PRESIDENT OF GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC SAYS IT WAS PROPER THING TO DO—LAURIER'S EXTRAVAGANCE HAMPERS NEGOTIATIONS.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Ottawa, Mar. 31.—"In regard to degrading of the road I have the highest authority, that of Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, that we took the right position. We could take the grades out for less than half what the old commission paid," was the answer of Hon. Frank Cochrane today to the oft-repeated charges of the Liberals that the present government had degraded the N. T. R.

This statement was made in the course of the debate on the government resolution for power to lease or otherwise acquire that section of the G. T. P. between Fort William and Lake Superior Junction, or in other words the outlet to the Great Lakes. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. George P. Graham appeared in their usual role as special pleaders for the G. T. P. They argued that the N. T. R. was still incomplete and therefore it was necessary for the G. T. P. to accede to the government's demands that they fulfil the original contract by taking over the road and operating it. They went still further, and stated that the changes made at Quebec without the company's consent and the degradation of the road had relieved the company from carrying out its agreement to take over the road at any time.

Hon. Arthur Meighen pointed out the necessity of the Lake Superior section to the operation of the N.T.R. This bill was purely a precautionary measure in event of the refusal of the G. T. P. to carry out its contract or any extended delay in carrying it out. If such happened the government must operate the road and they had to have running rights over this section for this purpose. If they had to take this section over, it would give them a powerful factor in any future negotiations with the G. T. P. If necessary they would also take over the company's elevators and terminals at Fort William.

The whole trouble, he said, lay in the agreement formulated by the old government with the G. T. P. There was nothing in the contract to determine when the road was completed. The eastern sections had been completed for four years and there was nothing to force the G. T. P. to operate this. Chief-engineer Grant had served notice on G. T. P. that the road was complete for operating purposes. The G. T. P. refused to accept this decision. The only tribunal

GOVERNMENT PLANS ORGANISATION OF LIVERPOOL DOCKS

DOCK LABORERS WILL BE ENLISTED INTO REGIMENT FOR HOME SERVICE.

Liverpool, March 31.—Lord Derby announced today that the Government was planning to organize the dock works of Liverpool, under the name of First Dock Battalion of the Liverpool Regiment. The men are to be dressed in khaki overalls. This plan is to be adopted to prevent further delays in handling war supplies.

Labor troubles among the workers on the Mersey recently has caused serious embarrassment.

The battalion will be made up of about 2,000 union men, who will be enlisted under the military law with army pay, in addition to a guaranteed wage of 35 shillings weekly.

It is said that both ship owners and union officials favor the plan. The men are to enlist voluntarily, with the stipulation that the battalion will be for home service only. Lord Derby will be in command of the regiment. Guarantees will be given that the organization will not be used for strike breaking.

Public Puzzled.

The question of drink and its effect on the work which is considered necessary for the successful prosecution of the war overshadows the present moment everything else in public interest. The press and the public favor some drastic measures, a majority of the newspapers expressing the belief that total prohibition, which would apply to all classes, is necessary. The Government, however, has not yet reached a decision on the question, although if Mr. Lloyd-George and Lord Kitchener have their way it is believed there will be total prohibition. To bring this about the Government must have an act of parliament passed.

It is pointed out that to prohibit the sale of liquor only in the localities where men are engaged in the manufacture of munitions would cause a great outcry, and that a side from total prohibition apparently the only way of dealing with the matter is a further curtailment in the hours of sale. Some persons favor prohibiting the sale of spirits but allowing the sale of beer and wine. It is understood, however, that the leaders in this matter would not be satisfied except with the most stringent restrictions.

The matter will require long consideration, for there are the questions of compensation and the finding of employment for the thousands of men and women who would be thrown out of work.

At a meeting of the Glasgow Liquor dealers it was decided to ask Mr. Lloyd-George to receive a deputation from them which will suggest a drastic reduction in the hours for the sale of liquor. The same deputation will confer with the Labor leaders.

NATIONAL CASH ANTI-TRUST CASE

Washington, March 31.—Attorney-General Gregory announced today that he would apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari in the Criminal Anti-Trust cases against officers of the National Cash Register Company. If granted the writ would bring before the High Court the action of the Federal Circuit Court of Ohio reversing conviction of the defendants and ordering a new trial.

BRITISH SHIP-OWNERS REQUEST PERMISSION TO ARM VESSELS AGAINST SUBMARINE PIRATES

Two More Steamers, The Crown Of Castile And Flaminian, Are Sunk Off The West Coast Of England—French Destroyer Rams Submarine Off Dieppe—Liquor Question Engages Public Attention—Russians Who Forced The Dukla Pass Are Descending The Carpathians Into Hungary—Australia Offers Third Contingent

London, March 31.—Two German submarines, the U-28 and another, the number of which has not been ascertained, which have been operating off the west coast of England during the past few days, have added two more British steamers, the Flaminian and Crown of Castile, to their list of victims, totaling five since Saturday evening.

There was no loss of life on the Flaminian and Crown of Castile, the crews of each being given barely time in which to get in their boats. In the case of the latter vessel, however, the submarine fired before the crew left the steamer and shells passed along the bridge on which the captain and an apprentice were standing.

The Crown of Castile was sunk by shell fire, but this did not prove sufficient to send the Flaminian to the bottom, and a torpedo had to be used.

As an offset to this, a French destroyer rammed, and it is believed, sank a German submarine off Dieppe.

As the destroyers have been unable to round up the submarines operating on the British coast, ship owners have petitioned the government to be allowed to arm their ships.

This has not been permitted heretofore, as steamers could then be considered ships of war and be sunk without notice. The heavy loss of life in the sinking of the Falaba and Agula has aroused a storm of indignation throughout the country, and the demand is made that the crews of submarines be treated as pirates, if captured.

This question and that relating to drink, which is alleged to be causing delay in the delivery of munitions of war, absorb public interest. The King, through his secretary, has sent a letter to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, emphasizing the necessity of taking some action to stop excessive drinking, and has offered, if it is considered advisable, personally to give up the use of alcoholic liquor and prohibit the use of it in the royal household.

The government has not yet reached any decision in the matter.

In order to prevent further delay at the Liverpool docks, caused by the men refusing to work week-ends, it has been decided to incorporate the dockers in the army voluntarily, in which case they will receive both army and their regular pay.

So far as actual fighting is concerned, the official reports contain little news. The big effort in the west, which has been so long awaited, seems to be still far off, and the operations are confined to an occasional attack and counter-attack, while the airmen on both sides are kept busy watching the opposing force and dropping bombs where they might be expected to do the most damage.

In the east the Russians are holding the Germans in north and central Poland and they are putting forth all their strength to force their way through Uzsook and Lupkow Passes, with the result that some of the heaviest and most continuous fighting of the war is in progress in the Carpathians, both sides laying claim to success.

The Russians who have already forced Dukla Pass, are slowly making their way down the southern slopes of the Carpathians into Hungary, and, according to British critics, must soon compel the Austrians and Germans defending the two other passes to fall back or be threatened with interference with their communications.

Australia, which has already sent two contingents to fight for the Empire, has offered a third, which probably will be accepted. In all cases the dominions have sent more men than was originally expected.

PRINZ EITEL FRIEDRICH FINISHES COALING TODAY

COMMANDER THIERICHENS TAKES ON ENOUGH COAL TO REACH NEAREST GERMAN PORT—WASHINGTON KNOWS HIS INTENTIONS.

Newport News, Va., March 31.—Under supervision of the United States navy, the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich tonight was filling her bunker with coal, 1,600 tons of which had been delivered alongside late in the day.

When the coal barges arrived at the ship yards where the Eitel Friedrich is moored, orders were immediately given to bar all approaches for the night.

As the first sacks of coal were hoisted from the barges the ships band struck up a German national air and at frequent intervals until a late hour the sailors labored to the accompaniment of patriotic music. It was estimated the coal would be in the vessel's bunkers before morning.

Permission was given to commander Thierichens to coal his ship after a conference in Norfolk yesterday attended by Rear-Admiral Beatty, Commandant of the Norfolk navy yard; Rear-Admiral Horn, commander of the Atlantic reserve fleet, whose flagship the Alabama, guards Hampton Roads tonight, and Norman R. Hamilton, Collector of Customs.

DEATH OF CITIZEN OF U.S. MAY PUT "WILL" IN WILSON

Washington Thinks That the Situation is Fraught With Most Grave Possibilities.

"AN UNFRIENDLY ACT."

Germany Had Already Been Warned How U. S. Would Regard Such a Case.

Washington, March 31.—While no official notification of the death of an American, Leon C. Thresher, on the British liner Falaba, sunk by a German submarine, had reached the American government today, officials viewed the situation as fraught with grave possibilities.

Secretary Bryan said he expected Ambassador Page in London to submit a full report on the case, if advances there confirmed reports of Thresher's death, but added that no inquiries had been received by the department nor had any been made of Mr. Page. Officials generally were not inclined to discuss the matter until some official version of the destruction of the liner was received.

It is known, however, that in view of the language of the American note of inquiry in reply to the German notification of a submarine blockade of England, the facts in this case will be awaited with the greatest interest. That note centered a plain warning that the loss of American lives through the German program of sinking merchant vessels would be viewed as an unfriendly act.

It was suggested in some circles that the German position would be to place responsibility for the destruction of the Falaba upon her captain, contending that his effort to escape rendered his vessel liable to attack under the rules of international law. On the other hand, however, it was said that while the rules of international law heretofore permitted the destruction of merchant craft which resisted search by belligerent war vessels, it appeared that the Falaba only attempted to escape and did not resist. It was pointed out in official circles that according to reports the ship's boats were over her side, and her passengers and crew attempting to leave her when the torpedo which destroyed her was discharged.

BRITISH CAPTURE NORWEGIAN BOAT

CAPTAIN IS ACCUSED OF ASSISTING GERMAN CRUISER KRONPRINZ WILHELM.

Buenos Ayres, March 31.—The British cruiser Bristol has captured and taken to the Falkland Islands the Norwegian steamer Bengor, which sailed from Baltimore February 4th and arrived at Montevideo March 3, for Buenos Ayres.

It is charged that the Bengor has violated neutrality by carrying coal and provisions destined for the German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm.

MEXICANS DEMAND TAX.

El Paso, Tex., March 31.—H. C. Miles, British consular agent in Northern Mexico, was notified today by the Mexican Land and Colonization Company, a British corporation, that payment of a tax of 37,000 pesos, recently levied by local authorities of Lower California was being demanded. Recently, Estaban Cantu Villa, governor of Lower California, assured the British consul a satisfactory arrangement of the tax was in sight. The company's holdings are near Esenda, capital of the territory.

WAR SUMMARY

Submarine activity continues in the waters around the British Isles, where, according to one report, ten of the German underwater craft are engaged in operations against British merchantmen. Two more steamers have been sunk, one by a torpedo and the other by shell fire. They were the Flaminian and Crown of Castile. The crews of these two vessels were safely landed.

In addition, the British steamer City of Cambridge engaged in a lively dodging match with a submarine off Bishop Rock, but succeeded in making her escape, followed by several shells.

The French Ministry of Marine reports that a French light cruiser fired on a German submarine as she was diving off Dieppe, and then, at the moment the periscope was disappearing, turned her bow upon the smaller craft. In the opinion of the Ministry the cruiser possibly succeeded in ramming the submarine.

French airmen have been busy dropping bombs on the Germans and their positions in Belgium and various sections in France. The maritime station at Bruges and a German aviation camp at Gits have been thus bombarded, and Amsterdam reports a considerable loss of life among the German soldiers near Thourout as a result of these operations.

Both in the east and the west the fighting is incessant. In France it appears to be more in the way of preparation for the general movement, which each day brings closer to hand.

In the east the battle grounds are more extended and greater bodies of men are engaged at one time. Apparently the Russians are content to hold their own in Poland, while in the Carpathians a great army, now being still reinforced, is driving against the positions, the acquisition of which would lead into Hungary.

From both Petrograd and Vienna come official statements indicating that outwardly at least both sides are satisfied with the way the tide is setting. Vienna reports that since the first of March the Austrians have captured in that section more than 40,000 officers and men.

Quiet prevails for the time being in the Dardanelles, but the Russian Black Sea fleet has bombarded several ports in Asia Minor, some distance east of Constantinople.

The King of England is using all his influence to bring about some action with respect to the drink question in Great Britain, a subject to which the British Cabinet is giving its most earnest consideration. Similarly, efforts are being made by the governmental authorities to bring about a settlement of the labor troubles. One step in this direction has been taken in the decision to organize the dock workers of Liverpool under the name of the First Dock Battalion of the Liverpool Regiment, thus incorporating them into the army.

to decide was the courts of the land. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had delivered us into the hands of the G. T. F. He had handed them the keys of the treasury, he had given them an agreement full of wounds, he had failed to insert any penalty to guarantee performance of their part of the contract and finally he now appeared as a special pleader on behalf of the company to permit them to escape from the contract he had made with them on behalf of the people of Canada.

The debate on the proposal to authorize the government to take over the Lake Superior branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific was opened by Hon. Frank Cochrane today. The Minister of Railways made the important announcement that the changes in grade on the N. T. R. had been approved by President Chamberlain.

Mr. Cochrane stated that he was advised by the chief engineer of the National Transcontinental that the road was now complete for operation. The government, he said, had no desire to run the road but wishes that the Grand Trunk Pacific should take it over. However, it was necessary to make provisions for the emergency which would arise in case the lease was not accepted by the G. T. P. and, accordingly, this resolution was introduced. Mr. Cochrane said it was impossible in advance to estimate what the cost of operating the road would be and consequently general power was taken to provide the necessary funds. He added that if conditions continued as they are at present, the government would be able to use a good deal of the rolling stock of the Intercolonial in the operation of the N. T. R.

What Resolution Provides.

Mr. Cochrane then moved a resolution which authorizes the government to lease or otherwise acquire the Lake Superior branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific including terminal facilities of that company or any other company. The resolution also provides that the government's railways act shall apply to any line of railway so leased or acquired, and that the expenditure under this resolution or under chapter 43 of the statutes of 1914 shall be a charge against the consolidated revenue fund of Canada.

Graham Objects.

Hon. George P. Graham said the resolution of the minister was far-reaching. It gave the minister power to expropriate not only the Lake Superior branch and its elevators but also the elevators of any other railway, without the consent of the parties now owning them.

Mr. Graham said that the government proposed to take power to take away this G. T. P. line at any time. Should the G. T. P. be ready in a short time to enter into its lease of the main line, 180 miles of its system would be in the hands of the government. He was in perfect accord with the government in its belief that some arrangement should be made to operate the N. T. R. It was doubtful, however, if it would be wise for the government to purchase this expensive property at the present time. Such action would place the government in a peculiar position.

G. T. P. Correspondence.

Referring to the correspondence between the government and the G. T. P. in which the G. T. P. officials declined to sign a lease of the road because it was not completed, Mr. Graham said that the latter showed that the government is not in a position to enter upon this lease although it might operate the line or arrange to have it operated on some terms. The fact remains, he said, that the terminals at Quebec are not completed and will not be completed for a year or two. The station which was to be used jointly by the G. T. P. and C. P. R. has not been started, while the smaller station at Champlain market has just been commenced. The Leonard workshops and the line leading to the shops, a necessary part of the system, have just been started. These shops, Mr. Graham asserted, are a part of the agreement with the G. T. P. If they are not a part of the agreement why should the government be building them? The Prime Minister had stated at Quebec that in connection with the terminals a tunnel would be constructed. This has not been done and no plans for such a tunnel have been made.

Minister Replies.

Hon. Frank Cochrane in reply maintained that in regard to the entrance to Quebec the N. T. R. is in just as good a position to do business as the C. P. R. having complete access to the harbor. He said that Mr. Gordon Grant had made a mistake in that part of his letter referring to the Quebec terminals. He said he understood that the G. T. P. also takes the view that the line will not be completed under the terms of the agreement until the Quebec bridge is built.

"They have not a leg to stand on," interjected Mr. Graham. Mr. Cochrane said he had gone over the line from Moncton to Winnipeg in daylight. The G. T. P. had built certain sections which, the company maintains, are complete. He was prepared to take the other sections constructed by other contractors and show that they were just as complete.

Referring to the matter of the shops at Quebec, Mr. Cochrane expressed the opinion that if the shops at Winnipeg had been built near the centre of the system they would have been large enough for the whole 1,800 miles of railway. He took issue with the argument that the terms of the agreement were to be made by the chief engineers. The provision for arbitration, he said, relates only to the construction and not to the completion of the line. The G. T. P. could argue indefinitely that the road has not been finished because for years to come there will be capital charges to be provided.

Mr. Cochrane said there was no desire on the part of the government to go to this thing in the wrong way. The condition of the road was such that facilities are available for all the business for years to come.

It was only fair and just that the company should now agree to take over the line. He said that, while it was not in the correspondence, he understood that one of the objections of the company is that the road was to have cost only $60,000,000 whereas it has cost over $170,000,000.

Laurier's Opinion.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he understood that while the G. T. P. had not actually refused to take over the line, they had not complied with the request of the minister to operate it. He could understand that the G. T. P. people were not anxious to operate the road after it had been deteriorated and blemished. Mr. Cochrane had said that he intended to administer his department in a business-like way and Sir Wilfrid gave him credit for his good intention. But, if that was the case, he would like to know whether the Minister thought that the changes made in the plans at Quebec were in the interest of the railway.

Mr. Cochrane—"I think so." Sir Wilfrid replied that he could not pretend to be a railway man but that every person whose opinion he had heard said that the changes were detrimental.

The Minister had said that the company had objected to taking over the road because it was too expensive. Sir Wilfrid said he could not find that in the correspondence but he did find that the G. T. P. had objected to the changes in the grades.

Mr. Meighen—"That was a year ago."

Mr. Graham—"It has never been withdrawn." It was charged, went on Sir Wilfrid, that the contract with the company was sufficient. He asserted that the contract was full and complete. It had been drawn by the best lawyers obtainable.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Mr. Gormully, Counsel of the bank of Montreal and Mr. Shepley. There was enough in the contract to compel the G. T. P. to implement it but the present government had put themselves in a position where they could not hold the company to the agreement.

Mr. Cochrane Answers.

Mr. Cochrane took exception to what Sir Wilfrid had said about the protest against the changes in the grading of the road. He said that he could quote no less an authority than Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, who said that the government was right in its position on this matter.

DEATH OF MRS. STEIN.

The death of Mrs. Leonce Stein (nee Alma Baillairge), wife of Mr. Leonce Stein, Provincial Land Surveyor, occurred yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness.

Besides her bereaved husband, deceased leaves one son, Mr. Adolphe Stein, M.L.A. for Kamouraska. The passing away of this esteemed lady will be generally regretted by her many friends, and much sympathy will be accorded to husband and son in their bereavement.

MR. GANDRILLE IS BRINGING NEW ARTISTS.

The return of the French Company for two weeks at the Auditorium will certainly be welcomed by the Quebec theatregoers that appreciated these artists during their first engagements here. And they promise even better performances than on the occasion of their first visit as some new artists have been added to reinforce the company that was already pronounced the strongest that has played in the Auditorium since that theatre is open.

They will open with one of the most popular works presented on the French stage, "Le Roman d'Un Jeune Homme Pauvre," by d'Ennery. This is one of the most powerful dramas that one can wish to see and has some dramatic scenes mingled with others that give a comedy appearance to the play and make it more attractive to all theatre lovers as its suits all tastes.

The first performance will take place Monday afternoon (a holiday matinee at evening prices) and the same play will be presented Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night, Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

The prices will be 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents for the evening performances and 15, 25 and 35 cents for the matinees.

BAND CONCERT IN AID OF BELGIAN FUND

What promises to be a most enjoyable entertainment is the coming Grand Promenade Concert by the R.C.G.A. Band on Thursday, April 8th, in honor of the birthday of King Albert. During the concert refreshments will be served, the proceeds of which, as well as the admission fee, will be in aid of the Belgian Fund. As the entertainment is for a most worthy cause there is sure to be a very large attendance. The State Band under Lieut. O'Neill can be counted upon to provide a program that will be very pleasing.

"Of what complaint," asked the insurance agent, "did your father die?" "Well," was the reply, "it was not exactly in a sort of way, as it were, a complaint precisely, if you understand me. The fact is the jury found him guilty."—London Telegraph.

Scene of Canadian Camp at Salisbury Looms Big in History.

The Canadian forces have crossed the channel and are now upon the soil of that land where their forefathers in the days of old fought many a bout and won the famous victories at Crecy, Poitiers and Agincourt. Five hundred years have passed since the latter victory was gained, and now the British cross those same dividing waters once again and land their troops upon the coasts of France, this time not to fight their ancient foes, but, allied with them, to force back a common enemy.

Though now amid the historic scenes of France the Canadians will not forget the spots in old England which they visited while at Salisbury Plain. There is old Sarum, which, if it could speak, would tell of Druids, Britons and Normans. They will not forget the old cathedral that looks out across those vast plains where for four long months the Canadians lay encamped. Its grandeur has lilted them with awe and they have been strangely impressed by the quaint old places that nestle beneath its lofty spire.

The site of Old Sarum is at present under a thorough excavation, undertaken by the Society of Antiquaries. It contained the dwellings of the principal people of the bishop and clergy, and also contained the cathedral church, which is now in process of excavation.

There are two gates to the outer bailey, one on the east and a smaller one on the west. The former must have had a very imposing appearance, for above it was built the Church of the Holy Cross.

The little information that exists concerning the early history of Old Sarum is chiefly derived from pipe rolls and liberate rolls of the times and from a few other documents. Among them occur orders for repairs to certain buildings, which are mentioned by name, also accounts for the supply of various articles.

From appearances noticed during the excavation, constant alterations and rebuildings must have taken place formerly, but when the castle ceased to exist cannot be very clearly shown. As early as 1276 King Edward I granted permission for the removal of stone for building a certain part of Salisbury Cathedral. Likewise King Edward III, allowed stone to be taken from the old cathedral to repair the new. In 1338 royal permission was again granted for the removal of stone on a very large scale. From this it may be inferred that from the dates Old Sarum became practically a stone quarry to supply the new city.

The excavations have afforded many interesting subjects, such as some fine specimens of glazed jugs, a piece of gold lace, dice, draughtsmen, keys, knife blades, tools, and rings. One ring was a fine, nearly pure gold episcopal ring with an emerald setting.

As was stated above, material was brought from the cathedral of Old Sarum to aid in the construction and repair of the present Salisbury Cathedral. The foundations of this noble pile were laid in 1220 by Bishop Richard Poore. The style is that of the First Pointed, or Early English, and the ground plan is that of a double cross. The building was not completed till 1258. The tower and spire were not added till the 14th century. The point of the spire is 400 feet above the ground.

THE MOUNTAINEERS.

France's Chasseurs-Alpins Are a Remarkable Corps of Fighters.

The famous Chasseurs-Alpins of France, the mountain riflemen, who with their flat Tam-o-Shanter caps and long alpenstocks are some of the smartest troops of the French army are well described by a correspondent of the Paris Temps, who dined with their officers shortly after the taking of Steinhach, in Alsace.

In five and a half months the Alpine Rifles have fought everywhere along the front from Alsace to the Yser. They are brought up to each point in turn to make the final effort. Whenever they go they throw themselves on the German line with a fury that the enemy has learnt is almost irresistible, and then, having won their ground, they set to with equal vigor to secure it by digging themselves in.

"The German has learned by now not to do much in the way of counter-attacking until we have gone," said one of their officers with pardonable pride. "And all the same," he went on, "it isn't child's play to deliver an assault. You know how that's done. The men are gathered in the trenches and it is arranged that at a given signal everyone shall bound out of them and make a rush for the nearest enemy trench. Our men know the fate that awaits many of them.

"However well the ground has been prepared by the gunners, some of the first of them are sure to be hit. And then there is the mud, and it's not a pleasant thing to fall wounded in the mud with a bullet in your body. And then our fellows know, too, that even when they have taken the trench they will be exposed to death from hand grenades, that they will have to clear the communication trenches and saps held by the enemy, which he can sweep with machine-gun fire. They've seen all that twenty times.

"And yet when the signal's given there's not a single instant of hesitation. The only man who stayed behind in the last charge was a poor devil who had lost his reason."

Toys During the French Revolution.

The toys of the French revolution period were characteristic of that terrible time. There are tops whose shadows cast the profile portraits of Louis XVI, and Marie Antoinette. These are turned in boxwood and are indeed interesting reminiscences of toys with the impress of history. The children of the revolution had their tiny Phrygian caps and danced the horrible carnagones in their play. Little models of the guillotine were made to "work," and the bodies of pigs with heads of Louis XVI, were decapitated. Models of the Bastille were popular. Playing cards with figures of revolutionary heroes were made when kings, queens and aristocratic knaves were taboo.—From "Toys of Other Days," by Mrs. Nevill Jackson.

KING RAISES VOICE AGAINST DRUNKENNESS

HE IS PREPARED TO SET EXAMPLE BY ISSUING ORDERS AGAINST CONSUMPTION OF LIQUOR IN THE ROYAL HOUSEHOLD.

King George has added his plea to that of the ship-owners and, in some cases, that of the Laborites themselves, that some vigorous measures be adopted to cope with the question of drunkenness, which, it is urged, is having the effect of delaying the delivery of munitions of war.

KING'S EXAMPLE WILL BE FOLLOWED BY MANY OTHERS

CABINET MINISTERS AND THE JUDGES WILL BE TETOTAL DURING THE WAR.

London, April 1—3.05 a.m.—King George's letter on the drink question appears likely to be the most effective step yet taken to bring home to the nation the urgency of the problem.

According to the Daily Telegraph there is official warrant for stating that the King's example will be followed immediately by a large number of persons holding high office, including all the Cabinet Ministers and other officers of the Government, and probably all of the Judges.

The Times, in an editorial, expresses the hope that with such a fine example, prohibition will become need.

"It would be a far finer thing, says The Times, if all classes and conditions of His Majesty's subjects should follow his example. Let all who are in a position to influence their subordinates consider this matter well. Nothing should be allowed to stand between the nation and the successful conclusion of the war at the earliest possible moment."

Germans Promote Strikes. As further proof of the momentous nature of the problem the intelligence division of the Admiralty alleges that German agents are endeavoring to promote strikes among British workmen. The intelligence division says it has obtained evidence that these agents are well supplied with money and take every opportunity to mix with the workmen and suggest new grievances to foster discontent. It alleges also that the agents ply the men with drink to gain their confidence.

MEXICANS PAY WIDOW INDEMNITY

Washington, March 31.—The payment of 160,000 pesos, or $20,000 in gold at the prevailing rate of exchange in Mexico City, to Mrs. Ruth McManus, widow of John B. McManus, the American Dairy Proprietor killed by Zapata troopers on their re-occupation of the city, was officially reported to the State Department today by the Brazilian minister in charge of American affairs in the Mexican capital.

HUERTA HAS SAILED FOR BUENOS AYRES

London, March 31.—7.20 p.m.—The Fabro Agency of Madrid received a despatch from Cadiz, Spain, today saying that General Victoriano Huerta, former Provisional President of Mexico, sailed with his family this morning for Buenos Ayres, Argentina.

Since he resigned as Provisional President of Mexico on July 15 last, General Huerta has been living quietly in Spain. In December he was quoted as denying a report that he would return to Mexico to offer his services to General Villa, stating that he was entirely away from Mexican politics.

Justice of Peace Praises Dr. Chase's Ointment

After Nine Years of Agony He Escaped an Operation by Using This Great Healing Agent.

As a means of healing sores and wounds that defy ordinary treatment Dr. Chase's Ointment has long stood supreme. It is known far and wide as a positive cure for eczema and piles. Whatever uncertainty there may be about the results obtained by the use of medicines taken internally there can be no question of the healing of the skin when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied. You can actually see with your own eyes just what takes place. The sore parts are cleansed, and gradually the new skin is formed and the sore becomes smaller and smaller, until it finally disappears. It is often wonderful the results which are accomplished in a single night by the use of this great healing ointment. Mr. N. A. Heath, J.P., Fitch Bay, Que., writes—"Nine years ago I was taken with an abscess, and cannot begin to describe what I have suffered as a result. I was examined by two doctors, both of whom said I would have to undergo an operation to be cured. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment, it has rendered an operation unnecessary, and has completely cured me. I cannot say enough in praise of this wonderful ointment which cured me after nine years of agony." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60c a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

AMERICAN REPLY TO GREAT BRITAIN ON GOOD FRIDAY

TEXT OF IT WILL BE PUBLISHED IN PAPERS TOMORROW MORNING.

Washington, March 31.—An arrangement for the publication of the American reply to Great Britain's blockade Order-in-Council in the morning papers of the United States and England next Friday was announced tonight by Secretary Bryan. The note, which was cabled to Ambassador Page, at London, last night, comprised about 2,500 words.

Mr. Bryan said he had been careful to say nothing about this communication, and consequently it might be safe to remark that any discussion of its contents in advance of its authorized publication would be mere guess work.

CROWN SPRINGS A SURPRISE IN WILHELMINA CASE

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PROVIDES FOR REQUISITIONING OF ANY NEUTRAL SHIP.

London, Mar. 31.—In presenting his argument before the prize court today in favor of requisitioning the cargo of foodstuffs of the American steamer Wilhelmina, the Crown Solicitor introduced a hitherto unpublished Order-in-Council providing that the Crown may requisition any neutral ship.

This order came as a complete surprise to the counsel for the owners of the Wilhelmina. It revises rule 29 of the prize court, which now reads—"Where it is made to appear to the judge, on the application of the proper officer of the court, that it is desired to requisition on behalf of His Majesty a ship in respect of which no final decree of condemnation has been made, he shall order that the ship shall be appraised and that upon an undertaking being given in accordance with rule five of this order, the ship shall be released and delivered to the Crown."

Upon the motion of counsel for the owners of the cargo the court adjourned to April 13, when counsel will renew his former motion to have a date for the trial set, in an effort to get a decision as to whether the foodstuffs destined for the German civilians were absolute contraband when the Wilhelmina sailed from the United States.

"Discussing the case tonight, A. G. Hays, counsel for W. L. Green & Company, of St. Louis, owners of the Wilhelmina's cargo, said—"If the Crown intends to try this case immediately after the Easter recess there can be no reason to requisition the cargo, unless the admitted purpose is to dispose of the cargo first and then to try the question as to whether it may proceed to Germany."

On March 9 in the case of the copper on board the steamer Antares the prize court decided that neutral property could not be requisitioned and made it plain that the word "ship" also meant cargo.

PLEADS GUILTY TO SAVE EYESIGHT.

Fugitive From Justice Decides to pay $1,000 Fine.

New York, March 31.—To save his eyesight, John Ehrhott, a fugitive from justice since 1902, when he was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury for participation in customs frauds, came here from Yarmouth, N.S., today, promptly pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $1,000. "It was a case of his staying in Canada and go blind or coming here, pay the penalty and then consult one of New York's eye experts," said Roger B. Wood, assistant United States District-Attorney, in commenting on the case.

Ehrhott was charged with defrauding the government out of duties of $25,000 on shipments of high grade beans from Canada. It was charged he represented that the beans were in transit to Cuba, and being in bond were not subject to duty. The high grade beans were sold here and a cheaper grade forwarded to the consignees. When the indictment was returned Ehrhott went to Yarmouth, where he prospered. About four years ago he was arrested in Boston and brought here and pending trial was released in $15,000 cash bail. He left the country, however, returning to Canada and forfeiting the bail. Being told, when his eyes began to fail, that only a New York specialist could prevent him from becoming blind, Ehrhott decided to return.

RAILWAYS BEGIN THEIR FIGHT FOR FREIGHT INCREASE

NEW TARIFF ASKED FOR GRAIN SHIPMENTS ON THE LOWER ST. LAWRENCE.

Toronto, March 31.—The first gun to be fired by the railways in their battle to secure additional revenue by a general increase in the freight tariff opened today, when the initial hearing of the protest made by the grain men came before the closing session of the Dominion Railway Commission. The opponents of the increase in the rates for grain and grain foodstuffs were successful in respect to the tariff affecting Ontario and Ontario shipping, the Grand Trunk Railway being asked to continue the summer shipping rates to and from Montreal, and the railways were asked to provide a new tariff for the shipping of grain stuffs from Ontario to points on the Lower St. Lawrence river based on the present rate of similar shipments to New York. The Board adjourned to April 18.

FRANCE TO PENSION TOTALLY DISABLED

Paris, Mar. 31.—A bill was proposed in the Chamber of Deputies today providing for the pensioning of those totally disabled in the present war. If the bill is adopted pensions and allowances will also be made for widows and orphans.

U.S. CITIZEN IS ACCUSED OF FIRING LA TOURAINE

RAYMOND SWOBODA IS ARRESTED IN PARIS ON SERIOUS CHARGE—CANADIAN PARTNER SAYS MISTAKE HAS BEEN MADE.

New York, March 31.—Raymond Rolfe Swoboda, reported to have been arrested in Paris charged with setting fire to the steamer La Touraine, is an American citizen and represented in this country a French syndicate engaged in purchasing supplies for the French government and the civilian population. This was attested tonight by R. K. MacLea, of this city, formerly textile expert of the Federal Tariff Board in its investigations of that industry; by Thomas Hooper, of Victoria, B.C., an English born Canadian, and by Eugene Davis and W. F. Mohr both Americans, of this city, all of whom said they were associated with Swoboda in the purchase of supplies.

All four were unanimous in asserting that a grave error had been made in arresting Swoboda and have made representations to the State Department accompanied by affidavits to prove that Swoboda's mission at Paris was solely for the purpose of submitting samples of American goods to the French syndicate.

Letter From Borden.

Swoboda, according to Mr. Hooper who says he was in direct partnership with him, bore an American passport issued to him here in exchange for a passport he obtained from the American Embassy in Paris when he left for New York in January on the steamship Rochambeau. He also carried, Mr. Hooper said, letters of introduction given to Hooper by Premier Borden of Canada, by the Premier of British Columbia and by the Finance Minister of British Columbia, to Major-General Sam

Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia. These letters Swoboda was to use to show Hooper's standing in Canada.

Swoboda was born, according to Mr. Hooper, in San Francisco 38 years ago of a Scotch mother and a Russian father. He spent his early youth in Russia and later went to Padis, where he became a member of the Paris Bourse. He was associated there with commercial concerns of high standing named Morrison and Duclos, who when the war broke out, formed a syndicate for the purchase of war supplies and were official in their character.

Hooper's Affidavit. In his affidavit sent today to the State Department, Mr. Hooper says he had known Swoboda for two years and held business dealings with him in Paris in July 1914.

"I entered into an agreement to purchase supplies with Swoboda when he came here," the affidavit continues, "and during his stay was constantly with him night and day, traveling to Montreal, Toronto, Chicago and Cleveland to visit and get details of materials from the leading firms of these cities. A full duplicate set of all letters, correspondence contracts, etc., are here subject to any investigation to show what our business relations were."

LETTER FROM BERLIN HAS LONG VOYAGE.

Port Arthur, Ont., Mar. 31.—A letter mailed in Berlin July 29, or five days before the war, arrived in Port Arthur only today, being more than eight months en route.

SAYS LEVIS WATER NOT DRINKABLE

DR. LAGUEUX SUGGESTS CONTROL OF SUPPLY BY BOARD OF HEALTH.

Dr. Pierre Lagueux, hygienic expert of Levis, has sent a letter to the Council, and in it he gives his opinion of the water supply of the town across the river. So long as present conditions prevail, he says, there will be hundreds of cases of all kinds of infectious diseases.

"We must have," he says, "a Board of Health, under the direction of experts to control our water supply. Otherwise you will get a water that will be useful for drainage or for the fire brigade, but never the drinking water which I myself, as a taxpayer, demand."

As for the present water, he says, that the majority of the population either drink it with disgust or do not drink it at all. Mr. Derociers, superintendent of the Levis aqueduct, takes issue with Dr. Lagueux, saying that the reservoirs are emptied and cleaned twice a year and that when Dr. Lafreniere, the Provincial inspectors of hygiene, visited the aqueduct recently, he declared that he was quite satisfied with the reservoirs and the condition of the water.

NUMBER OF PROMINENT PROPRIETORS AND TENANTS ARE JUSTLY INDIGNANT.

From what can be gathered it appears that a number of prominent proprietors and tenants are very indignant because their names are not down on the voters' lists as they should be automatically. These men are most emphatic in their condemnation of the gross carelessness which makes such a situation possible and the matter is likely to be taken up very strongly in order that the blame may be apportioned where it belongs. "It is ridiculous that a man should be robbed of his vote or have to go to all kinds of trouble to make sure of it," said one of these men yesterday.

Another matter which has given rise to considerable complaint is the fact that names are continually misspelled when there is no shadow of excuse for it and when the election day comes round there is a bother connected with the identification of the men who are victims of this negligence.

The Chronicle will be glad to give publicity to cases of this nature.

Sporting Notes

Good-bye Hockey.
The good old winter game is about dead for this year at least and the only one apart from the players who has something by which to remember it is the small boy who is probably treasuring up Joe Malone's or 'Paddy' Moran's stick.

The local champions are—
City League and Quebec City championship. Laurentides. Junior A League and Junior City championship. Sons of Ireland. Junior championship. St. Lawrence. Arena League. Feuille d'Erables. Beauport League. St. Charles. Bankers' League Bank of Montreal.

Jack Dillon is anxious to fight Johnson. Dillon usually weighs around the 160 mark.

The Irish-Canadian Bowlers have to win three strings from the Victorias to take the class B title. If they only win two, St. Rochs will tie them up.

Some big Men of the Ring.

Next to Jim Jeffries, the Goliath of modern ring times, Johnson is the biggest man who ever held the title. Jeffries weighed 220 pounds, and stood six feet one and a half inches in fighting shoes; Johnson is six feet one half inch tall and weighs about 215 pounds, in condition; Jim Corbett scaled 187 lbs. at his best and was 6 feet 1 in. tall; Fitzsimmons was one and one-fourth of an inch shorter and fought at about 170 pounds; Sullivan stood 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, and fought at 195 lbs; Tom Sharkey was five feet nine inches, and fought his best bouts at close to 190 pounds.

Compared with these past heavy-weight gladiators, Willard appears as a Samson. Even when ranged alongside of Johnson the Kansas cowboy over-shadows the negro title holder in almost every point of physical measurements. In addition to his 5 1/2 in. advantage in height and ten years difference in age, he outweighs Johnson by twenty pounds. His reach is 73 1/2 in. against the negro's 76 in. will also prove of exceptional value if properly used. In all the measurements of trunk and limbs, Willard shows an advantage in structure, muscle and chest expansion varying from two to four in.

The Ottawa and Vancouver players netted tidy little sums out of the World Series games. The winners got $300 each and losers $200. The money may act as balm for Ottawa's injured feelings.

British Laundry troubles.

Unless something is done, and done quickly, to meet the demand of the British industrial world for larger supplies of coal, many laundries will have to discontinue their work and close their doors. That was the burden of the story told to a London Daily Telegraph representative by Mr. J. J. Stark, the secretary of the National Federation of Laundry Associations. Laundry managers, it appears, are

BASEBALL SEASON TO OPEN MAY 2ND

QUEBEC ASSOCIATION DECIDES ON DATE FOR OPENING GAMES.

Mr. Jno. Bruneau presided over an important meeting of the local Baseball league at the Victoria Hotel last evening.

The league decided to play the first games of the season on May 2nd the President being authorized to draft a schedule which will be adopted at the meeting.

All clubs must make their deposit of entry fee, guarantee and other essentials at a meeting to be held on the 14th April.

Secretary Lepine announced that arrangements had been made with the Exhibition Co. concerning the use of the grounds.

All the clubs were represented and discussion of various matters was indulged in harmoniously.

CANNOT STOP USE OF EMERY BALL

BAN JOHNSON'S DECREE IS LIKELY TO GO BY THE BOARDS.

Detroit, March 30.—Ban Johnson's decree that the "emery" ball be abolished is likely to go by the boards. Johnson is a big man and has made more than a little influence, but his law does not extend to the pitching box, if two capable pitchers are to be believed. They are Russel Ford and Cy Falkenberg.

Here are two quotations: Says Falkenberg: "The so-called 'emery ball' is nothing new in baseball. I used it as much as two years ago. A rule prohibiting it is useless for the reason that an umpire or anyone else is unable to tell when a pitcher is using it. It gets results, and if a twirler can throw the shot without being caught he will do so—and he can." Says Russel Ford: "A sheet of emery paper, a sharp instrument, or any other superfluous article on the diamond is not necessary to operate the 'emery' ball. I threw it in the American League, and used my fingernail. The act is so unimportant, the fact that it is imperceptible to officials, which makes a rule preventing its use unapplicable. Caldwell and Keating, the Yankee twirlers, are recognized as the inventors of the delivery, but they are not. They merely brought it to public view by resorting to other, and unnecessary methods."

ENGLISH CUP FINAL.

April 24th Date Selected for Game Between Sheffield and Chelsea.

London, March 31.—At a special meeting of the English Football Association here Monday, it was decided that the final tie of the English Cup will be played on April 24th on the grounds of the Manchester United Club, at Old Trafford, Manchester.

This is the first time in twenty-one years that the cup finals will be decided away from the Crystal Palace, due entirely to the hostile attitude of the London and South of England press against the continuation of football during the war. The teams to be in the finals are: Chelsea and Sheffield United, and if the tie had not been removed from the Crystal Palace the whole of London's soccer fans would have risen as one man and turned out to cheer Chelsea on. Past record attendances would have easily been smashed, as this is only the second time in forty-four years that a London professional club has figured in the finals.

The Sheffield club has won the cup twice before, in 1899 and 1902.

BASEBALL RELEASES.

Albany, N.Y., March 31.—Secretary John H. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues today gave out the following releases in minor league clubs through out the United States and Canada: By Providence, John J. Onslow, to Buffalo; by Buffalo, William M. Wright to Jersey City; by Montreal, E. A. Kippert to Seattle; by Seattle, Charles Fullerton to Montreal; by Hartford, Roger Salmon, Frederick Reiger, and James Curry to Jersey City; by Spokane, Willis Butler to Victoria; by Vancouver, Bert Hall, to Salt Lake City; by Fort William, Ray Thomas to Terre Haute; by Terre Haute, Jesse Biley and T. Davis to Fort William; by Racine, Wis., Fred Wines, to Fort William, Ont.

finding difficulties crowding upon them just now as a result of the general dislocation of industry consequent on the war. They cannot get the coal to run their machinery, their horses and motor vans have been commandeered by the Government for military purposes, and, lastly, there is a shortage of labor due to a variety of causes. The day may not be far distant when clean linen, the average man's badge of respectability, will come to be regarded as something of a luxury.

HARD TO FIGURE WILLARD'S HOPES

NEW YORK EXPERT'S OPINION ON COMING BOUT IN CUBA.

Jess Willard's Chance.

Those who retain a memory of Jess Willard in the ring find it mighty hard to conjure up a picture of the stilt-legged, scared-eyed Kansas making a real fight against the bulbous black champion at Havana Monday.

He may do it, of course. Willard may go tearing into Johnson at the tap of the gong with all the fury of an exasperated giraffe, which is a species of exasperation we have never observed, but which is the only simile we can think of in connection with Willard, exasperated or otherwise; but if he does—if Willard does this thing—he will be going contrary to all the laws of that beneficent nature which intended him to be just a large, strong, healthy specimen of humanity with no traits of violence.

He may do it all right, and we hope he does, for it would be an imposing spectacle, but it is hard to brush away the recollection of Jess's singularity mild and inoffensive countenance, with his mouth gaping wide in a foolish grin as his gloved hands fumbled futilely before him as if to ward off an attack without any resentment—which is our chief recollection of the jayhawker in the role of a fighting man.

It is hard to brush away that recollection, and to replace it with a mental photo of this gangling, awkward string of humanity charging boldly up against that great black barrier to the hopes of our well-known white race known as John Arthur Johnson.

Here you have a hastily manufactured, practically inexperienced fellow lashing out with wild wallops at one of the greatest exponents of defensive fighting that the ring has ever known; a fighter who has behind him years and years of fistic warfare; a finished phase of the Marquis of Queensbury code, turned and polished in the mill of his craft, and yet we are expected to believe that the novice has a chance.

Law of Ring Against Johnson.

We are not only expected to believe it, but, speaking for ourselves, we do believe it—to a certain extent, we believe it because we believe that the law of the prize ring is against the champion. It is history that a fighting man, no matter how good he may be in the days of his youth, can't travel far beyond thirty-five before he bows down beneath the burden of life—especially that manner of life which champions generally lead.

Many people believe that if Willard beats Johnson at Havana Monday it will not be because Willard is a great fighting man, but because he is lucky enough to get the opportunity of meeting Johnson—with some credit, or discredit, in whatever light you may view these things, to his handlers for working up the opportunity. In short, they believe that if Jess Willard beats Johnson it will not be because he is Jess Willard, but because Johnson has finished out the span allotted to champions.

This is being a bit forehanded with the knock that will inevitably follow a Willard victory, to be sure, but it nevertheless reflects some of the public opinion on the coming match. Eight followers who have seen Willard in the ring cannot by any strength of the imagination, think of him as a great fighter, but they concede him a chance Monday. They would concede any one of half a dozen strong young fellows now classed as white hopes a chance, because the law of the old game is against Johnson.

Willard has Ten Years on Champion.

Willard is ten years younger than the champion, and yet Willard is no youngster, as youngsters go in the prize ring. He is crowding twenty-eight. There is a wide difference in the fighting game between thirty and thirty-seven, but it would be all the wider in the present case had Willard begun his fighting earlier. He started at an age when many a fighter has finished his career in the ring, and it may be that he began too late.

His size and his presumed strength have often been cited in his favor. As a matter of fact, some good judges of fighting men believe that he is too big for fighting purposes. His strength can always come in handy, but his strength is really an unknown quantity. Willard has bowled over a few of the genus "sucker" in the ring, and it is believed that he can punch, but no one knows whether he can punch a good man because he never punched at a good man. He never had the opportunity.

It is pointed out that his height will handcuff Johnson's murderous right uppercut, the pointers evidently overlooking the fact that Johnson has a pretty good left hand. It has been said that both Johnson and Willard are strictly "waiters"; that they hang back waiting for the other fellow to come in, which, if true, would argue a tedious time at Havana next week, but at a matter of fact the big black has often stepped out after his man, shuffling along the canvas until he gets in striking range.

The chances are he will go after Willard, and the chances are that Willard will not be able to keep him from catching up. Jess has never displayed any light and airy foot faculties hereabouts. He has merely shown a painful hesitancy about slamming a man, hovering mildly out of reach of the gloves until he happens to get stung, and then suddenly waking up and rushing in with a fierce flailing of his long arms.

He has been able to hit the men he has fought in the past, but there is some doubt as to his ability to hit Johnson, and there is no doubt as to Johnson's ability to hit Jess. It all simmers down, so far as Willard's chances are concerned, to a question of Jess's ability to assimilate all of Johnson's hitting until such time as Jack is foot sore and wearied of his task. In other words, it seems to simmer down to a question of condition and endurance.

And then, again, Willard may knock Johnson kicking in the early rounds; or Johnson may dispose of Willard so rapidly as to make the Munroe-Jeffries fiasco seem like a marvelous event, all of which will be additional proof of what fools us prophets be.—New York American.

A GERMAN GLORIFICATION OF WAR.

We have learnt (says Prof. Heinrich von Treitschke, the famous advocate of war) to recognise as the civilising majesty of war precisely what appears to the superficial observers to be brutality and inhumanity. That one should for the sake of the Fatherland overcome the natural feelings of humanity, that men should murder one another who have never wronged one another, who, perhaps, highly esteem one another as civil-

HUNS WELL SUPPLIED WITH MACHINE GUNS

BEFORE THE WAR BEGAN THEY HAD A STOCK OF 50,000 AVAILABLE.

London, March 31—8.45 p.m.—The official Eye Witness in a summary of minor events occurring on the British front last week, sounds a note of warning against placing importance on the capture of machine guns from the Germans, reports of which so often appear in the official statements: "It must be remembered," he says, "that to the Germans the loss of one or several machine guns does not represent what at the beginning of the operations it would have meant to us, with our then vastly inferior total and proportional number of these weapons."

"It is believed that before the war commenced they had available altogether a stock of 50,000 such guns apart from any that may have since been turned out by their arsenals. Their employment of them, therefore, has in a certain sense been prodigal and carried out with a disregard to loss, which is only comprehensible when the large reserves of these weapons in their possession is borne in mind."

"To the Germans the machine gun represents merely a piece of machinery of immense killing and stopping power, which has cost a certain sum of money, but it is less vulnerable and less valuable in every way than a number of men and rifles of equivalent killing power."

"The one principle guiding its employment, therefore, is that, provided the gun has earned its keep or paid for its cost by the number of the enemy slaughtered, its loss or destruction does not count. For them it has a matter of the exchange of mechanism costing a few pounds, which can be replaced at once, for a number of lives, which cannot be replaced within a generation. This, of course, applies to the gun alone, and not to the highly trained specialists who handle it."

"It may be of some interest to point out to those who are not acquainted with the weapon, that a machine gun at the ordinary rate fires 500 rounds a minute. From the sector of the defenses at Neuve Chapelle, where the Germans had fifteen machine guns within the length of a front of 250 yards, 7,500 bullets could have been discharged in one minute, in addition to those from the rifles of the infantry manning the parapets."

"What effect this stream of lead would have against assaulting infantry, either held by obstacles or advancing over clear ground at a slow pace, which is alone possible in heavily weighted soldiers, is obvious."

ALVARO OBREGON

Mexico's Newest Leader Described by a Friend.

From the New York Times. The tragedy of Mexico has a new leading man, the seventh in a period of a little more than four years. He is Alvaro Obregon, the Sonora farmer, who has had a chief place in the news from Mexico for the past few weeks, the man who, by his capture of the ancient City of Puebla and his subsequent dictatorship in the distressed City of Mexico has compelled a world-weary Mexican revolution to turn on him, and not Villa, the lightning of notoriety.

Of the leading men of the Mexican tragedy, Porfirio Diaz was the first. Then came Madero, then Pascual Orozco, then Victoriano Huerta, then Carranza, then Villa, and now comes Obregon, educated and apparently one of the ablest of the scores of guerrilla fighters who have appeared in Mexican history in the past half century.

The Carranzistas admit that their hopes are in this man from Sonora. They call him the "Napoleon of the West," the "right hand of Carranza," and "the general who can read as well as write."

Obregon, like Villa, Orozco and Carranza, is a northern Mexican. He comes from the great state of Sonora, which touches the American border west of El Paso. Sonora is a Yaqui Indian stronghold, and Obregon is proud of the fact that the blood of the Yaquis, among the best of Mexican fighters, is in his veins. However, he is not a full-blooded Yaqui, and the fairness of his complexion is due to a liberal mixture of pure Spanish. Likewise, he has a little of the Mayo Indian in him.

"Paradoxical as it may seem," and Francisco Elias, an old friend of Obregon and now the Carranza consul general in New York, "Obregon, while our most capable military leader at this moment, is at heart and by training no soldier at all. While acquitting himself with great credit in the campaigns he is conducting to drive Villa and the other enemies of the country out of power, his constant dream is nevertheless one of peace. He is a farmer, and always will be one, and I know that he hopes some day to return to Sonora ranch. More than once he has expressed his disgust for warfare, which he has called a devil's game in which humans have no business to indulge."

"He is a splendid physical specimen. He is 6 feet in height and tips the scales somewhere in the neighborhood of 180 pounds. He is all muscle and bone and reminds one of Jim Corbett when that old-time pugilist was at his best. He is clean cut, military in carriage, always immaculate in dress. He is only 35 years old

Mr. F. L. Hutchinson

FRANK LOSH HUTCHINSON, manager of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, the largest hotel in Canada, has been appointed to the position of manager-in-chief of hotels of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He will enter upon his duties on the 1st of April, succeeding Mr. Hayter Reed, who retires, after a long and faithful and successful term of office. There are few hotelmen whose climb up the ladder of success has been speedier than that of F. L. Hutchinson.

He is a Canadian, born in London, Ont., in 1869, and a son of Charles Hutchinson, K.C., County Crown Attorney for Middlesex. At the age of sixteen he began his career as a clerk in the Bank of Montreal. At the age of twenty-two, or in 1901, he resigned from the bank to become a member of the Montreal Stock Exchange.

Everything was going smoothly until 1907, when that memorable financial panic hit the country, and Mr. Hutchinson also suffered in consequence. It occurred to him that the C.P.R. offered opportunities that appealed to him, and he asked for a job. He was sent down to the Chateau Frontenac as kitchen steward, and there began his hotel experience and his hotel career. Shortly afterwards he was moved to the front office, and soon after that was made assistant manager of the hotel. In less than a year from the time he began in the kitchen he was appointed manager. In 1911 he was appointed assistant to Hayter Reed, manager-in-chief, C.P.R. Hotels in Alberta and British Columbia. In August, 1912, he resigned from the C.P.R. to accept his present position as manager of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal. In returning to the C.P.R. to enter upon the duties of the highest office in the gift of the hotels department, Mr. Hutchinson does not underestimate the work and responsibilities that go with it, but he is glad to go back, and he returns with that practically gained confidence that he "knows the ropes" to guide the destinies of twenty hotels, involving an invested capital of twenty-five millions of dollars.

and comes of an old and well-to-do Sonora family. Likewise, and this one of his strongest points, he is one of the best-educated men in Mexico.

"When he was in his early 20s he invented an agricultural machine which was patented in the United States and later sold to an American concern. With the money obtained from the sale of his invention, Obregon established a small machine shop and laboratory, to which he devoted his spare time not laboring in the fields.

"Until the appearance of Pascual Orozco upon the peaceful plains of Sonora, Obregon lived the quiet life of a farmer in his huge hacienda. While coming from a fairly wealthy family, and himself being the owner of a large ranch, he nevertheless, early in life perceived the injustices which were heaped upon his fellow-countrymen. It was his realization of the terrible conditions of the peons and Indians that made him stand apart from the men of his own class. He possessed a literary turn of mind, owned a large library, and was interested in the problems of education among the poorer classes.

"In those days he was known to but few people, even in Sonora. Those who did know him looked upon him as a dreamer, a young chap whose hopes bordered on the unattainable. Some disliked his liberal views, which approach socialism, but none ever quarrel with him concern-

Core of the Earth.

"The inner earth is the inalienable playground of the imagination," says G. K. Gilbert of the United States geological survey. Once it contained the forges of blacksmith gods, or it was the birthplace of our race, or it was the home or prison of disembodied spirits. Later, Symmes hollowed from it a vast habitable empire, concave like the world of Korsh. Science now claims exclusive title, but holds it chiefly for speculative purposes, and the freedom of speculation practically recognizes but two limitations: The inner earth is dense, and it is rigid. As to all other properties opinion is untrammelled. It is my own view that the inner part of the nucleus is not merely hot, but very hot. If the law of compression by pressure and the law of expansion by heat as we know them at the surface apply equally to the nucleus then the mean temperature of the earth must be enormous in order to afford a mean density as low as 5.6. An enormous temperature implies an enormous store of heat."

AUSTRIAN TROOPS IN BAD CONDITION

THEIR PAY IS CUT, RATIONS REDUCED, UNIFORMS OLD AND TORN.

Venice, March 31, via London, April 1, 1.33 a.m.—Reports received from Trieste say that the Austrian troops in Trieste are in a miserable condition, being penniless, hungry and ill-clad.

Men considerably over forty years of age, the reports say, are being sent into the trenches, ill-equipped and their uniforms old and torn, after only a month of practice drilling.

Private letters from Trieste say that numbers of the people are literally starving. Palatable wheat bread is unobtainable at any price and the supply of war bread is quite inadequate.

The bakers shops are besieged early in the morning, but only the strong and aggressive, the letters say, succeed in getting a few loaves.

According to the letters the prices of most of the necessary foodstuffs have doubled or trebled. The misery of the poorer classes is said to be indescribable. Persons daring to protest are arrested.

Don't Let Your Skin Absorb Dirt

Many women think their complexions are clean when their skin still contains dust and grime in all its pores. To demonstrate your need of some other cleanser besides soap and water, make a test of Nyal's Face Cream.

Nyal's Face Cream is greaseless, oxygenated and refreshing, leaving no shine. Nyal's Face Cream Soap is a delightful preliminary cleanser.

It is reported that the authorities have made complete arrangements for the evacuation of Trieste at the first sign of an enemy approach.

The intelligent classes now regard Galicia as lost forever, the reports have it, and express doubt whether the Austria resistance in the Carpathians can withstand much longer the Russian attacks there.

The press censorship in Austria daily is increasing in severity, despite the vigorous protests of the newspapers, which are supported by influential public bodies.

METHODIST CHURCH ISSUES A PROTEST.

Toronto, March 31.—Rev. H. D. Chown, D.D., general superintendent of the Methodist church, issued a protest today against the action of the Militia Department for only recognizing the Anglican Church when regimental colors are presented.

Montreal, Mar 31.—Following the cut of $15 by the Allan Line yesterday in the first class rate to Liverpool the White Star Line today announced that the first class rate of the Merantic has been reduced from $100 to $85.

BRITISH WORKMEN WANT WAGE INCREASE

London, April 1.—3.25 p.m.—The general tendency of workmen to seek an increase in wages corresponding with the war time increase in the cost of living has been brought closer home to the metropolis than heretofore by the decision of the London Allied Engineering Trade Unions to demand increases of six to fifteen per cent on piecework.

Fifty thousand men are affected by the decision, including boiler-makers, iron founders, stationary engineers, tool makers, brass molders blacksmiths and electricians.

ROTHSCHILD DIES AFTER OPERATION

DEATH CREATES VACANCY IN JEWISH CIRCLES WHICH NONE CAN FILL.

London, March 31.—The death of Nathan Mayer Rothschild, first Baron Rothschild head of the British branch of the great banking firm, occurred at his London residence at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The news of the death of Lord Rothschild, which circulated throughout the city just as business men were leaving for the day, created a shock, for, besides the great power he wielded, Lord Rothschild was one of the most popular men in the city of London.

In Jewish circles the death of Baron Rothschild creates a vacancy which there is none to fill. With his other manifold duties he devoted a great amount of time and money to his poorer coreligionists.

Among the first to send condolences to the family were the King and Queen and the Queen Mother Alexandra.

Madrid, via Paris, March 31.—9.40 p.m.—According to the crew of the Spanish steamer Augustina, which has arrived at Santander from England, ten German submarines are operating in the English Channel, one of them, the U-28, stopped the Augustina, but released her after an examination of her papers.

PUBLIC OPINION AGAINST LABORMEN

Norwich, Eng., March 31.—8.05 p.m.—Public opinion here is so strongly incensed over the attitude of some of the labor leaders on the war that the Independent Labor party was unable to secure a suitable hall for a conference which had been arranged for Monday and Tuesday.

MONTREAL CUSTOMS.

Montreal, March 31.—A decrease of $5,311,475.55, or about 22 per cent, is the outstanding feature of the customs collections of the port of Montreal for the fiscal year, which closed today, as compared with the preceding fiscal year.

RUSSIAN VESIAN OF BOMBARDMENT.

London, April 1.—3.40 a.m.—The Russian version of the bombardment of the Turkish ports of Zunguldak and Ereğli is given by the Daily Mail's correspondent, as follows:

"Tuesday, a fleet of five Russian ships of the line with the aid of aeroplanes, bombarded Ereğli and Kilimli, heavily damaging everything not previously destroyed. They sank eleven sailing ships at Ereğli. At Zunguldak, the bombardment caused great explosions at the coal mines."

OFFICIAL

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, via London, March 31.—11.46 p.m.—The following official communication was issued by the War Office tonight:

"In Champagne there have been artillery actions in the region of Beausejour and Ville Sur Turbe. In the Argonne there has been incessant activity, particularly between Four De Paris and Bagatelle. The fighting at some points was so close that a trench mortar struck by one of our heavy bombs was projected into our lines.

"On the night of March 30-31 we captured 150 meters of trenches, taking prisoners and two trench mortars. Throughout the night the enemy bombarded the trenches which he had lost.

"On March 30 in the forest of Le Pretre the Germans delivered a counter attack at dawn with several battalions and succeeded in again setting foot in the western portion of the position, but at eight o'clock he was dislodged from it. The gain realized on the 30th, therefore, has been entirely maintained. We took some prisoners, including an officer.

"In the region of Parvov there has been outpost fighting which ended in our favor.

"Our airmen, in the course of flights on the night of the 30th, dropped 24 bombs on stations and enemy bivouacs in the Woevre, in Champagne, in the Soissons district and in Belgium. Today, the maritime station at Bruges and an aviation camp at Gits were bombarded."

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

Petrograd, via London, April 1.—12:03 a. m.—The following official communication was issued this evening:

"On the front west of the Niemen fighting continues. In the environs of Krasnopol our troops are successfully making progress. On the 30th they forced the Germans to fall back in haste and made prisoners of about 200 soldiers and two officers and besides captured two machine guns.

"In the Carpathians our offensive continues. On the 29th we made fresh captures of prisoners,

Toronto, Mar. 31.—A revolver duel in which neither side suffered injury, although the nerves of a number of passers-by were severely tested, occurred tonight on Queen street west between Acting Detective Nichols and a man who was suspected of being implicated in a burglary this morning.

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

Vienna, Mar. 31.—via London—The Austrian War Office tonight made public the following official communication:

"The situation in the eastern Beskid range is calm. Fighting continues in the eastern sectors. On the heights north of Disna and north east of Kalnico several Russian day and night attacks have been repulsed.

"North of the Uzsok Pass (Carpathians) Russian night attacks failed, with heavy losses to the enemy. We captured a further 1,900 prisoners. !

FELL FOR WALLACE

Montreal, March 31.—William O.
Wallace, with several aliases to his record, whose death in jail in Boston this morning from cyanide of potassium, self-administered, is reported, was in Montreal last Sunday. He is thought to have procured over $4,000 in the past three months, some of it from over-confiding Montreal citizens, by fraudulent means. He cut a wide swath in several cities in the United States, including San Francisco and San Diego, and by clever manipulation of drafts secured several thousand dollars from American banks. Detectives followed him from San Francisco to Montreal, where he registered at a prominent

Boston, where they effected his arrest. Three months ago "Wallace" was a stenographer in Pittsburg.

LETTER FROM FRONT.

Bergerville, P. Q., 30th, March, 1915.
Dear Mr. Editor,—We just got the following letter from Jack in France and I thought its publication might interest his old friends and your readers.

Sincerely yours,
J. A. SANGSTER.

Dear Father and Mother:—

Well here I am out lying on the grass writing you this letter. It is a most beautiful day, warm and very spring-like. There is that sweet smell of spring in the air. The birds are chirping all around in the boughs of the trees. Everybody seems quite happy, although a while ago it was a proper hell around here. There are houses, churches, barns and everything knocked to pieces. As I write I can hear the big guns roaring in the distance. I have been in the trenches often enough to know what it is like, just returning again last night: have had some close shaves but you know, out here, a miss is as good as a mile! I am put up in an old French house where I have just had a couple of eggs with some bread: am feeling fine though I had a headache a few days ago, probably caused by the roaring of the cannon.
Send me socks once in a while as they are very scarce out here; some fine candies of Mac's and some nice cake would go well. I am so thankful to Mr. Turner for the many papers he has so kindly sent me. It is interesting to read the Quebec news here so far away from home. Don't forget to thank him for me. I wish you would also thank my Quebec friends for writing me letters for though I would love to answer them often really cannot do so. Tell them all for me that when I get home, I shall explain. We are with a lot of

THE FIRST REGULARS.

British Army Dates Back to Restoration Days.

The British regular army may be said to date from the Restoration (1660) when Charles II. rewarded certain cavalier soldiers of fortune, who had followed him into exile, by constituting them into a regiment of horse under the name of Life Guards.

Prior to this, it is true, there had been a few troops retained on a permanent footing; as, for instance, the Honorable Artillery Company, the Yeomen of the Guard, the Corps of Sergeants-at-Arms, and the Trained Bands of the City of London who assembled annually.

Just now, however, our concern is not with these, but with that troop of gentlemen cavaliers who came a-riding with the Merry Monarch from St. George's Fields, Southwark, all the way to his palace at Whitehall, on that May morning more than two and a half centuries ago when "the King came to his own again."

Very fine and gay and gallant they looked, a rare and striking contrast, we may be sure, to Monk's dour Puritan men-at-arms, dressed some in leather doublets, some wearing dimmed and dented hauberks, and steel caps devoid of polish or ornament.
These cavaliers from over the sea, on the other hand, gave to London its first glimpse of the pomp and pageantry of the Continental armies of those days.

The officers, we are told, "were so richly dressed in cloth of gold and silver that they might have been knights all armored in coats-of-mail of the same." Then this first-hand glimpse, however, nothing further is vouchsafed to us concerning the leaders of the splendid cavalcade, but of the rank and file we get a very pretty and likewise a fairly detailed picture.

The "private gentlemen"—or, as we should say, "the troopers"—wore wide-sleeved scarlet coats, ornamented at the wrists with large silk ruffles, and "frogged all about both front and back with gold lace, a very brave show." Their boots were of brown Cordova leather, reaching to the middle of the thighs; and from underneath immense felt hats, decorated with ostrich feathers, their long "love-locks" floated down over cur-tases of polished steel, the latter similar to those now worn.

Besides the Life Guards, various regiments of infantry were called into being directly after the Restoration, amongst the first to be embodied being the Grenadier Guards and the Coldstream Guards, which were recruited almost entirely from Cromwell's old "Ironsides." For these, also, new and very handsome uniforms were provided. The officers were richly habited in velvet, and smokered with lace and fringe, which, as well as the buttons of their uniforms, were of solid gold. The rank-and-file wore red jackets, faced with green and trimmed with silver lace; the officers, of which there were a number attached to each company, being distinguished by green coatees, faced with scarlet.

Shortly afterwards other line regiments, as they then first began to be called, came into being. These were raised for the King by private cavalier gentlemen, who commanded them, and whose names they bore. Thus the old 1st Royals were known as "Douglas's Regiment," the King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment) was "The Earl of Plymouth's Regiment of Foot," and so on. Naturally, their commanders, who had no difficulty in persuading themselves that they had a proprietary interest in the corps they had raised, vied with one another in the smartness of their appearance. The army tailors of those days must, one would imagine, have been hard put to it to please their many patrons, so varied and gorgeous were the uniforms that were called into being.

For not only was every corps dressed differently to every other corps, but not infrequently each of the ten or fifteen or sixteen companies into which the regiments of those days were divided would be given a distinctive uniform. Thus, in a single corps, we find one company wearing coatees of yellow silk fringed with silver lace, and white breeches, while that next to it would be uniformed in scarlet shell jackets, pale grey breeches and green hose; and so on through all the various companies.
A regiment on parade in those days must have presented a gorgeous and picturesque appearance, though one possessing rather too much of a "penny-plain-and-two-pence-colored" suggestion about it to commend itself, possibly, to present-day tastes.

And there were other even stranger variations in dress, due in some instances to the eccentricities in this direction of individual corps commanders, in others to the exigencies of the particular services the men might be engaged upon at the time.
What do you think, for example, of British soldiers in petticoats? Sounds queer, doesn't it? Yet several of our older regiments have donned this peculiarly feminine type of garment.

It came about in this way. In the days before the Royal Marines were regularly established as a separate corps the foot regiments of the line used to take it in turns to serve at marines on shipboard. Now petticoats were quite commonly worn in the navy in Nelson's time, and our soldiers, naturally adopted their dress, finding it, no doubt, far handier and more convenient than their own tight-fitting, frogged and braided uniforms.

THE FRENCH

"TOMMY ATKINS."

Mr. W. Douglas Newton contributes a bright sketch of the French soldier to "T. P.'s Journal of Great Deeds of the Great War":—

To British military standards of kit and uniform, "Le Piau-piau," as the French "Tommy Atkins" is nicknamed, is a tramp. In the face of our own serviceable khaki, his clothes are fantastic and odd; his blue overcoat, buttoned behind at the knees, is too heavy; his trousers, even when they are not the balloons of the Algerian regiments, are too baggy; his heavy cuirass is cumbersome; and the whole of him is usually slouchy and rather dirty. Moreover, le piau-piau does not seem to care. His clothes are curious, but he does not mind; they do not fit him, and he seems to accuse the misfit by deliberate casualness.

In appearance, also, he is a little odd to our standards. He is built on too many different and conflicting scales, and nobody has troubled to sort him out into different grades of

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

SAYS A LITTLE SALTS IN WATER MAY SAVE YOU
FROM DREAD ATTACK.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Owing to the big number of purchasers who have

Mrs. Wiseneighbour says:

"I should have told you the other day when I was speaking of 'Eddy's' washboards, that it is just as necessary to have an indurated fibreware tub to hold your clothes if you want to make a success of washday."

Mrs. Newlywed says:

"I've heard of Eddy's indurated fibreware. What's the difference between fibre and woodenware?"

"Fibreware is made from compressed fibre, baked at extreme heat. All in one solid piece it cannot warp or fall apart. No chance of splinters—wears much longer—looks better—and is light to carry. The latter point you should always take into consideration," concludes Mrs. Wiseneighbour.

GALE ON FISHING BANKS

Halifax, N. S., March 31.—As a result of the terrific gales that swept over the fishing banks off the Nova Scotia coast last Saturday, two lives were lost and several vessels were damaged.

The American schooner Virginian put in here today for repairs and reported that one of the crew, William McNair, of Argyle, N.S., was swept overboard and drowned. Two Lunenburg vessels with loss of sails and gear came into port today.

A wireless message from the steamer MacKay-Bennett tonight says that she spoke the Lunenburg fishing schooner Marjorie Backlan, which reported that William Creaser, of Lunenburg, had been carried overboard by a sea and drowned.

DOCKING NEEDS AT BOSTON

Boston, March 31.—A petition for legislation to allow the Grand Railway, through the Southern New England Railway, a subsidiary, to acquire docking facilities in this city, was presented to the legislature today. The legislation asked is provisional in approval by the attorney-general of the railroad's contention that a legislative act of 1899 permitted any connecting railroad to use the tracks of the Midland division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system. The Southern New England will cross the New Haven's tracks at Blackstone.

Attorneys for the Grand Trunk state that if the petition is granted, the port directors of this city will be requested to sell to the Southern New England a tract of land adjoining the New Haven's freight yards in the South Boston district and to provide suitable dock facilities for use by the Grand Trunk at charges not exceeding those at Montreal.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF SUBMARINES

CROWN OF CASTILE SUNK OFF THE SCILLY ISLES ON MONDAY.

Barry, Wales, March 31.—The crew of the British steamer Crown of Castile, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Scilly Isles on Monday, was landed here this evening by the French steam Magellan. Members of the crew say that the submarine was much faster than the one which had previously chased the steamer, but that it took her over an hour to overtake the Crown of Castile.

It was also stated by members of the crew that the steamer was sunk by the shell fire of the submarine and not by a torpedo. One 4-inch shell, they declared, was deliberately aimed at the bridge of the steamer before the crew had left it. It passed between the legs of an apprentice who was standing by the captain. After the crew got into the boats of the steamer the German commander handed the men cigars.

COMMERCIAL NEWS
NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press.)
New York, March 31—Trading in securities today eclipsed all records in point of volume since the closing days of last July, when the market was churned into a state of furious activity as declining prices because of panicky feeling engendered by the foreign situation. There were signs in the course of today's session, however, that absorption of high grade or investment issues had about reached the limit of its capacity for a time. Over sixty per cent. of the total output was limited to specialties and the common stock of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway. Motor and equipment issues and others far more obscure contributed an unusually large quota.
While these stocks were changing hands in blocks of a thousand or more shares, United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Reading and the trans-continental railers were lagging behind. In fact, liquidation of these issues was plainly evident. This was accepted as proof that insiders and conservative investors had determined to withdraw their commitments, pending a restoration of more normal market conditions.
The further rise in Rock Island was again without explanation, but bore all the marks of an open contest in connection with the annual meeting, which is to be held on April 12. Bethlehem Steel, which had recently been the source of much speculation and conjecture, was heavy at all times, recording a net loss of two points. The market's tone at the close was irregular, a number of standard shares selling under the preceding day's final figures.
General financial news dealt mainly with the question of additional foreign loans, improvement in the steel trade, chiefly as a result of further large orders placed by European governments, and some more railroad statements for February, Northern Pacific showing a net gain of $457,000.
Total sales of stocks amounted to 745,400 shares.
Bonds were active, strong and broad, with total sales, par value, $4,328,000.

New York, March 31—There was some diminution of activity in the early afternoon, but the general market continued strong, although traders talked of heavy realizing in standard issues. Possibly, what was looked upon as distribution was actually accumulation for a rise to follow days of a British credit which would remove the necessity of liquidation of securities in order to pay for purchase of supplies. As has been stated on several occasions within the past ten days, Europe is now buying American stocks instead of selling of strength developed in Erie, the stock advancing to 25 1/2, the highest at which it has sold this year. The advance was a natural response to February statement of earnings which showed an increase of $593,592 in net. It was predicted that the bullish activity in stocks of this road will likely extend into other low priced railroad issues. Missouri, Kansas & Texas was strong on reiterated rumors of arrangements to take care of the notes maturing May 1st. There will likely be some profit-taking over the holidays, but we still feel favorable to good issues on the soft spots.
Sales: Stocks, 737,475.
Chicago, March 31—Wheat—An opening rally in wheat following higher Liverpool cables met free realizing sales by commission houses and considerable pressure from local traders. March clearances of domestic wheat and flour aggregated about 28,000,000 and total from July 1 to date about 270,000,000. Stocks are decreasing rapidly and unless the market breaks on war news a gradual hardening of values is to be expected.
Corn—Disappointed its friends and after being under pressure most of the day from local bears, scattered longs became discouraged and sold out. The close was near the low point, 3/4 to 1/2 under yesterday's final figures. The market presents little outside of trading opportunities at the moment.
Oats—Another day of big receipts and unsatisfactory cash demand gave a heavy tone to oats, which lost 1/2 to 3/4. The sample market was dull and lower. Shipping sales at Chicago were reported at 160,000, all domestic. There were not even export clearances to support a lagging market.

CLOSING LETTER.
New York, March 31—After another active session the market closed at a reaction but only a slight one after the recent advance which has been very material. It was inevitable that prices should work off, sooner or later and the hesitancy in the last few days has been a notable feature.
We are still very optimistic on the situation but for two weeks now the market has gone up without interruption and it is high time that it had a setback to recuperate, if nothing more. One interesting feature about this market has been that many of our largest interests, which are usually active at a time like this, have been entirely out of it, having misjudged the situation through over conservatism.
We believe that these same interests will be heard from as buyers on any substantial reaction.
Sales, 737,475; bonds, $4,428,500.

The month just closing, in spite of the war tax revenue, has a deficit of $150,522, the receipts being $1,590,000.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE.
New York, March 31—The New York Stock Exchange will close on Good Friday. The board of governors so decided today after receiving a petition from members who were dissatisfied with the result of the recent viva voce in opposition to closing the Exchange on that day.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SANATORIUM

HON. RICHARD TURNER READS THE REPORT DR. HOULE WILL RETIRE SOON.

The annual meeting of the Lake Edward Sanatorium Association was held in Morin College Hall yesterday.

There was a large attendance present, the assembly being presided over by the President, Hon. Richard Turner. Among those present were Mr. J. T. Ross, Mr. A. B. Whitehead, Mr. A. J. Price, Mrs. Finness, Mrs. Turner, Revd. A. R. Beverley and others.

The President's report was read by Hon. Mr. Turner; Dr. Houle, medical superintendent of the Sanatorium also read his report while the financial statement of the year's business was read by Mr. A. J. Price. All reports were satisfactory, being unanimously adopted.

Mr. Jno. T. Ross and Revd. Canon F. G. Scott being retiring directors an election took place resulting in the re-election of Mr. J. T. Ross, and the succession of Revd. Mr. Scott, who is at present with the Canadian Contingent on the firing line in France, by Mr. A. J. Price.

The President stated that Dr. Houle had decided to retire from his position as medical superintendent of the Institution and that as yet no successor had been named.

A resolution of sympathy to Mr. Frank Ross on the death of Mrs. Ross, one of the promoters of the Sanatorium who had also donated largely to the maintenance fund, was adopted.

The endowment fund being bequeathed from the late Mrs. Boswell and Mr. D. Lewis has been invested.

The Sanatorium has flourished during the past year, the buildings and property being in good order and many patients have been treated for that dread disease, tuberculosis, for which purpose the institution was inaugurated.

The president's report follows:—Ladies and Gentlemen:—It affords me pleasure to submit the Report for 1914.

The Sanatorium during the past year have continued to provide a Home for those who were suffering from Tuberculosis, and I trust benefited from the care and medical treatment received in the Institution.

Dr. L. J. Houle succeeded Dr. Parais as Medical Superintendent. Miss Dodd continues her good work as Lady Superintendent and is beloved by those who have left the Institution and by those remaining.

The Ladies Branch are continuing their good work, and exhibit the same interest as in the past.

We are indebted to Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of the Province of Quebec for the interest he takes in

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of THE CHRONICLE, March, 1885 and 1815.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Riel Revolt.

The following despatch has just been received at this office to the effect that:—"Battleford has been captured and the Indians have got possession of every house. The inhabitants escaped to the Police Barracks, where they are expecting an attack from the Indians who are gathered on the south side of Cattle river. It is also stated that the Fort of Carlton has been abandoned and that Col. Irvine in command of the North West Mounted Police has made a strategic move which is certain to embarrass the rebels, it is now given out that this strategic move is towards Prince Albert, one of the most populous districts in the North West on the Saskatchewan, where with a force of two hundred and fifty police and nearly as many civilians he will remain on the defensive. It is of interest to Quebecers to know that Col. Irvine is one of themselves, where he was born in 1837. The Irvines are descended from an ancestry that have left their mark on Canada.

The Irvines (originally spelt Irving) are of Scotch descent being from the Orkney Islands. North of Scotland, they all have had distinguished careers. Col. Irvine who is in command of the North West Police is a younger brother of commissary-General Mather Bell Irvine, and of our eminent legislator and judge of the Vice Admiralty Court, The Hon. George Irvine.

the work, and the generous Subscription of $2500.

The Canadian Northern & Lake St. John Railways continue to grant us many favors, also Mr Kingsland and Messrs. Madden & Son and Mr. O. C. Jones for Car Coal.

The Corporation of the City granted us $1000, for which we are obliged.

We are pleased to state that the late D. Louis, bequest of $5000, has been received from A. B. Whitehead Esq.

The Endowment Stands at $5500.

The amount required for 1915 to carry on the work will be at least $8000, taking off the guarantee fund, the shortage will be one thousand dollars.

The Building and property are in good order. Mr. Melville continues in charge, and is very satisfactory.

Yours respectfully,
(Sgd.) RICH. TURNER.

Well Qualified.

The wife of a wealthy manufacturer had occasion to call in the help of a new floor polisher.

"Do you understand your business thoroughly?"

"All I ask, madam, is that you shall inquire for yourself at my last situation. On the floor of the large drawing-room alone five persons broke their limbs last winter, and a lady slipped down the grand staircase. It was I who polished the floor and the stairs."

MY TIRED FEET ACHE FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "TIZ"

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pested, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ". Its grand—its glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ". It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

Quebecers guests at Montreal during the past few days include: Judge Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jardine Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Balllaige, Miss L. Doucet, Messrs. A. E. Doucet, P. T. Legare, and Harry A. Faquette.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

The American War With Algiers.

The Quebec Gazette of 100 years ago, predecessor of the present morning Chronicle, had the following to say regarding the American declaration of war against Algiers:—"It is a fresh instance of the restless character and ambitious views of the American government. It is probable that the Algerines have captured some American vessels, during the war with England; this is the pretext of the war; the Algerines are to be chastised; its real object is to keep up a Navy, with a view to the formation of connexions which will hereafter combine in the first attempt to destroy the naval preponderance of England." The foregoing is a suggestion and does not emanate from the Office of the Gazette. To give our late enemy his due we are quite willing to believe that the Americans have a grievance against the pirates of the Algerine Coast and if they have seized American vessels and made captives of American citizens there is no question but that they will have to reckon on the Americans demanding restitution, as no self-respecting nation can or will overlook such conduct. It is a matter of no consequence to the Algerines whose ships they seize or whose citizens they hold for ransom, they are pirates pure and simple which it is the duty of all nations to chastise.

THE LIGHTER SIDE.

Good morning! Have you been fooled yet?

Even the Germans seem to have reached the limit in atrocities. After sinking a steamer the crew of the submarine handed the survivors cigars.

Woodrow Wilson was responsible for the coinage of the "watchful-waiting" expression, but he is no more firm a believer in the policy that Emmanuel of Italy.

According to the edict of the fashion experts, men's trousers this coming summer are to have full pockets. General satisfaction should greet the fulfilment of this mandate.

According to the London fashion experts, women's dresses are no longer to be buttoned up the back. How could they—with so many men at the front?

Overheard on the car: "Isn't that poor woman awfully homely?" "Hush! You forget yourself."

—While putting away your winter furs, don't forget to haul out your migratory straw hat, and see if you can knock another season out of it.

Germany is said to be short of metal for making shells. But what about all her Iron Crosses.

The sun has set upon a day well spent.

I start to read my books in deep content, But little reck that on the outside door There is a sign which reads "This flat to rent."

And as the blue-eyed hero starts to tell His story to the maid he loves so well And she is just about to answer "yes," There comes a fearful ringing on the bell.

And then there come a bunch of rubbernecks Belonging to the so-called weaker sex Who turn your sacred hearthstone inside out And make you feel like thirty centimes Mex.

They rubber at the flat with piercing eye And look your husband over low and high. And ask about the rent and all such dope And when they leave they do not say goodby.

The Arab lives in calm and deep content. He moves about whenever it suits his bent, And on his humble home there is no sign Which tells the world there is a flat for rent.

"Drink deadlier than Germans," says Lloyd George. In other words, Better be shot than half shot.

It's a long way to Constantinople via the Dardanelles.

Even the King is cutting out the nasty stuff now.

In the midst of spring we are in winter.

Impress of War On Men's Dress

BY FRANKLYN WILSON

Speaking of Fabrics and Fashions at an informal gathering of sartorial experts the Chief Designer of the Semi-ready Company said that there will be a quieter tone of patterns than for many years. This conservative trend in matters of men's dress is a reflex of the same tone in matters political and economical. Even the man who delights in striking or bright colours must forego his desires and wear the more sedate clothes prescribed by these days of serious affairs.

Plain greys and blues will be much worn, and whilst there is a steady demand for stripes, the checks will be of the blended gun club type. In stripes the silk thread is conspicuous. The old favourite Scotch tweeds will receive more attention, while homespun will also be worn by the outdoor men.

The tendency towards braiding and piping is evidenced more in garments for young men. The flannel coat is a revival of a style much in vogue after the European war of 1870. The braided cut-away frock or morning coat has been accorded royal favour. But the Designer, who is an authority on men's dress, does not believe that the braid for the side seams of dress trousers will attain much vogue among the elect.

"The dress situation is difficult at the present time," said he. "The war in Europe had a depressing effect on men's minds as well as on their pocket books. Trade channels were clogged, and customary methods of doing business were derailed. To-day we have to study questions of expediency as well as make every allowance for the psychological or mental state of the men of affairs."

"I believe our styles of fabrics, in the light of past events, will reflect the present conditions. And I further believe that every fortnight will witness a revival of a style much in vogue after the conditions."
