U.S. 9TH ARMY ON LAST LAP TO BERLIN BRIDGEHEAD ESTABLISHED ACROSS ELBE RIVER

Other Units Driving Hard For Leipzig And Junction With Reds To Split Reich

Last River Before German Capital Forced By 2nd Armored Division, Which Blazed More Than Fifty Miles to Magdeburg in 12-Hour Dash—Unconfirmed Report Places Other American Tanks in Halle Area, 15 Miles From Leipzig—Himmler Issues Decree Every German Town and Every House Must Be Defended.

Paris, April 12.—(AP)—The U. S. 9th Army crossed the Elbe River today and began beating along the last 57 clear miles toward Berlin. The last river before the German capital was forced by the 2nd Armored Division which blazed more than 50 miles to Magdeburg in a 12-hour dash yesterday. Precise site of the crossing was not announced.

A bridgehead, however, was established at one undisclosed place, some 115 miles from Russian lines.

To the south, U. S. 3rd Army tank divisions broke loose again and thundered forward up to 46 miles on the approaches to Leipzig, Czechoslovakia and the Red Army lines.

Large and important cities toppled. Among them were Essen, Coburg, Nordhausen, Schweinfurt, Halberstadt, Emmen in Holland, Neustadt and, by German account, the Ruhr coal and steel centre of Bochum.

Besieged and falling were Brunswick, Dortmund, Heilbronn, Erfurt and Weimar. The Germans said Bremen was under all-out British 2nd Army assault; the 9th Army imminently threatened Magdeburg.

One report placed American tanks near Halle, 15 miles from Leipzig. Infantry following the swift tanks of the 3rd Army beat to within 40 miles of Leipzig and 95 of Dresden. A junction with the Russians may come between those two great Saxony cities within a week.

The U. S. 1st Army and at least parts of the 3rd were driving hard for Leipzig and a juncture with the Russians which would sever Germany. One unconfirmed report placed American tanks in the Halle area, 15 miles from Leipzig.

The 9th Army, on the last river before Berlin, was about 115 miles from the Russians.

The 3rd Army reached the outskirts of Weimar, birthplace of the German Republic, and captured Neustadt, eight miles northeast of Coburg and 43 from Czechoslovakia. Infantry following the tanks marched and rode to points 40 miles southwest of Leipzig and 95 west of Dresden.

The full extent of the 3rd Army drive was masked in a security blackout. The 6th Armored Division ran 46 miles across Central Germany yesterday and the 4th Armored Division gained 25.

Heinrich Himmler, German Gestapo Chief, issued a decree saying "Every German town and every house must be defended."

Liberation of all Northeast Holland is possible within the next few days, a field report from Ross Munro, Canadian Press War Correspondent, said today. The 2nd Canadian Division had gained 22 miles in 15 hours to reach Beilen, 25 miles south of Groeningen, large Dutch centre 18 miles from the North Sea coast.

Berlin said the Allies driving into the Ruhr pocket had captured Bochum, a great steel and coal producer of 303,288 inhabitants before the war. Nearby Essen fell yesterday. In the south, the U. S. 42nd Division captured Schweinfurt, ball-bearing centre and moved to within 29 miles of the Nazi shrine city of Nuernberg.

Canucks Drive To Liberate Great Netherlands Centres

By ROSS MUNRO, Canadian Press War Correspondent

With the 1st Canadian Army, April 12.—(C.P. Cable)—The 2nd Canadian Division, driving flat out through Northeast Holland toward the North Sea coast has advanced 22 miles in the last 15 hours and today is at Beilen, 25 miles south of Groeningen.

Groeningen is 18 miles from the coast and the principal town in this area. It may never be defended.

About thirty Netherlands towns and villages were liberated in this great sweep which brought the 2nd Division up to the Polish 1st Armored Division, which has been rolling north between the 2nd Division and the Ems river.

Opposition was negligible and all of Northeast Holland may be liberated within a few days.

The 2nd Division advanced in Kangaroo—armored troop-carriers—with Quebec troops, including French-speaking men, and Western infantry in the lead. The columns had trouble moving through the liberated towns for cheering crowds were milling about in the narrow streets.

Among the towns freed were Ommen, 13 miles east of Zwolle; Balkbrug, six miles north of Ommen; Hoogeveen, 23 miles northeast of Zwolle; Ruinen, seven miles west of

Report Hitler Ill Viewed With Doubt

London, April 12.—(AP)—British morning papers greeted with skepticism today published reports that Hitler is seriously ill and has yielded his place to Himmler.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Mail recalled that Goebbels is "still a good propagandist" and warned that "such stories must be treated with reserve."

"There have been indications that Himmler wasn't a do-or-die Nazi, that in certain circumstances he might try to negotiate peace," the Mail correspondent added. "If that is one of his tricks at the moment he is not likely to obtain a hearing from the Allies."

Some papers said even if reports of Hitler's illness were true it was not a matter of great moment.

"To the Allies, who will soon rid the world of the gang now ruling Germany, it does not matter much," observed the Yorkshire Post.

A wave of speculation over Hitler's status was stirred yesterday when the diplomatic correspondent of the Press Association said he had authoritative information that Hitler is "a dying man" and has been superseded by Himmler.

CARRARA FALLS TO U.S. ARMY IN NEW OFFENSIVE

British Push Across Second Barrier Thrown Up By Germans at Santerno River, Battling Heavy Opposition.

Rome, April 12.—(AP)—British 8th Army troops, battling heavy opposition, have pushed across a second barrier thrown up by the Germans at the Santerno river, while on the opposite end of the front American troops, assisted by Italian Partisans, have captured Carrara, Allied Headquarters announced today.

The Santerno river runs parallel to and about five miles west of the Reno river line from which the 8th launched its new offensive four days ago.

Carrara is four miles north of Massa, west coast hub, the capture of which by the Allied 5th Army was announced yesterday.

(Meanwhile, in a message to Italian Patriots behind German lines in Northern Italy, Gen. Clark said the "final battles for the liberation of Italy have begun.")

(He warned, however, that the moment for co-ordinated action had not yet arrived. The instructions were broadcast over the Rome Radio and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.)

Jap Aircraft Plant Raided

Guam, April 12.—(AP)—Superfortresses dealt another punishing blow to Japan's aircraft production at 11 a.m. today (Tokyo Time), as 150 of B-29's April 4 in a three-way raid, escorted by fighter planes, spilled explosives on two industrial centres.

The B-29's roared over the big Nakajima Musashino aircraft engine plant in Tokyo's outskirts, while another force of Superfortresses poured bombs on industrial runs Koriyama, 110 miles north of the capital city.

Tokyo Radio said another 150 Superfortresses attacked Shizuoka, site of the new, important Mitsubishi engine plant 80 miles southwest of Tokyo. The Mitsubishi plant, hit by B-29's April 4 in a three-way raid, is an aircraft industrial buildings sprawling over 2,125,000 square feet at Shizuoka's outskirts.

It was the eighth raid of the war and the third this month on the Musashino factory, a prime producer of fighter-plane engines. Koriyama brought on industrial runs, numerous rail lines and highways from Tokyo into Northern Honshu, was hit for the first time.

RUSSIANS SIGN NEW AGREEMENT WITH YUGOSLAVS

Friendship and Mutual Assistance Pact Will Remain in Effect For 20 Years To Be Renewed for Another Five Years Unless Denounced by Either Party.

London, April 12.—(AP)—Russia strengthened her already-strong ties with Yugoslavia today by signing a friendship and mutual assistance pact.

A Moscow broadcast said Marshal Tito and Foreign Minister Ivan Subasic signed for Yugoslavia. Foreign Commissar Molotov and Deputy Foreign Commissar Andrei Vishinsky represented the Soviet Union.

The agreement came as a climax to Marshal Tito's visit to the Russian capital, during which he conferred with Marshal Stalin.

The treaty is to remain in effect for 20 years and will be renewed for another five-year period unless denounced by either party a year before the date of expiration.

The pact, providing for military and economic collaboration, was regarded here as offering a probable pattern for future agreements between the Soviet Union and her immediate neighbors.

Moscow quoted Mr. Molotov as saying the treaty would be "welcomed by all freedom-loving nations, and especially by the Slav nations, who will see in it a new consolidation in their struggle for a glorious future."

Marshal Tito declared the pact would prove an important contribution in the war against Germany as well as one of the foundation stones of future security in Europe.

The treaty contained five principal points:

1. A pledge to continue the struggle against Germany until final victory, with mutual assistance to the fullest extent.

2. A pledge of military aid if either becomes involved again in hostilities with Germany "or with any other government which might ally itself with Germany officially or in any form."

3. Mutual participation "in a spirit of the most sincere collaboration in all international activities for the purpose of insuring peace and the security of nations."

4. An agreement to refrain from concluding any alliance directed at the other party to the pact.

5. Establishment of a post-war policy to "act in a spirit of friendship and collaboration with the aid of furthering the development and consolidation of economic and cultural ties between the people of the two countries."

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER POLICY STILL STANDS

London, April 12.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today that the Allied policy of unconditional surrender for Germany still stood, even though Gen. Eisenhower has asserted that the war in Europe may not end with a clean-cut surrender of a German force.

"The policy of unconditional surrender does not exclude unconditional surrender piecemeal and is not necessarily applied only to wholesale surrender," Mr. Churchill explained.

WAR BULLETINS

London — The Brussels radio said today Allied troops had reached Vegesack, on the east bank of the Weser, 10 miles northwest of Bremen.

With the U. S. 3rd Army — The 6th Armored Division advanced 46 miles and the 4th Armored Division gained 25 in the last 24 hours.

With the U. S. 7th Army — The U. S. 42nd Division captured the German ball-bearing centre of Schweinfurt today.

London — The German D. N. B. Agency today claimed the British 2nd Army had launched an all-out assault on Bremen, the great North Sea port at the mouth of the Weser.

Previous Allied dispatches had placed the Tommies four miles from Bremen. There was no immediate confirmation of the D. N. B. report.

Russian Armor Is Reported 75 Miles From Bavaria And 115 From Hitler's Retreat

London, April 12.—(AP)—Russian tanks, driving swiftly for the Bavarian frontier, were reported to have reached the Danube bend 42 miles west of Vienna today as other Soviet troops virtually completed occupation of the historic Austrian capital.

The Berlin Radio said Soviet armor reached a point between Krems and Melk, 50 miles from Linz, 75 miles from Bavaria and little more than 115 miles from Berchtesgaden, the mountain-top retreat of Hitler.

Fall of Vienna appeared to be only a matter of hours as mopping-up of the last enemy resistance progressed rapidly inside the vital communications hub and second city of the so-called Greater Reich.

Russian shock troops yesterday stormed across the Danube canal inside the capital, gaining control of half the nine-mile long island between the canal and the river where the Germans were making a final stand.

Nine-tenth of the major part of the city south of the Danube already was in Russian hands.

Northeast of the capital the Russians slashed one of the last German escape routes—a secondary railroad running north to Lunenburg and the Czechoslovak city of Bruenn (Brno).

A great tank battle raged in that area as the Germans sought to check the westward drive of Marshal Ivan S. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army for a link-up with Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's 3rd Ukrainian Troops sweeping through and north of Vienna.

In Czechoslovakia, meanwhile, the 2nd and 4th Ukrainian Armies linked up in the Carpathian mountains and cleared a supply road from Poland to the Vienna front.

Tolbukhin's forces captured one of the Danube canal bridges intact and raced across under mortar fire, seizing the Vienna electric power station and clearing the entire Prater Park area.

SPAIN SEVERS ALL RELATIONS WITH JAPANESE

Spanish Protest Against Bayonetting of Consular Functionaries and Demand Indemnity.

Madrid, April 12.—(AP)—Spain has broken relations with Japan in protest against the bayonetting of Spanish nationals in the Philippines by Japanese soldiers.

A government communique, issued last night at the conclusion of a cabinet meeting presided over by Gen. Franco, declared:

"Direct information of Spanish origin and officially confirmed leaves no doubt concerning the attack on February 12 by Japanese troops on the Spanish consulate at Manila, followed by the assassination of consular functionaries and other Spaniards there, and wilful burning of buildings, in addition to many other acts of violence and the destruction of the property of Spanish citizens."

"As a result of these exceptionally grave facts, the Spanish Government, esteeming them incompatible with the maintenance of friendly relations with the government of Japan, while maintaining a demand for indemnity sent Japan for the loss of life and damage caused to Spanish citizens."

Spain forwarded the demand March 24 soon after the first announcement of the atrocities came from Washington. Yukihiro Sano, Japanese minister, said this week

R.A.F. Mosquitos Run Up Total Raids on Berlin to Six in Two Nights and 56 in Last 49 Days.

London, April 12.—(AP)—Allied planes raked Berlin with "bombs during the night, dealt punishing blows to German shipping and expressed their methodical programme of reducing the enemy's aerial defences.

Five German merchant vessels were set afire late yesterday by Beaufighters and Mosquitos of the R.A.F. Coastal Command, continuing their stepped-up attacks on enemy shipping off Norway.

Allied planes destroyed 112 more German aircraft—23 in dog-fights and 89 on the ground—in operations Wednesday and Wednesday night, boosting to 915 the number of enemy planes knocked out in the last five days.

British Halifaxes, escorted by Mustangs and Spitfires and U. S. fighters of the 1st Tactical Air Force, made concentrated attacks on Nuernberg and Hayreuth, causing large fires.

The Air Ministry said a bomber, three Coastal planes and a lighter were missing after these operations.

Keen Interest in Plans For Economic Reconstruction in Post-War Period Evincing By Members of Parliament As Pre-Election Session Nears End.

By FRANK FLAHERTY, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Ottawa, April 12.—(AP)—Casting their eyes forward into the post-war period of Parliament are showing keen interest in plans for economic reconstruction and veterans' rehabilitation.

These subjects are expected to call for a good deal of attention during the few days remaining of the short pre-election session. This became evident last night after Munitions Minister Howe, also Minister of Reconstruction, delivered his report on the Munitions and Supply Department, and members promptly began talking about reconstruction.

Mr. Howe promised his statement on reconstruction for today.

A sharp exchange between leaders at the opening yesterday left the time of finishing the session indefinite. Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, suggested the House sit in the morning starting tomorrow and on Saturday with a view to finishing Saturday night.

Prime Minister MacKenzie King said he saw no point in that unless there was assurance that the business would be finished by Saturday night. Mr. Graydon said he could speak only for his own party and could give no assurance that other members, Liberals and Independents, would not prolong discussion.

Earlier in the week, Mr. King had asked that business be speeded up and stated that if the House continued until the lapse of Parliament's term on Monday night he would be unable to leave for the San Francisco World Security Conference at the time arranged.

Mr. Graydon said "failure of the Government to call Parliament when it should have been called, last January, lies at the bottom of the whole problem"—concluding passage of interim supply bills before the expiration of the Parliamentary term.

In reply, Mr. King entered into an outline of the Government's actions since January and disclosed that had important battles been fought when it was expected they would have been held about now and before the San Francisco conference and the Victory Loan.

"That was not possible and the election had to be held later, but the session was called to enable Parliament to vote the funds necessary to carry on until a new Parliament was elected."

Mr. King said he expected the

Insane And Lepers Roam On Okinawa

Okinawa, Ryukyu Islands, April 12.—(AP)—Retreating Japanese threw open the gates of hospitals for the insane and lepers, permitting thousands of crazy and diseased inmates to roam through the Okinawa hills, Maj. Charles G. Sweet of the Allied Military Government, said yesterday.

Sweet said more than 1,400 insane persons and an undetermined number of lepers were turned loose as the Japanese fled northward.

Military patrols are doing their best to round up the lunatics, but language difficulties make it hard for them to tell whether natives are sane or crazy, except in the violent or advanced cases of insanity.

Russians Discuss Meeting In Reich

Moscow, April 12.—(AP)—The possibility of an early meeting between the Red Army and the Western Allies in the heart of Germany held the attention of the Russian public today as it learned that American troops had reached positions only 67 miles from Berlin and 115 miles from Soviet lines along the Oder.

The same question is on everyone's tongue—when is the war going to end? The Soviet press, however, is keeping silent on this question and there has been no official speculation.

The impression prevails here that the war will end when the Red Army launches its impending offensive across the Oder and Neisse rivers, where—according to Soviet front-line dispatches—the main strength of the German army is concentrated.

There has been no hint when this drive may be launched, but one gains the impression here that the zero hour is approaching.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press War Analyst

London has heard a report that Hitler has been assassinated—a story which unfortunately has found no confirmation.

There's another report of a split in the Nazi party. It's said the Fuehrer is being thrown over in favor of Gestapo Chief Himmler, the bloody-minded wholesale murderer. To this a British spokesman has replied that the Foreign Office is operating on the theory that the Fuehrer still is in control, with Himmler in command of defence forces. The spokesman added that all sorts of stories are going the rounds about Hitler, all of which could be true but most of which probably are not.

Positive knowledge of Hitler's passing certainly would have a vast repercussion. Gen. Marshall, U. S. Army Chief of staff, recently told the Senate Military Committee that death or capture of the Nazi Chief would contribute tremendously to a collapse of the German military machine.

That fits a view which this column often has voiced and has carried a step further. Having studied Hitler at close range in Germany I have ventured the belief that he is the mainspring of Nazism—that in fact he and Nazism are one and the same thing, and that his death or incapacitation would produce a collapse both of the military machine and of the government.

The Nazi regime has been a one-man show, in the sense that Hitler always has had the final, dictatorial word in everything. The general public has accepted him almost without reservation not only as temporal but as spiritual ruler. This accounts for the fact that Himmler and Propaganda Minister Goebbels have been careful to issue their orders in the name of Hitler.

Because of these unusual circumstances it strikes me that the Allies will have given the death blow to Nazism when Hitler is liquidated. Of course it will take time to clear up the evil which he has done, but there would seem to be no great cause for worry about the continuation, and especially the spread, of this obnoxiousism. A study of Mein Kampf and the Nazi doctrines as laid down by Hitler fails to reveal any sound reason for Nazism's survival.

Hitler's Government has been just another of those absolute dictatorships such as the world has known for centuries. He added some frills, including his Messianism, but essence of his doctrine has been total regimentation of the state, including iron-clad control of the press, so that the public could be kept in ignorance of the truth where it suited the Fuehrer to suppress it.

There's no reason, as I see it, why any country in the post-war era will have use for Nazism—unless some budding Hitler is looking for dictatorial power. The fanatical German Nazis may continue to give the Allies trouble for a time by underground activities, and the Allies will have to "uneducate" the German people so to rid them of Hitler's teaching, but I believe Nazism will pass out when Hitler passes.

Initial Meeting Of Peace Group May Be Held In U.S.

By FLORA LEWIS, Washington, April 12.—(AP)—The world peace-keeping organization to be blueprinted at San Francisco may conduct its first deliberation in the United States.

Diplomats speculated on this possibility today as they awaited word on the extent of destruction in Vienna to determine whether that capital—now almost entirely in Russian hands—remains a likely choice as a permanent meeting site.

Officials say the league itself—assuming that everything goes at top speed—could be set up by late summer or early fall.

Then, as soon as it is ratified by enough countries, the first assembly meeting of all members probably will be called. This session would elect non-permanent members of the security council and get the organization going.

The United Nations will have to decide at San Francisco how many ratifications will be necessary to establish the peace organization. Probably, a majority of two-thirds of those attending the April meeting will be required—specifically including Britain, Russia, the United States, China and France, as permanent members of the council.

Possibility of the first meeting in the United States is strengthened by the devastation in Europe where the coming winter undoubtedly will be cold and hungry. Philadelphia, San Francisco and Detroit already have put in bids to be hosts to the meeting.

Although it is a minor question, the permanent site of the new organization is expected to be hotly debated.

Canada and several other powers may argue strongly for this hemisphere. They are expected to contend:

1.—That the Western Hemisphere has never threatened world peace.

2.—That it is equally accessible from Europe and Asia.

3.—That it is far enough away to provide a calm atmosphere for consideration of Europe's political turmoil.

However, Vienna at this point seems to head the speculative list. The Russians appear to have the Austrian capital, which long has been the cross-roads of Eastern and Western Europe.

Another decision the San Francisco conference will have to reach is on an official language.

While the United States is understood to be pushing for English alone for purposes of simplicity, it appeared there might be four or five. Probably the host countries will have their languages made official—this means Russian, Chinese and English. A drive also is expected for inclusion of French and Spanish.

May 31 Fixed As Date For Annual Meeting Of E.T. Associated Boards, Flood Control Will Be Discussed

Principal point of discussion for the agenda of the annual meeting of the E. T. Associated Boards of Trade and the E. T. Settlement Society, which is to be held here on May 31, will be the problem of flood control presented along the St. Francis River and its tributaries.

This point was decided upon yesterday at a joint meeting of the two groups held at the St. George's Club under the presidency of George W. Murphy, president of the E. T. Settlement Society, and Horace Boivin, of Granby, president of the E. T. Associated Boards of Trade.

Called to discuss a date for the annual meeting to hear whatever resolutions which might be brought up the meeting yesterday set May 31 and arranged a programme to be carried out on.

Some twenty from both societies were present at the meeting and the slate of items to be discussed received unanimous approval.

The afternoon session of the annual meeting will be held at the City Hall where the election of officers will be held for the coming year.

Apart from the elections, discussion of business and resolutions will also take up a good part of the afternoon.

Items to be discussed will be housing and flood control, while much consideration will also be given to a

APRIL SESSION OF PHILATHEA SOCIETY HELD

The April meeting of the Philathea Society of the United Church was held at the home of Miss Clem George, Prospect Street.

Mrs. H. L. Wallace, Vice-President, presided and the meeting was opened with prayer, followed by the roll call and reading of the minutes. A most satisfactory report was given on the crokinole and sugar party held recently.

Mrs. A. Bown, Convener of the April Committee, distributed proposals to be made at the June sale, and the date set for this sale was June 9.

An appeal was read from the local Red Cross branch asking for extra help in the making of surgical dressings. This work is urgent and it is hoped that anyone who can spare an hour or so will try to give their time to help in this effort. Other plans and work were discussed, and at the close of the meeting games were enjoyed and a social hour was climaxed by the serving of lunch by the hostesses, Miss George and Mrs. L. Parker.

General Notes
Mrs. A. Burbank, Conley Street, and Miss Clem George, Prospect Street, left for Montreal this morning where they will attend the fund-raising for Charlotte Ross, who died on Tuesday.

Mrs. G. L. Patrick, of Sawyerville, was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wallace, Main Street.

Word has been received that Pilot Officer Clifford Cameron, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lauck Cameron, of Lennoxville, is now serving Overseas with the Air Force.

Importance Of Frisco Conference Is Emphasized By J. A. Blanchette

The importance of the San Francisco Conference, as affecting the farmer and the returned man, may also be reflected, in each and every class of our citizenry, the industrialist, the laboring man, the man in business, the professional and all those forming the economic and social web of our country, J. A. Blanchette, M.P. for Compton, declared last night in a radio address at Ottawa.

"It has therefore been thought," he said, "that the common channel through which the efforts of all Allies should be directed in order to accomplish the readjustment towards both internal and international peace, should be through the medium of the San Francisco Conference.

"The resolution recently passed in the House of Commons is predicated upon a world readjustment. The international affairs of mankind, and therefore peace, internal economy and social legislation affecting any nation or country cannot be maintained, lastingly, through separate units, but more safely so, through unity of political action at the international level. It is as a recognition of this premise that the San Francisco Conference is being called for April 25 next. This conference, which officially is named the United Nations Conference on International Organization, is not a peace conference. Nor is it to be a conference to enumerate or settle the post-war economic, social or political problems for the world. Neither is it to be a boundary commission, or a court of last resort on the cases of any colonies or mandates.

"This conference is not to be a framing committee, nor a code on international law, nor a reparations commission or court.

"What the conference is to be, is an international meeting to agree on the details of a world security league, for the post-war era, including:

(a) An economic council, as machinery to adjust later developments in this field, in the interests of peace and fair dealing, among the participating nations.

(b) A statute for a world court.

(c) A trusteeship plan for the colonies and mandates of the enemy nation.

"Beyond these duties and responsibilities, with the possible addition of some minor points, the San Francisco Conference has none.

"Its objective, therefore, is to set up an organization which will be authorized to employ its enumerated powers, to maintain peace in the world situation as it shall then exist. Now, this situation will result from the ultimate peace settlement, which may or may not have been completed, when the organization

WILL ADDRESS OPEN MEETING THIS EVENING

Miss Estelle Amaron, General Secretary of the Colombo Young Women's Christian Association and Organizing Secretary for the Island of Ceylon, who addressed a meeting of the Y.W.C.A. Supper Club last night, will address an open meeting to be held this evening in the Mackinnon Memorial at eight o'clock.

Miss Amaron is a sister of Rev. E. C. Amaron, Principal of St. Andrew's College, and of Douglas Amaron, Canadian Press war correspondent.

In 1926 she graduated from the McGill School of Physical Education as gold medalist, and that year she was appointed by the National Y.W.C.A. of India, Burma and Ceylon to Rangoon as Girls' Work Secretary. Her experience and training led her into administrative work and for most of her 11 years in Burma she was General Secretary of the Rangoon Association.

In 1938 Miss Amaron was appointed to Ceylon as General Secretary for Colombo and Organizing Secretary for Ceylon. Miss Amaron's term of office was due to terminate in 1943 but it was not until August of 1944 that she felt she might leave the island when she was asked by the British Y.W.C.A. War Service to visit their service clubs in the Middle East, Italy and England. She gave four months to the work, returning to Canada at the end of the year.

Local Delegation Left For Quebec Today To Seek Charter Amendments

Representatives of the city, headed by Mayor J. W. Genest, left for Quebec today to seek ratification of certain amendments to the city charter.

The Sherbrooke bill will be presented for approval before the Private Bills Committee of the Quebec Legislative Council.

The local delegation includes His Honor the Mayor, City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers, Alderman Hector Lancelot, chairman of the Public Welfare Committee, and Edouard Boisvert, city attorney.

Among the items included in the amendments to the city charter is a provision extending to the head of the fire department the protection of employment already provided for the heads of other departments.

Permission will also be sought of the Quebec body to make an amendment to the city charter with regards to the payment of salaries to the Mayor and Aldermen.

The present charter contains a clause which prohibits the payment of money to the heads of the city. The City Council, however, intends to make an amendment to the charter, but any proposed remuneration to the council will have to be approved by the ratepayers, who will be given a vote on the matter.

The bill to be presented by the local delegation also includes the matter of health precautions. Some time ago, the local Council discussed the matter of having employees of all eating places subjected to a medical examination.

The measure received strong support and now the city is seeking permission to carry out the plan.

If permission is received, all employees of restaurants, lunch carts, eating stands and hotels will be forced to undergo medical examination to safeguard the public against any possible disease.

It is expected that the medical examination will also be extended to employees of barber shops and other establishments where there is any possibility of contagion.

Other technical points such as permission to make a few minor changes to the charter necessitated by the annexation of Collinsville, will also be brought up by the city delegates for approval by the Quebec committee.

Comment Caused As Nazi Officer Seen In Uniform

The appearance of a man in a German officer's uniform caused a great deal of comment yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Escorted by members of the Veterans Home Guard from nearby Newington Internment Camp, the German officer arrived in a military vehicle and proceeded to visit three of his countrymen, who are patients in the hospital. Being a Medical Officer he was permitted to visit them, and remained about an hour, talking with them.

A check-up with authorities at the Newington Camp showed that this procedure was quite according to regulations, and that there had been no reason for alarm, since German officers on parole are allowed to wear their uniform in and out of camp.

Hospital officials said that while there is generally a patient or two from the camp under their care, this was the first time they had seen an officer in uniform.

The officer, who was accompanied by two other ordinary internees, was returned to camp, after his visit was completed, by the same escorts who had stood by in the meantime.

EVANS JOSLIN IS SPEAKER AT Y'S MEN CLUB

Evans Joslin, Manager and Vice-President of the Panther Rubber Company outlined the history of the company in this city, in an address to local Y's Men Club last evening.

The Sherbrooke branch was first established thirty years ago, and has since grown steadily. The Panco rubber soles and heels were introduced into Canada by the Panther Rubber Company, declared Mr. Joslin, and although they were well, they left black marks on floors. Panchrome then replaced them before the war, and the Panther Company is presently the leading producer of rubber heels and soles.

Explaining the manufacture of rubber heels and soles separately, and the processing of reclaimed rubber, Mr. Joslin outlined briefly the various rubbers. He showed specimens of the several kinds of rubber used, and the various types of heels and soles.

At the business session, Andy Blatherwick reported that $266.80 had been collected from the Y's Men's Camp Tag Day, and that the net proceeds would be $235.

Final plans for the raffle of War Bonds will be announced by the Y's Men.

C. L. Ogden Glass, B.C.S., Named Headmaster At Ashbury College

The appointment of C. L. Ogden Glass, M. A., master at Bishop's College School at present on leave with the Royal Canadian Navy, to the position of headmaster of Ashbury College in Ottawa was announced yesterday by the Board of Governors. Mr. Glass will succeed N. M. Archdale, M. A., and will assume his new duties at the earliest possible date, consistent with his duties to the naval service.

His appointment marks an important departure in Ashbury College policy in that this is the first time a Canadian and a product of Canadian schools has been chosen to guide the destinies of Ashbury College, after having this choice invariably confined to masters of schools in Britain.

Mr. Glass is the son of the late Louis Gordon Glass C. C., of Montreal, and attended Bishop's College School where he had a distinguished career both at work and in the various athletic activities of the school and thereafter went through Bishop's University from which he graduated with first class honors in English. While at the university he captained both the football and hockey teams, was president of the Students Assembly and a member of the debating team which won the Canadian inter-university debating league championship. He was also active in dramatics and played in the regional finals of the Bestborough Dramatic festival.

After graduating from Bishop's University he was elected Rhodes Scholar for the Province of Quebec and went into residence at St. John's College, Oxford, and thus became associated with the president, Sir Cyril Norwood, late headmaster of Harrow, and one of the outstanding public school headmasters of contemporary times. At Oxford he graduated with honors in politics, philosophy and economics and received his M.A. degree, and was elected head of his college Amalgamated Clubs in his final year, as well as representing the university in hockey and his college at rugby and tennis, captaining the tennis team in his final year.

Mr. Glass was also one of the group which proceeded to South Africa to introduce ice hockey at the Empire exhibition in Johannesburg.

On his return to Canada, he joined the staff of Bishop's College School where he remained for two years, until shortly after the outbreak of war, when he joined the Navy, and was awarded the prize on graduation from H.M.C.S. "Kings" in Halifax for displaying the most officer-like qualities in his class. Thereafter his service has been as an instructional officer at King's College and on active service in a corvette on North Atlantic convoy and, most lately, as executive officer of a frigate.

THE PREMIER AND THE MINORITY

Speaking on the budget debate in the Quebec Legislative Assembly, the sole English-speaking member of the National Union Party, Hon. Jonathan Robinson, Minister of Mines and representative for Brome County, made a strong case against those groups, both in the Legislative Assembly and outside of it, who sought to picture the present Premier of the Province as anti-English and anti-British.

In support of his claim that the rights of the English-speaking minority were being respected by the administration, he drew attention to the fact that although the English speaking ridings of the Province had seen fit to return but one member of the National Union — himself — the Premier had respected tradition and had placed him in charge of an important portfolio. And he recalled that when the first Duplessis administration had been formed, the Premier was criticized for including in his cabinet two English Protestant representatives and one Roman Catholic English-speaking colleague. Unfortunately under existing conditions it was impossible to repeat this practice.

Similarly he criticized those who saw in the fight for the preservation of provincial autonomy a drive to weaken the bonds of Confederation. The maintenance of the autonomy of local administrations is not a matter which Canada alone has to face. In the United States, where there can be no question of race or creed entering such discussions, this fight against too great a centralization of government is one of the major topics of political discussion. There is no denying that the autonomy cry has become a fetish in some quarters and too often broadcast in an effort to halt some particular project to which a would-be political leader is opposed, but at the same time there are certain inherent dangers in too great centralization of governing powers which have a tendency to the growth of bureaucracy.

THE INDIAN DIVISIONS

The average Canadian appreciates from the mere reading of the occasional news despatch from the Italian front that Indian native divisions are playing their part in the struggle against Germany. But few realize the high esteem in which these forces are held by the senior officers of the United Nations. This esteem is not restricted to British and Indian officers but the feeling of the United States officers is illustrated in a recent statement by General Mark Clark, United States commander in Italy. Unfortunately the following statement received only cursory attention from the press of either Canada or the United States, perhaps news of actual developments elsewhere crowding out the opinions of a particular general, no matter how high his rank might be. Discussing these troops, General Clark said:

"I have had the distinction of having under my command a trio of great Indian divisions—the 4th, 8th and the 10th—whose fighting record in Italy is a splendid one.

"The achievements in combat of these Indian soldiers are noteworthy. They have carried on successfully in grim and bloody fighting against a tenacious enemy who was helped by terrain particularly favorable for defence.

"No obstacle has succeeded in delaying these Indian troops for long or in lowering their high morale and fighting spirit.

"Your 'Jawan' and 'Tommy Atkins' and 'Jock' and other soldiers of this international Fifteenth Army Group have established firm bonds of respect and friendship born of action against a tough enemy.

"The bravery of the Indian troops is attested by battle honors and decorations awarded. The 4th, 8th and 10th Indian divisions will forever be associated with the fighting for Cassino, the capture of Rome, Arno Valley, the liberation of Florence and the breaking of the Gothic Line. I salute the brave soldiers of these great Indian divisions."

This tribute from an American general should be the answer to those critics—both enemy and on the side of the United Nations—who charge that

Indian soldiers only join the army for the sake of the pay, the food, the clothing and the shelter. As a matter of fact nearly three million natives of India volunteered for service, and they would not fight for Britain if they did not think the British government of India was good for their country.

NO COAL STRIKE

One of the most important items of news received in recent weeks is the announcement from Washington that an agreement has been reached whereby the operations of the soft coal mines in the United States will be continued for another year. With steel the basis for most war materiel production, the tie-up of the coal mines would have resulted in a sharp curtailment or even total suspension of armament manufacturing in the Republic and thus seriously menacing the success of the armed services in their drive for victory.

Exactly what the wage concessions granted the miners will mean in the terms of annual net increases is hard to determine, as is the amount of the general advance in the price of coal which will be needed to pay the increased costs. But there is one general cause of satisfaction in the terms of the compromise agreement. John L. Lewis will not collect his ten cents a ton royalty on all coal produced.

The effects of this royalty would have gone far beyond the actual increased cost involved. The payment of this sum would have placed a fund amounting to millions of dollars annually under the unchecked control of John L. Lewis to be used for the general interests of the movement. Out of this fund he could provide relief for needy miners or, if he so desired, he could use it for the support and promotion of some political bloc designed to advance his personal ambitions. There was no justification for this fund whatsoever, and the decision to drop the demand from the wage negotiations was a yielding to good sense.

With the threatened coal strike out of the way, industry can now set its goal for the all out production of the tools needed for victory.

THE NAZI AIR LOSSES MOUNT

The record of at least 397 German planes destroyed in a single day, established on Tuesday by the United Nations air forces on the West Front, is a striking proof of the efficacy of the earlier campaign of attrition carried on against Nazi oil installations and synthetic gasoline refineries. During the long months that preceded the great drive through Germany, Allied bombers and fighter-bombers made trip after trip to drop their loads on this or that refinery somewhere back of the German line. As the days passed and the German fighting potential appeared to remain unbroken despite the continued bombardments, the complaint was sometimes heard that these attacks were not worth the cost in bombs, planes and men.

But the events of the past few weeks have proved that a war cannot be won overnight and that no matter how brilliant an individual action may be, it cannot be fully effective unless the groundwork has been laid to exploit its favorable results. Thus, the successes of the land and air forces today were made possible by those Allied squadrons which carried out the thankless sorties during the apparent war of waiting.

So effective was their work that at the very time the Allies are sending ever-increasing fleets of attacking planes in the air, the remnants of the once-mighty Luftwaffe are compelled to remain on the ground owing to lack of fuel. Experts on war strategy have declared that the side which possesses superiority in the air holds an inestimable advantage in the overall fighting picture. But the Allies now possess not superiority. Rather they are supreme. They are able to travel through the air of the Reich almost at will with very little interference from German fighter planes. The German air force, once the mightiest in the world, has been cut down drastically by Allied attacks while the few planes that do remain to them cannot serve effectively due to lack of fuel.

EDITOR'S NOTE-BOOK

The Russians, long busy with those tough German customers up front, are about ready to give some attention to a party of Japs who have been waiting around for some time. We can hardly wait to see what the boys in the back room are going to get.

A captured member of the German Foreign Office says the Allies will have to occupy every town in Germany. They seem to have a pretty good start.

Affections are never stolen when kept where they belong.

The new Jap Cabinet is reported to include several ex-premiers. What is that saying about the bigger they are . . .

PRESS COMMENTS

PASS THE CHEESE, PLEASE

In an address to the members of the Western Ontario Cheesemakers' Association at Guelph, on Thursday, W. Frank Jones, President of the National Dairy Council of Canada, stated that cheese was a $40,000,000 business in this Dominion, the production amounting to 170,000,000 pounds a year, but Canadians themselves are not cheese eaters. Three times as much is exported as eaten locally, and he thought those who have to do with the cheese industry should do something to make Canadians acquainted with the nutritive value of their commodity.

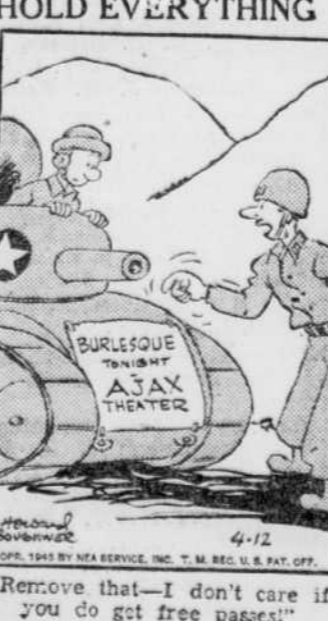

Cheese is a valuable food, and when such good cheese is produced in Canada it is surprising that the people do not make more use of it. Canadian cheddar is the finest made; a fact which is recognized in British market where it usually sells at a cent a pound more than that of any other country. The British are the greatest cheese-eating people in the world. In normal times they import nearly 3,000,000 hundredweights a year and while the Dominion sends them about 700,000 hundredweights, New Zealand sends them twice as much. The British consumption of cheese is about 8 1/2 pounds per capita, compared with Canadians' 3 1/2. Most of the cheese made here since the war has gone to Britain, and there is no fear that Canadian farmers and factories will ever over-produce and lack a British market. It is one of the safest bets the Canadian farmer can make.

But the question is how can Canadians be "educated" to eat more cheese? There should be a great field for sales promotion. Find out whether they like their cheese mild, medium or strong—and then undertake an advertising campaign. A small levy on production—so small that the individual farmer and manufacturer would not notice it—would do for cheese—the "safe" bet—what advertising did for the citrus fruit industry of California.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS WROTE

There are two branches of the newspaper calling that seem to adopt a journalistic lingo of their own, and if the general public were to adopt their type of English, Heaven help the English language. These are the sporting writers—or some of them, particularly on the metropolitan dailies—and the writers for papers dealing with the entertainment world. There are also some columnists who devise their own brand of English, notably Walter Winchell, who has undoubtedly coined expressions that seem to have become common usage. The "smart Aleck" sporting gents appear to belong to a sort of mutual admiration society. We can quite imagine one writer patting a rival on the back and telling him that was a snappy last night. Our only objection to the lingo of the sports is that they overwork a somewhat irreverent phrase about "the cash customers in the pews" to denote fight or wrestling fans.

We picked up The Billboard the other day, and many of the words and phrases intrigued us. For instance we wondered what was meant by "the crux" in reference to the season's plays, but further reading enabled us to deduce that the "crux" were the critics. The "info" on a subject is the information, and "ops" refer to picture house operators. Then a "crux" is a movie or vaudeville circuit, and the "hausfrau trade" is the listening audience to radio programmes in the daytime.

The "video jackpot" and "news segs" have us puzzled, although "segs" may mean segments. One writer stated that a new film is "pubbed" by So-and-So; we also noted that some one else "contributed" to a programme and that a new tune is a "socko." These were easily figured out, but we came to a "platter jockey," and arrived at the doubtful conclusion that it is a studio employee who puts gramophone records on a machine. A "wax session" turned out to be a gramophone programme. A "bottle" spot is a night club, and a "huge mitt" is a round of applause. An "ork," is an orchestra.

And so it goes. All this lingo is common talk among the entertainment intelligentsia, but to outsiders a glossary would be a necessity.

HAVE A SMILE

The skipper of a tramp steamer, writing the log recording an eventful day, rounded off his task with the entry: "Mate intoxicated." To the mate, who indignantly protested on reading it, the skipper retorted: "Well, it's true, ain't it?"

The following day it was the mate's turn to write the log. He completed his account with: "Skipper sober."

The captain stared at it for a moment, and then exploded.

"Well, it's true, ain't it?" was the mate's rejoinder.

A high school girl, seated next to a famous astronomer at a dinner party, struck up a conversation with him by asking: "What do you do in life?"

He explained: "I study astronomy."

"Dear me," said the girl, "I finished astronomy last year."

"Don't send any more shirts to that laundry, Maggie," said the husband.

"What's wrong now?" asked his wife.

"Nothing much," he replied. "Only I feel as if I'm wearing lace curtains."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE
 By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

AVOID A "SMOTHER" BY PROVIDING EXIT
 (This is the fourth of six articles on the smother play, the most difficult play in bridge to recognize.)

Today's hand is identical with the one given yesterday. I showed you where the declarer made his contract in using the smother play. However, I want to show you today how to defeat the contract.

The second diamond was ruffed the same as yesterday and the jack of clubs led again. Again East, of course, refuses to win with the ace and waits for the second club.

However, at this point, instead of returning a diamond, he returns a heart.

Now you will find that while the declarer can go over into dummy with the queen of clubs and take one finesse, when he throws West in with the heart, West will be able to exit with the diamond and thus the king of spades is bound to make.

Old Loves Just Ghosts

Middle-Age Craving for First Romance Can be Cured

Strange and curious and past all understanding are the ways of married people. Among the most inexplicable of their vagaries is that they so often react emotionally towards the sweethearts of their boyhood and girlhood as they do towards the little red apples that grew on Grandpa's farm, or the doughnuts that Mother used to make. They get a craving for them that gnaws at their hearts night and day, and that spoils all of their peaceful, comfortable, home lives.

In the course of a year I get hundreds of letters from both men and women telling of the anguish they are enduring at discovering that they are not in love with the wife or husband they have been married to for thirty or forty years, but that their one and great passion has always been for their adolescent romances. True, they never suspected it at the time. The boy went away from home to seek his fortune, fell in love with a pretty girl, or thought he did, and married her. A dashing youth came down the girl's street, caught her fancy, and she became his happy bride.

Both couples made homes, worked together, had children, and never doubted their affection for each other, until suddenly, along towards middle life, it occurs to them that they don't love their Marias or their Johns, and that they are pining for the Angelinas or Percivals they did not marry. It seems unbelievable that sensible men and women would drag these dead loves out of their graves and hold wakes over them and shed tears over them, but they do, and thereby they give themselves much unnecessary sorrow. For, after all, they are bound by the lives they have made, and there is always the good wife and the good husband and the children and the business and their places in society that they can't dump just because they didn't diagnose their emotion correctly when they were kids.

But, alas, in real life Romeo doesn't always stay Romeo, and Juliet sees him panchy and bald, with a conversational line that runs from the stock market to baseball, she wakes up from her girlish love dream forever. And when Romeo beholds Juliet with a middle-age spread and triple chins and listens to her babble about Junior cutting a new tooth, he is glad enough to return to his Maria whose curves, or angles, and disposition he is so accustomed to he doesn't even notice them.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

MAGOG

The meeting of the Magog Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. R. R. Merrill. The president, Mrs. F. Ball, conducted the meeting, and the theme was, "The Kingdom of God in the World." "Thy Kingdom Come O God," was chosen for the opening hymn. The showing of slides on the study book in the Church hall on Good Friday evening served as the meeting of the "Thank Offering."

A letter was read from the Presidential Secretary of Temperance and Christian Stewardship, stressing the responsibility of Christian Women in swaying public opinion and in instructing youth to take their share in the formation of a New World Order.

Two of the most outstanding evils of society are the drinking of alcohol and gambling, "the flat tires on the wheels of Community Progress," declared the Dominion Secretary, Urging Canadian women to beware of the danger of inflation, and to buy only what is essential, she stressed the need for denying oneself in order to help the world recover its economic balance.

Letters were read dealing with arrangements for the Quebec-Sherbrooke meeting here on May 2nd and 3rd. Mrs. George Hume and Mrs. Leonard Jackson were appointed as the billeting committee.

Following the disposal of the business period, inspiring extracts from the scripture told how knowledge of God can be propagated, how the establishment of His Church and justice and friendly international relations were the only foundations for a lasting peace.

The reading of Chapter 5 of the study book, "The Church of Burma," reviewed the pioneer work of modern missionaries. The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn, "O Word of God Incarnate," followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Delicious refreshments were then served to the members and their friends.

MELBORO

Melboro, April 7.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Fowler, with fifteen members attending. The President, Mrs. G. Frank, presided and the meeting opened with the pledge to the flag, the Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect.

The minutes of the last meeting were given by the Secretary, Mrs. Minnie Solomon, and were approved as read. The Treasurer, Mrs. R. Kerr, reported there was a balance on hand of $3.29 to begin the Institute year. Five members handed in their membership fees.

Mrs. R. Kerr resigned as delegate to the W.I. Convention at Macdonald College, in June, and Mrs. Minnie Solomon was appointed to take her place, with Mrs. R. Pariseau as substitute. The correspondence was read. One letter was from a sailor, Clifford Sanderson, thanking the W.I. ladies for a dirty bag that he had received. A letter was read from Mrs. P. Dumber asking the ladies if they wished to serve lunch at the auction sale at the Dunbar home, which is taking place next month. The ladies decided this would be an opportunity to raise funds for the Society, and several ladies were appointed to look after same. Two members handed in their birthday box contribution.

Three conveners gave their reports, Mrs. C. Taber, on Child Welfare and Health; Mrs. E. Noble, on Agriculture; and Mrs. A. Batchelor, on Publicity.

As this was the Publicity Convention meeting a contest was held, with Mrs. H. Fowler winning first prize and Mrs. O. A. Fowler the second. A humorous reading on "Publicity" was also given.

Mrs. John Barrington, a valued member of the W.I., who has moved to Ontario, is to be remembered with a gift. A collection is to be taken for the members, and four ladies were appointed to look after the purchasing and sending of this gift in the near future.

Two girls of the community who have recently returned from hospital care to be remembered with sunshiny baskets. Mrs. S. Morrison, Mrs. W. Adamson and Mrs. E. Noble, all handed in quilt blocks as there was nearly enough to put together for another quilt. Mrs. H. Fowler agreed to make up the amount needed and Mrs. W. Adamson offered to put them together. Mrs. S. Morrison offered to dye the bags for the scarcity of maple sugar this year, it was decided to send two quilts to the Navy League instead.

Mrs. H. Fowler secured the names of all those who are going to plant school gardens. These names are to be sent to Mr. Leon Beaudin, County Agronomer at once. Final plans for the Fall School Fair are to be completed at the May meeting.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem and all repeating the W.I. Prayer for the Armed Forces. Mrs. O. A. Fowler presided at the organ.

Delicious refreshments were provided by the members attending the last meetings during the past year, and were served by Mrs. H. Fowler, Mrs. O. A. Fowler and the Misses Gweneth Fowler and Bernice Adamson.

The Echenberg Extra

Vol. 1 No. 3 A FRIENDLY LINK BETWEEN STORE AND CUSTOMERS DURING ALTERATIONS

Open Up Entire Echenberg Front—End In Sight

Excellent Gains Noted As Workmen Advance Towards Their Objective — Heavy Steel Beams Brought Into Position.

It happened this morning! After several weeks of preparation, the huge task force under command of Gen.-Mgr. A. D. Echenberg began their break-through and opened up along the entire Echenberg Front. The end (of the store) is in sight (from the street) as the men began removal of the several obstacles which confronted their path as they prepared to place the heavy steel beams into position. The heavy concentration of nails and bolts and placing of the stagings was accomplished in record time, those in direct line of the frontal attack, (passers by on Wellington Street) being protected by a hastily-erected guard fence on the sidewalk. Windows along the whole first floor have been removed by the advancing forces and as soon as conditions will permit the ground floor windows will also be removed. Gen.-Mgr. Echenberg expressed the hope that if all goes well they may clean up the entire mess by the end of June.

Editorially Speaking...

SO NOW YOU'RE CURIOUS

It's amazing how interested folks get when they don't know what's going on. So many stores have found one of their most effective means of advertising is to whiten up their show windows and leave a small round "peep hole" for their customers to look through — it particularly results in a traffic jam in front of their store—and they say the public isn't curious! Well, we've found out that they are. Since we started remodelling our store we've had more questions and seen more people try to peek through our whitened-up windows than we ever thought possible. The thought of forming a "Sidewalk Superintendents Club" has been running through our minds, as the public has shown such great interest in what's going on and in trying to find out what we've got planned, but it just isn't possible with traffic conditions along Wellington Street, so we've decided to bare our secret through the press. Here's the story: We're tearing everything out, on our main floor, right to the bare walls, and reinforcing the entire building with steel girders. Our whole main floor will be given a complete "face-lifting," and those awkward old posts that used to clutter up the place will be removed. When finished, we will have a total floor space of some 13,000 square feet on the three floors of our store. Provision is being made for the installation of an elevator, if and when necessary. The whole front is being changed, and we will have new show windows with an arcade type of entrance. Modern offices, a concrete floor, and many other changes are contemplated, more of which will be told later. Suffice it to say that when finished, we'll have a store that will live up to its name: "A Modern Home For Modern Furniture — Sherbrooke's Largest Furniture Store—Echenberg's, of course!"

ECHENBERG'S ARE BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Just as they set the style for furniture, Echenberg's are paving the way for a new era in post war modernization of stores and homes. They are building for the future just as they help to furnish the homes of the future. The modern front will be a credit to the business section of the city.

INQUISITION CHAPTER XXII

Back at The Wagon Wheel I flirted with the idea of sitting up for Mr. Hudson. But somehow I had a feeling that this wouldn't be necessary. So I went to bed.

The next morning I was up early. I dressed and went immediately to the desk to ask if Mr. Hudson had come in. The clerk looked at me oddly.

"Mr. Hudson?" he asked reaching for the phone.

"Mr. Street, please," he told the operator.

"Not Mr. Street—Mr. Hudson," I said.

"Mr. Street is the manager," the clerk explained frigidly. Then into the phone:

"Mr. Street, Mr. Trent is asking for Mr. Hudson."

The desk clerk was still eyeing me warily when he hung up.

"Mr. Street wishes you to step into his office, Mr. Trent."

So with the little ditty about the spider and the fly running through my brain, I stepped into the manager's office and the moment I did I knew we had reached another milestone. There sat Inspector Marks. That crooked little smile sat on his lips, but somehow it looked slightly forced.

"Well, Inspector," I said, "aren't you a little off your beat?"

"A little," he nodded. "Sit down, Mr. Trent."

The manager was looking worried and nervous.

"You asked for Mr. Hudson?"

"Yes," I nodded.

"Why?" asked the inspector.

"He didn't come in last night. I was worried about him," I said.

"He planned to stay here at The Wagon Wheel?"

"Yes."

"Do you know why?"

"We were closing the house at Sandy Point. We intended to return to Boston this morning."

"Why not last night?" I said and I couldn't keep a twinge of irony out of my voice.

"Who was at this party?"

"I think that before answering any more questions I'm entitled to a question of my own. Why the inquisition?"

Marks studied me. Street, the manager, sensing that he was superfluous, departed.

"The usual reason," Marks said. "The thump of another body, Mr. Trent."

"Anyone I know?" I asked weakly.

Marks nodded. "Phineas Hudson," he said.

I sat down. The clock on the wall clicked. Two little doors flew open; a synthetic-looking cuckoo sailed out, cuckooed eight times, and slid back behind the doors again. Marks paid no attention to the clock. With the single-mindedness of a snake, he fixed his eyes upon my face.

"Who were the guests at this party?"

"There were seven of us; besides Mr. Hudson and his daughter, Charles Strand, Eric Woolf, myself, and Bruce Temple and his daughter Brenda."

"Eric Woolf." The inspector repeated the name. "Where is he now?"

"I don't know. He left yesterday after lunch."

"What time was it when you left The Ledges to come to Minot?"

"About six I should say. We had dinner at The Cock and Kettle, went to the movies; then, while Mr. Hudson returned to The Ledges for our luggage, we went to The Wagon Wheel to get rooms for the night. While we were waiting for Mr. Hudson to return, the fire alarm sounded. From the glow in the sky we suspected it might be The Ledges, drove over, looked for Mr. Hudson, then came back here again."

"Did you return to Sandy Point?"

To Be Continued.

"No." "Why not?" "Look," I said. "I'm trying to be co-operative, but you will have to use your imagination a little."

"I'm a detective, not a writer of mystery stories," answered Marks. "Mr. Trent, I have been in touch with Cass Hapes."

"Oh," I said. "Exactly."

"Do you think I killed Mr. Hudson?" I asked, looking Marks in the eye and daring him to meet my stare. But Marks wasn't looking at me.

"What I think is unimportant."

"How was he killed?"

"With a bullet," Marks sat up. "Would you care to see?"

"Not especially," I said, "but I'll look."

We went out through the lobby, and I saw the top of the Hudsons' station wagon parked under the porte cochere. I looked inside and turned green. Evidently Phineas Hudson had just been getting out of the car, when the murderer had struck the gun in his face and let him have it. Half-turned to get out of the car, he looked curiously pathetic. I turned away and Marks said: "Not a very pretty sight."

"Marks," I said, "do you think I could do a thing like that?"

He lifted one eyelid at me.

"If you're going to stay in this game, you'll have to learn."

We went back into Street's office. Marks faced me across the manager's desk.

"Son, I think it's about time you talked, because either you've killed a man and the state will kill you, or somebody is going to kill you first and save the state the trouble."

Many Attend Christening Ceremony Performed At Ayer's Cliff Church

Ayer's Cliff, April 12.—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cass (nee Pauline Hurd) of Montreal, was christened on Easter Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. J. Bedford, pastor in charge. The child received the names Stuart Thornton, Mrs. Wendell Cass, of St. Lambert, stood proxy for the godmother, Mrs. Maurice Paige, of Toronto, and the godfather was Mr. Wendell Cass, of St. Lambert. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurd were "at home" to friends and relatives.

An informal buffet supper was served in the dining room, which was attractively and artistically decorated in Easter colors, and lighted by glowing candlelight. Mrs. Wendell Cass poured tea and the attractive table was centered with a bowl of spring flowers, with rose and yellow tapers. Mrs. Hurd served and was assisted by Mrs. David Young.

General Notes An item of interest in the Eastern Townships and especially in this community is the news that the Rev. Graham Barr, B.A., B.D., who has been pastor of St. Andrew's United Church, Scotstown, for two years, has received and accepted a call approved by the Presbytery from the Dominion Douglas Church, of Montreal, where he will be the assistant minister to the Rev. Wyman presented the surprised guest of honor with a Waterman pen and pencil set, expressing to him their sincere regret in losing him and his family from the community and the choir, in which he had been such a help, but wished him and his family every success and happiness. LEAFS EXPECT TOUGH OPPOSITION FROM DETROIT WINGS TONIGHT

Toronto Plays Third Game Of Series Holding Two-Game Lead

The Toronto Maple Leafs, now two games ahead in the final of the Stanley Cup playoffs, are looking to the Detroit Red Wings for a tough struggle tonight when the two aggregations meet in the third game of the series at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Following the point system, the Leafs are leading by four points to none, having won the first two games.

Playing the series with caution, the Leafs are not overconfident and though they gained shutouts in both of the first two games, they are not inclined to underestimate their Detroit rivals and expect plenty of trouble yet from the Motor City team.

The defensive style of hockey adopted by the Leafs in the first games at Detroit apparently irked Manager Jack Adams, of the Wings. Adams declares that the hockey provided was dull for the fans and that he was going to the Motor City, where he was going to instruct his charges to play the game on a defensive basis.

The Wings arrived in Toronto yesterday with an 11-player roster, including goalie Gerry Mathieu, who spent the season with the Indianapolis Capitals this season after having an unsuccessful start with the Wings at the beginning of the sched-

1945 SENATORS NOT COUNTING ON TAKING LOOP

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Nobody, including Manager Ossie Bluege, is kidding himself about the chances of Washington Senators winning the American League pennant this year.

Fans hereabouts learned their lesson last spring when the Senators were picked to finish first and wound up last.

This year's team is little changed from the 1944 club so perhaps the most the Senators can hope to do is to get out of the cellar by a notch or two.

Two new men have moved into the outfield, George Binks, who batted .374 for Milwaukee last season, and Walter Chippell, a .288 hitter from Montreal. Neither has hit the ball hard so far.

Besides a lack of batting punch, another worry is the infield through which many a game got away last season.

Johnny Sullivan, erratic shortstop, is in the armed forces, and Gil Torres, third baseman, probably will shift over to make the infield steadier.

The veteran Joe Kuhel, looking five years younger, is back at first, and George Myatt at second, with Harold Clift apparently in his old-time stride at third base.

Dutch Leonard, John Niggeling, Roger Wolff, Mickey Haefer and Alex Carrasquel will do most of the pitching along with Marino Pieretti, pitch-sized winner of 26 games in the

St. Mike's Trounce Royals By 7-4 To Advance To Cup Final

Toronto, April 12.—(AP)—Unless Coach Joe Primeau of Toronto St. Michael's Majors has his wrist crossed, the Memorial Cup finals with Moose Jaw Canucks will almost be an anti-climax to the Eastern Canada Junior hockey finals.

Majors last night registered a 7-4 victory against Montreal Royals in the sixth game of the best-of-seven eastern final to qualify to meet Canucks for the Dominion Junior crown. The victory was the third straight for St. Mike's after they had dropped two of the first three meetings.

"The eastern final was tougher than I expect the final will be," Primeau said. "Our Ontario Hockey Association finals with Galt and St. Catharines were tough but we knew the teams had played them all season."

"We were fresh for the series with Porcupine (Combines) but were tense for the finals with Montreal. The tension now is gone—the crisis is past."

Majors dipped into their bag of razzle-dazzle and came up with four goals in the first 10 minutes, added a fifth in the second period and when Royals drew within striking distance of the lead in the last session, added two more. Royals scored two goals each in the first and third periods.

EXPECT NAMING OF BALL MOGUL IN STATES SOON

By JIMMY JORDAN
Chicago, April 12.—(AP)—Selection of a Baseball Commissioner to succeed the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis may be completed within the next two weeks.

A meeting of the sixteen presidents of major league clubs to act on a report of a big-league committee which had considered application for the job was called by Leslie M. O'Connor, chairman of the Major League Advisory Council, yesterday at the request of Will Harridge and Ferd Frick, Presidents of the American and National Leagues, respectively.

The four—Don Barnes of St. Louis and Alva Bradley of Cleveland, representing the American League; and Sam Breadon of St. Louis, and P. K. Wrigley of Chicago, of the National League—asked that the meeting be held in Cleveland April 24.

Whether a definite decision would be reached at the meeting, a week after the opening of the baseball season, remained unknown. Neither the four-man committee nor the Major League Presidents indicated who the candidates may be.

James F. Byrnes, recently resigned Director of War Mobilization, frequently has been mentioned as a possible candidate. So has James Farley, former Postmaster-General. Neither has indicated he would accept the job.

Wrigley declined to discuss the nature of the committee report yesterday—whether it recommended one candidate or several, or possibly a continuation of the three-member committee of Frick, Harridge and O'Connor who have been filling the office since Landis' death.

Annual Carpet Bowling Games Start At Lennoxville Friday

Final arrangements have been completed for the annual carpet bowling bonspiel which is to be held at Lennoxville on the week-end. The bonspiel is scheduled to start tomorrow with the finals fixed for Saturday night.

Last year, the carpet bowling matches enjoyed great success with a good number of teams participating. This season, the affair seems headed for even greater success with twenty-four rinks entered so far in the tournament.

Kinnear's Mills, who had no entry last year, are sending one rink for the bonspiel tomorrow. The Sherbrooke Old Fellows are sending three entries while the St. Paul's Men's Club is to be represented by two rinks.

The Sherbrooke Temple Club, among whose ranks are some of the best carpet bowlers in the district, is sending five rinks into the competition this year.

Waterville, another centre of carpet bowling activity, will have four rinks participating in the event.

Heading the list of entries is the Lennoxville Men's Own Club, which is sponsoring the bonspiel. The Lennoxville group has eight rinks lined up for competition and hope to be able to win the event.

Bringing the list to an end, the Lennoxville Curling Club is entering one rink.

Last year, the teams fought through the bonspiel with the Sherbrooke Temple Club taking top honours to gain possession of the Hunting Trophy.

Waterville also entered with good rinks and copped the Wharram Trophy to make their participation a success.

Fashion Craft Upsets Kayser To Enter Bowling Loop Final

The Fashion Craft squad, upsetting the Kayser aggregation in the semi-final playoffs of the City Duck Pin Bowling League, scored an upset win to gain the right to meet Perrault's in the playoffs final, which will be held next Sunday.

The Fashion Craft, who had disposed of East Sherbrooke in the last quarter-final, were behind by 207 points at the end of the first round of the semi-finals against the Kayser who finished the regular season at the head of the Gerry Mathieu circuit, having lost this round 1,955 to 2,192. In the second round the Jean-Marc St. Cyr players accumulated a big enough total of points to overthrow the players from the Kayser and win by 2,239 to 2,097, which gave them the series by 25 points.

In the other semi-final, Perrault's increased the gain they had made in the first round, eliminating Patoin's who had finished in fourth position, by 327 points. Perrault's who had won the first round by a margin of 206, 2,305 to 2,099, added another 25 points to their gain in their second round of three games, which they won by 2,060 to 1,939. This gave them a margin of 327 points for the series.

Captain Jean-Marc St. Cyr greatly contributed to the success of the Fashion Craft by rolling 503 points for the triple with 196 and highest score (single) and 170 and 142. In addition to this, four of his players rolled up a total score of over 400.

In the second round of the other semi-final, Alphonse Dube was the star of Perrault's with a score of 486 for the three games, his highest single being 193 in the third frame.

The final game between Perrault's and Fashion Craft will be played next Sunday afternoon at the New Wellington bowling alleys.

LETTERS To The SPORT EDITOR

Dear Sir—

As the playoff season in local basketball circles has come around, it might be a good time to bring up a few points with regards to basketball next year.

First, no one who has followed this year's games can say that they were not provided with good basketball.

The sport has been on the boom all season, with a tendency to be even more popular next year from what I have been told by other teams willing to take part in both the men's and ladies' leagues. But if we continue to have certain ones running the league, it will be a dead issue.

According to reports of the last meeting, two coaches, of different squads, were against the Y's Men having replacements for injured players and those who left for some branch of the services, because this would be breaking a so-called constitution. The request was refused because there was no one at that time with a discharge.

What are they trying to do? Run a selective service on a basketball floor? Soon one will have to get a card from them to play a sport that contributes toward keeping up the morale at home! What a laugh!

There are a great many players who have forgotten more about the game than some who are coaching and trying to run things will ever know.

Let us all hope that next year referees will be appointed who have nothing whatever to do with any team; we will be affiliated with the P.Q.A.B.A.; that some of the child-like clauses in the constitution be thrown out, and that we see basketball encouraged, not run down.

C. L. MULLINS.

GEORGIANS DOWN HALIFAX 52-29 TO TAKE ROUND

The Montreal Georgians, chalking up a 52-29 triumph over the Halifax "B" at Montreal last night, earned the right to enter the eastern basketball finals as the win gave them a total-points victory of 85-58 over their Halifax rivals.

The Georgians will now meet the Merriton Hayes Helcats for the eastern crown at St. Catharines soon.

The Georgians, playing good defensive ball, were leading at half-time by a 21-15 count and had little trouble in disposing of their rivals.

Dave Greenberg was outstanding for the Montrealers as he scored a total of 13 points.

Al McLeod and Ed McGinnis were the best for the Halifax crew as each chalked up a total of six points.

If the highways of the United States were laid out end to end in a single long line, there would be a filling station for each mile.
