VOL. XI. No. 19 WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1940 PRICE:—TWO CENTS

BOARD TO REORGANIZE SCHOOL SYSTEM

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION CONDUCTS CONTEST; MANY VALUABLE PRIZES OFFERED

Limerick Competition Appears in this Issue of Westmount Examiner—Open to All Residents 16 Years of Age and Over — Nothing to Buy — First Prize is Beautiful Squirrel Scarf

Offering many valuable prizes, and plenty of good fun for added measure, the Business Association of Westmount is sponsoring a Limerick Contest in The Examiner and a full page of advertisements containing limericks appears in this issue. A second set, providing contestants with additional opportunities to win, is to appear next week.

So successful have been previous undertakings conducted by the association, in which residents have been invited to participate, that they are now eagerly looked forward to and the current contest is expected to result in a veritable avalanche of entries.

Many Prizes

The prize list in the contest is particularly attractive and should set all "last liners" at work in record time. First prize is a beautiful Squirrel scarf of a value of $22, donated by Bleau and Rousseau, furriers; second, a Nestle permanent wave worth $5, donated by the Lafrance Beauty Parlor; third, picnic jug, value $3.50, donated by the J. Pascal Hardware; fourth, Yardley's toilet set, value $2.50, donated by Harte's Drugs; fifth, basket of fruit, value $2, donated by Thrift-Stop and Shop; sixth, two-pound box of chocolates, value $1.50, donated by Denyse Chocolates; seventh, carton of Davidson's assorted jellies, value $1.50, donated by Davidson's Pure Food Products.

The awards will be presented at the association's "Citizens' Night" meeting to be held in Victoria Hall on the evening of May 30.

Every prize on the list is well worth the while of any contest entrant and when the fun of writing the last lines is added to the possibility of winning an award the reasons for entering become two-fold.

All residents of Westmount 16 years of age and over are eligible to enter and all have an equal opportunity to win. Complete information, including rules of the contest, will be found on the full page advertisement sponsored jointly by members of the Business Association elsewhere in this issue.

To Improve Business

The contest is being conducted with the single purpose of improving business conditions locally by acquainting residents with the desirability of trading with district merchants and entails no obligations of any sort. Entrants will not be required to purchase goods or services offered by the advertisers.

It should be particularly noted by contestants that their entries must be submitted to the store or stores sponsoring the individual ads containing the uncompleted limericks.

In keeping with limerick form of composition the last line must rhyme with the first two and should be in the correct meter.

Entries should in no instance be sent to the office of the Examiner, as they will automatically be disqualified; the contest is be-

Highlighted by an excellent program of entertainment, prominent platform guests and many valuable door prizes, a "Citizens' Night," open to residents of the municipality, will be held by the Business Association of Westmount in Victoria Hall on the evening of May 30, it was announced by the organization yesterday.

Guests of honor are expected to include Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., members of the aldermanic body, Douglas C. Abbott, K.C., M.P., and Gordon W. Hyde, K.C., M.P.P.

At an executive meeting of the association Monday night the seven-member delegation that was recently received by the City Council stated that its visit to the City Hall had been a complete success and that the mayor and aldermen had commended the efforts of the association to improve business here. Reverend Captain G. R. Forneret, V.D., former curate of St. Matthias Church and a resident of Metcalfe avenue, has joined the Machine Gun Training Centre at Trois Rivières, as Chaplain, it is announced in the "Weekly Traverse," official publication of the training base. Capt. Forneret was Chaplain to the unit when it was located at the Westmount Athletic Grounds some months ago so his duties at Trois Rivières will be familiar to him.

The text of the article in the "Traverse," follows:

All ranks of the M.G.T.C. are glad to welcome back an old friend, Capt. G. R. Forneret, V.D. who has been Chaplain to the Centre since its inception in Montreal and is now rejoining his unit at the new station in Trois-Rivières.

Capt. Forneret has had a long military career, but not all of it has been spent with the Canadian

W. Watson, Crippled but Happy, Is Rotary Speaker

Willim R. Watson, noted Canadian author and artist and a speaker who really personified his topic of "Why Worry," addressed the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall yesterday.

Lacking the use of both arms, Mr. Watson manages to go through life in a care-free manner that would be the envy of many men with full use of all their limbs. Mr. Watson laughs at trouble and has been able to surmount all misfortunes with an ease that is little short of amazing.

By using his feet and teeth he can shave himself, write, paint—in fact accomplish almost anything that he could if he had the use of his hands and arms.

Worry, Mr. Watson contends, is a child appropriated by man for absolutely no reason whatsoever. Nature, he said, compensated him for the loss of the use of his hands, and it had never failed him.

When a child he learned to use his feet to write with in order to attend school. Later when he attended university to study law Mr. Watson developed his memory to such an extent that it was not necessary for him to take down notes. These he transcribed later at home. When he was 23 years of age he taught himself to write with his mouth.

He wrote the first Canadian autobiography to go into a third printing and is currently the author of "I Give You Yesterday," a best seller which he published himself.

He advised Rotarians never to let worry get the better of them.

The president, J. A. Delalanne, was in the chair.

PROTESTANT COMMISSION WILL ADOPT 6-3-3 PLAN AT OPENING OF NEW TERM

Announcement That Hepburn Recommended System Would Go Into Effect Made Yesterday — All Parents Advised of Change — Westmount High Will Be Transferred to Junior High Building

The 6-3-3 educational system will be put into effect in Protestant public schools here on the opening of the new term in September, it was announced by the School Commissioners of the City of Westmount yesterday.

A statement advising residents of the decision has been mailed to parents of children attending schools under the jurisdiction of the Board.

When the new system comes into effect Westmount will be the first city in the Province of Quebec to adopt the plan that was recommended by the Hepburn report.

Decision to put the plan into effect followed its endorsation by all school and home associations in the city, including that embracing the high schools.

Wide Reorganization

The new system will necessitate wide reorganization of the present arrangement as Westmount High School will be transferred, along with the old name, to the present junior high.

The text of the prepared statement issued today by the board follows:

To Citizens of Westmount:

May 8th, 1940.

Reorganization of the School System

This Board has arranged to adopt next September the complete 6-3-3 plan, a system which was partially put into effect on the opening of the new Argyle School in September 1935.

The 6-3-3 plan means six years in the Elementary School, three years in the Intermediate School and three years in the High School. In other words the child will remain in the Elementary School to the end of Grade VI, he will then go to the Intermediate School for Grades VII, VIII and IX and from there to the High School for Grades X, XI and if he so desires Grade XII. This last grade will remain as at present an alternative to the first year of the McGill University Arts course.

Roslyn Avenue, King's and Queen's Schools will continue as primary schools without material change in their present administration or organization.

High To Change

Upon the opening of the new school year, the Intermediate School will be housed in the present Westmount High School building and will comprise all classes in Grades VII, VIII and IX The High School will be housed in the present Argyle School building but will retain the name of Westmount High School. It will comprise all classes of Grades X, XI and XII.

It will not be possible to make any provision in the Argyle School building for pupils in Grade I. Such pupils who live north of Sherbrooke Street will be accommodated in Roslyn Avenue School. Those who live south of Sherbrooke Street will be accommodated in Queen's School if they live

2 BOYS, WOMAN ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

All Taken To Western Division of Montreal General Following Mishaps Here

Two boys were sent to hospital as a result of bicycle accidents on city streets during the past seven days and a woman was injured when struck by an autobus.

Gordon McLean, of 6282 Mazarin street, suffered a sprained neck muscle when his bicycle was struck by a car driven by H. Gervais, 784 Laurin avenue, opposite 3229 St. Antoine street, at 6 p.m. on Sunday. According to information received by police the accident occurred when the boy rode his bicycle into the path of the car, which was going west, from in front of a stationary automobile.

The driver of the car stopped immediately after the mishap and notified police. The boy was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital by Constables Maxwell and Lessard in a radio car. He was allowed to go home following treatment.

The other boy injured on a bicycle was Earl McCudalen, of 1821 Tupper street, who was thrown to the ground when a pedal on his machine snapped off as he was driving on St. Catherine street near Irvine avenue at 9.30 p.m. on Friday. He sufferred bruises to the head and a bruised right arm and hip. He walked to the Western Hospital.

When she was struck by an autobus on St. Catherine street at the Glen at 8.45 o'clock Friday night, Mrs. Katie Deary, of 979 Lacasse street, was knocked unconscious and was removed by a passing motorist to the Western Division of the Montreal General.

The driver of the bus, Antonio Auger, 977 Agnes street, who was returning to the garage, told police that as he approached the Glen on St. Catherine street, he noticed the woman but thought he had plenty of space to clear her. However she suddenly hesitated and changed her direction without warning, he said.

She was struck by the right front fender of the bus and knocked to the ground. E. L. Johnston, 4750 Meridian avenue, a passing motorist, took her to the hospital.

Annual Spring Clean-Up Being Effected In City

All municipal maintainance departments are currently effecting annual spring repairs throughout the city and installing equipment taken up last fall, it was announced at the City Hall yesterday.

Sidewalks and roadways damaged by frost are being patched up and where necessary re-paved and traffic signs are being overhauled, repainted and where necessary replaced.

The painting of white pedestrian crossing markings at intersections is carried out when weather permits and this work should be completed shortly. Sewer catch basins are getting a thorough cleaning.

Parks in all parts of the city are rapidly taking on a new appearance as Park Department workers rid them of refuse and remove boards put down for hockey and skating rinks last fall. All equipment taken up at the start of the winter, benches, swings and other recreation apparatus, is being replaced and the areas used for cricket and baseball put into shape.

The Parks Department is also re-planting shrubbery in the city's many playgrounds and is preparing for the planting of perennials. Lawns, also, are being repaired.

Trees on parks and boulevards that were damaged or became diseased have, in many instances, been taken down. New ones will be planted.

A wide recreational program for the summer months is also being drawn up and while the city this year is deprived the use of the Athletic Grounds every effort is being made to carry out as complete a schedule of activities as in former years.

Baseball loops, cricket leagues and track and field clubs will carry on as usual although a new practice ground for the latter will have to be arranged for.

Brotherhood To Hold Final Meeting May 2

Under the chairman of George Hollinger, the closing program dinner of the Temple Emanu-El Men's Club will take place on Tuesday evening May 21, when new officers are to be elected. Ladies of the congregation will be guests of the members.

On Tuesday evening, May 28 the social committee of the Men's Club is sponsoring a get-together evening of bridge. Harold Neumann is chairman. This will mark the final Brotherhood Club Night for the season.

RED CROSS TO CONTINUE ITS APPEAL POLICY

Because Red Cross must be prepared to meet emergencies all over the world at a moment's notice and operates in a field entirely its own, the Canadian Red Cross Society, meeting in Central Council in Toronto recently, decided to continue its policy of holding its appeal for funds separate from that of any other body, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Fred W. Routley.

"There has been some suggestion that all war-time appeals should be combinedd in one joint effort," he said, "but there are several reasons why Red Cross cannot join this 'Community Chest' idea. Through the government, we have assumed the unique responsibility of caring for the sick and suffering, while the work of most other organizations engaged in war-time activities is recreational and educational.

"We have no idea how big the demands made upon us will be in the months to come, and so it is impossible for Red Cross to have a fixed budget. We must be free to undertake a campaign at any time, often on short notice.

"We don't know how many Canadian prisoners of war there will be. Our job is to look after them all, for Red Cross is the only organization permitted to provide for prisoners in belligerent countries.

"During the last war, the Canadian Red Cross cared for 2,500 Canadians interned in Germany at one time. The total number during the whole war, was, of course, much larger. We can't tell, either, how many Canadians will lie wounded in hospitals.

"Our hands must be free to act at a moment's notice in any emergency. There is the additional consideration that our contributors must be free to designate the purpose for which they wish their money used. Through Red Cross, huge sums of money have been sent to Poland and Finland."

Disasters

Dr. Routley pointed out that in peace time and war, Red Cross acted immediately when disaster struck anywhere in the world, and especially right here in Canada, such as the tragic explosion in Halifax in 1917, forest-fires, and so on. He referred also to the relief and rehabilitation work done in past years in the Western Canada drought areas and the flood-stricken districts of Western Ontario.

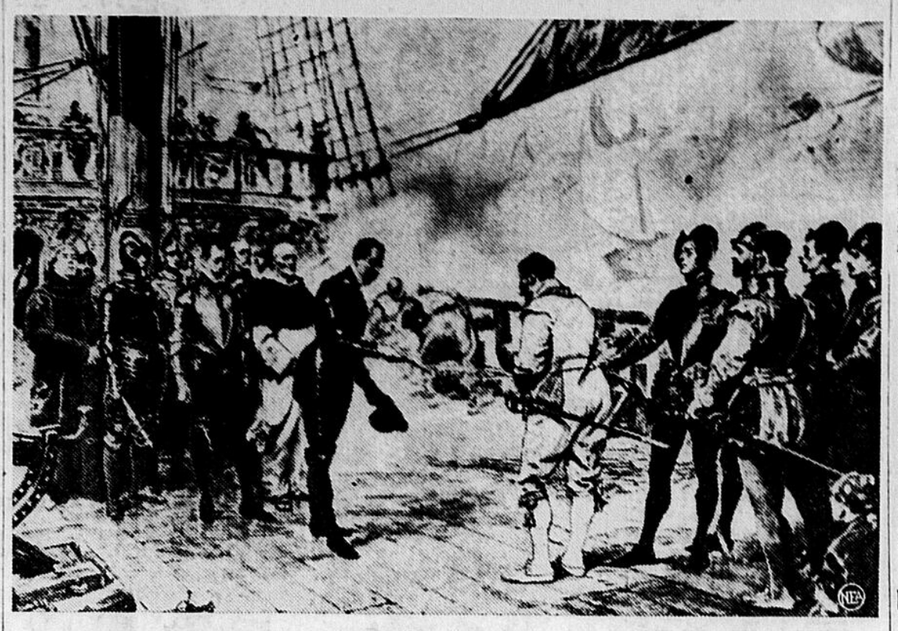

"The extent of Red Cross services can only bbe measured by the willingness and ability of the Canadian people to providde the means. We do all they want us to do, but this very idea would be defeated if we combined our appeal with that of groups doing a different type of work.

Support

"The people of Canada have been right behind us so far in all we have done. They approved our war-time action right from the start, when we cabled $10,000 to England for the relief of victims of the Athenia-torpedoing the day war was declared, and when we had supplies and medical attention ready for these passengers on their return to Canada.

"Red Cross is a missionary organization because the work of every branch goes far beyond the confines of the community in which it is located. Each branch does its part in meeting all emergencies, such as recent earthquake destruction in Turkey. It helps in the upkeep of all services, peace-time and war, provided by Red Cross—health, outpost hospitals, and so on.

English Make It The Vincible Armada

Sir Francis Drake got the admiral's sword after the Spanish learned their armada was not so invincible.

King Philip II of Spain had one of those ambitions men get every once in a while: He wanted to control all of Europe.

Chief obstacle was England. Philip concluded two things must be done—England must be beaten at sea and on land.

On paper it looked easy. Philip set about building a super fleet of galleons and the like, which could do double duty as transport ships. When the Spanish Armada sailed from Lisbon in May, 1588, there were 130 ships, carrying 8,000 sailors and 19,000 soldiers. The fleet was in command of Melina Sidonia, with the Duke of Parma in charge of all operations.

The English got wind of Philip's plan, gloomily surveyed their pathetic fleet of 25 vessels, which was all Queen Elizabeth's penury had allowed. Naval men collected finally 197 vessels of all kinds. About 140 of them finally sailed out to welcome Medina's top-heavy, lumbering galleons. Lord Howard was in command of the British fleet, with Pirates Drake, Hawkins and Frobisher lending spirited assistance.

The Armada came upon Howard's ships at Plymouth. Instead of blocking up the British, Medina elected to join forces with Parma who was hanging around the straits of Dover, waiting for more troops.

This was Lord Howard's break. Howard came out of Plymouth with his fleet on July 31, in a running fight, tantalized outlying ships in the Spanish formation until Medipa put in at Calais to catch his breath a week later.

At dawn, Aug. 8, the English vessels swooped down on the Armada just as the cumbersome galleons were trying to get in some kind of formation off Gravelines, north of Calais. Lord Howard and his patriotic cut-throats let the Spaniards have it with everything they had—which was plenty. English boats mounted artillery guns, and the Spaniards soon discovered bows and muskets couldn't compete with six-inch balls.

By dusk, the Spanish fleet was completely demoralized, ready to cry "Uncle."

The Spaniards ran north, were kicked around again—this time by a storm.

England lost only 100 men. Spanish losses never were added up, but along one strand of English coast, 1100 corpses were counted. In October, 50 Spanish ships finally slunk ingloriously into Spain's Biscay ports.

RESIDENT ENDORSES ASSOCIATION AIM

Typical of the reaction expressed by many residents to the series of advertisements in the Examiner, sponsored by the Business Association of Westmount to stimulate business here, is the following unsolicited letter addressed to J. M. Kennedy, executive-secretary of the organization, by a prominent local citizen:

minent local citizen:

"Dear Sir:

Just a line to advise you that your advertisement in the Westmount Examiner asking Westmount citizens to patronize local merchants is a good idea.

Each year after reading the advertisement I deal with one or two new firms I have not dealt with before and in each case have found them very satisfactory."

While the sender did not authorize the use of his name for publication it is on file with the association.

STEWARDESS TO ENTER CONTEST IN BIRMINGHAM

Will Represent Canada In "Miss American Aviation Competition"

The first representative of Canada in the "Miss American Aviation Contest" to be held in conjunction with the National Air Carnival in Birmingham, Alabama on June 1st and 2nd is charming Miss Mary Veronica Dawson, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dawson of 3501 Montclair Avenue. A recent graduate from Canadian Colonial's stewardess training school, Miss Dawson has completed her familiarization flights over the company's route between Montreal and New York and will soon receive her regular flight duty assignment.

Her winning smile, the sparkle in her grey-green eyes, her light brown hair, her ability to converse fluently in either French or English make her the ideal representative both of the Dominion and of Canadian Colonial Airways in the annual contest which attracts the most beutiful stewardesses of the United States. The entry of a Canadian for the first time gives the event an international flavour this year.

Born in Montreal on August 18th, 1918, educated at St. Paul's Academy; Sacred Heart Convent; D'Arcy McGee High School and the Mother House Business College, standing 5 ft. 5½ in. weighing 117 pounds, being a good golfer and an enthusiastic lover of riding Miss Dawson is very close to being the "perfect stewardess".

1914 Alibi Again, Norwegian Says

Norwegian Minister to the United States, Wilhelm Munte de Morgenstierne, said recently that the German White Book contained "the same alibi which Germany used for the invasion of neutral Belgium in 1914."

"By coincidence, 'secret papers' were found also by the Germans when they invaded Belgium in 1914," Mr. de Morgenstierne told the Associated Press.

"The German Government at that time claimed that Britain was about to invade Belgium, but German troops moved first.

"No such papers could have been found in Norway because Norway from the outset of the war has tried to be strictly neutral."

300 Attend Opening Of Campaign; Fine Address

Approximately 300 guests attended the dinner on Monday evening, May 7, at Victoria hall, which marked the opening of the campaign for funds to build the new Shaare Zion Synagogue-center. Irving Riddell and Jacob Brodie, co-chairmen of the campaign, addressed the gathering and struck a note of optimism in the effort of reaching the objective of $100,000. D. Cummings, President of the congregation, despite his poor health, brought greetings to the assembly. Louis Fitch, K.C., former M.L.A. for St. Louis traced the historical background of divine worship. Hyman Grover, well known for his great interest in local religious and educational institutions, assured Rabbi Berger that he will give his full co-operation to the most sacred cause that of erecting a House of God in Notre Dame de Grace.

Rabbi Julius Berger, spiritual head of the congregation, introduced the guest speaker, Rabbi Leo Jung of the Jewish Center, New York. In an inspiring message, Dr. Jung outlined the purpose and significance of religious institutons. "Religion is an inheritance not to be spent and lost in one's life time: rather, it is to be handed down from father to son, even unto generations to come," said the speaker. Clarence Gross, B.A., B.C.L., fittingly thanked the speaker.

The meeting closed with the national anthem after announcement was made by the chairman that an additional sum of $5,000 was pledged to the building fund.

For the next two weeks canvassers will interview Jewish residents in this vicinity soliciting their contribution to the new edifice. This will give every Jewish home a chance to share in the noble task of enhancing religion so essential these trying days.

World's "Best Seller" Breaks Record In 1939

The worlds best seller, the Bible, made a new record for itself in 1939, according to the New York Bible Society, which reports that 998,652 copies of the Scriptures and Scriptural portions were distributed—this being the highest number for a like period in history. The Society's aim is to keep the Bible within reach of all people in the old city and harbor of New York. During its 130 years of existence, it has distributed 24,096,295 Bibles, Testaments and Bible portions, the annual report says.

This year's figure show an increase of 121,713 over that for 1938.

The New York World's Fair brought unusual opportunity to place and replace Bibles in the hotels here. In carrying on this service, the organization placed 7,304 Bibles in 51 hotels, bringing the total number of volumes placed in hotels since 1936 to 163,178.

A sale of 1,438 volumes of the Scriptures in Harlem, big Negro centre, is reported. Distribution to needy Negroes included giving out 528 Bibles, 1,165 New Testaments and 23,628 portions during the year. Bible racks are maintained in 48 centres in Harlem.

"There is nothing in life more rewarding than the realization of the exquisite spiritual values to be found through a closer study of the Word," the report concludes, "and by doing something definite toward interesting others."

Aesop's Role in the War: British Explain In Fables

War means many different things to the people in the far corners of the British Empire. To the dark-skinned and unlettered British subjects in Africa's vast interior, it is often a very perplexing affair indeed, and one that calls for explanation. And to explain these things to persons used to coping with little more than the ration of mealiemeal and the hunt, is no simple business.

And so, to bring them within their comprehension, the British are bringing Aesop up to date. They are making use of allegories dear to the native.

A case in point is that of the Admiral Graf Spee, as related in the native newspaper, Mutende in Northern Rhodesia, British colony in the heart of Africa.

History in Fables

"Once," runs the story, "there was a lion (the German battleship), which was afraid of men (the big British battleships), so it went to hunt cattle (the unprotected trading ships) where there were few men about.

"The bush was so great that the men could not see everywhere, so they sent out their dogs (the small British fighting ships) to protect their cattle and look for the lion. They hoped that the dogs would tell them where the lion was, when they found it by barking.

"Three dogs found the lion but they could not wait for the men to come up because the lion ran away; they ran in quickly and attacked the lion. When he turned to bite them they jumped away. One dog was hurt and could not run after the lion so quickly, but the other two dogs which were smaller did not leave the lion, which was now bleeding from their bites.

The End of the Graf Spee

"At last the lion found a cave belonging to another animal. The lion ran into it and the two dogs waited outside. Their friend who had been hurt came up and joined them. They did not enter the cave because they had been taught that they must not fight in another person's cave.

"Soon the owner of the cave told the lion to get out, so he ran out and when he saw that the dogs were coming to kill him he threw himself into the river and was drowned."

From an Askari — native African soldier — of a Northern Rhodesia regiment on service "somewhere in Africa" comes a letter which gives a native slant to this "curious" war, to friends at home.

"Perhaps our brothers and wives," he writes, "have been wondering what we have been doing since we left Lusaka . . Here we are, there is an extremely big mountain; on the top it is white with 'snow.' It is so big that only very few people have ever climbed to the top; many have tried and failed; Europeans like to play in this peculiar way . . . Of course, you know from 'Mutende' (native newspaper), that those people over there (the Germans) have heard about us and are refusing to fight against us. So there is no war at present. The thing that is very fierce here is the sun. . . Sometimes we say we want to fight a war or else go back to Lusaka to see our wives and children. But if we went back to Lusaka perhaps those other over there would cease to be afraid.

"The food we get here is the best we have ever seen . . . So we are sending this message also to Hitler that it is he who has brought it about that we are receiving very good food indeed, better than the food we got before. . . so we are laughing very much."

Railway-Timber Accord Reached

British Columbia timber interests and the Canadian railways have reached an agreement on special freight rates for transport of British Columbia timber across Canada to Atlantic ports.

Announcing the agreement some time ago, Wendell Farris of Vancouver, representative of the British Timber Control Board and the British Columbia timber interests, said details would be disclosed later.

The British Timber Control Board has purchased some 400,000,000 board feet of British Columbia timber and decided to move it across Canada by rail, owing to difficulty in obtaining vessels for transport via the Panama Canal.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1940

DISTRIBUTION OF STRENGTH

Since the naval activity in the Mediterranean, many have expressed surprise at the fact that the French and Italian navies are so nearly equal in strength. However, that is a result of the general Allied strategy that has governed the plans of the British and French in recent years.

France has had the strong army, while Great Britain has had the strong navy.

The French have prided themselves on building up the best land war machine in history. The French infantry and artillery are supposed to be without peer anywhere. Thoroughly trained and superbly equipped, the French soldiers are ready for any test.

With the French providing the military strength for the Allied forces, the British have built up the navy to the point where it is the most powerful in the world. The British have always gone on the assumption that the navy has to be prepared to meet an alliance of all possible enemies. This has always been kept in mind by the Admiralty.

The plan of campaign is that the British command the fleets with the French commanding the armies. While French naval squadrons take their general orders from the British admirals, the British soldiers in France take their general orders from the French generals. In that way the maximum efficiency is achieved.

PORK FOR BRITAIN

Canadian livestock growers, who have not been receiving all the benefits they expected from the cutting off of supplies of Danish bacon to England, can at least take heart from the news that Great Britain is not interested in purchasing American pork. Though the Canadians are not selling as much as they would like, they knew that their chief remaining competitor is in worse case in regard to exports of this commodity.

There are two reasons why Canada has the edge in pork sales to Great Britain. In the first place, of course, the Old Land has better use for her American exchange than the purchase of foodstuffs of a kind that may be obtained within the Empire. She needs the money to buy airplanes and other war materials.

Just as important as this, however, is the fact that the United States does not produce much of the grade of pork that Great Britain wants. The demand over there is mainly for bacon, and the United States has never made a conspicuous success of raising bacon type hogs. She goes in more for the fat grades. Canada, in fact, has always found quite a favorable market for her bacon, of which she produces a fine quality, in the neighboring republic.

THIS "KRIEG" WORD

Isn't it about time a halt was called on the bandying about of the "blitzkrieg" theme? Ever since it popped up in the official German vocabulary with the drive into Poland which turned out to be a much less "blitz" than the Germans expected, it has furnished "inspiration" to every type of humorist. There is something in the expressiveness of the word that makes it irresistible to anyone who seeks a reputation as a coiner of smart sayings.

Now that the American army has evolved "snitzkrieg" for manoeuvres of mechanized troops — the connection being very farfetched, by the way — it seems about time to make all the "kriegs" court martial offences.

STAMPS AND WAR

War or no war, philately must go on. Britain is about to issue a set of six stamps commemorating the 100th anniversary of the introduction of the first adhesive postage stamp. At the same time, it will give a little boost to the kingdom's war effort.

There will be a good demand for those new stamps in Canada, the United States, and other countries in which collectors abound. The little squares will be mounted in hundreds of thousands of albums — and the proceeds will be enough to provide the Allies with a couple of fast warplanes.

Stamp dealers in this country could do Britain a good turn by making the sets available at something close to the cost price. There probably are many persons, even non-collectors, who would grab at the chance to buy the six, just to give the British exchequer a little pat on the pocket.

NONE TOO KIND

Probably the Barter Theatre of Abingdon, Va., meant it kindly when it made its award for acting to Miss Dorothy Sticknev. One is impelled to wonder, however, just how complimented Miss Stickney felt, in view of the fact that one of the prizes is a ham. To an actress, that has anything but a welcome implication.

BOOK REVIEW

BY HOWARD S ROSS

ART YOUNG
"His Life and Times"
George J. McLeod Limited, 266 King Street West, Toronto.

Dean of American cartoonists and pre-eminent as a satirical artist the author devoted a large part of four years to writing the story of his eventful life, which began in the days "when any boy could be President."

In his easy-going way, he tells the story—of boyhood in Wisconsin, when he was the art prodigy of a thriving town; breaking into print with pictures in the Chicago newspapers; lying close to death in Paris, where he had been studying under Bougeaureau; doing his first book, which reported on prevailing conditions in Hell; being featured as a cartoonist in Chicago and Denver; marriage and free-lancing in New York; illustrating Arthur Brisbane's editorials; covering the pictorial end of national political conventions for one publication or another; drawing cartoons for LIFE, PUCK, and JUDGE.

He had set out with a conventional ambition to attain success, meaning money and fame. But things happened which altered his purpose episodes which "all too slowly" awakened him to the realities of the human struggle,—the Haymarket affair, the Homestead riots, Coxey's army marching, Debs going to jail in the railroad strike of '94, the Spanish American War, and the furor over Upton Sinclair's JUNGLE. Thomas W. Lawson's FRENZIED FINANCE, and Lincoln Steffen's SHAME OF THE CITIES.

Having learned to defend his point of view, Art Young would no longer draw a cartoon just because an editor wanted it; he had to believe in it fully. Then the MASSES was established, and it gave him an outlet for unrestricted attacks on the profit system. For five years he was in Washington for the METROPOLITAN candidly depicting the often fantastic lawmakers. The year 1918 saw him tried for alleged sedition because of certain cartoons in the MASSES, but two juries disagreed. Surviving ostracism, he became publisher of a magazine, built an art gallery, was artist author of several books, was active in more political campaigns.

These are the highlights of Art Young's narrative, plus remembrances of childrood which will bring nostalgia to numberless readers; of stops and starts in his formative years, of striving to get by in a period when magazine policies had turned topsy-turvy, of "moving along a shadowy road."

In a thoughtful epilogue, Mr. Young discusses the problem of the artist to keep from perishing in the kind of world in which he has lived, looks beyond the horizon and voices his hopes for the future.

Numerous drawings by the author in his bbook have not appeared in any book before They illuminate the American scene across decades of growing pains and social conflict. Many famous persons are in this richly detailed chronicle of Art Young's life. It will be memorable for its sidelights on the history of more than fifty years of liberalism in the United States years which led up to a new deal in justice and humanitarianism. It has a helpful index.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

After a year of intensive discussion the Rotary Club of Chicago has opened two classifications to members of labor Unions. One will be available to labor union associations," and the other to "railroad brotherhoods." The retiring president of the Chicago club, William Ayer McKinney, who deserves the major credit for the new rule, said: "The man we know is the only man we can understand." Chicago Rotary is not the first in the organization to admit union members.

A friend wrote to the novelist Turgeniev, "It seems to me that to put oneself in the second place is the whole significance of life." The novelist answered, "It seems to me to discover what to put before oneself, in the first place, is the whole problem of life."

It was said of a learned cleric that "His archeology and his divinity resided in the same mind as mutual strangers."

Reminding the people of the U.S.A. that "it was while business had a free hand, practically undisturbed by government intervention, that the first crashing evidence of the failure of the economic machine appeared," the National Economic Committee investigating monopolies filed with the Senate a preliminary report recommending extensive revision of anti-trust legislation to break up so-called "monopolistic brakes" on national recovery.

Happiness seems to be getting old-fashioned and is being replaced by a synthetic but unsatisfactory substitute—excitement.

"All history is contemporary history."—Croce.

New water-power installations in 1939 (in Canada) aggregated 97,040 horse-power, which with an installation of 1,400 horse-power omitted from the 1938 figures, brings the total for the Dominion at the end of the year to 8,289,212 horse-power.

"It might be thought that his (President Roosevelt's) uniqueness lay in his ability to use other people's brains, and that the distinguishing feature of the New Deal is his "brain trust." Certainly he has an unusual kind of intellectual curiosity, which draws him to those with more intellectual powers and more fresh ideas than he himself possesses." — Alfred M. Bingham, Editor of "Common Sense," New York Monthly.

Rev. Forneret . . .

Chaplain Services since he was a combatant officer with the 1st. Division C.E.F.

Previous to the outbreak of the last war, the Padre, enlisted in 1903 with the old 13th. Battalion, now the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry and later was commissioned with that unit. He has been closely connected with "matters military" ever since and, in length of service Capt. Forneret is the senior of any rank at present with the machine gunners.

When the Kaiser's war started in 1914, Lt. Forneret as he was then, was transferred to the 10th. Battalion, C.E.F. and proceeded overseas with the first contingent.

Capt. Forneret is, perhaps, the only officer in the whole British army who ever gave His Majesty, King George V a "proper dressing down" in good old army style. The incident occurred during an inspection of the 10th Battalion when our late Sovereign visited the Canadian troops.

Naturally the Regiment was anxious to make as good an impression as possible on such an occasion and every officer had been warned he would be held personally responsible for the deportment of troops under his immediate command. The battalion was drawn up in review order, the officers some distance in front of the troops, when somewhere from the ranks behind him the sound of voices reached the scandalized ears of the young lieutenant.

This was unbearable, so without turning his head, Lieut. Forneret expressed, sotto voce, his opinion of the offender in terse army terms. One can well imagine the padre's chagrin when, out of the corner of his eye, he saw the speaker was none other than the King himself.

His Majesty, it is reported, enjoyed a good laugh over the incident.

Invalided home due to war wounds in 1916, the padre was attached to M.D. 1 in charge of physical training and served in that capacity until the end of hostilities. Returning to civil life, he did not sever his military ties and he served at various times as a combatant officer with the Governor-General's Bodyguard, the 2nd Dragoons, 1st, Mounted Brigade staff, 3rd. Cavalry Brigade staff and the 17th. Hussars.

Previous to his enlistment for war service, Capt. Forneret had graduated as a lawyer from Osgoode Hall in 1914 and after the Armistice he practised most successfully at the Bar until 1933 when he decided to enter the Church of England. Ordained to the ministry in that year, he later transferred to the Canadian Chaplain Service with the rank of Major and, upon the outbreak of the present conflict volunteered for active service and was posted to the Chaplain's Pool, M.D. No. 4. He then joined the M.G.T.C. and is now temporarily attached before proceeding overseas.

Capt. Forneret was also, for a period of six years, Protestant Chaplain of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and acting rector of St. Simon's Church, Montreal.

east of the middle line of Metcalfe Avenue and in King's School if they live west of the middle line of Metcalfe avenue.

Mr. H. B. Parker, M.A., who has filled the position of principal of the Westmount High School very acceptably for thirteen years will continue in that position. Your Commissioners have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. C. H. Savage, M.A., at present principal of the Laurentide School, Grand'Mere, as principal of the Intermediate School, Mr. J. W. Brunt, M.A., will assume the position of Assistant to the Superintendent, having particular charge of the supervision of instruction in the schools.

Widely Endorsed

The 6-3-3 plan of education has been in operation in a large part of British Columbia since 1927, and for a much longer period in Great Britain and the United States, and has proved eminently satisfactory. It has been strongly advocated in the Hepburn Report.

It has been found advisable for pupils of the Intermediate School age to have a building to themselves. This is an exploratory period and every opportunity should be provided to develop character and personality among others of like age, without being dominated by the older pupils of Grades X, XI and XII. The programme of studies and of extra-curricular activities must be broad and varied enough to give proper scope to the talents and aptitudes of all pupils.

Experience has also shown that the problems and interests of the older pupils of Grades X, XI and XII make it advisable to consider them as a separate group. A keener mental development is replacing to some extent the purely physical growth of the years of earlier adolescence. Many pupils are beginning to occupy an equal or even greater amount of their attention than do sports and outside activities. There will be no disposition, however, on the part of the authorities of the High School to neglect in any way such worth while interests as the school magazine, the dramatic and debating society, school sports, etc.

The Board is in a position to assure the parents that with certain physical changes of relatively minor importance the present school buildings will offer adequate accommodation for the carrying on of the work.

Ever since the opening of the new Argyle School in 1935, those who, from time to time, have sat on the Board have been impressed with the points of weakness in the present school system and have given very earnest consideration to the possibility of overcoming them. The Board has been glad to receive the helpful cooperation of the Parents and Teachers Associations. It feels that the change about to be made will be a distinct step forward in the educational development of Westmount, and would earnestly ask for the whole-hearted support of the parents in putting this new plan into effect.

Additional copies of this report are available at the office of this Board, 95 Cote St. Antoine Road.

Respectfully submitted,
The School Commissioners for the Municipality of the City of Westmount.
W. A. Eden, Chairman.
S. F. Kneeland,
Secretary-Superintendent.

ing sponsored by the Business Association and not by this newspaper. Furthermore, the aim of the contest is to introduce residents to the various firms sponsoring it and only by a visit to their places of business can this objective be accomplished. As previously stated, there is absolutely no obligation to make a purchase.

The requirements governing the contest are presented here solely for their interest value; for official rules readers should turn to the page on which the contest appears.

By all means enter the competion — supply a last line that may easily win the first or any of the succeeding prizes. Limericks are fun at any time and they are particularly good fun when clever entries bring valuable awards.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday May 12.

The Golden Text is from John 3:6. "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Cor. 15: 22).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The name Adam represents the false supposition that Life is not eternal, but has beginning and end; that the infinite enters the finite, that intelligence passes into non-intelligence, and that Soul dwells in material sense; that immortal Mind results in matter, and matter in mortal mind; that the one God and creator entered what He created, and then disappeared in the atheism of matter

— THE RULES —

(1) All contestants must be bona-fide residents of Westmount and must be over 16 years of age.

(2) Choose one or as many limericks as you wish from the advertisements of the merchants on this page. Each limerick contains 4 lines and a space in which is to be inserted the final line. This last line must rhyme with the first and second lines and must complete the sense of the limerick. The line may be instructive, humorous or whatever you wish. Of course, the more limericks that you complete, the better your chance to win.

(3) IMPORTANT—Place your entry in an envelope with your name and address and addressed to "Limerick Contest" and take it to the place of business of the merchant in whose advertisement the limerick which you have chosen appears. If you complete more than one limerick, each one must be taken to the place of business of that advertiser. They must NOT all be left with one merchant. Under no circumstances should contestants send their entries to the offices of the Westmount Examiner as they will automatically find their way to the waste-paper basket if this is done. You are not obligated in any way to buy anything from the merchant whose store or office you visit, this method of depositing your entry is merely to better acquaint you with the location and the type of business done by your local business men and women.

(4) Neatness and legibility will be taken into consideration.

(5) All entries must be in not later than Monday, May 20th. The winners will be announced in this paper on May 23rd and prizes will be awarded at the "Citizens' Night" meeting in Victoria Hall on Thursday, May 30th.

(6) The judges will be a member of the Business Association of Westmount, the editor of the Westmount Examiner, and a third disinterested person to be selected. Their decision will be final.

Shirtwaist Dress Glorified In Entire Midseason Show

Molyneux's midseason collection is largely dedicated to daytime clothes, executed in his best manner. They are youthful, flattering and ladylike. He has made no drastic change in outline or skirt length. His typical wide and straight dresses are still present for all hours; they are in charming new colors, says the New York Times, in a story from Paris.

Roses are Molyneux's favorite flowers this midseason; he especially favors a sprig of tiny climbing roses thrust through the belt. Roses of all colors are seen in his collection. With matching hat and gloves, they accent slim black dresses. Rose tones dominate the midsummer color symphony. A lovely new gamut of mouse-beige and brown tones is featured. A light greenish-yellowish beige, the tint of coconut oil, is novel. Periwinkle blue and pansy mauve are also present. Notable color combinations are: Gold with antique coral or rust; vivid skyblue with the pink of a common climbing rose, and yellow with black.

Molyneux glorifies the shirtwaist dress throughout the collection. A bevy of accordion-pleated shantung afternoon dresses, featuring all the bright pastels, closed the fashions parade, instead of the traditional bride. These frocks fastened with rhinestone buttons tinted to match the fabrics. They had simple, nearly-to-the-elbow sleeves, as have the majority of Molyneux's new coats and dresses. With these dresses were worn scoop-shaped natural sailors, banded with ribbon in the dress color. A sleeveless shirtwaist dinner dress of gentian-blue mousseline made with a long flaring skirt was shown, with a mousseline apache kerchief knotted about the throat. On the kerchief were matching paillettes.

Suits Have Slim Skirts

Molyneux's suits have slim skirts and characteristic short, fitted or bloused jackets. The skirts of the most stunning models are mouse-beige wool, the Jackets being a darker tone, both are finished with "vice versa" handstitching. A great deal of linen is shown for both day and evening. A favorite sports model is like a workman's smock suit; it is a dull blue linen and has tiny white initials embroidered on the bosom of its shirt-tail jacket. A white jersey blouse and bandeau are worn with it. A notable dinner ensemble is composed of a pale blue linen sheath and a rose linen bolero; both are embroidered with silver paillettes to match the paillette belt.

Molyneux's newest hats are mounted on draped fabric bandeaux that cover half the forehead. Some of these hats are enormous and flare up off the face; others are medium-sized Bretons. Featured also are flat-crowned paillasson sailors with brims of various sizes. Toques have flowing mousseline veils. Similar veils are worn alone for evening.

Percale Print For Comforter, Spread

Matching bedspread and comforter sets for summer sleeping have been made up in fast-color, washable percale prints. What is more, they are inexpensive and should be perfect for summer cottage bedrooms. The spread has a ruffled edge and is shaped with corded seams to fall properly over the bed, and the comforter is the lightweight quilted type. The print is a scattered rosebud design—blue or gold on a white ground or red with colored rosebuds.

Another contribution toward simpler living is a rotating costume holder that fastens to the closet door. It looks like the top of a coat tree; four arms, like inverted canes, to hold hat, coat, etc., revolve easily and take up little space. The gadget is made of chromium steel in a simple design and there are four large double hooks.

Showy Embroidery On Dinner Dresses

Elaborate dinner dresses are of faille, marocain or silk jersey showily embroidered in raised patterns. They have long sleeves and deep V decolletages cut nearly to the waist in front and back. One in black jersey with wide bands of gold and deep turquoise is somewhat Egyptian in feeling

Salt Water Mouthwash Keeps Gums Healthy

One of the beauty rights that no girl with innate charm and refinement will ever neglect is proper care of the teeth. Bad or neglected teeth detract so much from even a beautiful face, and we believe every girl can have nice teeth if she will give them the attention necessary.

It is sometimes a real shock to look at the smile of any girl when it displays yellow or broken teeth. When we are giving them the care they need to keep healthy, it is safe to assume they will be nice to look at.

The teeth must be thoroughly cleansed before going to bed, every morning and always after eating. Tooth powder, paste or a liquid dentrifice can be used and a mouth wash should follow each cleansing.

A salt water mouthwash will keep the gums firm and clean and help to neutralize the acid that may form about the teeth. Lemon juice is an ideal bleach for the teeth. It is a good cleanser as well as bleach and can be made by mixing together a few drops of strained lemon juice with equal parts of baking soda and salt.

The teeth seem to reflect our physical condition and the general rules of good health apply to the teeth as well as the rest of the body.

Daily massage of the gums will stimulate circulation. Little squares of gauze wrapped about the finger and dipped in salt make an ideal massage treatment and should be used at least once every day.

The diet is important and must provide enough calcium. Plenty of milk and fresh leafy salads and vegetables should be included.

See your dentist twice a year and let him check up on your teeth. It's a good beauty investment that will pay large dividends in later years.

Smiles will be spontaneous when we know the teeth are glistening and perfect and it's the girl with a pleasing smile who wins admiration.

Blossoming Out in Springtime Style

This utterly feminine hat of navy straw with pink blossoms and pink veiling, looks like a prize example of the confectioner's art. It's to wear right now as well as later on in the spring. The hat is shown with a smart compact, decorated with figures reminiscent of Civil War days.

FEMININE FACTS AND FANCIES

MARGARET BARDEN

Mrs. Gordon H. Heslam

Born in Cowansville, of Empire Loyalist stock, Mrs. Gordon H. Heslam, founder and principal of the Beacon Study, came to Montreal at the age of five and has resided in this district for the past 23 years. She received her early education in Montreal and later attended high schools in Cowansville and Huntingdon. While she was a student at the Cowansville Academy she was a medalist for three years running.

In 1911 she was awarded her Elementary diploma at McDonald College, and was the first certified teacher in a rural school in the Eastern Townships. In speaking of her first school, Mrs. Heslam said the song, "The Little Red School House" must have been written about a similar building, for she had 14 pupils divided into six grades. Located outside the town of Freeport, now non existant, Mrs. Heslam staged the first school Christmas party ever to be held in that district. Following her season at this school, Mrs. Heslam returned to McDonald College to study for her Model diploma. During this period she was secretary of her class and president of the Court of Honor.

She later graduated with honors in Latin, Mathematics, Teaching Method and Practice Teaching. Since her graduation she has had experience in all types of teaching and has specialized in modern trends of educations and child psychology.

In 1917 she was married to Gordon H. Heslam, who is vice-rector of Montreal High School. During the World War Mr. Heslam served overseas with the McGill 10th Siege Battery. Mrs. Heslam continued to teach while her husband was overseas.

Meeting with immediate success in tutoring pupils for matriculation remedial work, and other subjects, Mrs. Heslam founded the Beacon Study early in 1928. Prior to founding the school, Mrs. Heslam taught in her own home, the increasing number of pupils necessitated the move to larger quarters, thence to the present location on Grand Boulevard, where normal children from grade one to matriculation age are taught. Many of the students are those who have been ill and require individual attention. The staff at the Beacon Study consists of Mrs. Heslam, her associate, Miss Janet Doxsey, and three teachers. The three teachers specialize in Latin and French, teaching of very young children, and public school grades. Mrs. Heslam and Miss Doxsey teach throughout the entire school.

A member of Wesley United Church, Mrs. Heslam taught in the intermediate department of the Sunday School for two years, following which she was made superintendent of the primary department in 1936. Realizing the importance of religious education she studied the essential phases of this type of education and was awarded a Specialization Diploma from the United Church of Canada Board of Christian Education. An award of this type entails a great amount of study and perseverence, for the Board examines all students with extreme caution and severity.

Shortly after being named superintendent, Mrs. Heslam proceeded to re-organize the primary department. The 200 children were divided into three groups headed by well trained leaders.

Staffed by 32 officers and teachers, Mrs. Heslam conducts a special training class in child psychology, story telling, general scientific teaching and understanding of the Bible. All leaders at Wesley Primary School receive this training, in addition to the regular instructions occasional classes are conducted by outstanding religious leaders and teachers. This season's special course was conducted by Reverend Dr. Pigeon and Dr. Killpatrick of the United Theological College. All classes are conducted in the school rooms of the Beacon Study.

Mrs. Heslam, the mother of two children, is a Charter member of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club.

Mother's Day

Sunday next is Mother's Day and it would be distinctly out of order on a page like ours to overlook this important date in the calendar. It is perhaps one of the best ideas thought up on this continent to set aside just one day in the year on which, in ever so many ways, we may pay tribute to our mothers, by presenting them with some small token of our love and gratitude or, if no longer with us, to their ever sacred memory.

I remember reading in a book some time ago that 'a boy's best friend is his Mother' and while the phrase may have lost much of its original and deeper meaning through usage over a number of years, the truth it contains will remain for all time.

In younger years our Mother was a constant source of sympathy and understanding. We would go to her in moments of grief and disappointment with confidence and trust knowing that what appeared terrifying and difficult to our untrained minds would be cleared away by her wise and gentle explanation. In later years it was to our Mother we turned for advice and help in overcoming obstacles that stood in our way as we progressed along our chosen road in business, professional and social life.

When we read the biographies of great men and women we are reminded by them of how much they owe to their Mothers for any success honour or distinction that they may have achieved. This is as it should be. A Divine Inspiration has often been inculcated in our minds and hearts simply through the gentle, and at times self-sacrificing, devotion given to us so ungrudgingly by our Mother.

Remember this always but especially next Sunday—MOTHER'S DAY.

Orange Layer Cake Economical To Make

The platitude that there are two sides to every story may be true for most stories, but here is one with six sides. It's the story of a perfect cake whether it is a simple one-egg cake, a fluffy white cake, a rich chocolate cake or a delicate angel food, and it's a wise cake maker who masters them all for all time, because each is important. This is the six-sided story of a perfect cake. 1. A reliable tested recipe; 2. Good ingredients; 3. Accurate measuring; 4. Careful mixing; 5. Baking at the right temperature; 6. Proper care of the cake after baking. This orange layer cake is a simple and economical medium to put the above rules to the test.

Orange Layer Cake

One and one half cups cake flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, ½ cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, unbeaten, ½ cup orange juice.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Add orange rind to butter and cream thoroughly, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with orange juice, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased eight-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Spread generously with Orange Butter Frosting.

HOUSEKEEPER'S TIP

To keep iron frying pans in good condition, give them soda baths occasionally. Mix two tablespoons of soda (regular baking kind) with two quarts of hot, soapy water. Put the pans in and boil them gently for 15 minutes. Rinse well and wash the regular way, in hot soapy water.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

Unique Roles Portrayed By Co-Starring Duo

Loretta Young and David Niven, co-starring in "Eternally Yours," have the most unique screen roles either has ever played. Miss Young, in the realm of legerdemain, accomplishes the bizarre task of appearing and disappearing at the merest behest of "The Great Arturo," played by David Niven. Under his hypnotic spell she kisses him despite the fact that in reality she is boiling mad at him.

After a protracted period of intensive instruction under one of the country's leading magicians, Paul de Paul, Niven became surprisingly adroit in performing the many tricks and illusions called for in this current Walter Wanger romantic comedy, which begins a three days run at the Monkland Theatre on Sunday. Niven's feats vary from "creating" Miss Young out of bottled chemicals to freeing himself from handcuffs during a 15,000 foot parachute jump and landing successfully. Not the least among his tricks is that of hypnotizing "Herman," the pet rabbit in the picture.

However, despite "The Great Arturo's" hypnotic power, his sleight-of-hand and his ability to foretell the future he is unable to make mysterious women's lipstick disappear from his collars and when Miss Young, as his wife, finally reaches the limit of her tolerance and leaves him, he is unable to find her.

All-star support is brought to the production by Hugh Herbert, valet and confidant of Arturo; C. Aubrey Smith, a tolerant, he-man Bishop; Virginia Field, a magician's assistant who has been round and around; Broderick Crawford, a too-perfect suitor of Anita's; Raymond Walburn, a financier whose bridal party, almost starts a riot; Zasu Pitts, who flutters in and out creating impossible situations that only Arturo can remedy, and Billie Burke as delightfully scatterbrained as ever Tay Garnett directed "Eternaly Yours" from the original story by Gene Towne and Graham Baker.

Many of the most ingenious devices known to theatrical magic were used during the filming of "Eternally Yours." The most eerie of the magic aids were built for the production by Lloyd Thayer, a Los Angeles scientist, and known throughout the realm of legerdemain as the premier designer of such devices. In addition to his handicraft, several other amazing contraptions were constructed from Mr. Thayer's blueprints in the Walter Wanger technical shops.

New Lubitsch Hit Comes To The Westmount

Margaret Sullavan and James Stewart are happily re-united for the third time in "The Shop Around the Corner", which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night.

They first appeared together in "Next Time We Love," the picture that started Stewart on his way to stardom, and later in "Shop-worn Angel."

Now their third teaming gives Miss Sullavan her finest dramatic acting opportunity since "Three Comrades" as Klara Novak, new girl in Matuschek's leather goods and novelty shop, employed "over the head" o fthe chief clerk, Alfred Kralik.

Stewart, currently at the height of his career following brilliant performances in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" and "Destry Rides Again," plays Kralik. He resents Klara, she him. They quarrel constantly until they discover that they're really quarrelling because they love each other.

From satirical comedy in "Ninotchka," Ernst Lubitsch, producer-director of the film, has gone to simple, human realism for the theme of his latest picture. It is the story of the owner of a little shop and his clerks. Their joys and sorrows, their relations with one another and changes in their relations, are woven into a fascinating narrative of the every day events in the lives of every day people.

Jones: They say apes fall in love only once.

Mrs. Jones: Well, that proves that the Darwin theory is wrong.

AT THE MONKLAND

Rosalind Russell and Cary Grant co-starred in the action-packed newspaper story "His Girl Friday." The film is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday.

STARS, ACTION & THRILLS!

Pat O'Brien and James Cagney in the thrill-packed story of the fighting Irish regiment, "The Fighting 69th," opening at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday playing until Tuesday.

Gracie Fields Stars In Gay Film at Snowdon

Gangway for Gracie!

With a highlight of the film showing the queen of comedy of the Continent singing and dancing to a number called "I've Got The Jitterbugs!" Gracie Fields flashed on the screen of the Snowdon United Theatre yesterday in American swing time. The picture was her latest hilarity hit, "Shipyard Sally," and a hit it is!

The inimitable, hoydenish Gracie sings a number of other tunes in the film, all old favorites such as "Annie Laurie", "Danny Boy" and others, to the rich delight of yesterday's first-run audience. For when Gracie sings, she puts a song over like no-one else can.

Starred with her in the 20th Century-Fox release is Sydney Howard, while prominent in the cast is the engaging young Oliver Wakefield, British comedian who recently won fame on the American radio with his "double-talk," a verbal feat which soon was complimented by a host of local imitators.

In "Shipyard Sally" Wakefield introduces a new conversational trick that promises to be as popular as his first and is even funnier, if such can be. You might call it "confused speech" for want of a better term, but it's unforgettable.

Directed by Monty Banks, the screen play by Karl Tunberg and Don Ettlinger is set in the great shipbuilding center of Great Britain — Clydebank. These are the yards where such great liners as the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth were constructed. In fact, the film opens with Queen Elizabeth christening and launching the huge ship named for her. But soon, for reasons of economy, the government puts a halt to the building and with idle yards distress visits the once prosperous town. The workers send Gracie to London with a petition and this embarks her on a series of adventures teeming with hilarity. If you like comedy, you shouldn't miss this one!

Fine Novel Of D. F. Zanuk's At York United

Most important screen news of the year is the announcement that Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath," now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday.

The film version of John Steinbeck's stirring best-seller was wildly acclaimed at its world premiere run at New York's Rivoli Theatre, where it broke all records with the biggest opening attendance in the entire 22-year history of that theatre.

Under the direction of Academy Award Winner John Ford, the stirring human adventures of the Joad family are reported to have been brought to the screen with all the power, drive and humor that characterized the book.

To insure absolute fidelity to the original story, Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson, who wrote the screen play, conferred with Steinbeck over the completed script. Steinbeck heartily applauded Johnson's work and expressed particular pleasure that all the humor of the original story had been kept intact in the picture.

Movie Geographies

Five Iowans are on the Universal studios roster now that Rosemary Lane of Indianola, Iowa, has joined the cast of "The Boys from Syracuse." Her fellow Iowans on the lot are Margaret Lindsay of Dubuque; Peggy Moran of Clinton; Constance Moore, Sioux City; and Bob Baker, Forest City.

Addition of Joe Penner to the cast of "The Boys from Syracuse" gives Universal four Hungarians. The others are producer Joe Pasternak; S. Z. Sakall of the "It's a Date" cast; and Bela Lugosi. The latter comes from Lugos, Hungary, a town named after his family.

Five New Yorkers are prominent on the Universal lot, only one of them, Tom Brown, from New York City, and three—Mae West, Samuel S. Hinds and Sigrid Gurie — from Brooklyn. The fifth is Hugh Herbert of Binghamton.

SHELTER IN HAYSTACK

An air raid shelter has been built in a haystack in England.

COMING TO YORK

Crooner becomes crew-ner when Bing Crosby takes to the sea in his latest film, "Road to Singapore," which Paramount will show next Saturday at the York United Theatre. In the company of two prominent screen partners, Dorothy Lamour and Bob Hope, the king of croon finds romance and adventure in the land of the palms and cocoanuts.

"SHIPYARD SALLY"

Sydney Howard and Gracie Fields as the happy partners in fun starring in the film "Shipyard Sally," now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre.

MANY FEATURES READY FOR THE SPEIRS RECITAL

It is said that tension always increases the nearer that an important date approaches, but it seems not so with the Betty Speir's organization, who will stage their "Show of Shows" this Saturday evening. Nothing has been left to chance, as is evidenced when it is said that five distinct rehearsals have taken place during the last week. Mr. Miller is loud in his praise of the co-operation of the Victoria Hall staff, and also the personnel of the MRT Tin Hats Review, including Cecil West, Keith Handyside, Geoff Merrill and Ruxton Byatt. Mr. Miller, who is in charge of the dancing department of the Tin Hats Concert Party, which is sponsored by the MRT, will enjoy the worthwhile help of his colleagues backstage the night of the show.

As is usual with the Speir's show, variety will be the keynote of the entire evening. In the sacred presentation "Come Unto Me" the part of the Madonna will be taken by Jean Barnes, with Nancy Telfer as the Waif, and Maureen McCann as the Angel Child. Mrs. Andrew Webster will sing the solo "Ave Maria" with Arthur Davison offering the violin obligato, with Florence Jenkins and Mr. J. B. Speirs at the piano. This is a sure treat for all.

In the scene "Cabaret" exhibition dancing in group formation will be presented for the first time. This has been specially successful at the rehearsals. Featured here are such well known dancers as: Mr. and Mrs. Max Heybeard, Lilias Swindon and Jim Hogarth, Evelyn Madigan and Lawrence Henderson, Simonne DesRoches and Peter Ewart. Mr. Millar will presonally appear and will have as his partners, Miss Molly Usher-Jones and Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald.

"Happy Feet" a tap scene, will feature the ace tap dancers of the school, including Peggy Cooper, Therese Landry, Joan Layton, Audrey Jones, Hazel and Jean Fitzgerald, Barbara Pettit and Gwen Smith.

The highlight of the evening will undoubtedly be "There Are Fairies" in which the very young children from two and a half years to five will proceed to charm the audience. Featured in this tiny tots show will be June Sidaway, Janie Allen, Joan Rejele, Nancy Telfer and the other juvenile stars of the school. Altogether a splendid entertainment in store Saturday evening.

Miss Speirs has requested as a great favour that all ticket holders be seated before the curtain rises, which will be promptly at 8 o'clock, and no one will be allowed to disturb the performance by going to seats until the first interval.

Boss (to office boy, who is half an hour late): "You should have been in here at eight o'clock."

Office Boy: "Why, what happened?"

Justice of the Peace: And do you promise to love, honor and obey him?

Bride: I object to the promise to obey.

Justice of the Peace: Objection overruled, answer the question.

Careful Casting

Casting for "The Grapes of Wrath" was undertaken by Zanuck with exceeding care. Emphasis was placed not only on the resemblance of the actors to the characters as described by Steinbeck but the mood and humor of the Joads was also taken into consideration.

Henry Fonda, whose portrayals of humble, real people have won him plaudits in the past, stepped naturally into the shoes of dogged, fighting Tom Joad. That unconquerable woman of the soil, Ma Joad, who battled to hold her homeless family together, was found in the person of Jane Darwell. Lanky, tall John Carradine became Casy, the courageous, crusading preacher. Grandpa, that tough, cantankerous old man, took form in Charley Grapewin. Dorris Bowdon, the Louisiana State University co-ed, who was discovered only two years ago by a 20th Century-Fox scout, won the role which every young actress in Hollywood coveted, that of Rosasharn.

STUDIO CHATTER

Andy Devine was guest of honor at the Elks' conclave in Kingman, Arizona, recently.

Luli Deste is mulling the problem of finding a name for the new-born calf which arrived at her ranch the other day.

Robert Stack, on the way to a new skeet shooting championship, last week broke 97 out of 100 targets in a qualifying meet at Santa Monica.

The famous red-heads of the film colony are playing top roles in "South To Karanga" at Universal. They are Charles Bickford and Dick Foran.

Charles Bickford doesn't waste much time getting to the sports pages of his morning newspaper, delivered to him on the set. The actor is an avid baseball and boxing fan.

Huntz Hall, one of the "Dead End Kids," established what he believes must be some kind of a record when he drove from New York to Hollywood in three days in order to be on tap for his role in "You're Not So Tough," at Universal.

Because the entire picture was filmed on location, Albany, Ga., will receive credit for Paramount's "The Biscuit Eater," the story of a boy and his dog laid against the background of the quail hunting in Georgia.

Protective Service Against Pulpwood Losses Is Urged

A protective service against pulpwood losses due to insects should be established by every provincial Government in conjunction with the present fire-protective service, in the opinion of Dr. C. D. Howe, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry in the University of Toronto.

In his annual report to the President of the University recently, he pointed out that heavy losses of pulpwood have been due to insect pests, and that these are likely to occur periodically.

Insect protective service would need a corps of trained specialists, he declared, suggesting that fire rangers could be trained for this purpose.

Dr. Howe pointed out that about 20 years ago an epidemic of the spruce budworm destroyed many million cords of potential pulpwood in eastern Canada. Now another insect pest, the spruce sawfly, is assuming menacing proportions in lower Quebec and the Maritimes, and is spreading westward very rapidly. A hundred million insect parasites have been distributed on the areas affected by the spruce sawfly from the Belleville laboratory, he explained, but it is as yet too early to forecast results. The greater portion of the several species of parasites used, however, had been introduced from Europe where they kept the same species of sawfly, or one closely related to it, in check.

New Yorkers Vote Lincoln 'Greatest'

Abraham Lincoln was voted the "greatest American," with George Washington taking second place and Franklin D. Roosevelt third, in a city-wide poll conducted by Town Hall.

Thomas Edison and Benjamin Franklin were tied for fourth place and Herbert Hoover and Thomas Jefferson, Republican and "original Democrat," received an exactly equal number of votes for fifth place, it was announced by Clifton Fadiman, toastmaster, at a luncheon given by the Board of Trustees of Town Hall at Hotel Astor, recently.

In answer to another question on the ballot, which was sent to thousands of New Yorkers, Ralph Waldo Emerson was chosen as the "greatest American in the field of the arts."

Asked what they considered the "most universal American characteristic," voters chose humor, but generosity ran a close second. Independence and love of freedom were tied for third place.

Miami Planning Growth As Season Refuses To Close

When this City was incorporated in the year 1915 with a population of 500, probably the few far-seeing pioneers who were setting to work at converting a stretch of sand and mangrove swamps into a winter playground, visioned a bright future for the little community, even if the onlookers did dub their efforts "folly."

But hardly could those early developers foresee that at its 25th birthday Miami Beach would be celebrating a record-breaking season that has brought an estimated 500,000 visitors to enjoy its attractions and fill its hundreds of palatial hotels and residences; that it would have a permanent year-round population of 20,000 and a steady winter population of 60,000, and that the municipality would have an assessed valuation of $64,537,000.

When Miami Beach devoted $11,400,000 to 47 new hotels, 74 new apartments, and 252 new residences last year, pessimists again shook their heads and declar l the city overbuilt. But the bigger and newer hotels were filled at the peak of the season, and even now the Chamber of Commerce estimates that 85 per cent of all accommodations are being used.

The success of this season has invited more construction, and building authorities predict last year's building will be duplicated this summer with about 50 more hotels being erected, plans for some of which already are announced.

In the 25 years of the existence of Miami Beach as a municipality, it has had $130,000,000 worth of building, half of which has been done in the last ten years. Building permits this year exceed those of last year at this time. The growth of the winter resort may be called a monument to John S. Collins, who began the first efforts at development and connected Miami Beach to the mainland with a three-mile wooden bridge; and to Carl G. Fisher, also, who came from Indiana to work with Collins and carry an what the elder man had started.

Natives and Conquerors

Strange is the record of this stretch of Atlantic shore, which for a long time was passed by. Almost it seems as if history were hurrying to catch up with the years when the south Florida coast lay dormant. The earliest known inhabitants of what is now Miami Beach were the Tequesta Indians, who, judging from recent evidence, had a flourishing village here about 100 years before the coming of Columbus.

Excavations made by the Smithsonian Institute have led natural scientists to believe that the town was occupied for about a century and probably had a population of about 100 individuals. Because no metal of any kind was found in the mound excavated, it is presumed that the Tequestas abandoned the village before the time of Columbus.

Only sketchy accounts of the Tequesas remain from the writings of early Spanish explorers, but it is known that they used weapons of shell, bone, and sharks' teeth, and made crude, unadorned pottery. After the advent of the white man, they were decimated, and a few remaining members of the tribe were transported to Cuba by the Spaniards where their identity became lost.

With the Spaniards, a new day dawned for Florida, but the spit of sand and mangrove swamp to be known as Miami Beach, was passed by as just another of the keys which circled from here to Key West. War for the possession of Florida developed between Spain and France. Five flags have waved over this peninsula. Pirates made the region their stronghold. Yet Miami Beach lay untouched.

Planting and Recreation

Attention was drawn to this area in the last century when a lighthouse, erected on Cape Florida, was sacked by the Indians in 1836. Cape Florida became a picnic spot for settlers along the shores of Biscayne Bay in the 1890's. About that time, three young men from New Jersey heard that a fortune might be made in cocoanuts, as they had listened to the legend that each cocoanut tree produced 365 nuts a year, a nut a day. Unaware of the inaccuracy of the report, the young men bought government land available for homesteads along the southeastern Florida coast, at from 75 cents to $7.50 per acre and planted 450,000 trees,. Most of the nuts sprouted but the men exhausted their funds and gave up the venture.

Not until Collins arrived in 1896 did modern Miami Beach begin. Phenomenal has been the transformation of the strip of coast and the development of it into a beauty spot—a rendezvous of businessmen and of celebrities in the arts, and a place where the residents aim to keep things safe and sane, and where visitors are always welcome.

Hauling Ice Builds Heft

Want to be a big league catcher? Get a job hauling ice. That's how Harry Danning, catcher of the New York Giants, developed those back muscles that made him a power-hitter and, according to his manager, Bill Terry, "the best low-ball catcher since Frank Snyder."

At the age of 13 Harry got a job on an ice wagon and for several years after school hours his work consisted of tossing 50-pound lumps of frozen water into Los Angeles iceboxes.

REGAL RELIC

Hollyw d, May 8. — While gunfire from zones of war reverberates throughout the world the march of Nazidom into helpless Norway echoed in poignant style this week on one of Hollywood's movie lots.

Every film set against the European scene of several years back boasts its quota of ancient, alien cars. In fact, several gentlemen earn themselves a handsome wage by renting rare, old horseless carriages to nearby celluloid factories. Just where they dig up these dilapidated buggies is one of the industry's deeper mysteries — but studio prop departments know that almost any make or model auto may be obtained by phoning one of these dealers in antiquated mobile trash.

Out at Warner Brothers' plant Monday in search of news and a free four-course luncheon, your humble servant stumbled onto Stage Four, where Edward G. Robinson currently cavorts before the cameras in a gentle, little tale titled "Brother Orchid".

Over to one side of the stage, out of camera range, there rested a giant Renault town car of 1918 vintage — a prop used in the Monte Carlo sequence of Robinson's shadowplay. I could not pass the antique without pausing to admire its shiny paint job, its awkward but regal fenders, its thin, rope-like tires.

Nearing the machine, I was attracted to a small, metal plate tacked on the dashboard. The plate bore the coat of arms of a democratic monarch, and 'neath the crest was the simple legend:

"This car is the property of His Most Honored Majesty, Haakon VIH — King of the Commonwealth of Norway."

FILM FACTS

Following public reaction to her work in "Virginia City", in which she was merciless miscast, Warner Brothers yesterday bought up Miriam Hopkins contract for $50,000 and bade her adieu. The star's sheepskin called for one film on the Burbank lot... Regional columnists would have you believe that Montreal's Sid Gullaroff, chief coiffeur at Metro, is simply daffy about Laraine Day, the studio's newest star. Mr. Gullaroff could not be reached for comment....

George Raft, who has succeeded Irving Thalberg in the affections of Norma Shearer, says he will become a producer in two years. Perhaps marriage to Shearer will bless Raft with a trace of the genius possessed by the star's first husband — but it seems safe to say that Thalberg's record remains unchallenged... Vincent Lawrence has returned to Metro to "The Great Canadian", but Clark Gable goes next into a period story and the ice-hockey epic has again been postponed.

Maureen O'Sullivan entrains soon for Halifax to spend some time with her director-husband, John Farrow, now a member of the Canadian Navy... Ed Wynn returns to the air in the near future.... The $200,000 estate of Flo Ziegfeld was sold at auction last week for $35,000. The item deserves more than a line in this column, but Time has pushed Ziegy from the public prints and he remains only a dear and inspiring memory — the trademark of an age...

BLITZKREIG IN HOLLYWOOD

Central Casting Corporation, the widely-known office which daily dishes out an average of 800 jobs to more than 7,000 hungry extras, is undergoing a thorough house-cleaning at the hands of its newly-appointed boss, Howard Philbrick. Relatives are being tossed out right and left, and walls have been torn down in an effort to add a human touch to a heretofore racket-ridden agency.

Yesterday we lunched with Sylvia Logan, Iva LeRoy and Beth Hartman, Hollywood's three top extras. These girls have wandered about in the background of almost every important film produced here over a period of years. They know the "extra" business as few others know it.

Sylvia, Iva and Beth earn more than $2,000 annually, but 40% of their income goes right back into wardrobe replacements. Beth makes her own evening gowns — striking creations chuck full of lure — at an average expense of $14 each. Sylvia specializes in street-wear, and her dresses set her back about $40 a piece. All three girls realize good clothes represent money well-spent, and each possesses a wardrobe of more than 40 items.

According to Sylvia, widely-publicized tales of wild lives led by extras are just so much bologna.

"While working, we're in bed by 10 each night," she exclaims. "Health means success in this racket, and sleep is a prime necessity. We have no time to run around or lead wild and wooly lives!"

Most extras today have college degrees, but in a business founded on friendships they find that university education, talent and looks run second to "pull" in the race for continued employment. Once in a while an extra creates a "type" that clicks and wins a contract. Featured roles may follow — and, eventually, even stardom — but, for the most part, extras fill their days with dreams of the morrow.

Perhaps that's what makes them so interesting and earnest a group.

FINAL FLASHES

Bette Davis will probably marry Bob Tapplinger, Warner Brothers publicity chief, within the next few weeks... Local wits are telling of the new female star who climbed the ladder of success wrong by wrong.... May Robson spent two hours in a beauty parlor Monday, and gossips are linking her with C. Aubrey Smith!... Three letters have reached this desk demanding first-hand information on the Deanna Durbin-Vaughan Paul romance. Last time this reporter spoke to Deanna she denied all rumours of an impending marriage, and this week she told me that her first and only love is the cinema — all of which means exactly zero. Miss Durbin will probably marry Mr. Paul within two years... So goes the news from Hollywood. Adios, amigos — see you next edition...

BREAK FOR KIDS

When the English actors in Paramount's "The Way of All Flesh," demanded tea at 4 every afternoon, it provided the dozen or more juveniles in the cast an opportunity to insist on ice cream since they were not permitted to have tea.
