FOUR CHILDREN DIE IN ST. ELZEAR FIRE

Fire Razed Home While Mother Was Making Telephone Call Nearby.

St. Elzear, Que. — (CP) — Four children were burned to death in their home today while their mother was out at a neighboring house making a telephone call.

Dead are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Yvon Masson — Remi, 5, Lucille, 4, Rene, 3, and Pauline, 2. A six-month-old infant boy, Gaetan, was snatched from his crib by a neighbor who braved the flames that gutted the home in this Beauce county village.

An explosion apparently set off the fire that spread in a flash through the frame home.

Romeo Savard, a neighbor, was standing nearby and rushed in. He was able to get to the crib of the infant boy and carry him to safety. A wall of flames barred any further rescue attempts.

The father, a baker, was said to be making a bread delivery at Leeds, a town 30 miles from here.

Firefighters from nearby Ste. Marie de Beauce were called to assist local volunteers put out the blaze.

St. Elzear is a rural community about 60 miles south of Quebec City.

No other details were immediately available.

High River, Alta.— (CP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Sqdn. Ldr. Alfred Alexander (Cap) Leitch, 60, pioneer pilot and one of the first Canadians to join the Royal Flying Corps. He died at his home Friday. He was one of the nucleus of the infant RCAF.

Seek Means For Easing Ship Crisis

Ottawa — (CP) — Means to buoy up Canada's wallowing deep-sea merchant navy will soon be given renewed cabinet consideration.

The deep-water fleet of dry cargo vessels under Canadian registry shrank during 1954 to about half its 1953 size, and informants said Monday the issue will be debated in the Commons early in the parliamentary session opening Friday.

The Canadian Shipowners' Association told cabinet about a year ago that operators could not pit the high-wage Canadian vessels against low-cost ships such as those from the United Kingdom and asked for a subsidy.

The government refused to revive a subsidy it had tried in 1948 at a cost of $3,000,000, but got Britain to accept registry of some vessels to trim their running costs, ranked second to only those of United States merchant ships.

With 21 ships either transferred to British registry or sold last year, the Canadian-flag fleet was cut to half its 1953 size. And more than 100 already had been accepted into U.K. registry in 1950.

The new cabinet action was brought on by this dwindling of the merchant fleet with impetus added by studies of government experts and ship operators' requests for action.

Nine of the 21 ships remaining under the home flag are operated by the government-owned Canadian National Steamships.

Shipowners, arguing it is necessary to protect Canadian trade and keep a trained nucleus of seamen for emergency requirements, are again pressing for some action that will float a substantial and modern Canadian-flag fleet.

An association statement that is to be distributed among members of Parliament says: "What is needed is a plan which will not merely enable ships to operate under the Canadian flag . . . but will also provide shipowners with the means and incentive to replace older ships with new and more modern ships."

The owners would like to sell off their ships, most of which are obsolescent ,and buy new vessels. But they feel a new fleet could operate with Canadian wages under the Canadian flag only through subsidization.

It is estimated a subsidy of something under $5,000,000 a year would be necessary to operate the 40 or more modern dry cargo vessels proceeds from the old Canadian fleet of about

Brass Again Questioning MacKenzie

Ottawa. —(CP)— Sqdn. Ldr. Andy MacKenzie returns to Ottawa today for further interrogation by intelligence officers seeking to learn as much as they can from his two years in a Chinese Communist prisoner-of-war camp.

The 34-year-old fighter pilot was released by the Reds Dec. 5 in Hong Kong and returned to Canada in time to spend Christmas with his wife and four children in their suburban Montreal home.

The Reds captured MacKenzie when he was shot down while flying as an RCAF exchange pilot with the United States Air Force in Korea. They kept him in solitary confinement for 16 of the 24 months they held him in an attempt to force him to sign "confessions."

He told a press conference here in December that he finally signed a false statement that he had invaded Red Chinese air and that he had been ordered to. He said he probably still would be in solitary if he hadn't.

It was later learned, however, that the Canadian squadron leader had refused to bow to Communist pressure and confess falsely to germ-warfare charges.

MacKenzie spent Dec. 13 and 14 here for questioning by intelligence officers. He also talked with Defence Minister Campney and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Mr. Pearson came out of that talk with frank admiration for the way MacKenzie had conducted himself during his months as a prisoner.

Muscovites Of Michigan Unconcerned

Moscow, Mich. — (AP) — The Muscovites here have mixed reactions on the United States government's decision to close their frontiers to the Russians.

Moscow, Mich., is in one of 37 counties in Michigan included in areas closed to travel by Soviet citizens in the U.S. the State Department announced the move Monday as a retaliatory measure against Moscow — Moscow, Russia, that is.

Another American Moscow, in Idaho, also is out of bounds for the Russians. But they are free to travel in still another, Moscow, Ohio.

Michigan's Moscow, which hasn't even a family of Russian ancestry, has 200-plus residents and a general store. The cracker barrel is long since gone but the Muscovites who congregated around it are still there.

And each has an opinion.

Harold Horton, 41, a farmer, supports the government's move.

"If they don't want us travelling through their country then we should keep them out of here," he said.

Wynn Richards, an insurance man, put it this way:

"We don't want any part of Russia — outside of the name of Moscow. And if restricting the Russians in this country is okay with Ike Eisenhower it's okay with me."

To Fred Kies, owner of the store, it "doesn't make any difference." But Kies commented on a long-standing complaint. He said every time Russia launches new strategy in the cold war, Moscow is under outside pressure to change its name.

On this point, Richard Clow, 29, says Muscovites are united.

"When the other Moscows in the United States change their names we'll consider taking action."

First Round Appeal Lost By Sheppard

Cleveland—(AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, under a life prison sentence in the killing of his wife, Marilyn, has lost the first round of his fight for a new trial.

Late Monday Judge Edward Blythin ruled there was "not merit" in any of 41 complaints of error in the 10-week trial which ended Dec. 21 with a jury convicting the 31-year-old osteopath of second-degree murder.

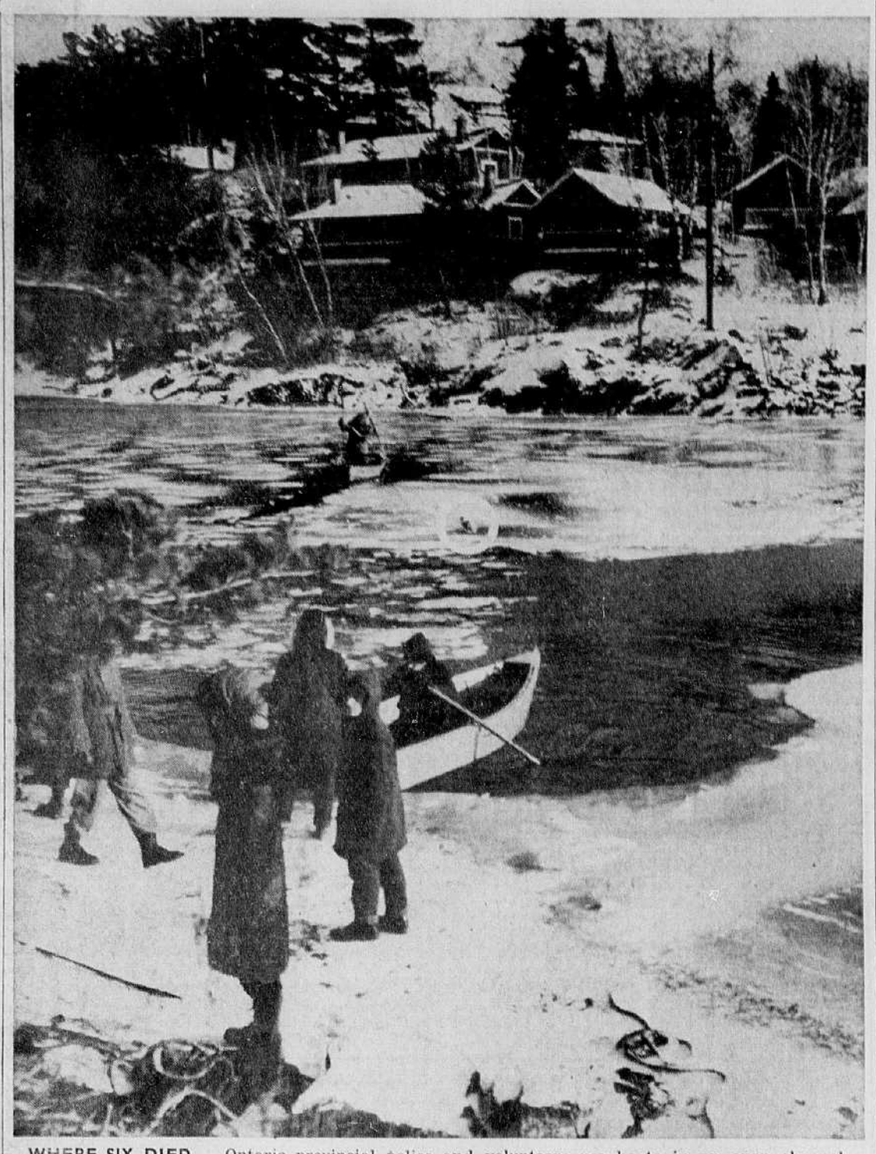
Another round in the fight for a new trial is scheduled for Saturday. Then Sheppard's lawyers get a hearing on their motion based on "newly-discovered evidence."

There is a chance that this hearing will be put off to a later date, but until it is held by Judge Blythin an appeal to higher courts must wait.

While the legal battle goes on for a new trial in which Sheppard again would risk death in the electric chair, the convicted man remains in county jail. He has been there since July 30, 26 days after his wife was bludgeoned to death on her bed in their suburban home. Although the sentence imposed on him is for life, he automatically would be eligible for parole after 10 years. But the 10 years would not start until his transfer to Ohio penitentiary to begin serving his time.

Concluding a 15-page memorandum for the record, Judge Blythin wrote:

"The court is convinced that there is no merit in any of the complaints made by the defendant; that he was accorded a fair trial by an unusually intelligent and impartial jury, and that the verdict rendered is supported by the evidence adduced upon the trial."



WHERE SIX DIED — Ontario provincial police and volunteers use boats in an open channel near Kenora attempting to attach grappling hooks to two cars which carried six persons to their death early Saturday. The cars took a wrong turn while crossing lake ice, to the right of the picture, and plunged into the water. Two survivors scrambled ashore to CPR Devil's Gap bungalow camp in background to get help. Midway between boats is a cat from the camp (circled) that sat on the ice for hours watching operations. (CP Photo)

Charges Professional Killers Used In Assassination Of Panama Chief

Panama City — (AP) — Authorities pressed a search today for a band of unidentified professional killers accused of assassinating Panama's President Jose Antonio Remon at the instigation of his political enemies.

The "guns for hire" charge was made by government minister Catalino Arocha Graell in a funeral oration late Monday over the body of the slain president, who was mowed down by machine-gun fire at a race track Sunday night.

"Mercenary hands armed by his political enemies" fired the bullets, Arrocha declared. There is widespread speculation that the killers may have been imported.

Arrocha spoke during burial services at the national cemetery. Thousands of persons lined the capital's streets to pay their final tribute as the funeral cortege passed from the Roman Catholic cathedral to the cemetery.

There is no clue to the identity of the assassins. The National Assembly has decreed a 10-day state of siege — a modified form of martial law temporarily suppressing some constitutional guarantees — to aid secret police in their hunt.

At least a score of persons, including ex-president Arnulfo Arias and two women, have been rounded up for questioning. Col. Saturnino Flores, deputy commander of Panama's National Guard, has indicated strongly that the weight of suspicion is on followers of Arias, who was ousted from the presidency in 1951 by a bloody National Guard coup. Remon then was head of the guard, Panama's chief military force.

Seeking To Halt British Rail Strike

London. —(AP)— Prime Minister Churchill presided today over a cabinet meeting to consider last-minute proposals to avert a railway strike scheduled for Sunday which could paralyze Britain.

The cabinet had before it suggestions of a three-man court of inquiry which has heard claims by the National Union of Railwaymen for pay increases and counter-arguments by the British transport commission, which manages the state-owned lines. A year ago last December the NUR demanded a 15-per-cent increase. Management granted raises of four shillings, but now the NUR wants the full 15-per-cent boost to be met. Present wages run from £6 1s to £8 12s 6d.

Only a few persons in the government know details of the court of inquiry report.

Meanwhile NUR orders to 400,000 rail workers to strike at midnight Sunday still stand.

New Quakes Disturbing Sicilians

Messina, Sicily — (AP) —Hundreds of Lipari islanders slept in the open again Monday night, chased from their homes by recurring earthquakes.

Authorities in Sicily said there were no reports of new damage or of any casualties. Communications with the islands are sparse at all times.

The quakes started Dec. 27 in the islands 15 miles off Sicily's north coast. In the next three days 75 separate earth snocks were felt, damaging several homes but causing no casualties.

Many of the 1,200 islanders who had fled to the nearby Sicilian mainland had returned Monday and were settling again in their homes when new tremors shook the earth. From noon until sundown the undulating quakes continued.

The villagers left their homes and took to the hills, mindful of a legend that earthquakes one day will cause the islands to sink into the sea.

Toronto Girl Is Badly Beaten Up

Toronto— (CP) —Fourteen-year-old Diane Ward was struck three times with a hammer early today as she lay sleeping in her second-storey bedroom.

A prowler climbed to the window on a ladder and fled the same way, police said.

Police said there was no attempt at theft. The girl might have been mistaken for her mother, Mrs. Hazel Ward, who was not at home at the time of the attack, police said.

Detectives were searching for the mother this morning for questioning.

They said the girl suffered scalp lacerations but that her injuries were not serious. She was taken to hospital.

Motor Firm Plans Large Stock Offer

New York—(AP)—General Motors Corp., at mid-point in a two-year billion-dollar expansion program, is going to raise $325,000,000 for new growth through sale of common stock to its present stockholders rather than go to bankers for a loan or new debentures.

Current shareholders will be offered the right to subscribe to one new share of common for each 20 shares held.

That decision by the corporation's directors Monday came at the close of an acrobatic day on the New York stock exchange for GM common.

Wall street was alive with rumors that General Motors planned a stock dividend or split, or that an anti-trust action might result in an eventual stock split.

The rumor mill was spurred Sunday by a statement from the Federal Trade Commissioner Edward F. Howrey. Speaking on the American Forum television program, Howrey remarked that General Motors was too big, but he didn't know what could be done about it.

The rumors proved groundless but GM stock, with 65,400 shares traded, was the day's most active issue. It closed at $105.12, up $7.25. At one point it had jumped more than $9.

The price of the new stock to be offered GM shareholders has not yet been determined.

Woman Flier Met Death By Slim Margin

Long Beach, Calif.—(AP)—Ten more gallons of fuel might have saved Dianna Bixby, prominent woman flier whose broken body was flown back here from Mexico Monday night by her grieving husband.

"If she'd nave had any kind of break at all, if she'd had 10 more gallons of gas, she would have made it," said Lieut. E. S. Childers, co-pilot of a United States coast guard plane which located the wreckage of Mrs. Bixby's plane.

Robert Bixby, 40, her husband, couldn't say anything to reporters.

Mrs. Bixby, 32, perished in the sea which also claimed the life of her idol, Amelia Earhart, lost in the Pacific luring a world flight nearly 18 years ago.

Mrs. Bixby's freight cargo plane, a converted A-20 bomber, crashed-landed Sunday 150 yards off shore in the Gulf or California near Loreto, Mexico. She knew she was running out of fuel and evidently had to attempt a landing on the water instead of ashore.

Her husband knew her predicament, too, by radio conversation between the two planes they were flying. But he was about an hour behind her.

He heard her say calmly that she was nearly out of gas but thought she had spotted a clearing for a landing.

He searched by air, then returned to their Long Beach headquarters Sunday night.

Bixby was waiting on shore at the scene when navy diver James Watkins brought up Mrs. Bixby's body.

Mrs. Bixby and her husband operated an air freight service. For several years they had flown between here and Mexico.

Name New Commander For 25th Infantry Brigade

Ottawa— (CP) —Col. Donald C. Cameron, DSO, 43, of Alexandria, Ont., the army's director of infantry, will be appointed commander of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade early next month, army headquarters announced today. The appointment carries with it the acting rank of brigadier.

Headquarters of the brigade, which served in the Korean war, now is at Camp Borden, Ont. Brigade strength in Korea recently was cut by two-thirds, bringing two battalions home and leaving one in the Far East.

The brigade's major infantry units are the 2nd Battalion, the Black Watch, stationed at Aldershot, N.S.; the 4th Battalion, Canadian Guards, stationed at Ipperwash, Ont., and the 2nd Battalion, the Queen's Own Rifles, still in Korea.

Officials said long-range policy for the 25th Brigade has not yet been settled. It is possible that it may be renamed the 4th Brigade. The Canadian Army now has three brigades—the 1st in Germany, 2nd at Edmonton and 3rd at Valcartier—and a mobile striking force comprising three parachute battalions.

Brig. Frederick A. Clift, DSO, of Melfort, Sask., last commander of the 25th Brigade, recently was appointed director - general of army personnel.

Lt.-Col. Norman Wilson-Smith, DSO, 38, of Winnipeg, will be promoted to the acting rank of colonel to succeed Col. Cameron as director of infantry at army headquarters.

Col. Wilson-Smith now is serving as general staff officer, grade one, at the Camp Petawawa, Ont., headquarters of the 1st Infantry Division. He will be succeeded in this job by Lt.-Col. Robert E. Hogarth, DSO, 38, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Until recently, Col. Hogarth held a similar appointment with the 1st Commonwealth Division in Korea.

Col. Cameron enlisted as a private in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders in 1926 and was commissioned two years later. He served in Italy during the Second World War with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, of which he became commanding officer in April, 1944. He won the Distinguished Service Order and Bar for gallantry and leadership in action.

Col. Wilson-Smith served overseas in the Second World War with the Royal Winnipeg Rifles and was wounded in action in Normandy in 1944. In 1951, he took the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, to Korea as commanding officer.

Col. Hogarth joined the Royal Canadian Artillery as a lieutenant in August, 1939, and during the campaign in northwest Europe was commander of the 23rd Field Regiment. From 1948 to 1951 he was Canadian military attache in Yugoslavia.

London Press Takes Light View Of German Incident

Bonn —(Reuters)—Oskar Schlitter, West German diplomat hastily withdrawn from the London embassy after his wife spoke out of turn and created a full-blown international incident, will not be returning to the London post, foreign office sources here said today.

But the source said the foreign office will wait until the current storm has blown over before deciding on Schlitter's offer of resignation.

Schlitter and wife, Daisy, reached here Monday and went into official hiding after foreign office interviews. Mrs. Schlitter's remark in a speech at an embassy Christmas party that Britain was an "enemy country" brought an official apology to Britain Monday.

A West German government statement said Mrs. Schlitter, speaking extemporaenously when her charge d'affaires husband was called away on business, had suffered from nervousness and got her words mixed up. What she had meant, the statement said, was that Germans had to be careful in foreign countries where the horrors of the Second World War are not forgotten. Her expression, it conceded, was "unacceptable."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Schlitter, "Miss Germany" of 1931 and a former movie actress, is in hospital suffering a reported breakdown.

In Britain, editorial writers have taken a light-hearted view of the matter.

The Daily Sketch says: "Every husband with a talkative wife who takes her to business parties will have a certain sympathy with Herr Schlitter."

The Daily Herald says: "It is some test of diplomacy to keep a woman quiet."

In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda says the episode should illustrate to Britain and France "what are the real plans of the rulers of the Bonn republic and of the Bonn diplomats who represent them."

Indicates Democrats To Back Eisenhower Policy

Washington — (AP) — Senator Walter George of Georgia, a leading Democrat, says his party will have no "basic disagreements" with President Eisenhower over foreign, national defence and world trade policies in the United States Congress session opening Wednesday.

George, in line to become chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, spoke out after Republican legislative leaders predicted that the President's State of the Union message will be "well received" by the country.

Saying he doesn't believe the traditional message, which corresponds to the parliamentary Speech from the Throne, contains anything new or startling, Senator William F. Knowland, of California, Republican floor leader, added that he thinks the message "will be well received by the Congress and the people."

Eisenhower gave his party leaders a preview of the message at the White House Monday. He was said to be stressing in the message a new defence concept in which proposed military manpower reductions would be offset by the employment of new weapons and closer links with the Allies.

The manpower cuts, already announced, have brought Democratic demands for a review of over-all military policy.

Eisenhower was represented as taking an optimistic view of long range economic prospects, and to be emphasizing in the message plans to advance the health and economic welfare of the country.

Some legislators said the message will be redrafted before the president's scheduled delivery at a joint session of Congress Thursday.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the message will run about 6,400 words — about 1,600 fewer than last year's — and will take about 45 minutes for the president to deliver. Radio and television networks will carry the speech.

The new Congress convenes at noon Wednesday, with the Democrats taking control, and then marks time until the President's message a day later.

Daddy Ringtail

Playing Policeman

By WESLEY DAVIS

The rain and the ice and snow had fallen, but now the ice and snow were melting. Everywhere was "drip, drip, drip."

Water dripped from the roof of Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. Water dripped from every rock and tree and bush in the Great Forest. Water dripped and trickled, gurgled and splashed, crashed and roared in the Whispering River.

The Whispering River was not whispering any more. It roared indeed, and hissed and splashed. It was much too full of a mighty flood of water, rushing and roaring on down to the sea.

None of the animals or animal-people of the Great Forest was in any danger. They wouldn't be going out on the river in a boat. They had wisely built their homes away from the waters of a flooding river. But there was one danger. The danger was a narrow little bridge where animal-people sometimes walked to cross the river.

The bridge was in great danger of being washed away by the mighty waters that beat upon it. A beaver-people risked his life to examine the bridge just beneath the water and findout. And now Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was standing guard at the end of the bridge to warm anyone who might try to cross. Yes, and the animal-people had found a policeman's cap for him to wear upon his head, except the cap was much too big. It covered up his ears and eyes.

And so Daddy Ringtail could not see the someone walking now up toward the bridge to cross it. But Daddy Ringtail could hear the someone's footsteps, whoever the someone was. Then, when the someone was closer, Daddy Ringtail could see the someone's legs and feet about to step on the bridge.

"Halt! Stop! Whoa!" said Daddy Ringtail. "The bridge is not safe to cross, it isn't."

The someone stopped to hear the words. "Thank you," said the someone. He turned around and walked away and never argued at all that the bridge might really be safe to cross after all.

The someone was a good citizen. He had heard the voice from under the policeman's cap say that the bridge was not safe to cross, and so he hadn't tried to cross. Every good citizen listens well to a voice from under a policeman's cap, and a very good thing it is. A few minutes later the bridge crashed and tumbled and fell and was gone down the river.

Happy day!

In Hollywood With Bob Thomas

Hollywood (AP) — Las Vegas, that gambling oasis on the great American desert, already making money hand over dice, will get its biggest push in 1955.

Five new hotel-casino-niteries are being built, adding to the seven now in business, and others are projected. It is estimated that $20,000,000 will be paid to entertainers next year to lure people to the gaming tables.

Will Las Vegas find enough new customers to absorb this huge new expansion or will the new places and skyrocketing expenses kill Nevada's golden goose?

You hear it both ways from the entertainment bookers for the Las Vegas hotels.

"I think we're creating a Frankenstein..." argues Abe Schiller, contact man for the Hotel Flamingo. "Where will it end? There isn't enough money in the world to pay the fantastic salaries that some of the places are offering."

Taking another view, Jack Entratter, major domo of the Sands, says: "I think this whole thing will level itself off after six months or so."

Whatever happens, the face of the desert is going to change radically. The Strip is alive with construction.

Total cost of new building investments, including a huge downtown hotel, is estimated at $45,000,000.

Mission Society Entertains S. S. At Danville

Danville, Jan. 4 — The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Advent Christian Church held its regular monthly meeting on December 20, in the United Church Hall. The business hour at 4:30 was presided over by the vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Perkins. It being the Christmas meeting, the Sunday School and their guests were entertained at supper.

The program which followed was prepared by the Sunday School and was in charge of the superintendent, Mrs. E. Marston.

In addition to the group singing of the well-loved carols and a few recitations, a play "The Tree of Remembering" was presented and was much enjoyed with its message in keeping with the season.

An interesting part of the program was the unloading of the tree when each child received a bag of candy in addition to the gifts.

The special Thank-Offering is to be used for flannelgraph material for the mission work.

SPECIAL SERVICES

On Sunday morning December 26, the children of the Sunday School took part in the morning worship service. Rev. Dean spoke on the topic "What do we owe this Child?"

At the evening hour an eighteen-voice choir, under the direction of Mrs. F. McCoy presented the cantata "Child of Bethlehem." Mrs. Clarence Hill was the accompanist.

During the offertory Mrs. McCoy and Miss Mary de Fee played the organ and piano.

General Notes

Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Perkins were Miss Ethel Perkins, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. O. Perkins, and Master Russell and Mr. and Mrs. W. Duperron.

Mrs. Sawyer of Kezar Falls, Me., has returned to her home after spending three weeks with Rev. and Mrs. Dean, at the Parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hawthorne spent Christmas at Bellows' Falls, Vt., guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robinson.

Miss Ethel Perkins, of Montreal, was the guest of relatives during the Christmas season.

Hollywood— (NEA) —Hollywood on TV: A "laugh" machine invented by a CBS Hollywood TV engineer for video comedy shows has had its last laugh at CBS Hollywood.

CBS Vice President Harry Ackerman shuddered last week when I flipped my typewriter and howled with pain over the idea of a machine providing tailor-made laughs "from a tiny titter to crescendo of howls" for sometimes unfunny TV dialog and situations.

Television has too many gadgets already and should concentrate on shows funny enough for REAL laughter. But now, and in the future, the "laugh" machine can go, laugh it up elsewhere. The organ-like gadget has been barred from all CBS Hollywood TV shows, Ackerman assures me, after being used only a few times on "Life With Father" and "That's My Boy." A warning to TV fans, though. The CBS engineer has the right to rent his "laughs" to other shows and networks. So with the gadget still around, don't worry about your sense of humor if a laugh-packed show leaves you sober faced.

The machine can be wrong.

Pinky Lee said it to his teenaged daughter after she completed a one-hour-and-20-minute telephone conversation.

"Another 10 minutes, honey, and we could have called it a Spectacular!"

Last week it was a joke about a Private Ear series starring a psychiatrist. Now it's a note from Nat Tanchuck:

"May I point out that I have in preparation a TV series titled, 'The Psychiatrist,' as announced some time ago."

I guess I missed the announcement, Nat. I'll pull up a couch when you're ready.

The telefilm version of "The Halls of Ivy" is delightful proof that a husband and wife can team up successfully on TV without benefit of flying pies, fright wigs, dishes piled high in the sink, mad neighbors and situations to match.

"There was talk of occasional slapstick for the TV version," Ronald Colman, the smooth-talking, never-absent-minded professor told me, "but we decided to retain the flavor and charm of the radio show. It was a wise decision. Our fan mail indicates you can be visual on TV, and intellectual, without hokum. Our only concession has been making me a little more colloquial and giving the camera more movement than on most TV shows."

Mrs. Colman—Benita Hume—on her intellectual wife who never goes into the kitchen character: "I think it's a good thing. It's nice to be a character instead of a caricature."

If you've been wondering, those college buildings and campus scenes on the show's main titles were photographed at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

Jimmy Durante filmed his first show the other day on the stage where Danny Thomas' "Make Room for Daddy" is lensed. Danny's director, Sheldon Leonard, called the shots on leave of absence from Danny. The director predicts Durante will be a future on-film star, saying:

"He was like a man who just discovered uranium."

District Governor Makes Official Visit To Sherbrooke Optimist Club

Sherbrooke Optimists were congratulated on their activities this year by the District Governor Wendell Aske who last night paid an official visit to the Sherbrooke club. Tonight Mr. Aske will visit the newly-chartered and Sherbrooke-sponsored Lennoxville Club and Wednesday night he will be in Waterville for the last visit to clubs in this area.

Mr. Aske said that Sherbrooke had by far outdone any other club in District 28 during his tenure of office which started 6 months ago. They were the first ones to sponsor a club and it is held in high hopes that before long they will sponsor another Optimist club.

However he urged that the club not rest on its laurels and that they continue to set a good example to the other clubs. The visiting Governor remitted a medallion to Vice-president George Garard and President Ivan Dugre for the work they had done in founding the Lennoxville club.

The Governor also reviewed the work accomplished in his district and the most notable improvement was the increase of membership of over 100. He noted that Lennoxville was the first and only club thus far chartered in the district. However, he added that there were prospects that at least six or seven more would be chartered before the end of the year.

The Governor was thanked by Henry Crochetiere, Lieutenant-Governor of Boys' Work for district 28, who pointed out that the increase in membership which the Sherbrooke club has experienced has been due to the work of Jacques Laliberte, membership chairman of the local club.

At the close of the meeting, President Ivan Dugre announced that there would be an executive meeting after the regular gathering next week.

Several new members were called on to give their impressions of the distribution of Christmas baskets which this year was a great success for the club. Ken Ross and Frank Edwards were congratulated for the work which they did on the project.

Seated at the head table were: Paul Allard and George Garard, both vice-presidents, Governor Wendell Aske, President Ivan Dugre, Henry Crochetiere, Casey Vincent and Ken Ross.

Bert Duval, a new member was introduced by Jacques Laliberte.

Joint Installation Of Officers For Sherbrooke And Magog Kiwanis Clubs

Magog—Kiwanis Deputy O.Q.M. District Governor Les Memory of Sherbrooke, inducted the 1955 officers for the Magog and Sherbrooke Kiwanis Clubs last evening at a joint banquet held at the Chateau-du-Lac Hotel here. He noted that this was his first official duty in his new capacity, and it gave him exceeding pleasure to induct both clubs at the same gathering. Mr. Memory also referred to a letter from the international president, mentioning that Kiwanis was in its 40th year, and the letter suggested that every president take it upon himself to make arrangements for a 40th year celebration.

Seated at last evening's head table were Deputy District Governor, Les Memory, the retiring presidents, Henry Jorgensen, of Magog, and Jack Dunfield, of the Sherbrooke club, the newly-elected presidents, Maxie Dingman of the Magog group and Reginald Bishop, of Sherbrooke, as well as Edward Foggo, secretary-treasurer for Magog, and George Loveland, Sherbrooke secretary.

The newly-elected Magog officials were: Maxie Dingman, president; Lorne MacPherson and H. V. MacDonald, vice-presidents; Edward Foggo, secretary-treasurer, and the directors, Ronnie Minor, Canon John Comfort, Ernest St. Martin, Paul Girard, William Griffith, Dr. Almanzor Roy and John L. Peters.

The 1955 officials for the Sherbrooke group are: Reginald Bishop, president; Joe Faucher and Dr. Tom Cadman, vice-presidents; Len Curtis, treasurer, and George Loveland, secretary. Directors are: Gaston Faucher, Lionel Caron, Gerry Johnston, Jean Denault, John York, Eric Sutherland.

Past President Henry Jorgensen opened and conducted the first part of the meeting. In turning the meeting over to Mr. Memory he thanked his fellow members who had helped him during the past year, and Jack Dunfield also thanked the membership and extended best wishes to the new officers. Mr. Dunfield was presented with a silver tray by his fellow Kiwanians in appreciation for his tireless efforts for the '54 term.

Failure To Sand Lennoxville Streets Brings Complaints At Council Session

Several municipal by-laws were amended by Lennoxville Town aldermen at a regular session last night lasting four hours. The amendments inject slight changes into by-laws 174, 175 and 176, commonly known as garbage disposal, fire and taxi by-laws. Last night's meeting broke up well after midnight when Alderman Cecil Dougherty had told of the Town's failure to gravel local streets.

Section 16 of the fire by-law has been revised. It now provides that no equipment or personnel of the Lennoxville Fire Department shall be sent outside the town limit except on the request of the mayor, pro-mayor, or secretary-treasurer of the municipality asking assistance.

At the same time, the municipality to which equipment or personnel are sent, shall be liable for all costs incurred, on way to, at, and on way from the fire.

Copies of rates for fire fighting outside the community will be sent to all bordering municipalities. They are: $25 for the first hour and $15 for each additional hour. This includes the services of one vehicle and driver and auxiliary booster pump and operator. Additional fireman's wages are to be paid by the municipality requesting aid.

Arising out of police reports, Alderman Dougherty told of continued complaints by residents about failure by the Town to sand slippery streets.

He said his department too was "getting tired" of complaining to the Town foreman (Gerald Noonan), about the sad condition of streets. "All we get (from Noonan) is argument," he added.

"In future we'd like a few more cinders and not so much argument," he concluded.

Town foreman Gerald Noonan could not be reached for comment this morning, Town Hall officials said he was out "sanding streets, or something."

The Franciscan Monastery may erect another building on what is known as "Moulton Hill Mountain," St. Francis street, if a proposed sewage and water project goes through. The proposed site being beyond the present town limit, the Council will discuss with their engineer, Cote, Lemieux, Carignan and Bourque, whether or not the extension of public services beyond such limits should be considered.

Should the project go through, something like $20,000 will be involved.

A letter of sympathy will be sent to the family of Samuel Gratham, lately deceased. He was fire chief of the Lennoxville voluntary department since it's formation.

Coaticook Child Finally Leads 1955 Birth Race

Coaticook — Authorities at the St. Catherine's Hospital in this town 20 miles south of Sherbrooke were worried as to whether to enter Joseph Mastai Jean Pierre Matteau as the first baby of 1955 or as the last of 1954. But they've finally made up their minds.

The nine-pound boy arrived just as the clock was tolling out the old year and ringing in the new, right on the stroke of midnight. However hospital authorities have decided the child will be a 1955 baby and as such he was an especially happy one yesterday when town authorities and merchants showered him with all sorts of presents to mark the occasion.

Joseph Mastai Jean Pierre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mastai Matteau of R.R. 2 Coaticook. They had him baptized on Monday giving him his four bar name.

Really Valuable Lucky-$ Still Out

Five Lucky Dollars are still out, one of which is worth a total of $25. How could anyone pass up even one single little chance of getting his hands on that loot? It really seems worthwhile now for each and every one of you to check all your bills. And don't forget, we won't be issuing any more dollars until that $25 bill is found, so if you want the Lucky Bucks to continue, you'd better keep both your eyes open.

Again it has been rumored that we have a winner. Don't worry, though, we are quite sure it isn't the most valuable dollar the would-be winner is holding, for if it was, they surely wouldn't stall in collecting the reward up for its return. Perhaps tomorrow we will have more facts whether or not this rumor is true. In the meantime, keep watching.

Final Tribute Is Accorded To Mrs. Pelletier

In St. Patrick's Church yesterday morning, many friends and relatives joined in paying their last respects to Mrs. J. A. Pelletier, whose death occurred in Hotel Dieu Hospital Thursday, December 30.

The former Annie Crochetiere, the deceased was the last surviving member of one of Sherbrooke's oldest families. Born in Sherbrooke she was married to J. Andre Pelletier, who predeceased her twenty-two years ago.

The body was met at the church by Rev. Canon J. N. Codere. The funeral Mass was celebrated by Rev. Claude Pelletier, assisted by Rev. Roger Pelletier, both of Sherbrooke, and Rev. Brother Paul Pelletier, of St. Benoit du Lac, all grandchildren of the deceased. In the Sanctuary were Rev. Monsignor J. R. Moisan, of St. Patrick's Church, Canon Michel Couture, Canon J. N. Codere, Canon Joseph Veilleux, and Fathers Real Veilleux, Roger Cote and Paul Provencal.

Members of the family attending the funeral were her daughter and son, Miss Marguerite Pelletier, and Leonard Pelletier, Mrs. Leonard Pelletier, her grandchildren, Rev. Fathers Claude and Roger Pelletier, of Sherbrooke, and Rev. Brother Paul Pelletier, of St. Benoit du Lac; Leonard Pelletier Jr., of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. William Gee, of Montreal, and Mrs. Estelle Legare, of Sherbrooke.

Nephews and nieces attending were Hugh and James Crochetiere, of Montreal, Henry Crochetiere, of Sherbrooke, Robert and Henry Crochetiere, and Willie Pelletier, all of Montreal; and Lucille and Josephine Crochetiere and Mrs. Stewart Hansford, of Sherbrooke.

The bearers were George Sylvestre, director, Paul Sylvestre, Dr. Lionel Darche, Stewart Hansford, Francis Kenalty, J. Emile Blais and Philias Angers. Interment took place in the family lot in St. Michael's Cemetery.

Council Maintains Machinery Roll, Rejecting School Board's Protest

As predicted yesterday in the Record the City Council last night discussed the protest against the machinery valuation roll by the Roman Catholic School Commission. They decided to maintain the roll as submitted by the valuators and thus rejecting the School Commission's protest. The Council maintained that they were not properly equipped to hear such a protest.

The rejection of the protest means that the School Commission can now go before a Magistrate's Court within 30 days.

The Council also passed a by-law which will permit only two hours parking on city streets This applies where there is no other sign installed by the police department. This law will prevent overnight parking on streets and will permit a more efficient job for snow removal machinery. It is believed that cars obstructing such work will be towed away.

The City Fathers also approved a by-law dealing with the Municipal Library.

Several aldermen stated that they wished to make the matter of taxes a bit clearer to some people. They stated that the city did not increase its taxes but that it was the Roman Catholic School Commission who raised the mill rate from 10 to 13 for school purposes.

Strikers Reject Compromise Of Labor Minister

Montreal. — (CP) — Strikers Monday rejected proposals by Labor Minister Barrette for settlement of a strike now in its seventh week at two oilcloth plants in the Montreal district.

The strike affects approximately 1,200 workers in the Dominion Oilcloth Company here and of the subsidiary Barry and Staines plant at nearby Farnham. The workers are members of the National Union of Linoleum Workers of Montreal (CCCL).

Mr. Barrette suggested that the workers drop their demand for a classification of various jobs in the plants and that they sign a two-year agreement, providing for an increase of eight-cents-an-hour in Farnham and 10 cents in Montreal.

A CCCL spokesman said that since the work week would be reduced, the increase would amount to about 6½ cents in Montreal and five cents in Farnham.

In rejecting Mr. Barrett's proposals, the strikers suggested they be made the basis of further negotiations with the company.

The basic wage at Montreal now is $1.13 an hour and at Farnham $1.10.

William Pink Is New President Of St. Luke's Club

Magog — St. Luke's Men's Club here held their election of officers last evening, when William Pink was named president. Manley Styan is vice-president, Percy Catchpaugh, treasurer and Canon John Comfort took the post of secretary.

Past President Roy F. Badger opened and conducted the first part of the session.

The group also made plans for the new season, including their first whist drive in the new year to be held in St. Luke's Hall tomorrow evening. The winners of the last game before the Yuletide season were, Mrs. Leonard Auger, Mrs. Edith Styan, Mrs. S. Trew and Nelson Catchpaugh.

Debating Team Of Cambridge To Visit Bishop's

This coming week-end, Bishop's University will be hosts to a two-man debating team from Cambridge University, who will be arriving in Canada Thursday to take part in a series of debates against teams representing universities in Ontario and Quebec.

The members of the British team are John Giles Shaw, of St. John's College, and John Douglas Waite, of Corpus Christi College. Mr. Shaw is president of the Cambridge Union Society, while Mr. Waite is secretary of the same group.

While in Lennoxville, the debaters will team up with two Bishop's students in a split debate, with a resolution entitled "Britain's Place Is at Home." The participating Lennoxville boys are Lewis Abbott, son of Mr. Justice Douglas Abbott, former Minister of Finance, for the affirmative, and John Knight, son of Rexford Knight, of Ayer's Cliff, for the negative, both competent debaters from the college.

During their two-day stay in Lennoxville, the British students will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. A.

He Spoke Their Own Tongue

The story of two honest men who brought luck to a loser one day was told by The Record recently in Warren Spafford's "Township Topics."

Bill Cohoon stopped to replenish his car tank at a local gas station, then continued on to Scotstown where he found he had lost a fifty-dollar bill. When he returned to the station and asked if one had been found the attendant handed him the missing fifty. Another man has picked it up as it was blowing down the opposite side of the street. The finder, not only honest but intelligent, reasoned that, as the wind was blowing from the direction of the gas station, the fifty might well have come from there.

It was Mr. Cohoon's lucky day. Honesty, reasoning and the wind were on his side.

When so many cases of dishonesty find their way into the courts and the newspapers the reporting of instances of honesty does not come amiss. But if they were all chronicled the papers would be able to carry little other news for honesty is the rule.

Was it Diogenes who carried a lantern in daylight searching, he explained ironically, for an honest man? He may have used the term in its broader sense but he would not have to hunt long these days for one who was honest — at least financially.

Some people are honest from training; some from a strong moral sense, including the realization of what a material loss may mean to the other fellow and some are honest largely from pride or self-respect, call it whatever one likes.

Some men and women value themselves at more than fifty dollars, more than a thousand, more than a million. They have no price in dollars; perhaps, no price at all. And they do not want to stamp themselves, if only to themselves, as lame ducks who have not "got what it takes" to make a living in the straight way.

Honesty is being observed more and more in the spirit as well as in the letter. One sample of many, this one taken from forty years back:

A certain man living in Sherbrooke bought shares of a company in which he was a partner, acquiring them privately from individuals before the Great War.

After war came the stock rose in value several times. What did this man do? He got in touch with those who had sold to him, told them he had bought the shares for ordinary appreciation believing in the company and without a thought of war coming. He insisted on dividing his profit equally with them.

Many would call this quixotic. It is certainly not in line with general business practice; it would not be easy for most of us to achieve. But some people are protecting the other fellow in this way; doing it, probably, often.

A few centuries from now our descendants may wonder why their flinty forefathers in general did not "protect the other fellow" more often.

A Postal Clerk Dreams

What does a postal clerk dream around New Year's when he gets home and lays a weary head upon his pillow? This is our guess:

He dreams it is snowing as he leaves the office snowing parcels and letters. They pour down until they are ankle deep. He ploughs ahead and finds them up to his knees. Then the world goes black. He has been struck on the head by a heavy package labelled: "Handle With Care."

He wakes and goes to sleep again. This time he knows he is in bed but the letters and parcels are there with him — in such quantity that he has to raise his arms in a breast stroke to reach the air. He comes back to consciousness gasping.

In the next dream the postal man has picked up a letter for Halifax. He is about to put it in the eastbound mail when he looks again and sees it is addresed to Vancouver. A third glance tells him it is meant to go to Lowell, Mass.

The postal clerks and carriers have handled millions of letters and parcels over the holidays. Most people will agree they have done a good job. They haven't complained but it has been far from a holiday for them. They deserve, at least, a "Happy New Year" when we see them.

The Holiday Season

Despite a mild fondness for children, when administered in the proper doses, the hearing of "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" about thirty times within a day or so has brought some sympathy for a certain testy, old gentleman. When a young mother asked engagingly if he liked children he growled: "Yes — roasted."

It reminds us of one of those old Tarzan pictures. Tall, grizzled Aubrey C. Smith, who was later knighted — (but not, we think, as a result of this effort) — was standing on a river raft, gun in hand, as hippopotami and crocodiles charged.

"I must say," was his very-English aside to his companions, "I will be glad when all this is behind us."

Competition Wild As Auto Battle

Ford Gets In Farm Machinery Race

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Detroit— (NEA) —The year 1955 will launch an era of competition in the farm machinery industry as wild as that in the passenger car business.

And the inevitable result, experts predict, will be half a dozen giant firms controlling most of the business and many of the present 1,400 local manufacturing companies eliminated or swallowed up by the leaders.

Another result could be some startling improvements in farm machinery, inspired by the competition.

The announcement by Ford Motor Co. that it is now ready to "challenge the leaders in the farm machinery industry," is behind this development.

For the first time in its history, Ford will produce a whole line of small-to-large tractors in its new Highland Park, Mich., plant, expanded and modernized "at a cost in the tens of millions." Traditionally, Ford has had about 20 per cent of the tractor market with only one model.

After tinkering with various sales systems since the war, Ford is ready to rely on 32 independently-owned distributors and a chain of 2,800 franchised dealers. Traditional basic sales unit in the industry is the "branch," wholly owned by the manufacturers.

But the heart of Ford's long-range effort in this field is a new research and engineering center just outside of Detroit which will include 500 top farm equipment engineers.

This staff will provide the blueprints to Wood Bros. Inc., a Ford manufacturing subsidiary in Des Moines, Iowa, and other manufacturers, for the production of new pieces of equipment.

Ford already has 125 major implements in its line.

The man selected to head this ambitious endeavor is aggressive Irving A. Duffy, general manager of the new tractor and implement division. He is a former executive of International Harvester, present leader in the industry. Says Duffy:

"Ford has never entered any field with the idea of being runner-up. We are going after, and expect to get, an increasingly larger share of the important farm equipment market. We are prepared to back up our effort to achieve this goal with every resource at our command."

This is ambitious talk, but the stakes are high. U.S. Department of Commerce figures reveal that the 1954 total volume of farm machinery sales was about $1.6 billion. And its prediction is that this will go up to $1.8 in 1955.

Exact figures on the slice of the business each firm has is not a matter of record, but unofficial estimates give Ford only about six per cent of it. International Harvester has had about 23 per cent, Deere & Co. 15 per cent and Allis-Chalmers about 8.5 per cent. Other big names in the field are Massy-Harris-Ferguson, Case, Oliver and Minneapolis-Moline.

Reports from these firms indicate that they are aware of what Ford is setting out to do but are happy to accept the challenge.

They are prepared to match Ford's new line of tractors with innovations of their own. One firm is going to feature a new auxiliary electric power generator as an attachment to its tractor. Another firm is coming up with an improved corn picker which shreds the stalks for silage while it picks.

Another long-range result of this development in the industry, Department of Agriculture experts concede, is a speeding up of the trend toward larger farms. Improved farm machinery has aided larger farms because that's where big pieces of equipment are most economical.

One of the motives behind this Ford venture, it is said, is the determination of Henry Ford II to make his grandfather's dream come true. Henry Ford Senior's introduction of the mass-produced Fordson tractor in 1917 really started the mechanization of American farms. Since then Ford has produced about 2,225,000 farm tractors.

But it was always the elder Ford's dream to have a full line of equipment as is now planned.

What Other Papers Say

A GOOD TYPE

(Fort William Times-Journal)

Practical minded people will appraise the astuteness of Dr Joseph Glaug in purchasing a painting on a white stone tablet for the sum of $1,600 — a painting thought now to have been executed by Leonardo da Vinci between 1481 and 1483, and probably worth a million dollars.

But since Dr. Glaug has come to Canada in the category of a displaced person from Europe, and is presently employed in the office of a large department store company, and since, as a collector, he says he is not interested in selling the masterpiece, the practical minded may not appreciate his indifference to the possibilities of a huge profit.

Taking Dr. Glaug as he appears to be, there will be a large number of other Canadians who will agree that the man who treasures the possession of such a masterpiece above the possession of great wealth is a type of new citizen which does credit to the country.

ALCOHOL IN FRANCE

(London New Statesman)

Alcoholism is one of France's greatest social and moral problems. Yet its full extent has only recently been revealed by a series of government-sponsored reports.

These reports show that alcoholism is now more common in France than in any other country for which figures are available. Consumption of alcohol per capita is twice as great as in any other country, and three times as great as in Britain. Consumption per adult has reached the level of 28 litres of pure alcohol a year, compared with 14 litres in Italy (the next highest) and 8.5 litres in Britain.

According to calculations made by the French Institute for Demographic Studies, 23.2 litres a year represents the maximum level of alcohol consumption compatible with health. In other words, average adult consumption in France is some 20 percent above the danger mark.

In France, according to UN statistics, out of every $100 of national revenue, $4.1 is spent on alcoholic drinks, against $0.7 in Great Britain.

BANDITS AND PIMPLES

Ottawa Journal

For some old reason criminals with pimples are deemed to be especially venomous but we do not think this disfigurement common to youth should penalize an individual, in court or out. We are therefore a little concerned by the comment of Magistrate Siegfreid Atkinson of Haileybury that the Northern criminals are not "the nasty, pimply kind you get in Toronto."

The magistrate who is retiring, has heard thousands of pleas in cases ranging from drunkenness to murder, and he is from all accounts an outstanding example of wisdom and honor in maintaining justice in what was a frontier community when he went to it 46 years ago.

We suspect that Magistrate Atkinson in his "Pimple Judgment" was like many another expressing his affection for the North, a hobby which brings even the most judicious into trouble occassionally. We have no reason to doubt that there are pimples North of 53 just as there are bandits; indeed a good many Canadians think the most dangerous bandit in recent history was the Mad Trapper of Rat River, that heavily-armed, dead-shot Albert Johnston who led the Mounties and airplane pilots in a wild chase in the Far North 20 years ago.

Whether the Mad Trapper had pimples we do not know. But we are certain that Magistrate Atkinson will agree that he might have had.

Century Of Canadian-Vermont Border Troubles

(Reprinted from the Newport Daily Express)

Many serious and trivial incidents have occurred on the Canadian-Vermont border in the last 100 years, some filled with humor and some with tragedy. These incidents concern immigration problems and customs questions, which to the general public are often lumped under the charge of "smuggling."

Sometimes this has been bringing forbidden goods in to the States from Canada, or goods subject to duties and avoiding payment of same, and sometimes it has been transporting dutiable or forbidden goods from the United States into Canada. Sometimes it concerns immigration violations of crossing the border without properly reporting and receiving clearance.

The charges against numerous Canadians of smuggling cigarettes from Vermont into the Province of Quebec in large quantities is a case in point. One such Canadian, arrested by Canadian Mounted Police (not now mounted), testified that he had legally bought approximately 200,000 cigarettes at a time in Canaan, Vt., and in approximately 150 trips across the border with them, fording a river each time, had taken them into Canada, (transporting and sale of American cigarettes are forbidden in Canada.) The total number of cigarettes smuggled is said to amount to 30,000,000 valued at $2,500,000.

One thinks of automobiles, trucks, trains and airplanes as means of smuggling, but water routes and pedestrian means are also used. Lake Memphremagog has been used off and on for nearly 100 years on which to smuggle merchandise. W. B. Bullock's second volume of "Beautiful Waters" tells of an incident in 1863, on page 84, when the lake was used.

During America's prohibition years the smuggling of Canadian liquor into New England through Vermont was rampant. Trains, automobiles and just about every means of transportation was used. Some of the incidents were most amusing, some very tragic for not a few smugglers lost their lives, others were injured, cars were confiscated, many were jailed. It was probably the wildest period of smuggling in the entire span of years in which Canada and the United States have existed as nations.

An incident of recent origin is told us, one of many of like nature covering the years of border incidents, difficulties and tragedies. Canadian trade in Newport has been lighter this Christmas season than in recent former years. The alleged difference is laid to the following circumstances as told to us. St. Johnsbury merchants early made a strong bid for Christmas buying in the Sherbrooke area with the printed word. A few New port merchants followed up the idea with their bid. Whereupon Sherbrooke business interests fearing loss of trade went to Ottawa and demanded a tighter conduct of Rock Island customs and Ottawa sent more police with instructions to be literal in enforcing the customs laws.

Now, it has long been the custom on both sides of the border to be lenient with residents of the border area who bought small items for personal or family use on the opposite side of the line. There is a lot of good reason and common sense in this. The idea that a person living across the street from a place of business which happened to be in the other country being unable to buy a box of crackers, a pair of socks or a pound of meat from his neighbor is preposterous, even when the literal interpretation of the law might forbid, or required paying duty.

In no sense do we condone law violation, but residents of border towns who are friends and neighbors with residents of the other nation see no sound reason of intellect or morality why buying minor articles for personal use is wrong where it is most convenient. They may merely like the flavor, texture or quality of certain products which they might be called upon to travel miles to buy in their own country but is carried by their "home" merchant who happens to be on the other side of the line.

When one buys in qualities for resale, for profit or for business reasons no one can say customs regulations are not proper and right. However most of the buying of Canadians in Newport, or purchase of goods in Sherbrooke by Americans is nothing but strictly a private or family affair, harming no one, certainly no government.

But the law being what is is, and officialdom being what it ought to be, there will continue to be spasm of "literal" and times of "reasonable" enforcement of customs laws and regulations.

STUDY ADVANTAGES OF VARIOUS BIDS

Some tournament players advocate an opening bid of one no-trump on 12 to 14 points instead of the standard value of 16 to 18 points. One of the chief advantages of such a bid is that the opponents, particularly in tournament play, tend to enter the auction and can often be punished.

In today's hand, for example, Edgar Kaplan and Alfred Sheinwold demonstrated the "weak" no-trump in the recent Winter National Tournament. Kaplan opened with one no-trump on only 12 points despite the unfavorable vulnerability, and Sheinwold eventually doubled South at two spades.

The double is an important part of the weak no-trump. You must be willing to double the opponents at low contracts when your own hand is only mediocre, and you must be able to defend well to get full value from your scrappy holdings.

Incidentally, Sheinwold recommends the weak no-trump very highly in his brand-new book, "How to Bid and Play in Duplicate Tournaments," and his double of two spades on this hand should be taken as a model of a close double when you use this method of bidding.

Kaplan made the "fancy" opening of the six of clubs, low from a doubleton ace. It didn't have much effect on the play, but it does go to show how ingenious some of the younger experts can get.

East won the first trick with the jack of clubs, returned a club to West's ace, and won the diamond return with the ace. He then cashed the king of clubs, noting his partner's diamond discard.

It was now clear that the defenders needed two trump tricks to set the contract, and three trump tricks to get a really worth-while penalty. Sheinwold therefore led a forth club even though this gave declarer a ruff and a discard.

South could gain no advantage from the ruff and discard.

He chose to discard a heart from his hand, and West discarded another diamond. When South tried to get out of dummy later on by ruffing the third round of diamonds, West was in position to overruff, and the defenders thus got their three trump tricks and a penalty of 300 points.

This was good for a fine score, since nobody got higher than a part-score contract on the East-West cards.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Club	Pass	1 Diamond	Pass
1 Heart	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades 7-3-2, Hearts J-5-4, Diamonds K-J-9-6-2, Clubs 7-3. What do you do?

A—Pass. You responded with only 5 points in high cards because you hated to pass an opening bid of one club. Your partner had a chance to show a very big hand with a jump bid of two hearts, but he didn't do so. Hence you must settle for a part score, and this is as good a spot as any.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-2, Hearts 7-5-4, Diamonds K-J-9-6-2, Clubs 7-3. What do you do?

New Officers Are Announced For Nesbitt, Thomson

It is announced that J. S. Aird, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of Nesbitt, Thomson and Company, Limited, has resigned as secretary-treasurer of the company, a position he has held for the past 42 years. He will continue as a vice-president and director of the firm.

Donald D. Ewart has been appointed treasurer, and Howard S. Dunn has been appointed secretary of the company.

Mr. Aird's association with Nesbitt, Thomson dates back to 1912 when, in partnership with the late A. J. Nesbitt, and also with P. A. Thomson, now chairman of the Board, the firm of Nesbitt, Thomson & Company, Ltd., was formed. Mr. Aird has held the positions of director and secretary-treasurer from that time, and in 1930 was appointed a vice-president of the firm.

It is further announced that J. M. McConnell, Jr., has been appointed assistant to the president, and W. M. Dietrich has been appointed assistant treasurer in charge of money market operations.

Living Cost Index Shows Small Drop

Ottawa— (CP) —The consumer price index dropped one-fifth of a point during November to 116.6 from 116.8 as lower food prices countered the impact of higher rents on living costs.

This is the first change in the yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, since last August. It remained unchanged in September and October, the longest continuous period of stability in nine years.

However, in November a drop of 10 cents a dozen in egg prices, along with lower prices for coffee, citrus fruits and all beef cuts offset higher prices for tea, butter, canned fruits and vegetables and fresh vegetables to reduce the food sub-index and cut overall living costs.

The lower food prices countered the impact of a continuing rise in rents and home-ownership costs to new heights. It was these two items — foods and shelter costs—that predominated in November's price tussle. Other segments of living costs showed little or no change.

The November index, at 116.6, was higher than the 115.8 a year ago, but it was lower than the all-time high of 118.2 reached in December, 1951.

In November, the food sub-index declined for the second consecutive month dropping by four-fifths of a point to 112.6.

The shelter column rose by three-tenths of a point to a new high of 128.2, a few scattered decreases in clothing reduced that column by one-tenth of a point to 108.1. The household operations index dropped by a similar fraction to 177.1 under the influence of some declines in home furnishings.

The miscellaneous group, other commodites and services, remained unchanged at the peak of 118.2 set in the previous month.

Wholesale prices during December showed mixed trends. The index for 30 industrial materials, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, edged ahead by one-tenth of a point to 223.5 Dec. 24 from 223.4 Nov. 26. However the Canadian farm products index, also based on 1935-39 prices, dropped by 2.6 points to 204.5 from 207.1.

Cards Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbours and relatives, who in any way assisted us during our recent bereavement in the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Edward Coddington. Especially do we thank Rev. J. Leslie Dean, minister of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church, the bearers, those who sent flowers, cards of sympathy and food. Your kindness is greatly appreciated and will always be remembered.

THE FAMILY.

Melbourne, Que.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives and friends who visited me, sent letters, cards, gifts and flowers during my long stay in the Sherbrooke Hospital. Also many thanks to the ones who sent in food at home. Grateful thanks to my sister-in-law, Miss Hazel A. Gallup, R.N., for her untiring care and devotion to me for the four months I was in the hospital. Also thanks to Mrs. Ronald Mooney, R.N., and Mrs. Morrison, R.N. My sincere thanks and appreciation to Dr. Klinck, Dr. McLeod and Dr. Wells. Also thanks to the nurses and nurses' aides on Second floor of the Hospital. A special thank-you to the Bulwer W.A. for the beautiful Sunshine Basket, Christmas gift and to the one who organized the shower of birthday cards. My deepest thanks and appreciation to you all.

MRS. EARL GALLUP.

VALUABLE HATS

Glasgow (CP) — A new-hats for-old scheme was started by a firm of undertakers here. Top hats proved so scarce that a new modern hat was offered for every topper brought in.

NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that la Corporation des Pères Bénédictins de Saint-Benoit-du-Lac will apply to the Legislature of the Province of Quebec at its current session for the adoption of a law modifying its corporate name, increasing its powers and those of its members, increasing the territory of the Municipality of Saint-Benoit-du-Lac and the powers of this Corporation.
Saint-Benoit-du-Lac,
3rd November 1954.

IVAN SABOURIN,
for the Petitioner.

If You're TIRED ALL THE TIME
Everybody gets a bit run-down now and then, tired-out, heavy-headed, and maybe bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary toxic condition caused by excess acids and wastes. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys, and so help restore their normal action of removing excess acids and wastes. Then you feel better, sleep better, work better. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills now. Look for the blue box with the red band at all druggists. You can depend on Dodd's. 52

Retiring President Reviews Year's Activities Of Waterloo Kiwanians

Waterloo, Jan. 4 — The final meeting of the year was held by the Waterloo Kiwanis Club on Tuesday night in the Canada Hotel, with a fairly good attendance on hand to hear the retiring president, Roger McKergow, give his achievement report for the past year's work.

The president stated that special meetings during the year consisted of Scout Night when the Scouts, the Cubs and their leaders were all invited. A total of three ladies' nights were held, when the speakers were on these occasions Dick Scott, Douglas Worthington, of the C. I. L., and Rabbi Harry Stern of Montreal.

The mayor, the councilors and police were guests of the club and on another occasion the hockey team was present, when the guest was Jean Beliveau. Prior to the meeting, Mr. Beliveau met six hundred children in the high school auditorium, where he spoke to them.

Farmer's night, C. G. I. T. night and Rev. Dan Mitchell's Easter message all were mentioned as highlights during the past year. Canada--U.S. Goodwill week was observed when the North Troy Club of Vermont payed a visit to the Waterloo club.

The teachers and school board members were entertained by the Kiwanis Club, when the guest speaker was Dr. Patterson. The golf tournament and annual picnic were mentioned in the review and the night the graduates of the high school were present to hear a fine talk by Edward Perry, supervisor of education for the county of Brome.

Dominion Day was observed by an exceptionally fine talk by J. J. Bertrand M. P. During the summer months, the beach, picnic grounds and Waterloo Fair received the full attention of the members with considerable success in every department.

Junior Chamber of Commerce week was celebrated by entertaining this group at a meeting in October and the chapter anniversary on November 16 was one of the highlights of the entire year. At this meeting, clubs from six other localities were represented, and the ladies were present to hear a marvellous talk by Rabbi Harry Stern.

Father and son night was observed and another highlight of the year's program was the Christmas party when the kiddies from the Flambeau Homes, Bondville were present to take part in the Christmas celebrations. Thirty children along with their guardians and teachers were on hand to help make this night a memorable one for all concerned.

Projects for the year consisted of an ice carnival, an Easter dance, the fair refreshments booth, the chicken shoot, the fall dance, the concert and the sale of Christmas seals. Other non-profit projects consisted of milk inspection for the town of Waterloo, garden seeds supplied to seventy school children, the beach clean up, hiring and paying of caretaker and installation and paying of a public telephone, a drive on the caterpillar pest, preparation of the picnic grounds on the South Stukely road including the manufacture, painting and installation of eleven new picnic tables, and the hiring of a caretaker to look after these grounds.

Donations of money and other assets consisted of the calf club tray donated at the fair, along with $25 in cash prizes for the Calf Club, also prizes for the school fair amounting to $35. On National Kids Day, 800 children were entertained at the local theatre, when Treasure Island was shown free of charge.

The club helped erect the high school rink boards, and furniture donated to the club by a former resident was distributed where it was deemed most needed. Toys were gathered, repaired and painted and distributed at the Christmas party.

Red Cross received $25, two hospital beds were purchased for use in Waterloo, a trophy was donated to the Yamaska Conservation Association, $42 donated to the Flambeau Homes to help with the installation of the new heating system, $15 donated to the French section and to the English section of the Waterloo Public Library.

A typewriter was purchased for a paralyzed child in order to help her gain the use of her hands and at the same time to learn a useful trade. $50 donated to the Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund. Several members helped during the Cub camp and $10 to the Muscular Dystrophy Association and $75 went to the care and prescriptions for glasses for five local kiddies.

Milk is being furnished daily to thirty seven children in the school as well as to six families with a large number of children. Dental care was furnished for two children.

With the report of the year's work, it was unamiously decided by the meeting that 1954 was a successful year in regards to Kiwanis work and incoming president Al Grainger was wished much luck by the retiring president.

MARRIAGES

WEINSTEIN—PINKUS

Montreal, Que., Jan. 4 — The marriage of Miss Gertrude Pinkus, youngest daughter of Mrs. Sarah Pinkus and the late Mr Sam Pinkus of Montreal, to Nathaniel (Sonny) Weinstein, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack O. Weinstein, of Montreal, formerly of Sherbrooke, took place on Sunday, December 26, at the Shaare Zion Synagogue. Rabbi M. S. Cohen performed the ceremony, assisted by Cantor S. Gisser with Mr. E. Rosemarin at the organ. The Synagogue was decorated with gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a floor-length model gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a molded bodice shaped in a V front and back, beaded with pearls and sequins at the neckline. The full shirred skirt, scalloped in the front, fell into a cathedral train. A half crown of matching beading held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Irving Leibgott, sister of the bride, and her matron of honor, was in a turquoise gown trimmed with sequins and she wore a bandeau of turquoise feathers and rhinestones and carried a nosegay of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Weinstein, mother of the bridegroom, was in an imported gown of pale green satin, the bodice of which was trimmed with beading. She wore a matching hat and a corsage of mauve orchids.

Mr. Izzie Zabitsky was best man, with Manuel Eisenstat, Ronald Blitt, Max Shrier, Murray Silver, Irving Liebgott, Harvey Krasnow, Abe Solomon and Dave Greenstein as ushers.

Mr. Weinstein is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blitt, for many years residents of Sherbrooke.

Many Animals At Local Zoo Really Enjoy Outdoor Life During Winter

By CAROL WITTY

Forty animals from the Canadian wilds are left out in the cold this winter up at the Sherbrooke Zoo in Victoria Park. And what's more they like it.

Their heavy fur coats keep them warm even in zero temperatures, or so it seems since they seldom go into their little huts, with the exception of the bear, racoons and ground hogs who spend most of the winter hibernating.

The bears are ornery creatures, though, and wake up every now and then, especially on sunny days when they like to come out for a stretch and maybe somethin gto eat. Most of the time all you can see of them are their little black noses sticking through the straw in their oversizer doghouses. Last winter they did very little sleeping as they were fed all winter long, but this isn't good for them and their coats weren't as thick and glossy as usual last summer.

SUSPICIOUS FOX — This red-haired Reynard doesn't trust anybody, especially a photographer who's popping flashbulbs in his face. One of the inmates at the Sherbrooke Zoo, he spends most of his day slinking around his wire enclosure looking as if he's just robbed one of the local banks. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Sylvio Laverdiere, who looks after the animals all year round and has been doing so ever since the Zoo started four years ago, says the cold weather doesn't seem to dampen their spirits. They feel most playful on clear sunny days though, and often he watches the young deer and elk butting each other around in the snow.

The luckiest of all the Zoo animals are the birds, all 46 of them, who are living in one of the sheds over at the Fair Grounds this winter thanks to the E.T.A.A. Last year they stayed outside all winter but the cold doesn't agree with them and several died. At present there are peacocks, geese, ducks and umpteen varieties of pheasants some of them very rare species. There are also two pure white peacocks, a male and a female, and combined with all the other birds in one shed they keep up a continual clacking chatter. In fact at times it's practically impossible to hear anything but their screeching exchange of insults.

There's only one old diehard among the Zoo's feathered family, and that's Old Baldie, the bald-headed eagle who spends most of his time perched on a branch in his cage outside. He sits there for hours at a time in all kinds of weather staring maliciously at all his fellows. Mr. Laverdiere says he has never seen Old Baldie go inside this winter.

Mr. Laverdiere, who was brought up on a farm, has always loved animals and it's a full time job feeding and looking after all the birds and animals at the Zoo. Most of them are shy of strangers but they all know their keeper and are quite fond of him, especially at feeding time when they all cluster around, their hungry mouths nibbling at the food in his hands. He wishes he had more time to really tame them. The bears are the most ferocious of all the animals and even Mr. Laverdiere admits that he would never trust one of them.

Most people visit the Zoo in the summer time, but it's an entirely different sight in the winter. The two red foxes with their long bushy tails and sly brown eyes are clearly outlined against the snow as they jump at every falling flake. The coyotes, who have no bare ground or twigs to nibble at, have a miniature race track worn around the inside of the wire netting from their continual restless circling.

The elks are perhaps the most stately of the animals and are not a bit shy. In fact, they follow Mr. Laverdiere around the side of the fence poking their inquisitive noses through as he goes by and they are always clamoring at the door to greet him when they see him coming in.

There are a few other animals who don't take to the Canadian winters and those are the squirrel monkeys, the alligators and the mud turtles, who are all holidaying up at the city green houses at Howard's Park. Tony Mikolai is looking after them for the season.

Jean Ares Of Waterloo Wins Rhodes Award

Waterloo, Jan. 4 — The Rhodes Scholarships, as established in 1902 under a bequest by Empire-builder Cecil Rhodes, are awared annually to more than eighty outstanding students throughout the Commonwealth and the United States.

However, of this number only two students from the entire province of Quebec are selected, and with the announcement by Paul Gerin-Lajoie, secretary of the Quebec Rhodes Scholarships selection committee, considerable honor was brought to Waterloo in the naming of Jean Ares as one of the recipients.

Mr. Ares, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ares, of Waterloo, won his B. A. degree from Jean de Breboeuf College in 1950 and has been taking law at the University of Montreal ever since.

As president of the Federation of Catholic University Students of Canada he attended an international assembly of Pax Romana in Switzerland last summer and in 1952 he represented the University of Montreal at an International Student Debating Conference in Mexico City.

In offering congratulations to Jean Ares, the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ares would like to remember them as well. This distinctive honor must reflect on the proud parents as well as their brilliant son. Good luck goes with the proud winner when he attends Oxford to study philosophy, politics and economics.

WATERLOO—

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graves were Christmas guests of their daughter, Mrs. Munroe Neil, Mr. Neil and family in Granby.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lefebvre spent the Christmas weekend in St. Albans, Vt., with relatives.

Mr. Donald Wallace was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Loveland and family in Sherbrooke, on Christmas Day.

Mr. Garret Chapman was home from Lennoxville to spent the weekend with Mrs. Chapman. Miss Claire and Howard of Feller Institute were also home for the holidays. On Christmas Day they were all guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frizzle and children Allen and Nancy, in Brome.

Howard Hanna, student of Feller Institute, Grande Ligne, is spending the Christmas holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hanna, Western Avenue.

MANSONVILLE—

Miss Annie MacDonald of Boston, Mass., visited her mother Mrs. N. F. MacDonald and her brothers.

Mrs. Frank White has gone to spend an indefinite time with her son, Reverend Edward White and Mrs. White and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Brown of Brockville, Ont., spent Christmas with Mr. Brown's father, Mr. Walter Brown. Mr. Scott Brown of Montreal also spent the holidays at his home here.

Folllowing the regular meeting of St. John's Lodge A. F. and A. M. on December 27, the ladies entertained at the annual Oyster Supper. Keith Bradley, the Worshipful Master for 1955, was master of ceremonies and called on the following speakers: Mrs. Harold Sullivan, the Matron of Owl's Head Chapter, O. E. S., Doctor H. E. Gillanders, Reverend E. F. Macklin, Reverend R. C. Hopkins, Mr. Ommerli, and R. F. Cowan. Mr. Bradley proposed the toast to the Queen and Mr. Garth Wilson the toast of the Junior Warden.

SHERBROOKE HOSPITAL PARTY — The conference room of the Sherbrooke Hospital was the scene of a gay party sponsored by the department heads, for all general staff of the hospital. Local talent was expressed by a Choral group from the Laundry department, an unaccompanied solo by a member of the business office, and a short play put on by members from several departments. Every employee received a gift through a goodwill scheme organized by the department heads, each employee drawing a name of another member, and all gifts being distributed by Santa. Many of the staff are still wondering who Santa was this year. He had a peculiar feminine voice and no doubt the chief telephone operator knows why. The Director of Nursing and the Administrator were guests of honour, and both expressed great pleasure at the friendly relationship between all departments. All are most pleased to have this opportunity once a year of gathering all the staff together for a party, as the hospital being open 24 hours a day permits only a portion of the staff to see each other during regular duty hours.

Canada's Largest Bank first to report assets over $3 billion

During the year just closed, Canada and the Royal Bank matched strides on a path of solid progress. In many significant areas of the bank's operations new high records were reached, thus reflecting the vitality and growth of Canada itself.

Marking an historic milestone in Canadian banking, assets surpassed the $3 billion mark while deposits of over $2,797,000,000 and loans of $1,188,022,047 were also new record-making "highs". The bank now has more than 2,450,000 deposit accounts on its books.

To keep pace with the demand for banking service, new branches were built, while many others were renovated and modernized. Today, The Royal Bank of Canada operates some 813 branches — 71 of them beyond Canada's borders — each geared to offer facilities in step with the needs of all Canadians in this era of exciting national progress.

Farm Forum Activities

In order to assure publication of Farm Forum news in this column, reports should be forwarded the day following the meeting.

BEDFORD

"On December 20th a meeting of the Bedford Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. Lewis Hawes, with a good attendance in spite of the inclement weather and icy road conditions.

The Radio Broadcast on conditions and problems of the underprivileged counties was listened to, after which there was a lively discussion under the chairmanship of Mr. Hawes. Some very enlightening facts were brought out by several of the members, covering the needs of the masses of people in the far east and other countries, all of whom would be potential customers if they could be raised to a higher standard of living. It was noted with some satisfaction that this Forum already had sent a food parcel and a plow to the people of Korea.

The final vote was taken on the project for the year, which resulted in the decision to sponsor a special prize for two classes of calves. These prizes will be competed for at the Bedford Exhibition next fall.

Mr. Neil Creller, the representative to the Provincial Council of the Farm Forums, gave a detailed report of the business transacted at their recent meeting at MacDonald College.

After the minutes and the notices from the Provincial Secretary were read and discussed, the forum adjourned. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Hawes, assisted by Mrs. Ellis Jones and Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

EAST CLIFTON

The East Clifton Farm Forum met on December 20 at the home of Mrs. Alice Waldren in Sawyerville, with an attendance of twelve.

Two groups were formed to discuss the topic of the broadcast "Millions Struggle in Asia." It was thought people should be concerned with helping the under-developed countries of the world for democratic reasons and for future markets. The best form of help to give as a long term solution would be technical aid, more missionaries, friendship, encourage peace and industrialize their countries even though it would lower our own standard of living.

The Green Leaf was read, and an evaluation was taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Volney Hurley, of Sawyerville will entertain at the next meeting on January 3, which will be a social evening.

THIRD RANGE

The 3rd Range Farm Forum was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McElrea, Brompton Road, with an attendance of 24.

Following the broadcast a discussion period was held. The group agreed that there will be no peace in the world while people are starving, also people in underdeveloped countries will not be satisfied with their conditions, while developed countries are prospering.

The members suggested bringing students to developed countries to be educated, then return to teach their fellow countrymen more modern methods of farming, etc.

The Green Leaf was read by the secretary. There was an exchange of Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Gordon McElrea presented Mrs. Melville Page, publicity convener, and Mrs. Lemuel Clark, secretary, with dainty cups and saucers. Mrs. Page and Mrs. Clark thanked the members for the gifts.

"Five hundred" was played at five tables. Mrs. McElrea, assisted by the members, served refreshments.

The rooms were decorated in honor of the Christmas season.

Mr. Milton Brown, on behalf of the members, thanked Mr. and Mrs. McElrea for their kind hospitality.

The next meeting, on January 3, will be held at the Community Hall.

EATON ROAD

Eaton Road Farm Forum held the last meeting of 1954 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Church, Sand Hill, with 11 present. The condition of the roads accounted for the small attendance.

The broadcast was listened to and a good discussion held. Refreshments were later served by the hostess and Forum ladies.

The first meeting of the new year will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rothney, Sand Hill.

Three Games On Agenda Tonight In Massawippi Circuit

East Angus Opens Season On Home Ice With Brompton; Sherbrooke At Border; Meteors Hosts To Windsor

Three games are on the agenda this evening in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League with the sole possession of second position in the standing at stake. Brompton Eagles travel to East Angus, Windsor moves down to Asbestos while Sherbrooke journeys to Rock Island to complete the fixture.

Windsor Paper Makers who tangle with Asbestos Meteors trail the fast-stepping crew from the asbestos centre by two points but hold a game in hand over them. A win would move them into a tie for the spot. The Pirates will be host to the Eagles in another important game for both teams.

The East Angus squad can move past the Paper Makers and Eagles providing both these teams lose and the Pirates emerge victorious. It will be the first home game for them, providing the weather is suitable for out-door rinks. The Pirates are the only club in Mac Wilson's circuit who perform in the out-door atmosphere.

At the Border Town Arena the Sherbrooke aggregation is favored to wrap up the decision but the Butterfields club is steadily improving and should provide an upset in the very near future. The Roberge squad is at present enjoying a comfortable five-point lead over their rivals but have played the most number of games in the loop, nine.

Bertrand Morin of Sherbrooke moved into top spot in the league scoring race while Frankie Reid, of East Angus, former leader dropped into a second place tie with Bob Bedard, also of Sherbrooke. Morin holds a two-slim point lead over his rivals.

Bedard is the top goal getter in the circuit with 12 while Couture of Windsor is close on his heels with 11. In the play making department Frankie Reid holds the edge with 13, one more than Morin and Papineau, who are tied with 12 each. O. Martel of the Pirates has collected the most penalties, 69 minutes in the cooler.

The top scorers follow:

	G	A	T
Morin	9	12	21
Bedard	12	7	19
F. Reid	6	13	19
Couture	11	5	16
Hayden	9	7	16

Charlottetown Runs Wild Minus Four Top Players To Wallop Fredericton; Amherst And Moncton Play To Draw

League-leading Charlottetown Islanders of the Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey League, playing without four regulars, ran wild on their home ground Monday night to wallop the last-place Fredericton Capitals. Danny O'Connor and Vip Palladino are sitting out suspensions while Copper Leyte and Lorne Hennessey are on the injured list.

In a second ACSHL game, Ramblers and Moncton Hawks played to a 4-4 deadlock at Amherst and remained tied for second place in standings. Lorne Watters scored three goals for Hawks, one each in the second, third, and overtime periods. Bert Hirshfeld collected the other Hawk goal.

Jackie Schmidt and Dave Kiley scored for Ramblers in the first and Moe Tarr added another in the second. Bob Reid scored in overtime to give Ramblers the tie.

Roy (Buck) Whitlock led the Charlottetown attack on the island with two goals and two assists. Steve Brklacich and Wally Kullman tallied in the opening session.

After a scoreless middle session Whitlock and Wimpy Jones fired two goals each. Wally Kullman collected his second of the evening and a single also went to Jones.

Caps Doug McPhee scored the Fredericton goal 37 seconds before the final whistle sounded.

Truro Loses At Home

Truro Bearcats of the APC Senior Hockey League lost a hardfought 5-4 decision to Pictou Royals at Truro. And in New Glasgow, the hometown Rangers posted a 7-5 win over Halifax Wolves.

Rangers took a 3-1 first-period lead on goals by Don McLean, Bert Dalling, and Lemonde. Wilson scored a fourth in the second period before Paul Evans answered for Wolves.

Bill Billick added two for Wolves in the final period and Gene Swartzack and Gerry Norman singled. Ranger marksmen were Cameron, Dalling and Kent Storey.

In the game at Truro, Royals scored four consecutive goals, two each by Roger Legere and Mel Gadd. Truro scored a trio in this busy first period.

Gaudet fired one for Truro in the middle session and Mark Babineau retaliated for Royals. There was no scoring in the third period.

Tonight Islanders will meet Caps at Fredericton.

MONDAY NIGHT'S FIGHTS

New York —Gil Turner, 154, Philadelphia, outpointed Italo Scortichini, 154¾, Italy, 10.

Saxton Offered $65,000 For Title Defense In Boston

Boston — (AP) — Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton of Philadelphia Monday was offered $65,000 to defend his title against Tony DeMarco of Boston Feb. 2 at Boston Garden. There was no immediate reply from Saxton.

Promoter Sam Silverman said his offer is the largest ever made for a Boston fight.

Irwin Out With Shoulder Injury

New York— (AP) —New York Rangers said Monday defenceman Ivan Irwin will be sidelined for two weeks as a result of injuries suffered in Sunday night's 3-3 tie with Boston.

X-rays showed two chipped bones in Irwin's left shoulder. Bob Chrystal, utility forward-defenceman, will take his place.

Westerner Signs With Vancouver

Vancouver — (CP) — Ron Clinkscale, who played defensive halfback for the West in Saturday's East-West football game at San Francisco, has signed to play the same position with British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, team officials said Monday.

Phil Webb, Lions' manager declined to say how much the former first-string quarterback with Texas Christian University cost the team.

Sports Roundup

By JACK HAND

New York—(AP)—If Sugar Ray Robinson really has all that sugar stacked away in the bank, why is he making his comeback? If Robinson topped Joe Rindone in six rounds in 1950 when he was the welter champ, why shouldn't he better his course record over Joe Wednesday night at the Detroit Olympia? It will be interesting to read what Sugar Ray has to say after the fight in view of his retirement comments in 1952 about quitting because "the co-ordination isn't there any more."

Willie Mays, who flew up from Puerto Rico to attend a testimonial dinner for Leo Durocher in California, is ready to return Thursday to the Santurce team in the winter league. Frank Forbes, the New York Giants scout who is Willie's constant companion, says it "ain't so" Willie is all tired out from too much baseball. Forbes says Willie plays with the same devil-may-care flourish in Puerto Rico as he did in the Polo Grounds last summer. Forbes had good reports on the Yankees' Bob Cerv and Elston Howard of the San Juan club and Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh draft.

Washington stories that the United States army may be discharging draftees a month or two ahead of time revive hope among the ball clubs that they may get back key men during the '55 season. Vinegar Bend Mizell, the St. Louis Cards' hard-throwing lefty, and Billy Martin, the Yankee second baseman-shortstop, are two whose release may be important factors next season. . .

President Clarence Campbell Out To Put End To Use Of Obscene Language; Hears Wings' Outburst

Montreal — (CP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Monday obscene language by players is a poor advertisement for hockey and he is taking that general approach in dealing specifically with Detroit Red Wings.

Campbell said there have been "lots of spectator protests" but no specific complaints against any club other than Detroit. He said the protests "have been passed on" but made no comment on any particular move he might make.

Campbell himself heard outbursts of obscenity at the Red Wings-Montreal Canadiens game here Saturday night, won by Montreal 4-1. The league head left his seat and went behind the Detroit bench to talk with coach Jimmy Skinner.

"In effect, he told me to mind my own business," said Campbell. "This is league business, and what's league business is my business.

OFFICIALS TOO BUSY

"I tried to call his attention to what was going on so he couldn't say it didn't happen.

"This is a matter that the official in charge of the game would find it exceedingly difficult to deal with. Most of the time he is out on the ice discharging his duties. He may hear the players occasionally abusing one another but he may not hear language from the bench unless directed specifically at him."

Campbell said he feels obscenity "has no place in our business, can't benefit anyone and can have no defender."

He indicated that in the strenuous play of hockey and resultant harassed feelings, an occasional mild expletive might be tolerated — such as when you hit your thumb with a hammer — "but it is revolting to make obscenity part of standard speech."

ADAMS DEFENDS WINGS

In Detroit, Jack Adams, general manager of the Red Wings, said: "We use no more obscenities than any other team in the league.

"If Mr. Campbell wants to check on foul language, some night he ought to station someone behind the visiting bench in our stadium (Olympia)."

Adams continued:

"Campbell was 100 per cent wrong in leaving his seat in the Montreal game Saturday night. It was the most absurd thing I had ever heard of. Never in the history of any sport has a league official interfered with a coach during the progress of a game to discuss such a matter.

"I think the governors of the league ought to censure Campbell instead of his taking a crack at us. I think Mr. Campbell was way out of line and it looks as though he's trying to turn the game into a Sunday school."

Jim Skinner, Red Wing coach, was en route to New York Monday night. Adams said, however, Skinner told Campbell last Saturday to "Go sit down." Adams said Skinner told Campbell:

"You're only a spectator at this hockey game. I am running this club and I've got a game to try to win."

Billy Talbert, U. S. Davis Cup Captain, Settles Back In His Wall Street Den Following Recent Win Over Australia

New York — (AP) —Bill Talbert, the crafty captain of the Victorious United States Davis Cup team, settled down in his Wall street brokerage office today with a forecast that the coveted trophy should stay with the Americans for "several" years.

Talbert arrived home from Australia Monday night.

"I see no reason why the cup shouldn't stay in the United States for several years," Talbert said. "We still have Hamilton Richardson available, and neither Vic Seixas nor Tony Trabert intends to turn professional.

Seixas and Trabert are staying in Australia to play in some big tournaments there before returning home.

Asked what he thought of the future of Australian coach Harry Hopman, who has been under fire for his rigid training methods, Talbert said he couldn't comment.

"But," he acknowledged, "I don't know of anyone they could find to replace him."

Ontario Jockey Club Lists Eighty Three-Year-Olds For Running Of 1955 Queen's Plate On June 11

Toronto — (CP) — The Ontario Jockey Club today listed 80 three-year-olds still in the running for the 1955 Queen's plate, Canada's richest turf classic.

The largest nominators are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Taylor of Toronto who have named 10 prospective horses.

Date for the $20,000-added stake, oldest continously-run horse race in North America, is expected to be June 11. The field probably will be reduced to about 25 by then.

This will be the first year that anybody in the world can race a Canadian-bred three-year-old in the plate. The OJC recently was given permission by the Queen to allow persons other than Canadian residents to send their horses into the classic.

A juvenile stakes winner from Quebec has been named for the plate. It is the filly Baffin Bay, foaled in Quebec and owned by R. Y. Graul, of Montreal, which won the Coronation Stakes.

Riviera King, owned by Cardinal Stables, of Quebec City, is also among the eligibles.

ANCIENT SPORT

Polo, now a fashionable sport in many countries, was played by the ancient Persians.

Marilyn Chosen Ontario's Athlete Of The Year

Toronto— (CP) —Pert Marilyn Bell got another package for her bulging bag of year-end awards Monday. The Ontario sports Writers and Sportscasters Association chose her as the province's athlete of the year for 1954.

On a 3-1 point basis, Marilyn collected 96 of a possible 108 points. Her nearest rival was Rich Ferguson of Toronto, whose spectacular showing in the miracle mile in the British Emipre Games brought him 32 points.

The awards have been coming thick and fast for Marilyn for her 40-mile swim across Lake Ontario last September. She was named Canada's woman of the year and the country's outstanding woman athlete in Canadian Press polls.

Football Deaths Show Big Increase

New York—(AP)—For the second straight year U.S. football fatalities showed an alarming rise during the 1954 season, but there is no evidence at hand to connect this increase with the return of one-platoon football.

The annual 23rd report of Dr. Floyd Eastwood of Los Angeles State College to the American Football Coaches Association showed 19 deaths directly attributable to football and six indirect fatalities during the 1954 season. This was the highest total since 1949 and almost seven per cent higher than the average in the 23 years records have been kept.

Most of the fatalities were in high school football, which retained the two-platoon system abolished by the colleges two years ago.

Evers Bought By Baltimore Team

Balitimore— (AP) —Baltimore Orioles announced on Monday they had bought outfielder Hoot Evers from Detroit Tigers.

The Orioles said they paid "in excess of the waiver price" for Evers who will be 34 next month.

Despite his age, manager Paul Richards said, he bought Evers because "he's still a fine defensive player and he bats right, which means we could alternate with him on occasions."

Jethroe Sold To Toronto Leafs

Pittsburgh — (AP) — Outfielder Sam Jethroe was sold outright by the Pittsburgh Pirates to Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, with whom he starred in 1954.

The 32-year-old outfielder saw action in only two games with the Pirates last season before going to Toronto on loan. Jethroe starred for Montreal Royals when a member of the Brooklyn Dodger organization.

Canadian Title Ruled Vacant

Quebec — (CP) — The Canadian welterweight title held by Claude Fortin of Montreal has been ruled vacant by the Canadian Boxing Federation, national commissioner Gene Letourneau announced Monday night.

Mr. Letourneau said Fortin was notified Oct. 25 of the federation's decision to give him 60 days to defend his title but he did not resume training.

"On that basis the federation has decided to declare the welterweight title vacant," he said.

Powell Continues To Set Pace In QHL Scoring Race

Montreal — (CP) — Ray Powell of Quebec Aces picked up only one assist last week but continues to lead the scorers in the Quebec Hockey League, the official statistics showed Monday.

Powell now has 19 goals and 31 assists for a total of 50 points, three more than Kelly Burnett of Montreal Royals who cut the leader's margin by scoring one goal and two assists.

Orval Tessier of Royals follows with 43 points, made up of 25 goals and 18 assists. Lulu Denis follows with 12 goals and 29 assists for 41 points and Mike Labadie of Quebec is another three points back with 10 goals and 28 assists.

Others among the first 10 and ties, with goals, assists and totals shown: Jim Uniac, Quebec, 14-19-33; Gerry Desaulniers, Shawinigan Falls, 15-17—32; Fern Perreault, Shawinigan Falls, 10-20—30; Cornie Broden, Shawinigan Falls, 13-16—29; Gary Blaine, Montreal, 13-15—28; Roland Leclerc, Valleyfield, 11-17—28; Gilles Dube, Chicoutimi, 11-17—28; Skippy Burchell, Montreal, 7-21—28.

Boom Boom Geoffrion In Danger Of Losing NHL Scoring Leadership As Beliveau Moves Within Two Points

Montreal — (CP) — Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, who has set the National Hockey League scoring pace since the second week of the season, finds himself today in danger of being knocked off the top perch. His Montreal Canadiens teammates are crowding him.

For more than a month the Boomer has been sailing along with a working margin of five or six points. Now it is cut to two.

The new official NHL statistics shows Geoffrion did all right with two goals and two assists in four games last week. But big Jean Beliveau helped himself to three goals and four assists and Maurice (Rocket) Richard cut loose with give goals and one assist.

Geoffrion is first with 24 goals and 18 assists for 42 points. Beliveau ran his count to 18-22, and Richard not only moved to within four points of Geoffrion but threatened to dislodge him as the league's leading goal-getter.

Richard's point total is 38, and four points back is Montreal's Ken Mosdell, who bagged four assists in the week.

Olmstead Climbs

The leading Montreal foursome almost became a fivesome. Bert Olmstead cashed in one goal and five assists and moved from a 12th-place tie into sixth place with 30 points.

Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, getting back into stride after an injury lay-off, banged in four goals in three games. With his 15 goals and 16 assists, Howe held fifth place by a single point.

Another Montrealer moved into the top 10 when defenceman Doug Harvey boosted his total to 28 points. Harvey retained his leadership on assists with 25, two more than Olmstead and George (Red) Sullivan of Chicago.

Danny Lewicki, New York Rangers' sharp-shooting leftwinger, collected two goals, and ran his count to 20-9—29. Sid Smith of Toronto has 28 points, tied with Sullivan and Harvey.

Habs Gain Ground

The Red Wings, breaking even in two games with Montreal and winning over Toronto, lost ground slightly to Canadiens and now are four points behind the league-leaders with a game in hand.

Toronto Leafs ran into a snag with only two ties in four starts, leaving them with 43 points, five behind Detroit. Boston Bruins and New York Rangers met in three games and settled nothing in the battle for fourth place, with a win for each and a tie. The Bruins not only have a one-point marfin over the Rangers, 30 to 29, but have played five fewer games than the New Yorkers.

Chicago Black Hawks had a .500 average last week and trail in the standing with 22 points.

The have-nots have tough assignments this week. The Bruins meet Toronto, Detroit and Montreal on the road and then have a game at home against the Leafs. The Black Hawks and Rangers tangle in the only game involving two lower-placed clubs. Then the Hawks travel to Montreal and wind up the week with a home-and-home series against Detroit. The Rangers' other two games are against Toronto and Montreal.

Harry Lumley of Toronto still leads the goalies with a goals-against average of 1.76, compared wth 1.68 a week ago. Terry Sawchuck of Detroit closed the gap a bit, improving his average from 2.06 to 2.00.

Past Presidents Of Curling Club Stage Feature; Bonspiel To Open Thursday; Consol Playoffs Friday

Eleven out of fourteen surviving past presidents of the Sherbrooke Curling Club took part in a special New Year's Day event. President Dr. J. S. Hibbard led his rinks to victory over vice-president Carl Skinner's two foursomes 10-7.

Hubert Johnston skipped his rink to a 7-2 verdict over Dave Salls' foursome while Jim Fuller and his squad dropped a 5-3 decision over J. R. Sangster's aggregation to give President Hibbard's rinks the verdict over vice-president Skinner's two crews. It was the main feature of the afternoon curling at the local club.

On Thursday the first rinks entered in the annual Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel will commence activities for the three trophies, Canadian Ingersoll Rand, Southwood Memorial and the Lothrop. The balance of the sixty-four rinks entered in the event will continue play Monday evening. On Thursday matches are slated for 11:00, 1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00 and 9:00 Games are booked at the local club and the Lennoxville Curling Club has donated the use of their ice for the competition.

On Friday afternoon the playdowns in the British Consol event will take place with games at Lennoxville and Sherbrooke. The winning rinks from eight clubs in the district will battle it out for the right to advance into the finals at Quebec later this month.

The competition will continue throughout Saturday and Sunday with the foursome emerging with the most victories representing the Eastern Townships in the finals. The following clubs will take part in the event, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Thetford, Drummondville, Magog, Windsor, Danville and Granby.

Feeling headachy and miserable because you need a medicinal regulator?

DO AS MILLIONS DO! Chew FEEN-A-MINT

• Why not ask your druggist today for FEEN-A-MINT — a modern regulator in chewing form? It's pleasant to take . . it's dependable—and thorough. Yet FEEN-A-MINT is gentle in its action — gentle enough for little children. FEEN-A-MINT has a candy-coating — refreshingly flavoured with mint. You'll never have to coax your children to take FEEN-A-MINT. You'll never have to force yourself to swallow ill-tasting potions. You'll discover, as millions of other people have — that FEEN-A-MINT is safe — effective — and pleasant to chew. FEEN-A-MINT is as handy as your nearest druggist.

So — next time you know you need a medicinal regulator — try FEEN-A-MINT.

Do as your friends and neighbours do — as millions do . . . chew FEEN-A-MINT — and feel fine again!
