Vol. XXXV No. 40 MONTREAL 6, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1967 16 PAGES 5c

THE WESTMOUNT FIRE DEPT. pays a call on Mrs. S. Bourke and Mrs. H. Bourke in the persons of two fire constables engaged in In Service Inspection. The W.F.D. started their annual checks for fire hazards early in May and will be inspecting Westmount residences until October 14th, the end of Fire Prevention Week. The Bourke home was declared clear of fire hazards.

Busy program for Westmount Home & School

By Mrs. P. Stewart

THE WESTMOUNT HIGH HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION is planning a full and interesting program for the coming year and is counting on the co-operation of all parents. The President, Mrs. J. G. Fletcher, is anxious to give all possible help to Mr. Noel Hamilton, the newly appointed principal, and his staff.

HELP WANTED

The first meeting 'Open House at Westmount High' will take place towards the end of October. We are trying to find a novel way of making this 'get-together' more useful than in the past, so watch for the details later.

In the meantime, we are anxious to help the school with the issuing of bus passes to all students, the circulating and collecting of insurance forms and chaperoning school dances, etc., so, please, if there are any parents willing to lend a hand, would they contact the Membership Chairman:

Mrs. Huntly Duff,
434 Lansdowne, Westmount, 6,
Tel.: 937-2128

This year the Association is again sponsoring an "Effective Reading Course" to be given at the High School by Mr. Heilig, a qualified teacher from the Reading Improvement Laboratory. Students taking English II and III are eligible and will be given further information by their teachers.

The Quebec Federation Executive predict an outstanding year for Home and School activities throughout the Province, because of the far-reaching new developments in the educational system now taking place. They feel that parents will want to learn about the changes being introduced and how they can help their children make the best progress under the new techniques.

"Home and School is a two-way street", says Mrs. Fletcher, for the organization gives parents the machinery for placing their views before the Department of Education, thereby exerting an influence on future educational developments".

Muscular Dystrophy Chairman

Dudley N. Mendels 655 Murray Hill, businessman and philanthropist, has been named campaign chairman for the 1967 Muscular Dystrophy Association (Quebec Division) drive for funds. He is also honorary president of the association in Quebec, a member of the national board of directors and is active in many community organizations.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

October 1 to 7

We can count upon fine weekends through October, although mornings will be frosty, and some districts will have evening thunder showers.

Conditions will continue mild and dry into next week, but tropical storms on Atlantic coasts will induce cold gale winds.

Bright through middle of week, with valley fogs or drizzle. Snow flakes in northern counties. Improving generally for the weekend. Temperature range, 30-75°F. Sunshine, 30 to 35 hours.

R. C. taxpayers shortchanged

All residents of Westmount pay school taxes. These taxes are paid into a central fund and then are divided according to religious affiliation, a Protestant's taxes going to the Protestant School Commission and a Roman Catholic's taxes going to the Catholic School Commission.

Corporations and other non-affiliated enterprises are also situated in Westmount and as 'residents' they too pay taxes. These individuals, corporate and otherwise, do not have a religious affiliation; therefore these taxes are placed by the Central authority into a common fund referred to as the "Neutral Panel". This fund is ordinarily then divided between the two commissions in a proportion to their representation among the population.

The St. Leon de Westmount School Commission does not, and for three years, hasn't received a share of the neutral panel. The Commission lost its share of this fund three years ago by an act of the Quebec Legislature. The distinction of losing a share in the Neutral Panel is shared with three of the other nineteen Catholic School Commissions in Greater Montreal. One of the other three has since been annexed by the Montreal Catholic School Commission and has achieved a status sought by St. Leon de Westmount. Officials of the St. Leon de Westmount School Commission state that a merger with the Montreal commission is the only way to regain their rightful share of the Neutral Panel. Westmount Roman Catholics' share would amount to more than two hundred thousand dollars.

Resident heads 6-man group scheduling constitution meet

BY JACK TRENT

H. Carl Goldenberg, Westmount resident and top-flight labor arbitrator, is heading a six-man group that is scheduling the coming Canadian conference on the constitution.

Belief in Canada's capital is that the insistence of the 'separatism' cry in Quebec province may speed action on the matter.

At the moment Goldenberg is attempting to establish Federal priorities in the constitutional field. The group was appointed recently by Justice Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

The schedule begins with revision of the Bill of Rights to guarantee linguistic and cultural equality, and is followed by a formula for amending the constitution and allowing transfers of power from one level of government to another.

Then comes the machinery for arbitrating constitutional disputes and - possibly - a constitutional court, separate from the Supreme Court of Canada.

Articles of the constitution of which there is no major disagreement could then be amended.

It is believed that Prime Minister Pearson will shortly set a date for his long-proposed federal-provincial conference to amend the BNA Act and enshrine a strong Canadian Bill of Rights within the constitution.

Four cars collide on Sherbrooke

Four cars met in an impromptu Demolition Derby on Sherbrooke St. last Friday. Mr. H. M. Adelman left the curb driving West and sideswiping another car swerved into the Eastbound lane. Here he came to a sudden halt against the hood of a Ford driven by Mr. M. Couture. Two other cars driven by Mr. H. Bradbury and Mr. H. Whitaker were involved in the collision's final result. Injured were passengers H. Herlick, Mrs. P. Sandys and Miss C. Moore all of Westmount.

Local pharmacies close Sundays

Westmount residents may have to go a little out of their way to find an open drugstore on Sundays. A spokesman for local pharmacies has announced an agreement whereby only one Westmount drug outlet will remain open on Sundays.

Each store will take a turn at remaining open. The open store will provide regular service from 10 a.m. until 6 in the evening. The local association of druggists note however that repeat prescriptions should be ordered during the week from your regular pharmacies.

This step is another of many taken by local commercial outlets to keep down prices in the face of rising costs. This particular move was taken to prevent rising costs of professional services from affecting the cost of vital drugs.

For the convenience of holiday-bound Westmounters all local drugstores will be open on the two week-ends preceding Christmas.

The stores open will be—Oct. 15 American Drug Store and on succeeding Sundays — Berman Drugs, Brooks Pharmacy, Grindley's Pharmacy, Kane's Drugstore, Metcalfe Pharmacy, Rex Pharmacy and Sanitary Drugstore.

From The Library

80,000 Volumes Moved

The renovation of the Westmount Public Library is no longer news to most of our members -- most of them are well aware by now that there have been some changes made during the summer. However, it seems likely that the public may not be fully aware of the extent of the changes involved in the renovation. Several times a day the librarians hear a familiar comment: "Oh my, you've changed everything!" This, in fact, is very nearly true.

The Library owns approximately 80,000 volumes (including the Children's collection). By the time the renovation is finally completed, and the last book in its proper place, very nearly all of those 80,000 volumes will have been moved at least once (and often more than once).

The most obvious change is the switch of the Reading Room and the Reference Room, which, of course, entailed the shifting of books from both rooms. In addition, the older novels were brought out from the stack and intershelved with the newer novels in the new Reading Room, so that all the fiction is now together (excepting, as before, short story collections).

The separate Canadian section has been discontinued and Canadian books are now intershelved under their appropriate catalogue number with the main collection.

Changes have been taking place in the stacks as well. All the music books (scores, biographies, music theory, opera guides, etc.) have been moved from the stacks to the gallery, where they have been located in previous years.

The remainder of the books numbered in the 700's (art, interior decoration, hobbies, etc.) are being moved to the lower level of the stacks, which leaves much needed room for expansion of the 800's, 900's and biographies in the upper level.

We're very pleased that we can now take the popular "sight-saving" books from the "Closed Shelf" section and place them on shelves near the catalogue, where they are far more accessible to the public.

A new Reference Stack has been built under the new Reference Room, and the older, less frequently used, Reference material is being moved into this new stack.

As we noted in a previous column, the entire Children's collection was rearranged while that department was closed during the summer.

When everything is finished, the Library will have a new map printed and made available to the public to familiarize them with the new arrangement.

Youth and responsibility

Rotarians urged to face problem

By E. C. GANNON

A plea to service clubs such as Rotary to form a program of advice and consultation be made available to school drop outs and also specific help for them to find employment was advocated by Dr. J. D. Hackett of the Mental Hygiene Institute in speaking to members of the Westmount Rotary Club on the subject of "Youth and Responsibility" at their regular weekly luncheon meeting held in Victoria Hall last week.

Dr. Hackett who has devoted much of his time in studying the problems of present day youth suggested that service clubs should have a mental health committee at work to study the problems and with their own resources in mind, namely... a variety of experience and talent in the business community they should be seeking ways to prevent further additions to the delinquent pool.

He suggested a program of advice and consultation be formulated and made available to drop outs, equivalent to a medical walk-in clinic for adolescents as already exists in some quarters, but where the focus would be on advice in finding a job, fitting into community organizations, and taking a more active interest in community affairs.

The speaker further suggested that specific help be given in finding employment for the drop out and guidance regarding behavior might be made available in conjunction with community agencies and that a pilot program be established in conjunction with the Montreal Council of Social Agencies and university teaching programs such as are organized by the Montreal Mental Hygiene Institute.

Dr. Hackett stated that in his contact with children he had found it worthwhile to get them used to discussing their own problems. "By their participation I have learned a great deal especially that what I might think is a problem may not be theirs and they have often come up with some excellent ideas of their own. If we can have youth involved in resolving its problems then our responsibility will be to ensure the necessary information and resources to enable them to finish a job. Theirs is the youth and ours is the responsibility" he said.

A natural point of crisis, he said, is when children leave school to join the labor market and at this time they need guidance by informed adults. "Who is better informed about the community's needs and values than the members of a service club?" he asked. There is sufficient evidence regarding the school drop out to note that a

We Say

Cut crossing accidents with interference

Overseas visitors, here mainly for Expo, are appalled on drives into our countryside at the number of level railway crossings on main, heavy-travelled highways.

Our explanation is that this is a sprawling nation of few too people to afford the almost universal road-rail separation one finds in Europe, despite much progress with heavy federal subsidies for this purpose.

But deaths and injuries at crossings still rank high in traffic tolls year-round.

We're proud that the following idea comes from Westmount, commended to the young, energetic and imaginative minister of transport fresh from his cobweb-removing drive to make Canada's defence establishment the most modern in concept anywhere.

Mr. Paul Hellyer's Department of Transport has the last word and authority over not only the railways but also the radio waves of Canada. In regulating use of the ether it maintains a service which rigorously seeks out and eradicates radio-wave interference, whatever the source -- welding machines, defective transformers, youngsters making electronic experiments. Most such interference is highly localized, affecting receivers very often only within 50 or 100 yards' radius.

An ever-shrinking minority of motor vehicles is without radios these days. One sees antennas on delivery trucks and even buses.

Now, Mr. Hellyer, we are told by electronics people, including rank-radio amateurs, that with the simplest equipment it is one of the easiest things in the world to generate an interference noise or signal using very little power and strong enough to annoy listeners on any station, way down the block. Good "hams" seek to avoid this, if only for fear of your department.

This idea may sound monstrous to your sleuths and prosecutors, Mr. Minister; but it should win favor with your grade-crossing worriers:

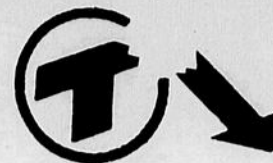

Design a small broadcast-band transmitter capable of emitting a clear, distinct signal -- ideally, a simulation of the bell on crossing wig-wag warnings -- directionally along an intersecting road or highway for about 100 yards in both directions.

The cost of such a transmitter, mass produced, should not be excessive for the electronics industry, which has managed to put high-quality transistor pocket receivers in the hands of the country's teenagers.

Installed, one on every unseparated grade crossing in the country, the total cost could be well within the existing budget of grants for under- and over-passes -- leaving funds for that good work to continue.

Motor manufacturers rightfully boast of the insulation of their cars, silencing outside road noises. Indeed they do just that; in our climate for most of the year, crossing signals can be heard only by rolling down a window AND turning down the radio. In countless cases of ghastly accident, neither of these essential precautions was taken. The careless, thoughtless and forgetful will always be with us, and it is for the preservation of the lives of these this idea is advanced.

Countless crossing dead would have been glad to have their Beatle-beat, symphonic tone poem or the news interrupted by such designed interference momentarily, rather than permanently.

A plague on you both!

MTC: The Commission is NOT a private corporation. The buses and magnificent Métro which are supposed to be operating belong quite literally to the public, including their users. Our taxes as well as our fares pay for this equipment, your salaries and, when you have them working, your struck employees' wages;

UNION: You do NOT have an unbridled right by slowdown, by strike and by refusal to negotiate reasonable proposals, to damage Expo, discommode or discourage Canada's visitors from the world and, most important, disrupt our metropolis to the cost, discomfort and even suffering of its citizens;

BOTH OF YOU: You know a settlement must come. "Final offer" and "No" are meaningless, delaying bravado. The public expects you both to suffer continuous, unbroken, honest negotiation while we suffer, too. Or else, the rights of both commission and union will be assuredly curbed or revoked through exercise of OUR rights (and yours) - through the processes of OUR government - in the overall public good.

Bulletins from Birdland

Departing Geese

By WINIFRED E. WILSON

Have you ever had the good fortune to see a huge, light coloured V moving steadily across the sky? This is one of the grand sights of nature that takes place in Canada (or should we say above Canadian soil?) every autumn -- the enormous flocks of Canada Geese flying overhead in formation, honking as they go.

This formation, though not unique, is at least unusual, and helps identification. If you keep an eye on the leader, you will quite likely see it drop back and another bird take its place, for this seems to happen fairly often. The job of leader must be tiring, so that a rest is necessary.

The City of Westmount was one of the first areas to achieve its objectives in a Victory Bond Subscription.

Fatal traffic accidents were far more common twenty-five years ago than they are today. The year 1942 saw some nine Westmounters killed on the streets.

Although mid-September is early for starting, from then on throughout our autumn months thousands of Canada Geese leave their nesting grounds (some from as far north as the Arctic) and migrate over settled Canada, bound for their southern holiday resorts. We need not go to country districts to see the flocks that number many hundreds; they are frequently seen flying high over the roof-tops of our cities.

A flock of 500 or so might be immediately followed by several more flocks numbering just as many birds. All have their long, black necks stretched out, and if you are blessed with binoculars at the right moment, or even if the birds are not too high, you should see what is known as the "black stockings" which show up so well against a blue sky, and the pure white throats and cheeks.

Local "Y" Sponsors Hi-Y program

Hi-Y - meaning High School Y.M.C.A. is a program being sponsored by the Westmount Y.M.C.A. to help teens develop their skills and search out their interests. This is done through groups of 15 or 18, with an adult advisor available as a resource person.

Hi-Y is an active teen program right across Canada and has a National Teen Council which meets twice a year to plan conferences on the National level, every two years. Regional Conferences are held yearly with one being held in the Maritime provinces on Thanksgiving weekend. Montreal Hi-yers have been invited to attend this and it should prove to be an enlightening and fruitful experience for all delegates.

On a local level teens in Westmount can get involved in any program that suits their interest by having speakers, seminars, tours and total group projects. Effective Communication with other teens, parents and other adults are the results of Hi-Y. Here is an opportunity to develop skills in talking to people of various positions in the community and becoming more aware of our environment.

On a broader level there are opportunities for young people to get involved in world-wide activities such as YMCA work camps. There are many opportunities for teens in the world today and the Westmount YMCA has people who are willing to help teens take advantage of them. These people are Ann Rhyno and Kes Winwood, who would like to talk to any teen interested in putting more into their life.

ADULT EDUCATION

Westmounters with even the vaguest desire to further their education this year certainly won't be able to attribute their actual reluctance to do so to the commuting distance involved. Several agencies are offering a wide and varied selection of evening courses in Westmount this year.

Westmount High School, under the auspices of the Department of Education, is offering a course in Music, sight reading and theory starting on Wednesday evening October the fourth at 7 o'clock as well as a course in Oral French to include beginning, intermediate and advanced adult students. Registration for the French courses is to take place in the foyer of the high school October the 11th at seven p.m.

Mr. Jan Simons will be managing a course in Music for children to be taught at Westmount Park school Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3.30 to 6.00 p.m. This particular course boasted one hundred students last year. Any interested parties should contact Mr. Simons personally at 932-8755.

Montreal opposes Westmount R.C. school merger

By PAUL R. HEMM

The proposed merger between the Westmount School Commission and the Montreal School Commission is still very much in dispute.

The St. Leon de Westmount committee to properly implement the suggestions regarding secondary education, to comply with the Ministry of Education's report on schooling at the high-school level.

The merger, requested by the Westmount commission, would merge the Westmount Catholic student body with the larger Montreal group and would bring Westmount Catholic students under the provisions of the "Parent Report."

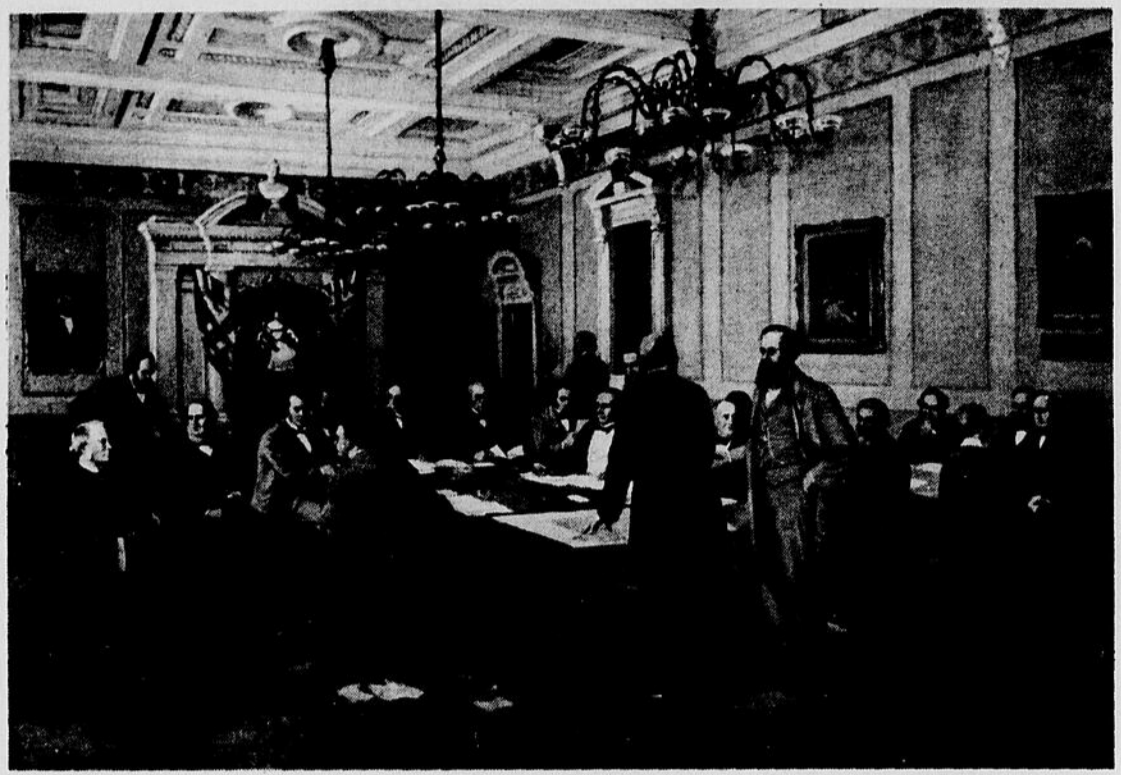

School maintenance staff strike looms

With the proposed strike of the Greater Montreal Protestant School Caretaker Staff Association, Westmount Protestant must face the possibility of a closing of the school.

Although no objection has been made public yet by the Montreal Catholic School Commission, the Montreal City Council and, more specifically, the City Executive.

in 1866-67 delegates from the two Canadas, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, pictured top right, drafted the British North America Act. Below that is the same room as it appears today, drawing office for a firm of consulting engineers in what is now called Abbey House, lower right. The commemorative plaque on the drawing office wall is shown enlarged, bottom centre. Earlier this year, a pair of candlesticks fashioned from the same wood was presented (left) by Royal Trust President Conrad F. Harrington, 3481 Holton avenue, to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson, and now stand on the mantelpiece of the Canadiana Room of the prime minister's official residence in Ottawa. Candlesticks and gavel were carved by Joseph Salkeld, a Goderich, Ont., farmer crippled by arthritis whose hobby is wood-working. Royal Trust annually presents a gavel to the retiring president of CWNA, made from wood of some special significance.

SIGN OF THE TIMES -- Unidentified Westmount resident makes the best of a difficult situation. Westmounters have reacted to the bus strike often by picking up stranded wayfarers and fellow travellers.

W. H. S. is out to win

by VICKI PERCIVAL and DAVE KOOPERSTOCK

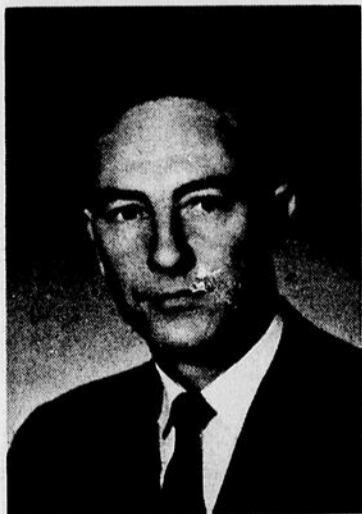

Westmount High is out to win you over this year. Yes, we're like a shimmering new automobile with both a new look and a new outlook.

Under the leadership of Lynn Kassie, the first female president in some time students are forging ahead with lust and vigour. School news will be reported to the EXAMINER this year by Vicki Percival and David Kooperstock.

Let us commence with a brief look at coming events in Westmount Highschool. The students' council has shown a touch of inspired ingenuity in the creation of a wide variety of new clubs this year. The bridge club, The Chess Club, the Cercle Francais and an amalgamation of the Model Parliament and the Debating club to form a new Political Club are just a few examples of activities available to students here this year.

No specifics are available as of yet for everything is still in planning stages, however the hardworking Friday Night Club will have its first dance this Friday featuring the "Concords".

Even the W.H.S. Football team looks like a winner this year. In last Friday's opener against Wagar High the protagonists suffered defeat at the hands of Westmount's "Purple Panzers". This 19-6 victory is an indication that things will be better this season.

Forgiven

"We have . . . the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).

The climax of Paul's first recorded sermon is reached in verses 38 and 39 of Acts 13, where he declares: "Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this Man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

"And by Him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses."

Thus God, through Christ, first forgives and thereupon justifies those who believe. Nor is this all that was accomplished for us by the death of Christ at Calvary. There is also reconciliation, baptism by the Spirit into Christ and His Body, a position at God's right hand in the heavens and all spiritual blessings there.

"The forgiveness of sins" must come first, however, and the above passage assures us that in Christ we have this -- not barely, but "according to the riches of His grace." Indeed, the next verse continues: "wherein He hath abounded toward us . . ."

Thus Eph. 2:2-7 declares that though we were "the children of disobedience," and therefore "by nature the children of wrath," "God, who is rich in mercy, for His great love wherewith He loved us" has given us life and raised us from the dead, exalting us to "heavenly places in Christ . . ."

The reason for all this? "That in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us in Christ Jesus" (verse 7).

When God forgives us He no longer sees us in our poor selves, but in Christ, who took our place, dying for our sins on Calvary's cross.

Jewish appeal luncheon to end successful campaign

The Women's Division of the 1967 Combined Jewish Appeal and Israel Welfare Emergency Fund will hold its Closing Luncheon Wednesday, October 11, at the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue, it was announced by Mrs. Arnold Fisher, campaign chairman.

The luncheon, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Theodore Lande, will be the culmination of one of the most successful women's division campaigns in the history of the Combined Jewish Appeal.

The arrangements committee for the luncheon include Mesdames Arnold Fisher, Ralph Cummings, F. Victor Elkin, Jack Zittler, Jacob Elkin, David Nadler and Hyman Robinson.

The crisis in the Middle East spurred the women of the Jewish Community to double their efforts, resulting in their first $1,000,000 campaign. For the fourth time the Rhoda Leopold Award will be presented to the most outstanding campaigner of the Women's Division, during the luncheon.

Mrs. Fisher called for all the women who worked so diligently during the campaign to attend that luncheon "as I would like to personally extend to everyone the thanks of the people of Montreal and of Israel for the wonderful effort expended on their behalf. The result of this campaign has been phenomenal . . . and we hope to announce a one hundred percent campaign."

A sherry reception starting at noon will precede the luncheon, after which workers and organizations will be saluted for their efforts.

TEEN-AGE SNACKS

What do teen-agers like to eat? the adolescent is likely to choose hamburgers, often with cheese, milk shakes, hot dogs, ice cream, pizza and peanuts. These foods happen to be very good sources of protein and should be included in school lunch menus, too.

Dr. W. W. Bauer, consultant, National Dairy Council of the United States, says many older people often shake their heads over the adolescent's diet, it was reported in Health. However when left to his own choice of foods,

Local girl has Hawaiian wedding

The marriage of Sandra Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Scott, of 88 Summit crescent, to Mr. Calvin Yokomoto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Yokomoto, of Honolulu, took place recently in the Chapel in the Palms, Wailua Beach, Kawai, Hawaii, the Rev. Samuel K. Kauwai officiating.

Local flowers were used as decorations and the Hawaiian Wedding Song and the Leialoha Leimakamai were sung before the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in an ice-blue Holoku of silk organza. She wore a pikaki lei and pikaki flower strands in her hair.

Miss Susan Couture, as maid of honor, was in a royal blue Holomu of organza, and wore flowers similar to those worn by the bride.

Mr. Peter Kimura acted as best man for Mr. Yokomoto. They wore the traditional costume of black trousers, white silk shirts, maile leis, and sashes to match the frocks of the bride and bridesmaid.

Following the reception which was held at the Coco Palms Resort Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Yokomoto left for the Island of Maui.

Upon their return, they will take up residence in Honolulu.

The F.I.P. commission passed a resolution during the 1967 Amsterdam Congress black listing the stamp issuing countries of most of the Persian Gulf Sheikdoms, Jordan and Yemen. The result of this ruling is that stamps issued by these countries after the date of the May Congress may no longer be shown in national and international exhibitions held under F.I.P. rules. It is most surprising that the F.I.P. took so long to act on some of the philatelic garbage which was flooding the stamp market. By the terms of their ruling, the Congress has made a mockery of the situation. The prejudicial issues of these countries were issued prior to the May Congress and therefore the ruling to be effective should have applied to these issues as well as the future issues. To add to this mockery, the F.I.P. Congress overlooked to add the philatelic junk from Bhutan. WHY?

Only two new postage stamps were issued by France during the month of September. The first, issued September 4th, a 0.60F value was to commemorate the 9th International Congress of Accounting, held in Paris. The stamp was designed and engraved by Decaris and printed in three colors. The second, issued September 11th a 1.00F value was an addition to the "Art" series. The stamp was designed and engraved by Gandon and portrays the oil painting "La Baigneuse" by the noted 19th century French painter Jean Auguste Ingres. The stamp, printed in four colors by steel engraving, depicts the painting in its natural colors. In addition to the foregoing collectors of "Art" on stamps should not overlook the set of three values, 0.25 - 0.30 - 0.60F, issued by Andorre September 25th, illustrating three scenes from the 16th century fresco from the Maison des Vallées. The 0.60F stamp depicts that portion of the fresco showing the Disciples removing Christ from the Cross. The stamps were designed and engraved by Combet and were printed in two colors each.

September 14th saw the release of a sextet of postage stamps from Luxembourg, consisting of a publicity stamp, two commemoratives, a special stamp and two tourist stamps. The publicity stamp "Luxembourg Youth-Hostels", is a 1.50F value featuring the youth-hostel of Ettlebruck and was printed four-colored photogravure. Also printed by multicolor photograv-buffy. But as they fly far above us we see light undersides and another pure white patch, V shaped, cutting off our view of the short, black tails.

Geese are among the birds which migrate either by day or by night, and sometimes we hear them honking when we are lying in bed, unable to see them. At any rate, the talking of the flock is nearly always heard before the birds come into sight. The sound of so many carries far. The double "honk, honk", is said in all keys. Their musical voices range from bass to treble, and every member of the flock honks constantly. They are noisy migrants.

These are clannish birds, they mate for life, and not only remain in family groups on the breeding grounds, but fly south and even winter in family groups.

ure are the pair commemorating "200 Years of Luxembourg Pottery". The 1.50F value illustrates a shaving-dish representing a wedding scene and signed "Degrotte". The 3.00F stamp has for its design a show-vase with relief decorations circa 1820. The special stamp, a 1.50F value "Family Gardens" was to publicize the 16th Congress of the International Association of "People's own Gardening and Home". The stamp portrays a gardener with a rake in her hand and the fruit of her labour in an apron. The pair of tourist stamps, each a 3.00F value, were printed by steel engraving in two and three colors respectively, depicting the "River-Port of Mertert" and a view of the Moselle vine-growing village of Wormeldange.

Two stamps, 6S and 5P, with common design were issued August 31st by the Philippines to commemorate the "Battle of Corregidor". The stamp design portrays the silhouette of the late General Douglas MacArthur, a contour of Corregidor and the paratroopers used by the U.S. Forces in recapturing the Island in 1945. It is a shame that MacArthur's own country could not have been the first to honour him with a stamp.

large percentage of these have no adequate adult person who is taking a personal interest in their welfare and the lack of a father is especially evident in these studies, said Dr. Hackett.

The meeting under the chairmanship of President T. P. Everson was featured by the attendance of over 100 visiting youths from Venezuela under the direction of Dr. Sanchez Vargas of Rotary's District 435 who were here on a visit to Expo. Of the group only 10 spoke English and one spoke French.

The South American visitors handed out specially prepared souvenir hi-fi records to their hosts depicting the Declaration of Independence of their country which occurred on July 5, 1811. Club insignia banners were exchanged as well as with attending visitors from Japan, Australia, England and the Philippines. Jerry Whelan introduced the speaker.

Apartment raided

Joseph Zollo, 31, of Montreal, pleaded not guilty in Westmount Municipal court today on charges of keeping a common betting house. He was remanded until Nov. 14 by Judge Alex Stalker.

Zollo was arrested Sunday afternoon in a surprise raid by Westmount officers on a St. Catherine street west apartment building.

Police said Zollo had rented the apartment. Seized in the raid were betting slips for horse racing.
