Mayor Bruneau opens rink, children, parents 'satisfied'

"We are exceptionally pleased with tonight's turnout", commented Westmount Recreation Superintendent B. A. Rothwell prior to the official opening of the artificial ice rink on the corner of Western and Lansdowne avenues Friday evening.

The controversial ice rink, opened by Mayor Sidney Bruneau with the building, designing, and engineering of the rink were present at the opening, including Mr. R. F. Lawton, of Wiggs, Lawton, & Walker, architects, Mr. J. G. Frost, of Wiggs, Walford, Frost & Lindsay, and Mr. W. F. Dawson of Douglas Bremner Construction Ltd. They said that the rink was among the most up-to-date in the country, and incorporated such innovations as a base of crushed stone five feet deep to prevent frost upheaval. Mr. Dawson emphasized that due to a new method of winter cement pouring, the City of Westmount was able to provide employment for many laborers during last winter's recession.

The rink contains fourteen miles of refrigeration piping. Members of firms connected with the building, designing, and engineering of the rink were present at the opening, including Mr. R. F. Lawton, of Wiggs, Lawton, & Walker, architects, Mr. J. G. Frost, of Wiggs, Walford, Frost & Lindsay, and Mr. W. F. Dawson of Douglas Bremner Construction Ltd. They said that the rink was among the most up-to-date in the country, and incorporated such innovations as a base of crushed stone five feet deep to prevent frost upheaval. Mr. Dawson emphasized that due to a new method of winter cement pouring, the City of Westmount was able to provide employment for many laborers during last winter's recession.

LOTS OF FUN

One mother felt that the rink would be "lots of fun" for both her and the children, and that the dressing room facilities made the rink easier to use than the regular outdoor rinks.

The costumes on display showed great inventiveness on the part of the children, and varied from a knight in aluminum foil armor to a couple in dressing gowns and pincurls, with two large inner tubes slung over their shoulders, calling themselves "Time to Retire".

The winners were Louise Leavens, 7, wearing a burlap sack and flapper hat, entitled "The Original Sack Dress"; Sandra Ives, 9, whose costume was entirely made of newspaper; Mike Thompson, 11, and Pierre Wilson, 11, dressed as a hobo and an old-fashioned lady.

INSTRUCTION

Commenting on the activity of the rink in the community, Mr. Rothwell said that they hope to get started soon on instruction for children, and if enough interest is shown, may even extend the instruction to adults.

6-year-old hit by car

Andre Hebert, 6, 101 Gelby street, was knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. Doris Olsen, 61, 133 Westminster avenue, Montreal West, at Saint Catherine street and Greene avenue, Tuesday.

According to police the driver of the car told them that she was coming south down Greene avenue and was following another car east onto Saint Catherine when the boy ran out from a sidewalk into the side of the car.

The driver of the car had already taken the boy to the Montreal Children's Hospital when the police arrived. He suffered a fractured right leg and a cut in the back of the head.

His condition was reported by the hospital to be "improving."

Council gives first reading to '59 by-law

The 1959 Assessment By-law, entitled 'By-law to levy an assessment to meet the current expenses and other expenses for the City for the fiscal year 1959 and to levy the school tax imposed by statute for the fiscal year 1958-59' was given first reading by Council at its Monday-night meeting.

Estimating a balanced budget in 1959, the City has increased the general tax rate by ½ mill on the dollar, that is from 19½ to 20 mills on the assessed value.

This is to provide for the increased costs of contractual agreements with labor and for the increased costs of material.

For the purpose of meeting interest payments and to provide for the payment of the instalments of principal, the Special Tax which was 1½ mills in 1958 has been increased to 2¼ mills.

This is necessary due to increased capital expenditures with the ensuing increase in the provisions for fixed charges.

There are no changes contemplated in the School Taxes which are established by statute.

It is expected that second and third readings will be given at the next meeting of Council, scheduled on Monday.

2 city items to cost $1,700

City Council gave approval to two items involving expenditure of $1,700 at its Monday night meeting.

The first, for installation of a $1,200 overhead rail and hoist for the Corporation Yard Garage, to be used for mounting and removing snow-blowing equipment on winter vehicles.

The other $500 will be spent on construction of a dividing wall in an existing building to provide safe storage for kerosene and road works flares.

Civic, military leaders attend Memorial Service

Civilians and members of the three military services gathered at the Westmount War Memorial at Sherbrooke and Cote St. Antoine road, Sunday, to honor the men of Westmount who died fighting in two World Wars and the Korean War.

The simple service, led by Captain Rev. Kenneth B. Keefe, Chaplain of the Royal Montreal Regiment, consisted of prayers for those who made the supreme sacrifice, for Queen and Country, and for peace and brotherhood among the nations; a reading from the Bible and two hymns.

During the singing of the last hymn, Mayor Sidney Bruneau placed a wreath on the cenotaph on behalf of the City of Westmount. Other wreaths on behalf of the various military units, ladies' committees, civic bodies and societies, and private individuals were then brought forward.

LAST POST

Following the playing of the Last Post came the traditional two-minute silence, with all heads bowed in silent tribute.

Throughout the ceremony, a guard of honor stood motionless at each of the four corners of the memorial.

The March Past took place to the music of the band of the Royal Montreal Regiment, wearing their parade uniform of red and blue, with white, gold-spiked helmets. On hand to take the salute were Mayor Bruneau and Maj. Gen John M. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding, Quebec Command flanked by officials of the City of Westmount and various other prominent citizens, including A. Ross Webster, MP, for Westmount-St. Antoine.

The parade, marching up Cote St. Antoine Rd. past Stanton Rd., formed an impressive sight, with men of all ages, from veterans to cadets, taking part. Especially colorful was the Pipe Band of RCAF 401 (City of Westmount) Fighter Squadron, wearing kilts of the blue airforce plaid.

LORD ROWALLAN THE CHIEF SCOUT OF THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH

who will address a meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club at the Unity Boys' Club at noon, next Wednesday. A distinguished soldier and an expert in cattle breeding, particularly Ayrshire stock, his Scouting connections go back to the early days of the Movement, founded by Lord Baden-Powell. Lord Rowallan, who is 62, succeeded Lord Somers as Chief Scout in February 1915, but his early prominence came in 1922 when he was appointed a District Commissioner in Scotland and in 1925, County Commissioner for Ayrshire. At his Scottish home, Rowallan Castle, Kilmarnock, he set up a camp site for the training of Scout officers and as a camping ground for Scouts. Shooting, hunting, golfing and swimming are his favourite sports and he counts among his hobbies, water-color painting and etching.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

November 15 to 22

Cool with sunny intervals and scattered cold rains or light snows, with some glaze ice and gusty winds. December rains wash away November snows. Temperature range 20-40°F in the south, and 0-35°F in the north with 40 sunny hours.

Changeable in the middle of the week with more light snows or freezing rains. Many towns have traffic upsetting storms at this time.

Cold sunny periods with snow flurries or cold mists to end the week, then clearing and warming.

Leavens, and Pierre Wilson. Prizes were for the most original boy and girl, and the funniest boy and girl.

The Hungry Hordes

While most insects do not inflict much pain when they bite or sting, the after effects can be very unpleasant. Excessive itching usually leads to scratching and, especially in the case of children, infection may result. The use of good insect repellents will help to prevent the insects from attacking. Around the home, fly sprays can be used to good effect in keeping the pests out of the house.

JAMES F. C. BRAY

Services were held Saturday, for James F. C. Bray, formerly with the Northern Electric Company, and among the pioneers in the early field of telephone installation, who died Thursday, November 6, at the home of his son in Westmount.

Born in Montreal, June 30, 1875 Mr. Bray joined the Northern Electric Company at an early age, where he became a cost estimator. He remained with the company until his retirement at 65, except for a brief hiatus during which he was with the Stromberg - Carlson Company in Rochester, N. Y.

He was one of the founders of the Railway Telephone League, and amateur hockey league drawn from the railway and telephone companies in Montreal, which was very popular some thirty years ago, its games bringing record crowds to the Forum.

Mr. Bray had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, among them Pete Lepine, former Canadian Hockey star.

A member of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows, he also kept a coin and stamp collection, which included some rare items.

He was married at the turn of the century to the former Annie Leahy of Montreal. They lived at Lorraine avenue in Westmount until her death in 1932.

Mr. Bray is survived by his two sons, Gerald C., of 4135 Dorchester W., Westmount, and Paul, of Toronto; and his sister, Mrs. James Weiss, also of Westmount.

HARRY LIVINSON

Mr. Harry H. Livinson, 432 Wood avenue, a well-known Montreal real estate administrator, died Friday at the age of 63.

Mr. Livinson was a member of Shaar Hashomayim Congregation and the Spanish and Portuguese Jewish Congregation. He was active in the B'nai B'rith Mount Royal Lodge 729, and supported the YMHA as a member of the symphony orchestra there.

Further community activities included past mastership of the St. George's Masonic Lodge, and membership in the Combined Jewish Appeal groups.

He was a native of Montreal, and attended Dufferin School and Montreal High School.

Funeral services were held Monday.

Mr. Livinson is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Gabriel, and Miss Celia Livinson, and a brother, Abraham Livinson, all of Montreal.

Defence Minister Pearkes tells RMR 'Russians daren't attack the West'

"Today, the West must present such a show of force and efficiency that no enemy will dare go to war against us" said Defence Minister George Pearkes, in a speech to the Royal Montreal Regiment at its annual mess dinner, Friday.

He paid particular tribute to the part the militia in Canada was playing when, he said, it was not likely they would have to engage in active service.

It took particular tenacity for young men to attend militia training and teach recruits the same things over and over again but the experience would prove invaluable, he added.

Among the guests at the dinner were Mayor Sidney Bruneau and A. Ross Webster, MP.

Referring to the possibility of war, Mr. Pearkes said, "Only if we relax our standards and become afraid to make sacrifices in peacetime will the Russians dare attack us. Otherwise, they know that their cities would be destroyed and their country devastated in a matter of a few weeks, so powerful is our power and ability to strike."

He stated that Russia had no means of destroying objects in the upper atmosphere and would have no hope of surviving an attack if she started a war.

Similarly, he added, we would be able to stop a bomber attack but not an attack by ICBM's, though we were close to solving that problem.

"I have seen a U.S. missile detection station" he said "that is capable of detecting an object 750 miles above the earth's surface. If we can detect and track an object that far away it will not be a long step before we are able to destroy it."

Turning to defence costs, he said that within limits this country could well afford to pay its share and Canada is making a reasonable contribution towards defence of the West.

He pointed out that Canada is now the mainstay of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East, with 100 officers at present on border patrol duty in Lebanon. In this way they were preserving peace and preventing flare-ups of small wars.

At the outset of his speech, Mr. Pearkes declared that a militia unit must not be allowed to decline into a club for old soldiers. New blood must be constantly injected.

However great a regiment's tradition this did not mean nothing new could be started.

"There is a great requirement today for initiative which must never retreat from the front line of conduct, courage and discipline. Every soldier aspires to courage but if as officers you haven't developed courage you must have the will-power to overcome the fear of fear."

Council, Rotary vote money for Springhill fund

The meeting is open to the public free of charge.

'Y' seeks $8,500 in fund drive

Final briefing sessions are being held this week for 19 teams and 150 YMCA Volunteer Canvassers who will be visiting over 1,300 homes and firms in Westmount during the next three weeks.

The campaign starts with the City Wide Opening Banquet on Thursday, November 13 at Central YMCA with Mr. G. A. R. Hart, General Manager of the Bank of Montreal, as Guest Speaker and extends to Tuesday, December 2. To carry on its program of youth work this year, the YMCA of Montreal needs $230,000.00 which is actually only approx. 12 per cent of its total budget.

W. D. Macdonald, Chairman of the Westmount Division, announced "Our Westmount minimum objective is $8,500.00 and our Campaign Committee and team organization is confident that the citizens of Westmount will give their utmost support to this worthwhile campaign. Although we can't minimize the importance of reaching this campaign objective, we are vitally interested in telling the YMCA story to the citizens of Westmount and to make new friends. Our record is good with an aggregate attendance of 54,053 during 1957."

WE SAY

Are our dwellings potential pyres?

THERE are countless Oldfields in the metropolitan area.

There are individual dwellings; walk-up flats and huge multi-family units every bit as much under-boxes and death-traps.

As on Oldfield avenue, many are old, dried-out structures with or without concealing coats of gleaming paint and other furbishings. Those that have not been kept up, of course, are slums.

This, we suppose, is inevitable in a big and growing metropolis.

What need not be so inevitable, however, is the fact that we permit continued construction of human incinerators.

Visitors often remark on our "solid buildings." Yes, we use lots of brick and stone. But anyone who has troubled to take a closer look at our average dwelling under construction will have noted that the majority of us, in reality, live in wooden houses, flats and apartments.

Basically, home construction in the Montreal area is no different from the clapboard or shingle of the Maritimes, the West, and even our own nearby rural areas.

Here, we hide it. We encase it in a veneer of brick, sometimes stone.

The result may satisfy the casual glance. But too frequently we have built pyres for our men, women and children.

It's like building wood-en-lined chimneys, especially if the structures are multi-storeyed.

Fires, whatever the type of construction, can start from many causes. Even supposedly "fire-proof" buildings have taken their toll. So long as we must heat, light, cook, enjoy electrical appliances, and smoke, we shall have fires.

But their effects could be minimized.

Retarded seek your support

THERE are about 500,000 retarded children in this country.

Some 60,000 of them are in this province.

There are special schools for them being operated at Montreal, Sherbrooke, Hull and Pointe Claire in this part of the province and this affords a special interest in the forthcoming drive for funds to finance this vital program.

For the past decade the work for the retarded child has been increasing, largely through the fact that parents of these children refused to accept the opinion that nothing could be done for them. Today there are special classes in special schools, classes in sponsored schools, sheltered workshops, recreation programs, summer camps, new legislation, clinics — and this great work must be financed.

The Canadian Association for Retarded Children was incorporated only in January last. It has affiliations in all 10 provinces. There are 116 parent groups representing 12,000 people — mostly the parents of retarded children.

It is believed that ten essentials are necessary for improvement of the conditions of these children. These include diagnostic and treatment clinics, home visiting counsellors, residential centres, training for the educable retarded, social training for the trainable, sheltered workshops, recreational and social centres, summer camps, employment in industry by those suitable, and research.

These children urgently need help.

They deserve your support.

By the Way . . .

Factual Integration

The police officers who came from Iceland to study our traffic must have been impressed by the efficient manner in which the cars passing a given point in a given time are counted. When an insufficiently conscientious counter grows tired of the game and simply writes down 35,704, he is not likely to be contradicted, so profound is public apathy in this matter. Even more valuable work is done by those who measure the length, breadth and thickness of traffic jams and those who count the number of people in each car.

John Rowat: educator and legislator

By CYNTHIA JONES

Hon. John Pozer Rowat, the newly-appointed legislative councillor of the province of Quebec, and widely-known notary, has no intention of resigning his post as chairman of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal. He is far too absorbed in education not only in relation to the 16 school boards, 60,000 school children and the 2,400 teachers under his jurisdiction but on a provincial scale as a former chairman of the Protestant committee of the Council of Public Instruction.

Besides, the Upper House only requires his presence for four weeks in the fall and six weeks in the early part of the year. "I am looking forward to Quebec but I really don't like making speeches," said Mr. Rowat who delivers a good one.

Mr. Rowat has served as chairman of the Greater Montreal School Board for the past three years, succeeding the late W. E. Dunton in 1955. "I was first appointed to the Montreal city school board in 1946," said Mr. Rowat during an interview at his home, 5226 Cote St. Antoine. "I was an N.D.G. councillor appointed by the city. In 1950 I didn't run for the Council because it takes too much time. That year the provincial government picked me as one of its four appointees on the eight-man board."

For years Mr. Rowat had the arduous and often unpopular office of board finance chairman. By nature a jolly, generous man, he found himself in the unenviable position of having to refuse teachers' pleas for raises in pay. "They thought I was a Simon Legree," he remarked. "But in those lean years after the war I found it impossible to finance the building projects to accommodate the vast increase in the school population, raise the teachers' pay and at the same time balance the budget."

As chairman of the board Mr. Rowat has made up for these circumstantial shortcomings by granting the teachers an overall increase of 10 per cent last year. Some individual increases have amounted to 40 per cent. "A woman starts at $3,900 a year; a man at $4,000," he said. To the question "why not equal pay, equal status for women," Mr. Rowat grinned and said: "Well, their take-home pay is the same and a woman goes on pension earlier."

Like all other school board chairmen across the country Mr. Rowat must cope with the shortage of teachers. "At the moment the shortage is not too bad due to the steps we have taken and probably we are the only board in the province or in Canada which is not too short of teachers," he said. "No classes are without a teacher. For two years running we have advertised extensively abroad for teachers and sent recruiting teams overseas. Our first year netted 18 teachers from the United Kingdom and the second, 58 from France, Northern Ireland, England and Scotland. So far we have had excellent results."

Other steps taken to lure young men and women into the profession have been increased scholarships in teacher training and a propaganda campaign slanted at high school students to take up teaching.

Mr. Rowat's school building programme is a formidable one to keep abreast of the steady increase in the school population which averages between 2,000 and 2,500 per annum. Tenders have just been awarded for the Dunton High School in the East school revenue has been felt this past year as a result of this equalization. "We had a surplus of $300,000, the largest in the history of the school board," said Mr. Rowat.

His ability to speak fluent French has helped Mr. Rowat enormously in both his professional and political career. "My French got me into politics," he said. "I was the Solar Club's delegate to the organizational meeting of the N.D.G. Community Council of which I eventually became secretary. At these meetings I used to practise my French

JOHN ROWAT

End. There will be a second new high school on the domaine site in Ahuntsic and a third in Saint Laurent. In the near future a composite junior and senior high school will be built in Westmount. "In four years' time Cote St. Luc will need a new high school," sighed Mr. Rowat. "And in five years' probably N.D.G. As for elementary schools they're going up all the time or additions to the existing ones."

Perhaps the strongest single move Mr. Rowat has made in his school work is the equalization of school taxes in municipalities. "One of the problems facing the board which rules over 23 municipalities is to make each individual taxpayer or corporation pay his fair share of the cost of education," he said. "In the past many municipalities outside Montreal deliberately kept assessments low with the result that, with a fixed tax rate, the people living in those municipalities were paying far less in school taxes than they should have or would have if their property had been in Montreal. So we went to the Legislature three years ago and asked for power to look into assessments in outlying municipalities and if necessary raise them to the level of those in Montreal for school tax purposes."

A considerable increase in on the French-speaking members. In 1942 there was an opening on the City Council and a group approached me to run. My predecessor had resigned because he couldn't understand what was going on at City Hall."

Mr. Rowat's late father — Donald McKenzie Rowat — was adamant that his three children learn French. He himself came to McGill University from Huntingdon at the age of 20, unable to speak one word of French. He found it a great handicap. He employed French servants and hired a French teacher for two afternoons to give lessons at home. "My father sent me to France to live with a French family for three summers when I was a boy," said Mr. Rowat. "I was 10, 14 and 18. My brother, who is now a Presbyterian minister (Rev. Ronald Rowat) like his grandfather before him stayed over a year at one time."

Born in Richmond, Quebec, Mr. Rowat came to Montreal with his family at the age of one. He was educated at Roslyn School, Westmount High and graduated from McGill University in arts in 1932 and in law in 1935. "I led the class in criminal law, I can remember," he said. "I went into my father's notary business during the depression. He retired from practice in 1948 and died in 1952. I (Continued on Page 7)

Current Events Club hears reports on UN

This year, we are scheduling interested groups which change every six weeks throughout the winter and spring season to give every youngster an opportunity to participate in the groups of his choice. "FUTURE LATE COMERS"

"I RUSHED TO GET to the Young People's Concerts on time. My child was so excited and impatient because it was her first symphony concert. We got there and it was late in starting. I NEEDN'T HAVE RUSHED SO." So said a new member of this season's concerts and probably she will arrive late for future concerts because they do not start on time.

Mentioning this episode (and that the parent was slightly annoyed) to a member of the committee, I was surprised at the answer. "We are always late with the first concert because many people arrive to buy tickets for the series and as there is a long cue at the box-office we are forced to be late." Imagine, this is the Tenth Anniversary Year and they still start late!

How can the children of today, who are the adults of tomorrow be trained to be on time if they see that concerts are held up for the benefit of the latecomers? There is a sure cure but people have not the courage to be strict. Yes, it takes courage. If they are afraid of losing the customers who arrive late they are in for the pleasant surprise, these same careless people will be there if they know they can't get away with it. We are not referring to anyone who has a valid reason for being unavoidably late.

Why not start on time? Why not let the latecomers miss the first number on the program? They will be on time for the next concert. I have heard comments that the Pro Musica Society is too strict because they do just that. I, and many others sincerely admire them for it and also let it be pointed out that those in their seats on time are not disturbed during the first item on the program.

AT LAST

THE PRODUCER of Menotti's newest opera, "Maria Golovin" David Merrick received great publicity last week at its premiere in New York and was acclaimed by the press because he denied latecomers entry to the Martin Beck Theatre during the first scene of the opera which takes no less than 25 minutes!

Over 50 annoyed people were held outside and Mr. Merrick did the same thing a couple of days earlier at the opening of a new play, "Epitaph for George Dillon". Here is a man who will succeed because all ticket holders for his productions are NOT going to be disturbed in the first act and latecomers will know that they MUST be on time.

TOMORROW NIGHT: The only concert series in Notre Dame de Grace, The SOCIETY OF FRIENDS OF MUSIC is holding its second concert of the season in Westhill High School Auditorium at 8.30 p.m. Lieder singer Friedrich Fischer-Dieskau, one of the world's great artists draws such attendances for his concerts in Europe, that Donald Bell, the Canadian who gave such a remarkable concert for the Ladies' Morning Musical Club last week said that they dare not advertise in several of the cities for Fischer-Dieskau because he is such a sell-out! Imagine giving public concerts and having the house packed just by word of mouth!

SAYING OF THE WEEK: The difference between failure and success is doing a thing nearly right and doing it exactly right. EDWARD C. SIMMONS 1839-1920.

Prayer is a part of the Christian life — in fact, it is part of life as a whole. In times of distress we turn to a power beyond ourselves, no matter in what terms we conceive of the power. But objection is sometimes raised that prayer just does not work. The objection generally takes one of two forms: we may say that prayer does not affect me; that is, that I feel in exactly the same way after my prayer as before; nothing has happened to me. Or I may put the objection in the opposite way, and say that nothing in the world around me has been affected by my prayer.

Let us think what Christian prayer is; or let us think first what a Christian is. He is a child in his Father's house. He has been adopted into the family of God, or he has been reborn into the family to take the place that would naturally have been his if there had never been such a thing as sin. He is within the family enjoying all the privileges of the family; and in particular with the right to approach the Father of the family with all his joys, and with all his sorrows and problems. That is prayer. It is as simple and as effective as taking one's interests to a father in whom one has complete confidence. It is not a relationship of fear, "for perfect love casteth out fear." It is a childish relationship, for it is only a child who has never been rebuffed who can enter into such a relationship. It is a child's relationship, but a child is not always reasonable, and he may lay before his father unreasonable proposals and requests. His father — in love for the child — may have to refuse the request, because he has something better in view. He sees farther than the child.

We Christian children — old and not so old — often approach our Father with requests which are not reasonable; or requests which our Father knows would harm us if they were granted. Or He may refuse the request because He has in view for us something entirely different. Or again, our request may be a petition to be delivered from bodily ill, as in the case of our Lord Himself, and in the case of St. Paul. Our Lord prayed to be delivered from the horror of bearing man's sin on the Cross. But He ended the prayer by acknowledging that His Father was serving an infinitely high purpose in His bearing the sin, and so He ended the prayer: "Nevertheless, not my will, but thine, be done."

Paul also prayed that the stake driven into his flesh might be removed. Three times he prayed and his sole answer was: "My grace is sufficient for thee." He continued to suffer his infirmity but God answered his prayer by a more abundant outpouring of His grace, and he carried on in spite of his disability.

Very often our prayers are not petitions for something, but outpourings of ourselves, simply because we must express ourselves to the Beloved. But no matter what kind of prayer we utter there must be in it: (1) Faith, "For he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him." (Heb. 11-6) But what if I have no faith? The very fact that you pray implies that you have. And saying that we accept God's infinitely wise judgment in our need will deepen the faith. (2) For there must be in prayer, not pride, but submission — the "not my will be done" attitude, for even a loving God will not be dictated to. And (3) there must be in our prayer perseverance. If we persevere we convince ourselves that we are really in earnest in our petitions to our Father. Even in the story of Israel it is emphasized: Joash the King of Israel went to see the dying prophet Elisha. The prophet bade the King take arrows and smite the ground. When he smote the ground three times and stayed "the man of God was wroth with him, and said: Thou shouldst have smitten five or six times; then hadst thou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Syria but thrice."

In 1948, Mr. Rowat ran in N.D.G. for the National Union Party and was defeated by Paul Earl, the Liberal candidate.

Mr. Rowat's logical and analytical mind and his ability to speak French were great assets to the Tremblay Royal Commission on Constitutional Problems set up in 1953 to investigate fiscal matters between the federal government and the province of Quebec. Mr. Rowat was the only English-speaking member of the six-man commission. "We held hearings all over the province for a year," said Mr. Rowat, producing the five-tomed French edition of the massive Tremblay report which he doubted that many had read. "It took one and a half years to write the report and three years elapsed before the commission was dissolved."

In 1940 Mr. Rowat married Ruby McCormack who attended Strathcona Academy. Reddy reports finance problems

"Our greatest concern is the financing of the daily activities of this Hospital." This statement made by Mr. William Bentley, Chairman of the Board of the Reddy Memorial Hospital in the Annual Report, summed up most of the problems confronting the hospital.

In 1957, the Reddy Memorial achieved less than 40% of a $250,000 goal in its annual campaign for funds. Mr. Bentley went on to say that this year the campaign was not doing as well as the previous year.

Mr. Bentley also said that a bronze plaque in memory of Col. Bovey had been placed in the hospital.

Seven new men were elected to the Board of Directors this year. They are Mr. George Holland, Mr. R. de Wolfe Mackay, Mr. Eric Motzfeldt, Mr. Henry G. Norman, Mr. W. Boyd Robson, Mr. John M. Thompson and Mr. Archie Wilcox.

By LAURENT PRICE

... Present Company Excepted, Of Course!

It's nice to report that the behavior of supper club patrons and theatregoers has improved considerably over the past few years, according to the views of a veteran stage and night club artist, a recent Montreal visitor. But, he added, there's still room for betterment.

The after "curtain goes up" arrival is now a rare bit of exhibitionism, not tolerated by most theatres, and only happens if the culprit is skilled at broken aisle running through circumspect ushers, he further informed us. And come to think of it, we've noticed this improvement, too.

There still remain, unhappily, the audience conversationalists who not only pass loud and faulty judgment on the performers' talent, dress and the show's merit, but at the same time will give you a pungent — but apocryphal — resume of the star's love life, moral shortcomings or current and probable domestic status. It is hoped that these types may eventually get lost, too.

So much for the playgoers. Closer to home on the night club wheel, some patrons of the late spots still have a lot to learn. Primarily, more consideration for the acts and fellow guests.

We don't think anyone deliberately goes out of the way to be annoying; but one big mouth — particularly if lubricated with some bottled loudspeaker — can sure louse up a performance, and ruin the enjoyment of others. When this occurs, money spent on special material, music arrangements, costumes — and the price of the talent itself — takes on a very sick looking aspect. To say nothing of the other customers' monetary contribution to the evening's unscheduled and boring proceedings.

People of this ilk should be exposed only to clubs starring such comics as Pat Harrington, Frankie Hyers, Jack Gleason (before TV) et al. One false step, in the way of unbecoming interruption with these lads, and they'd be cut to ribbons by witheringly caustic ripostes. The squelch exact is standard equipment with them; and some ring-side bully boys electing to play straight for these performers have later been seen at bus depots dazedly inquiring about the next departure for Toronto.

To their everlasting credit, most headwaiters zealously try to protect the surrounding clientele; but when a real "live" one, as the trade expresses it, shows up everybody's in for a tough evening. Probably the reason, too, why old timers sometime regret the passing of the mickey finn and hot foot.

So let's all be little ladies and gentlemen, shall we?

Westmount YMCA interior undergoes full renovation

The newly re-conditioned building of the Westmount Young Men's Christian Association will be opened with considerable ceremony on Monday November 17th at 7.30 p.m. Mayor Sidney Bruneau of Westmount will cut the ribbon across the doors, thus indicating that the building is officially opened. Mr. Irving I. Tait, representing the Metropolitan Board of the Montreal YMCA, and Mr. Eric I. Hamilton, Chairman of the Westmount YMCA Board will assist. Rev. Charles C. Cochrane of Melville Presbyterian Church will give the prayer of Dedication.

While repairs and renovation of the public parts of the building has been completed, there are still some workmen on the premises. Facilities in many areas of the building have been so completely altered as to be almost unrecognizable to the vast majority of persons visiting the Y in the past few years.

A three ring heating system has been installed with a major portion of the pipes and plumbing being renewed. This system will allow controlled heat to three separate areas — main and second floors, basement and locker room level and the third floor men's residence. The gymnasium is now thermostatically controlled. Valves and traps for over 100 radiators have been renewed throughout the entire building.

The electrical wiring has been renewed with new ventilation fans and lighting in the locker rooms, swimming pool, showers and gymnasium. A new shower room and men's wash room have also been added. A Public Address system has been installed with speakers in ten areas of the building.

The locker rooms for men, women, boys and girls have been completely renewed with acoustic ceilings, asphalt tiled floors and new lockers. A tote basket system for all groups enables a larger number of members to be accommodated at the same time.

The main floor area has been repainted with new offices for the main desk and Youth Lounge and a new checking room area increasing the efficiency in meeting and serving the public. All floors on the main floor have been renewed with asphalt tile.

The Youth Lounge is attractively panelled with vinyl asbestos tile on the floor — this should be an added asset for our teenagers. Aluminum front doors will add to the appearance of the building entrance.

C. Lloyd Welton, Executive

THE LOBBY WITH THE "NEW" LOOK

Secretary of the Westmount Branch, feels that the new facilities are the equal, or better than, similar facilities in the city. The new arrangements are so well-planned, Mr. Welton says, that the Westmount YMCA could handle double the present membership without perceptible strain. In fact, plans are already in hand for enlarging the membership and the fine new building will aid considerably in the effort. The entire renovation program has been planned with the membership in mind — to provide a well-rounded program in clean, wholesome surroundings.

On Monday evening, the building will be open to everyone from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. and the Board of Management and staff extend a sincere welcome to public to inspect these new facilities.

WESTMOUNT 'Y' OFFERS NEW FACILITIES AND

Historic Institution founded in 1887

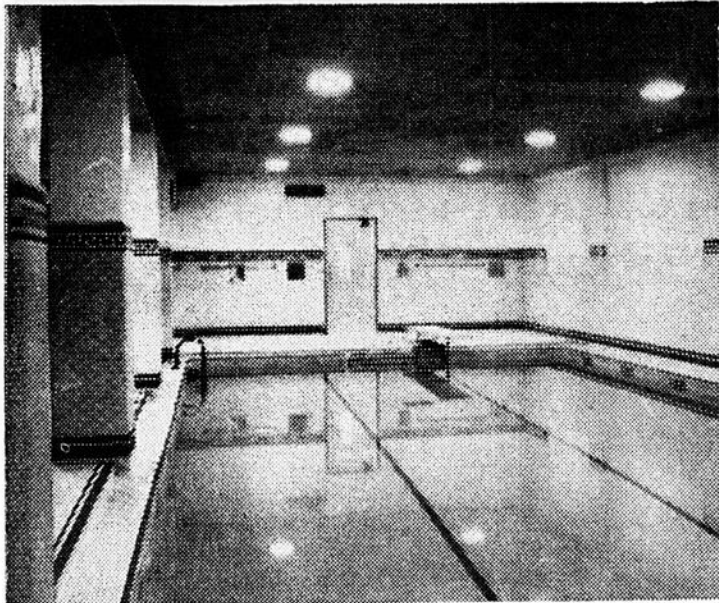

The official opening ceremony at the Westmount Y will mark the completion of the modernization program of the Association's building at the corner of Sherbrooke and Arlington avenue. The ceremony is scheduled to take place on Monday, November 17th, and all members and friends of the YMCA are invited to be present.

The YMCA's first program for boys in Westmount opened late in 1887 at 3225 St. Catherine St. in what was then "Cote St. Antoine." It is interesting to note that the YMCA in Westmount is actually older than Westmount itself! In 1895 the Village of Cote St. Antoine was incorporated as the Town of Westmount, and by that time the YMCA was firmly imbedded in the life of the municipality.

Old records tell of a social held early in 1888 in the "Academy", (later the High School), of which Academy Road is an interesting relic. Mayor Thomas Patton presided and "... the hall was packed with the most lively and interesting crowd of boys that ever assembled within its walls." One wonders how 1912. The total cost of land and buildings together with the furnishings, was reported as $104,270.00 — at present prices these would have amounted to more than two hundred thousand dollars!

At the time of opening, F. Max Hill was chairman of the Board of Management and among his associates were R. H. Mac-many of that interesting crowd of boys are still surviving and resident in Westmount! The Y.M.C.A. has thus conducted its program continuously in Westmount for over ninety years.

Through the great Y.M.C.A. Expansion Financial Campaign of 1909, under the leadership of John W. Ross and J. W. McConnell, funds were raised with which to erect new branch buildings on Drummond St., in the North End, and in Westmount. The Westmount Building was opened for use in the spring of donald, A. L. Robertson, F. G. Daniels, J. P. Atkinson, Ed. Roberts, C. Foster Brown, and F. G. Gnaedinger. Members of the staff in the first decade included J. Morley Carson, T. Hicks Miller, Gordon Hignell and J. G. McKay. In those days large whiskers decorated the male countenance, bustles were only beginning to fade, and bowling in the Y's basement was all the rage in Westmount.

G. Lloyd Welton Executive Secretary of the Westmount Branch.

From the beginning, members of the new branch took a prominent part in all city-wide activities, of the Montreal Association. Each summer, the largest delegation of boys to attend Kamp Kanawana, opened in 1910 near St. Sauveur in the Laurentians, came from Westmount. The branch also supplied some of the top performers in the track and field squad which, in the pre-War years, used the old McGill Campus track during the summer months. The tennis courts on Western avenue not only attracted Westmount young people, but was also open to members from other branches in the city.

In the period following the Great War, Westmount Branch continued to progress, serving the needs not only of its own district but also drawing members from the rapidly growing districts of Notre Dame de Grace and Montreal West. In 1924 it was reported that 60% of the Westmount Branch membership came from the areas further west.

Eventually, it was necessary in 1928 for the Association to purchase a large property on Royal avenue and to open the Notre Dame de Grace Branch.

During the twenties, the Branch was under the direction of such Board members as G. B. Allison, F. W. Sharp, Dent Harrison, J. A. Shaw, John B. Frosst, C. W. Webster, Stanley and Robert Stanger, who developed a strong program of "Y" leadership training which attracted large numbers of young men.

At this time Cecil Brown was Executive Secretary, later followed by Harold Cross. Herbert Paterson was Physical Director and E. M. Crawford, Phil Paterson and later Wilfred Buckley were Boys' Secretaries.

One of the largest and most effective senior Leaders Corps in Canada was formed, and this group of young men, in 1922, opened an extension program for needy boys in the St. Henry district, for many years using the old West End Methodist Church hall. The supervision was supplied entirely on a voluntary basis.

The same Corps conducted classes for many years in the Westmount "Y" gymnasium for the boys of the School for the Blind and the Mackay Institute, which were greatly appreciated by the handicapped youngsters.

One of the earliest chapters, in Canada, of the Y's Men's Clubs — now an International Organization with chapters throughout the world — was organized in Westmount Y.M.C.A. About this period a Junior Board of Management was established as an experiment in leadership training. The first Hi-Y club in Montreal was organized in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. in 1925. In the same year, the original Fossils Club was organized.

In the period of the thirties and forties, the staff included Harold Beall, Wilfrid Spearman and Ernie Taylor. In 1937, under the leadership of Herb Paterson, a program of extension work was conducted in Ville St. Pierre and Lachine, which in the following year was constituted a new branch.

From the first week of World War II the building was used by the mobilizing troops, and throughout the war years, the Westmount Branch conducted an outstanding program for the men and women of the armed services. For 175 successive weeks, the ladies committee entertained men and women in uniform on Sunday afternoons. On week-days our facilities were free to all members of the armed services.

Swim pool regulations

In all swimming pools rules are laid down for the preservation of life and the better operation of the pool as a community service. Following are the rules which are observed at Westmount YMCA. This pool, which has been in operation since 1922 has turned hundreds, probably thousands, of non-swimmers into swimmers.

- (a) Never swim alone under any circumstances. If caught, you may be barred, if not you may drown.
- (b) No one may enter the pool without first taking a shower.
- (c) Never swim on a full stomach. After eating, at least an hour should pass before swim-

Community needs met by YMCA

Helping a person become healthy and fit is one of the great objectives in "Values for Living". Unless a person is healthy and fit, he is not really alive. The Physical Department of Westmount YMCA is working toward this goal, the goal of health and fitness for everyone. Also, the Department is interested in helping people to make the most of their leisure time in other ways.

For health and fitness, the Westmount business man or married woman can join the YMCA's Businessman's Club or the Ladies Morning Keep Fit Class. Or if he or she is simply looking for recreation, there are the badminton or volley-ball games, the swimming pool or the social clubs.

The younger and more active men can fill their basic recreation or exercise needs with more strenuous sports such as basket-ball, weight-lifting or judo. In Westmount YMCA such activities as badminton, judo, gymnastics, swimming, fencing etc. are co-educational and both men and women are welcomed.

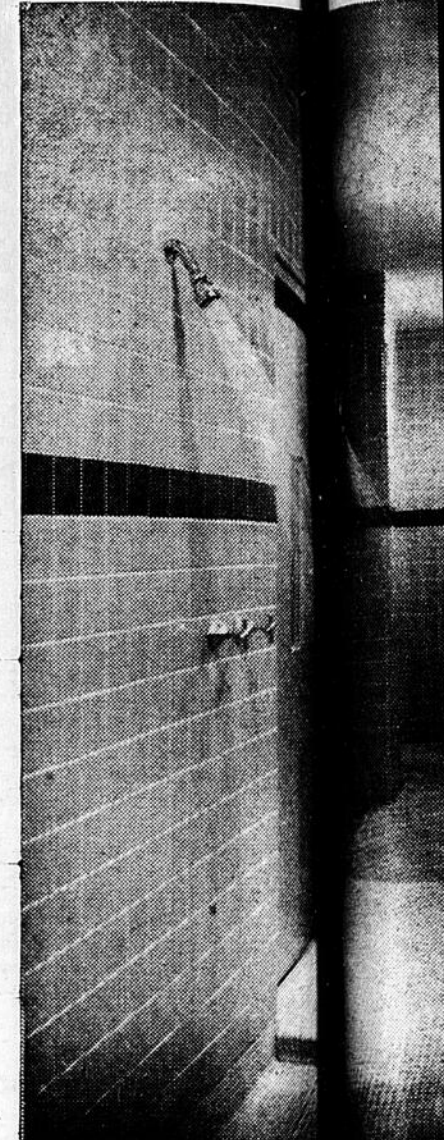

The Physical Department and its committee looks to the future and is planning courses and courses that will assist parents and other adults in the guidance of youth activities. No child can learn to swim properly, or understand the rules for water safety, without assistance. He depends on adequate adult guidance. To aid adults, Westmount YMCA is planning to give courses in coaching and teaching techniques for the various sports that children take part in during their years of development. Such classes will be run from time to time. In particular, an Adult Water Safety Class will be given towards the end of the winter season.

Two special services offered to the community by the Physical Department are the ski school and the golf school. These will be offered in the appropriate season under the guidance of experienced professional instructors. The classes of golf instruction have proven a great success in the past. It is expected that the ski school will be equally successful.

No department of a YMCA can operate without its corps of lay leaders and the Westmount "Y" is no exception. Leaders play a vital part in our institutional life, and indeed, many of our activities would not be available if it were not for the devoted efforts of these laymen who spend their leisure hours at the YMCA guiding others. Many qualified leaders are missing. Otherwise cramps may result.

- (d) Look before you dive—if you hit somebody, one of you will get hurt.
- (e) No horse-play around the pool at any time. It can lead to injuries.
- (f) Don't cry "Help!" for fun.
- (g) Men and boys are required to wear swim suits for mixed swims only. Women and girls are required to wear swim suits for all classes. We recommend nylon swim suits for use in our pool—they dry quickly and leave no lint in the water. These are on sale at the Physical Director's Office.
- (h) Members must leave the pool when their time is up. Remember, other members are waiting to come in.
- (i) No group may use the pool unless an authorized person is in charge.

Swimming pool is unique investment

Included in the recreation of the Y.M.C.A. was a thorough of the swimming pool and facilities. The swimming pool has been re-lighting fixtures installed and the shower room has been re-acoustic tile and the shower room has been re-fresh air.

Adjacent to the pool is a new shower room with new shower stalls. Separate shower rooms are provided in the men's locker-room and in the women's locker-room. Thus, no one can enter the pool room without first passing through the shower-room. At the same time, anyone can have a shower without going into the swimming pool.

The Physical Director, John Ray, feels that the new arrangements will greatly improve the Y's program for swimmers. Swim periods for men and for women, mixed swim periods, and periods for the junior departments, can now follow each other on the schedule without friction and without over-lap.

In explaining the swimming program for the coming year, Mr. Ray laid great stress on the special swim periods which will now be able to schedule for the future. For example, Father & Son swim period on Saturday.

now assisting us but more are needed to assist with groups which are lacking in leadership and to replace those who have to leave us for business or personal reasons.

Experience in the counselling and leadership of youth is one of the "Values for Living" which few parents or adults can afford to miss. For those who wish to be of service to the community and to the cause of youth, the Westmount YMCA offers leadership training courses.

ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS FOR ITS MEMBERSHIP

Youth Division Activities

"Education in Christian Values For Living". Helping boys and girls, to practice and strengthen these values during their leisure time living, is the purpose of the Westmount YMCA Youth Division. Following is a brief story of how this programme department works toward the achievement of its purpose.

CLUB PROGRAMME

Hi-Y a club programme for Senior High Students that enables them to work and grow in a Christian atmosphere. Each club is composed of 15 to 25 members who are willing to adopt the club's purpose of "creating maintaining and extending throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character". In implementing this purpose hi-Y members in Westmount make use of a variety of programme ideas centred around two central themes.

Firstly a programme of self improvement which includes; the study of religion, the examination of their place in society and relationship to parents and members of the opposite sex, a look at various careers, and opportunities to participate in workable democracy during club meetings.

Secondly a programme of service to the community such as: participation as canvassers in various charity drives, sponsorship of the Westmount Boys and Girls Hobby Show, fund raising projects of various kinds with subsequent donations to worthy organizations and families and the providing of leadership for younger boys and girls programme.

This type of club programme is also available to younger age children in Gra-Y and Jr. High-Y clubs, Gra-Y clubs are formed with children in Grades 5 and 6 and as might be expected their programme centres around a craft and games theme. Jr. Hi-Y is the club in the middle designed to help Jr. High School students develop social and organized skills needed for their integration in the adult world.

Gra-Y, Jr. Hi-Y and Hi-Y represent the YMCA's three fronts approach to educating its youth members in values for living. However something would be amiss if no reference was made to the interested groups which form the bulk of the Youth Clubs operating in the Westmount YMCA. These groups are formed for the purpose of increasing members skills and pleasure in specific activities of their choice. Perhaps the best known of these groups would be the Y's Teen Club, a group of high school students who plan and run regular Saturday night social activities for Westmount teenagers.

The Frogmen's Club is another very popular interest group for Boys and Girls age 12-18. These enthusiastic swimmers may be found any Friday night prowling the depths of the Westmount Y pool looking like men from Mars with their rubber suits, fins, masks, and air tanks. Weight lifting, Craft Clubs, Jr. Service Corps, Jr. Fencers and a photography club are currently rounding out the Westmount YMCA's club approach to programming.

BOYS AND GIRLS PHYSICAL PROGRAMME

Swimming lessons graded from beginners to life savers highlight the Westmount YMCA's Physical Programme for Boys and Girls. Each week some 200 boys and girls age 9-17 make use of this programme and each spring special lessons are given to 160 boys and girls 6-8. The Westmount Y Swim Team has recently become an important part of this phase of activity and last year over 40 children participated in various swim meets throughout the city.

A programme of sport instruction is featured on the gym floor. From badminton to basketball it is hoped that all Y youth members will develop some basic skills necessary to participation in various individual and team sports. Already on the agenda for this year are the following activities; badminton, basketball, floor hockey, tumbling, trampoline, volleyball, box horse, parallel bars, football, free calisthenics, track and field, and tennis. Special weight training and Judo classes for high school students have also been arranged.

LEADERSHIP IN YOUTH DEPARTMENT

Leadership is to be found wherever you look, from the street-corner gang to the church choir. Thus almost all agencies concerned with youth would rate the healthy development of leadership very high on their programme priority list and the Westmount YMCA's is certainly no exception.

From the nine year old who becomes a 'captain' for a game, to the club president, to the adult club advisor, all members are encouraged to participate to some degree as leaders in various programme situations. To further facilitate this leadership growth in those people who show strong leadership tendencies, special programmes have been developed over the years. The Jr. Leaders corps is composed of boys and girls 11 to 14 years of age who are selected and trained to help teach other boys and girls physical skills on the gym floor and in the swimming pool.

For club officers periodic officer training courses aimed at developing organizational skills as well as an interest in the welfare of others. Club advisors are the recipients of a much more concentrated programme of development including the use of lectures, films and discussions aimed at increasing their knowledge of themselves and others. National YMCA leadership training conference and courses are also used as a means of helping people to realize their latent leadership potential.

HOBBY SHOW

Each year the Westmount Hi-Y clubs band together for the purpose of promoting and operating a Hobby Show for boys and girls of Westmount. Early in December with the election of an executive the job of organizing this undertaking is started. By Easter when the show becomes a reality some 60 teenagers as well as several younger school representatives have been involved in its planning and promotion. The show runs for a period of four days and attracts close to 2,000 entries and exhibbits from the community. At its conclusion some 300 prizes and ribbons will have been awarded to outstanding competitions and a fairly work worn executive retires until the following year.

CAMPING

In 1874 the first North American Camp for boys was organized by the YMCA. And today some 84 years later camping still remains as a very important and integral part of any YMCA's Youth Programme.

The Summer Fun Club operated by the Westmount YMCA branch is a low cost city camping experience for both boys and girls. It is designed to provide an elementary experience in communal living for both boys and girls. Each day for eight weeks of the summer vacation club members participate in a programme which includes, swim lessons, beach trips, plant tours, craft instruction, group games, sing songs, and many other camp type activities. With the highlight of the season being an overnight camping trip to the Laurentians.

For those boys desiring the full camping experience, the Exercise room reconditioned

The Exercise Room at Westmount YMCA has been renovated and new equipment has been installed. In this room is the weight-lifting and other exercise equipment. Here also is space for calisthenics, for wall chest-weights, and for any free exercises which you have to or want to pursue in private.

Weight-lifting is a term that covers two widely differing fields which use the same equipment. This is competitive lifting and body-building.

For competitive lifting, a man trains at the various Olympic lifts, building as great a strength as possible to lift as much as possible. Not only strength is necessary for these lifts, but a certain skill as well, and this skill must be obtained through practice.

Body-builders are not so much concerned with strength as with appearance. The strength is there, never doubt it, but a body-builder is a man striving to improve his appearance. If you are overweight you exercise to bring it down. If you are underweight you exercise to bring it up. If some part of the body is unduly prominent, you exercise to reduce

Dr. George B. Maughan, obstetrician and gynecologist-in-chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital paid tribute to the society for its outstanding work in raising funds to fight cancer in Montreal and urged the membership to keep up its fine work.

Calvary Church WA carnival and bazaar

On Friday, November 21, from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m., the Women's Association of Calvary United Church (corner of Greene and Dorchester avenues) will sponsor the annual Fall Carnival and Bazaar. The general conveners this year are Mrs. Gordon Fowler, Mrs. William Klassen and Mrs. Charles Plaskett. In addition to the ever-popular sale of handwork, novelties, and home baking, there will be added attractions — Kiddies' Corner, Pirate Chest, Kiddies' Movies and Games. Afternoon Tea will be served from 3 to 5 p.m. and a family buffet supper from 6 to 8 p.m. A very hearty welcome awaits the many friends of Calvary United Church in this time of fellowship during both afternoon and evening.

Local Non-Pensioned Widows' Association approves resolutions

A number of resolutions have been approved by the local branch of the Non-Pensioned Veterans' Widows Association, Inc. and will be submitted to the Dominion Council. The president, Mrs. Margaret Wainford, will call a convention in Ottawa early in February to submit them to the Government.

The resolutions read as follows:

That the Veterans Allowance under the War Veterans Allowance Act, be increased to $90.00 per month making the total allowance $1,080.00 per year; the cost of living is steadily increasing.

That the permissible income ceiling be raised to $240.00 per year, bringing the total income to $1,320.00 per year. We find that the families of veterans and widows are being penalized and that the allowance should be awarded as of right. This at least would give the recipient the privilege of a better scale of living.

That all recipients of the War Veterans Allowance whose late husbands served in England with the Canadian Forces be given full advantage of the War Veterans Allowance, and that we consider the 365 days service should be abolished.

That the Government give special consideration to a health program whereby the veteran and the widow can obtain free hospitalization. This could be taken care of by the Government by the issuing of a special card to recipients of the War Veterans Allowance, that when in need of medical attention this card could be presented to the doctor or the hospital who in turn would make a claim from the government. This could be dealt with through the District office.

That the government consider placing a ceiling on rentals, as at the present time landlords are raising rents so high that the recipient under the War Veterans Allowance cannot meet their demands.

Historic papers nearly lost

The edifice at Dorchester and Guy streets formerly occupied by First Baptist Church has recently been in course of demolition.

The 127th Anniversary of the church was drawing near as demolition of the old building advanced so the crew foreman was advised to be on the watch to retrieve the contents of the cornerstone.

Wednesday, November 5 while the foreman was absent. The workmen sighting the metal box within apparently thought they had come upon a treasure and proceeded to attack it vigorously with their picks. They had managed to open one corner of the box when a member of the CBC happened along. He managed to hold the workmen off their attack on the box until the foreman was brought to the scene. After a hurried consultation, the minister of the church, Rev. R. S. Dunn was summoned. He soon made an appearance and rescued the precious box which contained in addition to papers, records, coins, etc., pertaining to the building erected in 1905, those taken from the cornerstone of the previous building and deposited in 1861.

N.D.G., Toronto in junior final here Sunday

HALIFAX: Fresh from their 58-13 win here, over St. Mary's University for the third straight year, N.D.G. Maple Leafs are seeking the Eastern Canada junior football title when they meet Toronto's North York, at Westmount Grounds, Sunday. If N.D.G. win the Dominion will also be staged at Westmount but if Toronto win, it will be played in Toronto.

The Leafs, with their strong line had no trouble against the lighter Saints who were pushed all over the field. For the first time in three years since these teams have played each other, St. Mary's were able to score points.

On seven plays, Leafs moved over the line for the first major of the game which was scored by quarterback Bobby Anderson on a 12 yard end run play.

St. Mary's tried a field goal attempt late in the first period, which was blocked and Leafs took over. Moving the ball upfield NDG gained three first downs and the quarter switched on Saints 32. Two more first downs started the second quarter off and Gerry Langlois scored. J. Williams kicked the convert after the second try as Saints were off side on the first.

Leafs kicked off and Saints were neared over the 45. Dick Prendergast scored the next Leafs major from one yard out. Late in the second Langlois scored his second major of the game from 28 yards out.

At the half-way mark Leafs were ahead 25-0. Langlois started the scoring off in the third from Saints 50 on a draw play. Williams converted.

Schaffer caught an Anderson pass in the end zone for the next six points. The scoring play was set up when Terry Diamond recovered a Saints fumble on the 25 yard line. Anderson threw his pass from 10 yards out.

The Halifax University team scored from the kick-off moving the ball from their 30. They made five first downs, one on a roughing penalty from Leafs. Pete Young passed to Burke from 32 yards out for the score. Young converted.

On four plays of passing and ground, McBride scored for Leafs which started from the kick-off on Leafs 32.

Williams converted. Prendergast threw a pass to Schaffer in the end zone from 21 yards out and Williams converted to end the third quarter scoring.

On a fake field goal attempt, St. Mary scored their second touch in the fourth quarter, when Devallett ran between the holder of the ball and the kicker for the major.

This play was made from the kick-off when Saints received the ball on their own 45 and Peter Young ran it back to Leafs 52. Griffin had scored previous to this play which called for the kick-off.

Leafs displayed another ground gaining move down the field. Saints kick-off, Leafs had four first downs and fumbled on the 25. Simmons made a pass interception from Young of Saints but were stopped three times on the five.

Griffiths saw more action than Langlois, carrying 17 times for 133 yards and a 7.8 average.

However, Langlois' seven carries were good for a mammoth 124 yards and an average of 17.7. Fullbacks McBride and Bob Shink picked up 80 and 21 yards each, respectively.

Toronto team has 12 from Parkdale Lions

Advance copy of the North York Knights who beat Sarnia 29-16 in the other quarter final CRU junior playoff, has 12 players from the Parkdales Lions, the team that beat Leafs for the Eastern title and went on to win the Dominion.

The Knights have been operating for two years and have eight holdovers from last year's team. They squeezed into the playoff and beat out the league leading Lakeshore Bears 13-9 in a sudden-death game.

They played Windsor AKO and won the two game series, 51-50, losing the second and winning the opener. Other players on the Knights were picked from Toronto high schools.

The team is coached by Uly Curtiss, former Big Four player for Toronto. He has Ray Williams highly rated half back whom the Big Four Argos have scouted and like. They have Ron Brewer a smart ball carrying half last year with Lions. Leafs will remember this lad Brewer.

John Edwards is the 1st string quarter and Bill Thachuk is the 2nd string quarter who wears glasses. Punts are done by Gordon Barker and Tony Tarullo kicks the others.

NDG Junior grid ticket delivery on C.O.D. basis

Tickets for both Eastern Canada intermediate and junior football finals this weekend may be obtained by calling HU. 1-8831, Sol Mastro's Service Station.

The Quebec Rugby Football Union has arranged for tickets to be delivered to all parts of the city on a C.O.D. basis.

The junior playoff between NDG Maple Leafs and Toronto North York will be played Sunday afternoon at Westmount Athletic Grounds at one o'clock.

Huskies, bantam tackle winners

Cameron Grout named top '58 athlete here

Cameron Grout, 19, second year Arts Student at McGill who developed his technique at MAAA for his outstanding prowess in swimming competition has been elected the amateur athlete of the year in the Montreal area by the Sportsmen's Association of Montreal, whose banquet will be held at the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel on Tuesday, December 2.

Along with pro-athlete Tom Hugo, of Alouettes, named for a similar citation, Grout will be honored at the Annual Awards' Night of the Association according to an announcement by president Ken Copland.

Names of both stars will be engraved on the Sportsmen's Association Trophy, miniature replicas presented to both on this occasion when individual champions and members of teams winning titles of Dominion or international rank will receive certificates of achievement.

Figuring for special recognition in this latter classification are the Montreal Royals, International League and Governors' Cup winners in baseball; Canadiens, National Hockey League champs and Stanley Cup winners for the third time in succession; Dow Brewery, Canadian Fastball Champs, and it is hoped the Alouettes, now engaged in the Big Four football playoffs, but backed by partisans to head for the Grey Cup final.

Grout is an outstanding swimmer and record-breaker. His list of trophies and new marks entered into the record books, make him a member of the all-time "Who's Who" among men.

In January 1958, he set a Quebec provincial mark and McGill team record of 5:02.5 for the 440-yards free style. The following month he reduced this mark to 5:01.1, and in a meet at R.P.I., Troy, N.Y. set two pool records and won three races. Later he swam at Union University, Schenectady, N.Y., set one pool mark and won three events.

In the "Intercollegiate" at Toronto he won the 50-yard Canadian open to set college and Canadian Amateur swimming records and also won the 100-yards and 440-yards, setting new records in both these events. In March, he won the Ontario provincial championship for 220-yards butterfly with a Canadian native record creating Canadian and provincial marks.

In April, in the British Empire team trials he was first at 100-yards free style, 100-yards butterfly, 200-yards butterfly and 220-yards butterfly to set Canadian records in the last three races.

At the British Empire Games in Cardiff, Wales in July, he took a fourth in 110-free style, and 220 butterfly and won a bronze medal for a third place in the 880-yards free style relay and a silver medal for a second place in the 440-yards medley relay.

He competed in many other meets too numerous to list here, always winning, or setting new marks at various distances—in London, England, and Boston, Mass., and was awarded the Neil Buckley Memorial Trophy as intercollegiate 100-yards champion.

Wildcats, Hilltops in Western junior

Edmonton Wildcats made a goal line stand against Vancouver Blue Bombers and then came back to win 10-7 in the sudden-death Western Junior football semi-final before 14,000 fans.

Wildcats meet Saskatoon Hilltops, Manitoba - Saskatchewan League champions at Saskatoon Saturday in the western final. Hilltops defeated Regina Rams 34-20 Saturday.

A lobster pound at Deer Island, New Brunswick, the world's largest, some times stores as many as a million pounds of live lobsters on the sea bottom.

The Huskies, under coaches Bruce Wilson and Bob Robertson, won the 1958 Westmount bantam eight-man tackle football championship.

Led by Buddy McKaig and Claude Servant, Huskies trounced the league's top finishers, Mules, 24-12.

Donald Grant and Robert Gales played an outstanding game, and Truman Neilson, John Ono, Ray Maynard and Don McCormick should be singled out for honorable mentions.

The Mules' offense bogged down, the only highlight being three pass completions by Donald Millichamp to Robert McDonough.

The Huskies will be awarded crests at the Westmount annual awards night.

THE CHAMPIONS

The six American League clubs used up 13 goalers during the regular season and play-offs in 1957-58.

Barbs, Westies earn rugger loop finals

Defending champions Barbarians and Westmount left victory till late in the game before triumphing in Quebec Rugger League semi-final play-offs. Both these clubs will tangle Saturday in the final for the provincial rugger title at the West Hill High School ground with a 2.15 p.m. start.

The Barbs, although finishing third in the standing upset first place Montreal Irish 6-0 at West Hill. Westmount who finished in a tie with Irish for first spot edged out the hard-fighting Wanderer crew 6-3 at Westmount Park.

The Irish missed several scoring opportunities in the first period against the Barbs as with a greater possession of the ball their usually powerful backs failed to capitalize on the chances. Missed penalty kicks also plagued the Greenshirts and the teams turned round level.

In the second stanza the Barbs gained more control of the game but it was not until 10 minutes from the final whistle that they were able to crack the tight Irish defense.

A momentary lapse allowed Lionel Rice to outrace defenders to touch down a loose ball behind the goal line for the first score and minutes later Ed Kelleher scored on a plunge from near the line.

Barbs, with several key players out with injury found a new combination which paid off. Cyril Fagan normally a front-row forward played at scrum half and performed admirably in his new slot. As captain and regular scrum-half, Cliff Davidson is still doubtful for this week's final Fagan may get the starting call in his new found starring position.

Irish still have another big game to point to on Saturday, November 22, when they attempt to break the deadlock for the first place in the standings with Westmount with a sudden death play-off tilt. The winners will be awarded the Standard Life Trophy.

Westmount had their hands full all afternoon with the Wanderers at Westmount Park and it was a penalty boot by Jim Adams 10 minutes from time which just saw them home against the fourth place finishers who turned on an inspired display.
