ITALY WOULD France And Britain Plan Drastic Move To Preserve Treaty

Threaten to Steer Balkan States Away from Friendship with Italy as "Last Resort" Pressure Against Il Duce's Threat to Withdraw from Non-Intervention Accord and Re-assume Full Liberty of Action Following Charge that France Violated Agreement—Charge Seen as Italian Attempt at "Retreat with Honor."

Paris, April 6.—France and Great Britain were reported today ready to bring "last resort" pressure against Premier Mussolini to halt any possibility of Italian withdrawal from the agreement to isolate the Spanish civil war.

The two governments, informed sources in Paris told the Associated Press, would attempt to hold Italy in line with the twenty-seven nation non-intervention agreement by a threat to steer the Balkan states away from that friendship with Italy which Mussolini is so eager to obtain.

Such a move, in answer to statements by an Italian spokesman that his country might withdraw from the efforts to keep the Spanish war from spreading, the Paris source said, would be taken only as a "last resort."

The Italian threat of withdrawal and re-assumption of "full liberty of action" in Spain was based on authoritative charges in Rome that France has "flagrantly violated" the non-intervention accord in permitting aid to the Madrid Government. Should Italy prefer formal charges against France before the non-intervention committee which has been called into session for this week, informed sources said it would indefinitely postpone any effective and definite action to bar volunteers and munitions from Spain.

The purpose set for the committee session was final approval of a date to make the blockade of the Spanish coasts by a multi-power naval patrol effective.

The advisory committee has already set the date, but some informed quarters feared necessary approval of the full committee would be balked by Count Dino Grandi, the Italian ambassador, bringing a formal accusation that French arms and airplanes had helped the Government offensive.

Rome sources, however, remained vague on whether such charges would be placed before the neutrality group. The Italian Government spokesman said there was no reason to doubt the authenticity of the charges made by the authoritative newspaper Giornale d'Italia which said inquiries must be made by Grandi before Rome could determine if the alleged French violations justified withdrawal. The Italian charges were described by French officials as part of an attempt by Premier Mussolini to "retreat with honor," by explaining the defeat of insurgent troops, reported by the Madrid Government to be largely Italian, as due to help from France.

ATLANTIC OCEAN INTERFERES WITH COURT AND SCHOOLS

London, Ont., April 6.—The Atlantic Ocean was blamed yesterday for delaying the opening of court here yesterday, also for the absence of several Ontario School teachers from their classes. It was easily explained, however—a heavy storm lashing the coast prevented boats venturing out of harbor. A judge and school teachers were returning from a visit to Bermuda.

Expected Stringent Economies Will Be Main Feature Of Quebec Budget

With All Appropriations Pared to Bone, First All-Union Nationale Budget to Be Presented in Legislature Today Is Expected to Produce a Balance Between Revenues and Expenditure—Opening of Public Accounts Probe to Follow Inauguration of Budget Speech Debate.

Quebec, April 6.—Quebec's first all-Union Nationale budget comes down today in the Legislature.

Hon. Martin Fisher, Provincial Treasurer in the seven-month-old Government, was to table it this afternoon after the week-end recess. It will be the first budget for which the young administration accepts full responsibility.

Last fall, Fisher brought down a budget at an emergency session of the Legislature; but that was a temporary one drawn up by the Liberal Government just before the Union Nationale party ousted it at the polls on August 17th.

Though the new budget's contents were a strict secret before the House convened, members expected the Treasurer would announce in his stringent economies in public funds in an attempt to produce a balance.

It was expected appropriations would be pared to the bone all along the line.

Debate on the budget proposals appeared likely to extend well into next week, with Opposition Leader T. D. Bouchard and Peter Berocovich, Liberal, Montreal St. Louis, training the heaviest guns on the Government's financial programme.

Tomorrow, with the opening of the budget debate out of the way, the Public Accounts Committee of the House was to resume the inquiry into Government departments that brought many resignations and dismissals last year and paved the way for the old government's downfall.

Witnesses have been subpoenaed for the probe's re-opening, but their names were kept secret today. It was understood, though, the Department of Lands and Forests would be first to undergo scrutiny.

WATER WAS SIX FEET DEEP IN SOME PARTS OF NORTH BAY TODAY

North Bay, Ont., April 6.—Water was six feet deep in some parts of North Bay today as one of the worst floods in the city's history appeared imminent. After a twenty-four hour rain, water swept down from the hills, causing Chipewewa Creek to overflow its banks.

All Parties Unite In Demand For Reform Of Constitution

Demand Heard from Many Corners of House of Commons for Abolition of Appeals to Privy Council Following Charge of Former Secretary of State that Law Lords Had Persistently Misquoted the British North America Act—Conservative Leader Renews Plea for Holding of Constitutional Conference.

Ottawa, April 6.—Recent decisions of the judicial committee of the Privy Council rejecting social legislation of the Bennett Government were under heavy fire in the House of Commons yesterday from leading constitutional authorities in a debate that drew from Justice Minister Lapointe support for the suggestion that appeals to that body be abolished.

Conservative Leader Bennett would not go that far, but bitterly criticised the method of referring the social legislation to the courts and the manner in which argument was presented. He supported his former Secretary of State, Hon. C. H. Cahan (Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George) in the charge that in its decisions the judicial committee persistently had misquoted the British North America Act. He urged a national convention to frame amendments to that document.

Joseph Thorson (Liberal, Selkirk) declared the time had come when appeals to the Privy Council should be abolished. That already had been effected in criminal cases and should be done in the case of civil actions. All four speakers agreed that constitutional amendments were a pressing necessity.

The debate arose when the House was in committee considering the estimates of the Department of Justice. It was launched by Mr. Cahan, veteran parliamentarian and eminent constitutional authority.

Earlier in the day the House dealt Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 3.

BRITISH PRESS DEFENDS SOUTH AFRICAN MOVE

Surprise Expressed at German Protest Against Union Government Ban on Nazi Propaganda Activities in the Mandated Southwest Africa.

London, April 6.—The Morning Post in an editorial today expressed surprise at the German protest against South Africa's proclamation curbing Nazi activities in Southwest Africa.

"What indeed is remarkable," the Morning Post declared, "is not that the South African Government should have issued the proclamation but that they delayed it so long in the vain hope the Nazis, both in the Reich and locally, would themselves cease provoking those 'tensions' in Southwest Africa which the German Government, by a curious inversion of appropriate roles, asks the Union Government to eliminate through mutual understanding."

"The Nazis have just opened in Frankfurt a colonial exhibition, the avowed object of which is to create propaganda for the return of colonies, including Southwest Africa. Their whole record in Southwest Africa is one of incessant effort to hasten the attainment of this objective, by fair means or foul, knowing, as they do, of the declared resolve of the Union Government not to cede the mandate, with whom lies the initiative to promote mutual understanding?"

GERMAN OFFICIALS TAKE A "GRAVE VIEW" OF EDITORS
Berlin, April 6.—German official circles today took a grave view of the anti-Nazi measures in Southwest Africa.

"It is no use the Union Government thinking it can act exactly as it pleases just because it is 'far away,' one spokesman said. 'The world is very small today and we take the matter very seriously. Even if we cannot do anything at present, we shall most certainly take note of the matter. The Union's policy is certain to have repercussions.'"

An official protest was presented to the South African Government yesterday. The measures taken in the pre-war German territory of southwest Africa were described by the semi-official newspaper Diplomat as "wilful political discrimination" and the first step towards annexing the territory to the Union.

Discussing Textile Industry Problems

The problem of the forty-hour week is the principal issue now before the experts from twenty-three countries attending the Technical Tripartite Conference on the Textile Industry at Washington, D. C. Among the delegates and technical advisers pictured are: Left, A. P. Drost, technical adviser to the Dutch Government; centre picture, Paul Schlumberger, of France, and Walter Becker, official observer for Germany; right, Sir Firoz Khan Noon, High Commissioner for India in London.

SETTLERS FACE STARVATION IN MANY REGIONS

Temiscouata Member Tells House of Commons that Many Colonists Have Been Placed on Poor Land, Lacking Wood and With Too Few Animals to Work the Land or Provide Food.

Ottawa, April 6.—Desperate conditions among settlers in Temiscouata county were described in the House of Commons today by J. F. Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata, as the House considered the unemployment relief bill in committee of the whole.

The settlers had been placed on poor land in many cases without timber and had nothing to live on but a meagre relief allowance, he said. They had too few animals to enable them to work the land or provide them with food. The settlers had been placed on rocks from which the timber had been cut off by lumber companies.

Mr. Pouliot cited cases after cases of settlers with families with no cows, no pigs, no sheep, no horses and only a few hens. Some of them had little firewood on their lots but few had construction timber with which to erect buildings.

Responsibility for the condition was laid by Mr. Pouliot at the door of the Quebec Government, particularly J. E. Laforce, Deputy Minister of Colonization, who had been loaned to the Government by the Canadian National Railways.

"I don't want to take up the time of the House," said Mr. Pouliot, "but when men are in the face of starvation it is time to bring it to the attention of the House."

Most of the settlers had many children and few animals. In some cases babies were fed the juice of pork and beans instead of milk. Sometimes the people were forced to make soup out of wild roots in order to feed themselves. Mr. Pouliot hoped action would be taken to see that money paid by the federal government to Quebec reached the settlers, that these settlers were moved to good land with timber on it and that the responsibility of the Quebec Deputy Minister of Colonization for the condition be brought to the attention of the Quebec Government.

Peiping April 6.—Many foreign tourists travelled out to the temple of heaven today to witness the public execution of four drug addicts.

THE WEATHER

FAIR AND COMPARATIVELY COOL

A fairly deep disturbance, centred this morning over northwest Quebec, has caused rain in Ontario and Quebec with part snow in the far north, while it has been fair in the Maritimes. Light rain or snow has occurred in Saskatchewan and in some parts of Manitoba and southeast Alberta, but it continues comparatively mild over the West with low pressure extending over the greater part of the Western Provinces and far west states. Pressure is high south of Nova Scotia and southwestward from the Great Lakes.

Forecast: Strong southwest to northwest winds; scattered showers or snowflurries; cooler tonight. Wednesday: Fair and comparatively cool.

Northern New England: Cloudy, rain in the east and north portions tonight. Wednesday: Generally fair; not much change in temperature.

BLACK TOM AND KINGSLAND WAR CASES STUDIED

U.S. Agent on German-American Mixed Claims Commission Referees Controversy Over Division of $20,000,000 to Be Paid by Germany to North American Claimants.

Washington, April 6.—Robert W. Bonyne, United States claims agent on the German-American Mixed Claims Commission, stepped forward today to referee a controversy over division of $20,000,000 to be paid by Germany to North American claimants for wartime damages.

Germany, against whom the United States entered the Great War twenty years ago today, has no legal interest in the fight.

Final decision which group will receive the greatest share of the money, now held in the United States Treasury, will be made by the Claims Commission.

Bonyne said he would not object to the application of forty-eight American award holders to intervene in a proposed settlement of the Black Tom and Kingsland cases of alleged sabotage.

Arranged against each other are two groups:

1. Canadian Car and Foundry Company of Montreal, the Lehigh Valley Railroad, Bethlehem Steel company and one hundred and fifty insurance underwriters favor acceptance of an agreement made at Munich last July by which they would receive $22,474,736—fifty per cent. of the face value of their claims—and five per cent. interest.

2. A group of forty-eight award holders who have received the amount of their awards but have not received about $60,000,000 in interest, contend the proposed settlement would take all available German funds and leave them without opportunity to collect. Among them are Western Electric Company, Equitable Trust Company, Atlantic Refining Company, Guaranty Trust Company, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Eastman Kodak Company, Swift and Company, and the International Harvester Company.

Most of the one hundred and fifty-four cases involved in the settlement resulted from explosions at the Black Tom, N.J., terminal of the Lehigh Valley in 1917, and the Kingsland, N.J., plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company in 1916, before the United States entered the war.

The United States contended the explosions were the work of German agents.

The German Government denied the charge and in offering a final settlement said it admits no liability.

CRASHED INTO CAR SHORTLY AFTER STEALING AMBULANCE

Ottawa, April 6.—An ambulance stolen here last night while attendants were preparing to move a patient to hospital, crashed into an automobile a few blocks away just as the patient was wheeled out of the house.

Henri Duval, eighteen years old, of Montreal, was arrested at the scene of the crash. Police said he told them he took the ambulance on an "impulse."

PRINCESS JULIANA AND HUSBAND RETURN HOME

Paris, April 6.—Princess Juliana, heiress to the throne of the Netherlands, and her husband Prince Bernhard started back to The Hague by automobile today after ending their honeymoon with a whirl at Paris night life. At one night club they met the Aga Khan.

Zagreb, Yugoslavia, April 6.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off from Zagreb today and turned the nose of their touring monoplane toward the north.

ABANDON HOPE FOR SAFETY OF MISSING PLANE

Plane Manufacturers Convinced that Airliner with Eight Persons Aboard Was Forced to Land in Rugged Country Along Arizona-New Mexico Border.

Winslow, Ariz., April 6.—Belief persisted today that an airliner, missing for three days with eight persons aboard, would be found in rugged, snow-covered country along the Arizona-New Mexico border—probably wrecked.

Major Victor Bertrandias, export manager for Douglas Aircraft Corporation which built the plane for sale to the Royal Dutch Airlines of Holland, held to such a conviction despite a two-day plane search of the area.

The huge de luxe skyliner left Los Angeles on Saturday and was being "ferried" to New York for consignment to Holland.

Bertrandias, who took full charge of the hunt, said the unsolicited reports of a plane having been seen in apparent distress "have been too consistent" to be ignored.

Although searchers had not abandoned all hope, Major Bertrandias shook his head after a flight over the Mt. Baldy region. "It's the roughest country I've ever seen," he said. "Only by a miracle could a ship have survived a landing there. Absolutely nothing but bad weather could have caused this. Glen Moser, the pilot, had orders not to fly through dangerous weather. Evidently he was only trying to escape bad weather when he veered south and ran into trouble."

The plane had no radio transmitter and only a "short" receiving set.

WRECKAGE OF PLANE SIGHTED

Albuquerque, N.M., April 6.—Major A. D. Smith, division superintendent of the Transcontinental and Western Air, in a radio message to the airport here today said the wreckage of an airplane was sighted northwest of Mount Baldy in eastern Arizona.

The veteran pilot, flying a trimotor transport, said the wreckage was in an inaccessible region. He told airport operatives here his ship was circling the spot until Major Victor Bertrandias could arrive from Winslow with his ship, which had been held on the ground there for an emergency.

Wild Confusion Reported Sweeping Basque Capital As Fascists Drive Ahead

Panicky from Nearness of Insurgent Armies, Residents of Loyalist-Held Cities of Durango and Bilbao Reported Evacuating Amid "Serious Disorders"—Rebel Leaders Claim Two Thousand Government Dead Counted on Rain-Swept Basque Battlefields—Soldiers Who Fled Under Cover of Darkness Claim Two Insurgent Officers Have Set Up Reign of Terror on Top of Besieged Mountain.

Vitoria, Spain, April 6.—Insurgent commanders, their advance guards within sight of strategic Durango, claimed to have counted two thousand Government dead in the rain-swept Basque battlefields of Northern Spain today.

Many Government militiamen fell, General Emilio Mola's headquarters said, when a Basque tank column bogged down on muddy mountain roads, exposing defending infantrymen to rifle and machine gun fire.

Panicky from the nearness of the insurgent army, residents of Durango and Bilbao were reported evacuating amid "great confusion" and "serious disorders."

Durango itself lies sixteen miles from Bilbao on an improved highway, offering means for a quick push on the Biscay coast capital in event of capture. The insurgent front line was less than eight miles from Durango, according to today's advices.

*STARVATION MENACING BAND ON MOUNTAIN TOP

Andujar, Spain, April 6.—Two determined insurgent officers were reported today to have set up a reign of terror over 1,500 slowly starving men, women and children on top of El Cabezo Mountain in Southern Spain.

A story of spreading sickness from malnutrition and of iron-handed subjugation of a move toward capitulation after eight months of siege was brought down from the 2,000-foot high fastness by three men who fled under cover of night and surrendered to Government troops.

The deserters, two civil guards and the young son of the chief guard of Lugar Nuevo Palace, pictured the insurgents as driven to desperation by hunger and accused the commanders, a Captain Cortes and a Lieutenant Ruano, of quelling dissent with terrorism.

The unremitting siege and more recently the establishment of an aerial blockade against insurgent planes, which had periodically dropped food to the refugees, finally has brought the alternative of surrender or starvation.

Meanwhile, the mountain-top was being subjected to repeated attack by Government bombing planes.

The three who escaped to the government lines said that of the 1,500 persons, only 450 were combatants. When the three deserters reached the Government lines they immediately appealed through loud-speakers to those they had left, beseeching them to surrender under a Government offer to spare the lives of all.

FASCIST BATTLESHIP SINKS PANAMA VESSEL

Automobile And Coal Mine Troubles Keeping 125,000 Wage Earners Idle

Although Prospects for Settlement of Automobile Strike Appear Bright, Soft Coal Miners in Southern States Face a Long Lay-Off Pending Approval of New Contract—Three New Attempts to Obtain Formal Condemnation of Sit-Down Strikes Kept Issue Before U.S. Senate.

Chicago, April 6.—Labor troubles in automotive plants of the north and coal mines of the south kept more than 125,000 United States wage earners idle today.

Between the geographical extremes were scores of minor industrial disturbances.

Prospects for a quick settlement of the Chrysler Motor Corporation strike involving eighty thousand workers were bright but twenty thousand Alabama miners and seven thousand around Knoxville, Tenn., faced the possibility of a long layoff pending approval of a new contract.

All mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation remained idle, too, pending negotiations on agreements covering working conditions. The Alabama and Tennessee miners, a union spokesman said, would demand time and a half for overtime and a wage increase.

Observers felt settlement of strikes involving ten thousand Hudson Motor Car company employees, and 2,200 Reo Motor Car company workers hinged on the outcome of the Chrysler parley. It affected sixty-five thousand Chrysler workers and twenty thousand employees of automotive firms selling to Chrysler.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corp., condemned sit-down strikes in a statement issued at Phoenix, Ariz. Their seriousness, he said, lay not in themselves but "in what they lead to."

The Committee for Industrial Organization started a unionization drive in the oil industry with assurance from a union leader that sit-down strikes were not on the programme.

FINE PROGRESS IS RECORDED IN Y.M.C.A. DRIVE

Two-Days' Canvassing Realizes Encouraging Sum of $1,577.50 in Maintenance Fund for $4,500—First Returns Submitted at Dinner in Y.M.C.A. Last Evening.

Already the encouraging sum of $1,577.50 has been subscribed to the Y.M.C.A. maintenance fund campaign, which was launched only two days ago.

The first official report on the campaign was submitted at a dinner sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary in the Y.M.C.A. last evening.

The gathering was presided over by Walter Mutchler, campaign chairman, and the guest-speaker was W. R. Cook, a member of the Toronto National Council of the Y.M.C.A. Reports submitted last night showed that the $1,577.50 had been received from 108 subscribers. The team captained by Alderman J. R. Sangster had forty-nine subscribers totalling $1,185. This was followed by the team headed by A. C. Stevens with $221 from twenty-two subscribers. J. H. Wark's team submitted $72 from nine subscribers, while the reports of J. W. Terrey, presented by Harry Grundy, and G. Dick showed amounts of $27 and $46.50, respectively.

Mr. Cook, the guest-speaker, who was introduced by A. C. Stevens, explained his interest in youth and pointed out that in order to better the lives of the young people of today it would be necessary to apply three processes, instruction, development of motives and application of habit.

The speaker emphasized the fact that young men need a place such as the Y.M.C.A. where they can develop good health and make friends. Fellowship comes out of a common task and is applied by doing. It applies not only to individuals but also to groups.

Mr. Cook remarked that it was difficult for boys and young men to choose a vocation today because of the different views existing and they are often confused. He claimed character qualifications spoiled many a young life and it was only in such a place as the Y.M.C.A. that young men could be approached with a view to proper training. In conclusion the speaker urged the committees to co-operate with boys and young men as much as possible.

D. J. Salls thanked the speaker, on behalf of the gathering, and R. Richardson moved a vote of thanks to the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Prior to the business meeting, Gordon Armitage led in a peppy sing-song with Reg. Moulton at the piano.

Two attendance prizes were won by Carl Griffith and Fred Simpson.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE HITS EDMONTON

Edmonton, April 6.—Three hundred sit-down strikers remained in the Edmonton plant of Swift Canadian Co. Ltd. today and announced they intend to remain until their demands for Saturday afternoon holidays and union recognition are granted.

The strike was called Saturday but, after nine hours, the men left when officials agreed they could return to work. Continuance of the strike was ordered yesterday afternoon.

WINDSOR MAN SUCCUMBED TO HEART ATTACK

Kenneth MacLeod, Employee of Canada Paper Co., Was Found Dead in His Room in the Chateau Windsor by Manager of Hotel.

Windsor Mills, April 6.—Kenneth MacLeod, forty-seven years old, was found dead in his bed in the Chateau Windsor yesterday by P. Pye, manager of the hotel.

Mr. MacLeod retired on Sunday evening in apparently good health. During the evening he had chatted with others in the hotel. In the morning, he failed to respond to the bell when he was called at six o'clock and it was believed he was sick. When MacLeod failed to show up at eleven o'clock, the manager forced the door of his room open and found the man dead in bed. Dr. Tanner was immediately called and pronounced MacLeod's death to be a heart attack.

Mr. MacLeod came to Windsor Mills from Scotland about twelve years ago and since then had been employed by the Canada Paper Company. He has not been in good health for the past three months. However, he started back to work about three weeks ago and was apparently regaining his health. His only known relative is a niece residing in Montreal.

half of the Union Hospital's personnel, excluding nurses and doctors, struck at Terre Haute, Ind., for a closed shop, shorter hours and more pay.

Three new attempts to obtain formal condemnation of sit-down strikes kept the troublesome issue before the Senate, which rejected a proposal to insert a denunciation in the Guffey-Vinson coal bill.

The new resolutions would require no approval by the United States president. Informed observers predicted one of them would be adopted.

Democratic Leader Robinson, in fact, said he intended to bring one of the three—or a substitute of his own—to the floor tomorrow when the Senate meets after a day's recess.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT OF CHRYSLER STRIKE TODAY

Lansing, Mich., April 6.—A prediction the Chrysler automotive strike might be settled today raised hopes that eighty thousand workers would be back at their jobs in Michigan motorcar and parts factories next week.

When the conference between representatives of the Corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America adjourned last night Governor Frank Murphy said "there is no comment I can make."

As that session convened there were reports it would be only "a matter of hours" before an agreement would be reached. As usual, neither Walter P. Chrysler, Corporation chairman, nor John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, supporting the strikers, made any comment.

Without announcement or explanation, Chrysler and other company executives conferred here last night with the managers of the eight Detroit plants which are closed. The managers remained in Lansing overnight.

From an authoritative source came the prediction that a settlement might be obtained today. This informant said that a settlement might be expected tomorrow at the latest, if not today.

The same authority said the Chrysler-U.A.W.A. compact would be "far more explicit than the General Motors plan" and would be drawn so carefully "that only minor disturbances can follow."

Governor Murphy has said several times that he expected the Chrysler settlement to serve as a pattern for strikes in the Hudson Motor Car Company's plants at Detroit and the Reo Motor Car Company's truck factory at Lansing. Ten thousand Hudson employees and 2,200 Reo workers are idle.

Termination of the month-old Chrysler tie-up would return to work nearly 65,000 employees of that company and also approximately 20,000 workers of companies supplying it with bodies and other parts.

with a resolution upon which will be based legislation authorizing the Government to guarantee seed loans by the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and passed through committee stage the bill amending and consolidating the Combines Investigation Act.

Today the House will take up the unemployment relief bill for 1937 and estimates of the Pensions Department.

Regarding abolition of appeals to the Privy Council, as suggested by Mr. Thorson, the Justice Minister reminded the House that the provinces have control of administration of justice in their respective territories and have the right to appeal to the judicial committee.

"I think it would be a very difficult matter for Canada, although we may deal with our own jurisdiction and we do so far as the criminal code is concerned," said Mr. LaPointe. "But when the question is discussed around the table, if I am there I will vote 'yes' with my friend the honorable member for Selkirk."

Judgments rendered on the social statutes by the judicial committee were such as might lead to disruption of the Empire, Mr. Cahan declared. "It was the same disregard for constitutional realities," he said, that led to the loss of the American colonies and disruption of the first British Empire.

The former Secretary of State was referring to decisions which rejected as unconstitutional the statutes dealing with unemployment insurance, the Natural Products Marketing Act, and particularly the three measures, arising from International Labor Office conventions, regulating hours of work, wages and the weekly day of rest.

Mr. Cahan urged the Government take steps toward repudiation of these decisions or that it fail to heed them.

Mr. Bennett maintained that it was the right of every individual to appeal to the King as represented by the Privy Council of England and Parliament could not deprive the individual of that right in civil cases, which were within control of the provinces.

Only one course was left, Mr. Bennett said, and that was to obtain amendments to the constitution. "We all know," he said, "you cannot have various provinces enacting this legislation. You will have one province doing it and another will try to outbid them. They will try to get industry to move from one province to another. It must be national in its character."

His suggestion for a method of obtaining such amendments was a national convention representing all the provinces and all shades of political opinion, said Mr. Bennett. Legislation could be prepared and presented to all the provincial legislatures and the Dominion Parliament.

SENATE RENEWS DEBATE ON DEFENCE POLICIES

Ottawa, April 6.—The Senate today was expected to continue debate on a naval defence inquiry of Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Montreal Conservative, which yesterday brought a declaration from Senator J. P. Molloy, Provencher Liberal, that ninety per cent. of the Canadian people were opposed to Canada's participation in any European war.

Sensor Molloy, who described himself as a man who might be called a "rebel" in the 1917 conscription issue, said that 99.9 per cent. of students in Canadian universities and other schools of learning were opposed to conscription, enforcement of which was suggested by Major-General W. A. Griesbach (Conservative, Edmonton) as desirable in event of war.

"If Great Britain enters a war in which Canada has no interest, Great Britain will have to fight it out alone, as far as I am concerned," the western Senator declared.

Referring to suggestions Canadian neutrality in another war involving the United Kingdom would result in civil war here, he declared: "There is a shorter road to civil war than through neutrality and that is by another War-Time Elections Act and conscription."

Sensor J. J. Hughes, Prince Edward Island Liberal, declared he was satisfied the majority of the Canadian people would favor protection of the United Kingdom in time of peril. He said Canada "should pull her own weight in the boat."

The Senate later gave second reading to the Trans-Canada Airlines bill and sent it to the Senate railways committee for detailed study. It passed through all readings the bills to ratify the Canada-

LIBERAL PARTY RETAINS NORTH RENFREW SEAT

R. M. Warren, Former United Farmer M.L.A., Defeated Conservative by 330 Votes in Straight Party Fight in Bye-Election.

Pembroke, Ont., April 6.—R. M. Warren, Liberal, long prominent in the farmers' co-operative movement and former U.F.O. member of the Ontario Legislative, will represent North Renfrew in the House of Commons.

Making his first venture in the federal field, the Wilberforce Township farmer and reeve retained the seat for the Liberals in yesterday's bye-election necessitated by the death of Dr. Matthew McKay. Warren won over the Conservative candidate, Dr. E. T. Wood, Westmeath physician in a close fight.

Only fifty-five of the polls were heard from. While totals on the fifty-five were not available, returns from fifty-four gave Warren 4,882 and Dr. Wood 4,552, a majority of 330. Results from the three absent polls are not likely to be known until next Monday.

North Renfrew, regarded as a Conservative stronghold, has sent only seven Liberals to the Commons in the twenty-four elections and bye-elections since Confederation. Excepting 1930 and 1935, the successful candidate has always been returned with a majority less than 1,000 and generally lower than 500.

At Ottawa Prime Minister Mackenzie King expressed gratification. He regarded the result as an endorsement by the electorate of that riding of policies his Government had initiated since taking office.

expressly excluded from Locarno obligations unless they chose to adhere. None adhered.

At the London conference France and Belgium both pressed for new guarantees. Britain, hoping for a new peace agreement with Germany, gave an undertaking that "if cancellation should fail" she "will in return for reciprocal assurances from your Government take, in consultation with your Government, all practical measures available to His Majesty's Government for the purpose of ensuring the security of your country against unprovoked aggression."

The pledges given France and Belgium were identical. In so far as Britain was concerned, they differed from Locarno in that the pledges were reciprocal. The British, Belgian and French general staffs subsequently met.

But the reciprocal nature of the guarantee roused sharp opposition in Belgium. Belgian opponents saw in it a camouflaged defensive alliance, threatening to drag Belgium into any neighborhood quarrel. They pictured Belgium as once more the cockpit of Europe.

The Belgian Foreign Minister shocked the diplomatic world with a speech in which he declared Belgium would fight only in defence of Belgian independence. It meant Belgium intended to rule herself out of the reciprocal guarantee. France is taking time by the forelock by extending the Maginot line northward to protect her from invasion over the Belgian route. It was Germany's violation of Belgian independence which led Britain into the Great War.

RACKETEERING DISCOVERED EVEN AMONG INSECTS

Washington, April 6.—United States Government scientists announced today they had discovered highjacking and racketeering among insects.

Entomologists of the Agriculture Department reported lazy beetles in Kansas grain fields rob small red ants of seeds which they carry home.

Uruguay trade treaty and to revise and amend the Business Profits War Tax Act of 1916. It advanced several minor bills and heard Senator J. P. C. Cairns, Montreal Liberal, give notice he would call attention of the Senate to the railway problem in this country.

TEXTILE MILL EMPLOYEES ASK SHORTER WEEK

International 40-Hour Week for Textile Industry Subject of Keen Discussion at World Textile Conference at Washington.

Washington, April 6.—The World Textile Conference prepared today for another session of general debate with British workers and employers headed for a long dispute over social and economic aspects of the "sick" textile industry.

British trade unionists, expressing disappointment over the cautious approach of the Crown's spokesman to the plan for an international forty-hour week in the industry, were expected to push labor's demands to the front.

P. M. Draper, of Ottawa, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said Canadian workers wanted a forty-hour week with no reduction in wages.

The first warning that British employers were opposed to international action on the shorter work week came from Thomas Ashurst, speaking for British mill owners. He said they would resist any agreement among nations which would force England to abandon its old system of collective bargaining for settlement of wage and hour conditions.

Ashurst, while workers' delegates clamored for action on the forty-hour week proposal, sought to steer the conference into the deeper channels of export textile trade where Britain has suffered heavy losses with the rise of other textile nations.

The rivalry of England and Japan for export markets is still in the background of the conference, but delegates from the Far East, listening to native interpreters relay the proceedings through special earphones, followed the manoeuvres with mounting interest.

on the Bay of Biscay.

Reports of the Basque Government, allied with the Madrid-Valencia Government, asserted insurgent warships had launched a heavy bombardment of the Basque coast as a part of their drive against Bilbao.

LOYALIST PLANES BOMB SOUTHERN REBEL CITY

Gibraltar, April 6.—Government planes today dropped eight bombs on the insurgent stronghold of Algeciras, just west of Gibraltar.

BASQUE TROOPS FAIL TO DELAY INSURGENTS

Vitoria, Spain, April 6.—Sturdy Basque mountain troops fought from the precipices and ravines south of Durango today in what semi-official insurgent dispatches termed a futile attempt to halt General Emilio Mola's drive on Bilbao.

Durango itself lies sixteen miles from Bilbao on an improved highway, offering means for a quick push on the Biscay coast capital in event of capture. The insurgent front line was less than eight miles from Durango, according to today's advices.

GUNFIRE RATTLING ONCE MORE AT MADRID GATES

Madrid, April 6.—Guns thundered again at the gates of Madrid today while the Government's southern army reported capture of fresh, strategic positions in its steady encircling drive against the insurgents in Cordoba province.

The boom of heavy artillery and the rattle of rifles and machine guns echoed at varying intervals over the city through the night. Military reports indicated fighting was underway on the Corona highway front northwest of the city and in Carabanchel suburb, to the southwest, where Government militia has been inching forward against insurgent siege lines in daily house-to-house firing.

On the Corona highway front, principally in the vicinity of Aravaca, Government commanders said their men had made three advances of a little over a mile each in as many days.

PAPER COMPANY SHARES FOLLOW UPWARD TREND

Wall Street Today Looked for Early Settlement of Chrysler Labor Controversy, Although Negotiations Continued to Drag.

New York, April 6.—Further strength was displayed by paper company shares and other specialties in today's stock market, but many of the leaders were reactionary.

Although the Chrysler labor negotiations continued to drag along, Wall Street still looked for an early settlement.

U. S. Government securities were somewhat lower following Washington advices the Treasury will be forced to borrow new money because of the upward revision of the budget. Commodities were mixed.

Stocks on the upside fractions to a point were Crown Zellerbach, International Paper Pfd, Mead Corp., Santa Fe, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Goodrich and United Aircraft. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem declined more than one each and smaller losses were recorded for Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Anaconda, American Smelting, Southern Electric, Seaboard Oil, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

Montreal, April 6.—Livestock receipts on the Montreal cattle market today totalled: 90 cattle; 2,050 calves, 1,117 hogs, 12 sheep.

Late Monday a weaker undertone developed for the commoner kinds of cows and prices were fully twenty-five cents lower. There were no early sales made on cattle today. Calves were twenty-five to fifty cents lower. Prices ranged from $4 to $4.75, with the bulk of the sales between $4.25 to $4.50.

There was a weaker undertone to the hog market. A few early sales were made at $9.25 for hogs, fed and watered, with the usual premium on selects and cuts on off-grades.

Country and Dairy Products Prices

Montreal, April 6.—Prices for butter and eggs were firmer yesterday on the local wholesale markets. The former ruled at the maximum of the recent advance to the best levels since 1934. Eggs turned up slightly at the end of last week, following a renewed decline, and were a little stronger again yesterday.

Butter was steady to easy. Cheese and poultry were unchanged. There were no sales at the Canadian Commodity Exchange. Butter was quoted there at the close at 28c to 28½c for western regraded and offered at 28½c for Quebec buyer's inspection. On the open market No. 1 in carlots or l.c.l. lots was generally 2½c, with some asking fractionally higher, particularly for small lots. Jobbers were quoting small lots to the retail trade at 29-29½c for solids and 29½c to 30 for prints.

Graded shipments of eggs in cartons or l.c.l. lots were averaging 20½c for A-large, 15½c for A-medium, 17½c for A-pullets, 17-18c for B, and 16-17c for C. Offerings were posted at the above levels, on the first three grades, at the Commodity Exchange. Small lots to the retail trade were quoted by jobbers as follows:

Cartons Loose
A-1 large 27-29c
A-1 medium 24-26c
A-1 pullets 22-24c

Hitler And Religion.

If Chancellor Hitler is actually serious in his plans to eliminate Christianity from the national life of Germany and replace it by the doctrine of neo-paganism, he will find himself playing with a force that will overwhelm him.

True, he has been able to override political and state rights in his drive to become the "Great I Am," but in dealing with religion he is tackling something which is entirely different. Basically, politics and nationalism have their root in economics. Deny it as he will, the average individual will change his politics and his nationality, unconsciously perhaps, if the economic inducement is strong enough. Religion, on the contrary, is something less capable of individual control. It may be changed on the surface by argument or circumstance, but beneath it all the basic belief remains and sooner or later it is bound to break through its repressive bonds in a mass outburst.

Other dictators have learned this to their sorrow and there is no reason to assume that Adolf Hitler is in any better a position than they were.

Notre-Dame Church Saved.

True lovers of Canada and its history, regardless of race, creed or locality, will unite with the people of Montreal in a prayer of thanksgiving that historic Notre Dame Church and the even more historic Seminary of St. Sulpice were saved from destruction in the fire which threatened them early yesterday morning.

It is not merely the financial loss which would have been suffered by the Roman Catholics of the Province that brings about this feeling akin to joy. In fact, the material damage would form only a minor portion of the disaster. These buildings are national monuments, while the Seminary of the Sulpician Fathers houses priceless and irreplaceable documents concerning the early development of Canada.

Unfortunately this country has far too few national monuments despite its comparative youth, as the great majority of the buildings erected by the early settlers have either fallen prey to the elements or to the demands of modern progress; and this fact only serves to make more treasured those historical structures which still remain.

The Doukhobors Break Loose Again.

The latest outbreak of incendiarism and bombing in the Doukhobor settlements of British Columbia only serves to emphasize the fact that while Canada needs a substantial increase in its population, too much care cannot be exercised in the selection of the immigrants. The newcomers should be hand-picked on the basis of their ability to fit into the economic structure of the Dominion and their willingness to conform to the laws of their adopted country.

Mass migrations must not be encouraged, as history shows that, as a general rule, a group which cannot live in peace and harmony with its neighbors at home will fail to adapt itself to the customs of the new land.

The Doukhobors are a case in point. As a people they have many fine qualities, being hard workers and aggressive. But their social system is essentially communal and cannot stand up for long in the midst of a country operating under the Canadian system. In an effort to halt the infiltration of modern ideas, their leaders have endeavored to isolate them from the rest of the country and keep them in a state of near-illiteracy. This last has been the real base of the trouble between the Doukhobors and the authorities. The laws of British Columbia and Alberta require that every child attend school until reaching a certain age, and schoolhouses are provided to this end. The efforts of the elders among the Doukhobors to halt school attendance have led to violence and the destruction of schools and community halls.

While it is inevitable that Canadian law will ultimately triumph in this case, the process will be long and painful, and should serve to impress upon the minds of Canadian leaders that even if a racial melting pot is something fine to talk about it is something different in actual practice.

What Individuals Can Do To Check War.

Can we, as individuals, do anything to avert war?

Admiral Richard E. Byrd believes that we can, and in the Rotarian Magazine enumerates several steps that can be taken by all individuals desiring to maintain peaceful relations between nations.

"The first step," urges the famous Arctic explorer, who on his last trip to the South Pole resolved to devote most of the remainder of his life to efforts for peace, "is to inform ourselves and our children as to what is involved in the choices to be made.

"Take just one of the questions of peace: disarmament. How much does the man in the street know about it? The point is that disarmament is not as simple as it sounds. We need to inform ourselves about it, as we need to inform ourselves about all the problems of peace. To promote peace, we must know what peace means.

"A second step, perhaps, is to study war and violence as institutions, and to reach conclusions about them. Is violence effective? Is war an efficient method of settling disputes? Disregarding ethical considerations, bloodshed, ruined lives, biological consequences, and the like, does war do the immediate job of settling international disputes?

"We think in sober moments that we must avoid war at all costs; yet when the hour comes, in our excitement the greater imperative seems to be to save our country against what apparently threatens it. Perhaps we can fortify ourselves against this by calm logic before the war clouds arise. Perhaps we can convince ourselves, and then others, that war does not settle problems and difficulties.

"A third step, individuals can take, perhaps," continues Admiral Byrd, "is to inform themselves as to what is really necessary for peace. Can nations live side by side in amity? We know, of course, that they can. The classic instance is Canada and the United States, two countries having the longest common frontier of any nations—without one mile of that frontier fortified—and not in a century and a quarter has there been a war, or the serious threat of war. The countries of the Scandinavian peninsula, also, have not known war for more than a century.

"The final thing, of course, after having informed ourselves, is to take positive action toward the realization of our beliefs. Of the 'way,' I am not sure—nor am I sure that any one way is the only way. I would not want to close my mind to any proposal honestly and competently made with the purpose of furthering peace. When peace comes, it will no doubt come through the meeting and agreement of many minds which among themselves possess diverse views on most subjects—and even on methods of attaining this objective."

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.
April 6th, 1907.

Several Eastern Townships municipalities ordered a sharp reduction in the number of liquor licenses to be renewed May 1st, the cut being fifty per cent. in most cases.

The officers elected by St. Peter's Church Guild were Mrs. R. Shreve, Mrs. G. H. Bradford, Mrs. R. Price, Mrs. T. S. Somers, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. S. A. Jones and Miss Elkins.

The wedding was reported from Bishop Crossing of Miss Bertie Willard to Mr. John Finley, Rev. J. N. Kerr officiating.

Sussex Preceptory, Knights Templars, at Sherbrooke, named the following officers: Messrs. John McMorine, J. H. Bradley, M. B. Rice, P. L. Baldwin, Alex. Ames, W. W. Baker, E. J. Robertson and William Bell.

The following officers were elected by St. Matthew's Guild at South Stukely: Mrs. H. W. Blake, Mrs. Ireland, Mrs. Elijah Booth, Miss B. T. Knowlton, Mrs. W. W. Phelps, Mrs. S. Knowlton and Mrs. H. G. Spencer.

Prize-winners at a card party given by Mrs. C. E. Hayes, at West Sheffield, were Mrs. F. V. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Boright, Miss Bernice Knott and Mr. Arthur Stone.

What Editors Say

WHAT THE FARMER GETS.

Peterborough Examiner.
When the farmer spends $100 in farm implements he is not securing that amount of implement. Figures which were recently submitted at Ottawa show the farmer gets $43 worth of implement, based on factory cost.

Apparently it is not just simple business of taking the implement out of the factory and sending it to the farm. It is quite a different experience to the farmer going to a store and buying a pair of shoes and taking them along with him.

The farmer has to pay for company administration, the commission of the agent, the upkeep of the warehouse, the costs of collection, freight, taxes and so on. It is stated these items when put together represent $57 of the cost of the $100 purchase.

The farmer in turn can put to good use the $43 worth of machinery, but he can find nothing useful in the other $57 which he pays at the time of purchase. It is what the business world calls overhead, and it has worried farmers and a good many others.

BACK TO SLAVERY.

New York Herald-Tribune.
The German Government has just announced that farmhands and other laborers may not leave their jobs. This is the logical consequence of government regulation of the economic life of a nation. First credit, then industry, then the merchants, then the farmers, then the workers have come under government control. All of this is in the name of the greatest good of the greatest number; i.e., the state. Today even what the German people may and may not eat—in the name of economic planning—is broadcast to the people by radio.

The reply of our American advocates of a planned economy is that conditions here differ from those in Germany. This is true today. But the inevitable sequence of events is the same. Our own experience with planned economy under the A.A.A. shows how government has to reach out for more and more powers to control production, processing, distribution and marketing once it inaugurates this policy. Ultimate control of the workers cannot be avoided. When, as in the case of Germany, workers may not leave their jobs conditions are not far removed from slavery.

"GIRL PAT" KEEPS A DATE

Mysteriously vague and romantic is the odyssey of the "Girl Pat," above, 70-foot trawler whose journeys all over the maritime world have aroused the curiosity of several nations. Her escapades reached a new climax when the little world traveler was stopped by a Coast Guard cutter and conveyed into Philadelphia the other day. Lower photo shows her master, Commander R. W. Lawrence, distinguished retired British naval officer, with pipe, and Steward Tom Copey, in cap. Inspected, the "Girl Pat" was allowed to leave, as mysterious as ever.

GERMANY PROTESTS SOUTH AFRICAN BAN

German Minister to Cape Town Presents Formal Note Protesting Proclamation Aimed at Nazi Propaganda in Former German Possessions.

Cape Town, April 6.—The German Government yesterday protested against the proclamation aimed at Nazi activity in the former German colony of Southwest Africa, now administered by the Union of South Africa under mandate.

A formal note of protest was presented to Prime Minister J. R. M. Hertzog by Emil Wiehl, the German minister.

The proclamation went into effect last Friday. Under its terms persons not of British nationality were forbidden to engage in any organized political activity in the territory.

British subjects were forbidden to take an oath of fidelity to, or obey the orders of, the sovereign or chief of state of any nation other than the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Although Nazism was not specifically mentioned, it was generally understood the decree was aimed at such manifestations as the Grey Shirts, a group formed on Nazi lines which has been active in conducting anti-Jewish propaganda in the country districts.

QUEBEC PRISON WARDEN SUSPENDED

Quebec, April 6.—Order for the indefinite suspension of L. M. J. Thibault, warden of Quebec Prison appointed just a few months ago has been issued by the Attorney-General's Department.

THE FRENCH PRESS

BENNETT'S SUCCESSOR

Le Devoir, Montreal.
It is given to understand that Mr. Bennett will give up the leadership of his party after the Coronation celebrations, or next autumn some time. A senator even stated a short time ago at Winnipeg before a political group that the Conservatives would have to choose Mr. Bennett's successor before the end of 1937 and that, of the public men capable of replacing him there are Messrs. Harrington, of Nova Scotia; Rowe, of Ontario; Willis, of Manitoba, and from Quebec, Mr. Duplessis. The last as is known, has no desire to enter Federal politics, and he could hardly be seriously considered under the circumstances.

The choice would be confined to the first three, of whom one is Mr. Rowe, whose recent utterances with respect to the French-Canadian element would not make him particularly popular in this region. The truth is that when Mr. Bennett retires the Conservatives will have difficulty in replacing him, in spite of his faults and his indiscretions. He is above the average and his undeniable qualities as well as his positive personality make him a leader of capability. He himself did not seem to relish greatly the announcement of his coming departure by a senator of his own party; and he made it understood that if he must go it would be up to him to make the announcement at an opportune time. What he will occupy himself with in his retirement is not known, but it cannot be believed that he will soon abandon his loyalist propaganda. He can even stress it and there will be nothing to be surprised at.

SAXONS KILLED AT CORONATION OF WILLIAM 1ST

Alarmed by Shouts of Homage in Strange Language the Conqueror's Normans Drew Sword.

London, April 6.—Of all the unusual incidents which have marred many previous coronations, the bloodiest occurred at the crowning of William the Conqueror, in 1066. The Norman prince had invaded England and gained the victory at Hastings.

On Christmas, 1066, a wild snowy day, William was crowned at Westminster. For the time being there was no Archbishop of Canterbury, so the ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of York.

When the Archbishop asked the Saxon nobles, formerly subjects of Harold II, if they would receive William as their King there was such a responsive shout of approval that William's Norman soldiers, not understanding the language of the conquered people and mistaking this demonstration for signs of revolt, rushed in with drawn swords, and put many a good Saxon to death.

In a few minutes the then new grey building was empty save for the King, prelates and monks, but the prayers and litanies went on and though robbed of some of its splendour the ceremony was performed with all order while outside William's new Saxon subjects were being trampled under the hoofs of Norman horses.

William I was the illegitimate son of Robert the Devil, Duke of Normandy, and was trained in a hard school. Three of his guardians were

Who can paint a sky as blue
And touch its sunset with such hue?
Who can roll away dark clouds
That scud across the sky in crowds?
Who can paint the rainbow in the sky
When the sun shines through and clouds roll by?
And who can water this earth with dew
Until it sparkles all anew?
Who can burst the buds and seeds
And grow them up to many feeds?
Or who can paint the flowers of the dale
That grow so fragrant and so pale?
Who can lift their faces toward the sky
And give them rain before they die?
Who can change the autumn's breeze
When the time comes for it to freeze?
Who can change the bright leaves
Until they flutter from the trees?
Or who could blanket this earth with snow
All gently laden here below?
And, who can vanish every breeze
'Til there's gentleness among the trees?
Who! There's only one we know:
God, who guides us all below.

BATHING SUIT

BY-LAW GIVEN

FINAL ASSENT

Long-Discussed and Off-Postponed By-Law Finally Adopted by Council—
Special Ceremony to Mark
King's Coronation—Delegation Appointed to Confer With C.N.R. Officials.

Ald. J. W. Genest's long-discussed and frequently ridiculed bathing suit has finally been adopted.

Ald. Genest came to last night's meeting of the City Council determined that this by-law was going to go through or to know the reason why.

Any suggestion of further delay was out of the question. This time he wanted action. He began matters by proposing that the by-law be given all the readings and adopted
during the meeting.

This suggestion brought forth opposition from Ald. M. T. Armitage, who asked that the new by-law
be given first reading, and then left in abeyance until the next regular Council session. In the meantime, the aldermen could study its various clauses and become more familiar with just what the by-law proposed.

Ald. Genest would not hear to this. He reminded Ald. Armitage that the aldermen had had a copy of the by-law since last fall and had had plenty of time to study it.

Ald. Armitage then proposed an amendment to Ald. Genest's motion.
He proposed that the second and third readings be deferred until the next meeting.

The amendment, however, was defeated by a vote of seven to three,
the three aldermen supporting it being Aldermen Armitage, Ross and Sangster. The other aldermen preferred to allow Ald. Genest to go ahead with his plans.

According to the rules of procedure, the by-law must be discussed clause by clause at its second reading. Everything proceeded quickly until this phase of the proceedings was reached. No sooner had Ald.
Genest started to read the first clause of the by-law than Ald.
Sangster rose and asked that he be given an English copy of the by-law.

Mayor Rioux ruled that Ald.
Sangster was perfectly right in his demand, since the Council had decided upon a resolution that all reports of Council deliberations be in both languages.

The by-law eventually adopted,
the only problem now is to enforce
it. Just how it is going to work out is a matter of speculation. It provides that bathing suits must be sufficient to cover the body decently, although it does not stipulate definitely that backless bathing suits are barred. It is also forbidden for bathers to loiter about the beach without a wrap, while changing clothes other than in bathing houses.
It is not to be tolerated.

Last night's Council session lasted far past the usual hour of adjournment. Ald. Genest's by-law took up practically three-quarters of the session. The remaining business on the agenda was largely of a routine nature.

There was some discussion over the proposal of the Parks Committee that the municipal tennis courts be moved from Racine Park to the Pelletier Park in the rear of the Belvidere street armory.

Ald. Thibault did not oppose such a move provided the courts were in the vicinity of the Pelletier Park.
He was satisfied to have the tennis courts
there. There had, Ald. Thibault said, been objection by some residents near Racine Park to the noise emanating from the vicinity of the tennis courts. It was not fair, Ald.
Thibault said, to accommodate one section to the discomfort of another.

The matter was finally left with the Parks Committee. While discussing Racine Park, Ald. Ross said he would like to see a monument erected on Racine Square to the memory of those citizens who had given the land to the city and had helped to build up that section.

At the outset of last night's meeting Mayor Rioux took advantage of the occasion to welcome back the four aldermen who were returned by acclamation. It was, His Worship said, a mark of confidence in the Council.

His Worship also gave a brief resume of the discussion at Quebec regarding the proposed amendments to the City Charter. His Worship said that the civic representatives who argued this matter before the Private Bills Committee were thoroughly satisfied with what they had received, and he especially thanked F. S. Ruge, K.C., C. Mignault and Albert LeBlanc, three local lawyers, for their assistance to the city in this respect.

The Council accepted the tender submitted by J. O. Paquette, of Alexander street, for the demolition of three city properties bordering on the public parking grounds. Mr.
Paquette offered to demolish these buildings for $270, and agreed to remove the material, which shall remain his property, and to grade the land to the satisfaction of the Parks Committee.

The Council decided that a delegation composed of Mayor Rioux, Ald. Genest, G. W. Murphy and any other who might be named would meet the Canadian National Railways officials in Montreal to discuss

REPLACING OF

WATER PIPES

BEING STUDIED

Lennoxville Town Council Gives Consideration to Project Which Would Involve Expenditure of $32,- 000—Supports Government's Legislation to Defeat Communism.

Consideration of the renewal of the town's water pipes, which would involve an expenditure of approximately $32,000, was the chief item of the business of the town council at last night's regular meeting.

It was estimated that about 11,- 000 feet of pipe would be required.
It was pointed out that much of the present piping has been repaired from time to time and that it is now necessary to renew it to prevent leaking and breakage.

Although it had previously been suggested that the piping be replaced by portion each year, it is now felt more advisable to renew the entire system at one time. The new pipes would serve the municipality, the councillors believe, for fifty or a hundred years.

The matter has been left in the hands of the water committee and a further report will be submitted at the next Council session.

Lennoxville has no room for people of Communist tendencies and the Town Council is prepared to do its utmost to back the Government in its determination to enact and enforce legislation which will help defeat this menace.

The Council last night passed a resolution supporting the Government's stand, Mayor H. W. S.
Downs remarking "that the time to check Communism is while it is still in its infancy and before it has had a chance to gain a foothold."

A survey of Belvidere street, between the town square and Summer street, will be made in the near future to determine its actual boundaries, as the work of widening will be done here at a later date. This street, Mayor Downs stated, is so narrow in some places that it is in-safe for two cars to pass, especially in the winter. The matter of cutting off the crest of the hill was also considered and discussed as future town work.

The by-law fixing the rate of licences for various types of business and also dog taxes was adopted last evening, while the matter of purchasing a new town truck was left in the hands of the finance and road committees. The councillors approved the appointment of Dr. J.
B. Winder as town health officer.

Attention was called to the King's Coronation in May and it was decided to invite the authorities of Bishop's University and the heads of the schools and various organizations to meet and draw up some suitable programme for a celebration.

Answer to an inquiry regarding the inspection of the butcher shops in Lennoxville, councillor V. R.
Beattie reported that an inspection of the meats bought and sold at the meat markets in town is made twice weekly.

General Notes

Members of the Young People's Union of the Lennoxville United Church, in their meeting last evening in Douglas Hall, completed plans for the next church service to be conducted by the Union. Miss Patricia Watson, convener of Christian Culture, presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Weston Orr. Arrangements were made during the meeting for the sale of candy by the C.G.I.P.
during the worship period Rev. F.
R. Matthews led in prayer, several hymns were sung and a psalm read responsively.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in the next few days
under the auspices of the Lennox-ville Boy Scouts Auxiliary, at their regular meeting in the Troop Room of the Town Hall last evening. The president, Mrs. R. H. Fletcher, presided, and one new member was introduced.

Miss Elsa Burt is in Montreal,
where she is attending the Music Festival.

Scout rummage sale Sat. April 24.

Prior to the conclusion of the meeting Mayor Rioux proposed that the Council formally ask Col. the Hon. J. S. Bourque, Provincial Minister of Public Works, who is going to London for the Coronation, to officially represent Sherbrooke on this memorable occasion.

It was also decided that the Mayor would name a committee to get in touch with the military and religious authorities to discuss a suitable ceremony to be held on May 12, the day of His Majesty's Coronation, which has been proclaimed a civic holiday.

THREE RULINGS

HANDLED DOWN

IN CIVIL COURT

Charles Mitchell and George
C. Beall, of Pointe St. Charles,
Awarded Judgment
Against Mrs. Ralph W.
Morrison, of Barnston—
Claims of Two Privileged Creditors Upheld.

Mrs. Ralph W. Morrison, of Barnston, personally as well as in her quality as heir and universal legatee
of the estate of the late Ralph W.
Morrison, was declared in one of three judgments handed down in Superior Court today by Mr. Justice Hector Verret indebted to Charles Mitchell and George C. Beall, both of Pointe St. Charles, livestock commission merchants, for the sum of $253 as money advanced for hogs sold but not delivered by plaintiff's late husband.

The claims of two privileged creditors who intervened were upheld with interest and costs, but ranking subsequently to the plaintiffs' judicial costs. On the contestation between plaintiffs and interveners, each party was ordered to pay its own costs. The privileged creditors were the Sherbrooke Undertaking Parlors, Ltd., and Howard Buckland, of Barnston.

The opposition taken by Frank I.
Bedard, of Richmond, to seizure of certain immovable properties made by M. C. Ward, was partially upheld by Justice Verret. Bedard claimed that the seizures, made by virtue of a Superior Court judgment, were illegal because he had received the immovable properties involved as donations and through the will of his parents, which deeds contained a clause that the properties could not be seized as long as they remained the opposant's.

By mortgaging one of these properties, however, the opposant had renounced the inalienability clause,
the Judge ruled. Seizure was upheld in that instance, and in connection with another property that the op-posant had personally acquired. The seizures against other properties received by virtue of the donations and will and which were not mortgaged, were dismissed.

Georges Poudrier, of St. Claude, was declared the owner of the property of lot No. 520 in the Township of Windsor in another decision handed down in Superior Court today. Defendants in this suit were Antoine Connolly and Joseph Faucault, of the Township of Windsor.

Poudrier, in his act, claimed that he had purchased this property from Mrs. Yvonne Coriveau in June, 1935, who had inherited the property from her mother, Mrs. Vivienne Chabot. On February 13, 1924, Mrs. Chabot sold the property to Antoine Connolly by conditional lease.
Connolly, however, refused to return the property to the Chabots on May 10, 1928, to Benjamin Faucault, who had obligated himself to pay
the balance of $1,600 to Mrs.
Chabot. Failure to do this, however,
had annulled the conditional lease,
and Justice Verret condemned defendants to vacate the premises within fifteen days of the signification of the judgment and reserved their right for legal recourse. Joseph Faucault obtained the property from Benjamin Faucault on September 15, 1934.

DUNHAM
Mrs. Ernest Turner has returned from Montreal West, where she was the guest of her daughters, Mrs. Thomas Bacon and Miss Charlotte Turner, R.N.

Miss Roberta Doherty and Miss Donna Jones spent part of their Easter holidays in Stukely, with friends.

Mr. Oscar Favreau and Miss Houliester, of Montreal, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Favreau.

The Easter lilies in the United Church on Easter Day were given by the Misses A. E. and W. M. Small and Mrs. S. J. Small, in memory of Mr. Reid Small, Mr. S. J. Small and their sisters, Mrs. Walter Crabbe and Mrs. Emerson England.

Prevost Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, held their regular convocation in their chambers recently.

The death of Mrs. Philip Bergeron occurred suddenly on Wednesday evening, March 24th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Johnson. Death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Bergeron was born Mary Jane Webb, in East Kent, England, on March 1st, 1862. She and her husband resided here for the past twenty-five years.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. Johnson on Friday afternoon, March 26, and was largely attended. Mr. James Patrick and Mr. William Sims conducted the service. Burial was in the family lot at Sutton, the bearers being Messrs. George Morrison, Alton Greeley, Earl Busee and Floyd Massey.

Mrs. Bergeron is survived by five sons, four daughters, and two sisters. The sons are Ernest, of Montreal, William, of Sutton, Herman, of Newport, Robert, of West Sutton, and Eugene, of West Berkshire, Vt. The daughters are Mrs. Madeline Clayton, of Montreal, Mrs. Dora Wright, of Swanton, Vt., Mrs. Harold Wright, of Knowlton, and Mrs. Almer Johnson, of West Sutton.

Beautiful flowers covering the casket testified to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Bergeron was held.

Relatives present at the funeral included Mr. Ernest Bergeron and

DEATHS REPORTED

FUNERAL OF MRS. T. H. SEALE, HAVERHILL, MASS.

Haverhill, Mass., April 6.—Funeral services for Mrs. T. H. Seale, nee Jennie T. Woodside, who passed away in the Benson Hospital on the evening of March 19, were held from the family home, Chadwick street, on Sunday, March 21. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Lester E. Evans, B.A., pastor of the Centre Congregational Church, of which Mrs. Seale was an active member, and paid a fitting tribute to her life and worth in the community, eulogizing her love for the good, the true and the beautiful, closing the short service by reciting the lines of Tennyson's "In Memoriam."

The Haverhill Male Quartette rendered the hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," "Just Beyond the Hill-tops" and "Abide With Me."

Masses of exquisite flowers banked the rooms, testifying to the love and esteem for the deceased.

The bearers were Messrs. Wm. Emery, Joseph Cook, Herbert G. Landers and Walter Chase.

Interment took place in the family lot in Elmwood Cemetery, her pastor again officiating at the committal service.

Mrs. Seale was born in St. Sylvestre West, Que., on May 10, 1876, the second daughter of Mrs. Isabella McKee Woodside, of Lennoxville, and the late Mr. Alexander Woodside.

On October 14, 1903, she was united in marriage to Mr. T. H. Seale, of Haverhill, Mass., where they have since resided.

An ardent supporter of all church activities, closely identified with social service and philanthropic organizations, she leaves to cherish her memory, her husband, Mr. T. H. Seale, her daughter, Mrs. Helen Bradley, a son-in-law, Mr. Clifford Bradley, a granddaughter, Jane Bradley, an aged mother, Mrs. Isabella Woodside, three sisters and three brothers, Rev. Geo. Woodside, Winnipeg, Man., Rev. John Woodside, Ottawa, Ont., Mrs. E. O. McGinnis, Calgary, Alta., Mrs. James McLeod, Mrs. R. S. Lipsey and Mr. Henry J. Woodside, of Lennoxville, Que., besides a host of friends and relatives who mourn her early passing.

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Seale, Inverness, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodside, of Lennoxville, Que., besides a host of friends and relatives who mourn her early passing.

MISS YVETTE LABONTE, SOUTH DUNHAM.

South Dunham, April 6.—The death occurred on Wednesday evening, March 24, of Miss Yvette Labonte, of Miss Yvette Labonte.

The funeral was held from her late home on Wednesday morning, March 31st, at St. Fulgence Church, where Rev. Father C. E. Baillargeon, assisted by Rev. Father Falardeau, officiated.

The bearers were Messrs. F. and R. Prefontaine, Lucien Trihan, P. E. Proulx, E. Lacoste and R. Girouard.

Interment took place in the cemetery on Thursday morning, March 31, at 10 a.m. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. P. Labonte in their great sorrow.

MRS. PHILIP BERGERON, WEST SUTTON.

The death of Mrs. Philip Bergeron occurred suddenly on Wednesday evening, March 24th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Johnson. Death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Bergeron was born Mary Jane Webb, in East Kent, England, on March 1st, 1862. She and her husband resided here for the past twenty-five years.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. Johnson on Friday afternoon, March 26, and was largely attended. Mr. James Patrick and Mr. William Sims conducted the service. Burial was in the family lot at Sutton, the bearers being Messrs. George Morrison, Alton Greeley, Earl Busee and Floyd Massey.

Mrs. Bergeron is survived by five sons, four daughters, and two sisters. The sons are Ernest, of Montreal, William, of Sutton, Herman, of Newport, Robert, of West Sutton, and Eugene, of West Berkshire, Vt. The daughters are Mrs. Madeline Clayton, of Montreal, Mrs. Dora Wright, of Swanton, Vt., Mrs. Harold Wright, of Knowlton, and Mrs. Almer Johnson, of West Sutton.

Beautiful flowers covering the casket testified to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Bergeron was held.

Relatives present at the funeral included Mr. Ernest Bergeron and

Mrs. Madeline Clayton, of Montreal; Mrs. Dora Wright, of Swanton, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bergeron and daughter, of Newport, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. William Bergeron and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Goyette, of Sutton; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright and family, of Knowlton; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bergeron and family, of West Berkshire, Vt.; a sister, Mrs. Ann Reynolds, of Swanton, Vt.; Mr. Robert Bergeron and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Almer Johnson, of West Sutton.

MR. T. F. NOURSE, BISHOPTON.

Bishopton, April 6.—The death occurred on the morning of March 27, 1937, of Thomas Frederick Nourse at his home, "Willow Lodge Cottage."

Mr. Nourse was born at Marbleton on January 24, 1897, the son of Samuel Nourse and his wife, Marian Joyce, who came to this country from England.

Deceased had been ill with pneumonia only a few days.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, May Sarah Willard; two brothers and three sisters, John and Walter, Mrs. Trene Howe, Mrs. Annie Jensen and Mrs. Clyde Conrad.

They all attended the funeral on March 29th, except Mrs. Conrad, who was unable to be present.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cook, of the Church of England. Favorite hymns of the deceased, "Abide With Me," "The Ninety and Nine" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were sung. Beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which deceased was held.

His two brothers and two lifelong friends, John and Walter Nourse, John Atto and Rufus Rolfe, were bearers.

Interment took place in the English Cemetery beside his brother, Willie, who predeceased him a few years ago.

FUNERAL OF MRS. L. A. DREW, SR., FITCH BAY.

Fitch Bay, April 6.—The funeral of Mrs. L. A. Drew, Sr., was held on Saturday, March 20, at her home near Fitch Bay, Rev. H. G. Rice conducting the service.

Mrs. Drew, formerly Miss Myra Hamilton, died on Thursday morning, March 18, from pneumonia and complications. She was in her fifty-ninth year.

Left to mourn are her husband, Mr. L. A. Drew, Sr., one daughter, Vivian O. of Washington, D.C., five sons, Merlin S., of Vergennes, Vt., Lewis A. Jr., of Fitch Bay, Kenneth M., of St. Albans, Vt., Philip A. of Vergennes, Vt., and Burton C. at home, also one sister, Mrs. Healey, of Chicago, Ill., two brothers, S. Hamilton, of Knowlton, and T. Hamilton, of Magog. Another brother, D. A. Hamilton, of Beebe, passed away about a month ago.

Several grandchildren and nieces are also left to mourn her passing.

Mrs. Drew, who had lived her entire life in the neighborhood where she died, won the love and respect of all who knew her. Although a great sufferer for many years, she bore her ailments with patience and great courage, doing her own work until stricken with pneumonia.

Many beautiful flowers, testifying to the love and esteem in which she was held, covered the casket.

Bearers were her four oldest sons, Merlin, Lewis, Jr., Kenneth and Philip, Mr. W. McKenna, of Magog, was the funeral director. The body was placed in the vault of Pine Hill Cemetery, Magog, awaiting burial in the spring.

The deepest sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved family.

MR. WILLIAM J. BLEAY, COATICOOK.

Coaticook, April 6.—In the passing of William J. Bleay one of its best-loved citizens.

William J. Bleay was born at Headington, Oxford County, England, eighty-four years ago and came to Canada in the year 1873, becoming a Canadian citizen where he had made his home ever since.

Mr. Bleay was for many years baggage-master at the local station, retiring some years ago. He was especially active in his church and acted as warden and delegate to the Diocesan Synod many times. He was also an enthusiastic member of the Eastern Townships Churchmen's Association. For the past several years he was the efficient chairman of the sidesmen of St. Stephen's Church and one of the members of the Anglican Men's Club who was always when not prevented by illness, in attendance at the regular meetings of the club.

A veteran member of Victoria Lodge No. 16, I.O.O.F., he represented his lodge on several occasions at Grand Lodge, was a Past Deputy Grand Master, and a Past District Deputy Grand Patriarch. During the whole of his long membership in Victoria he had been one of its standbys in every sense of the word. Active in degree work for many years in both the Subordinate and Encampment branches, he occupied all the offices in the gift of these local branches and served as a trustee of Victoria Lodge during the past decade. Brother Bleay was also a member of Harmony Rebekah Lodge No. 7.

In June, 1874, he married Miss Lucy Simpson, of Nottingham, England, who predeceased him on October 4, 1914. In August, 1921, Mr. Bleay was married to Miss Lottie Matilda Sharp, who survives him.

Besides his widow, Mr. Bleay leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Maude, widow of Leonard Price, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Nellie, Mrs. J. B. Bilzard, of St. Lambert, Que.; three grandsons

DETROIT GIVEN EDGE IN SERIES WITH NEW YORK

Confidence, However, Is Key-note of Both Teams — Patrick Passed Out Bonuses to Three Veterans for Their Fine Efforts.

New York, April 6.—The New York Rangers, "youth team of the moment" of the National Hockey League, and the champion Detroit Red Wings open their "blue chip" series in Madison Square Garden tonight for the Stanley Cup with confidence the keynote of both outfits.

If the rival managers, silver-haired Lester Patrick and portly Jack Adams, each have the right edge, the fight will likely go the full five-game route before the world championship is decided. Both see nothing but victory.

Before leaving Detroit with his Stanley Cup holders, Adams came up with this: "We ought to take the Rangers, barring bad accidents. We did it during the regular season and we can do it with the Stanley Cup at stake."

Said Patrick: "We should be six to five favorites to take the first game; and even though the champions will have the ice advantage after the opener, I figure if the odds are on the Red Wings to win the series they should not be more than eight to five against us. I think we have at least an even chance to win the cup."

Tonight's battle will be Manhattan's last this season. A circus moves into the Garden when the game is over and the remaining matches are four if necessary to be played in the Detroit Olympia.

Just as many fans as can find elbow room in the Garden tiers will watch Rangers attempt to make their play-off record five straight wins. Early yesterday the Garden's 16,000 capacity was booked.

Patrick, pleased as the dividends his injection of youth in the Ranger line-up has paid this season, figured his outfit in great shape for the tussle. "Success hasn't gone to their heads," he declared.

The Ranger generalissimo admitted the Red Wings had been a tough assignment all season, but said that did not necessarily mean a change from the tactics that knocked the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Montreal Maroons from the cup in straight games.

"We'll play semi-cautiously—waiting for the breaks rather than making them," he said.

Any particular strategy Adams has worked out he kept to himself, but said: "We'll miss Larry Aurie in the Garden. His greatest hockey has been played there. But the Canadiens couldn't beat us with Aurie out and the Rangers can't either."

On the basis of season play, Detroit appeared the favorites. In their meetings the Rangers won only once, then by one to nothing, while Detroit counted five victories with two games deadlocked.

But against this Patrick offered his Rangers' play-off record made after they snapped out of a late season slump. In the four straight triumphs that edged out Toronto and the Maroons, only one goal passed netman Dave Kerr while the Red Wings needed five games to dispose of the Montreal Canadiens.

The Rangers may pick up some additional spark from the extra boogie Patrick passed around before the Detroiters got to town. Three veterans, Butch Keeling, Ching Johnson and Murray Murdoch, received bonuses of "several hundred" dollars for their fine efforts, he said. Kerr and seven others received "substantial" bonuses as provided in their contracts.

DIFFERENT PATHS FOLLOWED BY N.H.L. FINALISTS

New York, April 6.—Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers, finalists for hockey's highest honors, have pursued differing paths in their years of hunting for the Stanley Cup.

The Rangers sprang into prominence from their first year in the National Hockey League and won the cup as far back as 1928, repeated in 1936.

On the other hand, Detroit began slowly and cut no real figure in the post-season battles until 1934. Then, as Jack Adams' building process began to produce results, the team clicked. They reached the final that year, winning the National Hockey League title but losing to the Chicago Black Hawks in the cup final.

In 1935 Detroit did not play the play-offs, but in 1936 won the league title and the Stanley Cup. This year they have again clinched the league title.

MEGILL TRACK AND FIELD MEET TO BE HELD MAY 22

Montreal, April 6.—Toronto Central Technical School will defend its team championship at the seventeenth annual McGill interscholastic track and field meet on May 22, track coach M. Van Wagner announced today.

Entry blanks will be forwarded presently to more than two hundred schools in Quebec and Ontario, the coach said.

TORCHY PEDEN CLAIMS TIE WITH VAN KEMPEN

Louisville, Ky., April 6.—Big Bill "Torchy" Peden, west coast rider, claimed today a tie with Piet van Kempen, the "Flying Dutchman," holder of the world's record for six-day bicycle race victories—twenty-nine.

Peden, a native of Victoria, B.C., paired with handsome Jules Audy, of Montreal, wheeled to victory in the wind-up here last night of a six-day grind. The Canadian duo stole a lap in the last fifteen minutes of the contest to edge out the Irish team of Jackie Sheehan and Henry O'Brien.

SUDBURY-NORTH BATTLEFORD IN SENIOR FINAL

Big Miners from Northern Ontario Have Chalked Up a Fine Record — Whipped Hull's Fighting Volants Again Last Night by Fourteen to Two.

Thirteen strong, Sudbury's mighty Tigers team are heading for the foothills of Alberta, bent on retrieving amateur hockey's highest award for Eastern Canada. The Allan Cup went west last spring when Kimberley Dynamiters proved too strong for Sudbury Falcons.

The big miners from Northern Ontario left a great record behind them as they headed for Calgary. It was climaxed at Toronto last night as they whipped Hull's Fighting Volants by fourteen to two to win the eastern senior title in straight games. The Tigers showed more power than at any time previously in their play-offs during which they dropped but one decision.

To Coach "Red" Stuart the quest was the "big thrill of my days in hockey." The former Toronto St. Pat's defence star led Halifax Wolverines to the Dominion senior title in 1935 and has high hopes of bringing the battered trophy to the nickel belt for the first time by outsmarting North Battleford Beavers, western champions.

"I'm not making any predictions," said Stuart as his proteges hurried to catch a train that left shortly after the game last night. "We've got a great club and we've proved it—if those Beavers can beat us, Western Canada has a right to feel proud of them."

Meanwhile the Winnipeg Monarchs won the Western Canada junior hockey crown again and prepared to swing east for the Memorial Cup final with the classy Copper Cliff Redmen.

Saskatoon Wesleys, deposed champions, headed back west after losing the final game of the best-of-three series at Winnipeg last night by six to one. They were overwhelmed by a brilliant passing attack and confused by persistent checking.

Winnipeg opened the series auspiciously with a five to two win on Thursday and then crumbled by six to five before Wesleys' amazing five-man offensive in the second game. But they came back to beat the Monarchs last night to win and regain the western title they last won in 1935.

So for the third time in five years, the Monarchs will play in the Canadian junior final with a team from the Sudbury district. In 1932 they lost to Sudbury Wolves but three years later turned the tables on the Sudbury aggregation and took the championship.

This time it is Copper Cliff Redmen and, with the Monarchs-Sudbury district title series even, a battle royal is in the offing when they step on the ice in Toronto on Saturday night for the first game. The Monarchs will leave Winnipeg on Wednesday.

TENNIS

WILMER ALLISON RETIRES FROM "BIG TIME" TENNIS

Houston, Texas, April 6.—Wilmer Allison, United States Davis Cup player many times he has to use his pencil before giving the exact number, said today he had definitely retired from big-time tennis.

"I'm too old (he is thirty-two) and I've taken up golf," said the former American champion in singles and doubles. "Besides, I thought it was about time for me to give the United States team a chance to regain the Davis Cup."

BOXING

CANZONERI GAVE LEVY A TERRIFIC BEATING

Newark, N.J., April 6.—Tony Canzoneri, former world's lightweight champion, got his comeback campaign under way last night by scoring a technical knockout over George Levy, of Trenton, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round bout at Laurel Garden.

Canzoneri, weighing 138, floored Levy seven times and handed him a terrific beating in every round.

MONTANEZ IS UNOFFICIAL LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION

New York, April 6.—Pedro Montanez, of Puerto Rico, was the unofficial lightweight champion of the world today.

He earned the title, such as it is, by beating Champion Lou Ambers, of Herkimer, N.Y., in a ten-round non-title fight at Madison Square Garden last night, and while from the start it was assured Ambers would keep his crown, it looked for a while as if he wouldn't have a head to it on.

Though he won the last four rounds and had Montanez hanging on at the final bell, the "Herkimer Hurricane" was just a breeze for Montanez in the first six rounds.

Montanez dropped the champion with a hard right cross in the first round and kept pounding effectively at long range until Ambers, who covered he could get somewhere by fighting at close quarters. But by the time the champion discovered it, Montanez' lead was too great.

By his showing last night, Montanez sewed up a shot at the title and probably a share of one of the biggest gates of the coming outdoor season. Forgetting Montanez' early margin and howling for Ambers at the end, the crowd of 17,352 remained to boo the unanimous decision.

Ambers must first give Tony Canzoneri a shot at the title in the Garden on May 7. The winner of this will likely be matched with Montanez in July.

SPAIN'S ITALIAN "REBELS"

Looking for proof that Italian troops are aiding General Francisco Franco's Spanish rebel forces in the fight against the Madrid government? Then study this group of prisoners of war taken by Loyalist defenders on the Guadalajara front. All hail from sunny Italy and are commanded by Italian officers. The husky chap in center, with muffled about neck and coat on arm, is their commander.

Charlie Robertson's Squad Put Skids Under Phil Mathias' Rink—Four Teams Tied for Third Place.

The many spectators who attended the weekly matches of the Sherbrooke Temple Club Carpet Bowling League were treated to plenty of thrills.

The Mathias quartette, who have been pacing the race by a slim margin, waded into plenty of trouble in their encounter with Charlie Robertson, and not only came out on the short end of a nine to five score, but also were forced to surrender first place to Tom Molyneux when the latter's rink came through with a ten to seven victory over Tom Hurn.

Two points behind Mathias' rink is a four-cornered tie between George Parsons, Jim Gardner, George McLeod and Charlie Robertson. Parsons posted the highest margin of the week when he trounced Bob Whalley to the tune of thirteen to three. Jim Gardner trimmed Bill Eaves by nine to six and George McLeod gave Reggie Benton a six to four set-back.

John Jowett, who shares the cellar position with Bill Eaves, came behind to trim John Scott by eight to two, while Laurie Stevenson, a member of the tie for fourth place, triumphed over Bill Davidson by eight to six and shoved him down a peg in the standing.

The tilt between Ralph Cutts and George Liddell required an extra end before the victors were decided. At the end of the eighth end the count was knotted at six all, but during the extra stanza the Cutts-men were successful in holding their opponents scoreless while they added three points to their total, making the final count read nine to six.

The detailed results follow: L. Dwyer, A. Walker, E. Bradley, W. Hubands, J. Gardner, W. Eaves, Skip—9, F. Rudd, A. Ball, T. Johnston, R. Benton, Skip—6, W. McLeod, G. Davidson, G. Davidson, T. There were only a few hundred real slaveholders among the free negroes. The great majority acquired slaves only because of kinship or philanthropy. Husbandry purchased their wives and fathers purchased their children out of slavery.

SPORTS FLASHES

New York, April 6.—The most promising pitcher of the Alabama baseball team this year is Hugh Bodiet, Jr., son of the old Red Sox pitcher.

Mike Jacobs says Braddock and Louis will be a sell-out three weeks ahead of the fight.

Pedro Montanez will use some of the dough he got last night to open a bar in Harlem.

The Yankees almost ran into a small riot in Tallahassee the other day when several dozen school kids almost broke down the left field fence getting in to see Gehrig and DiMaggio.

Danno O'Mahony, the Irish wrestler, starts another tour of the provinces this week.

Latest Kentucky Derby odds make Brooklyn, the E. R. Bradley colt, the favorite at six to one. (This corner still likes Brooklyn's stablemate, Billionaire). The colt getting the biggest play is Scene-shifter, trained by Earl Sande. Odds on him have been cut from sixty to one to twenty to one.

Carmen Cook, the Bridgeport lightweight, is retiring after this season's ring warfare. He'll become a fight manager.

Ching Johnson, veteran Ranger star, may manage or coach the New York Americans in the National Hockey League next season.

Those who know say Gus Mancuso never has been given enough credit for the skillful way he handles the Giant pitchers.

SHOOTING

HARRY MILNE HOLDS HIGHEST MARK TO DATE

The highest score this season was made by Harry Milne during the skeet shooting tournament held at the St. Francis Sket Club over the week-end. The Magog marksman, in running up the fine score of twenty-four out of twenty-five points, came within a single point of winning the Mitchell trophy which is to be given to the first member who makes the twenty-five mark.

The fine weather conditions made the tournament the most enjoyable one held so far this season.

Out of a possible fifty points, N. E. Walley led the field with a total of forty-nine and won the cup donated by R. E. White for the event. H. Milne was second highest with forty-eight. Walley made twenty-seven on skeets and twenty-two in the handicap, while Milne garnered all his total excepting two from skeets. K. E. Jenckes, A. E. Bryant and F. Milne were tied for third place with forty-seven points, each man getting the greater margin of his total from skeets. Other scores were as follows: R. S. Newton, 45; H. S. Walker, 45; W. E. Hume, 43; H. S. Ellis, 42, and J. Morkill, 37.

The local sharpshooters hope to arrange a match with a Montreal team early in May.

BASEBALL

BROOKLYN TEAM WILL WEAR GREEN TRIMMINGS

Clearwater, Fla., April 6.—News that Brooklyn's ballplayers will be decked out in Kelly green caps, stockings and other trimmings to their uniforms this season has inspired their sports writing clan to song. To the tune of "The Wearing of the Green," they offered the following ditty to be sung on opening day:

"Oh, Paddy dear, and did you hear
The things that may be seen?
The dear old daffy Dodgers
Are a-wearin' of the green."

ST. JOHN'S ASKS TENDERS FOR TWO BOND ISSUES

Quebec, April 6.—Tenders for two bond issues for the city of St. John's, Que., will be received up to April 14, according to notice today in the Quebec Official Gazette. The issues are for $60,500 and $378,000.

The loans are intended to consolidate the expense of direct relief and works for and renewal by series of the waterworks loans. Interest on the smaller loan will be at four per cent. dated December 1, 1936, and on the $378,000 issue not more than four per cent. dated May 1, 1937.

PROGRAMME AT BIRCHTON WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Arthur Pankhurst Appointed Christian Culture Conventor of Young People's Union to Succeed Miss Helen Picard.

Birchton, April 6.—A well-prepared Easter programme was given in the local hall by the citizenship convent of the Young People's Union, with Miss Ruth Grapes as conventor.

The meeting opened in the usual manner and all joined in singing the hymn, "Mary to the Savior's Tomb." The Scripture, taken from St. John 19:1-17, was read by Howard Beard. A short poem, "Easter Dawn," was read by Sammy Harrison.

Miss Grapes gave an explanation of "the darkest day in all the world" before Gertrude Grapes gave a reading by that title.

The hymn, "He Dies, the Friend of Sinners Dies," was sung by all, and a poem, "For Others," was read by Bertie Harrison.

An article entitled, "Easter Rising," was read by Miss Grapes, after which all joined in singing "Hallelujah."

The programme was brought to a close by Miss Grapes giving the beautiful poem, "The Touch of the Master's Hand."

The president, Milton Kirkby, presided over a short business period. After the roll call had been responded to and the minutes of the last meeting were adopted, Mr. Arthur Pankhurst was appointed Christian culture conventor to replace Miss Helen Picard, who has accepted a position in Sherbrooke.

The correspondence was read and discussed and the business session adjourned.

A choir practice for the following Sunday service followed, with Mrs. Bunt as organist.

The young people then enjoyed some games and a sing-song before separating.
