DOMINION DOINGS

Chinese Gamblers—Forest Fires—Youthful Burglars—Penitentiary Governors.

Toronto, August 14.—In the Police Court to-day Charles Sing, who is said to have jumped his bail bond when arrested in connection with a Chinese gambling house raided on April 12, was convicted as an onlooker. The maximum fine is $20 and Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., who appeared for Sing, asked it to be suspended for a week, pending an appeal against the conviction. "These people are harmless and inoffensive," said Mr. Curry. "They never ask white persons to mingle with them or enter into their pleasures, or relaxations. It is only when some disgruntled Chinaman informs the police of these games that a raid is made." "I think a club ought to be established for these people, where they can indulge in their pleasures," said Magistrate Denison. "Will Your Worship sign a petition that such an institution be undertaken?" queried Mr. Curry, anxious to clinch the matter. His Worship, however, evaded a direct reply.

The executive committee of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club will meet next Wednesday to discuss the facts and lessons of the recent Canada cup races and determine upon future action. Such was the announcement of Vice-Commodore Frederick Nicholls in a short interview this afternoon. Pressed as to the probable outcome Mr. Nicholls declined to discuss it. "It is hardly a matter for personal comment," he observed. "The action taken will be the result of the deliberations of the executive and can then be made officially public."

Richard B. Powell, a middle-aged man, of the R.C.R., at St. John, N. B., who says he is a deserter from that corps, wandered into police headquarters late last night and asked to be accommodated for the night. When he awoke this morning he concluded that he had about reached the end of his tether so far as "tramping around" was concerned. Now he wants the authorities to provide transportation for him to St. John. He was brought before Magistrate Denison and remanded for a week.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 14.—Fire yesterday burnt the power house and blacksmith shop at the Stellar Cobalt mine in Bucket township. The loss is estimated at $5,000, and it is understood was not covered by insurance.

Woodstock, Ont., August 14.—The Norwich room and brush factory, Norwich, was completely destroyed by fire to-day. As the result 50 employees are thrown out of work and the plant is a total loss. The plant is valued at $20,000 with $12,000 insurance; $17,000 worth of machinery installed only a few weeks ago were lost. How the fire started is unknown. As to-day is Norwich's civic holiday, the factory was shut down, and there was no fire in the engine room. An officer of the company had been in the building this morning. After an absence of fifteen minutes he returned and found the place in flames. The building was old and oilsoaked and the fire made rapid headway. Only two weeks ago a warehouse belonging to the company was blown down during a windstorm.

Kingston, Ont., August 14.—At the half-yearly meeting of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway directors, held in this city, it was announced that improvements along the line were progressing nicely. The work of improvement will be continued all through the summer.

A report received in the city to-day stated that a fierce forest fire raged within six miles of Parham and at Waverly on Tuesday. At the latter place, it is stated, a barn and all its contents were consumed in the fire. The damage will be very heavy.

Regina, Sask., August 14.—Cyrus Winters, one of the men poisoned by arsenic in porridge at the Capital restaurant on Thursday, died at the Victoria Hospital last night. This is the second death recorded up to the present.

Winnipeg, Man., August 14.—The 12 youthful burglars who were arrested Sunday appeared in the Police Court to-day, accompanied by their weeping mothers and agitated fathers, and received summary justice. Seven were sentenced to three years in the reformatory, and one, a mere child, was given into the custody of the Children's Aid Society.

Kingston, Ont., August 14.—It is reported that the Government proposes superannuating the wardens of the penitentiaries at Kingston, Dorchester and Stony Mountain. Warden Platt has been head of the Kingston institution for seven years and is at present on sick leave.

Rev. Edwin F. Hollenback, of Binghamton, N.Y., with his wife and sister, were in peril on the St. Lawrence river nine miles below Kingston yesterday. During a gale the machinery of their small yacht became disabled and they were at the mercy of the heavy seas. Chas. Walker, of Kingston, set out from an island in a skiff and after a hard struggle managed to bring the party to land.

Mrs. John Carson, of Kingston, saved a young lad named Mimes from drowning yesterday afternoon below Cedar Island. His skiff upset in a heavy sea. Mrs. Carson went out in a gasoline launch and brought him ashore after being herself nearly swamped.

Port Colborne, Ont., Aug. 14.—The steamer Ogdessa, from Cleveland to Buffalo, loaded with iron ore, ran ashore at Point Albino early this morning. The fog or smoke was very heavy. Her cargo is being lightered into barges and when the water rises it is thought she will be released without any great damage to the ship.

Tangier, Aug. 14.—It has been learned that Caid Sir Harry MacLean, the Englishman in the service of the Sultan of Morocco, who has been a prisoner of the bandit Raisuli since early in July, has not been set at liberty as previously reported. The British legation here to-day received a communication from Raisuli threatening that unless his terms are accepted immediately he would remove MacLean to a place whither all the armies of Europe, if united, could not follow. It seems that Raisuli, upon hearing of the bombardment and occupation of Casablanca, succeeded in taking MacLean back from the Knass tribesmen and removed him to a strategic position in the neighborhood of Beniaraous. MacLean is well, but he has been deprived of his tent and compelled to occupy an ordinary soldier's tent of small size. He is subsisting upon black bread.

MRS. BAKER EDDY

Undergoes an Examination as to Her Mental Condition.

Concord, N.H., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, head of the Christian Scientist Church, underwent a mental examination to-day by the masters, who had been appointed to determine her competency in business matters. The examination was made at Mrs. Eddy's home, Pleasant View, in this city by Judge Aldrich, Dr. Jelly and Attorney Park, one of the masters. The only other persons present were General Frank S. Street, Mrs. Eddy's counsel in the case, Wm. E. Chandler, counsel for the "Next Friends" and a court stenographer. Mrs. Eddy received her visitors in her private sitting room, and by arrangement with her counsel she answered a series of questions asked of her by the three masters, who took turns in examining her upon various points. Judge Aldrich began the interview by assuring Mrs. Eddy of his intention to make the call as agreeable as possible to her. Mrs. Eddy thanked him, adding: "My only difficulty is a slight deafness. I can see to read common pica, but I can't hear distinctly without some 'fidelity.' Judge Aldrich, saying that he had some life insurance coming due, asked Mrs. Eddy's advice as to how to invest the proceeds. Not understanding him at first, Mrs. Eddy replied that she put no money into life insurance. "God insures my life," she said. Then thinking that Judge Aldrich desired information as to her own investment, she described the trusteeship created by her in March, saying that it was entirely her own idea.

In reply to questions by Dr. Jelly, Mrs. Eddy started to describe the development of Christian Science. She said that she was an invalid from childhood and that she became interested in treating herself. She studied homeopathy and from the most diluted of the attenuated medicines, used by homeopaths, she proceeded to describe pellets containing no medicine and used them successfully in the treatment of cases of disease. Then she said to her patients: "Now you can do without it." This was her discovery of the science of mind.

Mrs. Eddy was going to speak of her investigation into spiritualism, when the masters withdrew from the room, explaining that they thought she was growing weary. Returning, after a brief interval, they heard Mrs. Eddy describe, in answers to questions from Attorney Parker, her method of life. She said that she wrote or dictated all letters pertaining to her business, but later qualified that with the remark: "Unless I don't know when they write." Again discussing Christian Science the aged leader said: "A Christian scientist can no more make a person sick than they can be a sinner and be a Christian scientist. All faith. We have no other power and no high in any other power." In respect to the call at Pleasant View, Mr. Stroeter said that as counsel for Mrs. Eddy, in the case, he was entirely satisfied with what resulted. Mr. Chandler said that his side, too, was satisfied, taking into consideration the fact that intentionally Mrs. Eddy's alleged delusions were not touched upon save as she herself brought them up.

New York, August 14.—There was little change in the telegraph strike situation to-day, as far as concerns New York and other eastern cities. Both Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies profess to be thoroughly satisfied with the progress made toward normal conditions. On the other hand, the leaders of the strikers declare their cause has been strengthened by the responses to the calls to go out in many of the cities where strikes had not already been inaugurated. No trouble developed among the telegraphers employed in the scores of broker offices in the financial district, where, according to the telegraphers union many big houses granted the demands of their men as regards wages and working hours.

The news service throughout the east was practically unimpaired, except in the cases of two or three smaller centers and the news of the world was moved to all points. The hope of the strikers that the Drexler of Railway Telegraphers would make common cause with the commercial telegraphers had not been realized to-night. The Western Union and Postal people insisted that the railroad operators would stand by their contracts with the various railroad companies, who in turn, would fulfill their obligations with the telegraph companies, calling for the handling of such commercial business as might be turned over to them.

To what extent the strike has interfered with the ordinary conduct of business by the two telegraph companies remained in dispute to-night. Both companies maintained that they were handling all business promptly, had plenty of men, and although inconvenienced at some less important points, were improving the service hourly. Vice-President and General Manager Nally, of the Postal, to-night summarized the situation thus: "The strike is over so far as we are concerned."

General Superintendent Brooks, of the Western Union, said: "We are moving business, rush and otherwise, to all parts of the country with normal despatch."

Strikes leaders declared to-night that both companies were badly handicapped and that desertions from the service were continuous throughout the country. Following a meeting of the local union to-day, it was announced by Daniel L. Russell that a resolution had been adopted appointing a committee to wait on State Attorney-General Jackson and demand that he proceed against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies for unwarranted delay in transacting public business. At the meeting the matter of raising funds to support the strike was also discussed. The strikers admit that the financing of the strike is a serious consideration and they talk of arranging public entertainments to raise money. The strikers continue orderly and in the vicinity of the telegraph offices there is little to suggest that a strike is on.

Chicago, August 14.—Western Union and Postal Telegraph managers in Chicago to-night say that progress was made to-day throughout the middle west towards getting their business back on a normal basis. Conditions to-night were such with the Chicago management to-night announced that to-morrow morning they would have telegraph operators on the floor of the Board of Trade, ready to accept business for all parts of the country.

Union officers turned attention to the broker houses, and all commission men using leased wires were informed that unless working contracts were signed with the men by to-morrow, their employees would be called out just as soon as President Small, of the Telegraphers' Union, reached Chicago. He is expected to-morrow noon.

At a meeting of the broker operators to-night contracts good for a year were presented to the union officials for their approval. At the close of the meeting the list given out showed that probably half of the larger commission firms had signed the union scale. Peace efforts begun by Samuel Gompers and other officers of the American Federation of Labor are still under way. "The feeling is too intense on both sides of the controversy to make any great headway toward getting the strike leaders and the superintendents of the companies together at this time," declared Mr. Gompers. "Peace has not been considered by either side up to the present time. While men are still answering the impulse to strike, there is little use of trying to get them to think of going back."

QUEBEC, AUGUST 15, 1907.

ABUSE IS NOT PROOF.

Trial by jury having failed to elicit the fact that one member of the Provincial Cabinet was not laboring under a lamentable delusion when he conceived that he had been libelled by a Montreal newspaper, and having incidentally brought to light fresh charges against another member of the Cabinet, Hon. Mr. Gouin, has declared his intention of trying another method of solving the vexed questions, to wit, a Royal Commission, which, it is to be hoped, will be more fair and impartial in its proceedings than the Parliamentary tribunal which investigated the despatch of a letter from Baron de l'Epine to the Premier last session. In the meantime it is scarcely seemly for the newspapers and speakers supporting Mr. Gouin's Government to attempt to cast a slur on the principal witness by declaring that he is an atheist, and therefore not to be believed, which is a manifest endeavour to have the case prejudged. As the Montreal Gazette points out, credibility is not a matter of religious opinion, and the records of the courts show plenty of instances of men who do not profess to be atheists, and yet cheerfully perjure themselves, indeed, government utterances themselves are not always remarkable for a strict adherence to "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." Prima facie, the assertion of M. de l'Epine that a suggestion of a rake off in favor of la caisse electorale has an air of probability; "Si non e vero, e bene trovato," for such things have not been unknown before, as witness the Toronto firm that received a government cheque for an amount larger than its bill, and was directed to turn over the balance to a party organizer. The Government and its supporters assert that a proposition of a somewhat similar nature was not made to Hon. Mr. Turgeon, and that to say that it was, is a slander; perhaps it is, and perhaps it isn't, but calling Baron de l'Epine an atheist is no proof of it, but rather a suggestion of the legal advice, "When you have no case abuse the other fellow's attorney."

MOROCCO.

The situation in Morocco is already a sufficiently grave one, and may lead to still more serious international complications later. At present it seems as if France and Spain had undertaken a task, the extent of which they had not fully gauged, and the possibilities of which they had not fully appreciated. The forces which they have sent into Morocco have not been commensurate with the strength that has been arrayed against them, the French are virtually cooped up in Casablanca, the war, for such it virtually is, is extending along the Mazagan coast, and the City of Mazagan is threatened, whilst it is significant of the great strength of the tribal hostility, and the weakness of the European forces, that a British regiment is being held at Gibraltar in readiness to embark for Morocco to afford protection, nominally to British subjects, but in reality to all Europeans. Its despatch will be avoided, if it is in any way possible, because it would afford a pretext for the interference of Germany which would undoubtedly be eagerly seized on, and which both France and Spain would deprecate, but the very fact of its being contemplated under certain contingencies shows the extreme gravity of the present situation.

What has been the provocative source of all this trouble may not be very apparent to our readers. It might be at first sight attributed to the fanatical hatred of Christians for which the tribes inhabiting Morocco have always been peculiarly distinguished, and this, no doubt, has not been an unimportant factor, but the original cause of the troubles in Morocco is, according to the Montreal Witness, the attempt of a young, and weak minded monarch to introduce the latest products of European civilization more rapidly than the popular mind can get accustomed to them. Our conferees say:—

Morocco internally is a chaos, and the only attempt made by the Sultan at saving his empire has been to endeavor to get Germany to checkmate France. The present Sultan is Abd-Aziz. His father, Mulai Hassan, was a strong man, and he was steadily bringing Morocco into touch with modern conditions and strengthening it on every hand at the time of his death. For a time after his death, while his son was a minor, matters proceeded satisfactorily under the viceroyship of Si Ahmed ben Moussa, but after his death came the deluge. The next Prime Minister came back from England with such modern and radical ideas that the country could not assimilate them, and he was deposed. The young Sultan then began to buy toy railroads, motor cars, bicycles, silver-mounted cameras and the like at a rate that alarmed the people, while his inability to govern led to revolts all over the country. Besides such risings as that of Raisuli, the Sultan's half-brother has been declared in the south "Sultan of All Morocco." As the Sultan was unable to maintain law and order in his own domain the Algerias Conference of last winter met and decided how outside Powers were to maintain order, and the respective spheres of influence of each. The Moors look upon this as the ruling of the Mohammedans by the Christians, and in consequence they are transferring their allegiance from the Sultan to other leaders who will refuse to recognize the conditions of that conference. There is no money in the Moroccan treasury, the army is not paid, but lives by loot, so that the conditions are now absolutely impossible of continuance. Some Power must keep law and order, and it looks as if that Power would be France. With Morocco added to her other spheres of influence in North Africa France would control a territory containing about 30,000,000 people, and stretching from the Atlantic Ocean nearly to Egypt. The situation is thus seen to be full of interest and gravity. Morocco is a sort of national derelict at the mercy of political wind and wave, and the nation which can secure it and overpower the mutinous crew will bring a rich prize into port.

That France, if she were allowed a free hand, would ultimately absorb Morocco, as she did Algeria, after a long and expensive struggle with the tribes, does not admit of a doubt, but there is scarcely less doubt that, if she were to attempt it, the moment she is fully committed to the contest, Germany will find a pretext to attack France while part of her forces are engaged in Morocco, and so bring about, in all probability, a general European war.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. BLAKE.

When Hon. Edward Blake came to the determination to withdraw from Dominion politics it was felt by all that his decision involved a national loss, so great was the respect for his eminent talents, and his undoubted honesty of purpose. That was some fifteen years ago, and since then his services have been rendered to the Imperial Parliament, from which he has in turn retired. It is pleasant to find that in Great Britain he acquired the same respect and esteem that he won in the Dominion, and that the loss of his services as a public man is as much regretted there as it was here. Perhaps the most striking testimony of this is afforded by that inveterate joker, Mr. Punch, who, on this occasion, abandons his usual light vein to pay the following tribute to the retiring statesman:—

"The announcement that the member for South Longford has resolved to quit the Parliamentary stage was received with genuine regret in all quarters. The present House scarcely knows Edward Blake. As far as I remember he has not risen in it to take part in debate. In earlier times, dating back fifteen years, when he took the bold and perilous step of exchanging a familiar Colonial Legislature for a seat at Westminster, he was not inconsistent in speech-making. When he did interpose he bestowed upon the House the fruits of statesman-like instinct, wide culture, and long experience in public affairs. Nothing less like the typical Irish Nationalist member could be imagined than the grave and reverend signior, who is slow, well-ordered speech reasoned with the adversary. Loyal in every thought, honest in every fibre, he sat among the Irish Nationalists, but he was not of them. Feeling the weight of years, the burden of accumulated labor, perhaps a little disappointed with life at Westminster, he quietly withdraws, carrying with him the esteem of all who have known him in public or private life."

PRESS OPINIONS.

FORESTRY IN GREAT BRITAIN.—Mr. John Burns has been expressing the opinion that there should be a British School of Forestry. His expression followed a conference in London recently between representatives of British municipalities on the one hand and Lord Carrington, President of the Board of Agriculture, and Mr. Burns, President of the Local Government Board, on the other. The question before the conference was as to what could be done in the way of growing more trees in Great Britain. In Canada the matter has begun to be considered from the standpoint of those who hope to avert the utter spoliation of the forests. In Great Britain the thing to be desired is the replacement of the forests which have been already destroyed. Their presence is greater than ours, of course, but it suggests what ours may be a generation or so hence if we fail to pay heed to the warnings of the men who have given the matter most thought.

It is remarked by the New York Times that the value of timber as a crop, but a crop to be sown and reaped by generations rather than by seasons, has been generally recognized in England ever since the publication of John Evelyn's "Silva," in the reign of Charles II. It has by no means been fostered by scientific inquiry and Government aid to the same extent as in France or Germany. One reason for this was given by Mr. Burns at the conference. Only 2 1/4 per cent, he explained, of Forest lands were in the possession or control of the Government, against 12 per cent, in France, 12 per cent, in Norway, 27 per cent, in Sweden, 33 per cent, in Germany, and 61 per cent, in Russia.

The London conference had no practical result. The forests in Great Britain which are deserving the name are the properties of the owners of the great estates. All the forestry work that is being done in the United Kingdom is being done by these large owners or their managers. At the conference it was agreed that there was in Scotland much land that would grow trees and nothing else and that something might be done in that regard. It was in this connection that Mr. Burns suggested that a British School of Forestry should be established with the purpose of devising means for the re-planting of the vanishing forests of the United Kingdom. His suggestion gains weight in consideration of the fact that Great Britain raises $15,000,000 worth of merchantable timber and imports $150,000,000 worth.

There are no timber countries in the world that have not been exploited and the lesson to be drawn from the English experience is that those countries which still possess great forest wealth should be at the greatest pains to preserve it.—Ottawa Journal.

THE ATTITUDE OF ORGANIZED LABOR TOWARDS VIOLENCE.—The Allied Trades and Labor Association of Ottawa deserves congratulation on its attitude towards the Buckingham strikers. Every Canadian knows that the men implicated in the bloody affair which occurred in that village last October are assured of even-handed justice before a Canadian court without any necessity of funds being raised for their defence. Under Canadian law if it is shown that a prisoner has not the means to hire counsel or pay witnesses, the Crown will provide counsel and defray the expense of witnesses. On the other hand, where union men on strike arm themselves and take the law into their own hands, Canadian organized labor cannot logically champion their cause by subscribing money to defend them without identifying itself in the public mind as tacitly approving of resorts to violence. Because crime is committed in connection with a strike, it does not follow that organized labor has to father it. Otherwise any man who committed manslaughter or shot with intent to kill, if he happened to be a member of the union, would be just as much entitled to have funds voted for his defence as men who are accused of the same crime in connection with a strike.

The stand taken by Mr. P. M. Draper at the meeting in question, that organized labor does not stand for the use of firearms and force, but that its reserve fund is for the support of strikers while on strike pending the settlement of the trouble by conciliation and arbitration, is the attitude that should commend itself to all Canadian unions. In all kindness of feeling towards the unfortunate men who took part in the attack at Buckingham, it must be said that there never was a case where there was less excuse for a resort to violence and bloodshed. No attempt had been made to bring in strike breakers, and the work that was in progress when the attack was made was simply running the logs over a fall to the mill below, so that they would not be frozen in in the upper reaches of the river, thereby preventing work being resumed when the strike was settled. Under no circumstance is there an excuse for violence on the part of strikers, but at times men may be driven to desperation by seeing their jobs taken by strike breakers, in which case there is at least some palliation of the crime. The attack at Buckingham had no such palliation. It was a wanton and high-handed defiance of law and order.—Ottawa Citizen.

SHIPPING NEWS

ALLAN LINE.
The growing importance of the passenger trade between Canada and Scotland is recognized by the Allan Line Steamship Co. which is planning for a vastly improved service between the St. Lawrence and Glasgow for next season. In the past the general plan has been to put on this line old vessels which have on the Liverpool and Scotland route been displaced by more modern craft on the Liverpool route. This year sees the close of this treatment of the port on the Clyde. Next season the Allan line will have on the Glasgow route four large vessels giving a weekly service with the St. Lawrence. Three of the four will be twin screw steamers and all will give first class passenger accommodation. The Ionian, which was taken off the Liverpool service this year on the putting into commission of the Corsican and the Pretorian, will continue on the service while the new-comers will be the Grampian, now almost completed, and the Hesperian still in the course of construction. The Grampian was launched at Glasgow on July 25th, and is now receiving the finishing touches preparatory to making her maiden trip to the St. Lawrence on Sept. 21. The Hesperian, now well advanced in the initial part of her construction, will be ready for commission by May 1st next year. She will be a duplicate of the Grampian in every particular.

C.P.R. LINE.
R.M.S. Empress of Britain, Capt. Murray, from Liverpool, Friday, 9th instant, with 269 first, 319 second and 891 third class passengers, the mails and a general cargo, passed Belle Isle at 8.30 a.m. yesterday and is due in port about 4 o'clock to-morrow morning.

DOMINION LINE.
Steamer Dominion, from Liverpool, with 73 cabin, 210 second and 445 storage passengers, passed 75 miles east of Belle Isle at 11.30 a.m. yesterday and is due in port Saturday morning.

MANCHESTER LINE.
Steamer Manchester Importer, Capt. Perry, having discharged Quebec cargo, left for Montreal yesterday evening.

NORTH SHORE LINE.
Steamer Restigouche, Capt. Sears, from Esquimaux Point, and way places, with passengers and general cargo, arrived in port yesterday morning and moored in the Louise Basin.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP CO.
Steamer Bermudian sailed from New York for Bermuda at 11 a.m. yesterday.

STEAMER ASHORE.
A despatch received by the Signal Service office yesterday states that the steamer Miemac went ashore at Broad Cove, St. Maty's Bay, Nfld., yesterday morning.

NOTES.
Steamer Stormont, Captain McMaster, with a cargo of steel rails for the Canadian Northern Railway, arrived in port yesterday morning, and moored in the Louise Dock.

Steamers Cacoma and Fimreite arrived from Montreal yesterday and proceeded for Sydney.

THE ERIE CANAL.
Buffalo, N.Y., August 14.—Superintendent Fred C. Stevens, of the State Department of Public Works, who was in Buffalo last night, announced that the break in the Erie at Syracuse was so nearly repaired that he expected water would be let into the canal by Friday or Saturday next, and that navigation would be at once resumed. The break occurred about ten days ago, when masonry arches broke and dropped the bed of the canal into the Ononago Creek, engulfing four canal boats and bringing down the walls of two mills along the banks.

THE LUSTANIA.
New York, August 14.—According to the American to-day, shipping men have learned with interest that the new turbine steamer Lustania and the fast Icarania, now the transatlantic westward record holder, are scheduled to start from Queenstown, practically together, on Sept. 7. The object, it is said, is to determine how the two vessels compare in speed under exactly similar conditions. The test will be watched from the decks of each by crews of people, who represent not only men high in the shipping world, but by many financial and social leaders, who have paid premiums for their cabins for the voyage. The Lusania will return to Liverpool almost immediately, but the Icarania will remain here until September 12. The older ship will be commanded by Capt. Jas. C. Barr, and the new one by Captain J. B. Mott. The record now is five days seven hours and twenty-three minutes.

PILOT FINED.
Montreal, Aug. 14.—Judgment was given yesterday at the wreck commissioners' court in this city in the case of the grounding of the C.P.R. steamer Montrose, Captain J. H. Moore. Captain Spain presided and Commander Rose was also present. The case came before the commissioners on July 8 and 6 last, and the evidence then taken showed that on July 2nd the Montrose under the pilotage of J. H. Talbot, passed in a fog to the wrong side of the Red Reef lightship and went ashore on the reef. Neither captain nor pilot was able to give any satisfactory explanation of the grounding of the vessel. The court, in giving judgment after examining the evidence, found that the pilot, Mr. J. H. Talbot, was guilty of a grave error of judgment in keeping the vessel on its course at full speed, and it could not exonerate Captain Moore for allowing it. However, the court had taken into consideration the past excellent records of both men, and fined the pilot $100, to be paid in four monthly instalments of $25 each. The court also admonished the captain and advised him to be more careful in future, on the ground that he was wrong in allowing the ship to proceed at full speed without first ascertaining himself of the actual position of the vessel, which might have been so easily and conveniently found out by taking the distance from the lightship and running a course that would determine a safe offing from the Red Island reef.

A RECORD OF STRIKES.

Captain Orr and the Carrigan Head, of the Head line, carry the season's record for bumping into ill luck. The vessel, which sailed from Montreal on the 11th of July, is tied up at Belfast owing to the strike in that port. The Carrigan Head arrived in Montreal during the local longshoremen's strike with a cargo of gin from Rotterdam. She sailed from Montreal for New Orleans, and there she was delayed owing to the longshoremen's strike. She returned from New Orleans to Montreal, and on her arrival in Belfast she finds a dock laborers' strike in full swing.

BOURASSA AT ST. MARTINE SCORES GOUIN GOVERNMENT

Says that Hon. Messrs. Prevost and Turgeon are Trying to Hide Their Misdeeds Under Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Coat.

Laurier Desires a More Stable Policy

St. Martine, Que.—That he intends to become a member of the Legislature and eventually assume the reins of power, if possible, was strongly hinted at by Mr. Henri Bourassa in the course of an address delivered here to-day before fifteen hundred people, composed of electors of Chateauguay and about three hundred from Montreal and intermediate points. The M.P. for Labelle declared that if he went to Quebec he would inaugurate a policy of reform that would start the province on a new era of prosperity, and he asked those present to lend him their support.

Mr. Bourassa elaborated on the platform which he outlined at Quebec a couple of weeks ago, when pelted with stones, and aimed some hard blows at the present administration and its members. He declared himself opposed to the creation of a minister of public instruction, as it would tend to drag politics into a matter which, above all, he considered ought to be kept aloof from politics. He suggested that the present Council of Public Instruction be modified and improved instead, by having its powers extended, to meet actual requirements. It was also his plan to establish academies, occupying an intermediate position between the primary schools and the colleges, in which the inhabitants of the rural districts could have their children sufficiently educated for business or other pursuits that required a better training than primary schools afforded. In matters of education, he accused Premier Gouin of using Mr. Langlois, M.L.A., for St. Louis division, to do work which he did not care to perform himself. On two separate occasions, he said, the present Council of Public Instruction asked that the minimum salary of teachers for primary schools be placed at $100, but this suggestion had been voted down by two Liberal members, who were afraid its adoption would affect their position with their constituents as well as that of their colleagues. Mr. Bourassa's main contention in matters of education was that the present system cannot be improved without funds, so as to make teaching sufficiently remunerative and serve as an inducement towards a career, and that the money cannot be derived from any other source than from the revenue of the public domain now available, which, he thought, ought to be properly administered.

The school system, he thought, was far too complicated, and the list of studies too diversified; yet Mr. Bourassa considered that the primary schools were not so bad as some people made them out to be. Intermediate institutions were needed, instead of the member of Labelle, in which a practical education could be obtained as in the case of academies of Nova Scotia. Mr. Bourassa also proposed the creation of a legislative commission to examine all federal bills affecting the province, as well as local bills, particularly private bills over which there are doubts as to their constitutionality. This board would have advisory power. Mr. Bourassa proposed that the decisions of this body should stand unless overturned by a majority in the Legislature and in the Legislative Council. The creation of such a commission would put an end to infamous legislation calculated to serve private interest to the detriment of the general welfare and its deliberations being made public, the people would be better informed as to the doings of their representatives.

REFORM IN THE COURTS. The amending of the Civil Code so as to diminish costs in small cases, and in so far as possible, to restrain the number of appeals to tribunals outside the province, was another plank in Mr. Bourassa's platform. He considered that under the present regime, the small debtor was being unfairly crushed with costs; these sometimes being in excess of the debt which the creditor sought to recover. Then he explained it was not necessary to incur additional expenses in carrying litigation to courts outside the province when it was possible to settle it within.

His relations between employer and employee such as regulated in Quebec, still bore the medieval stamp of the old French law which looked upon the employee as a kind of serf, went on Mr. Bourassa. In order to reach just the difficulties constantly arising from this source, he suggested the establishment of a Chamber of Labor, as well as a Council of Agriculture for the special benefit of farmers. At the outset of the address the member of Labelle dwelt on the mining, forest and land resources, declaring that the public domain was the most valuable asset of the province, and the basis of its future development. Contrary to what adversaries claimed, he knew something about colonization himself, having followed the settler into the woods over twenty years ago, and taken an active part in the settling of his constituency. Mr. Bourassa said that with the help of his father he had established no less than 150 families there, and although the settlers had bought the land for one dollar an acre, or seventy cents dearer than the price for which the present Government was parting with public domain, every one of them was thriving and not one had left the land.

The present system of colonization was faulty, claimed Mr. Bourassa, because the same concession was subjected to two masters—the lumberman and the settler, each at odds with the other, whereas they ought to work in harmony. Either the lumberman cut down everything upon entering possession of his timber limit, leaving scarcely sufficient or no timber for the settler to build; or else he kept delaying the hewing down of the timber in hope of making better profits later on, so that the settler was unable to proceed with the tilling of the soil.

"Our present system of colonization is nothing but an incentive to robbery because it brews trouble between two men who should work in perfect harmony," declared Mr. Bourassa. He thought that the best way out of the difficulty was to create forest reserves and give the lumber merchant a cutting permit for a certain number of years, and also to introduce a system of reforestation as in France, where trees on the reserves are periodically cut, thereby providing revenue without impairing its source. In the case of mining resources of the province, Mr. Bourassa considered that no permits should be issued before the land was properly advertised and inspected by Government officials so that the buyers might know what they were getting.

CROWN LAND DEALS.

The member of Labelle then took the Government to task for allowing Crown lands to become the object of speculation or to be sold at what he considered to be a vile price. He entered at length into various details, notably one, by which he claimed, Mr. F. X. Dupuis, then M.L.A., of Chateauguay, realised a profit of $65,000 out of a concession in the St. Maurice, the transaction whereby Mr. John Breakay, manager of the Quebec Bank, obtained from the Minister of Lands and Forests 1,000 acres of land near Shawinigan Falls for $15,000, and afterwards sold for $80,000 to an American concern; the formation of the Clebougand Gold & Mining Company with a capital of six millions, from a concession which the Government sold to Mr. Peter McKenzie, for $10,000, although the Department of Mines was aware at the time of its resources, and finally, the ousting of three rightful claimants from the Obasika region by Mr. D. M. Marin, who managed to secure the 200 acres sought for $1,000, and afterwards disposed of them to the King of the North Company for $100,000 cash, and $500,000 worth of shares in the company's stock.

"Now I am not going to call these good and holy actions; just because they are Liberal. The McKenzie deal, in which land was sold without auctions, as it should have been, was nothing but a corrupt bargain between Mr. McKenzie and the Gouin Government," said Mr. Bourassa.

The member of Labelle then went on to relate how Mr. McKenzie, not being satisfied with the bargain, managed to get the Government to consent to build a railroad to his concession, so that he might exploit it more easily. Mr. Bourassa then took up Prime Minister Gouin's argument at the recent meeting in Chateauguay to the effect that if timber limits in Ontario were being sold at higher prices than in Quebec it was because they contained more pine. He admitted the truth of this contention, but declared that the timber limits of this province were still more valuable because they included, not only pine, but pulp wood, tamarack and various other kinds of wood concerning which the Government made no discrimination, but sold together at one price. In support of his contention, Mr. Bourassa quoted the testimony of Messrs. Booth and Eddy, big lumber merchants of Ottawa, who declared before a commission that limits sold here for $80 were worth more than limits in Ontario, which were sold for $2,500 per square mile. He did not accept the theory that as a Liberal it was his duty to vote as such. The party had gone back on the principles which it professed for twenty years.

Mr. Bourassa said he was not preaching racial strife, as some of his adversaries were trying to make the people of this province believe. After the ruthless onslaught to which he had been subjected in Quebec; the English press, including the Herald, a Montreal Liberal organ, had been unanimous in the opinion that the troublesome meeting had only served to further the principles which he represented. Mr. Bourassa said he had a great respect for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but he claimed that members of the provincial cabinet, namely, Hon. Jean Prevost and Hon. Adolphe Turgeon, were trying to hide their misdeeds under the Premier's cloak. This was no glory for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whom the member of Labelle declared to be very much puzzled at times, trying to reconcile opposite factions in Quebec and that the inauguration of a more stable policy would be a great relief to him. "The patriot is not the man who sets off fireworks on St. Jean Baptiste Day, but the citizen who tries to place men in power who will make the country prosper; not the kind of men who spend their time in Europe in search of decorations, which are bestowed by the very means they take to obtain them. Let us have a more stable legal system, founded on the fundamental principles, which have formed the economical and social experience of other countries," said Mr. Bourassa in conclusion.

The meeting was held in the open air on the lawn in front of the residence of Mr. R. L. Calder, one of the candidates for the vacant seat in Chateauguay. Mr. Calder said that in bringing the member for Labelle to his premises, he was for committing no breach of Liberal etiquette, as one of the tenets of that party was freedom of speech. He hoped that his individual act would atone for the vandalism of which Mr. Bourassa has been the object of Quebec. Mr. Narcisse Laberge, of Chateauguay, and Mayor Desrosiers, of Ste. Martine, were then chosen as chairmen. After the meeting, during which Mr. Bourassa given a good hearing, Mr. Calder informed the gathering he had been criticized for inviting to his residence, Labelle to speak from his residence. However, he was willing to bear the consequences of the action; at all events, he was under no obligation to the ministry. Mr. Calder then explained that Le Canada had some time ago refused to publish the proceedings of a meeting of the Liberal Association of the county, and that an erroneous account having subsequently appeared, he had asked the paper to retract without, however, being able to obtain any satisfaction. Mr. Calder said he attempted to interview Mr. Gouin about the matter, but the Prime Minister had refused to see him, whereupon he decided to forego all ministerial connections and carry on a personal campaign in the constituency. Mr. Calder announced that he would hold a series of meetings and he cordially invited his opponents to be present. Mr. Bourassa was preceded at the platform by Mr. Joseph Rainville, barrister, who delivered a pointed address on the present condition of the province of Quebec and its future, followed by Messrs. Ernest Tetreault, barrister, and Jules Fournier, editor pro tem. of Le Nationaliste.

MOTHER WOUNDED BY BABY.

Swinging a stick at his play, the little son of Mrs. L. Webster, 519 Seigneur street, Montreal, struck his mother a blow over the eye, inflicting a nasty gash. Inflammation followed, and the wound looked very ugly, when a box of Zam-Buk was obtained. "The pain was soothed almost instantly the balm was put on," says Mrs. Webster and healing commenced. In four or five days the wound was closed, the inflammation gone, and there was only a faint red line showing where the gash had been. Even this mark is now gone. Zam-Buk is such a wonderful healer it should be in every home where there are children. Zam-Buk is made from concentrated herbal essences, and suits the tenderest skin. Cures eruptions, heat spots, ulcers, ringworm, eczema, piles, chafed places, sore feet. It takes the pain from a sting or burn, cools sunburn patches, and makes red, rough skin smooth and velvety. Excellent for children's tender skin.

All stores and druggists, fifty cents a box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Three for dollar twenty-five.

DOMINION EXHIBITION

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 14.—The first exhibit for the Dominion Exhibition, which opens here Sept. 2, was installed on Monday, three weeks ahead. This was necessary because the exhibit was an incubator from the Government experimental farm at Ottawa, and it was desired to have chickens hatching on the first day of the fair. A second machine was started yesterday, and a third one to-day. The process will be kept up until a hatch is assured for each day of the whole fortnight. Mr. Victor Fortier came from Ottawa to supervise the exhibit.

The railroad rates and announcement of special train service to the fair are out, and show the roads to have been especially generous this year. A single fare for the round trip is the rule on regular trains, with two-thirds of a single fare for the special excursions. A railroading fest is to be attempted this year. Toronto, which immediately precedes Sherbrooke, will release some of the live stock shown there on Wednesday night, Sept. 4. A special fast freight will rush the animals through to Sherbrooke, arriving here Thursday night, in time for the judging Friday. The process will be repeated a week later, the stock going to Ottawa fair. It is believed that this making of a "live stock show circuit" has never before been done.

The days for the fair have now all been named, as follows:—Monday, Sept. 2, Preparation Day; Tuesday, Sept. 3, Exhibitors' Day; Wednesday, Sept. 4, Opening Day; Thursday, Sept. 5, Provincial Ministers' Day; Friday, Sept. 6, Judging Day; Saturday, Sept. 7, Farmers' Day; Monday, Sept. 9, School Children's Day; Tuesday, Sept. 10, Governor-General's Day; Wednesday, Sept. 11, Federal Ministers' Day; Thursday, Sept. 12, American Visitors' Day; Friday, Sept. 13, Citizens' Day; Saturday, Sept. 14, Closing Day.

Fire Brigade will Confine its Operations to the City.

The Civic Fire Committee held a meeting last evening under the presiding of Ald. Foley, those present being Mayor Garneau and Aldermen St. Pierre, Barbeau, Mathieu, members of the committee, and Aldermen Shink, Duquet and Verret.

The question of awarding the contract for a new fire station, was left over until next Friday afternoon.

Mayor Garneau brought up a most important question regarding the aid given to adjoining municipalities by the Fire Brigade. As His Worship remarked, the city is continually extending, new buildings are erected and insurance companies are more exacting than ever, although the fire department had been increased, new stations erected and the water system improved. He considered that the citizens were entitled to all the protection possible, and he was of opinion, that in future the brigade should not leave the city except in very exceptional cases when the city was threatened from an adjoining municipality.

The taxpayers pay for the maintenance of a brigade and are entitled to the first protection.

Ald. Verret, St. Pierre and Barbeau approved of the suggestion and a resolution, to be presented at the next Council meeting, was adopted to the effect that the brigade would not, after first January next, give assistance to adjoining municipalities.

UNFOUNDED RUMORS.

There were a number of sensational rumors current in town last evening as to an accident on the elevator at the Conservatory. Falls upon investigation, however, these turned out to be utterly unfounded. There was no accident to the machinery of the elevator whatever, but upon one of its trips, the elevator was allowed to descend at a more rapid rate than usual, jarring those on board somewhat, when it reached the bottom, but resulting in no serious mishap. The elevator was running as usual last evening, and carrying its large quota of passengers up and down with the same celerity and safety which has always marked its operations.

PIANO RECITAL.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church has secured the services of Mr. Harold Henry for a piano recital on Thursday evening, August 22. Since his return from two years ago from Europe, when he studied under some of the greatest masters, Mr. Henry has won for himself a high place amongst the concert pianists in America. Everywhere he has played he has received the highest praise from the critics. Mr. Henry possesses a fluent technique great beauty of tone and a style that is dignified and musicianly, whilst he has all the requirements of the piano virtuoso, he makes his technique subservient to the poetic and musical contents of the composition. The recital will probably be given in Morrin College Hall. The programme will appear later.

Excursions will be run from Hull to Buckingham under the auspices of the workmen's union of that city. The most interesting feature of the celebration will be the unveiling of a monument which has been erected by public subscription to the memory of Thomas Belanger and Francis Theriault, the two leaders of organized labor in Buckingham, who were killed at the fatal riots last October. The unveiling will be marked by an address by Mr. Alphonse Verville, M.P., of Montreal. The monument to be unveiled is made of solid granite and marble and surmounted with a white cross. ## OPENING OF P.Q.R.A. COL AGAIN FIRST

Slight Decrease in Total Entries, but Record Number of Young Shots.

Montreal, Aug. 14—A feature of the thirty-seventh annual meet of the Province of Quebec Rifle Association opening at Pointe aux Trembles yesterday was the record number of entries on the part of young marksmen who had never fired at the ranges before. Sixty-one men entered the Green Shots' match, commencing at 8.30 in the morning and 111 marksmen lined up at the 200-yard range for the Tyro match.

Notwithstanding this encouraging sign on the part of the younger shots, the total entries for the meet show a slight decrease in comparison with last year's figures. In 1906 there were in the neighborhood of 200 marksmen competing at the ranges, while this year there is a falling off of about seventeen men, which is accounted for by the few entries received from civilian clubs. The entries from the regular representatives are as large as usual, the 5th Royal Scots Highlanders and the 3rd having each entered twenty-eight men; the Prince of Wales Fusiliers follow with sixteen; while Quebec city and Sherbrooke are each represented by thirteen entries.

The Quebec winners yesterday were: Green—Bd. J. Downes, R.C.G.A., 44, 85; Pte. J. D. Moore, 8th R.R., 35, 82; Mr. R. B. Whyte, 8th R.R., 35, 82; Mr. S. H. N. Kennedy, Q.R.A., 34, 82; Corp. S. P. Murphy, 8th R.R., 32, 81; Pte. F. W. Porter, 8th R.R., 33, 81; Corp. F. Fitzpatrick, 8th R.R., 31, 81; Pte. J. A. McCusker, 6th R.R., 25, 81.

Tyros—Bd. J. Downes, R.C.G.A., 42, 86; Pte. J. D. Moore, 8th R.R., 35, 82; Pte. R. B. Whyte, 8th R.R., 35, 82; Mr. S. H. N. Kennedy, Q.R.A., 34, 82.

Merchants' Match—Pte. F. W. Porter, 8th R.R., 57, 83; Sgt. W. J. Creagan, R.C.G.A., 57, 83; Sgt. W. Pugh, 56, 83; Pte. F. W. Porter, 8th R.R., 54, 83; Pte. J. G. Goudie, 51, 83.

Merchants' Tyro—Bd. J. Downes, R.C.G.A., 49, 83; Mr. S. H. N. Kennedy, Q.R.A., 48, 83; Corp. S. P. Murphy, 8th R.R., 42, 83.

Merchants' Green—Pte. J. D. Moore, 8th R.R., 41, 82; Pte. R. B. Whyte, 8th R.R., 41, 82.

TURF CLUB RACES.

There is now no doubt as to there being two very successful days' racing at the Quebec Exhibition Grounds on the 27th and 29th, when the annual races of the Turf Club will be held. The entries are assuming fine proportions, and good fields in each event are assured.

DONATED A CUP.

A handsome cup has been donated to the Quebec Yacht Club by La Patrie of Montreal for competition in a series of races, the first of which is to take place in September next.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

London, Aug. 14—Athletes on this side are now beginning to focus their attention on the great international Olympic games to be held in London in July of next year. It is expected that twenty-five nations will compete, and, in view of the recent reverses sustained by English sportsmen, British athletes are being advised to spare no effort to obtain the entry of the best possible athletes. The first stanchion has been laid of the enormous stadium which will be erected for the accommodation of eighty thousand spectators. The site is quite close to the magnificent building of the Franco-British exhibition, which will be one of the most popular features of London next summer.

In addition, the stadium will contain space for great international sports and pastimes and a travel exhibition. It will be oval in shape, with seats all the way round and a passage beneath. The length of the stadium will be 1,000 feet, and the width 700 feet. The first track will be for cycling, and will be 35 feet wide, and of 2 1/2 laps to the mile. Inside that will be a running track 25 feet wide and three laps to the mile.

Then there will be a swimming tank 100 metres long, and the remainder inside will be turfed for lawn tennis and numerous other contests. The programme for next year's games has only been provisionally fixed, for each nation is at present considering the conditional form.

OL AGAIN FIRST

Saratoga, Aug. 14—Jas. R. Keene's Colin to-day added another rich stake to his long list when he easily won the Grand Union Hotel stakes here. The stable entry, Colin and Masque, was held at the prohibitive price of 1 to 8 and there was practically no betting on the Keene entry. Jim Gaffney was well supported for the place and show. The start was good and Jim Gaffney set the pace, followed by Colin a head away. These two raced a team to the stretch, where Colin began to draw away and won easily by three lengths. Jim Gaffney was four lengths before Ben Fleet.

WOODBINE AUTUMN MEETING.

Toronto, Aug. 14—The proof of the programme of the Ontario Jockey Club for the coming autumn meeting was given out to-day. During the seven days racing at Woodbine Park, $26,000 in added money will be distributed besides very handsome pieces of plate in the Durham and Ontario Jockey Club cups. Twenty-one of the events in the programme are of the distances of one mile and over, and among these are the Durham cup at one mile and three-quarters and the Ontario Jockey Club cup at two miles and a quarter. In addition are five steepchases, from two miles to two miles and a half. As is customary at meetings of the Ontario Jockey Club, horses bred in Canada are well cared for. The Norfolk purse, $500 added; Durham cup, $1,500 added; Elgin purse, $500 added, and Dominion handicap, $800 added, being specially for horses foaled in the Dominion. The list of stakes, which closed on Saturday last, filled particularly well and the best autumn meeting yet seen at Woodbine Park may well be looked forward to.

GOLFING FIXTURES

Members of Local Club Have Interesting Autumn Programme.

We note from the list of autumn fixtures that an unusually large number of competitions and matches have been arranged for, beginning late this month with the Silver Cleek match, the programme runs to the 26th Oct.; doubtless on Nov. 1st, and on Thanksgiving Day, special matches will be arranged for besides. Following is the complete list of events:—

Aug. 24—"Silver Cleek" 18 holes, stroke play, club handicap.
Aug. 31—Team Match on Beaconsfield links, Montreal.

Sept. 2—Team Match with Royal Montreal G. C., at Dixie links.
Sept. 7—"Chaloner Smith" Cup, stroke play in squads, club handicap.

Sept. 14—Team Match with Outremont G. C., on Quebec links.
Sept. 21—"Silver Medal," stroke play, club handicap, 18 holes.

The Watson Cup was eventually won by Mr. G. S. Ahern, one of our most promising young players. The Club Prize was carried off by the Capt. Mr. Herbert M. Greedy; the Hamilton Cup is unfinished, and it would be well if the remaining couples would play off and complete the competition.

UNIQUE GOLF BUNKER.

Bar Harbour, Me., Aug. 14—A golf links having as its chief obstacle to the success of the golfer a bunker extending for two or three hundred yards under which a trolley car may be whizzing at the very moment at which the expert is trying to top the bunker and land on the green beyond is the possibility that is before the Kebo Valley club. It may prove a solution for the tangle which at present exists over the question of the electric road from Bar Harbour to Ellsworth. Some genius has come forth with the suggestion that the desired end may be brought about without in the least harming the links, by burying the rails. By covering the line across Kebo, a very interesting bunker may be made. It is understood that the proposition is receiving serious consideration.

HOT BASEBALL GAME.

There is every promise of a hot baseball game on the Q.A.A. grounds on Sunday afternoon, when the Quebec and Quebec Bridge teams will clash. Both teams have a number of fine players in their line-up, which will be composed as follows:—

DIFFERENCES OF ENGLISH USAGE.

When a writer in Harper's Monthly Magazine told us that a London hostess said to him, or to any one, Goodye—we are going on to Lady Somebody's musical; and when he told us that he heard an old clothes dealer in Houndsditch cry, "Is clothes is robbed from hospitals and made over, and I discharged him, and he feels bad about it, he was telling the thing that was not—albeit intelligently and with the best intentions. The phrases represent most truly the things that were said, but the writer was not aware that he had attributed to these English speakers three Americanisms never found on the tongue of the Old Country—little daily Americanisms of which—Americans are hardly conscious. To make over for remake is unknown in England; so is to feel bad; so is musical for musical party.

How to be Healthy and Beautiful

by Mrs. Henry Symes

A Morris Chair is Good For a Siesta

OUTDOOR sleeping has grown in favor with recent years. Time was when it was limited to consumptives and faddists, but nowadays every one advocates the practice more or less. Especially is it to be recommended for children as tending to increase their strength and improve their health, fitting them, in fact, for the battle of life in a manner which no system of favors and pampering could ever do.

This does not at all mean that the method is to be a rigorous one. Above all, the child should be warmly and comfortably wrapped and protected from draughts of all sorts. In the first place, this open-air slumber is primarily intended for daytime naps, and should not become the regular nightly practice unless the whole household is accustomed to it. As to the sleeping couch, it may be either a sofa on the porch, a cot, furnished as hereafter described, a swinging hammock or even a large armchair. Whatever piece of furniture may be chosen should be well provided with pillows and with a warm shawl, quilt, or steamer rug. Even in summer it is necessary after sunset or on cool days, as the little body becomes easily chilled when inactive.

It is well to take the child into the house, as you would certainly not keep him out in anything approaching a blizzard!

The open air is best taken in the early afternoon, before the child is dressed for the evening. There will be no danger of his not enjoying it, for the youngster never existed who would not rather be "out" than "in," or if he did, he was one who had never known the delights of—I was about to say country life, but that is by no means necessary. If you do not live even in the suburbs, the back porch or the back yard is just as pleasant and just as beneficial as the lawn or the forest. The surroundings may not be quite so entrancing, but when one is asleep that will make no difference, and the air is quite as pure and refreshing.

Where the whole family are advocates of the new system, or rather place, of slumber, no special rule need be given for the younger members than that they should be clad more warmly than the others, as they catch cold more easily, and with worse results. Over the cotton flannel pajamas should be worn an overcoat or heavy shawl, and the coverings of the bed should be light, but not insuflcient.

ON THE CARE OF HAIR AND SKIN

Hair Too Soft

My hair is of a light shade, very soft, and so soft that I cannot fix my hair in the least bit of a pompadour unless I rub in the oil of the olive. I should like to have a formula to make it a little drier and coarser. How often and with what should I shampoo? My hair is thin and short. A constant reader. T. P.

I am giving you a good tonic for thin, oily hair. Shampoo once a month with pure castile soap and warm water, rinsing in several clear, cold waters. This will make your hair slightly coarser, so that it will be easier to arrange.

Jaborandi Tonic

Quinine sulphur..... 20 grains
Tincture of castor-oil..... 1 fluid dram
Fluid extract of jaborandi..... 2 fluid drams
Alcohol..... 2 fluid ounces
Glycerine..... 1 fluid ounce
Lime water..... 4 fluid ounces
Lime water..... 4 fluid ounces

The quinine should be dissolved in the alcohol, and the mixture slightly thickened with the glycerine, and the whole filtered. Rub into the roots of the hair every night.

Excessive Superfluous Hair

I was told by a friend that olive oil was good for the hair, and I have tried it and find it has a very softening effect. Now, if you could tell me if there will be any effect from continued use, and whether the hair should be washed before the oil is applied? I have a very thick growth of hair on my face. I was 17 when I was first troubled with superfluous hair on my chin. It is not caused by age, for I am a young woman. I cannot afford the electric treatment, I bought and tried one so-called hair remover and it burned my chin and when the hair grew back it was thicker and more vigorous. I was disgusted and discouraged. I think it will take some powerful course to eradicate this hair as it is so persistent. Mrs. H. H. C.

From your letter I suppose that you have been using the olive oil as a face cream or skin food. It is very good for the purpose, although this is an unusual way to apply it. Wash the face before using, as with any skin food.

As to the superfluous hair, nothing but electricity or the X-ray treatment will cure it permanently. As you say you cannot afford that, you will have to use a depilatory, renewing the treatment whenever the hair reappears. Any one of those I am giving you is excellent.

Good Depilatories

Sulphide of soda..... 100 grains
Slaked lime..... 50 grains
Starch..... 1 fluid dram
Lime water..... 4 fl. drs.

Barium sulphide is also used as a paste for depilatories. The starch forms a thick paste. Barium sulphide..... 50 grains
Chalk, powdered..... 400 grains
Mix with water. The barium sulphide must be dissolved in the water, and when it is mixed with the chalk, enough water should be added to make a thin paste. Sulphide of strontium makes also an efficient depilatory. It is made as follows:

Sulphide of strontium..... 2 drams
Oxide of zinc..... 1 dram
Starch, powdered..... 3 drams

Hair and Facial Troubles

My hair has been falling for some time. New hairs have come, but it is still falling a little. There is light dandruff, is there anything that will make the hair stop falling? Please give me something to make the face and neck, and something to make the hair stop falling and at the corners of my eyes. When I laugh tiny wrinkles appear there. Please give me also something for enlarged pores.

While your hair is still falling, I would not advise using anything on it to make it stop falling. Use first the tonic for dry, falling hair, and after this has had its effect apply a lotion made of one tablespoonful of castor oil mixed with two ounces of bay rum. The tonic for falling hair is as follows:

For Falling Hair

Cologne..... 1 ounce
Tincture of benzoin..... 1 ounce
Oil of English lavender..... 1/2 dram
Oil of sweet orange..... 1/2 dram
Apply to the hair three or four times a day. It is positively necessary that the scalp should be kept clean. Shampoo at least once a week.

To soften your face and neck, massage with a good skin food, such as the one I am giving you. For fresh around and beneath your eyes, massage with alcohol, using gentle motions, than on the other portions of the face.

For the enlarged pores apply the lotion recommended to Mrs. F. H. T.

Orange-Flower Cream

(A Skin Food.)

Oil of sweet almonds..... 4 ounces
White wax..... 1 ounce
Spermaceti..... 5 drams
Lime water..... 1/2 dram
Glycerine..... 1/2 dram
Orange-flower water..... 1/2 ounce
Oil of sweet orange..... 1/2 ounce
Oil of bigarade (orange skin)..... 1/2 drops
Oil of neroli..... 1/2 drops
Melt the wax in a water bath, add the glycerine to the orange-flower water and distillate of sweet orange, then pour it slowly into the blended fat, stirring continuously.

How to Use a Cream

Please tell me when to use cream of sweet oranges. Is it harmful to use it before going out? Are orange-flower cream and cream of sweet oranges the same? CARTERS.

Apply the cream with massage night and morning, after washing the face first with hot and then with cold water. If you wish, you may apply it also before going out, using a good face powder afterward.

Cream of sweet oranges is not the same as orange-flower cream. The prescription for the former is as follows:

Cream of Sweet Oranges

(A Skin Food.)

Sweet oil of almonds..... 2 ounces
Orange flower water..... 2 ounces
White wax..... 1 dram
Oil of sweet orange..... 1/2 dram
Spermaceti..... 1/2 dram
Lime water..... 1/2 dram
Fill the sauceron with boiling water. Stand a jar in this, stir the wax and spermaceti into the jar. Let it dissolve. Heat almond oil and add to the wax. Heat orange-flower water; add the mixture quickly. Lift the jar from the sauceron. Heat mixture with the whisk. Heat and add oil of sweet orange. Whisk cream until it is cold. Put in pots and cover with parchment.

Superfluous Hair

Will you kindly advise me what to do for superfluous hair on the back of my neck and on the sides of my ears? A. J. McA.

As I have so often said, there is no permanent cure for superfluous hair but electricity or the X-ray treatment. For a mild remedy, which must be renewed whenever the hair reappears, the pumice treatment is best. For this get an ordinary five-cent cake of pumice stone—not the soap-and-rub the variety affected, being careful not to be too harsh. If the skin is reddened, apply cold cream after each treatment.

One of the New Canopied Hammocks

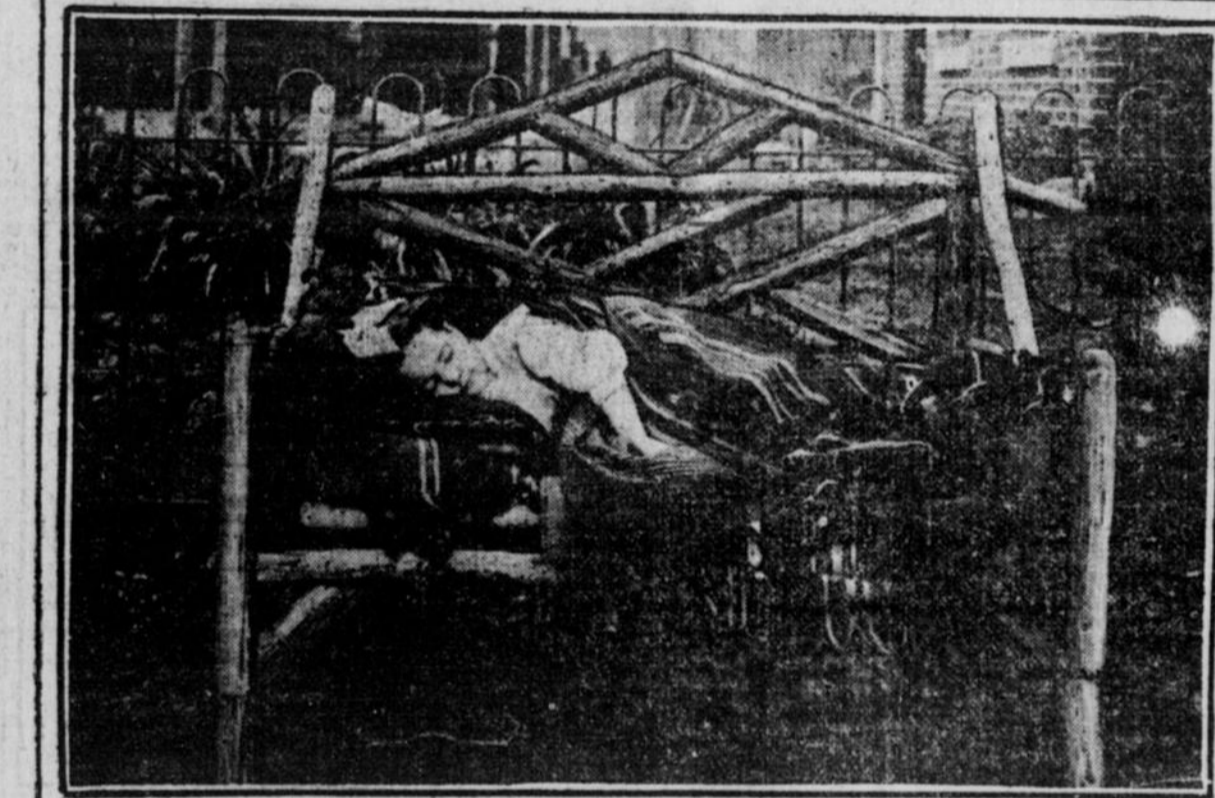

The cot should be spread, as shown in the illustration, with a mattress of some colored goods—cratons or chintz—and a small pillow to match. Then around three sides, excepting only that which is protected by the wall or some other object, a stiffly quilted, very thin mattress should be placed in such a manner, as effectually to shut out the wind. Usually, with this protection, no other cover is necessary, extra warmth of apparel making up for any unlooked-for fall in temperature.

Indeed, this should be the rule in almost every case, winter or summer, for this outdoor sleeping is advocated for all the year round. The youngsters should in cool or cold weather wear, in addition to his ordinary clothing, a long coat, mittens, a cap, and even, if necessary, leggings or a muffler. This, of course, is for very cold or snowy weather. In the spring, summer and early autumn usually no extra garments are needed.

Do not be daunted by the words "snow." An umbrella will protect him from all harm and give him the clear, pure air to breathe. The same is true of rain, though in a much more than

Where the child is delicate, or for some reason the mother does not care to let him sleep actually in the open air, he may be given the advantages of the system without its inconveniences by letting him sleep just in the open doorway of a barn or outbuilding, on a porch, or in a sun parlor, whose doors have been thrown wide open. Sometimes when the child has outgrown the days of the crib or baby carriage, a makeshift must be prepared for his sleeping couch. All sorts of furniture may then be called into service. A large clothes basket, a pile of rugs on the floor, even—and these are all actual examples—a discarded wash tub may be utilized, though few families would be obliged to go so far as this.

As may be judged from these remarks, this outdoor sleeping should begin early in childhood. Probably when the child first walks is the best time to initiate him in this new fad, which is, after all, not a fad, for it is highly conducive to health and a point of interest to the mothers of girl babies—is even said to increase the child's chances for future beauty.

A Cushion Makes The Rustic Seat Ideal

As, indeed, any natural and healthy living will.

It is never, however, too late to mend, and no matter how much older than this your child may be, let him start now to sleep outdoors. The warm weather will keep him from any discomfort now, and by autumn it will probably be a hard task to drive him indoors at all.

One boy whose summer home is by a tidal river, and who lives in the winter in the heart of a large city, sleeps all the year round in a canvas tent, where he has the best of times. The box which contains his bedding is his special pride, and he loves to exhibit the ship-shape condition of his "island home." The only rule he must observe is never to bring a light into the tent, though he reads all evening by a lamp placed at a safe distance. It is really remarkable when one considers the multitude of things which this box holds. In addition to his bedding, there are always books, a store of apples, boyish relics and souvenirs, pillows, extra clothing—all the appurtenances of the camper he loves to imagine himself—and the inside of the tent is lined with the odds and ends with which most boys decorate the walls of their bedrooms. This boy, of course, is old enough to be trusted alone—he is just 10—and as soon as he is a little older his small brother will keep him company. His two older sisters are banished from the back yard in the winter—they did not start early enough to become inured to its hardships—but in summer they share an ideal little log cabin near "the big house." It has, of course, only one room, and is pretty as it is healthful. Are there not suggestions here for other parents?

After all, this beginning with the children is only applying one of the fundamental theories of education, and is supposed to train them to this sort of sleeping all their lives, and to teach it again to their children. And it is by no means vain to assert that when we have partially returned to "the way of the Indian" we shall have a stronger, more vigorous, and consequently more beautiful, race.

ADVICE TO CORRESPONDENTS BY MRS. SYMES

Obstinate Freckles.

PLEASE send me the best lotion you have for obstinate freckles. I have never tried anything, but should like to do so.

Since the freckles are obstinate it would be best to go to the root of the matter and use a strong bleach at once. The one I am giving you will not harm you, but be very careful in its use.

Dr. Shoemaker's Bleach.

(For Freckles and Brown Spots.)

Bichloride of mercury..... 5 grains
Which base..... 2 ounces
Rosewater..... 2 ounces

Agitate until a solution is obtained. Mop over the affected parts. Keep out of the way of ignorant persons and children.

Reducing the Weight

I am a young girl of just 12, and weigh 150 pounds. Would you please give me some advice to reduce my flesh? I am strong and can exercise, diet, or anything you think best for me to do.

EMMA K. (a country girl).

If you are very tall you are not too stout, though I suppose your weight must be noticeably great or you would not complain of it. Follow carefully the rules I am giving you and in time you will attain the desired end.

Rules for the Reduction of Flesh.

Avoid all starchy and sweetened food, all cereals, save those containing sugar or starch, such as peas, beans, corn, potatoes, etc. Have your bread toasted; sprinkle it with salt instead of using butter. Milk, if retained, skimmed milk may be drunk. Hot water is an excellent substitute for other liquids. Add a little of the juice of lemon or lemon to it if you choose. Limit your sleeping hours to seven, at the outside. No nap. You must take exercise. If you cannot walk at least five miles a day, and do not wheel, go to one of the best physical culture establishments in your

To Broaden the Shoulders

I am 12 years of age and am very tall. I am strong and healthy, and am becoming stout in proportion. The only thing that worries me is that I am rather narrow-shouldered, and I should like you to help me to make them broad. I suppose exercise would do this, but I don't know what kind to take.

M. A. R.

The exercise I am giving you is extremely good for just this purpose. Stand with the arms relaxed at the sides, and then, holding them perfectly stiff, raise them slowly and gradually to a vertical position, using all your energy, as if pushing against some tangible object. At first, three or four times will be sufficient, but by degrees you can attain a point where twenty or twenty-five times will cause only moderate fatigue. A few months of systematic pursuit of this exercise will work wonders.

To Enlarge the Bust.

Kindly tell me all about Dr. Vaucaire's bust developer. Does it always enlarge the bust when taken, and is it harmless? What is its price and how much is needed to accomplish the desired result, as this, too, varies according to the constitution of the patient. The formula is as follows:

Dr. Vaucaire's Remedy for the Bust.

Liquid extract of galega (goats-rue)..... 10 grains
Tincture of phosphorus of lime..... 10 grains
Tincture of iodine..... 10 grains
Simple syrup..... 40 grains

The dose is two teaspoonfuls with water before each meal.

Dr. Vaucaire also advises the drinking of malt extract during meals.

Blackheads and Enlarged Pores

What do you think it best to do for my face? It is full of little holes about the nose and chin, and I have blackheads on the nose and forehead. I should like to have something to whiten the skin, and mine is rather dark looking. I am a young mother, 21 years old.

Your skin is altogether in a very poor condition. What you need most of all is to build up your health, and then your facial troubles will right themselves. Take one of the many good organic iron preparations regularly. Take also every morning before breakfast one tablespoonful of plain phosphate of soda in a cup of hot water. I am giving you formulas for blackheads and enlarged pores. The darkness of your skin and your pale lips are due to general ill health.

Dark Skin and Red Nose

What is a cure for dark skin? My skin is a light brown and it is not from sunburn. Would you please tell me a cure for it, and also a cure for red nose? I am not a drying man, soon as I go out my nose gets red.

GEORGE M.

I cannot advise you about your nose until I know more of your case. Is it due to over-eating, too tight clothing, too dry and delicate skin? Write me further and I will tell you what to do. As to your complexion, take phosphate of soda in hot water. The color of your skin may be due to liver trouble, and if you suspect that, you would better consult a physician.

Blackheads and Pimples

Why you please tell me what to do or use? My nose seems very oily, and sometimes there are a few blackheads underneath the skin. I should also like something for pimples. I get them on the forehead, nose and chin.

A. D. L.

The formula I am prescribing for you will help both the blackheads and the pimples. Wash your nose with equal parts of cologne and water to relieve the oiliness.

For Broad Shoulders

Will you please tell me how I can broaden my shoulders and increase the size of my legs? I have three angles besides those that willadden the cheeks? G. K.

A good exercise to broaden the shoulders is given in answer to "M. A. R."

Out of Doors Best Protection from Draught

He falls considerably when walking. If you know of any device that would aid him, will you kindly let me know? W. W. K.

Your baby's legs could be strengthened and strengthened by proper massaging of the muscles. I advise you to consult a specialist, who could instruct you as to the movements required.

When my daughter was born her right arm hung lifeless, nothing but skin covering the bones. I, of course, was supposed to do nothing. I was disgusted and discouraged. I think it will take some powerful course to eradicate this arm as it is so persistent. Mrs. H. H. C.

I shall never forget the virtue of brandy and salt. I do not know how much salt to put in, as I never had charge of it, and the friend who bathed and worked over the arm is dead. Please let the mother know of it.

I know of another case in my family where a child of three years could not use its legs. The mother was advised to take the fins, tail and skin of salt codfish and bathe the limbs. She followed the advice, with the best results. Mrs. E. L. C.

BRAVE IRISH LADY

Seven Children Saved From Drowning by Her.

Dublin, Aug. 14.-A plucky rescue of seven children was effected yesterday by Mrs. McNally, of Sligo, who accompanied by a friend went with their children at low water to bathe from the shore of Sligo Bay. As the tide was coming in quickly they returned to shore. Suddenly they heard cries of distress, and saw seven children standing on a little island which is completely submerged at high water. The children had been caught by the tide, which had completely cut them off from the mainland. Though unable to swim, Mrs. McNally rushed into the water to endeavour to rescue the children. The island is fully a quarter of a mile distant, and several times she was almost overcome by the strength of the incoming tide. Her progress was made the more difficult by the fact that the ground was coated with a slimy mud. She eventually succeeded in reaching the island, and then the most difficult part of her task began. Taking the two smaller children in her arms, and bidding the others cling to her, the brave Irish woman commenced her struggle landward. The rapidly rising tide had already rendered it impossible to return the way she had come, but by making a long circuit she was at length enabled to reach the shore safely, though in an exhausted condition, with all the children.

THE BELFAST PILOTS

London, Aug. 14.-In the House of Commons today the Irish Secretary, Mr. Birrell, faced a shower of questions concerning the Belfast strike. The Irish members of Parliament wanted the troops withdrawn from Belfast and others urged the necessity of a full enquiry into the affair. Mr. Birrell said: "The government is fully aware of the urgency of this matter and is doing all it can to secure a settlement of this unfortunate strike." It appears that in the trouble at Belfast, there has developed a cleavage on religious lines. The Protestants have cheered the troops, while the attacking parties apparently have been composed of Catholics.

MANY STUDENTS FAILED

Toronto, Aug. 13.-The results of the recent junior teachers examinations which qualifies for entrance to the model or normal schools and is the academic test of fitness to take up the work of the public school teacher were announced to-night by the Ontario Education Department. The requirements were forty per cent. on each paper and sixty per cent. of the total number of marks. This higher standard caused a larger number of failures than there used to be when the requirement was only fifty per cent., but the results as a whole are satisfactory. The certificates of successful students and the marks of those who failed will be sent to the principals of high schools or to inspectors, and to those officials to whom applicants for results should be made.

NARROW ESCAPE AT A FIRE

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Aug. 13.-About two o'clock this morning fire broke out, from some unknown cause, in the home of Thomas Lane, Fenelon Falls south, which was totally destroyed with all its contents. The family barely escaped in their night clothes, some jumping from upstairs windows. Mrs. John McInnes, mother of Mrs. Lane, eighty-six years old, being unable to escape, lost her life in the fire. Mr. Fred Warren, who lives across the street from Lane's, in endeavoring to rescue the old lady, had his feet badly burned, he being bare-footed. Dr. F. Aldous, who was on the roof of another building close by endeavoring to save it from burning, slipped and fell to the ground and alighting on his feet, was badly hurt. The building occupied by Herbert Scott was also destroyed, but the contents were saved. Mr. Lane had a small insurance on his house. The total property loss is about $5,000.

Asserts Soul is Material

IT CAN BE WEIGHED. A Boston man says the Soul can be weighed. He knows this because he has tested a lot of cases before and after death. The weight this investigator gives for an average human soul is two ounces. This is the sort of fool science that some men give us. It is more to the point to tell us how to maintain a healthy body-how to get well if sick, and how to be able to do good work and keep everlastingly at it. Poor health is the result of poor blood. If you let your blood get pale and thin, then all the organs of the body are sure to get weak. Ferrozone is the remedy. Ferrozone is the quickest, surest body and blood builder; thousands have been restored from failing health or complete nervous prostration by Ferrozone, which builds up tired nerves and helps you to get sound refreshing sleep every night. Ferrozone gives an appetite as sharp as a razor. There is lots of pleasure eating when you take Ferrozone. Rosy color comes back to your pale cheeks and plenty of strength with it, because Ferrozone is the greatest body builder ever discovered. For a tonic to lift tiredness, weakness and ill health, you can't find the equal of Ferrozone. Get a 30c. box from any dealer and see if this is not so. A BEAUTIFUL RESORT. The beauties of Kent House Grounds are the theme of general comment among all visitors to this popular retreat, and they are very enthusiastic in extolling its picturesque situation. The grounds are now looking their best and are well worthy of a visit. The attractions are numerous and varied. No pleasanter place to spend a couple of hours can be found anywhere.

A GHOST FACTORY

A Family Sent to Prison in Germany for Peculiar Crime.

Berlin, Aug. 14.-A remarkable case, in which a haunted house played a prominent part, has just been heard at Munich. A family named Wolf hired a farmhouse from an aged widow living near Ammersee. The house suited them, but the presence of the old lady in the house did not, and they began to supply the premises with a number of ghosts, as they knew the lady was most superstitious, and in daily and nightly terror of supernatural beings. Wolf with his wife and two daughters installed altogether seventeen ghosts. First they tried wicked spirits, then angelic ones, with the result that the wretched widow was nearly driven crazy by her nightly visitations. The spirits injured the cows, killed cocks and hens, stole eggs and butter, and made unearthly midnight noises. Then Wolf offered help to cleanse the house of spirits for a consideration, and in process of time these cleansing operations cost over 14,000 marks. The widow was robbed of all she had, and was in addition suffering from brain fever when the police began to take notice. The result was that Wolf was sentenced to five years' penal servitude, and to pay a heavy fine and to suffer ten years' loss of civil rights; his wife and one of his daughters to two years, and the other daughter to eighteen months' imprisonment. This precious family had the regular rehearsals of their nocturnal swindle before practising it on their victim.

THE POPULATION OF INDIA.

How the Teeming Millions of That Country Subsist. India supports 300,000,000 people, the statistics state. The total number of the white population is 169,677, and of Europeans 87,030, making, with officials and families a total of 300,000 Europeans and Caucasians. Of the dark skinned natives 200,000,000 are supported by agriculture, 50,000,000 by the industries, 5,000,000 by commerce, 5,000,000 by the professions; the balance are dependents. The native roots or farmers understand no need of change from the practices that have been in vogue for hundreds of years, such as using the forks of trees for plows. The 50,000,000 supported by the industries are of like temper. They live in huts, without furniture, without carpets or rugs. A few yards of cotton comprise the wardrobe of both male and female. The women wear anklets, rings in their noses and ears, and some of the men wear rings on their great toes and armlets, and go barefoot the year round. The princes, maharajahs, rajahs, marwaris, parses, babus, and native professional and rich trades people have money with which to buy whatever they require to please their fancy or meet their actual needs. This class builds expensive houses, residences, and business houses, and provides them with modern conveniences when it is practicable, and with furnishings that are usually rich and expensive. One maharajah recently had built for him a harem bedstead that cost $1,500. They use the finest and most expensive carriages, highest priced horses and harness, and buy without regard to cost musical instruments, pictures, statuary, autos, jewelry, precious stones, silks, satins, linens, mulls, laces, gold trimming, and other fineries. NOTICE. After the 1st of September we will have to raise the amount to $30.00 instead of $20.00 to have your ticket free for Montreal, the 21st September. Make haste to save the difference. FAGUY, BEPINAY & FRERE, july.15x1m.
