Examiner Reporter In Exclusive Talk With Dr. A. R. Dafoe

Godfather-elect to The Dionne Quints Interviewed at Home of Rev. Gilbert Oliver of St. Matthias Church — Denies Publicized Difficulties Between Dionnes and Authorities — Says Babies Talk French — Gets Mail From All Parts of The World.

Godfather-elect to Their Royal Highnesses, the Dionne Quints, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, O.B.E., graced this city with his presence Tuesday, and lost neither time nor breath in verbally caressing the babes and in setting at rest the many rumours carried by the press of the world concerning the relationship between Mr. and Mrs. Dionne and their famous daughters.

"Why, all that rubbish you see in the papers about the parents never or seldom seeing the quintes is all bunk. Mr. and Mrs. Dionne are allowed to see the babies any time they wish. After all, it's only right. They have carte-blanche as far as we're concerned. Why, Mrs. Dionne often comes over and dresses the babies or helps in their care."

Visitor Here

Thus spoke the genial doctor, still sincere and unaffected although basking in the sudden fame thrust upon him with the birth of the famous five. Although he had previously been tendered a public reception by Mayor Houde, held a press conference at the Windsor Hotel, lunched with the Montreal Rotary Club, and visited St. Justine's, the Shriner's and the Children's Memorial Hospitals in the company of the city's leading medical men, the man who has made the country doctor famous seemed neither tired nor jaded as he generally chatted with the Examiner representative late Tuesday afternoon at the Westmount residence of his Montreal host and old friend, Reverend Gilbert Oliver, rector of St. Matthias Church, Westmount.

Puffing away at his briar, the kindly doctor slyly kidded his host. "You know, Mr. Oliver and I have been close friends ever since he was rector of the Anglican church at North Bay in our early days. It's a good thing he left that country when he did, because shortly afterwards Mrs. Oliver had twins. I don't know what would have happened if he had been at Callendar!"

Asked what all the trouble with the parents was, Dr. Dafoe settled himself back in his chair and began:

Dionne End

"Well," he explained, "you can see the Dionne end, too. After all, if they had complete control of the babies you can imagine all the money they could make. What with advertising contracts, movies, newspaper stories and whatnot they could make 'way over $1,000,000 without any effort. But our first concern is the babies. All ways the babies. After all, if even one baby died all those advertising contracts would be immediately nullified. So you see we've got to take care of them, — even if we didn't want to! But, we don't interfere with the rest of the family. Oliva Dionne has a good head, too. I know him." He smiled. "Why, I've known them all, and their fathers and their grandfathers!"

He puffed away silently for a minute. "Most of that trouble you hear about is the work of others, or it just doesn't exist. We've got to expect some trouble, of course. So many people are trying to make money out of the babies that some fantastic offers have been made. But things are going more smoothly now. Everything's being straightened out bit by bit."

He was asked whether the babies could speak yet, and nodded affirmatively.

Talk French

"French," he answered. "Everybody around there is French, of course, so the kids are picking it up. They don't understand a word of English; as a matter of fact no English is spoken within their hearing. And say, you should see them do what we tell 'em. All we have to do is say: 'Yvonne, do this' and Yvonne does it!"

He spoke of that first night, the night Dionne, himself, in a daze, and those assisting at the births gazed at each other in unbelieving astonishment as baby after baby bade the world 'hello'.

"The whole thing was a miracle," was his comment. "It's a miracle in itself that Mrs. Dionne, a very, very sick woman, lived through the night. We always hoped for the best, but frankly I didn't have much faith that they would live until we had moved them into proper quarters and received some necessary equipment. But they did." He shrugged his shoulders happily.

The doctor, himself, is a kindly man, human through and through. Born in Maydock, Ontario, he comes from a family of doctors. He plodded the weary way of a country doctor for 28 years doing effective and faithful work day after day until that memorable night almost two years ago when the quintes were born. His life which was private, is no longer so. Mail reaches him from all parts of the world, many letters coming from childless couples seeking his advice and many from souvenir seekers and autograph hunters.

Loves Country "But I wouldn't leave the country for all the money in the world," he maintained. "That's my life up there. I like the country better than the city, though cities are fine places too. But up there I know everyone for one or two generations back and can do my work better."

What does he do in his spare time? "Well, I haven't much spare time at my disposal. But I like good music, — some of those Montreal concerts are real fine. And I read a lot, do a bit of gardening, and listen to the radio. I like to tune in Montreal stations because it helps me with my French. You know, folks up there speak English much better than we speak French. I think everyone in Canada should speak two languages, they really should!"

WESTMOUNT TO SPEND $105,000 ON WORKS

Share of Sales Tax Income Makes Possible Many Undertakings in Municipality.

Its an ill wind that blows nobody good, and thanks to the share of sales tax income to be received by Westmount, this municipality will shortly undertake public improvements costing $105,000, according to plans ratified by the Council at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Prince Albert will be paved between Sherbrooke and the C.P.R. tracks; Thornhill will be widened at the head of Stanton street; and a shelter will be erected on Murray Park. Other improvements include repaving, reconstruction and improvement of sidewalks and streets.

It was announced that the city officials were, as yet undecided as to what would be done with the park. A special committee is now studying the matter and will report at the next meeting.

The Council ratified also a special assessment roll for certain local improvements. Mayor John Jenkins was in the chair.

VISIT TO HOSPITAL IS LESSON TO RECKLESS DRIVERS

Hammering home a lesson in safety to reckless drivers, Municipal Judge Gutknecht, shown at left of the nurse, conducted 39 youthful speeders to the Chicago hospital bedside of John McCann, a traffic victim, shown with his injured limbs strapped up and elevated. Following that, the party visited the morgue and the offenders contributed a fund of about $200 to aid victims of careless driving.

Famous M.A.A.A. Grounds Now Westmount Property

Historic Playing Field Holding Once Largest Outdoor Rink In the World, Changes Hands—Semi-Professionalism Alleged To Have Made Use Of Grounds Unprofitable—M.A.A.A. Acquired Property Forty Eight Years Ago

Present day sports promoters who consider the electric lighting of stadiums and tennis courts a modern feat will probably receive quite a surprise to learn that as far back as 1892—forty four years ago—the M.A.A.A. Grounds in Westmount were illuminated by electricity at night for the purpose of carrying on games and track meets. In fact, the spring handicap games, played on the then four-year-old grounds were held at night, on June 17th and 24th, 1892.

The word that this historic athletic field, which holds so dear a place in the memory of innumerable "old-timers", has changed hands and has become the property of the City of Westmount has caused no little amount of speculation among local residents—and indeed, residents of all Canada—as to its probable fate. Once the sport-Mecca of North America, resounding to the roars of the multitudes applauding feats of champions, the west end grounds of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association have been steadily losing prestige in recent years due largely, according to a member of the committee, to the fact that semi-professionalism in sport has made it impractical to continue using the grounds.

It was an occasion worthy of the most heartfelt celebration when the M.A.A.A., then a recently organized body formed from the old and justly storied Montreal Lacrosse, Snowshoe and Football Clubs, acquired the spacious new grounds on St. Catherine street west in the year 1888. Members and their lady friends, clad in the now romantic and picturesque garb of the period, started a mammoth fair on the old Victoria Rink to raise funds for the erection of stands and fencing on the new territory; and steady progress from the turning of the first sod to the driving of the last nail in the structural work marked the task of converting an inhospitable patch of land into one of the finest, most commodious and most Kelsey; assistant corresponding secretaries, Mrs. C. W. Johnston, Mrs. Harold Moore, Mrs. R. Vance Ward; recording secretary, Mrs. Hector Dale.

Miss Esther Beith addressed the meeting, giving the report of the health committee. She voiced the hope that provision of medical care for the unemployed would shortly be assumed by the proper authorities, and pointed out that the Council, through its emergency relief, had provided nine hundred dollars a year for this relief. This had only been a temporary measure, stated Miss Beith, and it was felt that this burden should be borne by proper authorities. This care, which had been provided through the V. O. N. and the Health Service included the provision of insulin to unemployed diabetics and morphine to cancer patients on relief.

Miss Beith also spoke of the health insurance plan which had been adopted in British Columbia, and suggested that the council familiarize itself with the workings and details of this scheme. She stressed the importance of regular health examinations, and praised highly the work of the rural health units in the Province. Presenting the report for the mental hygiene committee Mrs. W. T. B. Mitchell spoke of the importance of preventing delinquency. Stating that delinquency cost the Dominion an estimated 15 to 20 million dollars a year, she believed that on this basis alone the Council should formulate a constructive programme to deal with the subject.

Mrs. F. Gerald Charters, Lexington Avenue resident, presented the report of the educational committee, and told of a request made to the provincial secretary by the Council, that when a new appointment was made to the Protestant Committee of the Council of Education, a woman be appointed. The names of five women were submitted to the secretary for consideration.

LIBRARIAN TOLD OF MODERN NOVEL

Expressing the feeling that librarians often have that all but the best novels should be turned back to the publishers, and the wonder that some of those now in circulation were published at all, E. Cockburn Kye, librarian at Queen's University, Kingston, addressed the monthly meeting of the Quebec Library Association, held in the Mechanics' Institute building on Atwater avenue, Wednesday evening. Librarians who also review the modern novel realize, however, that the institution of a quota system would demand a super-committee against whose earnestness there might be much appeal, he said.

There are modern writers who make us feel that life has acquired an added value, he continued, and others who in splendid and forceful prose detract from the adventure of living. In the first group are Constance Holme, H. E. Bates, Ronald Fraser, Naomi Mitchison; in the second, such men as Faulkner, D. H. Lawrence, Ernest Hemingway and John Dos Passos. In the works of the last named, however, are presented a great picture of United States conditions, a richness of outlook and honesty and a power that compel our respect. Hemingway and Faulkner have wide experience, keen observation, and a gift for pungent statement, he pointed out. Yet in both one finds the warped outlook that imputes to the present state of society all the wrong and horror that are in the world.

Passages were read from selected works giving the key note of the preceding criticism.

Harry Tetley, of Weddale House, entertained with several well-received selections on the harmonica.

President Henry F. King was in the chair.

Supreme President, Bro. A. V. Hardwick and Grand President Bro. T. K. Lewis.

Britain's Engineering Marvel

Extraordinary pride is being taken by the people of the United Kingdom in the great new Atlantic passenger liner, the Queen Mary. She is much the largest and fastest merchant ship ever turned out by Britain and the liveliest hopes are entertained that she will wrest from the huge French liner, Normandie, the blue ribbon of the seas.

British marine circles deprecate the idea that the Queen Mary was built to establish an ocean speed record. But they would be vastly disappointed if the ship did not better the performances of the Normandie. They expect her to be steadier as well as faster. Vibration proved to be troublesome towards the stern of the Normandie when the boat was travelling at full speed, and the designers of the Queen Mary have exercised great ingenuity in their efforts to overcome this defect. Experts say there was an entire absence of vibration in the run from Glasgow to Southampton, which is encouraging news. But it must be remembered that the vessel was not being forced, although she did arrive at her destination an hour and a half ahead of scheduled time. Her captain says he never served on a ship that was easier to control. Tremendous interest will be taken in the maiden run of the Queen Mary to New York in May.

Halifax To Vancouver

Motorists for the first time can now drive their cars from the Atlantic to the Pacific and vice versa over an all-Canadian route. But this is true only with reservations. Car ferries must be used between Fort William and Sault Ste. Marie, and there is a short gap in British Columbia where motor cars are being carried by train until the highway is complete. Even this, however, marks an advance in the history of the trans-Canada highway, and the recent opening of the section between Winnipeg and Fort William was, therefore, significant. Prior to the opening of that section, trans-Canada motorists had to detour into the United States. Now the detour is avoided and there are 452 miles on a gravel-surfaced road so good that it has been driven in ten hours. It intersects some of the continent's finest fishing and hunting country. The remainder of "Canada's Main Street" still awaiting construction are between Schreiber and White River, 125 miles; and between White River and the Soo, or between White River and Hearst. These will complete a 4,200-mile stretch probably unequalled by any other of the world's great trunk roads.

Ever an unending source of vivacious ideas when parliamentary debates become dry—and that's not infrequently—"Tommy" Church suggests that sport and recreation in Canada be nationalized, under supervision of the Minister of Health. That's Fascism, Mr. Church! The youths of Germany and Italy are regimented into muscular platoons, companies, battalions and brigades, all bobbing up and down to the tune of "Deutschland über alles" or "Si scopron le tombe." See any news reel.

Bachelors do sometimes ask the funny questions. One of them asks this one: "If the girl takes advantage of Leap Year and proposes, shouldn't she also have to provide the ring?"

Endless failures in every department of life can be traced to lack of willingness to work. — Sir Wilfred Grenfell.

Chicago couple, married in 1896, have applied for a license to re-wed, because the original document was destroyed in the San Francisco earthquake. Their affections, however, have evidently come through unshaken.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of the interior, recently in speaking to a conference of mayors at Ottawa, stated that at the present time 53 per cent of the people of Canada live in cities, towns and villages. In a country so vast as Canada this is surely too great a percentage of the people crowded together in a few centres.

The Will must aim at the seemingly impossible. — Bishop Brent.

Victor G. Heiser in Asia magazine tells of the reply he received to his jocular remark on the backward condition of Ethiopia. "The Emperor politely inquired, 'You are an American, are you not?' 'Yes,' I admitted. 'How many unemployed have you in the U.S.A.?' 'About 12,000,000,' I answered. 'Well,' went on the Emperor blandly, 'My government has been in continuous existence for over five thousand years. We have no unemployment; we have never had any. We have no starving. All my people have homes to live in. They have clothes to wear. They are happy.' I could think of no answer. I have not yet been able to think of one."

It is better to go down on the great seas which human hearts were made to sail than to rot at the wharves in ignoble anchorage. — Mabie.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Bank of England will find The Old Lady Unveiled, by J. R. Jarvis, interesting reading. It is published by Wishart and Co. of London, G.B.

It is also my view that a central bank for Canada should not be empowered, except with the approval of Parliament, to enter into agreements with other central banks, which would undoubtedly, on account of their greater experience and wide sources of information, possess decided advantage in the negotiation of such agreements.—Sir Thomas White.

Mr. Blackmore, M.P., leader of the Social Credit Group, looks to the Liberal Government to do two things; first to control the issue of money so as to manage it for the people's welfare; second, to depart gradually from the gold standard and to substitute a goods and services backing. If the government does these two things it will receive the solid support of the Social Credit group.

Over 40 per cent of British Columbia's unemployed relief recipients are of ages above 50 years. Authorities say a very large proportion will never work again. This is approximately true of the whole Dominion, indicates a serious state of affairs, calling for immediate Federal attention.—Calgary Herald.

Reports for 1935 show business gains for Argentina. Grain exports reached the highest values in 1930, a gain over 1934 of 7.2 per cent. There was a gain in Commercial Interchange of 6.6 per cent over 1934, with a favourable trade balance to Argentina of about $100,000,000 (367,391,000) as compared with the figures of 1934. Great Britain and Northern Ireland head the list of countries exporting to Argentina, furnishing 21.1 per cent of the total purchases made abroad, Great Britain also being Argentina's best customer throughout the year, having bought 30.6 per cent of the total exports. In both fields, that of imports and exports, the United States occupies second place.

Dr. Norwood, who is leaving City Temple, London, B.B., said: "I believe that some must be released from pastoral responsibilities in a single church if the great and pressing problems of our day are to be effectively put on the way of solution. I am not undertaking something easier, but much harder. For these reasons I want you to send me out willingly and hopefully."

Recently at Hotel Astor more than 700 Protestants, Catholics and Jews ate together, united in songs and heard their spokesmen urge a renewed devotion to the principle of religious liberty. Secretary of War Dern speaking for the President, said that the bill of rights and the principle of religious liberty must be kept inviolate. He also said: "We must get into the rough and tumble of life and translate our good impulses into action. The world does not get better automatically. It only gets better when there are enough socially minded men and women working diligently to make it better."

At the recent meeting of the Alpha-Omega society, the following officers were elected for the coming year:—president, Wm. ## CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 19th, is "Doctrine of Atonement."

The Golden Text is: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." (I Corinthians 1: 18)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but for the sins of the whole world." (I John 2: 1, 2).

"The atonement of Christ reconciles man to God, not God to man; for the divine Principle of Christ is God, and how can God propitiate Himself? Christ is Truth, which reaches no higher than itself. The foundation can rise no higher than its source, Christ, Truth, which conciliate no nature above his own, derived from the eternal Love. It was therefore Christ's purpose to reconcile man to God, not God to man." (Science and Health, pages 18, 19).

RESULT OF POOR PAINT SEEN BY LOCAL RESIDENT

Repainting Job To Be More Costly — Another Paint Firm Lauds Contest.

A resident of Grey Avenue, who has experienced all the inconvenience and expense that follows the use of cheap-quality paint was visited this week by Arthur Pascal of the Pascal Hardware Company and the editor of the Examiner.

Blistered and chipped paint and woodwork, window frames that were completely ruined by the application of poor paint resulted in the work of preparing for the new paint job being doubled. "Never," stated the local resident, "did I realize the effects of using poor paint as I do now. Every resident of this district should benefit by my unfortunate experience."

Experiences of this nature are all too common and the effects of using poor paint are much more costly in the long run than is the original cost of first quality paint which brings lasting results and complete satisfaction if properly applied.

The following letter regarding the campaign has been received by Mr. Pascal from the Sherwin-Williams Company.

Mr. Arthur Pascal, The J. Pascal Hardware Co. Ltd., 4896 Sherbrooke St. W., Montreal, Que.

Dear Mr. Pascal:— We wish to congratulate you on the splendid idea embodied in your "Best Painted House Contest" now being carried on.

This impresses us as much more than just an excellent idea for increasing the sale of paint. Through the interest the contest is arousing and the example set by the freshly painted homes of the entrants, many property owners who might not otherwise have done so, will be persuaded to paint this Spring.

This contest will inevitably lead to a great improvement in the appearance of those residential districts concerned; a highly desirable result which benefits the whole community.

We sincerely trust that your public-spirited enterprise will be rewarded by a material increase in the number of your paint customers.

Yours very truly, The Sherwin-Williams Company, of Canada, Limited, M. W. BALLANTYNE, Advertising Manager.

Mrs. H. B. Pope Plans Trip To Europe

In announcing her annual conducted tour of Europe for this summer, Mrs. H. B. Pope has planned an especially attractive vacation trip for those whose time is limited to one month, and also for those who wish to extend their stay to a greater length of time. If you are looking for a thoroughly enjoyable and profitable vacation, nothing will give better dividends in pleasant experiences and delightful memories than a journey to the Old Land. There is no way more pleasant and comfortable to see these countries than with a small, carefully selected party, with every possible arrangement made for comfort and enjoyment by a reliable and competent travel company.

Those who join this party will enjoy the quiet loveliness of England, the quaint picturesque towns of Holland, the wonderful beach at Scheveningen—beautiful Brussels, Vimy and gay Paris, all experiences to thrill and delight.

The wonderful cruise to Norway and Denmark which proved so novel and delightful last year will be taken by most of the party, while there are several other extension tours which may be arranged.

He was born in Portneuf on March 15, 1859, and received his early education at the Ecole Normale and later at the Seminary of Quebec. He then decided to study law, and graduated from Laval University some years later. He was admitted to the Bar of the Province of Quebec on December 23, 1882.

He practised his profession in both Montreal and Quebec for many years, building up a reputation as a keen master of Civil Law and an able pleader.

In 1891, he was elected to the Dominion Parliament for Portneuf County, sitting until 1896. With the former Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, the Hon. H. G. Carroll; J. P. A. Choquette and Sir William Muloch, of Ontario, he was one of the four survivors of that Parliament.

CNR Now Air-Condition Coaches To Pace US Roads

Montreal, April 16.—Good progress is being made with the air-conditioning of equipment for use on the lines of the Canadian National Railways, according to C. W. Johnston, General Passenger Traffic Manager of the System. A number of air-conditioned Pullman sleeping cars are now in service between Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, Detroit and Chicago. Mr. Johnston said in an interview here, and it is expected that the International Limited, and other trains on this route will be air-conditioned by June 1st, before the hot summer weather starts. Air-conditioned cars are also in use on several of the other international trains of the company.

Parlor cars for the Montreal-Chicago service are now being air-conditioned in the shops of the company and will be available for use before the end of June, between Montreal and Toronto, and Toronto, Detroit and Chicago. Sleeping cars for the Transcontinental service are also being air-conditioned and a number of them will be in use before the hot weather arrives.

"Our plans for using air-conditioned equipment on the main services of the C.N.R. as soon as it is feasible to do so are in line with the company's policy of furnishing the latest in travel comfort and service to the public," said Mr. Johnston. "We are already operating air-conditioned sleeping cars furnished to us under contract with the Pullman Company on the Montreal-Toronto-Chicago route and the Pullman Company is supplying air-conditioned sleepers to us for this route at the rate of five cars every week. The air-conditioning sleepers to us for this route at the rate of five cars every week. The air-conditioning sleepers for this route is going forward in our own shops as rapidly as possible and we expect that all sleeping cars on trains connecting Montreal, Toronto, Detroit and Chicago will be air-conditioned before the hot summer weather sets in."

"We are also operating air-conditioned Pullman sleepers on the 'Washingtonian' and 'Montrealer', the trains which connect Montreal directly with New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. On the 'Ambassador', the fast train between Montreal and Boston, we have an air-conditioned coach supplied by the Boston and Maine, our connection on this route. Before the hot summer weather comes we will have a number of air-conditioned sleepers available for our Transcontinental service. These cars are being converted in our own shops. Later it is hoped to provide air-conditioned cars for our main line trains serving other sections of the country."

"After making a very careful study of the various types of air-conditioned cars in use on other railways, our mechanical officers have selected an air-conditioning system which will afford the travelling public the maximum of comfort and at the same time can be installed and operated economically and is particularly suited to Canadian climatic conditions."

"The cars have sealed windows and doors which are practically air-tight when closed. The air is drawn into the car through special intakes and passes through a cleansing apparatus which removes all dust in the summer, then passes over pipes containing ice-water by which it is cooled to the desired temperature. The cleansed air is released into the car through special ducts which obviate the possibility of drafts, and ventilators pass out the used air. In the winter time a heating system replaces the ice-water coils, bringing the cold air taken in from outside the car to a comfortable degree of warmth, after it has passed through the cleansing unit. The fact that windows and doors are air-tight eliminates dust and greatly reduces noise and thus adds to the comfort of travel."

"There has been a very noticeable increase in the use of the railways for travel in Canada in the past several years and it is anticipated that the installation of this air-conditioned equipment will serve still further to emphasize to the public the advantage of the railways over other forms of transportation. This has been the experience of the United States railways whose trains have been extensively air-conditioned to compete with other forms of transportation."

Papa Dionne has been unanimously chosen Honorary President of the Toronto University branch of the Veterans of Future Wars, although he seems to have gone in not so much for embryo soldiers as for the mass production of prospective V. A. D's.

A good way to mend loose knife handles—first fill the opening in the handle with a mixture made from resin and brickdust and then heat the tang on the end of the knife and press it very firmly indeed into the handles.

Some Spring Styles!

By C. L. F. C.

Handbags, instead of being a commonplace necessity, have become things of smartness and delight. They're made to co-operate in every detail with your new spring outfit. They have charm, style and novelty, and if you haven't bought yours yet, you're going to have the time of your life doing it.

If you have a suit with a straight, boxy coat, choose a square vanity bag with a strap handle. Or, if you like an armful, get one of the huge envelope styles. Some of them look like miniature suit-cases, and they're as practical as a cheque on your birthday. You can pile them high with all sorts of paraphernalia and they'll never show a bulge.

Your dressy suits and your shirred and tucked fronts can be matched with shirring and pleatings in your bags. They come in all sorts of materials. Cloth, suede and all the leathers. I rather like the ones that are gathered together and clasped around the top, after the fashion of a cow-puncher's tobacco pouch, but instead of the drawing they have all sorts of fancy metal clasps. The newest of this type is called the Tziganya, but it wasn't designed from the tobacco pouch. It was inspired by the multicolored handkerchief containing all the worldly possessions of the hobo, and carried over his shoulder on the end of a stick. And it is exact to almost every detail, even to the careless knot at the centre. But it is made of sturdier stuff than a handkerchief and comes in solid colors. And, of course, you don't carry it on the end of a stick. The zipper comes open to expose the zipper fastening.

Another new shape is the kodak, and there are lots of little pouchy styles, if you like something you can crumple up in your hand, or shove in your pocket, when your hands are full. Quilted taffeta is a great favorite as a bag fabric. If you really want to shine in the fashion world have your handbags and accessories in patent leather. They come in all the colors from black to canary yellow, and they're so easy to keep clean and gleaming. Just wipe them off with a damp cloth and you're through. No fussing with powdery cleaners and such.

Do you feel that your ensemble is just a little too severe and mannish? There are dozens of ways of adding the soft, feminine touch. A big ruffled jabot on your blouse spilling out from between your lapels, is one way. It makes an interesting contrast. Or knot a gaily colored scarf about your throat. There are all sorts and shapes in these. Some are as small as chinchuckers, and others are large enough to tie about you as a vestee or blouselet.

Efforts have been commenced to link up all the brotherhoods and men's associations connected with churches all over Canada into one federation according to one of the reports given at the afternoon session.

The constitution was amended to allow for the holding of the annual meeting in January in future. The treasurer's report showed a small credit balance. This report was given by H. H. Bramley, and C. R. Racine gave the auditor's statement; T. Goulburn read the secretary's report.

BLIND SCHOOL HELD CLOSING EXERCISES

Closing exercises were held at the School of the Montreal Association for the Blind previous to the Easter holiday "break". An Easter service was held in the school hall, which was largely attended by parents and friends.

The service opened with the singing of the hymn "Forty Days and Forty Nights" which Edgar Assels, a pupil of the school, accompanied on the organ. Mr. Assels is under the tuition of Dr. Herbert Sanders. This was followed by "Death", which the organist rendered with fine technique.

Mr. Layton expressed the hope that the pupils would have an enjoyable Easter holiday, and explained in detail the meaning and origin of Easter.

Mrs. P. E. Layton presented each pupil with a chocolate Easter Egg, and added her good wishes for the holiday.

The singing of "Jesus Christ is Risen Today" concluded the service.

Sooner or later they will be using those armaments. A man may keep on taking lessons from the pro for a long time, but eventually he'll try playing golf.

SNAKES AND CATS ROUT ISLAND RATS

Sydney, N.S.W.—Shipping officials, worried over depredations of rats in the store-house and wharves on Thursday Island, freed thereon dozens of domestic cats, which performed yeoman service but were not in sufficient numbers to combat natural increase of the pests.

Two large carpet snakes, deadly enemies of rats, were procured and placed in the rafters of the storehouse. The reptiles sleep by day and work at night. After a week's trial the island manager reported all rats had disappeared—but so had the snakes. Only the cats are left. Fate of the snakes is a matter of conjecture.

LOCAL GREENHOUSES SHOW FINE DISPLAY

Easter Exhibit At Westmount Park Conservatories One Of Finest Ever Presented.

A riot of beautiful colour greets the visitor to the Westmount Greenhouses; the display of hundreds of varieties of spring flowers and gorgeous blooms features over fifty varieties of tulips, and has been arranged by J. G. McCreath, superintendent of parks and playgrounds.

The main show in the local conservatories has been arranged in the form of a rock garden, and a magnificent profusion of blooms greets visitors as they enter. Tulips of almost every color, from red to gold; orchids, laburnum, rhododendron, Easter lilies, standard and dwarf polyantha roses, hydrangea, and hyacinth plants are but a few of the flowers to be seen in the main show room at growing houses. Some of the tip blooms, of which Mr. McCreath is justly proud, are as tea cups, and this year's hyacinths are acknowledged to be the best in years.

Westmounts tropical houses have been thrown open to the public for the next week.

Dance In Lions' Den Is Thrill Scene Of Season

Harriet Hoctor, international danseuse, knows how Daniel felt in the lions' den. She danced in a cage with two full grown lions prowling around her spangled skirts, and has survived to tell the tale.

Miss Hoctor, former star of three of Florenz Ziegfeld's musical shows, came to Hollywood from New York and British triumphs to dance in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical spectacle "The Great Ziegfeld" starring William Powell, Myrna Loy and Luise Rainer, and which will open for a limited engagement at His Majesty's theatre Sunday evening with two performances daily 2.30 and 8.30 thereafter.

Upon her arrival in the Movie City, she learned that she was to dance on a stage with lions that were unhampered by leash or iron bars. They were to roam at will while she danced.

The lions used in the scene were King and Tarzan, each weighing 350 pounds, each three and a half years old and each with an appetite that demanded ten pounds of meat daily. They were raised and trained at the California Zoological Garden.

"The earlier rehearsals with the lions had been perfect," said Miss Hoctor, "but when the actual scene was tried I wore a glittering spangled dancing gown. The dress attracted them and they refused to obey. Instead of turning away from me, each to flank a side of the stage, the lions headed directly for me during every trial."

"To save me from a playful clawing, the two guards would run forward to whip the lions from me and drive them back to the cage."

"At another point in the dance, I stand on a pedestal that rises from the floor, on each side of my pedestal, two platforms tilt upward at the same time, on which the lions were supposed to climb as they rose—but as the lions and myself were elevated I felt certain the lions would not stop until they had taken a few nips at me."

"Besides, my spangled dress continued to swish against their noses, which annoyed them greatly. Again they became unruly and the trainer began screaming at them—while Seymour Felix, the dance director, screamed at me to hold my pose, I did—but it took a few years off my life."

"After more than forty attempts the scenes were eventually filmed—and I believe they will prove to be the most unusual dance scenes seen on either the stage or screen."

"Naturally, I was terrified during every second of the time I was flitting around near the lions, but now, when I look back at the experience I realize I was probably a silly little fool; I am certain Tarzan and King liked me, if not personally, at least tastefully."

PLAYERS PREPARE "TWELFTH NIGHT" AT ST. MATTHIAS'

Famous Shakespearian Play To Be Staged On Thursday, Friday and Saturday Next

On Shakespeare's birthday, April 23rd at 8.30 p.m. the Guild of Players of St. Matthias' church will present "Twelfth Night." The scene of this play is laid in the mythical country of Illyria, and the action takes place on the sea-coast and in a nearby city. Special scenery has been constructed for this production, stressing simplicity and beauty of line, and much care has been taken in the designing and making of costumes. The traditional Greek style used in Elizabethan times has been used throughout.

Many of the parts will be played by those who have won praise in previous Guild productions. Orsino, Duke of Illyria is played by G. R. Forneret; Sir Toby Belch by Teddy Balfour; Sir Andrew Aguecheek by Stuart Anderson; Malvolio by Norman Lowe. The twins, Sebastian and Viola are played by John Gilmour and Adelaide Smith. Miss Effie Turner takes the part of Olivia, and Sheila Tremblay that of Maria. Others in the cast are Edward Baylis, Andrew McGreggor, Bruce Clark, John Thom, Alan Girvan, Frederick Chase and Frederick Sheward.

Incidental music will be supplied by the St. James orchestra, under the direction of Sydney Whiteman. Repeat performances will be given on April 24th and 25th at 8.30 in the St. Matthias' Parish Hall, Church Hill avenue at Cote St. Antoine Road, Westmount.

Spencer Tracy's childhood ambition was to be a soldier—and that he became a naval recruit, instead, during the World War?

During the engagement of "The Great Ziegfeld" two performances will be given daily at 2.30 and 8.30 with all seats reserved for all performances. The engagement will start Sunday evening at His Majesty's Theatre.

Evans Sisters Dance Recital Thursday Next

For what will probably constitute the first time on a local stage, the Evans Sisters will present in their forthcoming dance recital a group of fifteen boys in a specially prepared number. The recital is to take place at Victoria Hall on the evening of April 23. These boys, who have been instructed in acrobatic and tap dancing, will present "A Day in Our Boys' Class", and among those who will appear in this number are Bill and Eddie Ryan, Teddy and Bobby Evans, Harvie and Billy Salloway, Jackie Watson, Hugh Hamilton, Burt Hale, Alan Duncan, Danny Riedinger and George Korenev.

An original composition, "Music Old and New," will also be prominent in the extensive list of ballets and solo dances on the recital program. "Music Old and New" covers the period from the gay "inimities" to the present day, and appropriate settings are being carried out by a well-known scenic artist. It will be performed by Pola Roy, June Parker, Betty Meynell and Teddy Evans.

Fifty very young dancers will appear in the ballet, "Arno Riviera in Florence". The soloist in this number is Miss Tamara Umanski who has been highly commended for her excellent work in previous recitals. Other ambitious ballets will include "Ballet Egyptienne," "Moonlight Interlude" and "Pensee Pathetique." Each item will be richly dressed, while the decoration is being supervised by technical experts.

This recital by the pupils of the Evans Sisters will be carried out entirely by members of the various classes, no one from the teaching staff being permitted to take part, it is being pointed out. A symphony orchestra under the baton of Signor G. Agostini will interpret the music.

TRINITY Y.P.A. WILL HOLD GALA SHOW WEDNESDAY

Glee Club, Music, Drama Divisions To Participate In Fine Presentation

On Wednesday, the Trinity Young Peoples' Club are staging an evening of varied entertainment. For some weeks, the various groups have been extending themselves toward making the evening an unqualified success.

The Young Peoples' Glee Club Division members have been rounded into shape by Mrs. Forrester. They will present three musical numbers: "Calling Me Home," "Roses of Picardy," and, to demonstrate their versatility, "Brahm's Lullaby." They also have a few encores up their sleeves in case they should be needed.

Besides the Glee Club's offering, there will be a half-hour's entertainment provided by the Dramatics Division. They are scheduled to present a one-act play entitled "Birds of a Feather". It will be produced, directed, acted, and most interesting of all, written by members of this division. The parts will be played by Katherine Balfour, Gerald Almond, Jack Pettigrew, Frank Cobbett and Wright Balfour. Dearden Lance will act as prompter. Gerald Almond and Wright Balfour are co-directors and stage managers.

The third item on the program will be a musical extravaganza by those two hard-hitting rhythm masters, Frank Cobbett and Russell Kearns. They will probably be the hit of the show, as they were of a recent amateur show at Trinity. Russell Kearns will double on the cornet.

Rounding up the evening will be a short but interesting dramatic skit which has been directed by Steve McColl, the local bridge expert at Trinity.

As a parting shot, mention must be made of Mr. Rollit, who heads the Y. P. A. His unflagging interest in all groups has been a source of inspiration to all concerned, and who, incidentally, was the person who instigated the whole idea of bigger and better entertainment by the Trinity Young Peoples' Club.

Robert Montgomery expects his New York State farm to be self-sustaining within another three years, and that it is completely furnished and ready to move into at a moment's notice?

Norma Darling Recital Was Excellent

Reviewer Struck By Pupil's Work Tuesday Night At Victoria Hall

Presenting a variety of exceptional fine talent, masterfully moulded into finished performers by more than competent—and perhaps at times inspired—teachers, Norma Darling Tuesday night at Victoria Hall wrote a new page in the dance history of this district and in a widely diversified programme won the hearts of the large audience.

Tap, toe, plattiques, russian steps, gypsy numbers, dorkie fantasies, Manhattan Moods, valse dervish dances, rhythm ramblings—played on all the emotional strings and stamped Miss Darling herself, who was responsible for the majority of the numbers, as an artiste extraordinary, one who is well capable of interpreting the various moods of the dance and relaying this to the pupil, not to be learned as book-learning is grasped, but to be felt and interpreted by the pupil, keenly, with verve, zest and a genuine appreciation of rhythm and the poetry of motion.

Eloise Ross in a tap on skates; Phyllis Williams in a Snowflake presentation; Adele Miller in a Dervish gyration; Betty Ball in a rhythm tap; Helen Bagg and Shirley Johnson in a Trained Flee number that rocked the house with laughter—these caught the eye of the interviewer, but all were of talent, all presented superbly and all entertaining.

To Kathleen Madley, assistant instructor and Margaret Lamb, pianist, must go a mention of well-deserved praise.

EASTER SALE, TEA AT ADVENT CHURCH

Under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Advent, an Easter sale will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Parish Hall, corner of Wood and Western Avenues, from 3 P.M. to 9 P.M.

Tea will be served at 4.30, and at 6 o'clock a High Tea will take place.

The sale will consist of books, cut flowers, fancy and useful articles, and home cooking. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

L. O. JACQUES IS HEAD OF YACHT CLUB THIS YEAR

Roslyn Avenue Resident Named Commodore of Hudson Group for 1936.

Lovel O. Jacques, Roslyn avenue resident, was elected commodore of the Hudson Yacht Club for the 1936 season at the annual meeting of that body held recently in the Windsor Hotel. A. A. Webb took over the honorary commodore's post. Others chosen were: J. E. Chandler, rear commodore; F. W. Wallace, vice-commodore; Jack Dettmers, club captain; J. E. Chandler, chairman of the house committee; R. M. Milligan, A. H. Mullan, Howard Wilson, John Mullan, Mel Putman, H. D. Mullan and E. Gilmeister, directors.

The clubhouse will be officially opened on May 1st, and the first dance of the season has been scheduled to be held on May 23rd. A new harbour and landing wharf, which have been in course of construction throughout the winter, have been completed, and are situated directly in front of the clubhouse.

The east side of the bay has been dredged to an approximate depth of seven feet at low water. New piers have been built in the harbor and it is now considered one of the finest in the Montreal vicinity, as it affords safety from storms and has ample room for visiting yachts.

Owing to the rapid increase in membership, it was decided upon to levy an initiation fee on members who join July 1 or later.

Betty Speirs Spectacular Revue On Saturday Night

The Annual Recital of the Betty Speirs School of Dancing is quite an event in the lives of the young people of N.D.G. and Westmount. Saturday first will see these young ladies display the talent that they have acquired over the past year. Miss Speirs usually varies her programme so that the pupils from the babies to the very advanced, all share in the glory.

This year's feature will be "Ballet of Spring". This Classic was introduced by its creator in New York last Fall and presented to Miss Speirs by the celebrated Serova herself, so that Saturday will see its Canadian premiere.

Miss Speirs assures us that this will be one of the best presentations ever offered by her school.

The second feature will provide the baby classes and their admirers with lots of fun. "Sing a Song of Sixpence" brings memories of the four-and-twenty blackbirds, the King and his money, and the Queen and her hued. Peter Miller, who has produced all the Nursery Rhyme successes for the school, predicts that

LOCAL TALENT TO THE FORE IN GUILD PROGRAM

Tom Auburn, Master of the Black Arts, Stars In St. Stephen's Show.

Local talent will leap to the fore in the forthcoming presentation of the St. Stephen's Church Junior Guild, when, Tom Auburn, youthful Notre Dame de Grace, master of the Black Arts, stars on their fourth annual entertainment.

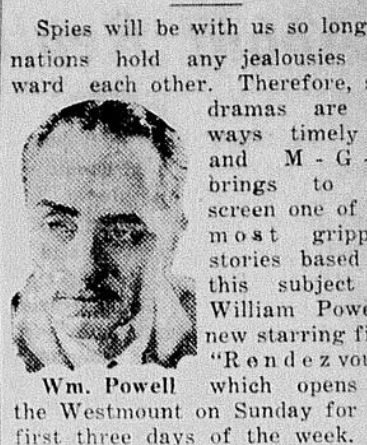

Conjuring, sleight-of-hand and illusions will be featured on his programs which change each night of the show. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 22, 23 and 24.

One of the youngest professionals in the trade Auburn has mastered tricks performed by the great name of magic such as Houdini, Blackstone and Thurston. Rope mysteries, vanishing billiard balls and disappearing silks lend colour to his performances which are topped off with effects such as the Green Indian Needle Swallowing Trick, and the ghostly Floating Lamp Effect.

The arrangements for the entertainment are in the hands of Max Ford, writer-producer and Mr. Ford is endeavouring to have Auburn include his Floating Lamp trick in the program. Though no promises have been made as yet, Auburn, it is hoped, will comply with the request. If so, the trick will make one of its rare appearances in this city.

Apart from Blackstone, few magicians, either local or circuit performers ever stage the Floating Lamp number here. It is the difficulty of the presentation that makes it so rare a sight Auburn has often explained.

William Powell Scores Hit In Spy Drama . . . !

Spies will be with us so long as nations hold any jealousies toward each other. Therefore, spy dramas are always timely—and M-G-M brings to the screen one of the most gripping stories based on this subject in William Powell's new starring film, "Rendezvous."

Wm. Powell which opens at the Westmount on Sunday for the first three days of the week.

The story is really that of Major Herbert O. Yardley, who elevated the counter-espionage service of the United States from a hick detective agency to one of the most scientific spy-catching institutions in the world.

Rosalind Russell handles her role as Powell's heart interest with an unforgettable charm and finish. Binnie Barnes takes care of the role of Olivia, lovely spy, who causes Powell most of his grief.

Leo Carillo, a friend of Caruso, used to burlesque his mannerisms at parties as a joke—and found it a most useful art when he had to play an operatic tenor in "Moonlight Murder?"

Frisch Already Worried About Replacement Lack

By JOHN J. ROMANO

Frankie Frisch questions the fallacy of operating a string of minor league clubs at considerable expense and labor when it cannot produce at least one player fit to take his place in the regular line-up. Fordham Frankie commences the 1936 season with a questionable infield, lacking in reserves, and an outfield similarly burdened.

Jimmy Collins on first base, Frisch at second, Hank Durocher at short and Charley Gelbert at third discloses two questionable spots. Collins and Durocher will do. But how about Frisch and Gelbert's legs? If they weaken the Cards have only Stuart Martin and Midget Pat Ankeman to rush into the breach. The pair are heads-up fielders but are untried against smart hurling. Johnny Mize, turned back by the Reds because of a bad leg, is second string to Collins at first. Faulty underpinning seems to be the bugaboo of the Cards' infield.

Garden Walls
Terry Moore, Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin comprise the outfield. Nothing wrong there other than that the Wild Horse of the Osage is just as apt to go crashing into a concrete grandstand racing back after a fly ball as he is to rap out a home run. Martin is an invaluable asset to the club.

By the same token he is likely to be the biggest problem on Frisch's mind. When Pepper was playing third last year he had a habit of rolling up his shirt sleeves and baring his elbows. A hard driven ball caroming down his way would in most cases find Martin diving after it head first. He was just reckless in his base running. No one ever knew but what Pepper would come up with his arms badly, cut from roughened baked clay or flying spikes.

The joy Pepper Martin brings the fans and his manager when hitting the ball on the nose is saddened whenever he takes fool chances going after the pellet. The tip-off on Pepper Martin's nerve-wrecking conduct on the baseball field is manifested when it is known that his secret ambition is to pilot the winning automobile in the 500-mile Indianapolis race.

Looks O.K.
During the off season Frisch traded off Burgess Whitehead to add Bud Parmelee to his pitching staff. Bud is expected to brace the Deans to such an extent that 65 winning games will be registered in the win column between the trio. Bill Hallahan, the fourth starting twirler, Jess Haines, Bill Walker, Mike Ryba, Ed Heusser and several other youngsters are counted on to account for the 35 of the 100 games necessary to assure the pennant.

Analyzing the club as a whole it is apparent that Frisch must depend greatly on breaks of the game to pull his team out in front of the Cubs. The likelihood of an injury to one of his regulars or the bogging down of his veterans Frisch concluded, lessens the chances of the Cards considerably.

"No team is better than its reserves!" is an accepted rule in any game. Unless a team is as fortunate as the Detroit Tigers in 1934, there is always that night-gore of a player being injured or going stale to haunt the sleep of the manager. Had the chain-system produced finer material than it had this year, the chances of the Cards would be much better than they are as the season gets under way.

Curbing Pepper Martin's enthusiasm, nursing unsteady legs, and trusting his pitchers come through is Frisch's own problem.

Schedule For Inter-Church Carpet Bowls

The West End Inter Church Carpet Bowling League having completed their season's schedule, the play off is now under way.

The first game was played on Monday night when Wesley No. 2 winners of the first half met Wesley No. 1 winners of the second half resulting in the No. 2 team taking four points.

The final game will be played on Thursday.

At the Annual Meeting held April 9th it was decided to hold the annual Bonspiel as early as possible, and that the teams would play every other team instead of eliminations.

The team games are to consist of ten ends, and total shots to count. In the event of a tie in grand total score, team having the highest number of wins will be declared the winner.

The following is the schedule:
Monday April 20th

SPORT ODDITIES

With The Boys At Westmount "Y"

Members of the Spring Life Saving Class will take their tests at Central Y.M.C.A. tomorrow morning at 10.30. Mr. Hart Devenny, Director of Physical Education at Central Y.M.C.A., will be the examiner.

The Gala Basketball Finale will be held tomorrow in the Gym. Eight teams will play, starting at 11 A.M. and continuing till 4 P.M. There is still room for a few additional players, and members are urged to attend this event and enjoy a good workout. This will be the final Basketball rally of the season, as the baseball leagues are scheduled to start almost immediately.

The Preps will have a session of baseball tomorrow morning in Murray Park at 9.30; Juniors and Intermediates in Westmount Park, also at 9.30; a general swim will be held at 11 o'clock.

Boys of the "Y" are reminded of the splendid display of flowers now on exhibition in the Westmount conservatories, just a step across the street from the "Y". A half hour in examining these blooms will be well spent.

The Westmount "Y" was well represented at the recent Kamp Kanawana reunion held recently at Central "Y". All indications point to a bigger season than ever for Kanawana this year.

The educational trip to the Consumers' Glass plant will leave the "Y" this afternoon at 2.30. A most interesting afternoon is in store for those who make this visit.

The Senior School Baseball team will visit the N.D.G. branch on Royal avenue this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon the boys will visit the Art Gallery, Sherbrooke street, to see the exhibition of the "Group of 7". They will leave the "Y" at 2 P.M. Following the visit to the art gallery the boys will go to the Hobby Show at Central "Y" in time to see the judging of the cats and dogs.

At 77 Senator Graham says he finds life getting "better and better." And life, we have no doubt, has found George P. getting better and better.

Switzerland will spend $78,000,000 on new muskets, sabres, helmets, whizz-bangs and whatnots. As Julius Caesar or Napoleon or somebody didn't say, "Beyond Italy lie the Alps."

Spills And Thrills Are Features Of Present Six Day Bike Race At Forum

Kilian And Vopel Favorites To Take Eighth Straight Victory — Will Have Plenty Of Opposition However — Audy-Lepage And Peden-Winter Teams Look Good — Fans Taking Deep Interest.

Right from the opening gun, fired by Mayor Camillien Houde on Sunday night, the six-day bike race at the Forum has been an exciting centre of interest, not only to regular followers of the bike-race game but to many who have seen the attraction for the first time.

From the five-man spill just before midnight on Sunday till the present moment the race has been one of the most spectacular of its kind to be presented here and starting out with 24 riders there was never a dull moment and the teams whirled round the track.

Kilian and Vopel are of course the favorites in the event as they are after their eighth straight win and their third straight victory in Montreal. But they will have strong opposition if the rate at which their rivals are spinning round the track so far is any criterion for at least three other teams look like real contenders in points and form, and in this game anything can happen.

The team of Lepage and Audy, and that of Peden and Winter look to this observer to be in fine form and will in all probability give a good account of themselves, barring mishaps.

The infield has a definite attraction for the spectators who through over the bridge and gaze in admiration and wonder at the riders as they rest in their bunks, examine the repairing work being done on the bikes or gather round the orchestra stand.

BEER PUTS OUT FIRE

Portland, Ore.—Beer succeeded where sand failed as Nels V. Jensen, high school teacher, fought flames that threatened to destroy his car. Jensen's car caught fire while headed for the Salvation Army's health camp at Trestle Glen. Finally he seized a beer keg, smashed it open, and the cascade of foaming "suds" put out the blaze.

Tennis Courts To Open Soon

Work on the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Tennis Courts has advanced to the point where, with two or three days of sunshine, the six courts will be ready for play. A new fence is to be erected, which work will not interfere with play when the courts are ready.

The Committee are again pleased to announce that "Bill" Russell, the popular attendant, will again be in charge.

Membership in the Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club is open to men, ladies, boys and girls—non-members as well as members of the Y.M.C.A.
