3,000 miles to love and care

Eskimo, Indian children find a haven at hospital

AUSTIN, Que. — They always arrive at two a.m. Sleepy with drugs, they are carried in the dark from the ambulance into the peppermint-striped building on the hilltop.

They will never really know, not even after the sedatives have worn off, what has been happening. But this is the end of a 3,000-mile trip, and the start of a new life.

These are the Eskimo children who arrive every few weeks at the Cecil Butters Memorial Hospital for severely retarded children near Austin from all over the Canadian Arctic.

Some of them are others have the misshapen limbs and heads of mongoloids.

The federal Northern Affairs Department and the Indian Affairs branch of the Citizenship Department have been sending both Indian and Eskimo patients to the Butters Hospital for about four years now.

"We can only assume it is because there is no other institution of the type available nearer the children's families," says Mrs. Mary Camber, daughter of Lily Butters, the founder of the hospital, and one of the 12 family members who work there.

The government channels all Eskimo patients for the hospital through Winnipeg. From Winnipeg they are flown to Montreal Airport at Dorval, and they come from Dorval to this eastern Townships community by ambulance.

Flight schedules are such that the new Eskimo arrivals always reach Austin about two hours after midnight. The hospital accepts them from government nurses without inquiring into their families or prior lives.

The Butters' have long been sheltering children for whom a cold world has small use, but now that charges are coming to them from the literally cold regions of the Arctic, a modest post-war convalescent home has turned into a continent-spanning operation.

A fund-raising campaign is underway to pay for the needed expansion. Koert Linde and Jack Agema, two young Dutch-trained psychiatric attendants who came to Canada to join the Butters staff, would like, for instance, to see the hospital able to expand its program to teaching some of the children elementary skills.

They think that Naomi for example, the Eskimos tend to have Biblical names—a 12-year-old girl with bangs who cannot talk, could nevertheless do simple work with her hands. Or that Skipper, a rambunctious lad of three, could be trained along similar lines.

The federal government pays $5 daily for the Indian and Eskimo children. This is above the normal range, paid by parents through the provincial government and sometimes supplemented by the province, of $1.80 to $4.00.

But so far there have been no federal grants to the institution, and Mrs. Camber says that must wait until the hospital qualifies with its next big step in expansion—a new wing which will contain an operating room.

The Butters' opened their doors to the severely retarded at the end of the Second World War, in which their

U Thant to visit Cuba

U.S. seeking fast action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pushed today for fast diplomatic action to nail down Soviet Premier Khrushchev's agreement to pull Soviet missile bases out of Cuba.

Washington policymakers held hope that a breakthrough has been scored in the U.S.-Soviet confrontation that bordered on potential nuclear conflict.

Khrushchev's pledge was hailed in Western capitals as a stunning victory for the United States.

The only price Khrushchev asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

U.S. diplomats concentrated on working out arrangements for United Nations inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the missiles and bombers which Khrushchev announced Sunday he will ship back to Russia.

HEADS FOR CUBA
Acting UN Secretary-General U Thant arranged to fly to Cuba today. The U.S. hope is that he can take with him a workable inspection plan to present to Premier Fidel Castro.

The state department announced that while the "quarantine" against offensive weapons shipments to Cuba continues, it expects no interceptions by the U.S. blockaders.

Washington authorities said they did not know at the moment whether the building of Soviet missile sites in Cuba—reported proceeding at a rapid pace Saturday—had stopped.

Khrushchev agreed to pull out the missile bases in a letter to Kennedy. The Soviet leader said "the interests of peace" guided his decision.

LAUDS K's DECISION
Kennedy issued a statement calling Khrushchev's decision

"an important and constructive contribution to peace." Kennedy said Khrushchev had made possible "a step back from danger."

This historic exchange climaxed a week of nerve-jangling events. The first step was Kennedy's announcement last Monday night that he was ordering a "quarantine" of offensive arms shipments to Cuba. Ships reported to be carrying offensive weapons to Cuba turned around.

Defence Secretary Robert McNamara announced that more than 14,000 air force reservists, mostly in units used to airlift troops for combat, would be called to active duty. McNamara's announcement Saturday night followed a Pentagon report that an unarmed U.S. reconnaissance plane was missing as a result of Cuban anti-aircraft fire.

The tension-filled week was climaxed with Khrushchev's latest letter, meeting the basic U.S. demand for suggesting UN supervision. The Soviet leader also proposed discussions on arms reductions, including armaments of the rival North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw pact group, and talks on easing other cold war tensions.

NEWS IN BRIEF

PARIS (Reuters)—Charles de Gaulle remained France's president today after voters approved his presidential referendum with a three-to-two majority and gave the imperturbable leader a vote of confidence in the process.

The national referendum Sunday brought 12,800,000 yes votes and 7,900,000 no votes—a 61.76 per cent affirmative ballot.

However, almost a quarter of the eligible voters stayed away from the polls.

OTTAWA (CP)—The government hopes to jolly Parliament into fewer rambling speeches and more concrete action in the two weeks ahead.

It is holding out the promise of a supply debate next Monday, Nov. 5. This is the vehicle for another test of the House of Commons' confidence in the Progressive Conservative minority government, and the rules require six supply debates a session. The government won five votes in the throne speech debate.

EDMONTON (CP)—William Irvine, 77, one of the founders of the CCF party in 1933, died here Friday night. The long-time Socialist, church minister and member of Parliament had been ill for several years. Mr. Irvine spent 18 years as a labor and CCF member of the House of Commons.

Warns of socialism if Lesage returned

QUEBEC (CP) — Daniel Johnson, Union Nationale leader, says re-election of the Liberal government in the Nov. 14 provincial election would set Quebec "on a straight road to socialism."

Premier Lesage, meanwhile, says a Union Nationale victory would mean a return to a policy of "Croix ou meurs" — the French idiom for "Death to the infidel."

Mr. Johnson made his charge during weekend campaigning around the Gaspé coast. Speaking at Paspébiac Saturday night he said enough pressure could be put on the Liberal government to widen the scope of the hospital insurance program into a system of state medicine.

He said he is opposed to state medicine. However, such a "socialist" move could be prevented by changes in the hospital insurance plan to provide payment of doctors' fees for those in need.

Meanwhile, campaigning at the other end of the province—in northwestern Quebec—Mr. Lesage said at La Sarre Sunday that a change of government would amount to replacing "a policy of social justice by one of discrimination."

The Liberal government, in industries.

Today, Mr. Lesage will tour Lotbinière constituency, south west of Quebec City, and speak at night in Victoriaville.

Mr. Johnson will be in Montreal to prepare for a regional rally in Valleyfield.

Elaborating on his socialism theme, Mr. Johnson said that this is not the time for "crackpot theories" which are not acceptable to Quebec's population.

The province's problems could be solved—without falling into socialism—by using the maximum powers of the state.

Defending his government's plan to expropriate Quebec's 11 private power companies, Mr. Lesage said in Val d'Or Sunday night "it is not the beginning of the nationalization of other in-

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Acting Secretary-General U Thant, the man in the middle in the Cuban crisis, today prepared for a peace-keeping mission to Havana with the apparent blessings of Moscow and Washington.

Thant Sunday accepted an invitation from Premier Fidel Castro to visit Cuba after Soviet Premier Khrushchev promised President Kennedy of the United States he would remove Russian bases from the Caribbean island under United Nations verification.

A UN spokesman said Thant will leave Tuesday.

Khrushchev made his promise on the basis of a Kennedy offer of a guarantee against an invasion of Cuba and an end to the United States arms blockade against Cuba if the Soviet Union pulled back its offensive weapons.

The Khrushchev-Kennedy exchange of letters resulted in a distinct—if still uneasy—lessening of tensions at UN headquarters where chilling talk of their monuclear war kept diplomats jittery most of last week.

But diplomats stressed the situation still is delicate and that words in big-power diplomacy are not always what they seem, particularly when security and prestige are deeply involved.

"It's been an exceedingly serious situation and can't be worked out in an hour or two," was the way it was put by External Affairs Minister Howard Green of Canada, who arrived Sunday night from Ottawa for a two-day stay at the UN.

"There is no way we can tell for sure," he added. "But if the Soviet proposal is carried out, if they start work on removing the Cuban bases, and start taking their missiles back to Russia, there seems to be a reasonable chance of getting a solution."

"The letters that have been exchanged indicate there is a fair chance."

Thant met twice Sunday with Ambassador Adlai Stevenson of the United States and held another hour-long session with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin.

"It hasn't been arranged yet," Zorin said when asked by reporters whether he planned to meet with Stevenson.

At the same time the Union Nationale supporters are holding a district rally at the East Angus parish hall at which the speaker will be Jean-Jacques Bertrand, former Youth Minister and UN candidate in Missisquoi, and Claude Gosselin, candidate in Compton.

The Liberal campaign in Sherbrooke will get underway in Sherbrooke Thursday evening when Resources Minister Rene Levesque will address a meeting at St. Jeanne d'Arc Parish hall, Galt street west.

This will be followed up by a visit from Premier Jean Lesage who will speak at the Bevedere street armory Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Earlier in the day, the Premier will visit

Townships vote drive warms up

After marking time for the past few weeks, campaigning for the Nov. 14 provincial general elections warmed up in most Eastern Townships ridings over the weekend. And from now until the eve of election day all three parties indicate they will give the voters plenty of opportunity to hear the issues of the day discussed.

Tonight both the Liberals and the Union Nationale have major rallies scheduled in this district.

Hon. George Marler, MLC, minister without portfolio in the Lesage Government, will be the headline speaker at an all-English meeting to be held at the Richmond Town Hall in the interests of the Liberal candidate, Welfare Minister Emile Lafrance.

At the same time the Union Nationale supporters are holding a district rally at the East Angus parish hall at which the speaker will be Jean-Jacques Bertrand, former Youth Minister and UN candidate in Missisquoi, and Claude Gosselin, candidate in Compton.

Four killed on Townships roads

Four persons were killed in accidents in the Eastern Townships area over the weekend.

Quebec Provincial Police reported a high number of small accidents with only material damage and blamed slippery roads, caused by falling snow, which turned to freezing slush, for causing most of the accidents.

Dead were Laurent Rouleau, 20, and his 16-year-old brother, Andre, both of Black Lake, killed in a head-on collision at Thetford Mines Sunday.

Clyne G. Elger, 48, of 63 Champlain Street, Lake Megantic, killed in a head-on collision near East Angus.

Claude Tardif, 22, of St. Methode, Frontenac County, killed in the same collision.

Sherbrooke municipal police reported a large number of small accidents with only material damage.

The Rouleau brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Rouleau, 400 Magnan Street, Black Lake were killed in a head-on collision Sunday near the Thetford Mines city limits.

Provincial Police said the two brothers, who came from a family of 13 children, were driving in a European model car when another car coming in the opposite direction on Caouette Boulevard tried to pass a car going up a hill and collided head-on with the smaller car.

Laurent was killed instantly while his younger brother, Andre, died a short while later in St. Joseph's de Thetford Mines Hospital.

Roland Gagnon, of Thetford Mines, identified as driver of the second car by Provincial Police escaped injury in the crash.

Elger and Tardif were killed about 3 p.m. Saturday when the cars they were driving collided head-on on route No. 1, between East Angus and Sherbrooke.

Rene Tardif, 24, a passenger in his brother's car escaped with only a broken arm in the collision.

Cpl. Robert Roy officer in charge of the Sherbrooke QPP detachment said it took almost an hour to free the dead victims from the twisted wreckage.

Officers Gilles Breton, of the Sherbrooke QPP detachment, and Gilles Dube, of the Cookshire QPP detachment investigated the accident.

Both cars were reported a total wreck by Provincial Police. Thomas Wing, 62, who died Thursday night of injuries received earlier when he was crushed beneath the wheels of a Provincial Government truck at the Leo Duquette gravel pit, near Foster, was buried Saturday morning in Knowlton Cemetery.

Driver of the truck Miles Richard told police he had just unloaded the machine and was backing up when Wing stepped into the path of the vehicle.

ACE OF DIAMONDS
The tryouts for the 1963 American Bridge Team will be held in Phoenix next month. One of the competing pairs will be Sidney Silodor and Norman Kay whose record over the last several years has stamped them as the most consistent of our top pairs.

Their fine partnership is shown in many ways, but their principal forte is grand slam bidding. In accordance with modern bidding tactics Norman's two club response showed at least 11 points and Sidney's two diamond rebid and Norman's two diamond rebid and Norman's two hearts were both one-round forces. Furthermore, Norman's second bid indicated that he had more than the minimum 11 points his first bid had guaranteed and with first or second round control in all suits and good club support Sidney felt justified in using Blackwood.

When Norman showed but one ace Sidney went to six clubs and Norman went into a huddle. One ace was missing, but if it were the spade ace there would be no difficulty with the grand slam.

Sidney surely held the club ace. He could not go to six clubs without a good holding in that suit and Norman held the king and queen.

Norman asked himself, "Why had Sidney bid diamonds? He did not have the king, so he must have that ace." Norman went to the grand slam.

Encouraging fine arts

MacMillan praises Quebec's part

World-renowned orchestra conductor, Sir Ernest MacMillan, Sunday praised the contributions the Quebec government has made in the past few years to encourage the fine arts in the province.

Speaking at the annual convocation of the University of Sherbrooke which bestowed upon him an honorary degree in science and education and gave an honorary degree of doctor of law on well-known Sherbrooke business man Chenier Picard, Sir Ernest noted:

"Thanks largely to the generous government contributions, you have in Montreal and in Quebec, distinguished music conservatories, orchestras that more and more merit the praise they receive, and a school of fine arts that contributes immensely to the artistic life of the province and the country as a whole."

"It is in this province that the Jeunesses Musicales du Canada has assumed in a very few years a large role in the musical life of Canada," said Sir Ernest who is national director of the J.M.C.

"In other provinces, it will be soon recognized that the Jeunesses Musicales du Canada is among the most precious organization that Quebec has contributed to our national life."

Earlier, Sir Ernest remarked "something is lacking in an existence that is untouched by aesthetic values. The fine arts are more than mere ornamentation in our lives; they are the essential condition for the security and conservation of our civilization. The man who lacks aesthetic sensitivity is by the same token a less complete citizen."

He said in the past Canadian dians have regarded the fine arts as the property of an "exclusive few" rather than make them part of their everyday lives. In academic circles, he said, it is finally being realized the fallacy of this illusion and that "in all ages, the state of the fine arts has a close relationship to the state of civilization itself."

Sir Ernest then expressed his pleasure that the University of Sherbrooke had decided to work so closely with the Jeunesses Musicales.

He said that he was certain that advantages would accrue to both from this association.

Sir Ernest thanked the University on behalf of himself and Mr. Picard, for the tribute that the University had paid to them and the recognition that the University had the Jeunesses Musicales du Canada.

Principal prize winners at the convocation were: Medal of the Superintendent of Public Instruction awarded to Jean-Paul Vergeau.

The Alumni Prize awarded to Maurice Barbeau.

The Leo Laliberte Prize awarded to Gilles Roy.

In addition to the more than 100 bachelor degrees awarded at this year's convocation were masters degrees awarded to the following:

Education: Donald Beaudoin, Rosaire Boily, Henri Paul Boudreau, Patrice Bussiere, Yvon Cardin, Sister M. Saint-Paul-de-Rome, Rejean Houli, Camille Ouellette, Brother Emile, Sister M. Leon-Paul, Brother Bertrand Thibault.

Commerce: Michel Auger, Real Camagna, Yvan Charpentier, Monique Laurin, Jean Perreault, Gerard Roy, Jean-Marc Donahue, Andrea Latulippe, Gilles Marcotte, Laurette Tardiff and Philippe Vachon.

Bomb scare Police evacuate terminus

Sherbrooke police evacuated the Laramie bus terminus on King Street West and cordoned off the area around it Sunday afternoon as they checked out an anonymous telephone call that a bomb had been placed inside the building.

Police said the phone call was received at 3:10 p.m. at the offices of the French language daily newspaper "Le Tribune". The threat was immediately relayed to the police who sent their detective squad under Capt. Georges Larivee, to the scene.

According to phone call, the bomb was scheduled to go off at 4:20 p.m.

Staff and customers were forced to leave the terminus and police guards were set up at every door to the building. Traffic rerouted from the area between Big Forks Street and the Alymer Bridge as a precaution. Passengers were forced to board buses which were parked near the Municipal Market as a safety measure.

When no bomb was found by 5 p.m., police called off the search, and activities returned to normal at the terminus.

It was the second bomb scare to occur in Sherbrooke this year. Earlier this summer, police evacuated the Normandie Hotel at King Street West and Wellington Street in the evening after similar phone call warned that a time bomb had been left on the premises.

Since outbreak of Cuban crisis

No special instructions sent to local civil defence units

Neither Sherbrooke nor Eastern Townships civil defence officials have received any new instructions from their headquarters since the outbreak of the Cuban crisis last Tuesday.

Lt.-Col. Sarto Roy, director of civil defence for the 12 Eastern Townships counties under Provincial Civil Protection, said Monday his office was "just getting organized."

"We have to educate the public — but we have to educate ourselves first," said Lt.-Col. Roy, who spent two weeks in June at the federal civil defence school at Arnprior, Ont.

Capt. Jean Denault, civil defence co-ordinator for the City of Sherbrooke, had left Monday on a honeymoon after his week-end marriage.

He said last week that he had received no special orders since the announcement by U.S. President Kennedy of a naval blockade of Cuba to halt the arming of the island with missiles of long enough range to strike Canada.

Lt.-Col. Roy said that the latest census showed his area included 526,701 people. He said he expected he would probably receive new instructions in a week or so. He receives all instructions from Quebec Civil Protection head Fernand Caron, who is in touch with Ottawa.

Three civil defence warning sirens have been installed in Sherbrooke, but both Lt.-Col. Roy and Capt. Denault said they them although their professional life should be an important part of their lives, they must always remember to "maintain a balance between spiritualism and professionalism" if they expect to be complete people.

In his brief address, Canon Maltais congratulated the staff, professors and students of the institution for their dedication to their work.

No exultation, but sighs of relief

The announcement over the weekend that Premier Khrushchev had agreed to dismantle missile bases in Cuba and return the missiles to the Soviet Union has been greeted around the world more with a sigh of relief than with a shout of victory.

This is as it should be. While President Kennedy took the only possible course open to him under the circumstances, it was one fraught with danger and risk, as he pointed out in his address last week. To some, it appeared that the world was on the brink of a third and possibly last world war. Whether events would have degenerated that far will always be a matter for conjecture. The important thing now is that the risk appears to have been averted, at least in the Cuban sphere.

American prestige - and that of the West - has been raised by the developments of the weekend, not only because of the outcome, but also because the United States, for the first time in many years, took a clear initiative and talked tough to Mr. Khrushchev. It was the kind of language he understood and it is clear now that, as the saying goes, he "got the message."

If Mr. Khrushchev keeps his word and allows the dismantling of bases in Cuba to be done under United Nations supervision, then a great step forward will have been taken in the development of the world organization. It will mark the first time that the United Nations has been able to act as an effective bridge directly between the two major powers in a state of crisis.

This may lead directly into progress in other spheres of the Cold War, notably disarmament. If the United Nations successfully carries out this assignment, there is some hope that it may be able to play a similar role in disarmament proceedings. Inspection within the Soviet Union has been the big stumbling block in disarmament negotiations. Perhaps it may yet be overcome.

What a combination: A round world full of squares, triangles and folks who are flat.

Kenyans buy wives with U. S. money

The United States has taken great pains, and spent large sums, to promote goodwill abroad.

Measures to alter any unfavorable image have included the formation of the Peace Corps, a group of dedicated young people which teaches underdeveloped countries the benefits of modern technology, education, hygiene, agriculture and medicine. The U.S. has also poured millions into these nations to induce them to be friendly towards it.

But if we are to believe M. G. Snyder, a congressional candidate from Kentucky,

But optimism must be tempered with caution if we are not to be rudely disillusioned. Inspection in Cuba and inspection in the Soviet Union are two different things. Proof that Mr. Khrushchev is sincere in his weekend offer must yet be produced. There is no more reason to trust the Soviet Union now than there was before the Cuba crisis.

If Mr. Khrushchev does what he says he will do, then the United States must carry out its part of the bargain and agree to give up any plans that may have been germinating to invade the island. This, in fact, will consolidate Dr. Castro's position in Cuba. Even without Soviet missiles he will be safe from U.S. armed influence. And, so far as Dr. Castro is concerned, this must be construed as a major victory for his side.

There exists a situation in India almost as serious as that in the Cuban area. Chinese troops appear to be on the verge of a massive invasion of that country, and the United States may be drawn into the conflict. If Red China is mounting a full-scale invasion, Mr. Nehru cannot possibly hope to hold out without generous arms aid from the United States. And if the United States enters the fight, the Soviet Union can hardly be expected to remain aloof.

Berlin remains a question mark. West Berliners expect new and possibly sombre developments there as a direct reaction to the Cuban affair. Their expectations may come to nothing, but they may also turn out to be only too accurate.

It is difficult therefore, to say even that a battle has been won by the West in Cuba. There has really been no victory, only the lessening of a great danger. Each side has given up something, and there remain serious and complex problems in other parts of the world.

What we have gained is stronger and more confident leadership from the United States. It is to be hoped it continues strong and confident when inevitably, other critical tests develop.

There is no excuse that we know of for bachelors having to tell lies.

Cuban crisis dominates

Strong domestic issue lacking in U. S. congressional election

NEW YORK (CP)—With the U.S. "off-year" congressional elections just around the corner, no single domestic issue seems to have captured the fancy of either candidates or voters.

Before the Cuban crisis pushed domestic troubles into the background, most campaigns for the Nov. 6 voting appeared to revolve around local rather than national issues.

In the middle west, the perennial debate on farm surpluses and controls held sway. In the south, integration popped up. In northern industrial areas, unemployment and the health of the economy were big talking points.

One common thread running through the campaign is the record of the Kennedy administration in its first two years in office. The president — who won't face the voters until 1964 — made this a national issue himself by repeatedly urging election of a Congress that would give stronger support to his programs.

Former president Eisenhower, pointing to Democratic majorities in both Houses of Congress, asked: "What does he want — one-party rule?"

Kennedy, spelling out pet projects frustrated by "obstructionists" in the last Congress, says the election "presents the American people with a very clear choice, between the Republican party, which is opposed to all these measures... and the Democratic party... which supports these measures."

Republicans shoot back that their "obstructionism" actually is prudent restraint of a spendthrift administration; a curb on fiscal irresponsibility; a brake on the downward slide toward the welfare state.

For a time Kennedy's program for medical care for the aged looked to be prime campaign fodder.

But the attack has been blunted by a "me too" defence from the would-be victims.

For those who voted against the measure — Democrats as well as Republicans — the line of defence usually goes something like this:

"What — me opposed to medicine? Not at all. But the administration plan doesn't go far enough (or goes too far, or goes the wrong way)."

Kennedy's use of troops in the September integration crisis in Mississippi may cost southern Democrats some votes. But the impact isn't expected to be too great, particularly where the ment. Republicans and southern Democrats charged that the administration was simply out to get Negro votes.

Kennedy's trade expansion bill, passed by Congress in what was considered a major administration victory, is coming in for some hard knocks in areas of high industrial unemployment.

Proponents insist the president's tariff-cutting powers under the measure will eventually mean more rather than fewer jobs.

Kennedy's farm program, severely watered down by Congress, also has been attacked.

Reporters venturing into the Iowa corn country or the Dakota wheatlands have found considerable discontent with the program. But some say the opposition would have been greater if the program had passed unscathed, complete with compulsory quotas on all dairy products and acreage cuts on all farmers raising corn and other feed grains.

West German Chancellor

Strauss' chances have improved

By FRANK HAARHOFF

BONN — West Germany's Defense Minister, Franz Joseph Strauss decided, amid the shrill cries for his head, to stick to his guns and his job.

All hopes of his political enemies (and presumably his competitors) that he would give up have thus been shattered and he has improved his chances of becoming the next Chancellor of the country.

His decision, coming at a time of renewed demands for Chancellor Adenauer to resign, is thought to have improved his stock immensely with his boss and is expected to do him a lot of good when Adenauer does resign.

When that day will come, however, nobody knows for sure.

In order to form a coalition government between the Christian Democratic Union and Erich Mende's Free Democratic Party after the September, 1961 elections, Adenauer had to promise that he would resign the Chancellorship in summer, 1963.

Even many of Adenauer's colleagues voiced satisfaction about this turn of the tide, but the party convention in June, the 86-year-old chief said sarcastically: "You still have to bear me for a while."

In recent weeks demands for Adenauer's resignation have been renewed by newspapers and politicians. The voices are growing strong and louder. In addition various incidents have shown that Der Alte has lost much of his magic control over his cabinet.

For example, when he said a few weeks ago that Europe's political union must be achieved at first without Great Britain, Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder disagreed. Adenauer had to give in.

And when he voiced his opinion in a Berlin TV interview, Schroeder and Bonn's diplomatic general staff explained to Great Britain and the world that the Chancellor's opinion was not that of the government.

The question that Strauss' decision to stay in Bonn raised as to whether he would go after the big prize immediately, or come out for Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard as a kind of "interim Chancellor."

His friends tell him he can afford to wait — he's only 47 years old.

Defence plans still more confused

The Canadian defence picture is becoming more ludicrous by the hour.

It is bad enough in these days of austerity to be spending $685 million for aircraft, artillery and missiles that can be truly effective only with nuclear warheads which we piously refuse to acquire.

Now we are in the process of compounding the confusion. The first of the Canadian-built CF-104 aircraft designed to carry a nuclear bomb, will be airlifted to Europe this week in a step-down delivery schedule.

NATO must be backed up no end to get early delivery of our warhead-less CF-104's.

In Canada, RCAF bases have been put on an increased state of readiness. The Voodoo squadrons, also without nuclear capability, are on a 15-minute alert.

NORAD must be saluting this gesture of continental preparedness. Identical aircraft in United States Air Force squadrons, on the same 15-minute alert, are equipped with nuclear-tipped Falcon missiles. The five RCAF squadrons which leaves a big gap in NORAD's nuclear defence line.

This Alice-in-Defence land charade is thrown into hilarious relief by an unbelievably sensible decision at another important defence bastion. At North Bay, Ont., where stand our de-warheaded Bomarc missiles, RCAF crews have been taken off a 24-hour shift and put on the 8-hour day. Logic seems to have prevailed. If you can't do anything anyway, why do it 24 hours a day?

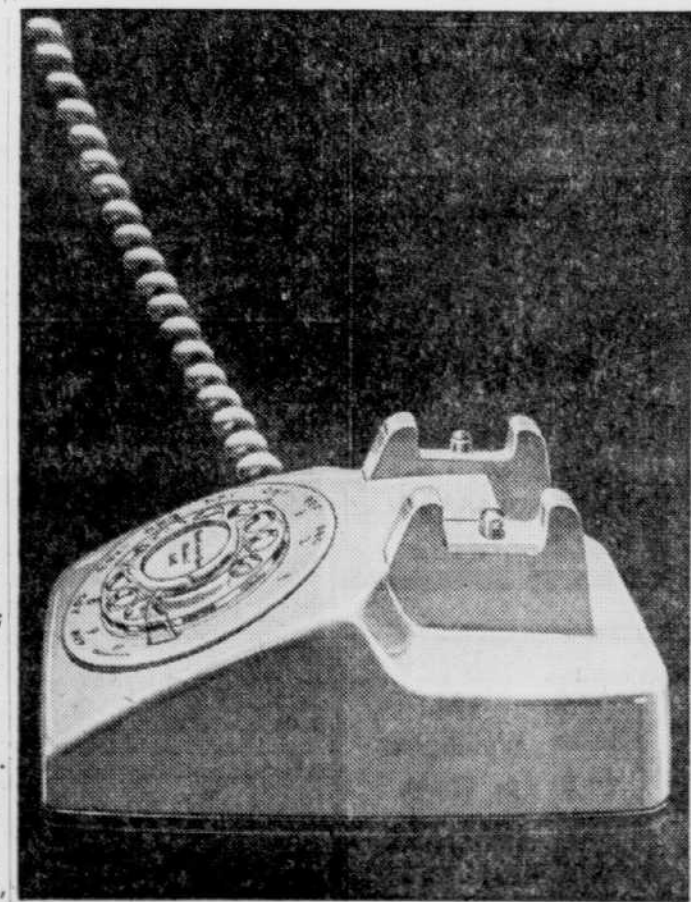

To confound things still more, there was the call last week of Gen. John K. Gerhart, chief of NORAD, the North American air defence system, for a new and improved aircraft interceptor. What he wants sounds unpleasantly like the Avro Arrow Canada scrapped in 1959.

It is long past time that political honesty, logic and order was brought to bear on this sorry defence mess. In the eyes of the rest of the world, we must look like hypocrites or idiots.

We must seem hypocritical in assuming a NATO responsibility that we can't bring ourselves to fulfill. It must appear idiotic to spend hundreds of millions of dollars on nuclear carriers without acquiring the warheads to make them effective.

will also include some hours of the day out of their beds, in supervised playrooms, or even outside when the weather is mild enough. Badly retarded children are usually frail of physique and disease-prone as well.

In the playrooms, many do no more than sit on the floor and stare. Play is noisy, but not often marred by fighting.

"So many parents come to me with a child and say 'He's so naughty, what can you do with him?' But once he gets among children of the same mentality, there is no frustration, and no misbehaviour," says Mrs. Butters.

The extra supervision required for older children means many must be placed on a waiting list. But Mrs. Butters says "We never turn away a little baby. It seems you can always find a cot somewhere for a baby."

Mrs. Butters has a staff of 87, many of them farm wives who come for one shift from nearby homes. There are two trained nurses, and Mrs. Butters and her daughters are nursing assistants. A granddaughter, Lily Madsen, 19, is studying at McGill to become the first doctor in the Butters family.

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN

when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance—as protection for your family—as a good way to save money regularly—as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency—as a retirement plan for you later on.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

Marriages

Audet - Jordan

NEWPORT — The marriage of Kathleen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Jordan, Morgan Center, Vermont, to Michael Audet, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Audet, Stanstead, took place at two o'clock on the Saturday, October 13 in the United church of Newport. Rev. Bryson Smith, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was assisted by Rev. A. M. Rose, of Centenary United Church, Stanstead. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Charles Beck. Lighted tapers and baskets of white gladioli were used to decorate, with white satin ribbon bows marking the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of white peau de soie, styled with a high Empire bodice, featuring re-embroidered lace and having elbow length sleeves and a scoop neckline, the ballerina length skirt and the sleeves had cut out motifs of lace applique. Her chapel length veil of tulle, was held in place by a Princess crown of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lace tulle. Her heirloom gold locket, a gift of the groom, was worn by his great-aunt on her wedding day.

Miss Carol Ann Jordan, a maid of honor for her sister, was in a dress of red rose organza over taffeta, fashioned with the skirt draped at the back and caught with a self material rose, the bodice having elbow length sleeves and a scoop neckline. She wore a matching short veil held by a jeweled tiara, and carried a colonial bouquet of mauve poms.

The Misses Winsome Allen and Delta Somers, as bridesmaids, were in dresses of gold and emerald green brocade, styled similarly to the maid of honor. They wore matching headresses and carried colonial bouquets of bronze poms.

Miss Sharon MacLeay, as

flower girl, was in a dress of forget-me-not blue organza over taffeta, having a bouffant skirt, the bodice was finished with short puff sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. She wore a floral headress and carried a nosegay of toning poms.

Mr. David Audet, R.C.E.M.E., Kingston, Ont., was best man for his brother and the usher were Messrs. Ronald Winter and Ronald Ticehurst.

Mrs. Jordan, mother of the bride wore a sheath of gold and white metallic, a turquoise hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Audet, the groom's mother, was in a suit of castille red and wore a black feather hat and accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

The reception, was held at the Governor Prouty Inn, the bride's table being centered with the three-tier wedding cake, decorated in white with cascading pale pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Bronze and white poms completed the decor.

Later the couple left for Fort Dix, N.J., and Fort Benning, Ga., where the groom is receiving three weeks paratroop training before being permanently stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky. For traveling, Mrs. Audet wore a teal blue diagonal tweed suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Misses Joan and Jean Jordan, twin sisters of the bride, were in charge of the guest book and gift table. Guests attended from Kingston, Ont., Montreal, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, the Boundary Villages and other points of the Townships, New York, Massachusetts, and Vermont States.

ASK THE DESIGNER

by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: In getting my fall and winter clothes in order, I realize I have problems. First, my winter coat is still in good condition but out of style. Do you think it could be brought up to date? The coat is black, is collarless, has no buttons. It has push-up sleeves. Next, I would like some ideas as to what to wear with a new suit I purchased. It is wool knit in light green. If I use black shoes and bag, what color blouse, gloves and hat? Could I wear this under my winter coat? Can I wear a pimiento hopsacking jacket-dress all fall?—Mrs. T. E. E.

Dear Mrs. T. E. E.: Designer Lloyd Schechter feels that your black coat is not greatly out of style. He suggests:

"Have the coat hemmed just below your dress length. If the push-up sleeves are too full, have them slimmed down slightly and cut off just below the elbow. If you have a pretty fur collar, see if it will fit around that neckline. You might consider adding buttonholes down the front and using interesting black buttons.

"For your wool knit suit, I'd suggest blouse, gloves, and hat in beige, brown, gold or burnt orange. These colors will go well either with camel or black shoes and bags. Put the pimiento dress away and take it out again in early spring."

Dear Gaile: My husband and I would appreciate your help in planning our wardrobe for a trip to Spain. We were told that the temperature usually is 65-75 degrees. Do I take late summer type cottons or knits and light woollens? — Mrs. W. K.

Dear Mrs. W. K.: For your trip to Spain, your wardrobe will have to be geared to varying climates. Certain parts of the country are very warm. This is what Herbert Sondheim, a leading American designer, has to say on the subject:

"To keep your wardrobe light weight, smart and wearable except in the hottest spots, I suggest two thin wool costumes. With jacket off, either dress might go to dinner.

"For travel, a knit suit with its own top plus one or two other co-ordinated costumes tops.

"Madrid is chic and sophisticated. You'll need two simple, smart cocktail into dinner dresses, preferably in black silk crepe. Take a satin stole in a brilliant color for these. Or a day-length silk evening coat. Have a light-weight raincoat, a complete glove wardrobe, oval toe pumps for walking, a pair of black silk evening pumps and at least one hat for visiting Spain's many churches.

"For really hot weather areas, you'll need Bermuda shorts, one-piece swimsuits, lightweight cardigans and beach jackets."

We the women by Ruth Millette

Today's wife

"The trouble with a two-car family is that a man never knows where his wife is," says a young husband. "When we had only one car I could call my wife at any hour of the day and find her at home. Now that she has a car of her own I can never catch her at home."

There's a lot of truth in the husband's complaint that wives on wheels don't spend much time at home. But it's not because the wives are out gallivanting around for their own pleasure.

What keeps a wife with a car on the road a good part of each day is chauffeuring and errand running. The wife with a car doesn't have her groceries delivered. She drives to a supermarket and picks them out herself.

The wife with a car doesn't ask her husband to go to the bank on his lunch hour or make a few stops on the way home from work. She does all of those errands herself.

And then there are all the errands the children think up for her to do, the overdue library books to be returned, the cookies to be dropped off for a school affair, the forgotten gym shoes to be rushed to school before gym class.

And when the lucky wife with a car of her own isn't running errands she is chauffeuring, taking kids to school and picking them up, driving them to dancing lessons, piano lessons, to football games and birthday parties.

And then, because she is on wheels and can get to them, there are all the meetings she is expected to attend as a "responsible member of the community."

The housewife with a car of her own doesn't stay at home much — that's true. But that's because with a car of her own she is everybody's chauffeur and everybody's errand boy.

Grandmother is director of women's jail

MONTREAL (CP) — Mrs. Jeannette Boisseau didn't tackle a full-time job until her family of five had grown up and she was a grandmother. That was five years ago.

On Oct. 1, she became the new director of the east-end women's jail on Fullum Street, which usually contains 50 to 60 prisoners.

"I always felt I wanted to do something after my family grew up," she says.

Her interest in penology began when she got the job as secretary to the governor of the Bordeaux Jail in the north end. Although only a secretary, she found it difficult to "remain neutral" about what was going on around her.

"I became increasingly involved in all human aspects of prison life," she said in an interview. "The cause of crime, the discipline of the prisoner, his medical attention, his rehabilitation. . . ."

To learn more, she enrolled in a four-year night course on criminology at the University of Montreal. Her academic studies and her experience in administration qualified her for the director's job, a prison official said.

JAIL TO MOVE

Mrs. Boisseau says one of her first big tasks will be to supervised the transfer of the women's jail to new quarters next year adjacent to Bordeaux.

"At that time, we hope to be able to make greater use of the services available at Bordeaux, and we hope to expand our own services as well," she says.

Although she expects to be a disciplinarian, "you must always remember to treat the prisoner as you would treat a person on the outside. . . ."

is a human being too."

Most of the Fullum Street prisoners were sent there on charges of prostitution or vagrancy. Many of them, says Mrs. Boisseau, don't have skills or families.

How does her husband, Fernand Boisseau, secretary to the Historical Monuments Commission for Quebec, feel about her new job?

"My husband is not the kind of man to keep me from doing something interesting and worthwhile.

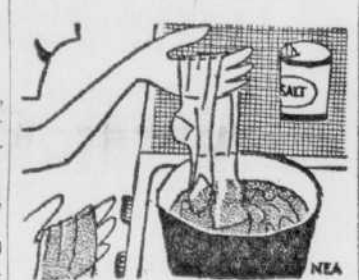

"But my father, he wouldn't approve at all."

Beavers dumped 7-1 by Rockets in wide-open tilt, juniors play big part in win, Lacoursiere standout

By LEN O'DONNELL

DRUMMONDVILLE — Despite the seven goals which slipped by Joe Lacoursiere he was still the outstanding man on the ice here yesterday afternoon when the Rockets rolled to an impressive 7-1 victory over the Sherbrooke Beavers to cap their official opening before 1,452 fans.

His Worship Marcel Marier of Drummondville dropped the puck to officially open the 1962-63 season in what could be the last time in their old Arena. Drummondville will commence to build a new Arena under the Winter Works Program next month.

Youth played a big part in the outcome of the game and the better conditioned team emerged the winner in the outcome. Some of the Beavers took things easy but the hard skating Rockets didn't let up at all and Lacoursiere had a busy afternoon.

In the opening frame he turned aside 17 while four eluded his grasp. In the second period he had an easier time as the Beavers came up with their best display of the day. Coach Dube must have read the riot act to them following their poor showing in the opening frame.

Sherbrooke's defense of Bourassa, Black, Ducharme and Nadeau worked overtime as time after time their forwards failed to back-check to help them. Coach Poliquin seeing this ordered his players to go all out and his young crew of fast-steps simply flew. Groulx had his most work in the middle session but managed to hold the Beavers to one goal.

The Rockets presented a revamped lineup with young players. They had at least seven and these kids were the boys who carried the load. Their passing was fine and skating lacked nothing. The Beavers' passing lacked precision and their shooting at the open net was bad.

Bert Bourassa robbed Claude Groulx of his shutout when he potted the puck behind him in the second session. Rejean Ham-

Notre Dame, BCS split, LHS wins in soccer

Bishop's College School and Notre Dame of Richmond Junior and Senior soccer squads tangled over the weekend in two four-point games at the BCS field.

BCS Seniors took both their halves of the match by scores of 4-1 and 3-1 while the Juniors tied their first frame 1-1 and with Notre Dame coming through in the second half to win 1-0.

Notre Dame Seniors were swamped 10-0 by Lennoxville Saturday in Lennoxville in a game that went only one half while the Richmond Juniors pulled a 4-2 victory out of the hat to down their hosts.

In four-point matches such as the Notre Dame-BCS encounter, each half counts as a regular two-point game and thus, the winner of the first half receives two points as does the victor of the final frame.

BCS SENIORS WIN
 Three goals by Fertig, three by MacPherson, and one by Edson gave BCS Seniors their double victory over Notre Dame 3-1 and 4-1. D. Carrall picked up both Notre Dame goals—one in each half.

BCS JUNIORS TIE, LOSE
 In the Junior match, BCS and Notre Dame tied 1-1 on the first half with Blackadder picking up BCS' only point and with R. Gergoire tallying for the visitors.

In the second half of the encounter, Gergoire of Notre Dame came through again for this squad when he picked up Marie, MacPherson, Edson, Fertig, Khazzam, Rankin, Abajian, Goldberg, Russell, Andio.

LHS: W. Englemann (goal), T. Beattie, R. Watson, S. Richardson, R. Stewart, R. Lamey, W. Billing, P. Belland, D. Rothery, J. Dyer, J. Dunn.

McGill soccer team blank Bishop's 3-0, Brian Davidson standout for Satans in nets stopping 42 drives

McGill University soccer Redmen won their sixth straight league match last Saturday in Lennoxville as they slopped to a 3-0 victory over the Bishop's University Satans.

Although the Satan's lost the game to the unbeaten Redmen, they achieved a certain amount of success in that they held the high flying Redmen, who average 7.5 goals per game in league play, to their lowest score of the season, and earned praise as being the best defensive team to have faced McGill this year.

Bishop's started off the game as if they didn't know of McGill's awesome reputation. Bruce Bristowe nearly netted the ball when he picked up a pass from right wing David Edmond. The Redmen soon recovered and began to press to the attack, only to be met with a determined Bishop's defense that fought to keep the ball in mid-field.

McGill finally scored their first goal when Gat Elliot picked up a loose ball near the Satan's net and drove a perfect shot into the upper right hand corner.

Bishop's rallied to the attack in an attempt to even the score, and a near breakaway by inside forward Ian Griffin nearly succeeded. The game seasawed once again until a loose ball settled on the Satan goal line and a race between McGill's Jeff Williams and John Hackett of the Satans ended with Williams sliding the ball into the net.

The second half saw Bishop's again press to the fore, only to be foiled by the Redmen defense and the occasional snow drift. The situation in the Bishop's zone was only slightly different, the snow had melted into a huge mud puddle. This situation tended to force the Redmen into taking long shots from outside the 16 meter area. Their third goal came on just that type of shot when Hardy cleared a throw-in towards the Bishop's net and it deflected off a Satan into the net.

McGill continued to dominate the play for the remainder of the game with only the occasional offensive thrust by the Satans. Fullback Sandy McLachlan was a mainstay of the Bishop defense as he constantly waded into the muck to break up McGill drives. Brian Davidson, of Sherbrooke, was outstanding in the nets for Bishop's as he stopped 42 McGill shots.

Bishop's: Brian Davidson, Sandy McLachlan, Bob Lawrence, John Stewart, John Hackett, Pete Welsh, Tom Au Yeung, Yair Frenkel, Ian Griffin, Bruce Bristowe, Dave Edmond, John Head, Dave Dawson.

McGill: Williams, Elliot, Sohni, Erick, Paul, Johncox, Jefferson, Hardy, Nagasaki, Trennis, Gillespie, Meredith, Armstrong, Pierce.

Andy Payette holds Allan Cup finalists to lone marker to post his first shutout of early season

GRANBY — A goal at 6:51 of the first period by Granby Vics' rightwinger John Mentis proved to be the winning tally as the Vics, backed by the fine goaltending of Andy Payette and a strong defensive display by the entire squad turned their opening game into a 1-0 shutout victory over the Montreal Olympiques.

The deciding Mentis goal was scored while Montreal's Connie Mandala and Noel Picard were cooling off in the penalty box. 1,800 strongly partisan spectators at the Granby Arena watched with visible enthusiasm as their home club repulsed attack after attack by the Montreal team.

Campbell hands down suspension

MONTREAL (CP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League Saturday suspended without pay for three games Reg Fleming of Chicago Black Hawks and Gilles Tremblay of Montreal Canadiens for their stick-swinging duel during a game in Chicago last Tuesday.

The Vics defence seemed invincible and when, on occasion Montreal managed to slip by this barrier, they still had to face the spectacular goaltending of Andy Payette. The combination proved too much for the visitors.

It seems that there will be no change in the strong defensive tactics that have been characteristic of the Vics' team in the past.

Despite the fact that the Vics only outshot the Olympiques by six shots, they maintained the edge in the play throughout the game, breaking through the Olympic defence again and again only to see, on numerous occasions, their shots miss the target.

The game was quite cleanly played with the referee dishing out a total of 10 penalties-five to each team. Mandala picked himself up a 10 minute misconduct penalty near the end of the third period.

The suspensions will apply to the next three games between Chicago and Montreal. The first was Saturday night when Chicago met Montreal here. The next is here Nov. 10 and the third in Chicago Nov. 18.

Campbell said that the automatic fines of $100 each incurred in the incident will stand against each player.

Campbell conducted the hearing at the NHL offices with the two players present, along with referee Frank Udvari, managing director Frank Selke of Canadiens, manager Tommy Ivan of Black Hawks and coach Tee Blake of Canadiens.

STARTED BY TREMBLAY
 Campbell said "it is acknowledged by all parties that Tremblay took the first swing in this duel, striking Fleming's stick and breaking off the blade of his own."

He said Tremblay emerged with 13 stitches to close. Fleming had suffered no apparent injury.

Argos edge Rough Riders 23-22 Als lose to ticans 24-20

Roughriders are in Lions are out in WFC playoffs, Blue Bombers cop first place, second still undecided

Two weekend games all but decided the playoff picture in the Western Football Conference.

Saskatchewan Roughriders are in. British Columbia Lions are out. Winnipeg Blue Bombers cop first place.

The Bombers staved off a late British Columbia Lions' rally in Vancouver Saturday to win 35-34 and Saskatchewan beat the Stampede 23-15 in Calgary.

Still undecided is second place, now held by Calgary with 19 points, two ahead of the regurgitant Roughriders.

Calgary completed its schedule against Saskatchewan, but the Roughriders have one more game to catch up. Saskatchewan meets the Lions next Saturday and a victory then would give the Roughriders 19 points.

But it would also give them second place because of their superior record against Calgary in three league meetings—two wins and a tie.

ENDS LATE BID

B.C.'s weekend loss ended a late-season bid to overhaul Saskatchewan for the third and last conference spot.

Even a victory would not have sufficed. It had to be combined with a Saskatchewan loss to keep the Lions in the running.

The fourth-place Lions went down fighting in the rain in Empire Stadium before a crowd of 25,419, 3-11 by Vancouver standards.

Winnipeg quarterback Kenny Pless tossed four touchdown passes, two to end Ernie Pitts and one each to halfbacks Leo Lewis and Ron Latour.

Pitts, a six-foot-two veteran, got the fifth Bomber touchdown when he recovered a fumbled ball by Neil Beaumont in the Lions end zone after Gerry James missed a field goal attempt.

James kicked five converts to tighten his hold on second place in the scoring race with 110 points. Tommy-Joe Coffey of Edmonton leads with 118.

Halfback Willie Fleming ran for two Lion touchdowns, one a 57-yard jaunt. Quarterback Joe Kapp tossed to Sonny Homer and Tom Larscheid for two more and ran from a yard out for another.

George Grant added the other Lions' points on three converts and a single.

For the Bombers, it was their fifth consecutive league title. Meanwhile Saskatchewan rode into its first playoff spot since 1958 on the play of 195-pound fullback Ray Purdin from Northwestern University.

SCORES THREE TDs

Purdin, the core of the Saskatchewan offence, scored all the defence-minded team's touchdowns, two on long pass plays and a third on a 72-yard run around end.

Tony Lema cops Orange Open in playoff

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Tony Lema sank an 11-foot birdie putt on the third extra hole of a sudden death playoff against Bob Rosburg Sunday to win the $22,500 Orange County Open.

Lema, 28, and Rosburg went into the overtime struggle after tying at 267.

Lema, who held a two-shot lead over Rosburg heading into Sunday's final round, shot 35-34—69 Sunday while Rosburg had a four-under-par 67.

Defending champion Bob McCallister was tied for third with George Bayer at 269.

Bishop's remain unbeaten, belt St. Pat's

Bishop's University football Gaiter's continued undefeated as it logged its second shutout of the year with a 20-0 victory over the St. Pat's Gaels of Ottawa last Saturday at Bishop's.

The game, played on a snow covered field, gave Bishop's a 3-0 record in the Ottawa-St. Lawrence eastern section and leaves them in first place, a far cry from last year's team that went winless.

Bishop's victory, coupled with Loyola's 64-2 victory over Macdonald, sets the stage for the Eastern Conference championship game to be played next Saturday afternoon at Loyola.

A win for Bishop's would give them their first championship since 1956.

The Gaiters opened the scoring when they drove 84 yards after receiving the opening kickoff, in six plays. Mike Somerville was the big gun for the Purple and White as he gained 58 yards on the second play from scrimmage, and then drove over for the touchdown on the one yard line. Doug Calhoun converted.

The remainder of the first half was a seesaw affair as neither team was able to move consistently on the soggy fields. The Gaels penetrated into Bishop's territory only twice. On the first onslaught, Pete Watson recovered a Gael fumble to give possession to the Gaiters and the second time Bill Netherland intercepted a pass on the Bishop's 26.

In the third quarter, after St. Pat's had moved to the Gaiter 10, the Purple and White began to move. With Milligan throwing passes of 13 and 21 yards to end Dave Little, the Gaiters soon were deep into Gael territory. With the ball on the visitors' seven yard line, quarterback John Milligan rolled out around right end and then lateraled to half back Gord Ewart who crossed the goal line untouched. The attempted convert was wide and the Gaiter's led 13-0.

Once again both teams seemed stalemated by the muddy conditions, and there was little action until Bishop's defensive linebacker Doug Stanforth intercepted a Ritchie pass on his own 40 yard line and raced to the St. Pat's 24 before he was brought down. On the next play Milligan fought his way to the two-yard line. After an unsuccessful quarterback sneak, Milligan handed off to Mike Somerville, who bulled across for his second touchdown. Doug Calhoun converted again.

With two minutes remaining, Ottawa's Dave Lee ran back the Bishop's kickoff for 46 yards but was finally hauled down by the Gaiter's 200 pound tackle, Pat Lafferty. The Gaels lost hopes were soon dimmed as Bishop's defensive backfield led by Bill Mitchell stopped the visitors' vaunted passing attack, and Bishop's took over on downs as the game ended.

The Gaiter's dominated the play in all respects as they out-gained the visitors 357 yards to 118. Mike Somerville was once again the leader for the Gaiter's as he gained 152 yards, and quarterback John Milligan scampered for 86.

Milligan's most effective play was a keeper around end that included a lateral to a trailing halfback just before being tack-

Cus D'Amato has high hopes for Jose Torres

BOSTON (AP)—Cus D'Amato, who proved he was a genius as a manager by twice guiding Floyd Patterson to the world heavyweight boxing championship, hopes to strike it rich again with middleweight Jose Torres.

Torres, an unbeaten, unranked and untested 160-pounder from New York via Puerto Rico, gets a crack at a piece of the world middleweight crown Friday night when he takes on defender Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass.

The scheduled 15-rounder will not be telecast or broadcast. Pender has been guaranteed a $100,000 purse. D'Amato is putting up the money so that his 26-year-old protege will get the shot.

Pender is recognized as king of the middleweights by New York, Massachusetts and Europe. New York, however, has refused to recognize the fight as a title affair because Torres is not ranked.

Scullers keep playoff hopes alive, Dick Shatto-Bill Mitchell team up for winning TD, Dixon sets record

If popularity had anything to do with it, Toronto Argonauts would likely win the Grey Cup. Everybody, it seems, wants to see Argos make the Eastern Football Conference playoffs.

The team that started the season with five consecutive, humiliating losses which hasn't looked much better since finds itself in a position of having to win only one game to finish third.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats gave Argos a helping hand Saturday when they edged Montreal Alouettes 24-20 at Montreal.

And Ottawa Rough Riders fumbled in the dying minutes of the game at Toronto Sunday to give Argos a chance to win 23-22. Argos, who usually blow the big opportunities, scored the tying touchdown 10 seconds before the final gun.

IT'S A DILLY

The topsy-turvy situation has boiled down to this: Montreal is in third place with a one-point lead over Toronto and only one game remains in the schedule. That one game is a dilly. It pits Argos against Als next Saturday at Montreal.

Dick Shatto scored the tying touchdown for Toronto Sunday, four plays after Argos recovered Ron Stewart's fumble on the Rough Rider 48-yard line.

Bill Mitchell, Argos' place kicker, calmly kicked the winning convert to send 20,862 fans—or a portion who stayed to the bitter end—into a frenzy.

Shatto scored two touchdowns for Argos. Mitchell kicked two field goals and two converts. Dave Mann booted a single on an 85-yard quick kick, and Argos scored a safety touch.

Ottawa's Whit Tucker intercepted a Tobin Rote pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Dick Cohee picked up a fumble by Argos' Joe Hernandez and ran six yards for another, and quarterback Russ Jackson scored a touchdown. Moe Ra-

Giants Y. A. Tittle sets record-tying performance, in beating Redskins, Green Bay Packers remain unbeaten

NEW YORK (AP)—Quarterback Y. A. Tittle has sent New York Giants' title chances in the National Football League soaring with a record-tying performance that punctured Washington Redskins' bubble.

Tittle, dean of NFL signal-callers at a spry 36, took apart the previously unbeaten Redskins Sunday with a display of aerial wizardry that propelled that Giants to a 49-34 victory.

He threw seven touchdown passes, equalling the league record established by Sid Luckman and later matched by Adrian Burk.

Victory gave the Giants a 5-2 won-lost mark as the season reached the halfway point, but New York still is in second place in the Eastern Conference behind Washington. The Redskins have won four games, lost one and tied two.

Cleveland Browns stayed in the eastern race, walloping Pittsburgh Steelers 41-14, but Cleveland quarterback Jim Brown suffered a shoulder separation and may be out of action four weeks.

Green Bay Packers kept their unbeaten record atop the Western Conference with a 17-6 victory over Baltimore Colts, while

The first meeting of the Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association for the 1962-1963 season is slated for Tuesday, October 30 at Bishop's University Oak Room (New Arts Building) beginning at 7:30 P.M.

All interested parties who would like to enter a team in the Association are invited to attend this meeting with particulars, if possible of where and when their teams can play.

Last year the League operated with seven teams—Bell Drummondville, Molson's Independents, Bishop's Seconds, Bury, St. Pat's and Lennoxville, and it is to be hoped that this meeting will start things off for another successful season.

Hull - Ottawa trade three for McCreary

OTTAWA (CP)—Three players of Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the Eastern Professional Hockey League have been traded for left winger Bill McCreary of American Hockey League Springfield Indians.

The trade was announced Sunday night by Sam Pollock, general manager of the Montreal Canadiens farm club.

Being traded for McCreary are defencemen Bob McCammon, Andre Tardif and Norm Waslowski.

In Montreal, a spokesman for Montreal Canadiens said McCreary would be subject to immediate call by the parent Montreal team.

The trade was made "to strengthen our left side" said the spokesman.

Drumville High School has busy weekend in soccer, SHS Seniors blank visitors, Bury Juniors win

Drummondville Junior and Senior soccer squads had a busy weekend when the squad played two four-point games with BCS and two two-point matches with Sherbrooke.

Drummondville Juniors tied the first half of their BCS game 0-0 and then lost the second frame 1-0 while Sherbrooke trounced the Drummondville Juniors 7-0.

In the Senior games with BCS, the first half saw BCS and their visitors tie 0-0 while in the final half Drummondville came through with a 2-0 score to take that frame. Against Sherbrooke, the Seniors lost 7-0 an identical score to that of the Junior contest.

In other soccer action over the weekend, Bury Juniors edged Sawyerville 2-1 with Garnet Murray and Burton Love scoring for Bury.

BCS-Drummondville Juniors

In their four-point match against Bishop's College School, Drummondville Juniors split the first half of the game 0-0 but were on the losing end in final half when the hosting BCS crew came through with the 1-0 win.

In their Sherbrooke High match, Drummondville was completely outplayed by the victorious SHS squad who romped to their 7-0 drubbing. Steve Connor with three goals, Mark Steinman with two, Wayne Stewart with one, and B. Dowd with one paced the Sherbrooke attacks.

Senior Matches

Drummondville Seniors faced

better than their Junior counterparts against BCS—tying the first half of their four-point struggle 0-0 but coming through with two goals in the second frame to down the College School hosts 2-0.

In the Sherbrooke match, the visiting Seniors were walloped 7-0 in a game that was never finished due to the lopsided score. Warren with one goal, Leckie with one, Fern with one, Haffenden with one, Coates with two, and Palmer with one accounted for the SHS scoring.

Sherbrooke Seniors have been having their difficulties with injuries this season as Ian Henderson suffered injuries during a game last week while Joe Schmidt broke his right leg in the Drummondville game Saturday. Both boys will be out for the rest of the season.

Hawks sweep weekend games to move into second place

Richmond Braves work out tonight, 25 players attended first practice

RICHMOND — The local hockey club, the Broomball loop is once again back in action and two games have already been played in the schedule drawn up for the 1962-63 season.

President Roger Martel has four clubs in the league, Richmond Plastics, Brown Shoe, Canadian Children's Wear and Duchess Shoe.

Two games are scheduled for this week. Brown Shoe meets the Plastics crew on Monday while Wednesday's tilt has CCW going against Duchess. The Broomball loop has taken over the local ice before the hockey clubs to get the winter season off to a fine start.

Mexico's Davis Cup whiz kids have high hopes

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's Davis Cup whiz kids, flushed with victory, today brushed aside thoughts of their next opponent, India, and looked ahead to the challenge round against Australia.

"India should be no problem," said team captain Pancho Contreras after Mexico completed a victory of three matches to two over Sweden Sunday in the interzone semi-final at Chapultepec Sports Centre.

The Mexico-India clash in the interzone finals is scheduled for New Delhi in December. The Mexicans rank a prohibitive favorite to gain the challenge round.

Seoul — Kang Choon-Won, 114½, South Korea, outpointed Ray Perez, 112½, Honolulu, 10.

Mexico City—Torito Mota, 116, Mexico, outpointed Cuervo Salinas, 116, Mexico, 10.

Antonio Palafox, each a student at a United States university, brought the Mexicans the victory.

Osuna, who attends Southern California, nailed it down with his 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 triumph over Sweden's lanky Jan Erik Lundquist in the finals singles match.

Never before had a Mexican team advanced this far in Davis Cup competition.

Mexican officials are expected to stick with Osuna and Palafox against India, and probably against Australia, should they advance that far.

Stan Mikita tallies winner to eke out 3-2 win over Canadiens, Leafs belted by Rangers shutout by Wings

Rudy Pilous abandons all restraint when he talks about Stan Mikita.

"Mikita is to us what Gordie Howe is to Detroit," the Chicago Black Hawks coach was saying Saturday night.

Back in the Chicago lineup after suffering a severe ankle sprain in pre-season exhibition play, Mikita was a main spring in a pair of Chicago victories.

The four-point surge carried the Hawks to second place in the National Hockey League standings behind Detroit Red Wings.

Saturday night in Montreal, Stan scored the game-winner in a 3-2 game against the Canadiens.

In New York Sunday night he assisted on three goals as the Hawks dumped the Rangers 5-3.

New York thumped the Maple Leafs 5-1 in Toronto Saturday night and the Red Wings remained unbeaten by shutting out Toronto 2-0 at home Sunday night in the only other weekend play.

The schedule resumes Tuesday with New York at Chicago.

GOAL STANDS UP

Mikita's goal in Montreal came in the opening period and stood up the rest of the way.

The centre returned to the lineup Tuesday night when the Hawks and Canadiens tied 4-4 in Chicago, Stan scoring once.

Billy Hay and Len Lunde got the other Chicago goals Saturday night while Bernie Geoffrion and Donnie Marshall counted for Montreal.

Against the Rangers, Ron Murphy potted two Chicago goals—the second into an empty net with 23 seconds left—and Ab McDonald, Hay and Murray Balfour provided the others.

Lorne Worsley, New York's goaltender, was replaced for the final period after a collision that left him with a stiff neck.

His replacement was Marcel Pelletier, 34, with Chicago leading 3-2 at the time.

Earl Ingarfield, Andy Bathgate and Mel Pearson were the Ranger goal-getters. Pearson was called up from Baltimore of the American Hockey League to fill in for the injured Camille Henry.
