Real Estate Sales Near Million Mark In April

The value of real estate sales in Westmount was close to $1 million during the month of April according to statistics released this week by the Montreal Real Estate Board.

The number of sales recorded in the city was 36 and they were valued at $963,970. Saint Laurent led the suburban municipalities with a $2,382,560 total.

During the month, municipality sales were worth a total of $21,352,118 which represents an increase over the corresponding period last year when the figure stood at $11,835,950.

In the January-February-March-April period this year, 97 sales were transacted in the city, worth $3,022,001.

Overall totals for all municipalities during the same period were 3,778 sales, worth $62,830,812. This also is an increase over the same time in 1955 when 3,068 sales were worth $46,786,279.

Bank Guides Face Question Barrage

"OH, MY SUPERMAN," gasps lovely little Sandra Nicolson, 343 Clarke Ave., upon witnessing the strongman feat of Peter Brabant, 1115 Minto Ave., in moving a 30-ton Bank of Montreal vault door with one finger. The gigantic easily-moved door was a focal point of interest for many of the 84 Summer Fun Club members from the Westmount Y.M.C.A., who were guests of the B of M's main office on Place d'Armes last week.

Eighty-four boys and girls and the countless questions they asked flowed through various departments of the Bank of Montreal last week, as the Summer Fun Club of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. took advantage of a B of M offer to tour its Montreal main office facilities on Place d'Armes.

Young minds come up with some real "stumpers" was the general opinion of the bank guides as the youngsters, between eight and 15 years old, popped up with a volley of inquiries at every new sight on the tour.

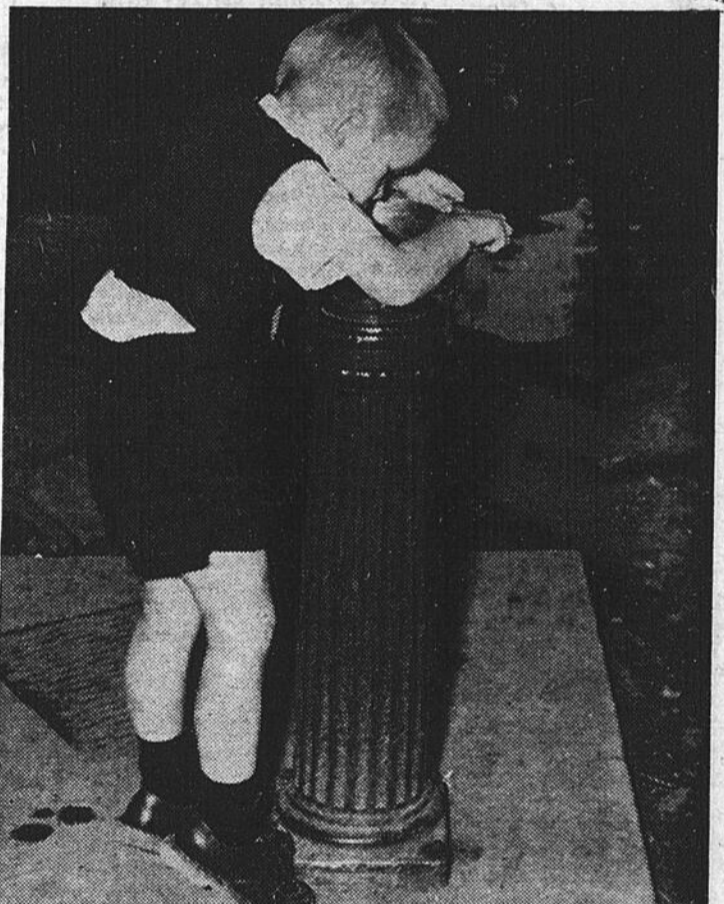

Who made the first money? Is the automatic time-clock on the vault door run by electricity, and if so, is it more feasible on AC or DC current? Which is harder, gold or silver? Why do banks handle money? How come the bank has so much money when it doesn't sell anything? Could a robber steal everything here or would he get caught like on Dragnet?

"There's some budding financial wizards in this group," exclaimed one bank guide at the tour's end.

The group was taken through a variety of sections, with the two favorites being the main vault, "where the loot is kept", as one youngster described it, and the dining room for employees where they were given ice cream, soft drinks and cakes.

CAPTAIN AND CREW: Elliott McLaughlin, left, 7, of 12 Melbourne Ave., and Dave Crow, 5, of 2226 March Ave., avidly direct their ships in the pool at Westmount park. It's a pleasant pastime for the youngsters during summer vacation.

FOUNTAIN FOR YOUTH: It's tough to be small and thirsty, Bill Suggitt, 3, discovers, as he pulls himself up for a cooling drink at the Westmount park fountain.

MARDEN, vice-president, Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., Ltd., who will head the $4,500,000 building campaign to be conducted by the Queen Elizabeth Hospital of Montreal this fall. Building plans include modernization of the hospital's existing facilities and construction of a new wing that will double the present patient accommodation. The two weeks' drive will open Nov. 16.

Maurice Pollack Heads Committee Of Hope Hospital

Maurice Pollack of Quebec City and Montreal has accepted the Honorary Chairmanship of the Building Extension Campaign of the Jewish Hospital of Hope, which is dedicated to the treatment of chronic diseases. In accepting this office Mr. Pollack paid tribute to the vital work being done by the Hospital in the treatment of those afflicted with long term disease. He also praised the rehabilitation program of the Jewish Hospital of Hope whereby 45% of all patients are restored to a useful life in the community.

The current campaign for $265,000 will complete and equip a new wing which will provide 44 additional beds, a surgery department, 2 large solaria, physiotherapy and occupational therapy departments, a modern radiology department, a chapel for religious services, and auditorium for the entertainment of patients and a complete pharmacy.

In making the announcement of Mr. Pollack's acceptance of the Honorary Chairmanship of the campaign, Mr. J. R. Bogante, Q.C., President of the Jewish Hospital of Hope and Mr. Morris Cooperberg, Campaign Chairman, lauded his outstanding contributions to educational, cultural and humanitarian causes in Canada, as well as in Israel. In recognition of his many gifts, he was recently honoured by Laval University of Quebec City with a Doctorate in Commerce. He has also been made an Honorary Fellow of Bar Ilan University in Israel.

Mr. Bogante pointed out that since the Jewish Hospital of Hope was opened in 1942 more than 850 patients were treated, and that more than 350,000 hospital days were provided. The urgency of adding a new wing to meet the increasing demands made upon the hospital by the numerous chronically ill patients in the province is due to the fact that 70% of the patients are indigent. No patient has ever been refused admission to the hospital because of lack of funds.

Following the play a Dolls Contest was held.

The principle highlight of the Summer Season Program took place last week with one hundred boys and girls participating in the Annual Children's Jamboree at Belmont Park. The group left the Unity Boys' Club headquarters at noon and returned sometime before five p.m. They enjoyed the wonderful day of free rides and refreshments.

Over twenty-five boys and girls joined Louis Thomas on one of his weekly hikes to Ville LaSalle and regions.

Also during the week members of the East End Boys' Club were visitors at Unity.

Coming Events

Interesting tours of various industrial centres have been lined up for the coming weeks ahead. Some of these include the Fry-Cadbury Company, the Dominion Glass Company, the Kraft Food Company, Elmhurst Dairy, the General Foods Company, etc. Other places of interest will include Malo Beach, Beaver Lake, St. Helen's Island, and in all probability a hike to Camp Lewis by two groups.

Gym Gets Face Lifting

While the youngsters are out enjoying themselves in the great outdoors on the playgrounds, at the beaches and so on, the spacious Unity gymnasium is getting a new coat of paint. The Club colours of blue and gold will predominate in the gym with the new colour scheme.

HELP HATCHING

The emperor penguin divides responsibilities with the female. They take turns keeping the egg off the ice by holding it in their feet.

A PROJECT OF WESTMOUNT ROTARY CLUB

By Maurice Mariasine

A full schedule of Summer Program activities is currently being carried out at the Unity Boys' Club with a daily playground program taking place at Staynor Park and weekly and bi-weekly special events to various interesting locations in and around the island of Montreal.

A large group of youngsters visited the Nesbitt Botting

Company and were taken on an interesting conducted tour through the plant. The bi-weekly swimming sessions commenced operations last week with two groups attending the swimming instructions at the Y.W.C.A.

During the past week the Unity Boys' Club played host to members of the Rosemount Boys' Club. Inter-Club competition in soft ball took place and the entire group had their lunch at the Club.

The visitors were treated with a special presentation of "Snow White" presented by the Unity Summer Theatre Dramatics group. During the past week this group was hard at work making their own costumes and much credit is due to the following youngsters who worked so hard to make their play a success. The cast: Barbara Fein played a dual role as the good and bad Queens; Louise Blais was Snow White; the huntsman and Prince was Geoff Mayer; the Seven Dwarfs were as follows: Doc—Stella Meyer; Grumpy—Susan Fein; Sneezy—Barbara Rountree; Happy—Carol Lono; Sleepy—Nancy Morrison; Dopey—Susan Warren and Bashful—Susan Rountree. The bird was Valentina Hrischin. In charge of the costuming and direction was Stella Meyer. Immediately

Oratory Announces Second Fund Drive To Finish Basilica

Rev. Fr. Andre Cordeau, c.s.c., bursar of Saint Joseph's Oratory has announced that the Mount Royal sanctuary is presently appealing to friends for a second time for funds still needed to finish the inside of the sanctuary's basilica.

"Last February," he said, "we sent out an S.O.S. to the Oratory's benefactors so that we could finish the inside walls of the basilica. We were then threatened with having to suspend work indefinitely.

"More than a hundred thousand persons answered our call. They subscribed a total of $252,483—nearly two thirds of what we needed to finish the inside walls early this summer. In this second appeal we hope to receive the $147,517 still needed to complete this important work before August 1, when will start the great annual novena of prayers to Saint Joseph."

Father Cordeau explained that the sum is needed to complete concrete work inside the building, to finish the entrances, the organ loft, the sides of the basilica and other works. This has to be completed before the church can be cleaned and painted.

Don't leave the boat if it capsizes. Cling to it until rescued. It may be a longer swim to shore than you think.

CADETS ENJOY CAMP LIFE

RCAF Station Popular Site With Boys

Clinton, Ont. — Air Cadets from local Squadrons started their second week of summer camp at the RCAF station here on Monday, and from all indications they are enjoying themselves.

The local cadets arrived here a week ago Saturday, among a group of 400 Air Cadets from Quebec and Ontario, and have mixed work and play at the RCAF's main Radar school without any ill effects.

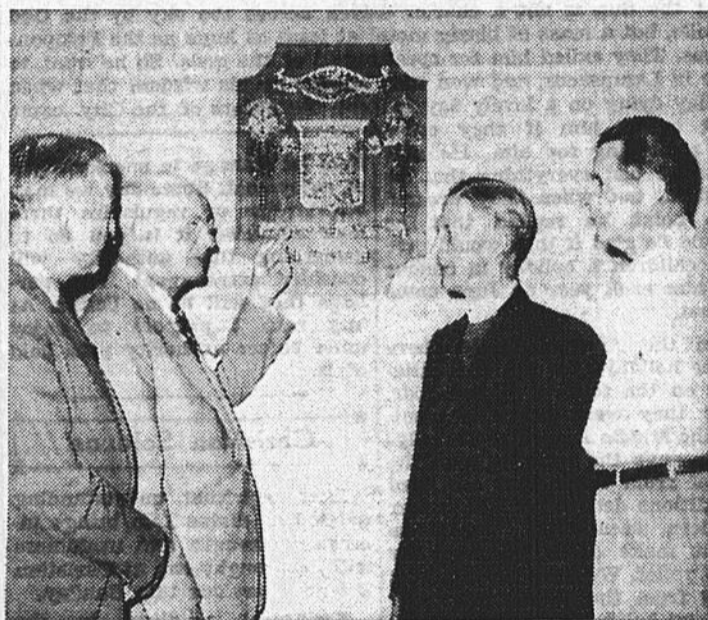

Most authorities here agree that the morale of the Cadets is very good, and one thing is certain and that is their appetites haven't suffered any. The amount of food stowed away by the hungry youngsters at each meal time is almost unbelievable.

The Air Cadets take drill and lectures in the mornings and the afternoons are given over to recreation. The camp is supervised by civilian Air Cadet officers in co-operation with Air Force regulars.

A diversified training program has been drawn up for the Cadets to keep them happy during their two-week stay at the base, which is located near London, and an effort is also made to see that each boy gets as much flying time as is possible.

The Cadets take in industrial tours at nearby London, Ont., and get a chance to swim in Lake Huron at least twice a week.

The training program at the Left to right are: A. Leslie Ham, Ewart A. Everson, Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Lord Bishop of Montreal, who dedicated the building, and V. F. McAdam, Mr. Rexford, who was long active in the affairs of Weredale House, died last year.

RCAF station includes rifle drill and armament, as well as flying instruction, and technical lectures on aeroengines. The Cadets also learn water safety, as part of their regular training program.

A sports day is held on the middle Saturday of each two-week camp period with Cadets from all Squadrons based here competing for prizes. On Sundays the Cadets take part in Roman Catholic and Protestant Church parades.

The entire Air Cadet training program has been arranged of late to stress citizenship, with the build-better-boys theme in (Continued on page 8)

Residents Warned Old Refrigerators May Trap Children

Local residents have been asked to take notice of a warning issued this week by the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association, to remove hinges and latches from the doors of old ice boxes and refrigerators before discarding them.

The Canadian Refrigerator Manufacturers have endorsed the warning. A spokesman said that all new refrigerators are sold with a warning label reminding purchasers to remove the latches from their old cabinets, since otherwise they are a potential hazard to young children who may lock themselves inside.

Frank Sharpe Takes Rotary Golf Honors In Shawbridge Play

Frank Sharpe finished one stroke ahead of a field of some 17 Westmount Rotary golfers after 18 holes Wednesday at Shawbridge to walk off with the Presidents' Trophy for 1956.

Mr. Sharpe turned in scores of 39-38 for a low gross of 77 on the par 66 course to come in ahead of last year's champion Brock Batten.

Also playing in the annual event were four former champions Jack Miller, Felix Alexander, Harold Giles and Bud Close.

President Bill Moxley dispensed with the usual club business meeting after the weekly luncheon at Victoria Hall in order to make way for the affair.

It was announced this week that Mayor J. A. deLalanne, W. H. Girard and William Wren have been selected as honorary members of the club for 56-57.

Grand'Mere Golf Tourney Announced

Members of all golf clubs are eligible for the Grand'Mere Golf Club's invitation tournament, Saturday, Aug. 4, with 18 holes of Medal play.

Prizes will be given for first, second and third low gross and net, and best nine hole gross and net.

Entries should be in not later than Aug. 3, and should be accompanied by a statement of the entrant's club handicap and approximate time when he will be ready to play. Foursomes may be arranged.

Entries should be mailed to the Secretary, Grand'Mere Golf Club, Grand'Mere.

Rev. J. Dixon Takes Part In Camp Weredale Ceremony

A completely equipped craft shop erected in memory of the late Irving R. Rexford was opened last week at Camp Weredale on Lake L'Achigan 50 miles north of the city. The camp is summer home for boys resident at Weredale House in the city.

Taking part in the ceremonies were Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Lord Bishop of Montreal; Ewart A. Everson, president of Weredale House, who acted as chairman for the occasion; A. Leslie Ham, newly-elected president of the Rotary Club of Montreal, and V. F. McAdam, executive director of Weredale House.

Mr. Everson welcomed the Rotarians who had come to participate in the dedication and also hold their annual youth field day at the camp.

Bishop Dixon dedicated the new building to the service of youth and the memory of the late Mr. Rexford. Construction was made possible through the interest of friends and the Rotary Club of Montreal. Chairman of the committee responsible for its erection was A. Wesley Mason.

Mr. Ham, who was performing his first official function as president of the Montreal Club, said it was a fitting memorial to a great Rotarian.

Enlarging on some of Mr. Rexford's many community activities, Mr. McAdam told those assembled, who included 130 boys from Weredale House and over 50 members of Montreal and Westmount Rotary Clubs, that his main interest had been in the camp and its operation. For the 19 years before his death in the spring of last year Mr. Rexford had been chairman of the Camp Committee for Weredale House and under his guidance many improvements had been made to the original site.

Mr. McAdam said he didn't know of anyone who had taken more interest in Weredale House and its work to provide for homeless boys than Mr. Rexford. As president of Montreal Rotary and as chairman of the Weredale Building Committee in 1928, Mr. Rexford had been chiefly responsible for the erection of the present House, a Red Feather agency located in Weredale Park in Westmount. Through his interest the Westmount Rotary Club had been largely responsible for the establishment of Camp Weredale itself in 1934.

Mr. McAdam said that Mrs. Rexford had been unable to attend but had sent a message expressing her good wishes. She personally supplied all the equipment for use in the craft shop.

"MY WEEK"

Eleanor Roosevelt writes

United And Clear Policy By Great Britain And The United States Might Bring Peace To The Middle East — Mrs. Roosevelt Regrets Postponement Of India's Prime Minister Nehru's Visit To Washington.

I was glad to see the statement by one of our eminent columnists that a united and clear policy on the part of Great Britain and the United States might be the one way of bringing peace to the Middle East.

I have long felt that the question of peace in this area of the world has been regarded too much as an Arab-Israel matter, of interest only to the Jewish communities of the world and not important to the free people.

As a matter of fact, if you follow the happenings in these Arab countries, you will remember the announcement not long ago that women would not be granted the privilege of education in Saudi Arabia, and just a few days ago, that all strikes were now barred in Saudi Arabia.

These incidents help you realize that Israel is the only country that has a real concept of democracy and has succeeded in giving its people a sense of the importance of the individual and an understanding that government is primarily instituted for the benefit of the individual.

Therefore, we can hope that from this one little state alone ideas of freedom and justice will flow out to the communities around it. To encourage this development is of vital interest not only of the Jewish communities of the world but to the free world everywhere.

News in the paper I think most surprising is that the President has accepted Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's suggestion that he will not come to this country in July.

I suppose this is only a postponement, but, nevertheless, it seemed odd to me to announce that the visit would be postponed on account of the President's health and at the same time announce that the President would go to Panama only two weeks later. I think that an understanding between the President and the government of one of the greatest countries in Asia still in the free world should be one of the most important things on the Presidential agenda for the next few months and that nothing should be undertaken before this is carried through.

If a real agreement could be reached between the countries of the West and the East on the need for the existence and support of Israel, much of the difficulty in the Near East would be eliminated. And, at the moment, that area is one of the most explosive.

Therefore, it seems to me inconceivable that this important visit, during which so many things of highest importance could be discussed, has been postponed without setting a future date. And to undertake anything of an exhausting nature before that date, like the trip to Panama, also seems strange.

It would be natural for Prime Minister Nehru to offer to give up his visit in consideration of the President's health, and perhaps his health does require the postponement. But this delay in the visit should be as brief as possible.

All of us surely await with anxiety the creation of a better understanding between the United States and India that would come from this visit. And, though we do not have as much information as the State Department and the President, we ordinary citizens are deeply concerned that such conferences, aimed at settlement of world tension, should be carried through whenever possible.

I realize full well the importance of the President's

Holidays

By Rev. Canon R. K. Naylor
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Holidays with pay are a modern invention. Ebenezer Scrooge in Dicken's Christmas Carol did not approve of them. He felt very much put upon that he had to let Bob Cratchit escape from his frozen-up cubby-hole of a desk even for Christmas Day. However, even Ebenezer changed his mind and became a reformed character. I have no doubt he distributed holidays right and left and saw his profits increase. I should add that holidays for school children are anything but new. They go back to the dying moments of that philosopher who was exiled from Athens because he said that the Sun is not a chariot driven across the sky by the God Apollo, but a mass of blazing metal at least as huge as the Peloponnesus. They exiled him for speaking ill of the gods. So he went to live in Lampsacus, and won such honour by his wisdom that when he lay dying on a lovely day in June the Elders of the City came and asked him if they could do something for him. He said that he had everything that he wanted, but when they pressed the point he replied that he would be glad if they would give the children a holiday in honour of him each year as June came round.

In the Ancient World there were holidays for the free citizens on the festival of the gods, and they were fairly frequent. In the Middle Ages also the holidays gave the working man the relief from work that his hard conditions demanded. But in our modern secularized world we must make other provision for that relief. We have come a long way from the twelve hour day and no holiday of the Industrial Revolution, and we have not yet reached the end of the story. But let us leave the weightier side of the holiday problem, which really belongs to Labour Day, and let us enjoy our holiday while we can.

Holiday makers fall into three classes: there are the children for whom it is sheer pleasure even if they are scratched by raspberry canes, or tortured by poison ivy, or best of all, chased by an imaginary bear. Then there are their parents who apply liniment, chase the bear, and in particular do the cooking. I well remember my first blissful camping experience with a chum and his family. It was years before I realized that the family had spent most of its time satisfying our ravenous appetites. The mothers must be glad to get home to an orderly kitchen. Then there are the older people who have done all that and like to slip away to some quiet place and let the world go by. And last of all there are the young people who swarm out of offices and factories determined not to lose one minute of their precious fortnight. They may come back more tired than they went, but they are tired in new places.

Holidays are a marvellous institution. For fifty weeks we save our money and bottle up our desires for freedom, and trip to Panama, for in Latin America there is a need for building up friendship and understanding and if the trip can be made safely in July, I am happy it will be undertaken. But I still feel the visit of the Prime Minister of India is of paramount importance to the whole free world.

There is much concern over the meaning of the riots that just took place in Poland. One suggestion was made that they might have been staged by the Soviet Union so that Soviet leaders could show how liberal they have become in granting more freedom to satellite countries, or so that they can use them as an excuse to clamp down tighter than ever before.

Either way, the conviction seems to be that they are not genuine uprisings of the people, but carefully prepared Soviet activity to be turned to the benefit of the Soviet in whatever way seems wisest.

then let them go in one fortnight of enjoyment. Some day we may standardize or regularize them—or whatever it is you do to something that authority will consider extravagant, but perhaps they will be no better. At any rate I propose to enjoy mine before authority gets hold of it.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life brings increased strength and usefulness will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include the following from Psalms (66:8,9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved." Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from John (5:26): "As the Father hath life in himself; as hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

Saunders-Duthie Wedding Held In St. Matthias Anglican Church

The marriage of Elizabeth Ann Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Duthie, to Mr. Vincent Earl Terrington Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Claude Saunders took place on Saturday July 7, in St. Mathias Church, Westmount, the Rev. Kenneth B. Keefe officiating. Mr. Eustace Tait played the wedding music and Mrs. Gertrude Olsen sang during the signing of the register. Baskets of pink and white carnations, gladioli and chrysanthemums were used as decorations in the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of Chantilly lace and organza fashioned with a fitted lace bodice having a high neckline with sleeves ending in points over her hands, and a very full skirt ending in a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Patricia Mackenzie as matron of honor, and Miss Rita Ghey, as bridesmaids, were in bouffant frocks of blue crystal trimmed in white. They wore matching bandeaux and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations and white sweet-peas.

Mr. Clifford Sunderland acted as best man for Mr. Saunders and the ushers were Mr. Howard Blater and Mr. Sinclair Saunders, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Duthie, the bride's mother, was in a gown of champagne lace over taffeta. She wore a white hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of apricot carnations.

Mrs. Saunders, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of navy blue crepe with a white hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations.

The reception was held in the Blue Room of the Ritz-Carlon, where pink and white carnations, chrysanthemums and gladioli were used to decorate.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Saunders left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a frock of honey beige Italian cotton trimmed with brown organza and wearing a pink hat, beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of Demure roses.

Marriage Counselling Centre Helps Couples Avoid Pitfalls

Career girls and "only" children start married life with several strikes against them, according to statistics compiled by people whose business it is to find out why some marriages work and others don't.

Mrs. Dorothy Barrier, director of the Marriage Counselling Centre of Montreal, a Red Feather service, has found that certain categories of people are more prone to marital failure than others and, for this reason, she is anxious to encourage pre-marital counselling. An encouraging number of engaged couples, forewarned by the high incidence of broken marriages, are taking advantage of the Centre's pre-marital counselling in the hope of avoiding the pitfalls that have trapped so many starry-eyed people before them, she reports.

The pitfalls are common enough, Mrs. Barrier says. Selfishness, unco-operativeness, lack of affection and understanding head a long list. For these very reasons, "only" children are recognized as having a 20 per cent marital disability. Often they have grown up as the centre of attention, unaware of any need to co-operate and taking for granted many advantages which are not possible in large families. They are much more likely to be selfish and to want affection without recognizing the need to give it. This is as true of men as of women, Mrs. Barrier says.

The career girl's problem is more specific and easier to solve, Mrs. Barrier says. It often boils down to the fact that she is a badly trained housekeeper. Her energy and interest before marriage went into her job and she may underestimate the demands of housekeeping. Husbands of these girls usually have to endure a period of trial and error while the bride perfects her knowledge of the basic skills of housewifery, and this often is where the trouble starts. The young wife may become discouraged and think regretfully of the days when she had a job she could do creditably and, what's more, got paid for it. Her husband, with no more understanding than she of the unfamiliar challenges of homemaking, may be impatient with her attempts. If they can weather this early squall, the career girl turned housewife usually ends up ahead of the game, Mrs. Barrier says. Her experience at job holding will pay off and she will have the added satisfaction of running her household well, once she recognizes that housekeeping isn't a matter of intuition and gets down to the business of learning the arts and skills of housewifery.

INVENTED PROGRESS

Stephen Horgan, who invented the process by which the first newspaper halftone was printed in 1880, lived long enough to help develop the transmission of color pictures by wire in 1941, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Selby Turns Hurler To Pace MacRae Win

A fine pitching chore by the team's regular catcher and a seven-run uprising in the sixth inning featured MacRae Electric's 12-8 victory over Mitchell Houghton in an Intermediate Fastball contest at Westmount Park Tuesday.

Catcher Bud Selby took the mound as a sub for Gordie Smith and lasted until the fourth when Smith put in an appearance. However the latter ran into trouble in the next frame and Selby came to the rescue.

Facing a none-out, bases-load-★-ed situation, he promptly retired three men in a row without yielding a run. At that point in the game Mitchell held an 8-4 lead but the winners picked up a single run in the fifth and exploded in the sixth.

Pinch hitter Dick Dunbar supplied the big blow, a three run triple, and Joe Taillon knocked in a pair with a bases-loaded single. Taillon nailed two long triples as well and was credited with five RBIs in all. Darkness halted the game in the bottom of the sixth.

In other league action Tuesday, Prudential ran roughshod over Notre Dame by a 13-5 count.

In last Thursday's games, Mitchell Houghton and Notre Dame came a cropper when their contest, rescheduled for Westmount, was postponed because the bases were unavailable.

Red Sox Near Title In LL American B

The Tyndale House Red Sox moved within one game of the second half pennant in the American B Little League section this week, running their season record to 5-2.

The Lions Boys Club Orioles and Unity Boys Club Indians were the victims as the Red Sox and second place St. Andrew's White Sox grabbed a monopoly on the title chances.

The Red Sox shutout the Orioles 7-0 Tuesday, after losing 12-5 to the Indians last Friday. On Tuesday of last week they downed the White Sox 7-2.

Meanwhile the White Sox beat the Indians 8-7 to knock them from contention. John Brighton homered with two on in the fifth inning to win his own ball game, as he fanned 13 for the win.

Jimmy Waugh also homered for the White Sox, while Morgan Turner belted two singles and a double for the Indians.

Twenty-three bases one balls featured the contest last Friday between the Indians and the Red Sox, won 12-5 by Unity.

Winning hurler Morgan Turner gave up 10, and only two hits, while his mound opponent John O'Driscoll gave up 13 free passes, and also two hits. The big difference was that the Indians got their bingles along with the walks, and the Red Sox didn't.

Ray Mader's single drove home two runs in the first frame, and he scored on wild pitches to make the count 3-0. In the second tie with MacRae Electric by thumping the Electricians 6-2, behind Yves Valois. The sturdy right hander showed his teammates the way by rapping out three singles off loser Sonny Smith.

Prudential got many more chances during the game, with Smith handing out 11 walks and nine hits. But he scraped through several innings, including the seventh and the eighth when Prudential left the bases loaded, with minor damage.

Valois fanned nine and walked three, while Smith whiffed five. John McDonald got two hits for the winners, while Doug Brambell got a brace for MacRae.

the forefront. During the war, and for a period afterwards the Air Cadet movement prepared boys for actual entry into the RCAF, but of late this idea has been shelved and the movement has become more of a social one.

As far as the Air Cadets themselves are concerned, however, they love it. The two weeks at camp on an RCAF Station such as Clinton gives them the feeling of being in the Air Force and acting and being treated as airmen for a short time anyway.

Both clubs fielded juggled line-ups. The Brewers had Doug Harvey at first and Piche in left field, with Connie Broden at short. The Freezers ended with Bagshaw at short and Warren Hynes at first.

In Monday's game, Gibby Wesolowski racked up his 11th victory of the season as FBI downed Steinberg's 4-1. It marked the fourth loss in six decisions for Percy McCracken.

Ray Boutler and Jerry Leven-son led the assault on the Grocers, with two hits apiece. Wesolowski banded in two run with a single, while fanning 11.

McCracken whiffed eight, and proved almost untouchable in the later innings. But FBI got him for single markers in the first and second, and two in the third, to almost clinch first place.

Hugh Brown, who replaced Buddy Atchison after one of Wesolowski's pitches hit the Grocer manager, and Hugh Sutherland each got two hits for Steinberg's.
