PLAYTOWN MAYORS TAKE OATH

Linda Harper of 60 Selby street, a three-year-old member of the Westmount Playground police force, takes over as crossing guardian and hands out a ticket to speeding tricycle driver who happens to be her brother Jack.

The event drew a large crowd of Westmount citizens who seemed to enter wholeheartedly into the spirit of the occasion.

Mayor Cameron R. Panet-Raymond Install Officers

After a heated campaign in the three organized playgrounds in the City of Westmount, the young officials and winners of the elections were invested into their role of office at the inauguration ceremony held last Thursday evening at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Driving up in a beautiful convertible, courtesy of Mr. D. R. McFarlane, Vice-President of Town and Country Motors, Terry Grey of Staynor Park, Roland Hersen of Westmount Park and Bobby Cote of Prince Albert Park — the three young mayors, headed the parade and accepted the plaudits of the crowd with decorum befitting their important roles.

With all the dignity of his position, young Police Chief David Jones rode in Chief Byford's police car and Fire Chief Kenny Lyons, followed in Chief Cobb's beautiful red fire Chief's machine.

Following these officials came the supporters from the various playgrounds, with colorful bedecked tricycles, wagons, scooters, doll carriages and gaily decorated bicycles.

On the stage, Mayor J. S. Cameron with Aldermen R. Panet-Raymond, R. L. Campbell, R. H. Dean and A. Kennedy, and T. J. Hughes, Assistant General Manager and the Superintendent of Parks E. J. Anderson and Superintendent of Recreation, L. J. Fournier were all on hand to meet the newly-elected youngsters.

Mayor Cameron received the Playtown officials and spoke briefly, expressing hope "for the best possible use of the playgrounds and recreation centres" in the city. He also told them that he would be happy to have a report from them at the end of the year, giving any possible suggestions they may have gathered.

Alderman R. Panet-Raymond, with his usual savoir faire, presented the Playtown Mayors with crests and keys to the city, and the other officials with crests.

He administered the Playtown pledge which was solemnly repeated by all: "I pledge myself to uphold the honour of the Playgrounds by offering sound judgment and leadership during my term of office; To be loyal to my playmates, playground and country; To win modestly and lose gamely. I pledge myself to uphold the honour of young Canadian manhood and sportsmanship".

The three mayors and police and fire chiefs made short speeches thanking the voters for electing them to office and promising to carry out their duties in a fitting manner.

At the closing of the ceremony, the first sing song of the season further entertained the large crowd of spectators who turned up for this event.

Herb Linder, Senior Recreation Supervisor, organized and directed the proceedings again this year, and is to be congratulated on the excellence of the arrangements connected with the ceremony.

Westmount Girls Injured in Crash Corner of Draper

Marie Elie, 13, 4894 Westmount avenue, suffered head cuts in an accident on Monday whilst riding as a passenger in an automobile driven by her 17 year old sister Ghislaine.

Marie suffered head cuts when the vehicle collided with another car at the intersection of Draper avenue and Cote St. Antoine road at 3:30 p.m.

Both girls were taken to the Homoeopathic Hospital. Ghislaine Elie who suffered shock was released after treatment.

Camp Westmount Boys Visit Bank

The boys from Camp Westmount, the Westmount Y.M.C.A. summer camp in the city, had the time of their lives on Tuesday afternoon when they visited the Bank of Montreal's Place d'Armes office. A total of 42 boys were given a personally conducted tour through the Railway Department, the Mailing Department, and the vast underground vaults containing millions of dollars.

An experience the boys will never forget will be a view of over a million dollars in new bills stacked in neat piles of various denominations.

In addition, the boys were shown several compartments full of bonds and the intricate alarm system and vault combinations were explained to them.

The trip was organized through the courtesy of Mr. G. L. Earle, Public Relations Department, and Mr. Gilbert Rheaume.

Following the tour, Mr. Rheaume outlined the history of the Bank of Montreal, and explained to the boys the value of saving.

Following this the boys were guests of the Bank for refreshments.

New Push-Button Garage To be Built in Westm't

Plans for the erection of a $3,000,000 push button parking garage on Atwater avenue which will extend into Westmount on the site of the field now used by the Atwater Ball League, which changed hands recently, were announced on Tuesday, by the legal firm of Vipond and Vipond, which is acting as co-ordinator between United States and Canadian interests.

The new-type underground garage which will accommodate 1,520 parked automobiles, will be incorporated in the buildings to be erected on the Atwater park location.

The cars will be stowed away in individual compartments by means of simultaneously moving horizontal and vertical elevators, called the B. N. Rosenbaum Q-B-KL parking system.

Behind the project is a small energetic 73-year old New Yorker named Benjamin N. Rosenbaum.

Mr. Rosenbaum first got the idea for such mammoth elevator-equipped garages some years ago while travelling by train from California, and he now claims that he has more than 65 applications from various points all over the U.S. and Canada.

The basic principle of the fast-action garages is the operation of elevators that can roll the length of the garage on rails. No ramps are used. Two men on the ground and another two on the elevator—one to drive the car—form the necessary teams for the 80 seconds parking. There are five such elevators included in the plans for the garage.

It is expected that construction of the garage will start around October.

Residents Lament Shaking of Mops From Upper Flats

Following a number of complaints by residents in Westmount, City Hall officials have pointed out that they will exercise the law regarding the shaking of mops and rugs from upper verandahs and windows.

According to the Westmount City Council, a number of complaints have been received regarding this offense, and a City Hall official pointed out this week, that such action is contrary to Section 46 of the Provincial Health by-law.

He appealed to all residents to observe the law, and said he hoped further action would not be necessary.

Footwear should be made to fit the feet—not the other way round. Otherwise, they can prove painful and tiring and may cause corns and bunions.

Westmount Students Visit Tower

Westm't Resident Loses Baby Bonus Tax Appeal

The Income Tax Appeal Board ruled against an appeal by John McNider Charlebois, of 30 Thornhill avenue, Westmount.

The decision also ruled out an identical appeal by Malcolm H. N. Gruner of the Town of Mount Royal by the ruling many of whom may be affected. The decision handed down is of particular interest to Westmounters. The Board ruled that a parent who does not register eligible children for family allowances cannot claim the income tax deduction given those with children not qualified for allowances.

In the tax assessments which they appealed, Mr. Charlesbois and Mr. Gruner claimed a $300 deduction from taxable income for each child, since they had not been registered for family allowances and the allowances had not been received.

However, the Board ruled that the Income War Tax Act provided that, whether or not a child was registered, if it were eligible for allowance, it must be regarded as "qualified" for the payments under the act.

Parents with children "qualified" under the act may deduct only $100 per child from taxable income, compared with $300 for those not qualified.

In dismissing the two appeals the Board commented:

"The Legislature (Parliament) did not intend to leave to the discretion of each individual the choice of registering or not registering his children, but intended that all children who qualified otherwise be considered as such where the provisions of the Income Tax Act were concerned".

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Young Adult Section: Tonight at 8.30 p.m., is a time when fun is guaranteed for those of all tastes in a variety program. The events of the evening are in the capable hands of Ronald Hosking, who schedules a dance followed by a refreshing splash in that popular place—the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool. Be not disappointed ye bridge fiends for tables will also be set up for you who prefer a quiet and though-provoking game like bridge to the somewhat more strenuous social activity of dancing. There will even be time for you to take part in all three activities, so bring a swim suit and come prepared for a really good evening of fun with your friends. If we are not your friends yet, then by all means turn up and we will rectify that situation quickly.

Next Friday, July 21, a weiner roast is what we are hoping for; let us know what you think of the idea and watch this paper for the details next week.

Sunday, July 23, has been set as special events day for August. The program is a boat cruise on the St. Lawrence. Let Ron Hosking know if you plan to attend so arrangements for getting tickets may be made.

Now, until we see you—which will be tonight, goodbye, and don't forget 8:30 p.m. sharp.

Boys' Department
Boys Visit Camp Perrot: 19 boys from Camp Westmount

made an overnight trip to Camp Perrot last Thursday night. Under the guidance of Bill Johnstone, the Camp Director, the boys left the city Thursday afternoon, and, after a swim, delicious supper, a game of "Capture the Flag" and stories under the stars, slept in a tent which the lads erected. The boys returned Friday afternoon. Next trip this coming Thursday afternoon.

Family Night: Tonight at 7:30 the boys of Camp Westmount will be hosts to their mothers and dads, brothers and sisters. Following a family swim starting at 7:30, there will be a short program, at which the swimming awards and ribbons for the Inter-Y Track Meet, held recently at N.D.G. Y.M.C.A., will be given out.

Bruce Campbell Visits Camp Westmount: Bruce Campbell, member of the Kamp Kanawana Board and past Senior Section Director of the camp, visited the boys of Camp Westmount on Monday noon and told them several interesting stories of life in a German prisoner-of-war camp. Mr. Campbell, who is at present Advisor to the Eaton's Junior Council, lived for five years with the Eskimos while working with the Hudson's Bay Company, and in 1939 joined the R.C.A.F. and was shot down over Germany in 1941, where he remained a prisoner of war for over four years. The story he told was of the escape at Luckenow, which he participated in. Mr. Campbell is one of the finest story-tellers we have ever heard and the boys are looking forward to his return to Westmount R.M.C.A.

LABOUR AND PENSIONS

Unions Discover New Weapon

The assumption that all advances made by the worker have resulted from the militant activities of organized labor is one that has been carefully cultivated. In recent discussions it has been made to appear that pensions for older workers are a concession reluctantly made by management. The facts are quite to the contrary. The idea of industrial pensions was not wrung from unsympathetic employers but rather originated with them as a matter of sound business policy. Indeed, for years, labor was quite indifferent to the suggestion. To give pensions to older workers was an idea too distant and impersonal to have very much appeal for the average employee.

There were sound reasons why the pension idea was favored by employers. Some of these were outlined by M. B. Folsom, treasurer and director of the Eastman Kodak Company, in a recent address to industry. Mr. Folsom pointed out that as industries grew in age, employees tended to age with them. That posed a management problem of how to deal with older workers. There were three courses; to keep the employee on the payroll for life, which involved reduced efficiency in operation while it imposed a charge that did not appear as pensions but was part of general costs. Or management could release the worker and forget about him. Such a course reacted against the standing of the business in the community, and on the morale of its workers. There remained the third, adopted by thousands of industries without any suggestion of compulsion from labor — pension plans adapted to the needs of the older worker and the ability of the industry to provide for them.

Labor's interest in pensions began as the rise in living costs began to taper off, and with this the justification for recurring wage demands. It needed a new fighting policy and found it in pensions, and quickly seized the idea as its own. It was fairly obvious that as in the case of wages, labor would press for continually increasing advantages. Demands would be made on industries with little ability to meet the demand, and steadily increasing demands on those more fortunate. The pattern of $100 monthly set by the steelworkers' strike decision would be only the beginning. It was quickly evident that this was the program. The United Automobile Workers' demand from General Motors was for pensions of $125 monthly, while President Walter Reuther of the U.A.W. was triumphantly announcing: "Brick by brick we are laying the foundation until our pension plan represents a return of $200 a month. Give us ten years and we will reach that goal."

The point of issue is not: Shall older workers be suitably pensioned? Industry, of its own volition, and long ago, decided on that course. The issue now is: Will exorbitant pension demands by labor push this

Christian Science

"Life", is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 27:1.

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:—

"For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is not hidden from thee, neither is it far off. I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live: that thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for his is thy life, and the length of thy days:" (Deuteronomy 30: 11, 19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. The continual contemplation of existence as material and corporeal — as beginning and ending, and with birth, decay, and dissolution as its component stages — hides the true and spiritual Life, and causes our standard to trail in the dust. If Life has any starting point whatsoever, then the cause to a place where it is hopelessly inoperable, or will industry be permitted to formulate and develop pension plans as generous as it is possible to maintain under any conditions of good times or bad? — J.L.R.

THE FORGOTTEN CONSUMER

Mr. Justice Heon Gives Him A Break

That forgotten man, the consumer, has been picked up off the road where he was run over by prices, some years ago. He has been dusted off and given new hope. This has come about by the decision of Mr. Justice Héon in the individualistic province of Quebec. As chairman of a board dealing with the employees' demands in the Montreal tramways wage case, the judge announced that it would be impossible to grant these demands, since this would inevitably produce an increase in fares and that would be unjust to passengers, most of whom got lower wages than the tramways employees.

This is news. It has seemed for a long time that the one thing that must not be mentioned in connection with a wage dispute is that wage increases also bring price increases.

On his record of many years in public life, Mr. Justice Héon is as sympathetic to workers as may be anyone else in the country. What he said to the tramways workers is the truth. They would be money in pocket if every wage dispute for the rest of this year ended as this one has so far ended, in a frank statement to workers that there can be no wage increases, except in case of grave injustices to employees, because wage increases mean price increases. Canadian workers would still remain well paid by any standard, prices would stabilize, sales would continue brisk, and the country would avoid the danger of renewed inflationary pressure.

OUR GROWING POPULATION

We Could Support Fifty Millions

Canada's population rose 59,000 in the three-month period from December 1st, 1949, to March 1st this year, to reach 13,766,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated last month.

Obviously, at this birth and immigration rate, it will be but a matter of months before Canada tops the fourteen million mark.

Visionaries behold the day when Canada, already an industrial, agricultural and economic power, will be a political power by virtue of a population in some semblance of proportion to her land mass. This, however, is a subject for the economists to debate. Will Canada ever be that populous and can the country's natural resources tolerate such a population?

The above is from "Industry", published by the Canadian Manufacturers Association.

Economists estimate that, on the basis of present information, Canada can support a population of fifty millions, at least. How much more depends on the wealth that lies in our vast Northland, hardly scratched as yet.

Much of the national advertising I see is wasted on me because I don't know where to purchase the merchandise. "Sold at better stores" is meaningless. The advertisers should be more specific.

Women who dress like men seem to like men who act like women.

Westmount Baptist Church carries its regular programme of services, morning and evening through the Summer. The church buildings are delightfully cool but visitors are assured of a warm reception. An unusual feature inaugurated this Summer is the Church Steps Song Service which precedes the evening service and which is conducted by the Westmount Youth Chorus.

The sermon titles for Sunday are significant. That of the morning will be — Chariot! Stand Still! Too many people are at the mercy of momentum. We step on the accelerator and forget all about the brakes. He was a wise man who "Commanded the chariot to stand still." The worship service of the church is the place where speeding chariots are brought to a standstill and where the occupants give themselves a chance to meet with God.

In the evening Dr. Johnston will be assisted by a group of young men. The brief sermon theme will be — Ready Disciples and Appearing Master. When the Disciple is Ready the Master Appears. Multitudes who could have a thrilling experience of Christ never have it because they are never ready. The world is made up of two classes — The Ever-Ready People and the Never-Ready People. A famous Scottish Regiment has as its Watchword: "Ready Aye Ready." The Mid-week Fellowship of the Congregation is carried throughout

Miss Mary Cramp Dead Was Well Known Teacher

Miss Mary Cramp, one of the founders of Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School, established in Montreal in 1909, died at her residence, 4992 Grosvenor avenue, Westmount, on Thursday, at the age of 81 years.

Born in Coventry, England, Miss Cramp was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cramp.

She was privately educated, and first taught at Miss Douglas' School in London, England. In January 1900 she joined the staff of Havergal College, in Toronto, and from 1906-09 taught at Miss Spencer's School (now The Spence School) in New York City.

She came to Montreal in 1909* when she and Miss Maud Edgar, daughter of the late Sir James Edgar, Canadian Parliamentarian — established their own school. Miss Cramp devoted her energies almost exclusively to the school which has produced graduates from Canada, United States and England.

Many Westmount girls are graduates of the school, besides a host of women who have made their mark in various fields. To name only a few of those who passed through the school there are: Lillias Torrance Newton, R.C.A., Canadian portrait painter; Sally Tack Ryan, sculptress now of New York; Mrs. Eric Harrington, a former president of the Junior League of Montreal; Mrs. Mary Elder, newly elected president of the Women's Canadian Club of Montreal; Miss Kathleen Fisher, member of Montreal City Council; Miss Elizabeth Fisher, president of the Montreal

Jos. Dieudonne Le Brun Died Here on Sunday

Joseph Dieudonne Le Brun died at his residence, 1017 Greene avenue, Westmount, on Sunday, at the age of 80 years.

He is survived by his widow, the former Philomene Fauteux, a son, Lucien, and a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Guibault.

The funeral was held on Wednesday from the Urgel Bourgie Funeral Home, 2630 Notre Dame street, west, to Ste. Therese Church.

Interment took place in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

branch Y.W.C.A.; and Mrs. Mary Dover, member of the Calgary City Council and a prominent member of the Women's Army Corps in which she held the rank of colonel in the second world war, and at one time was commandant at Macdonald College. Mrs. Dover is also prominent in the Alberta Command of the dian Legion.

Miss Edgar and Miss Cramp published a book in 1931 called "Eternal Youth", which was a compilation of their addresses to their students.

In 1940 the two founders of the school retired, when Miss Maysie MacSporran, a graduate of the school, became its principal.

The original school was opened on Guy Street, just below Sherbrooke, but was moved some years ago to its present location on Cedar Avenue.

Commenting on Miss Cramp's death, Miss MacSporran said:

"In Miss Cramp the educational world has lost a personality of towering strength. To-day there are hundreds of women who will never forget her vivid lessons in literature, history of architecture, and history of painting. It is, however, not the subject matter alone which lingers, but the profound faith which animated the teacher. She had deep and abiding convictions about the underlying meaning and purpose of life and this she conveyed unforgettably to her girls. It was one of the great satisfactions of her life to correspond with the 'old girls' far and near and they all marvelled at the volume of her interests. For them life will always be richer for having known her".

A private funeral was held on Saturday. A memorial service has been arranged for next autumn.

Ex. Offers Prizes To Hat Trimmers

Is there an easier way to win $50 than by trimming a hat when all the latest and gayest materials are provided? That's the question the women's director of the Canadian National Exhibition asks in announcing the big Trim Your Own Hat competition to take place at the Exhibition. "Women have always been notorious for the styles of their hats," she points out. "Why not cash in on this feminine foible which is open to all women with nimble fingers and a flair for fashion?"

Hat shapes, millinery trim such as flowers, ribbons and veiling, wire, pliers, scissors, needles and thread will be supplied by the C.N.E. Cash prizes of nearly $150 will be awarded for workmanship, cleverness of trim and suitability of the hat to the entrant. The hat will be modelled and judged on the entrant. Entry forms may now be obtained by writing to the Women's Division, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ontario. Last day for prospective contestants to get their entries in is Aug. 14. Competition is scheduled for Sept. 5 in the afternoon. Professionals are not eligible.

REAL CABBAGE?

Such cabbage Mrs. John O. Peterson seldom had seen! She didn't realize what a bargain she got at a Los Angeles grocery until she arrived home and opened her shopping bag. Out popped a paper sack full of greenbacks — with enough change to bring the total to $86.75. An absent minded clerk had stuffed it in her bag instead of a head of cabbage. Mrs. Peterson turned it over to police, who gave it back to Munson.

BRUSH IT FIRST!

Shampooing your furniture this summer? If you are be sure to vacuum it thoroughly first, says Miss Dorothy Iwig, of the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture. If you don't have a vacuum cleaner, a good whisk broom is second best. It is important to remove surface dust and dirt, Miss Iwig advises, so that it won't spread during the shampooing process.

Salmon Mold Is an Inexpensive Summer Treat

Canned fish makes perfect summer dishes with very little kitchen work. Furthermore, both pink salmon and sardines are among the cheapest protein foods attainable.

Summer Salmon Mold (Serves 6)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 large can salmon, flaked.

Soften gelatin in milk in top of double boiler. Beat together egg yolks, salt, mustard and paprika. Add small amount of milk to the egg yolk mixture and return mixture to double boiler. Cook over hot, not boiling, water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and cool. Stir in lemon juice and fish. Turn into fish mold or loaf pan and chill until firm. Unmold and serve garnished with crab apples and parsley.

Summer Salmon Mold is an easily-prepared and inexpensive warm weather dish.

Broiled Maine Sardine Canapes (Makes 8 Canapes)

Drain 2 cans (3¼ ounce) Maine sardines. Mix 2 tablespoons butter with 1 teaspoon dry mustard and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Spread the sardines with this mixture. Crush about 8 saltines. Dip the sardines in the cracker crumbs. Broil them quickly — about 5 minutes. Serve them on toast strips with parsley and lemon wedges.

Sardine-Staffed Cucumbers (Serves 4)

Slice off ends of two tender young cucumber. Remove centers with an apple corer. (Keep centers and chop and mix with canned tomato soup for a quick, unusual soup.) Mash 1 can (3¼ ounce) Maine sardines. Mix with 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 small onion (minced) and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stuff sardine mixture into hollowed-out cucumbers. Score cucumber skins with a fork. Wrap stuffed cucumber in waxed paper or aluminum foil and chill thoroughly. Slice and serve on crisp lettuce with a spoonful or two of sour cream.

make the housewife's tasks easier. Visitors to the C-I-L Exhibit Centre, Confederation Building, had a chance to compare the two kitchens yesterday afternoon, when a new display illustrating the role of chemistry in the kitchen, was opened. Two complete kitchens, one of the 1900 vintage and the other an ultra-modern one, form a major part of the display. New finishes and plastics, particularly, have contributed much to the modern kitchen — the finishes for the enameling of stoves and refrigerators, and the plastics for everything from dishes and bowls, measuring spoons and kitchen radio cabinets to stove switches and iron handles. Nylon also has its place in the C-I-L display. Two members of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, Rose Gournoyer and Celyne Langlais, give continual demonstrations of the proper sewing methods when using nylon. A sound and color film, "This is Nylon," is also being shown. The present exhibit will be open to the public for three weeks.

Apple Flake Griddle Cakes

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, beaten, 1¼ cups milk, 1 cup bran flakes or wheat flakes, 3 tablespoons melted fat, 1 cup thick applesauce.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg and milk; add to the dry ingredients, beating only until smooth. Slightly crush bran flakes or wheat flakes and fold them in. Add fat. Drop by large spoonfuls on a lightly greased griddle. Turn to brown on both sides. Spread each cake as soon as baked with applesauce, keeping hot in oven. Pile cakes in a stack. Serve hot with syrup.

Let's Eat

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"There is a salad dressing that you use in this country that is not known in French cooking," remarked the chef. "I mean the cooked salad dressing. We always use French dressing or mayonnaise, or sometimes a sour cream dressing. The Canadian cooked salad dressing seems to me more like a sauce."

"It really is a sauce, chef. Most cooked salad dressings, while hot, are good on cooked greens, broiled or boiled fish, or they can be used with hot boiled potatoes, cauliflower, broccoli or steamed sliced cabbage. And we use cooked salad dressings also in making hot potato or string bean salad. But when cold they are especially good in potato, veal, ham or fish salads because they are so flavorful."

"When I was a young girl in my mother's home, one of my regular Saturday morning tasks was to make a jar of cooked cream salad dressing. This was refrigerated and used during the week on cold cooked dandelion greens, cole slaw

Serve Plenty Of Dairy Foods In Summertime

Cool, nourishing dairy food dishes go naturally with hot summer days. This summer nature and science have combined to give us more milk cows and greater yield of milk per cow, so that this may well be a banner year for milk production.

Take advantage of this rich supply and use lots of milk and dairy foods this summer for good nutrition, good eating and good budgeting. Appetites wilted by summer heat will perk up at the sight of a tall glass of cold milk, the snowy whiteness of sour cream, the frozen goodness of ice cream, or a cool mound of cottage cheese on a crisp green salad.

The generous supply of nutrients in milk is available in any form that milk is taken. Ice cream, for example, is one way to "drink" milk that requires no urging. It is an excellent quick-energy source, if eaten as a between-meal snack. Plain or dressed up, ice cream is an ideal dessert for summer meals.

Another form of milk with especial appeal in summer is cottage cheese. It is made from skim milk (reducers take notice) and because it is a concentrated form of milk, it contains more protein, phosphorus and riboflavin by weight than whole milk. Its smooth texture and bland favor lend it to many uses in spreads, baked foods and all sorts of salads.

Constantly increasing in popularity is sour cream. This dairy food, with the consistency of thick whipped cream and the tangy taste of buttermilk, is a great mixer. It is a good base for dressings and sauces. Because of its high fat content, it can be used to replace part or all of the fat called for in recipes for pancakes, waffles, muffins, biscuits, cakes and cookies, as well as to replace the milk.

It serves as a garnish on pancakes and salads, and in cold soups such as borscht (beet soup). In summer it makes a cooling and nutritious main dish mixed with assorted cut-up salad vegetables, or with strawberries, sliced peaches or other fruit.

Quick Potato Soup (4 servings)

One and one-half cups cubed potatoes, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 tablespoon fat, ¾ cup boiling water, 2 cups milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper.

Cook potatoes, onion and fat in the water until potatoes are tender. Add milk, salt and pepper. Heat until almost boiling.

Roast Round Steak For Different Rolls

If you like veal birds you'll like these "rouladen." Get the butcher to cut you some round steak as thin as he can. Then have this cut into oblongs about 2 by 4 inches. Allow two oblongs per person.

On each piece of steak put a slice of bacon, not cooked, a couple of thin rounds of onion, a sprinkle of parsley and a thin strip of dill pickle. Season with salt and pepper, roll up and secure with toothpicks. Brown the rolls in butter in a hot frying pan. Then remove to a roaster, and make gravy of the stock by thickening with a little flour, pour over rolls, and top with a crust of rye bread. Simmer slowly for two hours, adding bouillon if needed. Remove the crust of bread, put the rolls on a hot platter and pour the gravy over them.

TOBY TALKS

Hollywood's ace talking dog, Toby, has joined Glenn Ford and Edmund O'Brien in Paramount's spy story, "Beyond The Sunset". Toby is a German police dog who can wimper, laugh, whine or weep on visual cue from his trainer. He can also say Gesundheit when anyone sneezes.

Fruit Soups Are Treat on Warm July Days

The beautiful rose-colored fruit soups so well known to Ontario and Michigan Dutch housewives and our cooks of Scandinavian ancestry are ideal for "dog days". You can use red currants, or berries (red or black raspberries, huckleberries and blackberries), apples and orange or even plums. Season subtly with cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Garnish with slices of fresh fruit and serve cold.

Chilled Orange Soup (Serves 4)

One and one-half cups orange juice (seeds removed but not strained), ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice, 10 whole cloves, pinch of salt, 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice, 1½ teaspoons quick-cooking tapioca.

Simmer juices, sugar, cloves and salt for 5 minutes. Remove cloves. Add tapioca and bring to full rolling boil. Cool and chill, stirring 2 or 3 times. Serve in soup cups garnished with slice of orange, a maraschino cherry and a sprig of mint.

Chilled Apple Soup (Serves 6-7)

Three cups diced tart red apples, skins and all, 2 cups water, 2 2-inch sticks cinnamon, 8 whole cloves, pinch of salt, ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind, 2 teaspoons quick-cooking tapioca.

Mix all ingredients except tapioca. Simmer 15 minutes. Mash apples with spoon or potato masher after 10 minutes. Press through sieve. Add tapioca and bring to full rolling boil. Cool and chill. Serve garnished with a sprinkle of nutmeg.

Chilled Grape-Soup (Serves 6)

Four cups purple grapes, crushed (or 3 cups bottled grape juice, no water), ½ cup water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup orange juice, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup sugar, 1 2-inch stick cinnamon, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon quick-cooking tapioca.

Cook gently all ingredients, except tapioca, for 15 minutes. Put through fine sieve, add tapioca and bring to full rolling boil. Cool and chill. Garnish with slices of lemon or orange, if desired.

GOOD BALANCE

If you want to establish good eating habits make sure that you have a well-balanced lunch every day. Soup made with milk, sandwiches of meat or fish, a vegetable or a salad, and a fruit dessert makes one of the most nutritious midday meals.

French - Fried Shrimp

1 cup flour
1-2 teaspoon sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup ice water
2 tablespoons melted fat or salad oil
2 pounds fresh uncooked shrimp

Combine all ingredients, except shrimp; beat well. Peel shell from shrimp, leaving last section and tail intact. Cut slit through center back, without severing either end; remove black line. Dry shrimp thoroughly; dip in batter, holding the shrimp by the tail. Fry in deep hot fat (375 deg.) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6 to 8 as a main course or 12 to 16 as hors d'oeuvres.

Whole Green Peppers Filled With Sausages and Onions

Everyone likes stuffed green peppers, including the family budget. Try this recipe — it has character.

Sausage Stuffed Peppers (8 servings)

Four large green peppers, 1 pound sausage meat, 1 tablespoon grated onion, ½ cup chopped celery, 1½ cups cooked rice, ¼ teaspoon Tabasco, one 8-ounce can tomato sauce.

Wash peppers; cut in half lengthwise. Remove seeds but not stems. Place in boiling salted water and boil 5 to 8 minutes or until brown and meat separates into particles. Drain off drippings. Add onion and celery.

Cook about 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add rice and Tabasco; mix well. Stuff peppers. Place in 11 x 6 x 2-inch baking dish. Spoon tomato sauce over peppers. Pour a small amount of water (about ¼ cup) in bottom of dish so peppers do not stick. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes.

Menu making can be much easier, and you can cut food costs, too, if you plan meals several days in advance. Study market reports and your local markets before you begin. Use as many

REMINISCENT

HOLLYWOOD, July 13 — It's just about 13 years since your pillar filler first set foot in Hollywood. Fresh out of Sir George Williams College, where I majored in tardiness and slumber, I bought an ancient DeSoto for $75, joined forces with Roby Kidd and Lawson Reid, and set out for California via Toronto, Calgary, Banff and Lake Louise, Vancouver, Seattle and San Francisco. The car turned over on Roby's arm at Bassano, Alberta, and we stayed there ten days while doctors patched him up. Roby left us in Vancouver, but Lawson and I completed the trip. Shortly after arriving in Los Angeles the car was smashed a second time, and I sold it for $10, out of which I paid $3 towing charge, $3 duty, and $3 storage until the junk man carted it away. With the remaining dollar I bought a hamburger and saw a ball game.

Reid and I, eventually returned to Montreal by bus. I don't know where Lawson lives today. Kidd is now a successful executive in the Canadian Y.M.C.A., married and a happy parent. I've probably made the least progress of the trio! I was pounding a typewriter then, and I'm still at it. Moreover, despite my labors for several other bosses — including The Toronto Daily Star, The Montreal Standard, Liberty Magazine and Paramount Pictures — I've somehow continued to fill this column weekly for 17 years, excepting only three years during the war.

You might call it habit. A guy gets in a rut, you know. You might call it sentimentality. Hughie McCormick hired me at one cent a line when I was 14. I wrote a radio column and was constantly in hot water. People were always trying to get me fired. This must have given Hughie an exaggerated impression of my importance, for he kept me on. However, the cent-a-line rate was ultimately scrapped. McCormick now pays me about the equivalent of an after-dinner top to the waiter at the Brown Derby! But it's fun.

I well recall that first visit to the cinema city. Reid and I visited all the tourist's haunts — Grauman's Chinese forecourt, the Coconut Grove, Forest Lawn Cemetery. With a brazen daring I lack today, I gave the film studios a line a mile wide, and Reid and I were given the regal treatment. Little did I dream that a few years later I'd cash a studio paycheck every week. I see the bull fights at Tijuana. I've not forgotten a matador slicing off the dead bull's ears and tossing them to his lady fair in her ringside box seat. Paulette Goddard was there. I think she still is. At least she hasn't been in any movies recently.

The years have a way of skidding by. Next week I'll be 33. My scalp is balding and my tummy starting to bulge. My pop has a pot and my posture is no better than his. I've been through a war, covered some thrilling yarns — everything from creation of the United Nations to the physical examination of a striptease queen. I can't say I've made much progress professionally or otherwise. My own family isn't particularly fond of my writings. Dad doesn't give two hoots about the movie folk, but Grandma reads me regularly. She's 83 and still a glamor gal in her own right. So it goes.

I don't know how many of you have been along with me these 17 years in print, 13 of them in Hollywood. I suppose most readers eventually become adult and graduate to George Jean Nathan or John McCarten or Thomas Archer or S. Morgan-Powell. They're more scholarly, more analytical.

But, chum, if you want to read something that won't in any way tax your brains, I'm the guy for you!

Robberies in Westmount Net Two-Year Sentence

An unidentified man, whose address was given as Quebec City, and who was recently arrested in Westmount for 13 break-ins and robberies, was given two years in Bordeaux jail by Recorder C. A. Hale of the Westmount Recorders' Court this week.

The man who was found guilty of stealing ladies' undergarments, was found mentally normal by medical authorities, and received the sentence following their report.

Two Excellent Features At The Westmount Theatre Sunday

Gregory Peck in "12 O'Clock High," the mid-century movie which had its triumphant world premiere on the West Coast at the tag end of 1949 and is the first major Hollywood product of 1950, has been announced as the attraction which will start Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

The intimate and yet spectacular dramatic story of "12 O'Clock High" tells, through the eyes of a dozen colorful flyers, of aviation's part in the recent war and the rising prestige of daylight bombing. The definitive aviation film of the war, it contains specially staged crash sequences quite unlike any ever attempted before as well as authentic German and American combat footage not previously released to the public.

The picture stars Peck in the role of General Frank Savage, commander of the fictional 918th Bomb Group, which is reportedly based on the actual history of the 305th Bomb Group. Authors Sy Bartlett and Beirne Lay, Jr., wrote from their own experiences.

The key part of Savage, whose real life prototype is General Frank Armstrong, Peck has called his finest role. And in it he is said to give his finest performance. One of the longest and toughest assignments Peck has ever drawn, the part calls for him to risk his personal stability for the sake of transforming a demoralized, straggling army group at the outset of the war into a trim, efficient fighting unit that had a great deal to do with the winning of it. To accomplish this, General Savage must adopt a steel exterior and drive his men, like himself, hard. Eventually, as he must, he cracks — but not before his job is done, and done well.

Added Attraction

If there's anything funnier than Joan Davis, it hasn't been invented!

To see this vigorous comedienne literally bounce — and skid — through the numerous funny situations created for her especial benefit in Columbia's "The Traveling Saleswoman" is an experience of absolute delight. Miss Davis learned her comedy in the lusty knockabout school, developed a pair of rubbery legs and proceeded to make many people merry with said equipment. With ponderous Andy Devine cast in a romantic role. "The Traveling Saleswoman" provides the hilarious answer to the question as to what made the Wild West wild.

Howard Dimsdale's ingenious script, which kept the theatre resounding with laughter, starts off with a scene that is a classic. Putting Miss Davis at the controls of the machinery in a soap factory could very well lead to Mr. Dimsdale's indictment for "murder," for this scene will probably slay you! With this flying start, Miss Davis then is commissioned as a traveling saleswoman to make the West soap — and laugh — conscious.

Alex Gordon and his little orchestra, newly formed for the engagement, will be a decided asset to the accompaniment of the programs.

Westmount Cricket Club Wins Again, Defeat St. Paul

Westmount Cricket Club chalked up another victory on Saturday afternoon when they won over St. Paul with the score Westmount 73 runs for five wickets to St. Paul 72.

Wilson was the big scorer for Westmount getting a 32 not out, he also took five wickets for 30 runs. Pilgrim's 17 not out together with Wilson's 32 carried the Westmount total to 73.

Edwards who bowls a fast ball but is not very accurate got 3 wickets for St. Paul for 34 runs. Edwards was high man for St. Paul with 18 runs to his credit.

St. Paul who were home team, batted first. Pentecost took five wickets for 18 being slightly more effective than Wilson who had five for 30 runs.

The victory keeps Westmount well up in the average.

DUMFRIES PAGEANT

Each year in Dumfries, there is a week's "pageant of good neighbourliness". This year's celebrations show the neighbourly spirit has extended from individuals to countries. A famous Norwegian male voice choir from Aalesund was in Scotland to take part in the celebrations. These singing Vikings, who formed the Varde Choir in 1926, are now fifty strong.

Westmount Soccer Club Top National League

Westmount soccer club defeated Stelco at Westmount Athletic Grounds on Sunday afternoon by a 1 to 0 score, to capture first place in the standing of the National Soccer League.

Lorne Worsley was again the marksman, although Red Dickson made the play for the winning tally, Worsley merely helping the ball into the far corner.

As a game it was rather listless, but the extreme heat probably had something to do with this.

Gordie Reston missed a grand chance of scoring for Westmount when he took a pass from Willie Menary only to hit goalkeeper Jimmy McAuley's legs with his parting shot, a little to the left or right, and the ball would have been in the net.

There was not much to choose between the two teams, but Westmount got the breaks and the points.

Considering that some of the Westmount players were at one time on Stelco's roster the loss

Paces Colonials To 6-3 Win Over Auto Plymouth

In the games played this week Colonials and Western Taxi climbed up in the league standing.

The Colonials under the 6 hit pitching of Ron Lendon defeated a fighting Girard Auto Plymouth team by the score of 6-3. Both pitchers, Lendon for the Colonials and Allen for the "Carboys", pitched superb ball, but Lendon was able to keep his few hits scattered. Ray Binmore broke up the light ball game in the fifth inning by banging out a double to core 3 runs. This was Binmore's second hit of the night. Tommy Allen got two of his team's 6 hits.

Stars Win 10-2

The Avenue Stars went run wild in the seventh inning to break up a 1-1 ball game and defeat the Police and Fire. The final score was 10-2. Ron Brombell pitching for the Stars had the protection men baffled all the game with his great pitching chore. To aid his cause, brother Doug Brombell had two timely hits to drive in 4 runs. This loss marked the first the Police and Fire have had in 8 games.

In the other game played this week a strong Western Taxi team beat out the Rypts to tune of 18-1. Frank Healey pitched 16 strike out ball for Western, allowing only 4 scattered hits, while his team-mates, headed by Loiseau with 5 hits, Gleason with 4 hits and Tompkins with 3 hits, helped to provide the victory.

Westmount Play Vickers in Cup Game Tonight

Westmount soccer club will play Vickers tonight at the Westmount Athletic Grounds in the first round of the Quebec Provincial Championship, game to commence at 6:45 p.m.

This game was originally scheduled for tomorrow afternoon but has been brought forward owing to other arrangements at the grounds.

Vickers surprised Cancar on Sunday by holding the former Dominion champions to a two all draw so Westmount will be well advised not to take their opponents too lightly, as anything can happen in a cup game.

Dr. Harry J. Stern, rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, Westmount, and Mrs. Stern, sailed on Wednesday.

Richard Swan, Local Boy Member of Weston Party

Richard Swan, 310 Grosvenor avenue, Westmount was one of a group of fifty schoolboys who left Central Station on Wednesday for Quebec, where they boarded the Cunard liner Franconia en route to England.

The boys will spend one month in the British Isles, as guests of Garfield Weston, Canadian born British industrialist.

The visit by the present group of boys marks the start of what is expected to be annual trips to Britain by Canada youths.

The tour is part of a program sponsored by Mr. Weston to cultivate closer relations between Canada and Britain. It began last year with a trip to Canada for 50 British schoolboys; a similar group of British boys is scheduled to arrive in Montreal August 8 to start a one month tour of Quebec and Ontario.

Dr. and Mrs. Stern will visit England, Europe and Israel, during their holiday abroad.

It will be Dr. Stern's fourth trip to Israel, but the first time since the establishment of the Jewish state.

Around the Home...

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

Half the joy of having a garden is having a comfortable chair in a shady nook where you can lounge and enjoy the changing beauty of your surroundings. What's the use of having a garden if you can't take time to sit down and enjoy it? These are the days when the home owner should be able to recline comfortably on a lawn seat in the dense shade of a towering maple... not one task to be done... not a care in the world... sounds like Utopia!

Garden Seats

My own siestas take place in a secluded corner of the garden, well hidden from the surrounding neighbourhood. One of my prize possessions is a garden bench I made last year. True, it isn't the most comfortable piece of furniture in the world, but it is sturdy and wasn't too hard to make—as you can see from the sketch. My pride and joy is the wide bench I built around the trunk of the maple that stands to one side of the patio. It took a bit of fitting to give an attractive natural finish but it has attracted more favourable comment than any other piece of garden furniture I have made.

Garden Pools

If you are like me, you'll have a bird bath and a small pool in clear view to help you relax. Nothing is quite as restful and cooling as the sound of running water and the reflection of blue sky in a still pool. The size of the pool doesn't matter—you'll get the same effect from a small binder wheel set in concrete (mentioned last month), a washtub sunk in the ground or an extensive cement job. When properly planned and planted so that it fits naturally into its surroundings, the size or expense of the pool is immaterial.

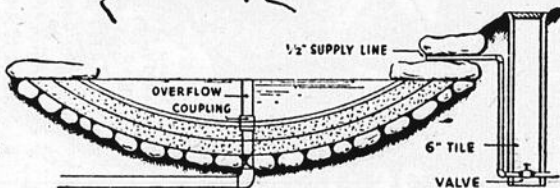

Bird Baths

I could watch my bird bath for hours if work would permit. On a warm afternoon there is a steady procession of bluebirds, chipping sparrows, wrens, song sparrows and robins. The birds do not care how expensive the bath was. As long as the water is fresh, clean and not too deep, they will use it regularly. Between the two extremes illustrated are a host of styles and designs.
