Veronica Lunny, Mary Wickham and Lorraine Taylor.

The production is under the patronage of Rev. Father Wilfred McDonagh, pastor of the parish, and the proceeds will be donated to the sinking fund of the Ascension Parish.

Visit To Iceland Will Be Topic Of Illustrated Lecture

Under the auspices of the Junior W.A. Church of the Advent, a lecture entitled "My Visit to Iceland," illustrated by lantern slides and Icelandic music by George M. Brower, will be given on Friday evening March 20, at 8:15 o'clock in the parish hall of the church, Wood and Western avenues.

This lecture represents the Juniors' first effort to take part in the series of events which will mark the Jubilee year of the Church of the Advent.

GOOD COOK KNOWS NEW DRESSINGS MAKE NEW SALADS

To be too repetitious in serving French dressing and mayonnaise is to miss half the zest of the salad course. For, fine as these are, it is a good idea to vary them in order to make this important part of the meal a favorite.

Salad Dressing
1 can sweetened condensed milk
4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mustard
1 scant cup of vinegar
Beat egg yolks with salt and mustard, add vinegar and beat. Add milk and beat until thick.

Honey Salad Dressing
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup strained honey
1 lemon, juice and rind
3 egg yolks, beaten
Cook in double boiler until thick and smooth; then cool and before serving add 1 cup whipped cream. Especially good for fruit salad.

Fruit Salad Dressing
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup pineapple juice
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
¾ cup whipped cream
Heat fruit juices; add eggs well beaten and sugar. Cook in double boiler until it thickens. Cool and add whipped cream.

Russian Dressing
1½ cups salad oil
½ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ tsp. confectioners' sugar
1 medium sized onion, grated
Pinch of cayenne pepper
1 cup catsup
Beat with egg beater until creamy. Will keep well in cool place.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY
GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

If you visited the Tower of London in the days before the war, you must have seen Old Joe. We think that was his name. He was a raven with personality. Coal black, tall and shaggy, he paraded importantly through the courtyards and stone corridors of the Tower, his long, gleaming beak ready for anything or anyone that came his way.

The Beefeaters also paraded, interestingly dressed in their Tudor costumes. I was small, and wore my Canadian navy blue coat with scarlet sash, overstockings, cap and mittens, and one of the men gazed admiringly at the bright redness of my trimmings. "That little girl's stockings would be splendid for my outfit," he remarked.

Old Joe was attracted to the flying tasselled ends of my sash, and came strolling up to me. "Be careful of that bird," a Beefeater warned. Joe opened his sinister beak and closed it on my red tassels. I was amused and slightly perturbed. I swung around, and the big bird swung with me, worrying my sash like a puppy playing with a rope.

Eventually he was shoo'd off, and the last we saw of him was a glimpse of a purposeful black bird dashing down some ancient gray steps in pursuit of a furtive yellow cat.

We saw something in the paper a few years ago about the famous Tower raven having died. He had a famous look about him when we met him, so we have come to the conclusion that he was our feathered friend. I wonder how old he was when he died? Those birds are supposed to live to be about one hundred and twenty-five years of age, so perhaps when he twirled my sash he was a mere adolescent of sixty.

Talking of ancient animals, a rather interesting tortoise was flashed on the screen at the Westmount Women's Club meeting the other day, when the travel films were being shown. He was a cumbersome old thing of three hundred years, and he lived on the island of St. Helena near

Clothes Rationing Leads to Concession In Bicycle Design

LONDON — Clothes rationing has led to a concession in the design of the extra 150,000 bicycles which Britain is building special for women cyclists during the present war.

The bicycles will be reserved mainly for use between their homes and factories of the army of women now being called up for war work.

In deciding the specification for the machines the British cycle industry had rather a problem. To save steel, no more bicycles are being made in Britain during the war with the fixture for changing gear or with the oil bath gear case. It was felt, on the other hand, that this special war issue of bicycles could not be left with chains completely unprotected, otherwise stockings might be ruined and valuable clothes coupons used up as a result.

It has, therefore, been decided that the woman war worker is to be given her choice between the chain guard, known as the "hockey stick" type, covering the top run of the chain, and a chain cover which keeps the whole run of the chain from possible contact with skirt or stockings. Both clothes and rider will thus be protected.

During the bubonic epidemic in Changchun, China, all churches and places of amusement were closed and all people were forbidden to go outdoors without nose-and-mouth masks.

Miss Norah Louise Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hood, who is in charge of publicity and entertainment for the forthcoming "Shore Leave" Fashion Show, sponsored by the N.M.C.S. Saguenay Chapter I.O.D.E., to be presented tomorrow evening at the Winter Club.

Corsetry Alterations Done On Premises At Mme Joel's Shop

One of the most attractive features of Madame Joel's corsetry shop, at 4888 Sherbrooke street west, is the fact that all corsetry alterations are done right on the premises. Madame Joel has a staff of trained corsetiers to handle all the alterations with the skill and success borne of long practice.

Madame Joel has been well known in the west end district for 21 years. The establishment has private fitting rooms, and a special interest in taken in the corsetry problems of the larger figure types. Among other famous lines of foundations garments, Madame Joel features Sara Drew corsetry.

RECITAL OF MUSIC TO BE HELD SUNDAY

At Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday evening there will be a short recital of music by Mendelssohn at the close of the evening service at 8:45 o'clock.

This will include the trio, "Pitt Thine Eyes," from "Elijah"; and the Motet, "Hear My Prayer," which will be given complete. The recital will close with the brilliant first movement from the sixth organ sonata, which consists of the chorale, "Our Father Who Art in Heaven," and Variations.

The recital will be given by Hibbert Troop and the Westmount Baptist Choir.

FIRST RAID

HOLLYWOOD.—Hollywood is mad at Navy Secretary Knox—mad, not merely peeved. This town takes its air raids seriously; covets them, in fact—and civic-minded Angelenos dislike the manner in which Mr. Knox poo-pooed the raid which kept us on our toes six hours one morning last week while he slept soundly in a Washington hotel.

The raid was no fake as far as Angelenos were concerned. Sirens split the heavens two hours past midnight, knocked the sand right out of our eyes. Anti-aircraft tracers played tick-tack-toe in the sky, and brilliant parachute flares from star shells turned night to day while piercing spotlights sought out an estimated eight to 30 invading aircraft.

When "All Clear" sounded at 7:20, half a million common folk and their wealthier neighbors walked to work, for buses and street cars weren't running yet. Many had to climb untold flights to offices because elevator operators were caught in one or more of a dozen traffic jams. They didn't mind all this—but they simply couldn't gracefully accept Knox's statement to a press conference in his Washington office that afternoon:

"As far as I know the Los Angeles raid was a false alarm."

THIS WAS NO DREAM

There was nothing false to this first raid from the sky on continental America, if you believe any of the million humans who saw it with their eyes and heard it with their ears.

There was nothing imaginary to the myriad planes revealed on high by searchlights that cut the blue like a scalpel. There was nothing fictitious about the little groups huddled on front porches and rooftops, heads tilted heavenward, wondering if war had finally come to them in all its suddenness and fury. There was nothing dreamlike to the endless columns of motor cars lining curbs throughout the town—and the traffic jam that followed "All Clear" was very real.

There was something deeper than dramatic about air-raid wardens, jostled suddenly from slumber, patrolling their beats with tense diligence and occasionally shouting epithets in hot temper at absent-minded citizens who opened doors or windows and permitted the escape of narrow slivers of light. There was nothing fancied about the boys who fired the ack-acks and smashed the silence of the night. Nor will one quickly forget the attitude of Yankee fighter pilots, toggled and anxious for action—lads who breathed one prayer: that the enemy had at last come within gun-range, so they could blast him back to hell.

WHAT NOW?

Perhaps Mr. Knox didn't think of this when he told newsmen the raid was just a "false alarm." The fact that no bombs were dropped, no homes blown to bits, made the raid no less real. And perchance Mr. Knox was just a bit premature anyhow, for War Secretary Stinson revealed 18 hours later that more than 15 enemy planes must definitely have been over Los Angeles—scarcely notwithstanding Canadians and Americans.

both regard Mr. Knox rather highly. His already fine reputation was further enhanced by the flight to Honolulu and his report on Pearl Harbor. Despite political differences, newspaper men have a special affection for him, for he was once one of them and still runs a Chicago gazette.

But, if the Navy Secretary's attitude is typical of that held by folk living back east, let it be said now that easterners are in for a shock. California was shelled one night—I was there—and subjected to air raid 24 hours later. A dozen ships have been announced as torpedoed in coastal waters, some within sight of land.

One need not be psychic to predict the next step—though California is prepared for whatever might come.

INFORMATION PLEASE

At moment of writing the whole affair remains one of the darker mysteries of the decade. If there were no planes in the air, what was all the shooting about? If the planes in the air were not American—as indicated in some reports—citizens are asking why no Yankee ships went up to investigate the doings. If planes caught in the searchlights' beams, as seen by this writer and untold thousands of others—were manned by civilian pilots unfriendly to this country, where are they hidden by day?

Perhaps before these lines see print the mystery will be solved. Meanwhile, Americans and their allies have been treated to a telling display of anti-aircraft preparedness in this area. It is better to be over-zealous than caught unawares—and California will not be found napping.

'Ole Bill' Happy
New Film Shows

Still complaining, still scroungin' everything he can lay his hands on—even the colonel's feather-bed.—Old "Better 'Ole" Bill Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather's world-famous character of World War I, is back again on the screen of the Snowdon theatre.

It's the same old firm, but with a new partner as the now and modern story is called "Old Bill and Son" and opens with the declaration of War on September 3rd, 1939. But "Old Bill and Son" is a comedy and the war angle is but a framework on which to hang the adventures of Old Bill and Young Bill, in training camps and behind the lines. Old Bill is too old for the regular army, but manages to enlist in the Pioneer Corps. His son is in the regular army and adopted daughter in the A.T.S. When they meet in France (before Vichy) they supply some of the finest humour seen in a British picture for a long time. Highlighting the many comedy scenes is the work of Renee Houston as Stella Malloy sing and entertainer who is brought over from London to entertain the boys.

The added attraction on this program is "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" said to be one of the funniest.

"OLD BILL AND SON"

One of numerous side-splitting scenes from the new British comedy, "Old Bill and Son," Bruce Bairnsfather's famous "Ole" character and his adventures as a member of the Pioneer Corps, in World War II, which is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre. The gentleman with the flashlight is Roland Culver who will be long remembered as the Commander who tried to learn French in "French Without Tears."

"MEN IN HER LIFE"

"The Men In Her Life," include Conrad Veidt and John Shepperd, but lovely Loretta Young is a world-famous theatrical celebrity in the romantic drama opening at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday, playing until Tuesday night.

"SUNDOWN"

Bruce Cabot, Reginald Gardiner and George Sanders in this tense scene from the romantic adventure film "Sundown," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Drama and Comedy Share
Entrancing Bill At Kent

Presenting a vivid and unforgettable story of a woman whose troubled mind leads her to suspect that her husband is a murderer, "Suspicion" stars Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine in what is said to be one of the most gripping and unusual romantic dramas ever seen on the screen. Grant enacts the role of a reckless young wastrel, Johnnie Aysgarth, and Miss Fontaine, the role of Lina McLaidlaw, quiet and imaginative daughter of a wealthy retired general. Fascinated by Johnnie's charm, Lina succumbs to his whirlwind wooing and elopes with him—only to learn that he hasn't a shilling and that he's been living on borrowed money for years.

The stellar roles afford Grant and Miss Fontaine exceptional opportunities for the talents that have sent them both soaring to film fame. As he happy-go-lucky ne'er-do-well, Grant is said to give the outstanding performance of his career, while Miss Fontaine, still being praised for her triumph in "Rebecca," has an equally colorful part as the loving but timorous wife. The last time these two appeared together was in the colorful screen-play, "Gunga Din."

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, as the heroine's strait-laced father, Nigel Bruce as the amiable Thwaite and Dame May Whitty as Hardwicke's wife head the supporting cast, with Isabel Jeans, Heather Angel, Aurio Lee, Leo-G. Carroll, Reginald Sheffield and other noted players in important roles.

"Skylark," the fast-moving satire on domestic life which opens est pictures ever made. Robert Montgomery is the star. Exciting newsreel shots of recent happenings, picked for their timeliness, from Paramount, Fox and British Empire news weeklies are shown.

SEEING CLEARLY

The greatest thing a human soul ever does in this world is to see something, and tell what it saw in a plain way. Hundreds of people can talk for one who can think but thousands can think for one who can see. To see clearly is poetry, probably and religion, all in one.

—John Ruskin.

Old West History
Revived In Film

"They Died With Their Boots On," the new Warner Bros. picture which opened yesterday at the Westmount United Theatre playing until Saturday night, with Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland in the co-starring roles, brings to life on the screen one of the most stirring chapters in the history of the old West. But even more than that, it tells for the first time on the screen, the true story of the man who made the phrase: "Custer's Last Stand" a synonym for deathless courage.

Gallant and adventurous, General George Custer won himself an eternal place in the history of his country when he and his army regiment perished to a man in the battle of Little Big Horn. They knew as they rode forth into battle that certain death awaited them, but they also knew that they would be holding off the enemy until reinforcements could be brought. It is this courageous but hopeless battle which makes the climax of "They Died With Their Boots On," as turbulently exciting as anything the screen has ever done.

Flynn is cast perfectly as Custer, and he has done a magnificent job of bringing the historical character to life as a very real kind of person, building up the man Custer in such a way that his magnificent act of heroism at the close of the story becomes perfectly logical and believable. As his sweetheart and later his wife, Olivia de Havilland scores one of the notable hits of a lustrous career in her capable hands, Beth Custer emerges as a fine and courageous woman.

York Film Headed
By Loretta Young

Intensely fascinating story of the life and loves of an exciting woman, Columbia's "The Men in Her Life" yesterday brought beautiful Loretta Young to the York United Theatre screen in a role which calls for the utmost of histrionic versatility. The lovely star is seen to glamorous perfection as a world-renowned theatrical celebrity who finds tragedy and triumph, heart-break and happiness when she uses the hearts of men as stepping-stones to fame and fortune.

Conrad Veidt, Dean Jagger, John Shepperd and Otto Kruger provide the romantic reasons for the new film's title; Eugene Leontovich also is an important member of the stellar supporting cast. "The Men in Her Life" was directed and produced by Gregory Ratoff, from a novel by Lady Eleanor Smith.

GARBO AND DOUGLAS
HEAD MONKLAND BILL

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was wise in offering Greta Garbo another comedy role to follow up her success in "Ninotchka," for in the new comedy-romance, "Two-Faced Woman," in which she again appears with Melvyn Douglas on the Monkland United screen, the star proves once and for all that she can hold her own with the greatest of comedienne.

Cast in the role of a woman who has to masquerade as her "twin sister" in order to win back her errant husband, Garbo not only plays the dual role with delightful humor and conviction, but also casts all her well-known reticence to the wind to sing, jitterbug, appear in a bathing suit for the first time and literally "let down her hair" in duels with her love rival, enacted by Constance Bennett.

In three months of this year Russia imported $3,000,000 worth of American cotton, whereas it took none in the corresponding period of 1939.

Hitherto unpublished works of scientists of the past are to be printed in Moscow.

Two Local Squads To Seek Titles Tonight

BANTAM AND JUVENILE TEAMS WILL FACE NDG SQUADS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE CITY

Dykes Looks Vainly For Needed Sox Hitting

Westmount district will be well represented at the Q.A.H.A. (Minor Series) final play-offs which are scheduled to take place at the Forum this evening. Two local teams, the Golden Eagles juveniles and the Royals bantams have survived the preliminary rounds of play and will meet teams from other districts for the city title. The Golden Eagles will hook-up with a strong N.D.G. club while the Royals will also face an N.D.G. bantam team. This marks the first time a local team has managed to reach the finals in this competition.

Dougie Alexander's Golden Eagles are given a fifty-fifty chance to take their tilt with the N.D.G. aggregation. The two clubs have met in early season exhibition tilts with both games ending in 1-all ties. In the present play-downs, the Golden Eagles experienced little difficulty, shutting out the Park Extension team 5-0 and defeating the Lachine representatives 5-1.

On the other hand the N.D.G. team swamped the Rosemount team 10-0, then went on to defeat the strong Verdun Blues, last night's titlists, 5-2.

Alexander will use only eleven men in the fray with the N.D.G. team. Kevin Kennedy chosen all-star goalie in the Westmount district will be between the pipes. Sonny Provost and Hugh Brodie will start off on the defence with the rear-guard pair of Adrian Lunny and John Porter splitting up the work. Brodie is another all-star nominee.

Manager Alexander has two high-scoring forward lines ready to throw into the game. The starting line will be the C.P.R. trio of Chenier-Pelerson and Read. This forward line picked up thirty-eight scoring points during the league season, twenty-one of them being goals. Johnnie Chenier portside was the leader with fourteen points due to nine goals and four assists. Eward Read the pivot-man in the line was right behind with thirteen points, eight of them goals. The third man, Johnnie Pelerson a right winger, counted four tallies and seven assists for eleven points.

The other forward line of Noel Romney-Donnie Mann and Stu Beaulne have been travelling at high speed during the latter part of the campaign. Donnie Mann left-winger on this line has been doing most of the scoring, accounting for fourteen points to the team-mate Chenier for the loop's high scoring honours. Mann has scored eight goals three more than right winger Stu Beaulne. Noel Romney the center on this line was not poring line this year but was thought enough of by the rival coaches to be picked to taste defeat this year and they may have been very effective in the play-offs to date.

The Golden Eagles have yet to taste defeat this year and they will be out to make sure that their record will not be marred in this important fixture. The bantam Royals have not had such an easy time making the finals as the Golden Eagles. The Royals were forced to the limit before winning either of their two preliminary games.

In the first game they were forced to come from behind a two goal deficit in the last period to chalk up three goals in the final chukker to beat off the St. Andrews representatives 3-2. While in the next game they eked out a 2-1 victory over the Point St. Charles team.

Moses Should Assist, But Is Not Enough

White Sox obtained the most consistent pitching in the major leagues last season, and hurling is supposed to be 75 per cent or more of baseball.

Yet the best the Chicagos could do was finish third in the American League with an even split in their 154 games.

So it is that James Joseph Dykes, at the Pasadena, Calif., training camp he likes so well, is searching harder than ever for badly needed power.

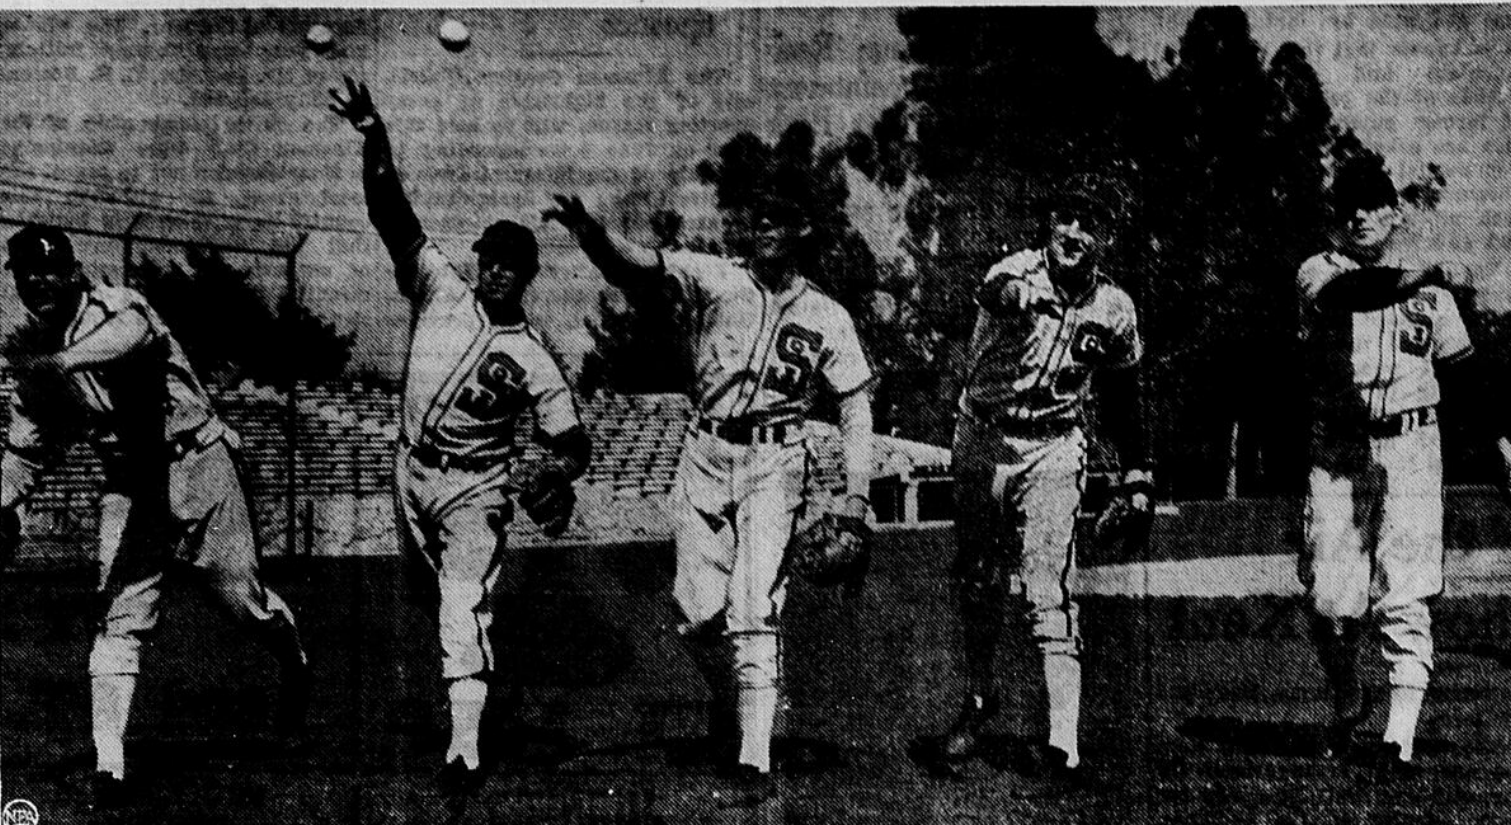

Jimmy Dykes would like to have a slugging outfielder to fit in with Taft Wright and Wally Moses, and Harry Grabner is trying to make a deal.

Moses is a hustler who hit .301 against the .232 of Mike Kreevich, for whom he was traded to the Athletics.

Moses will help in the attack. Sox pitchers go the route.

Thornton Lee finished 30 of 34 games last season, won 22. Edgar Smith finished 21 of 33, Ted Lyons 19 of 22 and John Rigney 18 of 29. Johnny Humphries turned in four fine games in succession, had an earned-run average of 1.85.

In addition to these, there are Buck Ross, bespectacled Bill Dietrich, Joe Haynes, Pete Appleton and the recruits Orval Grove, Stanley Goletz and Ed. Weiland. Grove grabbed 18 while losing

7 in the Texas League, Goletz, a big southpaw, batted 15 while dropping 10 for Oklahoma City. Dykes is the envy of all but a handful of big league managers as far as the highly important pitching department goes, but his margin stops there.

Dykes, unlike some more impatient strategists, believes in giving a pitcher a chance to get himself out of a hole.

INFIELDERS CAN'T HIT BALL, EITHER
Pale Hose catching is passable with Mike Tresh, George Dickey and Tom Turner. So is the infield, defensively, but the main trouble there is that Luke Appling is the lone hand who can pickle the ball.

Joe Kuhel could remedy the situation somewhat by adding a few points to his 1940 average of .250.

Don Kolloway is another hopeful. Dario Lodigiani fell 'way off after a flying start. Young Bob Kennedy has yet to establish himself as a major league hitter, Bill Knickerbocker is on the way out. Shortstop Leo Wells is a flashy fielder from St. Paul, but the

SOLTERS' BEATING

A TERRIFIC BLOW

Julius Solters' beating was a terrific blow to the Sox last summer, and the outfield problem is so acute that Dykes is toying with the idea of attempting to transform First Baseman Murrell Jones into a gardener. Jones, who did not reach voting age until last November, led the Texas League with 24 home runs.

Myrl Hoag could be useful, for behind him are only Thurman Tucker and David Earl Philley.

Tucker, a left-hand batter, hit no more than .246 in the Texas League. Dave Philley, while experienced, batted .347, gathered 16 home runs, scored 109 runs and batted in 110 for the Monro, La., club. He is a switch hitter, weighing 185 pounds.

WHITE SOX LEAST HIT BY SERVICES

Sox to date have been less hit by losses to the service than any other major league club. They have lost only Walter Navie, a recruit southpaw, to the Navy.

But that isn't what is making Jimmy Dykes lose weight.

It's the lack of weight on the attack.

The Sox will have to dig up additional punch to do any better, or as well, as they did in 1941.

the games should be played sometime this week.

The lay-off will likely take the edge off the Westmounts who will hook-up with the unbeaten Verdun Orioles. The local team was real hot in swamping the RCAF team 15-2 in the first play-off series and coming out of this series would probably have been a team to reckon with. It is problematical whether they can return to this same form for their series with the Orioles.

Physical Fitness Through Exercise And Diet

(This is another of a series of articles on exercise and diet by P. M. McFarlane, Physical Director of the Westmount Y.M.C.A.)

Many people believe that exercise alone will remove weight from the body. It will remove water but actually very little fat is burned up or consumed even by a very strenuous form of physical activity. It has been calculated that to remove one pound of weight (not water) the body would have to do the equivalent in exercise of walking 60 miles without stopping. Imagine if you can all the golf, tennis, basketball, or badminton which a person would have to play before even one pound of weight could be done away with.

This article will deal with the subject, "How May Weight Be Decreased?" According to Dr. F. L. Meredith in his book "Twelve Hours of Hygiene", four factors enter into the picture. They are food, exercise, general health, and medication. These will be covered in the above order.

(a) Food—To lose weight is usually much easier than to gain it, for if the intake of food is less than the energy consumed, the body tissues themselves are burned, the fat first. For example, if a person uses energy to the extent of 2400 calories a day and takes food to the extent of only 1400 calories, he will of necessity have to burn 1000 calories of his own fat. Mathematically it can be computed that he will burn about one-quarter of a pound of body fat per day, or about two pounds per week, and will lose that amount of weight. It cannot fail to happen if the rate of metabolism is normal.

Those who are more active should not reduce the diet to too low a level. For the very active and those who are only slightly overweight it is often sufficient merely to refuse second helpings and to omit sweets and rich foods, both at and between meals.

Hunger is present at the beginning of a reducing diet, but should not be troublesome after a few days, when the system becomes accustomed to smaller rations. Taking water helps allay hunger.

(b) Exercise—The alternative to decreasing the diet is increasing oxidation. As activity increases, the amount of combustion increases, and, to the degree combustion occurs, fat formation falls to occur. Unless it is obvious that either overeating or sedentary habits are definitely the primary factor in obesity, it is well at the same time to make changes in both directions, eating a little less and exercising a little more. In most cases this is the most practical method of reducing. Whatever changes are made of either sort, they should not be allowed to cause a loss of more than two pounds per week, or the feelings and the appearance will show it.

(c) General Health—Abnormalities of health are less often the cause of obesity than of thinness. When such is the case, it is ordinarily a matter of endocrine gland disorders. Such disorders account for a number of cases of persistent obesity in spite of good habits. It is often through lowering the metabolic rate that glandular disorders cause increase of weight.

(d) Medication—Medication to cause loss of weight is not successful except when obesity is due to defects of endocrine secretions, in which case the prescription of medicine should be in the physician's hands. In some cases, excellent results are obtained. Quack "anti-fat" cures of all sorts, for internal or external use, are either unsafe or unsuccessful. Those that do reduce weight contain powerful drugs that may reduce health as well. Ordinarily, reducing medicines reduce only the pocketbook—and faith in unscientific methods of treatment.

Great Lakes Sailing Program Is Unchanged

DETROIT—Commodore Howard Finch of the Interlake Yachting Association said recently that the Great Lakes sailing season would not be curtailed because of the war. But some changes will be made, in the interest of National Defence, he added.

All events will be conducted with an eye to the training in seamanship of as many actual and potential members of the U.S. Navy as possible.

Flt.-Sgt. Cleland Speaker At School Victory Rally

Flight Sergeant Air Gunner Coburn Cleland, West-End resident, returned to Canada after four years of service with the R.A.F. was guest of honor at a Victory Assembly held last week by the Commercial High School. Sergeant Cleland is the first Canadian N.C.O. to win the Distinguished Flying Medal in the present war. He spoke briefly to the assembly and stressed the need of additional equipment for the forces of freedom if the war against barbarism is to be won.

Also on the program was Captain Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., who conducted the pupils on a scenic tour of the world, drawing their attention to the localities where the British have been bearing the brunt of the Axis attack.

At this assembly, an honour roll to the graduates and former pupils of the Commercial High School who have enlisted was dedicated by Captain Jones. It is known that this roll is not complete and therefore all friends of the school who know of former pupils on active service are asked to write to "The Commercial High School, 125 Sherbrooke street, West, giving such military details as number and address.

Thanks to the speakers were tendered by Harold Flegel, prime minister of the school parliament, and the appreciation of the staff was voiced by Alice Rosenveig to Mr. Cockhill for the very artistic and beautiful roll which honors the representatives of the school in the war.

Little Players of the Air To Present Show At Kent

Complying with many requests received at the box office, the management of the Kent Theatre has decided to present a morning show for children on Saturday. This will be the first production of its kind at Montreal's newest theatre. "The Little Players of the Air" will present a St. Patrick's Day show, and a cast of forty children will take part. The highlight of the entertainment will be "Rosie O'Day," a musical comedy featuring Irish songs, dances, novelty numbers and comedy and fun galore.

Miss Moira Sheehy will also present her Little Players in "Marching To Victory," a patriotic salute to our Army, Navy and Air force.

The management of the Kent has also made arrangements for a special free treat of candy for every member of the audience. Those taking principal parts in the production are: Catherine Parker, Red Sheehan, Patsy May Morrice, Danny Bradley, Irene and Arnold Monahan, Buddy Gullfoyle, Jimmy Healy, Beverley Watt, Martin Boyle, Gerald McKee, Freddie Legault, Tommy and Sheila Morrice, and a large supporting cast. The curtain will rise at ten fifteen.

MISS V. GROVES NEW ORGANIST FOR WESTMOUNT

Connaught Avenue Resident Wins Appointment In Westmount Park United Church

Miss Vera Groves of 4981 Connaught Avenue, well known musician of Montreal and district and has been appointed organist for Westmount Park United Church, during the absence on active service of Lieutenant George Flower. Lieut. Flower proceeded to active duty with the army one week after he had been named as regular organist of the church.

Miss Groves who studied under George Brewer, organist of the Church of the Messiah and James Shearer of Buffalo, both noted teachers, has served as organist in many Montreal churches, notably Ephraim Scott Presbyterian, First Baptist and relieving her former teacher Mr. Brewer at the Church of the Messiah.

She received her academic education at Montreal High School and McGill University, and later studied at the McGill University Conservatorium of Music. She acted as accompanist for the Montreal Opera Society and the Lyric Opera Society in their early days, both of these organizations being founded by her father Harry E. Groves.

Miss Groves for the past 16 years has also served as deputy organist at Temple Emanuel-EI.

Miss Groves is a member of the Westmount Women's Club and combines executive ability at the organ with a fine aptitude for teaching.

OUR DEMOCRACY TO BE SUBJECT OF NOSEWORTHY

New C.C.F. Legislation to Address Meeting Arranged by N.D.G., Westmount and Verdun Groups

"Significant Trends in Canadian Democracy" will be the subject at a public mass meeting on Wednesday in the Montreal High School.

Joseph W. Noseworthy, recently elected C.C.F. M.P. for South York, will be the special speaker. Well-known Ontario educationist, Mr. Noseworthy sprang into the national spotlight when he convincingly defeated Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, new tory leader, by a 4500 vote majority.

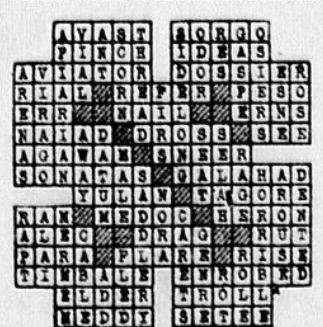

David Lewis, B.A., National Secretary of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, will also address the meeting briefly.

The meeting is under the auspices of the Montreal Branch of the League for Social Reconstruction, Notre Dame de Grace, Verdun and Westmount C.C.F. Associations, as well as all the units of the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movements are working with other organizations to make the rally an outstanding success.

who live in England. Another son, David, died in 1924.

Several grandchildren survive, of whom four are now on active service, one with the British forces in the Middle East, two in the R.C.A.F. and one in the American air forces. One great-grandchild also survives.

Kinsmen Coaster Classic Will Be Staged On June 6

Club Decides Aid to Mole of Juvenile Competitors Warrants Continuance

The Kinsmen Coaster Classic, one of the highlights of every sporting season, will be held this year on June 6 — according to officials of the Kinsmen Club of Montreal, who are again making preparations for this spectacular event.

Fashioned after the International Coaster Classic at Akron, Ohio, this event, which provides all the thrills of midgets auto racing for drivers and spectators alike, will have added interest this year as the international event has been cancelled for the duration of the war. The winner last year was Tommy Butters, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Butters of King Edward.

The entire membership of the Kinsmen Club were unanimous in their decision not to cancel the local event, for although this country is at war it is believed that the morale-building effect of contests of this nature are essential to waging a successful struggle on the home front.

This year, more than ever before, the Coaster Classic is being approached with keen enthusiasm by the Kinsmen themselves and by their many friends and supporters. Since the last Coaster Classic, the Club has opened the Kinsmen Boys' Club in Rosemount, where upwards of 100 young boys are learning the lessons of good sportsmanship and at the same time are being taken from street corner environment.

To the Boys' Club and its continuance, the 1942 Kinsmen Coaster Classic has been dedicated. Proceeds of the Classic will be devoted to the upkeep of this worthwhile social service and kindred projects.

Club and Classic

There is a natural link between the club and the Classic. Kept indoors in the spacious club rooms in Rosemount a great deal of the time in the winter months through inclement weather, the boys look forward to the coming of spring, with practice runs for the Classic, and then summer — and the great event itself.

Already boys are rummaging through attics and cellars gathering together hubs and axles, chassis and body, headlights and bumper, frame and fender and the myriad nuts, bolts, nails, screws and other small parts which youthful coaster drivers believe to be important in the construction of a vehicle that will glide down the ramps to victory over the "other fellow" on June 6th.

And wheels — if you have a baby carriage you had better keep an eye on it. Ambitious "Barney Oldfields" in all parts of the city are hunting high and low for specimens of this precious commodity.

In garages, sheds, playrooms and even in some cases, in bedrooms, in many parts of the city, partly constructed coasters are appearing and among the youthful drivers at school and at play the conversation is including discussions on the fine points of streamlining, wind resistance and all the other factors that hold back or spur on a soap-box on wheels.
