EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR

Gib McMillan President of Dairy Farmers of Canada

John K. Dickson, Ormstown; P. D. McArthur, Howick, on Directorate

EDMONTON, (CP)—Gibert McMillan of Huntingdon, Que., was elected president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada at closing sessions of the association's annual convention. He succeeds J. E. McCague of Alliston.

J. I. Ballantyne of Atwood, was selected first vice-president and Fred J. Goodman of Winnipeg, second vice-president. Secretary-manager is Eric Kitchen of Woodstock. Directors from Quebec—Dr. H. C. Bois, president, Co-operative Fédéré de Québec; J. B. Lemelin, vice-president, Catholic Union of Farmers; John K. Dickson, Ormstown, Montreal Milk Producers' Association; P. D. McArthur, Howick, president, Quebec Provincial Milk Producers' Association.

President's Address
Study of markets for milk products will be part of the 1949 program of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, president, said in an address to the annual meeting of the association.

Mr. McCague recommended increased efforts to acquaint consumers with the outstanding food value of milk.

It would be a calamity to Canada as a whole if the sale of oleomargarine should so develop that it would deprive the price of butter to a point that would materially decrease its production, Mr. McCague said. Canadians generally, however, should have a greater awareness of the effect such a situation would have on the conservation of the soil and the resulting loss in the nutritive value of all food products of the soil.

Last Protection
"In this connection I cannot stress too strongly the responsibility resting on the government or governments concerned, and the importance of exercising real statesmanship on this question in the interests of the present and future generations", Mr. McCague said. "Should the removal of this last vestige of protection to the dairy industry become a reality, it is surely clear that it will be only fair to dairy producers that all export market restrictions for dairy products be removed."

He said the sale of margarine in Canada should be controlled by the duty of the Dairy Farmers to impress those responsible for permitting its sale or for formulating regulations governing its sale, that it is their obligation to leave no loophole by which it can be sold or served as butter.

On Markets
"The dairy industry has during war years not been allowed to sell milk products to markets where producers might have gained higher returns. Dairy farmers have produced under ceiling prices and under the impetus of war need have striven tirelessly to produce increased amounts of dairy products to take care of urgent requests for milk products. In return for having done this, the industry was promised that returns would be protected for a period following the war to take care of the loss of returns suffered by farmers by government regulation of trade and prices."

"We have had some protection from competition with margarine, but now that this is gone, the industry has every right to ask the government for protection in the form of outlets for dairy products in the United States markets or in other markets that will produce the highest returns for milk. We do suggest that an extension of a floor price for a period of five years would go considerable distance in giving stability to the industry. Great Britain has set an example in this regard by contracting with New Zealand and Australia for practically their total output of dairy products for a period of five years, price to be determined for yearly with a guarantee that there will be no greater variation from year to year than seven and one-half per cent."

Some Criticism
Highlight was an address by Hon. David Ure, youthful new Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, who gave a word picture of the important place occupied by dairying, offered criticism of the organizations policy and warned of the dangers of too much regulation and restriction.

Reaction indicated a mixed reception but the admission on many sides that the Minister gave food for thought, told them not what it might be assumed they would want to hear but some things worth saying. His frankness revealed the courage of his convictions, said one officer.

Mr. Ure quoted general figures of investment in dairying in Canada, per capita consumption and its importance in relation to legumes and soil conservation—a great national problem.

In Alberta, he said production was about one-tenth of the Dominion's milk total but the average production per cow last year was about 14 percent, above the national. Unfortunately Alberta in shipping its surplus butter had to pay the highest freight rates in the Dominion—and not all because of geographical reasons. Accordingly his department is doing all possible to eliminate disease, increase efficiency and reduce costs of dairying. He instanced the new disease laboratory.

Not Favorable
Butter is cheap and in regard to substitutes the position must be sized up. For the very reason that the industry was not producing enough supply, it was not in a favorable position to go out and say to consumers that they cannot bring in oleomargarine.

Why the shortage of butter? He put it down to increased costs of feed, labor and of the cows themselves. One reason for the latter was the good market for dairy cattle sent to United States in large numbers and while immediate returns were good, it militated against stability desirable in the dairy industry.

Mr. Ure said that the ceiling on butter was very unfortunate, but, frankly, he asked the dairy farmers how they could argue for its removal and appear consistent in seeking more restrictions against oleomargarine. Tendency today was for people to try to get controls where they wanted them, regardless of others. Each leads to five or six more, and all lead to endless confusion.

Not Far Enough
He had read their statement of policy, and saw in the organization involving every province one that is directing most of its activities along three or four channels, price control, protection and restrictions. He said it kindly, he didn't see in it anything about cows, health of animals or improved production. He thought no national organization should focus all its attention on controls, but it was not unusual nor peculiar to the dairy industry.

In this province he held that the government will be most effective which governs least", said Mr. Ure in sounding one of the Social Credit Government's strong planks, freedom of enterprise. He deplored the tendency to shift individual responsibility, as "it was unreasonable to expect that governments will do as good a job as yourselves."

Valleyfield Man Held in Woodland Shooting

Provincial Police detectives in Valleyfield detained a young man Tuesday night in a woodland shooting episode which saw the wounding of a 39-year-old lumberman Tuesday noon.

Police said Rodolphe Grenier, 39, of Valleyfield, was wounded in the shoulder and chin by two calibre slugs fired while he was working at a lumber depot at the First Concession of Eight.

Cause of the shooting was not known. Grenier, according to police, was treated for the wounds and was not in a serious condition. The young man was arrested by Det. Maurice Rheault, of Valleyfield and held for questioning Tuesday night pending the arrival of Sgt. Det. Ubald Legault and Det. Rene Lanthier, of the homicide squad, who left Montreal Tuesday evening.—Gazette, Montreal.

Ormstown Exhibition May Open Tuesday Instead of Wednesday

Directors of the Ormstown Exhibition met on Monday and considered the recommendations of the various committees. One of the features of the management is the amount of interest that is shown by the various committees. In view of the increased entries and the number of classes, the directors are seriously considering opening the exhibition on Tuesday evening. If this is done however, it will not interfere with the usual program of judging during the day, but it will allow the night classes to be concluded earlier each evening. This letter is what many patrons have asked for during the past two or three years.

County Farm Forums Entertained

The Farm Forums of the County of Huntingdon were entertained in the Huntingdon Academy on Monday evening, Jan. 24th, by the Boyd Settlement Group. Three films were shown, "Rural Health", which pointed out what is being done in the Province of Manitoba to improve the health of the rural people. Then "Rivers in Canada" and "Bird Life in Canada", all of which were enjoyed very much. Mr. Beaudin, the County Agronomist, was present and spoke on the question of Oleomargarine and explained why butter was so scarce and proposed the following resolution be adopted: That we request the Provincial Government to see that Oleomargarine is not sold as butter.

Mr. J. D. Lang, Vice-President of the Quebec Farm Forum Council, addressed the gathering. He spoke on the question of cooperative auto insurance, pointing out some of its advantages and explained how far the council has advanced with regard to the same. He explained what the co-op's had done in the State of Ohio about life, fire and auto insurance. The meeting then adjourned and "600" was played at 10 tables. The ladies served refreshments, after which dancing was enjoyed.

Farm Forums BEAVER GROUP

Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Watterson were host and hostess to the Beaver Farm Forum Group, on Monday evening, Jan. 31, with an attendance of 17.

The leader, Mr. Walter Sutherland, led the discussion on the subject—"This Little Pig Went to Market" dealt with three ways of marketing, namely: the open market, organized marketing and marketing by government monopoly.

The method of marketing preferred for the main agricultural products in this community were open market for live stock and organized market for milk. Mr. Clarence Platt, representative to the Farm Forum Council which was held at Ormstown on Thursday evening, Jan. 27th, in the Town Hall, gave a report of the meeting which dealt with items of business and future plans.

We regret to report one of our active members, Mr. Wm. Arnold, is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital, having undergone a serious operation on Thursday, Jan. 27. Our best wishes go to Will for a speedy and complete restoration to health. $10.00 donated to Provincial Budget.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watterson.

UPPER TULLOCHGORUM GROUP

The last in this series of farm forums entitled "In Time of Need" was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Thompson.

There was considerable discussion, with no unanimous clear-cut answers resulting.

1. It was felt by the majority that the trend toward social security measures was a good thing because no family would be completely deprived of income in case of sickness or depression. Farmers would benefit from these measures as much as they might.

2. No unanimous decision was reached in regard to old age pensions but the majority felt that there should be no means test and that the age for receiving pensions should be lowered from 70 to 65.

Another game was played by the youngsters with a score of 2 to 2. Next Saturday, St. Joseph's two Clubs, Seniors and Juniors, are to visit Ormstown with the hope of gaining both games.

"Biggest Small Town Show" To Be Bigger Than Ever

Douglas Ness Promises That the 1948 Record Will Be Broken

"It's being called the biggest show in the smallest town in the Province", said Douglas Ness, Vice-President of the Ormstown Exhibition and Horse Show which is held annually in June. "Our ambition is to drop off the last half of the sentence so that it's just the biggest show in the province."

Breaking all previous records in 1948 proves a big objective to exceed for 1949 but the plans are being laid early according to the statement of Carlyle Dickson at the meeting of the Horse Show Committee held on Tuesday, January 25th, at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal.

Representatives of owners, exhibitors and horse show association were present at the session which covered all points leading to further increase in entries.

Among those who attended the meeting were: Carlyle Dickson, Secretary; G. H. Nussey, Chairman; Mike W. Minogue, Ringmaster; Douglas E. Ness, Vice-President; David McCoy, A. J. Ness, Director; A. A. McCormick, Director; Frank H. Dillingham, Reg. L. Bishop, Ralph Thiebault, R. O. Guy and Claude deAngelis.

Another meeting to approve the expanded plan of activities will be held next month at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal.

Milk Producers Urge Appeal Against Margarine Ruling

Farmers to Carry on Active Fight Against Manufacture and Sale

Dairy farmers of this province intend to carry on an active fight against the manufacture and sale of margarine. This was made evident on Saturday at the annual meeting of the Montreal Milk Producers' Co-operative Agricultural Association in the Mount Royal Hotel. President John K. Dickson of Ormstown urged more than 500 dairy farmers present to put themselves on record as opposed to the manufacture and sale of the butter substitute.

"Any legislation permitting the manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada should be vigorously combated," Dickson declared in his annual report, "and as a step in this direction your board has already urged, through the Dairy Farmers of Canada, that an appeal should be taken against the decision of the Supreme Court."

He pointed out that milk producers are faced with a serious threat from this butter substitute in spite of any opinion to the contrary. "It will have a definitely adverse effect on butter in particular and on all dairy products in general," he said. "However, if the sale of margarine is finally permitted, every effort should be made to see that it is not sold in any color that may be able to imitate butter," he continued. He asked members to go on record as being opposed to yellow colored margarine.

Duplessis Stand Praised
During the meeting satisfaction was expressed at the various press releases in which Prime Minister Duplessis has stated that his government will "look after the interests of the farmers of Quebec."

The meeting also learned that the average price paid for butterfat in 1948 was 89.7 cents a pound as compared to 75.8 cents in 1947 and 62.9 cents in 1946. Back in 1939 the price for butterfat was only 35.3 cents a pound.

Dickson told the dairy farmers that a demand for a further increase of 40 cents per 100 pounds of milk had been refused by the Quebec Dairy Commission. On the Montreal market now the price of milk is $4.09 per 100 pounds, an increase of almost 30 cents over January, 1948.

The advertising campaign planned by the Milk Producers' Association last year is now under way. "The first advertising material appeared in the press on September 15, 1948, and has continued once a week since then," Dickson stated. He told his audience that the second phase of this campaign to advertise the nutritive value of milk will commence immediately and besides a greater number of advertisements in the newspapers other media will be used.

Leo Cappiello New Mayor For Huntingdon

E. Fournier and Noel Foisy Elected to Aldermen Vacancies

Tuesday was election day in Huntingdon, when the town turned out to vote for candidates for Mayor and two Aldermen. The candidates for the seat of Mayor were: Mr. A. C. H. Picard, retiring, and Mr. Leo Cappiello; for Aldermen they were: Seat No. 2—Earl Fournier opposing Henri Robert, retiring; Seat No. 5—Noel Foisy opposing Leo Gallepeau, retiring.

There was perhaps the latest turnout of voters in any such election for many years and the contest was keen for all candidates. Voters were lined up outside the polling booth for hours, as they waited their turn to mark their ballots and all seemed to be in good spirits. The candidates were in evidence and chatted with the electors while they waited.

The results show that the following were elected:
For Mayor—Leo Cappiello with a majority of 65; Cappiello 304 and A. C. H. Picard 239.
Alderman for Seat No. 2—Earl Fournier with a majority of 50—Fournier 290 and Henri Robert 240.

Alderman for Seat No. 5—Noel Foisy with a majority of 123—Foisy 324 and Leo Gallepeau 201.

The majorities in each case are quite decisive and leave no doubt as to what the voters want. The council for the next two years will be as follows: Mayor, Leo Cappiello; Aldermen: R. E. McWhinnery, A. Saumier, R. L. Tinker, P. Lefebvre, E. Fournier and N. Foisy. Close to 600 voters turned out to cast their ballots in this election and great interest was taken, although the preceding period was quiet and not much talk was heard.

Some Election Facts
In the voting in Tuesday's election for Mayor and Aldermen the following ing facts may be interesting: In the ballots for Mayor there were 23 spoiled; in ballots for Seat No. 2 there were 36 spoiled ballots and in the ballots for Seat No. 5 there were 41 spoiled ballots. In the latter two cases some persons did not mark the ballots at all. Mr. Martin, the returning officer for the election stated that he wrote his initials, which are required by law on the stubs of the ballots, 3,400 times.

New Head For Dairy Farmers Organization

WE believe, and not because he is a Huntingdon man, that the Dairy Farmers of Canada have made a wise choice in electing Mr. Gilbert McMillan their president.

The problem that is facing the dairy farmers of Canada is the possible loss of markets, both domestic and international. It has been recognized for some time that the domestic market for raw milk has declined.

Dairy Farmers Confused

THE recent decision handed down by the Supreme Court of Canada regarding the lifting of the ban on the sale of margarine, has caused much confusion in the minds of Dairy Farmers and their organizations throughout the country.

We believe Hon. David Ure, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, summed up the situation of the Dairy Farmers with a great deal of logic. He said to the meeting at Edmonton: "For the very reason that the industry was not producing enough supply, it was not in a favourable position to go out and say to consumers that they cannot bring in oleomargarine."

We believe that Mr. Ure hit the nail on the head in these statements alone. He said other things about controls, and what the Alberta government intends to do about margarine, but in the above he got right to the core.

If the production of butter had been kept up to within the bounds of demand, it is most probable that margarine would never have been thought of. We know the farmers will argue that it was impossible to keep production up to that level.

The increases in the price of raw milk and in butter have had a great deal to do with the hue and cry for margarine and the dropping off of the sales of raw milk. Now, with the prospect of margarine coming onto the market, the dairy farmer is asking for the ceiling to be taken off butter.

When the Dairy Farmer talks in this way, he is actually creating the impression that his product is no better than the substitute to be offered. In his fear he is crying out for all kinds of controls, whereas he should be extolling his own product and proclaiming how much superior it is to the substitute.

that would increase the production to supply the demand; he urges controls that will only tend to drive the consumer to the extreme and he does nothing to boost his own products. Greater production in any line keeps prices within the reach of all, quality helps to keep consumers, supply must be available at reasonable price levels.

No, Dairy Farmers; take up the challenge of margarine, meet it in competition and expound the merits of your own product over a substitute. If you have to take a loss, let it be in the price of the product and not of the entire market.

"That Serpentine Spiral"

MR. Cameron R. McIntosh, Editor of the North Battleford News, and formerly the Liberal Member of Parliament, publishes the following editorial. Undoubtedly Mr. McIntosh gave this editorial considerable thought and honestly believes it is right that the Liberal party in power, a party he whole-heartedly supports, should take action with the least possible delay in elimination of the Federal Sales Tax of 8%.

THAT SERPENTINE SPIRAL

The Sales Tax was introduced in Canada by the Conservatives, and if the Liberals had been true to their professed principles, they would have repealed it when they were returned to office. They did reduce it to one per cent, but left all the cost and inconvenience of keeping track of it and making the returns required to the Government.

An 8% Sales Tax collected by the manufacturer from the wholesaler becomes a part of the wholesaler's cost, and his regular mark up includes a percentage added to the Sales Tax and so increases the cost to the retailer, who naturally increases his price to the consumer in proportion.

For example—The tax on gasoline adds to the cost of transportation and transportation is a necessary factor in production and exchange. These taxes which increase the cost of production, increased prices and lowered the value of the dollar, thereby increasing the cost of living and forced our workers to demand increased pay.

The repeal of the Sales Tax and other similar penalties on production and exchange will immediately be followed by lowered prices, increased consumption and increased employment.

To sum up—The Sales Tax is a hidden tax. It is a penalty on exchange of services, the very basis of civilization and so is an attack on civilization itself. The Sales Tax is legalized THEFT.—(North Battleford News).

Today is Groundhog Day

FEBRUARY 2nd is Groundhog Day, who designated it such, or who put the meaning to it, is something we have not figured out. But legend, or superstition has it that if Mr. Groundhog comes out of his lair on that day and sees his shadow, he will go back for another six weeks before coming out again to enjoy spring.

We are afraid that we cannot place too much reliance on this groundhog day, but it is nice to have something to cheer you up and make you believe that spring is just around the corner and by this time of the year most of us are hoping that it will soon be spring. About this time the armchair gardeners are looking over the beautiful color plates in the seed catalogues and planning the locations of the beautiful plants in their gardens.

Weekly Review British Labor M.P. Speaks Out

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

"You cannot ration plenty, except in a totalitarian State", says a British Labor M.P. in one of a series of remarkable articles appearing in the Statesman and Nation on "Socialist Stocktaking."

He goes on to point out that if, for instance, during the next twelve months, steel "comes into balance" and supply exceeds demand, the steel control will "automatically cease to function as a sanction against the inefficient producer."

It appears that the Labor Government finds itself on the horns of a dilemma. If it succeeds in bringing about a condition of plenty it must either go forward toward Communism, with complete and permanent controls, price-fixing, wage-fixing, and the direction of labor; or release controls and rationing, and allow prices and wages to find their natural levels in a free market.

But that is not Socialism at all; it is democratic capitalism, such as we have here in Canada. It is certainly not what the Labor Party envisaged as Socialism before it came into power. Wartime economic and industrial planning, with its centralized control, subsidizing, price-fixing and rationing were regarded as a ready-made Socialist system which could be carried over into peacetime.

Before the war the British Labor Party favored outright Socialism on the Russian plan, with the exception of State control of wages and the direction of labor, to which the labor unions were vigorously

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

By HAROLD MORRISON

Ottawa, (CP)—Parliament opened with none of the pomp of pre-war years in Ottawa last week, but there was every indication it will turn out to be one of the liveliest in recent history.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, immediately showed the Commons his party would have no truck with the government of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

He clashed—and won his point—when Mr. St. Laurent moved to adjourn debate on the throne speech after two days in order to get along with legislation to facilitate Newfoundland's entry into confederation.

Prime Minister St. Laurent finally withdrew a procedural motion and word went around that Mr. Drew—as new as Mr. St. Laurent to national party leadership—had pinked the Liberal leader in the first battle of words.

But the fifth session of Canada's 20th parliament had not gone into its third day before Mr. St. Laurent showed governmental strength by winning the first division of the Commons hands down.

By a vote of 141 to 55 the Commons agreed to approve a Government motion which would interrupt the throne speech debate at the end of this week to give precedence to the debate on Newfoundland.

C.C.F. and Social Credit parties voted solidly in support of the government when Mr. Drew and his supporters demanded a vote on the grounds the government was perpetuating a habit of declaring emergencies, just as they did in wartime.

Before the vote was taken, Mr. St. Laurent told the House there actually was an element of urgency. The United Kingdom government wants three weeks' grace for legislative action which it must take if Newfoundland is to enter the Canadian federation on the target date of March 31.

Making his first full-dress speech since he became opposition leader in the Commons, Mr. Drew charged the constitution is being threatened by federal attempts to deny independent provincial taxing power.

Before moving the traditional motion of non-confidence in the Liberal administration, he clarified his position and demanded immediate resumption of a Dominion-provincial conference.

He then moved a briefly worded motion to advise the governor-general "that your excellency's advisers do not possess the confidence of this house."

A decision on the motion will not be made for several weeks. Joining in the debate on the throne speech, Mr. St. Laurent criticized the Progressive Conservative party for a lack of coherence in its policy of defence. There appeared to be a split, he said, in the views of Progressive Conservative party officials in Quebec and other parts of the country. The prime minister said the situation had created in the minds of some a "feeling of uncertainty as to where the Progressive Conservative party stands on the matter of a defensive pact for the Western nations . . . it causes some people who see these various statements to be disturbed."

Fishing Story

The Canadian government last week released the United States dragger Arah, found fishing within the three-mile limit in the Bay of Fundy.

The $60,000 vessel was held in Canadian custody for several days while the fisheries department requested advice from the justice department as to exactly what it should do about the boat.

At once the government announced it likely would prosecute the vessel under the Customs and Fisheries Protection Act for trespassing. Its catch of fish found aboard would be sold and the money held until the case was disposed of in the exchequer court.

Later government spokesman said the crew of the vessel would be released but not the dragger. There were repeated reports of violations of the law on the part of Americans catching lobsters and herring in Canadian East-coast waters.

The state of Maine protested that if the Canadian government proceeded with prosecution, there would be counter-measures against Canadians found fishing illegally in American waters.

However, the government persisted until later Friday night when Justice Minister Garson announced the release of the vessel.

Fisheries Minister Mayhew said the vessel's direction-finder had been faulty. It had been established that the Arah's infraction of the law had been unintentional.

Butter Trouble

Spread of margarine on the Canadian butter market is causing deep worry in the ranks of the National Dairy Council.

In a brief submitted to the cabinet last week, the council called on the government to convene a Dominion-provincial conference immediately to clarify the future of the $500,000-a-year butter industry.

Such a move has not been taken since 1918, but there was a need said the council for an examination of the over-all supply and demand picture of milk and milk products and ways and means of encouraging and enlarging consumption.

The council wanted the government to begin steps for a re-examination of the Dairy Industry Act, under which the sale, manufacture and importation of margarine had been banned.

It wanted the government to go even further; to probe the Food and Drugs Act and regulations and all provincial legislation relating to the dairy industry.

It wanted the government to examine its various research activities and lay down means of expanding and co-ordinating "this important work." "The problems confronting the dairy industry—representing over $500,000,000 a year and employing hundreds of thousands of Canadians—are of an even more complex nature and can be resolved successfully only through co-ordinated deliberations and action by the industry and governments," the Council said.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

It is a well known fact that actors, musicians and entertainers thrive on applause.

Just as entertainers respond to applause, so all of us crave and respond to occasional praise. Yet how seldom it occurs to us to praise others! Day after day we go along taking their fine qualities and good work for granted. Even their outstanding accomplishments do not always draw from us the commendation they deserve.

Yet when we do praise someone, we see that it always has a magical effect. Instantly he or she glows with pleasure. And this in itself is sufficient reward for our thoughtfulness.

But our words of appreciation have more lasting effects. They help people develop self-consciousness. They inspire greater loyalty. And they promote happier, pleasanter relationships on every hand.

The contribution which the life insurance business makes to national welfare has been widely praised by such prominent personalities as Winston Churchill; W. L. Mackenzie King and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Zion Church, Dundee,
Has Fine Report for 1948

DUNDEE—The members of the United Church congregation held their annual meeting in Zion Church on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18, at 8 p.m. Previously, annual meetings of this congregation were always held in the afternoon but this year it was decided to have an evening meeting and serve refreshments. The result was a much larger turnout of members and a fine enjoyable social time was much enjoyed by all.

Rev. A. E. Hagar opened the meeting with prayer. The secretaries of the various church societies all read excellent reports of the year's work, as follows: W.M.S., Mrs. Jas. Colquhoun; Women's Association, Mrs. John Fleming; Sunday School, Miss Lorna Fleming; Pension Fund, Mr. Chas. Fraser; Trustee Board, Mr. W. D. Fraser; Board of Managers, Mr. Stanley Arnold, Sec'y-Treas., who also read M. and M. Fund report.

The three retiring Managers, Messrs. Joe Platt, Ken Fraser and Lisle Watterson were re-elected for another term. R. G. Steven was re-elected representative Elder for the congregation. Three new members of session are to be elected by ballot before the next Communion Service in May.

Mr. Lester Fraser was elected to the Trustee Board. The organist, Mrs. Chas. Fraser and assistant, A. H. Fraser remain the same for another year.

A motion was unanimously passed to increase the salary of Rev. A. E. Hager by $100.00. Mr. Stanley Arnold, who has so faithfully devoted his time and energy to his duties as Sec'y-Treas., will have a salary increase from the usual honorarium of $35.00 to $75.00. These were a discussion but no action taken on the matter of selling the church sheds. It was decided to make a canvass of the congregation early in May for funds to purchase a new church organ. After the business meeting refreshments were served by members of the Managers' Board, assisted by a few of the ladies.

Mrs. Earl Gardner and Mrs. Chas. Smallman attended the Executive Board meeting held in Montreal. Mrs. Chas. Smallman stayed with her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Scriver of St. Lambert, for a few days.

Fund Started For Organ At Zion United Church

W.A. Meeting
STE. AGNES—The regular monthly meeting of the Zion United Church Women's Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26th, at the home of Mrs. Norman McPhee, with a large attendance of members.

Owing to the absence of the President, the Vice-President, Mrs. William Fleming, conducted the meeting which opened, as is customary, with the devotional period. Two items of business arising from the reading of the minutes were discussed at length. The first one was a report from the committee appointed to inquire into the possibility of purchasing an electric water heater for the church kitchen. Mrs. William Fleming reported that a suitable one might be purchased for the sum of $50, minus installation costs. This estimate was deemed satisfactory by the members and Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. McPhee were authorized to act further in this direction. It was also reported that a committee had been inquiring into the purchase of dining plates to replenish the dwindling supply in the church cupboards. Mrs. W. D. Fraser was added to the committee in charge of this.

Mrs. William Fleming and Mrs. N. D. McPhee also reported for the Organ Fund which has just been newly started. The $20, which was donated by the Association for this purchase has been put in a trust fund at the Bank, and added to this is a donation of $5.00 from Mrs.

Elizabeth J. Cameron, which is deeply appreciated by all. Rev. Mr. Hagar reported what had taken place at the Annual Congregational meeting when the "Organ Fund" was discussed. A committee of 3, namely Mrs. Cora Fraser, Mrs. Vernon Elder and the organist, Mrs. C. C. Fraser, have been appointed to look into prices and types of organs and to report at the next meeting.

It was decided by the members that beginning with the March meeting, each member, as she entertains, will furnish her own refreshments. The February meeting will not come under this change.

Mrs. Hugh McNeil had charge of the programme for this meeting, but as she was absent, the members engaged in a social hour which was much enjoyed. The society welcomed Mrs. Alice as a guest, who just recently came to our country from Lithuania, and it was indeed a pleasure to have her share in the fellowship of our association.

The February meeting is to be held at the Manse when Mrs. Espar will act as hostess. Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Elder are to provide a musical program.

Mrs. McPhee, assisted by several ladies, served a bountiful and most delicious supper to all, which brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.

Other players will also be: Kitoutte, Johnnette, John Dutchak, John Murelich, Andre Coriveau, Jean-Paul Bisson, goalies, Guy Leclerc and Cliff Dobson; Bingo Ernst, Hector Legris, Flori Goegan, Bob and Boyer, Eddie Cyr will round up the Valleyfield line-up.

President of Valleyfield Braves, Arthur Vinet, will direct the home team from the bench while the regular Valleyfield coach will match wits with Vinet.

HUNTINGDON ACADEMY WINS, LOSERS IN INTER-SCHOOL LEAGUE GAME AT HOWICK
Huntingdon Academy shared honours with Howick High School on Saturday morning on the latter's ice when two fast hockey games were played on an outdoor rink. The girls played first and it was not until late in the third period that Howick's second line scored the only goal of the game, edging out the Academy boys by a 1-0 score.

The boys' game started out fast and Billy Robb made good on a solo effort in the first few minutes of play, followed by Colin Arnold from Robb in the same period. Bill Travisie boosted the Huntingdon lead in the second period on a pass from Gordie McIntyre. With a 3-0 goal lead, the Academy boys went on the defensive and despite good team-work and play by Howick, Ronnie McLean turned in another shut-out game for the Academy.

Both games were fast and clean with only two penalties handed out by Referees Donald Ness and Willard Orr.

Huntingdon girls were fortunate in the last period of the boys' game when Mr. Douglas Ness was kind enough to show the girls through the new Howick High School. The girls were particularly thrilled with the Domestic Science rooms and the kindergarten class room. Mr. Ness took time to explain the advantages of the new school and answer questions regarding all departments and the girls felt fortunate in having Mr. Ness as a guide as he is keenly interested in the school and welfare of the students, and was an instigator for the building of the school.

A hot dinner was served and later dancing and games were enjoyed in the gymnasium when Miss Margaret Terry proved very capable as M.C.

Miss Jean Robinson accompanied the teams from Huntingdon and Mr. E. Grant acted as Coach for the boys.

Return games with Howick will soon be held. Gault Institute, Valleyfield, plays host to Huntingdon Academy on Saturday morning.

At The Movies

"CORONER CREEK"
Showing at O'Connor Theatre
Feb. 6-7

Occasionally there comes to the screen a picture which incorporates the basic plot of all Westerns but has the advantage of a high budget, excellent production, a better than average cast, and a rapid-fire pace in dialogue and action which will keep the audiences perched anxiously on the edges of their seats. Such a picture is "Coroner Creek".

Photographed in much improved Cinecolor, there is the name of Randolph Scott to decorate the marquee. Herein, Scott portrays the drifting cowboy relentlessly seeking the murder of his fiancée. Months later he finds it is George Macready, a shrewd, suave, unscrupulous rancher who has murdered and robbed to build his western empire. With the aid of Wallace Ford, a bewhiskered cowhand, Scott seeks revenge first by slowly destroying Macready's empire and then the man.

In telling the story, producer Harry Joe Brown and director Ray Enright have utilized every trick of Western film production, and, in addition, have added further realism to a story of that period by incorporating scenes of viciousness and brutality seldom associated with Westerns.

In one scene the bloodied, unconscious body of Scott is dragged to a log and his trigger finger stomped to a fleshy pulp. In another, Scott uses an outlaw as a human shield in a gunfight while the man pleads for his life.

Lending capable support are such players as Marguerite Chapman, as the hotel keeper attempting to dissuade Scott from his mission of hate; Sally Eilers, a pretty ranch owner fighting the outlaws, and Edgar Buchanan, the sheriff who changes his way of life and is murdered.

The screen play, by Kenneth Gamet, has kept intact the excitement and thrills of Luke Short's Saturday Evening Post story, while the photography of the rugged Arizona countryside by Fred H. Jackson, Jr., is of the best.

While fishing in Lake Champlain last Thursday, Gerald Sweeney, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Small, of Huntingdon, suddenly

Obituary

THE LATE MRS. GOODIER

The death occurred on Saturday afternoon, January 8th, of Mrs. E. J. Goodier, who with her husband had been a resident of Georgetown for the past fourteen years. Mrs. Goodier had been in poor health for a considerable time, and the end was not unexpected.

She was Annie Payne Smyth, a native of Abbeyleix, Queen's County, Ireland, the daughter of Thomas and Margaret Smyth, both of whom had been school teachers, and was one of thirteen children, eight of whom were trained as teachers. She had spent over four years in South Africa as governess in the household of Hon. Harry Burton, Minister of Finance in the Government of South Africa, and had frequently met Jan Smuts there. She came to Ottawa in 1908, where she was governess to Seymour McDougall, grandson of the then Receiver-General.

She later married Edward John Goodier, the marriage being performed by the late Archbishop Patterson Smith, Rector of St. George's Church, Montreal, who had been Mrs. Goodier's rector at Abbeyleix in Ireland. On Mr. Goodier's retirement from the C.N.R. railroad as station master they moved to Georgetown and purchased the house on Guelph Street, where she died.

Mrs. Goodier was agent for the C.N.R. at Maxville from 1906 to 1924, when he was transferred to Ormstown, Que. He moved to Georgetown 14 years ago following his retirement. (The Georgetown Herald.)

WILL HE BECOME A PRINTER?

Little Serge Alary, age 3 years, visited the Gleaner printery a few days ago. He had a grand time of it, too, so he told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Alary. "The man with the cigar took my clothes off, gave me some picture books and took me out to see the machines." In the picture we see Serge watching Donald MacRae operate an intertype. Serge stood by the machine for nearly an hour and never made a move other than to suggest he would like to touch one of the keyboard keys, but he didn't do it. "Serge, who gave you the gum?" asked his mother. Answer, "The man who sat at the machine." "Where did you get the pennies?" "From the men in the shop." And so the story goes and since then his parents have been asked time and again to let him go to the Gleaner.

Howick

HOWICK—The Women's Missionary Society of Knox Church held their January meeting at the home of Miss Martha Goudrey on Tuesday evening, the 25th, at 8 p.m. The president was in the chair and the meeting opened by reading together the "Call to Worship". Mrs. Jas. Carmichael read the Bible reading taking the 13th Chapter of 1st Cor. Miss Jean Ritchie led in Prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, and business discussed, with regard to holding the "Day of Prayer" service on March 4th in Knox Church, extending invitations to the W.M.S. of Howick United and Georgetown Churches to join. The roll was called and answered to with the text word "Joy". Mrs. Wm. Stewart gave the special item, telling how change is in the air of our world, civilization is going round a corner, millions of people are directly affected by the revolutionary movement which would change the foundations of our Western world from Christianity and freedom to atheistic materialism and state-ism. "Jesus Christ is the revolution", let us ask Him to begin it in us today, and not let up till all mankind is involved in it. Miss Martha Goudrey read a very interesting Glad Tidings item after being converted while staying in a Missionary boarding school, was the means of leading all the members of her family to believe in Christ. Mrs. Jas. Anderson read a special message on the "Explanation of the First Commandment." People laugh at the Commandments, scoff at them, and scorn them, even serious minded people fail to be impressed by them, that is the sin and the tragedy of the world of today. There are many ways by which this amendment is broken, placing of other things before God is just as much a transgression as bowing before a God of wood or stone. Some men make a God of their business or work. Let us remember that the First Commandment states, "Thou shalt have no other God before me". A short temperance item was given and the offering taken which amounted to 75c. The meeting closed by repeating the Auxiliary Prayer.

Georgetown Bible Class Holds Regular Meeting
On Saturday evening, January 29th, the Georgetown Bible Class held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Elliot.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Don Elliot and consisted of a three-fold programme of devotional, business and recreation.

At the close of the business session, the Executive met to discuss and plan the programmes which would be followed throughout this year.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the members of the Howick United Young People's Society for their kind invitation to their party which was held on Friday, January 28th. A very enjoyable time was had by all. The local W.I.'s helped to make it possible for these pupils to attend the concert.

Shower for Bride-Elect
On Tuesday evening, Jan. 25th, friends of Miss Catherine English gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford McKell, Tullochgorum. The occasion was a miscellaneous shower in honour of her approaching marriage. Miss English's great-grandparents were among the first settlers on Tullochgorum Road and the guests represented many of the old families. Mrs. McKell was ably assisted by her four sons, Gordon, Carlyle, Rodney and Kyrke. They met the guests and enlivened that sometimes dull period of waiting for the honoured guest. After many false alarms the suspense ended. Those assembled sang to welcome Catherine and she was escorted to a decorated chair. The four lively lads then entered with the gifts and very carefully placed them before her. Surely no girl ever had more willing and excited helpers, as turn about they gave her a parcel to open. Finally the basket was empty, their interest quickly waned and drowsiness compelled them to leave this purely feminine affair to the ladies. Catherine graciously thanked her friends and extended a welcome to visit her in her future home.

An amusing game was played when questions were answered concerning the past, present and future of the bride-elect. Everyone enjoyed meeting old friends and neighbours and there was much visiting while delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by several friends.

Mrs. Norman Mair and daughter, Audrey, spent Saturday at Margot.

Mrs. E. Reddick spent a few days at Riverfield, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrin Reddick.

By John Sullivan, age 10 A week ago on Tuesday, the Beauharnois Int. School played a game of hockey on home ice. It was a rough and tough battle against the Beauce Road Hockey team. In goal for our school, Jacques Barrette; defense, Mike Bkrich, Paul Millo; centre, Mike Tague, Massey, Broadbent. Subs: Sunstrum, Abbott, McIsaac. Joe and Pat Craig. This last Tuesday, there was another game at the Beauharnois Int. School at night. The Melocheville team played our school. It was a very rough game. Chateaugay Heights Volunteer Fire Brigade

CHATEAUGAY—The brigade held its first training session on Friday, January 21st, which was attended by 24 enthusiastic members. The lecture was given by the Fire Chief Mr. Jim Kehoe, who gave an extremely interesting talk on the first principles of fire prevention and fire protection and outlined the various types of fire extinguishers. Regular meetings are to be held every other Friday at 8.30 P. M. in the Heights Tennis Club House, the next meeting being Friday, February 4th. A comprehensive course of training will be covered at these meetings which will include lectures, demonstrations and actual practice by the members. Until fire fighting equipment is obtained the course will emphasize fire prevention and fire protection so that by the time fire fighting equipment is received the members should be well grounded in these subjects and will then be able to devote most of their time to fire fighting practice. For the purpose of fire protection the town is to be divided into about five sections, with each section having its own fire brigade squad under the charge of a deputy. There will also be one squad of ladies and another of the older male members of the community. The ladies will be trained in the first principles of fire fighting only and will possibly be given instruction in first aid work. The older male members will also be trained in the first principles but their chief job will be to act as police at a fire and salvage work. An invitation is hereby extended to any person in the Heights to attend the next meeting who would like to join this organization, particularly the younger members of the community. Remember that the next fire may be in your home, and these lectures will teach you how to save your own home and may be a life.

Valleyfield Plant Guttled By Blaze -- Damage $50,000

VALLEYFIELD—Approximately $50,000 damage was caused here on Sunday, when an early morning fire believed to have been caused by an overheated stove gutted the Howard Smith Paper Mills. No one was injured. Flames, fanned by a brisk wind soon engulfed a two storey wooden building which was built 50 years ago. The plant manufactured wooden doors, windows and household articles. More than 30 firemen under the direction of Fire Chief Paul Marleau, poured tons of water into the flaming structure. The fire broke out shortly after 8 a.m. in the basement and although firemen had the outbreak under control ninety minutes later, they remained on the scene until the afternoon. Some twenty-five employees of the factory will be out of work temporarily as a result of the blaze. This is the third fire in Valleyfield within a week.

Curling News The first round of the Tweedsmuir Trophy was played on Saturday morning, Jan. 29th, at the Valleyfield Curling Club. Sunday School Attendance Prizes On Sunday, at the regular morning service of the Valleyfield United Church, prizes were distributed to the pupils who had attended Sunday School regularly during the year, 1948. For the occasion, the entire Sunday School marched into church for the service rather than having the usual Sunday School session. The minister, Rev. J. H. Lynn, was assisted in the service by the Superintendent, Mr. J. Spence, and the Assistant Superintendent, Mr. W. Gordon Anderson. Prize winners included Betty Lander, Kenneth Anderson, George Akamoto and Katsumi Akamoto, all of whom attended every Sunday in 1948 and the following in order of attendance: Phil Wood, Carleton Spence, Margaret Wood, Malcolm Robb, Ann Lander, Elizabeth Aird, Barbara Clark, Alice Taylor, Florence Taylor, Chas. McDonald, Ruth McDonald and Billy Clark. The pastor congratulated each prize winner with a hearty hand-shake, after which the Superintendent presented the awards.

The service closed with an appeal by the minister exhorting parents to maintain harmonious Christian homes which would have a strong Christian influence on the children. Badminton Tournament VALLEYFIELD—The members of the Valleyfield Badminton Club were hosts to a strong team from Huntingdon on Jan. 20 at the Nitro Community Hall. Of twenty-three games played, Valleyfield won six which was a fair showing, considering that there has been little badminton played there in this year. Winners for the local Club were Ladies' Doubles: Irene Grant and Iris Amos; Irene Brault and Peggy Anderson. Men's doubles: D. Hannah and D. Campbell were the only winners. After all games were played coffee and sandwiches were served and dancing followed. A return match is scheduled for February 24th, when it is hoped that Valleyfield will show better competition.

United Church Annual Meeting The Annual Congregational Meeting of the United Church was held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, at 6.30 P. M. in the Church Hall. The usual bean supper was served to the members of the congregation by the ladies of the Women's Association. After supper the dishes were removed and all assembled for the meeting which was opened by Rev. J. H. Lynn. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved reports of the various organizations were presented and accepted. These reports brought forth the activities of each organization along with the financial standings for the year which proved that each had a very successful year. Mr. H. Rider was elected to the Board of Management replacing the late W. Shannon. The new business of the meeting included the approval of the sale of the manse, situated on Gault St. to the Montreal Cottons Ltd. and this in turn is to be presented to the Montreal Presbytery for approval.

The St. Mark's Ladies' Guild held a Food Sale on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26, in the Church Basement where many assembled to purchase the delicious from one little piece of rag or should I say many, that may be some part of a peace treaty or a page for a small schoolboy first writing lesson. (Next, how furniture is made). George Broadbent.

A fire broke out on Saturday in a house in Robb, but it was found when the fire engine arrived, it was the chimney. On Sunday morning another chimney box caught fire at the house of Mr. Richard Taylor. Luckily a neighbour who was attending to the fire in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who were in Montreal, saw the box, threw water on and called the fire brigade. They put out the flames and very little damage was done.

Down Our Alley

In the bowling world these past few weeks, no great change appears in the standing. Riel Bros. Ideal Cafe, Gleaner Inc. Girls and River-side Apartments are enjoying top honors in the standings. Only one record has been broken since the New Year, that being high team single compiled by Empire Garage Reg'd. 1281. This surpasses the old record of 1229 which was held by Huntingdon Chateaux.

In the other events in the past week's bowling, high single honors goes to Alice Boucher of Spinners Ltd., who bowled 249 and high triple of 631 to Clare McCallum, of Bank of Montreal. In the men's league, Henri Gregoire of Monarch Garage took both honors with a single of 292 and triple of 701.

An executive meeting was held on Monday night to discuss the forthcoming playoffs and the nomination of a second Vice-President to replace Tommy Fitzsimmons who is no longer in this district. Mr. Keith Favoret was elected to carry out this office until the end of the bowling year. The playoff situation seems quite clear in the men's division, but the two Ladies' leagues are quite confusing. For the benefit of those who do not know the method being used, below appears a synopsis:

The two bottom teams of Section B are automatically eliminated from playoff competition. The first three teams of Section A will meet the respective first three teams of Section B, and the last three teams of Section A will meet the respective last three teams of Section B. These are called the quarter-finals. This first round eliminates 3 teams in each division, and the winners of the number one position in each section are given a "by" and are competitors in the finals. The winners of a round two and three will meet in the semi-finals, and the winner enters the finals. Two sets of trophies are being awarded for the two sets of finals, as in previous years.

If this situation is not clear in all minds, you are asked to get in touch with the President or some other officer to explain the situation.

Don't forget the Bowling Tournament February 6th, 1949, open to ALL bowlers.

Covey Hill

spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Boyse.

COVEY HILL-The municipal election and repercussions thereof have been interesting, to put it mildly. Of approximately 600 qualified voters less than 35 per cent voted, partially due to the fact that many women either did not feel certain that they were entitled to vote, or hesitated thinking that not many other women would avail themselves of the new regulation. Many thoughtful people here are averse to the spirit of political partisanship with which some enter the contest, feeling that it brings no good to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Beaudin are now occupying their new home, at the Hemmingford U.S. Border.

Mrs. La Chapelle is leaving soon to attend Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

On the evening of Jan. 24th, a large number of old friends and neighbors called on Mrs. Geo. Kenney to celebrate her birthday.

Although taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney welcomed them all and a very pleasant evening was spent in social visit, cards and music. After a very delicious lunch, which included a blazing birthday cake, Mrs. Kenney thanked the guests for the gifts and the good wishes for many Happy Returns of her birthday.
